
THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
1800

Scanned from the collections of
The Library of Congress

Packard Campus for Audio Visual Conservation www.loc.gov/avconservation

Motion Picture and Television Reading Room
www.loc.gov/rr/mopic

Recorded Sound Reference Center
www.loc.gov/rr/record

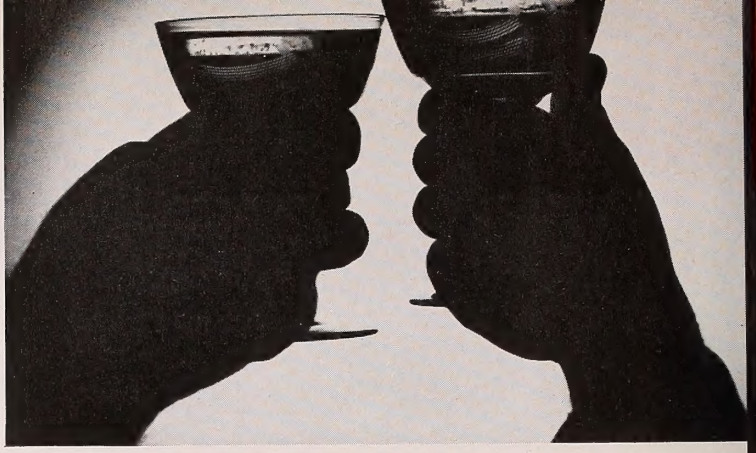
PROD. &

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

Copy

KEEPING THE FAITH

If through all his days a man in business tells the truth as he sees it, keeps his word as he gives it, works for his industry for its own sake along with his, he gets what is known as a good reputation.



It is like that, too, with journals of business. Publications that matter have many of the attributes of personality.

MOTION PICTURE HERALD is happy in the consciousness of, and responsibility to, a good name.

VOL. 130, NO. 1 JANUARY 1, 1938

Entered as second-class matter, January 12, 1931, at the Post Office, at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879. Published weekly by Quigley Publishing Co., Inc., at 1270 Sixth Avenue, Rockefeller Center, New York. Subscription, $3.00 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. All contents copyright, 1938, by Quigley Publishing Company.

"M-G-M wishes you happiness!"

1938 IS A LION!

NELSON EDDY, ELEANOR POWELL, Ray Bolger, Frank Morgan, Edna May Oliver, Reginald Owen in "ROSALIE"

MYRNA LOY, Franchot Tone, Rosalind Russell in "MAN-PROOF"

"EVERYBODY SING"
Allan Jones, Judy Garland, Fannie Brice, Billie Burke, Reginald Owen

JOAN CRAWFORD, SPENCER TRACY in "MANNEQUIN"

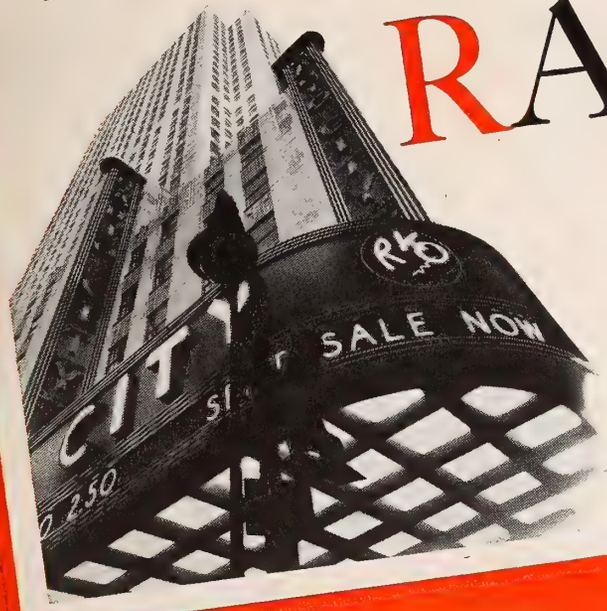
"LOVE IS A HEADACHE"
GLADYS GEORGE, FRANCHOT TONE, Ted Healy, Mickey Rooney

ROBERT TAYLOR, Maureen O'SULLIVAN, Lionel Barrymore in "A YANK AT OXFORD"

CONSTANCE BENNETT, Brian Aherne in "MERRILY WE LIVE"

"BENEFITS FORGOT"
WALTER HUSTON, JAMES STEWART, Guy Kibbee, Beulah Bondi

NELSON EDDY, JEANETTE MacDONALD in "GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST"



"THREE MEN IN THE SNOW"
Robert Young, Frank Morgan, Edna May Oliver, Mary Astor, Florence Rice, Reginald Owen, Henry Hull

CLARK GABLE, MYRNA LOY, SPENCER TRACY in "TEST PILOT" and others to be announced

This Week At 174 Leading Show Places of the Nation, including

RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL

CLAUDETTE

COLBERT

and CHARLES

BOYER

in

TOVARICH

with

BASIL RATHBONE • ANITA LOUISE

Melville Cooper • Isabel Jeans • Morris Carnovsky • Victor Kilian • An Anatole Litvak Prod'n

Screen Play by Casey Robinson • Adapted from the Play by Jacques Deval • English Version by Robert E. Sherwood • Music by Max Steiner

THE SEARS DRIVE-IN

See how WARNERS follow it up!

"HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

is a cinch to cop new box-office records–a knock-out show for any man's theatre!"– Hollywood Reporter

"Push

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

for all it's worth–it's a picture that's headed for top grosses everywhere!"– Motion Picture Daily

DICK POWELL
ROSEMARY LANE
HUGH HERBERT
LOLA LANE • GLENDA FARRELL • JOHNNIE DAVIS
ALAN MOWBRAY
MABEL TODD • ALLYN JOSLYN • EDGAR KENNEDY

TH
HOLLYW
PRO
LOUELLA
FRANCES LANGFO
KEN NILES • D
RAYMOND PAIG

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

"HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

is smash entertainment with box-office draw from first-runs to the smallest theatres!" – Variety

"There's no room for doubt that will live up to its billing and beyond!" – M. P. Herald

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

D HOTEL
AM
PARSONS
· JERRY COOPER
NE THOMPSON
HIS ORCHESTRA

BENNY GOODMAN & HIS SWING BAND

Directed by BUSBY BERKELEY

Screen Play by Jerry Wald, Maurice Leo and Richard Macauley · Original Story by Jerry Wald and Maurice Leo · A First National Picture

New Hits by Dick Whiting and Johnny Mercer
"I'VE HITCHED MY WAGON TO A STAR" · "SILHOUETTED IN THE MOONLIGHT" · "LET THAT BE A LESSON TO YOU" "I'M LIKE A FISH OUT OF WATER" and "HOORAY FOR HOLLYWOOD" · "I'VE GOT A HEARTFUL OF MUSIC" "SING, YOU SON OF A GUN"

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!!

Is Warner Bros.' Answer to the Exhibitors Dream"! – Hollywood Reporter

AND THE NEW YEAR WILL BE EVEN BIGGER!

Last June we said: "It's been a great record, but we're not satisfied!"

Now we say: "Good as our product has been so far this season, the pictures to come are even bigger!"

LOVE AND HISSES
Darryl F. Zanuck's top-hit musical to date—already demonstrating at the boxoffice!

SALLY, IRENE AND MARY
With 20th's biggest big-name musical cast!

SHANGHAI DEADLINE
High-tension drama of today, vivid with real-life sock!

THE BARONESS AND THE BUTLER
Starring Annabella and William Powell!

HAPPY LANDING
Starring Sonja Henie and Don Ameche!

KENTUCKY MOONSHINE
Starring those dizzy Ritz Brothers!

Shirley Temple in
REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM
Your No. 1 star's No. 1 hit!

WOMEN ARE DANGEROUS
Starring Myrna Loy and Warner Baxter!

JOSETTE
Starring Simone Simon and Don Ameche

—and

The Great American Motion Picture
IN OLD CHICAGO
Darryl F. Zanuck's proudest achievement!

20th CENTURY FOX
THE KEYSTONE OF YOUR FUTURE

A PROPHECY 20TH'S RECORD GUARANTEES!

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

MARTIN QUIGLEY, Editor-in-Chief and Publisher

Vol. 130, No. 1 — January 1, 1938

GRATUITOUS GARBLE

AN old Scotch fireside story related the episode of a short-sighted minister embarrassed in his pulpit reading because some young hellion of the congregation had so pasted the pages of the Bible that it read: "Lot's wife was . . ." and, turning the pages . . . "forty cubits long, made of cedar wood and thoroughly bound with brass throughout."

Using similar technique for the tangling of context, Mr. Ian Coster, writing in the Evening Standard of London, discusses some correspondence between the Production Code Administration of the American industry and Mr. Walter C. Mycroft, chief of production of Associated British, concerning the script of a comedy entitled "Sweet Racket."

"The letter says," so Mr. Coster records, "that in Scene 13, it is essential that the 'lovely girl, radiant from the bath,' should be wearing a dressing gown or be otherwise adequately clothed, as the Code forbids 'exposure.' No exposure was intended, but the Hays office always reads between the lines.

"The first offending line is 'The last time I saw her she was wearing a fan—in cabaret.' Modification is suggested because 'we are uniformly requesting all producers to omit references to fan dancers from all scripts.'

"One can understand about fan dancers," writes Mr. Coster, "but what's wrong about liver and kidneys? One character in the film, told that the butcher has called, says, as he is about to enter the room, 'I don't want him dropping his liver and kidneys all over the carpet.' The Code sees something suggestive in that and so it orders that the word 'produce' should be used instead."

To some followers of the screen drama it would seem that the liver and kidneys would not be so very funny, anyway, no matter whose they were or where they were dropped.

When decency is reduced to rules and codes it is always possible to make them seem ridiculous. In a more decent world a code would not be needed—but the Code at which Mr. Coster would scoff was adopted by the American industry as an instrument of practical service. The sharing of certain of the services of the Code organization with producers overseas is in the nature of an intended courtesy and cooperation, working toward keying product to the American audience demand, even as in Hollywood.

The spirit of the relation is not observed in the release of fragmentary documents for publication and fragmentary discussion in the lay press.

△ △ △

DIME MUSEUM ART

NO matter what the job is, there is ever someone who wants the amusement screen to do it, without regard to fitness or ultimate consequence. Just now appears a document quoting the recent expression of Mr. Myron Weiss, associate editor of Time Magazine and the March of Time, and especially concerned with medical news. In connection with a hospital fund campaign Mr. Weiss urged that "medical films both entertaining and informative can be produced to attract customers . . ."

That is correct. They can. Also they are and would be especially inappropriate in the flow of entertainment product. Normal persons are not likely to enjoy, in large numbers, rising from the dinner table to take the family to the theatre to to have a jolly time observing the ravages of cancer, syphilis, leprosy, the 'dobe itch, herpes zoster, ringworm or even acne rosacea in full color, with lecture and sound effects.

One could fancy that if metropolitan hospital operating rooms were at ground level with plate glass windows over the amphitheatres they could draw quite a gallery. It is unlikely that such a device will be adopted in behalf of entertaining and informing the public.

The sector of public interest to be intrigued by such displays pertains to the dime museum industry, which is currently being served with diligence with various questionable and semi-bootleg productions claiming provocation in sex hygiene, the technique of caesarean operations and other devotions to pictorializations of the gynecological focus of prurient attention.

Mr. Weiss proclaimed: "Hollywood script writers have either fallen into the error of boring factual presentation, or have so inflated the romantic angle as to rob their pictures of all educational value—as witness 'Men in White,' 'Green Light,' 'Internes Can't Take Money.' It would appear," he thinks, "that the movie capitol is retarded in this all-absorbing, promising field by a lack of writers who both know medicine and know how to write about medical topics of wide appeal in an interesting fashion."

It is just possible that this gentleman has something occupational in mind. Meanwhile it would be nice to let Hollywood tend to its own business—which does not include the medical education of the public.

△ △ △

RELAXATION

CURRENT indications point to the establishment of a new high in promotional and commercial cocktailing in the operations of the season of 1937-38. The cocktail party is now applied to every turn of the trade except receiverships and new bond issues. When they began, it was for the lubrication of the box office career of a completed picture. Recently heavy cocktailing has been had in behalf of a director who it is hoped will make a very important picture after a while, and in another instance for an author who had written a story.

Apparently the fitful and apprehensive art of the movies, when in the least uncertainty, orders another drink. A reasonably active career in the industry today demands men of good kidney and a substantially unlimited capacity for eating things off of toothpicks.

This is another of those hectic manifestations of the striving industry which causes one to reflect with sympathy on the state of mind which caused Miss Margaret Fishback, department store advertising copy writer extraordinary, to give voice before a New York gathering the other afternoon. She finds the world far, far too busy.

"Only the failures," she remarked, "have the time to live and invite their souls. The rest of us fight our way to the top of the ladder and don't have time to look around and enjoy the scenery. And the further up you get, all the success system has to offer is more of the same."

Unfortunately Miss Fishback does not convey a suggestion on what to do next if it chances that the soul should not come after being invited.

This Week

Panay Films

Three newsreels this week became involved in a competitive battle over films of the Japanese bombing and sinking of the United States Gunboat Panay. Lined up on one side were Movietone News and News of the Day while on the other side was Universal. Universal planned to release a special "almost feature-length" film while the other two companies announced their shots of the disaster would be part of their regular newsreels.

A complete article on the Panay films starts on page 13.

Newsreel Theatres

Expansion of the newsreel theatre movement in America is being looked upon with interest by the producers of short subjects who hope that the comparatively new type of theatres will form a major outlet for their product. Both Trans-Lux Corporation and Newsreel Theatres, Inc., plan to open at least one new house each within the next few months and a third group is preparing to construct a house in New York and is negotiating for sites in other cities.

The plans are discussed on page 12.

UA Board Meeting

The United Artists board of directors devoted a three-hour meeting this week to a discussion of the tax questions and did not consider Alexander Korda's reported request for a revision of his contract with the company, it was reported after the meeting. Before the session, it was generally believed the Korda question would be the chief topic of discussion among directors.

Details appear on page 28.

The Industry's History

With Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, as guest speaker, the United States Department of Commerce this week presented a radio program on the history of the motion picture industry. Mr. Hays told of the progress and policies of the industry and of the formation and operation of a code of self regulation. The other part of the program was devoted to Harry R. Daniel of the Department of Commerce, relating the highlights in the development of motion pictures. Mr. Daniel also interviewed Thomas Armat who is credited with inventing the first projector for showing pictures to more than one person at a time.

The program is reviewed on page 15.

Autonomy Not Wanted

An overwhelming vote in favor of international supervision was cast by members of three Hollywood locals of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees. The fourth local, Studio Technicians, Local 37, prepared to vote on the question of local autonomy versus international supervision on Sunday. In the balloting already held, only 60 members out of 2,200 eligible to cast ballots favored local autonomy.

The situation is explained in an article on page 12.

World's Fair

Definite action has finally been taken to organize participation of the motion picture industry and other theatrical arts in New York's World's Fair in 1939. Eleven committees representing the various fields have been named with that in view. They now are considering hundreds of proposals of various ways and means for introducing theatricals to the fair.

The committee and tentative discussions are reported on page 52.

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

Published every Thursday by Quigley Publishing Company, Rockefeller Center, New York City. Telephone Circle 7-3100. Cable address "Quigpubco, New York." Martin Quigley, Editor-in-Chief and Publisher; Colvin Brown, Vice-President and General Manager; Terry Ramsaye, Editor; Ernest A. Rovelstad, Managing Editor; Chicago Bureau, 624 South Michigan Avenue, C. B. O'Neill, manager; Hollywood Bureau, Postal Union Life Building, Boone Mancall, manager, William R. Weaver, editor; Toronto Bureau, 366 Adelaide Street West, Toronto 2, Ontario, J. A. Cowan, representative; London Bureau, 4, Golden Square, London W 1, Hope Williams, manager; cable Quigpubco London; Berlin Bureau, Berlin-Tempelhof, Kaiserin-Augustastrasse 28, Joachim K. Rutenberg, representative; Paris Bureau, 29, Rue Marsoulan, Paris 12, France, Pierre Autre, representative, cable Autre-Lacifral-12 Paris; Rome Bureau, via Lovanio 1, Rome, Italy, Vittorio Malpassuti, representative, Italcable, Malpassuti, Rome; Melbourne Bureau, Regent Theatre, 191 Collins St., Melbourne, Australia, Cliff Holt, representative; Mexico City Bureau, Apartado 269, Mexico City, James Lockhart, representative; Prague Bureau, Uhelny trh 2, Prague I, Czechoslovakia, Harry Knopf, representative; Budapest Bureau, 3, Kaplar-u, Budapest, Hungary, Endre Hevesi, representative; Buenos Aires Bureau, Avellaneda 3949, Buenos Aires, Argentina, Natalio Bruski, representative; Shanghai Bureau, 142 Museum Road, Shanghai, China, J. P. Koehler, representative; Tokyo Bureau, 880 Sasazuka, Ichikawa-shi Chiba-Ken, Japan, H. Tominaga, representative; Rio de Janeiro Bureau, Caixa Postal 3358, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, L. S. Marinho, representative; India Bureau, K. G. Gidwaney, Post Box 147 Bunder Road, Karachi, India; Uruguay, P. O. Box 664, Montevideo, Uruguay, Paul Bodo, representative, cable Argus Montevideo; Amsterdam Bureau, 87 Waalstraat, Amsterdam Z., Holland, Philip de Schaap, representative; Vienna Bureau, Neustiftgasse 54, Vienna VII, Hans Lorant, representative; Chile Bureau, Calle Estado 260, Oficina 306 Santiago de Chile, A. Weissmann, representative; Copenhagen Bureau, Vesterbrogade 20, Copenhagen V, Denmark, Kris Winther, representative. Member Audit Bureau of Circulations. All contents copyright 1937 by Quigley Publishing Company. Address all correspondence to the New York Office. Other Quigley Publications: Better Theatres, Motion Picture Daily, Teatro al Día, International Motion Picture Almanac and Fame.

More West

The National Broadcasting System this week completed the tallying of the largest number of protests ever received against a single broadcast, a total of 791 written criticisms, all condemning the appearance of Miss Mae West in a skit burlesquing Adam and Eve on the Chase and Sanborn Sunday evening hour, December 12th. The latest echoes of the storm of protest are the banning of Miss West's name in all NBC stations to guard against any reference, witty or otherwise to the episode, and strong talk of the adoption of a code for the radio industry.

Details on page 27.

"To Direct and Guide"

Dr. Matias Sanchez Sorondo, president of the Argentine National Culture Commission, just returned from a study of governmental regulation of the motion picture industry in European countries, told a reporter that the Argentine Motion Picture Institute is preparing recommendations for federal legislation to "direct, guide and protect" the domestic industry. Vague on specific measures to be adopted, he said they would be similar to those "already adopted by other countries," presumably Germany, Italy, England and France.

An interview with Dr. Sorondo in Buenos Aires by N. Bruski appears in detail on page 36.

Admission Revenue

Revenues from the Federal admission tax from motion picture and other theatres for the 11 months ended with November exceeded those for all of 1936 as a result of record receipts in November of $2,242,573, it was reported by the Bureau of Internal Revenue this week.

The November collections, $276,000 above October's $1,966,617 and $637,000 above the November, 1936, total of $1,605,674, were the highest since December, 1936, when $2,194,585 were received, the bureau announced.

Total revenues from the tax for the first 11 months of the current year were $18,684,004, compared with $16,262,907 for the first 11 months of 1936 and $18,467,492 for all of last year.

November collections in the third New York district, embracing Broadway, were $682,113, as compared with $604,487 in October, with collections on box office admissions increasing from $559,145 in October to $616,520 the following month.

Cinema Television

The Baird Television Company and Scophony, English companies experimenting with television for entertainment purposes, have recently given demonstrations on theatre size screens, giving rise to speculation on the ultimate form of programs to be offered. News presentations and studio sponsored programs are being considered but the companies face a difficult obstacle in the Government controlled British Broadcasting Corporation which, using the Marconi system, monopolizes the field.

Aubrey Flanagan's London letter is on page 40.

Bureau of Fine Arts

Estimating that the number of artists employed would be increased by 20 per cent if the Coffee Bill is adopted by the Congress, Burgess Meredith, head of Equity Actors Association, calls upon the association to support the measure in an article published in the organization's official publication, Equity. Mr. Meredith, vice-president with the powers and duties of president, wrote the article as the report of a special committee appointed to study the Federal Theatre project and legislation which would affect it.

A report of the article is published on page 18.

"Ready to Move"

Although he will not assume the presidency of Universal officially until next Monday, Nate J. Blumberg has been active in the affairs of the company for the last several weeks and this week, in his first public statement since his appointment, he predicted that, on the basis of facts in hand, Universal will enjoy during January a gross revenue higher by 50 per cent than in any previous month. Important factors in the forecast were the announcement that 250 day and date runs have been set for "You're a Sweetheart," during the month, a record in its own right, and the income expectation from the Panay bombing pictures.

The new president is quoted in full on page 30.

Security Summarized

The quarterly summary of the Social Security Board, issued in Washington, indicates that approximately 4,000,000 applications for social security accounts were received in the quarter ending September 30th, that more than 34,000,000 account numbers had been assigned, and that 1,996,200 needy individuals received cash during October.

Story on page 39.

1937 Parade

Prominent in any review of the year just past must be references to increased earnings shown generally in financial statements for the first time in seven years. This continuing story was outstanding news of the year but also to be remembered are the advance of labor, developments in the way of legislation impinging on the industry, a reduced and further threatened foreign market and changes in executive and corporate structures.

A review of headlines of the year starts on page 49.

Editorial	Page 7
This Week in Pictures	Page 10
Release Chart	Page 63
Managers' Round Table	Page 55
The Hollywod Scene	Page 23
Showmen's Reviews	Page 24
Deaths	Page 48
In the Courts	Page 48
Technological	Page 47
In the Newsreels	Page 73
Productions in Work	Page 38
Short Subjects on Broadway	Page 51
Theatre Receipts	Page 53
J. C. Jenkins' Colyum	Page 73
What the Picture Did for Me	Page 43

Allied's Plans

The annual meeting of the board of directors of Allied States Association of Motion Picture Exhibitors will be held at the Carlton Hotel, Washington, January 18th and 19th. In addition to electing officers the board plans to adopt a program of policy and action and provide for the carrying out of the Association's work during 1938. The annual convention city will be determined. The New Jersey association has invited National Allied to hold the convention at Atlantic City, and the Indiana unit has made a bid for Indianapolis.

Depinet Drive

RKO Radio's field sales forces will dedicate their 15 weeks annual billings and sales drive, starting January 29, to Ned E. Depinet, vice-president in charge of distribution. The drive will be worldwide in scope. Walter Branson, midwestern district manager, will be drive leader for the United States and Canada. Ben Cammack, general sales manager for Latin America, will have supervision elsewhere. During the period, RKO says it will release the greatest number of pictures in its history, including Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Having Wonderful Time," "Bringing Up Baby," "The Joy of Loving," "Radio City Revels," " Vivacious Lady," "Hawaii Calls," and others.

Music Hall's Birthday

The Music Hall in New York, America's largest and most elaborate motion picture theatre, observed its fifth anniversary on Monday evening, proceeding these past four years under the directorship of W. G. Van-Schmus, who took over the management of the property from the late S. L. Rothafel for the Rockefellers, who built it as part of Rockefeller Center.

With its orchestra of 70, a chorus of 30, its 46 "Rockette" dancers and 40 in the ballet, the 6,000 seat Music Hall in the five years has grossed $100,000 a week or over each on some 29 feature films of the 191 it has played, and has held 58 for two or three weeks, against its policy of weekly changes.

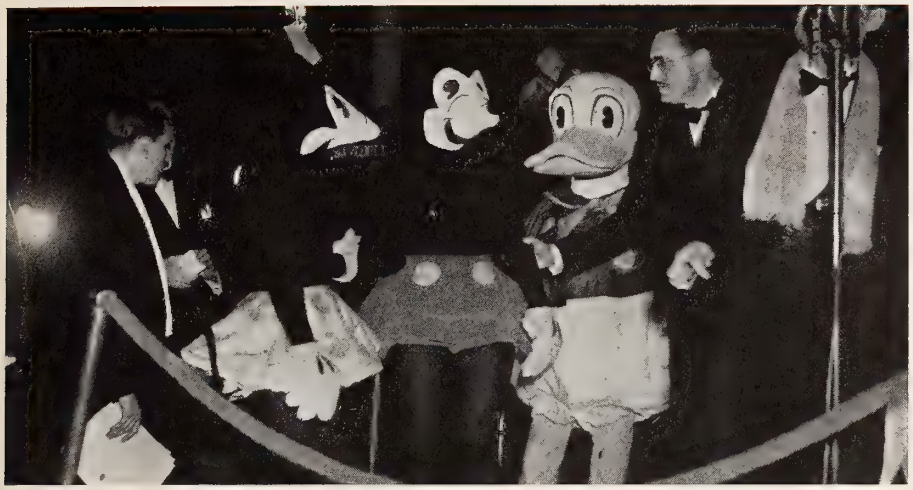
Visual Education

A $135,000 grant has been made by the Rockefeller's General Education Board to a committee of the American Council on Education to support its activities for three years. The group, the committee on motion pictures in education, plans to establish a clearing house of information and activity on visual problems, as they relate to general education.

The booklet and the $135,000 grant are discussed in an article on page 32.

This Week In Pictures

GEORGE W. TRENDLE, Detroit exhibitor partner of Paramount, taken at an age when receipts and rentals were not topics of interest. Mr. Trendle used the picture to point the holiday thought that times and appearances may change but not his Christmas message.



Earl E. Jameson and Sam Abend, above, of Exhibitors Film Delivery, Kansas City, Mo., with the truck which they presented as a surprise and welcome Christmas gift to the Kansas City Variety Club, to be used to carry equipment and film for entertaining shut-in patients in hospitals and other institutions. It was accepted for the tent by Arthur Cole of Paramount, chairman of the welfare committee, Elmer C. Rhoden, retiring president, and R. R. Biechele, incoming president.

The irresponsible looking Russian at the left is being professionally funny. He is Danny Kaye, new Educational comic, now playing with Imogene Coca in "Dime a Dance" and soon to be featured.

Seven employees of the Paramount theatre in Paris, left, who have seen continuous service with the house since it opened, were guests of honor at a luncheon given by the management recently and were recipients of the medals which may be seen on their lapels. Standing in the center of the second row are Andre Ullman, general manager of Paramount theatres in France, and Rene Lebreton, manager of the Paris house.

All Hollywood, big and little, went to the Carthay Circle to examine critically and finally applaud thunderingly "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Present to receive modestly the plaudits accorded the venture in unprecedented degree were Mr. Walt Disney, who started the whole thing, left, facing the camera, and, above, Minnie and Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck, hitherto his most successful creations.

At the opening of "Hitting a New High," Lily Pons' latest picture for RKO, at the New York Rivoli on Christmas Day are Andre Kostelanetz, musical director of the film; Miss Pons, Geraldine Farrar, and Edward Johnson, director of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Continuing and concluding the camera record of premieres, below are Mary Pickford and Louella Parsons at the Hollywood preview of the Warner First National "Hollywood Hotel" in which Miss Parsons prominently and eminently plays herself..

In New York from Europe for the annual meeting of United Artists, Douglas Fairbanks, center foreground, is met at the pier by reporters and, ranged behind him, Dennis J. O'Brien, attorney, Harry D. Buckley and Arthur W. Kelly, vice-presidents of the company.

NEW EXPANSION MOVES IN 'NEWSREEL' THEATRES REPORTED BY THREE GROUPS

Wall Street Syndicate Plans to Join TransLux and Newsreel Theatres, Inc., in Building Up the Short Subject Theatre

Short subject producers who, during the last few years, admittedly have faced a decreasing market for their pictures because of the prevalence of double feature programs, chance games and whatnot, are looking to the expansion of the newsreel-short subject theatre movement with the hope that it will result in a new and major outlet for their product.

While American "newsreel" houses, a few years ago, were reported lacking the drawing power held by similar houses on the Continent, the new expansion activities of established newsreel circuits is generally looked upon as indicative of the fact America's theatre-going public has acquired a taste for the comparatively new type of programs.

Both Trans-Lux Corporation and Newsreel Theatres, Inc., are preparing to open new theatres and, in addition, a new group is starting to invade the field by constructing one house and negotiating for "several" other sites.

The new group, described as a Wall Street syndicate, is headed by Stanley Heller, New York broker, and Joseph Steiner, formerly associated with American Tobis. They expect to open their first house in 34th Street, New York City, early in the Spring. It will have from 450 to 475 seats and will show both newsreels and short subjects.

Although not disclosing what product will be presented, Mr. Heller said that his associate, Mr. Steiner, already has made arrangements for pictures. The theatre, which will be almost directly opposite the Pennsylvania station, will be built by the Tishman Realty and Construction Company.

Competitive bidding for desirable sites for new houses is keen among the newsreel circuits, according to Mr. Heller, who cited this as his reason for not revealing the locations being considered for additional theatres.

At the same time, though, Mr. Heller said his group is financially prepared to open five or six houses immediately.

The Trans-Lux company, which operates three houses in New York, one each in Philadelphia and Washington, will open a fourth New York house about February 1st. It will be located at 52nd Street and Lexington Avenue and will have approximately 585 seats. There is a "nebulous possibility" that the corporation will open a house in Chicago, Percival Furber, Jr., vice-president, said, when informed of a report that his father, president of the corporation, was planning an extended trip to line up new sites.

Newsreel Theatres, which operates two New York houses and one in Newark, plans to open a new theatre at Broadway and 72nd Street, New York, about June 1st. The site is now occupied by the St. Andrews Hotel, which will be demolished.

Although principally discussing newsreel theatres from an architectural point of view, an article published in Better Theatres February 9th, 1935, pointed out the wide difference between American and European newsreel theatres at that time.

"While theatres of this type in America apparently find, for the most part, that the drawing power of newsreels alone is not consistent," the article stated, "in the European capitals the news film is a tremendous favorite. Particularly is this true on the Continent, and the reason is probably to be found in the fact that international relations here are ever interesting (to put it mildly), begetting an intense alertness to each day's developments in public affairs."

In the same article it also was stated: "It is interesting to recall that the earliest examples of theatres devoted to short subjects appear to have been erected as recently as the summer of 1931."

The Heller-Steiner group has not yet decided on whether front or rear projection will be used in its houses. Trans-Lux houses introduced the rear projection system in which the booth is behind the screen.

With this system it is not necessary to have a ceiling high enough to accommodate a projection booth. Other advantages claimed for the system include: the beam of projection light is invisible, greater auditorium illumination is permissible and, the picture, filtering through a translucent screen instead of being reflected, is much more pleasing to the eye.

CHOIR BROADCASTS FROM A THEATRE

What is believed to be the first time in the history of radio, a nation-wide broadcast originating in a neighborhood motion picture theatre occurred last Wednesday when the Rochester Community Choir broadcast from the Riviera theatre, Rochester, N. Y.

Howard G. Carroll, district manager there for the Schine Circuit, operators of the house, arranged for the broadcast to be made from the theatre.

The choir of 1,050 voices sang a selection of Christmas songs over the Blue network of the National Broadcasting Company in a coast-to-coast hookup.

On President's MP Committee

Dr. A. H. Giannini, Samuel Goldwyn, Charles Chaplin and David O. Selznick, all of United Artists, have volunteered to serve on the Motion Picture Council under the Committee for the celebration of President Roosevelt's birthday on January 30th.

Hollywood Locals Favor Supervision By International

Officials of International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees focused their attention this week on the balloting to be conducted Sunday by the Studio Technicians, Local 37, on the question of whether the membership favors continued international supervision or local autonomy.

The three other coast locals, all with smaller memberships than the Studio Technicians, balloted on the question within the last week and the members voted overwhelmingly in favor of international supervision. Only 60 members out of 2,200 eligible to cast ballots favored local autonomy.

The seeking of an expression of sentiment from the membership of the locals was believed to be a direct result of the recent state legislative investigation of charges that the locals were not permitted to govern themselves. When questioned by the legislature's investigating committee, IATSE officials declared they were forced to exercise supervision to consolidate and retain the gains made in organization.

International Photographers, Local 659, and Studio Laboratory Workers, Local 683, voted on the question last weekend and the sound men cast their ballots last Thursday.

In New York, Joseph D. Basson, president of the Moving Picture Machine Operators Union, Local 306, IATSE, submitted a biennial report in which he reviewed the organization's two-year effort to overcome the "general loss of prestige" and declared that the local "has run its own affairs in a truly democratic fashion."

A policy of strict economy has made it possible to carry on the union's affairs without any assessments for the first time in 15 years, Mr. Basson said. He also pointed out that the union's progress has materially reduced the possibility that rival groups will rise to challenge it. The report then alluded to the absorption of the Allied Motion Picture Operators Union after a bitter fight but it made no reference to the Empire State Motion Picture Operators Union, which is still independent.

Lee Cronk was elected president of the Film Exchange Employees Union in Denver. Other officers are Lynn Fetz, vice-president; Sue Rhoads, secretary: Elmer Finch, treasurer; Max Gilbert, business agent, and William Fenske, sergeant-at-arms.

The Associated Actors and Artistes of America this week ruled the Burlesque Artists Association has jurisdiction over burlesque performances in New York City. A temporary ruling in July gave jurisdiction to the American Federation of Actors.

Jurisdiction over burlesque performances in other parts of the country was given to the BAA December 15th.

PICTURES OF PANAY BOMBING PRECIPITATE NEWSREEL BATTLE

Movietone - News of the Day Pictures Shown First on West Coast; Universal Sets Alley Films as Special

The ordinary rivalry between newsreels became extraordinary this week as three of them engaged in a competitive battle over films of the Japanese bombing and sinking of the U.S.S. Panay in Chinese waters. The controversy, smouldering for several days, flared into print while officials of the three companies waited in New York for their chartered airplane to leave Cheyenne, Wyo., where it had been grounded because of bad weather.

On the one side was Universal, claiming exclusive scenes of the disaster and gearing its developing, editing and cutting machinery to rush through a special "almost feature-length" film entitled "Norman Alley's Bombing of the U.S.S. Panay". On the other side were Fox Movietone and News of the Day, both of which scored a victory in the first skirmish by exhibiting their pictures in West Coast theatres while Universal's film was still undeveloped.

Movietone and News of the Day first voiced their side of the issue in full page advertisements in trade publications Wednesday morning. In bold face type, Movietone announced "The Truth About The Panay Films," and, in much larger type, News of the Day broadcast its message to the motion picture industry: "Panay! At No Extra Cost."

Universal headed its full page advertisements with the assertion: "The Only Complete Picture of the Attack That Shocked the World," and followed this with a list of "exclusive scenes!"

Both Had Cameraman Abroad

Both factions in the dispute had cameramen aboard the gunboat when it was attacked in the Yangtze River, 27 miles from Nanking. Paramount and Pathe had no men aboard.

Mr. Alley took the pictures for Universal. The company announced on Wednesday that it would issue 1,000 prints and said that it expected to gross $500,000 on the special. This is about three times the national weekly gross of all newsheels combined. For its regular release Universal's Newsreel issues an average of about 240 prints.

Eric Mayell, a Fox Movietone man, was behind the camera and took the scenes that will make up the regular release of Movietone and News of the Day. The two companies have an agreement to split coverage of the Sino-Japanese War.

No other newsreel coverage in years has attracted the international attention given the Panay incident by the general press. The cameramen, accounts of the pictures, they took, and plans for releasing the films were given front page notice in newspapers throughout the country and were the subject of several radio broadcasts.

FILMS SHOW ATTEMPT TO FIGHT BACK: ALLEY

by WILLIAM F. CROUCH
in Chicago

Universal's pictures of the bombing of the Panay "also show the attemps of the Panay's crew to fight back," Norman Alley, Universal Newsreel cameraman, who was aboard the American gunboat when it was sunk by the Japanese, told me Wednesday during a ten-minute stopover of his plane from Alameda, Cal., to New York.

"The Japanese came aboard earlier in the day to learn the Panay's anchorage," he said, and he and the other survivors "undeniably feel that the bombing of the gunboat was deliberate. The shock of the attack was secondary to the surprise that the Japanese were firing on an American warship."

Mr. Alley, a native of Chicago, was met at the airport by 50 film row friends, and by newsreel, newspaper and radio reporters.

It had been expected that the United States Government would exercise censorship over the pictures, in view of the critical nature of relations with Japan. However, it was officially made known in Washington that the Government had decided on a hands-off policy and that the whole pictures should go to the motion picture's public.

The plane bearing the films took off from Alameda on Tuesday shortly after 10 A. M. (1 P. M. New York time). It was scheduled to arrive in Newark airport at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning but bad weather in its path forced it to remain in Cheyenne over night.

Reports of clear weather on Wednesday led newsreel executives to predict the plane would reach Newark Wednesday night and plans were made for handling details in split-second detail. The Movietone-News of the Day films, developed in Manila while awaiting the take-off of the Clipper, were to be rushed from Newark to the New York plants and prints turned out in time for the late shows in Broadway houses.

Charles Ford, head of Universal Newsreel, expected to have the Universal special showing in houses throughout the country over the weekend. In the Times Square area, RKO announced, the Palace would be the only theatre showing the picture. The company also said the film would be shown in all RKO theatres Friday.

Two Shown in Los Angeles

Mr. Mayell's pictures were shown in Los Angeles Wednesday morning, after a preview for 100 newspapermen Tuesday afternoon at the Twentieth Century-Fox studios. Movietone also released the pictures to all its accounts in Los Angeles on Wednesday. According to Dan Doherty, a member of the staff of Truman Talley, head of Movietone, "western exhibitors, as far east as Denver, were blanketed 100 per cent Wednesday by prints from Hollywood."

Ronald W. Wagoner, United Press correspondent, reporting on the preview in Hollywood, wrote:

"The sinking of the United States gunboat Panay in the Yangtze river was shown late today in the first exhibition of newsreel film made at the scene.

"The film, however, showed no Japanese planes, nor was the American flag seen flying over the stricken boat. . . .

From Deck and Launches

"The attacking planes could not be seen in the motion pictures, but their presence was made known by scenes of American sailors training machine guns on them as they roared past. The first shots of the attack were taken from the decks of the Panay, and the balance from Navy launches that took occupants ashore, and from the banks of the Yangtze.

"The film showed victims dropping to the decks of the Panay as they were wounded by the attacking planes. Civilians and seamen carried them below deck. There was no evidence of confusion. One of the wounded men smiled broadly as a good samaritan bent over him to treat his injuries.

"The newsreel included several action shots of the Panay crew turning machine guns skyward and letting loose a blast of bullets when the unseen attackers swooped low over the vessel. After the order to abandon ship, Navy launches were shown putting off from the Panay with survivors.

"Several bombs could be seen dropping near the launches as they sped for shore. A few survivors were swimming ashore and hiding in the reeds that line the river's bank. The camera, trained from a distance, caught the Panay settling into the water, but the shot did not reveal any signs of an American flag floating above the vessel.

Flag on Oil Boat Shown

"The films, however, did not disprove American claims that the flag was flying from the Panay as it moved up the Chinese river. The camera was set up in sections of the boat where the flag could not be seen and long range shots were taken from too great a distance to reveal an object so small as a flag.

"An American flag could be seen fluttering from the stern of a Standard Oil Company boat, which also was bombed and sunk. The film showed that the weather was clear. The camera turned to scenes on shore after the wounded were brought off the Panay. They were receiving medical care and being carried on stretchers, by Chinese, into Wuhu. The wounded again appeared while being placed aboard lighters which carried them to the British gunboat Ladybird. More scenes were taken aboard the Ladybird as she steamed down the Yangtze toward Shanghai.

(Continued on following page)

U. S. ADOPTS HANDS OFF POLICY

"The most dramatic shot was of a flag-draped coffin being placed aboard Admiral Harry Yarnell's flagship Augusta with the crew standing at attention.

Scenes of Bravery

"The final shots of the film were of the wounded and survivors aboard the Augusta and in the Shanghai hospitals.

"The film was shown to a small audience of 100 newspaper men . . . radio broadcasters, and workers in the . . . studio.

"Several women were horror stricken at the severe wounds of Navy men and civilians aboard the boat. The scenes of bravery under fire were many. One shot showed a young American officer staggering along the deck, giving orders for loading of other wounded aboard a small boat alongside the Panay. The film showed a civilian dragging a wounded seaman below deck past a fighting gun crew of bare-headed Marines.

"Another shot showed a well dressed civilian, apparently an Englishman or an American, abandoning a place of safety in a patch of reeds on shore to crawl to the side of a man, apparently dying, who wanted someone to hold his hand. . . ."

Weather Clear, Says Alley

The Universal cameraman, according to a New York Times dispatch from San Francisco, announced that his pictures "refuted Japanese assertions that 'their aerial bombers were confused by bad weather conditions and were unable to distinguish the gunboat's nationality clearly. And that no machine gunning occurred."

The New York Times quoted Mr. Alley as declaring:

"The weather was perfectly clear; so clear that those aboard the gunboat saw plainly an advance trio of Japanese planes that came over at an altitude of about 10,000 feet not more than 30 seconds in advance of six bombers that destroyed the gunboat and three Standard Oil ships.

"American flags were painted horizontally on the Panay's decks and another flew from the mainmast.

"There was no Chinese gunboat on the river that looked like the Panay.

"Machine gunners sniped from the bombing planes as well as from launches that came up the river later, apparently seeking to draw fire from the Panay.

"A Japanese boarding party did go onto the gunboat before it sank, without a trace, in 180 feet of water."

Seven Groups Submit Bids

The widespread interest in Mr. Alley's negative resulted in seven groups submitting bids to Universal for the news photograph rights to the film clips. Associated Press made the successful bid and obtained full American and foreign rights for a price described by Universal as "one of the highest ever recorded for the purchase of film clips for newspaper photograph reproduction." Under the arrangement for the foreign rights, Universal is to share a percentage of the proceeds accruing to AP. Another stipulation for the purchase was that Universal would receive a credit line with each picture.

While the negative was in transit, carried by Mr. Alley in a small zipper bag, it was insured by Universal for $350,000 and insurance representatives augmented the armed guard that met the Chinese Clipper to protect Mr. Alley and his film.

With Mr. Alley on the trip from California to New York was his wife, Mrs. Willa Alley, their children, Dexter, 21; Noreen, 14, and Janet, 12; David Lipton, who was engaged by Universal to handle exploitation for the film; Chief of Police E. Stemmeyer, of Oakland, California, and Inspector Andrew Ford, of California.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey, and Nathan L. Blumberg, who becomes president of Universal January 1st, were to head a welcoming party at the Newark airport.

Mayell Returns to Front

Dr. Doherty, speaking of the Movietone cameraman's actions, said: "After the bombing Mayell was rescued by the American gunboat Oahu and taken to Shanghai. He turned his film over to Bonney Powell, Movietone News Far East supervisor and returned to the scene of strife and when last heard from was with the retreating Chinese army west of Nanking.

"Powell got the films to Manila on an American destroyer."

At Alameda, Harry Lawrenson, Movietone make-up editor, who was sent from New York, received the film and took one complete duplicating or lavender print to Los Angeles by special plane. The original negative was taken by Harold McGrath, Movietone sound engineer, who left California aboard the same plane carrying the Universal contingent.

Mr. McGrath was to be met in Newark by Edmund Reek, general manager of Movietone.

Mr. Alley suffered minor injuries during the attack but insisted by telephone and cable that he was "all right." Because of uncertainty on this point, however, Mr. Ford did not make definite arrangements for handling the commentary. It was planned to have Mr. Alley describe the scenes if his physical condition warranted, and, if not, to have him collaborate with another commentator, probably Graham McNamee.

FILMS DELAYED TWICE BY ADVERSE WEATHER

Weather conditions played havoc with the schedules adopted by newsreel companies for release of their films on the bombing and sinking of the Panay.

The first delay was encountered in Honolulu when the China Clipper was delayed for 24 hours because of poor flying weather. The newsreel officials rearranged their schedules and waited but again weather intervened and a chartered airplane speeding the films from the west to the east coast was grounded overnight in Cheyenne.

The one consoling feature to the newsreel executives was the fact that all companies' films were on the Clipper and all films intended for eastern distribution were on the trans-continental plane.

To guard against a miss-out Fox Movietone put prints aboard a second plane scheduled to arrive in Newark five hours after the first plane.

Nine Montreal Theatremen Summoned in Child Cases

Nine Montreal theatremen have been summoned to court on charges of violating a Province of Quebec statute prohibiting the admission of children under 16 years of age to any theatre.

The Allied Theatrical Industries, representing the theatre owners, has held an emergency meeting and plans have been drafted to make an issue of the prosecutions. Theatre owners have advocated repeal of the law for the last ten years and plan again to seek a change when the Quebec legislature convenes in January.

Build Marine Studio For Undersea Films

Marine Studios, of which W. Douglas Burden, trustee of the American Museum of Natural History, is president, has completed a film studio in St. Augustine, Fla., especially designed for underwater pictures, at an approximate cost of $500,000.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney is chairman of the board. Other officers are Lillian Koehler, secretary, and Ralph H. Poole, Jr., comptroller. The directors, in addition to Mr. Whitney, Mr. Burden and Mr. Poole, are Ward Cheney, Nicholas S. Ludington, Sherman Pratt and Albert G. Redpath.

Protest Poor Prints

Members of the Independent Theatre Association of Ontario are protesting the condition of prints being released by various distributors. The association has organized a Better Prints Committee which has requested a conference with the Motion Picture Distributors Association of which Colonel John A. Cooper is president.

Allied Bermuda Cruise

Allied of New Jersey members who were prevented from going to Bermuda on an organization sponsored cruise December 16th because of a seamen's strike, have re-booked passage for another trip next Wednesday.

Bernard Fineman has been made an associate producer at RKO Radio under a term contract.

GOVERNMENT BROADCAST DEVOTED TO HISTORY OF FILM INDUSTRY

Hays Tells Audience Entertainment Is Primary Obligation of Picture Business; Inventor of Projector Interviewed

The story of motion pictures from the time Peter Mark Roget, an English scientist, recognized the optical illusion that is the basic principle of motion pictures, was told in a radio dramatization presented over the Columbia Broadcasting System Tuesday afternoon by the United States Department of Commerce.

As guest speaker on the program—one of a series entitled "Stories of American Industry"—Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, told of the progress and policies of the industry and of the formation and operation of the industry's code of self regulation. He climaxed his talk with the declaration:

"One thing which above all others must be remembered in connection with motion pictures is that the business of the movies is to entertain, and with amusement all of us can enjoy. This fundamental principle, this primary obligation to the public, is not to be forgotten by any of us within the industry. Social responsibility lies in serving, not in dictating to the public. This our art-industry undertakes always to do."

Another feature of the program was the introduction of Thomas Armat who was described by Harry R. Daniel of the Department of Commerce, as the inventor of a projector that "lifted the movie from the narrow limitation of Edison's penny-in-the-slot machine to the glory of the present motion pictures".

Mr. Armat, interviewed by Mr. Daniel, told of seeing the Edison peephole Kinetoscope in 1894 and of striving to have pictures "projected on a screen so that audiences, instead of just one person at a time, could see them."

He also recalled the showing of the first motion picture in a theatre. "It was the night of April 23rd, 1896," Mr. Armat said, "at Koster and Bial's Music Hall in New York. The audience went wild over the 'Waves of Dover,' just a little 50 foot strip showing waves dashing against a pier—but to that audience of 41 years ago it seemed nothing short of a miracle."

During the narrative part of the program, Mr. Daniel recounted the English scientist's experience of glancing through Venetian blinds and noticing that through the slatted apertures a passing cart seemed to be proceeding by jerks. His observation resulted in the production of a toy called the Zootrope, Mr. Daniel said.

This was followed by a short skit in which Governor Leland Stanford of California won a $25,000 wager by employing cameras to prove that a trotting horse's four feet are off the ground at one time.

Mr. Daniel then explained Thomas A. Edison's interest in the moving pictures and of George Eastman's success in producing film.

Other highlights touched upon by Mr. Daniel included the story of Edwin S. Porter producing "The Great Train Robbery," and of Mary Pickford obtaining a job in a picture produced by David Wark Griffith. Mr. Daniel also told about the production of "Birth of a Nation" and of the first feature with sound, "The Jazz Singer."

In conclusion, he declared: "Due to constantly better pictures, this great two-billion dollar industry is thriving today. Each week 85 million Americans visit more than 16,000 theatres for the recreation and inspiration which they find on the screen. I believe it is not going too far to say that the motion picture is the direct product of the American people . . . the modern motion picture holds up a faithful mirror to American life."

Among the texts consulted in framing the factual background for the program was "A Million and One Nights," two-volume history of the industry by Terry Ramsaye, editor of MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

Mr. Hays, in his address, said:

"No story ever written for the screen is as dramatic or romantic as the story of the screen itself. Its rise, its progress and its service afford a most striking example of the opportunities under the American system for the development of industry and its immeasurable usefulness.

"The founders of this Republic were business men. Because they were business men, they established that form of government best adapted to meet practical needs of men in a practical world of affairs.

"The first bill signed by George Washington as President stated in its preamble that its aim was the development of manufactures and the expansion of commerce. Alexander Hamilton, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson were business men. Our whole American civilization stands as a monument to business enterprise.

"We measure our progress in America not by the sum of our possessions, but by the number of those who are able to enjoy them. We measure it by the number who own their houses and farms, and radios and automobiles and all the comforts and conveniences modern production and distribution have placed within their reach. We measure it by the number of our life insurance policies, our savings bank accounts, by our number of owners of those securities which make millions of people the joint proprietors of our great industrial enterprises. We measure it by our opportunities for gainful occupation, by our attendance at places of amusement, by the number of our schools, our libraries, our hospitals and our churches.

"And we know it has been the business men in the community who have supported the churches, endowed the universities, built most of the libraries, made possible our art galleries, and contributed their contents, who have financed the study of disease and its eradication.

"It was the business man working with the scientist who brought the motion picture to the point where every day now in this country alone twenty-seven thousand miles of film pass through the hands of the distribution exchanges and twelve million people see motion pictures every day. . . .

"Striving to operate in full consciousness of its obligations under today's conditions it has reached a position where it is recognized not only as a universal entertainment medium, but at its best is highest art and essential service. It has reached this position by the road of self-regulation. . . .

"Not resting with purely technical and artistic development, the motion picture industry undertook and carried through over a period of years a significant education effort that has resulted in a Code of self-discipline by which the industry expressed its public responsibility as an entertainment medium of universal appeal to men, women and children.

Self-Regulation Built

"There have been ups and downs in the undertaking to raise both the standards of production and the standards of public appreciation, to balance, in the field of higher entertainment, supply with demand. There have been times when the issue of freedom for the screen under a code of self-regulation, created and developed by the organized motion picture industry, has been confused. But carefully and solidly self-regulation continued to be built with the encouragement and support of the industry itself. Today there is freedom on the screen for every legitimate theme or treatment which drama, literature and life may offer and yet public assurance that the door of the average motion picture theatre open to clean, inspiring and significant entertainment.

"Motion picture production is, in a substantial manner, a cooperative endeavor furnishing a fine demonstration of the relation of the public to industry. Not the producer, nor the distributor, nor the exhibitor, can decide the fate of any picture. That is in the hands of the eighty-five million persons who each week cast their vote at the box office. . . .

"The motion picture industry has demonstrated another type of cooperation. This most highly competitive business in the world has shown that there can be, as modern thought says there should be, cooperation between keenly rival companies on those matters which are of benefit to all. . . .

Bearing on Other Businesses

"Also this industry has a direct bearing on practically all other business. Not only does it use the products of almost every other industry, but every theatre is a lighted beacon of business activity for the neighborhood in which it is placed. . . .

"One thing which above all others must be remembered in connection with motion pictures is that the business of the movies is to entertain, and with amusement all of us can enjoy. This fundamental principle, this primary obligation to the public, is not to be forgotten by any of us within the industry. Social responsibility lies in serving, not in dictating to the public. This our art-industry undertakes always to do.

"The screen in America is strong and popular because it has universal appeal. It strikes human chords and emotions common to us all. To be able to furnish the millions who go every day to the movies—with entertainment, with information, with education and frequently with very definite inspiration, seems to me a service of vast merit and distinction."

MAKING OF A FILM SHOWN BY MUSEUM

What is believed by the Museum of Modern Art to be the first exhibition of its kind ever held in an art museum, "The Making of a Contemporary Film", was opened to the public at the museum's headquarters in New York this week.

The motion picture used as the basis of the exhibition is the American classic, "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" by Mark Twain, and material from the latest version in motion pictures produced by Selznick International.

They'll Be Comin' F

They'll be comin' round in thousands when it comes They'll be comin' round in millions when it comes They'll be wearin' great big smiles, they'll be rollin' in the aisl
If you'll be playin'

SWING Y

When it comes as the first genuine novelty of the new year, from Warner Bros.

ound the Mountain

(TO A PACKED HOUSE)

when the mighty Ozark philharmonic plunks into action

OUR LADY

with

HUMPHREY BOGART

And This Hand-Picked Line-Up Of Comedy Specialists

FRANK McHUGH · LOUISE FAZENDA · NAT PENDLETON

PENNY SINGLETON · ALLEN JENKINS

And The One And Only

WEAVER BROS and ELVIRY

Some Stuff This—wait'll you see 'em—and wait'll the mob sees 'em in pictures at last!

Directed by RAY ENRIGHT

Screen Play by Joseph Schrank and Maurice Leo

Adapted from the Play by KENYON NICHOLSON and CHARLES ROBINSON

Songs by M. K. Jerome and Jack Scholl

EQUITY LEADER URGES BUREAU OF FINE ARTS

Meredith Recommends Support of Coffee Bill to Increase Employment Among Actors

Support by the Actors Equity Association of two Federal bills that call for establishment of a Federal bureau or department of fine arts, is urged by Burgess Meredith, newly elected vice-president of the association, in an article published in the current issue of the organization's publication, Equity. He estimates the bill would increase employment among actors by 20 percent.

Mr. Meredith, in whom the duties of president have been vested, wrote the article in the capacity of chairman of a committee appointed to study the Federal Theatre Project in relation to the two proposed measures, the Coffee Bill and the Sirovich Bill, an editor's note explains.

The note also points out that since the article was written the Association has "endorsed the spirit and aims of these bills while recognizing the probability that there might have to be considerable changes made in certain of their provisions before Equity could accept them without reservation."

The Coffee Bill, Mr. Meredith explains, proposes a Bureau of Fine Arts to consist of a commissioner and six members. As for the second bill, Mr. Meredith reports: "The committee feels that as far as it can make out, this bill is a broad resolution to have departments of science, art and literature, but it has not to date defined its scope."

While similar, the article continues, the bills do not "collide." Support of both is urged, Mr. Meredith wrote, because "desirable portions of the defeated bill could be incorporated into the enacted one by pressure and change."

The committee's investigation of the Federal Theatre project, according to the article, disclosed seven "facts" which follow:

1. "To date the Federal theatre has given approximately 44,000 performances.

2. "It has had an approximate audience of 30,000,000.

3. "This has happened in the space of two years.

4. "It has furnished a script service to approximately 10,000 study and dramatic clubs, colleges, camps, clubs and CCC (Civilian Conservation Corps) camps.

5. "Its activities have extended over 30 states —45 per cent of the project, however, being centered in New York City.

6. "At its height the Federal Theatre employed 15,000 people of the theatre. It now employs 8,500—Equity members 700–1,000.

7. "It is the general impression of many critics of the theatre, and of innumerable other people prominent in the theatre, that the Federal Theatre has—

(a) "Broadened the base of the theatre throughout the country—greatly extending the national interest.

(b) "In New York City during the last two years, out of the ten most original and dynamic productions, at least five of these must be accredited to WPA.

(c) "That the results of these activities have benefitted the theatre enormously, with the impression prevailing that many results are just beginning to show.

(d) "The Federal Theatre Project has been singularly free of government red tape and interference.

(e) "The entire enterprise cost only $22,000,000 or one-half the price of a battleship."

Under the Coffee Bill, the article reports, a bureau would be established and the commissioner of the bureau would be appointed by the President. The commissioner then would appoint six members, the article continues, and they would be directors of six departments, theatre, dance, music, literature, graphic arts, and architecture.

Mr. Meredith explains three other parts of the bill with the statement: "This fine arts bureau then divides the country into appropriate sections and creates a regional bureau over each section. This regional bureau consists of a regional director and four members. We have then a Washington Bureau appointing various regional bureaus and these latter are responsible for the administration of the act.

"All the functions of WPA are immediately transferred to this new bureau and the number of artists employed shall be increased by at least 20 percent.

"All wages shall be raised to trade union scales."

Mr. Meredith also points out that the committee discovered "a great enthusiasm has grown up behind the bill on the part of other organizations and prominent individuals of the arts."

The article, in addition to urging endorsement of the measure, recommends a widespread campaign to obtain support of the bill.

Consider Legislation Aimed At Newspaper Radio Stations

With newspaper-owned radio stations now numbering around 200 out of the 700 odd licensed commercial radio stations, President Roosevelt is said again to be considering the advisability of legislation to compel newspapers to divest themselves of the ownership or control of stations. Dr. Irvin Stewart, formerly of the Federal Communications Commission, recently compiled an analysis of newspaper ownership of stations and found 113 cities in which all local broadcast stations are under newspaper control.

Senate members are being felt out about the matter, it is learned, with the idea of an Administration sponsored measured being introduced early in the new year if the reaction is favorable. Frank R. McNinch, chairman of the FCC, is said to favor legislation against newspaper owned stations and recently began a study of the problem.

Cleveland Club Election

The Showmen's Club of Cleveland, composed of theatre managers and members of affiliated businesses, has elected Bert Diener, manager of the Imperial, president; Jack Sliney, manager of the Norwood, vice-president; Roy Gross, Cedar theatre, treasurer; Louis Swee, Knickerbocker theatre, financial secretary, and W. J. Banks, Detroit theatre, recording secretary.

Republic will gross approximately $10,000,000 on the 1937-38 season's product, H. J. Yates said this week.

SCALPERS RENT LOFTS NEAR MUSIC HALL

Itinerant ticket scalpers this holiday week were doing a boom business in the vicinity of Radio City Music Hall, charging two dollars each for $1.10 afternoon reserve seats, and hitting a new high at $3.85 for the Music Hall's regular $1.65 New Year Eve seats. Some of them hired empty lofts near the theatre in which to do business, placing "barkers" out front to call trade, unique indeed for a continuous performance film house.

The theatre was selling to some 30,000 persons a day during the week. New Year Eve seats have been sold out seven weeks in advance.

Every other Broadway theatre was experiencing similar sell out business, Warners' Strand on Wednesday stopping ticket sales at 11 a.m. By 12:30, some 6,054 admissions had been counted. Byron Moore, manager, reported to the home office that the opening rush resulted in three main doors being torn from their hinges.

New York Paramount on Wednesday rang up an all time opening attendance record. Robert M. Weitman, manager, estimated the day's attendance at 26,000.

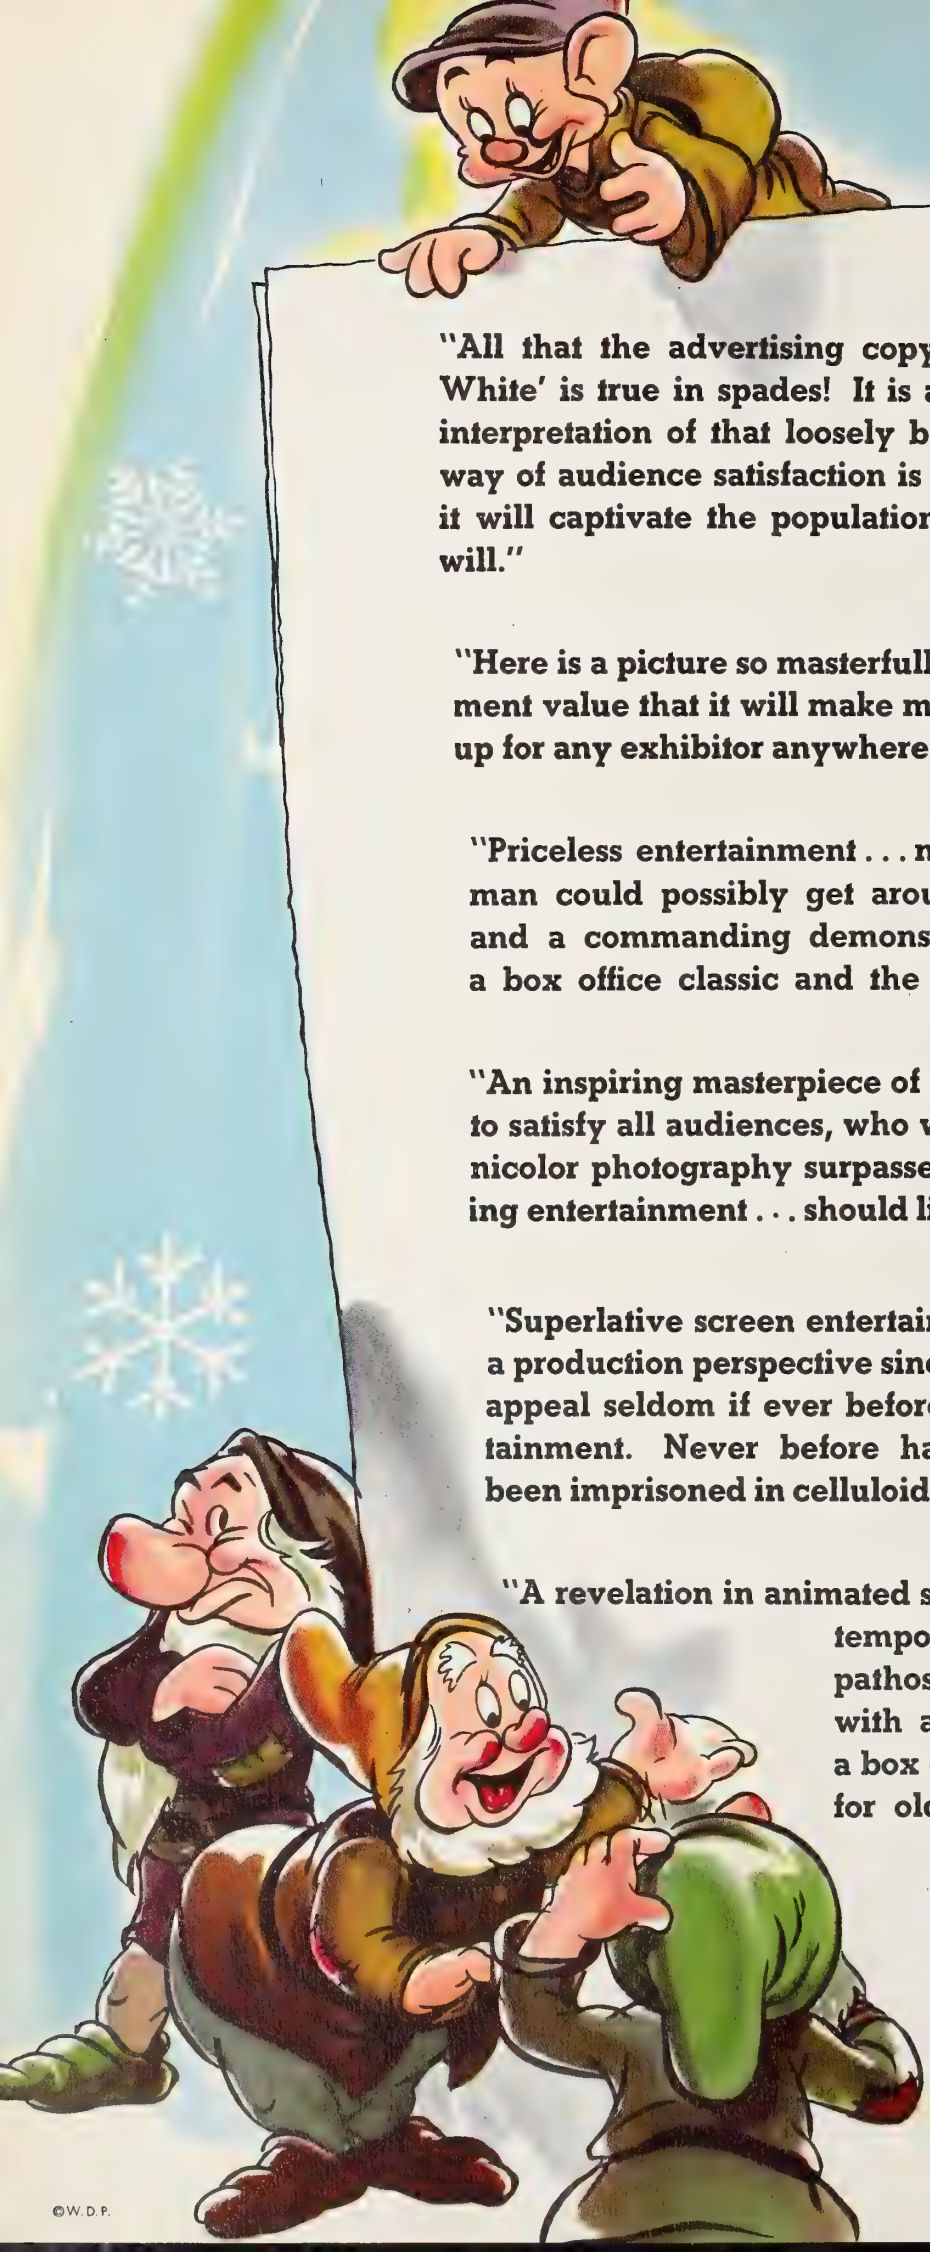
Academy To Publish Book Based on Lectures

The Research Council of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences will publish a 525-page book, "Motion Picture Sound Engineering," based on the lectures presented to the council's sound classes.

The book, which will be sold for $4, will contain lectures by Fred Albin, engineer of the United Artists sound department; L. E. Clark, formerly engineering manager of RCA; John Hilliard, transmission engineer of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; Harry Kimball, MGM sound engineer, and A. P. Hill, formerly acoustic superintendent of Electrical Research Products, Inc.

Jewish Charity Fund

The New York-Brooklyn campaign of the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies so far has raised $134,200 as a result of contributions by members of the theatrical and film industries. More than $37,000 of the total was raised at a dinner held in Hollywood last week. The Federation is seeking to raise a grand total of $6,250,000 for 116 affiliated welfare agencies.



Censor Exemption Requested

The National Film Society of Vancouver, B. C., a self-named "non-commercial body organized to promote the study and use of motion pictures as educational and cultural factors," has appealed to the Provincial Government for exemption from censorship.

Jacques Coen was named manager of Columbia's branch office in Alexandria, Egypt, and L. Schiller will have charge of the company's office in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

©W.D.P.

"All that the advertising copy writers have been saying about 'Snow White' is true in spades! It is a box office natural in the most expectant interpretation of that loosely bandied term, and what it achieves in the way of audience satisfaction is spectacularly the box office's business . . . it will captivate the population as perhaps no other picture ever has or will."

—MOTION PICTURE DAILY

"Here is a picture so masterfully produced and of such unusual entertainment value that it will make motion picture history. It should be a clean-up for any exhibitor anywhere."

—FILM DAILY

"Priceless entertainment . . . more to talk about than any normal showman could possibly get around to . . . a fine artistic accomplishment and a commanding demonstration of shrewd showmanship . . . both a box office classic and the other kind."

—MOTION PICTURE HERALD

"An inspiring masterpiece of elegant beauty and entertainment . . . sure to satisfy all audiences, who will rave about it . . . new Multiplane Technicolor photography surpasses anything yet seen in color . . . outstanding entertainment . . . should live for many years."

—SHOWMEN'S TRADE REVIEW

"Superlative screen entertainment . . . the most important picture from a production perspective since the advent of sound . . . it has a universal appeal seldom if ever before attained in the realm of celluloid entertainment. Never before have such breath-takingly gorgeous hues been imprisoned in celluloid for any type of picture."

—BOX OFFICE

"A revelation in animated screen entertainment displaying mood and tempo with a master stroke. Romance, drama, pathos and genuine heart interest combined with artistic craftsmanship for nothing short of a box office smash. Just what the doctor ordered for old and young alike."

—JAY EMANUEL PUBLICATIONS

"Meets even the wildest expectations of Disney's millions of admirers. It is a masterpiece of entertainment for people of every age . . . marks milestone of motion picture progress . . . Walt Disney has carved for himself a permanent niche in the motion picture hall of fame."

—HOLLYWOOD REPORTER

©W.D.P.

"Sets milestone in art of picture making . . . completely a thing of beauty and charm, vastly appealing entertainment for every normal human being . . . it will do smashing business and regale all manner of audiences in extended runs."

—HOLLYWOOD VARIETY

"A motion picture miracle has come into being. It is a film fairy tale that will enrapture audiences around the world . . . it is a great screen contribution not only for today but for tomorrow."

—EDWIN SCHALLERT, Los Angeles Times

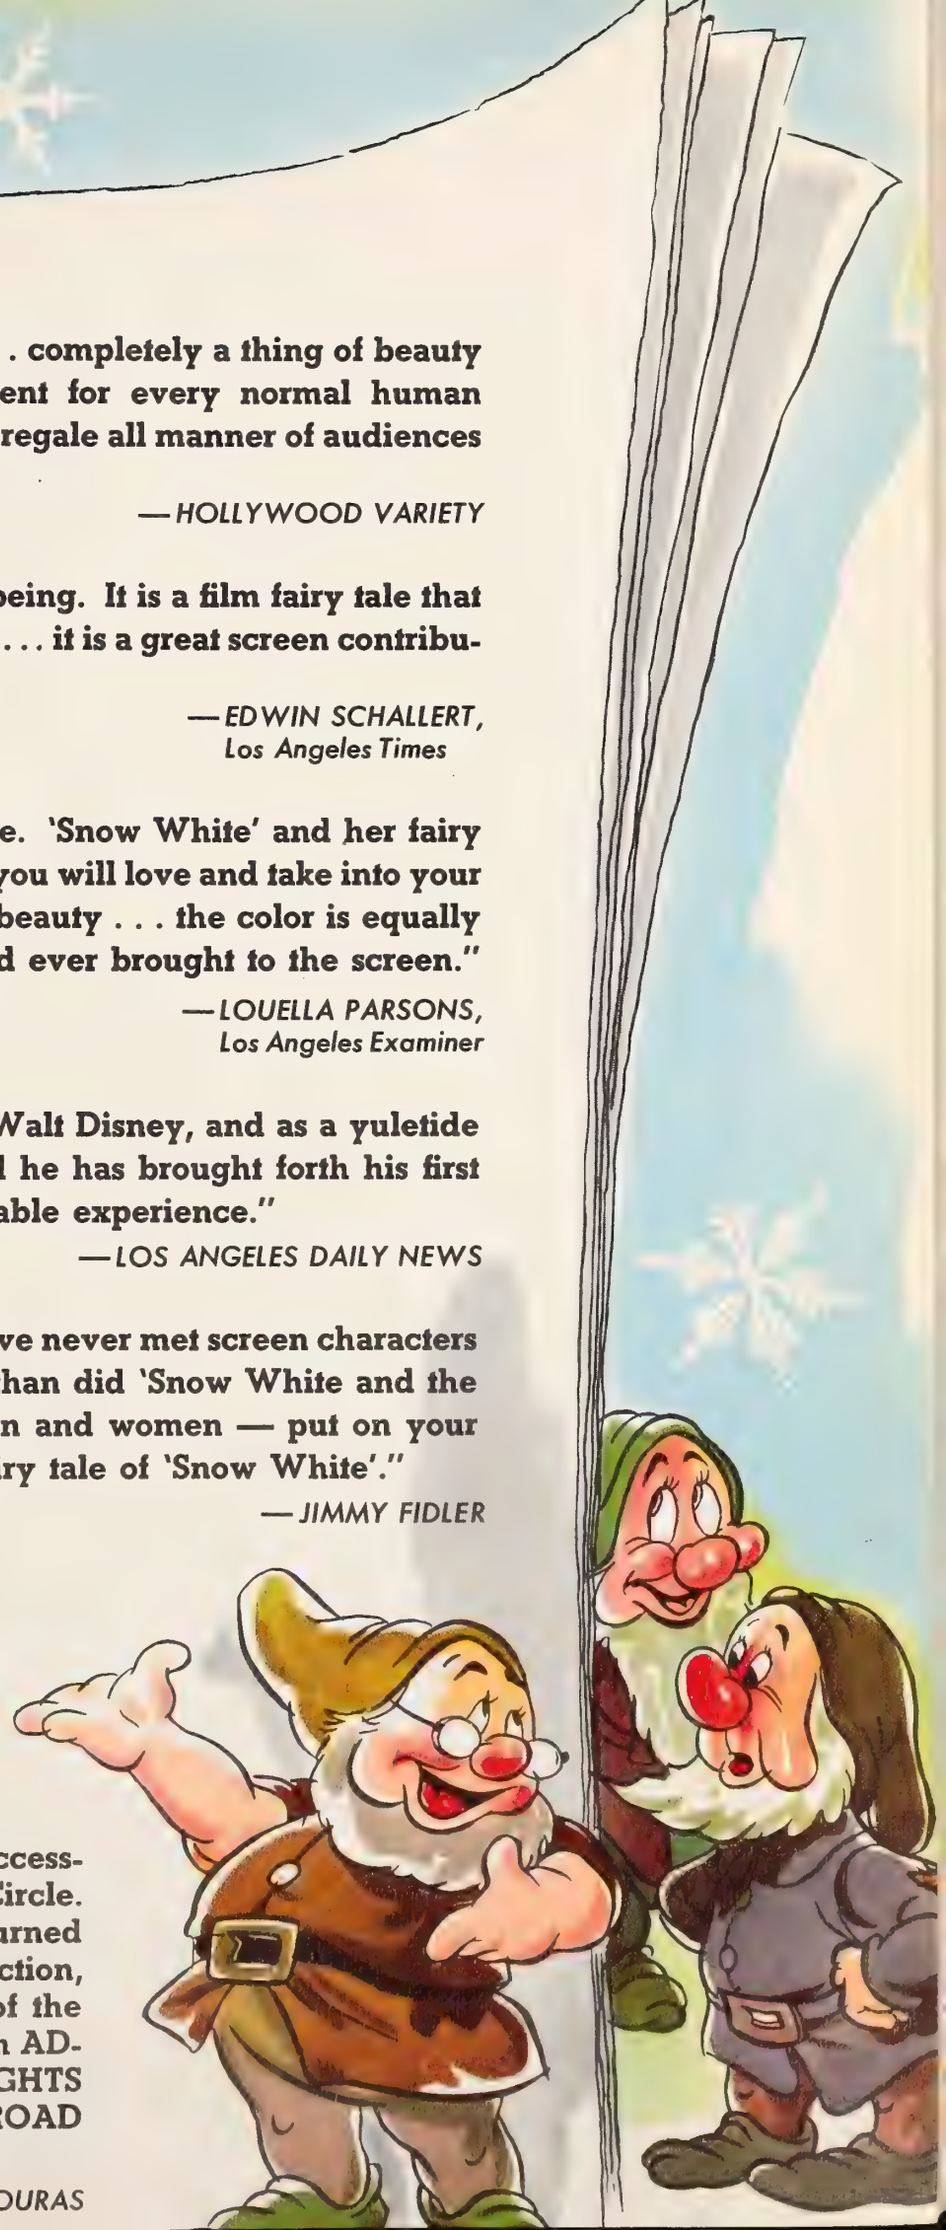
"Walt Disney adds new laurels to his fame. 'Snow White' and her fairy prince and the seven dwarfs become stars you will love and take into your heart. The sets are breath-taking in their beauty . . . the color is equally exquisite . . . the loveliest thing of its kind ever brought to the screen."

—LOUELLA PARSONS, Los Angeles Examiner

"Yes there is a Santa Claus! His name is Walt Disney, and as a yuletide gift for all those young in spirit and mind he has brought forth his first feature length attraction . . . an unforgettable experience."

—LOS ANGELES DAILY NEWS

"In all my nineteen years of reviewing I have never met screen characters that more completely captured my heart than did 'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs'. Children, young folks, men and women — put on your 'must see' list, the delightful charming fairy tale of 'Snow White'."



—JIMMY FIDLER

"Walt Disney scored a new and impressive triumph last night . . . a fascinating screen experience . . . a picture that nobody should miss."

—HARRISON CARROLL, Los Angeles Herald Express

"World premiere of 'Snow White' most successful opening we have ever had at Carthay Circle. Practically every celebrity in Hollywood turned out and paid tribute to Walt Disney's production, with applause lasting long after the end of the picture. Public interest is equally high with ADVANCE SALE BOTH MATINEES AND NIGHTS TOPPING THAT OF ANY PREVIOUS ROAD SHOW AT CARTHAY CIRCLE."

—Telegram from CHARLES P. SKOURAS

WALT DISNEY'S

FIRST FULL LENGTH FEATURE PRODUCTION

SNOW WHITE

AND THE SEVEN DWARFS

in the marvelous MULTIPLANE TECHNICOLOR

Distributed by RKO RADIO PICTURES, INC.

●

NOW PLAYING

Twice Daily

CARTHAY CIRCLE

LOS ANGELES

●

..THEN AROUND THE WORLD

THE HOLLYWOOD SCENE

Production Lags

During Christmas week, twelve pictures which have been occupying the attention of production crews in various Hollywood studios were marked finished. Eight features were started. Inasmuch as Friday was a day given over to general celebrating, practically all real work stopped Thursday night.

Twentieth Century-Fox finished three films. "Happy Landing," Sonja Heine's third spectacular starring vehicle, will also present Don Ameche, Jean Hersholt, Cesar Romero, Wally Vernon, Ethel Merman, Raymond Scott Quintet, Leah Ray, Peters Sisters, Condos Brothers, Marcelle Corday, Louis Adlon, Willima Brady, Barbara and Gloria Brewster, Marianna Brudie, Annabelle Brudie and Gene Mako. Roy Del Ruth directed. In "City Girl" Phyllis Brooks, Ricardo Cortez, Douglas Fowley, Robert Wilcox, Chick Chandler, Adrienne Ames, Esther Muir, Charles Lane, Paul Stanton, Charles Trowbridge, Pierre Watkins and Marjorie Main will be seen. Alfred T. Werker was the director. The featured players in "Headline Huntress" (tentative title) are Gloria Stuart, Michael Whalen, Lyle Talbot, Delmar Watson and Jane Darwell. James Tingling directed.

MGM Completes Pair

Two pictures were completed at MGM. Both are romantic comedies. Cast for "Love Is a Headache" are Gladys George, Franchot Tone, Ted Healy, Mickey Rooney, Frank Jenks, Ralph Morgan, Barnett Parker, Virginia Weidler, Fay Holden and Henry Kolker. Richard Thorpe directed. In "Three Men in the Snow," which Edward Buzzell directed, the complete cast, all of whom are featured, includes Robert Young, Florence Rice, Frank Morgan, Reginald Owen, Edna May Oliver, Mary Astor, Herman Bing, Sig Rumann, Henry Hull and Walter Kingsford.

Monogram Finishes Two

Monogram also finished two productions. The comedy romance, "Saleslady," teams Anne Nagel and Weldon Heyburn in the leading roles with Harry Davenport, Ruth Fallows, Doris Rankin, Kenneth Harlan and Matty Kemp in support. Arthur G. Collins directed. Listed in the cast of "My Old Kentucky Home," which was directed by Lambert Hillyer, are Evelyn Venable, Grant Richards, Bernadene Hayes, Clara Blandick, Margaret Marquis and Paul White.

Universal Also Has Pair

Universal was the third studio to finish two pictures. "The Mountains Are My Kingdom," action adventure and romance, will present Noah Beery, Jr., and Francis Robinson with Samuel S. Hinds, Stanley Andrews, Robert Barrat, Fred Kohler, Sr., William Lundigan and Alonzo Price. Wyndham Gittens directed. The principal players in "Midnight Intruder," melodrama, which Arthur Lubin directed, are Louis Hayward, Barbara Reed, Eric Linden, Sheila Bromley, Robert Grieg, Pierre Watkins, J. C. Nugent and Irving Bacon.

Crosby Musical Romance

"Doctor Rhythm" was finished by Major Pictures for Paramount release. A musical romance with comedy, the important personalities are Bing Crosby, Mary Carlisle, Beatrice Lillie, Andy Devine, Laura Hope Crews, Fred Keating, Sterling Holloway and Rufe Davis. Frank Tuttle directed.

Republic finished "Outside of Paradise." Directed by John H. Auer, cast names are Phil Regan, Dorothy McNulty, Ruth Coleman, Mischa Moody, Joe E. Marks and Cliff Nazarro.

The final completed picture, "Everybody Was Very Nice," Warner Bros., will present Wayne Morris, Priscilla Lane, John Litel, Dick Foran, Mona Barrie, Barbara O'Neill and Thomas Mitchell. Stanley Logan directed.

Twentieth Starts Three

The three pictures which were completed at 20th Century-Fox were succeeded immediately by three starters. The leading trio in "Josette" are Simone Simon, Don Ameche and Robert Young. The supporting group presently listed includes Bert Lahr, Joan Davis, Tala Birell, Paul Hurst, Jayne Regan, Lillian Portel and Paul McVer. Allan Dwan is directing. First picture for Jane Withers since being rated one of the ten big money making stars of 1937 is "Gypsy." She will be supported by Rochelle Hudson, Robert Wilcox, Borrah Minnevitch and his harmonica band and Steffi Duna. Bruce Humberstone is directing. Cast for "Six Girls," which Norman Foster is directing, are Claire Trevor, Phyllis Brooks, Dixie Dunbar, Leah Ray, Lynn Bari, Jayne Regan, Michael Whalen, Thomas Beck, Douglas Fowley, Robert Lowery and William Benedict.

Two pictures were started at Republic. In "Purple Vigilantes," a number in the "Three Mesquiteers" series, Bob Livingston, Roy Corrigan, Max Terhune, Joan Barclay, Frank O'Connor and Edward Cassidy will be seen. George Sherman is directing. Second film, "Born To Be Wild," will present Ralph Byrd, Doris Weston, Ward Bond and Charles Williams in the principal roles. Joseph Kane is the director.

The incomplete cast of "Madelon," MGM, includes Wallace Beery, Maureen O'Sullivan, James Stewart, Frank Morgan, Jessie Ralph and Cora Witherspoon. James Whale is the director.

Monogram started "Where the West Begins," action adventure and romance. It will present as principals Judith Ford, Fuzzy Knight, Jack Randal and Ray Whitley and his orchestra. J. P. McGowan is directing.

For Paramount distribution, Harry Sherman started "Deputy Sheriff." A "Hopalong Cassidy" story, it will present William Boyd, Russell Hayden, George Hayes, Gwen Gaye, Paul Sutton, Pat O'Brien and Joseph de Steffani. Les Selander is directing.

FILM EXPLOITATION INTRODUCED BY BBC

Music from new British films will be played on future radio programs over the British Broadcasting Corporation stations. Starting early in 1938, the Government-controlled broadcasting system will schedule a series of concerts arranged and conducted by Muir Mathieson, musical director of London Films.

Arthur Bliss' music for "Things to Come", John Greenwood's score on "Elephant Boy" and "The Drum" and other Denham music will be played to British listeners by the studio orchestra itself.

The Case of Opera

The perennial and sometimes exciting argument concerning adaptation of grand opera to motion pictures and the value of operatic music and personalities in films, particularly when considered from the angle of box office worth, is gradually being settled.

As a matter of fact operatic music and personalities, as such, have been fed to motion picture audiences in small portions over quite a period. Today almost every major studio either has an important operatic star under contract or is featuring operatic arias in its product.

Such names of opera as Grace Moore, Lawrence Tibbett, Lily Pons, Gladys Swarthout, Marion Talley, Nino Martini and many more who at one time were familiar only to groups which newspapers refer to as "habitues of the diamond horseshoe," are appearing in title credits.

Paramount will present another operatic notable, Kirsten Flagstad, in the coming edition of "The Big Broadcast." Samuel Goldwyn, who always maintains he's away ahead of the drum major in any parade, will feature two operatic stars. Helen Jepson and Charles Kullman, in "Goldwyn Follies." Unless we are mistaken, youthful Edith Fellowes will try opera in "Little Miss Roughneck." Neither she nor Simone Simon is an opera star, but Miss Simon sings an aria in "Love and Hisses." Opera as an important adjunct to pictures may be closer to a realization than the unsuspecting believe.

SHOWMEN'S REVIEWS

This department deals with new product from the point of view of the exhibitor who is to purvey it to his own public

Everybody's Doing It

RKO-Radio

Melocomedy

The above word is coined advisedly and supplied gratis as a quick and accurate definition of this structurally unique attraction. The picture is, as the word implies, a mixture of old school melodrama and that new school comedy so plentiful this season, in which everybody lambasts, pummels and socks everybody else before the groggy clinch and rosy fadeout. This is the first time precisely this mixture has been dished up.

Had the picture come out a little earlier, showmen might have capitalized upon its relationship to the widely popular Old Gold contest, for it is such a contest that supplies motive for all that happens in the story. The analogy may be still good for a degree of drawing power if judicially employed.

Preston Foster and Sally Eilers are the top names. Guinn Williams and Cecil Hollaway head a supporting cast whose efforts are unanimously in quest of laughter. Lorraine Krueger sings and dances briefly in the course of a Dumb Dora assignment.

J. Robert Bren, Edmund Joseph and Harry Segall managed to cook up the screen play from a story hatched by George Beck. It tells of an alcoholically addicted artist who hires out to draw puzzle pictures for an advertising campaign and his girl friend. She has him abducted for purposes of keeping him sober, but two sets of abductors interested in winning the contest threaten to wreck the enterprise. It all winds up with everybody socking everybody with everything in reach and the police arriving in time and high spirits.

Previewed at the RKO Hill Street theatre, Los Angeles, where audience reaction was spotty.—WILLIAM R. WEAVER.

Produced and distributed by RKO Radio Pictures. Produced by William Sistrom. Directed by Christy Cabanne. Screen play by J. Robert Bren, Edmund Joseph and Harry Segall. From a story by George Beck. Musical director, Frank Tours. Cameraman, Nicholas Musuraca and Paul Vogel. Art director, Van Nest Polglase. Associate art director, Field M. Gray. Sound by Shelby C. Chapman. Film editor, Ted Cheesman. Song: "Put Your Heart Into Your Feet and Dance," music by Hal Borne and lyrics by Mort Greene. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3846. Running time, 67 minutes. Release date, January 14, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Bruce	Preston Foster
Penny	Sally Eilers
Beyers	Cecil Kellaway
Bubbles	Lorraine Krueger
Willy	Wm. Brisbane
Devers	Richard Lane
Softy	Guinn Williams
Waldo	Arthur Lake
Gus	Solly Ward
Bartender	Frank M. Thomas
Butler	Herbert Evans

City Girl

(20th Century-Fox)

Melodrama

Contrast between honesty and uprightness, surrounded by poverty, and crime and lawlessness in the folds of luxury, with the emphasis on the latter, is part of the background of "City Girl," a Sol M. Wurtzel production from 20th Century-Fox. Law and order triumph, however, and the pretty girl, who is the pawn of her own misguided emotions and the influence of a gangster leader, pays for her missteps with death. But, even then, her demise is an accident. Of such is "City Girl," which therefore must be deemed unsuitable for children and impressionable youngsters.

Top names in the cast are Phyllis Brooks, Ricardo Cortez, Robert Wilcox, Douglas Fowley and Chick Chandler.

"Ellen Ward" is a waitress who supports her family living in a tenement. She becomes at first innocently involved with crooks, and later throws her lot with them willingly. She leaves her family, and her sweetheart of former days, an attorney named "Donald Sanford," is thrown into discard. Supported by "Charles Blake," gangster leader, in luxury that she has never had before, she accidentally kills a jealous sweetheart of "Blake's" and is convicted of murder. "Blake" helps her escape and she disappears. Later she returns to the city, and is confronted with a gang investigation aided by "Sanford." She dupes him and aids "Blake" materially by spying on the investigator's actions, later stealing back from the probers papers that would convict him. The finale comes as "Ellen," confronted by her ex-sweetheart, protects him from "Blake's" bullet and is killed.

Previewed at the Upton Theatre, Los Angeles, where an audience, predominantly adult, seemingly appreciated the workmanship which went into the making of the film.—VANCE KING.

Produced and distributed by 20th Century-Fox. Executive producer, Sol M. Wurtzel. Directed by Alfred Werker. Original screenplay by Frances Hyland, Robin Harris and Lester Ziffren. Photographed by Harry Jackson. Art direction, Bernard Herzbrun and Lewis Creber. Film editor, Norman Colbert. Musical direction, Samuel Kaylin. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3928. Running time, when seen in Los Angeles, 60 minutes. Release date, March 18, 1938. Adult audience classification.

CAST

Ellen Ward	Phyllis Brooks
Charles Blake	Ricardo Cortez
Donald Sanford	Robert Wilcox
Ritchie	Douglas Fowley
Mike Harrison	Chick Chandler
Flo Nichols	Esther Muir
Vivian Crane	Adrianne Ames
Steve	George Lynn
Dr. Abbot	Charles Lane
Chaney	Paul Stanton

Wise Girl

(RKO-Radio)

Comedy Romance

A fast moving comedy romance which has been given a breezy farce treatment to assure much fun in dialogue, action, situations and characterizations "Wise Girl" is that happy kind of picture that leaves those who see it with a satisfied feeling. While cast names are none too powerful, the various personalities have been intelligently spotted in their several roles in a manner which brings out the best features of their special talents. Continually light and frothy, even when it approaches its semi-serious moments, the not uncommon story takes many surprising and amusing twists.

For showmanship purposes, the plot has been purposely complicated. Although he has disowned his deceased daughter, Henry Stephenson wishes the custody of his two grand children, who are in the guardianship of Ray Milland, a member of the bizarre Greenwich Village artist colony. Unable to do anything legally, his daughter, Miriam Hopkins, posing as an ambitious artist, invades the colony. Despite her carefully prepared plans, she meets opposition at every hand. Attracted to Miss Hopkins romantically, Milland, nevertheless is determined not to surrender the youngsters, and when the villagers find out her real identity they conspire to make her life a bedlam.

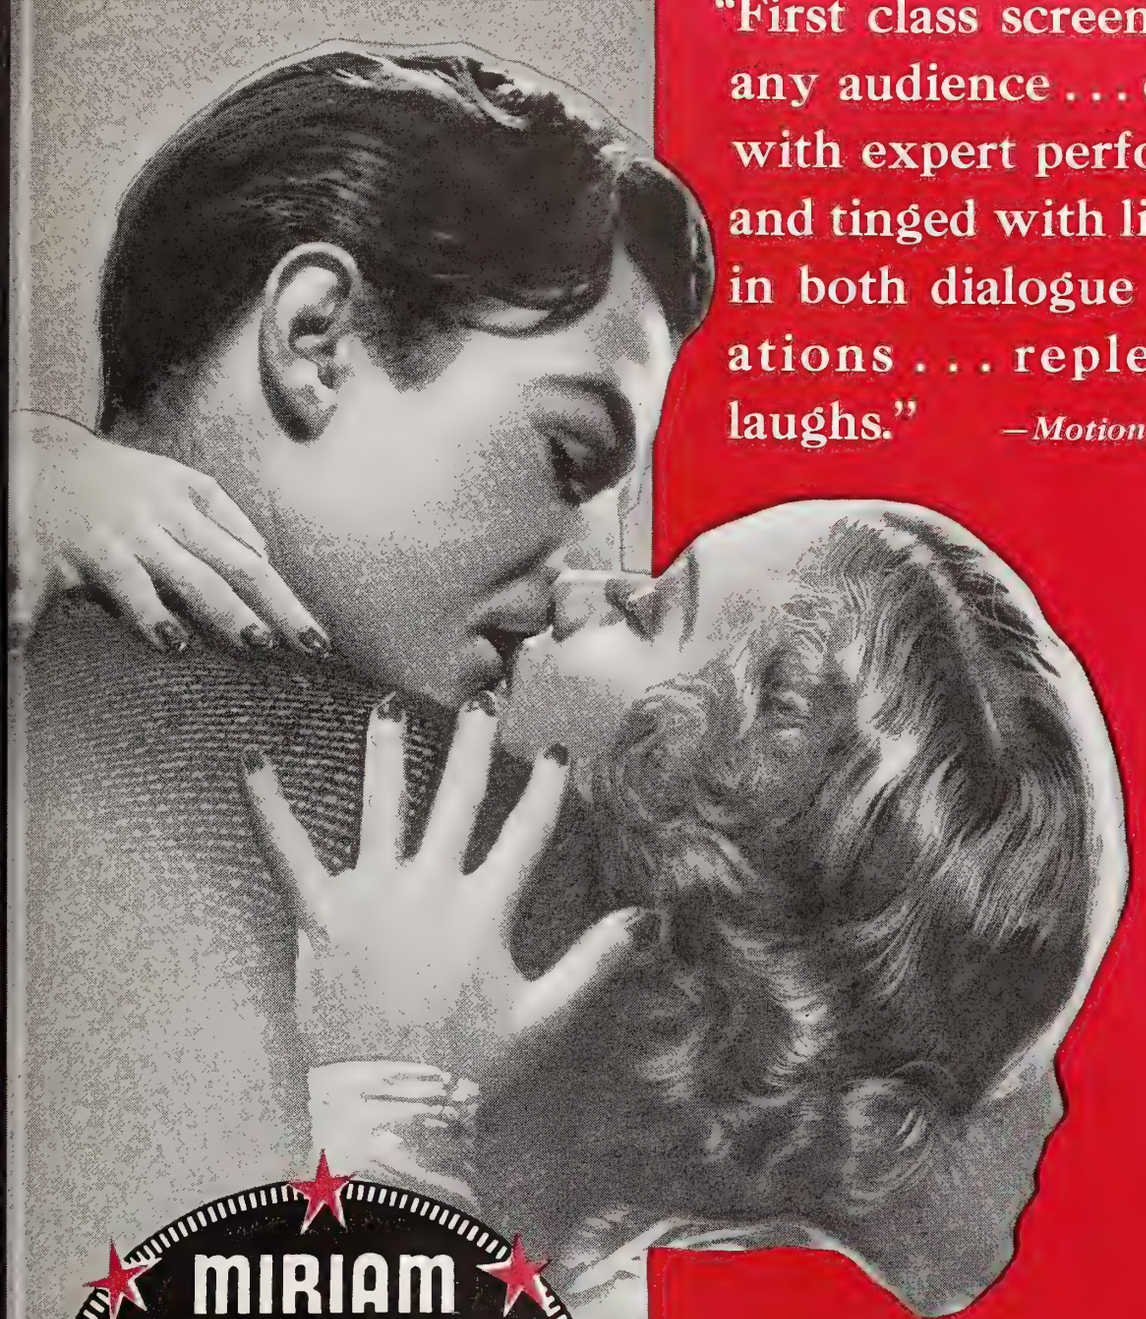
The lively theme, which Allan Scott and Charles Norman conceived and which Leigh Jason directed with a flare of showmanship, exerted an inspiring influence on the players. While all appear to good advantage, Miss Hopkins, Milland, Stevenson, Walter Abel are outstanding and the balance of the cast swing into the bubbling spirit of the story nicely.

Previewed Dec. 22nd in the RKO-Hillstreet theatre, Los Angeles. The audience, which was in a pre-holiday mood, evidenced an interest in the picture and appreciation for it that augurs well for its possibilities when generally released. Exploitation campaigns which lead prospective patrons to believe that pleasant amusement is in store for them when they see "Wise Girl" can readily be based on the theme. In many quarters, it is possible it may prove a surprise "sleeper" and provoke much favorable word of mouth advertising.—GUS MCCARTHY.

Produced and distributed by RKO-Radio. Produced by Edward Kaufman. Directed by Leigh Jason. Screen play by Allan Scott. Story by Allan Scott and Charles Norman. Kenneth Holmes, assistant director. Jack Hively, film editor. Photographed by Peverell Marley. P. C. A. certificate number 3727. Running time, when seen in Hollywood, 70 minutes. Release date, Dec. 31, 1937. General audience classification.

CAST

Susan Fletcher	Miriam Hopkins
John O'Halloran	Ray Milland
Karl	Walter Abel
Mr. Fletcher	Henry Stephenson
Dermont O'Neil	Alec Craig
Mike	Guinn Williams
Joan	Betty Philson
Katie	Marianna Strelby
Mrs. Bell Rivington	Margaret Dumont
George	Joan de Briac
Prince Michael	Ivan Lebedoff
Prince Ivan	Rafael Storm
Prince Leopold	Gregory Gaye
Detectives	Richard Lane, Tom Kennedy



Lady Behave

(Republic)

Comedy Romance

"Lady Behave" demonstrates that when a team of writers, in this case Joseph Krumgold and Oliver Cooper, prepare a good story, when a director, who happened to be Lloyd Corrigan, evidences enthusiasm for his job and when the cast presents a capable aggregation of players who know what to do with the ball when they get it, the resulting production is a picture that has legitimate entertainment and commercial value. Although the cast of "Lady Behave" offers no super-magnetic names, its principals, Sally Eilers, Neil Hamilton, Joseph Schildkraut, Grant Mitchell, George Ernest, Marcia Mae Jones, Patricia Farr and Robert Greig are by no means unknown. All have proved their ability in numerous pictures. The title has an intriguing significance. The story content is a

(Continued on page 26)

"First class screen fare for any audience . . . endowed with expert performances and tinged with lively flair in both dialogue and situations . . . replete with laughs." —Motion Picture Daily

MIRIAM HOPKINS RAY MILLAND IN Wise Girl

WITH

WALTER ABEL
HENRY STEPHENSON

DIRECTED BY LEIGH JASON
PRODUCED BY EDWARD KAUFMAN
SCREEN PLAY BY ALLAN SCOTT

"Lively comedy . . . laughs plentiful . . . thoroughly enjoyable . . . exhibits a winning warmth and fetching humor far above several more pretentious comedy offerings of recent months."
—Hollywood Reporter

"A genuinely enjoyable comedy that hits the modern farcical note . . . gay and breezy . . . clicks as a general audience picture . . . It's all in fun, and plenty of laughs are provided." —Hollywood Variety

"Fast-moving, amazing entertainment . . . Will attract and please fans." —Showmen's Trade Review

RKO RADIO PICTURES

(Continued from page 24)

refreshing variation of the comedy romance premise. Combined they constitute an exploitation basis which should stimulate an interest and eventually provoke much favorable word-of-mouth advertising.

Romance and comedy, the result of a tangled domestic situation, are the film's principal elements. "Paula Kendall's" flaming youth sister, "Clarice," who is already married, creates an embarrassing situation when she arrives home from a gay night to announce that she has married a man named "Cormack." The bridegroom leaves the country, having first sent his attorney to arrange a divorce. To save her sister from being a bigamist, "Paula," on the advice of counsel, "Williams," moves into "Cormack's" home and pretends she is the woman he married. His children (George Ernest and Marcia Mae Jones) combine with "Alfred" and other servants to make her life a turmoil. The children, hoping to save their father another "mistake," summon him home as meanwhile they make a deal with "Michael Andrews," "Paula's" estranged husband, to carry on a flirtation with "Miss Kendall." When "Cormack" (Neil Hamilton) arrives, he finds himself quite attracted to Miss "Kendall" and falls in love with her as she does with him. Gradually the youngsters come to understand that the woman is not another "mistake."

As action, dialogue and situations hold interest continually, a fortunate circumstance arises to prove that "Andrews'" marriage to "Clarice" was illegal. With that snarl untangled, it is an easy matter to arrange for a quiet divorce for her from "Cormack" and with the youngsters now actively supporting "Cormack" and pleading with Miss "Kendall" to marry their father, the happy ending climax ensues.

A first-class family attraction, the moral value of "Lady Behave" is above criticism. Careful writing, acting and direction preclude any such possibility. Showmanship technique which identifies it as a comedy of errors which takes any number of surprising and amusing twists should prove efficient in arousing early attention. It may be expected that those who see it will not be hesitant in recommending it to friends and acquaintances.

Previewed Dec. 15 in the Warner Beverly theatre. Although the rather slow start appeared to confuse the audience, once the real action of the film got under way it paid close and interested attention. The work of the players, particularly Miss Eilers and young George Ernest and Marcia Mae Jones, several times brought forth applause. The concluding verdict was that "Lady Behave" should prove desirable entertainment in similar neighborhood houses and also bolster many deluxe theatre programs.—Gus McCarthy.

Produced and distributed by Republic. Albert Levoy, associate producer. Directed by Lloyd Corrigan. Screen play by Joseph Krumgold and Olive Cooper. Original story by Joseph Krumgold. William Morgan, film editor. Alberto Colombo, musical director. Photographed by Harry Wild. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3831. Running time, 70 minutes. Release date, Dec. 27, 1937. General audience classification.

CAST

Paula Kendall.....Sally Eilers
Stephens Cormack.....Neil Hamilton
Michael Andrews.....Joseph Schildkraut
Burton Williams.....Grant Mitchell
Clarice.....Patricia Farr
Patricia.....Marcia Mae Jones
Hank.....George Ernest
Butch.....Warren Hymer
Alfred.....Robert Greig
Howell.....Charles Richman
Inn Keeper.....Spencer Charters
Cook.....Mary Gordon

March of Time No. 5
(RKO Radio)
Most Interesting

The fifth issue in this series is another interesting and enlightening presentation of three subjects of current importance in the forthright manner that has come to be associated with "The March of Time."

The first subject deals with Finland which is celebrating its 20th anniversary as an independent state. Formerly dependent on Russia, Finland tackled the difficult problems of industry and politics with courage and vision which today pays them dividends as it does the United States, for Finland is the only nation which has regularly paid the installments on its debt to this country.

The second subject deals with the "laugh industry," whose business it is to furnish jokes to comedians. Brief scenes of Fred Allen, Eddie Cantor, Jack Benny, Phil Baker and the like are seen working on "gags." Public taste in jokes is tested by playing records of various top programs of the air to see which "gags" receive the most applause. A card-index file lists the jokes according to their classification.

The third and last subject considers the American merchant marine situation and especially the extraordinary task of the head of the Maritime Commission, Joseph P. Kennedy, in gathering his facts for his recent recommendation to the Administration of drastic action if the American merchant marine is to regain its former position. Running time, 18 minutes.

Ears of Experience
(RKO Radio)
Kennedy Comedy

Typically an Edgar Kennedy comedy in content, although the comedian seems to do more than the usual amount of hair pulling and grimacing in this and less than the usual quota of talking, the subject suffers for a better idea or at least an idea that is a little different from the sameness of these comedies. Again Kennedy is the victim of his wife's desire to keep up with the Jones' with a wily promoter getting his savings. The object is to build Kennedy up so that his boss will promote him but the idea works in reverse for the boss, believing Kennedy independently wealthy, fires him. The cast is composed of Florence Lake, William Franey, Richard Lane, Jack Rice and Landers Stevens. Running time, 18 minutes.

The Man in the Barn
(MGM)
Historical Mystery

Taking as its subject the controversial point that the famous actor, John Wilkes Booth, did not perish in the barn where he had been trapped as the assassin of President Lincoln but escaped to live for many years after under an assumed name, this historical miniature offers in a carefully prepared case substantial evidence in proof of his claim. Under the narrated elucidation of Carey Wilson, the strange background of the story is revealed with the emphasis placed on the remarkable resemblance between the murderer and the man who claimed his identity. An elaborate setting for the portrayal of the events leading up to and following the assassination of the President is arranged in an interesting and entertaining setup. Upon seeing this subject, it is certain that the young student folks will have plenty of baffling questions with which to harass their history teachers.—Running time, 10 minutes.

Sweet Shoe
(RKO Radio)
Song and Dance

This features Rita Rio and her girl band. Miss Rio besides leading the orchestra also dances. Others appearing are the Four Norsemen, a male quartet; The Four Specs, negro dance group, and Anita Jacobi, acrobatic tap dancer. Running time, 11 minutes.

Friend Indeed
(MGM)
Canine Heartthrob

The identity of the title's description is revealed as a beautiful and "intelligent" German police dog who acts as the "seeing eye" for a blind doctor. When the kind hearted medico is blinded in his attempts to rescue some of his patients in a hospital fire, the faith and fortunes of the man are revived by the constant devotion and protection which his faithful four-footed friend gives him. The doctor is called to Washington to receive recognition for his bravery in the hospital fire. The canine accompanies his master and shares in his glory. Another outcome of this excursion is the enactment of legislation allowing the pet guides to ride in the same railroad coaches with their charges instead of following previous rulings which forced the animals to travel alone in the baggage cars. The little story is excellently done and the compelling human interest drama that it tells will find a warm response from audiences. Running time, 10 minutes.

Donald's Ostrich
(RKO Radio)
Donald Duck

That bombastic member of the Duck family, Donald, has plenty of woes to moan about in this cartoon. Donald, a station agent, is buried under an avalanche of baggage which a passing train deposits on the station. One crate reveals an affectionate ostrich, much to Donald's discomfiture. The ostrich swallows an accordion, a clock, several balloons and a radio with resultant effect causing the ostrich to have the hiccoughs. The hiccoughs cause the dial on the radio to move around, the ostrich responding to each program. An auto race broadcast has the ostrich whirling around the station with Donald trying to get out of the way. A crash winds up the proceedings. Running time, 9 minutes.

Candid Cameramaniacs
(MGM)
Pete Smith Novelty

Capitalizing the current craze in candid camera photography with results that are generally amusing and novel, this newest Pete Smith specialty is a pleasant bit of minor screen entertainment. An example to illustrate a victim far advanced in this strange mania of camera craftsmanship is studied through a series of comic and satirical sequences. Together with an early portion devoted to a brief exposition of the initial stage of photography, the entire subject is a carefully produced bit of light amusement fare.—Running time, nine minutes.

Music Will Tell
(RKO Radio)
Good

A band orchestration subject featuring the orchestra of Ted Fio Rito and having a slight plot to go with it. Fio Rito completes an engagement at a prominent club and looks forward to a vacation but while on a train, which also serves as a background for a musical number, he learns that an orchestra playing in a small town claims to be the Fio Rito band. With his orchestra Fio Rito stops off at the town and in a competition exposes the fake band. Running time, 18 minutes.

The Dummy Owner
(RKO Radio)
Race Track Comedy

Leon Errol, who rose to fame on the stage as the man with the rubber legs, in this becomes the owner of a horse in name only as he fronts for one of his Boss's clients. The horse wins its first race but Errol, who had been sidetracked by a tout, loses his bet. Later his wife learns of the horse and forces Errol to sell it. Errol tries to buy the horse back but the owner raises the price. Errol wins enough money to recover the horse, which he does, but the horse is suspected of being doped and Errol is barred from racing, which leaves him right back where he started. In the cast are Maxine Jennings, Ed Keane, Larry Steers, Ed Kane and William Franey. Running time, 19 minutes.

NBC GETS 791 MAE WEST PROTESTS; AND BROADCASTERS TALK OF A CODE

Film Star Is Barred from the Air for "Eve" Skit; Self-Regulation Through NAB Is Predicted by Weber

Radio this week was claiming a wide assortment of records for 1937: the biggest gross in broadcasting revenue, greatest number of programs, busiest year in radio coverage, et al. Not mentioned was the largest number of protests against a single broadcast, National Broadcasting Company counting 791 written criticisms in condemnation of Mae West's burlesque of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden for Chase and Sanborn on the Sunday evening of December 12th.

Miss West has been barred from NBC's air because of that broadcast, and her last appearance, the only one in four years, will, it is predicted, bring a "production code" and "production code administrator", similar to those voluntarily adopted by, and now prevailing in motion pictures, to govern broadcasting standards.

Paramount, her motion picture distributor, and Emanuel Cohen's Major Productions, her producer, have disclaimed all responsibility for Miss West's air appearance.

Nor does Paramount or Mr. Cohen's Major Pictures intend to halt the release, on January 14th, of Miss West's new "Everyday's a Holiday," but plan to give the feature some extra advertising attention in publications reputedly going to 20,000,000 persons.

A full-page Mae West "Everyday's a Holiday" ad in four colors will appear on the back page of the American Weekly, reaching a total of 7,000,000 in 21 cities, on January 16th. Wherever the picture has been booked a local theatre imprint will appear on the ad.

Full page ads in Life and Look magazines, with a combined circulation of nearly 5,000,000, plus full coverage in the fan magazine group, brings the total reader circulation of the Mae West campaign up to a total of approximately 20,000,000, as announced the other day by Robert M. Gillham, director of Paramount advertising and publicity at the home office.

Commission Gets Report

On the same day this week that Lenox R. Lohr, president, was making an end of the year statement citing NBC's "enhancement of dramatic offerings" along "cultural lines" in 1937, the Federal Communications Commission in Washington was studying Mr. Lohr's report on the Mae West incident, which the Commission had formally requested after Congressmen William P. Connery, of Massachusetts, and Donald L. O'Toole, of New York, demanded a federal investigation of radio and the Communications Commission.

Mr. Lohr, as specifically requested, submitted to the Commission a copy of the script, and a copy of the contract between NBC and Standard Brands, sponsors of the Chase and Sanborn program.

Mr. McNinch declared that the Commission would study the script before deciding what action will be taken against the broadcast, if any. FCC still has in its hands Congressman Connery's demands for revocation of the license of the NBC station in Hollywood from which the performance emanated.

Banning of Miss West and any mention of her name from the air, at least insofar as NBC is concerned, was ordered last weekend by A. H. Morton, general manager of the system. This action was said to have been taken to prevent any possible "gags" about Miss West which may arise out of the incident. There are about 130 stations in the NBC networks over which the corporation has no control, but no program built by or emanating from the 15 stations or studios owned or controlled by NBC will carry Miss West's name.

Order Goes to 15 Stations

The 15 stations to which the order was issued are WEAF and WJY in New York; KDKA, Pittsburgh; KGO and KPO, Denver; KYW, Philadelphia; WBZ, Boston; WBZA, Springfield, Mass.; WENR and WMAQ, Chicago; WMAL and WRC, Washington; WGY, Schenectady, and WTAM of Cleveland.

National Broadcasting owns WEAF, WJZ, KPO, WENR, WMAQ, WRC and WTAC. General Electric Company owns KGO, KOA and WGY, and NBC manages and operates them. WMAL is owned by the M. A. Leese Radio Corporation and is operated and managed by National. The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company owns KDKA, KYW, WBZ and WBZA, and the programs of these stations are built by NBC.

One of the results of the nationwide protests against Miss West's radio burlesque on Eve, and for which NBC and the J. Walter Thompson advertising agency for the coffee company later publicly apologized, was the prediction of a move within the National Association of Broadcasters for a production code and an administrator to govern radio standards.

Convention to Study Code

Imposition of such self-regulation, to govern the entire radio industry, will be one of the principal topics of the Broadcasters Association's annual convention in February at Washington, according to Fred Weber, general manager of the Mutual Broadcasting System. Mr. Weber, now on a short visit to California, addressed his remarks to the press at a luncheon given him last week by Lewis Allen Weiss, general manager of the Don Lee networks, Mutual's west coast affiliate. Mr. Weber asserted that attempts at unity of action by all broadcasters, regardless of the power of their stations, will be sought through the election of a president and secretary with paid salaries and augmented powers and who would be committed to such a program.

Mr. Weber disclosed that leading broadcasters in the east and midwest would attempt to put through self-regulation and to formulate trade policies such as educational and social ideas for broadcasting. He was specifically referring to a code governing "decency and morals" in broadcasts, but indicated that no penalties for violations of the self-governing rules could be set up without the cooperation of all broadcasters.

Mr. Weber added that three or four persons not directly connected with the radio industry may be suggested by delegates on the floor of the NAB convention.

An NAB spokesman in Washington, however, on Monday belittled the attempts for any "dictator" over moral standards in broadcasting. "We have, in fact, seven of them now," meaning, he said, the seven commissioners in the Federal Communications Commission.

Meanwhile, in Los Angeles, Miss West remained silent on the broadcast which brought radio its severest criticism. An Associated Press reporter was told that "Miss West isn't speaking to anyone about that." Instead, Miss West was receiving considerable holiday press notice for her gift of $250 to the wife and children of one Mr. Santa Claus, a ditch digger in Marshall, Missouri.

INDIANA EXHIBITORS OPPOSE BROADCASTS

Resolutions condemning any radio appearances of film players have been passed by the Associated Theatre Owners of Indiana.

The resolutions state that members have found that the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Thursday night broadcasts "definitely curtail box office receipts". Opposition to any air use of film talent is based on the premise that their broadcasts cannot be timed to eliminate theatre competition.

1924 Films Seen By N. Y. Censors

The annual report of the Motion Picture Division of the Department of Education of the State of New York, reveals that 1924 films were reviewed during the fiscal year from July 1, 1936 to June 30, 1937. The report lists 926 features and 998 short subjects. The division listed films running five reels or more as features.

Of this number, 24 were rejected in toto, with parts eliminated on statutory grounds in 162 additional films. In all, 1291 eliminations of scenes, sub-titles or dialogue were made, classified as follows: indecent, 546; inhuman, 64; tending to incite to crime, 315; immoral or tending to immorality, 343, and sacrilegious, 33.

More than 400 foreign films were admitted into the state and licensed. Twenty-one countries are represented in the list of foreign producers, namely: England, Belgium, Hungary, Poland, Russia, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Greece, Norway, Mongolia, Arabia, Egypt, Japan, Sweden, Italy, Mexico, Spain, China, Germany and France.

Peru Passes 769 Films

A total of 769 films were passed by the Peruvian censor in the first eight months of 1937, according to a report to the Department of Commerce from Assistant Trade Commissioner David M. Clark, in Lima. Six pictures were rejected, three of them American, one each Mexican, British and German.

Government Honors Roxy

The Federal Government has dedicated the tuberculosis hospital at Summount, N. Y., as the Roxy Summount Post, in memory of the late Samuel L. Rothapfel's efforts in behalf of world war veterans.

UA Directors Fail To Decide Korda Plea for Changes

Alexander Korda's request for a revision of his contract with United Artists to enable him to make product for other companies was not, it is understood, decided at the board of directors' meeting Monday, despite the fact it was generally believed the matter would be the chief topic of discussion.

The meeting, it was stated, was devoted entirely to a discussion of tax matters. Among those attending were Mary Pickford, Charles Chaplin, Mr. Korda, Dr. A. H. Giannini, president; David Rose, representing Samuel Goldwyn, and Douglas Fairbanks, who last week arrived in the United States after a two and a half-month vacation in Italy.

When interviewed in New York, Mr. Fairbanks said he did not know whether he would give Mr. Goldwyn and Mr. Korda another option to purchase his stock in United Artists. The Goldwyn-Korda plan to purchase control of the company collapsed two weeks ago.

In answer to a query whether he planned to sell his interest in the company, Mr. Fairbanks replied: "I haven't the slightest idea of selling."

Walter Wanger, producer for United Artists, also was interviewed in New York and announced that arrangements have been completed with United Artists for financing six to eight of his pictures this season.

16 mm. Newsreel Plan Delayed by DeVry

Herman A. DeVry, motion picture equipment manufacturer, has delayed his plans for establishing a 16 mm. national newsreel until all arrangements for handling the film can be completed, he announced in Chicago.

The latest development in Mr. DeVry's plan to invade the 16 mm. field is the establishment of a library of features which will be rented to schools and non-theatrical groups.

Norman Nicholson Resigns, Succeeded by Williams

Norman C. Nicholson this week resigned as secretary of Educational Pictures, Inc., and will resume his private law practice with Silas S. Clark, under the firm name of Clark & Nicholson. He is succeeded by T. R. Williams, treasurer.

Mr. Nicholson retained his position as general counsel and member of Educational Pictures' board of directors and executive committee.

To Make Undersea Film

William L. Fenzner, independent producer, is planning to produce an undersea color picture, "20 Years Under the Sea." He has signed J. E. Williamson, undersea explorer and scientist, as technical adviser.

Magdalene Maskel has joined the Hal Roach publicity staff to handle fashion material for magazines.

FROM READERS

To the Editor of the Herald:

There seems to be a necessity for some very deep thinking and deep study as to the immediate future of film production and I have observed that, beginning September 1st, the releases, many of them, were extra good. The exhibitors played many of them as single features and did business shoot up! The box offices fairly bulged with the take but what has happened now—for the past four weeks in my theatre for instance we ran out of the socalled good pictures and we are now back to showing class B pictures that should be in the C allocation, playing double features to empty seats.

Hollywood must quit making the cheap pictures and have just two classes, A and B, and we will have our troubles until they do that. My theatre is small, 275 seats in a town of 5,000 and I would rather show a class A picture a week than to change every day with class B and C pictures.

From where I stand the film situation is in a tangle and it seems that every film producing company is making too many cheap pictures and they are cheap and yelling about the cost of them.

I predict that exhibitors have signed the last contract calling for a hopper full of pictures, to be made when and however the film company decides to make them.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind.

"Buccaneer" and Sales Meet Jan. 7

Sales executives of the Paramount home office and district managers of the United States and Canada will meet in a two-day session at New Orleans on January 7 and 8.

The sales meeting will coincide with the world premiere of the Cecil B. DeMille picture, "The Buccaneer," at the Saenger theatre, New Orleans, January 7th. The production depicts the career of Jean Lafitte, New Orleans pirate and patriot.

Those who will attend the sales meeting and the premiere are: district managers—M. S. Kusell, New York; W. H. Erbb, Boston; P. A. Bloch, Philadelphia; H. H. Goldstein, Cleveland; A. Usher, Chicago; O. A. Morgan, Atlanta; J. B. Dugger, Dallas; R. C. LiBeau, Kansas City; H. W. Braly, Denver; M. H. Lewis, Los Angeles; B. Blotcky, Minneapolis; G. A. Smith, San Francisco; M. A. Milligan, Toronto. And the following home office executives: Neil F. Agnew, vice-president in charge of sales; J. J. Unger, C. M. Reagan, G. B. J. Frawley, R. M. Gillham, Alec Moss and Don Velde.

The trade press will be on hand for the premiere in New Orleans. They are Terry Ramsaye of Motion Picture Herald; A-Mike Vogel, Motion Picture Daily; Jack Harrower, Film Daily; Abel Green, Variety, and Red Kann of Box Office.

The New York delegation will leave next Wednesday, arriving in New Orleans the following evening. The return trip will start Saturday evening. The meetings will be held at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Court Approves RKO Orpheum Circuit Transfer

Federal Judge William Bondy granted approval this week in United States district court in New York, to the dissolution of Stadium Theatres Corporation, an RKO Circuit subsidiary, and the transfer of its assets to RKO Orpheum Corporation, a newly organized Maryland company.

The petition of the Irving Trust Company, trustee in the reorganization of RKO, revealed that a net income "substantially in excess of $200,000" for 1937 is expected from the former Orpheum Circuit, Inc., which was purchased from the company in bankruptcy proceedings in February.

The transfer, it was said, is to be made to avoid approximately $50,000 in Federal undistributed and excess profits taxes.

The order provides that Stadium notes to RKO, which total $2,644,655 with $673,000 in accrued interest and are the only liability of Stadium, will be cancelled in return for Stadium assets which consists almost exclusively of former Orpheum Circuit property.

RKO Orpheum will receive the assets and return a note for $2,644,655 and all its capital stock to RKO. Stadium's stock and notes are now on deposit under an indenture with the Central Hanover Bank Trust Co. The order provides for the substitution of the RKO Orpheum stock and notes for the Stadium collateral. The dissolution of Stadium must be effected before the end of the year if the taxes are to be avoided.

RKO Orpheum will issue 10 shares of no par value voting common stock and 673 shares of no par value preferred stock redeemable at $1,000 per share.

Chase Bank Officers To Honor Zanuck at Dinner

Darryl F. Zanuck, in charge of production at the Twentieth Century-Fox studios, will be guest of honor at a dinner to be given by Winthrop W. Aldrich, president, and Henry Gordon Campbell of the Chase National Bank at the Union Club in New York on January 5th. The Chase Bank is a majority stockholder of the company.

Mr. Zanuck is making the trip east expressly for the purpose of attending the opening of "In Old Chicago" at the Astor theatre January 6th. He will be accompanied by Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board.

Selig GB District Manager

Robert W. Selig has been promoted from manager of the Denver branch to district manager in charge of GB exchanges in Denver, Salt Lake City, Omaha, Kansas City and Des Moines. Further additions to the GB sales staff are: F. E. Dyer, Atlanta; Joe Aldrich, Denver, and Saul Malisow, Minneapolis.

Form Transportation Company

Wilfred J. Morissette has formed a film carrier company in Detroit, Mich., under the name of Exhibitor's Film Transportation Company. The company is located in the Film Exchange Building there.

THE PICTURE AMERICA WANTS TO SEE!

Greater than any feature!

AT NO EXTRA COST TO YOU!

As part of the regular Movietone News service to its customers

A FULL REEL OF THE PANAY FILMS

(flown by air mail to all first runs)

NOW SHOWING

on the screens of theatres subscribing to

MOVIETONE NEWS

Film of Panay Fails to Disclose An American Flag on Gunboat

Due to Camera Angles on Board and to Distance in Long-Range Shots; One Is Seen on Oil Boat; Men Drop Wounded, Bombs Fall Around Launches

By The United Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—The sinking of the United States gunboat Panay in the Yangtse River on December 12 was shown today in the first exhibition of news-reel film made at the scene. The film showed no Japanese planes, nor was the American flag visible on the stricken boat. An American flag could be seen, however, fluttering from the stern of a Standard Oil boat which was bombed and sunk, with two other Standard Oil craft, at the same time.

The film did not disprove American assertions that the flag was flying from the Panay as it moved up the river. The camera on the Panay had been set up in parts of the boat where the flag could not be seen, and the long-range shots were taken from too great a distance to reveal an object so small as a flag. The film showed that the day was clear.

The reel, taken by a Fox Movietone camera man, was displayed before a small private audience, pre-

(Continued on page 2, column 4)

Audiences on the Pacific coast were ahead of New Yorkers, by the geographical accident which put them almost 3,000 miles nearer the Orient. A special preview of a Fox Movietone News film of the bombing was shown in Hollywood at 6:30 p. m., New York time, yesterday and later in the evening in theaters in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Eric Mavell took the pictures.

From N. Y. Herald-Tribune of Dec. 29th

Movietone Shows on Coast Scenes Of Panay Bombing

West Coast Bureau of THE FILM DAILY

Hollywood—Fox Movietone landed scenes of the Panay bombing on Pacific Coast screens last night and is rushing prints to New York for showing today. More than 100 newspaper men yesterday at a special screening witnessed the action shots made by Eric Mayell, Movietone cameraman, who was aboard the ship. Movietone and News of the Day worked together on the bombing and the scenes will be included in the releases of both services.

Movietone's bombing reel will be released as a regular issue at no extra charge to exhibitors, it was pointed out last night.

Newspaper accounts of Movietone's shots indicate that Mayell photographed all the reported horror of the incident, showing American seamen being hit and American gunners firing on the planes. The scenes are expected to be shown on New York screens today.

From Film Daily of Dec. 29th

20th CENTURY FOX

BLUMBERG DISCUSSES UNIVERSAL'S POLICIES

January Day-and-Date Bookings for "Sweetheart" Total 250; Blumberg Outlines Policies

"Universal's policy under its new management will be formulated entirely from an exhibitor viewpoint; present and future changes in personnel have been and will be made with that viewpoint uppermost, and the first results of the application of that policy, not a new one in the history of the company, are being felt sufficiently to justify the prediction that gross business for January will exceed by 50 per cent that for any other month in the company's history."

Nate J. Blumberg, although his appointment to the Universal presidency will not be in effect until Saturday of this week, made this statement of policy and forecast in an interview in his office across the street in the RKO building in Rockefeller Center. He was to move to the Universal suite Monday, but meanwhile, he explained, the press of affairs made it necessary for him to assume the duties of his new post before concluding his affairs as head of the RKO theatres.

One of the deciding factors in his decision to accept the presidency, Mr. Blumberg said, was the expressions of good will toward Universal from exhibitors, both circuit operators and independents, and this cooperation, expressed concretely in actual bookings of current and forthcoming product, was the basis for his prediction for the January gross.

The most important of these are 250 day and date runs which have been set for "You're a Sweetheart" during the month. Another factor is the anticipated revenue on the scenes of the bombing of the U. S. S. Panay, to be released this week as a three reel special feature. Mr. Blumberg said he regarded the pictures, taken by Norman Alley of Universal Newsreel and flown from the Orient on the China Clipper, as potentially valuable as "any feature costing $1,000,000 to produce."

In addition to these sources the estimated foreign revenue for January is higher than that for any other comparable period, chiefly on the anticipation of a gross of between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 from England on "100 Men and a Girl," to be released there within a few weeks.

Productions which the company expects will be its most valuable properties of the year will follow after January. Mr. Blumberg listed these as "Mad About Music," to be ready the third week in February; the John Stahl production with Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy; the first Danielle Darrieux picture, and a new Deanna Durbin production. The company will complete its promised production schedule, he added, and final plans for the additional pictures will be completed after his first visit to the Hollywood studios early in February.

Exhibitor Good-will Stressed

"The new management's policies," Mr. Blumberg said, "will be based solely on what is best for the exhibitor customers and the investors. With the support of the exhibitors, and they have indicated that they will cooperate to the fullest extent, there is nothing to stop the company from being an outstanding credit to the industry. We will do our part by giving sound management, based on the policy of examining every move through the eyes of the exhibitor. This industry exists on the money taken in at the box office and, in our opinion, the exhibitor is the most important factor in the business. The money he takes in provides what is essentially a revolving fund which keeps the industry operating."

This emphasis on the exhibitor viewpoint in production planning, management, advertising and exploitation, Mr. Blumberg said, is illustrated in the recent and present changes in personnel, the key men in all departments where changes have been made coming from the theatre field. Some of them, he added, were the result of efforts to eliminate "waste and duplication of work by consolidating some departments and dispensing with others." Others were designed "to effect a closer knit organization and to increase the operating efficiency of the company."

Demonstrating that the good will shown by exhibitors toward the company is one of its most important assets and one that will be carefully conserved, Mr. Blumberg said:

"When we asked for cooperation in the setting of play dates for January for our new product big circuits and individual exhibitors responded not only in words but in the most gratifying and important way of all. They said it with cash, not promises.

"The company is rich too, in manpower. Its studio facilities are the best, its production talent excellent, and its story properties, representing an accumulation of 25 years, are valued conservatively at $5,000,000. Recently, one of the leading producers offered us $800,000 for a selection representing only a small part of these properties.

"With assets such as these Universal has what is to me the greatest future of any company in the industry at this time.

"Our house is in order and we are ready to move," he concluded.

Profit for Fourth Quarter

Although final figures will not be available until the end of January preliminary estimates show that the company operated at a profit in the fourth quarter ending November 1st, the first time it has been "in the back" since the quarter ended November 2, 1935.

J. Cheever Cowdin, chairman of the board, attributed the results to the "comprehensive program of reorganizing the company's setup, policies and personnel."

New appointments to positions in the company this week included that of David Lipton from the Balaban and Katz circuit in Chicago to the advertising and publicity department to assist John Joseph, publicity head, in exploiting the pictures of the Panay sinking.

Helen E. Hughes, assistant secretary of the company and its subsidiaries, resigned. Miss Hughes was secretary of Universal from 1925 to 1934 when she became assistant secretary and personnel director.

Dissolve Eastman Subsidiaries

The Eastman Kodak Company has reported to the Securities and Exchange Commission dissolution of three subsidiaries, Crystal Gelatine Company, absorbed by Eastman Gelatine Corporation; Essex Gelatine Company and Recordak Corporation, taken over by Recordak Service, and the name changed to Recordak Corporation.

Grand National has acquired distribution rights to "The Spirit of Youth," with an all-negro cast starring Joe Louis and featuring Clarence Muse. Harry Fraser directed.

Extensive Use of Color Predicted By Jack Warner

More extensive use of color in motion pictures and a more widely diversified selection of stories was predicted this week for 1938 by Jack L. Warner, vice-president in charge of production for Warner Brothers. "Better pictures have been the salvation of the motion picture industry during the past year," he said, "and 1938 will see a continued improvement in entertainment values coming out of Hollywood."

"History and literature," Mr. Warner declared, "together furnish an inexhaustible source of material for the finer screen offerings.

"Warner Brothers," he continued, "leads off the new year with 'Tovarich,' with Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer."

He listed as early Warner Brothers releases for the new year: "Hollywood Hotel," with Dick Powell and Lola and Rosemary Lane; "Gold Is Where You Find It," in color, with George Brent and Olivia de Havilland; "A Slight Case of Murder," starring Edward G. Robinson; "Jezebel," with Bette Davis, Henry Fonda and George Brent; "Food for Scandal," with Carole Lombard and Fernand Gravet; "The Adventures of Robin Hood," in color, with Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland.

Broadway plays which Warner Brothers will produce next year, Mr. Warner said, include: "Brother Rat," "Yes, My Darling Daughter" and "On Your Toes."

Other titles which the company owns, he continued, include "The White Rajah," "You Can't Escape Forever," "Sea Wolf," "White Banners," "The Sisters," "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," and "Gold Diggers in Paris."

Acquires 16mm Series

Commonwealth Pictures Corporation, recently organized with Threlkeld Edwards as president, has acquired all rights for the 16 mm films made by Ambassador and Conn Pictures and the Bob Steele and Johnny Mack Brown series, made by Supreme Pictures. The new company plans a series of 16 mm educational subjects as well. Mr. Edwards was formerly general manager of Newfoundland and Labrador Film Company, Beacon Film Company and Cathedral Productions.

Chicksaw Acquires House

The Chickasaw Amusement Company of Tennessee has acquired the Roxie at Alamo. The circuit with theatres at Covington, Newborn, Martin, Greenfield, Milan and Humboldt is headed by W. F. Ruffing of Covington, a former president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee.

Publish Engineering Book

The Research Council of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences has published a book, "Motion Picture Sound Engineering," which was prepared by a group of studio sound engineers. The book, which contains 525 pages, includes the lectures before the Council's sound course classes.

PANAY!

At No Extra Cost!

With unprecedented speed M-G-M's NEWS OF THE DAY has given its customers complete and thrilling pictures of the bombing and sinking of the United States gunboat PANAY. Following the arrival of these pictures aboard the China Clipper late Tuesday they were serviced to West Coast accounts immediately and were shipped East for all other accounts the same night for distribution from New York.

NO EXTRA CHARGE! REGULAR RELEASE!

SINKING OF U. S. S. PANAY!

"Thank you NEWS OF THE DAY for a swell job modestly done!"

ROCKEFELLERS GIVE $135,000 FOR ADVANCEMENT OF SCHOOL PICTURES

Foundation to Provide Funds for Three Year Support of Film Committee of American Council on Education

The Rockefeller Foundation's second large grant for work in the field of school films was made this week when it agreed to provide $135,000 for three-year support of the activities of the Committee on Motion Pictures in Education of the American Council on Education. The film industry itself now is working on plans for its own entrance into the school films field.

"With this grant," the council announced, "a clearing house of information and activity on visual problems, as they relate to general education, will be established under the direction of Charles F. Hoban, Jr., associate in motion picture education."

The committee also plans to coordinate the work of other centers interested in films and, in addition, will adopt a three-point program under which it will:

1. Establish reviewing panels of experts in various educational fields to view and appraise educational films which are now available and outline areas for needed film production.

2. Establish experimental centers in various institutions to study techniques related to the use of films in educational programs.

3. Sponsor a series of institutes and conferences in which results of evaluation and experimental activities will be made widely available to teachers and administrators.

Coincident with the Council's announcement of the award, which was made by the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, the Office of Education, United States Department of the Interior, issued a pamphlet on "Sources of Visual Aids and Equipment for Instructional Use in Schools."

114 Agencies Listed

The booklet, containing a chapter on the sources of educational motion pictures, was compiled by Cline M. Koon, senior specialist in radio and visual education. Mr. Koon lists a total of 114 agencies, state departments, colleges and universities, libraries, museums, and voluntary associations which supply educational motion pictures. In addition, he names 60 commercial dealers, including Gaumont-British Picture Corporation of America, RKO Radio Pictures, Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation, Universal Pictures Corporation and Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc.

The General Education Board's $135,000 award to the American Council on education was $35,000 larger than the award made by the board to the Motion Picture Commission of the Progressive Education Association for the editorial work connected with the preparation of the "Human Relations" series. This preparation has been under way for the last year. When finished, the series will include parts of the "Secrets of Success" series, compiled by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

The MPPDA series was not generally released but was tried out in several schools and was found successful. It was after this experiment that the GBE decided to do the work on a more elaborate scale and named the Motion Picture Commission of the Progressive Education Association to carry on the work.

Equipment Surveyed

The American Council's activities, conducted over a period of years, include a survey of the audi-visual equipment owned by elementary and secondary schools of the country. The group also cooperates in the collection of film catalogs, exploratory studies of various subjects to determine the needed films, the methods of distributing motion pictures and their actual use in schools and adult programs.

On the council's Committee on Motion Pictures in Education are: John E. Abbott, Museum of Modern Art, New York City; W. W. Charters, Bureau of Educational Research, Ohio State University, Columbus; Frank N. Freeman, University of Chicago; Ben G. Graham, chairman, superintendent of schools, Pittsburgh; Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, former president, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Chicago, and Dr. Mark A. May, director, Institute of Human Relations, Yale University.

In the Department of the Interior's pamphlet the American Council on Education is listed as "interested in establishing an American Film Institute to facilitate the production and use of motion pictures in education."

19 Government Agencies

The booklet lists 19 agencies within the Federal government that supply educational motion pictures. They are:

Division of Motion Pictures, Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington.

Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works, Washington.

Federal Housing Administration, Washington.

Inland Waterways Corporation, Washington.

Division of Motion Pictures, U. S. Department of the Interior, Washington.

Bureau of Mines, U. S. Department of the Interior, Pittsburgh.

Geological Survey, U. S. Department of the Interior, Washington.

Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington.

Recruiting Division, Navy Department.

Pan American Union, Motion Picture Section, Washington.

Resettlement Administration, Washington.

Social Security Board, Information Service, Washington.

Coast Guard, United States Treasury Department, Washington.

Public Health Service, United States Treasury Department, Washington.

Chief Signal Officer, War Department.

Tennessee Valley Authority, Information Division, Knoxville.

Works Progress Administration, Information Service, Washington.

10 State Departments

It also names 10 state departments in eight states that have motion pictures for state distribution. The departments are:

Connecticut State Department of Education, Hartford.

Delaware State Department of Public Instruction, Dover.

Georgia State University System, division of general extension, Atlanta.

Massachusetts State Department of Education, visual instruction department, Boston.

Massachusetts State Department of Public Health, Boston.

New Hampshire State Department of Education, Concord.

New Jersey State Museum, Trenton.

Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society, Columbus.

Ohio State Department of Education, Columbus.

Oregon State System of Higher Education, department of visual instruction, general extension division, Portland.

52 College Sources

Among the 52 colleges and universities that are sources of educational motion pictures, 14 distribute on a national scale, 37 within the states in which they are located, and one, the University of Hawaii, distributes in Hawaii. The various schools and the distribution scope for each are as follows:

Boston University School of Education, division of teaching aids, Boston (state).

Brigham Young University, bureau of visual instruction, extension division, Provo, Utah (state).

Clemson College, extension division, Clemson, S. C.

Fort Hays (Kansas) State College, Hays (state).

Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta (national).

Harvard Film Service, the biological laboratories, Harvard University, Cambridge (national).

Illinois State Normal University, visual service, Normal (state).

Indiana University, bureau of visual instruction, extension division, Bloomington (state).

Iowa State College of Agriculture & Mechanical Arts, visual instruction service, Ames (state).

Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, extension division, Ruston (state).

Louisiana State Normal College, Natchitoches (state).

Louisiana State University, extension division, Baton Rouge (national).

Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt. (state).

Mount Union College, Alliance, Ohio (national).

New Jersey State Teachers College, Newark, N. J. (state).

North Dakota Agricultural College, visual instruction service, Fargo (state).

(Continued on page 34)

LIBRARIES WARNED ON BOOK POLICIES

Libraries have been spending their book buying funds on worthwhile non-fiction to such an extent that the public is going to the corner drug store library for the rest of its reading or to the motion picture theatre, Ralph R. Shaw of Gary, Ind., said last week.

Mr. Shaw addressed a section of the midwinter conference of the American Library Association in Chicago and said, "We appear to be cramming non-fiction down the public's optic nerves whether they want it or not. The result is, they're going to the movies."

NOW READY!

The country is fighting-anxious to see it!

THE NEW UNIVERSAL'S SPECIAL FEATURE!

THE ONLY COMPLETE PICTURE OF THE ATTACK THAT SHOCKED THE WORLD!

(Complete ad-publicity service! Trailer furnished by National Screen Service!)

Norman Alley's

"BOMBING of U.S.S. PANAY"

Produced by CHARLES E. FORD

EXCLUSIVE SCENES!

The attack—actual sinking of the Panay!

Abandon ship!—Actual scenes of crew going overboard!

Rescue boat under peril reaches shore!

American refugees signaling desparately for aid from shore!

Aboard the Panay as it flees Nanking up Yangtze River!

Convoy ships to the rescue!

Identification of dead—rounding up the wandering wounded!

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS!

Panic-stricken Americans evacuate Nanking!

Bombing and burning of Nanking!

Neutral civilians attacked!

Japanese planes attack Panay!

Panay returns fire with crew manning machine-guns!

Wounded survivers on shore!

Survivors fleeing down river and through countryside!

Safe aboard U. S. Flagship Augusta in Shanghai!

114 SCHOOL FILM AGENCIES LISTED

(Continued from page 32)

Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, department of visual education, Stillwater (state).

Oregon State System of Higher Education, department of visual instruction, extension division, Portland (state).

Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J. (state).

Saint Ambrose College, Davenport, Iowa (National).

South Dakota State College, extension service, Brookings (state).

State College of Washington, department of educational films, general college extension, Pullman (state).

State Normal School of Jersey City (state).

Syracuse University, cooperative educational film library, school of education, Syracuse (state).

Texas Technological College, Lubbock (state).

University of Alabama, extension division, University, Ala. (state).

University of Arizona, department of public service, extension division, Tucson (national).

University of California, department of visual instruction, extension division, Berkeley (national).

University of Chicago Press, department of visual aids, Chicago (national).

University of Colorado, bureau of visual instruction, extension division, Boulder (state).

University of Denver Library, Denver (national).

University of Florida, general extension division, Gainesville (state).

University of Illinois, visual aids service, Urbana (state).

University of Iowa, department of visual instruction, Iowa City (national).

University of Kansas, bureau of visual instruction, extension division, Lawrence (national).

University of Kentucky, visual aids department, department of extension, Lexington (state).

University of Michigan, extension division, Ann Arbor (state).

University of Minnesota, bureau of visual instruction, Minneapolis (state).

University of Missouri, visual education service, Columbia (state).

University of North Carolina, extension division, division of visual instruction, Chapel Hill (state).

University of Oklahoma, extension division, bureau of visual education, Norman (state).

University of South Dakota, general extension division, department of visual instruction, Vermillion (state).

University of Texas, extension division, visual instruction bureau, Austin (state).

University of Vermont, Fleming Museum, Burlington (national).

University of Virginia, extension division, Charlotte (state).

University of Wisconsin, bureau of visual instruction, Madison (state +).

University System of Georgia, division of general extension, visual aids service, Atlanta (national).

West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va. (state).

Western State Teachers College, extension service, Kalamazoo (part of state).

Yale University, Peabody Museum of Natural History, School Service Department, New Haven (state).

Yale University Press Film Service, New York (national).

Two Libraries, 10 Museums

Only two libraries are included in the list and they are the Massachusetts Department of Public Health Library, Boston, which distributes on a state scale and the University of Denver Library, Denver, which distributes nationally.

Of the ten museums listed five have national and five state distribution. They are:

American Museum of Natural History, division of education, New York (national).

Children's Museum of Hartford, division of education, Hartford, Conn (state).

Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago (national).

Fleming Museum, University of Vermont, Burlington (national).

Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York City (national).

Museum of Modern Art Film Library Corporation, New York City (national).

Museum of the City of New York (state).

New Jersey State Museum, Trenton (state).

Ohio Sate Archaeological and Historical Society, Columbus (state).

Valentine Museum, Richmond, Va. (state).

21 Voluntary Associations

There are 21 voluntary associations listed of sources of supply. They are:

American Dental Association, Chicago.

Boy Scouts of America, New York City.

Catholic Film Guild, Philadelphia.

Central Distributing Department, General Council, Presbyterian Church of the United States, New York City.

Family Welfare Association, New York City.

Harmon Foundation, Inc., division of visual aids, New York City.

Lutheran Film Division, Inc., New York City.

Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Boston.

The Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia.

Museum of Modern Art Film Library Corporation, New York City.

National Association of Audubon Societies, New York City.

National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, New York City.

National Dairy Council, Chicago.

National Safety Council, educational division, New York City.

National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, New York City.

National Tuberculosis Association, New York City.

Northern Baptist Convention, board of missionary corporation, New York City.

Pioneer Youth of America, New York City.

Religious Motion Picture Foundation, Inc., New York City.

World Service, Chicago.

Y.M.C.A. Motion Picture Bureau, National Council of YMCA, New York City.

Deny Gary Settlement

No settlement of the Gary, Ind., Theatre Company suit against Paramount, which was withdrawn by the plaintiff in Indianapolis Federal court, was made or was even discussed, Louis Phillips of the Paramount home office legal department, said this week. The denial referred to an Indianapolis report that a settlement had brought about the withdrawal of the suit.

International Films, San Francisco, has purchased the distribution rights in northern California, Oregon and Washington, on the two reel subject, "Thunder Over the Orient." The company will also release shortly a six-reel film on the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

Rogers Lists Gains of ABP

"In view of the number of items that have been appearing regarding the British film industry," Budd Rogers, American representative of Associated British Picture Corporation, said Tuesday in New York he felt "constrained at this time to make a statement insofar as it relates to ABP," headed by John Maxwell. Said Mr. Rogers:

"During the year 1937 we produced 16 pictures at our studios in Elstree, all of which are being distributed in Great Britain through our own distributing organization, headed by Arthur Dent. Also in 1937, we actually released in America 12 features distributed through several of the various major and independent companies.

"Associated British Production Department, headed by Walter C. Mycroft, has three features before the cameras and seven others in preparation. Among the productions for 1938 will be 12 feature attractions as follows: 'The Housemaster,' directed by Herbert Brenon, featuring Otto Kruger, Phillips Holmes, Diana Churchill and Rene Ray; 'Oh Boy,' directed by Albert DeCourville, featuring Albert Burdon, Mary Lawson, Bernerd Nedell, Jay Laurier, Maire O'Neill and Robert Cochran; 'The Terror,' an Edgar Wallace story directed by Richard Bird and featuring Bernard Lee, Wilfrid Lawson and Linden Travers; 'Sweet Racket,' directed by Paul L. Stein, featuring John Lodge, Gertrude Michael, Fred Emney and Jeanne de Casalis; 'The Card,' Arnold Bennett's novel; 'Spring Handicap,' directed by Herbert Brenon and featuring Will Fyffe, Maire O'Neill, Aileen Marson and Billy Milton.

"Also 'Star of the Circus,' script now being prepared by Elizabeth Meehan; 'Yes, Madame," from the Hippodrome show; 'Radio Revue of 1938,' featuring Francis Day, Dave Willis and Tommy Trinder; 'Lovers' Knot,' featuring Phillips Holmes and Diana Churchill; 'Coffee for One," featuring John Lodge and Gertrude Michael; a story written by Vera Allinson; Stanley Lupino will be featured in an untitled comedy, script now in preparation.

"Associated British acquired substantial interests in several companies, amongst which were Gaumont British and Mayflower Pictures Corporation, previously formed by Erich Pommer and Charles Laughton with plans to produce three Laughton pictures annually, the first one of which has just been completed, entitled 'Vessel of Wrath.' They also acquired the controlling interest in Union Cinemas, augmenting their previous holding of theatres to the neighborhood of 700 theatres.

"In addition, Associated British completed distribution and arrangements with Empire Universal Films, Ltd., of Canada, for the distribution of its product in Dominion, and have just announced a ten per cent dividend on their ordinary shares for the first six months of this fiscal year."

"Third day Business makes holdover necessary!"

THE COMPANY WILL APPRECIATE SUGGESTIONS FROM ITS PATRONS CONCERNING ITS SERVICE

1201-S

WESTERN UNION (44)

NEWCOMB CARLTON
CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

J. C. WILLEVER
FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

R. B. WHITE
PRESIDENT

SYMBOLS
DL = Day Letter
NM = Night Message
NL = Night Letter
LC = Deferred Cable
NLT = Cable Night Letter
Ship Radiogram

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a full-rate Telegram or Cablegram unless its deferred character is indicated by a suitable symbol above or preceding the address.

The filing time shown in the date line on telegrams and day letters is STANDARD TIME at point of origin. Time of receipt is STANDARD TIME at point of destination.

Received at 157 West 46th Street, New York

DL 2 44

INC102 64 DLC=PITTSBURGH PENN 27 147P
E GRAINGER,M A SHEA THEATRICAL ENTERPRISES=
1540 BROADWAY=

JACKIE COOPER IN BOY OF THE STREETS IS THE MOST WELCOME GIFT ANY PRODUCER EVER GAVE AN EXHIBITOR STOP THIS FINE ATTRACTION NOT ONLY BROKE ALL CHRISTMAS DAY RECORDS AT FULTON THEATRE BUT ALSO PROVED BOX OFFICE VALUE BY TURNING HUNDREDS AWAY ON SECOND DAY STOP BUSINESS MORNING OF THIRD DAY MAKES HOLD OVER NECESSARY REGARDLESS OF BOOKINGS STOP REGARDS AND CONGRATULATIONS TO MONOGRAM=
JOHN P GORING.

WESTERN UNION GIFT ORDERS SOLVE THE PERPLEXING QUESTION OF WHAT TO GIVE

MONOGRAM PICTURES

RULE BY GOVERNMENT ASKED IN ARGENTINA

Motion Picture Institute Official Returns from Study of Quota Operation in Italy, Germany

by N. BRUSKI
in Buenos Aires

Adoption of Government regulations, among them a quota law, to "direct, guide and protect" its domestic motion picture industry is under consideration in Argentina, it was disclosed in an interview with Dr. Matias Sanchez Sorondo, president of the National Culture Commission, and moving spirit in the Argentine Motion Picture Institute, on his return from a trip to Italy, Germany, France and England to study the industry in those countries.

Although he did not outline specifically what measures would be asked of the Government Dr. Sorondo said they would follow the lines of those "already adopted by other countries." The Institute, he said, will "leave no stone unturned to help any honest Argentine production."

The reason his study of the industry took him to Europe rather than to the United States, Dr. Sorondo said, was because of the lack of Government regulation of the industry in that country. "On the other hand," he added, "Europe, which once led the world but was displaced because of the World War, needs the support of government to protect its industry, support which at the present time is necessary for the full development of any motion picture undertaking."

No attempt has hitherto been made, the official said, to draw up regulations in Argentina because it was felt that time and study were needed to assure the projection of a comprehensive and workable plan.

"During the past year," he continued, "during which a marked progress has been observed in the local motion picture industry, we have watched every step and gathered a vast experience. It would have been easy to issue regulations off-hand, but every day experience would have proven its inefficiency. You must bear in mind we have no antecedents created either by law or legislation. Our motion picture industry is a problem of today and tomorrow, not of yesterday, and as yet has not been established along definite lines, necessary to create definitive regulations. The Motion Picture Institute's delay in regard to this matter is justified and permitted the gathering of ideas and suggestions resulting from conditions existing in Europe, and the observation of our growing industry, its aims and possibilities.

"Therefore I am in a position to state that the general regulations which the Argentine Motion Picture Institute will submit shortly to the executive powers is purely an Argentine piece of work for an Argentine motion picture industry and art.

"Our industry must be seen with Argentine eyes and its problems should not be solved by thinking of Hollywood or Europe. It is only logical to know the regulations controlling the motion picture industry abroad, as well as its technique and organization, but without forgetting for a moment that the problems created in our own country must be developed and solved within our scope and possibilities."

Censorship Plan Denied

Dr. Sorondo emphatically denied a rumor that the Institute contemplated a censorship so strict that it would not only hinder local production but restrain the free distribution of foreign productions. To assume that the future of the industry depends on censorship is entirely fallacious, he said.

"The problem created by the local motion picture industry," he continued, "cannot be broken into parts. It is a whole of which the parts must be studied, each and every one, very carefully. In short, the Argentine industry, from the point of view of the present and of the future, presents a problem of direction, guidance and protection."

Asked directly whether the establishment of a quota was contemplated, Dr. Sorondo admitted that it was one of the points under consideration.

"Such a measure," he explained, "theoretically speaking, has the virtues of a panacea. But considered from the point of view of our real possibilities, and the peculiarities of our actual production, it gives way to the consideration of its practical application. There is the possibility that while producing a decided increase in quantity it might produce a corresponding decrease in the quality of the pictures. As a result, the public which always has the last word on the merits of a picture, might not patronize those theatres where Argentine productions were exhibited. Thus, if quotas are applied, they should be based on the course which our motion picture industry takes."

A similar answer was given to the question of enforced synchronization of foreign production in Spanish, a plan which he said the Institute also was considering.

Will Demand Support

Answering a request for the particulars of measures to be adopted the official said: "So far, I can say that the Motion Picture Institute will not leave any stone unturned to help any honest Argentine production. Once the regulations that have been submitted to the executive powers are approved. this Institute will demand the full support of the Government for its growing art and industry."

His reply to a direct question as to whether the Institute would adopt any measures which would affect foreign productions in Argentina was:

"By no means. The measures that the Institute will adopt to protect our local industry do not have to affect foreign production. In general, they will be measures already adopted by other countries, adapted, of course, to our own conditions and possibilities and such as will not cause any embarrassment to the commercial laws governing the motion picture industry throughout the world."

Adolph Zukor To Continue As Studio Head

Adolph Zukor will continue to serve Paramount as head of its studio after the first of the year, it was said by a high company official this week.

At the same time, it was pointed out, that due to the fact that Mr. Zukor's contract is still involved in litigation initiated by a company stockholder last summer, no action is scheduled to be taken on the option for renewal which otherwise would be exercised by the company prior to December 31st, as provided for in the contract.

Due to the legal status of the pact, it has not been formally placed in effect, but will be retroactive to January 1, 1937, if and when its legality has been asserted by the court, it was said.

The company official pointed out, also, that Mr. Zukor was officially without a contract as studio head during the first six months of this year, inasmuch as his contract had to be approved by Paramount stockholders and this was not done until July.

At that time the contract was approved by all stockholders except Ella Hayim, owner of a small number of shares, who brought an action following the meeting to enjoin the company from placing the contract in effect. The action has not been adjudicated yet but if it is ultimately determined in the company's favor it will be made effective immediately, it was said.

The Paramount board of directors, tentatively scheduled to meet this week, postponed the meeting due to the absence of a number of directors from New York. The board is expected to meet sometime during January.

Lawrence Sails for England

Jock Lawrence, head of publicity for Samuel Goldwyn, sailed for England on board the Normandie Sunday to take charge of publicity for the opening of Mr. Goldwyn's picture, "The Hurricane," in London January 25th. He was accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence. They plan to return to United States in about three weeks.

Edits French Films

Herman G. Weinberg has completed editing and titling three French films for the French Motion Picture Corporation for release this season. They are "Avec Le Sourire," starring Maurice Chevalier; "Helene," starring Madeleine and directed by Jean Benoit-Levy, and "Angele," starring Fernandel, directed by Marcel Pagnol.

Charnas Sells Macon Interest

Harry Charnas has sold his interest in the Macon Amusement Company, operating the New Criterion theatre, New York, to B. S. Moss. Mr. Charnas probably will join Warner Brothers in a production setup after a vacation.

Gene Aiello has been transferred from the publicity staff to the exploitation department of United Artists.

BALANCED

IN EASTMAN Super X Panchromatic Negative the vital film factors of fine grain, high speed, and superb photographic quality are combined to give the finest results to be seen anywhere today. It is the admirable balance of these qualities that has made Super X the world's most widely used negative film. Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y. (J. E. Brulatour, Inc., Distributors, Fort Lee, Chicago, Hollywood.)

EASTMAN SUPER X

PANCHROMATIC NEGATIVE

PRODUCTIONS IN WORK

TITLE	WRITER AND DIRECTOR	CAST	STAGE OF PRODUCTION
COLUMBIA
"Lone Wolf, No. 1"	Based on the character created by Louis Joseph Vance. Screen play, Arthur T. Horman. Director: Al Rogell.	Francis Lederer, Frances Drake, Walter Kingsford, Olaf Hytten.	Shooting
"Crime of the Year"	Original story, Harold Shumate. Screen play, Lee Loeb. Director: Danny Dare.	Robert Paige, Jacqueline Wells, Arthur Loft, Dan Galiaudet, Ann Doran.	Shooting
"Wide Open Faces"	Original story, Richard Flournoy. Screen play, Earl Snell, Clarence Marks, Joe Biglow. Director: Kurt Neumann.	Joe E. Brown, Jane Wyman, Alison Skipworth, Lyda Roberti, Alan Baxter, Barbara Pepper, Lucien Littlefield.	Shooting
METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER
"Merrily We Live"	Original story, E. J. Rath. Screen play, Eddie Moran, Jack Jevne. Director: Norman McLeod.	Constance Bennett, Brian Aherne, Alan Mowbray, Billie Burke, Bonita Granville, Tom Brown, Patsy Kelly.	Shooting
"The Girl of the Golden West"	Director: Robert Z. Leonard.	Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Ray Bolger, Buddy Ebsen, Walter Pidgeon, Leo Carrillo, Leonard Penn.	Shooting
"Test Pilot"	Director: Victor Fleming.	Clark Gable, Myrna Loy, Spencer Tracy, Lionel Barrymore, Ted Pearson, Virginia Grey, Arthur Aylesworth, Priscilla Lawson, Claudia Coleman.	Shooting
"Fanny"	From an original story by Marcel Pagnol. Director: James Whale.	Wallace Beery, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Morgan, Jessie Ralph, Cora Witherspoon.	Shooting
MONOGRAM
"My Old Kentucky Home"	Original screen play, John Neville. Director: Lambert Hillyer.	Evelyn Venable, Grant Richards, Clara Blandick, Bernadine Hayes, Margaret Marquis, Cornelius Keefe, Hall Johnson Choir.	Shooting
PARAMOUNT
"Doctor Rhythm"	From a play by O'Henry. Screen play, Jo Swerling, Richard Connel. Director: Frank Tuttle	Bing Crosby, Beatrice Lillie, Mary Carlisle, Andy Devine.	Shooting
"Bluebeard's Eighth Wife"	Based on a play by Alfred Savoir. Screen play, Charles Brackett, Billy Wilder. Producing director: Ernst Lubitsch.	Claudette Colbert, Gary Cooper, Edward Everett Horton, David Niven, Luis Alberni.	Shooting
"Her Jungle Love"	Director: George Archainbaud.	Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland, Lynne Overman, J. Carroll Naish.	Editing
"Professor Beware"	Director: Eliott Nugent.	Harold Lloyd, Phyllis Welch, Raymond Walburn, Lionel Stander, Sterling Holloway, Mary Lou Lender, Gwen Williams, Ward Bond, Spencer Charters, Clara Blandick.	Shooting
"Stolen Heaven"	Director: Andrew Stone.	Gene Raymond, Olympe Bradna, Glenda Farrell, Lewis Stone, Porter Hall, Esther Dale.	Shooting
REPUBLIC
"The Purple Vigilantes"	Director: George Sherman.	Robert Livingstone, Ray Corrigan, Max Terhune, Earl Dwyer, Francis Sayles.	Shooting
"Born to Be Wild"	Director: Joe Kane.	Ralph Byrd, Doris Weston, Ward Bond.	Shooting
RKO RADIO
"Bringing Up Baby"	Story, Hagar Wilde. Director: Howard Hawks.	Katharine Hepburn, Cary Grant, Charles Ruggles, George Irving, May Robson, George, the Dog.	Editing
"Radio City Revels"	Original by Matt Brooks, Eddie Davis. Director: Ben Stoloff	Milton Berle, Bob Burns, Jack Oakie, Victor Moore, Helen Broderick, Kenny Baker, Ann Miller.	Shooting
"Joy of Loving"	Original story and Lyrics, Herbert and Dorothy Fields. Screen play, Gene Towne, Graham Baker. Director: Tay Garnett.	Irene Dunne, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Alice Brady, Guy Kibbee, Lucille Ball, Jean Dixon.	Shooting
"Night Spot"	Original story, Ann Jordan. Screen play, Lionel Houser. Director: Christy Cabanne.	Allan Lane, Joan Woodbury, Bradley Page, Lee Patrick, Gordon Jones.	Editing
"Vivacious Lady"	From the novel by I. A. Wylie. Screen play, Ann Morrison Chapin, Kay Van Riper. Director: George Stevens.	Ginger Rogers, James Stewart, James Ellison, Ray Mayer.	Shooting
TWENTIETH CENT.-FOX
"Baroness and the Butler"	From a play, "Jean" by Ladislaus Bus-Fekete. Screen play, Sam Hellman, Lamar Trotti. Kathryn Scola. Director: Walter Lang.	Annabella, William Powell, Henry Stephenson, Joseph Schildkraut, Gregory Ratoff, Helen Westley, J. Edward Bromberg, Lynn Bari.	Shooting
"Walking Down Broadway"	Director: Norman Foster.	Claire Trevor, Phyllis Brooks, Leah Ray, Lynn Bari, Jayne Regan, Dixie Dunbar, Michael Whalen, Thomas Beck, Douglas Fowley, J. Edward Bromberg.	Shooting
"Gypsy"	Director: H. Bruce Humberstone.	Jane Withers, Robert Wilcox, Rochelle Hudson, Borrah Minevitch, Kathleen Burke.	Shooting
"Josette"	Director: Alan Dwan.	Simone Simon, Don Ameche, Robert Young, Tala Birell, Joan Davis, Bert Lahr, Lillian Porter, Joann Castle, Paul Hurst, Jayne Regan, Lynn Bari.	Shooting
UNIVERSAL
"Midnight Intruder"	From a novel by Channing Pollock. Screen play, Lester Coles. Director: Arthur Lubin.	Louis Hayward, Barbara Read, Sheila Bromley, J. C. Nugent, Eric Linden.	Shooting
"Mad About Music"	Original story, Marcelle Burke, Frederick Kohner. Director: Norman Taurog.	Deanna Durbin, Herbert Marshall, Gail Patrick, Arthur Treacher, Christian Rub, Marcia Mae Jones, Nana Bryant, Elizabeth Risdon, Helen Parrish, Martha O'Driscoll.	Editing
WARNER BROTHERS-FIRST NATIONAL
"Food for Scandal"	Author, Rosemary Casey. Screen play, Herbert and Joe Fields. Producing director: Mervyn LeRoy.	Carole Lombard, Fernand Gravet, Ralph Bellamy, Allen Jenkins, Marie Wilson, Frank Shields, Vicki Lester, Isabel Jeans, Jennie Le Gon, Les Hite and His Orchestra.	Shooting
"Everybody Was Very Nice"	From a short story by Stephen Vincent Benet. Screen play, Robert Buckner, Lawrence Kimble, Clements Ripley. Director: Stanley Logan.	Wayne Morris, Priscilla Lane, John Litel, Dick Foran, Thomas Mitchell, Mona Barrie, Barbara O'Neill, Minor Watson, Gregory Gaye, Donald Briggs, Crauford Kent, Dickie Moore, Aubrey Leonard.	Shooting
"Men Are Such Fools"	Based on a Cosmopolitan Magazine story by Faith Baldwin. Screen play, Norman Reilly Raine, Horace Jackson. Director: Busby Berkeley.	Wayne Morris, Priscilla Lane, Penny Singleton, Hugh Herbert, Donald Briggs.	Shooting
"Penrod's Double Trouble"	Based on a story by Booth Tarkington. Screen play, Crane Wilbur, Ernest Booth. Director: Lewis Seiler.	Billy and Bobby Mauch, Gene Lockart, Kathleen Lockhart, Charles Halton, Hugh O'Connell, Dick Purcell.	Shooting

Security Board Aids 1,996,200

The Social Security Board, Washington, issued last week a quarterly summary showing the progress of the five programs administered by the board under the Social Security Act for the quarter ending September 30, 1937.

The summary indicates that approximately 4,000,000 applications for social security accounts were received in the quarter, and that more than 34,000,000 social security account numbers had been assigned by the end of September. By that date 295 field offices had been opened.

All the states, including the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia, the summary reveals, have established unemployment insurance systems, and, all unemployment compensation laws have been approved by the Social Security Board.

Three plans for old-age assistance, four for aid to the blind, and four for aid to dependent children were approved by the board during the quarter. An additional plan for aid to dependent children in Missouri was approved by the board on October 5th. Estimates, based on reports received by the board, indicate that 1,996,200 needy individuals will have received cash payments for October under a total of 126 approved public-assistance plans.

Saunders Handling "Chicago"

Claud Saunders, formerly vice-president of Ross Federal Service, will handle the out-of-town road show engagements of "In Old Chicago," Twentieth Century-Fox production. Mr. Saunders will work under the supervision of Charles E. McCarthy, advertising and publicity director, with headquarters at the home office in New York. "In Old Chicago" will have its world premiere at the Astor theatre, New York, January 6th.

Louis Philips Honored

Louis Philips, Connecticut manager of Modern Theatre Equipment Corporation, who recently was made a vice-president of the company, was honored by members of the industry in the New Haven territory this week.

Adams Transferred

Vernon H. Adams has been transferred from Southern Public Relations representative for RKO Radio to the sales staff of the company's Dallas exchange.

Will Honor Jacques

A testimonial dinner will be tendered Stanley G. Jacques at the Netherlands Plaza Hotel, Cincinnati, January 10th on commemoration of his 20th year as Cincinnati branch manager for RKO Radio.

Miriam Howell, formerly of the Leland Hayward Company, has joined Samuel Goldwyn as eastern story editor. Dorothy Modisett continues in the story department.

Charles Etzel, Philadelphia inventor, claims to have devised a method of producing and projecting third dimensional films. He has been granted a patent on the device.

Chicago Approves License Fee Offer

The Chicago city council has accepted the offer of theatre operators there to increase the license fees by $68,000 above the present $120,000. The new arrangement ends the fight with the city over a tax on admissions and is looked upon as virtually a victory for the theatre operators.

In the new plan, theatres receiving up to 25 cents for admission will accept a 25 per cent increase in license fees, those charging up to 40 cents will be increased 60 per cent and houses charging 40 cents will pay a 100 per cent increase.

The new ruling is expected to affect Balaban and Katz since the circuit controls most of the larger theatres.

16mm. Film Gains Favor in Hungary

The increased use of 16 mm. film in Hungary has resulted in a struggle for supremacy between the Telephone Factory, Ltd., and the Magyar Film Iroda on one side and the laboratory, Kovacs and Faludi, on the other.

Kovacs and Faludi has obtained the rights to reduce to 16 mm. virtually all features produced in Hungary but the company has no projectors. The Telephone Factory and Magyar have projectors and educational films but no entertainment films.

To all my friends in the American Film Industry I send hearty good wishes for a prosperous and happy New Year

L. Shiddle

ILFORD LIMITED
CINE SALES DEPT.
60 WARDOUR STREET,
LONDON, W. 1.
ENGLAND

TELEVISION IN BRITISH CINEMAS BRINGS NEW PROGRAM PROBLEMS

Screens Suitable for Theatres Demonstrated by Baird, Scophony; Sponsored Entertainment and News Considered

by AUBREY FLANAGAN
in London

With the appearance of cinema television as a potential entertainment factor, the British show world has found itself face to face with the problem of what form the ultimate television entertainment is going to take and who is going to supply it.

In the course of the last reported week, two major television corporations—neither of them associated with the British Broadcasting Corporation—have given shows of large screen television. Both the Baird system, allied closely, by Ostrer control, with the Gaumont British circuit, and Scophony, linked with the Odeon group, are now closer to practicable picture theatre presentation. Both have their own ideas of how they are going to be used.

Both these corporations have recently given demonstrations of television on large screens, the Baird group in a 1,000-seater picture house, with reported creditable results. Scophony, though the demonstrated screen only measured six by eight feet, is believed to be aiming at the television of news events. Baird, with a large experimental studio at the Crystal Palace on the South Eastern line of hills just outside London, talks tentatively about a sponsored service of studio relayed television entertainment.

Arrangements are already in hand for the equipment of West End houses under GB control, news theatres and supers, and it is planned to extend the equipment service to far wider spheres. The screen at present used is ten by twelve feet but a larger projection is believed possible. Reception is on a cathode ray tube in the front of the proscenium, and from this the image is projected to the screen, with perhaps not too much light as yet, but with exceptional definition.

At the moment of writing the Baird-Gaumont British group have not taken a decision on whether they will, for the time being, use the Government sponsored television service, for which they would need state permission, or go ahead with plans for setting up a full studio television service relaying entertainment programmes to their clients wherever they were equipped.

Here then is the immediate difficulty. British television and broadcasting are a government monopoly and Parliamentary sanction would have to be obtained either for the public use of the present daily service as offered by the BBC or for the setting up of an independent television entertainment service.

The BBC holds a ten year monopoly of television in Britain, under direct Government control, and it is certain that any move towards the approval or condoning of any outside television service, especially one which might be associated with advertising or publicity, would be vigorously opposed by the established interests. No other form of radio broadcasting is permitted and it is not probable that a change of front would be offered to television, even if only for picture theatres.

Cinema television in that case would have to fall back on the ordinary programmes as offered by the BBC and for the public rediffusion of these permission has already been asked, and challenged, in the House of Commons. As the law stands at present, the diffusion of BBC television in picture houses or elsewhere is illegal. There are copyright complications. And, this last is a by no means negligible consideration, any such move would be fought fiercely by the manufacturers of home receivers who, since EMI's system is in use at Alexandra Palace, already have a finger in the pie.

These are problems which will have to be faced, and faced shortly, and on the solution of which the problem of cinema television greatly depends. Meanwhile they are being considered by the interests concerned, and the picture house patron is still sitting back and enjoying motion pictures.

NEW "REVOLT" ON AGAINST RENTALS

Plans for a new exhibitor campaign on rentals are to be put before members of the Cinematograph Exhibitors Association at district meetings to be staged all over the country.

A scheme has, it is understood, been drawn up by the General Council and will be presented in detail.

The Renters' grading scheme, and the insistence that Saturday children's matinee returns be included in general returns, are meeting with strong exhibitor opposition.

▽

Film Exports Increase

Exports of exposed positive films were 2,213,170 feet for November this year, a big increase over the 1,774,296 exported in November 1936. They did not reach the November, 1935, figure of 2,333,158 feet.

Exports for the eleven month period of this year also increased, footage totalling 20,946,160 against 20,346,022 feet for a similar period last year. 1935 footage for the eleven months was 26,185,726.

Value of exposed positives for November was £12,510 against £9,551 for November last year and £12,151 the year before.

Exports of films classed as "all other descriptions" increased in value for November from £17,678 last year to £20,236. The value for 1935 was £19,625.

Imports of blank film for November were 5,016,766 feet against 6,103,046 feet last year and 8,181,892 feet in 1935.

For the eleven months total imports of blank films were: in 1935, 61,721,173; in 1936, 63,099,717 and in 1937, 63,984,966.

Value of blank film exported for November was £19,035 this November against £22,883 for November 1935 and £21,895 for the previous year.

Total for eleven months is slightly less at £238,486 against £246,189 and £217,970 for 1936 and 1935 respectively.

Total imports of exposed films for November were 1,613,257 feet against 1,624,748 feet and 2,040,989 feet.

Eleven months footage totals are: in 1935, 19,618,773; in 1936, 21,305,053, and in 1937, 19,380,230.

For films of all other descriptions value for November was £46,263 against £48,397 and £39,801 for 1936 and 1935 respectively. For the eleven months value was £631,402, 1937; £651,441, 1936; and £492,755, 1935.

Value of sensitized photographic plates and films imported for November was £6,345 for this year against £5,194 in 1936 and £5,940 in 1935.

For the 11 months values were: in 1935, £377,649; in 1936, £382,893, and in 1937, £391,512.

Re-exports of films for November were 383,005 feet against 566,452 for November last year and 1,061,775 for 1935.

▽

Law and Licensing

The County Councils Association, a body representative of County licensing bodies all over Great Britain, is to examine and discuss at a meeting in January the recent High Court ruling that licensing bodies may not consider the licensing of cinemas until they are actually built.

The Warwickshire Licensing Committee, one of the most enterprising of its kind, has followed it up with a demand for amended legislation and this County Councils Association discussion is a result.

▽

Super Theatre

Claimed to be Europe's largest motion picture theatre, built at a cost of £320,000 ($1,600,000) and with accommodation for 4,000 seated patrons the State, Kilburn, a Gaumont Super Cinema creation, was opened on December 13th. Its entrance hall alone is 230 feet deep, the 125 lamp candelabra is a replica of that in Buckingham Palace and in the waiting rooms are ice water fountains. A special broadcasting studio built to BBC specifications is included in the 100 foot tower.

▽

Itemized

As forecast in the HERALD some weeks back, Francis Meynell, for some time director of publicity and advertising for the Gaumont British Picture Corporation, has now finally severed his association with that concern. He has taken up a directorial post with a company of London advertising agents.

▽

John Maxwell has been elected chairman of Union Cinemas with which corporation Associated British Cinemas recently amalgamated. The entire directorate of Union is now composed of Associated British executives.

▽

The Prudential Assurance Company, backers of London Films, have taken over the ownership of the site on which the Leicester Square Odeon is built. It has been acquired from Covent Garden Properties and Eagle Star, at a net price of £450,000 ($2,250,000).

UA in "Mayerling" Deal

I. E. Lopert, president of Pax Films, Inc., and Arthur W. Kelly, vice-president of United Artists in charge of foreign sales, have signed an agreement whereby United Artists will handle the distribution of "Mayerling" in the Philippine Island territory.

IN THE BRITISH STUDIOS

by AUBREY FLANAGAN
in London

Three at Denham

Three London Film productions on the floor at Denham indicate that the abandonment of the United Artists' deal has for the time being at any rate meant no holdup on the company's film making plans.

"Over the Moon," Merle Oberon's second Technicolor film, is now in production at Denham, under the direction of William K. Howard. Rex Harrison is Oberon's leading man, and the cast includes Ursula Jeans, Louis Borrell, Peter Haddon and Morton Selton. Stage No. 4 at Denham, largest sound stage in Europe, is being used.

Another big set is now taking shape under an army of workmen for this picture. It shows a section of Yorkshire moor, a mining village with long roads winding away into the distance with factories and slag heaps looming in the background.

"The Challenge" is another London Films production, directed by Milton Rosmer, known as a director, actor and producer. The cast includes the German actor, Luis Trenker, Robert Douglas and Joan Gardner.

Most of the equipment on location in Switzerland had to be carried up the mountain each day and twenty-four guides were continually engaged on this work, carrying the heavy cameras and sound equipment. It is believed that it is the first time that a motion picture camera has ever been taken to the summit of the Matterhorn.

Comedy, Romance

Plans for a continuance of production well into 1938 are already well advanced by Gainsborough Pictures, associate company of Gaumont British.

Five have been agreed upon to follow "Alf's Button Afloat," the comedy which is being made with the assistance of the London Palladium's Crazy Gang and in which Wally Patch, Alistair Sim and Glennis Lorimer are playing.

As soon as work is through on the Crazy Gang film, which is being directed by Marcel Varnel, into production will go another Will Hay comedy, "Convict 99." In this the British comedian will appear in the role in which he is so well known to vaudeville patrons and radio listeners, that of the muddled schoolmaster. A script has been prepared by Cyril Campion, Mariot Edgar, Val Guest and Ralph Smart.

Scheduled for production by Gainsborough during 1938 is "Bob Roy," the story of which is partly drawn from Sir Walter Scott's novel and partly from history.

This picture will present the adventures of Rob Roy McGregor, romantic Scottish counterpart of Robin Hood.

The screen story has been prepared by Leslie Arliss and Kurt Siodmak, with dialogue by the Scottish playwright Robert McLellan.

During the course of the forthcoming year Gainsborough is to film H. de Vere Stackpool's romance, "The Blue Lagoon." A special camera unit will go on location in the tropics.

Also for production during 1938 are "The Wheel Spins," an international spy story contrived by Sidney Gilliat and Frank Lauder from the novel by Eleana White and "Such an Enmity" (tentative title), Roland Pertwee's mystery drama.

French Legion of Decency Passes 99.1% of 117 American Pictures

Classification of all films reveiwed by the Centrale Catholique du Cinema, French Catholic organization corresponding to the Legion of Decency in the United States, for the first six months of 1937 was as follows:

Country of Origin	Number of Films	Class A Suitable for All	Class B Suitable for Adults	Class C Unsuitable
France	73	8.2 per cent	65.6 per cent	26.2 per cent
United States . .	117	26.5	72.6	.9
England	13	31.6	68.4	. . .
Germany . . .	19	11.8	76.4	11.8
Italy	2	50.0	50.0	. . .
Soviet Russia . .	4	. . .	. . .	100.

Only one American film, "Marked Woman," out of the 117 reviewed during the period was placed in Class C. It will be noted also that American films far outnumbered those from other countries including France.

Newcomer

Patricia Medina, who signed a contract with Warners' Teddington studios recently, has begun her first starring part in "Double or Quits," which took the floor under Roy Neill's direction, on December 13th.

Miss Medina, who was given a screen test during "Mr. Satan," has just completed her first film as Claude Hulbert's heroine in "Simply Terrific," now in the cutting room.

Production also has finished on "Love Insurance," starring Gene Gerrard.

"Double or Quits" is the last film of the 1937 schedule and when production ends on January 8th Teddington studios will close down for overhaul of equipment, reopening again with the return of Irving Asher from Hollywood at the end of the month.

Three productions have been announced to take the floor in swift succession at the Pathe Studio at Welwyn, Herts. The first, which goes into production at once, is "Almost a Honeymoon," based on a play which had a very successful run at the Adelphi Theatre a few years back. Norman Lee will direct. This will be followed by "Lights Out at Eleven," a comedy with a boarding school setting and Jeffrey Dell's very successful "Night Alone."

Cartoon Company

The formation of a British cartoon company to produce at the Ub Iwerks studios in Hollywood, is announced this side with the registration of Cartoon Films, Limited. Backbone of this new venture it would seem is the English animal cartoonist Lawson Wood, whose work is to be sponsored. Twenty-four cartoons featuring "real animals" are to be made in color and with RCA ultra violet recording.

Saville to MGM

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has signed Victor Saville, British producer-director; Julian Duvivier, French director, and Carl Esmond, Viennese actor. Mr. Saville will become a unit producer with MGM's British organization. Mr. Duvivier arrived in New York last week from Europe and Mr. Esmond will leave for California on completion of his London stage engagement.

RKO Latin Manager Reports SA Findings

Ben Cammack, Latin American general manager for RKO Radio, now in New York, reports that film production and theatre construction in the Argentine is showing a "healthy activity." Mr. Cammack said Argentina will produce about 50 pictures, Mexico the same number, Brazil five and Peru one this year.

"Hollywood pictures are still tops and the most popular," he said. "They comprise about 75 per cent of the total pictures shown in South America and owe their appeal to the Hollywood tempo, stars and superior dramatic or comedy treatment."

Mr. Cammack said he had closed a deal for RKO's entire output with the Italo-Chileno Circuit of 30 theatres, comprising first run Chile houses in Santiago, Valparaiso and suburban towns, while Nat Liebeskind consummated a deal for all RKO product with four Buenos Aires houses; the Ideal, Rex, Ambassador and Florida, belonging to Lauteret and Caballo.

FULL FEATURE LENGTH

SMASH

ENTERTAINMENT!

Based on the life of

JOE LOUIS

WORLD HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION

SPIRIT of YOUTH

with

CLARENCE MUSE

Edna Mae Harris

Mae Turner

Mantan Moreland

Cleo Desmond

Associate Producer
EDWARD SHANBERG

Directed by HARRY FRASER

Original Screenplay
by ARTHUR HOERL

Produced by LEW GOLDER

Presented by Globe Pictures Corp.

A GRAND NATIONAL Release

WHAT THE PICTURE DID FOR ME

Chesterfield

HOUSE OF SECRETS: Leslie Fenton, Muriel Evans—A mystery thriller. Good program filler for a double feature. Played December 10-11.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

Columbia

AWFUL TRUTH, THE: Irene Dunne, Cary Grant—This is more clever and funnier than any comedy I have ever seen and all the comedies I never saw. I can say no more of this than to state that on the way out the entire audience were friends with one another. They went out on a "bender" for two hours and the liquor was laughter and how intoxicated they were! The retreating footsteps and the roar of departing motors sounded a note of good will and happiness that rang out into the night. This may seem foolish in a sophisticated world of people, where unfriendliness and sarcasm are considered a sign of smartness and position, but "The Awful Truth" was more than an hilarious comedy, more than an exceedingly entertaining production, for in our lobby and lounges after the play was a warmth, a feeling, that all Hollywood's most prolific adjectives combined could not begin to describe. These moments do not come often. I have seen them at great football games, or perhaps on Christmas Eve when people band together around lamp posts singing carols and greeting friends and strangers alike. To see the picture cost them only thirty-five or forty cents here, yet all the gold in Africa could not buy those moments after the curtain. I thank you. Running time, 93 minutes. Played November 25-26-Dec. 9-10.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine.

GAME THAT KILLS, THE: Charles Quigley, Rita Hayworth—Have played several hockey pictures but this was the poorest of the lot. Running time, 56 minutes. Played Nov. 26-27.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

HOLLYWOOD ROUND-UP: Buck Jones, Helen Twelvetrees—This ruined future Buck Jones pictures for my patrons. He'll never live this one down here. Why don't they let these Western stars act in westerns, and not try to make a matinee idiot out of them. Running time, 60 minutes. Played Dec. 10-11.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

IT HAPPENED IN HOLLYWOOD: Richard Dix, Fay Wray—This picture drew poorly and pleased only a certain few. Not strong enough story for its robust star, albeit he plays the role with sincerity. Played Nov. 23.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

LEAGUE OF FRIGHTENED MEN, THE: Walter Connolly, Irene Hervey—Pretty good program. Bought right from Columbia who, to my notion, is always very fair and agreeable.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

LOST HORIZON: Ronald Colman, Jane Wyatt—A disappointing picture and a big flop at our boxoffice. Just made our expenses but did not get us any money. Some wonderful shots and good acting, but the picture did not please the few who came to see it. Running time, 118 minutes. Played Dec. 7-8.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

PAID TO DANCE: Jacqueline Wells, Don Terry—Much less shocking, horrible, and gruesome than Warner's "Marked Woman," this little picture is somewhat the same subject matter. It is like a Metro "Crime Doesn't Pay" subject with more length and detail. The love interest is agreeably absent and Columbia deserves credit for not taking advantage of the cheap (but in some places boxoffice) possibilities available in a subject concerning dime dance halls and pretty girls forced into them by mean gangsters with heavy jowls. The picture makes no pretense of being anything other than just what it is, and as such it packs an entertaining punch. It is reasonably well-acted. Columbia can do it all right even in minor productions. They must have just knocked out "They Married An Artist" to see if they could catch me napping. Running time, 56 minutes. Played Dec. 15.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine.

RANGER COURAGE: Bob Allen—One of the worst westerns we ever played. We didn't think they could have so many ridiculous situations; even the kids made fun of it. Pass it up.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

SHE MARRIED AN ARTIST: John Boles, Luli Deste—This picture did not even gross the news and comedy rental the first night. The second night I stayed under a down puff and prayed for sleep to release me from a world inhabited from men who can look you straight in the eye after selling a film like that. Mind you, it is not the worst film I ever saw (my brother at fifteen filmed the back of our garage with an eight-millimeter camera, his hand over the lens), but it certainly is one of the poorest pictures that make any pretense of being anything. I am sorry I saw some of the picture for I'm now frankly worried about John Boles, but I calm myself by saying "John Boles knows how awful he was in that picture, he must know, he is flesh and blood." Then I worry about finished actress Helen Westley. If she and I could sit together before the fire and hum lullabies, maybe we could both forget it. Only the great Lunts, themselves, could have (with ad libbing allowed) saved the production. Played Dec. 13-14.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine.

IN this, the exhibitors' own department, the theatremen of the nation serve one another with information on the box-office performance of product for their mutual benefit. It is a service of the exhibitor for the exhibitor. Address all communications to—

What the Picture Did for Me
MOTION PICTURE HERALD
Rockefeller Center, New York

First National

ALCATRAZ ISLAND: John Litel, Ann Sheridan—Nice little program picture, entertaining all the way. Running time, 79 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

CHEROKEE STRIP: Dick Foran, Jane Bryan—One of the best westerns we have played for a long while. I can't understand why Warner wants to take Dick Foran out of western pictures. Don't they realize that the exhibitors need good western pictures. Running time, 55 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

EVER SINCE EVE: Marion Davies, Robert Montgomery—Much better than we expected. Played on money night and everyone pleased. Stars all good.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

GREEN LIGHT: Errol Flynn, Anita Louise, Margaret Lindsay—An excellent show which did not click at the box office but satisfied those who did come. Running time, 83 minutes. Played Oct. 25.—Kenneth B. Parker, Tudor Super Cinema, Dewsbury, Yorkshire, England. General patronage.

MEN IN EXILE: Richard Purcell, June Travis—Did excellent program business with good second feature to help along. Running time, 58 minutes. Played December 6.—Kenneth B. Parker, Tudor Super Cinema, Dewsbury, Yorkshire, England. General patronage.

OVER THE GOAL: William Hopper, June Travis—A mild football drama. Played Nov. 30.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

SUBMARINE D-1: Pat O'Brien, George Brent—A very interesting and educational picture. Deals with a new angle on this submarine business. Everyone enjoyed it and said so. A man's picture, but give it a good date. You can't go wrong on this. Running time, 100 minutes. Played Dec. 12-13-14.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

THAT CERTAIN WOMAN: Bette Davis, Henry Fonda—The best picture Bette Davis has made. Her acting is wonderful. This drew quite well at the boxoffice considering the bad roads and weather. Running time, 94 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

THAT CERTAIN WOMAN: Bette Davis, Henry Fonda—Disappointing grosses on this one. The picture is good, however. Played Nov. 28-29.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

THEY WON'T FORGET: Claude Rains, Gloria Dickson—The folks hereabouts didn't like the uncertainty of this picture's ending. They're still asking "who done it." Misses fire some place, at any rate. No dice at boxoffice. Played Nov. 27.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

BIG CITY: Luise Rainer, Spencer Tracy—This picture did average business, but I made a mistake and played on Sunday-Monday. I suggest it be played through the week. The stars are not so popular here and I did not think the picture worth top allocation. Running time, 80 minutes. Played Nov. 21-22.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

BRIDE WORE RED, THE: Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone—We did pretty nice business with this picture, but some who came were not so pleased. Franchot Tone and Robert Young are popular here as well as Joan Crawford, but some of our patrons remarked that they hoped to see Joan Crawford with a new coiffure in her next picture. It was not becoming at all in this one. Running time, 103 minutes. Played Nov. 28-29.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

BRIDE WORE RED, THE: Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone—Why don't they forget Crawford? I starve every time she hits town.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

BRIDE WORE RED, THE: Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone, Robert Young—Why bear down on a color in a black and white film? The stars brought us a good attendance of people who were but mildly entertained. The plot seems to me to be neither convincing nor pleasing. Running time, 108 minutes. Played December 17-18.—G. A. Van Fradenburg, Valley Theatre, Manassa, Col. Farming community patronage.

BROADWAY MELODY OF 1938: Eleanor Powell, Robert Taylor—Personally I did not think this as good as the previous melodies, although it was really good. Eleanor Powell did not do as much dancing as in the former ones. I have read reports knocking Robert Taylor in this one but he was just as good as any of the cast. I thought he was grand and really handsome. Running time, 110 minutes. Played Oct. 31-Nov. 1.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

BROADWAY MELODY OF 1938: Robert Taylor, Eleanor Powell, George Murphy, Buddy Ebsen—This is doubtless just as good as the previous feature of the same name, and that is just what is wrong with it. It is so similar in every way that it savors too much of a repetition. As to attendance, we have done better with a lot of program pictures than with either "Melody." Running time, 110 minutes. Played December 10-11.—G. A. Van Fradenburg, Valley Theatre, Manassa, Col. Farming community patronage.

CONQUEST: Charles Boyer, Greta Garbo—Prestige again comes to the fore. The costliest picture Metro has produced, if the trailer is to be believed, and I credit that they spent and poured the jack into this epic. But the film did not do any business here. did here, the bankers will be moving in on Metro. First, it is too long, there are some draggy spots, and then again Garbo is supported largely by the so-called sophisticates and our business comes from the rank and file. You have to hand it to Metro, they will try anything once. As far as I am concerned on this one, once is enough. In fact, more than plenty. It is a super colossal magnifico, but a dog at the boxoffice.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre Columbia City, Ind.

DOUBLE WEDDING: William Powell, Myrna Loy—Very, very good. This type always goes over here.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

FIREFLY, THE: Jeanette MacDonald, Allan Jones—This is truly a superb picture. It clicked for me. Get behind and push it, and it will draw.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

(Reports continued on following page)

GOOD EARTH, THE: Paul Muni, Luise Rainer, Charley Grapewin—Another grand picture from everything but the boxoffice standpoint. Even those who frankly admitted they did not like the show—and a lot of them did not—admitted that it was a good picture. The photography is wonderful, the lighting is almost too realistic. Am quite sure I recognized some of the grasshoppers as those who ate my flowers last summer. Paul Muni gives his best performance. He is simply great. Charley Grapewin is very good. I think the main trouble with this kind of picture is that it is depressing and after seven years of depression, repression, drought, dust storms and grasshoppers people want something more cheerful. Another one like this and Michael (he's my dog) and I will be in the bread line. A great picture but not for this town. Running time, 139 minutes. Played December 10-12.—Gladys E. McAdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kansas. Small town patronage.

GOOD EARTH, THE: Paul Muni, Luise Rainer—This is quite a wonderful picture, but one can hardly call it entertaining. It is one of those features which will receive from the average person the report, "It was a great picture, but I did not like it." The publicity it had gave us a fine house the first night in spite of bad weather, whereas we had good weather the second night, and less than half a house. Running time, 139 minutes. Played November 26-27.—G. A. Van Fradenburg, Valley Theatre, Manassa, Col. Farming community patronage.

LAST GANGSTER, THE: Edward G. Robinson, Rose Stradner—His best picture since "Little Caesar." Robinson is still tops with me.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

LAST OF MRS. CHEYNEY, THE: Joan Crawford, Robert Montgomery, William Powell—Another from Leo that did excellent business at the box office and pleased everyone. Bouquet for Joan Crawford for her excellent work. Should do well in any location. Running time, 98 minutes. Played November 1.—Kenneth B. Parker, Tudor Super Cinema, Dewsbury, Yorkshire, England. General patronage.

LIVE, LOVE AND LEARN: Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell—Very good picture to very poor business.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

NAVY BLUE AND GOLD: Robert Young, Florence Rice—Best football picture this year. It simply can't be beat.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

NIGHT MUST FALL: Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell—Not a special but did above average business. Would have done better if more action. Customers well pleased with Montgomery's work but prefer him in his usual type of role. Running time, 116 minutes. Played Nov. 15.—Kenneth B. Parker, Tudor Super Cinema, Dewsbury, Yorkshire, England. General patronage.

NIGHT MUST FALL: Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell—Better pay for this one and let them keep it. We had quite a few walkouts. Metro as a rule has good pictures, but this a flop, pure and simple. Running time, 116 minutes. Played Dec. 12-13.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

NOBODY'S BABY: Patsy Kelly, Lyda Roberti, Robert Armstrong—Not up to the usual standard of Leo but nevertheless did above average and got out. Running time, 68 minutes. Played Dec. 2.—Kenneth B. Parker, Tudor Super Cinema, Dewsbury, Yorkshire, England. General patronage.

NOBODY'S BABY: Patsy Kelly, Robert Armstrong—This is a swell comedy picture. If your customers like comedy, play it up to them. It will please all. Running time, 67 minutes. Played Nov. 26-27.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

THEY GAVE HIM A GUN: Spencer Tracy, Franchot Tone, Gladys George—Good action picture but that's all. Folks said that it was too rough in spots to be good. Running time, 94 minutes. Played Nov. 28-29-30.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

THOROUGHBREDS DON'T CRY: Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland—A swell picture. Magnificent for any date in the week. Judy and Mickey are great.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

TRADER HORN (Re-issue): Harry Carey, Edwina Booth—Very fine picture but no business. Lost money. Running time, six reels.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Monogram

BRIDE FOR HENRY, A: Warren Hull, Anne Nagel—Sorry to report that this picture is only a very fair program.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

STARS OVER ARIZONA: Jack Randall—As a western, very good. As a musical type western, it was a flop. Jack Randall is to some a good singer. This was the first we have shown of him. Can not see how Monogram can call him a sensational singing cowboy. When will the producer learn that the Western-loving movie fans do not want what approaches the classical singing type, injected in their western thrill fare. Like one patron said, "Why didn't they give him some poetry to read," another "Don't believe Randall can as much as play a guitar"; another, "There wasn't enough instrumental music to carry Randall over his rough spots, another Dick Foran type of a singer, N. G." And what a title to pin on this western, "Stars Over Arizona." Why wasn't it called "The Law of the Six Guns?" The producers should brush up on their knowledge of producing Westerns by previewing features of singing cowboys that are huge successes at the boxoffice in the small towns. Then they will know what the Western fans want.

The good thing about "Stars Over Arizona" is that Randall played and sang so little that you couldn't really call it a musical western. As a western feature, Randall did very good acting and carried his parts very good. In all, you make no mistake in playing this western. The sound was wonderful, would call it perfect. Give us more prints like this one. We doubled this one with Universal's "Westbound Limited." The difference in recordings was very noticeable. Keep it up, Monogram, it is a pleasure to show pictures with recordings like this one. Running time, 6 reels. Played Dec. 9-10-11.—John S. Erickson, Rex Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich.

Paramount

ANGEL: Marlene Dietrich, Herbert Marshall, Melvyn Douglas—An absolute flop. Most Paramounts are this year.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

BARRIER, THE: Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker—Nice north country story. Just misses being big. Good entertainment in any spot. No extended runs.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

BARRIER, THE: Jean Parker, Leo Carrillo—A good little program picture which I believe pleased most of the people who saw it. It did not draw any extra business, but it was about average. Running time, 93 minutes. Played Dec. 7-8.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

BLONDE TROUBLE: Johnny Downs, Eleanore Whitney—Much better than I expected from the various reports I have read in these columns. Used it on a double feature and it went over a lot better than several other Paramount programers I have played lately.—L. V. Bergtold, Westby Theatre, Westby, Wis. General patronage.

BLOSSOMS ON BROADWAY: Edward Arnold, Shirley Ross—After 25 years, Adolph Zukor still makes 85 per cent of his product B-C and D pictures. Will he ever find out that exhibitors want good pictures and not stuff like this one. His 1937-38 product, outside of 2 pictures up to this time, has been terrible. They drive business away. Make good ones or none at all. Running time, 85 minutes. Played December 12-13.—M. W. Mattecheck, Lark Theatre, McMinnville, Ore. Local patronage.

BLOSSOMS ON BROADWAY: Edward Arnold, Shirley Ross—Poorest Paramount we have taken from a can in three years. Shame to use such stars in so worthless and crude a thing as this. Running time, 85 minutes. Played Dec. 12-13.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

BLOSSOMS ON BROADWAY: Edward Arnold, Shirley Ross—A million dollars worth of talent wasted on this bit of disconnected and poorly constructed story. Don't play it. Running time, 85 minutes. Played Dec. 10-11.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

DOUBLE OR NOTHING: Bing Crosby, Martha Raye—Good picture that failed to draw at the boxoffice. Running time, 87 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

DOUBLE OR NOTHING: Bing Crosby, Martha Raye—A good picture, but have seen Bing in better ones. It seems that he just cannot make them as good as they used to be and they do not draw as well as they did in the past. Our business was very nice on this one. Running time, 95 minutes. Played Nov. 18-19.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME: Irene Dunne, Randolph Scott—The only thing "High, Wide and Handsome" about this was the rental. The songs allotted Miss Dunne were poorly introduced. Our audience just won't accept a "burst into song" sequence. Played Dec. 5-6.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME: Irene Dunne, Randolph Scott—We expected to die at the boxoffice, but we did not expect to die such a painful death. It is a noisy, brawling film with an appalling lack of story interest and the entire "mean" mob of horsewhippers plus skinny Randolph Scott and his oily heroes could have been put to flight by Hopalong Cassidy. Paramount films of late have something empty and unreal about them. I can't quite put my finger on it, and after seeing "High, Wide and Handsome," I am not sure that I want to. Running time, 110 minutes. Played Nov. 30.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine.

HOPALONG RIDES AGAIN: William Boyd, George Hayes—Very good. All these Cassidy westerns are good. You can't go wrong playing them. Running time, 60 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

KING OF GAMBLERS: Lloyd Nolan, Claire Trevor—A very good picture that can be shown anywhere. A clever slot machine racketeer picture. Business average.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

LOVE ON TOAST: John Payne, Stella Ardler—Okay. This Payne is as good-looking and even better actor than Robert Taylor.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

NIGHT CLUB SCANDAL: John Barrymore, Lynne Overman—Okay for bank nights or on duals.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

PARTNERS IN CRIME: Lynne Overman, Roscoe Karns—On a par with quite a lot of pictures that this producing company has released this season, it has nothing that will even excite the least skeptical. In other words, it is a picture that is not worth the used date. Paramount does not seem to have what it takes on the program pictures.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind.

PARTNERS IN CRIME: Roscoe Karns, Lynne Overman—Just after our miserable flop on "High, Wide and Handsome" comes this. Paramount makes us "Partners in Crime" also when they deliver such a rank feature as this to inflict on our patronage. Cast is hopelessly minor. Played Dec. 7.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

SHE'S NO LADY: Ann Dvorak, John Trent—Swell little picture, better than anything Paramount has offered yet, and that isn't saying too much.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

SOULS AT SEA: Gary Cooper, George Raft, Frances Dee, Olympe Bradna—Fine picture but business off. Stars perfect. When you play this use Paramount's free trailer on Olympe Bradna. It's good.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

TEXAS TRAIL: William Boyd, George Hayes—These Cassidys are tops in my town. Let's have some more of them.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

THIS WAY, PLEASE: Charles Buddy Rogers, Betty Grable—Except that this entirely wasted the talented Buddy Rogers, it is okay. Why not cast him in more pretentious musicals? Played Dec. 4.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

THUNDER TRAIL: Gilbert Roland, Marsha Hunt—An excellent western. More plot than usual. Played Dec. 4.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacock, N. H. General patronage.

THUNDER TRAIL: Gilbert Roland, Marsha Hunt—A nice Western that will please everyone. Gilbert Roland turns in a fine performance.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind.

TRAIL OF THE LONESOME PINE, THE: Sylvia Sidney, Henry Fonda, Fred MacMurray—This is still a wonderful picture. Worth repeating.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Regal

LOST CITY, THE: William Boyd, Claudia Dell—A fantastic show if there ever was. A good filler on a double program, but put it on your poorest night. Running time, nine reels. Played December 15-16.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

Republic

BOOTS AND SADDLES: Gene Autry, Judith Allen—This boy Autry has got something. Look out, Crosby, he's a natural for small towns, and we are pleased to have bought them. Most ladies have been coming to accompany their husbands to the average western, but not Autry. They bring their husbands or come without them. He's got that something that packs them in. If you haven't played any Autry, try one and then listen to the comments.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

LAWLESS LAND: Johnny Mack Brown, Louise Stanley—Pretty fair western. Why not put a hilly billy band in some of Brown's pictures or some kind of music.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

OLD CORRAL, THE: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette—We don't know all the answers, but our customers fall for Autry's features harder than for others which we think have more merit. Our greatest trouble with them is that the Republic exchange just will not keep the prints in anything like first-class condition. Running time, 60 minutes. Played December 3-4.—G. A. Van Fradenburg, Valley Theatre, Manassa, Col. Farming community patronage.

RKO Radio

FIGHT FOR YOUR LADY: John Boles, Ida Lupino—Very good program picture that pleased. Running time, 67 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

FIGHT FOR YOUR LADY: John Boles, Ida Lupino—Just a picture. Pleased no one and will please no one. Running time, 67 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

FIT FOR A KING: Joe E. Brown, Helen Mack—Good, but not near as good as "Earthworm Tractors." Only fair at the box-office. Running time, 73 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

FLIGHT FROM GLORY: Chester Morris, Whitney Bourne—Very good programmer. Chester Morris's acting is supreme. Running time, 67 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

FLIGHT FROM GLORY: Chester Morris, Whitney Bourne—A good program picture. Plenty of action and enough comedy relief to make it good. Running time, 67 minutes. Played Dec. 10-11.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

FORTY NAUGHTY GIRLS: Zasu Pitts, James Gleason—Pleasing light comedy with Gleason and Zasu as the detectives. Oscar Piper and Hildegarde Withers. Running time, 63 minutes. Played December 10-11.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

FORTY NAUGHTY GIRLS: Zasu Pitts, James Gleason—I heard a few people laugh and nobody challenged me to a duel . . . so . . . so what? Running time, 63 minutes. Played Dec. 1.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine.

LIFE OF THE PARTY, THE: Harriet Hilliard, Gene Raymond—Well received, plenty of comedy and our patrons really go for this type. Did nice business on a Sunday-Monday booking. Joe Penner is a good draw in our town. Running time, 77 minutes. Played Dec. 5-6.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

MAKE A WISH: Bobby Breen, Basil Rathbone—Here is a real picture, if you want entertainment to please the entire family. Bobby Breen better in this picture than any of his previous ones. He was grand. This goes for the entire cast. A swell little picture. Running time, 77 minutes. Played Dec. 9-10.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

RIDING ON AIR: Joe E. Brown, Florence Rice—RKO seems to be giving Joe a break although they can improve his pictures a lot yet. Played to capacity business Thanksgiving. Running time, 71 minutes. Played Nov. 24-25.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

SATURDAY'S HEROES: Van Heflin, Marian Marsh—This boy, Van Heflin, annoyed me so much I couldn't decide whether "Saturday's Heroes" was poor or just terrible. Running time, 60 minutes. Played Dec. 1.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine.

STAGE DOOR: Ginger Rogers, Katharine Hepburn—Excellent and entertaining from start to finish. Ginger Rogers and Katharine Hepburn very good. Who says RKO is not making good pictures? Running time, 90 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

STAGE DOOR: Katharine Hepburn, Ginger Rogers, Adolphe Menjou—Did not go over very well in my town. Title seemed to be against it. Personally did not care for it. Customers that came liked it. We lost money on it but regardless of that fact I was very much disappointed in it. No romance, mostly wise cracks. Running time, 105 minutes. Played Dec. 5-7.—M. W. Mattecheck, Lark Theatre, McMinnville, Ore. Local patronage.

Twentieth Century-Fox

ALI BABA GOES TO TOWN: Eddie Cantor, June Lang—Not up to Cantor standard. In poor taste, not very funny, and parts of it vulgar. Cantor can do better than this. This effort could have stayed off the screen and we would not have ever missed it. Played November 24-25.—M. W. Mattecheck, Lark Theatre, McMinnville, Ore. Local patronage.

DINNER AT THE RITZ: Anabella, Paul Lucas—The star of "Wings of the Morning," the only British-made picture that the writer ever thought was worth a tinker's, does not get the breaks in this, her third picture. The story is weak for one thing, the continuity seemed to break, and made it hard to follow. Annabella talks plainer in this but with a decided accent that is a little hard to understand in some sequences. But the lady is easy on the eyes and wears clothes stunningly. Also, she is definitely an actress that can put a role over, that she showed in "Wings." But good as they are, they can't bolster up a weak story and get very far, and that is the case of "Dinner at the Ritz."—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind.

HEARTS IN REUNION: Dionne Quintuplets, Jean Hersholt—Just another programmer with average business. Running time, 81 minutes.—Kenneth B. Parker, Tudor Super Cinema, Dewsbury, Yorkshire, England. General patronage.

HEIDI: Shirley Temple, Jean Hersholt—Splendid. Just what the cash customers want. Real entertainment for old and young. A story that touches the heart and one that makes the exhibitor feel glad to show. Running time, 89 minutes. Played December 12-14.—M. W. Mattecheck, Lark Theatre, McMinnville, Ore. Local patronage.

HEIDI: Shirley Temple—Who said this little star was slipping? Certainly not for me. Although I played this midweek and only two nights, it established a new high gross for the house, beating "Thin Ice," which I used three nights, by a few cents. "Thin Ice" had the high record. "Heidi" is undoubtedly the finest picture yet turned out with Shirley Temple. No end of comments. All excellent.—L. V. Bergtold, Westby Theatre, Westby, Wis. General patronage.

IT HAPPENED OUT WEST: Paul Kelly, Judith Allen—I cannot say so much for this one. The story was not liked and we received a very bad print that made it terrible. A very poor picture for Harold Bell Wright. Running time, 56 minutes.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas General patronage.

JUDGE PRIEST (Re-issue): Will Rogers, Anita Louise—Will Rogers can still draw better than average business and the customers are satisfied. Running time, 79 minutes.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

SECOND HONEYMOON: Tyrone Power, Loretta Young, Marjorie Weaver—In reporting this, I neglected to give a hand to Miss Weaver. She has it coming for her bit in the sophisticated comedy, "Second Honeymoon." The lady seems to have what it takes, and more power to her.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind.

SEVENTH HEAVEN: Simone Simon, James Stewart—Excellent production with fine work by the principals but did not play to average business. Everyone very satisfied who came. Running time, 102 minutes. Played November 22.—Kenneth B. Parker, Tudor Super Cinema, Dewsbury, Yorkshire, England. General patronage.

SEVENTH HEAVEN: Simone Simon, James Stewart—A French discovery in a seventy per cent French town; what a natural. We gave it the works and brought home the bacon, Christmas week, December 16-17, in opposition to a big charity dance, and these slipping icy roads that was very bad. The second night a big Keno ran two shows each night. All we ask, give us more of Simone.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

STOWAWAY: Shirley Temple, Robert Young—One of the best Shirley Temples in several years. Someone said she was slipping, but after this picture I guess her star is rising again. She sings several songs, imitates Al Jolson and Eddie Cantor, dances in the Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers manner and gives the finest performance of her career. Robert Young and Alice Faye add to the prestige of the picture and, all in all, it's a smash hit in any spot. Running time, 85 minutes. Played Dec. 18.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

THIN ICE: Sonja Henie, Tyrone Power—Another from Twentieth Century-Fox that I must praise; it was perfect. Sonja Henie is as cute as they come and Tyrone Power swell in this. Give this one your best playing time. I am looking forward to seeing Sonja in her next. I wish she would send me an autographed photo of herself. Running time, 78 minutes.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

THIS IS MY AFFAIR: Barbara Stanwyck, Robert Taylor, Victor McLaglen, Frank Conroy, Sidney Blackmer—A fine picture but I made the mistake of advertising it as in Pres. McKinley's time and that put the poison ivy sign on the door. A good story, plenty of action and an exceptionally fine cast pleased the few who came. The part of President McKinley was exceptionally well taken, also that of Theodore Roosevelt. Victor McLaglen is good in a very unsympathetic part. Pleased the few who came but my patrons generally do not care for costume pictures. Running time, 99 minutes. Played December 8-9.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kansas. Small town patronage.

WIFE, DOCTOR AND NURSE: Loretta Young, Warner Baxter, Virginia Bruce—Here is one of the most enjoyable pictures I have seen this year and I believe all of our customers felt the same way. The entire cast was just grand and Loretta Young was the prettiest I have ever seen her. Give this your best playing time. Running time, 85 minutes.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand & Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

WINGS OF THE MORNING, THE: Annabella, Henry Fonda—A winner introducing a fascinating new star and the most perfect color to reach the screen. Good story with above average appeal. Will make money. Running time, 85 minutes. Played November 8.—Kenneth B. Parker, Tudor Super Cinema, Dewsbury, Yorkshire, England. General patronage.

United Artists

DODSWORTH: Ruth Chatterton, Walter Huston, Mary Astor—One of the best pictures I believe I have seen in some time. Our staff also enjoyed it. A few others didn't make film rental.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

(Continued on following page)

THEATRE ACCOUNTING

by WILLIAM F. MORRIS

(Certified Public Accountant)

●

A system devised expressly for keeping a correct tabulation of receipts and expenses.

All the information required by the Social Security Act can be easily and quickly obtained both weekly and for longer periods as the total is accumulated.

●

TELLS ALL THE FACTS ABOUT YOUR BUSINESS EACH WEEK

- Payroll data for Social Security Taxes.
- Profit at a glance—Daily or Weekly.
- All expenses deducted—including Rent, Taxes and Depreciation.
- Complete record of advance bookings.
- Itemized Schedule of All Assets and Equipment with Table of Depreciation Rates.
- Does not require a bookkeeper to handle it.

$4 ENOUGH FOR A FULL YEAR'S BOOKKEEPING

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP

ROCKEFELLER CENTER NEW YORK

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
ROCKEFELLER CENTER - - - - NEW YORK

GENTLEMEN:
Please send me WILLIAM F. MORRIS' THEATRE ACCOUNTING. Enclosed find remittance of $4.00.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

CITY..... STATE.....

(Continued from preceding page, column 2)

GAY DESPERADO, THE: Nino Martini, Ida Lupino—Played very late and reaction was about as we originally expected. The music lovers thought it fine while the same music bored the others. Had we depended on the picture alone for drawing power, we would have been very lonesome. Played Dec. 1.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

KID MILLIONS (Reissue): Eddie Cantor, Ann Sothern--A good Cantor picture to average results for the season. Played Dec. 11.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

KNIGHT WITHOUT ARMOR: Marlene Dietrich, Robert Donat—Not the type of picture our patron cares to see. Too gruesome to be entertaining. This lost money and fell flat at the box-office. Running time, 107 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

KNIGHT WITHOUT ARMOR: Marlene Dietrich, Robert Donat—Quite satisfactory as entertainment but considerably less than that as a money maker. Title is no help, either. Played Dec. 9-10.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

KNIGHT WITHOUT ARMOR: Marlene Dietrich, Robert Donat—Not as bad as I expected. Rather brutal in parts, but guess it will pass. Many didn't like it, and said so, but majority took it and kept quiet. Not so bad in box-office. Running time, 107 minutes. Played Dec. 8-9.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

LOVE FROM A STRANGER: Ann Harding, Basil Rathbone—A slow start and build-up to the climax keeps this unusual picture from being the hit the climactic scenes indicate it should have been. Acting by both stars is very fine. Nevertheless, on the whole, it's something very much out of the ordinary and, hence, a good change of diet. Played Nov. 24.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

PRISONER OF ZENDA, THE: Ronald Colman, Madeleine Carroll, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Mary Astor—The old favorite of the nineties, and it seems to have not lost its appeal. It is well produced and the cast is great, with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., as Rupert almost stealing the picture. Ronald Colman and Miss Carroll were good in the roles they had. However, we got a poor print that we could hardly get through machines. In case of a stoppage and fire the producer would expect us to pay him for the film, when it should be the other way about.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind.

STELLA DALLAS: Barbara Stanwyck, John Boles—Fine show to above average business in spite of playing during coldest weather of present season. United Artists gives evidence of having its greatest year and will be, I believe, our best bet this season.—L. V. Bergtold, Westby Theatre, Westby, Wis. General patronage.

WALTER WANGER'S VOGUES OF 1938: Warner Baxter, Joan Bennett—The most beautiful picture to ever grace the screen. Beautiful settings cleverly enacted, capable cast, classy story brimming full of entertainment. Extended runs in any spot.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

Universal

BEHIND THE MIKE: William Gargan, Judith Barrett—This picture reminds me of pin shows in my kid days. This one was made for operators who delight to work late at night because it is a house emptier. My customers positively would not sit through it.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind.

IDOL OF THE CROWDS: John Wayne, Sheila Bromley—My patrons expect more than this for their money and they would not lay their dough on the line to see this one. Universal will have to do a lot more than elect new officers to make exhibitors believe they will need their product in 1938-39.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind.

LADY FIGHTS BACK, THE: Irene Hervey, Kent Taylor—A weak sister that would not get by anywhere. Double-bill or single it. It does not measure up to major product as expected today.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind.

MAN WHO CRIED WOLF, THE: Tom Brown, Barbara Read—This never becomes quite as good as the possibilities that the story idea provided. Nevertheless, it is fair entertainment. Played Dec. 8.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

WINGS OVER HONOLULU: Wendy Barrie, Ray Milland—Pretty good picture. Not a special but will please generally.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Warner Brothers

BLAZING SIXES: Dick Foran, Helen Valkis—A good western. Played Nov. 27.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

EMPTY HOLSTERS: Dick Foran—Great. Dick is becoming a favorite here fast.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

FIRST LADY: Kay Francis, Preston Foster—Just a picture full of conversation illustrating perfectly just what budget cutting on pictures will do. They make 'em bad enough sometimes when they try to do their best. Save us when they try to make them poor and cheap. Running time, 82 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Towne, Maine. General patronage.

FIRST LADY: Kay Francis, Preston Foster—Where, oh where, are my smelling salts. Where, oh where, are those super productions, A-1 pictures Warner was going to make this year.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

LIFE OF EMILE ZOLA, THE: Paul Muni, Gale Sondergaard—Marvelous from the standpoint of acting and historical interest but equally marvelous from the standpoint of box-office knocking. We dropped to the lowest Sunday in many weeks. Picture deserves every commendation, however. Running time, 118 minutes. Played December 5-8.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

LIFE OF EMILE ZOLA, THE: Paul Muni, Gale Songergaard—A very bad turnout to see this superb photoplay spoiled our enjoyment of it. Played Dec. 2-3.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

VARSITY SHOW: Dick Powell, Fred Waring—This is an excellent show, but it did not reach average holiday business. The finale is a superb example of formation drill work. The Lane Sisters are fine. Played Nov. 25-26.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H. General patronage.

WEST OF SHANGHAI: Boris Karloff, Beverly Roberts—Terrible, and so was business. If I had not already played the picture while new, I would have passed it up if possible. We used a Charlie McCarthy short to try to help out, but still they stayed away. Running time, 65 minutes. Played Nov. 23-24.—Miss Alice Simmons, Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas. General patronage.

Short Features

Columbia

SET 'EM UP: Special Sport Thrills—Some interesting light on the art of bowling, hampered by the use of poor photography and the use of old shots from a musty album.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine.

Educational

AFFAIRS OF PIERRE, THE: Two-Reel Comedies—A good little comedy. Willie Howard as a French instructor gets into his usual difficulties with some hilarious moments for the movie fan. In my opinion, worth booking. Running time, 18 minutes.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

BIG APPLE, THE: Song and Comedy Hits—A good, peppy short featuring the new dance. Running time, one reel.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kansas. Small town patronage.

MELODY GIRL: Two-Reel Comedies—Here is one of the best musical shorts we have ever run. Up-to-date songs, put over in grand manner by Niela Goodelle, a good plot with a couple of midgets for comedy atmosphere. It is worth booking and featuring. Running time, 17 minutes.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

GIVE TILL IT HURTS: Crime Doesn't Pay Series—The usual good subject in the series.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

HAVE COURAGE: MGM Miniatures—A fair attempt, this is of mild interest.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

HEARTS ARE TRUMPS: Our Gang—Another smash hit from Our Gang. They go to town in this one. Running time, one reel.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kansas. Small town patronage.

HEARTS ARE TRUMPS: Our Gang—Pleased all who saw it. Running time, nine minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

SPORTS ON ICE: Pete Smith Specialties—Another fine subject that will please anywhere.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

WAYWARD PUPS: Harman-Ising—Good. Going after Disney's color shorts.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

Monogram

LAUGHS AND FLASHES: Good one reeler released in New Orleans territory by Monogram.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Paramount

BALL TOSSERS: Grantland Rice Sportlights—No short based upon supreme athletic skill and prowess in any sport (well commentated on and well photographed) can be anything but interesting. This sportlight about the greatest basketball players (girls and men) in the world, is no exception. If your patrons are basketball-minded, book it. If not, book it. In other words, book it. It's good—and timely right now.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine.

QUEENS OF HARMONY: Phil Spitalny and his All-Girl Orchestra—Excellent quality band act.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

WHERE SNOW IS KING: Paragraphics—An excellent subject on winter sports.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

RKO Radio

DAY WITH THE DIONNE QUINTUPLETS, A: Special—Pleased the ladies. Best pictures of Quints taken. Running time, 18 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

DUMB'S THE WORD: Edgar Kennedy—Good comedies, but personally I don't like them. But after all, our opinion does not count. Running time, 19 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

WIFE INSURANCE: Superba Comedies—Why don't the producers inject some good laughs in the comedies they produce? Running time, 18 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa.

Twentieth Century-Fox

ASK UNCLE SOL: Song and Comedy Hits—Fair. Running time, 8 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa.

United Artists

LITTLE HIAWATHA: Silly Symphonies—Very good. Running time, 7 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa.

MICKEY'S AMATEURS: Mickey Mouse Series—A very good Disney. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

Universal

COUNTRY STORE: Meany-Miny-Moe Cartoons—A fair cartoon.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

FUN BEGINS AT HOME: Mentone Musical Comedies—A fair vaudeville subject.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

PLAYFUL PUP, THE: Oswald Cartoons—Amusing cartoon.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

STRANGER THAN FICTION: Series—Pretty good. Running time, 9 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa.

Vitaphone

AT THE RACES: Edgar Bergen—Folks liked the first of this series, hope they keep that idea. Running time, 9 minutes. Played Nov. 28-29-30.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

ATTIC OF TERROR: Floyd Gibbons—Good, but not worth the rental Warner asks for it. The ladies and children did not care for this. Running time, 9 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

LITTLE PIONEER, THE: Sybil Jason—Give Sybil a chance and she will be a Class-A drawing card. Running time, 20 minutes. Played Dec. 3-4.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

MAL HALLETT AND ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters—Only fair for this series.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

DAVID MENDOZA AND HIS ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters—Fair band reel. Best in this series is Clyde McCoy.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

STREAMLINED GRETA GREEN: Merrie Melodies—Fine cartoon. Running time, one reel.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

TECHNOLOGICAL

The Bluebook School

Conducted by

F. H. RICHARDSON

ANSWER TO QUESTION NO. 97

Question No. 97 was: (A) Why is a sound system frequently divided into several cabinets and panels? (B) Does this division correspond to technical differences in nature of the work performed? (C) Divide a sound system into six parts in accordance with the technical functions of the apparatus.

The following made acceptable replies: C. Rau and S. Evans; J. R. Prater; G. E. Doe; C. Oldham; R. and K. Wells; O. S. Schmidt; H. B. Smith; M. and J. Devoy; L. F. Hayes; L. Cimikoski; W. Limmroth; W. H. Edmonds; J. A. Zachritz; L. H. Kelley; J. J. Petersen; H. Edwards; H. Bunker; O. L. Goldstein and M. Samuels; C. H. Lowrie; D. Coates; F. H., S. and P. Dalbey; E. Exline; G. T. Vieller; T. and W. Turk; J. Morton; L. and F. L. Savlor; M. and E. F. Wentworth; R. S. Welch; A. D. Lonby; T. W. Redhouse; L. Johnson; A. W. Baxter and L. B. Daniels; B. L. Kent; J. R. Davidson and W. R. Matthews; G. L. Gross; D. and W. Porter; F. E. Dorp and H. A. Ames; W. Winkler and R. R. Robbins; B. L. Bunt and W. R. Davis; P. and L. Felt; L. F. and G. Brown; M. D. McGuire; K. L. Brant; D. A. Shea and H. T. Plum; B. and M. Walker; F. D. Scanlon; A. C. Greene; R. M. Schnider; Q. G. Roldon; R. E. Bullard and J. K. Robinson; H. M. Jackson and W. V. Henderson; H. T. Randolph; L. G. Dillon and W. B. Myers; N. S. Reid and H. T. Watkins; A. Leonard and G. T. Jones; L. A. Beachwood and M. F. Robinson; F. W. Brandenburg; B. B. Hornstein and R. R. Jacobs; R. H. Carter; L. E. Dodson and H. T. Todd; C. L. Brant; S. L. Maxwell; F. M. Brown and R. Davis; S. U. Lamont and P. F. Maxwell; S. Hewitt; T. D. Williams.

(A) More than one hundred made essentially the following reply: A sound system frequently is divided into several panels and cabinets chiefly for convenience in packing for shipment and for convenience in handling in shipment and in installation. Were the whole made in one unit it would be bulky, very heavy and awkward to handle. In many cases such a unit could not be gotten into the projection room through any of its openings. Separating it into units makes for convenience in every respect, without any ill effect."

(B) J. R. Prater answers thus: "Such divisions seldom correspond to technical differences in nature of the work performed. Several units, each performing functions of different character, very often are built into the same cabinet or panel. The projectionist therefore cannot depend upon the physical arrangement of sound equipments as a guide to lits functional divisions. In fact, almost every installation is arranged more or less differently. In studying strange equipments as a guide to its functional divisions. consider the functional and theoretical divisions of the same and then locate each functional unit in the installation under consideration."

Note: All of this emphasizes the necessity of basic understanding of the relation of each part of equipments to all other parts thereof. —F. H. R.

"It is essential that the projectionist thoroughly familiarize himself with the exact location of the various functional units and of all connections between various units in the particular installation under his charge. This for the reason that successful trouble shooting is based upon sure knowledge of where the 'trouble gun' should be aimed."

O. H. Schmidt says: "Such divisions do not correspond to technical difference in the nature of the work performed by each. Rather they are for convenience in comfort of the expressmen, to enable a convenient lay-out in the projection room and to facilitate inspection and repair work."

Leo Cimikoski replies: "Divisions the question refers to have nothing to do with technical differences in nature of work performed. They merely make for convenience in shipping, suitable projection room lay-out and convenience in inspection and replacement or repair of parts.

"In considering the functioning of any sound equipment installation it will be advantageous to for the time being disregard its physical separations into cabinet and panels and concentrate upon the entire assemblage of electrical parts, which are divided in accordance with the functions each performs. Forget, or rather disregard the fact that two or more parts performing different tasks may be located in the same cabinet or panel, or that two parts performing different tasks are in different panels. If practice be supplemented by real study, the projectionist finally becomes thoroughly familiar with both the theory and behavior of each part, as well as the effect each has upon the other parts. He will facilitate trouble shooting by considering the manner in which equipment parts are separated physically, and the most convenient terminals to which instruments may be applied for testing purposes."

(C) J. R. Prater replies: "(1) The drive system. (2) Power supply. (3 The sound pick-up. (4) The transmission lines. (5) The amplifiers. (6) The speakers."

L. F. Hayes says: (1) "The sound pick-up. (2) Transmission lines. (3) Amplifiers. (4) Speakers. (5) Power supply. (6) Drive system."

There are many duplications of these answers, to which H. B. Smith adds: "Each of the before named divisions may of course be divided into many minor sections."

May I suggest to the "silent" followers of the School that at the beginning of the new year they become active members. I make this suggestion for the reason that the work necessary to dig out, or attempt to dig out the answer for yourself not only tends to aid each to acquire a really better understanding of all things involved in the questions, but to fix that knowledge firmly in the mind. Don't join the School as an active member expecting immediate advancement. That can only come after, by study, you have improved yourself. There is an old, trite saying: "Rome was not built in a day." To become a really competent projectionist, able to do full justice to the productions handed you for presentation to the public and to do full justice to the splendid equipments in your charge, causing them to function perfectly and efficiently, requires study, and real study is a very good imitation of hard work. If you are ambitious, energetic and have a real desire to give your audiences the best possible results and to give your employer really top-notch service, then we welcome you to the Bluebook School and firmly believe you will find therein genuine interest and benefit. If some of your answers are not perfect, no one but myself will know it, and I shall respect you for having tried. —F. H. R.

BLUEBOOK SCHOOL QUESTION NO. 103

(A) Is failure of a battery powered test lamp to light or a magneto bell to ring when testing for ground proof positive that no ground exists. Explain.

(B) If one polarity grounds to a lamphouse and the other does not, what is the effect?

(C) Why will there be no result when testing from Edison 3-wire neutral to ground?

(D) What is the surest method of testing an Edison 3-wire in which the neutral is involved?

(Note: Remember this is a Bluebook school and the answers to all save possibly some special questions can be found in that book.)

The annual report of the Virginia state censor board reveals that two features were rejected entirely and 112 deletions were made during the fiscal year ending June 30th. The board showed a profit of $16,733, after all expenses, which compares with $14,840 for the previous year. The gross intake was $35,443, the largest in the board's 15 year history.

REVISED SIXTH EDITION
F. H. RICHARDSON'S
BLUEBOOK OF PROJECTION
Includes a completely revised section on sound. Contains 714 pages of up-to-the-minute text, charts and data with detailed description of assembly, wiring and functioning of all modern sound and projection apparatus.
PRICE $6.25
(Postpaid)
QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
Rockefeller Center, New York

IN COURTS

Judge Dismisses Arbitration Plea

Charles McLaughlin, New York supreme court justice, this week dismissed the Newark Amusement Company's petition to arbitrate in a dispute over the release of "Artists and Models."

The Newark Company contended the picture should have been released under the 1936-37 contract and sought to have Paramount submit to arbitration in New York County supreme court.

The court ruled the Newark Company had not signed the arbitration clause in the contract.

Barrymore Withdraws Accounting Complaint

John Barrymore withdrew his complaint this week in the accounting suit he brought against his former attorneys, Hochner-Finn, and John C. Knox, judge of the United States district court in New York, dismissed the action. The attorneys are to receive $2,043 from the fund which is now deposited in a special account and the remaining $1,500 will go to Mr. Barrymore or Walter C. Durst as custodian in Mr. Barrymore's California receivership.

Phillips Lord Wins Right To Appeal Pathe Ruling

John C. Knox, judge of the United States district court in New York, this week granted Phillips H. Lord, known professionally as Seth Parker, permission to appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals from a dismissal of his action against Pathe News. Mr. Lord sought to collect $50,000 damages for an alleged breach of contract with Pathe. He claimed Pathe agreed to share expenses for a film record of his world cruise.

Kay Francis Suit Dismissed

Stipulation of dismissal in the suit of Kay Francis to void her Warner Brothers contract was filed in Los Angeles this week by W. I. Gilbert, attorney for the actress. The suit would have tested agreements made outside of the star's contract.

St. Louis County Licenses

The 22 motion picture theatres in St. Louis county have been instructed to make application for licenses by the county court. The fee is $50 yearly for theatres with less than 500 seats and $100 yearly for houses with more than 500. All but two of the 22 theatres have more than 500 seats.

Paramount Creates "Snoop"

The Paramount publicity and advertising department under the direction of Robert Gillham has created a magazine called Snoop. It is a 38 page book. In it are candid camera photographs of Paramount's roster of stars. The book also serves to preview on paper the current and coming films of the company.

National Decency Legion Classifies Eight Pictures

Of eight new pictures reviewed and classified by the National Legion of Decency in its listing for the current week seven were approved for general patronage and one was listed as unobjectionable for adults. The pictures and their classification follow.

Class A-1, Unobjectionable for General Patronage: "All American Sweetheart," "Born to the West," "A Ferfi Mind Orult" (Hungarian), "Kathleen," "Love and Hisses," "Rosalie," "Wise Girl." Class A-2, Unobjectionable for Adults: "Liebe auf Umwegen" (German).

Yates and Poucher Called in Court Case

Herbert J. Yates, president of Consolidated Film Industries, Inc., and R. I. Poucher, vice-president, were ordered to appear for an examination before trial January 4th Charles B. McLaughlin, New York supreme court justice.

The action, a $600,000 conspiracy suit, was brought by John D. Tippett, Inc., against Consolidated, Universal, Eastman Kodak, J. E. Brulatour, Inc., Print Stock Corporation, Jules E. Brulator, Carl Laemmle and Maurice Fleckels. The plaintiff contends the defendants "conspired" to induce Universal to breach an alleged contract to purchase half of its raw film stock from the plaintiff in 1931.

Warners Trade Showings

Warner Brothers are considering holding trade previews during March in all key cities on at least seven new pictures. Dates and pictures to be screened will be decided upon shortly by Gradwell L. Sears, general sales manager.

The Warner Club, home office organization, recently held a masquerade and civic ball at the St. George Hotel, Brooklyn. Ed Savin, George O'Keefe, Blanche Schneider and Milton Cohen were in charge of arrangements.

Zrenner in New York Visit

E. C. Zrenner, chief technical supervisor of the Interstate Circuit, Texas, visited New York this week to confer with officials of General Theatres Equipment Corporation concerning the design of several new items GTE will introduce the early part of 1938. Mr. Zrenner is responsible for the operation of projection and sound equipment in over 150 theatres in Texas.

Milwaukee Club Election

The Milwaukee Variety tent has reelected all officers as follows: Charles W. Trampe, Monogram-Midwest Film Company, president; Sam Shurman, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer exchange manager, vice-president; Ben Miller, Film Board of Trade secretary, secretary, and Oscar Ruby, Columbia exchange manager, treasurer.

To Distribute "La Vida Boheme"

Under a recently completed transaction, Cantabria Films will distribute Columbia's picture, "La Vida Boheme," and four similar pictures, in South America. "La Vida Boheme" is an all Spanish film produced in Hollywood. Rosita Diaz, Gilbert Roland, Jose Crespo, Miguel Ligero, Juan Toreno and Romuldo Tirado are in the cast.

OBITUARIES

George Akerson Dies; With Paramount in 1931

George Edward Akerson, 48, who was a member of the executive staff of the Paramount Publix Corporation from 1931 to 1933, died this week at the Rockefeller Institute after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Akerson prior to his association with Paramount, in 1931, was secretary to President Hoover for three years and had been assistant Secretary of Commerce under Mr. Hoover from 1925 to 1928.

After leaving Paramount Mr. Akerson was secretary of the National Code Authority of Paper Distributing Trade under the National Recovery Act.

O. J. Harkey

Olga John Harkey, Jr., 37, prominent theatre operator of Hardy, Ark., died of pneumonia. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

George Wolfard

George Wolfard, Jr., 46, operator of the Hamilton theatre, Indianapolis, Ind., in the Robert Long Hospital there of pneumonia. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, father and one sister.

C. W. Guthrie

C. W. Guthrie, 48, theatre owner, at his home in Clinton, Okla., from a heart ailment and pneumonia.

Pierre Collings

Pierre Collings, who co-authored and scenarized "The Life of Louis Pasteur," died in Hollywood.

Theodore Rosen

Theodore Rosen, youthful exhibitor, who operated the Majestic and Elkdale, community houses in Buffalo, N. Y., after a week's illness. He is survived by his widow and an infant daughter.

Harry Moore

Harry Moore, former theatre manager, from injuries sustained when he fell off a viaduct on Riverside Drive, New York.

Raymond Weaver Dies

Raymond Norris Weaver, brother of William R. Weaver, Hollywood editor of Quigley Publications, died at his home in Boone, Ia. He was 52 years old.

Consolidated Film Formed

A new firm, Consolidated Film Company, has been organized in Kansas City by W. L. Norris and W. P. Humston to distribute Chesterfield and other independent product.

Swedish Outlet for Monogram

Norton V. Ritchey, Monogram foreign export manager, advised the home office last week that he had closed contracts with the Promoto Company, Sweden, to handle the company's product there. Promoto has offices in Malom and Stockholm.

FIRST INDUSTRYWIDE PROFIT MAKING IN SEVEN YEARS IS HIGHLIGHT OF '37

RAPIDLY increasing production costs, noted especially and in some quarters alarmingly during the year just past, introduced a solemn note in the bright picture of greatly increased company profits reflected in quarterly and annual financial statements, which for the business as a whole showed profits for the first time in seven years, and again in large box-office receipts during the December holiday season. The necessity for economy, spoken of frankly by industry executives, was made evident with the business recession which marked the closing months of the year, and early in December Hollywood moved to reduce costs with drastic cuts in studio complements. The organization of labor within the industry, one of the major factors in the cost increases, proceeded at a greatly accelerated pace, motivated by the supreme court decision upholding the validity of the Wagner Labor Relations Act. A strike of utility and other studio workers in the spring resulted in the granting of recognition to the Screen Actors' Guild and consequent enhanced prestige for the organization. Moves for a consolidation of screen, stage and radio talent under the Associated Actors and Artistes of America were followed by a claim of jurisdiction over all film industry employees, made by the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees. Federal and state executives were officially concerned with motion picture labor relations in two instances. The National Labor Relations Board received and considered a petition by the Screen Writers' Guild for an election to determine a collective bargaining agency and a California legislative committee undertook an investigation of the activities of the IATSE. Another item in the increased costs was the production of an unusual number of outstandingly expensive pictures by all companies and the added use of color.

While the industry did not escape legislative attention, both state and federal, the most important development was the passage of a law designed to prevent the ownership of theatres by producer-distributor interests in North Dakota and loud agitation for similar legislation in other states. A Congressional investigation of wider proportions than any yet conceived was proposed but still is dormant.

The foreign market, badly damaged by the war in Spain and monetary restrictions in other European countries, was further reduced by Japan's undeclared war in China, by a Tokyo edict barring importation of all foreign pictures, and by the formation of a film bloc by Germany, Italy and Japan. Danger was seen, too, for the English market, most lucraitve of all, with the proposal in the House of Commons of an act to extend and tighten the present quota provisions.

Corporate structures of the producing and distributing companies were unchanged. Samuel Goldwyn and Alexander Korda moved to purchase the United Artists interests held by Charles Chaplin, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks but negotiations ended suddenly after an agreement had been made providing for all-British financing of the project. Electrical Research Products, Inc., divested itself of all theatrical connections by selling licenses for the manufacture of its equipment to projector companies and transferring its servicing business to a new company, Altec, though Erpi will remain in the recording business. The RKO reorganization plan neared completion and final operation, and Universal, after a dramatic upheaval, emerged with new personnel headed by Nate Blumberg as president and W. A. Scully as sales manager. Headline highlights of 1937 follow:

JANUARY

January 4

Loew's Inc., agrees to ten per cent cancellation clause in the trade practice program of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners Association.

January 7

Adolph Zukor marks the 25th anniversary of his association with Paramount and his 31st year in the motion picture industry.

January 20

Report of the Film Boards of Trade for 1936 shows 16,258 theatres in the United States, an increase of 880 over 1935.

January 23

Nathan Yamins reelected president of Allied States Association of Motion Picture Exhibitors.

January 28

Announcing a continuance of its drive for trade practice revision through legislation, the Allied States Association urges exhibitors to delay buying product until after the Allied convention.

January 29

Provision for Government film commission in new Films Act urged in Britain.

FEBRUARY

February 1

Columbia, answering the MPTOA trade practice proposals, promises to end the separate score charge.

February 2

Merlin Hall Aylesworth severs his diversified connections with Radio Corporation of America and RKO to join the Scripps Howard newspapers. "The Good Earth," four years in preparation, opens in New York and Los Angeles.

Nat Levine resigns as president of Republic Pictures.

February 9

Paramount and Universal reply to MPTOA proposals, agreeing in part.

FEBRUARY 11

RKO's offer of $700,000 cash for the assets of the Orpheum circuit accepted and approved by courts, clearing the way for hearings on the RKO reorganization plan.

February 15

Paramount partners, conferring with Adolph Zukor and studio executives in Hollywood on new product, precipitate an industry discussion of "B" pictures, their nature, extent and probable fate.

February 19

Gabriel Hess of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America attacks the Dickstein alien actor bill at hearing in Washington.

February 23

Harry M. Warner given honorary degree by Rollins College, Florida.

February 25

Chance games dropped by Loew's in its New York metropolitan theatres and by RKO in all its houses.

February 26

J. J. McCarthy of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America dies. S. J. Woolf of General Films and the Ostrer brothers of Gaumont British complete a production deal, a temporary defeat for John Maxwell.

MARCH

March 1

Paramount's fourth quarter net is $3,700,000.

March 4

Program of 60 features set by Warner Brothers. RKO net profit for 1936 announced as $2,514,734.

March 5

Paul Muni, Luise Rainer and "The Great Ziegfeld" lead winners of the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences awards. Organization of exchange employees by the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees begun.

The Court of Appeals in Philadelphia announces and revokes a ruling against major distributors in an anti-trust action based on double bills. Harry Brandt, New York circuit operator, files suit against Loew's following revision by that circuit of its split week.

March 9

Repeal of all admission taxes sought in Congress. Consolidated Film Industries' net for 1936 is $919,515.

March 13

RKO plans increase in production budgets with 48 pictures on its schedule for 1937-38.

March 16

New trade practice conferences to be sought by MPTOA it is indicated as the exhibitor's organization opens its annual convention in Miami, Fla. State law designed to divest producer-distributors of their theatre holdings, labelled divorce legislation, signed by governor of North Dakota. Similar legislation is tabled in Ohio and Wisconsin.

March 17

Leo Spitz elected to head boards of Keith-Albee-Orpheum and B. F. Keith, succeeding M. H. Aylesworth. Court of appeals upholds sales tax on films in New York City.

March 18

Concern over labor problems and attacks on radio broadcasts by film stars chief points of discussion at MPTOA convention. Twentieth Century-Fox net for 1936 is $7,924,126.

Universal to increase production budget. Monogram Pictures Corporation begins operations as the 12th national producer-distributor with W. Ray Johnston as president.

March 22

Paramount to have 58 features for the 1937-38 season. First reports of distributors' intention to increase rentals heard.

March 30

Nicholas M. Schenck sees problem of double bills developing into a major issue and Barney Balaban, Paramount president, adds his voice to those of other industry executives who warn that admissions must be increased to cover added costs.

(Continued on following page)

UNIONIZATION IN ALL BRANCHES

(Continued from preceding page)

APRIL

April 3

Will H. Hays attacks attempts to impose legislation on film industry, urging the point that the industry can solve its own problems, in his annual report to the board of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors.

April 6

Studio unions given ten per cent wage increases. Universal to have 36 features, 12 "A" pictures. Strip tease technique as practiced on stages of the Minsky brothers becomes news topic with awarding of film contracts to notorious teasers.

April 9

Quigley Annual Awards for distinguished showmanship go to L. A. Chatham of Oklahoma and S. S. Holland of Indiana. MGM plans 52 for next program and Twentieth Century-Fox, 60.

April 16

RKO's net profit for 1936 more than three times that of 1935, reaching $2,485,911.

April 17

Kansas censor bars speech on Supreme Court plan from March of Time reel. Nazi Germany takes initiative in forming international film bloc composed of the Reich, Italy and Japan.

April 21

Twentieth Century-Fox net for quarter is $2,067,598.

April 23

House of Lords of British Parliament agrees to ten year extension of quota. Moe Siegel named president of Republic Pictures. Legislation aimed at divorce of distributing and exhibition interests defeated in Indiana, left on legislative calendars in Illinois and New Jersey and urged for introduction in California and Minnesota.

April 28

Paramount profit for 1936 put at $6,012,250.

MAY

May 1

Three studio unions strike. Gus Schaefer succeeds Nate Manheim as Universal foreign manager. MGM opens convention season.

May 6

Federated Motion Picture Crafts, organization of striking studio unions, refuses peace plan and pickets studios. Monogram to have 42 for season, Paramount announces from 50 to 60.

May 8

Newsreels of the burning airship Hindenburg cover the country in one day.

May 11

Columbia's profit for a nine month period is $1,189,354. Titles of 46 of 60 Warner films set. Screen Actors' Guild gains recognition of producers, averting alliance with striking unions and signifying the collapse of the strike movement.

May 14

MPTOA committee on film broadcasts invites producers to join conferences to discuss problem. Anti-ASCAP measure passed in Nebraska.

May 19

Newsreels in race to ship Coronation scenes. Twentieth Century-Fox delegates told European gains have been extensive. Grand National schedule 65 features and westerns.

May 20

Drive begun by Allied States Association for state taxes on circuits, based on chain store legislation.

May 21

Wage increase and union shop agreement granted utility workers, strongest of the striking unions. Courtland Smith resigns as president of Pathe News and Jack Connolly, editor, leaves with him.

May 22

IATSE officials enter strike picture and promise to settle jurisdictional disputes.

May 28

Samuel Goldwyn and Alexander Korda get option to purchase United Artists shares held by Charles Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford. Allied States Association moves for national buying group to combat higher rentals.

JUNE

June 2

Studio strike ended by agreement with painters.

June 3

Pennsylvania passes bill taxing circuit theatres.

June 4

Stuart Doyle leaves Greater Union Theatre group in Australia amid reports that General Theatres, the alliance of Greater Union and Hoyts' Theatres will not be renewed.

June 8

Jean Harlow dies of an illness contracted while working on "Saratoga."

June 10

Loew's and RKO to reinstate chance games in theatres. Texas Court of Appeals rules Bank Night a lottery.

June 11

Washington correspondents report that increasing complaints from independent exhibitors regarding the trade practices of distributors prompted Martin Dies, Congressman from Texas to introduce a resolution calling for detailed investigtion of every conceivable phase of the motion picture industry.

June 12

Wisconsin passes bill to prevent operation of ASCAP. British quota up to 30 per cent proposed by Government. Coast strike is settled finally by agreement participated in by IATSE. United Artists circuit concludes partnership agreement with the Robb and Rowley circuit in the southwest. Paramount announces 22 films to cost a million dollars each.

June 14

Warner Brothers to finance productions on London legitimate stage.

June 15

Film Boards of Trade on national basis dissolved by decision of producers to discontinue appropriations.

June 16

United Artists announces 28 of its 36 features for the season will be sold on percentage. Paramount's contract with Adolph Zukor approved by board of directors.

June 18

Independent Theatre Owners Association in New York fights resumption of chance games by circuits. RKO announces 56 features.

Paramount will test North Dakota theatre divorce law.

June 22

Paramount cited as example in Securities Exchange Commission report on bankruptcies and receiverships. Fourteen of 32 exchanges centers have concluded union agreements with distributors.

June 24

Opponents of cost clause in proposed British quota rally forces.

June 25

Paramount's stock increase plan abandoned. Company to sell 37 of its new pictures on percentage. Extension of ticket tax voted by Senate.

June 30

British trade opinions gathered for formulation of quota plan. Columbia to have 62 features. P. J. Wood, secretary of the Independent Theatre Owners of Ohio, urges exhibitors' "strike" against Paramount.

JULY

July 1

The Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, cooperating with leading educators, announces a plan to study current and past releases with a view to supplying films to schools as educational aids, the plan to be financed partly by a grant from the Rockefeller Institute and partly by the MPPDA.

July 6

Eight distributors ratify new Erpi license agreements with rate cuts.

July 8

Loew's net for 40 week period increases to $11,714,722.

July 9

Loew's circuit signs one year contract for entire United Artists program. United Motion Picture Theatre Owners starts move for Philadelphia buyers' strike against Paramount.

July 10

Erich Pommer and Charles Laughton sever connections with Alexander Korda and United Artists. Gaumont British to continue sales through Twentieth Century-Fox exchanges in the United States.

July 11

Loew's announces plans for 12 new theatres in foreign cities. Warner Brothers sales department to preview eight features in 31 key cities. United Office and Professional Workers, an AFL unit, starts organizing office employees in industry.

July 19

Warner Brothers' 39 week net reaches $5,561,032, a gain of more than 100 per cent over the corresponding period in 1936.

July 24

Formal order for transfer of Roxy theatre, New York, to Twentieth Century-Fox signed in federal court as "Wee Willie Winkie" sets five year record at theatre. Sales of candy and nuts in theatre lobbies shown as $10,000,000 business.

July 28

Paramount's quarter earnings are $1,307,000. Screen Actors' Guild prestige increases among talent guilds and surpasses that of Actors' Equity.

July 30

White Paper presented to British House of Commons by Oliver Stanley, president of the Board of Trade, proposes a quota starting at 15 per cent and increasing to 30 per cent in ten years.

AUGUST

August 1

Selling in Philadelphia delayed by buyers strike. Attendance in country's theatres estimated at 90,000,000 weekly.

August 2

Allied files complaint with Federal Trade Commission on Paramount's sales policies. Federal injunction halts picketing and militant displays by exhibitors in Philadelphia.

August 3

Six month net for RKO estimated at $1,490,000.

August 4

Analysis of product for new season shows melodramas and comedies predominating.

August 7

Allied States Association leaders confer with Department of Justice officials, exchange men in New York are questioned, and general investigation is hinted.

August 10

Total of $2,000,000 offered in settlement of Paramount trustee's suit against former officers and directors of the company.

August 12

Electrical Research Products, Inc., ready to dispose of equipment business and will await bids.

August 14

Universal's British pictures to be made by C. M. Woolf of General Film Distributors. British labor asks 50 per cent quota.

August 19

Adolph Zukor tells industry production costs are rising and admissions must be increased to keep pace with them.

August 23

Film industry and radio unscathed as Congressional session ends. Plans for British production fixed by five companies.

August 26

Screen Directors' Guild demands separate bargaining agreements with producers. Adolph Zukor says Paramount production budget will total $30,000,000.

August 27

Department of Justice indicates anti-trust actions will be fought to a finish without consent agreements as in the past.

HOLIDAY CROWDS LINE BOX OFFICES

August 28

United Motion Picture Owners names Philadelphia committee to buy Paramount product, agreement tentatively ending boycott.

August 30

N. L. Nathanson buys substantial interest in Canadian Universal Films Company, Ltd., distributing Universal product in Canada.

SEPTEMBER

September 1

Columbia nets $1,317,770 for year. Martin Quigley stresses point that the function of the motion picture is to entertain in address at the Williamstown Institute of Human Relations.

September 2

Paramount files suit to test constitutionality of North Dakota theatre divorce law. Union agreements for exchanges in all exchange centers signed by distributors and IATSE. Erpi licenses Motiograph for manufacture of its sound equipment.

September 8

Labor Day weekend grosses equal records set in 1928 and 1929.

September 10

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer announces production of a weekly radio program in its studios for Maxwell House coffee, the broadcasts to start November 4.

September 15

IATSE in Hollywood claims jurisdiction over all motion picture industry employees, including talent unions but announces no plans for enforcing its claims.

September 18

Study of admission price trend shows 653 houses have increased scales.

September 22

Japan forbids importation of foreign films until the end of the year.

September 24

Paramount trustee suit against former officers and directors settled. Vittorio Mussolini arrives in New York with Hal Roach who announces plans for production in Italy, for the world market, under the acrostic title, RAM Pictures. Irving Dollinger elected president of Allied of New Jersey.

September 27

Federal court in Texas finds distributors guilty of monopoly action in fixing admissions but sets no penalty.

OCTOBER

October 1

Reentry of film companies into stage financing not general in spite of Columbia's plan to sponsor Broadway productions.

October 6

Sidney Kent for Twentieth Century-Fox announces that Hoyts' Greater Union Theatres alliance in Australia will not be renewed.

October 8

Vittorio Mussolini returns to New York from coast, cutting short his visit, and his production agreement with Hal Roach is reported cancelled.

October 14

Society of Motion Picture Engineers attacks Academy plan to change projection apertures.

October 16

Al Lichtman, executive assistant to Nicholas Schenck, named director of Loew's, Inc.

October 17

National Labor Relations Board starts hearing on Screen Writers' Guild petition for collective bargaining designation and hears charges that Screen Playwrites, Inc., is a company union.

October 20

Chicago municipal authorities demand an increase of $1,000,000 in theatre license fees. Bank Night declared lottery in Nebraska supreme court.

October 27

George Fischer, Hollywood radio commentator, broadcasts rumor that the Duke of Windsor is to become associated with the film industry, starting wave of reaction against retailing of gossip, true or unfounded, by radio reporters and leading to demand for closer supervision of scripts.

October 28

Leo Spitz, RKO president, assumes charge of RKO Hollywood studios until a successor is named for Samuel Briskin, resigned. Herbert Wilcox's production, "Victoria the Great" opens in the Radio City Music Hall, New York, following premieres in London, Ottawa, Montreal and Toronto and preceding by four and five days similar openings in Boston and Washington.

SHORT PRODUCT PLAYING BROADWAY

Week of December 25

CAPITOL
Little Buck Cheeser.....MGM
Our Gang Follies of 1938..MGM

CENTRAL
Blue of the Night.....Mack Sennett

CRITERION
Music Will Tell.....RKO Radio
At The Races.....Vitaphone
Wedding Yells .....Vitaphone

MUSIC HALL
The Old Mill.....RKO Radio

PARAMOUNT
Popeye Meets Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves.....Paramount

RIALTO
Beau Hunks .....MGM

RIVOLI
The Old Mill.....RKO Radio
Ancient Cities of Southern France .....Major Devlin

STRAND
The Man Without a Country.Vitaphone

NOVEMBER

November 2

David O. Selznick weighs new affiliations, including the possibility of remaining with United Artists.

November 6

Ratification of agreement between Paramount and Philadelphia exhibitors signifies conclusion of boycott in other situations.

November 9

Pathe News issues first edition of refurbished newsreel.

November 10

California legislative committee opens investigation of labor relations in the motion picture industry with particular reference to the activities of the IATSE. Tom D. Cochrane, Paramount far eastern manager, dies.

November 12

Warner Brothers plans studio radio program starting December 1st. Mervyn LeRoy to join MGM as producer.

November 13

Agreement reached providing for all-British financing of United Artists stock purchase by Alexander Korda and Samuel Goldwyn.

November 16

ASCAP plans new fight on unfavorable state legislation following court victory in Nebraska.

November 18

Agreement concluded for purchase of Erpi's sound equipment servicing business, marking company's complete withdrawal from theatre field.

Hope for easing of restrictions under new British Films Act seen in opening of negotiations for Anglo-American trade treaty by the state department.

November 22

Warner net for the year estimated at $5,900,000.

November 24

Final report on RKO reorganization plan submitted to Federal court for approval.

November 27

Frank Capra settles differences with Columbia and withdraws suit for breach of contract.

November 30

Nate Blumberg, RKO theatre head, named to succeed R. H. Cochrane as president of Universal. W. A. Scully of MGM succeeds James R. Grainger as Universal sales executive.

DECEMBER

December 1

Matthew Fox of Skouras circuit to be executive assistant to N. J. Blumberg, new Universal president. Hollywood studios hit by economy wave.

December 3

Atlas Corporation and Lehman Brothers negotiate extension of their option to purchase the remainder of RCA's stock holdings in RKO.

December 4

Sale of Erpi's theatre sound equipment servicing business to Altec Service Corporation is formally closed. James R. Grainger's Universal contract is settled.

December 7

Louis B. Mayer, E. J. Mannix, Sam Katz and Benjamin Thau given new five year contracts by MGM. Martin Quigley urges exhibitors at 25th anniversary convention in Carolina to resist propaganda in films.

December 9

Collapse of negotiations for purchase of United Artists by Samuel Goldwyn and Alexander Korda follows meeting in Hollywood. A. H. Giannini and other officers reelected.

December 10

Joseph P. Kennedy, former motion picture executive, reported selected as new ambassador to the Court of St. James's.

United Artists renews negotiations with David O. Selznick. Warner Brothers announces plans for production of from 16 to 20 films in Britain. Legion of Decency issues booklet listing 1,271 domestic and foreign films reviewed and classified from February, 1936, to November, 1937. Of these 780 were rated Class A, 380 were rated Class A, Section II, 98 were placed in Class B, objectionable in part, and 13 were condemned in Class C. Of the condemned six were domestic and seven foreign, all released by independent distributors.

December 15

United States circuit court of appeals in Philadelphia grants Paramount a permanent injunction against organized buyers' strikes, reversing a lower court decision. The English House of Commons committee on the Films Act kills proposal for a separate quota.

December 16

P. D. Cochrane resigns as director of advertising, publicity and exploitation for Universal after serving 23 years in the post. John E. Joseph, former advertising and publicity director for RKO midwest theatres, is named to succeed him.

December 17

Legion of Decency turns its attention to objectionable radio programs for the first time in adding its protest to many others against the broadcast of a skit featuring Mae West on the Chase and Sanborn Sunday night program.

December 18

Refinancing plan for Consolidated Film Industries voided by Delware high court on appeal. Harry M. Warner announces he will make his headquarters in Hollywood.

December 28

Nation's box office benefitted by large holiday week crowds.

INDUSTRY PLANS PART IN N. Y. WORLD'S FAIR

Committees Formed to Take Up Problems of Participation of Theatricals in 1939 Event

New York's World's Fair will not go on in 1939 without the participation of the motion picture industry and the allied arts in theatricals. Just what form the film's participation will take remains to be determined, likewise, the extent. But, this week the wheels were set in motion, prompted by the Grover Whalen World's Fair interests, to organize all of the theatrical arts for Fair representation. Committees were formed in each branch, ideas assigned for consideration. Now they will spend some 15 months formulating tangible plans.

The organized motion picture industry, as represented by the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, has for months been trying to determine the manner and means for placing the cinema on the Fair grounds. MPPDA directors have formally had the subject up for discussion frequently, but the similarly dated San Francisco World's Fair is causing complications, leaving the board unable to decide on how the organized industry should go in on either event, or both. No funds have been earmarked as yet for the purpose.

Evidently prompted by the uncertainty of procrastination of theatricals on the matter of the New York World's Fair, the Grover Whalen interests, which now are concentrating on space-selling for the Flushing Meadows show, lined up leaders last week of all branches. Out of the meeting came a tentative program by a newly-created advisory committee on amusements, consisting of motion picture executives, producers, stage producers, dramatists and managers, actors and critics. Prominent on the film industry's committee are Stanton Griffis, chairman of the board of Paramount Pictures; John Hay (Jock) Whitney, of Technicolor, Pioneer and Selznick International; Jack Cohn, vice-president of Columbia Pictures, Winfield Sheehan, and others.

Last week's meeting was held in the administration building in Flushing Meadow Park. All pledged their support to make the fair the "greatest and most attractive" ever offered.

In the manner of giving their thoughts full expression, ideas for consideration in the future included the erection of a copy of The Lambs, oldest theatrical club in America; the establishment of a Shakespearean theatre, the presentation of a "cavalcade" of American entertainment, the dramatization of a "living newspaper," and the story of motion pictures.

Frank Gillmore, retiring president of the Actors Equity Association, said:

"We should take the title 'world's fair' literally and help make it an exposition of the art of the world. The theatre is part of that world. The fair should represent it not only with our own people of the theatre—our own actors—but with the players of the rest of the world."

Gene Buck, president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, suggested that a daily radio broadcast about the fair be given during its progress. Mrs. Hallie Flanigan of the Federal Theatre said she believed that a drama of the things of interest to every human should be presented. Mrs. Flanigan offered to lend 4,000 members of the Federal Theater for a "Living Newspaper" production.

A dramatization of safety in the home, in industry and in the street was suggested by Irving Caesar, composer. Lee Shubert, producer, recommended a demonstration of how motion pictures are made.

Members of the committee are:

MOTION PICTURES—E. A. Alperson, Alfred I. Barton, Jack Cohn, Stanton Griffis, Rupert Hughes, William P. Phillips, J. Robert Rubin, Winfield Sheehan, Walter Wanger, John Hay Whitney.

RADIO—M. H. Aylesworth, Major Edward Bowes, Lenox Lohr, Alfred McCosker, William Paley, John S. Royal, Lowell Thomas.

STAGE AND DANCE DIRECTORS—John Murray Anderson, Georges Balanchine, R. H. Burnside, Erik Charrel, Alexander Dean, Fanchon and Marco, Seymour Felix, Michel Fokine, Dr. Herbert Graf, Chester Hale, Leon Leonidoff, Ernst Lubitsch, Kenneth McKenna, Vincente Minnelli, Albertina Rasch, Max Reinhardt, Hassard Short.

PRODUCERS—William A. Brady, William Caryl, Delos Chappell, Charles B. Cochran, Alfred De Liargre, Jr., Eddie Dowling, Vinton Freedley, Crosby Gaige, Max Gordon, Sam H. Harris, Theresa Helburn, Arthur Hopkins, Harry Kaufman, Brock Pemberton, Lee Shubert, Joe Weber, Dwight Deere Wiman, John C. Wilson, A. H. Woods.

DRAMATISTS—Maxwell Anderson, S. N. Behrman, Clare Boothe, Rachel Crothers, Owen Davis, Philip Dunning, Ben Hecht, Sidney Howard, George S. Kaufman, Sidney Kingsley, Robert Sherwood.

DRAMA CRITICS—John Anderson, Brooks Atkinson, John Mason Brown, Robert Coleman, Richard Lockridge, Burns Mantle, Sidney Whipple.

MUSIC—Irving Caesar, Howard Dietz, George Gartlan, Moss Hart, Andre Kostelanetz, Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, Cole Porter, Richard Rodgers, Sigmund Romberg, Arthur Schwartz, Rudy Vallee.

COLUMNISTS—Lucius Beebe, John Chapman, O. O. McIntyre, Jack Pulaski, George Ross, Louis Sobol, Dan Walker.

EVENTS AND OUTDOOR—Jesse Adkins, Harry C. Baker, Frank Buck, William F. Carey, Sam Gumpertz, Charles Moskowitz, Irving Rosenthal.

MISCELLANEOUS—Hallie Flanigan, Colonel George Hussey, George Jessel, Howard Reinheimer, Donald Stralem, David Werblin.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THEATRICAL GROUPS—Gene Buck, American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers; William Gaxton, shepherd of the Lambs Club; Frank Gillmore, Actors Equity Association; Clarence Buddington Kelland, the Dutch Treat Club.

Conn to Continue

Maurice Coan will continue to conduct the affairs of Ambassador Pictures, Inc., and Conn Productions, Inc., pending reorganization of the companies under Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act. Federal Judge George Cosgrave in Los Angeles approved Mr. Conn's status after a long conference of the producer with his creditors.

Levoy Leaves Republic

Albert E. Levoy has quit as a Republic producer effective January 1st. Mr. Levoy produced six films for the company, including "Portia on Trial" and "Lady Behave."

Normandie Brings 21 Film Folk on Holiday Visits

Twenty-one film and theatrical personalities, some returning from work in England and France, others bound for Hollywood and some on a holiday, arrived this week on the Normandie.

Among them were Ben Goetz, in charge of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production in England, en route to Hollywood for conferences with Louis B. Mayer, and Victor Saville, MGM producer in England, also bound for the coast. Mr. Goetz denied current reports that Mr. Saville would be placed in complete charge of MGM production in England. He said, "I'm going to continue as production head."

Francis L. Harley, managing director for England, and Benjamin Miggins, managing director for Continental Europe, represented the Twentieth Century-Fox sales contingent. Mr. Harley said that distribution and exhibition in England was "marvelous." Mr. Higgins said that theatre business on the continent was good and that everybody was making money.

Others on the liner were Gilbert Miller, who is planning to produce a play by Frederick Lonsdale, also on the boat; Anton Litvak, Warner Brothers director; Charles MacArthur, playwright, under contract to MGM for one picture; June Knight, who completed "Break the News," with Maurice Chevalier for Rene Clair in Paris, and Arthur Tracy, after 19 months in England, where he made "Follow Your Star," which, he said, would be distributed by General Film Distributors in England and probably by Universal here.

Also Sam Smith, handling Republic product in England, who said that little production was going on there because of the uncertainty of the quota; Samuel Engels, who produced "He Was Her Man" starring Gracie Fields, for Twentieth Century-Fox in England, and Victor McLaglen and Brian Donlevy, who appeared in the picture.

Also Lewis Milestone, director, returned from a two-month vacation in England and the continent; Peter Bull, English actor, arrived to appear in the MGM "Marie Antoinette"; Moss Hart and Richard Rodgers, from their first vacation in six years; Charles Boyer and his wife, Pat Paterson, and Terris Ivens, director.

Merritt Hulburd Returning to SEP

Merritt Hulburd has obtained release from his contract with Samuel Goldwyn as an assistant director. He will rejoin The Saturday Evening Post magazine, which he left three years ago, as an editorial executive. Mr. Hulburd was in charge of the scenario department for Paramount studios in 1932-34. The latest pictures which he has worked on include "Dead End," "Stella Dallas" and "The Hurricane."

Astaire to Join Goldwyn

Fred Astaire, following completion of his next picture, will leave RKO Radio and sign a term contract with Samuel Goldwyn, it was announced in Hollywood this week.

THEATRE RECEIPTS

The total of theatre receipts for the calendar week ended December 25, 1937, from 63 theatres in 13 major cities of the country was $677,910, a decrease of $56,182 from the total for the preceding week ended December 18, 1937, when 63 theatres in 13 large cities aggregated $734,092.

(Copyright, 1938. Reproduction of material from this department without specific written permission from MOTION PICTURE HERALD expressly forbidden.)

Theatres (Average weekly grosses for 66 week period from January 4, 1936, to April 3, 1937)	Seats	Price	Average Receipts Per Week	Current Week — Picture	Current Week — Gross	Previous Week — Picture	Previous Week — Gross
Boston
Boston	3,246	25c-55c	$17,700	"Trouble at Midnight" (Univ.) (plus stage show)	18,000	"High Flyers" (RKO) (stage: Monte Blue-Mary Dees)	20,000
RKO Memorial	2,907	25c-55c	13,600	"Stage Door" (RKO) (4th week) and "Love from a Stranger" (U.A.)	9,000	"Stage Door" (RKO) (3rd week) and "Love from a Stranger" (U.A.)	11,000
Loew's Orpheum	2,970	25c-55c	14,500	"52nd Street" (U.A.) and "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM)	16,000	"Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM) and "Stand-In" (U.A.)	16,000
Metropolitan	4,332	25c-65c	26,200	"Manhattan Merry-Go-Round" (Rep.) (stage: Major Bowes' Collegians)	15,000	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.) (stage: Bunny Berrigan and Orch.)	23,000
Paramount	1,793	25c-55c	8,000	"Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.) and "Love Is on the Air" (F.N.)	6,000	"Blossoms on Broadway" (Para.) and "Ebb Tide" (Para.)	9,100
Chicago
Chicago	4,000	35c-75c	35,500	"True Confession" (Para.) (plus stage show)	26,300	"I'll Take Romance" (Col.) (plus stage show)	25,000
Garrick	900	35c-75c	6,800	"First Lady" (W. B.)	4,000	"Danger, Love at Work" (20th Cent.-Fox)	5,600
Oriental	3,490	35c-75c	17,500	"Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM) (plus vaudeville revue)	15,500	"52nd Street" (U.A.) (plus vaudeville)	15,000
Palace	2,509	35c-75c	19,900	"A Girl with Ideas" (Univ.) (stage: Ted Lewis and revue)	16,000	"Dinner at the Ritz" (20th Cent.-Fox) (stage: Ethel Waters and revue)	16,000
Roosevelt	1,591	35c-75c	13,000	"Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM) (2nd week)	5,000	"Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM) (1st week)	10,000
State-Lake	2,776	20c-55c	14,800	"West of Shanghai" (F.N.) (plus vaudeville revue)	12,000	"The Girl Said No" (G.N.) (plus vaudeville revue)	12,800
United Artists	1,700	35c-75c	17,500	"The Firefly" (MGM)	8,500	"Conquest" (MGM) (2nd week)	10,700
Cleveland
Allen	3,000	30c-55c	5,700	"Dr. Syn" (GB)	5,000	"Big Town Girl" (20th Cent.-Fox) (4 days)	2,500
						"Missing Witnesses" (F.N.) (3 days)	1,500
Hippodrome	3,800	30c-55c	12,700	"Victoria the Great" (RKO)	8,000	"First Lady" (W. B.)	10,000
RKO Palace	3,100	30c-75c	17,800	"The Girl Said No" (G.N.) (stage: Major Bowes' International Revue)	14,000	"Dinner at the Ritz" (20th Cent.-Fox) (plus stage show)	15,000
State	3,500	30c-55c	17,200	"Stand-In" (U.A.)	11,000	"Conquest" (MGM)	12,000
Denver
Denham	1,500	25c-40c	6,700	"Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.)	2,300	"Lives of a Bengal Lancer" (Para.-reissue)	5,000
Denver	2,500	25c-50c	9,600	"It's Love I'm After" (W.B.) and "45 Fathers" (20th Cent.-Fox)	7,000	"The Perfect Specimen" (F.N.)	8,000
Orpheum	2,600	25c-40c	7,300	"Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM) and "Fit for a King" (RKO)	10,000	"Conquest" (MGM) and "Live, Love and Learn" (MGM)	8,500
Los Angeles and Hollywood
Carthay	1,518	50c-$1.50	11,800	"The Hurricane" (U.A.) (7th week)	4,750	"The Hurricane" (U.A.) (6th week)	8,750
Chinese	2,500	30c-75c	11,600	"Second Honeymoon" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "Lancer Spy" (20th Cent.-Fox)	10,661	"Conquest" (MGM) and "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM)	11,395
Four Star	900	40c-55c	4,000	"Cloistered" (Best)	2,381	"Victoria the Great" (RKO) (4th week)	2,328
Hillstreet	2,700	30c-65c	8,000	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (4th week) and "Paid to Dance" (Col.)	6,700	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (3rd week) and "Forty Naughty Girls" (RKO)	8,000
Loew's State	2,500	30c-75c	14,700	"Second Honeymoon" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "Lancer Spy" (20th Cent.-Fox)	11,569	"Conquest" (MGM) and "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM)	11,769
Pantages	3,595	30c-65c	8,100	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (4th week) and "Paid to Dance" (Col.)	6,600	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (3rd week) and "Forty Naughty Girls" (RKO)	8,400
Paramount	3,595	30c-65c	18,400	"True Confession" (Para.) (plus stage show)	16,000	"Live, Love and Learn" (MGM) (plus stage show)	14,300
W. B. Hollywood	3,000	30c-65c	10,400	"The Life of Emile Zola" (W.B.) (5 days)	11,499	"First Lady" (W.B.) and "Manhattan Merry-Go-Round" (Rep.)	10,000
Minneapolis
Minnesota	4,000	25c-55c	12,200	"Live, Love and Learn" (MGM) (8 days)	8,000	"The Prisoner of Zenda" (U.A.)	10,000
RKO Orpheum	2,900	25c-40c	7,200	"The Perfect Specimen" (W.B.) (8 days)	5,000	"The Last Gangster" (MGM)	4,000
State	2,400	25c-55c	5,600	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (5th week)	5,500	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (4th week)	5,500
Montreal
Capitol	2,547	25c-60c	9,300	"Ebb Tide" (Para.) (2nd week)	5,500	"Ebb Tide" (Para.) (1st week)	10,000
Loew's	3,115	25c-50c	11,000	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (4th week) and "Roaring Timber" (Col.)	4,000	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (3rd week) and "Girls Can Play" (Col.)	6,000
Palace	2,600	25c-65c	10,500	"Dr. Syn" (GB) and "All In" (British)	6,000	"Conquest" (MGM) (2nd week)	11,000
Princess	2,272	25c-65c	7,600	"Cloistered" (Best)	4,000	"Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM) and "Danger, Love at Work" (20th Cent.-Fox)	5,000

[THEATRE RECEIPTS—CONTINUED]

Theatres (Average weekly grosses for 66 week period from January 4, 1936, to April 3, 1937)				Current Week		Previous Week
New York	Seats	Price	Average Receipts Per Week	Picture	Gross	Picture	Gross
Astor	1,142	55c-$2.20	15,600	"The Hurricane" (U.A.) (7th week)	11,000	"The Hurricane" (U.A.) (6th week)	11,000
Capitol	4,700	25c-85c	33,400	"The Last Gangster" (MGM) (2nd week)	17,000	"The Last Gangster" (MGM) (1st week)	30,000
Criterion	1,700	25c-75c	12,000	"Bulldog Drummond's Revenge" (Para.)	6,000	"Missing Witnesses" (F.N.)	6,500
Paramount	3,700	25c-99c	36,100	"True Confession" (Para.) (stage: Russ Morgan and Orch.)	42,000	"True Confession" (Para.) (stage: Russ Morgan and Orch.) (1st week)	52,000
Rialto	594	25c-55c	7,700	"The Shadow" (Col.)	7,000	"Beg, Borrow or Steal" (MGM)	6,000
Rivoli	2,200	25c-99c	23,100	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO) (3 days-5th week)	3,000	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO)	6,500
RKO Music Hall	6,200	40c-$1.65	79,000	"I'll Take Romance" (Col.) (plus stage show)	83,000	"Nothing Sacred" (U.A.) (3rd week)	65,000
Roxy	5,954	25c-75c	35,400	"Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo" (20th Cent.-Fox) (plus stage show)	20,000	"45 Fathers" (20th Cent.-Fox)	22,000
Strand	3,000	40c-99c	20,800	"First Lady" (W.B.)		"The Life of Emile Zola" (W.B.)	16,000
Oklahoma City
Criterion	1,300	10c-40c	5,300	"Angel" (Para.) (stage: Major Bowes' International Revue) (8 days)	4,000	"That Certain Woman" (F.N.)	3,400
Midwest	1,500	10c-40c	4,300	"Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM) (9 days)	4,200	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.)	4,700
Tower	1,100	10c-35c	....	"The Great Garrick" (W.B.) (3 days)	900	"First Lady" (W.B.)	1,700
Omaha
Brandeis	1,200	25c-40c	4,900	"Fight for Your Lady" (RKO) and "Fit for a King" (RKO)	4,500	"Back in Circulation" (F.N.) and "There Goes the Groom" (RKO)	4,300
Omaha	2,200	25c-40c	6,900	"Ebb Tide" (Para.) and "45 Fathers" (20th Cent.-Fox)	8,500	"Angel" (Para.) and "Hold 'Em Navy" (Para.)	6,100
Orpheum	3,000	25c-40c	9,200	"Merry-Go-Round of 1938" (Univ.) and "First Lady" (W.B.) (stage: Big Apple Dance Contest Sat. midnight with preview of "Beg, Borrow or Steal" (MGM)	8,000	"The Barrier" (Para.) and "It's Love I'm After" (W.B.) (stage: Big Apple Dance Contest Sat. midnight preview of "First Lady" (W.B.)	8,400
Philadelphia
Aldine	1,300	40c-65c	9,200	"Nothing Sacred" (U.A.) (4th week)	6,300	"Nothing Sacred" (U.A.) (3rd week)	8,500
Boyd	2,400	40c-65c	14,800	"First Lady" (W.B.)	10,000	"I'll Take Romance" (Col.)	10,800
Fox	3,000	40c-65c	17,000	"Beg, Borrow or Steal" (MGM)	10,000	"Merry-Go-Round of 1938" (Univ.)	12,000
Stanley	3,700	40c-65c	15,700	"Wells Fargo" (Para.)	17,000	"Ebb Tide" (Para.)	10,000
San Francisco
Fox	5,651	15c-75c	11,000	"True Confession" (Para.) and "Thoroughbred Don't Cry" (MGM)	16,000	"It's Love I'm After" (W.B.) and "Big Town Girl" (20th Cent.-Fox)	15,000
Golden Gate	2,850	15c-55c	16,600	"Fit for a King" (RKO) (plus stage band)	13,000	"Victoria the Great" (RKO) (plus stage band)	13,000
Orpheum	2,440	15c-55c	8,200	"Merry-Go-Round of 1938" (Univ.) and "Murder in Greenwich Village" (Col.) (2nd week)	7,000	"Merry-Go-Round of 1938" (Univ.) and "Murder in Greenwich Village" (Col.) (1st week)	8,500
Paramount	2,670	15c-75c	13,300	"First Lady" (W.B.) and "Blossoms on Broadway" (Para.) (6 days)	10,000	"The Barrier" (Para.) and "This Way, Please" (Para.)	11,800
United Artists	1,200	15c-75c	6,900	"The Prisonerof Zenda" (U.A.) (9 days-5th week)	6,000	"The Prisoner of Zenda" (U.A.) (4th week)	5,000
Warfield	2,680	15c-75c	15,300	"The Firefly" (MGM) (3rd week)	7,000	"The Firefly" (MGM) (2nd week)	8,000
Seattle
Fifth Avenue	2,500	30c-55c	7,700	"Second Honeymoon" (20th Cent.-Fox) "First Lady" (W.B.) (6 days-2nd week)	5,900	"Second Honeymoon" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "First Lady" (W.B.) (1st week)	6,700
Liberty	1,800	30c-55c	7,700	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (5th week)	5,000	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (4th week)	5,950
Orpheum	2,450	30c-40c	6,000	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.) and "High Flyers" (RKO)	5,600	"The Last Gangster" (MGM) and "A Girl with Ideas" (Univ.)	6,200
Paramount	3,050	30c-40c	5,200	"True Confession" (Para.) and "Thoroughbred Don't Cry" (MGM)	6,250	"Ebb Tide" (Para.) and "Big Town Girl" (20th Cent.-Fox)	5,900

MANAGERS' ROUND TABLE CLUB

An international association of showmen meeting weekly in MOTION PICTURE HERALD for mutual aid and progress

A NEW YEAR... A NEW EDITOR

The coming of the New Year marks the inauguration of your new editor . . . and to all fellow Round Tablers we extend sincere Greetings and Good Wishes. To our many friends in the field and to those whom we haven't met, please accept our sincere desire to serve you in any and all ways possible. In short, gentlemen, these pages are your pages . . . pages of showmanship for showmen.

We pledge ourselves to the continuance of the conduct of the Round Table in keeping with the premier standard it has attained over these many years . . . a standard of importance that has won the respect, esteem and recognition of the ranking executives of the Motion Picture Industry.

The year 1938 holds much promise. This department has formulated a system of attentions to showmanship to further improve the status of the theatre manager in this industry, a promotion he so justly deserves. Here, we are announcing in detail, the new system for the Quigley Awards, addressed at your immediate attention.

▽ ▽

QUIGLEY AWARDS

This department feels that the fellow who has been plugging along steadily and surely over a long period of time could do with more and consistent recognition. Also, it is obvious that campaigns can most fairly be classified in relation to their communities. Further, subsequent run or neighborhood theatre managers are not to be handicapped by their positions. The new system of Awards is intended to give every theatre manager an equal opportunity, regardless of the size of his city or the type of theatre he is operating.

As announced in recent issues, awards will be made quarterly; i.e., your campaigns will be judged on a basis of three-month periods, and your entries will be divided among five different classifications, depending upon the size of the city you are operating in. Entrants "start from scratch" every three-month period for the Quarterly Awards. These quarterly competitions will run as follows: WINTER: Jan. 1-March 31; SPRING: April 1-June 30; SUMMER: July 1-Sept. 30; FALL: October 1-Dec. 31.

Quigley Quarterly Awards will be given as follows: Silver plaques to each entry voted best in the following five classifications: "A", cities of 250,000 and over; "B", cities of 100,000 to 250,000; "C" cities 25,000 to 100,000; "D", cities 25,000 and under; "E", neighborhood or subsequent runs.

An additional Citation will be voted for the entry selected as best from the above winners, regardless of classification.

Citation of Merit Sheepskin Certificates will be awarded for the runner-up in each classification. First and Honorable Mention Sheepskins will also be voted entries not awarded plaques or Citation of Merit, but deemed worthy of recognition.

Every contribution from the field to Managers' Round Table that has to do with Advertising, Exploitation or Publicity in the theatre during each three-month period will be considered in determining the Quarterly winners.

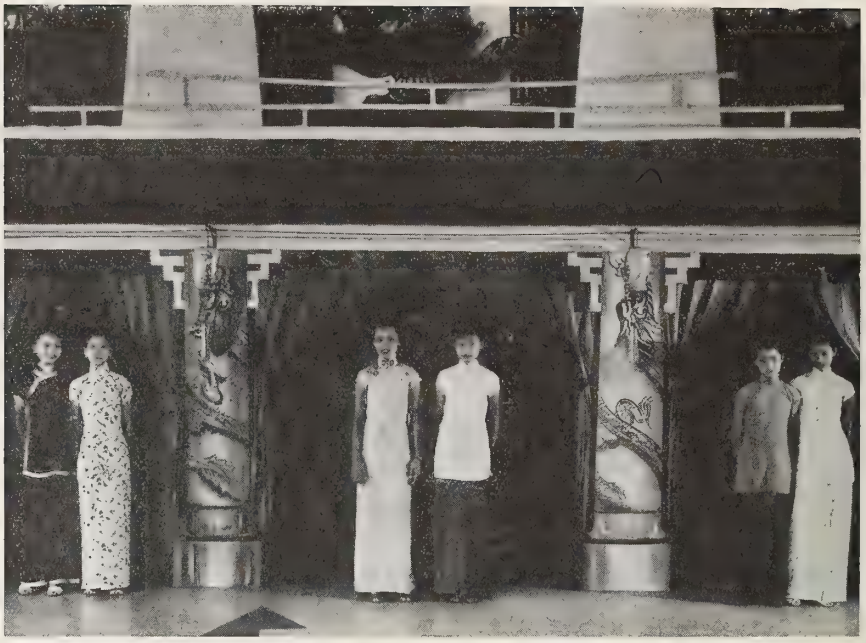
Complete campaigns are not necessary, although they are desirable.

Institutional campaigns such as anniversaries, festivals, new season drives, kiddies' clubs, civic tie-ups, etc., will also be eligible for consideration.

Selections by the Judging Committee will be based upon an entrant's efforts during the three-month period as illustrated by his contributions and not upon any one single picture campaign, as heretofore.

The Quigley Annual Awards will be continued in 1938, the winners to be chosen from among entrants earning the highest ratings in the year's four quarterly competitions.

▽ ▽



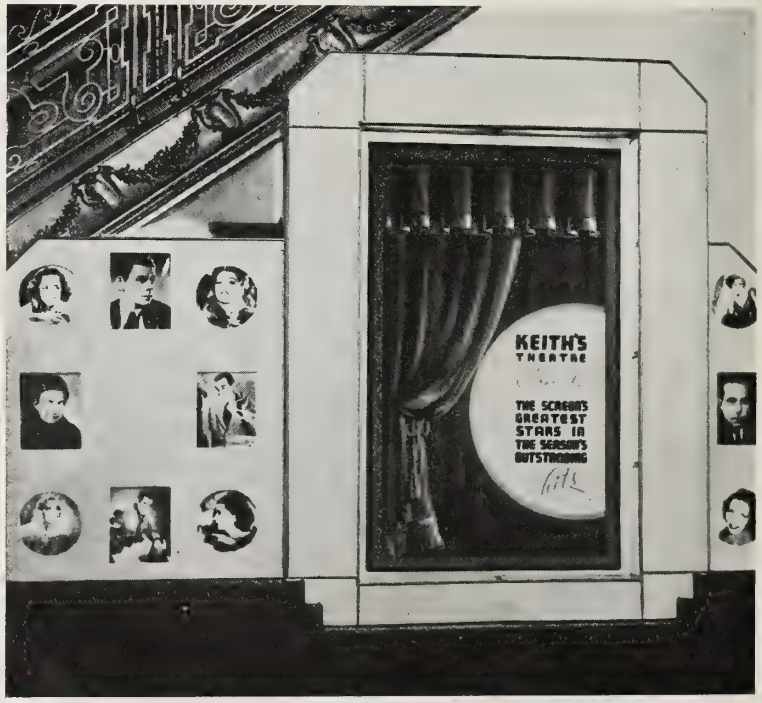
INTERLUDE

Individual acknowledgment of the many messages of welcome to us, cannot find space in print. So to you all . . . thanks. And to all Round Tablers this department extends every wish that the coming year will be the best you've ever enjoyed.

Let's hear from you.

Jack Goldstein

Round Table Pictures



The foreign contingency is well represented by photos above and left showing how Chinese girls are employed by L. Von Haverbeck, managing director of United Cinema, Bangkok, Siam, at the Chalerm Krung Theatre to exploit the engagement of "Good Earth." All usherettes were dressed in costume during run. . . . While at the Scala Theatre, Bucharest, Roumania, manager of the house for his street bally on "Prince and the Pauper" decorated truck to represent castle on which were shown cutouts of Errol Flynn and the Mauch twins.

Capitalizing on the fact that "Damsel in Distress" is based on the Saturday Evening Post story by Wodehouse, Managing Director Jack Wright and Promotion Man Frank Brunner, New York Rivoli, made use of easel shown below, left, containing blowups of story in the Post and scene stills from the picture. . . . Below right is display in Keith's Theatre lobby, Philadelphia, Pa., conceived by Al Garfield. Centerpiece is a 40 x 60 institutional copy card which is removable to sell coming attractions. The stills are 11 x 14 and 8 x 10 color gloss.

Miniature submarine, deep sea diving equipment, life belts, firing gun, life buoy, etc., were employed by Charlie Taylor, Great Lakes Theatre, Buffalo, N. Y., to publicize the opening of "Submarine D 1" at that spot. . . . Street bally used by Thor Hauschild, Paramount, Ind., for "Life Begins in College." Complete details may be found in this section.

Described elsewhere in this section is Max Kuperstein's lobby display to plug his "Varsity Show" date at the Fenton, Philadelphia. That's Max standing at left of easel below. . . . Another lobby display was that conceived by Ernie Petch, Strand, Brandon, Canada for "100 Men and a Girl" consisting of magazine articles and blowups of rave reviews.

To publicize his date on Warner Bros. "West of Shanghai" at the Empire Theatre, San Antonio, Texas, Manager B. L. Tucker designed and created this compo board front which entirely covered sides and boxoffice. Oversized heads of Boris Karloff together with scene stills flanked either side.

QUICK REPORTS FROM THE FIELD

Teaser Ads

Cashing in on some of the teaser copy Universal prepared on "Merry-Go-Round of 1938" and figuring it was also good for teasers in his lobby, Hardie Meakin, Managing Director RKO Keith Theatre, Washington, D. C., blew up four of the teaser ads to 60-inch size and set them one behind the other in his lobby. Ads had a check mark at the top and the headline: Check This Statement. The first one read: "The biggest laugh the screen has ever known is Bert Lahr singing 'The Song of the Woodman' in 'Merry Go Round of 1938.'" Second, third and fourth ones overrode successive claims, each pointing out different top laugh sequences in the picture.

Stereoptican Stuff

Patrons of the Newman Theatre, Kansas City, Mo., stopped to read Jerry Zigmond's "Wells Fargo" message in lobby. Copy was laid on the floor directly in front of the foyer door by a stereopticon lamp above boxoffice. Zigmond had a special metal plate stamped with copy reading "Watch For Wells Fargo, Bob Burns," and slant was used well in advance of picture's opening.

For "The Barrier" he promoted a battery of machines from the Robotyper Company there and had them in the lobby turning out letters to "Dear Onlooker" plugging the picture. "Miss Robotyper" in charge distributed the messages to all who stopped.

Cooper Speaks

Jackie Cooper, star in "Boy of the Streets," talked to the patrons of the Iowa Theatre in Atlantic, Iowa, and the Earle in Carroll, from the Monogram studios on the eve of premiere of his film at the two houses. Over a public address system by long distance the star wished his listeners a Merry Christmas and then plugged his two forthcoming pictures.

Street Parade

Parade of new model cars was arranged by Paul Kessler, Suffolk Theatre, Holyoke, Mass., for "Vogues of 1938." Opening day cars properly bannered toured streets, after which they dispersed and parked at different locations where they remained during entire run. Picture was plugged in windows, busses and through tieup with telegraph company blowups were planted in all branches.

IMPORTANT!

An announcement of the new system in ascertaining Quigley Award winners will be found on the Editorial page of this week's issue.

It is of vital importance to you, as a showman, to turn to the Editorial page, if you haven't already done so, and read this announcement.

Memory Contest

Station WHP cooperated with Sam Gilman for his "Conquest" date at Loew's, Harrisburg, Pa., on a "memory contest." Tickets were awarded listeners correctly listing dates certain Garbo pictures had played the theatre and who was in the cast. Announcer also got in daily plug for the current picture.

With Sunday shows taboo in Harrisburg, Sam arranged for a private preview on Sunday afternoon preceding opening. To this, he invited members of women's organizations, librarians, teachers, government department heads, critics and others whose opinions were sought through distribution of comment cards. Gilman also used copy of Life showing cut of Garbo on cover for eight foot display in front of theatre.

American Legion Stuff

With the American Legion post in La Porte, Ind., in the throes of an extensive membership drive, Wayne Sweeney, La Porte Theatre, arranged for local oil company to sponsor a three-day showing of the film produced by Universal of the recent Legion New York convention. Oil company, in addition to paying for the film, donated 300 gallons of gas to be given away last day of showing; 200 gallons to regular patrons and 100 to some legionnaire, each man who could show a paid up membership card for 1938 was admitted free. Show which was advertised as "American Legion Days" brought Sweeney considerable extra revenue in addition to plenty of goodwill.

Candid Camera Slant

Reported as proving most effective at the Tivoli, Hamilton, Ontario, is Len Bishop's roving candid cameraman. Man shoots informal, human interest scenes, photos of which are displayed on lobby easel each week. Huge card announces that guest tickets go to those whose pictures are included in the group.

Walking Book

Street bally used by Harry Schlinker, Warner Theatre, San Pedro, Cal., for "They Won't Forget" was man walking inside giant compo board book on which was printed, title, cast and picture copy. Ballot blanks were available in lobby, patrons requested to express their opinion as to whether or not Robert Hale was guilty or innocent. Tieup was also affected with local daily classified ad section tying in with picture title.

For "100 Men and a Girl" Schlinker secured local boys band approximating 65 members and had a girl drum major leading it. Banners with proper credits were also carried by the boys.

Safety Patrol

Approximately 3,000 members of the Boys' Safety Patrol, in a mass meeting at the Fox Theatre, received special passes entitling them to a free show each week at their neighborhood Fanchon & Marco Theatre.

Issuance of these passes, which are good for the remainder of the school term and are honored at 30 Fanchon & Marco theatres, follows several years of successful use of this plan by H. C. Riegel, Jr., at the Maplewood Theatre.

In an address to the members of the Patrol, Chief of Police John Glassco extended the thanks of the Police Department for the boys' assistance in eliminating traffic accidents to school children.

Durbin Doubles

Promoted to theatre was Harold Janecky's Deanna Durbin double contest for "100 Men and a Girl" date at the Merrick Theatre, Jamaica, L. I. Cooperating shoe store paid for all cash prizes, heralds and cost of local movie taken of the winner, shown at store, high school and throughout town.

Letter Gag

Letters signed by Franchot Tone were mailed to the female contingency of Bushnell, Ill., by D. M. Dillenbeck, Rialto Theatre, to plug engagement of "Between Two Women." Letters carrying copy "I am at a loss to know what to do, my affections are between two women, etc., etc." were dropped in streets, schools, libraries, near cashiers' stand in business houses, and rural districts.

M&P Theatremen Report Activities On Special Weeks

To honor M. & P. District Manager Chester L. Stoddard, regular anniversary of Colonial Theatre, Haverhill, Mass., was pushed ahead one week by Manager Ralph L. Tully. Tying up 10 merchants, which included a full page of cooperative advertising, the theatreman apportioned 2,000 contest cards to the stores for distribution. Each time a patron purchased a ticket the stub (bearing store ad) was deposited in box located in theatre lobby. Holders of lucky numbered card were gifted with radio promoted from the stores.

Local florist decorated lobby for the week in exchange for credit card. Store donated large birthday cake which was displayed in lobby week ahead, prizes also going to those correctly guessing cake's weight.

Tully sold a four-page program to merchants which was distributed at theatre week ahead, entire cost met by ads. Theatre received three pages of same with "anniversary week" and attractions plugged solidly.

Sunday Record published a co-op page on the anniversary giving theatre approximately 75 inches of free space. All attractions shown during the week besides scene mats, theatre telegrams from stars and institutional copy were included. Classified ad contest was also run.

▽ ▽

Labelling his campaign as "get acquainted week," Francis Gooch, Opera House, Bath, Me., highlighted the event with gifts.

Through cooperating market articles of foodstuffs ranging from vegetables to a complete dinner were given away. Lucky number heralds were distributed by sponsoring merchant and deposited in theatre lobby. Local gas station also aided by donating 50 gallons of gas which were awarded in five different lots, two consecutive nights.

Another tieup arranged by Gooch was with radio store whereby 25 per cent discounts were allowed on any machine purchased from that merchant before Christmas. Store also donated one radio for giveaway at theatre.

For special attraction, arrangements were made with local school of Music to present their novelty orchestra on stage plus some clever entertainers. Stunt was played up in papers and program was well received.

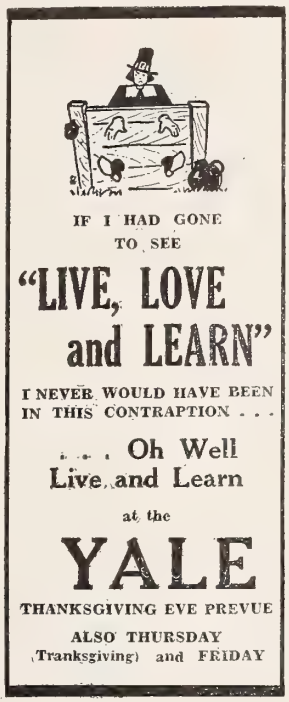
High school football team with coaches were invited as guests of management which netted further publicity for the theatremen.

▽ ▽

Ten days ahead of his "week" Harold Friary, Fields Corner Theatre, Dorchester, Mass., set up a ballot box in his lobby with the eight pictures available to him listed on ballots. Patrons were requested to vote for the four pictures they wanted to see during the week and Harold reports over 8,000 ballots were casting during the period.

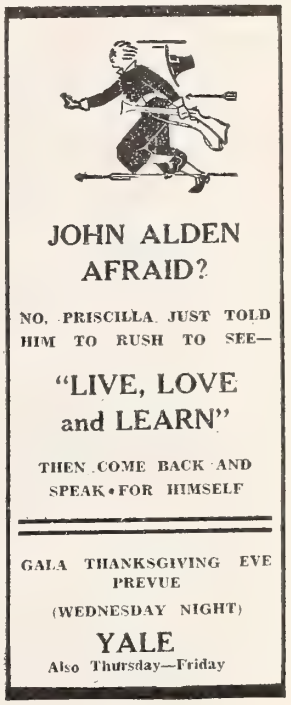
No cost stage show consisted of 140 boy musicians from local church who gave a 20-minute concert. This was followed by presentation of 20 minutes of 16 mm. films youngsters took during recent trip to Washington, D. C. Narrator explained the films as shown.

Still another costless stage show was appearance of Old Dorchester Post Drum Corps, which recently won prize in American Legion Drum Corps competition at Polo Grounds, finishing ahead of 76 other teams from entire country and promoted talent from local dance school for stage revue also proved successful.

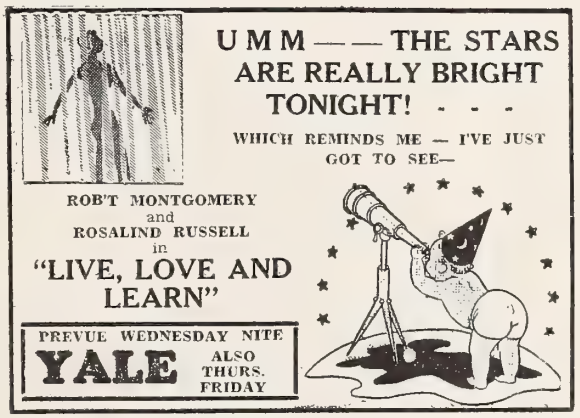


Kids were not overlooked in Friary's campaign either, the showman holding a special Saturday afternoon matinee at which each youngster was presented with promoted box of candy.

"Tell Us What You Did"



Benjii's Safety Trailers



Originated by Ed Benjii, Capitol, Madison, Wis. and other Warner-Saxe houses are safety trailers in cooperation with the state highway department to impress upon the public greater need for highway safety. Pictures of bad accidents are secured from highway commission and reproduced on a short safety film with copy for trailer prepared by the safety department and the cost borne by Warner Saxe.

CARTOON ADVERTISING

Ingenious and original are the cartoon ads created and employed from time to time by Manager George Limerick, Yale and Palace Theatres, Cleburne, Texas.

Here shown are his endeavors for "Live, Love and Learn". Limerick says his cartoons are selected from the stock ad mat service of the local daily newspaper, copy being inserted to suit the situation developed by the cartoon.

Merchant Tieup Aids Klingler on "Handsome"

To publicize "High, Wide and Handsome" at the Rialto, Lewistown, Pa., Paul O. Klingler arranged an effective tie-up with the Tydol-Veedol Oil Company. Few days before the picture's opening local newspapers carried both publicity stories and plenty of art on the attraction.

In the Tydol-Veedol tieup all trucks carried special banners, mentioning both the film and playdate.

Lobby was attractively decorated with seven-foot photographic blowup of the engine used in the picture as the center of the display. For a street ballyhoo a man and woman, dressed to represent the leads in the film, paraded the principal streets on horseback carrying a banner heralding the picture's engagement.

The campaign was climaxed by a banquet for all the Tydol-Veedol representatives in that territory with a special showing of the picture following.

NOVEMBER FIRST MENTION CAMPAIGNS FEATURE EFFECTIVE EXPLOITATIONS

Winning Men in Indiana and Canada Arrange Numerous Angles for "Awards" Honors

Highly successful was pep rally held at the Fenton Theatre, Philadelphia, Pa., by Max Kuperstein and tied into his "Variety Show" date. Contacting Olney High School with an enrollment of 6,000 pupils, a committee of students was appointed to work with the manager, consisting of the President of the Student Association, President of the Senate, captain of cheer leaders, editor of school paper, members of school band and three of the most popular students.

First meeting held at theatre five weeks ahead of opening brought announcement in school that "Olney High Night" would be celebrated at designated date and to watch for further details. Two local weekly papers also announced the night and pep rally, teaser ads appearing in school papers.

Four weeks ahead three collegiate cars lettered with copy about the picture toured the streets within vicinity of theatre and were parked in school yard during classes. Cars were also driven to all local football games and entered in parade with group of boys and girls riding along singing high school songs. Permission was granted for two boys and girl to wear lettered "beer jackets" in classes during the campaign. Announcements were tacked on all bulletin boards requesting a big turnout of students at local ball game to have their pictures taken so that they could see themselves on the screen of the Felton during an engagement of "Varsity Show," and for lobby display Max used large easel announcing this event, stills tacked to board in shape of footballs. (See photo in Round Table picture sections.) Boy at game carried sign plugging the picture, pep rally and playdates, and cards were distributed to all spectators plugging the same. Cheer leaders also managed to get in a play for the rally.

Address School Alumni

Special trailer on "the" night was used two weeks ahead, announcements made daily over WTEL for one week and the theatreman addressed a meeting of the high school alumni five days before opening. Entire front of theatre was decorated with pennants, banners and special valances of school colors saying "Welcome Olney High students," school paper carrying story on front page.

Special souvenir programs were printed for the occasion and football team arrived in cars with band playing school songs as the team entered the theatre and cheer leaders performed nobly on stage.

Collegiate Midnight Frolic Opens Hauschild's Campaign

Another showman to promote student cooperation to launch his engagement of "Life begins in College" was Thor Hauschild for that date at the Paramount Theatre, Marion, Ind. Labeling his theatre party as a "grid meeting," the manager contacted student body to put over a special midnight show. Stories ran in dailies and school papers, lucky numbered tickets being distinguished at large carrying copy plugging the show.

Mammoth "yell session" was held on stage opening night with band and football team presented on the stage. "Life Begins in College" was spelled out by the students by use of 20-inch black circles, each carrying a large white letter. As the discs were distributed to the players they arranged themselves in proper formation until the title letters were correctly assembled.

Stars Wire Congratulations

Jumbo telegrams with message from the Ritz Brothers were prominently displayed in telegraph offices and lobby of the theatre ten days ahead; song hits from picture were plugged by orchestras in night spots, theatre name and playdates being announced each time one of the hits was presented.

For his street bally Hauschild, too, used a collegiate lettered model T Ford in which four students rode, even entering the playing field at local football game (see photo in Round Table section). Ritz Brothers sundaes were featured and pushed by all soda fountains in town during week before playdate, with contests held at each fountain to see which employee could sell the most Ritz sundaes.

Thor personally handled the loud speaker announcements and description of the game over the air at the recent Marion-Wabash football game, which of course netted him plenty of picture plugs. On opening day, featured by a gala car parade, the theatreman offered prize for the most "collegiate" looking car and runner-up prize for the most dilapidated car moving under its own power.

Sidewalk stencils were used profusely, as were directional arrows planted along roads and at city limits of all small towns. Heralds were distributed to all attending games, passed out house-to-house, and in schools with merchants also cooperating by using imprinted bags, window displays, etc., etc.

Unique and marquee hanger shadow-boxes were used instead of valances. Title was cut out in beaver board panels and backed with white muslin. The box itself was built as a unit, but divided into three sections running the length of the box. Each section had a separate circuit of lights hooked in series with sockets in marquee chaser border. Circuits in the shadow-boxes flashed upward with the action of the chaser; bottom section carried red lights; center amber and top yellow.

RKO PREPARES SPANISH "REGINA" PRESSBOOK

Adapted and translated by Michael Hoffay, foreign publicity manager for Radio Pictures from the English-speaking version prepared by S. Barret McCormick's staff is pressbook in Spanish on "Victoria Regina".

Reported as the first of its kind for the foreign field to use a five-color cover and a four-color tinpin, outstanding production, exploitation and feature stories from the regular pressbook were incorporated. Book will be used throughout South America and Spanish-speaking towns of California and the Southwest.

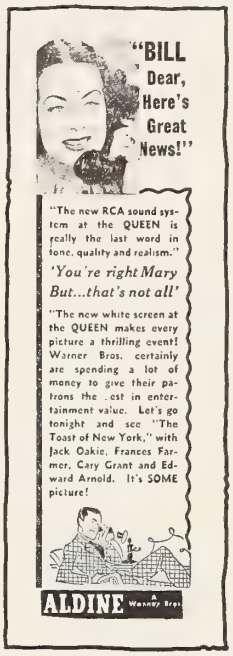
Photos of exploitations illustrating First Mention Campaigns are carried in the Round Table photo section of this issue.

Local Endorsements Used By Petch for Newspapers

Picking a number of local prominent citizens who had attended Ernie Petch's preview of "100 Men and a Girl" at the Strand Theatre, Brandon, Manitoba, the theatreman secured permission to carry their endorsement in a series of teaser ads for the week ahead of regular playdates. Lobby display consisted of 12-foot high easel on which were tacked magazine articles and blowups of reviews, which was topped by excellent head of Durbin and filled with colored stills on the picture (see photo in Round Table picture section).

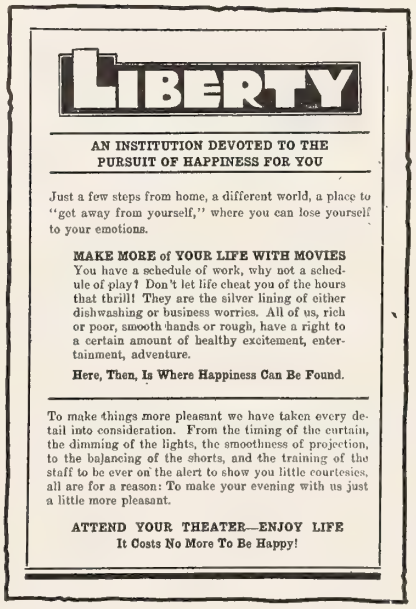
To attract office workers, Petch distributed imprinted blotters with copy reading "Miss Stenographer: You'll blot out all that tired and worn out feeling when you relax in the refreshing atmosphere of this glorious picture." Blotter carried cut of the starlet with title and playdates. Imprinted napkins on which were used one of the ad mats, were distributed to restaurants, hotels and lunch counters and colored heralds were inserted as stuffers in Liberty magazine to cover their country subscribers only.

Leading photographer was sold on the idea of drawing attention to his selection of picture frames by filling them with photos of Deanna Durbin, credit card with playdates being spotted prominently in the window. Department store also aided the showman by devoting window to display of Durbin dresses and large cutout head of the star.



"Tell Us What You Did"

"Hollywood Hotel" Gets National Advertising



What is considered one of the largest national magazine ad campaigns is being launched by Warners for "Hollywood Hotel," nationally released January 15. Campaign will hit 19 national movie publications with double-page ads. Ads will break in January and February issues of the following magazines: Screenland, Silver Screen, Movie Mirror, Screen Book, Movie Story, Motion Picture, Screen Romances, Hollywood, Film Fun, Radio Mirror, Radio Stars, Radio Guide, Photoplay, Modern Screen, Picture Play, Screen Guide, Secrets, Modern Movies and Stage.

REPRESENTATIVE NEWSPAPER ADS

• personalities

WILLIAM T. MOORE
has been named manager of the Dickinson at Fayette, Mo. CHARLES MARTIN, former manager, has been shifted to Parsons, Kan., where he will manage the Uptown.

▽

FRED VINCENT
formerly exploiteer for Universal in the Kansas City, Mo., district, has been named manager of the Dickinson at Creston, Ia. CHARLES KIRKPATRICK, who has been managing the house, will work out of the home office.

▽

MR. AND MRS. FLOYD GIBBLE
of Wichita, Kan., have taken over the management of the New Theatre at Pond Creek, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. SHANKLE have been transferred to Oxford, Kan.

▽

FRED BREWER
former assistant of the Rivoli and Midwest Theatres in Blackwell, Okla., has been promoted to managership of the Fairfax, Fairfax, Okla. JIM O'DONNELL has been transferred from a similar post at Guthrie to succeed Brewer in Blackwell.

▽

ROY COOPER
formerly of the Sterling Circuit, Seattle, has been named division manager for Golden State Amuse. Co., San Francisco.

▽

A. K. VEACH
of Cleveland has been named manager of the State & Ohio, Uhrichsville, Ohio and the Lincoln in Dennison succeeding E. E. ELGIN of Dover.

▽

PAUL KLEINERMAN
is now managing the Hippodrome, Pittsburgh, Pa.

▽

RAY RHONHEIMER
has opened the Fair Theatre, Astoria, L. I. First house to be named after the World's Fair.

▽

FRANK BARNES
city manager for Atlas Theatres in Lamar, Colo. has moved to Salida, in the same capacity succeeding HARRY MOORE, resigned to enter newspaper field. Barnes is succeeded by RAYMOND LOUNSBURY his assistant and DICK JANCKE has been made manager of the Gem, Golden, Colo. succeeding BERLIN TANNER moved to Monte Vista, Colo. as assistant at the Granada.

▽

GEORGE WILKINSON
operator of the Wilkinson Theatre, Wallingford, Conn., has taken over the Strand.

▽

FRED BREWER
has been made manager of the Fairfax, Fairfax, Okla.

Birthday Greetings

Joseph B. Alderman	Joseph Josack
Ralph Allan	Arthur Joy
M. Augenblick	Edward L. Klein
Kroger Babb	Stanley J. Klein
Peter L. Baffes	Ralph Larned
Joseph Beck	Bud Lawler
Henry W. Beuttel	E. L. Leffler
L. W. Bevel	Jack Lykes
Harry Birkmier	Kenneth E. McMahon
H. F. Borrenson	Chet E. McSwain
Clarence R. Bosch	Miller Meriwether
Jack D. Braunagel	William L. Miller
David M. Brotman	Fred E. Moree
Max Chimes	William F. Moody
Lee Edward Churchin	Austin T. Moon
William G. Collins	Larry E. New
G. G. Cooke	Donald J. O'Brien
M. E. Cowan	Frank Randolph
George F. Crisman	W. Lyn Reynolds
Martha Deutsch	D. W. Rogers
Frank E. Drachman	Louis Rosen
B. Edelstein	J. J. Rosenfield
Albert E. Fain	Fred J. Sarr
Elmer Field	Elie J. Saul
Fred L. Frechette	James N. Saunders
R. B. Garvin	Ed. C. Schmadeka
David Goodman	Boyd F. Scott
Oscar L. Gray	Ralph Shaffer
J. A. Greer	Sol Shapiro
Chris Hadfield	C. R. Stoflet
Lew Harris	Walter A. Van Camp
William L. Herron	Vincent M. Wade
Walter Hinks	Anna Bell Ward
Ted Hodes	Mrs. Laura Wernick
Robert E. Holmes	George Richard Wilson
Charles D. Hulbert	Arno Joe Wolfshol
Dave Jones	Gene Yarnell

BILL ADAMS
is now managing the new Strand Theatre, Brockton, Mass.

ADS ON PRECEDING PAGE AND AUTHORS

Three-column full "Good Earth", Al Livermore, Cosmo Theatre, Sydney, Australia; one-column institutional ad, Lewis S. Black, Wilmington, Del.; two-column "Bride Wore Red", Erle Wright, Loew's Poli, New Haven, Conn.; two-column institutional ad, Robert Hutchins, Liberty Theatre, Mullan, Idaho; two-column "Broadway Melody", Walter Davis, Capitol, Regina, Sask., Can.; two-column "Portia On Trial", Frank Boucher, Strand, Altoona, Pa.; three-column "Nothing Sacred", Ray Bell, Loew's Palace, Washington, D. C., and three-column "45 Fathers", E. V. Dinerman, RKO Palace, Cincinnati, Ohio.

HERMAN J. BERNFELD
theatre editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, in Cincinnati, has resigned, effective Jan. 15, and will be associated with his brother in the management of the 21 Club, New York City.

▽

KEN KENNER
formerly assistant at the Alabama in Birmingham has been promoted to manager of the Empire Theatre in Montgomery, Ala.

▽

LOU HART
has taken over the managerial reins of the Skouras Grand Theatre in Astoria, L. I.

▽

ROBERT BAKER
has been transferred from the Crescent to the Steinway, Astoria. GEORGE RIESTER, formerly at the Plaza, in Englewood, N. J., has succeeded Baker at the Crescent.

▽

NORMAN GLUCK
former assistant at the Fox, Hackensack, N. J., has been promoted to manager of the Teaneck, in Teaneck, N. J.

▽

CLIF REID
former assistant at the Lafayette, in Suffern, has been transferred to the Fox, in Hackensack.

▽

TOM SARRIS
has assumed the post of district manager for the Skouras L. I. Theatres.

▽

PAT DUFFY
has leased the Wigwam, at Altus, Okla. His son Leo will manage the house.

▽

SAMMY SIEGEL
Pacific Coast publicist, after a visit to New York, has returned to Hollywood. Come again, Sammy.

▽

FRED VINCENT
formerly exploiteer for Universal in Kansas City, has been named manager of the Dickinson Theatre at Creston, Ia., succeeding CHARLES KIRKPATRICK, who will work out of the home office.

▽

ABRAHAM STONE
owner, will reopen the Eagle Theatre, in Albany, N. Y.

▽

ANNA BELL WARD
of the Slliott-Ward Enterprises, Lexington, Ky., is on the sick list.

▽

DON NICHOLS
manager of the Wilby-Kincey Broadway Theatre, Charlotte, N. C., has resigned as of January 1.

▽

DONALD A. HOWARD
has been appointed manager of the new Drexel Theatre, Hamilton, Ohio.

THE RELEASE CHART

Productions are listed according to the names of distributors in order that the exhibitor may have a short-cut towards such information as he may need, as well as information on pictures that are coming. Features now in work or completed for release later than the date of this issue are listed under "Coming Attractions." Letter in parentheses after title denotes audience classification of production: (A) Adult, (G) General. Numerals following audience classification are production numbers. Dagger symbol indicates picture is of the 1937-38 season.

ADVANCE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Dawn to Dusk	Margaret Morris-Bill Edwards	Nov. 1,'37†
Now Is the Time	Joby Jordan-Jo Carr	Nov. 15,'37†
Squadron "B"	Margaret Morris-Bill Edwards	Sept. 15,'37†
Coming
Night Nurse	Joby Jordan-Jo Carr	Jan. 15,'38†

AMBASSADOR-CONN

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Anything for a Thrill	Frankie Darro-June Gale	June 15,'37
Fighting Texan, The	Kermit Maynard-Elaine Shepard	June 22,'37
Roaring Six Guns	Kermit Maynard-Beryl Wallace	Oct. 15,'37†
Rough Riding Rhythm	Kermit Maynard-Mary Hayes	Aug. 15,'37†
Sing While You're Able	Pinky Tomlin-Toby Wing	Mar. 20,'37	66
Swing It, Professor (G)	Pinky Tomlin-Paula Stone	Nov. 15,'37†	*60. Nov.	13,'37
Thanks for Listening	Pinky Tomlin-Aileen Pringle	July 12,'37
Tough to Handle	Frankie Darro-Kane Richmond	Mar. 24,'37
Whistling Bullets	Kermit Maynard-Harlene Wood	May 3,'37
Young Dynamite	Frankie Darro-Charlotte Henry	Sept. 15,'37†
Coming
Calling All Marines	Gene Austin-Candy 'n' Coco
Fighting Cadet	Frankie Darro-Kermit Maynard
Song of the Vigilantes	Kermit Maynard
Strong Arm Squad	Lyle Talbot-Wynne Gibson
Sweethearts in Swingtime	Donald Novis-Grace Bradley

CELEBRITY

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Coming
For Love of You	F. Foresta-Riscoe and Wayne		69
Kiss Me Goodbye	M. Schneider-Riscoe and Wayne		62

COLUMBIA

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
All American Sweetheart (G)	Scott Colton-Patricia Farr	Nov. 30,'37†	62. Dec.	25,'37
Awful Truth, The (G)	Irene Dunne-Cary Grant	Oct. 21,'37†	92. Oct.	9,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 76; Dec. 18,'37, p. 65.)
Counsel for Crime (G)	Otto Kruger-Jacqueline Wells	Sept. 14,'37†	62. Oct.	23,'37
Criminals of the Air (G)	Rosalind Keith-Chas. Quigley	Apr. 30,'37	61. Nov.	6,'37
Dangerous Adventure, A	Don Terry-Rosalind Keith	Aug. 1,'37	59
Devil Is Driving, The (G)	Richard Dix-Joan Perry	June 25,'37	68. July	24,'37
(Explanation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 78; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84; Oct. 30,'37, pp. 84, 87; Dec. 18,'37, p. 66.)
Fight to the Finish, A	Don Terry-Rosalind Keith	June 30,'37	59
(See "Taxi War," "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)
Frame Up, The	Paul Kelly-Jacqueline Wells	May 1,'37	59
(See "Right Guy," "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)
Game That Kills, The	Chas. Quigley-Rita Hayworth	Sept. 21,'37†	56
Girls Can Play	Chas. Quigley-Jacqueline Wells	June 21,'37	60
Headin' East (G)	Buck Jones-Ruth Coleman	Dec. 13,'37†	67. Nov.	27,'37
Hollywood Round-up (G)	Buck Jones-Helen Twelvetrees	Nov. 16,'37†	64. Oct.	23,'37
I'll Take Romance (G)	Grace Moore-M. Douglas	Dec. 25,'37†	85. Dec.	25,'37
I Promise to Pay (G)	Leo Carrillo-Chester Morris	Apr. 21,'37	65. Feb.	27,'37
(Exploitation: Apr. 3,'37, p. 64.)
It Can't Last Forever (G)	Betty Furness-Ralph Bellamy	July 15,'37	68. Aug.	14,'37
It Happened in Hollywood	Richard Dix-Fay Wray	Sept. 7,'37†	67
(See "Once a Hero," "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 17,'37.)
It's All Yours (G)	Francis Lederer-M. Carroll	Sept. 1,'37	80. Aug.	7,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)
Law of the Ranger	Bob Allen-Elaine Shepard	Feb. 26,'37	57
League of Frightened Men (G)	Walter Connolly-Irene Hervey	May 25,'37	65. July	24,'37
Let's Get Married (G)	Ralph Bellamy-Ida Lupino	Mar. 25,'37	69. May	29,'37
Life Begins with Love (G)	Jean Parker-D. Montgomery	Oct. 7,'37†	68. Oct.	9,'37
Lost Horizon (A)	Ronald Colman-Jane Wyatt	Sept. 1,'37†	118. Feb.	27,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 5,'36, p. 75; Mar. 6,'37, p. 89; May 22,'37, p. 92; July 31,'37, p. 80; Aug. 28,'37, pp. 96, 100; Oct. 30,'37, pp. 84, 97; Nov. 20,'37, p. 94; Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)
Motor Madness	Rosalind Keith-Allen Brook	Apr. 5,'37	62
(See "Speed Mad," "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 20,'37.)
Murder in Greenwich Village (G)	Fay Wray-Richard Arlen	Oct. 16,'37†	68. Nov.	6,'37
Old Wyoming Trail, The	Charles Starrett-Barbara Weeks	Nov. 6,'37†	56
One Man Justice	Chas. Starrett-Barbara Weeks	July 1,'37	59
Outlaws of the Orient	Jack Holt-Mae Clarke	Aug. 20,'37	61
Outlaws of the Prairie	Charles Starrett-Donald Grayson	Dec. 31,'37†
Paid to Dance	Don Terry-Jacqueline Wells	Nov. 4,'37†	56
Parole Racket (G)	Paul Kelly-Rosalind Keith	Mar. 4,'37	62. Apr.	10,'37
Racketeers in Exile (G)	George Bancroft-Evelyn Venable	Mar. 31,'37	67. Apr.	3,'37
Rangers Step In, The	Bob Allen-Eleanor Stewart	Aug. 8,'37	58
Reckless Ranger	Bob Allen-Louise Small	May 30,'37	56

NOTE: The totals for running time are the official figures announced by the home offices of the distributing companies.

When a production is reviewed in Hollywood, the running time is as officially given by the West Coast studio of the company at the time of the review, and this fact is denoted by an asterisk(*) immediately preceding the number. As soon as the home office has established the running time for national release, any change from the studio figure is made and the asterisk is removed.

Running times are subject to change according to local conditions. State or city censorship deletions may cause variations from the announced and published figures; repairs to the film may be another reason.

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Roaring Timber (G)	Jack Holt-Grace Bradley	July 4,'37	65. Aug.	28,'37
Shadow, The (G)	Chas. Quigley-Rita Hayworth	Dec. 9,'37†	59. Dec.	4,'37
She Married an Artist	John Boles-Luli Deste	Nov. 25,'37†	78
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9,'37.)
Speed to Spare	Dorothy Wilson-Chas. Quigley	May 4,'37	60
(See "Racing Luck," "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 13,'37.)
Thunder in the City (G)	Edw. G. Robinson-Luli Deste	Apr. 25,'37	76. Feb.	13,'37
Trapped	Charles Starrett-Peggy Stratford	Mar. 5,'37	55
Trapped by G-Men (G)	Jack Holt-Wynne Gibson	Oct. 27,'37†	65. Nov.	13,'37
Trouble in Morocco (G)	Jack Holt-Mae Clarke	Mar. 22,'37	62. Mar.	20,'37
Two Fisted Sheriff	Charles Starrett-Barbara Weeks	June 15,'37	59
Two Gun Law	Charles Starrett-Peggy Stratford	Apr. 7,'37	56
Under Suspicion (G)	Jack Holt-Kath. DeMille	Dec. 18,'37†	67. Nov.	20,'37
Venus Makes Trouble	James Dunn-Patricia Ellis	May 14,'37	58
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 3,'37.)
When You're in Love (G)	Grace Moore-Cary Grant	Feb. 27,'37	104. Feb.	20,'37
Woman in Distress (G)	May Robson-Irene Hervey	Jan. 17,'37	68. Feb.	13,'37
Women in Prison	Wyn Cahoon-Scott Colton	Jan. 1,'38†
Coming
All Were Enemies	Jack Holt-Beverly Roberts
Campus Mystery	Scott-Colton-Mary Russell		67
Crime of the Year	Robert Paige-Jacqueline Wells
Land Rush	Jack Luden-Eleanor Stewart
Little Miss Roughneck	Edith Fellows-Leo Carrillo	Jan. 22,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Lone Rider	Chas. Starrett-Iris Meredith	Jan. 31,'38†
Lone Wolf No. 1	Francis Lederer-Frances Drake
No Time to Marry	Mary Astor-Richard Arlen	Jan. 10,'38†
Paris on Broadway	Lanny Ross
Penitentiary	Walter Connolly-Jean Parker
Squadron of Honor	Don Terry-Mary Russell	Jan. 20,'38†
(See "The American Legion," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 6,'37.)
Start Cheering	Jimmy Durante-Joan Perry	Jan. 25,'38†
(See "College Follies of 1938," "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9,'37.)
There's Always a Woman	Joan Blondell-Melvyn Douglas
Who Killed Gail Preston?	Wyn Cahoon-Robert Paige
Wide Open Faces	Joe E. Brown-Jane Wyman
You Can't Win	Don Terry-Jacqueline Wells

CRESCENT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Drums of Destiny (G)	Tom Keene-Edna Lawrence	June 12,'37	*60. June	19,'37
Law Commands, The	Tom Keene-Lorraine Hayes	May 12,'37	60
Old Louisiana (G)	Tom Keene-Rita Cansino	Mar. 1,'37	64. Mar.	20,'37
Raw Timber	Tom Keene-Peggy Keys	July 6,'37	63
Under Strange Flags	Tom Keene-Luana Walters	Apr. 12,'37	64

DANUBIA

(Hungarian Dialogue)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Blame It on Love	Szloczky-Basthy	Sept. 6,'37†	78
Help! I Have Inherited	Irene Agay	Nov. 1,'37†	88
I Married for Love	Kabos-Radai	Sept. 13,'37†	84
Man of Gold	Maria Egri-F. Kiss	Apr. 12,'37	92
My Daughter Is Different	Turray-Kabos	Oct. 20,'37†	88
Noszty Lad, The	Javor-Szorenyl	Nov. 25,'37†	97
Once a Week	Kabos-Perozel	Sept. 10,'37†	74
Scotchman in Hungary	Radey-Oresl	Apr. 12,'37	95
Sister Mary	Szorenyi-Sved	Mar. 28,'37	91
Storm on the Pusta	Kiss-Komcar	Apr. 5,'37	78
Tempest in a Charda	Javor-Lazar	Oct. 20,'37†	90
Texas Mammy	Fedak	Oct. 25,'37†	89
Tomi (G)	Pecsi-Adam	Sept. 11,'37†	81. Oct.	30,'37
Vicki (Country Ball)	Javor-Rose Barsony	Sept. 25,'37†	87
Yellow Roses	Kabos	[illegible]	90

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

FIRST NATIONAL

(See also Warner Brothers)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventurous Blonde, The (G) 271	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	Nov.	13,'37† 61	Sept. 11,'37
Alcatraz Island (G) 264 (Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 34; Dec. 25,'37, p. 54.)	John Litel-Ann Sheridan	Nov.	6,'37† 64	Oct. 23,'37
Back in Circulation (A) 266	Joan Blondell-Pat O'Brien	Sept.	25,'37† 82	Aug. 7,'37
Case of the Stuttering Bishop, The, 176	Donald Woods-Ann Dvorak	June	5,'37 70
Cherokee Strip 178	Dick Foran-Jane Bryan	May	15,'37 55
Confession (A) 158	Kay Francis-Ian Hunter	Aug.	28,'37 86	July 24,'37
Dance, Charlie Dance (G) 165	Stuart Erwin-Jean Muir	Aug.	14,'37 64	May 1,'37
Draegerman Courage (G) 168 (Exploitation: Nov. 27,'37, p. 79.)	Jean Muir-Barton MacLane	May	15,'37 58	Aug. 29,'36
Empty Holsters 179	Dick Foran-Patricia Walthall	July	10,'37
Ever Since Eve (G) 162	Marion Davies-R. Montgomery	July	17,'37 79	June 26,'37
Green Light (G) 154 (Exploitation: Mar. 27,'37, pp. 78, 81; Apr. 3,'37, p. 89; May 1,'37, p. 79; May 22,'37, p. 90; May 29,'37, p. 67; June 12,'37, p. 94; July 3,'37, p. 68.)	Errol Flynn-Anita Louise	Feb.	20,'37 85	Jan. 9,'37
Her Husband's Secretary (A) 173	Jean Muir-Warren Hull	Mar.	20,'37 61	Mar. 6,'37
Love Is on the Air (G) 289	Ronald Reagan-June Travis	Oct.	2,'37† 61	Oct. 16,'37
Marked Woman (A) 156	Bette Davis-H. Bogart	Apr.	10,'37 96	Mar. 6,'37
Men In Exile 174 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 21,'36.)	Richard Purcell-June Travis	Apr.	4,'37
Missing Witnesses (G) 273	Dick Purcell-Jean Dale	Dec.	11,'37† 61	Oct. 30,'37
Mountain Justice (A) 161	Josephine Hutchinson-G. Brent	Apr.	24,'37 82	May 22,'37
Mr. Dodd Takes the Air (G) 159 (Exploitation: Oct. 30,'37, p. 88.)	Kenny Baker-Jane Wyman	Aug.	21,'37 86	July 31,'37
Over the Goal (G) 272	William Hopper-June Travis	Oct.	16,'37† 63	Oct. 9,'37
Penrod and Sam (G) 172	Billy Mauch-Henry Watson	Feb.	28,'37 64	Jan. 16,'37
Perfect Specimen, The (G) 257	Errol Flynn-Joan Blondell	Oct.	23,'37† 97	Oct. 2,'37
Prairie Thunder 180	Dick Foran-Ellen Clancy	Sept.	11,'37
Prince and the Pauper, The (G) 152 (Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 68; June 26,'37, p. 121; July 3,'37, p. 68; Nov. 6,'37, p. 59.)	Mauch Twins-Errol Flynn	May	8,'37 120	Apr. 17,'37
San Quentin (G) 163	Pat O'Brien-Humphrey Bogart	Aug.	7,'37 70	Apr. 3,'37
She Loved a Fireman (G) 270	Dick Foran-Ann Sheridan	Dec.	18,'37† 57	Oct. 16,'37
Sh! the Octopus (G) 268	Hugh Herbert-Allen Jenkins	Dec.	11,'37† 54	Nov. 13,'37
Stolen Holiday (G) 157	Kay Francis-Ian Hunter	Feb.	6,'37 80	Dec. 26,'36
Submarine D-1 (G) 258 (Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 67.)	Pat O'Brien-George Brent	Nov.	27,'37† 105	Nov. 13,'37
Talent Scout (G) 166	Donald Woods-Jeanne Madden	July	24,'37 62	June 12,'37
That Certain Woman (A) 254 (Exploitation: Sept. 25,'37, p. 69.)	Bette Davis-Henry Fonda	Sept.	18,'37† 93	Aug. 7,'37
That Man's Here Again (G) 175	Mary Maguire-Tom Brown	Apr.	17,'37 58	Mar. 27,'37
They Won't Forget (A) 265 (See production article, "The Deep South," May 8,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 69; Nov. 20,'37, pp. 88, 92.)	Gloria Dickson-Claude Rains	Oct.	9,'37† 95	June 19,'37
West of Shanghai (G) 164 (Reviewed under the title, "War Lord.")	Boris Karloff-Beverly Roberts	Oct.	30,'37 65	July 17,'37

Coming

Accidents Will Happen	Ronald Reagan-Gloria Blondell
Daredevil Drivers, The 279	Dick Purcell-Beverly Roberts	Feb. 19,'38†
Girls on Probation	Bonita Granville-Dolores Costello
Gold Is Where You Find It 255 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)	George Brent-O. de Havilland	Feb. 12,'38†
Hollywood Hotel (G) 253	Dick Powell-Frances Langford	Jan. 22,'38† *110
Larger Than Life (G)	Frank McHugh-Ann Sheridan	*60
Slight Case of Murder, A (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Edw. G. Robinson-Jane Bryan
Women Are Like That (See "This Woman Is Dangerous," Oct. 23,'37.)	Kay Francis-Pat O'Brien

FRANK NORTON

(Greek Dialogue, English Titles)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Astero	Miss Kyveli	Feb.	21,'37 90
Far from the Crowd	Mary Tsagonis	Apr.	7,'37 82
Ftohea Toy Mpeam	Vasoula Manolidoy	Sept.	5,'37† 96
Kaincurgea Zoe	Rita Karmen	Nov.	7,'37† 115
Reborn	Elene Papadake	Dec.	5,'37† 90
True Love	Sophea Domogloy	Oct.	3,'37† 85

Coming

Greece of 1938	Newsreels	Jan.	9,'38† 90

GB PICTURES

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Backstage 3614	Anna Neagle-Arthur Tracy	Mar.	15,'37 65
Dr. Syn (G) 3603	Geo. Arliss-Margaret Lockwood	Oct.	15,'37 81	Sept. 18,'37
Gangway (G) 3605	Jessie Matthews-Nat Pendleton	Sept.	1,'37 88	Aug. 28,'37
Head Over Heels in Love (G) 3604 (Exploitation: Feb. 27,'37, p. 84; Mar. 13,'37, p. 78.)	Jessie Matthews-Louis Borell	Feb.	29,'37 81	Feb. 13,'37
King Solomon's Mines (G) 3618 (See production article, May 22,'37, p. 16.)	Cedric Hardwicke-Roland Young	Aug.	28,'37 76	July 3,'37
Look Out for Love	Anna Neagle-T. Carminati	Dec.	24,'37†
Non Stop New York (G) 7001	Anna Lee-Desmond Tester	Nov.	17,'37† 70	Oct. 2,'37
Sez O'Reilly to MacNab (G) 3602 (Reviewed under the title, "Said O'Reilly to McNab.")	Will Fyffe-Will Mahoney	Nov.	20,'37 83	July 17,'37
Silent Barriers (G) 3608 (See "The Great Barrier," production article, Feb. 6,'37, p. 10; exploitation: Apr. 3,'37, p. 65; May 1,'37, p. 81; June 26,'37, p. 121; July 17,'37, p. 90; July 24,'37, pp. 79, 81; Aug. 7,'37, p. 94; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96.)	Richard Arlen-Lilli Palmer	Apr.	29,'37 83	Feb. 27,'37
Talk of the Devil (G) 3607	Ricardo Cortez-Sally Eilers	June	1,'37 76	May 22,'37
Tenth Man, The (G) 3622	John Lodge-Antoinette Cellier	May	15,'37 65	Aug. 29,'36
Two of Us 3619	Jack Hulbert-Gina Malo	July	10,'37 64
Where There's a Will 3624	Will Hay	July	26,'37 74
You're in the Army Now (G) 3620 (Reviewed under the title, "O. H. M. S.")	Wallace Ford-Anna Lee	Mar.	1,'37 73	Feb. 20,'37

Coming

Asking for Trouble	Jessie Matthews
Bank Holiday	John Lodge-Margaret Lockwood
Girl Was Young, The (G) (Reviewed under the title, "Young and Innocent.") (See production article, Oct. 30,'37, p. 16.)	Nova Pilbeam-Derrick de Marney	Feb. 17,'38† 84 Dec. 11,'37
Sailing Along	Jessie Matthews-Jack Whiting	Jan. 20,'38†
Show Goes On, The	Anna Neagle-T. Carminati

GRAND NATIONAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Bank Alarm 139	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	June	25,'37 63
Boots of Destiny 204	Ken Maynard-Claire Dodd	Sept.	3,'37† 56
Damaged Goods 175	Pedro de Cordoba	Aug.	21,'37 60	July 10,'37
Forever Yours (G) 155	Benjamino Gigli	May	15,'37 70½	June 12,'37
Frontier Town 220	Tex Ritter	Nov.	19,'37† 60
Girl Loves Boy 124	Eric Linden-Cecilia Parker	Mar.	27,'37 77
Girl Said No, The (G) 210	Robt. Armstrong-Irene Hervey	Sept.	3,'37† 76½	May 29,'37
Gold Racket, The (G) 138	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	Apr.	10,'37 85½	May 1,'37
Here's Flash Casey (G) 211	Eric Linden-Boots Mallory	Oct.	22,'37† *63	Oct. 9,'37
Hideout in the Alps 199 (Reviewed under the title, Dusty Ermine.")	Jane Baxter-Anthony Bushell	July	23,'37 75	Oct. 10,'36
Hittin' the Trail 149	Tex Ritter-Jerry Bergh	Apr.	3,'37 58
Juggernaut (A) 154	Boris Karloff-Joan Wyndham	Apr.	30,'37 64	Oct. 17,'36
Killers of the Sea (G) 135	Capt. Wallace Casewell	May	8,'37 49	May 15,'37
Love Takes Flight (G) 206	Bruce Cabot-Beatrice Roberts	Sept.	17,'37† 71	Aug. 7,'37
Man in the Mirror, The (A) 112	E. E. Horton-Genevieve Tobin	Apr.	24,'37 71½	Jan. 16,'37
Mr. Boggs Steps Out (G) 216	Stuart Erwin-Helen Chandler	Nov.	12,'37† *65	Nov. 20,'37
Mystery of the Hooded Horsemen 151	Tex Ritter-Iris Meredith	Aug.	6,'37 60
Navy Spy 137	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	Mar.	13,'37 56
Renfrew of the Royal Mounted (G) 212	Jimmy Newill-Carol Hughes	Oct.	8,'37† 57	Oct. 10,'37
Riders of the Rockies 150	Tex Ritter-Louise Stanley	July	2,'37 66
Romance and Riches (G) 153 (Reviewed under the title, "The Amazing Quest.")	Cary Grant-Mary Brian	Feb.	27,'37 58½	Aug. 28,'36
Scotland Yard Commands (G) 152	Clive Brook-V. Hooper	Jan.	23,'37 61	Feb. 20,'37
Shadow Strikes, The (G) 202	Rod La Rocque-Lynn Anders	Sept.	10,'37† 61	July 17,'37
Sing, Cowboy, Sing (G) 145	Tex Ritter-Louise Stanley	May	22,'37 59	June 5,'37
Small Town Boy (G) 205 (Exploitation: Oct. 16,'37, p. 84.)	Stuart Erwin-Joyce Compton	Sept.	24,'37† 61	Dec. 4,'37
Something to Sing About (G) 210	James Cagney-E. Daw	Sept.	30,'37† 93	Sept. 4,'37
Sweetheart of the Navy 203	Eric Linden-Cecilia Parker	June	8,'37† 61
Swing It Sailor (G) 215	Wallace Ford-Isabel Jewell	Nov.	5,'37† *65	Nov. 13,'37
Tex Rides with the Boy Scouts (G) 214	Tex Ritter	Oct.	29,'37† 66	Nov. 6,'37
Trailin' Trouble 208	Ken Maynard	Sept.	24,'37† 57
Trouble in Texas (G) 148	Tex Ritter	Mar.	6,'37 63	Mar. 13,'37
Two Who Dared (A) 113 (Reviewed under the title, "A Woman Alone.")	Anna Sten-Henry Wilcoxon	May	8,'37 73	June 6,'36
23½ Hours Leave (G) 103	James Ellison-Terry Walker	Mar.	20,'37 61
Wallaby Jim of the Islands 213	Geo. Houston-Ruth Coleman	Oct.	15,'37† 72½	Mar. 6,'37

Coming

Death Takes a Cruise
Don't Lead With Your Heart	Anna Sten
Gorgeous	Anna Sten
Honolulu Honeymoon
King of the Sierras 207	Rex-Shiek
Law of the Golden West	Tex Ritter
Love Me Again	Anna Sten
Love Runs Into Money
Murder at the Rancho	Ken Maynard
Orchid Girl	Anna Sten
Painter in the Sky
Rollin' Plains 217	Tex Ritter
Shadow Speaks	Rod La Rocque-Astrid Allwyn
Snow Covered Wagons
Spy of Napoleon (G)	R. Barthelmess-D. Haas
Utah Trail	Tex Ritter

GUARANTEED

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Crime Patrol	Ray Walker-Geneva Mitchell	Feb.	15,'37 63
Luck of the Irish	Richard Hayward	Feb.	1,'37 68
This Is China		Dec.	1,'37† 68
White Ivory	Jack Mulhall	Mar.	1,'37 69

Coming

Early Bird, The	Richard Hayward
Irish and Proud of It	Richard Hayward
Jeanne	Gaby Morlay

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

HOFFBERG

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Ada Don't Do That	Polish Film	Oct.	15,'37† 82
Business In Distress	Czech Film	Oct.	15,'37† 90
Calling All Cars	Jack LaRue-Lillian Miles	Feb.	10,'37 62	Jan. 26,'35
Old Curiosity Shop, The (G)	Charles Dickens Story	Dec.	12,'37† 74	Feb. 2,'35
Phantom of Santa Fe	Nina Quartaro-Norman Kerry	Aug.	1,'37† 75
Rescue Squad	Ralph Forbes-Sheila Terry	Feb.	10,'37 82
Song of the Lark	Czech Film	Dec.	8,'37† 90
Student's Romance, The (G)	Patrie Knowles	Oct.	10,'37† 78	Aug. 10,'35
Voice of India	Hoefler Expedition	Oct.	1,'37† 70
Wedding of Palo, The (G)	Rasmussen's Eskimo Drama	Mar.	1,'37 85	Mar. 20,'37

Coming

I Give My Heart	Gitta Alpar		78
Invitation to the Waltz	Lilian Harvey		74
Kathleen	Sally O'Neil-Irish Cast		75

HUNGARIA

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Affair of Honor	Gy Kabos	Sept.	11,'37† 9 rls
All Men Are Wild	Paul Javor	Oct.	21,'37† 9 rls
Anniversary	Imre Raday-Ida Turay	Dec.	10,'37† 10 rls
Bride from Torocke	Paul Javor	Oct.	1,'37† 10 rls
Eighty Miles an Hour	Gy Kabos-M. Erdely	Nov.	19,'37† 8 rls
Exception Granted	Imre Raday-Klari Tolnay	June	11,'37 9 rls
Extra, Extra!	Gy Kabos	Feb.	20,'37 8 rls
Honeymoon On Cut-Rate	Paul Javor-I. Agal	Feb.	6,'37 8 rls
Hotel Springtime	Gq Kabos-Anna Tekes	Nov.	30,'37† 10 rls
I Picked You for My Husband	Paul Javor	Nov.	4,'37† 9 rls
It Happened in Budapest	Gy Kabos-Zita Perezel	Sept.	21,'37† 9 rls
Pay, Madame	Paul Javor	May	30,'37 8 rls
Sport of Love, The	Gy Kabos-Ida Turay	Dec.	24,'37† 8 rls
Two Prisoners	Paul Javor	Oct.	12,'37† 10 rls

Coming

Man Sometimes Errs	A. Tekes-A. Pager	Feb.	4,'38† 10 rls
Sutyi, the Lucky Child	Adam Klari	Jan.	11,'38† 9 rls
Village Rogue, The	M. Dayka-Z. Gregor	Jan.	21,'38† 10 rls

IMPERIAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Dead March, The (A)	Boake Carter	Sept.	15,'37† 73	Sept. 11,'37
Rich Relations	Ralph Forbes-Frances Grant	Feb.	1,'37 90
With Pleasure, Madame	Conrad Nagel-Marta Labarr	Apr.	15,'37 90

Coming

Back from Reno
Beauty Racket
Deerslayer
Honor Among Women
I Demand Payment	Betty Burgess-Jack LaRue
Night of Crime
Sky Girl

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Bad Guy (G) 743	Bruce Cabot-Virginia Grey	Aug.	27,'37 69	Aug. 28,'37
Bad Man at Brimstone 812	Wallace Beery-V. Bruce	Dec.	31,'37† 89
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 23,'37.)
Beg, Borrow or Steal (G) 814	Frank Morgan-Florence Rice	Dec.	3,'37† 72	Dec. 4,'37
Between Two Women (G) 737	Virginia Bruce-Franchot Tone	July	9,'37 89	July 3,'37
Big City (A) 801	Spencer Tracy-Luise Rainer	Sept.	3,'37† 80	Sept. 4,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 72; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78; Dec. 18,'37, p. 64; Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)
Bride Wore Red, The (G) 804	Joan Crawford-Franchot Tone	Oct.	8,'37† 103	Oct. 2,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)
Broadway Melody of 1938 (G) 739	Eleanor Powell-Robt. Taylor	Aug.	20,'37 110	Aug. 21,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)
Captains Courageous (G) 717	F. Bartholomew-Spencer Tracy	June	25,'37 116	Apr. 3,'37
(See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 12; exploitation: May 15,'37, p. 94; July 31,'37, p. 82; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 91, 92; Aug. 21,'37, pp. 76, 78; Aug. 28,'37, p. 97; Sept. 4,'37, pp. 95, 97; Oct. 2,'37, p. 77.)
Conquest (A) 805	Greta Garbo-Charles Boyer	Oct.	22,'37† 112	Oct. 30,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70; Dec. 11,'37, p. 76.)
Day at the Races, A (G) 730	Marx Brothers-Allan Jones	June	11,'37 111	June 19,'37
(See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 12; exploitation: May 15,'37, p. 94; July 10,'37, p. 86; July 17,'37, p. 89; Apr. 7,'37, p. 91; Oct. 16,'37, p. 84.)
Double Wedding (G) 807	William Powell-Myrna Loy	Oct.	15,'37† 87	Sept. 25,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 11,'37, p. 77.)
Emperor's Candlesticks, The (G) 733	William Powell-Luise Rainer	July	2,'37 89	July 3,'37
Espionage (G) 723	Edmund Lowe-Madge Evans	Feb.	26,'37 67	Mar. 6,'37
Family Affair, A 632	Lionel Barrymore-Cecilia Parker	Mar.	12,'37 69	Mar. 20,'37
Firefly, The (G) 809	Jeanette MacDonald-Allan Jones	Nov.	5,'37† 138	July 24,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, pp. 71, 76; Dec. 25,'37, pp. 55, 58.)
General Spanky (G) 714	Spanky McFarland-P. Holmes	Dec.	11,'36 72	Oct. 31,'36
Good Earth, The (A) 741	Paul Muni-Luise Rainer	Aug.	6,'37 139	Feb. 6,'37
(See production article, July 11,'36, p. 76; exploitation: Feb. 6,'37, p. 72; Feb. 20,'37, p. 85; Apr. 3,'37, p. 69; May 1,'37, p. 83; May 15,'37, pp. 96, 99; June 12,'37, p. 94; July 10,'37, p. 87; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 90, 92; Sept. 18,'37, pp. 82, 85; Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 67; Oct. 23,'37, p. 82.)
Good Old Soak (G) 728	Wallace Beery-Betty Furness	Apr.	23,'37 76	Apr. 24,'37
(Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 67; June 26,'37, p. 121.)
Hell Divers (re-issue) (G)	Clark Gable-Wallace Beery	June	4,'37 109	Dec. 26,'31
Last Gangster, The (A) 810	E. G. Robinson-Rose Stradner	Nov.	12,'37† 81	Nov. 13,'37
Last of Mrs. Cheyney, The 719	Joan Crawford-William Powell	Feb.	19,'37 98	Feb. 27,'37
(Exploitation: Apr. 3,'37, p. 86; May 15,'37, p. 94; June 12,'37, p. 92.)
Live, Love and Learn (G) 808	Robt. Montgomery-R. Russell	Oct.	29,'37† 78	Oct. 23,'37
London By Night (G) 740	George Murphy-Rita Johnson	July	30,'37 69	July 24,'37
Madame X (A) 806	Gladys George-Warren William	Oct.	1,'37† 72	Oct. 2,'37
Mama Steps Out (G) 721	Guy Kibbee-Alice Brady	Feb.	5,'37 65	Feb. 6,'37
Manhattan Melodrama (re-issue) (G)	C. Gable-M. Loy-W. Powell	July	2,'37 90	Apr. 28,'34
Married Before Breakfast (G) 736	Robt. Young-Florence Rice	June	18,'37 70	June 26,'37
Maytime (G) 720	J. MacDonald-Nelson Eddy	Mar.	26,'37 132	Mar. 13,'37
(Musical analysis: Mar. 27,'37, p. 15; exploitation: Feb. 27,'37, p. 85; Apr. 4,'37, p. 64; Apr. 17,'37, p. 78; May 22,'37, p. 89; June 5,'37, pp. 68, 69; July 24,'37, p. 80.)
My Dear Miss Aldrich (G) 803	Edna May Oliver-W. Pidgeon	Sept.	17,'37† 73	Sept. 11,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)
Naughty Marietta (re-issue) (G)	Jeanette MacDonald-N. Eddy	Aug.	6,'37 105	Mar. 2,'35
Navy Blue and Gold (G) 811	Lionel Barrymore-Robt. Young	Nov.	19,'37† 94	Nov. 20,'37
Night Must Fall (A) 727	Robt. Montgomery-R. Russell	Apr.	30,'37 117	Apr. 10,'37
Nobody's Baby (G) 729	Patsy Kelly-Robt. Armstrong	Apr.	23,'37 67	Feb. 6,'37
Parnell (G) 722	Clark Gable-Myrna Loy	June	4,'37 119	June 12,'37
(See production article, Feb. 13,'37, p. 16.)
Personal Property (G) 725	Jean Harlow-Robert Taylor	Mar.	19,'37 84	Mar. 20,'37
(Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 79; June 12,'37, p. 93.)
Pick a Star (G) 735	Jack Haley-Patsy Kelly	May	21,'37 70	Apr. 24,'37
Romeo and Juliet (G) 1100	Norma Shearer-Leslie Howard	Apr.	16,'37 127	July 17,'36
(See production article, Mar. 28,'36, p. 16; exploitation: Jan. 9,'37, p. 68; Jan. 23,'37, p. 79; Jan. 30,'37, p. 83; Feb. 6,'37, p. 77; Apr. 17,'37, pp. 78, 79; Apr. 24,'37, p. 94; May 1,'37, p. 80; May 8,'37, p. 74; May 29,'37, p. 70; June 26,'37, pp. 118, 119, 123; July 3,'37, pp. 69, 70; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 24,'37, p. 80; July 31,'37, p. 80.)
Rosalie (G) 816	Eleanor Powell-Nelson Eddy	Dec.	24,'37† 122	Dec. 25,'37
(See production article, Nov. 6,'37, p. 34.)
Saratoga (G) 742	Clark Gable-Jean Harlow	July	23,'37 94	July 24,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 98.)
Sinner Take All (A) 712	Bruce Cabot-Margaret Lindsay	Dec.	18,'36 74	Dec. 18,'36
Song of the City (G) 724	Dean Jeffries-Margaret Lindsay	Apr.	2,'37 69	Mar. 27,'37
They Gave Him a Gun (A) 731	S. Tracy-G. George-F. Tone	May	14,'37 94	May 15,'37
Thirteenth Chair, The (G) 732	Madge Evans-Henry Daniell	May	7,'37 66	May 8,'37
Thoroughbreds Don't Cry (G) 813	Mickey Rooney-Judy Garland	Nov.	26,'37† 80	Nov. 20,'37
Topper (G) 738	Constance Bennett-Cary Grant	July	16,'37 97	July 17,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 75; Oct. 2,'37, pp. 76, 77; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Oct. 30,'37, p. 86; Nov. 20,'37, p. 82; Dec. 11,'37, p. 76; Dec. 18,'37, p. 69.)
Trader Horn (re-issue) (G)	Harry Carey-Edwina Booth	May	reissue 126	Jan. 24,'31
Way Out West (G) 734	Laurel and Hardy	Apr.	16,'37 64	Jan. 2,'37
(Exploitation: July 17,'37, p. 92.)
Women Men Marry, The (A) 802	J. Hutchinson-George Murphy	Sept.	10,'37† 61	Sept. 11,'37
You're Only Young Once (G) 815	Lewis Stone-Mickey Rooney	Dec.	10,'37† 77	Nov. 27,'37

Coming

Arsene Lupin Returns	Virginia Bruce-Melvyn Douglas	Feb.	25,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)
Benefits Forgot	Walter Huston-James Stewart	Feb.	11,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Everybody Sing	Allan Jones-Judy Garland	Jan.	21,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Fanny	Wallace Beery-M. O'Sullivan	Apr.	1,'38†
Girl of the Golden West	Jeanette MacDonald-N. Eddy	Mar.	18,'38†
Love Is a Headache	Gladys George-Franchot Tone	Feb.	4,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)
Mannequin (G)	Joan Crawford-Spencer Tracy	Jan.	28,'38† 95	Dec. 18,'37
Man-Proof (A) 817	Myrna Loy-Franchot Tone	Jan.	7,'38† 71	Dec. 18,'37
Merrily We Live	Constance Bennett-Brian Aherne	Mar.	11,'38†
Test Pilot	C. Gable-M. Loy-S. Tracy	Mar.	25,'38†
Three Men in the Snow 818	Frank Morgan-Robt. Young	Jan.	14,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)
Yank at Oxford, A	Robt. Taylor-M. O'Sullivan	Feb.	18,'38†

MONOGRAM

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Atlantic Flight (G)	Dick Merrill-Paula Stone	Aug.	25,'37† 59	Sept. 25,'37
Blazing Barriers (G)	Edw. Arnold, Jr.-F. McKinney	July	4,'37† 65	Nov. 20,'37
Boy of the Streets (G)	Jackie Cooper-Maureen O'Connor	Dec.	8,'37† 76	Dec. 11,'37
Bride for Henry, A (G)	Anne Nagle-Warren Hull	Sept.	29,'37† 58	Oct. 2,'37
County Fair (G)	John Ariedge-Mary Lou Lender	Nov.	24,'37† 72	Nov. 20,'37
Danger Valley	Jack Randall-Lois Wilde	Nov.	3,'37† 53
Federal Bullets (G)	Terry Walker-Milburn Stone	Oct.	30,'37† 61	Oct. 30,'37
God's Country and the Man	Tom Keene	Sept.	2,'37† 56
Hoosier Schoolboy (G)	Mickey Rooney-Anne Nagel	July	7,'37† 62	July 3,'37
Legion of Missing Men	Ralph Forbes	July	28,'37† 62
Luck of Roaring Camp	Owen Davis, Jr.-Joan Woodbury	Nov.	17,'37† 59
Outer Gate	Ralph Morgan-Kay Linaker	Aug.	4,'37† 62
Paradise Isle (G)	Warren Hull-Movita	July	21,'37† 73	Aug. 14,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 18,'37, p. 83.)
Riders of the Dawn (G)	Jack Randall-Peggy Keys	July	14,'37† 55	Aug. 21,'37
Romance of the Rockies	Tom Keene-Beryl Wallace	Dec.	15,'37† 53
Shadows of the Orient (G)	Regis Toomey-Esther Ralston	Aug.	18,'37† 69
Stars Over Arizona (G)	Jack Randall-Kathleen Eliot	Sept.	22,'37† 62	Sept. 25,'37
Telephone Operator	Judith Allen-Grant Withers	Dec.	8,'37†
Thirteenth Man	Weldon Heyburn-I. Courtney	June	30,'37† 70
Where Trails Divide	Tom Keene	Oct.	13,'37† 59

Coming

Code of the Range	Tim McCoy
Female Fugitive
Marines Are Here, The
My Old Kentucky Home	Grant Richards-Evelyn Venable
Painted Trail	Tom Keene
Port of Missing Girls
Ridin' Gent	Tim McCoy
Romance of the Limberlost	Milburn Stone
Rose of the Rio Grande	Movita

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Saleslady	Anne Nagel-Weldon Heyburn
Wanderer of the West	Jack Randall
West of Rainbow's End	Tim McCoy-Nora Lane
Where the West Begins	Jack Randall	Feb.	2,'38†

PARAMOUNT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Angel (A) 3714	Marlene Dietrich-H. Marshall	Oct.	29,'37† 98.	Sept. 25,'37
Artists and Models (G) 3702	Jack Benny-Gail Patrick	Aug.	13,'37† 97.	Aug. 7,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 18,'37, p. 83; Nov. 27,'37, pp. 79, 84; Dec. 4,'37, p. 72.)
Barrier, The (G) 3716	Leo Carrillo-Jean Parker	Nov.	12,'37† *93.	Nov. 6,'37
(See production article, Sept. 18,'37, p. 14.)
Blonde Trouble 3701	Johnny Downs-E. Whitney	Aug.	6,'37† 67.	Aug. 7,'37
Blossoms on Broadway (G) 3718	Edward Arnold-Shirley Ross	Nov.	19,'37† 82.	Nov. 20,'37
(See production article, Sept. 25,'37, p. 16.)
Born to the West 3721	John Wayne-Marsha Hunt	Dec.	10,'37†
Bulldog Drummond Comes Back (G) 3709	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell	Sept.	24,'37† 64.	Sept. 11,'37
Crime Nobody Saw, The (G) 3635	Lew Ayres-Ruth Coleman	Mar.	12,'37 60.	Apr. 17,'37
Daughter of Shanghai (G) 3722	Anna May Wong-Chas. Bickford	Dec.	17,'37† *60.	Dec. 18,'37
Double Or Nothing (G) 3707	Bing Crosby-Martha Raye	Sept.	17,'37† 95.	Aug. 21,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 23,'37, p. 82; Oct. 30,'37, p. 84; Nov. 20,'37, p. 97.)
Easy Living (G) 3652	Jean Arthur-Edw. Arnold	July	16,'37† 88.	July 10,'37
Ebb Tide (A)	Oscar Homolka-Frances Farmer	Nov.	26,'38† 94.	Oct. 2,'37
Exclusive (G) 3653	F. MacMurray-Frances Farmer	July	30,'37 85.	July 31,'37
Ferlorn River (G) 3650	June Martel-Larry Crabbe	July	2,'37 56.	July 3,'37
Girl from Scotland Yard 3638	Karen Morley-Robert Baldwin	Apr.	2,'37 61.
Great Gambini, The (G) 3648	Akim Tamiroff-Marian Marsh	June	25,'37 70.	July 24,'37
Her Husband Lies (A) 3636	Ricardo Cortez-Gail Patrick	Mar.	19,'37 76.	Mar. 20,'37
High, Wide and Handsome (G) 3710	Irene Dunne-Randolph Scott	Oct.	1,'37† 112.	July 24,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70.)
Hills of Old Wyoming (G) 3669	William Boyd-George Hayes	Apr.	16,'37 79.	Apr. 17,'37
Hopalong Rides Again (G) 3753	William Boyd-George Hayes	Sept.	3,'37† 65.	Aug. 21,'37
Hold 'Em Navy (G) 3715	Lew Ayres-Mary Carlisle	Nov.	5,'37† 67.	Oct. 23,'37
Hotel Haywire (G) 3645	Lee Carrillo-Mary Carlisle	June	4,'37 66.	May 22,'37
I Met Him in Paris (G) 3644	Claudette Colbert-M. Douglas	May	28,'37 86.	May 29,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 67.)
Internes Can't Take Money (A) 3639	Barbara Stanwyck-Joel McCrea	Apr.	9,'37 79.	Apr. 17,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 98.)
King of Gamblers (A) 3640	Lloyd Nolan-Claire Trevor	Apr.	23,'37 78.	Apr. 24,'37
Last Train from Madrid (G) 3646	Lew Ayres-Dorothy Lamour	June	11,'37 77.	June 12,'37
Love on Toast 3720	Stella Ardler-John Payne	Dec.	3,'37† 65.
Make Way for Tomorrow (G) 3641	Beulah Bondi-Victor Moore	Apr.	30,'37 92.	May 1,'37
(Exploitation: July 24,'37, p. 80; July 31,'37, p. 82; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 69, 70; Oct. 30,'37, p. 88; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92.)
Midnight Madonna (G) 3649	Warren William-Mady Correll	July	2,'37 65.	June 12,'37
Mountain Music (G) 3647	Bob Burns-Martha Raye	June	18,'37 77.	June 19,'37
(Exploitation: July 17,'37, p. 89; July 24,'37, pp. 79, 81; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 90, 92; Sept. 4,'37, p. 95; Sept. 18,'37, p. 86; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Dec. 4,'37, p. 72.)
Murder Goes to College (G) 3633	Roscoe Karns-Marsha Hunt	Mar.	5,'37 71.	Mar. 6,'37
Night Club Scandal (G) 3717	Lynne Overman-J. Barrymore	Nov.	19,'37† 70.	Oct. 23,'37
Night of Mystery, A (A) 3643	Roscoe Karns-Ruth Coleman	May	21,'37 75.	May 22,'37
North of the Rio Grande (G) 3670	William Boyd-George Hayes	June	25,'37 70.	June 26,'37
On Such a Night (A) 3704	Karen Morley-Grant Richards	Aug.	27,'37† 73.	Aug. 21,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 66.)
Partners in Crime 3711	Lynne Overman-Roscoe Karns	Oct.	8,'37† 62.
Plainsman, The (G) 3624	Gary Cooper-Jean Arthur	Jan.	1,'37 113.	Nov. 28,'36
(Exploitation: Jan. 30,'37, p. 85; Feb. 20,'37, p. 82; Feb. 27,'37, p. 83; Mar. 6,'37, p. 91; Mar. 13,'37, p. 80; Mar. 20,'37, pp. 78, 82; Mar. 27,'37, pp. 80, 82, 83; Apr. 3,'37, p. 66; Apr. 24,'37, p. 93; May 29,'37, p. 68; Aug. 21,'37, p. 75.)
Rustlers' Valley (G) 3671	William Boyd-George Hayes	July	23,'37 60.	July 10,'37
She Asked for It (G) 3708	Wm. Gargan-Orien Hayward	Sept.	17,'37† 68.	Sept. 4,'37
She's No Lady (G) 3703	Ann Dvorak-John Trent	Aug.	20,'37† 62.	Aug. 7,'37
Sophie Lang Goes West (G) 3706	Gert. Michael-Larry Crabbe	Sept.	10,'37† 65.	Sept. 4,'37
Souls at Sea (G) 3705	Gary Cooper-George Raft	Sept.	3,'37† 92.	Aug. 14,'37
(See production article, Jan. 30,'37, p. 16.)
Swing High, Swing Low (G) 3634	Carole Lombard-F. MacMurray	Mar.	12,'37 97.	Mar. 20,'37
Texas Trail (G) 3754	William Boyd-George Hayes	Nov.	26,'37† 63.	Oct. 9,'37
This Way, Please (G) 3712	C. (Buddy) Rogers-Betty Grable	Oct.	15,'37† 63.	Sept. 18,'37
Thunder Trail (G) 3713	Gilbert Roland-Marsha Hunt	Oct.	22,'37† 58.	Oct. 2,'37
(Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 67.)
True Confession (A) 3723	C. Lombard-Fred MacMurray	Dec.	24,'37† *84.	Nov. 20,'37
Turn Off the Moon (G) 3642	Chas. Ruggles-Eleanore Whitney	May	14,'37 80.	May 29,'37
Waikiki Wedding (G) 3637	Bing Crosby-Shirley Ross	Mar.	26,'37 89.	Apr. 3,'37
(Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 81; May 15,'37, p. 89; June 5,'37, p. 67; June 12,'37, pp. 92, 93; July 3,'37, p. 70; July 10,'37, p. 80; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 31,'37, p. 83; Aug. 28,'37, p. 98; Sept. 11,'37, p. 83; Sept. 18,'37, p. 86.)
Wells Fargo (G) 3724	Joel McCrea-Frances Dee	Dec.	31,'37† *115.	Dec. 11,'37
Wild Money 3651	Edward Everett Horton	July	9,'37 69.

Coming

Big Broadcast of 1938	W. C. Fields-Martha Raye
(See production article, Nov. 20,'37, p. 14.)
Bluebeard's Eighth Wife	Claudette Colbert-Gary Cooper
Buccaneer, The	Fredric March-Franciska Gaal
(See production article, Oct. 23,'37, p. 14.)
Bulldog Drummond's Peril	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell
Bulldog Drummond's Revenge (G)	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell	Jan.	7,'38† 60.	Nov. 6,'37
Cassidy of Bar 20	Wm. Boyd-Frank Darien
College Swing	Martha Raye-Burns & Allen
Dangerous to Know	Anna May Wong-Akim Tamiroff
Deputy Sheriff	Wm. Boyd-Gwen Gaze
Doctor Rhythm	Bing Crosby-Beatrice Lillie
Every Day's a Holiday (A)	Mae West-Edmund Lowe	Jan.	14,'38† *80.	Dec. 25,'37
Good Night, Ladies	Eleanore Whitney-J. Downs
Her Jungle Love	Dorothy Lamour-Ray Milland
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)
Partners of the Plains (G)	Wm. Boyd-George Hayes	Jan.	28,'38† *70.	Dec. 11,'37
Professor Beware	Harold Lloyd-Phyllis Welch
Romance in the Dark	Gladys Swarthout-John Boles
(See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)
Scandal Street	Lew Ayres-Louise Campbell
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Stolen Heaven	Gene Raymond-Olympe Bradna
Thrill of a Lifetime (G)	Eleanore Whitney-Johnny Downs	Jan.	21,'38† *75.	Nov. 13,'37

RAY KIRKWOOD

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Fighting Vagabonds	Bobby Nelson-Donald Reed	Feb.	19,'37†
Masked Devil, The	Bobby Nelson-Donald Reed	Apr.	4,'37†

RELIABLE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Santa Fe Rides	Bob Custer	Feb.	25,'37 58.
Silver Trail	Rin-Tin-Tin, Jr.-Rex Lease	Feb.	28,'37 56.

Coming

Apache Trail	Bob Custer
Frontier Fury	Bob Custer
Outlaw River	Rin-Tin-Tin, Jr.
Prairie Terror	Bob Custer
Thundering Stampede	Bob Custer

REPUBLIC

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Affairs of Cappy Ricks, The (G) 6027	Walter Brennan-Mary Brian	May	24,'37 56.	June 5,'37
All Over Town (G) 6020	Olson and Johnson	Sept.	8,'37 61.	Aug. 28,'37
Arizona Gunfighter 7121	Bob Steele-Jean Carmen	Sept.	20,'37† 56.
Bill Cracks Down (G) 6028	Grant Withers-Beatrice Roberts	Mar.	22,'37 59.	Mar. 27,'37
Boothill Brigade 6328	Johnny Mack Brown-C. Rochelle	Aug.	2,'37 53.
Boots and Saddles (G) 7106	Gene Autry-Judith Allen	Oct.	4,'37† 59.	Nov. 13,'37
Bulldog Drummond at Bay (G) 6025	John Lodge-Dorothy Mackaill	July	31,'37 62.	July 31,'37
Circus Girl 6014	June Travis-Bob Livingston	Mar.	1,'37 62.
(See "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 13,'37.)
Colorado Kid (G) 7123	Bob Steele-Marian Weldon	Dec.	6,'37† 55.	Dec. 18,'37
Come On, Cowboys (G) 6317	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	May	24,'37 57.	May 29,'37
Dangerous Holiday (G) 6026	Ra Hould-Hedda Hopper	June	7,'37 57.	July 31,'37
Doomed at Sundown 6337	Bob Steele-Lorraine Hayes	June	7,'37 53.
Duke Comes Back, The (G) 7018	Allan Lane-Heather Angel	Nov.	29,'37† 64.	Dec. 11,'37
Escape by Night (G) 7015	Wm. Hall-Anne Nagel	Sept.	20,'37† 64.	Sept. 4,'37
Exiled in Shanghai (G) 7019	June Travis-Wallace Ford	Dec.	20,'37† 64.	Dec. 18,'37
Gambling Terror, The 6324	Johnny Mack Brown-I. Meredith	Feb.	15,'37 53.
Git Along Little Dogies (G) 6302	Gene Autry-Judith Allen	Mar.	22,'37 62.	Apr. 3,'37
Glamorous Night (G) 7017	Mary Ellis-Victor Jory	Dec.	6,'37† 60.	May 15,'37
Gun Lords of Stirrup Basin 6336	Bob Steele-Louise Stanley	May	10,'37 53.
Gunsmoke Ranch 6316	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	May	5,'37 56.
Guns in the Dark 6326	Johnny Mack Brown-C. Rochelle	Apr.	14,'37 56.
Heart of the Rockies 7111	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	Sept.	6,'37† 56.
Hit Parade, The (G) 6002	Frances Langford-Phil Regan	Apr.	26,'37 83.	Apr. 10,'37
(Exploitation: July 10,'37, p. 86.)
Hit the Saddle 6315	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	Mar.	3,'37 57.
It Could Happen to You 6016	Alan Baxter-Andrea Leeds	June	28,'37 64.
(See "In the Cutting Room," May 15,'37.)
Jim Hanvey, Detective 6005	Guy Kibbee-Tom Brown	Apr.	5,'37 67.	Mar. 27,'37
Law Man Is Born, A 6327	Johnny Mack Brown-I. Meredith	June	21,'37 61.
Lightnin' Crandall 6335	Bob Steele-Lois January	Mar.	24,'37 60.
Man Betrayed, A (G) 6012	Eddie Nugent-Kay Hughes	Dec.	28,'36 56.	Jan. 16,'37
Manhattan Merry-Go-Round (G) 7001	Phil Regan-Ann Dvorak	Nov.	13,'37† 84.	Nov. 13,'37
Meet the Boy Friend (G) 6018	Carol Hughes-David Carlyle	July	12,'37 63.	July 31,'37
Michael O'Halloran (Spec.)	Wynne Gibson-Warren Hull	May	15,'37 67.
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 10,'37.)
Navy Blues (G) 6015	Mary Brian-Dick Purcell	Apr.	19,'37 68.	May 1,'37
Paradise Express (G) 6029	Grant Withers-Dorothy Appleby	Feb.	22,'37 56.	Mar. 13,'37
Portia on Trial (A) 6001	Frieda Inescort-Walter Abel	Nov.	8,'37† 72.	Nov. 6,'37
Public Cowboy No. 1 (G) 7105	Gene Autry-Ann Rutherford	Aug.	23,'37† 59.	Oct. 9,'37
Range Defenders (G) 6318	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	June	30,'37 56.	July 24,'37
Red Rope, The 6338	Bob Steele-Lois January	July	19,'37 60.
Rhythm in the Clouds (G) 6017	Warren Hull-Patricia Ellis	June	21,'37 62.	July 3,'37
Ridin' the Lone Trail 7122	Bob Steele-Claire Rochelle	Nov.	1,'37† 56.
Rootin' Tootin' Rhythm (G) 6307	Gene Autry-Armida	May	12,'37 60.	May 8,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Sea Racketeers (G) 6019	Weldon Heyburn-Jeanne Madden	Aug.	16,'37	64.	Aug. 14,'37
Sheik Steps Out, The (G) 6006	Ramon Novarro-Lola Lane	Sept.	6,'37	66
Springtime in the Rockies (G) 7101	Gene Autry-Polly Rowles	Nov.	15,'37†	60.	Nov. 27,'37
Trail of Vengeance 6325	Johnny Mack Brown-I. Meredith	Mar.	29,'37	54
Trigger Trio 7112	Ray Corrigan-Max Terhune	Oct.	18,'37†	56
Two Wise Maids (G) 6004	Alison Skipworth-Polly Moran	Feb.	15,'37	68.	Feb. 6,'37
Wild Horse Rodeo (G) 7113	Three Mesquiteers	Dec.	6,'37†	56.	Dec. 18,'37
Wrong Road, The (G) 7016	Richard Cromwell-Helen Mack	Oct.	11,'37†	62.	Sept. 25,'37
Yodelin' Kid from Pine Ridge (G) 6308	Gene Autry-Betty Bronson	June	14,'37	60.	June 26,'37
Youth on Parole (G) 6022	Gordon Oliver-Marian Marsh	Oct.	4,'37	62.	Oct. 23,'37
Coming
Born To Be Wild	Ralph Byrd-Doris Weston
Lady Behave! (See "The Lady Misbehaves," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 20,'37.)	Sally Eilers-Neil Hamilton	Jan.	5,'38†	67
Mama Runs Wild (G)	Mary Boland-Ernest Truex	Jan.	19,'38†	*60.	Dec. 25,'37
Old Barn Dance, The	Gene Autry-Smiley Burnette	Jan.	15,'38†
Outside of Paradise	Phil Regan-Penny Singleton	Jan.	31,'38†
Paroled to Die 7124	Bob Steele-Kathleen Elliott	Jan.	10,'38†
Purple Vigilantes 7114	Three Mesquiteers	Jan.	24,'38†
Stormy Weather	Alison Skipworth-Polly Moran

RKO RADIO

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Annapolis Salute (G) 802	James Ellison-Marsha Hunt	Sept.	10,'37†	65.	Aug. 21,'37
Behind the Headlines (G) 727	Lee Tracy-Diana Gibson	May	14,'37	58.	June 12,'37
Big Shot, The (G) 735	Guy Kibbee-Cora Witherspoon	July	23,'37	60.	July 31,'37
Border Cafe (G) 730	John Beal-Armida	June	4,'37	67.	May 29,'37
Breakfast for Two (G) 737	Barbara Stanwyck-H. Marshall	Oct.	22,'37†	65.	Oct. 9,'37
China Passage (G) 718	Constance Worth-V. Haworth	Mar.	12,'37	65.	Apr. 24,'37
Damsel in Distress, A (G) 738	Fred Astaire-Burns & Allen	Nov.	19,'37	101.	Nov. 27,'37
Danger Patrol (G) 812	John Beal-Sally Eilers	Dec.	3,'37†	60.	Nov. 20,'37
Don't Tell the Wife (G) 720	Guy Kibbee-Una Merkel	Mar.	5,'37	62.	Feb. 27,'37
Fight for Your Lady (G) 808	John Boles-Ida Lupino	Nov.	5,'37†	67.	Oct. 2,'37
Fit for a King (G) 848	Joe E. Brown-Helen Mack	Oct.	15,'37†	73.	Sept. 4,'37
Flight from Glory (G) 736	Chester Morris-Whitney Bourne	Aug.	20,'37	67.	Aug. 14,'37
Forty Naughty Girls (G) 803	James Gleason-Zasu Pitts	Sept.	24,'37†	63.	Sept. 4,'37
Hideaway (G) 733	Fred Stone-Marjorie Lord	Aug.	13,'37	58.	July 31,'37
High Flyers (G)	Wheeler and Woolsey	Nov.	26,'37†	70.	Nov. 20,'37
Hitting a New High (G)	Lily Pons-John Howard	Dec.	24,'37†	85.	Dec. 4,'37
Hollywood Cowboy (G) 733	George O'Brien-Cecilia Parker	May	28,'37	64.	July 31,'37
Life of the Party, The (G) 801 (Exploitation: Oct. 23,'37, p. 82.)	Gene Raymond-Harriet Hilliard	Sept.	3,'37†	77.	Aug. 28,'37
Living on Love (G) 809	James Dunn-Whitney Bourne	Nov.	12,'37†	61.	Oct. 30,'37
Make a Wish (G) 745	Bobby Breen-Basil Rathbone	Aug.	27,'37	77.	Sept. 4,'37
Man Who Found Himself, The (G) 722	John Beal-Joan Fontaine	Apr.	2,'37	67.	Mar. 13,'37
Meet the Missus (G) 729	Victor Moore-Helen Broderick	June	4,'37	60.	May 29,'37
Music for Madame (G) 804	Nino Martini-Joan Fontaine	Oct.	1,'37†	81.	Sept. 18,'37
New Faces of 1937 (G) 732 (Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 70.)	Joe Penner-Harriet Hilliard	July	2,'37	100.	July 10,'37
On Again—Off Again (G) 725	Wheeler and Woolsey	July	9,'37	68.	July 17,'37
Outcasts of Poker Flat, The (G) 710	Preston Foster-Jean Muir	Apr.	16,'37	68.	Mar. 20,'37
Quality Street (G) 709	Kath. Hepburn-Franchot Tone	Mar.	26,'37	84.	Mar. 30,'37
Quick Money (G) 811	Fred Stone-Dorothy Moore	Dec.	10,'37†	59.	Nov. 27,'37
Riding On Air (G) 771	Joe E. Brown-Florence Rice	June	18,'37	71.	June 12,'37
Saturday's Heroes (G) 805	Van Heflin-Marian Marsh	Oct.	8,'37†	60.	Sept. 18,'37
Shall We Dance (G) 724 (Exploitation: June 19,'37, p. 85; July 31,'37, p. 80.)	Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers	May	7,'37	116.	May 8,'37
Soldier and the Lady, The (A) 717 (Reviewed under the title, "Michael Strogoff.") (Exploitation: Mar. 13,'37, p. 79.)	Anton Walbrook-Eliz. Allan	Apr.	9,'37	85.	Feb. 27,'37
Stage Door (G) 806 (See production article, Aug. 14,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Dec. 11,'37, pp. 77, 78; Dec. 25,'37, pp. 54, 58.)	Kath. Hepburn-Ginger Rogers	Oct.	8,'37†	92.	Sept. 18,'37
Super Sleuth (G) 734	Jack Oakie-Ann Sothern	July	16,'37	70.	July 17,'37
There Goes My Girl (G) 728	Ann Sothern-Gene Raymond	May	21,'37	74.	June 5,'37
There Goes the Groom (G) 807	Burgess Meredith-Ann Sothern	Oct.	29,'37†	65.	Oct. 2,'37
Toast of New York (G) 719 (Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 86; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96; Sept. 26,'37, p. 68; Oct. 16,'37, p. 84; Nov. 27, p. 80; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)	Edward Arnold-Frances Farmer	July	30,'37	109.	July 17,'37
Too Many Wives (G) 723	Anne Shirley-John Morley	Apr.	9,'37	61.	Apr. 17,'37
Victoria the Great (G) 861 (Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 56.)	Anna Neagle-Anton Walbrook	Nov.	12,'37†	113.	Sept. 25,'37
We're on the Jury (G) 716	Helen Broderick-Victor Moore	Feb.	12,'37	71.	Jan. 23,'37
Windjammer 783 (See "In the Cutting Room," May 29,'37.)	George O'Brien-Constance Worth	Aug.	6,'37	58
Wise Girl (See "Women Have a Way," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 27,'37.)	Miriam Hopkins-Ray Milland	Dec.	31,'37†	70
Woman I Love, The (G) 721	Paul Muni-Miriam Hopkins	Apr.	23,'37	88.	Apr. 24,'37
You Can't Beat Love (G) 731	Preston Foster-Joan Fontaine	June	25,'37	62.	June 5,'37
You Can't Buy Luck (G) 726	Vinton Haworth-Helen Mack	Apr.	30,'37	61.	May 1,'37
Coming
Bringing Up Baby (See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 16,'37.)	Kath. Hepburn-Cary Grant	Feb.	18,'38†
Crashing Hollywood (See "Lights Out," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 20,'37.)	Lee Tracy-Joan Woodbury	Jan.	7,'38†	61
Everybody's Doing It (See "Easy Millions," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)	Sally Eilers-Preston Foster	Jan.	14,'38†	67
Having Wonderful Time (See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9,'37.)	Ginger Rogers-D. Fairbanks, Jr.	Feb.	11,'38†
Hawaii Calls (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)	Bobby Breen-Juanita Quigley	Jan.	28,'38†
Joy of Loving	Irene Dunne-D. Fairbanks, Jr.	May	6,'38†
Night Spot (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Allan Lane-Joan Woodbury	Feb.	25,'38†
Perfect Alibi, The (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Preston Foster-Whitney Bourne	Feb.	4,'38†
Radio City Revels	Bob Burns-Jack Oakie	Apr.	14,'38†
Rat, The (A)	Ruth Chatterton-Anton Walbrook	Jan.	21,'38†	73.	Nov. 27,'37
She's Got Everything (G)	Gene Raymond-Ann Sothern	Dec.	31,'37†	72.	Dec. 18,'37
Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs (G)	Walt Disney			*82.	Dec. 25,'37
Vivacious Lady	Ginger Rogers-James Stewart

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Star	Dist'r	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Harlem on the Prairie (G)	Herbert Jeffries	Associated	Dec.	9,'37	*55.	Nov. 27,'37
Heroes of the Alamo (G)	Earl Hodgins	Sunset	Aug.	19,'37	*75.	Aug. 7,'37
Melody of the Plains (G)	Fred Scott	Spectrum	Apr.	15,'37	*55.	Apr. 10,'37
Nation Aflame (G)	Noel Madison	Treasure	Oct.	16,'37	76.	Oct. 23,'37
Three Legionnaires (G)	Robt. Armstrong	General	June	15,'37	*60.	Mar. 27,'37
What Price Vengeance? (G)	Lyle Talbot	Rialto	June	1,'37	57.	June 12,'37
Zamboanga (G)	Native Cast		July	17,'37	*65.	July 17,'37
Coming
Rangers Roundup (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Fred Scott	Spectrum
River, The (G)	Documentary Film	U. S. Govt.				31 Dec. 11,'37

TWENTIETH CENTURY-FOX

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Ali Baba Goes to Town (G) 815	Eddie Cantor-June Lang	Oct.	29,'37†	81.	Oct. 23,'37
Angel's Holiday (G) 754	Jane Withers-Robert Kent	June	4,'37	71.	May 8,'37
Big Business (G) 759	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	June	18,'37	61.	Apr. 17,'37
Big Town Girl (G) 822	Claire Trevor-Donald Woods	Dec.	3,'37†	70.	Nov. 13,'37
Borneo 807	Mr. & Mrs. Martin Johnson	Sept.	10,'37†	75½
Born Reckless (G) 758	Rochelle Hudson-Brian Donlevy	July	9,'37	58.	June 26,'37
Borrowing Trouble (G) 824	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Dec.	10,'37†	60.	Oct. 30,'37
Cafe Metropole (G) 750 (Exploitation: June 19,'37, p. 84.)	Loretta Young-Tyrone Power	May	7,'37	83.	May 8,'37
Californian, The (G) 753	Ricardo Cortez-Marjorie Weaver	July	16,'37	58.	July 10,'37
Charlie Chan at the Olympics 752 (See "In the Cutting Room," Mar. 6,'37.)	Warner Oland-Kath. DeMille	May	21,'37	71
Charlie Chan on Broadway (G) 811	Warner Oland-Joan Marsh	Oct.	22,'37†	68.	Aug. 7,'37
Danger—Love at Work (G) 808	Ann Sothern-Jack Haley	Nov.	5,'37†	81.	Oct. 2,'37
Dangerously Yours (G) 817	Cesar Romero-Phyllis Brooks	Nov.	12,'37†	62.	Sept. 25,'37
David Harum (G) 769 (re-issue)	Will Rogers-Evelyn Venable	May	14,'37	85.	Mar. 8,'34
Dinner at the Ritz (G) 820	Annabella-Paul Lukas	Nov.	26,'37†	77.	Nov. 13,'37
Fair Warning (G) 740	Betty Furness-John Payne	Mar.	5,'37	68.	Jan. 23,'37
Fifty Roads to Town (G) 748 (Exploitation: May 8,'37, p. 70.)	Don Ameche-Ann Sothern	Apr.	16,'37	81.	Apr. 3,'37
45 Fathers (G) 821	Jane Withers-Thomas Beck	Nov.	26,'37†	71.	Oct. 23,'37
Great Hospital Mystery, The (G) 751 (Reviewed under the title, "Dead Yesterday.")	Sally Blane-Thomas Beck	May	14,'37	59.	Mar. 6,'37
Handy Andy (G) 871 (re-issue)	Will Rogers	Aug.	13,'37†	81.	May 5,'34
Heidi (G) 816 (Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70.)	Shirley Temple-Jean Hersholt	Oct.	15,'37†	88.	Oct. 16,'37
Holy Terror, The (G) 734	Jane Withers-Anthony Martin	Feb.	5,'37	67.	Jan. 9,'37
Hot Water (G) 814	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Sept.	24,'37†	58.	July 17,'37
Judge Priest (re-issue) 872	Will Rogers-Anita Louise	Nov.	12,'37†	79.	Sept. 28,'34
It Happened Out West 745	Paul Kelly-Judith Allen	May	7,'37	56
King George VI Coronation 870	Technicolor Special	July	15,'37†	28
Lady Escapes, The (G) 747	Gloria Stuart-Michael Whalen	July	23,'37	63.	June 5,'37
Lancer Spy (G) 809	George Sanders-Dolores Del Rio	Oct.	8,'37†	84.	Oct. 9,'37
Life Begins in College (G) 810 (Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 68.)	Ritz Bros.-Gloria Stuart	Oct.	1,'37†	94.	Oct. 2,'37
Love and Hisses (G) 825	Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie	Dec.	31,'37†	84.	Dec. 25,'37
Love Is News (G) 729 (Exploitation: Apr. 24,'37, p. 90.)	Loretta Young-Tyrone Power	Feb.	26,'37	78.	Feb. 27,'37
Love Under Fire (G) 803	Loretta Young-Don Ameche	Aug.	20,'37†	75.	Aug. 14,'37
Midnight Taxi (G) 744	Brian Donlevy-Frances Drake	Apr.	2,'37	73.	Mar. 27,'37
Nancy Steele Is Missing (G) 738	Victor McLaglen-Peter Lorre	Mar.	12,'37	84.	Mar. 20,'37
Off to the Races (G) 736	Jed Prouty-Shirley Deane	Feb.	19,'37	57.	Jan. 16,'37
On the Avenue (G) 732 (Exploitation: Mar. 20,'37, p. 78; Apr. 17,'37, pp. 80, 82; June 19,'37, p. 84.)	Dick Powell-Madeleine Carroll	Feb.	12,'37	89.	Feb. 13,'37
One Mile from Heaven (G) 802	Claire Trevor-Sally Blane	Aug.	13,'37†	68.	July 24,'37
Roll Along Cowboy 812	Smith Ballew-Cecilia Parker	Oct.	8,'37†	55
Second Honeymoon (G) 818	Loretta Young-Tyrone Power	Nov.	19,'37†	79.	Nov. 13,'37
Secret Valley (G) 731	Richard Arlen-Virginia Grey	Jan.	15,'37	57.	Feb. 13,'37
Seventh Heaven (G) 742 (Exploitation: June 5,'37, p. 64.)	Simone Simon-James Stewart	Mar.	26,'37	102.	Mar. 27,'37
She Had to Eat (G) 757	Rochelle Hudson-Jack Haley	June	11,'37	74.	Aug. 7,'37
Sing and Be Happy 756 (See "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)	Anthony Martin-Dixie Dunbar	June	25,'37	64
Slave Ship (G) 748 (See production article, Mar. 13,'37, p. 16.)	Wallace Beery-Warner Baxter	July	2,'37	92.	June 19,'37
Step Lively, Jeeves (G) 739	Arthur Treacher-Patricia Ellis	Apr.	9,'37	69.	Jan. 30,'37
Thank You, Mr. Moto (G)	Peter Lorre-Jane Regan	Dec.	24,'37†	67.	Nov. 27,'37
That I May Live (G) 755	Rochelle Hudson-Robert Kent	Apr.	30,'37	70.	Mar. 6,'37
Thin Ice (G) 805 (Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 66; Dec. 11,'37, pp. 76, 78.)	Sonja Henie-Tyrone Power	Sept.	3,'37†	78.	Aug. 28,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Think Fast, Mr. Moto (G)
804	Peter Lorre-Virginia Field	Aug. 27,'37†	66.	Apr. 17,'37
This Is My Affair (G) 721	Barbara Stanwyck-Robt. Taylor	May 28,'37	99.
Time Out for Romance (G)
741	Claire Trevor-Michael Whalen	Mar. 19,'37	72.	Feb. 20,'37
Under the Red Robe (G) 743	Conrad Veidt-Annabella	May 21,'37	82.	June 12,'37
Wake Up and Live (G) 749	Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie	Apr. 23,'37	91.	Apr. 17,'37
(Exploitation: July 3,'37, p. 69; July 10,'37, pp. 85, 86.)
Wee Willie Winkie (G) 760	Shirley Temple-V. McLaglen	July 30,'37	99.	July 3,'37
(Exploitation: July 10,'37, p. 88; Aug. 7,'37, p. 92; Sept. 4,'37, pp. 94, 97; Oct. 9,'37, p. 68.)
Western Gold (G) 761	Smith Ballew-Heather Angel	Aug. 27,'37	56.	Sept. 11,'37
Wife, Doctor and Nurse (G)
813	Loretta Young-Warner Baxter	Sept. 17,'37†	85.	Sept. 11,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)
Wild and Woolly (G) 806	Jane Withers-Walter Brennan	Sept. 10,'37†	64.	July 24,'37
Wings of the Morning (G)
737	Annabella-Henry Fonda	Feb. 19,'37	87.	Mar. 20,'37
Woman-Wise (G) 733	Rochelle Hudson-Michael Whalen	Jan. 22,'37	70.	Feb. 13,'37
You Can't Have Everything (G)
801	Alice Faye-Don Ameche	Aug. 3,'37†	99.	July 31,'37

Coming

Baroness and the Butler	Annabella-William Powell	Feb. 25,'38†
Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo (G)	Warner Oland-Keye Luke	Jan. 28,'38†	71.	Nov. 6,'37
Checkers (G)	Jane Withers-Stuart Erwin	Feb. 18,'38†	78.	Dec. 11,'37
City Girl	Ricardo Cortez-Phyllis Brooks	Jan. 7,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)
Gypsy	Jane Withers-Robt. Wilcox
Happy Landing 830	Sonja Henie-Don Ameche	Feb. 11,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 27,'37.)
Hawaiian Buckaroo 828	Smith Ballew-Evalyn Knapp	Jan. 14,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Headline Huntress 829	Gloria Stuart-Michael Whalen	Jan. 14,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)
In Old Chicago	Tyrone Power-Alice Faye
(See production article, Sept. 4,'37, p. 48.)
Josette	Simone Simon-Don Ameche
Look Out, Mr. Moto (G) 819	Peter Lorre-Rochelle Hudson	Apr. 28,'38†	60.	Oct. 30,'37
Love on a Budget	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Mar. 4,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)
Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm	Shirley Temple-Gloria Stuart	Mar. 11,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 6,'37.)
Sally, Irene and Mary 827	Alice Faye-Fred Allen	Jan. 21,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Shanghai Deadline 826	Dolores Del Rio-George Sanders	Feb. 4,'8†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Tarzan's Revenge 823	Glenn Morris-Eleanor Holm	Jan. 7,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)
Walking Down Broadway	Claire Trevor-Michael Whalen	Mar. 18,'38†

UNITED ARTISTS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Dark Journey (G)	Vivien Leigh-Conrad Veidt	July 2,'37†	82.	Mar. 6,'37
Dead End (G)	Sylvia Sidney-Joel McCrea	Aug. 27,'37†	93.	Aug. 7,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 16,'37, p. 86; Sept. 25,'37, p. 71; Nov. 20,'37, p. 88; Dec. 11,'37 p. 76.)
Dreaming Lips (A)	Elis. Bergner-Raymond Massey	May 28,'37	78.	Mar. 6,'37
Elephant Boy (G)	Native Cast	Apr. 23,'37	80.	Mar. 13,'37
(Exploitation: June 12,'37, p. 96; July 31,'37, p. 82; Aug. 21,'37, p. 75; Oct. 2,'37, p. 77; Dec. 4,'37, pp. 72, 76.)
Farewell Again (G)	Leslie Banks-Flora Robson	Oct. 8,'37†	83.	May 22,'37
52nd Street (G)	Ian Hunter-Pat Paterson	Nov. 19,'37†	82.	Oct. 9,'37
Fire Over England (G)	Laurence Olivier-Flora Robson	Mar. 5,'37	89.	Jan. 16,'37
(Exploitation: Mar. 27,'37, p. 79.)
History Is Made at Night (G)	Charles Boyer-Jean Arthur	Apr. 2,'37	97.	Mar. 13,'37
(Exploitation: Mar. 27,'37, p. 84; Apr. 3,'37, pp. 64, 71; Apr. 10,'37, pp. 91, 92; Apr. 17,'37, p. 82; Apr. 24,'37, pp. 91, 92; May 1,'37, p. 83; May 8,'37, p. 72; May 22,'37, pp. 89, 90; June 12,'37, p. 93; Nov. 20,'37, p. 89.)
Hurricane, The (G)	Dorothy Lamour-Jon Hall	Dec. 24,'37†	102.	Nov. 13,'37
(See production article, Aug. 7,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 20,'37, p. 94.)
Knight Without Armor (G)	Marlene Dietrich-Robt. Donat	July 23,'37†	107.	June 19,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 78; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84.)
Love from a Stranger (A)	Ann Harding-Basil Rathbone	May 14,'37	87.	Feb. 13,'37
Man Who Could Work Miracles, The (G)	Roland Young-Joan Gardner	Feb. 19,'37	82.	Aug. 22,'36
Men Are Not Gods (A)	Miriam Hopkins-Gert. Lawrence	Jan. 22,'37	82.	Jan. 2,'37
Murder on Diamond Row (G).	Edmund Lowe-Ann Todd	Dec. 10,'37†	77.	Sept. 11,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "The Squeaker.")
Nothing Sacred (G)	Carole Lombard-Fredric March	Nov. 26,'37†	75.	Nov. 27,'37
(See production article, Aug. 21,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 65.)
Prisoner of Zenda (G)	Ronald Colman-M. Carroll	Sept. 3,'37†	101.	Sept. 4,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 64.)
Stand-In (A)	Leslie Howard-Joan Blondell	Oct. 29,'37†	91.	Oct. 9,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 27,'37, p. 78; Dec. 18,'37, p. 66.)
Star Is Born, A (G)	Janet Gaynor-Fredric March	Apr. 30,'37	111.	May 1,'37
(See production article, Feb. 27,'37, p. 16; exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 86; May 29,'37 pp. 67, 69; June 5,'37, pp. 64, 67, 70; June 19,'37, p. 84; June 26,'37, pp. 120, 121, 122; July 10,'37, p. 87; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 31,'37, p. 80; Aug. 28,'37, p. 97; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)
Stella Dallas (A)	Barbara Stanwyck-John Boles	Aug. 6,'37†	111.	July 31,'37
(Exploitation: July 31,'37, p. 61; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 69, 70; Oct. 2,'37, p. 74; Oct. 9,'37, pp. 67, 69; Oct. 23,'37, pp. 83, 85; Oct. 30,'37, p. 86; Nov. 6,'37, p. 66; Nov. 27,'37, p. 78; Dec. 4,'37, pp. 77, 78.)
Walt Disney's Academy Award Revue	Five Award Winners	June 18,'37†	44.
Walter Wanger's Vogues of 1938 (G)	Warner Baxter-Joan Bennett	Sept. 17,'37†	108.	Aug. 7,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 74; Sept. 11,'37, p. 82; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92; Nov. 27,'37, p. 80; Dec. 18,'37, p. 65.)
When Thief Meets Thief (A)	D. Fairbanks, Jr.-V. Hobson	June 4,'37	87.	May 8,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "Jump for Glory.")
Woman Chases Man (G)	Miriam Hopkins-Joel McCrea	May 7,'37	71.	May 1,'37
(See production article, Apr. 17,'37, p. 12; exploitation: June 12,'37, p. 92; July 3,'37, p. 88; Sept. 11,'37, p. 83; Oct. 30,'37, p. 84.)
You Only Live Once (A)	Sylvia Sidney-Henry Fonda	Jan. 29,'37	86.	Jan. 30,'37
(Exploitation: Jan. 30,'37, p. 80; Mar. 6,'37, p. 89; Mar. 20,'37, pp. 76, 78; Apr. 3,'37, pp. 66, 71; June 26,'37, p. 123; July 10,'37, p. 87; Aug. 21,'37, p. 74.)

Coming

Action for Slander (A)	Clive Brook-Ann Todd	Jan. 14,'38†	83.	Aug. 14,'37
Adventures of Marco Polo	Gary Cooper-Sigrid Gurie
Adventures of Tom Sawyer	Tommy Kelly-Walter Brennan	Feb. 4,'38†
(See production article, Oct. 9,'37, p. 16.)
Divorce of Lady X, The	Merle Oberon-Laurence Olivier	Feb. 18,'38†
Gaiety Girls, The	Jack Hulbert-Patricia Ellis	Mar. 18,'38†	70.	Nov. 6,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "Paradise for Two.")
Goldwyn Follies, The	Phil Baker-Ritz Bros.
(See production article, Nov. 13,'37, p. 14.)
I Met My Love Again	Joan Bennett-Henry Fonda	Feb. 11,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)
Madamoiselle Docteur (A)	Dita Parlo-John Loder		77.	Dec. 18,'37
Mutiny in the Mountains	Vivien Leigh-Paul Lukas
Return of the Scarlet Pimpernel, The (G)	Barry Barnes-Sophie Stewart	Mar. 25,'38†	90.	Nov. 13,'37
Storm in a Teacup (G)	Vivien Leigh-Rex Harrison	Feb. 25,'38†	86.	June 12,'37

UNIVERSAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventure's End (G) 2036	John Wayne-Diana Gibson	Dec. 5,'37†	63.	Nov. 13,'37
Armored Car (G) 1004	Robert Wilcox-Judith Barrett	June 20,'37	64.	Aug. 14,'37
As Good as Married (G) 1012	John Boles-Doris Nolan	May 9,'37	81.	May 1,'37
Behind the Mike 2030	Wm. Gargan-Judith Barrett	Sept. 26,'37†	68.
Black Aces 2050	Buck Jones-Kay Linaker	Sept. 5,'37†	58.
Boss of Lonely Valley 2052	Buck Jones	Nov. 14,'37†	59.
Breezing Home (G) 1033	Binnie Barnes-Wm. Gargan	Jan. 31,'37	64.	Mar. 27,'37
California Straight Ahead (G) 1030	John Wayne-Louise Latimer	May 2,'37	67.	Apr. 3,'37
Carnival Queen 2026	Dorothea Kent-Robert Wilcox	Oct. 3,'37†	66.
Courage of the West 2054	Bob Baker-Lois January	Dec. 5,'37†	57.
(See "In the Cutting Room," Sept. 11,'37.)
Empty Saddles (G) 1043	Buck Jones-Louise Brooks	Dec. 20,'36	62.	Oct. 24,'36
Girl Overboard (G) 1021	Gloria Stuart-Walter Pidgeon	Feb. 28,'37	58.	May 28,'37
Girl with Ideas, A (G) 2015	Wendy Barrie-Walter Pidgeon	Nov. 7,'37†	66½	Nov. 6,'37
I Cover the War (G) 1016	John Wayne-Gwen Gaze	July 4,'37	68.	July 10,'37
Idol of the Crowds (G) 2037	John Wayne-Sheila Bromley	Oct. 10,'37†	62½	Oct. 2,'37
Lady Fights Back, The (G) 2035	Irene Hervey-Kent Taylor	Sept. 19,'37†	63.	Oct. 23,'37
Law for Tombstone 2051	Buck Jones-Muriel Evans	Oct. 10,'37†	59.
Left Handed Law (G) 1045	Buck Jones	Apr. 18,'37	63.	May 1,'37
Let Them Live (G) 1035	Nan Grey-John Howard	Apr. 25,'37	73.	Apr. 24,'37
Love in a Bungalow (G) 1009	Kent Taylor-Nan Grey	June 27,'37	66.	July 10,'37
Man in Blue, The (G) 1020	Robert Wilcox-Nan Grey	May 30,'37	67.	May 22,'37
Man Who Cried Wolf, The (G) 2023	Tom Brown-Barbara Read	Aug. 29,'37†	66.	Sept. 4,'37
Merry-Go-Round of 1938 (G) 2006	Bert Lahr-Alice Brady	Nov. 14,'37†	87.	Oct. 23,'37
Mighty Treve, The (G) 1034	Noah Beery, Jr. Barbara Read	Jan. 17,'37	69.	Apr. 10,'37
Night Key (G) 1024	Boris Karloff-Jean Rogers	May 2,'37	67.	Apr. 24,'37
(Exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 87.)
Oh, Doctor! (G) 1013	Edward Everett Horton	May 16,'37	67.	Apr. 24,'37
(Exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 87.)
100 Men and a Girl (G) 2001	Deanna Durbin-Adolphe Menjou	Sept. 12,'37†	84.	Sept. 11,'37
(See musical analysis, Sept. 18,'37, p. 29; exploitation: Sept. 25,'37, p. 68; Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 69; Nov. 6,'37, pp. 56, 66; Nov. 20,'37, p. 82; Nov. 27,'37, p. 80; Dec. 18,'37, p' 68.)
Prescription for Romance(G) 2013	Wendy Barrie-Kent Taylor	Dec. 12,'37†	66.	Dec. 18,'37
Reported Missing (G) 1006	Wm. Gargan-Jean Rogers	Aug. 15,'37	63.	Aug. 7,'37
Road Back, The (G) 1005	Richard Cromwell-John King	Aug. 1,'37	103.	June 26,'37
(See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 16; exploitation: July 31,'37, p. 80; Sept. 18,'37, p. 83; Oct. 9,'37, pp. 66, 68.)
Sandflow (G) 1044	Buck Jones-Lita Chevret	Feb. 14,'37.	58.	Feb. 6,'37
She's Dangerous 1031	Cesar Romero-Tala Birell	Jan. 24,'37	68.
Smoke Tree Range 1046	Buck Jones-Muriel Evans	June 6,'37	59.
Some Blondes Are Dangerous 2018	Noah Beery, Jr.-Dorothea Kent	Nov. 28,'37†	64½
Sudden Bill Dorn 2053	Buck Jones-Evelyn Brent	Dec. 19,'37†	59.
That's My Story 2034	Claudia Morgan-Wm. Lundigan	Oct. 24,'37†	62.
(See "In the Cutting Room," July 3,'37.)
Top of the Town (G) 1007	George Murphy-Doris Nolan	Apr. 18,'37	86.	Apr. 3,'37
(See production article, Jan. 23,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Apr. 24,'37, p. 91; May 1,'37, p. 79; May 22,'37, pp. 86, 87; June 5,'37, p. 70; June 12,'37, p. 92; June 19,'37, pp. 82, 85.)
Trouble at Midnight (G) 2020	N. Beery, Jr.-Catharine Hughes	Oct. 17,'37†	68.	Nov. 20,'37
We Have Our Moments (G) 1017	Sally Eilers—James Dunn	Mar. 28,'37	67.	Apr. 3,'37
West Bound Limited 1008	Lyle Talbot-Polly Rowles	July 11,'37	66.
Westland Case, The (G) 2024	Preston Foster-Carol Hughes	Oct. 31,'37†	63.	Oct. 2,'37
When Love Is Young (G) 1018	Virginia Bruce-Kent Taylor	Apr. 4,'37	58.
Wildcatter, The 1015	Scott Colton-Jean Rogers	June 6,'37	76.	Apr. 24,'37
Wings Over Honolulu (G) 1011	Wendy Barrie-Ray Milland	May 23,'37	78.	May 15,'37
You're a Sweetheart (G)	Alice Faye-George Murphy	Dec. 26,'37†	96.	Dec. 18,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Black Doll	Nan Grey-Donald Woods	Jan. 30,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Border Wolves	Bob Baker-Connie Moore
Forbidden Valley	Noah Beery, Jr.-F. Robinson	Feb. 13,'38†
(See "Mountains Are My Kingdom," "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Jury's Secret, The	Fay Wray-Kent Taylor	Jan. 16,'38†
Mad About Music	Deanna Durbin-Herbert Marshall
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)
Midnight Intruder	Louis Hayward-Barbara Read	Feb. 6,'38†
Singing Outlaw, The	2055 Bob Baker-Joan Barclay	Jan. 23,'38†	56
Spy Ring, The	2033 Wm. Hall-Jane Wyman	Jan. 9,'38†	61

VICTORY

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Amateur Crook	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Dec. 10,'37†	58
Brothers of the West	Tom Tyler-Lois Wilde	Sept. 30,'37†	55
Cheyenne Rides Again	Tom Tyler-Lucille Browne	Jan. 7,'37	56
Feud of the Trail	Tom Tyler-Harlene Wood	May 1,'37	56
Flying Fists	Herman Brix-Jeanne Martel	July 1,'37	62
Lost Ranch	Tom Tyler-Jeanne Martel	Nov. 30,'37†	56
Million Dollar Racket (G)	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Oct. 1,'37†	62. Nov. 20,'37
Mystery Range	Tom Tyler-Jerry Bergh	May 1,'37	55
Orphan of the Pecos	Tom Tyler-Jeanne Martel	Dec. 30,'37†	55
Sky Racket	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Sept. 1,'37†	63

WARNER BROTHERS

(See also First National)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Another Dawn (A) 106	Kay Francis-Errol Flynn	June 26,'37	73. Apr. 10,'37
(See production article, Mar. 6,'37, p. 16.)
Black Legion (A) 108	H. Bogart-E. O'Brien-Moore	Jan. 30,'37	83. Jan. 9,'37
(Exploitation: Jan. 16,'37, p. 76; Mar. 13,'37, pp. 80, 83; Mar. 20,'37, p. 82; Mar. 27,'37, p. 79; Apr. 3,'37, p. 66; Apr. 10,'37, p. 95; July 17,'37, p. 89.)
Blazing Sixes 129	Dick Foran-Helen Valkis	June 12,'37	55
Call It a Day (G) 113	Olivia de Havilland-I. Hunter	Apr. 17,'37	89. Mar. 13,'37
Devil's Saddle Legion, The 130	Dick Foran-Anne Nagel	Aug. 14,'37	52
Expensive Husbands (G) 223	Beverly Roberts-Patric Knowles	Nov. 27,'37†	62. Sept. 11,'37
Fly-Away Baby (G) 125	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	June 19,'37	60. June 12,'37
First Lady (G) 210	Kay Francis-Preston Foster	Dec. 4,'37†	*82. Sept. 11,'37
Footloose Heiress 123	Craig Reynolds-Ann Sheridan	Aug. 21,'37
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 10,'37.)
God's Country and the Woman (G) 105	George Brent-Beverly Roberts	Jan. 16,'37	85. Dec. 26,'36
(Exploitation: Feb. 13,'37, pp. 84, 85; Feb. 27,'37, p. 80.)
Go Getter, The (G) 115	George Brent-Anita Louise	May 22,'37	92. June 19,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 4,'37, pp. 94, 97.)
Great Garrick, The (G) 209	Brian Aherne-O. de Havilland	Oct. 30,'37	89. Oct. 2,'37
Great O'Malley, The (G) 110	Pat O'Brien-Sybil Jason	Feb. 13,'37	71. Dec. 12,'36
(Exploitation: Apr. 10,'37, p. 91.)
It's Love I'm After (G) 207	Leslie Howard-Bette Davis	Nov. 20,'37†	90. July 31,'37
Kid Galahad (G) 102	Edw. G. Robinson-Bette Davis	May 29,'37	101. May 8,'37
(Exploitation: June 5,'37, p. 64; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96.)
King and the Chorus Girl (G) 104	Fernand Gravet-Joan Blondell	Mar. 27,'37	95. Mar. 6,'37
(Exploitation: Mar. 20,'37, p. 76; Mar. 27,'37, p. 79; June 26,'37, p. 118.)
Land Beyond the Law 128	Dick Foran-Linda Perry	Mar. 13,'37	54
Life of Emile Zola, The (G) 203	Paul Muni-Gale Sondergaard	Oct. 2,'37†	116. July 10,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 68; Nov. 27,'37, p. 84; Dec. 25,'37, p. 58.)
Marry the Girl (G) 116	Hugh Herbert-Mary Boland	July 1,'37	68. Aug. 14,'37
Melody for Two (G) 117	James Melton-Patricia Ellis	May 1,'37	60. Jan. 16,'37
Midnight Court (G) 124	Ann Dvorak-John Litel	Mar. 6,'37	60. Mar. 13,'37
Public Wedding 126	Jane Wyman-William Hopper	July 10,'37	58
Ready, Willing and Able (G) 112	Lee Dixon-Ruby Keeler	Mar. 6,'37	93. Feb. 6,'37
(Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 78.)
Singing Marine, The (G) 101	Dick Powell-Doris Weston	July 3,'37	105. July 10,'37
(Exploitation: July 24,'37, p. 80; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 68, 71.)
Slim (G) 114	Pat O'Brien-Henry Fonda	June 12,'37	80. July 3,'37
Smart Blonde (G) 122	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	Jan. 2,'37	59. Dec. 5,'36
Tovarich (G) 201	Claudette Colbert-Charles Boyer	Dec. 25,'37†	*92. Dec. 4,'37
Varsity Show (G) 202	Dick Powell-Fred Waring	Sept. 4,'37†	121. Aug. 21,'37
(See production article, July 24,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 20,'37, p. 94; Dec. 4,'37, p. 77.)
White Bondage (G) 125	Jean Muir-Gordon Oliver	June 19,'37	60. Mar. 13,'37
Wine, Women and Horses (G) 218	Barton MacLane-Ann Sheridan	Sept. 11,'37†	64. July 24,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventures of Robin Hood	Errol Flynn-O. de Havilland
(See production article, Dec. 25,'37, p. 14.)
Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse, The
Blondes at Work	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane
Boy Meets Girl	Marie Wilson-Allyn Joslyn
Everybody Was Very Nice	Wayne Morris-Priscilla Lane
Food for Scandal	Fernand Gravet-Carole Lombard
Gold Diggers in Paris	Rudy Vallee
Invisible Menace (G) 224	Boris Karloff-Marie Wilson	Jan. 29,'38†	55. Oct. 23,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "Without Warning.")
Jezebel	Bette Davis-Henry Fonda
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Kid Comes Back, The (G) 123	Wayne Morris-June Travis	Feb. 19,'38†	*60. Jan. 30,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "Don't Pull Your Punches.")
Men Are Such Fools	Wayne Morris-Priscilla Lane
Mystery of Hunting's End	Dick Purcell-Ann Sheridan
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Over the Wall	Dick Foran-June Travis
Patient in Room 18, The 274	Ann Sheridan-Patric Knowles	Jan. 15,'37†
Penrod and His Twin Brother 226	Billy and Bobby Mauch	Feb. 26,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 30,'37.)
Penrod's Double Trouble	Billy and Bobby Mauch
Sergeant Murphy (G) 216	Ronald Reagan-Mary Maguire	Jan. 1,'38†	*60. Dec. 11,'37
Swing Your Lady 211	H. Bogart-Penny Singleton	Jan. 8,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 30,'37.)

WILLIAM STEINER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
From Nine to Nine	Ruth Roland-Roland Drew	Dec. 21,'36	6 rls

WORLD

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Crimson Circle	Noah Beery	Jan. 1,'37	74
Don Quixote (G)	Chaliapin	Sept. '37†	78. July 6,'37
Life and Loves of Beethoven (G)	Harry Baur	Dec. 15,'37†	82. Dec. 4,'37
Masquerade in Vienna (A)	Paula Wessely	Jan. 28,'37	95. Feb. 13,'37
My Song of Love	Tito Schipa	Mar. 31,'37	79

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Annie Laurie	Will Fyffe
Aurora Sul Mare	Italian Feature		67
Chanson D'Amour	Tito Schipa
Itto	Simone Berriau
Love on Skiis	Walter Rimil
Monastery
Ninety Degrees South	Antarctic Film
Second Bureau	Jean Murat-Diana Koreno
Secrets of Stamboul	Valerie Hobson		79
Ski Chase	Hannes Schneider	Jan. 15,'38†	84
Street Without a Name	Constant Remy-Pola Illery
Song of Ceylon	Basil Wright		39
Tendre Enemmie	Simone Berriau

OTHER PRODUCT (FOREIGN)

Title	Star	Dist'r	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventures of Chico (G)		Woodward Bros.		60. Nov. 27,'37
Angel's Pit, The (A)	Amedo Nazzari			June	26,'37
Amphytrion (A)	Henri Garat	Globe	Mar. 23,'37	103. Apr.	3,'37
Beethoven Concerto (G)	V. Gardin	Amkino	Mar. 23,'37	90. Apr.	10,'37
Big Fella (G)	Paul Robeson	British Lion		73. July	10,'37
Bronze Sentries (G)	Fosco Ginschetti	Fenoroma		Oct.	2,'37
Club de Femmes (A)	Danielle Darrieux	Mayer-Burstyn	Oct. 19,'37	89. Oct.	23,'37
Edge of the World, The (A)	Finlay Currie	British I. E. Co.		80. Aug.	14,'37
Emil Und Die Detektive	Fritz Rasp	International		77
Episode (A)	Paula Wessely	Metropolis	May 15,'37	90. June	5,'37
Fury Over Spain (G)		Modern Film		55. Aug.	14,'37
Gang Show, The (G)	Ralph Reader	General		May	1,'37
Gobsek (A)	Leonid Leonidov	Amkino		74. Aug.	14,'37
Golem, The (A)	Harry Baur	Metropolis	Mar. 20,'37	88. Mar.	27,'37
In the Far East (G)	N. Bogollubov	Amkino	Oct. 19,'37	81. Oct.	30,'37
It Isn't Done (G)	Cecil Kellaway	British Empire		90. Mar.	27,'37
Jericho (G)	Paul Robeson	General		77. Sept.	4,'37
Kimiko (A)	Sachiko Chiba	International	Apr. 12,'37	73. Apr.	24,'37
King's People, The (G)	John Drinkwater	Mindlin	May 11,'37	70. May	22,'37
La Grande Illusion (A)	Jean Gabin	Realization d'Art Cinematographique		120. July	3,'37
Last Night, The (G)	I. R. Peitser	Amkino	Apr. 27,'37	90. May	8,'37
Late Mattia Pascal, The (A)	Pierre Blanchar			Apr.	10,'37
Let's Make a Night of It	Buddy Rogers	Assoc. British		80. July	10,'37
Lower Depths, The (A)	Jean Gabin	Mayer-Burstyn	Oct. 15,'37	95. Sept.	25,'37
Lucrezia Borgia (A)	Edwige Feuillere	European	Oct. 12,'37	78. Oct.	23,'37
Mademoiselle Docteur (A)	Dita Parlo	United Artists		105. May	1,'37
Make Up (G)	N. Asther-J. Clyde	Assoc. British		70. July	10,'37
Mayerling (A)	Charles Boyer	Pax Films	Sept. 13,'37	91. Sept.	25,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 56.)
Merlusse (G)	Henri Poupon	French M. P.	Jan. '38	67. Dec.	25,'37
Merry Comes to Town (G)	Zasu Pitts	Sound City		77. June	5,'37
Moonlight Sonata (G)	Paderewski	United Artists		90. Mar.	13,'37
Mutiny of the Elsinore, The (G)	Paul Lukas	Assoc. British		77. Sept.	18,'37
Ora Ponciano (G)	Chucho Solozano	Prod. Soria		105. May	15,'37
Orphan Boy of Vienna (G)	Hans Olden	General		77. Sept.	18,'37
Our Fighting Navy (G)	H. B. Warner	General		75. May	8,'37
Pearls of the Crown (A)	Sascha Guitry	Tobis		115. June	5,'37
Pepe Le Moko (A)	Jean Gabin	Paris Film		100. Mar.	20,'37
Pygmalion (G)	Lily Bouwmeester	Filmex Cinetone		Apr.	17,'37
Ruler, The (G)	Emil Jannings	Amer.-Tobis.	Oct. 15,'37	120. Oct.	30,'37
Silver Blaze (G)	Arthur Wontner	Assoc. British		70. July	17,'37
Sisters in Arms (G)	J. Sully-J. Day	C. U. C.		125. Dec.	25,'37
Sol Over Danmark (G)	Henrik Malberg	Scandinavian	Apr. 13,'37	73. Apr.	24,'37
Spanish Earth, The (A)		Prometheus	Aug. 20,'37	58. Sept.	4,'37
Thank You, Madame (G)	Jan Kiepura	American Tobis	Apr. 26,'37	85. May	1,'37
Thirteen, The (A)	Ivan Novoseltsev	Amkino		85. July	17,'37
Uncivilized (A)	Dennis Hoey	Box Office	Nov. 23,'37	77. Nov.	27,'37
Wave, The (G)	Native Cast	Garrison	Apr. 20,'37	60. May	1,'37
Wild Innocence (G)	Wendy Munro	Cinesound		90. May	29,'37
World's in Love, The (A)	Marta Eggerth	Viennese	May 18,'37	65. Nov.	20,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

SHORT FILMS

[Numbers immediately following title designate date reviewed; for example, (8-1-37) August 1, 1937.]

COLUMBIA

BROADWAY COMEDIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Back to the Woods (3 Stooges)	May 14,'37	19½..
Big Squirt, The (10-2-37) Charlie Chase	Sept. 17,'37†18	....
Bury the Hatchet (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	19....
Calling All Curtains	Oct. 1,'37†16	....
Calling All Doctors	July 22,'37	19½..
Cash and Carry (9-11-37) (3 Stooges)	Sept. 3,'37†18½	..
Dizzy Doctors (4-17-37) (3 Stooges)	Mar. 19,'37	17½..
Fiddling Around (Collins-Kennedy)	Jan. 21,'38†17½	..
From Bad to Worse Charlie Chase	June 4,'37	17....
Goofs and Saddles	July 2,'37	17½..
Gracie at the Bat Andy Clyde	Oct. 29,'37†17½	..
Grand Hooter (6-5-37) Charlie Chase	May 7,'37	19½..
Grips, Grunts and Greans (3-27-37) (3 Stooges)	Jan. 15,'37	19....
He Done His Duty Andy Clyde	Dec. 10,'37†17½	..
Knee Action (2-27-37) Andy Clyde	Jan. 9,'37	17....
Lodge Night Andy Clyde	June 11,'37	18...
Man Bites Love Bug Charlie Chase	Dec. 24,'37†18	....
My Little Feller Andy Clyde	May 21,'37	18...
New News (4-17-37) (Collins-Kennedy)	Apr. 1,'37	17½..
Oh What a Knight (Herman Bing)	Nov. 22,'37†16½	..
Playing the Ponies (3 Stooges)	Oct. 15,'37†17	....
Sailor Maid Polly Moran	Feb. 12,'37	19....
Sitter Downers, The (3 Stooges)	Nov. 26,'37†16	....
Stuck in the Sticks Andy Clyde	Mar. 26,'37	18....
Super Snooper, The El Brendel	Feb. 25,'37	19½..
Termites of 1938	Jan. 7,'38†.2	rls.
Three Dumb Clucks (3 Stooges)	Apr. 17,'37	17....
Wrong Miss Wright, The... Charlie Chase	June 18,'37	17....

BROADWAY FOLLIES

Brokers Follies (12-11-37)	Dec. 15,'37†10	½..
Drug Store Follies (9-11-37)	Sept. 3,'37†10	½..
Rooftop Frolics (10-16-37)	Oct. 1,'37†11	....
Timberland Revels (11-27-37)	Nov. 5,'37†10	....

COLOR RHAPSODIES

Air Hostess, The	Oct. 22,'37†.8	....
Foxy Pup, The (6-5-37)	May 21,'37	.6½..
Gifts from the Air (re-issue)	Dec. 18,'37†.7	½..
Hollywood Picnic	Dec. 18,'37†.1	rl..
Indian Serenade	July 16,'37	.8....
Let's Go (4-17-37)	Apr. 10,'37	.7½..
Little Match Girl (11-27-37)	Nov. 5,'37†.8	½..
Merry Mannequins	Mar. 19,'37	.6½..
Mother Hen's Holiday	May 7,'37	.7....
Sad Little Guinea Pigs	Jan. 14,'38†.1	rl..
Scary Crows (9-11-37)	Aug. 20,'37	.8....
Skeleton Frolic (2-20-37)	Jan. 29,'37	.7½..
Spring Festival (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	.8....
Stork Takes a Holiday, The	June 11,'37	.8....
Swing, Monkey, Swing (10-2-37)	Sept. 10,'37	.7½..

COLUMBIA TOURS

Fifty Years of Barter	May 28,'37	.9½..
Haiti's Black Napoleon (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	.9....
Pirate Parts of the Caribbean	July 2,'37	.9....
When the West Was Young (3-20-37)	Mar. 12,'37	.9....

COMMUNITY SING

(1st Series)

Community Sing (No. 2)	Feb. 19,'37	.11....
Community Sing (No. 3) (6-5-37)	May 20,'37	.10....
Community Sing (No. 4)	June 18,'37	.10½..
Community Sing (No. 5) (9-11-37)	July 24,'37	.10½..

(2nd Series)

No. 1 (9-11-37)	Aug. 20,'37†10	....
No. 2 (10-16-37)	Sept. 17,'37†10	....
No. 3 (10-16-37)	Oct. 15,'37†10	½..
No. 4—(12-11-37)	Nov. 26,'37†11	....

COURT OF HUMAN RELATIONS

Wedding Deal, The	Feb. 26,'37	.11½..

FEATURETTES

Herald of the Skies	Apr. 2,'37	.9½..

HAPPY HOUR

Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp	Dec. 18,'37†.3	rls.
Goose Girl, The	May 30,'37	.3 rls.
Old Woman in the Woods, The	Apr. 23,'37	.3 rls.

KRAZY KAT CARTOONS

17. Lyin' Hunter, The (3-27-37)	Feb. 12,'37	.7....
18. Krazy's Race of Time (6-26-37)	May 6,'37	.7....
19. Masque Raid, The	June 25,'37	.7....
20. Railroad Rhythm	Nov. 20,'37†.9	½..

SCRAPPY CARTOONS

Canine Capers	Sept. 16,'37†.6	½..
Clock Goes 'Round and 'Round (11-20-37)	Oct. 16,'37†.6	....
Dizzy Ducks (12-19-36)	July 18,'37	.6½..
Fire Plug, The (11-13-37)	Oct. 16,'37†.6	....
Puttin' Out the Kitten	Mar. 26,'37	.7....
Scrappy's Band Concert	Apr. 29,'37	.7....
Scrappy's Music Lesson	June 4,'37	.7....
Scrappy's News Flashes	Dec. 8,'37†.6	....

SCREEN SNAPSHOTS

No. 6—	Feb. 19,'37	.10....
No. 7—	Mar. 23,'37	.9½..
No. 8—(5-29-37)	Apr. 30,'37	.9½..
No. 9—	May 22,'37	.10....
No. 10—	June 4,'37	.9....
No. 11—	June 25,'37	.10½..
No. 12—(10-16-37)	Aug. 13,'37	.10....
No. 13—(10-16-37)	Sept. 10,'37	.10....

(New Series)

No. 1—(10-16-37)	Sept. 17,'37†10	....
No. 2—(11-20-37)	Oct. 15,'37†.9	½..
No. 3—(12-11-37)	Nov. 18,'37†.9	½..
No. 4—	Dec. 24,'37†.1	rl..

SPECIAL SPORT THRILLS

Cadet Champion (12-11-37)	Dec. 17,'37†.9	½..
Fit to Win (6-12-37)	May 7,'37	.9½..
Fleet Hoofs (4-17-37)	Mar. 5,'37	.10....
Fun in the Water (4-17-37)	Apr. 10,'37	.10....
Future Stars	Aug. 30,'37	.....
Golf Magic (9-11-37)	Aug. 16,'37	.9....
Riding the Waves	June 4,'37	.10....
Scrambled Legs (3-27-37)	Feb. 22,'37	.9....
Set 'Em Up	Oct. 29,'37†.9	½..
Sport of the Seasons	June 25,'37	.9....
Sport's Greatest Thrills (8-21-37)	Aug. 3,'37	.9....
Trotting Thoroughbreds (10-16-37)	Sept. 30,'37†.9	½..
Unusual Hunting	Jan. 7,'38†.1	rl..

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

Boy Who Saved a Nation, The	Dec. 10,'37†.9	½..
Little Jack Horner (10-2-37)	Sept. 16,'37†.6	½..
Silver Threads (12-11-37)	Nov. 12,'37†10	½..

WORLD IN COLOR

Beautiful Bermuda	Sept. 10,'37†	.....
City of the Golden Gate (11-20-37)	Oct. 10,'37†.9	½..
El Salvador	Dec. 30,'37†.1	rl..

EDUCATIONAL

[Distributed through Twentieth Century-Fox]

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
SONG AND COMEDY HITS
Ask Uncle Sol (10-23-37)	Oct. 8,'37†11	....
Big Apple, The (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37†.9	....
Calling All Crooners (12-4-37)	Nov. 19,'37†10	½..
Dental Follies (4-10-37)	Feb. 26,'37.11	....
How to Dance the Shag	Dec. 17,'37†.8	....
Love Goes West	Dec. 31,'37†.1	rl..
Miss Lonely Hearts (10-30-37)	Sept. 24,'37†10	½..
Pot Luck (8-14-37)	Aug. 6,'37†11	....
Rhythm Saves the Day (12-4-37)	Oct. 29,'37†11	....
Trailer Paradise	Nov. 26,'37†.9	....
TERRY-TOONS
Barnyard Boss, The	Dec. 24,'37†.6	½..
Big Game Hunt, The	Feb. 19,'37	.7....
Billy Goat's Whiskers, The	Dec. 10,'37†.6	½..
Book Shop, The (1-30-37)	Feb. 5,'37	.6....
Bug Carnival (4-17-37)	Apr. 16,'37	.7....
Bugs Bettle and His Orchestra	Jan. 21,'38†.1	rl..
Close Shave, A	Oct. 1,'37†.6	½..
Dancing Bear, The (11-6-37)	Oct. 15,'37†.6	½..
Dog and the Bone, The (11-27-37)	Nov. 12,'37†.6	....
Farmer Al Falfa in Trailer Life	Aug. 20,'37†.5	½..
Flying South	Mar 19,'37	.7....
Hay Ride, The	Apr. 2,'37	.6....
Homeless Pup, The	July 23,'37	.7....
Kiko's Cleaning Day (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37†.6	½..
Lion Hunt, The	Jan. 7,'38†.1	rl..
Mechanical Cow, The	June 25,'37	.7....
Ozzie Ostrich Comes to Town	May 28,'37	.7....
Paper Hangers, The (8-14-37)	July 30,'37	.7....
Pink Elephants	July. 9,'37	.7....
Play Ball	June 11,'37	.6....
Puddy's Coronation	May 14,'37	.7....
Red Hot Musie	Mar. 5,'37	.6....
Saw Mill Mystery, The	Oct. 29,'37†.6	½..
School Birds	Apr. 30,'37	.7....
Timid Rabbit, The	Nov. 26,'37†.6	½..
Villain Still Pursued Her, The	Sept. 3,'37†.6	½..
TREASURE CHEST
Crystal Ballet	May 28,'37	.11....
Grey Owl's Little Brother	Jan. 7,'38†.1	rl..
How to Ski	Aug. 20,'37†11	....
Not So Dumb	Dec. 10,'37†.9	....
Ornamental Swimming	June 4,'37	.10....
Private Life of the Gannets (9-25-37)	Sept. 10,'37†11	....
Songs of the Danube	May 7,'37	.9....
Top Dogs	Dec. 24,'37†.1	rl..
TWO-REEL COMEDIES
Affairs of Pierre, The (7-31-37)	Aug. 6,'37†19	....
Air Parade		2 rls.
Bashful Ballerina (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37†20	....
Bashful Buckaroo, The	Dec. 3,'37†19	½..
Big Courtship, The	Feb. 19,'37	.17....
Comic Artist's Home Life (4-3-37)	Apr. 9,'37	.18....
Dates and Nuts	Dec. 31,'37†	.....
Dime a Dance	Dec. 24,'37†.2	rls.
Ditto	Feb. 12,'37	.17....
Freshies	May 7,'37	.17....
Fun's Fun (2-6-37)	Feb. 5,'37	.19....
Getting an Eyeful	Jan. 21,'38†.2	rls.
Girls Ahoy!	June 11,'37	.17....
Going, Going, Gone	Oct. 6,'37†18	....
Hamlet and Eggs	June 18,'37	.16....
Heir Today	Nov. 5,'37†18	....
Her Accidental Hero	May 21,'37	.17....
Hi-Ho Hollywood	Jan. 7,'38†.2	rls.
His Pest Girl	Apr. 30,'37	.18....
Hi-ya Doc?	Apr. 23,'37	.20....
Holding the Bag	May 14,'37	.19....
Hurray for Hooligan (12-4-37)	Nov. 19,'37†17	....
Koo-Koo Correspondence Skool, The	Nov. 19,'37†18	....
Love in Arms	May 28,'37	.18....
Love Nest on Wheels	Mar. 26,'37	.18....
Man to Man	Feb. 26,'37	.17....
Meet the Bride	Oct. 29,'37†17	....
Melody Girl	Apr. 16,'37	.17....
Montague the Magnificent (8-14-37)	Aug. 27,'37†18	....
Off the Horses (4-10-37)	Mar. 5,'37	.19....
Pixilated	Mar. 19,'37	.18....
Playboy Number One (12-4-37)	Nov. 26,'37†17	...
Ready to Serve (4-10-37)	Mar. 12,'37	.15....
Silly Night (10-23-37)	Oct. 1,'37†19	....
Slacks Appeal	Aug. 13,'37†19	....
Smart Way, The (10-30-37)	Oct. 15,'37†18	....
Sweeties	Sept. 3,'37†15	....
That's the Spirit	June 25,'37	.17....
Timid Ghost, The	Sept. 24,'37†16	....
Who's Crazy?	Aug. 20,'37†19	...
Will You Stop! (10-2-37)	Sept. 10,'37†17	....
Who's Who?	Oct. 22,'37†20	....

HOFFBERG

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Baltimore, Home of Wally Simpson		.....
Bamboo (5-29-37)	July 16,'37	.10....
Broadway Dance Parade	June 15,'37	.19....
Hollywood Magic (5-29-37)		.10....
In Shanghai (6-5-37)	July 16,'37	.12....
Isle of Paradise	July 30,'37	.20....
Spanish Interlude, A	June 15,'37	.....
MAGNACOLOR
Blow, Bugle, Blow		.....
Catalina Island	Nov. 12,'37†	.....
Personalities on Parade		.....
Skiiing on Your Feet		.....
Yellowstone Park		.....

IMPERIAL

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
EDGAR GUEST POETIC GEMS
Boyhood		.8....
NOVELTIES
Nero		.8....
PORT O' CALL
City of the Sun		.9....
WORLD IN COLOR
Dream Harbor		.8....

MGM

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
CRIME DOESN'T PAY
No. 10—It May Happen to You (8-14-37)	June 5,'37	.21....
No. 11—Soak the Poor (10-2-37)	Aug. 21,'37	.16....
No. 12—Give Till It Hurts (11-13-37)	Sept. 18,'37	.20....
No. 13—Behind the Criminal (12-4-37)	Oct. 30,'37	.21....
FITZPATRICK TRAVEL TALKS
Chile, Land of Charm (11-20-37)	Oct. 30,'37†	.9....
Colorful Bombay (5-8-37)	Apr. 3,'37	.8....
Copenhagen	Nov. 27,'37†	.9....
Floral Japan	July 24,'37	.8....
Glimpses of Peru (10-2-37)	Sept. 4,'37†	.8....
Hong Kong, Hub of China (6-26-37)	May 1,'37	.8....
Land of Incas	June 26,'37	.8....
Rocky Mountain Grandeur (7-24-37)	May 29,'37	.9....
Serene Siam (6-26-37)	Oct. 2,'37†	.9....
Stockholm, Pride of Sweden (11-13-37)	Dec. 25,'37†	.9....
HARMAN-ISING (Happy Harmonies)
29—Bosko's Easter Eggs (4-3-37)	Mar. 20,'37	.8....
30—Bosko and the Pirates (5-8-37)	May 1,'37	.8....
31—Hound and the Rabbit, The (6-26-37)	May 29,'37	.8....
32—Wayward Pups (8-14-37)	July 10,'37	.9....
33—Bosko and the Cannibals	Aug. 28,'37	.10....
34—Little Buck Cheeser	Dec. 18,'37	.8....
35—Bosko in Bagdad	Jan. 1,'38	.....
HISTORICAL MYSTERIES
King Without a Crown, The (11-20-37)	Oct. 9,'37†	.9....
Man in the Barn, The	Nov. 20,'37†	10....
M-G-M MINIATURES
Boss Didn't Say Good Morning, The (10-2-37)	Oct. 1,'37	.10....
Have Courage (7-24-37)	June 12,'37	.16....
Pacific Paradise (10-16-37)	Aug. 28,'37	.10....
Rainbow Pass (10-30-37)	Oct. 9,'37	.10....
Romance of Digestion	Mar. 13,'37	.11....
What Do You Think, No. 2	Dec. 25,'37†	.....
MUSICAL COMEDIES
Carnival in Paris (6-26-37)	May 29,'37	.21....
Girl's Best Years, A (2-20-37)	Dec. 25,'37	.19....
Hollywood Party (5-8-37)	Apr. 3,'37	.21....
Our Gang Follies of 1938	Dec. 18,'37†	.....
Some Time Soon (4-10-37)	Mar. 6,'37	.20....
Sunday Night at Trocadero (10-23-37)	Oct. 2,'37†	.20....
OUR GANG
Fishy Tales	Aug. 28,'37	.11....
Framing Youth (10-2-37)	Sept. 11,'37†	.11....
Hearts Are Thumps	Apr. 3,'37	.11....
Mail and Female	Nov. 13,'37†	.11....
Night 'n' Gales	July 24,'37	.11....

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Pigskin Paiooka (11-27-37)	Oct. 23,'37†11
Roamin' Holiday (7-31-37)	June 12,'37	11
Rushin' Ballet (6-26-37)	Apr. 24,'37	11
Three Smart Boys (5-8-37)	Mar. 13,'37	11
PETE SMITH SPECIALTIES
Candid Cameramaniacs	Dec. 11,'37†	9
Decathlon Champion (11-27-37)	Nov. 20,'37†	10
Equestrian Acrobatics	Aug. 14,'37	8
Friend Indeed	Jan. 1,'38†	10
Golf Mistakes (6-26-37)	June 12,'37	10
Grand Bounce, The (6-26-37)	May 22,'37	11
Jungle Juveniles (11-6-37)	Oct. 2,'37†	9
Olympic Ski Champions (11-7-36)	July 3,'37	10
Penny Wisdom (5-8-37)	Apr. 10,'37	10
Pigskin Champion (9-25-37)	Aug. 14,'37	11
(Exploitation: Oct. 30,'37, p. 87.)
Romance of Radium (10-23-37)	Oct. 23,'37	10
Ski Skill (4-10-37)	Oct. 23,'37	10
(Reviewed under the title, "Ski Thrill")
Sports on Ice	July 24,'37	10
Tennis Tactics (5-8-37)	May 1,'37	10
RE-ISSUES (1937-8)
Beau Hunks (9-5-31)	Sept. 18,'37†	37
Blotto (2-15-30)	Oct. 30,'37†	26
County Hospital (4-23-32)	Jan. 22,'38†	17
Perfect Day, The (3-18-27)	Dec. 11,'37†	20
ROBERT BENCHLEY
How to Start the Day (10-16-37)	Sept. 11,'37†	10
Night at the Movies, A (11-20-37)	Nov. 6,'37†	10
SPECIAL
Jimmy Fidler's Personality Parade	Jan. 8,'38†	20
New Audioscopiks, The	Jan. 15,'38†
Servant of the People (3-20-37)	Apr. 9,'37	21
(Exploitation: Feb. 27,'37, p. 87.)
TABLOID MUSICALS
Little Maestro (4-17-37)	Mar. 27,'37	11
Song of Revolt (7-24-37)	May 29,'37	11

PARAMOUNT

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
BETTY BOOP CARTOONS
Candid Candidate, The (9-25-37)	Aug. 27,'37†	7
Ding Dong Doggie	July 23,'37†	7
Foxy Hunter, The	Nov. 26,'37†	1 rl.
Hot Air Salesman, The (3-20-37)	Mar. 12,'37	7
Impractical Joker, The (7-3-37)	June 18,'37	7
New Deal Show, The (10-16-37)	Oct. 22,'37†	7
Pudgy Takes a Bow-Wow	Apr. 9,'37	7
Pudgy Picks a Fight (5-22-37)	May 14,'37	8
Service With a Smile	Sept. 24,'37†	7
Zula Hula	Dec. 24,'37†
COLOR CLASSICS
Bunny-Mooning (3-13-37)	Feb. 12,'37	7
Car-Tune Portrait, A (7-3-37)	June 25,'37	7
Chicken a la King	Apr. 16,'37	8
Educated Fish (11-13-37)	Oct. 29,'37†	7
Foolish Fox, The	Dec. 31,'37†
Peeping Penguins (9-18-37)	Aug. 27,'37†	7
HEADLINERS
Blue Velvet Music Mark Warnow and Orch.	Apr. 9,'37	10
Frimi Favorites (7-3-37) Rudolf Frimi, Jr., and Orch.	June 4,'37	11
From the Minuet to the Big Apple	Nov. 19,'37†
Hollywood Star Reporter, No. 2 (10-16-37)	Oct. 29,'37†	11
Hula Heaven (10-16-37) Eddie Peabody	Oct. 1,'37†	11
Installment Collector, The Fred Allen	July 2,'37	10
Let's Go Latin (9-25-37) Xavier Cugat and Orch.	Sept. 10,'37†	11
Meet the Maestros	Dec. 17,'37†
Music by Morgan Russ Morgan and Orch.	Feb. 12,'37	11
Night in Manhattan	July 30,'37	11
Oh Kay, Rhythm	Dec. 17,'37†
Queens of Harmony Phil Spitalny and Girl Orch.	Aug. 20,'37†	11
Star Reporter, The, No. 2 (3-27-37) Vincent Lopez and Orch. Boswell Sisters	Mar. 12,'37	11
Swing, Hutton, Swing Ina Ray Hutton and Orch.	May 7,'37	11
MUSICAL ROMANCE (In Color)
Schubert's Serenade	July 23,'37	9
Song of the Islands (5-22-37)	May 21,'37	10
Trees (3-20-37)	Mar. 19,'37	9
PARAGRAPHICS
Aviator Shorty	July 23,'37	10
Circus Comes to Town, The (7-3-37)	June 25,'37	10
Cowboy Shorty (10-16-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	10
Game Trails	Apr. 30,'37	10
Inventor, The (10-23-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	11
It's a Good Stunt (9-25-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	10
It's a Living	Mar. 5,'37	11
Killer of the Tonto	Aug. 13,'37†	10
Make Up and Live	Dec. 31,'37†
Nobody Home	Apr. 2,'37	10
Safety in the Air (5-22-37)	May 28,'37	10
Tuna	Dec. 3,'37†
Where Snow Is King	Feb. 5,'37	9
PARAMOUNT PICTORIAL
No. 7 — Magic Caverns — Albert Payson Terhune — Swing Fashions	Feb. 12,'37	9
No. 8 — Tides of Fundy — Home of the Rainbow — Meet the Lerias	Mar. 12,'37	10
No. 9 — Moonlight and Shadows — Rooftops of Manhattan — Blackie and Brownie	Apr. 9,'37	10
No. 10 — Sailboat Time — Twilight on the Trail — Magnetic Music (5-22-37)	May 7,'37	10
No. 11—Fishing Highlights	June 4,'37	11
No. 12—(7-3-37)	July 2,'37	10
NEW SERIES
No. 1 — Ain't Nature Old Fashioned — Where East Meets West — Hollywood Music Man	Aug. 6,'37†	1 rl.
No. 2 — Let's Count Horses —Novia Scotia Faces the Sea — Record Making (9-18-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	10
No. 3 — Modern Czechoslovakia — Southern Sketches — Doing Broadway in Style (10-16-37)	Oct. 1,'37†	10
No. 4 — Tropical Toppers— Huckleberry Harvest — Steel Never Dies (11-6-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	10
No. 5—	Dec. 3,'37
POPEYE THE SAILOR
Football Toucher Downer	Oct. 15,'37†
Fowl Play	Dec. 17,'37†
Hospitality	Apr. 16,'37†	7
I Like Babies and Infants (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37†	7
I Never Change My Altitude	Aug. 20,'37†	7
Lost and Foundry	July 16,'37	7
Morning, Noon and Night Club (6-26-37)	June 18,'37	7
My Artistical Temperature	Mar. 19,'37	7
Organ Grinder's Swing (3-6-37)	Feb. 19,'37	7
Paneless Window Washer, The (2-27-37)	Jan. 22,'37	7
Popeye the Sailor Meets Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves (Color Special)	Nov. 26,'37†	2 rls.
Protex the Weakerist (11-20-37)	Nov. 19,'37†	7
Twisker Pitcher, The	May 21,'37	7
PARAMOUNT SOUND NEWS
Two Editions Weekly
POPULAR SCIENCE (In Color)
No. 3	Dec. 25,'36	11
No. 4 (3-27-37)	Feb. 26,'37	11
No. 5	Apr. 30,'37	11
No. 6	July 2,'37	11
NEW SERIES
No. 1 (9-18-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	10
No. 2 (11-20-37)	Nov. 12,'37†	10
No. 3	Jan. 14,'38†
SCREEN SONGS
Magic on Broadway Jay Freeman and Orch	Nov. 26,'37†	1 rl.
Never Should Have Told You (3-6-37) Nat Brandwynne and Orch.	Jan. 29,'37	8
Please Keep Me in Your Dreams (5-22-37) Henry King and Orch.	May 28,'37	8
Twilight on the Trail The Westerners	Mar. 26,'37	7
Whispers in the Dark (10-9-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	7
You Came to My Rescue Shep Fields and Orch.	July 30,'37	8
GRANTLAND RICE SPORTLIGHTS (NEW SERIES)
No. 33—An Underwater Romance (3-6-37)	Jan. 29,'37	10
No. 34—On the Nose (3-13-37)	Feb. 26,'37	10
No. 35—King Soccer	Mar. 26,'37	10
No. 36—Wrestling (It's a Laugh)	Apr. 23,'37	10
No. 37—Swing Stars (5-22-37)	May 14,'37	10
No. 38—Pan-American Champion (7-3-37)	June 11,'37	10
No. 39—Rhythm of the Game (7-10-37)	July 9,'37	10
No. 40—Aquabats	Aug. 13,'37†	10
No. 41—Picking Pets (10-2-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	10
No. 42—Four Smart Dogs (10-16-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	10
No. 43—Pick Your Favorite (11-6-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	10
No. 44—Ball Tossers	Dec. 3,'37†
No. 45—Water, Water Everywhere	Dec. 31,'37†
UNUSUAL OCCUPATIONS (In Color)
No. 1	Aug. 6,'37†	1 rl.
No. 2 (10-16-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	10
No. 3	Dec. 10,'37†

RKO RADIO

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
CONDOR MUSICALES
Frozen Affair, A (8-28-37)	Sept. 17,'37†	10
Murder in Swing Time (9-4-37)	Sept. 27,'37†	10
Prairie Swingeroo (12-25-37)	Oct. 15,'37†	10
LEON ERROL COMEDIES
Dummy Owner, The	Jan. 7,'38†	19
Rented Riot, A	Nov. 5,'37†	17
Should Wives Work (10-9-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	19
HEADLINER SERIES
3—Rhythm on the Rampage (4-24-37)	Apr. 2,'37	18½
4—Swing Fever	July 25,'37	20
1937-38
No. 1—Trailing Along (10-16-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	16
No. 2—Music Will Tell	Feb. 11,'38†
EDGAR KENNEDY COMEDIES
Dumb's the Word	June 11,'37	18
Ears of Experience	Jan. 28,'38†	18
Edgar and Goliath (12-25-37)	Nov. 19,'37†	17
Looks and Bonds	Apr. 16,'37	19
Morning Judge (10-16-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	18
Tramp Trouble	Aug. 6,'37	16
MARCH OF TIME
No. 8	Mar. 19,'37	20
No. 9 (4-17-37)	Apr. 16,'37	21
No. 10	May 14,'37	18
No. 11	June 11,'37	18
No. 12	July 9,'37	16
No. 13	Aug. 6,'37	18
1937-38
No. 1 (9-11-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	17
No. 2	Oct. 1,'37†	20
No. 3	Oct. 29,'37†	21
No. 4	Nov. 26,'37†
No. 5	Dec. 24,'37†
No. 6	Jan. 21,'38†
MICKEY MOUSE
Clock Cleaners, The (8-28-37)	Oct. 15,'37†	8
Donald's Ostrich	Dec. 10,'37†	9
Hawaiian Holiday (9-4-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	8
Lonesome Ghosts (12-25-37)	Dec. 24,'37†	9
Old Mill, The	Nov. 5,'37†	9
Pluto's Quintuplets	Nov. 26,'37†	9
NU-ATLAS PRODUCTIONS
Devilled Ham	Apr. 28,'38†
Phoney Boy (12-25-37)	Nov. 19,'37†	11
Rhythm in a Night Court (9-4-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	9
Sweet Shoe	Jan. 14,'38†	11
PATHE NEWS
Released twice a week
PATHE PARADE
No. 1 (10-16-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	13
No. 2 (12-18-37)	Nov. 5,'37†
No. 3	Dec. 31,'37†
PATHE REVIEWS
Released once a month
PATHE TOPICS
Released seven times a year
RADIO FLASH COMEDIES
Horse Play (4-3-37)	Mar. 13,'37	18
Many Unhappy Returns	Oct. 22,'37†	17
Stupervisor	Feb. 25,'38†
RADIO MUSICAL COMEDIES
Harris in the Spring (12-25-37)	Dec. 3,'37†	20
Mississippi Moods (7-31-37)	July 23,'37	17
That Man Samson	May 28,'37	19
Twenty Girls and a Band	Apr. 8,'38†
SMART SET
Inlawful	Apr. 30,'37	17
Rhythm Wranglers (12-25-37)	Dec. 17,'37†	19
SPECIAL
Day With the Dionne Quintuplets, A (4-24-37)	Mar. 26,'37	18
SPORTS WITH BILL CORUM
Beach Sports	June 4,'37	9½
Big League	May 7,'37	11
Foreign Sports	Apr. 9,'37	10
Golf Timing (8-21-37)	July 23,'37	11
Royal Steeds	July 2,'37	10
Saratoga Summers (3-27-37)	Mar. 12,'37	11
STRUGGLE TO LIVE
Desert Land	Apr. 5,'37	9
SUPERBA COMEDIES
Wife Insurance (8-14-37)	July 9,'37	18
Wrong Romance, The	May 14,'37	19
WORLD ON PARADE
Circus Winter Quarters	May 14,'37	11
Florida Cowboy	June 11,'37	9½
Jungle Playmate	July 30,'37	9
Mt. Vernon	Mar. 19,'37	10
Workshops of Old Mexico	July 9,'37	11

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
AMERICAN RED CROSS
Behind the Flood Headlines (5-8-37)		11
ASTOR
Carmen (5-29-37)		9
Halt! Who Goes There? (5-29-37)		9
JAM HANDY
New Day, A (12-25-37)		12
ROGERS SPECIAL
Lest We Forget (5-1-37)		1 rl.
U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE
I Pledge My Heart (8-7-37)		11

20TH CENTURY-FOX

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
ADVENTURES OF THE NEWSREEL CAMERAMAN
Bone Bender Parade, The (8-14-37)	Aug. 6,'37	10
Filming Modern Youth	Oct. 1,'37†
Filming Nature's Wonders	Dec. 3,'37†
Filming Nature's Wonders	Dec. 3,'37†
Laughing at Fate (11-27-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	8½
Motor Maniacs (9-25-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	10
MAGIC CARPET SERIES
Dude Ranch, The	Oct. 8,'37†
Italian Libya (12-4-37)	Nov. 12,'37†	10
Land of the Maple Leaf, The	Dec. 10,'37†
Mexican Mural (10-16-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	9½
Modern Dixie
Portraits of Portugal (8-7-37)	Aug. 6,'37	10

UNITED ARTISTS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
MICKEY MOUSE
109. Worm Turns, The (1-23-37)	Apr. 17,'37†	8½

THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
110. Magician Mickey	June 17,'37†	.8½..
111. Mickey's Amateurs (6-19-37)	June 4,'37†	.1 rl..
112. Moose Hunters	Aug. 5,'37†	.9....
SILLY SYMPHONIES
109. Mother Pluto (11-21-36)	Mar. 6,'37†	.8½..
110. More Kittens (1-9-37)	Mar. 27,'37†	.8½..
111. Woodland Cafe (6-26-37)	Mar. 15,'37†	.1 rl..
112. Little Hiawatha (6-26-37)	May 11,'37†	.....
113. Modern Invention (6-26-37)	June 17,'37†	.....

UNIVERSAL

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
GOING PLACES with LOWELL THOMAS
No. 34 (4-17-37)	Mar. 22,'37..	.8....
No. 35 (4-17-37)	Apr. 12,'37..	.7....
No. 36 (5-15-37)	May 10,'37..	.9½..
No. 37 (5-15-37)	June 7,'37..	.9½..
No. 38 (7-24-37)	July 26,'37.	.10....
No. 39 (10-23-37)	Oct. 18,'37†	.9....
No. 40 (12-4-37)	Nov. 1,'37†	.9....
No. 41 (12-11-37)	Nov. 15,'37†	.9....
No. 42	Nov. 22,'37†	.9....
No. 43	Dec. 6,'37†	.9....
No. 44	Jan. 3,'38†	.....
MEANY-MINY-MOE CARTOONS
Air Express (10-2-37)	Sept. 20,'37†	.6....
Big Race, The (3-13-37)	Mar. 3,'37..	.7....
Country Store (8-7-37)	July 5,'37..	.7....
Fireman's Picnic (10-16-37)	Aug. 16,'37..	.6½..
Lumber Camp (3-20-37)	Mar. 15,'37..	.7....
Ostrich Feathers (10-2-37)	Sept. 6,'37†	.7....
Rest Resort (10-16-37)	Aug. 23,'37..	.7....
Steel Workers (5-15-37)	Apr. 26,'37..	.7....
Stevedores, The	May 24,'37..	.7....
MENTONE MUSICAL COMEDIES
All Aboard (11-6-37)	Dec. 1,'37†	17....
Alpine Cabaret (8-14-37)	Aug. 4,'37.	10....
Bargain Matinee (3-20-37)	Apr. 14,'37.	10....
Cocktail Party, The (5-15-37)	May 12,'37.	10....
Hawaiian Capers (9-18-37)	Sept. 8,'37†	17....
It's On the Record	Mar. 17,'37.	10½..
Oh, Say Can You Hear? (12-18-37)	Dec. 29,'37†	15....
Rhapsody in Zoo (12-11-37)	Jan. 26,'38†	15½..
Shoes With Rhythm (5-15-37)	June 9,'37.	10....
Show for Sale (10-30-37)	Nov. 3,'37†	21....
Singing Bandit, The (7-3-37)	July 7,'37.	10....
Teddy Bergman's Bar-B-Q (10-16-37)	Oct. 6,'37†	19....
OSWALD CARTOONS
Duck Hunt (3-13-37)	Mar. 8,'37..	.7....
Dumb Cluck (12-11-37)	Dec. 20,'37†	.7....
Football Fever (12-4-37)	Nov. 15,'37†	.7....
Keeper of the Lions (11-13-37)	Oct. 18,'37†	.7....
Lamplighter, The	Jan. 10,'38†	.7....
Love Sick (11-6-37)	Oct. 4,'37†	.8....
Mechanical Handy Man (10-30-37)	Nov. 8,'37†	.7....
Mysterious Jug, The (12-11-37)	Nov. 29,'37†	.7....
Playful Pup, The (7-31-37)	July 12,'37.	.7....
Trailer Thrills (5-15-37)	May 3,'37..	.7....
Wily Weasel, The	June 7,'37..	.7....
STRANGER THAN FICTION SERIES
No. 34—Novelty (4-17-37)	Mar. 29,'37.	.9....
No. 35—Novelty (4-17-37)	Apr. 26,'37.	.9....
No. 36—Novelty (4-17-37)	May 24,'37.	.8....
No. 37—Novelty (7-3-37)	June 21,'37.	.8½..
No. 38—Novelty (5-15-37)	July 19,'37.	.9....
No. 39—Novelty (7-24-37)	Aug. 16,'37.	.9....
No. 40—Novelty (9-18-37)	Sept. 6,'37†	.9....
No. 41—Novelty	Oct. 4,'37†	.9....
No. 42—Novelty	Nov. 1,'37†	.9....
No. 43—Novelty (12-4-37)	Nov. 29,'37†	.9....
No. 44—Novelty (12-11-37)	Dec. 27,'37†	.9....
No. 45—Novelty	Jan. 17,'38†	.....
UNIVERSAL SPECIAL
Breathless Moments		2 rls.
Hollywood Screen Test (8-14-37)	Aug. 30,'37†	21....

VITAPHONE

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
BIG TIME VAUDEVILLE REEL
Bring On the Girls Edgar Bergen	Mar. 6,'37.	11....
Vitaphone Diversions Smith and Dale	Apr. 3,'37.	10....
Nickel Lowdown	May 1,'37.	10....
Charles Kemper
Vitaphone Funsters (6-12-37) Johnny Burke	May 29,'37.	11....
Vaude-Festival Fritz and Jean Hubert	June 26,'37.	.....
Vaudeville Hits Elaine Arden	July 17,'37.	.....
Vitaphone Broadwayites Medley-Dupree	Aug. 21,'37.	10....
BROADWAY BREVITIES
Joe Palooka in "Kick Me Again" (3-6-37) Shemp Howard-Robert Norton	Feb. 6,'37.	21....
Captain Blueblood Georgie Price	Feb. 3,'37.	21....
Swing for Sale (3-13-37) Hal LeRoy	Feb. 27,'37.	22....
Under Southern Stars Fred Lawrence-J. Bryan	Feb. 20,'37.	18....
Hotel a la Swing Eddie Foy, Jr.	Mar. 13,'37.	20....
Mail and Female Ken Murray	Mar. 27,'37.	21....
Play Street (4-10-37) Preisser Sisters	Apr. 3,'37.	21....
Romance of Robert Burns (4-10-37) Owen King-Linda Perry	Apr. 10,'37.	16....
Lifers of the Party, The Yacht Club Boys	Apr. 17,'37.	21....
Joe Palooka in "Taking the Count' Shemp Howard-Robt. Norton	Apr. 24,'37.	21....
Movie Mania Dave Apollon	May 8,'37.	20....
Musical Operation, A Frank Gaby-Virginia Verrill	May 15,'37.	20....
Day at Santa Anita Sybil Jason	May 22,'37.	18....
Sound Defects (6-12-37) Rufe Davis	June 5,'37.	22....
Joe Palooka in "Thirst Aid" Robt. Norton-Beverly Phalen	June 12,'37.	20....
Rhythm Roundup, The Estelle Taylor	June 19,'37.	21....
Little Pioneer, The (7-10-37) Sybil Jason	July 3,'37.	19....
Newsboy's Nocturne (7-10-37) Lane, Tree & Edwards	July 10,'37.	20....
Flowers from the Sky (8-21-37) Josephine Huston	July 24,'37.	22....
Cut Out for Love Donald Novis-Dorothy Dare	Aug. 2,'37.	.....
Du Barry Did All Right Irene Bordoni	Aug. 7,'37.	.... ..
Doctor Cupid Ken Murray-Oswald	Sept. 4,'37†	.... .
Postal Union Georgie Price	Sept. 11,'37†	.....
Littlest Diplomat, The (9-11-37) Sybil Jason	Sept. 25,'37†	20.. .
Ups and Downs Hal LeRoy	Oct. 9,'37†	.....
Starlets (11-20-37)	Oct. 23,'37†	20..
Toot Sweet Fifi D'Orsay-Rufe Davis	Nov. 6,'37†	... ..
Joe Palooka in "Calling All Kids"	Nov. 20,'37†	17. ..
Man Without a Country, The John Litel	Nov. 27,'37†	.....
Here's Your Hat Cookie Bowers	Dec. 11,'37†	2 rls.
One On the House Willie, West, McGinty	Dec. 18,'37†	2 rls.
Wedding Yells Ken Murray-Oswald	Jan. 1,'38†	20....
COLORTOUR ADVENTURE (In Color)
Land of the Midnight Sun (3-13-37)	Feb. 27,'37.	10....
Nature the Artist (4-10-37)	Mar. 20,'37.	10....
Cradle of Civilization	Apr. 17,'37.	10....
Alpine Grandeur	May 15,'37.	10....
Gateway to Africa (6-12-37)	June 12,'37.	10....
Land of the Magyar (7-10-37)	July 3,'37.	.....
Crossing the Sahara	Aug. 14,'37.	.....
Long Bright Land (9-11-37)	Sept. 25,'37†	10....
It's Work	Oct. 23,'37†	.....
Mysterious Ceylon	Nov. 20,'37†	.....
Land of the Kangaroo (11-20-37)	Dec. 18,'37†	10....
FLOYD GIBBONS' "YOUR TRUE ADVENTURE"
Attic of Terror (9-11-37)	Sept. 18,'37†	12....
Playing with Danger (11-20-37)	Oct. 30,'37†	13....
Danger—High Voltage	Dec.. 4,'37†	1 rl..
Alibi Mark	Dec. 25,'37†	.1 rl..
LOONEY TUNES
No. 33—Porky's Romance	Apr. 17,'37.	.8....
No. 34—Porky's Duck Hunt	Apr. 17,'37.	.8....
No. 35—Porky and Gabby (6-12-37)	May 15,'37.	.8....
No. 36—Porky's Building	June 19,'37.	.8....
No. 37—Porky's Super Service (7-10-37)	July 3,'37.	.8....
No. 38—Porky's Bad Time Story	July 24,'37.	.7....
No. 39—Porky's Railroad (8-14-37)	Aug. 7,'37.	.7....
No. 40—Get Rich Porky	Aug. 28,'37.	.....
No. 41—Porky's Garden	Sept. 11,'37.	.....
No. 42—Rover's Rival	Oct. 9,'37†	.....
No. 43—The Case of the Stuttering Pig	Oct. 30,'37†	.....
No. 44—Porky's Double Trouble (11-20-37)	Nov. 13,'37†	.7....
No. 45—Porky's Hero Agency	Dec. 4,'37†	.7....
MELODY MASTERS
Roger Wolf Kahn and Orch.	Feb. 6,'37.	10....
Cab Calloway and Orch. (3-13-37)	Feb. 20,'37.	10....
Peter Van Steden and Orch.	Mar. 6,'37.	10....
Jacques Fray and Orch. (4-10-37)	Mar. 27,'37.	10....
Jam Session, The Clyde McCoy and Orch.	Apr. 17,'37.	10....
Rimac Orchestra, The	May 8,'37.	10....
Jack Denny and Orch.	May 29,'37.	10....
Eliseo Grenet and Orch. (6-19-37)	June 19,'37.	10....
Lennie Hayton and Orch. (7-10-37)	July 10,'37.	10....
David Mendoza and Orch. (8-21-37)	July 31,'37.	10....
Russ Morgan and Orch.	Sept. 11,'37†	.....
Milt Britton and Orch.	Oct. 2,'37†	.....
Mal Hallett and Orch.	Oct. 23,'37†	.....
Arnold Johnson and Orch. (9-11-37)	Nov. 13,'37†	10....
Jan Rubini and Orch.	Dec. 4,'37†	.1 rl..
Henry King and Orch.	Dec. 25,'37†	.1 rl..
MERRIE MELODIES (In Color)
No. 32—I Only Have Eyes For You (3-6-37)	Mar. 6,'37.	.8....
No. 33—The Fella with the Fiddle (4-10-37)	Mar. 27,'37.	.8....
No. 34—She Was an Acrobat's Daughter	Apr. 10,'37.	.8....
No. 35—Ain't We Got Fun	May 1,'37.	.8....
No. 36—Clean Pastures	May 22,'37.	.....
No. 37—Uncle Tom's Bungalow	June 5,'37.	.....
No. 38—Streamlined Greta Green (6-12-37)	June 19,'37.	.8....
No. 39—Sweet Sioux (7-10-37)	June 26,'37.	.8....
No. 40—Egghead Rides Again	July 17,'37.	.8....
No. 41—Plenty of Money and You	July 31,'37.	.7....
No. 42—Sunbonnet Blue	Aug. 21,'37.	.....
No. 43—Speaking of the Weather (8-21-37)	Sept. 4,'37.	.7....
No. 44—Dog Daze	Sept. 18,'37.	.....
No. 45—I Wanna Be A Sailor	Sept. 25,'37†	.....
No. 46—The Lyin' Mouse	Oct. 16,'37†	.....
No. 47—Little Red Walking Hood	Nov. 6,'37†	.....
No. 48—Woods Are Full of Cuckoos	Dec. 4,'37†	.1 rl..
No. 49—September in the Rain	Dec. 18,'37†	.1 rl..
PICTORIAL REVIEWS
No. 7—Phonograph Records—Lipsticks (4-10-37)	Mar. 20,'37.	11....
No. 8—Coiffeurs—Shoes	Apr. 10,'37.	10....
No. 9—Hats—Bathing Suits	May 11,'37.	10....
No. 10—Dancing-Leather (6-5-37)	May 22,'37.	10....
No. 11—Milk—Rugs	June 19,'37.	10....
No. 12—Pianos—Art (8-14-37)	July 17,'37.	10....
No. 13—Books—Furs	Aug. 28,'37.	.....
(NEW SERIES)
No. 1—Racing—Wrestling—Cheese (9-11-37)	Sept. 18,'37.	10....
No. 2—Mauch Twins—Table Tennis	Oct. 16,'37†	.....
No. 3—Dogs—Hollywood Rides (11-13-37)	Nov. 13,'37†	10....
No. 4—Boxers—Dolls	Dec. 11,'37†	.....
VITAPHONE NOVELTIES
Medium Well Done Hardeen	Mar. 6,'37.	10....
Ghost to Ghost Hookup, A Radio Ramblers	Apr. 3,'37.	11....
Home Run on the Keys (4-3-37) Babe Ruth	Apr. 24,'37..	9....
Check Your Cash Louis Zingone	May 22,'37.	10....
Double Talk (6-5-37) Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy"	June 26,'37.	10....
Palm Beach Knights Charles Ahearn	July 31,'37.	.....
Lyin' Tamer, The (7-11-36) George Jessel	Aug. 28,'37.	10....
All American Drawback (11-20-37) Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy"	Nov. 6,'37†	11....
VITAPHONE VARIETIES
Neckin' Party, A (9-11-37) Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy"	Sept. 4,'37†	11....
Puppet Love (9-11-37) Salici's Puppets	Oct. 2,'37†	10....
Roping 'Em Alive	Nov. 6,'37†	.....
Vitaphone Frolics (11-20-37) Jack & Loretta Clemens	Dec. 4,'37†	10....

WM. STEINER

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Eagle's Vengeance, The	July 29,'37†	20....

WORLD

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Battling Bettas	July 8,'37†	10....
Men of Ships	Sept. 10,'37†	.9....
Paper Hanger, The (Cartoon)	Dec. 25,'37†	.....
Story of the Rose, A (1-16-37)		10....

SERIALS

12 Episodes Each Unless Otherwise Specified

COLUMBIA

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Jungle Menace (9-4-37) Frank Buck-C. Henry (15 episodes)	Sept. 1,'37†	20.... (each)
Mysterious Pilot, The (12-25-37) Capt. Frank Hawks (15 episodes)	Dec. 9,'37†	-5.... (each)

REPUBLIC

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Dick Tracy 6401 (2-27-37) Ralph Byrd-Kay Hughes (15 episodes)	Feb. 20,'37†	.....
Lone Ranger, The 7401 Lee Powell-Herman Brix (15 episodes)	Feb. 12,'38†	.....
Painted Stallion, The, 6421 Ray Corrigan-Hoot Gibson	June 5,'37†	.....
S. O. S. Coast Guard 6441 Ralph Byrd-Maxine Doyle	Aug. 28,'37†	.....
Zorro Rides Again 6461 John Carroll-Helen Christian	Nov. 20,'37†	.....

UNIVERSAL

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Flash Gordon's Trip to Mars Larry Crabbe-Jean Rogers
Jungle Jim (12-26-36) Grant Withers-Betty Jane Rhodes	Jan. 18,'37.	2 rls. (each)
Radio Patrol (9-18-37) Grant Withers-Cath. Hughes (Exploitation: Dec. 25,'37, p. 57.)	Oct. 4,'37†	.2 rls. (each)
Secret Agent X9 Scott Kolk-Jean Rogers	Apr. 12,'37.	.2 rls. (each)
Tim Tyler's Luck (11-27-37) Frankie Thomas, Jr.,-Frances Robinson	Dec. 27,'37†	.2 rls.
Wild West Days (6-26-37) Johnny Mack Brown (13 episodes)	July 5,'37†	.2 rls. (each)

VICTORY

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Blake of Scotland Yard Ralph Byrd-Herbert Rawlinson (15 episodes—also feature version)	Apr. 15,'37.	.....

J C JENKINS—HIS COLYUM

Neligh, Nebraska

Dear Herald:

We've got the itch. Not the kind we used to have back when our mother would dope us with sulphur and molasses, but we've got the itch to hear from the exhibitors, whom we have the audacity to call our friends. It's the kind of itch that can be cured only in one way. Just a note, if it only said "Hello, you old stick-in-the-mud." We have just received a Christmas card of greeting that helped a lot. It was from Eddie Quillan out in Hollywood. Eddie, you know, is the one who played such a good part in "Mutiny on the Bounty," and his greeting assured us that there are still a few who remember to send our mail to Neleigh, Nebraska, rather than to a cell number.

▽

When this letter gets in print (if it ever does) it will most likely be too late to wish you all a very Merry Christmas, but we are hoping it will be in time to wish you a very Happy and Prosperous New Year, and it will be too late to send Santa any suggestions, but if we were sure Farley knows where to deliver a letter to Santa we would write him something like this—

Dear Santa:

You are, no doubt, very busy getting presents ready to deliver to the children down here and you are no doubt undecided just what to bring to the kids on Park avenue and the Gold Coast. We might suggest to you that you ought to bring them something but you will find it a hard job to know what it should be because they already have everything you can think of. Our thought is that you should concentrate somewhat on little Susie and Willie out here on the prairies where the wind howls of a day and the coyotes howl of nights and where the grasshoppers have been in evidence for several years. Susie won't want a whole lot, just a few clothes to keep her warm and a dollie made of a corncob with a dress on it and a few little trinkets like that, and Willie will be tickled with anything you want to bring him; and listen, Santa, don't forget that the Master once said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have don it unto me." And say, Santa, if you will think that over you will rejoice to know that what you do for them you will be doing for Him also. May the good Lord help you Santa to remember these children. And don't forget that the good book says, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

▽

A. Bemond operates the theatre at Ord, Nebraska, and he also has the Liberty theatre at Loup City, Nebraska, and he feels that both theatres ought to have the HERALD, and they should, of course, so he sends us a check and says for us to have the HERALD sent to his Liberty at Loup City, which we are mighty glad to do. This is positive evidence that Herr Bemond knows his business. When you are in Ord or Loup City don't fail to go to the show, for you will be mighty well entertained.

Parker, South Dakota, is located between the Lone Star state and Valley City, North Dakota, and Valley City is where the blizzards come from, and the Lone Star State is where the good grapefruit comes from. Parker would be listed on the map as just another town if it weren't that P. G. Estee of the Estee theatre has put the town on the map in big red letters. We have just received a card of Christmas greetings from Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Estee which operates as a tonic, and we needed a tonic.

▽

Down in Omaha, Nebraska, is an ace film salesman by the name of Fred C. Thorsten, and Fred knows his business. That's probably because Fred has been a close student of the MOTION PICTURE HERALD, and when they are that way, they don't have to be told. Fred has been a member of the HERALD family for a long time and he sends us a check to pay his dues for three more years. Thanks Fred.

▽

Last night we went to the show and saw, what purported to be a picture. It was, presumably, made in Hollywood, but we couldn't tell what it was about nor who played in it. It was a little of this and a little of that and not much of anything, so we went over to the drug store and got a coca cola and came home and slopped the hogs.

▽

Plattsmouth, Nebraska, is located on the west bank of the Missouri river, and the Missouri river is where they catch a lot of catfish, but G. G. Griffin is not much of a fisher but he does know how to operate a theatre. That's probably why the Ritz theatre has such an enviable reputation all up and down the river country.

G. G. believes that anything that is worth doing is worth doing right, and that partially accounts for why he wrote us to have the HERALD sent to him. We are going to do it.

▽

You ought to see this town. Broadway hasn't a darn thing on this place. In each intersection on main street they have erected a Christmas tree that is thirty or forty feet high and they are covered with colored lights and cover the street in a canopy of colored lights and not a cow on the streets. If Santa gets lost in this town he should have his eyes examined. When entering the town, honk your horn and the village cop will drive the shoats off the street.

▽

Roy E. Syfert operates the Ainsworth theatre at Ainsworth, Nebraska. He is also the undertaker for that community, and if you will go to his theatre he will undertake to show you a good picture and you will undertake to express your appreciation for the courtesy shown.

▽

Don't go to Harlan, Iowa, without visiting the Harlan theatre, operated by Carl J. Ernst. We know he is ace high because he has just sent us a check for a renewal of his subscription to the HERALD. That makes the boys 100 per cent plus.

▽

This is a lovely day, nice and warm, but the wind has switched to the north and now, how about mañana?

COLONEL J. C. JENKINS
The HERALD's Vagabond Colyumnist

The HERALD covers the FIELD like an April SHOWER.

IN THE NEWSREELS

MOVIETONE NEWS—No. 30, Vol. 20.—Women picket auto plant in Kansas City....Lincoln Tunnel opened ....Children of foreign diplomats at capital extend holiday greetings to American friends....Names in the news; Duke of Aosta, King George, Queen Mary, Sonja Henie....Darryl Zanuck presents Congressional medals to Antarctic explorers....Fashions....Navy's latest flying boat....Ski season off to record start.

MOVIETONE NEWS—No. 31, Vol. 20.—California oil well bursts into flames....Czechoslovakia priests in air raid drill....Boat goes half way around the world without touching water....Parker Dam nears completion....Lew Lehr....Army tests dirigible converted from balloon....Southern swim season starts.... Skiing at Sun Valley....Santa Anita season opens ....Pictures of the Panay sinking [see page 13].

NEWS OF THE DAY—No. 228, Vol. 9.—News Parade of 1937....Coronation....Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield....Hindenburg disaster....Personalities.... Aviation....Floods....War....America, including the Inauguration and American Legion convention.

NEWS OF THE DAY—No. 229, Vol. 9.—California oil well blows up....Holiday message from the President....Happy New Year from Hollywood....France trains Moroccan heir....Capital hails peaceful end to Panay crisis....The Woman's Page....Whirlwind Skaters open season....Records smashed in Florida aquatic meet....Screen stars at Santa Anita opener ....Pictures of the Panay sinking [see page 13].

PARAMOUNT NEWS—No. 41.—Navy gets air giant ....Two escape Alcatraz....Co-ed fashions....Britain's worst train wreck....Initiation of freshmen at French institute....Mussolini speech hailed....Streamlined train starts first run....Paris murder mystery deepens....Season's greetings from many lands.

PARAMOUNT NEWS—No. 42.—Santa Anita track season inaugural....Liner brings record holiday arrivals including Lady Astor and Douglas Fairbanks, Sr.....Connie Mack celebrates 75th birthday....Farr arrives for Braddock bout....Katherine Rawls honored in Florida....150 Oklahoma prisoners get paroles for holiday with families....East-west basketball.

PATHE NEWS—No. 45, Vol. 9.—Tunnel links New York and New Jersey...."Snow White" thrills Hollywood audience....35 die in Scotch train wreck.... Every day's Christmas for Congress....Science hunts biggest dinosaur....Milk woven into grade A wool ....Senator Wagner explains housing....Ice skater tries out rocket attachment....Turf parade starts in Florida.

PATHE NEWS—No. 46, Vol. 9.—Big gusher goes up in flames....Badminton gaining in popularity....Two killed in train crash....Record crowd opens Santa Anita....Pageant of 1937....Change surges over America....A year of strikes and strife....Coronation ....Disasters shock the world....America goes on playing the game.

UNIVERSAL NEWSPAPER NEWSREEL—No. 626, Vol. 9.—Lincoln Tunnel opened....Fire wrecks big ice-house....Royal Duke to rule Ethiopians....Sleet destroys trees and telephone wires in Oklahoma.... Stubbs wins tropical opener....Gold flowing toward France....Santa visits Venice bathing beauties.... Furious action marks hockey....20,000 youths at church meet....Floods hit southern France.

UNIVERSAL NEWSPAPER NEWSREEL—No. 627, Vol. 9.—President celebrates Christmas....Huge flames top oil well....Italy makes wool from milk.... Girl swimmer named colonel....Now badminton is the rage....Train crashes into street....Demonstrates new rhumba....Santa Anita opens season....Croquet as played in Miami....Special on Panay sinking [see page 13].

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

the great national medium for showmen

Ten cents per word, money-order or check with copy. Count initials, box number and address. Minimum insertion, $1. Four insertions for the price of three. Contract rates on application. No borders or cuts. Forms close Mondays at 5 P.M. Publisher reserves the right to reject any copy. Film and trailer service advertising not accepted: Classified advertising not subject to agency commission. Address correspondence, copy and checks to MOTION PICTURE HERALD, Classified Dept., Rockefeller Center, New York City.

USED EQUIPMENT

DON'T TAKE A BACK SEAT WITH OLD SEATS. Veneer and upholstered chairs as low as 75c each. Many originally from finest theatres. Irwin, Ideal, Stream-Ease, American, other famous makes, ready for immediate delivery. Tell us what you need. S. O. S., 636-AA Eleventh Avenue, New York.

FOR SALE: NEW LATEST ULTRAPHONE Jewell sound equipment for Powers, used only 150 hours, 1/3 off for cash. Pair Mazda lamphouses with regulars, Cinephor condensers, $130. PALACE THEATRE, Elmwood, Ill.

JUST A FEW LOTS LEFT. WOULD PAY YOU to write us for information about these used chairs also our new chairs. ALLIED SEATING CO., INC., 358 W. 44th St., New York.

GENERAL EQUIPMENT

NEW YEAR BARGAINS—FIRE EXTINGUISHERS complete with liquid, $2.99; film cement, pint 69c; genuine Bausch & Lomb high fidelity optical systems, $25.00 value, $11.95; photocells, guaranteed, $4.95; replacement parts for Powers and Simplex at big discounts; carbon savers, $1.33 each. Thousands of bargains. CONSOLIDATED THEATRE SUPPLY CORP., 1600-M Broadway, New York.

EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY FROM HIGH prices when you use our big complete theatre equipment catalog. Shows new and reconditioned projectors, lamphouses, sound systems, screens, speakers, rectifiers, and everything else for your theatre at industry's lowest prices. New class A metal tube amplifiers, from $39.50. Write today. S. O. S., 636-AA Eleventh Avenue. New York.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR OLD AND NEW customers for their patronage and extend to all a happy and prosperous New Year with bigger and better bargains. CROWN, 614 9th Ave., New York City.

WE BUY — SELL — EXCHANGE — MINIATURE and movie cameras. CAMERA-MART, 110 West 40th Street, New York.

BARGAIN-FORECLOSURE RELEASES: PAIR new E Brenkert lamps 10" reflectors—pair new Recto-Lite rectifiers complete—will take balance owed, cash $385. STEBBINS, 1804 Wyandotte, Kansas City, Mo.

NEW EQUIPMENT

START THE NEW YEAR OFF RIGHT BY SAVING at S. O. S.; new 50 amp. rectifiers (Forest made) brand new for Suprex, $74.75; voco-chrome sound screens, full size, 22½c sq. ft.; super photocells, type 71A guaranteed 3 years, $4.95; exciter lamps, 39c. We save you money on everything. S. O. S., 636-AA Eleventh Avenue, New York.

BOOKS

EVERY OPERATOR SHOULD HAVE THIS book. It's Richardson's 5th edition, Vol. 3, with famous, "Question and Answer," index. Not the latest but great value for only $1.95. Order from S. O. S., 536-AA Eleventh Avenue, New York.

RICHARDSON'S BLUEBOOK OF PROJECTION—Revised Sixth edition. The revised edition includes 736 pages of up-to-the-minute text, charts and data with detailed description of assembly, wiring and functioning of all modern sound and projection apparatus. It is a practical "trouble shooter," cross indexed for immediate reference in any projection room emergency. ORDER TODAY! $6.25 postpaid. QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP, Rockefeller Center, New York.

HELP WANTED

OPERATORS — MANAGERS — EVERY STATE—need car—movie circuits—No. 520, State Theatre Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

BOOKKEEPING SYSTEMS

THEATRE ACCOUNTING BY WILLIAM F. Morris, is still the best bookkeeping system for theatres. It not only guides you in making the proper entries, but provides sufficient blank pages for a complete record of your operations for each day of the year. Notable for its simplicity. Order now—$4 postage prepaid. QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP, Rockefeller Center, New York.

POSITIONS WANTED

PROJECTIONIST — 7 YEARS' EXPERIENCE. Any machine. Go anywhere. SHEPHERD, 3244 No. Crawford, Chicago.

MANAGER, BOOKER, PROMOTION, CIRCUIT or independent. Experienced, go anywhere, best references. Salary or percentage. BOX 957, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

MANAGER, YOUNG, SIX YEARS' EXPERIENCE buying, booking and operation, desires permanent connection, college education, excellent personality and references. BOX 956, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

THEATRES

WANTED THEATRE IN CHICAGO OR VICINITY. BOX 958, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

FOR SALE. 2 THEATRES, BOTH MONEY-makers, can stand rigid investigation, both near Cleveland, Ohio. Reason. BOX 959, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

WANTED, SMALL TOWN THEATRE, NEW England or New York. BOX 945, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

TRANSLATION SERVICE

WILL MAKE FRENCH AND SPANISH TRANSlation of advertising literature at nominal cost. Can supply complete advertising layout and printing facilities also. Rates quoted upon request if sample submitted. BOX 916A, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

TRAINING SCHOOL

THEATRE EMPLOYEES: ADVANCE TO BETter theatre positions. Free booklet shows you how. THEATRE INSTITUTE, 315 Washington St., Elmira, N. Y.

PRESS OF
C. J. O'BRIEN, INC.
NEW YORK

916

1937 1938

Year in and year out, overcoming obstacles, outliving passing fancies, building solidly on everything truly progressive, the real showmen of this industry have carried the screen steadily forward through reliance on the fundamentals of entertainment—quality and variety.

Educational is justly proud of the part it has played in this steady progress for so many years. Confident that the screen's destiny is a continuing growth on this solid foundation, Educational greets

Educational Pictures

"THE SPICE OF THE PROGRAM"

all showmen everywhere, with a pledge to keep marching side by side with them in every step that will carry our great industry to still greater heights.

Happy New Year
E. W. Hammons

EDUCATIONAL FILMS CORPORATION OF AMERICA

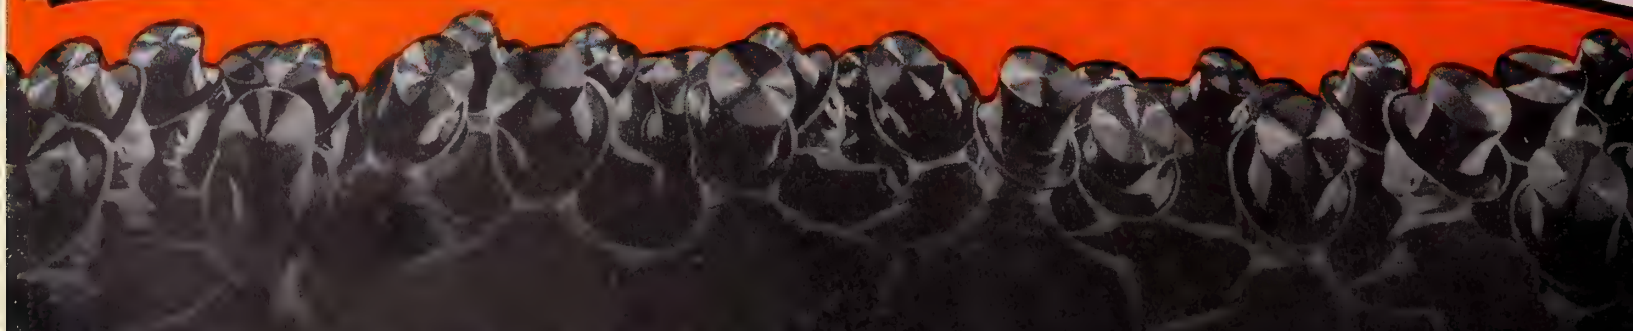
WEST COAST

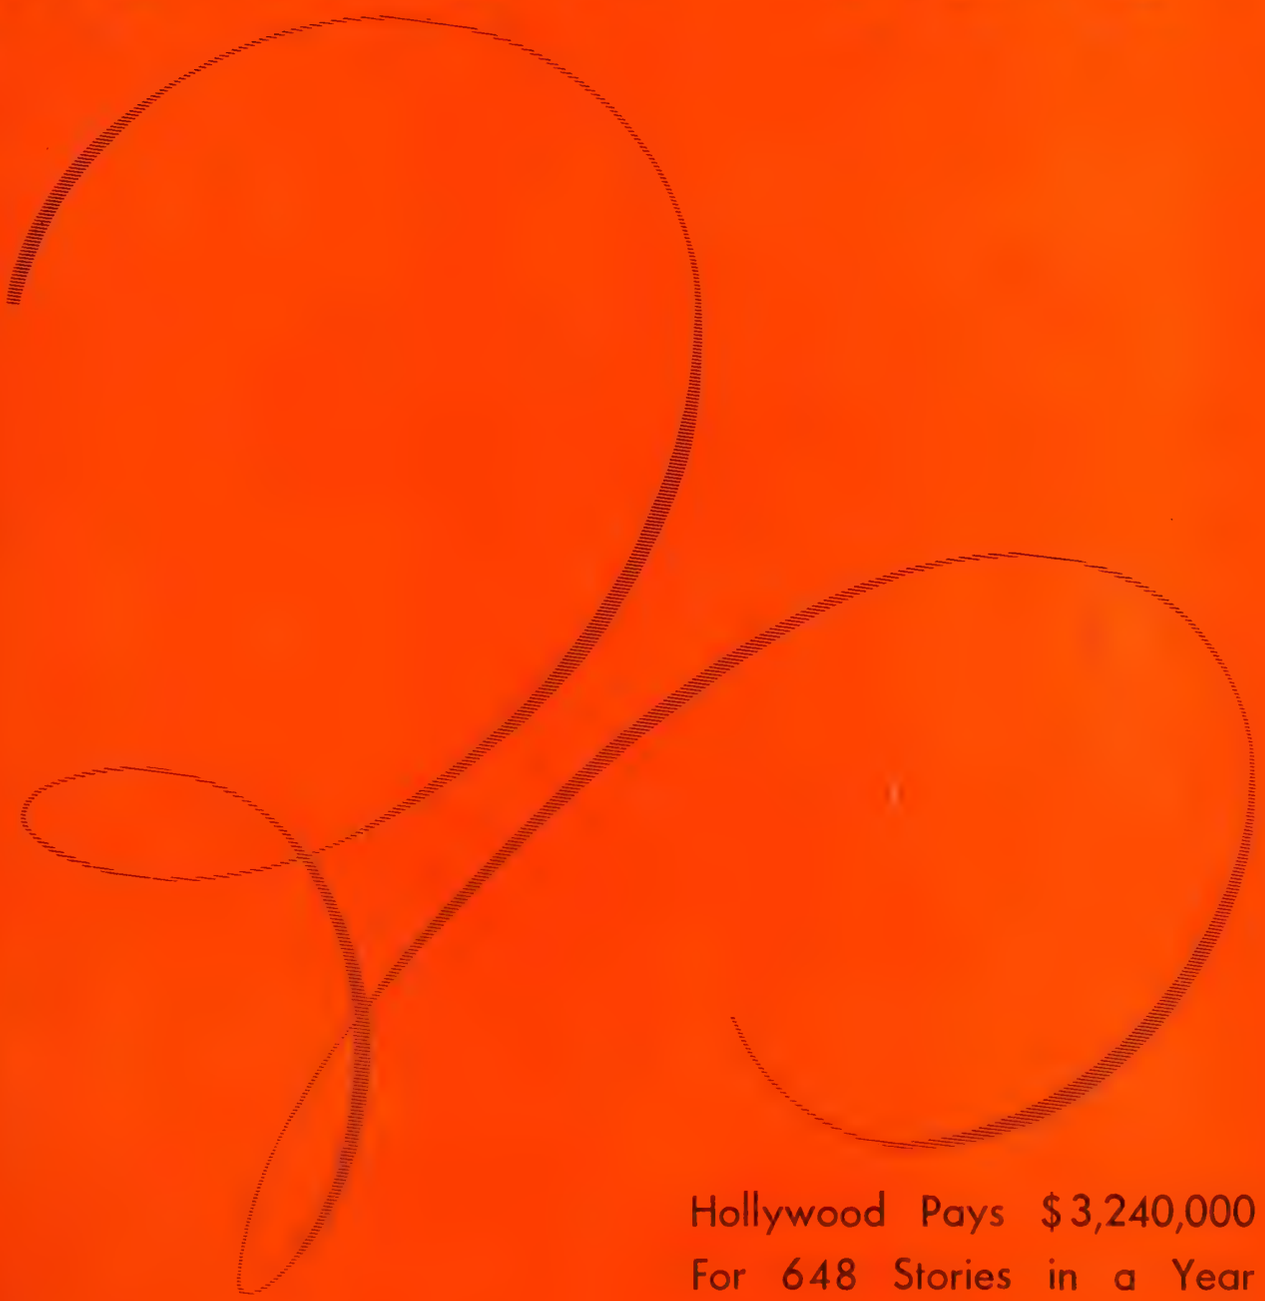
newspaper critics vote

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"



The Best of the Wests!

"Mae West best picture to date."
--Louella O. Parsons, Motion Picture Editor International News Service



"A sockdollager of a movie...the best Miss West has made. Not a single off-color line or situation, scrupulously clean, yet funny." --Frederick C. Othman, United Press

"Mae West opus tops since 'She Done Him Wrong.' Sure-fire winner. No doubts could exist about the positive ten-strike won by 'Every Day's A Holiday'." --Edwin Schallert, Los Angeles Times

MAE WEST in "Every Day's A Holiday" with EDMUND LOWE • CHARLES BUTTERWORTH
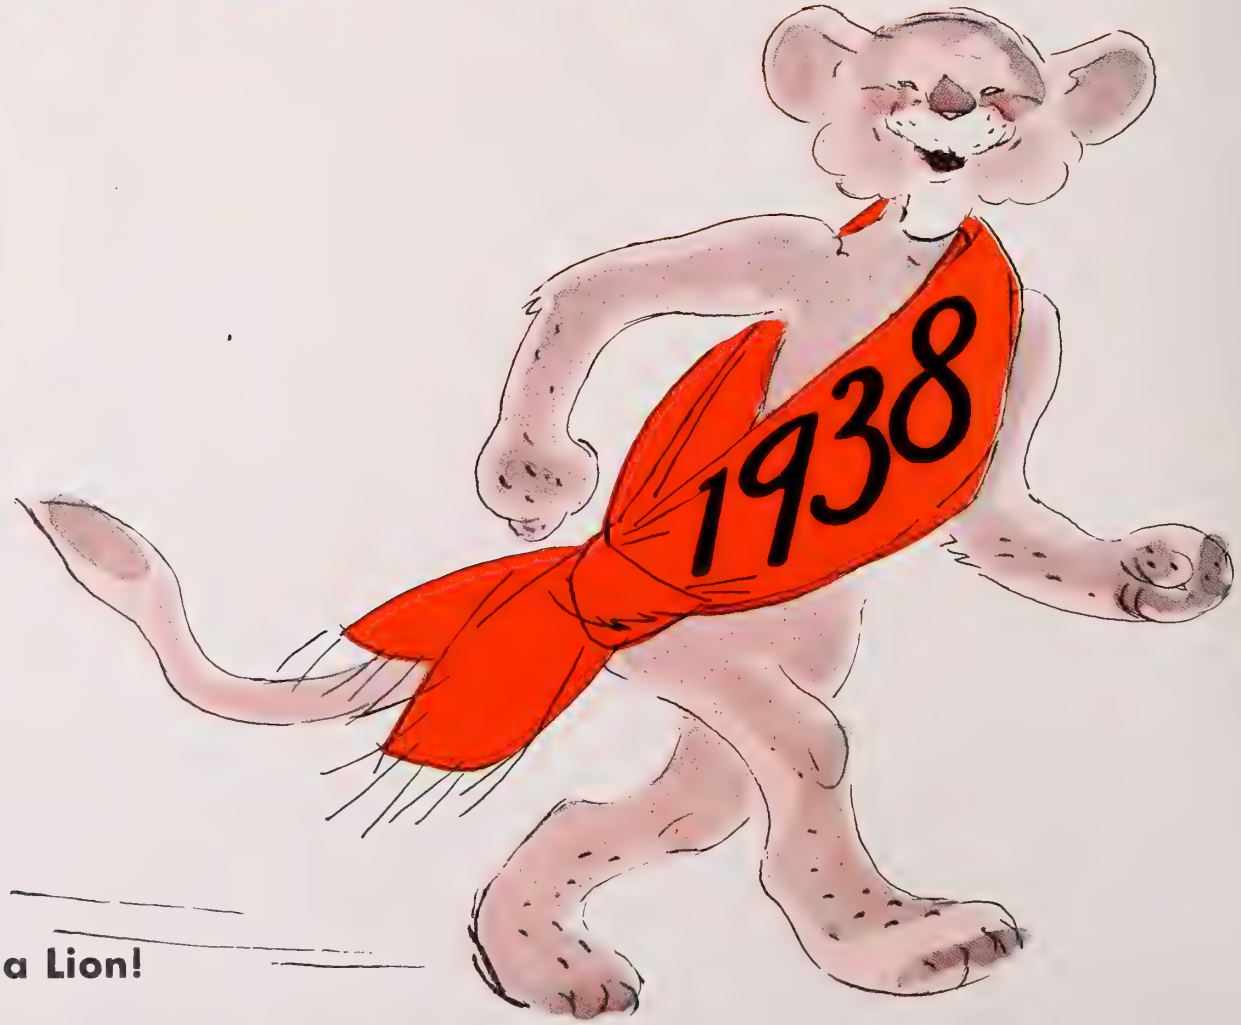
CHARLES WINNINGER • WALTER CATLETT • LLOYD NOLAN • HERMAN BING • CHESTER CONKLIN and LOUIS ARMSTRONG
Screen Play by Mae West • An Emanuel Cohen Production • Directed by A. Edward Sutherland • A Paramount Picture

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

Hollywood Pays $3,240,000 For 648 Stories in a Year

Film Industry Ends Most Profitable Year Since 1930

Films Help Two Networks To Gross 73 Millions in 1937



"Gossipers" Face Court Suit, Attack by 5 Exhibitor Units

In Better Theatres: "Typical Theatre in Average Town"

VOL. 130, NO. 2 In Two Sections — Section One JANUARY 8, 1938

Entered as second-class matter ... at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879. Published weekly by Quigley Publishing Co., Inc., at 1270 Sixth Avenue, Rockefeller ... ater, New York. Subscription, $3.00 a year. Single copies, 25 cents.
All contents copyright 1938 by Quigley Publishing Company

THE KID STEPS OUT!

1938 is a Lion!

Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell

EVERYTHING'S "ROSALIE"!

Biggest opening at the Capitol, N. Y. since the inauguration of the straight picture policy three years ago! And all over the nation merry crowds are chanting "Rosalie I Love You." What a delightful way to start a brand new year!

Myrna Loy, Rosalind Russell, Franchot Tone

"MAN-PROOF" MARVELOUS!

Just after she's elected No. 1 Feminine Star of the Screen, Myrna Loy proves they not only vote for her in the nationwide poll but they say it with cash at the box-office. From Coast to Coast they're hailing Myrna in "Man-Proof."

Joan Crawford, Spencer Tracy

NEXT COMES "MANNEQUIN"

The best Joan Crawford picture in five years is the unanimous opinion of reviewers and the wise boys of Film Row. Joan's drama of a shopgirl's millions is down-to-earth in the "Possessed" manner. And another triumph for Tracy! "Mannequin" is Money!

THE COAST TIP-OFF!

LEO HAS HIT A HIT-STRIDE THAT'S TERRIFIC!

Watch the trade papers for more!

ALL THESE PEOPLE ARE WAITING TO SEE

COLBERT and BOYER in TOVARICH

Claudette COLBERT • Charles BOYER in "TOVARICH" with
BASIL RATHBONE • ANITA LOUISE
MELVILLE COOPER • ISABEL JEANS • Morris Carnovsky • Victor Kilian • An ANATOLE LITVAK Prod'n • Screen Play by Casey Robinson • Adapted from the Play by Jacques Deval • English Version by Robert E. Sherwood • Music by Max Steiner

At Radio City Music Hall

ALL THESE PEOPLE ARE WAITING TO SEE

ALL THIS S.R.O. BUSINESS IS WHY WARNER BROS. HAVE 2 SMASH HOLD-OVERS IN NEW YORK CITY!

. . . As The Sears Drive Sweeps On!

THE PICTURE WITH Happiness
WRITTEN ALL OVER IT!
SONJA HENIE · DON AMECHE
in
happy landing
Darryl F. Zanuck's new big thrill for showmen!
20th CENTURY FOX
THE KEYSTONE OF YOUR FUTURE

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

MARTIN QUIGLEY, Editor-in-Chief and Publisher

Vol. 130, No. 2 — January 8, 1937

"decision final"

ALL persons responsibly concerned with the conduct and wellbeing of the industry of the motion picture must view the year ahead with a realization that large issues and problems at home and abroad, external and internal, are to be met. The institution of Quigley Publications and its Motion Picture Herald where the events, opinions, expressions, trends of the amusement world are weekly woven into a coordinated and interpretive record, is especially conscious of the whole picture and its patterns.

For more than two decades now this growing institution of publication in the service of the whole industry has been building its technique, its policies of construction,—and most importantly its status in, not alone its own special field but also in the larger world of affairs. Motion Picture Herald as the forward looking published expression of the substantial interests and forces has long enjoyed premier standing with all concerned with the amusement world, and recognizing that has ever realized an institutional responsibility.

THE year's-end has brought many castings up and extentensive considerations of motion picture attainments in many publications, and most commonly a reference to or quotation from the recordings of Motion Picture Herald, defining this publication to lay readers in significant terms.

"MOTION PICTURE HERALD, the Domesday Book of the cinema industry," observed Time, the newsmagazine, in its discussion of money making stars of 1937.

Turning to the ponderous Century Dictionary one reads—"Domesday Book—so called because its decision was regarded as final."

That was the book, it is to be remembered, that was compiled for William of Normandy on the assets of Britain when he took over the country to make a nation of it.

"MOTION PICTURE HERALD, the classic of film weeklies," was the definition set down by Mr. Ashton Stevens, the celebrated critic of Chicago, now with the Chicago Evening American.

And that pridefully reminds us of a discussion of our reports by the New York Times, not so long ago, in which that imposing newspaper said:

" . . . the HERALD is a weekly journal whose status in the film industry may be compared to the importance elsewhere of the Encyclopedia Britannica or the Bible. . . . "

SO when Mr. Beverly Hills—and we know his real name—writes in the current Liberty Magazine of the Herald-Fame poll of showmen to designate the box office money makers of 1937, he says: " . . the Motion Picture Herald is the leading exhibitor publication. . . . "

And while we are on the subject of status and acceptance it may be here recorded that of this issue of Motion Picture Herald 17,500 copies are in circulation, of them 16,424 copies to paid subscribers of whom 12,843 are in the exhibition field, which means a circulation without parallel or precedent in this industry, and with a one hundred per cent coverage of top ranking executives in production and distribution and in film buying offices of the circuits great and small. Such circulation can be achieved solely by service rendered, continuously.

△ △ △

CULTURE NOTE

EVIDENCE accumulates tending to show that this Yankee-traditioned land, which began as a nation of whittlers, is now becoming just a mess of chiselers.

Your editor, who pertains to a strain that could make its way across the Western Reserve, is just now much bedevilled by applications for employment by young persons either recently emitted by schools of journalism or ejected by some newspaper suspensions or consolidations, strikes and such. He sees them all.

Recently, out of what some call his cynic whimsy, he hit on the notion of breaking a pencil, while making note of name and address, and seeking to borrow a knife with which to sharpen it. Up to this recording, after examining twenty-four applicants, he has found none carrying even a penknife. It would appear that when the modern reporter gets out of the range of a crank-driven pencil sharpener he is substantially without tools. That indicates that both journalism and the nation have gone to hell completely.

The self-peeling paper pencil, the safety razor, the crown cork, the zipper pants, the ready-made cigarette, the automatic choke carburetor, and the checkless hat-check girl are proof that the sap is drowning Homo Sap.

△ △ △

SUCCESS IN GREEN

SITTING here a-top and a-mid the towers of Rockefeller Center, today's capital of the amusement world, there comes to mind a whimsically improbable and poetic sequence in the success story of Mr. Lawrence A. Kirkland, who is the head of the renting department of this Center—our landlord, officially.

Mr. Kirkland is a lawyer from North Carolina and only a

[Continued on following page, bottom of column one]

This Week

Profits Reviewed

The best year in earnings since 1930, heavy box office receipts for the closing weeks of 1937, but a loss in stock market valuation of motion picture securities resulting from the general stock market recession were outstanding in a financial review of the year. Net profits showed a steady and encouraging increase but mounting production costs were a prime topic of discussion.

Charts of stock valuations, box office comparisons and a story on the year's finances are on pages 12, 13 and 14.

Organization

An overwhelming vote by local members of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees in Hollywood in favor of continuing the present supervision of the locals by International officers and refusing a return to autonomy was followed by indications that the IATSE plans to proceed with its campaign to include within its jurisdictions all crafts and unions concerned in the industry. William Bioff, personal representative of George Browne, president of the International, who has been in Hollywood directing organization work was called to Washington headquarters to take charge of "vital matters."

The story is on page 64.

SUCCESS IN GREEN

[Continued from page 7]

handful of years ago there was none more remote from a career of concern with the complexities of this city within a city on the hectic isle of Manhattan. In 1930 Mr. Kirkland, among his assignments, was engaged in locating and purchasing specimen trees and hedges of boxwood to be transplanted in the Rockefeller reconstruction of Williamsburg, Virginia.

So industriously and so competently did Mr. Kirkland surround the ancient and verdant gems of ornamental box that he commanded the attention of the managers of Rockefeller Center and drew, in time, his new post. A certain coincidental quality seems to pertain to this eventuation, the Rockefeller election of a man engaged in the restoring of America's first colonial capital to move into the operation of its great new capital of commerce, ordained, it seems, by a sprig of green boxwood.

Loew Profit-Sharing

Nicholas M. Schenck, president of Loew's, Inc., told stockholders this week that the company netted $14,426,062, equal to $8.62 per common share, in the year ended August 31, 1937, as compared with $11,076,823 and $6.79 per share in 1936.

At the same time, Mr. Schenck urged the stockholders to approve new personal service contracts for Louis B. Mayer, J. Robert Rubin, Edgar J. Mannix, Samuel Katz, Alexander Lichtman, Benjamin Thau, Hunt Stromberg, Bernard Hyman, Lawrence A. Weingarten, Harry Rapf and Mervyn Le Roy. In addition to salary, and, in some cases, additional concessions, the 11 officers and directors would receive a share in profits approximating some twelve and one-third per cent of the net, after certain deductions. Heretofore this share in the profits was divided only among three persons, Mr. Mayer, Mr. Rubin and the late Irving G. Thalberg.

Terms of the new contracts, and Loew's consolidated income account and consolidated balance sheet, appear on pages 16 and 17, together with editorial observations by Martin Quigley on "Man-Power" in its relation to the new Loew personal service contracts.

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

Published every Thursday by Quigley Publishing Company, Rockefeller Center, New York City. Telephone Circle 7-3100. Cable address "Quigpubco, New York." Martin Quigley, Editor-in-Chief and Publisher; Colvin Brown, Vice-President and General Manager; Terry Ramsaye, Editor; Ernest A. Rovelstad, Managing Editor; Chicago Bureau, 624 South Michigan Avenue, C. B. O'Neill, manager; Hollywood Bureau, Postal Union Life Building, Boone Mancall, manager, William R. Weaver, editor; Toronto Bureau, 366 Adelaide Street West, Toronto 2, Ontario, J. A. Cowan, representative; London Bureau, 4, Golden Square, London W 1, Hope Williams, manager; cable Quigpubco London; Berlin Bureau, Berlin-Tempelhof, Kaiserin-Augustastrasse 28, Joachim K. Rutenberg, representative; Paris Bureau, 29, Rue Marsoulan, Paris 12, France, Pierre Autre, representative, cable Autre-Lacifral-12 Paris; Rome Bureau, via Lovanio 1, Rome, Italy, Vittorio Malpassuti, representative, Italcable, Malpassuti, Rome; Melbourne Bureau, Regent Theatre, 191 Collins St., Melbourne, Australia, Cliff Holt, representative; Mexico City Bureau, Apartado 269, Mexico City, James Lockhart, representative; Prague Bureau, Uhelny trh 2, Prague 1, Czechoslovakia, Harry Knopf, representative; Budapest Bureau, 3, Kaplar-u, Budapest, Hungary, Endre Hevesi, representative; Buenos Aires Bureau, Avellaneda 3949, Buenos Aires, Argentina, Natalio Bruski, representative; Shanghai Bureau, 142 Museum Road, Shanghai, China, J. P. Koehler, representative; Tokyo Bureau, 880 Sasazuka, Ichikawa-shi Chiba-Ken, Japan, H. Tominaga, representative; Rio de Janeiro Bureau, Caixa Postal 3358, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, L. S. Marinho, representative; India Bureau, K. G. Gidwaney, Post Box 147 Bunder Road, Karachi, India; Uruguay, P. O. Box 664, Montevideo, Uruguay, Paul Bodo, representative, cable Argus Montevideo; Amsterdam Bureau, 87 Waalstraat, Amsterdam Z., Holland, Philip de Schaap, representative; Vienna Bureau, Neustiftgasse 54, Vienna VII, Hans Lorant, representative; Chile Bureau, Calle Estado 260, Oficina 306 Santiago de Chile, A. Weissmann, representative; Copenhagen Bureau, Vesterbrogade 20, Copenhagen V, Denmark, Kris Winther, representative. Member Audit Bureau of Circulations. All contents copyright 1938 by Quigley Publishing Company. Address all correspondence to the New York Office. Other Quigley Publications: Better Theatres, Motion Picture Daily, Teatro al Día, International Motion Picture Almanac and Fame.

Trade Practice Conference

Harry Brandt, president of the Independent Theatre Owners Association of New York, this week dispatched telegrams to Ed Kuykendall, president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, and Nathan Yamins, head of Allied States, asking if they could arrange to attend a trade practice conference in New York City next week. The meeting was discussed several weeks ago but was postponed until after the holidays. Mr. Kuykendall answered that he could meet with Mr. Brandt and Mr. Yamins "any day after January 17th."

Social Security Films

The Social Security Board is releasing ten short subjects for as many states showing how the Social Security Act is administered, its benefits and the like. The films were made by Pathe, under contract with the Board, at a cost to the government of $3,000 per subject.

The films have already been prepared and are now being put into circulation, through the state branches of the Social Security Administration. Efforts will be made to get release in theatres.

The production of the films by the SSB was undertaken at the specific request of SSB officials of several states. One scenario was prepared covering the subject generally, with provision made for the insertion of pictures of officials of the particular Social Security Board of the particular state and for the introduction of sufficient other local "color" to make the film appear to have been made individually for the state.

Newsreel Competition

Three newsreel theatres, operated in the Metropolitan area of New York City, this week entered the competitive battle waged last week by three newsreel companies over the films of the Panay bombing and sinking. The three houses are owned by Newsreels Theatres, Inc.

The competition is the subject of a story on page 36.

Control in France

Publication of the long awaited French Government proposals for a new bill to govern the motion picture industry aroused opposition among distributors and exhibitors who, while receiving with satisfaction the news of a possible adaptation of the 40 hour work week law to studio work and changes, possibly favorable, in the amusement tax, viewed with alarm proposals for limitation of program length, control by the Government of theatre receipts, and a new dubbing tax.

Pierre Autre discusses the points in his Paris letter on page 57.

'37 Story Purchases

Producers spent an estimated total of $3,240,000 for 648 literary properties during 1937 as compared to $4,505,000 expended in 1936 for 901 stories. Original vehicles, as in the two preceding years, led the field, 390 being acquired by the various studios as against 75 plays, 79 magazine stories and 104 novels. RKO's purchase of "Room Service" for $255,000 was believed to be the highest price paid by any producer during the year for the rights to a single property. Last month producers acquired 54 vehicles, of which 38 were originals.

Figures for the year and the titles of December purchases are included in a story on page 37.

Losses in China

Distribution in China, with all of the northern provinces overrun by the Japanese army, is about 15 per cent of normal with exhibition almost at a standstill except in Shanghai, Hongkong and, to a lesser degree, the foreign concessions in Tientsin. Receipts in Shanghai, where the Japanese have assumed all functions of government, is about 50 per cent of normal but no move has been made for the rehabilitation of theatres in those sections of the city destroyed during the siege.

A complete report on the industry in China at present, sent by J. P. Koehler via the China Clipper, appears on page 65.

GB Change

Albert Margolies, in charge of GB's publicity department, has been appointed head of the advertising department by Arthur A. Lee, vice-president. He will handle both departments in the future.

He succeeds Al Selig, who resigned this week.

Mr. Margolies entered the motion picture industry from newspaper work in 1928 as assistant publicity director for the late Roxy. Following that he did publicity for Fox Theatres, director of publicity and advertising, Roxy Theatre; publicity and advertising, Fox Films, and was publicity manager for United Artists before joining GB.

Quota Reduction

The film distribution quota in New South Wales has been reduced to three per cent for 1938 and exhibitors have been granted a general rejection right of 12½ per cent of all non-British films contracted for and a further three per cent rejection right in order to find playing time for Australian films.

See page 60.

Legislation

It became apparent this week as the New York State Legislature convened for the 1938 session that much legislation affecting the motion picture industry would be introduced with particular stress on four important points. Meanwhile the long discussed theatre license fees ordinance in Chicago was passed by the City Council after reaching an agreement with theatremen.

For a complete summary of legislative activities see page 46.

Editorial	Page 7
In the Cutting Room	Page 44
This Week in Pictures	Page 10
Release Chart	Page 91
Managers' Round Table	Page 79
The Hollywood Scene	Page 35
Showmen's Reviews	Page 48
Asides and Interludes	Page 43
Deaths	Page 90
In the Courts	Page 90
Technological	Page 70
In the Newsreels	Page 101
Short Subjects on Broadway	Page 74
Theatre Receipts	Page 75
J. C. Jenkins' Colyum	Page 101
What the Picture Did for Me	Page 71

Record Year for Radio

Radio set a new record for business during 1937 and officials of the major broadcasting companies this week predicted continuance of the record trend. National Broadcasting Company had total network sales of $38,523,950 for 1937 as compared to $34,523,950 in 1936, and the Columbia Broadcasting System reported sales of $28,828,058, compared to $23,168,148 in the preceding year. The year 1937 was marked by a closer relationship between the radio and motion picture industries, the advent of programs from motion picture studios and the further development of television.

A report of the year in radio is on page 77.

Petition for Inquiry

The Norden committee of Gaumont British shareholders, strongly critical of the policies and administration of the Ostrer brothers, has sent circular letters to investors to obtain signatures to a petition to be sent to the Board of Trade asking a minute investigation of the company. A statement detailing pertinent questions on which information is sought accompanied the letters.

A summary of the statement from Aubrey Flanagan in London and a review of the actions of the House of Commons Films Act committee to the date of its adjournment appear on page 67.

Dual Bill Boycott

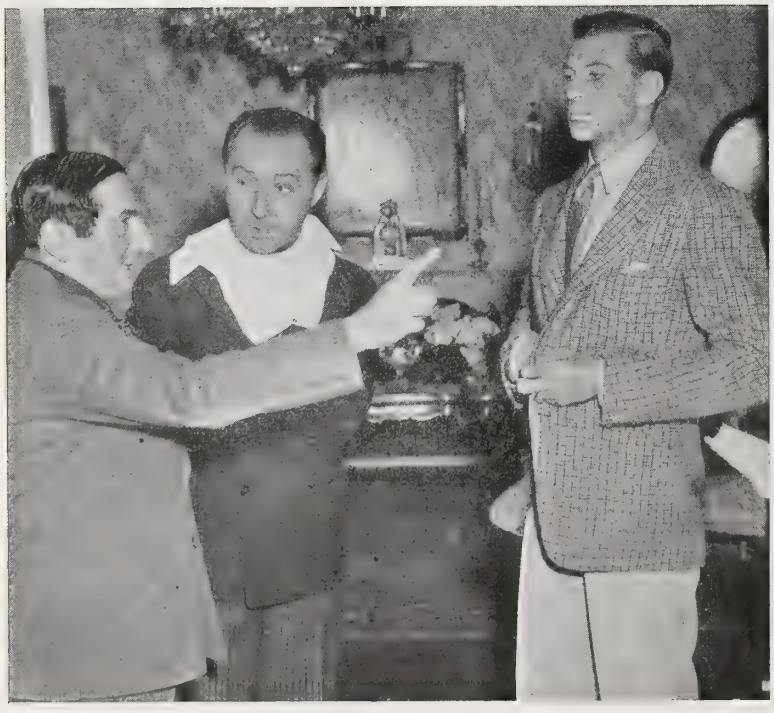
Spurred on by an Evanston newspaper, a group of residents of the Chcago suburb have banded together to boycott all theatres in the city that continue to show double feature programs. The newspaper, the News-Index, instituted the campaign against dual bills in its editorial columns and the plan immediately won the support of civic groups that claimed the prevalence of double features resulted in the standard of entertainment being lowered in Evanston.

William A. Crouch reports on the Evanston situation on page 74.

Chance Games Setback

The campaign to eliminate giveaways in New York City, sponsored by the Independent Theatre Owners Association, received a setback this week when an editorial appearing in the Association's house organ suggested to members that they now protect themselves against circuits by making their giveaways adequate. Other chance game developments concerned efforts on the part of prosecutors to enforce rulings banning the games in Missouri, Kentucky, San Francisco and Milwaukee.

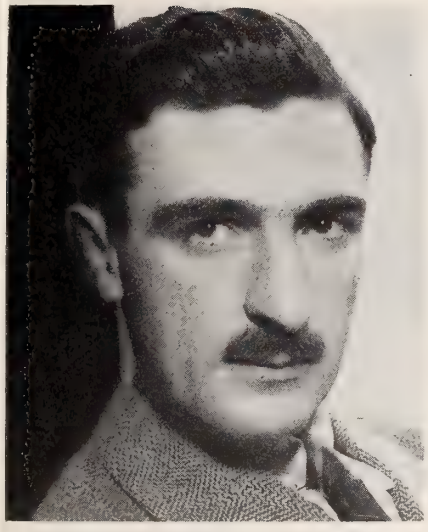
See page 62.



This Week In Pictures

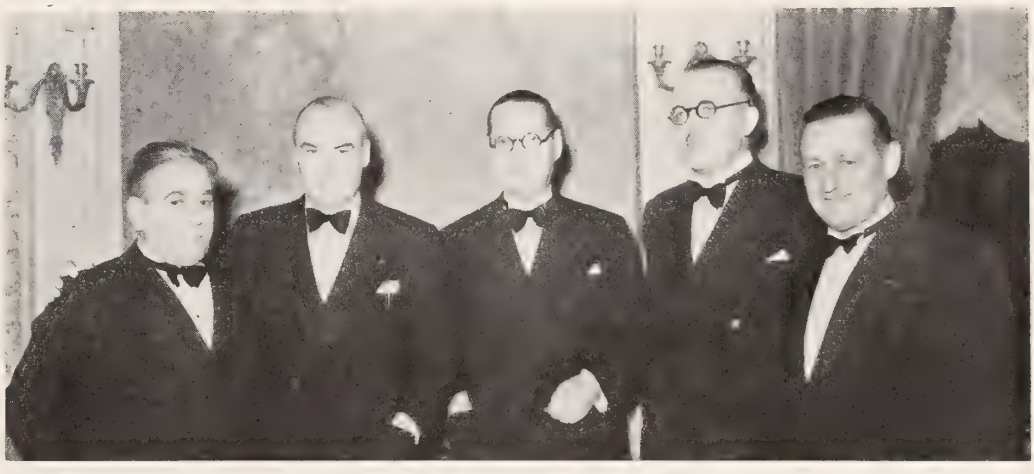
Nicholas Schenck and Darryl Zanuck greeted at trainside in New York by Sidney R. Kent, a preliminary to the foregathering of Twentieth Century-Fox executives being the opening of Mr. Zanuck's latest production, "In Old Chicago" at the Astor theatre on Broadway Thursday evening.

Ned E. Depinet, below, with the world he would like to have—for RKO Radio and which his department will cover thoroughly in the forthcoming Depinet Sales Drive. Holding the globe are Walter Branson and Ben Cammack, campaign managers.



MRS. ARCHIBALD SELINGER, known to all England as "Our Gracie" and to the motion picture world as Gracie Fields, is now a Commander of the Order of the British Empire. Her elevation to the honor in the New Year's honors list issued by King George VI was applauded loudly in the British press as one of the most popular choices of all the names in the list, "universal pleasure" and "boundless fame" being among the adjectives used by the usually restrained London newspapers. That fame, attained by the 38 year old actress on the musical comedy stage and in British made motion pictures, is well attested by her designation for two consecutive years to the first position in the Motion Picture Herald poll of the British money making stars. Miss Fields, now under contract to Twentieth Century-Fox for pictures to be made both in England and Hollywood, is shown above in the role of "Kit Dobson," vaudeville star of the eighties, in "He Was Her Man," her first picture for the American company which she recently completed at Denham.

The "Lubitsch touch," of much recent note, is illustrated in action, left, as the director emphasizes his directions for a scene in Paramount's "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife" to Franklin Pangborn, attentive, and Gary Cooper, intently serious.



The scene at left of a large segment of the New York City public standing eagerly in a line stretching from the Music Hall entrance to the far reaches of Rockefeller Plaza waiting to spend their Christmas dollars for entertainment was reenacted daily at box offices throughout the country during the holiday week. The film attraction was Columbia's "I'll Take Romance" with Grace Moore, and the picture was then in its second week at the theatre.

Albert Margolies, Gaumont British publicity manager, who has been made director of both advertising and publicity.

Ben Miggins and Francis L. Harley, European and English managers for Twentieth Century Fox, with executives of the company at a dinner given in their honor Monday evening at the Plaza Hotel, New York. In ascending order, Mr. Miggins, Sidney R. Kent president; Truman Talley, general manager of Movietone News; Mr Harley, and Walter J. Hutchinson, foreign manager.

Gloria Swanson, left, waiting for an assignment under her Columbia contract, lights Mervyn LeRoy's cigar for him on the set of Warner Brothers' "Food for Scandal."

Gradwell Sears and Anatole Litvak, below, in a conversational moment at a cocktail party at the Music Hall, New York, before the opening of "Tovarich" which Mr. Litvak directed and Mr. Sears will sell.

MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY CLOSES MOST PROFITABLE YEAR SINCE 1930

Box Office Receipts Heavy in Last Week; Stocks of Major Companies Evaluated on N.Y. Exchange at $623,738,750

The motion picture industry turned the New Year with the records showing its best year in earnings since 1930, a heavy box office intake for the closing week, and a year-end evaluation of some $623,738,750 on the stocks of its largest corporations as traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

All-time day and hourly records were shattered in many theatres during the holiday week. A check of grosses from key theatres in 22 cities showed that in many houses the figures established in the previous year's holiday week were surpassed by several thousands of dollars. In some theatres, however, the comparative figures showed a decline in the 1937 week.

"158% Above Average"

On the optimistic side were such reports as from Samuel Goldwyn, Inc., that the picture, "The Hurricane," completed the first week of its nationwide popular priced dates with a composite box office mark 158 per cent above average, and from Paramount that its picture, "Wells Fargo," ran 20 to 48 per cent ahead of average business in the ten key spots.

Attendance for the first performance at the Roxy theatre, New York, on Thursday surpassed every closing day up to 1 P.M.

In Hollywood, RKO reported that Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" had smashed all-time house records of the Carthay Circle theatre for the first two weeks of any engagement.

The comparative grosses for 125 theatres in 22 cities follow:

City and Theatre	Holiday-Week Gross, 1937	Holiday-Week Gross, 1936
BOSTON
Fenway	$5,600	$4,000
Loew's Orpheum	16,800	14,000
Loew's State	13,000	13,500
Metropolitan	18,600	24,000
Paramount	8,700	6,000
RKO Boston	24,500	5,000
RKO Memorial	13,000	8,000
Total	100,200	74,500
BUFFALO
Buffalo	15,350	18,003
Century	8,800	8,700
Great Lakes	13,700	12,008
Hippodrome	6,500	6,700
Lafayette	9,500	11,000
Total	53,850	56,411
CHICAGO
Apollo	6,000	10,200
Chicago	35,600	42,000
Garrick	6,100	9,500
Oriental	22,000	23,500
Palace	18,400	22,000
Roosevelt	14,900	18,500
State Lake	15,200	19,000
United Artists	19,600	18,800
Total	137,800	163,500

PREDICTS $6,000,000 "SNOW WHITE" GROSS

Walt Disney's film, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "promises to hearten the entire motion picture industry and already is being nominated winner among pictures that have gathered large grosses," Edwin Schallert wrote in an article that appeared in the Los Angeles Times.

The film, Mr. Schallert said, "'will gross at least $6,000,000 in the world market,' is the word you hear."

City and Theatre	Holiday-Week Gross, 1937	Holiday-Week Gross, 1936
CINCINNATI
RKO Albee	14,000	12,000
RKO Palace	13,000	14,500
RKO Shubert	10,500	12,000
RKO Capitol	3,200	4,000
RKO Lyric	3,200	6,700
RKO Grand	2,200	2,600
RKO Family	2,450	2,200
Keith's	4,800	6,900
Total	53,350	60,900
CLEVELAND
Allen	4,000	7,500
Warner's Hippodrome	16,000	12,000
Lake	2,000	.....
RKO Palace	20,000	23,000
Loew's State	19,000	19,000
Loew's Stillman	6,500	3,800
Total	67,500	65,300
DENVER
Aladdin	3,500	2,000
Broadway	2,250	1,500
Denham	8,700	6,000
Denver	11,000	9,000
Orpheum	6,000	8,500
Paramount	6,000	4,000
Rialto	1,500	.....
Total	38,950	31,000
DETROIT
Adams	5,500	3,500
Fox	23,500	19,600
Michigan	24,000	23,400
State	5,200	4,200
Madison	11,500	.....
Total	69,700	50,700
KANSAS CITY
Mainstreet	11,000	11,600
Midland	12,000	26,300
Newman	13,000	10,200
Fox Tower	10,500	9,400
Uptown	3,200	5,700
Total	49,700	63,200

City and Theatre	Holiday-Week Gross, 1937	Holiday-Week Gross, 1936
LOS ANGELES
Carthay Circle	19,300	6,500
Chinese	14,057	13,000
Esquire	2,200	.....
Four Star	2,871	.....
Grand	2,700	3,200
Hillstreet	6,500	5,650
Loew's State	17,431	15,000
Pantages	6,500	6,400
Paramount	15,500	20,800
Warner Brothers (Hollywood)	17,000	10,200
Warner Brothers (Downtown)	19,500	9,200
Total	123,559	89,950
MILWAUKEE
Palace	6,500	4,300
Riverside	5,300	5,500
Strand	4,800	.....
Warner	8,000	5,300
Wisconsin	11,200	8,000
Total	35,800	18,100
MINNEAPOLIS
Minnesota	11,500	12,000
Orpheum	3,500	6,000
World	1,800	3,000
Century	3,000	.....
State	3,000	5,500
Total	22,800	26,500
MONTREAL
Capitol	11,000	10,500
Loew's	9,500	13,000
Orpheum	7,000	.....
Palace	13,500	12,500
Princess	8,500	5,500
Total	49,500	41,500
NEW HAVEN
College	5,000	3,300
Loew's Poli	7,500	6,500
Paramount	6,000	7,000
Roger Sherman	11,000	4,700
Total	29,500	21,500
NEW YORK
Astor	10,500	13,000
Capital	29,000	78,000
Paramount	65,000	60,000
Rialto	8,500	9,000
Rivoli	25,000	37,000
RKO Music Hall	105,800	108,000
Roxy	48,500	44,000
Strand	36,000	27,000
Total	336,300	376,000
OKLAHOMA CITY
Criterion	6,500	2,600
Liberty	1,900	3,200
Midwest	5,000	2,100
State	3,700	.....
Tower	2,500	.....
Total	19,600	7,900
OMAHA
Omaha	10,100	9,000
Brandeis	4,800	4,500
Orpheum	8,600	9,500
Total	23,500	23,000

(Continued on page 14)

MOTION PICTURE STOCKS IN 1937

High and Low in Stock and Bond Trading for Five Years, 1933 to 1937

(Closing Prices Are as of December 31, 1937)

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Stock and Dividends	1937 Sales	1937 High	1937 Date	1937 Low	1937 Date	1937 Last	1937 Net Change	1936 High	1936 Low	1935 High	1935 Low	1934 High	1934 Low	1933 High	1933 Low
Columbia Pictures vtc. (1½A)	177,200	39½	Jan. 20	10	Oct. 19	12	—24	45½	31	81	34¼	41⅜	21½	28	6⅝
Columbia Pictures pfd. (2¾)	14,700	46⅛	Jan. 20	25¾	Oct. 19	27	—15¾	51¼	39½	49⅞	43½	not listed		....	....
Consolidated Film	135,100	5¾	Jan. 20	1	Oct. 19	1⅝	— 3⅜	7⅛	4⅛	7½	3¼	6¼	1⅝	5¾	1¾
Consolidated Film pfd. (½B)	124,400	18¾	Jan. 9	4¼	Oct. 19	5½	—11½	20⅛	15¼	22⅛	14¼	20¼	10⅜	14¾	5⅞
Eastman Kodak (8A)	161,400	198	Aug. 16	144	Nov. 24	160½	—14½	185	156	172¼	110½	116½	79	89¾	46
Eastman Kodak pfd. (6)	3,720	164	Nov. 4	150	Apr. 2	156	— 7½	166	152	164	141	147	120	130	110
General Theatre Equip. (1¼C)	205,400	33¾	Jan. 25	9½	Oct. 19	11⅞	—19	not listed		....	....	....	....	....	....
Keith-Albee-Orpheum pfd. (10½B)	1,190	110	Jan. 14	80	Nov. 20	80	—30	110	80	90⅛	34	37½	20	25	8
Loew's, Inc. (7½C)	1,010,400	88⅞	Aug. 11	43⅝	Dec. 27	45	—21¼	65¾	43	55⅞	31¼	37	20⅜	36½	8½
Loew's, Inc., pfd. (6½)	14,800	110	Jan. 23	99¾	Nov. 24	105½	— 1½	108⅞	104½	108¾	102	105	72	78⅛	35
Paramount	5,050,900	28¾	Jan. 28	8½	Oct. 19	9⅝	—14⅞	23¼	7⅛	12	8	not listed		....	....
Paramount 1st pfd. (6)	114,100	200½	Jan. 28	80½	Oct. 19	84¾	—87¾	170	59	101¾	67	not listed		....	....
Paramount 2nd pfd. (1.20)	581,500	26¾	Jan. 28	8	Oct. 19	10½	—11⅝	21¼	8⅛	14¼	9¼	not listed		....	....
Pathe Film Corp.	525,100	10½	Jan. 20	4	Oct. 19	5	— 4¾	11⅞	6⅝	8⅛	4⅞	not listed		....	....
Radio-Keith-Orpheum	1,511,300	10⅛	Apr. 19	2¼	Oct. 19	4	— 4⅛	10⅞	5	6	1¼	4¼	1½	5¾	1
20th Century-Fox (2½C)	604,200	40⅞	Mar. 13	18½	Oct. 19	19⅞	—15¾	38⅝	22½	24¾	13	not listed		....	....
20th Century-Fox pfd. (1½)	56,200	50	Mar. 13	25	Nov. 23	26⅜	—17⅝	47¾	31⅜	32	24⅝	not listed		....	....
Universal Pictures pfd.	6,080	108	Jan. 18	29	Oct. 20	29	—72	115	50	73	29	46½	16⅞	35	10
Warner Brothers	2,604,300	18	Jan. 5	4¾	Oct. 19	6	—11¾	18⅜	9¼	10⅜	2¾	8¼	2¾	9⅛	5¼
Warner Brothers pfd.	8,380	69½	Jan. 23	36	Oct. 19	34	—33	69	44	52	14½	31⅞	15	24½	15½

A—Including extras; B—Accumulated; C—So far this year.

▽ ▽ ▽

CURB EXCHANGE

Stock and Dividend	1937 Sales	1937 High	1937 Date	1937 Low	1937 Date	1937 Last	1937 Net Change	1936 High	1936 Low	1935 High	1935 Low	1934 High	1934 Low	1933 High	1933 Low
Columbia Pictures common (1A)	925	39	Jan. 20	29	June 14	29⅜	— 4⅝	45	34	73	38	35	24½	27¼	8¼
Grand National Films	551,300	4¼	Jan. 20	½	Nov. 23	¾	— 2⅛	4⅝	2⅛	not listed		....	....	....	....
Monogram Pictures	19,400	2⅜	Sept. 23	1	Oct. 19	1½	unch.	not listed		....	....	....	....	....	....
Sentry Safety Control	40,700	1¼	Jan. 26	¼	Oct. 20	5/16	— ½	1⅝	½	⅞	¼	½	⅛	⅝	⅛
Technicolor (¾C)	489,800	34	Aug. 16	14	Oct. 19	16½	— 5	32½	17¾	27	11⅝	14¾	7⅝	14	2⅝
Trans-Lux DPS (.20A)	191,900	5¼	Feb. 26	1⅝	Oct. 19	2⅝	— 1⅞	5½	3¼	4¾	2	3⅛	1⅛	3¾	1⅛
Universal Pictures	13,800	19	Jan. 18	3⅛	Oct. 19	5	— 4½	16¾	4¼	8	2	5½	3	4	1

A—Including extras; B—Accumulated; C—So far this year.

▽ ▽ ▽

BONDS ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Bond and Maturity	1937 Sales	1937 High	1937 Date	1937 Low	1937 Date	1937 Last	1937 Net Change	1936 High	1936 Low	1935 High	1935 Low	1934 High	1934 Low	1933 High	1933 Low
Keith 6s '46	652,000	100	July 10	82½	Oct. 19	82½	—16	100	92	95¾	67½	73½	51	61	29½
Loew's 3½s '46	2,784,000	101¼	Jan. 2	95½	Oct. 19	97¼	— 4	102	96	not listed		....	....	....	....
Paramount 6s '55	3,380,000	105½	Feb. 10	88	Dec. 31	88	—12⅛	101¼	83	97⅜	84¼	not listed		....	....
Paramount-Broadway 3s '55	629,000	75¼	Mar. 17	59	Nov. 27	60	—12¼	73	55	63	54⅛	47	30	38	27½
Paramount 3¼s '47	1,690,000	96¾	July 22	71	Nov. 29	71⅜	unch.	not listed		....	....	....	....	....	....
Radio-Keith-Orpheum 6s, '41	669,000	126½	Jan. 13	75	Dec. 27	77	—38½	122	63	88¼	26½	41	18¼	30	8½
Warner Brothers 6s '39	4,064,000	100¼	Jan. 25	70	Oct. 19	74½	—25	100¼	86	89½	48⅜	67	40⅞	48	12

▽ ▽ ▽

Comparison of Valuations of Stock Issues, 1936-1937

Stock	Approx. Shares Listed	Close 1936	Valuation	Close 1937	Valuation	Net Change	Change
Columbia Pictures vtc.	290,000	36	$10,440,000	12	$3,480,000	—24	—$ 6,960,000
Columbia Pictures pfd.	75,000	42¾	3,206,250	27	2,025,000	—15¾	— 1,181,250
Consolidated Film	530,000	5	2,650,000	1⅝	861,250	— 3⅜	— 1,788,750
Consolidated Film pfd.	400,000	17	6,800,000	5½	2,200,000	—11½	— 4,600,000
Eastman Kodak	2,300,000	175	402,500,000	160¼	369,150,000	—14½	— 33,350,000
Eastman Kodak pfd.	60,000	163½	9,810,000	156	9,360,000	— 7½	— 450,000
General Theatres Equipment	600,000	30⅞	18,525,000	11⅞	7,125,000	—19	— 11,400,000
Keith-Albee-Orpheum pfd.	65,000	110	7,150,000	80	5,200,000	—30	— 1,950,000
Loew's, Inc.	1,600,000	66¼	106,000,000	45	72,000,000	—21¼	— 34,000,000
Loew's, Inc., pfd.	140,000	107	14,980,000	105½	14,770,000	— 1½	— 210,000
Paramount	1,600,000	24½	39,200,000	9⅝	15,400,000	—14⅞	— 23,800,000
Paramount 1st pfd.	250,000	172½	43,125,000	84¾	21,187,500	—87¾	— 21,937,500
Paramount 2nd pfd.	650,000	22⅛	14,381,250	10½	6,825,000	—11⅝	— 7,556,250
Pathe Film Corp.	600,000	9¾	5,850,000	5	3,000,000	— 4¾	— 2,850,000
Radio-Keith-Orpheum	1,400,000	8⅛	11,375,000	4	5,600,000	— 4⅛	— 5,775,000
20th Century-Fox	1,660,000	35⅝	57,000,000	19⅞	31,800,000	—15¾	— 25,200,000
20th Century-Fox pfd.	1,000,000	44	44,000,000	26⅜	26,375,000	—17⅝	— 17,625,000
Universal Pictures pfd.	20,000	101	2,020,000	29	580,000	—72	— 1,440,000
Warner Brothers	3,900,000	17¾	69,225,000	6	23,400,000	—11¾	— 45,825,000
Warner Brothers pfd.	100,000	67	6,700,000	34	3,400,000	—33	— 3,300,000
			$874,937,500		$623,738,750		—$251,198,750

GROSSES IN KEY CITIES COMPARED

Listing continued from page 12

City and Theatre	Week Holiday-Gross, 1937	Week Holiday-Gross, 1936
PHILADELPHIA
Aldine	14,500	11,000
Arcadia	2,300	3,400
Boyd	20,000	29,000
Earle	21,000	20,000
Fox	20,000	20,000
Karlton	3,300	3,400
Keith's	3,800	3,100
Stanley	12,000	20,000
Stanton	8,000	12,000
Total	104,900	121,900
PITTSBURGH
Alvin	8,500	7,000
Fulton	12,000	7,500
Penn	16,000	17,000
Stanley	24,000	28,000
Warner	4,400	5,300
Total	64,900	64,800
SAN FRANCISCO
Embassy	7,000	4,800
Fox	16,000	23,000
Golden Gate	16,000	21,000
Orpheum	9,000	17,200
Paramount	14,000	18,000
St. Francis	6,800	8,400
United Artists	11,000	10,500
Warfield	15,000	15,500
Total	94,800	118,400
ST. PAUL
Paramount	7,500	6,500
Orpheum	3,000	5,000
Riviera	4,000	3,500
Tower	2,250	1,500
Total	16,750	16,500
SEATTLE
Blue Mouse	3,700	3,400
Fifth Avenue	7,300	7,400
Liberty	5,200	10,000
Music Box	3,850	3,600
Orpheum	5,200	5,600
Palomar	4,200	4,500
Paramount	5,750	7,250
Total	35,000	41,750
WASHINGTON
Earle	23,100	23,000
Loew's Capital	21,600	29,500
Loew's Columbia	4,800	5,300
Loew's Palace	16,200	16,000
Metropolitan	4,700	5,000
RKO Keith's	13,600	10,000
Total	84,000	88,800

Outstanding financial news for the year, from the standpoint of earnings, was the $14,426,062 net of Loew's, Inc., equaling $8.62 a share on the common, against a $11,076,823 net, and $6.79 a share earned in 1936.

Universal Pictures, Inc. was running at a profit as operations went into the fourth quarter, and predictions were made for a record gross in January. In the previous quarter, Universal grossed $400,000 more than in a similar period in the season preceding.

Paramount's latest report, for the 39 weeks ended October 2nd, showed net earnings of $5,276,000, which did not include approximately $1,400,000 equity in undistributed earnings of partly owned subsidiaries not consolidated. Including the equity, net was $6,696,000, or $2.36 a share on common. Paramount's 39-week earnings compared with a net of $2,255,224 for the same period in 1936.

Twentieth Century-Fox Film reported a net operating profit of $4,898,893, compared with earnings of $4,451,851 in the same 39-week period the year before. The profit does not include any dividends from the 42 per cent interest held by the company in National Theatres Corporation.

Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board of Twentieth Century-Fox, arriving in New York on Tuesday from Hollywood, predicted that the company will net $10,000,000 for the full year, reflecting for the first time dividends from National Theatres.

Trustees in Radio-Keith-Orpheum, still in reorganization, reported consolidated profits of $1,543,511 for the 39 weeks ended October 2nd, some $200,000 greater than in 1936. The consolidated net earnings for the year were estimated at $1,900,000 by financial interests associated with the company, approximately $650,000 below 1936.

Pathe Exchange, Inc. earned a net of $276,486 for the nine months ended October 1st, against a profit of only $24,687 in the preceding year.

Du Pont Film Manufacturing Corporation, in which Pathe owns a 35 per cent interest, had a net profit of $1,149,000 for the first nine months of this year, compared with $861,000 net in 1936.

Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation reported for the 39 weeks ended October 2nd a net profit of $914,672, nearly $300,000 more than in 1936, the while B. F. Keith Corporation earned $663,946 in the nine months, against $531,842 the year before.

American Seating Company reported net profits for nine months were $519,004, compared with $299,612 in 1936.

Consolidated Film Industries, largest film developing and printing establishment, earned $541,023 in the nine months ended September 30th. Last year, earnings were $776,290.

General Theatres Equipment Corporation reported a net of $257,805 for the quarter ended September 30th, and estimated nine months' earnings at $872,472, compared with $837,950 in 1936.

Sonotone Corporation earned $63,400 in the third quarter, compared to earnings of $350 for the same quarter in 1936.

Heywood-Wakefield Company, manufacturing seats for theatres and other auditoriums, earned $414,535 for the first nine months of this year, some $13,000 more than in 1936.

KUYKENDALL HAS A RECIPE FOR BUSINESS

"While it takes courage and initiative to do so, it has been successfully demonstrated by theatres time and again that receipts can be maintained in the face of declining business conditions by intensified advertising, better merchandising of the show and improved management of the theatre," declared Edward L. Kuykendall, president of the MPTOA, in a bulletin sent to members this week.

"The leading trade papers," he continued, "are much alive to this field of endeavor, and they are filled with splendid articles, plans, information, suggestions, ideas, facts, results, examples, illustrations and technical data on better theatre management and effective theatre advertising.

"The theatre manager must roll up his sleeves and go to work in earnest if he wants to stay in business, supplementing his own initiative, resourcefulness and ingenuity with all of the help he can get from this trade paper service," Mr. Kuykendall told MPTOA members.

Annual Profits Compared

Gaumont British Pictures, in England, made a net of $2,808,505 for the year from operations, and with other earnings reported $5,720,005, but, with deductions, netted $159,765.

Columbia Pictures had a net profit of $1,317,770 for the year, as compared with profits of $1,568,860 in 1936.

United Artists, in November, reported that the period was "the biggest week" in the company's history, since it was founded, in 1919. Because the company is a closed corporation, earnings figures are never made public.

Warner Brothers, for the year, netted $5,876,183, compared to $3,177,000 in 1936 and $674,159 in 1935, and for the fourth quarter estimated a net of $1,600,000.

United Artists Theatre Circuit reported net of $384,973 for the year, an increase of $197,127 over the $167,845 net of 1936.

As the year was drawing to a close, fourth quarter incomes were coming to light, indicating that receipts in some quarters were holding well up to expectations. Columbia Pictures had a net in the quarter totaling $147,311, compared to $129,258 in the same period in 1936. Twentieth Century-Fox reported a new one week's revenue record in the company's history, grossing $1,800,000 in the last week of November.

Dividends, regular and arreages, were the general order in the film business during the year.

Share Value Drops

Motion picture shares on the New York Stock Exchange lost $251,198,750 in market value during 1927 after touching the highest levels since 1932 and running a wide range of general market irregularity, war scares, a recession in general business and political uncertainties. Total evaluation of film stocks was $623,738,750. (A five-year comparison of film stock movements appears on the preceding page.)

It was the first net loss in paper value that these stocks have suffered since the recovery movement started in 1933, but there were several mitigating influences that indicated the setback was more or less temporary rather than a corrective movement.

There was no topheavy structure of speculative credit. Stock prices were not unduly inflated. Banks were sound and speculation excesses were checked by the regulatory policy of the administration.

Perhaps even more outstanding was the fact that the national income in 1937 had risen to $68,000,000,000. In 1932 it was $38,000,000,000.

Considering that the general market sustained its greatest reaction since the 1929 break, motion picture stocks fared comparatively well. On a percentage basis, their loss was less than that shown by most other stock groups.

Following the general trend, motion picture

(Continued on page 54)

SUIT FOR LIBEL AND FIVE EXHIBITOR GROUPS HIT "GOSSIPERS" ON THE AIR

Constance Bennett Demands $250,000 in Action Against Fidler; Exhibitors Consider Launching Own Program

The strongest blow against air "gossipers" who broadcast questionably intimate items about Hollywood personalities, and who arbitrarily "star-rate" pictures was delivered this week, by organized exhibition.

Heretofore engaging the individual attention of a few Hollywood film leaders, and the motion picture trade press, the campaign is enlivened by blasts at the "gossipers" from the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, Allied States Association of Theatre Owners, Independent Theatre Owners of New York, the Ohio Independent Theatre Owners, and by exhibitors of Chicago, who advanced the unique idea of conducting a radio program of their own to criticize the products of advertisers who employ "gossipers" to talk about stars and who star-rate pictures.

The gossipers were hit, too, with their first libel suit, Constance Bennett in Hollywood demanding $250,000 for remarks attributed to James M. Fidler, socalled "ace of the gossipers," on his Drene Shampoo NBC program for Procter and Gamble Soap, one of radio's largest commercial sponsors.

Miss Bennett said she was so incensed by the remarks that she will carry her complaint to the Federal Communications Commission, as well as through the Los Angeles supreme court, where her attorney, Barry Berman, is to conduct the libel action.

The actress considered that she had been slandered and her character defamed when Mr. Fidler, in a nationwide broadcast, a week ago, chatted:

"Here are some of the resolutions I would make if I were some of the following people:

"Constance Bennett—I shall never forget that the only splinters on the ladder of fame are those you get sliding down. . . .

Fidler Denies Malice

"A tense situation has developed at the Hal Roach studios between Constance Bennett and Patsy Kelly (appearing in "Merrily We Live")

"It seems that when Patsy came to work the first day Connie said: 'I'm glad to have you in my picture.'

"But the second day, for some unaccountable reason, Miss Bennett failed to speak to Miss Kelly at all. It became so noticeable that studio electricians and workers, siding with Miss Kelly, began saying 'Hello, Patsy', and they kept up the entire day, either in fun or else to make pointed digs at Miss Bennett.

"The workmen finally finished things off when they presented Miss Kelly with a large basket of flowers, but none for Miss Bennett."

The New York Daily News, reporting the foregoing transcript of Mr. Fidler's remarks, in a special dispatch from Los Angeles, quoted the broadcasting Mr. Fidler as follows: "There was absolutely no malice in what I said, and I have a huge pile of clippings to back up what is generally known in the moving picture business—that Miss Bennett is not as popular now as she once was."

It was said that Mr. Fidler "will base his defense on the assertion he told only the truth in a good-natured kidding of the actress."

Regardless, the resentment against air "gossippings" continues to grow. Following the expressed disapproval of them by Cecil B. DeMille Darryl Zanuck, Georgie Jessel and a few others in Hollywood, organized exhibition this week entered the campaign for the first time, not only against the so-called "intimate items" about rating of pictures, which, they claim, is arbitrary and unfair.

Declaring they are "disgusted" with the reviews given motion pictures by some of the radio chatterers from Hollywood who seek to rate pictures according to bells, stars or what have you, a number of independent theatremen in Chicago are investigating the possibilities of starting a radio program which will rate the products sold by the sponsors of the various Hollywood programs.

Possible Program Studied

Aaron Saperstein, president of Allied Theatres of Illinois, is conferring with network officials there to find out if a program of the type the theatremen desire can be arranged. Procedure to obtain time on the air for such a broadcast also is being investigated as it is believed that some networks probably would not agree to such a program as the theatremen wish to start.

The type of program in mind is a 15-minute broadcast once-a-week with a research bureau's findings reported by a wellknown commentator, over the air. The copy would tell that a number of products had been analyzed and the findings disclosed that a certain type of merchandise, for instance, rated two bells, or three stars or four toots, or whatever type of rating was given. Products advertised on the programs of Hollywood chatter-dispensers would be the main subjects of the broadcasts, along with informative material on pictures which would be more favorable to Hollywood than much of the material which now emanates from there.

The theatremen realize the seriousness of their plans and expect to make scientific investigations of the products they talk about over the air. They do not plan to give just one man's opinion of a product as do the Hollywood gossipers on films.

After the desired information regarding the broadcast plans has been collected, Mr. Saperstein will put the matter to vote of independent theatremen. If the idea proves worthy of starting there it is expected that other independent theatre groups will be asked to join in a nationwide radio campaign.

Independents Protest

The Independent Theatre Owners Association, in New York, joined the campaign with the declaration that, "the numerous air gossipers who tell the little-known doings of the Hollywood set have aroused a vicarious appreciation of motion pictures."

The ITOA also attacked the practice of film stars appearing en masse on sponsored air programs, concluding that, "When the theatres close down, Hollywood will make pictures for the sole purpose of letting the public hear and read about them."

Allied's blast at air "gossipings" came from Abram F. Myers, general counsel and board chairman, who formally protested the appearance of Jimmie Fidler, in a communication sent to his Procter and Gamble-Drene Shampoo sponsors.

Mr. Myers asked the soap company whether it believed it is fair for one industry, seeking public goodwill, to sponsor a program which oftens reflects on the product of another industry, as the "gossipings" frequently reflect on the motion picture and its people.

"A New Headache"

The Independent Theatre Owners of Ohio have also gone on record in strong opposition to air "gossipings" and air commentators' star-ratings of pictures.

The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, through Ed Kuykendall, its president, this week broadcast a plea against air "gossipers." Mr. Kuykendall called them a "new headache."

Their practice of star-rating pictures, he said, is unreasonable, adding that these "gossip peddlers" now go even further, "assailing the character and personal reputation of those who work in creating motion pictures, by spreading rumors, innuendo, inferences and near-libel about their private lives.

"The more daring they become," Mr. Kuykendall charged, "the more they collect from the sponsor, on the theory that the sponsor's advertising thereby gets greater circulation.

"They would not be on the radio networks if they were not paid by a commercial advertiser, who is certainly responsible for the content of his advertisement," continued the MPTOA president. "How long it will be before this form of scandal-mongering and uncalled for defamation of character is difficult to forecast. But rumblings of revulsion and resentment are already being heard," he added.

The MPTOA officially extended its campaign against wholesale star appearances on radio broadcasts with the demand of radio broadcasters that "scandal gossip about the private lives of motion picture workers by illegitimate 'news' commentators as a commercial advertisement on the radio seems to us to be completely out of place on sponsored radio programs."

NOMINATE EXHIBITOR AS "USEFUL CITIZEN"

T. B. Noble, Jr., managing director of the State and Pix theatres in Oklahoma City, Okla., operated by the State Theatres, Inc., has been nominated as Oklahoma City's Most Useful Citizen of 1937. He was nominated because "he provided the best laughs of the year" by sending state legislators huge annual passes when a legislator demanded passes early this year.

Mr. Noble was also credited with saving thousands of Oklahoma City people considerable money by opening the State theatre there. Top admission prices have been dropped from 55 cents to 40 cents since Mr. Noble opened the State last March in opposition to the Standard Theatres Circuit.

Gertrude Bryant, Oklahoma City, said: "It is easy to see what his breaking up of the theatre monopoly has meant to the pocketbooks of all of us who turn to the motion pictures as the best relaxation and recreation the city affords."

MGM EXTENDS PROFIT-SHARING TO INCLUDE 11 OFFICERS, DIRECTORS

Mayer, Lichtman, Rubin, Mannix, Katz, Thau, Stromberg, Rapf, Hyman, Weingarten, LeRoy to Share 12-1/3% of the Net

Stockholders of Loew's, Inc., were asked this week to vote approval, on January 25, of new personal-service contracts for 11 directors and executives which would considerably extend existing contracts and give to each a share in the corporation's profits, totaling 12 1/3 per cent for the group, on net income, after deductions. The aggregate percentage of net profits which the 11 would share is the same percentage formerly allocated to three officials of the company—Louis B. Mayer, J. Robert Rubin and the late Irving Grant Thalberg.

To be included in the new profit-sharing, besides Mr. Mayer and Mr. Rubin, are: Edgar J. Mannix, Samuel Katz, Alexander Lichtman, Benjamin Thau, Hunt Stromberg, Bernard Hyman, Lawrence A. Weingarten, Harry Rapf and Mervyn LeRoy, all producer-executives, except Mr. Lichtman, who is engaged in distribution and home office affairs.

Proposal Explained

The Wall Street financial news service of Doremus and Company last Friday issued to the press the following explanation of the proposal:

"In a letter today to stockholders of Loew's, Inc., Nicholas M. Schenck, president, urges their approval of 11 personal service contracts and renewals with leading producer executives or officers of the company, as recently authorized by the directors subject to favorable action by the stockholders at a meeting to be held on January 25, 1938.

"The letter to stockholders was accompanied by a copy of the company's annual statement, which indicated earnings of $8.62 per share of common stock outstanding during the fiscal year 1937, as against $6.79 in 1936 and $4.53 in 1935. In the fiscal year 1937, the company paid dividends aggregating $8.50 per share on the common stock.

"Under the proposed agreements, in pursuance of a policy which has been followed by Loew's, Inc., since 1924, according to Mr. Schenck, compensation of key men will be made partly dependent upon the success of their efforts. He states that while the new contracts include 11 individuals, instead of the three formerly entitled to share in the company's profits, the same aggregate percentage of profits formerly allocated to the three officials will now be divided among 11 whose producer and managerial talent or executive ability has, in the opinion of the directors, been principally responsible for the success of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures.

"These producer-executives and officers are: Louis B. Mayer, J. Robert Rubin, Edgar J. Mannix, Samuel Katz, Alexander Lichtman, Benjamin Thau, Hunt Stromberg, Bernard Hyman, Lawrence A. Weingarten, Harry Rapf, Mervyn LeRoy.

Formerly, percentages of profits were allotted to three individual executives of the production department, namely: Louis B. Mayer, J. Robert Rubin and the late Irving G. Thalberg.

"Simultaneously, the contract with David

(Continued on following page, column 1)

MAN-POWER

by MARTIN QUIGLEY

MR. NICHOLAS M. SCHENCK, who speaks with a voice of especial authority on the subject of profitable operation in the motion picture industry, makes the following declaration:

It is my firm opinion that the determining factor in the success of a motion picture enterprise is the man-power which operates it.

All who know the business of motion pictures and are in a position to realize the peculiar exactions which it imposes upon those who administer its affairs successfully will concur unhesitatingly in this opinion.

Mr. Schenck's declaration comes in explanation of the introduction by Loew's, Inc., of a profit-sharing arrangement which brings into existence an ideal which has long been under discussion in the industry. Under the arrangement a group of executives and producers who occupy key positions in the affairs of the company will have a direct interest in profits to the end, obviously, of insuring both continuity and quality of performance.

A striking feature of the new arrangement which already has been authorized by the board of directors is the substitution of contracts covering a group of 11 executives and producers for previous contracts participated in by only three persons, yet the aggregate percentage of profits to be disbursed remains the same.

Study of the record of the past two decades in the motion picture industry reveals a long series of changes in the relative positions of the leading companies. Almost invariably the rise of an institution has been attended by the enlistment at the time of man-power of outstanding ability. Again, with the changes that have so frequently come about, we find a former top-ranking company lodged down the list in prestige and profits as the result of the loss of the man-power that engineered its former success.

And so the scene has changed, sometimes within the space of from one season to another.

The management of Loew's, Inc., obviously seeks to avoid the changing order of the past and to ordain in its stead arrangements which will hold its vital man-power intact. That this may best be done by means of long-term contracts entailing a direct share in the company's success seems entirely plain.

That the requisite skill and experience is the essential need of the business of motion pictures is a fact that receives constant affirmation. In other industries materials, factories, formulae, patents, trademarks and many other elements give a corporation a measure of permanence and stability. But in motion pictures no similar condition applies; first reliance must inevitably be upon the skill and experience of the directing personnel.

The business of motion pictures, particularly in its production department, involves constantly a multitude of decisions, many of them entailing the expenditure of substantial sums of money and almost all concerned with the intricate and sometimes fantastic stuff of entertainment. Upon the quality and promptness of the judgment depends the screen value of the resultant picture and consequently the profits of the company.

Hence, fortunate indeed is the company which once that it has assembled man-power capable of obtaining the desired results is both able and willing to take steps to insure the continued availability of such man-power and to avoid constantly facing competitive bidding.

This development which naturally has important product implications will be viewed with interest and approval by theatre operators who inevitably become partners in the fortunes of product sources. It is as well that kind of reward to creative effort which becomes generally a healthy stimulus and encouragement.

If, then, as Mr. Schenck says—and none denies—that the determining factor in the success of a motion picture enterprise is the man-power which operates it, he has made at this year-end a notable contribution to the institution over which he presides and one which adds a note of permanency and stability to the industry at large.

TERMS OF NEW CONTRACT ARE LISTED

(Continued from preceding page, column 1)

Bernstein, vice-president and treasurer, has been extended for five years.

"The proposed contracts provide for compensation based in part upon a percentage of Loew's share of the combined annual net profits of Loew's Inc., and all subsidiaries, after reserves, interest, taxes, depreciation on the company's properties and after deduction of cumulative dividends on all present or future preferred stock of Loew's, Inc., and after deduction of $2 per annum for each share of outstanding common stock (other than shares issued as a stock dividend) the last representing $2,612,424 per annum on the common stock now outstanding.

"In his letter, Mr. Schenck states: 'It is my firm opinion that the determining factor in the success of a motion picture enterprise is the man-power which operates it. In harmony with that belief I have endeavored as president to obtain the best men available in the industry and to hold them firmly in the company's service.'"

Contracts Summarized

The nature of the new personal service contracts, compensation, extent of profit-sharing and other concessions is summarized as follows:

Louis B. Mayer, vice-president in charge of production—New contract to run from January 1, 1939, to December 31, 1942, at $3,000 weekly salary, plus 6.77 per cent of net profits, continuation of stock option agreement made on December 15, 1932, an unnamed percentage of receipts on reissue, and 6.77 per cent of net from foreign receipts, which are not to be included, however, until actually received from abroad. If contract is terminated during the four years of its life, Mr. Mayer will be entitled to 10 per cent of net profits on further distribution of pictures produced from April 7, 1924, to date of termination, and also 10 per cent on pictures half completed at time of termination, less deductions for distribution and production costs not previously charged off.

J. Robert Rubin, second vice-president and general contact—New contract to run from January 1, 1939, to December 31, 1943, at $2,000 weekly salary, plus 1.4 per cent of net profits, and upon any termination of the new contract Mr. Rubin will be entitled to 5.4 per cent of net profits from further distribution of pictures produced from April 7, 1924, to date of termination.

Edgar J. Mannix, a fourth vice-president and production executive—Old contract provides for $2,500 weekly salary, plus $500 weekly for expenses. This contract will be extended from expiration date, on November 6, 1938, to December 31, 1945, provides for payment of $3,000 weekly plus 1.4 per cent of profits.

Samuel Katz, fifth vice-president and production executive—Present contract provides for $3,000 weekly salary, is extended from expiration, on October 7, 1939, to December 31, 1945, with 1.4 per cent of the net profit to be added starting January 1, 1939.

Alexander Lichtman, third vice-president and executive aid to Nicholas M. Schenck, president—Present contract, paying $3,000 weekly, is extended from November 17, 1938, on expiration, to December 31, 1938, and a new contract to run seven years, to December 31, 1945, provides for a similar salary, plus 1.05 per cent of the profits, starting on January 1, 1939.

Benjamin Thau, first assistant secretary, and an executive producer—Present contract is for $1,750 weekly salary, to be renewed on expiration, on December 1, 1938, for seven years, until December 31, 1945, at same salary, plus seven-tenths of one per cent of profits, starting January 1, 1939.

Hunt Stromberg, an executive producer—Present contract runs to December 5, 1942, at $5,000 weekly salary, plus a bonus of $15,000 for each picture produced over eight annually. New contract extends to December 5, 1944, paying same salary, eliminating bonus payments, but adding 1.05 per cent of profits starting January 1, 1939.

Bernard Hyman, executive producer—Present contract, expiring March 4, 1939, is extended

(Continued on following page, column 1)

Loew's Net Jumps $3,349,239, to $14,426,062 and $8.62 a Share

Net earnings of $14,426,062 are reported by Loew's, Inc. and subsidiary Loew-Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, distribution and exhibition companies for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1937, representing earnings of $8.62 per share on the average 1,570,500 shares of common stock outstanding, as against earnings of $11,076,823 in 1936, equal to $6.79 per common share. The 1937 earnings are after effecting all charges, including federal tax on undistributed profits and minority interests' share in partly owned subsidiaries.

Gross operating revenues of Loew's, Inc., for the 12 months ended August 31, 1937, amounted to $121,828,606, of which $118,464,900 was represented by theatre receipts and rentals and sales of films and accessories, and the balance, in excess of $3,350,000, by rent and miscellaneous income. For the year ended August 31, 1936, gross operating revenues were $108,780,542. The gross, then, in 1937, was $13,048,064 greater than in 1936; the net for 1937 was $3,349,239 over 1936.

Total current assets of Loew's, Inc., and wholly-owned subsidiaries on August 31, 1937, were $52,404,545, against total current liabilities of $12,107,408, a ratio of about four and one-third to one. The company's earned surplus on August 31, 1937, was $44,354,274. Total assets were $142,544,024.

The consolidated income account of Loew's, Inc., including wholly and partly owned subsidiary and affiliated corporations, for the year ended August 31, 1937, compares with 1936 and 1935 as follows:

Years ended	Aug. 31,'37	Aug. 31,'36	Aug. 31,'35
Operating revenues	$121,828,605	$108,780,542	.....
Expenses, amortization, etc.*	98,688,243	89,058,040	.....
Depreciation§	4,026,919	3,880,555	.....
Operating profit	$ 19,113,443	$ 15,841,947	.....
Other income	571,306	644,735	.....
Total income	$ 19,684,749	$ 16,486,682	$ 11,201,867
Interest	2,186,295	2,273,058	2,463,127
Subsidiary preferred dividends	95,267	76,576	218,809
Amortization debt disbursements, etc.	270,879	225,928	.....
Loss on investment	.....	76,586	.....
Provision for contingencies	.....	500,000	.....
Federal income taxes, etc.	2,019,131	1,656,860	825,233
Surtax on undistributed profits	4,851	.....	.....
Minority interest property	682,264	600,851	114,954
Net profit	$ 14,426,062	$ 11,076,823	$ 7,579,744
Preferred dividends	888,693	888,571	888,531
Common dividends	13,445,129	3,753,144	3,316,737
Surplus	$ 92,240	$ 6,435,108	$ 3,374,476
Dividends from subsidiaries†	.....	.....	46,741
Previous surplus	44,354,379	41,088,279	37,667,062
Total surplus	$ 44,446,619	$ 47,523,387	$ 41,088,279
Adjustments	.....	‡2,675,722	.....
Undistributed income, partly owned companies	92,345	493,286	.....
Profit and loss surplus	$ 44,354,274	$ 44,354,379	$ 41,088,279

*Includes rents and ordinary taxes. †Dividends from prior year's profits of affiliated corporations, etc. ‡Consists of $2,396,172 adjustment of value of productions in suspense and continuities, and $279,550 adjustment of investments in corporations formerly partly owned. §Depreciation of buildings and equipment (exclusive of studio depreciation charged to cost of films).

Loew's consolidated balance sheets for three years are compared in the table on the following page.

DEDUCTIONS IN PROFIT SHARING PLAN

(Continued from preceding page)

six years, to December 31, 1945, at same $3,250 weekly salary, plus seven-tenths of one per cent of net profits, starting January 1, 1939.

LAWRENCE A. WEINGARTEN, an executive producer—Present contract expiring December 30, 1941, is for $2,500, with yearly increases until $3,250 is reached. New contract is for $3,250 weekly, starting January 1, 1939, and running to December, 1941, plus .0035 per cent of profits.

HARRY RAPF, executive producer—New agreement will be extended from April 8, 1939, at $2,200 weekly, to April 8, 1943, at same salary, plus .0035 of profits, starting January 1, 1939.

MERVYN LE ROY, production advisory executive and producer-director—Present contract, which is to become effective not later than March 15, 1938, to run to March 15, 1941, at $3,500 weekly salary plus quarterly bonus of $29,500, is to be changed, so that in lieu of the quarterly bonus, he will receive seven-tenths of one per cent of the profits, starting January 1, 1939.

DAVID BERNSTEIN, vice-president and treasurer—Salary remains the same as at present, $2,000 per week, plus one and one-half per cent of the profits, the new agreement extending the present contract from January 1, 1939, to December 31, 1943, and continuing in effect a stock option.

Deductions

Sharing in the net profits, however is subject to a series of deductions. These include the average $2,612,424 annually on the $2 common stock outstanding. Stock issued as a stock dividend is exempted from the provision. A deduction of $2 per share also is to be made for stock issued in the future, including shares to be issued under stock options. A third deduction will be up to seven per cent annually for cumulative dividends on present and future preferred stock. A fourth deduction will be for all taxes, except taxes from profits where these profits are not included as income for the benefit of the employee.

In computing the profits the proposed contracts provide for still other deductions from profits before the shares of the contract holders are computed.

Fixed compensation paid the contract holders will be deducted.

Profits or losses from 25 per cent owned subsidiaries will be included to the extent of the ownership. Dividends or receipts from other companies will be included only if actually earned and paid to Loew's. Dividends on preferred stock held by Loew's in other companies will be deducted in computing Loew's share of net profits. Cash received from real estate sales will be included in profits. Reserves and depreciation will be deducted.

SEC Report

Security and Exchange Commission this week reported disposition by J. Robert Rubin of 350 shares of $6.50 cumulative preferred Loew's stock held through a holding company and of 800 shares of common stock held direct, reducing his common stock holdings to 16,155. Arthur M. Loew disposed of 100 shares of common, leaving him with 195 shares.

Besides the holdings of Mr. Rubin, other officers and directors held stock in Loew's, according to their last reports to the Securities and Exchange Commission, as follows: David Bernstein, 8,680 shares of common, as of August 31, 1937, and Sam Katz, 750 shares of common, on October 31. On October 7 Edgar Mannix and Alexander Lichtman each reported they held no stock. The SEC on Tuesday said at Washington that no reports of Loew stock holdings were ever filed by Louis B. Mayer, Hunt Stromberg, Harry Rapf, Mervyn Le Roy, Benjamin Thau, Bernard Hyman or Lawrence Weingarten.

Consolidated Balance Sheets of Loew's for Last Three Years

The consolidated balance sheet of Loew's, Inc. and wholly owned subsidiaries as of August 31, 1937, compares with 1936 and 1935 as follows:

Assets:	1937	1936	1935
Property, plant, etc*	$ 71,988,704	$ 71,768,430	$ 71,511,042
Due from affiliated companies, etc.	27,737	32,562	132,138
Cash	4,303,142	4,776,634	3,718,803
U. S. Government securities	5,044,649	7,265,397	3,376,181
Foreign government securities	.....	183,763	.....
Accounts and notes receivable	3,022,786	2,452,078	1,210,199
Inventories	38,470,519	35,634,587	32,504,979
Investments, etc.	14,843,146	10,887,551	11,856,468
Sinking fund req. antic.	58,576	174,904	316,229
Advances	1,535,711	1,912,059	2,020,193
Deferred charges	3,249,054	3,474,747	2,625,464
Total	$142,544,024	$138,562,712	$129,271,696
Liabilities:
Common stock	†$ 41,166,810	$ 38,154,430	$ 37,353,280
$6.50 cumulative preferred stock	§12,920,229	12,920,229	12,920,229
Bonds and mortgages of subsidiaries	16,039,388	16,872,053	18,918,387
Debenture bonds	††13,107,000	††13,864,000	‡‡7,717,500
Subsidiaries preferred stock outstanding	1,357,400	1,363,700	1,368,200
Notes payable, current	573,394	745,686	1,595,457
Accounts payable, current	6,250,536	4,072,348	4,940,160
Federal and state taxes, etc.	3,647,503	2,756,638	778,460
Accrued interest	317,553	322,167	494,875
Due to affiliated companies	.....	.....	16,449
Sinking fund and installment payment¶	1,318,423	1,326,376	1,290,511
Reserve for contingencies	250,000	500,000	.....
Deferred credits, etc.	1,241,514	1,310,706	789,909
Profits and loss surplus	44,354,274	44,354,379	41,088,279
Total	$142,544,024	$138,562,712	$129,271,696

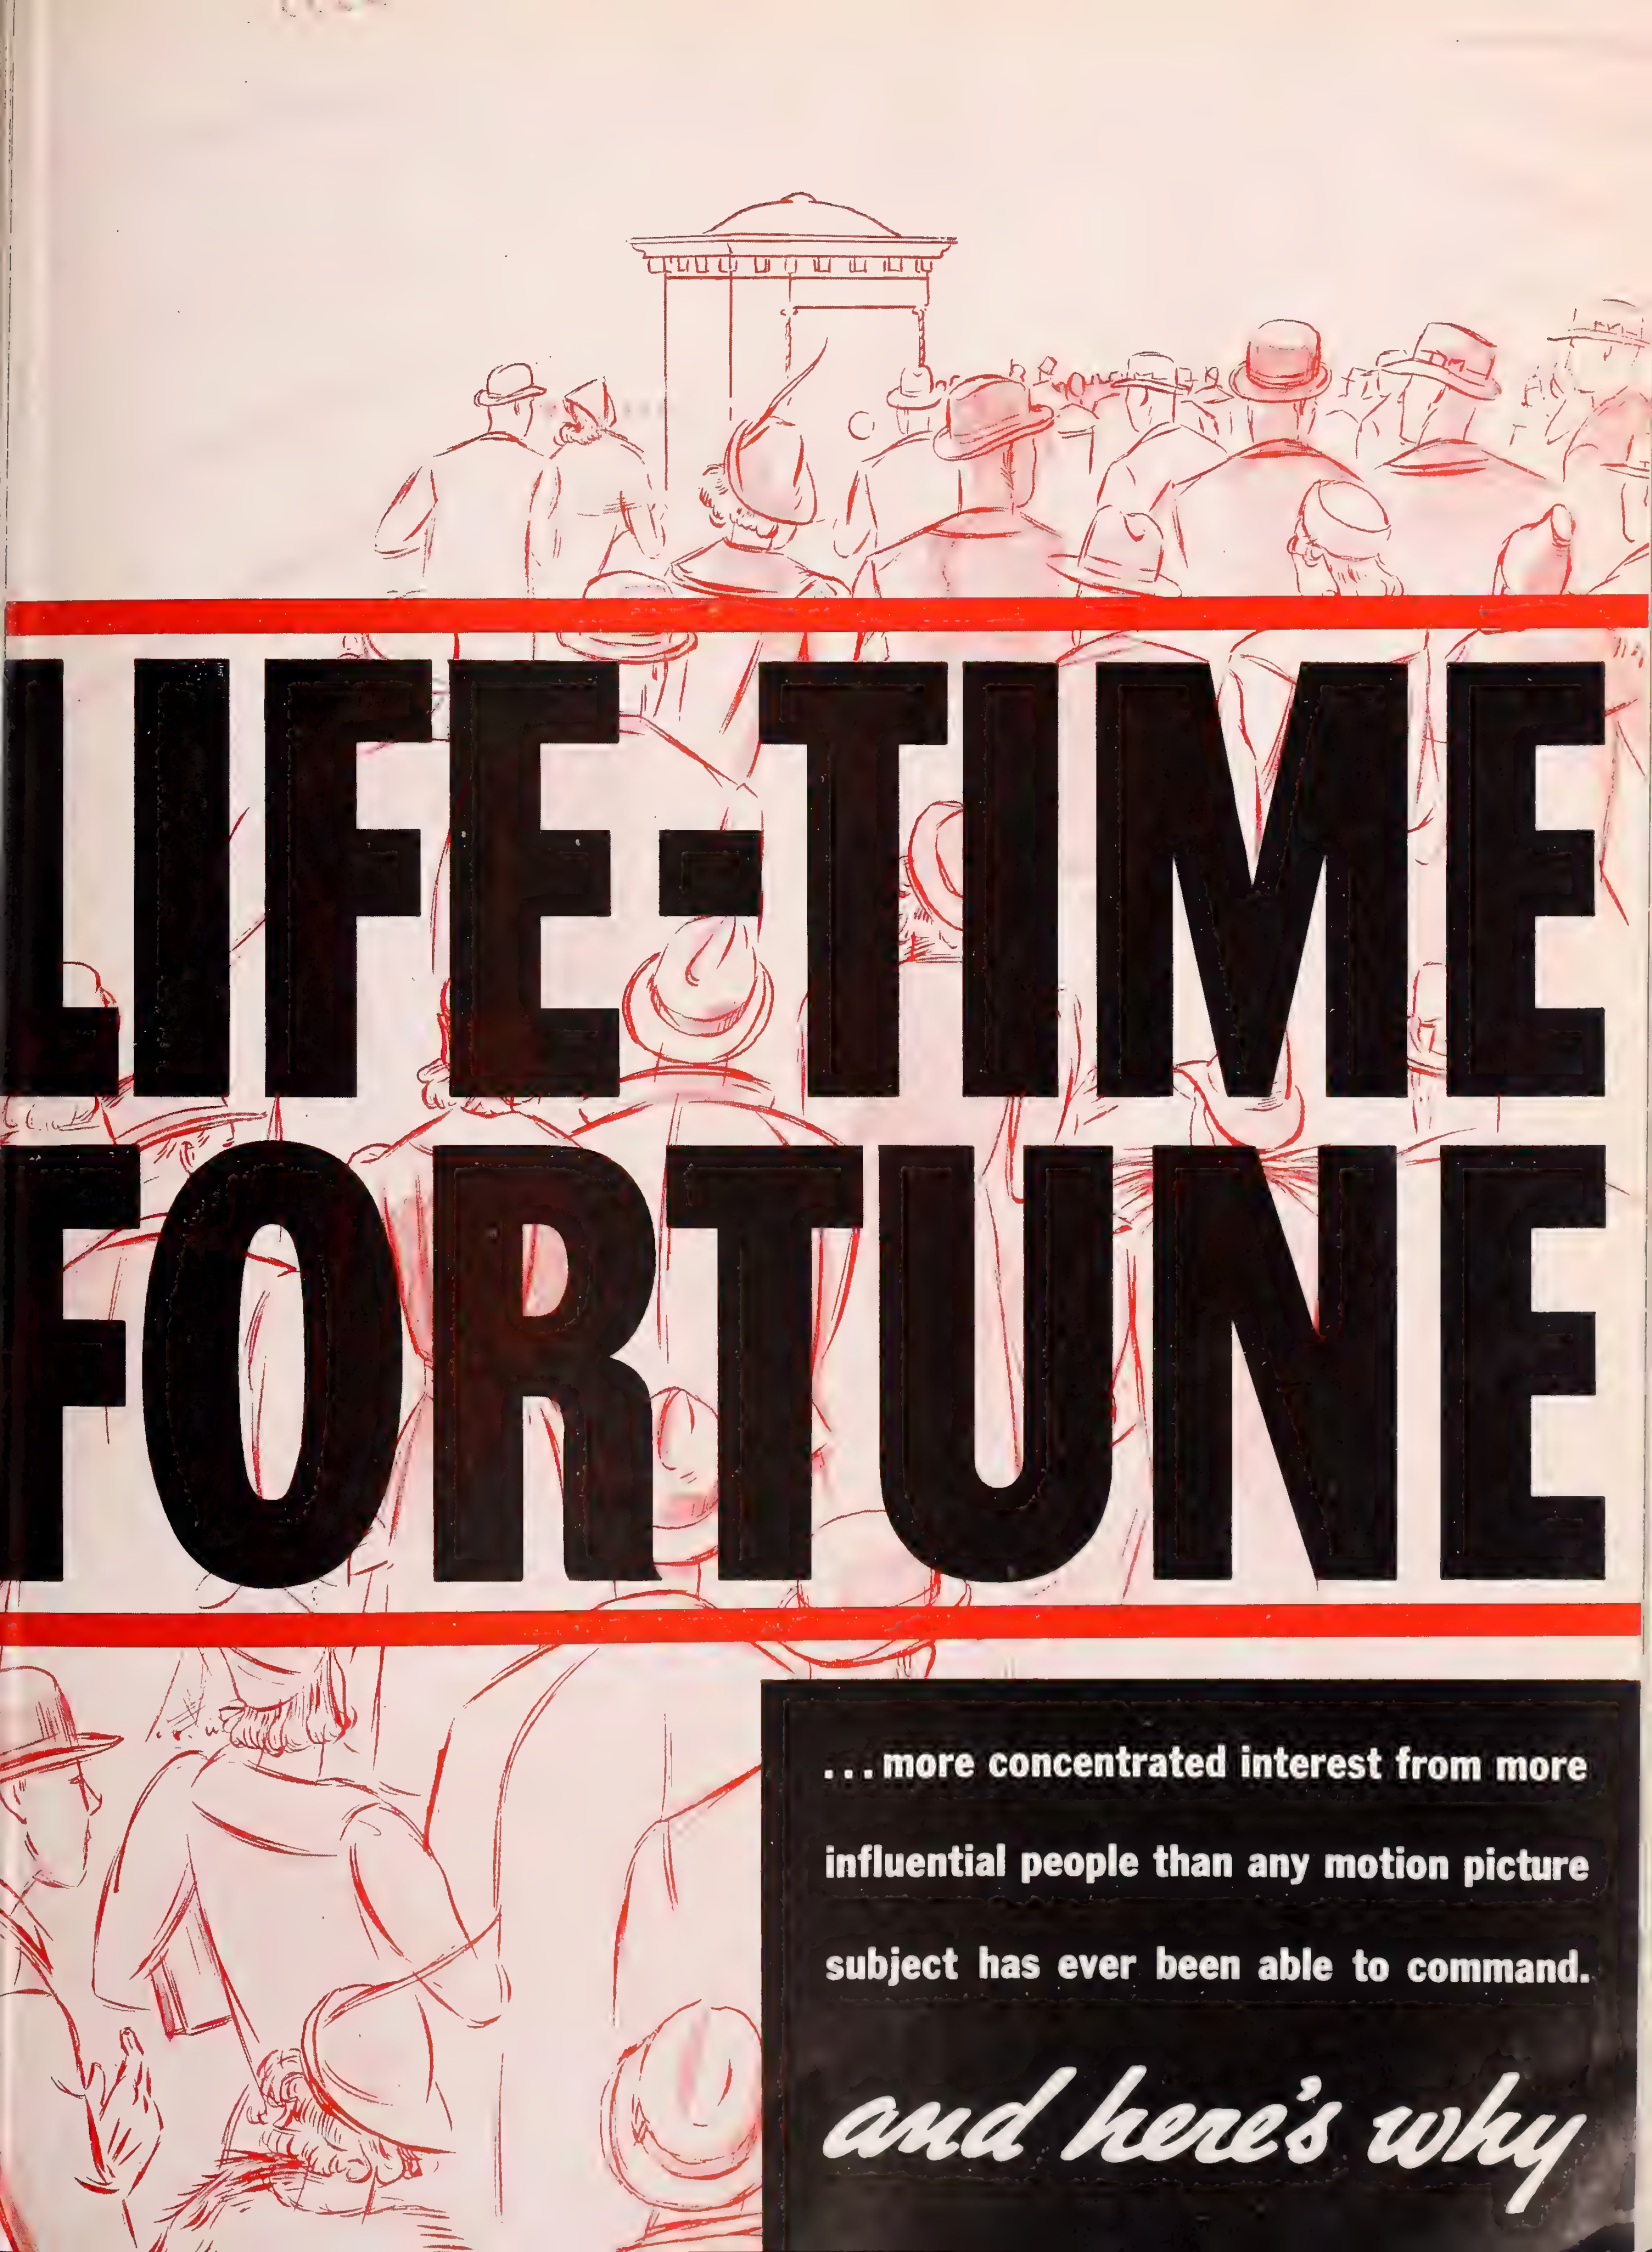
*After depreciation. †Represented by 1,599,053 no-par shares. §Represented by 136,722 no-par shares. ¶Sinking fund and instalment payments due within one year. Including $1,428,089 in foreign banks, subject to export restrictions. ††3½% debentures. ‡‡6% debentures.

"Life of Zola" Is Picked by Critics

Opinions of film editors and reviewers of newspapers resulted in the selection of Warner Brothers' "The Life of Emile Zola," as the best in Film Daily's "ten best" poll for 1937, as announced Thursday.

The nine other "bests" based on the critics' personal selections were: "The Good Earth," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; "Captains Courageous," MGM; "The Lost Horizon," Columbia; "A Star Is Born," United Artists; "Romeo and Juliet," MGM; "Stage Door," Radio-Keith-Orpheum; "Dead End," United Artists; "Winterset," RKO, and "The Awful Truth," Columbia.

The critics' preferences differed to the extent that the different selections covered some 47 different pictures.

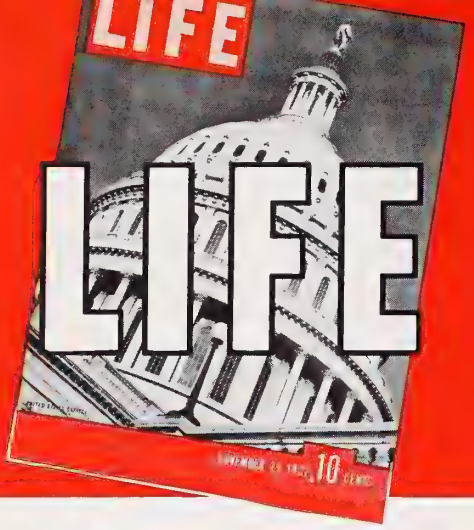


"The Life of Emile Zola" was also chosen by the New York Film Critics, whose membership is composed of film reviewers on the metropolitan newspapers, as the "most distinguished picture of 1937."

The performance of Paul Muni in "Zola" and of Greta Garbo in "Camille" were rated by the critics as "outstanding" for the year. Gregory La Cava for his direction of "Stage Door," was selected as the "outstanding" director.

The "most distinguished" foreign language film, in the opinion of the New York reviewers was "Mayerling."

Plan Free Distribution Of Children's Films



Julia Ellsworth Ford Foundation, Los Angeles, has inaugurated a nationwide program for the production and free distribution of pictures in color for children. They will be distributed for showing in schools, and through parent-teacher, women's and civic organizations.

LIFE·TIME FORTUNE

. . . more concentrated interest from more influential people than any motion picture subject has ever been able to command.

and here's why

LIFE

16,200,000 LIFE READERS (9 readers per copy) are seeing and reading March of Time advertising. (In 1937 $22,800 worth of LIFE space.)

16,200,000 LIFE readers know that the men who this year made LIFE the "biggest show in publishing history" are putting that same showmanship and that same sixth sense of news and of pictures into the making of The March of Time each month.

TIME

2,500,000 TIME ENTHUSIASTS were in on the beginning of The March of Time three years ago and have been following its advertising ($138,800 worth of space) in TIME ever since.

They know that back of The March of Time on the screen stands TIME's world wide news-gathering facilities, TIME's all important behind-the-news sources, TIME's journalistic brains and TIME's authoritative accuracy in news-reporting.

FORTUNE

2,280,000 FORTUNE READERS, the nation's most influential, important and business-minded people, have during the past three years been sold on The March of Time on the screen ($32,000 worth of FORTUNE space).

They know that the same keen, fearless study of the hard-to-get facts, the searching, clear analysis of the deep-rooted truths which make them read and respect FORTUNE, go into every issue of The March of Time on the screen each month.

MARCH OF TIME ON THE AIR

30,000,000 MARCH OF TIME RADIO LISTENERS* were the first great group of March of Time screen enthusiasts. They heard the first public announcement of The March of Time on the screen three years ago and since then ($316,500 of radio time) they have been following March of Time's screen success.

They know that March of Time on the air and on the screen both have that unbiased force and courage, that dramatic, impartial realism which the name March of Time stands for today.

* Dr. Starch Radio penetration study, "Ears and Incomes."

MILLIONS OF FANS FOR

MARCH OF TIME

ON THE SCREEN

Produced by the Publishers of LIFE, TIME, FORTUNE, and MARCH OF TIME Radio

THE FIFTY MILLION alert American men, women and children, who are enthusiasts for the magazines LIFE, TIME and FORTUNE, and fans for The March of Time on the Air, all know that the Cinema March of Time brings to the screen that same showmanship and courage and honesty which distinguish their favorite magazines and their favorite radio program.

They are first of all news-minded people. Their highest interest is in the living, struggling world of today.

They want to know what is going on in the world—the facts, the trends, the conflicts, the triumphs, the disasters.

They want the truth—told without bias and without varnish, by an authority they can respect.

And they know that the one motion picture feature which will compress the world's news into complete, understandable, sense-making stories is The March of Time.

They are your fans for The March of Time — every month.

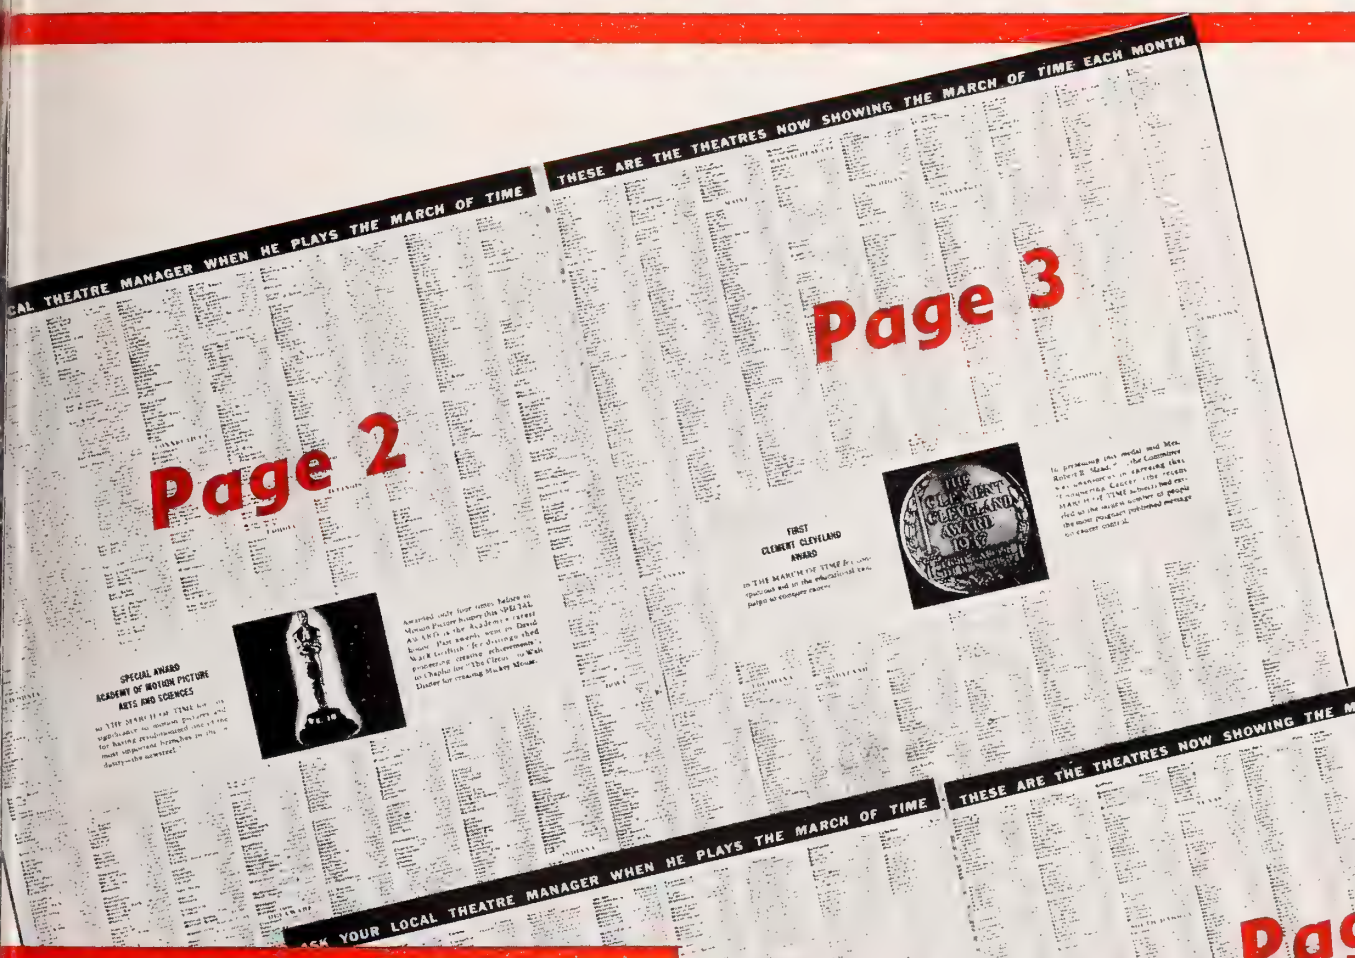
And there are fifty million of them in the U. S. today.

AND-

THIS WEEK IN



The Biggest

This week March of Time publishes the biggest single motion picture advertisement ever printed—5 pages in LIFE, 8 pages in TIME. (A total magazine advertising investment of $38,200 worth of space.) And it goes to the 18,700,000 readers of LIFE and TIME.

It lists the name of every theatre in the U. S. playing The March of Time.

This giant advertising smash inaugurates a special service for you . . . and your patrons.

LIFE AND TIME

Advertisement

Millions WANT to see The March of Time.

This directory tells them WHERE to see it.

It not only lists the name of your theatre—
t urges them to write or phone you and ask ou to let them know the exact days of each nonth March of Time plays at your theatre.

Take advantage of this reminder service . . .
t's a month-after-month business-builder . . .
omething that will mean repeat business nonth-after-month at your box-office!

AND...

WHO ELSE?

In the U. S. There Are

9,000,000 STUDENTS IN HIGH SCHOOL

18,000,000 ADULT FORUM MEMBERS

FOR THEM...

MARCH OF TIME'S ORGANIZED CURRENT EVENTS STUDY PLAN

PHOTO REPORTER—started as an experiment two years ago, is today the fastest growing U. S. school publication. The PHOTO REPORTER is a full-fledged monthly periodical which supplements The March of Time on the screen and makes for a keener understanding of each new issue.

Schools like the PHOTO REPORTER for class study because it compresses the far-reaching background material on the significant events covered by The March of Time into concise, easy, informative reading.

Exhibitors like the PHOTO REPORTER because it opens up a new avenue for school-theatre cooperation, not only on The March of Time but on feature pictures and theatre activities as well.

The PHOTO REPORTER has proved its value to more than 1800 exhibitors who use it. They know it sells tickets (see next 8 pages).

MANUAL FOR DISCUSSION—published in conjunction with the PHOTO REPORTER, it supplements every issue of The March of Time. Prepared by a board of prominent educators and current history professors, it points out pertinent questions for discussion, suggests group activities and references for the study of the events, trends and personalities as presented in each issue of The March of Time on the screen.

Many exhibitors recently have discovered that this manual is not only valuable to the teachers who are using PHOTO REPORTER, but that adult Forum groups (such as Women's Clubs, P.T.A. groups, Current Events Clubs, etc.) find the MANUAL FOR GROUP DISCUSSION and The March of Time excellent basic material for their group discussion meetings.

Here is another avenue opening up to your box office.

HERE IT IS!

IE MARCH OF TIME

PHOTO REPORTER

Prepared by the Editors of TIME and LIFE

This is a facsimile of page one of the PHOTO REPORTER — the eight-page picture newspaper

now being used each month by more than 500,000 students in 3800 U.S. schools

Most concrete evidence of the box office value of the PHOTO REPORTER is the comments of exhibitors and teachers who use it . . . (see following pages).

U. S. MERCHANT MARINE

in need of drastic changes

The relicts lying in the Kill van Kull at Staten Island, New York, waiting to be broken up into usable chunks of scrap iron, are the unlaid ghosts of an American dream — a World-War-born dream to build America a merchant marine capable of carrying the exports of the U. S. to every corner of the globe. For one brief moment in her history America boasted a merchant marine second to none. That was in the period between the beginning of the California Gold Rush and the Civil War. Then her famed clipper ships sailing out of Gloucester and

(Continued on Page 2)

This facsimile of the second page of PHOTO REPORTER is reduced in size for this advertisement

MERCHANT FLEET FAILING SINCE 1865

despite $3,500,000,000 in government aid

(Continued from Page 1)

Boston and New York, around Cape Horn to California, there to deposit their cargo of avid prospectors, and sail on to the rich markets of China, were the swiftest, most luxurious and newest afloat. For a time they even outweighed and outsailed the fleet which had made and kept England a world power since the days of Queen Elizabeth. But the coming of steam power spelled the doom of America's brief and spectacular career in foreign shipping.

The sturdy wooden clippers which American shipbuilders could construct cheaply because of their vast supply of fine timber gave way to iron ships powered by steam, giving the advantage to industrial countries with lower wage scales. Then, too, up to the time of the Civil War, America was primarily a coastal country, looking to Europe and the Far East for markets and trade. The interior was a sparsely settled wilderness connected by a few mud roads with the industrial cities of the East. The laying of railroads across the continent drastically shifted the routes of trade. Millions of immigrants and pioneers poured into the Middle and Far West, created an insatiable market for the raw materials and manufactured goods which had formerly gone abroad. People with money to invest turned to the profitable markets in their own backyard.

Meanwhile, the older countries of Europe had no new lands to populate and to sell their goods had to keep up their foreign trade. To keep her vessels afloat

U. S. Clippers were once swiftest ships afloat and carrying raw materials to factories and finished goods to markets doing 10% of American business, the balance of traffic being carried by foreign ships.

WORLD WAR MARKED LOW POINT

The war had only been in progress three weeks when U. S. merchants and the government began to regret the depleted state of the merchant marine. As soon as England entered the war, she withdrew her merchant fleet from commercial service and put it to work transporting troops and supplies. Germany was immediately blockaded and for the remainder of the war was unable to send ships to America. Just at a time when American merchants might have expanded their trade to undreamed of proportions, the means of transportation were withdrawn and millions of dollars in goods were left to rot on Atlantic wharves. The government hastily amended an act which had prohibited the use of ships more than five years old for foreign trade. Coastwise shipping companies were quickly turned to overseas trade and 500,000 tons of foreign ships added to the U. S. fleet. But it was not enough.

C STATE

ards were thing left to build an the e con- ipping n the ment on- re e

PRESIDENT APPOINTS COMMISSION

In 1936, the president, recognizing seriousness of the situation, appointed Joseph Patrick Kennedy, a business with a reputation for clear-headed thinking and a talent for bringing order out of chaos, to investigate the whole U. S. shipping industry and make recommendations based on his discoveries as to the future of the merchant marine. On pages 4 and 5 of this issue of Photo Reporter, you will find a pictorial description from LIFE, picture magazine, of some of the conclusions Mr. Kennedy's commission has unveiled and the drastic corrections he suggests.

they were kept busy transporting soldiers back from France. Then they went into ordinary trade and in the first year earned $50,000,000. For the past 16 years, the government has been trying to get rid of its ships, selling or leasing at great loss to as many as possible to private companies for overseas and lake commerce, granting huge subsidies to private operators to carry mail or build new ships. But in spite of $3,500,000,000 spent since 1917 to give the U. S. a sufficient merchant marine, shipping remains a sick industry. It has not only failed to pay back the huge investment of public funds, but has steadily lost more money and by 1933, was in such a state of financial chaos that a Senate investigation was demanded. The investigation revealed a state of confusion, inefficiency and downright misappropriation of funds that amounted to a major scandal. Shipping was moribund. It attracted no new capital. The fleet was on the verge of becoming obsolete and in case Europe became embroiled in war, the country faced another situation exactly like that which had occurred in 1914.

"SELLS TICKETS"

". . . PHOTO REPORTER distribution opens a new cooperative field for school tie-ups . . . and one which sells tickets."

MARC WOLF
Theatrical Managers, Inc.
Indianapolis, Indiana

STATE OF NEBRASKA

". . . PHOTO REPORTER has definite educational value and can be made to play a prominent part in the modern-way school program in connection with the March of Time film. I recommend use of this material by school people of our state . . ."

CHAS. A. BOWERS, Exec. Secy.
Nebraska State Teachers Assn.

FINDING NEW JO

involves endless searchi

Fifteen years ago, when the first commercial broadcast went out over the ether from station WEAF to a few thousand fans sitting spellbound in headphones at their radio sets, a strange new business was launched, the business of supplying radio entertainers with jokes and humorous stories to tell their listeners between sales talks and other entertainment. The business grew at first rather slowly. Most announcers told jokes as a method of introducing singers or musicians. At first the order of both radio humor and humorist was very low. And all sorts of rubbish escaped from the loudspeaker.

Before long the public began to sour on the stale jokes and inept clowning of announcers, and program directors decided they would have to do something better. They began to hire professional comedians. Invariably the first two or three programs were tremendous hits. Then the comedians promptly ran out of jokes, and a frantic search for new material began. Thus, a new craftsman, the jokesmith, came into being. Today, around a dozen highly paid joke specialists supply the bulk of the humor that the better comedians turn out each night.

Before radio, a comedian touring from city to city could use the same jokes indefinitely, and a dozen gags if properly told with business and costumes could keep a performer talking for a full half-hour. Radio has changed all that. In the first place, a radio humorist must get his laughs entirely from the words since audiences cannot see expressions and gestures which might add to the humor of a story. In the second place, top-rank radio comedians have audiences of anywhere from two to twenty million listeners for each broadcast. Their jokes once told are finished and cannot be used again for many months or even years to come.

Searching for old jokes which can be "twisted"

There are approximately 2,000 comedy programs broadcast each week over network and local stations. Comedians estimate that they need approximately 75 jokes for one half-hour broadcast compared with the dozen which used to suffice before the days of radio. At this rate, about 150,000 gags are needed each week to keep the mass-production humor in-books and ich can be used change and other jokes n modernized setting and contemporary characters are as funny today as they were in 1860. Another source is the radio comedian himself. The jokesmith listens to as many humorous broadcasts as he can, takes down the jokes which were successful. He then sets to work trying to rewrite the joke so that, while the essential humorous situation remains the same, there is enough new in the story that listeners will not recognize it, and it will still hold their attention. The art of making old jokes sound new is the one on which radio gag writers have most to depend today.

But there is some question whether the jokesmiths will be able to keep up indefinitely with the insatiable public demand. It is possible that some day the well may dry up. Then, in all probability, gag writers will turn from the out-and-out story jokes which are still popular today to a more pointed type of spoofing at the expense of politics, news and personalities. Meanwhile, gag writers and comedians work day and night to keep abreast of the public clamor for more fun, and each knows that he could not get along without the other. For in this day of mass-production laughter, nothing is more disastrous than a gag which, in popular radio parlance, "lays an egg."

Fred Allen tells a lifetime's jokes in 6 months

Amos and Andy write 1800 words of jokes daily

Jack Benny checks what makes them laugh

This facsimile of the third page of PHOTO REPORTER is reduced in size for this advertisement.

NLAND NOW TWENTY YEARS OLD

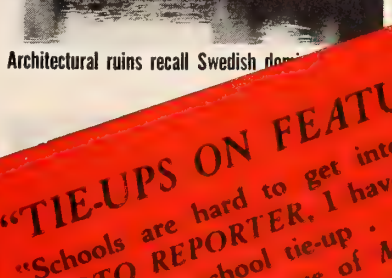
inding secure place in family of nations

thernmost nation of the world, Finland, has been an independent state only ince 1917. The history of Finland, so far as is known, goes back to 100 A. D., n the ancestors of the present Finns began to migrate to Finland from the ic countries. In the twelfth century, Finland came under the influence of den, her more powerful neighbor. At that time, Sweden was not a unified e, but consisted of several federated provinces. Finland was one of these inces. Beginning in the seventeenth ury, Sweden became a unified king- and by the eighteenth century took place as an important European er. As the Swedish nation grew and ired territory to the South on the nland of Europe, Finland's importance Sweden waned, and soon she was ed upon merely as a frontier prov-

the meantime, as Sweden became ng, a country to the East was also ving powerful. That country was Rus- and it was not long before she was llenging Sweden's place among the ons. In the wars that followed be- en these two countries, Finland was aded and partitioned several times, finally, in 1809, was ceded to Russia result of the Russo-Swedish War. inland became a Grand Duchy of Rus- The Finns were allowed to have their n constitution and their own institu- ns, and, in general, Russia did not in- fere in their internal affairs holas II became Czar of Russi 4 and issued decrees which abroga Finns' time-honored rights, compel m to serve in the Russian army. The pressive conditions prevailed down t 4, when the Finns, taking advantage the fact that the Russian army was in Far East waging war with Japan, de- nded the return of their rights. Their nands were granted, but within a few rs conditions were as bad as ever.

Russia's entrance into the World War vided Finland with an opportunity for ive resistance. Her soldiers refused to nt for Russia, were encouraged in their olt by Germany. Then in March, 1917, il war broke out in Russia and left the y open for Finland to assert her in- pendence. The first revolutionary gov- rnment of Russia guaranteed autonomy the Finnish nation. A second revolu- n in Russia gave the Finns an oppor- nity to sever completely their unwilling , and in 1917, the Finnish parliament clared Finland's independence.

But independence declared was not in- pendence achieved. In the spring of 8, civil war broke out between two tions in Finland. On one side were se who had come under the influence Russian Communism and on the other s the property-owning middle class. e latter enlisted the aid of Germany, l after a brief but bitter civil war de- ted the Communist forces, who were pported by Russian volunteers. There- er, a constitution was framed and the w nation began to function as a re- blic.



Since conservative forces had won the il war, they controlled the new gov- rnment. However, in 1921, they lost ound in the Finnish parliament, and re replaced by a combination of liberal itical parties. About this time, the mmunists again became a force in Fin- h politics. By 1929, they were suffi- ntly strong to gain 23 out of 200 seats parliament and, encouraged by this ccess, they set out to convert the people their doctrines. But a hurriedly formed fascist group marched upon the capital and demanded that the government suppress Communism. When the government refused to pass all their sweeping demands, the leaders of the fascist movement took things into their own hands, wrecked a Communist newspaper plant, kidnapped Communist leaders. The government was powerless to act against them. The cabinet resigned and a new one giving representation to these fascist groups was formed. Liberal groups in parliament tried to prevent the passage of laws proposed by the fascists abrogating the Bill of Rights, for they realized that such a move would destroy the republican constitution. No compromise could be reached, so parliament was dissolved. In order to assure the passage of these laws in the new parliament, the fascist group kidnapped socialists, commandeered election lists and removed whatever names they pleased. As a result the laws were passed, the Communist party outlawed.

But opposition to the policies of the fascists did not die and, in 1931, the liberal parties gained new strength. Fascist agitation rose again, but by this time the liberal parties were sufficiently strong to maintain themselves in power.

In the elections of 193? ral groups gained even mor this year conservati vud, who w fascist allio, a either esen- in- ew er

Architectural ruins recall Swedish dom

But today

As Finland builds in her own style. . . .

A prosperous and vigorous little nation

"TIE-UPS ON FEATURES"
"Schools are hard to get into, but with the aid of PHOTO REPORTER, I have been able to work out a successful school tie-up . . . teachers call students' attention to each issue of March of Time at my theatre . . . and praise highly the PHOTO REPORTER . . . as a result I have no difficulty making tie-ups on feature attractions."
WILLIAM H. WHYTE
Strand Theatre
Pottstown, Penna.

TENNESSEE'S HIGH SCHOOLS
"The March of Time's PHOTO REPORTER has definite value . . . very profitably used in our Tennessee High Schools in connection with courses in Social Science, English and American literature."
R. R. VANCE
Tennessee State Supervisor
Division of High Schools

FINLAND'S SIBELIUS

a first ranking composer

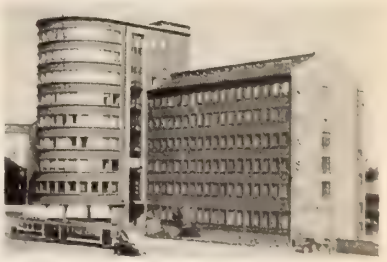
For a great many years Finland has been known to the world chiefly for her wooded beauty and her thousands of lakes and islands, but in the last generation she has acquired a greater claim to fame in the person of one man. That man is Jean Christian Sibelius, one of the world's foremost composers.

Composer Sibelius has brought Finland fame

When Sibelius was still a young man, the state recognized his genius and gave him a pension, so that he might have security and time in which to devote himself to musical composition. In the years that followed, Sibelius created seven symphonies and a number of tone poems, which brought him—and indirectly his country—great fame.

Sibelius leads a secluded life at his home near Helsinki and spends much of his time in the nearby forests. So highly is his music regarded that many a musician today considers him the lineal successor of Beethoven and Brahms.

G IN SCANDINAVIA



land's business

workers were receiving wages rovide cheap food, a group of s the Equitable Society of ings and opened a grocery store ars later, so successful was their under- buy a flour mill, two years later, a shoe factory cooperative so- ished. Today, there are ves in practically every country the world—nearly 500,000 of them with a membership of over 139 million people.

What is a cooperative? It is a group of people who band together for the purpose of supplying themselves with certain goods or services through stores or factories which they themselves own and operate in the common interest. The investors in a cooperative enterprise are not in business to make a profit, as are the owners in private industry, but to supply themselves with goods and services at the lowest possible price. If there is any money left over in a cooperative enterprise after all expenses have been paid, this amount is called an overcharge and is returned to the members, the proportion which each receives depending on the amount of money he has spent.

Cooperatives differ in another way from ordinary businesses. In the ordinary corporation, the number of votes a man has is determined by the amount of stock he owns in that corporation. But no matter how much money a person puts into a cooperative enterprise, he is allowed only one vote in determining the policies of the cooperative.

Today, in 43 countries in the world, there are many kinds of cooperative societies, but, in general, their activities fall into four main categories—purchasing, financing, marketing, and producing. Some of the most successful are to be found in Great Britain and the Scandinavian countries.

Cooperative stores do large retail business

In Great Britain, seven million people belong to the cooperative movement, which does one-twelfth of the country's retail business. The cooperative banking system does a business equal to the fourth largest bank in England. Flour, shoe and soap manufacturing cooperatives produce more of these products than any other English manufacturer. Almost everything an Englishman needs can be supplied by

(Continued on Page 6)

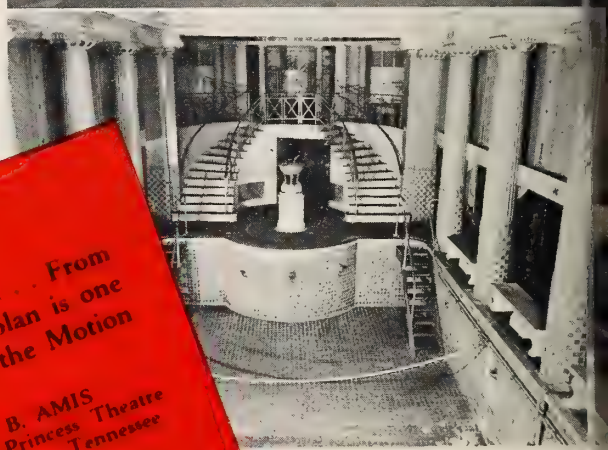
LIFE COVERS THE AMERICA

This facsimile of the fourth and fifth pages of the PHOTO REPORTER is reduced in size for this advertisement.



LEVIATHAN SOLD FOR SCRAP

On the hightide of German Imperialism at Hamburg in April 1913, was launched the S. S. Vaterland, the mightiest ship of its day It was built not for profit but to enhance the prestige of Germany But pride went swiftly to a fall Interned in New York harbor when the War began, the Vaterland was seized by the U S. and renamed the Leviathan in 1917, carried nearly 100,000 doughboys to France and back. During the 1920's it flourished in the Atlantic passenger trade, but was soon outmoded by newer ships, finally, after running for a time at a heavy loss, was retired. For three years, the famous old ship has lain on Hoboken, New Jersey's dreary waterfront, rotting and rusting away.

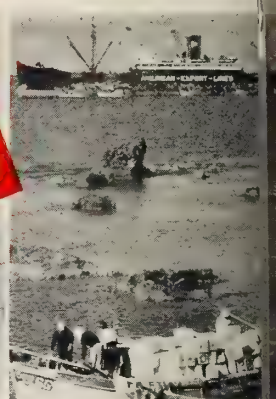
In 1914, the Vaterland's Pompeian swimming pool, called the Roman Bath, was one of the wonders of pre-War society In 1937, the vanished luxury of the Leviathan ming pool is hid darkness be

"BUILDS PATRONAGE"

"My schools use the PHOTO REPORTER . . . From the angle of a theatre manager, I feel this plan is one of the most important moves yet made by the Motion Picture Industry to build patronage."

GUY B. AMIS
New Princess Theatre
Lexington, Tennessee

"500 PAID ADMISSIONS"

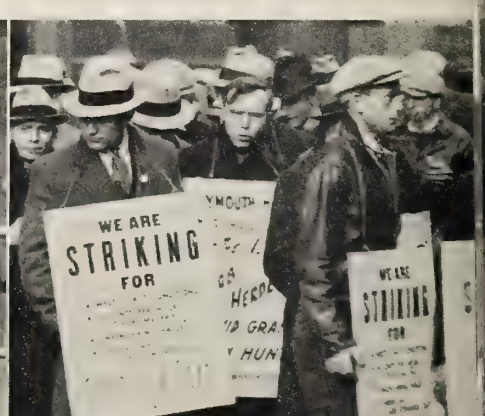


"The PHOTO REPORTER has been so popular here that I find I shall have to increase my order to 500 copies each month. Students enjoy the March of Time at the theatre so much better after reading about the events in your publication."

DAVID FOSNER
Newark High School
Newark, N. J.

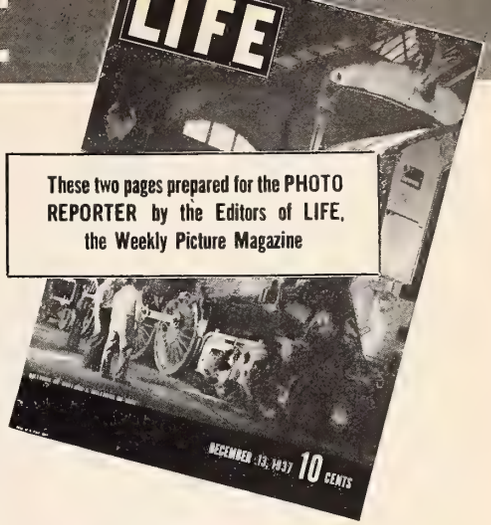
AMERICA IS T IN THE WORL

CARGO



U. S. normally sells 10% of its movable goods abroad. First in exports, it is topped in value of imports only by the United Kingdom. But only one third of U. S exports are today being carried in U. S. bottoms. With Secretary Hull's reciprocal trade trea- its foreign commerce is definitely on the upgrade. This year, it is selling the rest of the world more than $3,000,000,000 worth of goods. To provide best shipping service for that commerce as well safeguard U. S. in time of war, Joseph Patrick nedy wants American ships modernized and subsi to ply 23 important world trade routes.

LABOR



By tradition, the lives of seafaring men are filled with a love of the sea. Untold volumes have romanticized the rigors and adventures of the hard-bitten men who spend their lives at sea. But in the past three years, the men who work at sea have ceased to regard their hardships as picturesque, have demanded in 122 major strikes living and working conditions at least as good as those in any other American industry. To correct abuses of American seamen who protest that they work as many as 12 hours a day for a wage of as little as $25 a month, live in crowded, ill-ventila unsanitary forecastles, eat food unfit for human sumption, the Maritime Commission suggests m mum wage agreements, a permanent board of arbi tion, better quarters for the crew.

Adv.

ERCHANT MARINE

ts, above, of the California Nautical Sch ch trains merchant marine officers.
mission reports that American merc raining and discipline. He recomme supervision of the C

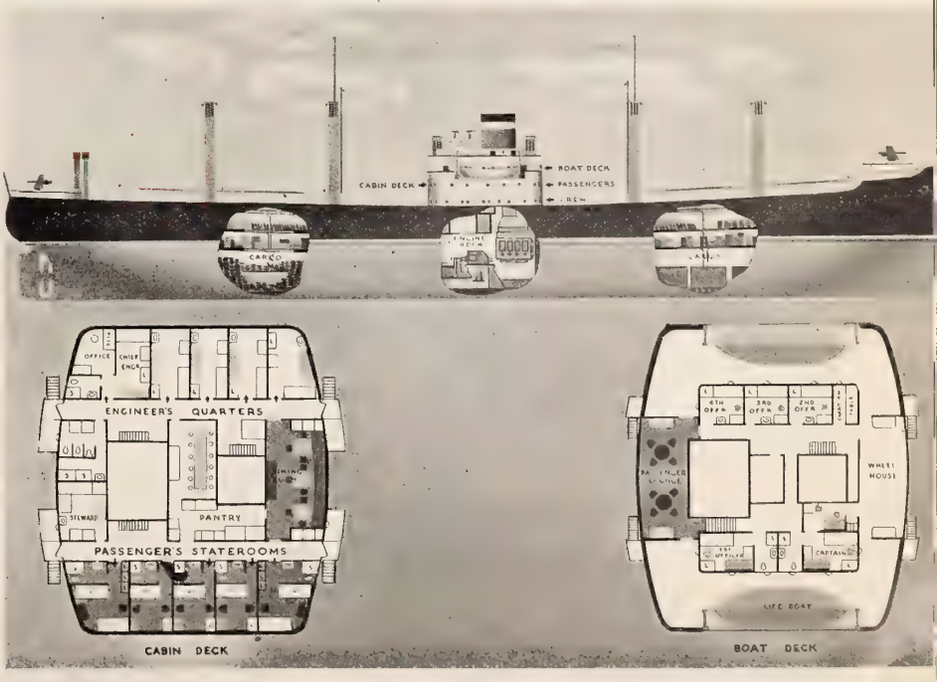
These two pages prepared for the PHOTO REPORTER by the Editors of LIFE, the Weekly Picture Magazine

The world-traveling merchant marine of the United States of America, once the greatest seagoing nation on earth, is a flop, a mess and a headache. It includes a few well-run lines, with a handful of up-to-date ships. But as a whole it is badly managed, shockingly ill-manned, and so uniformly old and outmoded that it is about to go in mass to the scrap heap To replace it with an efficient fleet will cost American taxpayers at least $35,000,000 a year for an indefinite number of years to come.

Chairman Kennedy's job and his Commission's report are concerned solely with ships in foreign trade, since they alone need to be subsidized against foreign competition He concludes that American ship lines, because of high building and operating costs, must have subsidies of at least $25,000,000 a year to survive. Why, then, must the U S. have a merchant marine at all, when plenty of foreign ships are ready to carry its goods in world trade? Two of Chairman Kennedy's answers have to do with war One, in case of war abroad, is to prevent a repetition of 1914, when warring nations suddenly withdrew their ships and left America's trade goods piled up on its shores. The other, and more important, is that if the U S. goes to war, the Navy will require a first-rate merchant fleet readily convertible into troop and supply ships.



WILL BE PRACTICAL

TRANS-OCEANIC AI

The Maritime Commission opposes the construction of any superliners, such as the Queen Mary, and points to air transport with its increased speed and safety as the future luxury mode of travel to Europe. Airships are now being built, says Kennedy, which will be able to cross the ocean in 20 hours, carry 50 passengers.

s drawn in scale above reighter shown at bottom of with the Leviathan's 908 feet, carry , cost ⅓ to ½ as much as a new Leviathan.

er (below) which could be constructed on a mass-production basis. table quarters for a crew of 46, can carry 12 passengers. In event of war, cargo decks could house 2,000 troops. The Kennedy Commission has $2,000,000 to subsidize shipbuilding and operation.

"INVARIABLY ATTEND"

"Teachers and students here look forward to each issue of PHOTO REPORTER for class discussion and invariably attend theatre in groups for March of Time. Its distribution in high schools is proving of great value to us."

STEWART B. TUCKER
Byrd Theatre
Richmond, Virginia

"COST SO SLIGHT"

"PHOTO REPORTER is the best school newspaper for current events that I have seen, and since you have added pictures from LIFE it certainly stands in a class by itself. The cost is so slight, it is practically an outright gift."

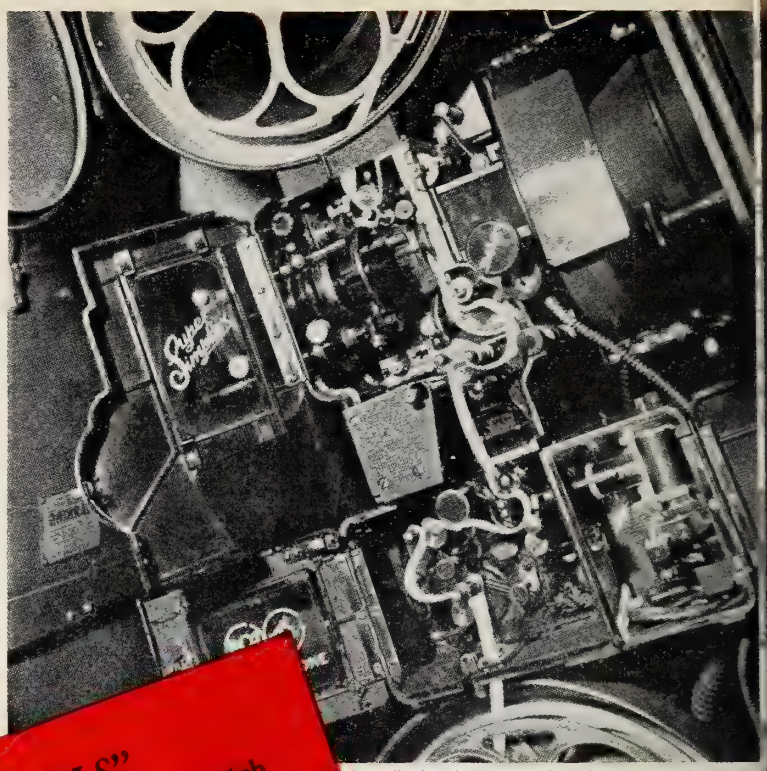
CHARLES A. AYLSWORTH
Trott Vocational School
Niagara Falls, New York

This facsimile of the sixth page of PHOTO REPORTER is reduced in size for this advertisement.

PICTURES ON CINEMA SCREEN

projected by throwing light beam through moving film

In earlier issues of the Photo Reporter the editors have described how motion picture film is made and how the thousands of feet of film taken in various parts of the world by many different camera crews are cut and spliced and edited and made to tell a story. Some readers may have wondered how the tiny still images on a film could ever be converted into the lifelike images which move across the cinema screen, talking in their natural voices and giving such an impression of reality that the audience rarely thinks to question the actual existence of what is sees.



The machine which transfers to the screen the images on the film is located in a booth at the back of the theater near the ceiling. This transfer is accomplished by a beam of light which passes first through the film, then through a magnifying lens which enlarges the image many hundred times before it reaches the screen. The machine is driven by an electric motor, which draws film at the rate of 90 feet per minute from one spool to another past an opening through which the light beam is thrown. As each foot of film contains 16 pictures, or frames, 1,440 individual pictures are projected each minute, giving the illusion of continuous lifelike motion.

But the pictures are only a part of what makes up a motion picture today It is also necessary to reproduce the dialogue and natural sound which have been made with the pictures. In order to do this, the projection machine contains a second part, called the sound head, through which the film also travels. A photographic record of dialogue and sound is carried on the film in a band one-tenth of an inch wide which runs along the side of the pictures. The minute tracings on the sound track are not projected onto the screen but into the sound head, where they set up electrical impulses which are amplified and carried by wires to loudspeakers behind the screen. The screen is covered with hundreds of little holes to allow the sound to come thro clearly from the loudspeake audience.

Running a proj specialized tec

Charles Muller operating Music Hall machines

sic Hall with sides removed to show course of film

it from one reel to the other impercepti to the audience.

When the projection of each reel is f ished, the operator removes the film fr the lower magazine, rewinds it and turns it to the fireproof storage compa ment to await the next showing.

If you are interested to see for yo lf exactly how projection machi rk and what the screen and lo akers look like, have your teacher uch with the theater in your nei od showing the March of Time e e manager to arrange for y visit his theater.

"IN TEN HIGH SCHOOLS"
"We distribute PHOTO REPORTER in ten high schools in our city and it creates great interest in March of Time at our theatre. Consider the PHOTO REPORTER the best medium gotten out for short subject promotion in years."
BILL JENNER
California Theatre
St. Bernardino, Calif.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
"The PHOTO REPORTER and the accompanying Teacher's Discussion Manual is a swell idea. I put them to widespread use here at the University of Minnesota. This material creates a desire to see the March of Time and adds to its enjoyment."
ROBERT A. KISSACK, Jr.
Director Visual Education
University of Minnesota
Minneapolis, Minnesota

COOPERATIVE MOVEMENT growing rapidly throughout world

(Continued from Page 3)

cooperatives. They will design, build and furnish his house. They will clothe and feed his family, will even launder and dry clean his clothes.

In Sweden, cooperatives have developed most rapidly in the industrial field, and have been very successful in lowering the cost of milling flour, manufacturing galoshes and automobile tires —industries formerly controlled by profit-making groups who charged the highest prices they could get. By going into production and selling at cost, cooperatives were able to force manufacturers to meet their prices on these articles or go out of business.

In Denmark, on the other hand, cooperatives began in the agricultural communities. They have aided the government in its attempt to reduce land tenantry and helped make it possible for farmers to buy the land they worked and make a decent living from it. From a nation of tenant farmers one hundred years ago, the Danes have become a nation of landowners, and today, 97% of the farmers own their own land. There are cooperative dairies, egg marketing societies, credit associations, bacon factories, and so forth—all of which have enabled the farmer to market his produce at an economic price.

In Finland, the cooperative movement is very strong, both in urban and rural districts. It dates back to 1899, with the founding of a cooperative known as the Pellervo Society. The growth of cooperation in Finland filled a national need. Under the rule of the Russian Czars, the country was gradually deprived of self-government. The people turned to economic organization as a substitute for political action. By 1903, there were 189 cooperative societies. Today, more than

Cooperatives produ butter

Finnish forests her chief source of wealth

tives made little headway cities in the U S. until the en when people found th tle to spend for the things th needed, they became interested in operative methods. Today, in the U. there are five hundred associations ope ating retail stores and a thousand oth rendering a variety of services includi housing, bakeries, restaurants, medi care, insurance, and electric power.

life insur- pension institute. erprises include a sawmill, works, flour mills and factories manufacturing matches, margarine, macaroni, hosiery, underwear, chemicals, and fertilizers. Cooperative dairies produce about 95% of the country's butter supply And there are even rural electrification societies serving 9,000 families.

In the United States, cooperative enterprises have developed more slowly There were cooperatives as early as 1855, but none met with any great success and it was not until after the World War that the movement really got under way In the twenties, while industry prospered, agriculture did not, and the desperate condition of rural populations turned them to cooperation. Very soon, they saw the advantage of buying supplies in quantity at wholesale prices and started purchasing cooperatives. Beginning with the wholesale purchase of feed, seed and fertilizer, they next proceeded to buy gasoline and oil for farm machines, later went into automobile life and fire insurance, and finally set up stores and wholesales to handle groceries and dry goods. Today, about one-third of the six million farmers in America are members of at least one cooperative.

IN THIS ISSUE

MARCH OF TIME

Issue 5—Volume IV

SHIPS—STRIKES—SEAMEN
THE LAUGH INDUSTRY
FINLAND'S 20th BIRTHDAY

PHOTO REPORTER

Published every four weeks by the MARCH OF TIME

Subscription rates Single issues . . . 5c
For academic year (10 issues) 50c

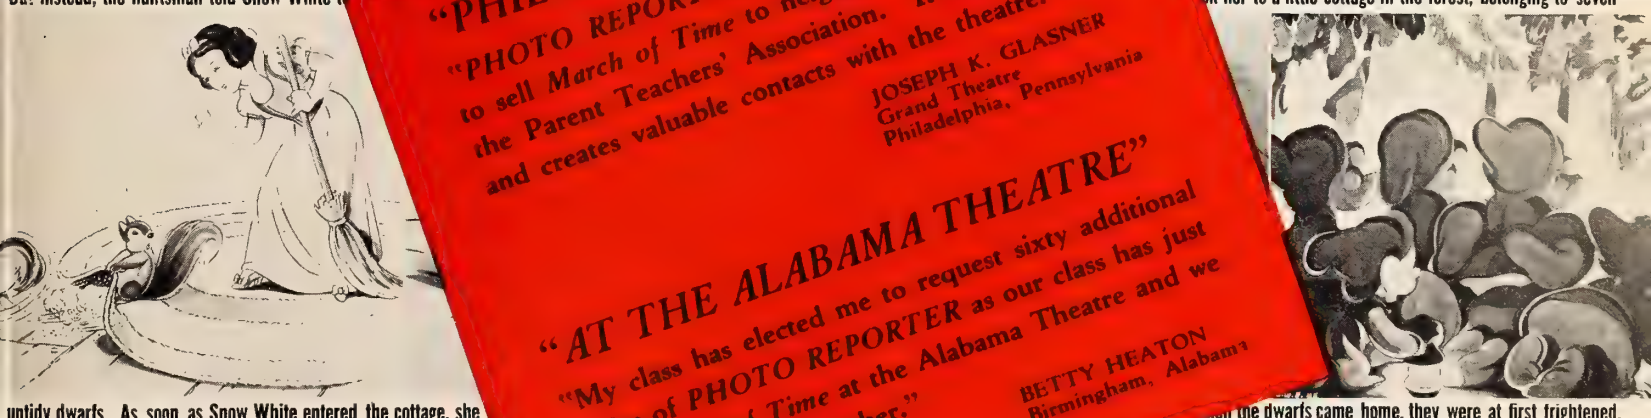
Special bulk rates for schools and study groups are available, write

PHOTO REPORTER
March of Time
369 Lexington Avenue, New York City

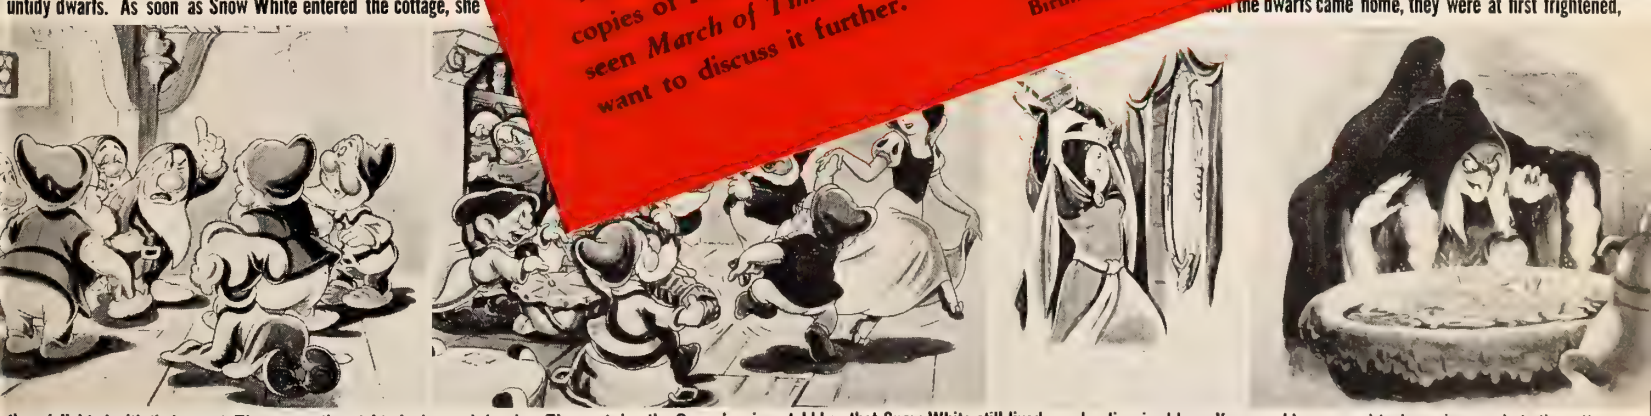
Adv.

This facsimile of the seventh page of PHOTO REPORTER is reduced in size for this advertisement.

ALT DISNEY, CREATOR OF MICKEY MOUSE CARTOONS, MAKES A FULL-LENGTH PICTURE: the story of Snow White from Grimm's Fairy Tales in technicolor cartoon



lt Disney, who in 1928 presented to mo-n picture audiences one of the most loved characters of cinema history, ickey Mouse, and in 1932, in his first lly Symphony, Flowers and Trees, ded color to the already delightful com-nation of sound and animated drawings, s now produced a full-length cartoon in chnicolor which for the first time makes tensive use of human characters. Snow hite will be released by RKO Radio Pic-res after the Christmas holiday season.



Because Snow White was very beautiful, her wicked step-mother was jealous, so she told her chief huntsman to take the Princess into the forest and kill her.

But instead, the huntsman told Snow White t… …k her to a little cottage in the forest, belonging to seven untidy dwarfs. As soon as Snow White entered the cottage, she … …n the dwarfs came home, they were at first frightened, then delighted with their guest. They spent the night singing and dancing. The next day the Queen's mirror told her that Snow White still lived, so she disguised herself as an old crone and took a poison apple to the cottage.

As soon as Snow White took a bite, she fell into a deep sleep and her friends were grief stricken thinking her dead. But soon a Prince rode through the forest and seeing Snow White knelt at her bier and awakened her with a kiss.

"PHILADELPHIA'S P.T.A."

"PHOTO REPORTER is indispensable as I use it to sell March of Time to neighborhood schools and the Parent Teachers' Association. It brings results and creates valuable contacts with the theatre."

JOSEPH K. GLASNER
Grand Theatre
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

"AT THE ALABAMA THEATRE"

"My class has elected me to request sixty additional copies of PHOTO REPORTER as our class has just seen March of Time at the Alabama Theatre and we want to discuss it further."

BETTY HEATON
Birmingham, Alabama

This facsimile of the eighth page of PHOTO REPORTER is reduced in size for this advertisement

A RADIO SCRIPT FOR CLASS DRAMATIZATION to illustrate creation of realistic sound effects

The script from the radio March of Time in this issue of the Photo Reporter was selected for the purpose of illustrating what an important part sound effects play in the production of a radio program. If your class can get a real microphone to use in presenting this script, it would be interesting to try to create some of the realistic sound effects used in the professional broadcast.

Twisting a bundle of dry grass or straw before the microphone indicates that something is astir in the underbrush.

The sound of a bombardment is very effectively produced over a microphone by shaking a rubber balloon blown very tight and filled with b-b shot. The balloon should be held close to the mike. The noise of cannon and distant big guns is usually produced by beating a bass drum after loosening the head. Machine-gunning is accomplished in some studios by beating with flat sticks the leather seat of a straight chair; in others, drum sticks are played rapidly on a frame of ordinary window screen. There are many other sounds in the following script which should be included to give it a realistic production, the falling bells, the sound of hammering and cutting stone, the crowd in church at the dedication, the men being moved from the cathedral. It would be particularly interesting to present this s... view of your audience to see how realistic an illusion you... devices.

This box of loose stones is, for broadcasting purposes, a coal mine. The sound effects n... by stamping around, using the ax and throwing it roughly into the box can create impression of great activity in the mine. Notice that the microphone has been brou... down to the level of the box.

Voice of Time: Rheims Cathedral, in the... France! It is the night of September... Cathedral, now being used as an eme... at the front, nurses move among the... the straw-covered-stone, as a new Ger... bardment under)

Nurse: Here is some water for you.

Soldier: Thank you.

Nurse: Let me hold up your head. (Explosion o...

Doctor: Nurse. Nurse.

Nurse: Yes, Doctor Lamet?

Doctor: We've got to evacuate these men from the... target for those shells. The stretcher crews are co... are outside. Hurry and tell the other nurses. (Clos...

Nurse: Yes, doctor.

Doctor: Orderly. Stretcher crews will begin with this ro... Be careful, but hurry. (Very close explosion)

Orderly: Yes, doctor. Stretcher. Take this man.

Stretcher: Yes, sir. (Music sneak)

Orderly: Next. Stretcher. Hurry... Stretcher. (Music up and down)

Voice of Time: (Bom... In the year 1211, in the reign of Phi... Augustu... en in the town of Rheims by men inspir... arning to convey to future generations... es their vision of the glory of God. F... tion, the history of Rheims Cathedral... hly carved altar, thirty-six kings we... natchless rose window, knelt Anne... wily Richelieu; here Charles Seven... asant girl who made his coronati... vent Louis Sixteenth on his fut... tury later, Napoleon to the battl... ge) And in the early days of t... little groups, steal into the di... ment's brief devotion on the... ght of September, 1914! (Ba... ll crashes through the flyi... e; (Blam) another smash... ard de Soisson in the thi... Blondel of Rheims splinte... traw where the wounde... e figures of the wood... hose names have lo... aring skyward arou... that for centuries ha... aze up, (Straining and snappi... avy weight of iron, suddenly collaps... am) (Music up and down) chant) Terribilis est locus iste: hic domus Dei est,... et vocabitur aula Dei. (Comes out of music and repeat in cha... Archbishop, crowd mumbling along as needed under)

Voice of Time: This week of 1937, a procession of six hundred priests and dign... taries of the Catholic Church, headed by the Archbishop of Rheims, circl... the Cathedral three times, sprinkling holy water upon the newly restore... walls, celebrating the completion of the twenty years' work of reconstru... tion. The procession reaches the great carved door. The Archbishop ste... forward, knocks upon the closed door with his crozier, (Wham, wha... wham) chanting: "Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lifted up, y... everlasting doors, and the King of Glory shall come in." (Chant out; doo... grate open) Slowly the ponderous doors swing open, and the processio... enters: (On echo choir begins triumphant chorale, fading under Voice... Time after about fifteen seconds.)

Voice of Time: Once in a hundred years, a Cathedral is dedicated to the servi... of the Church. And this week of 1937, occurs a ceremony which few livi... men have ever seen, as the restored Cathedral of Rheims, which, for so... reason unexplained, has never been dedicated in all its five centuries, ... this week solemnly consecrated to the service of God. (Choir up to mus... curtain)

Time Marches On!

(Finish with theme music, fading gradually as Announcer's voice comes ... with)

Announcer: You have just listened to Class XYZ broadcasting the dedication cere... mony of the restored Cathedral of Rheims.

"A PROFITABLE AUDIENCE"

"In our schools with the PHOTO REPORTER we have created an appreciative audience for March of Time among the students . . . PHOTO REPORTER is a consistent and profitable tie-up between schools and my theatre."

G. E. LANCASTER
Huntington Theatre Company
Huntington, Indiana

"I SEND EVERY STUDENT"

"I send every student to see March of Time at the local theatre because I discovered that they make livelier current events reports on what they see and hear in March of Time than in what they see in newspapers and magazines."

MARGARET CASE
Aptos Junior High School
San Francisco, California

Wooden sticks strung from a single board are clacked together to give the illusion of rattling bones. The crackle of twisted cellophane held in front of the mike can be a grate fire or a four-alarm blaze, depending upon how close to the microphone the cellophane is held.

Adv.

...NOW TO CASH IN EVERY MONTH

Here's how

THE MARCH OF TIME

R.K.O RADIO

PRODUCED BY THE EDITORS OF LIFE AND TIME

1 Get the PHOTO REPORTER started in your schools. Get your local Forum Groups (Women's Clubs, Current Events Clubs, P. T. A. Organizations, etc.) to use the GROUP DISCUSSION MANUAL.

2 Build up and use mailing list of your March of Time fans. Notify them by postcard of your playdates on each new issue. (Special new MOT postcard is now available at a very low cost.)

3 Use telephone and mail to notify the special groups in your community who will find particular interest in specific episodes in each issue (see each release's Clip and Work Sheet).

4 Sell each issue in your theatre in advance from screen and lobby. See MOT's 48c accessory package at all RKO Exchanges.

5 Sell each episode in each issue in newspapers, heralds and in theatre (every MOT story has it own particular following in your community).

LET YOUR PATRONS KNOW WHEN YOU PLAY MARCH OF TIME EACH MONTH!

CLIP POST CARD and AIR MAIL TODAY

MARCH OF TIME PROMOTION DEPT.

Right! I want to get every box office dollar from March of Time. Please send me by return mail—

1. ☐ Sample copies PHOTO REPORTER, subscription rates and your manual which tells how to make and complete an effective school-theatre tie-up.
2. ☐ Samples of the GROUP DISCUSSION MANUAL on each release for teachers and forum groups.
3. ☐ Sample copy of special MOT postcard which will be available on every release and information on how to use it.
4. ☐ Additional information on new MOT accessory plans.
5. ☐ Advance copies of CLIP and WORK SHEET on each MOT release and special publicity material.

Name .... Theatre ....

Address .... City .... State ....

NOW PLAYING EVERY FOUR WEEKS in 11,074 THEATRES

THE MARCH OF TIME

RELEASED BY RKO RADIO PICTURES

PRODUCED BY THE EDITORS OF LIFE AND TIME

BUSINESS REPLY CARD
No Postage Stamp Necessary If Mailed in the United States

— 7c POSTAGE WILL BE PAID BY —

TIME
135 EAST 42nd STREET
NEW YORK, N. Y.

MARCH OF TIME DIVISION

FIRST CLASS
Permit No. 361
(Sec. 510, P.L.&R.)
NEW YORK, N. Y.

VIA AIR MAIL

SPECIAL AWARD
ACADEMY OF MOTION PICTURE ARTS AND SCIENCES to The March of Time ". . . for its significance to motion pictures and for having revolutionized one of the most important branches in the industry — the newsreel."

FIRST CLEMENT CLEVELAND AWARD to The March of Time for conspicuous aid in the educational campaign to conquer cancer.

1937 GRAND SHORTS AWARD
As voted by exhibitor readers of the Jay Emanuel Publications.

THE HOLLYWOOD SCENE

Year's End

Not many pictures were started during the last week of 1937. There were only three, but two of those three should be of much interest to exhibitors and the public. Undoubtedly the one which will attract most attenion for the next several months is "Marie Antoinette," MGM, in which Norma Shearer will return to the screen. Originally planned as a starring vehicle for her by her late husband Irving Thalberg, the film will be directed by Sidney Franklin who directed Miss Shearer in "Smilin' Through" and "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." With many more names to be added, the present supporting personnel includes Tyrone Power, Cora Witherspoon, Robert Morley and Peter Bull.

The second picture which has unique significance is "Swiss Miss," a Hal Roach production for MGM in which Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy will make their first co-starring appearance in more than a year. It will also present as featured players Della Lind, Walter Woolf King and Adea Kuznetzoff. John Blystone is the director.

"Highway Racketeers," Paramount, the third starting production, will present Lloyd Nolan, Mary Carlisle, Roscoe Karns, Larry Crabbe, J. Carroll Naish, Anthony Quinn, Harvey Stephens, Benny Baker, Barlowe Borland and Ginger Manners. Louis King is directing.

With the close of the year seven pictures were marked off the active shooting schedules. Two are credited to Paramount. "College Swing," the studio's annual collegiate musical comedy romance will feature Martha Raye, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Bob Hope, Jerry Colonna, Edward Everett Horton, Florence George, Betty Grable and Jackie Coogan with the Slate Brothers, Nell Kelly, Skinnay Ennis, Charles Trowbridge, Jerry Bergen, John Payne, June Ray, Cecil Cunningham, Tully Marshall, Irving Bacon and St. Brendan's Choristers. Raoul Walsh directed. In "Deputy Sheriff," a Harry Sherman "Hopalong Cassidy" production, which Lesley Selander directed, William Boyd, Russell Hayden, George Hayes, Paul Sutton, Gwen Gaze, Pat O'Brien, Joseph De Stefani, William Duncan, Walter Long and John Beach will be seen.

Two pictures also were finished at 20th Century-Fox. The cast of "Sally, Irene and Mary" lists Alice Faye, Fred Allen, Joan Davis, Marjorie Weaver, Tony Martin, Gregory Ratoff, Jimmy Durante, Peters Sisters, Raymond Scott Quintet, Mary Treen, Barnet Parker and Louise Hovick. William A. Seiter directed. The principals in "Shanghai Deadline" which Eugene Forde directed are Dolores Del Rio, June Lang, Dick Baldwin, Ruth Perry, John Carradine, Leon Ames, Keye Luke and George Sanders.

For Columbia release David L. Loew completed "Wide Open Faces." Joe E. Brown is the star and Alison Skipworth, Lyda Roberti, Jane Wyman, Alan Baxter, Barbara Pepper and Stanley Fields will be seen in support. Kurt Neumann directed.

Final picture in the completed group is "Flash Gordon's Trip to Mars," a Universal serial. The cast includes Larry Crabbe, Jean Rogers, Frank Shannon, Charles Middleton, Donald Kerr, Beatrice Roberts, Richard Alexander and Montague Shaw. Forde Beebe and Robert Hill served as co-directors.

ANONYMOUS CONTRIBUTION

It's quiet in the office on the morning of New Year's Eve when the 'phone rings and an unidentified voice says, "Say, why don't publicity men get screen credit?"

Now that's no way to start off a journalist's last day of a good year for him, so the answer is, "What would he want with it?"

"What would anybody want with it?" comes back through the receiver, and then, "More dough, of course."

"Oh," with a down beat.

"And why not? Look who all's gettin' credit. They're even giving it for montage now—whatever that is—and here's us guys settin' up nights losin' our health whackin' out press books for these kluckeroos so's the guys in the sticks can sell 'em to the savages. 'Taint fair."

"Nope," in gentle agreement, "maybe 'taint, but why tell me about it? I don't dish 'em out. And who are you, anyway?"

"Never mind who I am, an' I ain't blamin' you, but I woke up with the idea this morning and thought maybe you'd know the answer."

"Only answer I can guess out is maybe you guys ain't got a union to crack down like the —"

"We gotta guild."

"All right, you gotta guild, so why call me?"

"Well, I thought maybe you'd start a little publicity campaign for us and —"

"Okay, fellow, it's a dull day for copy anyway, so I'll tell 'em what you said."

"Attaboy, and Happy New Year."

"Happy New Year to you, too—what'd you say your name was?"

"I didn't say."

"Well, I won't start a campaign, either."

So this isn't a campaign. Odd little item, though, don't you think?

Formula

James Gleason's name is not found up in the illustrious greats of filmdom. But he has been in a great many pictures. Usually he has been cast in a comedy relief role. As such a character, it hardly would be presumed that he would be a keen student of the more serious phases of motion picture production. Yet, with Republic, he holds the most unique contract in Hollywood. It establishes him as a writer-producer-director-actor.

As a writer his greatest achievement was the stage play "Is Zat So." He has directed a few films. Eventually Mr. Gleason plans to retire as an actor. He intends to concentrate on the writing-producing-directing ends of his contract.

His long experience on the stage and screen have enabled him to formulate ideas, which, in digest are a concrete summarization of the technique of picture production. Out at Republic where Mr. Gleason is preparing to produce his first picture "One For The Money" which he wrote in collaboration with Peter Ruric, he let drop a remark that we asked him to enlarge upon.

He said, "Every producer is trying constantly to find some definite plan, formula or technique which will reduce fluctuations in successful picture making to a minimum.

"The struggle to do this, in a great many cases, defeats the intent. It results in a lack of flexibility. Flexibility, in my mind, is the keynote to successful production. I used to think, still do, that about three-fourths of the successful pictures were the results of luck. But I believe the producer who consistently makes good films should listen to the advice and comments of others, be able to select good suggestions and discard worthless ones.

"I have an idea and it's more than a theory, that the average producer asks for too much story from his writers. There are too many plots and sub-plots which make for confusion. When the film is finished, thousands of feet must be left on the cutting room floor in order to reduce the picture to the normal length. Trying to pick out the best shots, the producer and cutter must sacrifice continuity and quite often the picture results in a series of excellent shots, maybe, yet so loosely strung together that the result more often than not is a jumpy illogical story hard to understand in many cases.

Coming Events

An inkling of what to expect in the line of picture entertainment from Warner Brothers in 1938 is found in a statement made by Jack Warner.

"We will continue our efforts to find stories that are off the beaten track, that present new and interesting ideas. We will film a story called 'Panama Canal' and present modern and color versions of 'The Sea Hawk' and 'The Valley of the Giants.'

"History and literature together furnish an inexhaustible source of material for screen offerings yet our staff of writers will continue to make use of the front pages of the nation's newspapers as a source of material for up to date screen plays. We own the rights to many of the recent and current plays on Broadway and will film many of them during the coming year. Included are 'Brother Rat,' 'Yes, My Darling Daughter' and 'On Your Toes.' Other titles which we believe are subjects that will interest audiences are 'The White Rajah,' 'You Can't Escape Forever,' 'Sea Wolf,' 'White Banners,' 'The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse' and 'Voodoo.'"

PANAY NEWSREEL TILT SPREADS OVER U. S.

Pictures of Sinking of Gunboat Draw First Page Attention in Newspapers

The competitive battle of the newsreels over the pictures of the Panay was spread over the screens of the United States this week, along with manifestations of open bitterness beyond all precedent in the history of the newsreel or the motion picture industry.

Most extraordinary was the eruption on the screens of the Newsreel Theatres, Inc., a New York circuit, of an "editor's note" which, while officially representing only the theatres, in fact reflected the combined editorial ire of the other reels concerning the Universal's much heralded Norman Alley special on the sinking of the Panay.

But, the while, Universal had in distribution 564 prints of its three part Panay special, and reported that the films were so busy that they were being "bicycled" by official authorization.

Norman Alley, Universal cameraman who was aboard the Panay and obtained the shots Universal released, was in Chicago, his home town, this week to make personal appearances at the RKO Palace in conjunction with the showing of the film.

The theatre screen note said:

"The editors of the Newsreel Theatres, Inc., after viewing all of the versions of the Panay bombing, have selected the films of 20th Century Fox Movietone News, MGM News of the Day, and Paramount News.

"We are not using the Universal release. Our films are far superior and more complete.

"Heartiest congratulations to those heroic, modest cameramen: Eric Mayell, Arthur Menken, Bonney Powell, 'Newsreel' Wong, who obtained these historic films under fire, of the bombing of the U.S.S. Panay and the fall of Nanking."

The company operates three houses, one at 47th Street and Broadway, a second in Fordham Road, Bronx, and the third in Broad Street, Newark.

Carried Into Newspapers

The seriousness with which the three companies, Universal, Movietone and News of the Day, engaged in the competition was reflected in the fact that Movietone announced release of its film in 800-line advertisements in all New York City morning and afternoon newspapers.

In addition to listing the contents of the film, Movietone named all the theatres in the metropolitan area in which the film was booked.

The films of the several companies drew extensive front page space in virtually all newspapers throughout the country. Most papers, in addition to carrying reviews of the newsreels, published news stories on the reactions of audiences.

The Public's Reactions

In St. Louis, a group of women, acting at the suggestion of Mr. James M. Rogers, sent telegrams and letters to United States Senators Bennett C. Clark and Harry S. Truman protesting against public exhibition of the films. They expressed fear that the pictures might tend to foment war hysteria.

Newspapers reported the reaction of audiences with such headlines as "Ready to fight tomorrow, says man seeing Panay Film—'Give Japs some of own medicine,' asserts another in movie theatre"; and "New Yorkers ready to avenge Panay."

The typical reaction of individuals, however, as reported in newspapers, was to the effect that the Panay incident was officially closed and that, while the films were important documentary evidence, the incident should remain closed.

Charles E. Ford, producer of the three-reel special feature and editor of Universal Newsreel, announced that Mr. Alley would return to New York and for the next few weeks would complete newspaper and magazine assignments in connection with his experience. He said no new assignment was set for Mr. Alley as yet, and added that it was unlikely the cameraman would be assigned back to the Sino-Japanese War.

Denies Cancellations

A report that exhibitors had protested against Universal's action in selling the Panay film as a special feature and had cancelled contracts with the company was published in the New York World-Telegram along with the denial of John E. Joseph, director of advertising, publicity and exploitation for Universal.

Mr. Joseph explained that an exhibitor's first reaction to buying a special feature might be rebellious but that he would realize quickly the drawing power of such a film and buy it. He reiterated his denial that contracts were cancelled by exhibitors and attributed the report to the rivalry that had flared up over the films.

Both Movietone and News of the Day devoted their entire weekend release to the Panay sinking and bombing. With the exception of one or two shots the reels were the same. The Panay shots were taken by Eric Mayell, Fox Movietone cameraman, but a lavender print was given News of the Day under an agreement between the two companies to split coverage of the war.

Movietone credited Mr. Mayell and Bonnie Powell with taking all the shots, which included the fall of Nanking, while News of the Day gave credit to Mr. Mayell and its own cameraman "Newsreel" Wong. Mr. Mayell and Mr. Alley were aboard the boat when it was attacked by Japanese in the Yangtze River, 27 miles from Nanking.

Alley Confers at Washington

The Universal feature included, in addition to the bombing and sinking of the ship and the fall of Nanking, shots of Mr. Alley guarding the negative in transit to New York.

Mr. Alley arrived in New York Thursday, and on Friday and Saturday he conferred with State and Navy Department officials in Washington. The Navy Department projection room was used over the weekend for showing the Panay films to Army and Navy officers and Government officials.

There was no indication that the Government would use the films as a basis for reopening the closed Panay incident.

The regular semi-weekly release of Universal Newsreel contained no shots of the Panay sinking nor did that of Pathe.

Menken Stays in Nanking

Paramount, although not having shots of the bombing and sinking, covered its accounts by including in its release stills from Wide World pictures obtained by Norman Soong, news photographer who was aboard the Panay. This part of the reel ran about three minutes and the remainder of the reel was made up of shots taken by the Paramount cameraman, Arthur Menken, of the fall of Nanking.

Mr. Menken, instead of departing on the Panay, remained behind in Nanking.

Studio and Cinema Planned in Mexico

by JAMES LOCKHART
in Mexico City

Film making and exhibition in Mexico are to continue their upward swing it is demonstrated by two important facts: a studio-laboratory and a novel type cinema are being prepared for early inauguration in the Mexican capital. The studio is to be directed by Gabriel Garcia Moreno, leading young producer. He has obtained $50,000 worth of equipment in the United States for the venture and is to have two foreign technicians, George Fallon, back projection expert, and Douglas Winnie, sound engineer as consultants. The plant will start operating this winter.

The cinema is to be a feature of Spanish America's most important center for spreading culture among the proletariat. It will accommodate 3,000 and have a theatre. The center is being built here by the Confederation of Mexican Workers and Farmers, the republic's strongest labor organization. The hall will specialize in exhibition of pictures of proletarian themes. The center is also to be equipped with what the Confederation says will be Mexico's most powerful and best radio station.

More tax trouble is in the offing for Mexico City exhibitors. They have protested to congress against a bill presented by the municipal government which provides for an additional five per cent levy on all amusements, asserting that if this impost goes into effect it will handicap them to the extent that some of them will have to go out of business as overhead, a considerable part of which is taxation that now takes about 15 per cent of the exhibitors' revenues, would be too heavy.

The amusement tax and two other imposts, one on houses and land, the other on mercantile documents, are intended to afford the city a yearly increased income of about $695,000 and to obviate the necessity for floating more loans to finance public works.

President Lazaro Cardenas is considering a measure presented to him by congress calling for state aid to establish a bank in Mexico City to finance the domestic picture industry. The bank is to have a capital of 100,000,000 pesos (approximately $28,000,000). This fund is to be forthcoming from the government and the industry, which is sponsoring the proposition.

A move for organization of a society to further their industry is afoot among Mexican producers and distributors.

Mothers must be included among film censors so as to assure the right kind of pictures being exhibited in Mexico, the national federation of women's leagues has urged upon congress.

American equipment is to be obtained for a large and powerful radio station the National Lottery is to establish in Mexico City to further its publicity. The station is to be installed early this year.

Columbia has opened new offices in Alexandria, Egypt and Prague, Czechoslovakia. The branches were opened under the supervision of J. H. Seidelman, foreign manager, who recently returned to New York, after a tour of Great Britain and the Continent.

HOLLYWOOD BOUGHT 648 STORIES IN 1937 AT COST OF $3,240,000

Literature, History and Legitimate Stage Sources for Properties; Total Cost Shows Decrease of $1,265,000 from '36

Hollywood producers, in their quest for material to mold into motion pictures, delved into the world's literary, historical, fictional and dramatic fields and acquired, during 1937, a total of 648 properties at a cost of approximately $3,240,000.

The expenditure was a decrease of $1,265,000 as compared to the $4,505,000 paid by producers for 901 literary properties in 1936.

As in the preceding year, original stories proved the most fruitful source of material in 1937. However, even in this leading classification there was a proportional decrease in the number of properties purchased as compared to the previous 12 months. In 1936, 497 originals were spread among the studios while last year the total reached only 390. On a percentage basis originals represented 59 per cent of the 1936 total and 60 per cent of the 1937 total.

A comparison of other sources for the last three years follows:

	1935	1936	1937
Books	222	170	104
Magazines	7	167	79
Plays	73	58	75

The figures show only one definite change in trend. Magazine story purchases increased in 1936 over 1935, but dropped again last year; plays decreased in '36 and increased in '37, but in the book division there was a steady decrease for the three-year period.

It was evident that Hollywood is no longer buying story properties arbitrarily and packing them into studio vaults with the idea of building up story assets, but is now buying more conservatively, as needed. Evidence of this is found in the fact that, numerically, the 648 properties purchased is about the same as the number of features produced.

The estimated total expenditure of $3,240,000 in 1937 is based on the generally accepted average expenditure of $5,000 a story. Costs, however, actually ran as high as the $255,000 paid by RKO for the screen rights to the current Broadway play, "Room Service." Although figures are not released, it is generally conceded that the cost of originals often runs as low as a few hundred dollars.

Among purchases in the high brackets were "You Can't Take It With You," bought by Columbia for $200,000; "The Women," bought by Gordon-Goetz for $125,000; and "Having Wonderful Time," purchased by RKO for $82,500.

For the most part the purchases were for pictures to be released during the 1937-38 season, although early in the year some of properties acquired were for the preceding season and in the last few months some of the stories were for the coming season's films.

54 in December

During December a total of 54 literary properties were acquired by 12 producers and companies. As in the preceding month, original stories proved the favorite of buyers. Thirty-eight or 70.3 per cent of the total were in the original classification last month, while in November originals numbered 24 out of 48. Novels ranked second but dropped from nine in November to seven last month.

Paramount led the group of purchasers by a wide margin. It acquired the rights to 26 properties and the second largest buyer, MGM, made only nine purchases. Paramount's buying was varied. The list included 19 originals, four plays, two novels and one magazine story. MGM bought three originals, three novels, one play and two magazine articles.

Twentieth Century-Fox confined all of its buying to originals, purchasing six of them. Universal bought three original stories and one published in a magazine and Warner Brothers' sole purchase was an original.

Paramount's leadership as a buyer was partially acquired through the purchase of seven Bulldog Drummond stories by H. C. McNeile. It was the only group purchase made during the month.

The titles of the 54 stories, with all available production credits, follow:

BABY FACE, original by George Bruce, purchased by MGM.

BULLDOG DRUMMOND SERIES, seven original stores by H. C. McNeile, purchased by Paramount to feature John Barrymore, John Howard and Louise Campbell. The stories are: "The Oriental Mind," "Tiny Cataret," "Temple Tower," "13 Lead Soldiers," "Wheels Within Wheels," "Lonely Jim," and "Mysterious Tour."

CALL BACK LOVE, a Collier Magazine story by Rose Franken, purchased by Paramount as an Emanuel Cohen production.

CITADEL, novel by Dr. A. J. Cronin, purchased by MGM to be produced in England with Elizabeth Allen in the feminine lead.

COCOANUT GROVE, original by Sy Bartlett and Olive Cooper, purchased for production by Paramount.

COME ON, COLEVILLE, American Magazine story by Edwin Rutt and Vernon Mackenzie, bought by Nat Ross for MGM.

CONNIE GOES TO COLLEGE, original by Warren Scott and Hortense L. Williams, purchased by Twentieth Century-Fox.

DON'T JUDGE A BOOK, original by Kerry Shaw, purchased by Universal.

ELLIS ISLAND, original by Michael Romanoff, purchased by Twentieth Century-Fox.

FEDERAL PEN, original, purchased by Paramount as a vehicle for Ray Milland, Frances Farmer and Akim Tamiroff.

FEMALE FUGITIVE, original by Edward Hope, purchased by Crescent Pictures.

FINDERS KEEPERS, magazine story by Suzanne De Haas, purchased by Universal.

FREE WOMAN, original by Mary McCall and Leonard Q. Ross, purchased by Paramount for the Emanuel Cohen production.

Paramount Buys Play

FRENCH WITHOUT TEARS, play by Terrence Rattigan, purchased by Paramount.

GENTLEMAN'S GENTLEMAN, original by Ronnie Bodley, purchased by Universal.

GIVE 'EM THE AXE, original by R. L. Templeton and Adrian Levy, purchased by Paramount. Harlan Thompson will produce.

GIVE ME A SAILOR, original by Doris Anderson and Henry Myers, purchased by Paramount as a vehicle for Martha Raye and Bob Hope. Elliott Nugent will direct.

GREAT MUSIC FESTIVAL, THE, original by Fannie Hurst, purchased by Samuel Goldwyn as a starring vehicle for Jascha Heifetz, famous violinist.

HIGHWAY RACKETEERS, original by William E. Frazer, purchased by Paramount. Screenplay by Stuart Anthony and Robert Yost. Louis King will direct and Harold Hurley will produce.

INFIDELITY, novel by Ursula Parrott, purchased by MGM.

JACOB, THE BLACKSMITH, novel by David Pinski, purchased by Collective Film Producers, Inc.

"Journey's End" Purchased

JOURNEY'S END, play by Robert C. Sherriff, purchased by MGM.

JUDGE HARDY'S CHILDREN, original based on Aurania Rouverol's characters, purchased by MGM.

JUST FOR LUCK, original by Monte Brice, purchased by Universal.

LADY WITH A TORCH, original by Paul Hervey Fox, purchased by Paramount as a vehicle for George Raft.

MAN IN EVENING CLOTHES, screenplay by Dwight Taylor from a stage play by Yves Mirande and Andre Picard, purchased by Paramount and to be produced by Emanuel Cohen.

MAN IN THE IRON MASK, THE, original idea by Jack Neville, purchased by MGM.

MARCHING HERDS, original by Paul Sloan, purchased by Paramount. William Wister Haines will do the screenplay, James Hogan will direct, Lucien Hubbard will produce and Frances Dee and Randolph Scott will have the leading roles.

NEVER SAY DIE, original by Preston Sturges, purchased by Paramount as a starring vehicle for Jack Benny and Franciska Gaal. Raoul

(Continued on following page, column 1)

STORY PURCHASES OF YEAR COMPARED

Month	Originals	Books	Plays	Totals
January, 1937	55	23(a)	15	93
February	42	17(b)	9	68
March	42	16(c)	5	63
April	25	11(d)	8	44
May	42	10(e)	9	61
June	28	8(f)	1	37
July	21	5(g)	0	26
August	27	6(h)	12	45
September	24	43(i)	1	68
October	22	16(j)	3	41
November	24	17(k)	7*	48
December	38	11(l)	5	54
TOTALS FOR 12 MONTHS	390	183(m)	75	648

(a) Including 7 published magazine stories.
(b) Including 5 published magazine stories.
(c) Including 3 published magazine stories.
(d) Including 1 published magazine story.
(e) Including 4 published magazine stories.
(f) Including 7 published magazine stories.
(g) Including 1 published magazine story and 2 radio serials.
(h) Including 2 published magazine stories.
(i) Including 29 published magazine stories.
(j) Including 6 published magazine stories.
(k) Including 8 published magazine stories.
(l) Including 4 published magazine stories.
(m) Including 79 published magazine stories.
*Including the American rights to one German film.

Originals Lead Story Purchases

(Continued from preceding page)

Walsh will direct and Arthur Hornblow, Jr., will produce.

ONE YOUNG AMERICAN, Collier's serial by Frederick Hazlitt Brennan, purchased by MGM.

PONY EXPRESS, novel by Monroe Shaff, purchased by Coronet as a starring vehicle for Buck Jones.

PROFESSOR BEWARE, original by Francis and Marina Cockrell, purchased by Paramount to star Harold Lloyd.

QUEENS LOCAL, unproduced play by Albert Duffy and Marion Grant, purchased by Paramount to feature Gail Patrick, Anthony Quinn, Porter Hall, Charles Bickford and J. Carrol Naish.

RACING BLOOD, original by Edwin Dial Torgepson, purchased by Twentieth Century-Fox.

SAFETY IN NUMBERS, original by Jean Schenck and Eve Golden, purchased by Twentieth Century-Fox.

SALESLADY, original by Marion Orth, purchased by Monogram as a starring vehicle for Anne Nagel.

SHERLOCK, JR., original by Changler Sprague, purchased by Twentieth Century-Fox.

SOLDIERS THREE, Rudyard Kipling stories purchased by MGM.

SONG OF HELL, original by M. Jean, purchased by Paramount as a starring vehicle for George Raft. William LeBaron will produce and Kurt Siodmak and Thomas Monroe will do the screenplay.

SOUBRETTE, unproduced play by Jacques Deval, purchased by Paramount as a starring vehicle for Franciska Gaal. Arthur Hornblow, Jr., will produce.

STRANGE BOARDERS OF PALACE CRESCENT, THE, novel by E. Phillips Oppenheim, purchased by Gaumont British.

STREETS OF NEW YORK, original by Harold Sturm, purchased by Monogram as a starring vehicle for Jackie Cooper.

TOM SAWYER, DETECTIVE, novel by Mark Twain, purchased by Paramount to star Tommy Kelley and Jackie Moran. Harold Hurley will produce, James Hogan will direct and Stuart Anthony and Robert Yost will do the screen play.

TWO BAD HATS, novel by Monckton Hoffe, purchased by Paramount to star Carole Lombard.

UNTITLED, original by Ward Wing and Wilford Rothschild, purchased by Paramount. Story is based on the start and development of Western Union.

UNTITLED, original by William Rankin and Eleanor Griffin, purchased by Warner Brothers. Story is about medical fakirs and quacks.

UTAH TRAIL, original, purchased by Grand National as a starring vehicle for Tex Ritter.

WEST WAKES UP, THE, original by Mortimer Braus, purchased by Colony Pictures.

WHAT THE PUBLIC WANTS, original by Gilbert Wright, purchased by Twentieth Century-Fox.

Board of Review Opens Conference January 20

The National Board of Review of Motion Pictures will hold its 14th annual Motion Picture Conference at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, January 20th to 22nd. The conference will open with a special showing at the Cinema de Paris.

Gradwell L. Sears, general sales manager for Warner Brothers, arrived in Hollywood this week to spend two weeks at the studio conferring with Harry M. and Jack L. Warner.

Blumberg Assumes Post at Universal

Nate J. Blumberg, president, officially began the operation of Universal Monday. Those beginning their executive duties, in the new management under Mr. Blumberg, include William A. Scully, general sales manager; Matthew Fox, executive assistant to Mr. Blumberg; John E. Joseph, director of advertising, publicity and exploitation; David Lipton, publicity manager, and Marshall Grant, eastern story editor.

Mr. Scully will spend the next several weeks visiting exchanges to become acquainted with field personnel and local sales problems.

E. K. O'Shea, who replaced Mr. Scully as eastern district manager for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has occupied that post for the last two weeks.

Mr. Grant was appointed eastern story editor this week. He was formerly associated with Edward Small as story editor and production assistant, and RKO Radio's executive unit where he has been specializing in story and production activities.

Mr. Grant succeeds Charles Beahan who requested settlement of his contract. Universal subsequently announced it had settled the contract in full and which had until August 2, 1938 to run.

Threatens Probe Of Music Holdings

Leading motion picture producers may find themselves the target of Department of Justice investigations on charges of attempted monopoly in the music publishing field, it was indicated Tuesday at a hearing before the Federal Trade Commission in Washington on the proposed voluntary code of ethics for the popular music publishing industry.

Asserting that the producers already had acquired a sufficient number of publishing houses to make them a dominant factor in the music industry, Joseph V. McKee, counsel for the Music Publishers Protective Association, told commission officials that if the operations of the film producers reached a point which threatened monopoly complaints would be filed.

Mr. McKee's threat was voiced after John G. Paine, former general manager of the MPPA, had submitted a plea for approval of the code before George McCorkle, director, and Henry Miller, assistant director, of the trade practice conference of the commission, while Mr. Paine was being questioned extensively by Mr. Miller as to the effect of film producer-publisher competition.

The proposed code is built around a prohibition against paid song plugging. It is a substitute, drafted by commission experts, for the code originally submitted, on which hearings were held last October, which was confined to a ban on paid plugging and an acceptance of the provisions of the Robinson-Patman Anti-price Discrimination Act. The latter provision was stricken out and provisions substituted banning rebates and other price discriminations.

Vitaphone will release 12 short subjects during January, Norman Moray, sales manager, said this week. Three will be two-reelers and the balance single-reel subjects.

Sales Heads at Meeting, Premiere

Paramount home office sales executives and district sales managers of United States and Canada arrived in New Orleans Thursday for the dual purpose of attending a two-day sales convention of the company and the world's premiere of Cecil B. DeMille's picture, "The Buccaneer."

The sales convention will be held Friday and Saturday, at the Roosevelt Hotel, and the picture which depicts the career of Jean Lafitte, New Orleans pirate and patriot, will open Friday night at the Saenger theatre.

In addition to the home office delegation and the district manager, Mr. DeMille; Hugh Sothern, who plays the role of General Andrew Jackson in the film; and Akim Tamiroff and Margot Grahame, who also have important roles in the picture, will attend the premiere. Previews will be held in Atlanta, January 12th, Washington, on the 13th; New York, on the 17th; Boston, on the 18th; Chicago, the 19th.

The trade press will be represented by Terry Ramsaye of MOTION PICTURE HERALD; A-Mike Vogel, Motion Picture Daily; Jack Harrower, Film Daily; Abel Green, Variety, and Red Kann of Box Office. The press representatives accompanied the New York delegation which will return Saturday night.

Eugene Zukor, from Hollywood, will address the meeting.

Home office executives who will attend the convention and the premiere include Neil F. Agnew, vice-president in charge of sales; J. J. Unger, C. M. Reagan, G. B. J. Frawley, R. M. Gillham, Alec Moss and Don Velde. The district managers include: M. S. Kusell, New York; W. H. Erbb, Boston; P. A. Bloch, Philadelphia; H. H. Goldstein, Cleveland; A. Usher, Chicago; O. A. Morgan, Atlanta; R. C. LiBeau, Kansas City; H. W. Braly, Denver; M. H. Lewis, Los Angeles; B. Blotcky, Minneapolis; G. A. Smith, San Francisco; M. A. Milligan, Toronto.

Audio Acquires Eastern Studio

Audio Productions, Inc., producer of industrial films, and an outgrowth of Electrical Research Products, Inc., this week acquired the Eastern studios of General Service Studios, Inc., which also is backed by Erpi and which operated the former Paramount studios in Astoria.

"It is my belief," Frank K. Speidell, Audio president, said, "that there has long been a need, particularly in the theatrical field for a completely staffed production department in the east.

Other officers in the enterprise are A. J. Wilson, vice-president in charge of sales; C. L. Glett, vice-president in charge of production; E. G. Warner, secretary and treasurer, and P. J. Mooney, assistant secretary.

The west coast branch of General Service will continue as an independently operating subsidiary of Erpi.

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

REGISTER

NAME

Dick Powell
Rosemary Lane
Hugh Herbert
Glenda Farrell
Lola Lane
Johnnie Davis
Alan Mowbray
Mabel Todd
Marcy Joslyn
Edgar Kennedy

The Hollywood Hotel Program
Louella Parsons
Frances Langford, Jerry Cooper
Ken Niles, Duane Thompson
Raymond Paige & his orchestra

Benny Goodman and his swing band

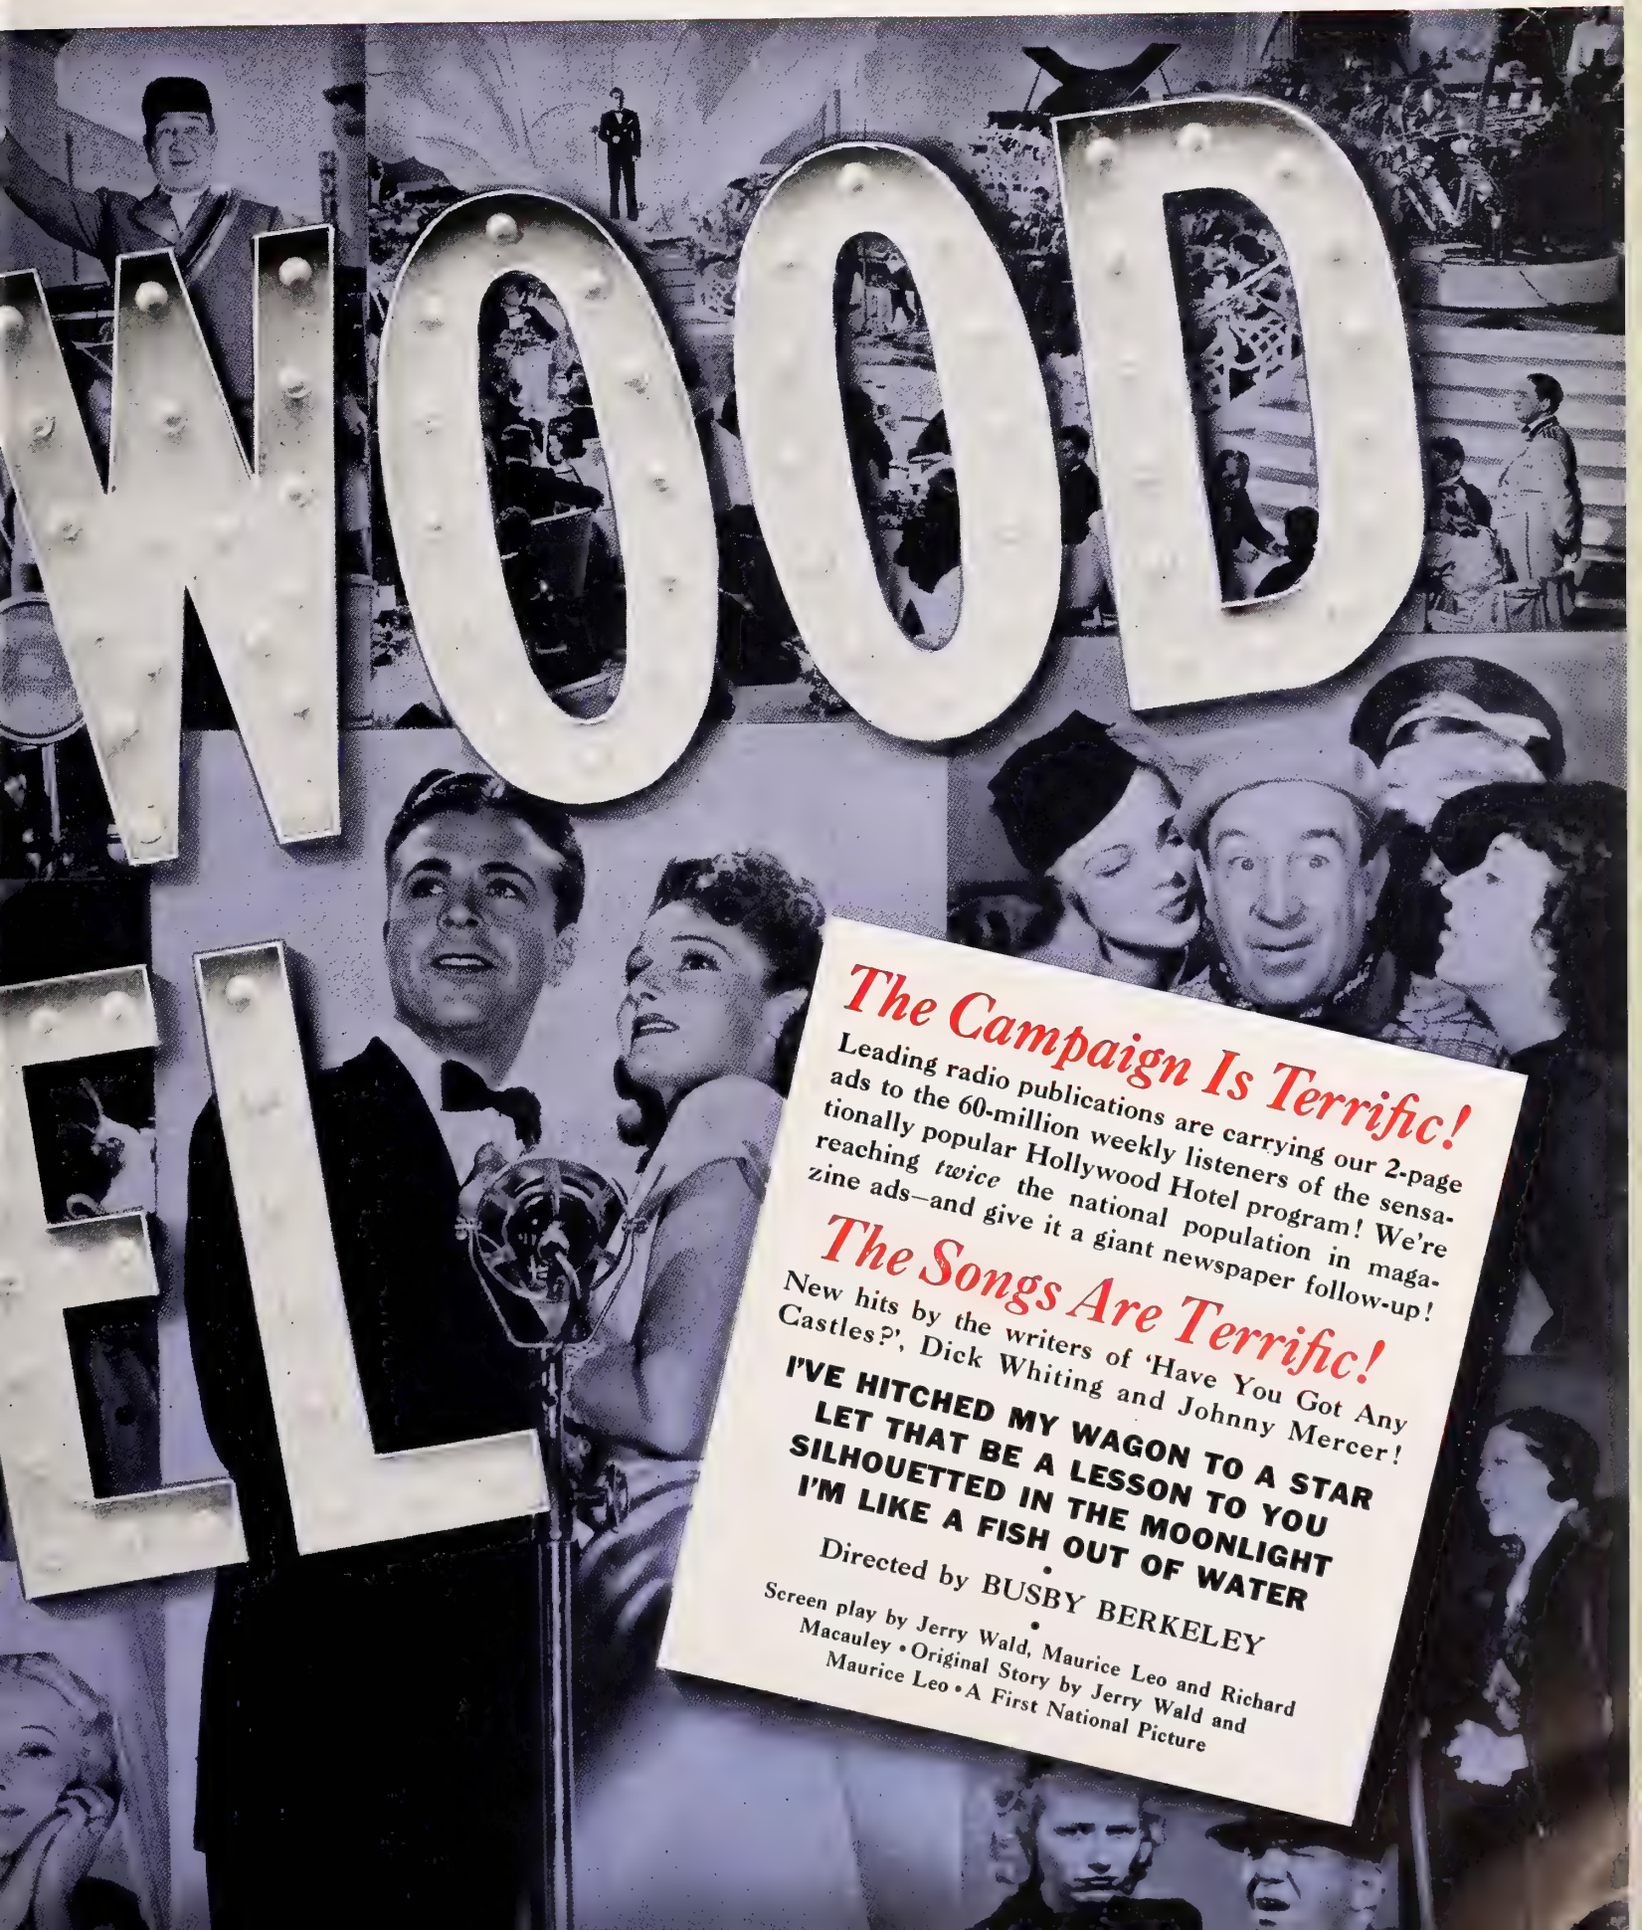
REMARKS

All The Guests Are Celebrities . .

And All The Celebrities Are Great!



Come over - - it's the gayest spot on earth!

Radio Made it Famous.. Warn
Show for Any Man's Thea

ros. Made it "A Knockout and Any Audience Anywhere!"

Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

follows

TOVARICH

(Claudette Colbert • Charles Boyer • Basil Rathbone • Anita Louise • Melville Cooper)

SWING YOUR LADY

(Humphrey Bogart • Frank McHugh • Louise Fazenda • Nat Pendleton • Penny Singleton • Allen Jenkins
The Weaver Brothers and Elviry)

follows

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

(In Technicolor • George Brent • Olivia de Havilland • Claude Rains • Margaret Lindsay • Barton MacLane)

follows

SWING YOUR LADY

A SLIGHT CASE OF MURDER

(Edward G. Robinson • Jane Bryan • Allen Jenkins • Ruth Donnelly • Willard Parker)

follows

GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

JEZEBEL

(Bette Davis • Henry Fonda • George Brent • Margaret Lindsay • Fay Bainter • Richard Cromwell • Donald Crisp)

follows

A SLIGHT CASE OF MURDER

ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD

(In Technicolor • Errol Flynn • Olivia de Havilland • Ian Hunter • Claude Rains • Basil Rathbone • Patric Knowles)

follows

JEZEBEL

SUCCESS

follows

WARNER BROS. EVERYWHERE IN 1938

ASIDES and INTERLUDES

By JAMES P. CUNNINGHAM

Mr. William Crouch, Motion Picture Herald's correspondent in Chicago, air mails the following bit of enlightment, obtained from the theatre involved:

"The Rialto Theatre, the only Loop burlesque theatre, opens with Ada Leonard, 'strip-tease' star, who recently finished an RKO acting contract, as headliner. Miss Leonard made her burlesque debut at the Rialto some years ago and is the outstanding burlesque attraction in the middlewest. She appeared in several pictures in Hollywood and the manager of the Rialto feels her return will benefit the theatre a great deal as the house has been closed for two months on account of bad business following a raid by the police morals squad."

▽

A fire-eater's mouth and throat are supposed to be impervious to flame, but his whiskers are not. John R. Garnett, Omaha amateur entertainer in the business of fire-eating, appeared on the stage of an Omaha theatre in an amateur night program. For several minutes he inhaled flame, and lit gas-soaked torches on his tongue. Then something went wrong, for suddenly the fire-eater's goatee and sideburns became inflamed. He received first, second and third degree burns under his goatee, his sideburns, on ears, face and throat.

▽

Paramount announces "You and Me" as the new title of "That's What Girls Are Made Of."

▽

In all seriousness, Twentieth Century-Fox sends out the statement: "Peter Lorre, leading screen player, says that one reason for the effectiveness of his character delineation is that he brings his ears into play. He can not only wriggle them, but move either one to a given position and hold it."

▽

Associated Press newspaper headline anent the return of Robert Taylor to California from his vacation abroad:

TAYLOR RETURNS;
HOLLYWOOD CALM

Bet Robert will never get over it. But, maybe it served him right, if we are to believe the story about his visit to Copenhagen, where Alice O'Fredericks, Danish film actress, has sued Carl Hendrik Clemmesen, Copenhagen columnist, because he reported that Mr. Taylor yawned at her when he saw her in Ciro, Danish night club.

▽

Hollywood makeup expert says blondes are only a passing fancy, and in 50 years there will not be any.

What will Samuel Goldwyn do then?

▽

Joe E. Brown is said to be somewhat down in the mouth because Columbia titled his new film "Wide, Open Faces."

▽

If American distributors now fighting England's Quota Films Act really want to get some place they should have Mae West tell some Members of Parliament to "Come up 'n' see me about Clause 3 sometime."

▽

Agony Note:

"Shirley Temple to give holiday party for her friends, will play hide-and-seek, and her favorite game, blowing bubbles."

Explosions

Things looked bad for the hero the other night at one point in the wild west film which flickered across the screen of the theatre at DuQuoin, Ill.

"Don't let him get away with it, boys," someone shouted as the villain gained the upper hand. Suddenly a pistol shot rang out, pierced the "heart" of the villain on the screen, and 200 spectators were on their feet.

The bullet, fired by a patron who was trying to help the hero along, bounced off a concrete wall and finally imbedded itself in the back of a chair, half an inch from the back of another spectator. The gent who fired the shot arose and apologized, explaining he was a little excited.

The show went on, a la days of the woolly west.

▽

Second explosion of the week came in the Newkirk theatre, Brooklyn, where two 14-year-olds, interested in higher learning, were watching the show and holding packages of chemicals which had been purchased for a high school course, the bottles containing phosphorus, potassium chloride and sugar. They exploded—and Kings County Hospital records tell the rest, including the fact that "Captain Calamity" is the picture that was being screened at the time.

▽

The third theatre explosion of the week occurred in Boston, at the Paramount theatre, where, in the unreeling of a very placid and unamusing and altogether unexciting picture, a girl in the audience, beautiful as a magazine cover, let go one terrific, clear and penetrating scream. It was a noise described in the Boston Post as resembling a "noonday factory siren." And just as long.

Naturally, everybody surmised the worst, and hostile eyes turned on the rather decent looking and dismayed young man sitting in the seat beside her. In a moment, however, the screaming girl left her seat. The bewildered young man followed her. Here's what had happened:

The pair had been holding hands and he had casually removed her own ring from "THE" finger, and slipped in its place a blazing diamond ring in a platinum setting. It somehow felt odd and she raised her hand to see why her old ring felt so different. She discovered that she had not only a wow of a ring but the one prospective husband she wanted more than anything in the world. It threw her into a spasm of ecstasy. She just had to scream for joy! It was the 1938 way of saying, "Why, Joe, this is so sudden!"

In the Paramount foyer, after the scream, she was seen to grip Joe's chin in her hands and kiss him—desperately. The Post reports that Joe rather liked it; "if you'd seen the girl you would too."

▽

The Era*, of London, alleges W. S. Van Dyke is an Elk, a Mason, a Founder and Patriot of America, Son of the American Revolution, honorary chief of the Navajo Indians, member of an Eskimo lodge, member of five scientific societies, and an honorary witch doctor.

He also makes pictures in Hollywood.

Radio-Keith-Orpheum's house publication for the theatre division, a flashy little periodical called "Flash," publishes the following:

"Manager Bill Brown at the RKO Albee Theatre, Providence, R. I., was asked to speak before the Motion Picture Division of the Rhode Island Women's Clubs at their annual meeting. Bill was scared stiff and asked us for material. There wasn't anything better we could send him than one of Vernon Adams' many talks before such organizations. This Bill altered to fit the occasion and reports it went over with such a bang that the ladies immediately served notice on him that he must speak at their State Convention."

Bill, himself, however, has something to add to the incident. He writes:

"It was an interesting experience for me, and was a lot of fun besides. I have only one objection, and it is something that I somehow just can't help talking about. When I had finished my speech and felt ready for a little something in the way of refershment, the ladies offered me A GLASS OF GRAPE PUNCH AND A COUPLE OF HORS D'OEUVRES." (The caps are Bill's.)

▽

Crawford, Tracy and Gable are known in official Letland Government phonetic spelling as Dzoana Kraufords, Spensers Tresija and Klarks Gabls.

They whistle "Sonja Henie."

▽

At the press party given on completion of "Every Day's a Holiday," Mae West's latest, each member of the producing staff was asked to appear wearing a large imitation mustache.

So that nobody would see the tongue in the cheek?

▽

And Advertising Age proposes that Mae West's conception of Eve, as presented by NBC and Chase and Sanborn, should make her eligible for a starring part in a series of programs by the Washington Apple Growers' Association.

But, then, after looking over his fan mail in the recent weeks following the Eve incident, Lenox Lohr, NBC president, probably yearns for the peace and quiet of Molleville Farm, where he won the Distinguished Service Cross in 1918.

▽

While they were on location at Sonora, California, for Universal's "The Mountains Are My Kingdom," Noah Beery, Jr., and Frances Robinson came upon an old graveyard on the outskirts of the town. They found an epitaph on a headstone: "Too much mouth—not enough gun."

▽

Herb Morgan, short subject publicity man at MGM, reports that box offices of theatres in Scotland suffer when Robert Benchley's "How to Sleep" is showing. Seems that the Scotch count sheep—it's cheaper.

▽

A story in Washington has it that not even Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the United States Treasury, has any Constitutional rights. He had an autographed photograph of Joan Crawford, and President Roosevelt took it.

IN THE CUTTING ROOM

The Shadow Murder Case

(Grand National)

Mystery Melodrama

"The Shadow Strikes" served to introduce the Shadow character, a detective, created by the Shadow Magazine staff of writers. "The Shadow Murder Case," second in a series of four productions, is based on the Street and Smith magazine story, "The Fox Hound," which was written by Maxwell Grant. Transcription to the screen was effected by Jack Natteford, one of Hollywood's most prolific writers, with added dialogue contributed by John Krafft. It is being directed by Charles Lamont, who made many Monogram and Chesterfield films.

As in the first picture, Rod LaRocque, who created the screen character, will again be seen in the title role. This time, however, discarding the melodramatic trappings of cape and hood, cane and gloves, he will be introduced as a newspaper columnist, radio commentator, and amateur criminologist who solves crimes without the aid of the police.

In nature the story is mystery melodrama, all wool and a yard wide. The Shadow, tricked into the advance broadcast of a crime that did not come off, becomes involved in another that happened in a different part of the city. There as he comes in conflict with a sinister character he not only traps the perpetrator of the original crime in which a murder was committed, but also obtains information which he prints and broadcasts to prevent a second murder and make possible the floating of a bond issue for a mythical Balkan country.

With LaRocque featured, Astrid Allwyn will be seen as the girl, Thomas Jackson as the police commissioner with whom LaRocque is in conflict and William von Brincken as the menace. Supporting characters included are Oscar O'Shea, William Pawley, Walter Bonn, William Moore, Lou Hearn, Tenen Holtz, John St. Polis, Lloyd Whitlock and Jack Baxley.

Release date: February 8, 1938.

The Baroness and the Butler

(20th Century-Fox)

Sophisticated Comedy

"The Baroness and the Butler" is down on the release schedule as a Darryl F. Zanuck special. Thus exhibitors who are familiar with the producer's accomplishments may be able to form a very definte opinion of the imagination and artistry that is being put into this production to insure its being a commercial and an entertainment success.

The story, based on a continental play the locale of which is Hungary, was brought to screen fashion by Sam Hellman, Lamar Trotti and Kathryn Scola. It's about a faithful butler, who while serving the Prime Minister, turned to politics, became leader of the radical opposition party, was instrumental in bringing about the ousting of his master, whom he continued to serve, as Prime Minister and as veins of hectic romance and intriguing conspiracy are woven in, fled the country only to be brought back to be made Prime Minister himself and to be married to his master's royal daughter whom he found working as a ladies' maid. In many ways the story seems to embrace the elements that made "My Man Godfrey" and probably will make "Tovarich" successful.

There will be available to theatremen in this production five factors that have exploitation availability.

1. Theatre men named William Powell the fifth ranking money name of 1937. "The Thin Man" and "Double Wedding" contributed much to his recognition.

2. The film will mark the American screen debut of Annabella who has been seen in "Dinner at the Ritz," "Wings of the Morning" and "Under the Red Robe," English productions released in this country.

3. The story and its settings. Sophisticated comedy romance in the "My Man Godfrey" manner which kept audiences roaring with laughter in New York, London and continental capitals for months past. Backgrounds are richly modern in keeping with the circles in which the baroness and her butler move.

4. The supporting cast. It includes Henry Stephenson, last in "Conquest," Joseph Schildkraut seen in "Lady Behave," "Lancer Spy," "Zola" and "Garden of Allah," Nigel Bruce, absent from the domestic screen since "Under Two Flags," Helen Westley, featured in Shirley Temple's latest pictures, "Heidi" and "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," J. Edward Bromberg and Lynn Bari.

5. The reputation of the director, Walter Lang, for making worthy entertainment, such as "Second Honeymoon," "Love Before Breakfast" and "The Mighty Barnum."

The purpose of the producer is to combine the talents of writers, players, director and technical specialists into making the kind of comedy entertainment that has proved desirable during the past several months.

Release date: Feb. 25, 1938.

Bluebeard's Eighth Wife

(Paramount)

Comedy Romance

This title is but a figure of speech. As an exploitation factor it might be considered one of those "Lubitsch touches" which audiences have come to expect and watch for in his productions. It merely is an aptly terse digest of a story which will present Gary Cooper, ninth big money making star of 1937, and Claudette Colbert, the ninth honor star of the same period, in a modern slapstick comedy with a dash of romance added.

Not a costume film; having nothing at all to do with the ogre of legend who had seven wives each of whom he disposed of in his own peculiar manner, it is the story of a modern lover who also had seven wives each of whom he disposed of in the modern manner—via the divorce courts. There are no unpleasant characters in the story. In fact all the principals and the large company which supports them might be described as "touched in the head."

Based on a French novel and legitimate stage farce which was written by Alfred Savoir and with transcription to the screen credited to Charles Brackett and William Wilder, "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife" is, although it may seem paradoxical, slapstick sophistication. It heroizes an eccentric American millionaire who thinks wives can be purchased and discarded like fads and foibles until, while touring in France, he meets and marries the wise and determined daughter of an impoverished nobleman, who, after fighting and playing all over Europe, finally teaches him the errors of his ways. Narrative technique will follow the fashion lately laid down by "Twentieth Century" and which, causing surprise comedy to be king in 1937, culminated in "Nothing Sacred" and "The Awful Truth."

The omens seem to be in favorable juxtaposition for Ernst Lubitsch's sixty-seventh production. A vogue has been established. Warners are leaving no stones unturned to tell the world how good Miss Colbert is in "Tovarich." It may be expected that Samuel Goldwyn will not permit his imagination to be stinted when he gets ready to talk about Gary Cooper in "The Adventures of Marco Polo." The interest created by these publicity campaigns will no doubt be used by exhibitors to redound to the welfare of "Bluebeard." Further as Mr. Lubitsch is quite proud of his reputation, it can be expected that he will not be hesitant to put his stars through a routine of madcap screen antics that should rival anything seem in screen comedies to date.

Naturally primary interest in this forthcoming production centers upon the title, stars and producer-director. But other necessities, especially names and production detail have not been ignored. To the importance of Cooper and Miss Colbert as name assets should be added the worths of Edward Everett Horton, Louis Alberni, David Nevin, Elizabeth Patterson and Warren Hymer, who are the most important supporting players. As the title is a Lubitsch touch, it could not be otherwise than there will be many Lubitsch touches in production embellishment as it amplifies the theme.

Having watched much of the production of this gay, rowdy romantic comedy, the opinion has been formed that both the public and exhibitors will look upon its presentation as a red letter occasion.

Release date: April 15, 1938.

Radio City Revels

(RKO-Radio)

Comedy, Romance, Music

RKO-Radio has been tinkering around trying to find a story idea to substantiate the title "Radio City Revels" for more than three years. Announced for production many times, it failed just as often to become a reality until producer Edward Kaufman took the title in hand. In the hands of the man who produced "The Ex-Mrs. Bradford," "Star of Midnight" and seven other pictures for the company, it seems that there is a more than favorable chance that "Radio City Revels" will embrace those entertainment and showmanship qualities that appeal to patrons and exhibitors.

Inasmuch as the theme, supplemented by romance, light drama, comedy, music and picturesque glamour, is a story of people who find the way to happiness and success the hard way, organically following a familiar path, a showmanship consideration of the property leads first to who is going to be in it.

Borrowed from Paramount and given top billing is Bob Burns now in "Wells Fargo" and recently in "Mountain Music" and "Waikiki Wedding." His character as a hill billy who dreams hit songs is reminiscent of his appearance in "Mountain Music." With him are Jack Oakie presently in "Hitting a New High"; Kenny Baker of Jello radio program fame also seen in "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air" and "The King and the Chorus Girl" and soon to be seen in "Goldwyn Follies"; Milton Berle only in

(Continued on page 46, column 2)

THAT'S HOW RECORDS ARE BORN!

Biggest opening at Capitol, N. Y. since the inauguration of the straight picture policy 3 years ago.

("Rosalie" swamps previous record-holder "Mutiny on the Bounty")

MANY NEW YORK STATE BILLS AFFECT INDUSTRY

And in Chicago Theatres Will Pay $68,000 More Than Last Year in Fees

Possibility of important tax and other legislation affecting the industry in New York by the State Legislature during 1938 and an agreement reached in Chicago between theatremen and the City Council regarding the increase in theatre license fees were the more important developments of the week in the field of legislation.

Elsewhere the Ohio Senate was considering a relief measure, passed by the House, which includes allocating of the admissions tax; a campaign was started in Ohio by a woman's group to prohibit attendance by children at theatres during school hours, and there were Sunday "blue law" developments in Sylacauga, Ala., and Bridgeport, Conn.

Convened on Wednesday in Albany, the New York State Legislature will pass on many bills affecting producer, distributors and exhibitors with the greatest stress on four important bits of legislation ranking in this order:

(1) Re-introduction of the Moran bill of 1937, adding a new section to the Tax Law, imposing a tax of 1 mill per foot on every original motion picture film or copy thereof.

(2) Backed by the State Federation of Labor, a measure requiring a "full crew" of motion picture operators to be in the projection room at all times is certain to be introduced on the floor of the Assembly and Senate.

(3) Strong pressure is expected to be exerted in the passage of the perenially introduced bill prohibiting sale of seats in theatres when none are available.

(4) Possible amendment of Section 18-B of the General City Law, requiring a matron for each 35 children in theatres, instead of one for the entire theatre.

After weeks of conferences and discussions Chicago theatremen and the City Council reached an agreement regarding the increase in theatre licensee fees, and a new ordinance was passed by the council at their last 1937 meeting.

$68,000 Increase in Fees

An increase of $68,000 will be paid to the city by the theatres as a result of the new agreement. The amount that has been paid to the city in license fees for theatres the last few years totaled around $120,000. With the increase the total will be near the $190,000 mark.

At present the rates for theatres runs from $225 a year to $1,250 depending upon the admission price and number of seats.

The new ordinance increases these fees on the following basis: Theatres charging up to 25 cents, an increase of 25 per cent; theatres charging up to 40 cents, an increase of 60 per cent, and theatres charging more than 60 cents, an increase of 100 per cent.

The final settlement of the theatre license fee question ends a long drawn out battle which started last summer when the city demanded a 3 per cent tax on all theatre grosses instead of the regular license fees. This tax plan was finally dropped even after the city had amended their demands and asked for 1 per cent on all grosses. For the past few weeks the theatremen and the councilmen have been working the plan out on an increased fee basis that started with the councilmen asking for fees that would bring an additional $150,000 in revenue.

The demands by the city are accredited to a need of an additional $3,000,000 to make up for a deficit in the city budget.

Most of this deficit will be made up through the licensing of race track betting, an ordinance allowing brokers to handle bets legally having just been adopted.

Relief Measures in Ohio

The Ohio Senate is considering measures passed for relief by the Ohio house, including a bill re-enacting the utility excise tax and allocating the admissions, beverage, malt and wort taxes for relief for a two-year period. The measure would raise approximately $5,500,000 a year, to be distributed to counties on the basis of popaultion and tax duplicates. The measures passed the House 96 to 27.

The Franklin County League of Women Voters, Ohio, is waging a campaign to prohibit children from attending theatres during school hours when their classes are is session. An appeal for assistance to curb delinquency has been made to P. J. Wood, secretary of the Ohio Independent Theatre Owners.

Prompted by the indecision of officials of Sylacauga, Ala., over whether to allow Sunday films, Editor Charles H. Greer of the Sylacauga News sent queries to editors in open Sunday towns, asking the people's sentiment.

Replies published showed a consensus overwhelmingly favorable, with 29 editors reporting that theatre operators were being careful not to conflict with church functions.

The Bridgeport, Conn., Board of Aldermen approved Sunday vaudeville.

CUTTING ROOM

(Continued from page 44)

"New Faces of 1937"; Ann Miller who was outstanding in that picture, Victor Moore and Helen Broderick who have been teamed in five earlier films; Buster West and Melissa Mason, featured dancers in the stage play "White Horse Inn," William Brisbane, Richard Lane, Marilyn Vernon and Jane Froman who will be seen in a specialty number.

Other items that may provide hints as to this production's showmanship potentialities are that the seven song numbers were composed by Herb Magidson and Allie Wrubel and that Ben Stoloff, the director, is credited with such films as "Fight for Your Lady," "Super Sleuth," "Sea Devils," "Palooka" and "Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round."

Release date: April 14, 1938.

Test Pilot

(MGM)

Romance and Thrills

When a company elects to feature two names, Clark Gable and Myrna Loy, whom the nation's exhibitors voted among the biggest money making stars of 1937 and adds another, Spencer Tracy, whose rank in popular esteem has been greatly advanced during the past several months, the showmanship job on the picture in which they are to be featured is cut to pattern.

As the title identifies the character, "Test Pilot" is the first aviation picture that MGM has attempted in about two years. Gable is the test pilot who gambles his life and tests his skill in testing the airworthiness of any newly designed plane. Tracy is his rough neck mechanic who sacrifices his life in somewhat the same heroic manner he did in "Captains Courageous." Miss Loy is Gable's only love other than flying. He had to come to realize that love the hard way.

In addition to the two best money making stars and the one honor winner, "Test Pilot" will also offer Lionel Barrymore, soon to be seen in MGM's British made film, "A Yank at Oxford" and who, incidentally was in the studio's last aviation production, "Night Flight"; Ted Pearson, who is making his third screen appearance, Arthur Aylesworth, Claudia Coleman, Priscilla Lawson and Virginia Grey.

While it may be expected that much entertainment and, needless to say, a relative amount of potential showmanship will accrue to the picture's romance and melodramatic phases, the thrill action sequences will also show Gable and Tracy operating every kind of plane from crackerbox crates to the latest sky flying fortresses both in the process of testing and competing in the famous Thompson air races.

The picture is being directed by Victor Fleming who topped off a long list of top flight attractions, including "Renegades," "The White Sister" and "Reckless" as well as "Treasure Island" with "Captains Courageous."

Release date: In March 1938.

The Joy of Loving

(RKO-Radio)

Comedy Romance

Gene Towne and Graham Baker have turned out many screenplays which had both entertainment and commercial value. "Ali Baba Goes to Town" and "Stand-In" are the most recent example. The effort this time is based on a story by Dorothy and Herbert Fields, whose respective writing credits include contributions to "Swing Time," "The King Steps Out" and "I Dream Too Much," "Love Before Breakfast" and "Luckiest Girl in the World."

The story is comedy romance which has considerable farce character interluded with music. It concerns the stormy romance of a famous actress, who is not only debt harassed, but also carries the millstone of one of the craziest families which ever existed in the realms of screen imagination and a carefree young vagabond who has no intention of living up or down to the restrictions his aristocratic family has placed upon him. Basically it is ludicrous comedy being done in the style of the present vogue, previously exemplified by the picture's star, Irene Dunne, in "Theodora Goes Wild" and "The Awful Truth."

Opposite Miss Dunne will be seen Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., presently in "The Prisoner of Zenda" and with Ginger Rogers in "Having a Wonderful Time" which is to be seen shortly. The supporting cast includes as the batty members of Miss Dunne's family Guy Kibbe, Alice Brady, Lucille Ball and Frank Milan; Jean Dixon, Phyllis Kennedy, the five year old Steiner twins, Dorothy and Estelle, Eric Blore and Frank M. Thomas.

Direction is in charge of Tay Garnett, "Slave Ship," "Love Is News" and "Stand In," while picturesque dance novelty routines were supervised by Seymour Felix.

Release date: In February 1938.

Paramount News now being serviced to the South and Central American Republics, is being edited each week with a Portuguese off screen voice for the version going to Brazil and a Spanish commentator's voice for all of the other territories. The Spanish speaking Republic receive one issue of the newsreel each week, while Brazil receives two issues a week.

ANSWERING THE PANAY MAIL!

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer takes this means of acknowledging a flood of thanks from its exhibitor friends. It was a privilege to be able to deliver to each and every one of our newsreel accounts at no extra cost to them the complete pictorial story of the sinking of the U. S. S. PANAY in the regular issue of M-G-M's NEWS OF THE DAY. Sufficient additional prints were ordered so that every single customer was serviced—but at no additional charge. M-G-M is gratified at the response which this effort has brought from the showmen it is happy to serve.

SHOWMEN'S REVIEWS

This department deals with new product from the point of view of the exhibitor who is to purvey it to his own public

IN OLD CHICAGO

(Twentieth Century-Fox)

An Epic

[The world premiere of Darryl F. Zanuck's "In Old Chicago" was held Thursday evening at the Astor theatre on Broadway, where the picture is booked for an indefinite run on a two-a-day reserved seat arrangement. Mr. Zanuck and Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board of Twentieth Century-Fox, headed a group from Hollywood to the premiere. See page 54.]

"In Old Chicago" is a money picture. Its financial possibilities are a matter for the individual exhibitor to decide, for it is an exploitation picture for any kind of showman and an audience picture no matter how diverse the tastes may be.

If the matter of name importance is the first consideration, save to state that the leading players and the featured support contribute the best performances of their careers to date, the reader is referred to the credits. None of them are strangers.

Thematically, "In Old Chicago" tells the warmly human, interesting story of the O'Leary family. It opens and is anti-climaxed with a note of tragedy. In between it glows to the spirit of intimate domestic comedy, appealing romance and comedy, and as brother comes into conflict with brother it culminates with an emotion-stirring exposition of that tried and true old theatrical standby—the triumph of virtue over vice and avarice. This family story, rare in the qualities that are close to the heart of every family, also is a political story, the forces of corruption, deceit and double crossing besieged and conquered by the reform element.

In production detail "In Old Chicago" faithfully and authentically reproduces the Chicago and people of the generation immediately preceding the month of October, 1871. The proportion of the approximately $2,000,000 allocated to this particular item has not been spent in vain. It has the power to convince audiences that, by illusion, they actually are in "The Patch," observers in the life experiences of the "O'Learys," "Belle Fawcett" and "Gil Warren." In supplementary detail, the music scaling from "In Old Virginia," the theme song, is the topical numbers of the moment, the eye glamour that accrues to the bustled beauties of the plush era, the panoramic conception of the people that were the characters of the hub city, of a vast, rough, uncouth, pioneer empire, should thrill the minds of those who like to turn back the pages of time.

Yet potent as is the power of the story to play upon the emotions of auditors, the last 15 or 20 minutes of "In Old Chicago" will probably register most impressively upon the minds and imaginations of those who see it. Other producers have chosen floods, earthquakes, hurricanes and kindred natural catastrophes to thrill, probably terrorize, mundane sensibilities. Darryl Zanuck chose a fire. It is a fire. Anyone who has seen a community reduced to ashes will believe it.

Previewed in Mr. Zanuck's private projection room in 20th Century-Fox studio where he, arriving late and dashing out before the last echo ceased reverberating, worked the controls. It was a press audience, mainly trade paper, but with a few local newspapers represented. When such a group, blase, sated because they view hundreds of films yearly, applauds and departs more or less in a dither, the subject of their enthusiasm must have been something particularly worthy. What they may say as a matter of doing their jobs, what the producing and distributing organization may pay to say, will probably underestimate "In Old Chicago." —Gus McCarthy.

Produced and distributed by 20th Century-Fox. A Darryl F. Zanuck production. Kenneth Macgowan, associate producer. Directed by Henry King. Screen play by Lamar Trotti and Sonya Levien. Based on a story by Niven Busch. Special effects scenes staged by Fred Sersen, Ralph Hammeras and Louis J. Write. Special effects directed by H. Bruce Humberstone. Music and lyrics by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel and Lew Pollack and Sidney D. Mitchell. Robert Webb, assistant director. Barbara McLean, film editor. Louis Silvers, musical director. Photographed by Peverell Marley. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3639. Running time, when seen in Hollywood, 110 minutes. Release date, Jan. 6, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Dion O'Leary.....Tyrone Power
Belle Fawcett.....Alice Faye
Jack O'Leary.....Don Ameche
Molly O'Leary.....Alice Brady
Pickle Bixby.....Andy Devine
Gil Warren.....Brian Donlevy
Ann Colby.....Phyllis Brooks
Bob O'Leary.....Tom Brown
General Phil Sheridan.....Sidney Blackmer
Senator Colby.....Berton Churchill
Gretchen.....June Storey
Mitch.....Paul Hurst
Specialty Singer.....Tyler Brooke
Patrick O'Leary.....J. Anthony Hughes
Dion O'Leary (as a boy).....Gene Reynolds
Bob O'Leary (as a boy).....Bobs Watson
Jack O'Leary (as a boy).....Billy Watson
Hattie.....Madame Sultewan
Beavers.....Spencer Charters
Body Guard.....Rondo Hatton
Carrie Donahue.....Thelma Manning
Miss Lou.....Ruth Gillette
Drunk.....Eddie Collins
Beef King.....Scotty Mattraw
Stuttering Clerk.....Joe Twerp
Booking Agent.....Charles Lane
Lawyer.....Charles Hummel Wilson
Judge.....Frank Dae
Fire Commissioner.....Harry Stubbs
Ship's Captain.....Joe King
Driver.....Francis Ford
Police Officers.....Robert Murphy, Wade Boteler
Men in Jack's Office.....Gustav von Seyffertitz, Russell Hicks

Bad Man of Brimstone

(MGM)

Western Melodrama

Maybe you remember the westerns Thomas H. Ince used to make for Triangle, upstanding box office smashes written by C. Gardner Sullivan with William S. Hart doing the shooting, riding and emoting. If you do, you'll recall the long lines that stood in front of the theatre waiting for the doors to open, and the satisfied customers wending their way homeward when the last shot had been fired and a Mack Sennett comedy had chased away the last trace of vicarious suffering.

The best thing to be said about "Bad Man of Brimstone" is that it is, in every vital particular, the kind of a picture Thomas H. Ince used to make for William S. Hart. Whether the market for that kind of product is still there may be something of a question, although the box office reports have it that westerns are never out of season, but if it is, if people have not changed more fundamentally than scientists suspect, this is an upstanding article of merchandise for that market.

Wallace Beery is the bad man of the title and he's surrounded by a castful of marquee personalities. (See below). He is also, very unfortunately, closely linked in public memory just now with his accidental shooting of himself with a blank cartridge while engaged in making the picture. That would have been a good story to kill but, instead, Mr. Beery was retelling it on the radio himself only last week, all this being pertinent to this report only because it might occur to some showmen as a bright idea to remind the clientele of the matter by way of exploitation. This would be extremely bad for the customers, because it is very hard to credit Mr. Beery with being a really-truly two-gun bandit with this somehow abruptly comic vision of the gentleman shooting himself by mistake popping up between the picture and the spectator.

Mr. Beery's name in the picture is "Trigger Bill," and he's a bold, bad man who holds up stage coaches and so on. But his boy comes to town, not knowing "Bill" is his father, and falls in love with a girl, whereupon he decides to stay and reform the community. "Bill" manages to get him off to college for three years, but back he comes, a lawyer and U. S. marshal, to take up where he left off. "Bill" has had to tell two people about his being the boy's father, and so, because of more complications than most pictures try for, he has to kill quite a number to keep the secret. This makes a highly explosive windup which is followed by a nice wedding during which the gendarmes take "Bill" away.

A glance back over the foregoing is distressing. There was no intention to toss the picture off

(Continued on page 50)

TOPPING THE BIGGEST WEEK IN THE BIGGEST YEAR THE ROXY HAS HAD IN 5 YEARS!

(HELD OVER . . . but naturally!)

AND HELD OVER IN PRE-RELEASE RUNS AT CHICAGO, ALBANY, LOUISVILLE, BALTIMORE, PHILADELPHIA, RICHMOND!

(day-and-date)

Currently proving 20th's top musical in: CINCINNATI, DAYTON, SAN FRANCISCO, INDIANAPOLIS! Mopping up in DETROIT, ST. LOUIS, SPRINGFIELD, PITTSBURGH, SEATTLE — as big news continues to pour in!

Walter WINCHELL · Ben BERNIE

SIMONE SIMON

LOVE AND HISSES

Darryl F. Zanuck's latest great musical!

20th CENTURY FOX

THE KEYSTONE OF YOUR FUTURE

(Continued from page 48)

lightly, but that's the way things sometimes go. It's really a quite tremendous production effort, full of action, mountains, shooting, and it's all done in sepia. It's no more absurd than westerns have a right to be, and it wouldn't take much clipping to do away with a few dialogue lines the folks wouldn't have spoken in 1879. These are matters the people who love westerns probably won't mind anyway. And it is, as stated in the opening stanza, the stuff that Messrs. Ince and Hart thrilled the world with. If only Wally hadn't shot himself with a blank. . . .

Previewed December 30th at the Alexander theatre, Glendale, California. This would be about the right kind of an audience for this kind of a picture and these folks liked it right well after the first 30 or 40 minutes, especially the shootin'.—WILLIAM R. WEAVER.

Produced by Harry Rapf. Distributed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Directed by J. Walter Ruben. Story by J. Walter Ruben and Maurice Rapf. Screen play by Cyril Hume and Richard Maibaum. Photographed by Clyde DeVinne. Film editor, Frank Sullivan. P.C.A. certificate No. 3812. Release date, December 31, 1937. Running time, when seen in Glendale, 88 minutes. General audience classification.

CAST

"Trigger" Bill.....Wallace Beery
Loretta Douglas.....Virginia Bruce
Jeffrey Burton.....Dennis O'Keefe
Ben .....Joseph Calleia
Mr. Jackson Douglas.....Lewis Stone
"Eight Ball" Harrigan.....Guy Kibbee
"Blackjack" McCreedy .....Bruce Cabot
"Buzz" McCreedy.....Cliff Edwards
"Vulch" McCreedy.....Guinn Williams
"Doc" Laramie .....Arthur Hohl
Ambrose Crocker.....Noah Beery
"Loco" .....John Qualen
Barney Lane.....Charley Grapewin
"Hank" Summers.....Robert Barratt

Spirit of Youth

(Grand National)

Joe Louis, Thespian

Most noteworthy of mention in this film is the appearance of heavyweight champion, Joe Louis, before the camera. Fashioned to exploit Joe's famed pugilistic prowess and peopled with negro players in the principal parts, the production will accordingly hold special appeal for those two particular classes of audiences, namely, sport fans and colored movie attenders. Perhaps, a more general and widespread interest may be stirred up in less specialized audiences by the promotion of the announcement that the film carries, besides a prominent public personality in the star assignment, a presentation of material which is played under circumstances different from the exhibition of the usual motion picture feature.

Working with an original screen play manufactured from the pen of Arthur Hoerl, which reads more biographical than fictional, Louis, as was to be expected, is cast to type in the role of a prize fighter. When he gets into character and the ring, Joe is naturally convincing and in his own element. However, when the lines must be recited, Louis' famed dead pan expression becomes as uncomfortably heavy as some of the wooden words he must speak and as a result the situations at times become unintentionally humorous.

Supporting the fighter enthusiastically is a capable collection of colored players headed by Clarence Muse, Edna Mae Harris and Cleo Desmond.

Using the perennial theme that the fighter, who forgets his rigid rule of training for fun and frivolity found in the treacherous trinity of wine, women and song, is leading with his chin, the narrative traces the rise and fall and finally the redemption of such a pugilist. First seen in his home surroundings of Birmingham, "Joe Thomas" leaves home to further the support of his crippled father and eventually finds himself in the fighting business. After a spectacular send off in the Golden Gloves contest, the lad is headed for the top spot in his profession when trouble in the form of cabaret singer acts as a lorelei and sidetracks Thomas from his goal. As a result of such tactics, the young man loses a match and his true and real love at the same time. But for some hidden and unexpected reason, the siren repents her ways and persuades Joe's silent and suffering girl friend to make a last minute appearance at the ring where the fighter is at the receiving end of a good trouncing. The sudden entrance of the young lady works strange and tonic effect on Joe's failing punches with the result that the opponent is soon floored, the world championship secured and the girl is won.

Previewed at a Trade Screening in New York.—JOSEPH F. COUGHLIN.

Produced by Globe Pictures Corporation. Distributed by Grand National Pictures. Produced by Lew Golder. Associate producer, Edward Shanberg. Directed by Harry Fraser. Original screen play, Arthur Boerl, P. C. A. Certificate No. 3980. Running time, 66 minutes. Release date, December 29, 1937. General audience classification.

CAST

Joe Louis — Clarence Muse
Edna Mae Harris — Mae Turner
Cleo Desmond — Mantan Moreland

The House of Mystery

(Columbia-Larry Darmour)

Comedy Mystery

The title of this Larry Darmour production is "The House of Mystery." Those who saw its preview seemed to interpret it as "Entertainment for Sale." For "The House of Mystery" is a showman's show and an audience picture, packed full of the ingredients which both need.

To begin with there is a good, interesting story. Basically it is melodramatic, yet it contains an unusual amount of comedy and a dash of romance. It presents a group of capable players, all of whom seem to be working for the good of the picture and none of whom seem to be trying to steal scenes from each other. The lines they are given to speak are smart and clever. The situations in which they find themselves are engaging. Their actions result in plenty of chills and thrills and just as many laughs. As the production is bare of all non-essentials, it is intelligently directed. Sticking to the plot continually, there is no fooling around to make for confusing complications.

All that happens is the result of an enterprising reporter's efforts to help his policeman pal who has been given a demoted promotion. The early sequences are mainly comedy in which Jack Holt, Marjorie Gateson and Dorothy Appleby are prominent and a suggestion of romance which features Craig Reynolds and Beverly Roberts. The threat of melodramatic mystery arises when an eccentric old man's will is read and as a result of a prank theft which Reynolds perpetrated the ensuing action takes place in a house of mystery as the loss of a necklace and the disappearance of "the papers" cause a couple of murders. How Holt traps the killer, as both comedy and melodrama have their innings in the action is the surprise feature of the show. As it had the audience up on chair edges alternately giggling and gasping, it may be anticipated that the film will exert a similar influence on average audiences.

Considering the entertainment quality of the picture, it should be given the kind of exploitation campaign that is accorded a "sleeper" attraction. Those who saw it in Forum Theatre, Hollywood, Dec. 30, regarded it as that kind of picture.—G. M.

Distributed by Columbia. Produced by Larry Darmour. Directed by Louis D. Collins. Screen play by Jefferson Parker and Howard J. Green. Story by Howard J. Green. J. A. Duffy, assistant director. Dwight Caldwell, film editor. Photographed by James S. Brown. P.C.A. Certificate number 3974. Running time, 65 minutes when seen in Hollywood. Release date, Jan. 14, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Jack Holt.....Lewis Nagel
Beverly Roberts.....Jeane Sandford
Craig Reynolds.....Steve Withers
Marjorie Gateson.....'Muffin' Wilder
Dorothy Appelby.....Claire Sandford
Gilbert Emery.....Edmund Sandford
Tom Kennedy.....Sergeant Handley
Corbet Morris.....Ronald Sandford
Sheila Bromley.....Grace Sandford
John Wray.....Herbert Sandford
Maurice Cass.....Edgar Keer
Tully Marshall.....Stuart Hackett

Swing Your Lady

(Warner Bros.)

Comedy

In addition to a cast of evenly billable comedians, showmen have a genuine cinema novelty to advertise. In it are combined two still hardy fads of the cockeyed genre, hippodromed wrestling and caricatured hillbillying. Both are made to give up capacity laugh revenue. Both afford copious catchline copy.

The Pendleton, McHugh, Jenkins, Fazenda roles were tailored to measure. Bogart plays an uncriminal straight man adequately. The Weaver Brothers and Elvira step up from vaudeville, bringing along their trick musical instruments with which they panicked the preview audience. Penny Singleton introduces modernized rhythms a little too persistently but not disastrously.

The story concerns a barnstorming wrestler of subnormal mentality matched with an Ozark lady blacksmith, with whom he falls into dumb love. He refuses to wrestle but her irate former mountain suitor challenges him. They meet in the ring, with the bride promised to the winner. After winning he marries the blacksmith and gives up the ring for horseshoeing.

The treatment throughout is bluntly farcical with all points heavily underscored. Five musical numbers by Jerome and Scholl pep up what might been passive stretches to register individually. The dialogue, ribald but not vulgar, only once approaches the risque in a borderline mock explanation of sex in terms of flowers. The pace is rapid and smooth. The comedy material is considerably more legitimate than most offered this season under louder ballyhoo.

Previewed at the Warner Hollywood, where a well mixed audience enjoyed itself immensely, especially during the wrestling bout, which adhered closely to yet spoofed unmercifully the current standard procedure of professional wrestling.—W. R. W.

Produced and distributed by Warner Bros. Associate producer, Sam Bischoff. Original by Kenyon Nicholson and Charles Robinson. Screen play, Joseph Schrank and Maurice Lee. Director, Ray Enright. Assistant director, Jesse Hibbs. Art director, Esdras Hartley. Sound, Charles Lang. Unit manager, Louis Baum. Dialogue director, Jo Graham. Cameraman, Arthur Edeson. Film editor, Jack Killifer. Gowns by Howard Shoup. Music and lyrics, M. K. Jerome and Jack Scholl. Dances, Bobby Connolly. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3787. Running time, when seen in Hollywood, 75 minutes. Release date, January 8, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Ed.....Humphrey Bogart
Sadie.....Louise Fazenda
Popeye.....Frank McHugh
Shiner.....Allen Jenkins
Waldo.....Leon Weaver
Joe.....Nat Pendleton
Ollie Davis.....Frank Weaver
Noah.....Daniel Boone Savage
Mrs. Davis.....Elvira Weaver
Rufe.....Tommy Bupp
Mabel.....Sue Moore
Hotel Proprietor.....Olin Howard
Len.....Sunny Bupp
Cookie.....Penny Singleton
Specialty Number by.....Sammy White
Mattie.....Joan Howard
Smith.....Hugh O'Connell
Jack Miller.....Ronald Reagan

Love on a Budget

(20th Century-Fox)

Domestic Comedy

"Love on a Budget" registered with a preview audience as an hour's wholesome amusement. With Alan Dinehart added to the familiar Jones Family cast, the film's value as entertainment and for showmanship surpasses any of previous seven episodes in the series. Domestic comedy, rich in homey humor, warm love interest, high pressure business promotion, political skulduggery, and hectic family life, the picture is family entertainment of a most desirable character from beginning to end.

Freshly different in idea, the story has Shirley Deane, as Bonnie Thompson wanting every-

(Continued on page 52)

The holidays are gone... but THE HOLIDAY BUSINESS IS STILL HERE FOR

"YOU'RE A SWEETHEART"

HELD OVER for 2nd WEEK!...

- CHICAGO
- KANSAS CITY
- ST. LOUIS
- NEW ORLEANS
- BUFFALO
- SAN FRANCISCO
- TRENTON
- ROCHESTER

and MORE to COME!

IT'S A NEW UNIVERSAL!

(Continued from page 50)

thing that a new bride wishes, married to pinchpenny "Herbert Thompson" (Russell Gleason). Spats of the newlyweds send the bride home. A hairbrained promoter "Uncle Charlie" played by Dinehart, arrives in town. Talking "Herbert" into financing him on a carnival deal, "Charlie" inspires "Bonnie" to furnish a dream house on credit and have the husband send all the furniture back. The bride's family dinner is humorous tragedy. Get-rich-quick "Charlie" maneuvers involve "John Jones" (Jed Prouty) in a political scandal, but the wrecking of Exposition Hall, which "Charlie" called unsafe, saves "Jones'" reputation and the wild financial dream pans out successfully. "Bonnie" and "Herbert" are happily reunited in a completely furnished home.

Previewed at the Uptown theatre, Hollywood. Accepting audience reaction as a gauge the picture will fully satisfy any average audience. High in entertainment quality, the picture also is full of unique and interesting exploitation ideas.—G. M.

Produced and distributed by Twentieth Century-Fox. Executive producer, Sol M. Wurtzel. Associate producer, Max Golden. Director, Bert Lenny. Story based on the characters created by Katharine Kavanaugh. Original screen play, Robert Ellis and Helen Logan. Photographer, Edward Snyder. Art director, Bernard Herzbrun, Chester Gore. Assistant director, William Eckhardt. Film editor, Harry Reynolds. Costumer, Helen A. Myron. Sound, George P. Costello and Wm. H. Anderson. Musical direction, Samuel Kaylin. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3930. Running time, when seen in Hollywood, 60 minutes. Release date, March 4, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

John Jones.....Jed Prouty
Bonnie Thompson.....Shirley Deane
Mrs. John Jones.....Spring Byington
Uncle Charlie.....Alan Dinehart
Herbert Thompson.....Russell Gleason
Jack Jones.....Kenneth Howell
Roger Jones.....George Ernest
Lucy Jones.....June Carlson
Granny Jones.....Florence Roberts
Bobby Jones.....Billy Mahan
Tommy McGuire.....Marvin Stephens
Betty.....Dixie Dunbar
Emory Fisher.....Paul Harvey
Millie Brown.....Joyce Compton

Change of Heart

(20th Century-Fox)

Family Comedy

Although not a big picture, "Change of Heart" is an interesting one. While it treats of the problem of domestic misunderstandings, the show actually is comedy in character. In writing the original screen play, Frances Hyland and Albert Ray, and in directing, James Tinling, elected to concentrate on this quality. Likewise the characterizations which all but one of the players create, the dialogue they utter and the situations in which they find themselves, are pointed to accentuate the comedy premise.

Hard working advertising executive "Anthony Murdock" does not realize that his ungovernable temper is alienating his friends, employees and, particularly, his wife "Carol." His mental condition is inflamed when he becomes convinced that his wife is attached to wealthy playboy "Phillip Reeves." Eventually his unpleasant disposition forces "Carol" to leave him. News of this reaches the office and "Anthony," reacting to gossip, and particularly to a fiery but hilarious dressing down administered by his office manager, comes to a realization that something is wrong with him. Seeking relaxation on a golf course, his rages mean nothing to caddie "Jimmy," who very quickly gets to the bottom of what is bothering "Anthony." Knowing what to do and how to do it, he contrives to bring husband and wife together again, meanwhile fixing it so that "Phillip" understands that his company is no longer welcome. Happy ending has the now happy couple adopting "Jimmy" and his dog.

A family type picture, "Change of Heart," other than the significance of the title, does not offer much that could be adapted, as spectacular exploitation. There is, however, a chance to do something unusual with eight-year-old Delmar Watson, whose work in the film was the source of much audience interest.

Previewed Dec. 29 in the Uptown Theatre, Los Angeles. The typical neighborhood audience, which is also accustomed to seeing previews of secondary pictures, reacted favorably. It seemed to appreciate particularly the fact that what initially threatened to develop into a serious domestic problem play turned into a lively comedy.—G. M.

Produced and distributed by 20th Century-Fox. Sol M. Wurtzell producer. Directed by James Tinling. Original screen play by Frances Hyland and Albert Ray. Edward O'Fearna, assistant director. Irene Morra, film editor. Photographed by Daniel B. Clark. P. C. A. certificate number 3929. Release date, Jan. 14, 1938. Running time, 65 minutes when seen in Los Angeles. General audience classification.

CAST

Carol.....Gloria Stuart
Anthony Murdock.....Michael Whalen
Phillip Reeves.....Lyle Talbot
Jimmy.....Delmar Watson
Mrs. Thompson.....Jane Darwell
Office Manager.....Chester Clute

Oh Kay, Rhythm

(Paramount)

Tuneful Orchestra Specialty

Mr. Herbie Kay is famed as one of the country's leading maestros. In private life he is equally noted as the spouse of the wellknown screen and radio personality, Miss Dorothy Lamour. In this band presentation, Kay demonstrates his musical skill as leader of a capable collection of musicians. The individual numbers are presented in an easy and different style and the smooth effectiveness of the entire subject is considerably increased by some novel and choral singing. The times and the songs should produce appropriate toe tapping and tune humming from the average audience.—Running time, 10 minutes.

Little Lamby

(Paramount)

Clever Cartooning

Reminiscent of another short subject of some time back, this colored animation concerns the animal fable of a mean and hungry fox and his intended victim, a plump lamb. The villainous fox comes to a quiet and happy animal town and thereupon begins to cast a critical eye over the village populace for the purpose of selecting an eligible candidate to sate his appetite. Using the ruse of staging a baby contest, the fox inspects the most promising young folk and finally snatches up the cute lambkin. Chase follows the culprit and the good townsfolk finally after a very close and warm margin rescue the lamb from his sacrificial prison. Of course, the fox receives the just trouncing he so deservedly merits. The whole sketch is gayly and amusingly drawn, and the general audience undoubtedly will join in the cartoon characters' rejoicing over the defeat of the foxy culprit.—Running time, seven minutes.

Our Gang Follies of 1938

(MGM)

Our Gang Goes Hotcha

If there has not, there should be formed immediately a society to protect the young innocents of the screen's nursery against well meaning but slightly mistaken elders laboring under the impression that the natural cuteness of the child can be enhanced by investing the young ones with the mature habits of adult dress and manners. So to many the latest Our Gang comedy will be disconcerting. The sight and the sound of a tot of six years intoning after the best Broadway style of a hot and low down torch singer the currently favorite Tin Pan Alley nursery rhyme, "The Love Bug Will Get You," will cause many an oldster to wonder. And there are further revelations of little old kiddies legging it according to the smartest night club custom.

The miniature musical finds the kids producing a revue frilled with swing songs and a chorus line of midget dancing cuties. The one obstacle, but a considerable one, is the amusing display of temperament on the part of Alfalfa Switzer, who scorns a promising career as a crooner for more artistic operatic ambitions. However, in a dream sequence which shows the young aspirant that the paths of opera lead not to glory but to street corner singing, Alfalfa awakes to reality and the error of his pretentious plans. He, thereupon, readily joins the show and brings the performance to a rousing and successful closing in advising the assembled juvenile audience by way of words and music that the one sure way to a young lady's heart and consent is that sure fire technique of courtship, "learning to croon." —Running time, 21 minutes.

Little Buck Cheeser

(MGM)

Cartoon Fable in Color

In a strip patterned with imaginative and amusing business and colored with lovely and luscious tints, this newest number from the Harman-Ising cartoon group provides a brief but altogether delightful bit of comic nonsense. A tiny mouse in his tiny bed dreams of the far off moon as being made of nice, tasty green cheese. With the aid of several rodent acquaintances who are as equally as avaricious as he, the mouse fashions a rocket plane and, accompanied by his friends, embarks amid sound and excitement for the distant regions of the ether. The trip through the skies and the sights of the asteral landmarks are described in a clever and rapid style. The outcome of the excursion is the blowup of the ship and the daring young animal is hurled dizzily through space to land awakened, frightened but relieved in the safe security of his own little bed.—Running time, eight minutes.

Accent on Beauty

(Paramount)

Interesting

Proving that beauty is more than skip deep, this subject in a series of behind the scenes revelations shows the labor and skill needed to prepare and manufacture the various cosmetic aids and perfumed scents which the modern milady uses to enhance her feminine charms. Intelligently devised and tastefully presented, the material carries principal point for the ladies of the audiences. However, the gentlemen escorts should find the display and explanation of beauty aids of some interest if not for personal at least for financial reasons.—Running time, 10 minutes.

Finestone Joins Staff of Motion Picture Daily

Alfred L. Finestone, formerly associated with Motion Picture Herald and Box Office, this week joined the editorial staff of Motion Picture Daily.

Mr. Finestone was the Kansas City representative of Quigley Publications from 1931 to 1935. He was then transferred to the home office editorial staff of Motion Picture Herald.

Board to Ratify Appointment

The board of directors of Monogram is scheduled to formally ratify the appointment of Leon Fronkiss as treasurer January 27th. There will be no other changes, W. Ray Johnston, president, said.

FitzPatrick Signs MGM Pact

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer this week in Hollywood signed James A. FitzPatrick to continue his traveltalk subjects for 1938 and 1939. No definite number was set. The deal was handled by Fred Quimby, short subject general manager.

BALANCED

IN EASTMAN Super X Panchromatic Negative the vital film factors of fine grain, high speed, and superb photographic quality are combined to give the finest results to be seen anywhere today. It is the admirable balance of these qualities that has made Super X the world's most widely used negative film. Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y. (J. E. Brulatour, Inc., Distributors, Fort Lee, Chicago, Hollywood.)

EASTMAN SUPER X

PANCHROMATIC NEGATIVE

Five Year Highs Set in Market Early in 1937

(Continued from page 12)

stocks early in the year established the highest levels since 1932. After irregular movements, nearly all major film issues touched their year's lows on October 19, when a particularly severe reaction hit the market. There was a subsequent irregular rallying movement that left the motion picture shares above their 1937 lows when the year closed.

Motion picture stocks were subject also to several conflicting influences peculiar to themselves during the year. A factor that made for caution on the part of stock buyers with respect to film issues was the mounting costs of the industry.

On the other hand, box office figures, at least until near the end of the year, were an incentive to the purchase of motion picture stocks.

Advances Made

Many of the film shares on the New York Stock Exchange early in 1937 touched new highs since 1932. All, however, fell back in subsequent price movements and the year-end found net losses ranging from 1½ points in Loew's preferred to 87¾ points in Paramount 1st preferred. Losses in market valuation ranged from $210,000 in Loew's preferred to $45,825,000 in Warner Brothers common.

The drop of $251,198,750 in market value of all listed film issues on the New York stock exchange brought their total valuation to $623,738,750 from $874,937,500 at the end of 1936.

Motion picture issues on the curb market and in the bond section of the stock exchange had similar reverses. In the former, Grand National was the most active issue, having a turnover of 651,300 shares for the year and closing at 3-4, off 2⅞.

Few Stock Changes Reported by SEC

Few changes occurred in the stock holdings of officers and directors of motion picture companies during November, the Securities and Exchange Commission reported in its semi-monthly summary last Friday.

The largest transaction was the disposition by Jack L. Warner, vice president, of 80,000 Warner Brother debentures, reducing his holdings to 1,208,000. In addition, he held 88,060 shares of common and 10,618 shares of preferred, direct, and 4,500 shares through a holding company.

Other transactions in Warner securities included the disposition of 500 shares of common held by Joseph H. Hazen, New York, by gift, and the sale by Albert Warner, vice president, New York, of 2,800 shares of common. At the close of the month, Major Warner held 61,648 shares of common, 10,618 of preferred and 1,794,000 debentures, direct, and 4,500 shares of preferred and 5,460 debentures through holding companies.

Other film stock transactions in November were reported for the following companies:

Columbia Pictures, disposition by Jack Cohn, vice president, of 5,100 common voting trust certificates, reducing his holdings to 32,607.

Educational Pictures, disposition by Bruno Weyers, New York officer and director, of 200 warrants for common, reducing his holdings to 800.

Grand National Films, receipt by Edward L. Alperson, New York officer and director, of 2,550 shares of common as compensation, bringing his holdings to 38,496 shares; acquisition by Timothy F. Murphy, New York officer and director, of 250 shares of common as compensation, his total holdings; and disposition by Kirk W. Todd, Pittsburgh director, of 2,000 shares of common, reducing his holdings to 3,050 shares.

Loew's Boston Theatres, acquisition by Loew's, Inc., of 58 shares of common, bringing its holdings to 97,818 shares.

Loew's, Inc., disposition by Arthur M. Loew, New York, of 100 shares of common, leaving him with 195 shares; and disposition by J. Robert Rubin, New York, of the 350 shares of $6.50 cumulative preferred held through a holding company and of 800 shares of common held direct, reducing his common holdings to 16,155 shares.

Legion Commends Ban on 'Sex' Film

Upholding of the New York State censor board's ban on "Birth of a Baby" by Frank P. Graves, Commissioner of the State Department of Education, was commended this week by the National Legion of Decency, in a letter sent to Commissioner Graves by the Reverend John J. McClafferty and Mrs. James F. Looram, of the Legion.

"We believe that the endorsement of the film by such reputable organizations as the American Medical Association, the American Hospital Association, the National Organization for Public Health Nursing was given on the basis of the picture's medical, scientific and technical merit," the Legion said, adding, "We cannot believe that these eminent associations intended that 'The Birth of a Baby' be generally exhibited as entertainment in the theatre, where audiences are composed of both sexes and of various ages, mentalities and temperaments. Adequate and satisfactory audience control is very difficult to obtain in theatres," the Legion continued. "An attempt to obtain audience control may readily create morbid and prurient curiosity."

The Legion charges that the picture "is a definite violation of the Production Code which governs the film production of the companies signatory to the Code," and explained that Legion reviewers witnessed two presentations of the film, unanimously agreeing that "the picture was indecent, immoral and would tend to corrupt morals."

Hays Plans Coast Trip

Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, plans to leave for his annual winter trip to the coast within a day or two after he receives the gold medal of achievement at the Poor Richard Dinner in Philadelphia January 17th. The MPPDA board of directors met Tuesday in an adjourned session but no statement was issued after the meeting.

Schenck Predicts Net of 10 Million For Fox Earnings

Twentieth Century-Fox's earnings statement for 1937 will be the best in the company's history, Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board of directors predicted Tuesday when he arrived in New York City from the coast. The net profit for the company, he estimated, will be $10,000,000.

Mr. Schenck arrived with Darryl Zanuck, Fox production chief, to attend the opening of "In Old Chicago" at the Astor theatre Thursday evening.

The company's earnings statement, Mr. Schenck said, will show, for the first time, the earnings of National Theatres, which has been in reorganization. However, he pointed out, Twentieth Century-Fox the parent company, will receive only 42 per cent of the theatre company's stock as the remainder is owned by the Chase Bank. Negotiations for the purchase by Twentieth Century-Fox of the bank's interest were suspended several months ago and, Mr. Schenck said, there is little likelihood of their being resumed in the near future.

In answer to queries on reports that his company had sought to have Alexander Korda produce for the company in England, Mr. Schenck said it had been ascertained Mr. Korda could not enter into an exclusive producing arrangement for Twentieth Century-Fox.

Mr. Zanuck, who was guest of honor at a cocktail party given at the Waldorf-Astoria Tuesday afternoon by Sidney R. Kent, president of Twentieth Century-Fox, said, on his arrival, that he planned no important changes in the production staff. He described "In Old Chicago" as his "best picture to date."

Mr. Kent, in reply to reports that he planned to retire from an active capacity in the company, said:

"When I'm flat on my back I'll retire, and when I am, I'll be dead. I would be if I quit work, too."

He said his health had improved materially in recent weeks.

With Mr. Schenck and Mr. Zanuck on the Twentieth Century from the Coast were Mrs. Zanuck, Virginia Wertheimer, Alice Fay, Jay Paley, Gregory Ratoff, William Dover and Sid Grauman, Jr.

Fox Action Against A. T. & T. Discontinued

A $397,500 anti-trust suit instituted by William Fox against American Telephone and Telegraph, Western Electric and Electrical Research Products, Inc., was marked settled and discontinued in the United States District Court, New York, this week.

Monopole Film, N. V., in Rotterdam, has been reorganized to handle distribution of the complete lineup of Monogram product, including features and westerns, according to Norton V. Ritchey, Monogram foreign export manager. M. A. Sprecher is managing director of the Monopole office.

PROGRESS
KEEPS THEM COMING

As in every other business, progress in the motion picture industry means more for the same money. The only way to hold patronage is by continuous improvement of the product you are selling.

Color is an example. Patrons will demand more and more of it. But good color projection means high intensity snow white light.

With High Intensity projection already installed in approximately one third of the country's leading motion picture houses, with a majority of the total seating capacity, patrons are accustomed to modern high grade projection. They expect it everywhere.

And why shouldn't they have it? Simplified High Intensity projection is not a luxury. It actually costs less per light unit on the screen than old style low intensity. Because this is so, you can have two to three times as much light on the screen and cover its cost with one more admission per show. Write for new, free, illustrated booklet, "The Eternal Triangle in Picture Projection."

SIMPLIFIED
High Intensity PROJECTION

ECONOMICAL AND MODERN

WITH "NATIONAL" "SUPREX" CARBONS

NATIONAL CARBON COMPANY, INC.
Unit of Union Carbide UCC and Carbon Corporation
CARBON SALES DIVISION, CLEVELAND, OHIO
General Offices: 30 East 42nd Street, New York, N. Y.
BRANCH SALES OFFICES: NEW YORK PITTSBURGH CHICAGO SAN FRANCISCO

Copyright 1938, National Carbon Company, Inc.

FOOD AND BUILDING, NOT FILMS, ARE IMMEDIATE TRUST TARGETS OF U.S.

Department of Justice, with Limited Budget, to Investigate Only "Most Flagrant Violations," Says Cummings

by FRANCIS L. BURT
in Washington

An attack on monopolistic practices in the food and building materials industries with a view to bringing about a general lowering of prices, rather than a campaign against the motion picture and other industries whose commodities do not enter so deeply into the daily life of all the people, was seen in Washington this week as the first objective of the Administration's projected anti-trust drive.

That no further immediate prosecutions in the film industry were to be expected was indicated by United States Attorney General Homer Cummings in his annual report, submitted to Congress as it met for its regular session on Monday.

A thorough study by appropriate Congressional committees of all phases of the entire monopoly situation in all American business was urged by Mr. Cummings before any new legislation is considered. Suggested matters for investigation would include patent controls, taxes and tariffs, and Federal licensing of corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

Asks Increased Funds

Pointing out that a major anti-trust prosecution costs from $100,000 to $150,000 and that ordinary Congressional appropriation permits of but a few such cases being brought annually, Mr. Cummings urged that Congress grant the Department of Justice increased funds and pointed out that the present law "or any plan that may be devised will not operate automatically."

"It is quite useless to pass laws with the expectation that they will be enforced unless the Department of Justice is supplied with personnel and appropriations adequate to the task," he said.

Inability of the department to proceed effectively under the present laws was discussed at length in that section of the Cummings' report on the work of the anti-trust division, and it was in this section that indications were given that the motion picture industry would be free from further attack, at least for a time.

Aim at "Most Flagrant Cases"

Because of the lack of Justice Department funds, it was said, a new policy has been adopted by the department of selecting "for intensive investigations those complaints which show the most flagrant cases of anti-trust violations and in which the greatest public interest is involved."

"This policy," it was explained, "recognizes that it is impossible with the present personnel to investigate intelligently every complaint and to prosecute successfully all the potential anti-trust cases. It recognizes that it is possible to investigate effectively only a few of those complaints which involve a substantial and widespread injury to the public, and that the cases which may or ought to be brought to trial should be the best of this selected group."

No specific reference was made to the motion picture situation in the report, but department officials indicated that the Administration's present attack on monopoly was directed at those "economic royalists" whose activities tended to increase the cost of living, and that monopolistic practices in other industries would be taken up when Congress provided additional funds.

Prior to the submission of Mr. Cummings' report Washington had heard that rigid investigations of the motion picture and certain other industries with a view to bringing anti-trust prosecutions were contemplated under President Roosevelt's plan for a drive against monopoly, although it was not believed that this phase of the situation would be discussed at any length in the Cummings' report.

Observers in Washington are frankly puzzled over the meaning of the recent burst of publicity given the anti-trust situation, and believe that the Administration's anti-monopoly drive will be directed principally against high prices in foods and building materials.

Modernization of the anti-trust statutes, the enactment of moderate wage-and-hour legislation and the amelioration of burdens imposed by the undistributed profits tax were outlined this week by President Roosevelt as the major matters which should be given consideration by the new session of Congress.

Defending the recent attacks of Robert H. Jackson, Assistant Attorney General in charge of anti-trust enforcement, and Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes against monopoly, Mr. Roosevelt emphasized the need for controlling the activities of those few business and industrial organizations seeking unwarranted power.

While naming no industries nor organizations specifically, he cited practices which reputedly have been employed in the motion picture as well as other industries as examples of the things to be suppressed, among them those involving patent laws, competition, excessive capitalization, investment write-ups.

That the Administration has not abandoned its drive for the enactment of wage-hour legislation was made plain by the President, who criticized those segments of industry which have opposed such a measure, and declared it to be "an essential part of economic recovery." Films are not concerned here.

Tax Relief Principles

Demand for the legislation, sent back to the Labor Committee by the House last month by a vote of 216 to 198, was based on the premise that no lasting value can come from the raising of the purchasing power of the farmers—provided for in the pending agricultural bill—unless that of the industrial worker also is raised.

In the field of tax relief, Mr. Roosevelt laid down the principles to be followed by Congress.

"In relation to tax changes," he said, "three things should be kept in mind. First, the total sum to be derived by the Federal Treasury must not be decreased as a result of any changes in schedules. Second, abuses by individuals or corporations designed to escape tax-paying by using various methods of doing business, corporate and otherwise" (including personal holding companies) "must not be restored. Third, we should rightly change certain provisions where they are driven to work definite hardship, especially on the small business men of the Nation."

Allied to Mark Time, MPTOA to Press for Trade Practice Reforms

An assortment of problems involving trade practices occupied the attention of the motion picture this week, highlighted by Allied's decision to mark time in the furtherance of its campaign for reforms, pending the outcome of a test now under way in North Dakota on legislation forcing divorcement of chain exhibition from production and distribution. Paramount is making the test, on behalf of all circuits, in a case for which the taking of depositions was started on Monday, in Minneapolis, film center of the Dakota-Minnesota territory. Actual trial will start in the Spring, in federal court, probably at Fargo, N. D.

On the other hand, the MPTOA, through Ed Kuykendall, its president, asserts it has the "solid support of the rank and file of reputable exhibitors" in compelling distributors to about-face on their "lack of cooperation and short-sightedness" in enacting the MPTOA's "ten-point" program for trade practice reform.

Because of the general expectancy that the President's general monopoly legislation would take care of the situation, it was considered unlikely in Washington that the contemplated Federal bill to divest producer-distributors of theatre holdings would be introduced.

Walter A. Huxman, Governor of Kansas, has taken an active hand in obtaining better clearance for theatres in Kansas City, Kan., the Governor writing to Will H. Hays, president of MPPDA, about the resentment of his constitutents against the better clearance afforded to nearby Kansas City, Mo.

In Kansas City, Mo., E. Rolsky and other independent exhibitors have abandoned the appeal of their conspiracy suit against Fox Midwest Theatres and major distributors in an anti-trust suit charging unfair clearance.

DRASTIC CONTROL OF FILM INDUSTRY PROPOSED BY FRENCH GOVERNMENT

New Bill to Include Measures for Supervision of Receipts; Limitation of Program Length and New Tax on Dubbing

by PIERRE AUTRE
in Paris

Drastic revision of the motion picture industry as at present constituted in France and strict regulation by the Government in future were indicated in the reported conclusions of the Cabinet's study of the industry, issued this week after months of strict official silence. The recommendations will be incorporated in a bill now in preparation by the Ministry of National Education to be presented to Parliament in the near future.

Outstanding among the proposals were stipulations for control of all theatre receipts by the Government, for the enforcement of single feature programs and for a new tax on dubbing, all of which are expected to be fought vigorously by exhibitors and distributors, especially the American companies.

The chief points in the recommendations include: a moral cleanup, prohibiting any person involved in bankruptcy or convicted of a penal offense from engaging in production or distribution;

Protection of French production by a special tax on dubbing and by representations to the State Department to consider such protection in negotiating foreign trade treaties;

Limitation of program length to encourage production of shorts, seen as a training ground for directors;

Strict application of these measures by the Government if the trade organizations fail to do so;

Supervised Financing

Control and improvement of financing by numerous means, among them Government control of theatre receipts and guarantees by producers plus application to the industry of the recent credit law;

A major reduction in the special entertainment tax;

Adaptation of the 40-hour work week law to film production and work in the studios;

Creation of a unique Government organization centralizing all the cinema departments presently dispersed in the various ministries.

Opposition Seen

The whole industry unquestionably will welcome the softening of the 40-hour week law and the reduction of the special entertainment tax but such drastic measures as limitation of programs, control of receipts and the dubbing tax certainly will meet with stubborn opposition.

Industry circles expressed considerable anxiety Friday when it was revealed that the plan on the entertainment tax had been adopted by the finance committee of the Chamber of Deputies. According to the measure the tax would be reduced 30 per cent for theatres with stage shows, vaudeville and orchestras, but would be increased 30 per cent for those houses without the stage attractions when the net receipts of the previous month exceeded 200,000 francs ($6,700).

The French Syndical Chamber, distributor and exhibitor associations are protesting vigorously, since they see in the measure a resulting increase by six per cent of the entertainment tax. The necessity for stage shows would mean single feature programs which would cut heavily into the revenues of distributors and producers, and increase exhibitors' expense without a corresponding increase in receipts.

Secrecy Maintained

While the Ministry of National Education maintained strict secrecy on the status or contents of the proposals which were reported to have been introduced at a Cabinet meeting two months ago, speculation was rife in all branches of the industry as to what direction the regulations would take.

Georges Huisman, director of the Fine Arts Department of the Ministry, representing the Government at committee meetings of the Employers' and Employees' Unions of the Cinema Section, consistently had refused to reveal the contents of the proposed bill on the ground that secrecy was necessary to avoid the indiscretions which were fatal to the decrees of Mario Roustan, former Minister of National Education, in 1933.

Syndicates to be Created

The Exhibitors' Association organ, L'Ecran, several weeks ago published a purported summary of the proposals which followed in large part the conclusions as they were reported this week. In discussing the centralization of Government control of the industry and the proposal for control of receipts the journal said:

"The most important part of the proposed bill is as follows: In each of the branches of the industry (technical, production, distribution, and exhibition) an Employers' Syndicate would be created, the statutes of which would be previously approved by the Government. These syndicates would be grouped in a "Chamber of the Cinema," including also the General Trade Unions, and two Government representatives and having an absolute right of initiative or veto. All members of the Cinema Industry, even those not belonging to the Syndicate, would have to obey the decisions of this Chamber. If, for any reason, whether employers' opposition or disagreement with the members of the Trade Unions, this Chamber of the Cinema is not constituted within the six months following the promulgation of the decrees, the Government would give the management of the Cinema Industry to a "Central Committee of the Cinema," which would include a minority of employers' representatives among the Government representatives and delegates of the General Trade Unions. In either case an Arbitration Committee, including a majority of civil servants and representatives of the Government, and presided over by a councillor of the state, would be created. This commission would take all final decisions on all matters, where the Chamber of the Cinema would not have been able, or would have refused to take decisions in spite of the demands of the Government representatives.

Central Fund Proposed

"A central fund for the cinema would be established with statutes approved by the Government, and submitted to its control. With the funds of the cinema industry, obtained through the daily collection of receipts in the theatres, this organization would examine all the projects of films, scripts and budgets; would find for the producers, financial and technical help and would have absolute control of production. It would centralize the funds obtained by the producers, the receipts of the films in the theatres, would distribute these receipts, would receive the negative films in deposit, would allow the printing of the films, control the book-keeping of the distributors and exhibitors and would receive subvention from the state and from the towns, for the production of films of general interest.

▽

Production Cost Up

One of the specialists on cinema statistics in France, Pierre Chéret, has revealed that between October, 1935, and October, 1937, the cost of production of an average French film has increased by 800,000 francs, 2,640, at the current exchange of one dollar for 30 French francs. Mr. Chéret has established the average cost of 20 average French films of both periods and has compared the average costs.

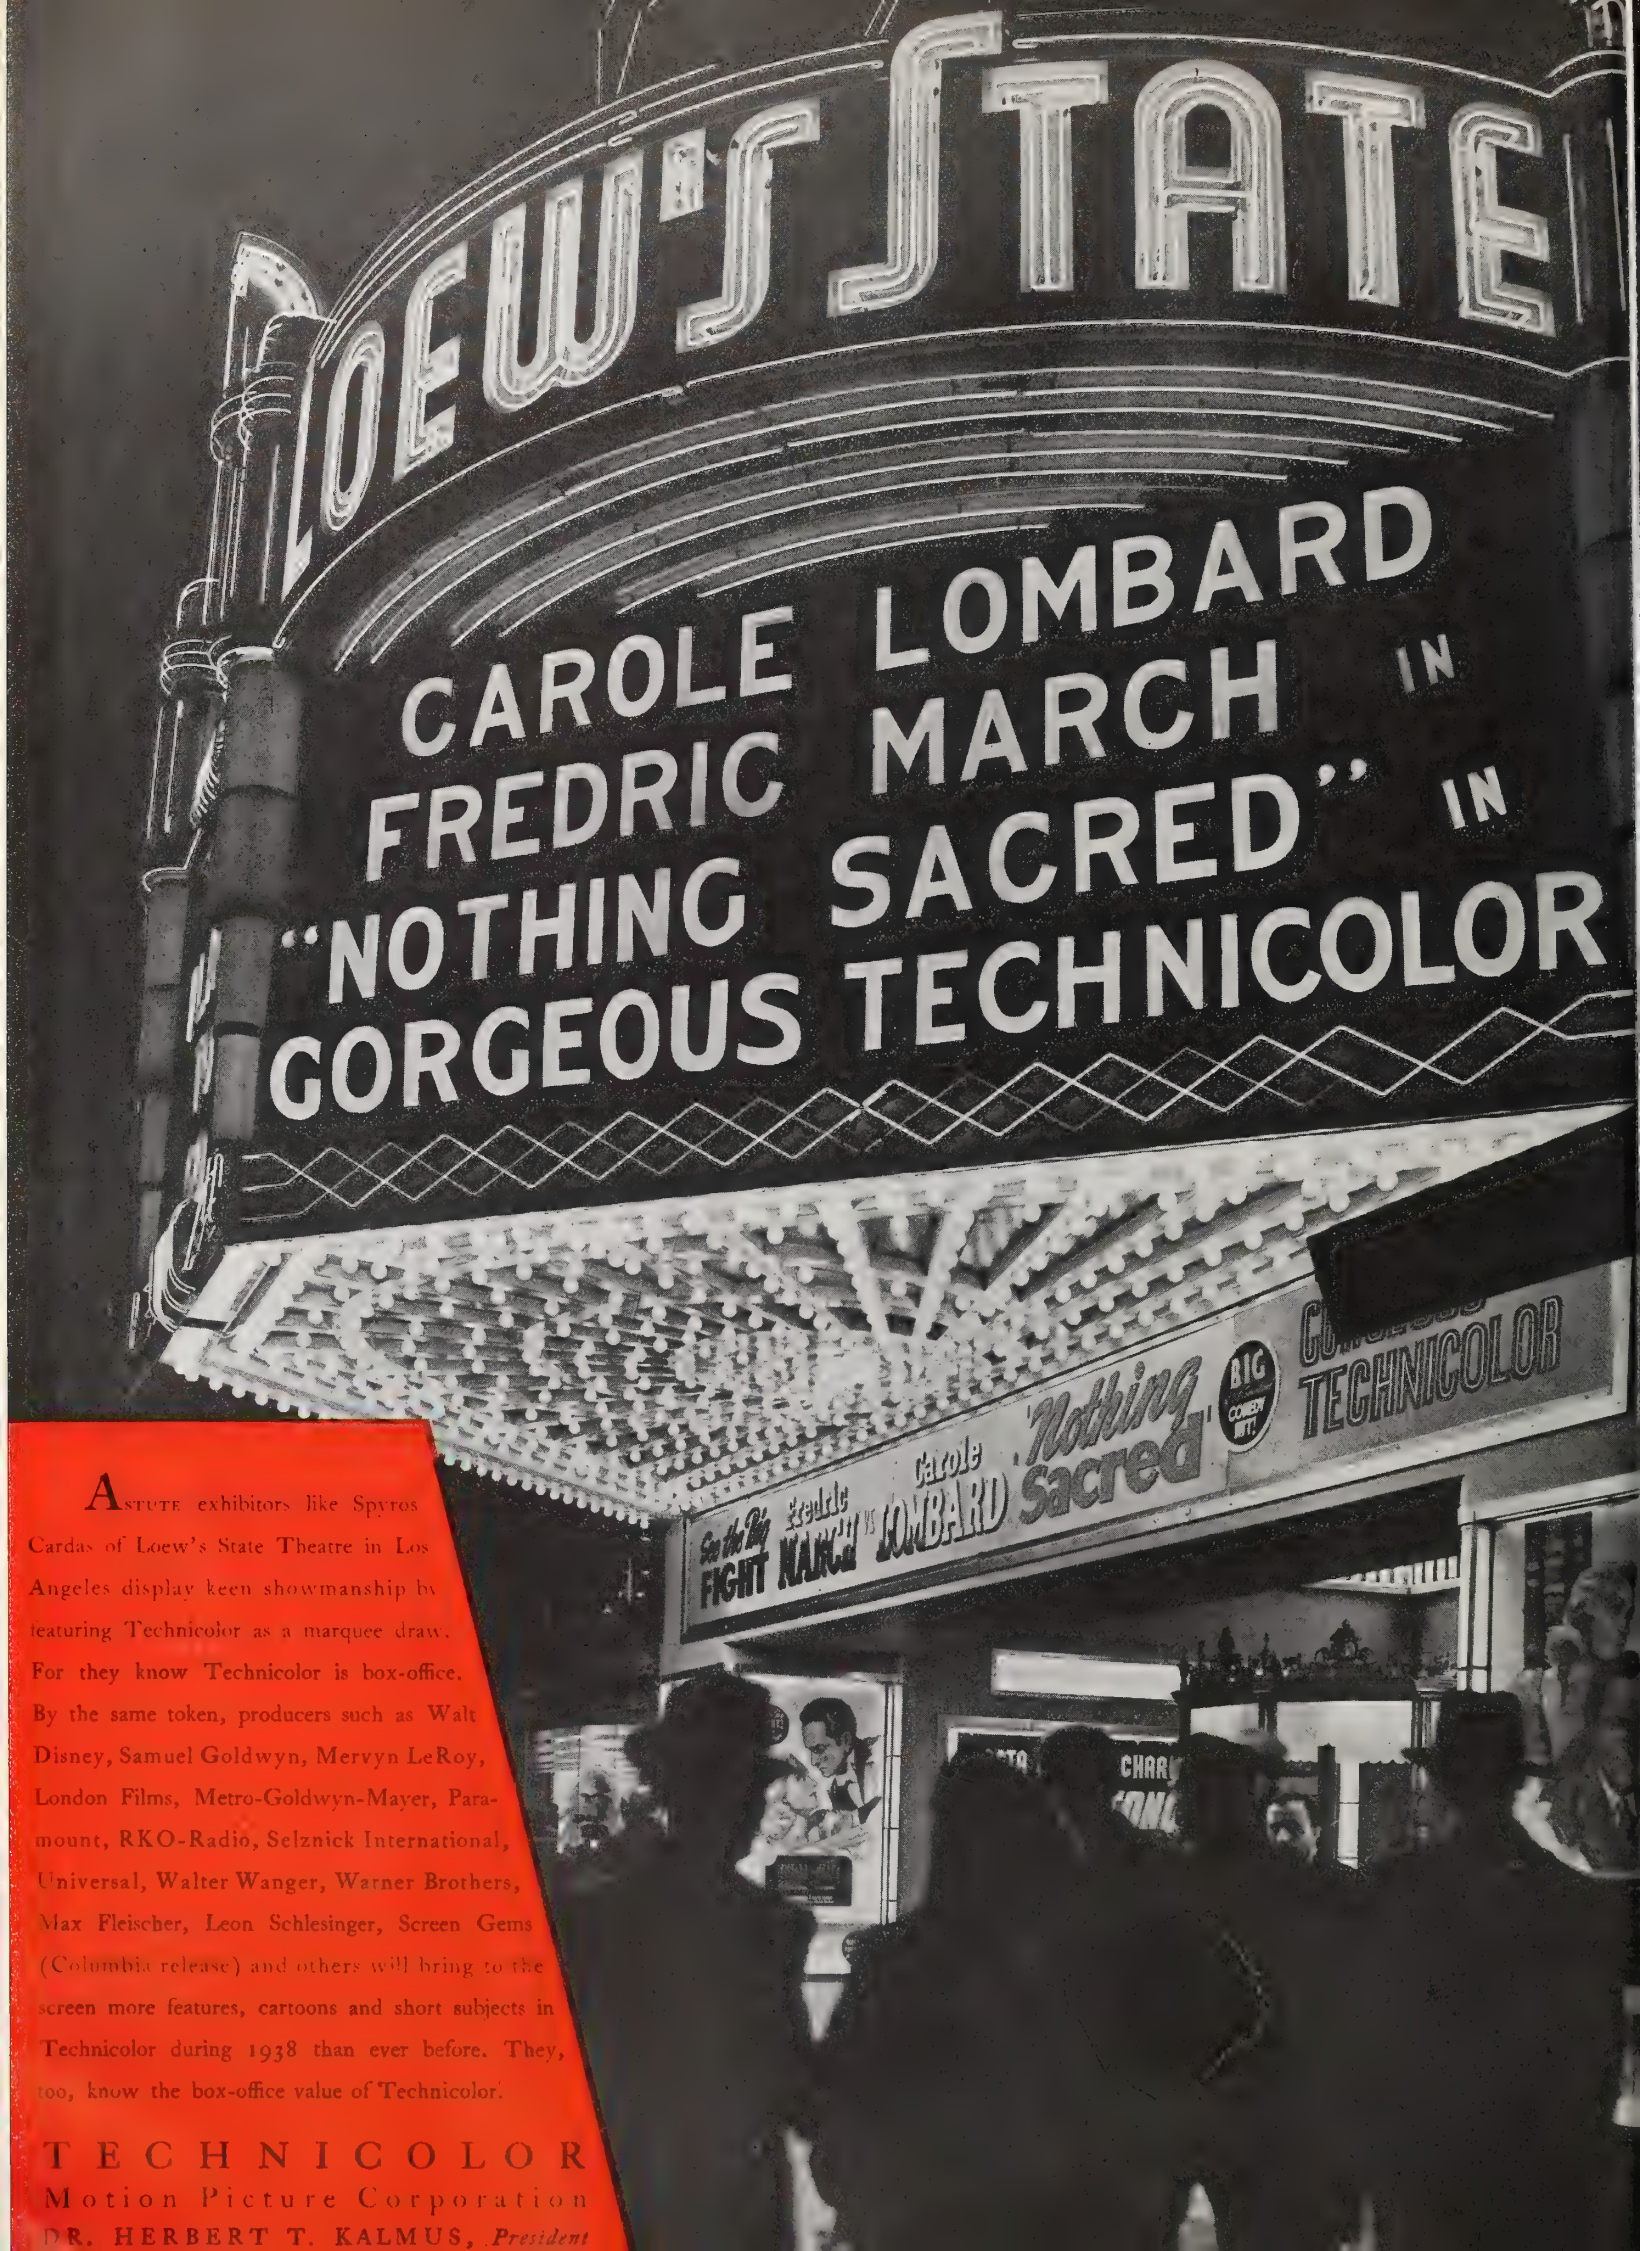
In 1935, the average cost of a French film was 1,850,000 francs, that is to say, as at that time a dollar was worth 15 francs, $124,000. In October 1937, the average cost was 2,650,000 francs, at the exchange rate of one dollar for 30 francs, $89,000. The increase of 800,000 francs is mainly due to the higher cost of living in France, higher wages and new taxes on production.

Factors in the increase with the percentage each has advanced, were:

Crew and Labor	100 per cent
Sound recording license	88 per cent
Negative film	86 per cent
Sets	84 per cent
Still cameramen, cutters	55 per cent

Other Increases Smaller

Other members of the technical staff have obtained an increase of 30 to 50 per cent, as well as the extras. Film directors, assistants and leading players get only 25 to 30 per cent more.



It is to be noticed that the heavy rise in negative film and sound recording licenses, is mainly due to the devaluation of the French franc, and has not reached its highest point as it ought to have increased 100 per cent.

If the figures are transformed into dollars,

(Continued on following page)

GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF FUNDS PROPOSED

One of the most significant of the provisions of the new bill for Government control of the French cinema industry, as reported in l'Ecran, journal of the Exhibitors' Association and listed by Pierre Autre in the accompanying story, is that for the creation of a central fund into which all receipts from theatres would be paid and from which disbursements to producers would be made after scrutiny of proposed films. All bookkeeping of the distribution and exhibition branches would be handled by the custodians of the fund.

ASTUTE exhibitors like Spyros Cardas of Loew's State Theatre in Los Angeles display keen showmanship by featuring Technicolor as a marquee draw. For they know Technicolor is box-office. By the same token, producers such as Walt Disney, Samuel Goldwyn, Mervyn LeRoy, London Films, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Paramount, RKO-Radio, Selznick International, Universal, Walter Wanger, Warner Brothers, Max Fleischer, Leon Schlesinger, Screen Gems (Columbia release) and others will bring to the screen more features, cartoons and short subjects in Technicolor during 1938 than ever before. They, too, know the box-office value of Technicolor.

TECHNICOLOR
Motion Picture Corporation
DR. HERBERT T. KALMUS, President

PRODUCTION COSTS SHOW INCREASE

(Continued from page 57)

and taking count of the devaluation of the French franc, the average cost of a French film will seem to have decreased by $35,000 in the last two years. Generally speaking, the devaluation has not interfered much in the increase of these costs. Had it done so, the average cost would be about 4 million francs.

The comparison of all the figures shows that an average French film costs more than ten times less than an American film.

It is to be remembered that French production is a matter of independent producers, and that except in the case of the French Tobis, which owns its studio at Epinay, all the producers must hire their studios, their lights, their editing and projection rooms and so on.

It is surprising to note that excellent French films such as "Pepe le Moko" and "La Grande Illusion," which are in artistic and technical quality up to the standard of the best American productions, cost between 3 and 4 million francs, at the present rate of exchange that is to say between $100,000 and $134,000.

▽

Boyer in New Film

Charles Boyer is starring in his first French film since "Mayerling," made in 1935. The picture is "Le Venin," taken from a famous play by the French author Henry Bernstein, to be produced by André Daven and directed by Marc Allégret. The cast includes the new French star Michèle Morgan, who recently made her name in her first film "Gribouille," also produced and directed by the same team, Lisette Lanvin, Jean-Louis Barrault, and Jane Lory. The film, of which the outdoor scenes were made on location in the French Riviera, is nearly completed. It is expected to be one of the most important French films of the year, due to the name of Charles Boyer and to the title of the play.

"La Marseillaise" in Production

One of the most ambitious French films ever produced, "La Marseillaise," a film financed by the Trade Unions and by the French workers, is just reaching its third months of production. Action is during the French Revolution, and shows how the people of Marseilles brought to Paris the famous revolutionary anthem which became the National French song. It is directed by Jean Renoir, of "Lower Depths" and "The Great Illusion." The most important scenes with thousands of extras were shot on location around the Castle of Fontainebleau where old streets and old houses still exist. It was on this spot that the scenes of the taking of the Tuileries, in August 1792, were shot. Other scenes were made on location in the south of France. Now Jean Renoir is directing the final scenes at the Billancourt Studios near Paris, where the apartments of King Louis XVI and Queen Marie-Antoinette have been faithfully reconstituted.

The cast includes Lise Delamare (Marie Antoinette), Pierre Renoir (Louis XVI), Louis Jouvet, Maurice Escande, Aimé Clariond, The première will take place in Paris at the end of January. Running time will be at least 2 hours and 45 minutes.

Feyder Directing for Tobias

The French director Jacques Feyder whose latest films are "Carnival in Flanders" and "Knight without Armour," has been working in the Tobis Bavaria films studios, near Munich (Germany) where he directs respectively for the French and German Tobis companies the French and German versions of his new film "Les Gens du Voyage," a story on the life of a circus. Action is in France, and, for this purpose, a whole French village with all the details has been built up by French art directors on the studio grounds. A real circus was also engaged for the whole time of production. The French cast includes Françoise Rosay (Mrs. Jacques Feyder), who plays also the same part in the German version, the French stage actor André Brulé, Marie Glory, Sylvia Bataille, Guillaume de Sax, Fabien Loris, and Louisa Carletti. These three last are "discoveries" of Mr. Feyder.

The German cast includes Hans Albers, Camilla Horn, Irene von Meyendorff, and Françoise Rosay. Shooting started on September 15 and the picture will not be completed before the end of the year.

"Les Gens du Voyage" is expected to cost for the two versions, $500,000, a very high price for a continental film.

When he has completed this film, Mr. Feyder is reported going to Hollywood where he will make a film for MGM for which company he directed in 1929 the last silent film of Greta Garbo, "The Kiss" and a few French and German versions of American films such as "Olympia," "Father's Day" and 'Anna Christie."

In the Cutting Room

Les Pirates du Rail" ("The Railway Pirates")—A thriller film, with action in Indo-China and China, taken from the novel by O. P. Gilbert and directed by Christian Jaque. Cast Eric Von Stroheim, Charles Vanel, Inkijinoff, Dalio, Suzy Prim (Product. F. R. D.).

"The Liberty" from Leopold Netter's novel adapted by Henri Dupuy-Mazuel. It deals with the life of the French sculptor Bartholdi and his famous masterpiece "The Statue of Liberty" Director: Jean Kemm, Cast: Maurice Escande, Germaine Rouer.

"The Cheat" ("Forfaiture")—This French talking version of the famous silent success by Cecil B de Mille was directed by Marcel l'Herbier and played by Sessue Hayakawa (in the same part as in the silent version), Lise Delamare (in the part of Fanny Ward), Victor Francen and Louis Jouvet.

New Films Announced

The French-British director Edmond Greville, who made in London "Brief Ecstasy" and the English version of "Mademoiselle Docteur," is now working on the production of a new French film "Isle of Sin," from an original story by L. Salviche.

The German director Robert Siodmak, who is directing "Mollenard," a French speaking film from O. P. Gilbert's novel, will make the same film in English in a London studio.

The French director André Hugon is preparing production of a French talking version of the famous German silent film directed by Pabst, "The Joyless Street," in which for the first time Greta Garbo starred.

Pierre Fresnay and Erich Von Stroheim will co-star in "The Story of la Paiva," the famous dancer and spy in France under the reign of Napoleon III.

The French author, director and actor Sacha Guitry who produced "Les Perles de la Couronne" has just completed a new film "Desire" and is going to bring to the screen his last play "Quadrille."

The French company Regina Film will produce a French talking version of "The Patriot," from the novel by Alfred Neumann.

ALBERT GOEHRING ON TOBIS-SASCHA BOARD

by HANS LORANT

in Vienna

Albert Goehring, brother of the Premier of Prussia, Fritz Kalber of Berlin and Dr. Josef Ketterer of Vienna were elected to the board of Tobis-Sascha, largest producing and distributing company in Austria, at a recent extraordinary meeting. Also named as new general managers were Fritz Hirth and Edouard Heinl, an Austrian ex-Minister who has taken over the shares of the former general manager, Dr. Oscar Pilcer, a non-Aryan.

Of the 14 contingentation tickets enabling Austrian films to be shown in Germany, 11 are owned by Tobis-Sascha. Seven films are already completed, three more tickets are reserved for a Paula Wessely film, a Willy Forst production and for "Finale". The eleventh ticket is being kept for a Prater film which was banned in Germany once but which, it is hoped, will be accepted.

Oklahoma City Ministers Commend 'Moral Improvement'

A letter commending the motion picture for the "improvement in moral tone" of pictures, but criticizing it for numerous whisky scenes, has been signed by 19 Oklahoma City ministers. Addressed to Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, the letter was circulated among 40 churchmen who attended the election meeting of the Oklahoma City Ministers' Alliance.

The letter pointed out that many of the drinking scenes in motion pictures tended to "falsify life," but added that "improvement in moral tone of films was indicative that the industry is willing to assume the responsibility it carries." George Kassabaum, YMCA secretary, who was named secretary-treasurer of the Alliance, said the letter was not, however, an Alliance project.

An ordinance to ban all suggestive films, presented to the common council judiciary committee of Milwaukee, Wis., by Alderman John E. Kalupa, has been put aside by that body with the recommendation that exhibitors confer with Mr. Kalupa before it again is brought before the committee. The ordinance would bar minors, under 18, from seeing socalled "educational sex films" unless accompanied by parent, guardian "or other adult."

Resumes Former Post

Dan Michalove, who has been at the Twentieth Century-Fox studios on the coast for the last year, has resumed his former post at the home office as assistant to Sidney R. Kent, president.

Margaret Waite has been appointed eastern story head for Republic. She will leave for the coast shortly to confer with studio executives on new material.

TELEVISED NEWS PLACED ON COMMERCIAL BASIS

Peck Company Launches New York Service; Baird Claims System to Transmit Colors

Television, usually associated with demonstrations in which skits or motion pictures are televised, was put to a different use in New York recently when the Peck Television Company launched America's first commercial television news service.

Activity in the field of television, however, was not limited, in recent weeks, to the accomplishment of the Peck Company. Among other developments was the flat assertion by John Hay Whitney, chairman of the board of Selznick International, that television in England, despite two weekly broadcasts, "is still in an interesting stage and will be no threat to theatres."

"The public in England," Mr. Whitney said, "is apathetic to television. It is still in the development stage."

In contrast to this, though, was the announcement by John L. Baird that he has successfully demonstrated television in three colors, transmitting a "Popeye" cartoon on a theatre screen in England. The colors said to have been used were blue, green and red.

Goldsmith Addresses Teachers

Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, former vice-president of the Radio Corporation of America and present technical consultant to the company, informed the convention of the New York State Science Teachers in Syracuse last week that "the approach of television as a home service emphasizes the rapidly growing influence of science upon our existence."

"The time has arrived," he said, "when everyone should understand at least the fundamental principles of the many technical devices in daily use. Unless we understand the natural laws of this world, and the rules which govern our implements and surroundings, we can hardly hope to live most effectively and comfortably."

Dr. Goldsmith stressed the importance of electronics which, he said, is "just one department of electricity."

"Yet," he continued, "it is growing so fast that it already assists many other sciences, and in turn draws upon them for the materials of its own advances. In electronic television, for example, engineers must go deep into the frontiers of electricity, light, heat, mechanics and optics, as well as various branches of chemistry and metallurgy. The new art is becoming of such theoretical, industrial and technical importance that it requires far more detailed attention from teacher and student than heretofore."

CBS Transmitter Tested

Other announcements concerning television included the Columbia Broadcasting System's statement that its new television transmitter is being given its first power tests at a Camden, New Jersey, plant and probably will be ready for delivery to New York shortly after the first of the year. The transmitter is to be installed on the 73rd and 74th floors of the Chrysler Building and will provide television programs from the nearby Grand Central Station studios now being built by Columbia.

Television will not reach the public for at least five to ten years, Michael J. Cade, a senior in the electrical engineering college of Tulane University, said in an address before fellow students recently.

Problems of program distribution and financing will prevent the use of television becoming common sooner, Mr. Cade said.

The National Broadcasting Company also was active, in that it received its first mobile television station, to be used in experimental pickups of outdoor news events.

The Peck Company's venture was inaugurated with the transmission of news from the company's transmitting location in the Hotel Lincoln, 45th Street and Eighth Avenue, to Jack Dempsey's Restaurant at 50th Street and Eighth Avenue.

Before starting the transmission, officials of the company explained the system. The messages were typed on a cellophane ribbon at the hotel, and then the ribbon spun into the transmitting machine, where photo-electric cells picked up and sent out the message.

Messages were received and flashed across a ground glass screen at Dempsey's. They were in black and white with letters approximately four inches in height. The company, it was announced, expects to have approximately 200 clients within six months and also expects to be selling its receivers on the open market for about $250 a set.

The service, such as now in use at Dempsey's, is leased for $35 to $45 a month.

A demonstration to determine whether the transmission of news by radio telephony is practical was announced by Continental Radio Press, Inc., supplementary news service, and Press Wireless, Inc. The news is transmitted for two 15-minute periods daily, Mondays through Fridays, from 9 to 9:15 A. M. and from 5 to 5:15 P. M., E. S. T.

The transmission, it was said, is strictly for test purposes and is being staged under Press Wireless experimental license. If successful, a permanent license will be sought from the Federal Communications Commission.

The FCC granted the application of Philco Radio and Television Corporation for a new television broadcast station at Philadelphia to operate on the 20,400-21,000 kilocycle band with 15 watts power on an experimental basis. The commission also granted experimental authority to WGN, WOR, Newark; WSM, Nashville, and KSD, St. Louis, to use their broadcast transmitters for experimental transmission of facsimile on their regular frequencies between 1 and 6 P. M.

New South Wales, Tasmania, Pass New Quota Laws

The New South Wales Parliament has passed a bill reducing film distribution quota for 1938 to three per cent. The bill, however, requires distributors to produce in Australia, if necessary, to meet their quota obligation, but distributors will not be proceeded against under the old quota law, which required them to distribute five per cent Australian films, provided they agree to comply with the terms of the new quota act.

Under the new bill exhibitors have a general rejection right of 12½ per cent of all non-British films contracted for and a further three per cent rejection right in order to find playing time for Australian quota films.

The Legislative Assembly of Tasmania passed a bill giving exhibitors a 25 per cent rejection right. The Government, however, has delayed presentation of the bill to the Legislative Council and it has not yet become a law.

There is a possibility that the legislation enacted in New South Wales and Tasmania, which with Victoria, Queensland, South Australia and West Australia make up the Commonwealth of Australia, may be discounted by the proposed British-American trade treaty now under discussion.

The treaty calls for trade agreements between the United States and the United Kingdom, and not Great Britain alone. If the negotiations are successfully concluded, such a treaty, with respect to films as to all other products included, would be binding on Australia as well.

Extension Given On RKO Option

A six months' extension of the option held by the Atlas Corporation to purchase the present holdings of RCA in Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation for $6,000,000 was agreed upon last Thursday, the eve of the expiration date of the option.

In consideration of the extension to June 30th, Atlas will purchase one-twelfth of the RCA holdings in RKO for $500,000 cash during this month. The agreement also provided that in return for exercising the option to the extent of an additional $500,000, the option on the remainder will be extended to December 31st, 1938.

Extension of the option was agreed upon, it was announced, because the RKO plan of reorganization still is pending.

Meanwhile, the naming of a theatre operating head for RKO to succeed Nate J. Blumberg, who this week became president of Universal, was delayed pending the return to New York of Leo Spitz, RKO president, who is on the Coast. Until Mr. Blumberg's successor is named, Major Leslie E. Thompson and John O'Connor will have charge of the theatres.

Comfortize with

FAIRBANKS MORSE Air Conditioners

DIESEL ENGINES
PUMPS
ELECTRICAL MACHINERY
FAIRBANKS SCALES
RAILROAD EQUIPMENT
WATER SYSTEMS
REFRIGERATORS
RADIOS
WASHERS
FARM EQUIPMENT
STOKERS
AIR CONDITIONERS

ITOA, NEW YORK, DROPS BAN ON CHANCE GAMES

Suggests Members Protect Themselves Against Circuits by "Adequate" Giveaways

The Independent Theatre Owners Association of New York has despaired of eliminating chance games and giveaways in the city and suggests to members that they protect themselves against the circuits by making their giveaways adequate. They said, "the lid is off."

The ITOA is planning a "mass" giveaway scheme, similar to the $50,000 giveaway contemplated some time ago.

The association clung to the hope, however, that the successor to Nate Blumberg as head of RKO Theatres would assist in lining up large circuits against giveaway policies.

John J. O'Connor, RKO circuit executive, however claimed that it is up to the ITOA to show its sincerity in making the first move.

Elsewhere chance game developments concerned chiefly the manner of prosecution to be employed in enforcing recent rulings banning the games in Missouri, Kentucky, San Francisco and Milwaukee.

An editorial in the ITOA house organ, The Independent, read in part: "After relentlessly pursuing a course destined to result in the elimination of games and giveaways the ITOA finds itself stymied because cooperation from the circuits has been sadly lacking. . . .

"But now the time has come to face the facts. Giveaways are not eliminated or even curtailed. Enough time and effort have been wasted in attempts towards that end. The ITOA must meet the competitive situations that arise against its membership and since giveaways are the mode and probably will be for some time to come, it is our suggestion that the members protect themselves by making their giveaways adequate. . . . Since there seems to be no tendency to return to the business of merchandising motion pictures, the ITOA is willing to admit that 'the lid is off'."

Sales of Guaranteed Tickets Barred

State's attorney Ed Hardy of Illinois ordered the sale of theatre Bank Night guarantee tickets stopped by Galesburg theatres, holding sale a violation of Illinois lottery laws.

The prosecution of exhibitors and others using Bank Night and other forms of lotteries in Missouri has been placed in the hands of Attorney General Roy McKittrick following the recent Missouri supreme court ruling that Bank Night is a lottery and against the law.

In calling on local enforcement officers to take vigorous action against such schemes, Mr. McKittrick pointed out that his office as long ago as April 12, 1934, held Bank Night to be a lottery. Since his original opinion in 1934, Mr. McKittrick said, "many federal courts and the states of Texas, Georgia, Kansas, Louisiana, Illinois, Nebraska and the post office department have concurred in the view pioneered here."

Ignore State Ruling

San Francisco theatres continued operation of audience games despite the recent ruling of State Attorney General U. S. Webb that all such devices violate the state anti-lottery law.

Meanwhile theatre operators stressed the legality of such games and waited to see if action is planned by the police. Attorneys for theatre interests stressed the legality of the games in California as long as "free participation by non-patrons existed."

No action is expected to be taken by the chief of police of Milwaukee, Wis., to enforce an order banning games in local theatres, which became effective January 1st, pending an opinion from the Wisconsin Attorney General, Orlando S. Loomis on the application of the state lottery law to theatres.

Court Action Dropped

Court action against Harold Perlman, manager of the Rivera, Milwaukee neighborhood house, on charges of "selling tickets with the pretense of giving a prize" was dismissed in district court there by Judge A. J. Hedding, who indicated to the plaintiff, Roman Wojciechowski, that his quarrel was with an automobile agency.

Mr. Wojciechowski brought action after he had been awarded an automobile by the theatre as a prize, which he testified did not meet the specifications set forth in the theatre's advertising. He stated he was led to believe that he was to receive a car valued at $300 but that the agency offered him a 1929 model worth about $60.

Circuit Judge J. L. Price in Paducah held that the anti-lottery laws of Kentucky are violated by "thrift night" awards in an opinion delivered in a test case against the Columbia Amusement Company which operates two motion picture theatres in Paducah. This is the first opinion delivered by a Kentucky court on "thrift night" awards.

Reversing its previous decision, the Casper, Wyo., City Council voted down an ordinance to prohibit Bank Night after having passed it unanimously on the first ballot. The ordinance would have banned all forms of drawings, but was voted down by a 4 to 2 count.

Recording Patent

A patent has been allowed and will be issued shortly on a new optical system for recording sound directly on 16mm. and 35mm. film. The system uses a spherical concave mirror which utilizes ultra-violet rays. George H. Callahan will market the patent.

Acquire State Rights

Holbrook C. Bissell and Cornelius Linehan, independent state rights distributors with headquarters in Cleveland, have purchased "Thunder Over the Orient" for northern Ohio distribution. They also purchased for Ohio and Kentucky distribution the re-issue of "Party Girl," starring Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Jeanette Loff.

McGuire Asks Release

William Anthony McGuire has asked for a release of his Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract following completion of "Girl of the Golden West." He is reported to be eager to return to Broadway to do a musical show.

Grand at Salem Remodeled

The Grand theatre, Salem, Ohio, has reopened after extensive remodeling inside and out. N. I. Walken, of Walken Brothers, proprietors, said the cost approximated $20,000.

SHORT PRODUCT PLAYING BROADWAY

Week of January 1

CAPITOL
- Bosco in Bagdad..... MGM
- What Do You Think..... MGM

CRITERION
- Clean Pastures ..... Vitaphone
- Community Sing No. 4..... Columbia

MUSIC HALL
- Pluto's Quintuplets ..... RKO-Radio

PARAMOUNT
- Popeye Let's Celebrate.... Paramount

RIALTO
- Beau Hunks ..... MGM

RIVOLI
- The Old Mill..... RKO-Radio
- Ancient Cities of Southern France ..... Major Devlin

ROXY
- Dates and Nuts..... Educational
- Bugs Beetle and Orchestra..
- Trailing Animal Story..... 20th Century-Fox

STRAND
- The Man Without a Country ..... Vitaphone

Cagney Rejoining Warners March 14

James Cagney and Warner Brothers this week completed an agreement under which the actor rejoins the company March 14th. The agreement ends the longest talent contract dispute in Hollywood history. During his absence from Warners Cagney made two pictures for Grand National.

A statement from Warners read: "We welcome Cagney back in the Warner fold. We have always held a warm spot for him and will go forward together in a greater effort to produce the finest picture we have ever made with this brilliant young artist. Our organization has been instructed to make every effort to secure for him the finest vehicle possible. We are now trying to arrange for one of the most important properties in the show business as his initial starring vehicle."

Cagney said: "My sole interest is, as it always has been, to make good pictures. I return to Warners confident that I shall be afforded every opportunity to realize this purpose."

A court order reinstated the actor's old contract. The order obtained in supreme court in San Francisco voided the Los Angeles superior court decision which voided the contract in 1935.

Edward L. Alperson, president of Grand National, announced Tuesday that James Cagney will definitely fulfill his commitment with Grand National. "Angels With Dirty Faces," starring Mr. Cagney, will go into production immediately. It was written by Rowland Brown, who will also direct.

Adolph Pollak has quit as general sales manager of Theatre Trailer Service to devote his time exclusively to the commercial field and state rights business.

Out with the New Year

FAME

Edited By TERRY RAMSAYE

THE WORLD'S AUDIT of PERSONALITIES by SHOWMEN

The fourth annual edition of the international reference authority on star values is now on the press. . . . ¶ The box office champions of 1937 presented with complete analysis and personnel credits. . . . ¶ The money making stars of the season evaluated and reported upon by the exhibitor showmen of the world. . . . ¶ The radio champions of 1937 as polled by the radio editors of the daily newspapers of America. . . . ¶ Fame and Radio—an analysis of the extent to which the air waves lean on Hollywood for talent.

ONE DOLLAR THE COPY

QUIGLEY PUBLICATIONS

ROCKEFELLER CENTER, NEW YORK

IATSE MOVES TO PUSH ORGANIZATION DRIVE

Bioff Goes to Washington to Supervise Work; Sound Service Union Contracts Signed

Indications that the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees is laying plans for the furtherance of its claim to jurisdiction over all motion picture production crafts and employees were seen this week in moves made by officials of the International following the endorsement of local government by the International by the Hollywood unions.

Studio Technicians, Local 37, in Hollywood voted overwhelmingly in favor of supervision by the International, thus putting all four studio locals on record against autonomy.

William Bioff, personal representative of George Browne, International president, was ordered to Washington headquarters from Hollywood to direct national organization work.

The IATSE assumed jurisdiction of theatre sound servicing men, affecting between 250 and 400 in the field.

Mr. Browne, following the Hollywood studio voting, said, "I would like to see the time come when you in Hollywood sit in the studios as we do in the theatres."

Mr. Bioff who has been in charge of organization on the coast for the past year, was ordered to Washington in the following telegram from Louis Krouse, general secretary of the International:

"Due to events transpiring that are of vital importance to labor in our industry and to our organization in particular, President Browne instructed me to advise you to arrange your affairs so as to be able to devote your entire time to these matters in our Washington office at the earliest possible moment."

Mr. Bioff was to leave Hollywood this week with Harland Holmden, international vice-president in charge of the coast office.

The vote of the studio locals definitely ended the campaign among member factions for autonomy. Local 37 voted 3,446 for the present rule and 32 against. Among members of the photographers', studio laboratory works' and sound men's unions, all of whom balloted last week, only 60 of the 2,200 eligible to vote disapproved of the present system.

Increase for Service Men

Under the terms of the new contract for sound service men field employees will receive $80 per week and special inspctors $110. Electrical Research Products, Inc., formerly paid service men $65 weekly and inspectors received from $80 to $85. RCA Photophone paid service men approximately $40 per week and special inspectors about $70. A maximum of 54 hours per week is established in the contracts.

L. W. Conrow, head of Altec Service Corporation, which took over Erpi's sound service last month, said this week the increase in wage scales would not bring about an increase in the company's servicing charges. He said Altec had been paying the schedules established by Erpi and that the differential could be absorbed without an increase in rates.

E. C. Cahill of RCA, in New York, said that Photophone would not raise its service charges to theatres as a result of the new wage scales.

With the IATSE obtaining supervision over the equipment service men the regular employees of the service companies will be admitted to IATSE membership. This agreement disposes of previous efforts of established IATSE locals to enter the sound service field and displace service men with union members. Such a move was threatened last fall by several of the large projectionists' unions which wanted their unemployed members absorbed in the service field.

Basson Reelected by 306

Joseph Basson was reelected president of Local 306, New York projectionists' union, for a two year term. Other officers named were Frank Ruddock, vice-president; Arthur Beckman, financial secretary; Pinkie Hurst, treasurer, and Walter Burns and Charlies Kielburn, business managers.

ERPI Laboratory Formally Opened

Electrical Research Products, Inc., a subsidiary of the Western Electric Company, whose activity is devoted to the commercialization of products of the latter company not primarily intended for use in the telephone industry, formally opened its New York engineering laboratory Monday.

Located at 76 Varick Street, Manhattan, the new institution is a modernized version of the former laboratory, located in the Bronx.

In conjunction with the opening recent ERPI developments were displayed including a 16mm. sound film recorder which incorporates the detailed engineering and planning which the professional 35mm. machines represent. Another device consisted of a new "negative playback amplifier," which permits the immediate reproduction of negative films, offering the oral advantages that would be given a device capable of permitting the viewing of a photographic negative as a finished positive print.

Other devices demonstrated were a remote volume control for theatres, by which sound may be regulated in accordance with house conditions; an apparatus for the elimination of flutter in 16mm. reproduction, a method for developing measurement devices for sound, and developments in other commercial fields.

M & P Rebuilding Burned House

The lease of the Columbia theatre, Bath, Me., which was destroyed by fire, has been renewed by Mullin and Pinansky Theatre Corporation, and a modern playhouse is to be constructed.

Kearns Opens Office

The first production of the recently organized Peruvian company, Amauta Films, Ltd., "La Ballarina Loca," was released early in August, according to a report to the United States Department of Commerce from Assistant Trade Commissioner David M. Clark, at Lima.

Goldwyn Blocks UA Approval of Korda's Request

Although other owner-members of United Artists were willing to grant Alexander Korda's request for permission to release some pictures through other companies, Samuel Goldwyn refused to consent to the plan unless he was granted the same privilege, it was understood in Hollywood.

Mr. Goldwyn's request was voted down by the board of directors just before Mr. Korda left the Coast by airplane for New York. He announced that he expects to remain in New York for several weeks before sailing for England.

Maurice Silverstone, managing director of United Artists in England, also left the Coast and said he planned to stay in New York for at least a week before he returned to England. He said the time would be spent conferring with home office executives.

Mr. Goldwyn and his wife embark Saturday on the Lurline for a month's vacation in Honolulu.

Theatres Included In Security Probe

A nationwide drive to uncover evasions of the social security taxes by employers has been undertaken by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the Social Security Board as a result of the failure of the tax collections to come anywhere near the figure which board and bureau actuaries at Washington anticipated.

Included in those investigated, it was indicated at the Capital, were a number of exhibitors in various sections of the country.

Already, it is said, more than 100,000 delinquent employers have been discovered and additional taxes running into millions of dollars collected.

Exhibitors were included in the investigation because of the fact that most of the trouble in collecting taxes has been with small employers who often are not familiar with the Social Security Act or its regulations. Large concerns, accustomed to making reports of various kinds, were found to be better equipped to handle the work and more familiar with the requirements.

Officials of the Social Security Board this week explained that nearly all of the evasions so far disclosed have been of an unintentional character, and gave assurance that it is not proposed to invoke the criminal penalty provisions in such cases.

Records of some 2,000,000 employers, covering over 37,000,000 workers, are now being checked. Most employers so far approached, it was stated, have been anxious to cooperate, and only a handful of wilful evaders has been found.

While the Government will not invoke the penalties for wilful evasion, punishable by a fine of not exceeding $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, where delinquencies have been unintentional, the law requires that in such cases additional assessments and interest charges be imposed.

CHINESE DISTRIBUTION 15% NORMAL AS JAPANESE ASSUME GOVERNMENT

Hongkong Only District Holding Business Average; Theatres in Shanghai Area Looted and Destroyed During the Siege

by J. P. KOEHLER
in Shanghai

The spread of hostilities in the last few months to nearly all of northern China has brought the motion picture industry to a standstill except in Shanghai and Hongkong, with a little business in the foreign concessions in Tientsin and along the Yangtze river in Hankow, Chungking, Changhsa and Chengtu. There is some revenue from Tsingtao and Canton but it is desultory and so far below normal as to be almost negligible.

As it now stands distribution is about 15 per cent of normal with receipts in Shanghai about 50 per cent of normal for ordinary pictures and 60 per cent of normal for higher grade films. Hongkong, however, continues above normal and is the one spot in the territory where business has not decreased since the outbreak of hostilities in July, 1937.

In spite of the absence of Chinese troops in the Shanghai area for more than two months, the Japanese so far have refused to allow the rehabilitation of the occupied area of Hongkew and the eastern districts, thus cutting off the operations of some ten theatres. Some of these houses are damaged beyond ordinary repair and others show every sign of being thoroughly looted. The condition of the theatres in Soochow, Wuhu, Nanking, Chinkiang and Wusih is unknown. All these cities have been thoroughly bombed or subjected to heavy artillery fire.

Japanese Usurp Censorship

The Chinese Government Censor Board, which moved to Shanghai on September 23, 1937, continued to function there until December 1st, when under instructions and due to the Japanese occupation of Shanghai and their insistence that all Chinese government functions must cease in these occupied areas, the censors withdrew, leaving censorship of films to the regular International Settlement and French Concession Police Film Censors. At the same time an order was issued by the Shanghai Municipal Police that Chinese Government Censor Certificates need not be shown at any theatre in the Settlement.

At this writing, there has been no indication from the Chinese Government Censors as to where they will set up shop for future operations, rumor having it that they will either operate from Hongkong or Hankow. As distribution is extremely limited, indications are that censor fees may be reduced, pending the opening of Chinese controlled areas where more theatres may be able to operate.

From Peiping comes the definite report that the local government there has set up a Japanese controlled Censor Board, whose fees are the same as those charged by the Nanking government (C. $20.00 per 500 meters) but whose license certificate is limited to one year instead of three years, thus making the censoring charge three times as high as that charged by Nanking. So far as is known American distributors have refused to pay the Peiping fee, passing it on to the exhibitor as a tax instituted after the signing of the Standard Exhibition Contract and thereby automatically a burden the exhibitor should assume. If exhibitors in the Peiping-Tientsin area refuse to pay these new charges, it is doubtful whether distributors will continue to serve. Since American distributors are already withdrawing from Manchukuo because the authorities there instituted a monopoly on film distribution, it is reasonable to presume that in the not distant future similar action may be taken in all Japanese occupied territory.

Despite the fact that in the International Settlement of Shanghai the regularly constituted Police Film Censors (on which Japanese have always been represented) have been operating as usual and have paid particular attention to the sensibilities of the Japanese, a well informed source indicated that the Japanese were not satisfied, and desire to place such censorship under their control. If this is done, it may possibly result in the establishment of censor fees in the an area hitherto free of such imposts and, if excessive, may result in further curtailment of foreign distribution. In the light of past performance in other Japanese occupied areas this "rumor" is not without some basis of fact and must be seriously considered.

Many foreign distributors feel that future operations are going to be considerably handicapped and that business, at least for another year, will be such as to require drastic reductions in overhead costs of exchange operations. Predictions go so far as to declare that Shanghai will eventually become a mere branch exchanges office operating from the Manila head offices. All this is far from improbable. Prospects are undoubtedly discouraging for 1938.

With the coming withdrawal of a large portion of the foreign fighting forces cinemas in Shanghai will undoubtedly suffer further reduction in box-office receipts. There are now four first runs and about 15 subsequent run cinemas in operation in the Settlement and Concession. In Hongkew, still only partially opened to foreigners only (and even they are under early evening curfew), the Japanese owned Towa Cinema has been in operation for some weeks, and it is rumored that at least two of the foreign owned theatres may be reopened soon. However, only films having the approval of the Japanese military probably will be allowed even though these areas are part of the International Settlement.

Loss Shown in Table

The severe loss to American film business in China is clearly indicated in the accompanying table of Chinese Government Censorship statistics. While the table shows figures only to December 1, 1937, five months, as compared with the six months in 1936, the December exhibition of first runs in Shanghai will show but a few films not already passed by the Nanking censors prior to December 1, 1937, as there was a comparatively large number of censored films on hand when the Government officials ceased operations in Shanghai.

The 1938 prospects are decidedly gloomy, and with the exception of Hongkong, distributors are extremely pessimistic in regard to China business. All depends now on the political situation following the occupation of Chinese territory by the Japanese and what steps will be taken by the Japanese to revive and stabilize industry in general. The tenor of local Shanghai business is readily seen in the Christmas shopping trade. Where in previous years all shops made a great display of Christmas windows and goods, this year comparatively few shops are showing active interest in such displays, and even at this late date of December 13, one feels keenly the lack of the usual spirit of good cheer and heavy spending. Apparently folks are conserving their assets with an eye to the possibility of complete evacuation should the political or military situation force foreign concerns to shut up shop and go home.

New Regulations Issued

The police department of Peking, the northern capital, which was called Peiping before occupation by the Japanese army, has issued the following new regulations:

"The following regulations for Motion Pictures, phonograph records, old and modern stage play censorship are to take effect as of November 15, 1937:

"1. All motion pictures, phonograph records and recently written stage plays (either of the old or modern type) either produced in China or foreign countries, must be censored before exhibition or broadcasting.

"2. Films, records and plays which come under any of the following classifications will be banned:

"(a) Detrimental to the dignity of the Oriental race;
"(b) Propaganda for communism;
"(c) Unlawful conducts;
"(d) Harmful to international relationship;
"(e) Harmful to public safety and humiliating to the country;
"(f) Harmful to the good customs of encouraging superstitious actions.

"3. Distributors of films, records and producers plays must submit a detailed synopsis and dialogue together with the film, etc., to the Department and apply for censorship before public exhibition.

"4. Applications for censorship must contain the following:

"For films:

"(a) Title and table of contents (if the film is produced in foreign country—the original title and the translated title must be included).

"(b) Number of reels and length of film.

(Continued on following page)

FILMS AND RADIO SEEN SETTING SPEECH TREND

G. E. Densmore of the University of Michigan said this week that motion pictures and radio will eventually so standardize American speech that no southern accents, no Texas drawls and no broad Massachusetts a's may be heard in the land.

Mr. Densmore, executive secretary of the National Association of Teachers of Speech, spoke at the association's convention at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York. Although believing standardization of speech "a great pity," he said:

"The speech of radio announcers and performers and of motion picture actresses and actors is a major factor in influencing American speech to a higher level all over the country. Those two mediums have established a high standard of correct pronunciation, diction and usage which will constitute a criterion for the speech of the future."

Comparison of Films Licensed by Nanking Censor Board In Second Six Months of 1936 and 1937

Submitted By:	Features 1936	Features 1937	Shorts 1936	Shorts 1937	Newsreels 1936	Newsreels 1937	Meters First Prints Only 1936	Meters First Prints Only 1937	Censor Fees 1936 C.$	Censor Fees 1937 C.$
American	157	70	322	132	100	53	437,000	246,470	30,730	13,172
Chinese	30	16	30	..	..	..	115,573	.....	600	240
U. S. S. R.	6	2	1	..	6	2	17,041	5,000	700	200
British	1	1	..	1	1	2	2,350	3,200	100	140
German	1	1	3	0	0	0	6,142	2,500	240	120
French	2	0	0	0	0	0	5,251	0	200	0

Note: These figures are to December 1, 1937, only, as Government censorship ceased in Shanghai on that date. American film companies paid in addition for translation and other costs in connection with government censorship—C.$10,397.00 in 1936 and C.$4,691 in the 1937 period.

Japanese Censors Rule in Shanghai

(Continued from preceding page)

"(c) Names of producer and principal players;
"(d) Name of company and classification of story;
"(e) Name, address and occupation of the applicant.
For phonograph records:
"(a) Title of records (if produced in foreign country—original and translated title must be included).
"(b) What part of the play the record tells about and classification of the story.
"(c) Name of company;
"(d) Name of singer;
"(e) Name, address and occupation of the applicant.
"For Stage Plays:
"(a) Number of acts; origin of the manuscript and moral of the story.
"(b) Title of play and classification of the story.
"(c) Names of cast and name, address and occupation of author.
"(d) Name, address and occupation of applicant.

"5. All films, records and plays must be submitted to this department for censorship in its censor room. In case the equipment of the Censor Room has not been completed, they will be censored in the theatres as a temporary measure.

"6. Forms for application and synopsis can be obtained from this department.

"7. An exhibition certificate will be issued for films, records and plays, if they are found not to come under any of the classifications listed in Article 2.

"8. The validity of the censorship certificate is one year. When expired, films must be re-censored. Re-issuance of certificates can be applied, should the originad certificate be lost, but the causes of the loss must be reported.

"9. If a part of a film submitted is found to come under any of the classifications: Art. 2 a change or cutting will be ordered and this will be put down in the certificate. Should this be acted against by the distributor, the film will be confiscated.

"10. If the title or contents of the film, records or plays are changed, recensorship must be applied for. Before exhibiting a film a theatre must report to the precinct to which the theatre belongs. The police can come to the theatre for the purpose of inspection when they deem it necessary.

"11. Inspectors from the department or the various precincts are empowered to ask the manager of the theatre or firms to let them inspect the certificates. Should they find anything exceeding the limit allowed by the certificate, they can stop the performance immediately and report to this department for the cancellation of the certificate.

"12. A charge of $20.00 will be made for every 500 meters of film censored. If the length of a film is under 500 meters it will be counted as 500 meters. IF A FILM IS CENSORED IN THE THEATRE IN WHICH IT IS GOING TO BE PLAYED, THERE WILL BE NO CHARGE FOR CENSORSHIP.

"13. There will be no charge for censoring records and plays.

"14. The same charge ($20.00 for 500 meters or fraction thereof) will be made for films censored under Articles 8 and 10.

"15. Fines for offenders of these regulations are:
"(a) For films—a fine of less than $300.00.
"(b) For records—a fine of less than $100.00.
"(c) For plays—a fine of less than $100.00.
"Anyone who purposely acts against these rules is liable to be fined more than two (2) times and less than 10 times of the amounts listed above.

"16. Distributors should submit synopsis of films and manuscripts of plays and the originally reported contents to the JAPANESE GARRISON so that all precincts can be notified accordingly.

"17. These rules are to take effect on the day of their announcement.

"18. These rules are also in effect for privately played films, records or plays."

Set $250,000 Guarantee

George J. Schaefer, general sales manager for United Artists, said this week in New York that a minimum guarantee of $250,000 against percentage are the terms set by United Artists for the initial New York run of "Goldwyn Follies." The figure is said to top the previous high guarantee obtained by the company for the London showing of "City Lights."

RCA Contracts Signed

RCA Photophone has contracted to service the sound equipment in the 47 theatres operated by the Randforce Circuit and the 23 houses operated by the Century Circuit. Both circuits operate in the New York metropolitan area.

Motiograph, Shearer In Deal

Motiograph, Inc., has completed a deal whereby its product will be distributed by B. R. Shearer in Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

137,080 in Chicago See Sonja Henie Ice Carnival

Sonja Henie, Twentieth Century-Fox star and former Olympic figure skating champion, made her last appearance in the ice carnival at Chicago Stadium Sunday, by performing before an estimated 9,000 spectators who paid approximately $15,000.

Crowds, totaling 137,080, paid aggregate receipts amounting to $206,480 to see the shows, it was announced by the Stadium.

It was reported Miss Henie received 50 per cent of the profits.

Miss Henie left Monday morning for Detroit, where she opens a week's engagement at the Olympia. Her current exhibition tour also includes appearances at Cleveland, Boston, New York and Montreal. After the Montreal engagement she will return to Hollywood to start work on her third picture for Twentieth Century-Fox.

Time Consolidating Offices In Rockefeller Center Bldg.

Time, Inc., publishers of Life, Time and Fortune, the screen and radio March of Time and the Architectural Forum, this week announced plans for consolidation of its headquarters offices in the newest of the Rockefeller group buildings at 9 Rockefeller Plaza. The 36-story building will be renamed the Time and Life Building and Time, Inc., will occupy the seven top stories of the structure.

Time, Inc., described the deal as one of the largest real estate leases written in New York City since 1929. The building is on the south side of 49th Street, west of Fifth Ave.

Union Files Schlesinger Charges

Charges of failure to bargain collectively in violation of the Wagner Act were filed Wednesday against Leon Schlesinger Productions, Inc., and Schlesinger Corporation by the Screen Cartoon Guild before the Regional Labor Relations Board. The Guild claims a majority of the workers at the Schlesinger plant, which produces cartoons for release through Warner Brothers. Dr. Towne Nylander, RLRB director in Los Angeles, said a conference between the producer and guild representatives would be held on the complaint Friday.

SHAREHOLDERS ATTACK GB DIRECTORS AND ASK BOARD OF TRADE INQUIRY

Officers and Administration Strongly Criticized by Norden Group; 25 Clauses of the New Films Act Are Ratified

by AUBREY FLANAGAN
in London

A bombshell was cast in financial circles last month when the Norden committee of Gaumont British shareholders announced that they were ready to make application to the Board of Trade for an investigation into the affairs of the Gaumont British Picture Corporation.

With the circular letter was issued a statement of the case upon which application for an investigation was made; a statement notable for its drastic and forthright terms of criticism of the directorate and administration of Gaumont British.

The committee on Tuesday reported the return of signed petitions from stockholders representing a total of 1,042,870 shares, exceeding the 10 per cent needed under the law to institute an inquiry.

Various matters upon which enlightenment is sought were set out in the form of application to be signed by the shareholders. These were:

(a) How much of the company's share capital is represented by net assets.

(b) How much of the company's money has been paid, and what number of shares have been allotted, and to whom, and at what price for the purchase of shares in the purchase price of which the directors were interested.

(c) What losses have been sustained by the company on such purchases.

(d) How much of the company's capital has been allotted for services rendered to the directors and their families, and what services were rendered.

(e) How and why did the Ostrers enter into agreement in August, 1932, with Fox.

(f) In what circumstances and for what consideration did they acquire, and for how much did they sell control of Fox.

(g) How much of the revenues of the company and its associates has been paid each year to Fox as film hire, and how did this price compare with the prices paid to Fox by other hirers.

(h) By what operations on the part of the directors were reserves built up to £2,500,000 in 1931, and reduced to £85,000 in 1937.

(i) What payments by way of fees have been made to the directors.

(j) Whether the directors have been guilty of any breaches of their fiduciary duty.

Company History Summarized

In the accompanying statement—a lengthy document—of the grounds upon which application has been made to the Board, a lengthy historical study of the corporation was offered.

It was alleged that the directors did not submit proper profit and loss accounts, but that their published accounts merely stated the profit in one item and not in the form of an account showing how it was established.

Also that whilst provision is made for a balance-sheet to be made up to date not more than six months before the general meeting, this has not always been done.

It was suggested that the unsatisfactory results of Gaumont were not due to the general condiion prevailing in the industry.

In regard to the question of Fox control, it was stated "that the agreement of 1932 places the company under the control of the Fox Film Corporation with regard to its directorate and capital.

"It is, therefore, of grave importance to the shareholders to ascertain what consideration was received by the Brothers Ostrer at the expense of the company for this control and what corresponding benefit the Fox Film Corporation obtained out of the company's revenues for film hire in exchange for the £4,000,000 approximately, which the Fox Film Corporation paid for the controlling interest they acquired."

According to Mr. C. L. Norden, solicitor to the Shareholders' Cimmittee, in a statement published in the Financial Times, the Ostrers were obliged to do as Fox Film advised in certain matters by virtue of the 1932 agreement. The position, according to him, was in certain respects obscure and that was one of the things to be cleared up by the investigation.

At the board meeting last February, when it was decided by a five to four majority to pay the preference dividend for the half-year ending March 31st, 1937, four directors, including Mr. John Maxwell, chairman of the Associated British, opposed. A motion to restrain payment of this dividend was dismissed in the courts last April.

The present issued capital of Gaumont British was stated to be £6,250,000.

▽

Films Act in Abeyance

With ten days' sittings to its credit and 25 of the new Films Act's 44 clauses ratified, mainly in their original form, the House of Commons Committee adjourned till February 3rd next.

In the main they worked hard, talked a lot, but made few changes in the original draft of the bill presented by Oliver Stanley. Any vital changes, as the setting up of a Films Council came from Mr. Stanley himself, and the 593 pages of amendments which were tabled have so far proven so much waste paper.

The experience and record of these five weeks' discussions should prove for the most part an indication of the fate of the bill, for they hint that what the Government says, thanks in the main to Parliamentary loyalties, goes.

There are yet one or two points to be elucidated. To these—the matter of an alternative quality rejection on cost tested films, and the Stanley suggestion—it is a suggestion and not so far a plan—the writer has already referred.

Meanwhile a flat and emphatic dismissal has been given by Mr. Stanley and his followers, and by those few detached minds which are to be found in the Films Bill Committee, to the idea of a viewing panel.

So easily did Mr. Stanley convince his committee audience that no division was taken.

Though there is approval in trade circles of this rejection, the sceptics taking the view that a viewing panel would have arbitrary powers and might be uninformed, there is, too, the feeling that the Stanley effort at solution is possibly ingenious but certainly illogical.

Mr. Stanley rejected the view that the mere expenditure of dollars ensured quality in a film. His cost test was not meant to imply that. In defence he pleaded the existence of the clause which would still allow a film made for less than the required minimum to be granted quota registration if it so deserved. So, too, did he defend his cost clause on the grounds that a mere viewing panel would remove any certainty from the minds of producer and renter that their films would qualify. "On practical grounds it would be quite impossible."

Both renters and producers, however, are now asking if that very uncertainty is not already implicit in the Act in view of Mr. Stanley's own amendment making it possible for a film which has passed the cost test to be rejected on grounds of insufficient entertainment. Mr. Stanley, they say, wants it both ways. American renters in particular who believe they have the right to be safeguarded in their compliance with British law are not likely to let the matter rest there.

With the Commons Committee gradually but surely reaching its final stages on the new Films Act, last minute efforts were made by the industry's, and Parliament's, myriad hobby horse riders to secure recognition for their steeds.

Even in the fact of this penultimate offensive there is little doubt that with the obvious exception of the Films Council clause, the final draft of the Bill will differ but slightly from what Mr. Stanley promised and presented.

At the last minute the producers, through the medium of their spokesmen, made one more effort with one more new scheme—they lack no inventiveness in the face of rebuff—to secure what they conceived to be imperative and efficient protection for the industry.

In the names of Sir William Wayland and Mr. Edgar Granville, a complex batch of amendments were tabled calling for an increased minimum cost for films made for renters quota, and for Governmental encouragement of reciprocity. They called for the minimum cost of renters quota films to be raised to £40,000 ($200,000) from its present level, which is approximately, but elastically, £15,000 ($75,000), and for the Board of Trade to be empowered to increase this amount! This sum, they considerately suggested, might be spent by renters in making their own films, or by producers in making pictures suitable for world circulation, which would, provided foreign rights were sold, exempt them from quota obligations.

The reciprocity section of this curious and very belated plan was aimed to stimulate the Board of Trade to encourage the buying by renters of foreign rights to British films as an alternative to fulfilment of quota. They claimed that it would encourage America to accept reciprocity as a practicable alternative to quota production and would return to Britain at least £1,000,000 ($5,000,000) of the £8,000,000 ($40,000,000) the U. S. has been taking out every year. They also claim that the increased minimum clause would ensure a minimum of £4,000,000 ($20,000,000) being spent in Britain on British films.

The plan was regarded by exhibitors with

(Continued on following page)

LICENSING SNAGS FOR THEATRES SEEN

An indication that licensing bodies are walking warily as a result of the recent high court decision on cinema licenses was given at Bishop Auckland recently when application for approval for a cinema to be built in Crook was refused by the magistrates.

They contended that in view of the recent high court judgment they had no powers either to approve or to disapprove until the cinema was built. For the applicants it was contended that it was unreasonable to expect a cinema to be built before approval had been given.

FILM'S ACT COMMITTEE ADJOURNS

(Continued from preceding page)

icy detachment, they never having had any faith in a cost clause. None the less there was the belief that if a cost clause was politic, then a high minimum was a logical corollary, meaning as it should, better films. That this increase would mean better films has been entirely disproved by the facts, and exhibitors who have had to show certain British pictures made at £200,000 ($1,000,000) and over, and pay high percentages for the privilege, have marked opinions on the matter.

Smaller producers and renters too—though there are still a few stalwarts left on the Federation of British Industries Film Group—know that it means extinction for them.

Renters in particular are concerned at the moment with two of the Stanley proposals which have not yet come up for discussion—one an amendment, and the other a vague principle not as yet translated into final formula.

The quality amendment to the cost clause it will be remembered by HERALD readers, gives the Board the option of refusing to register as quota a film which has passed the cost test if it does not appear to have sufficient value for purposes of entertainment. Though this is inserted as an afterthought, and with the object of keeping out dud and faked films from India, Australia, or Great Britain itself, it contains a germ which might be nurtured and developed to a very inconvenient virus. Exhibitors see in it the open door to an ultimate quality test. Producers, and American renters in particular, are nervous about its workings, for it imposes an immediate element of uncertainty on every film which is to be made and offers at once a snag to potential finance. Mr. Stanley may not and probably has not anything drastic in mind, but it is certain he will be called on to say exactly what is in his mind, and so to tighten up the Act's wording that there can be no loopholes.

▽

Third Inquiry Sought

Following the decision of Gaumont British shareholders to ask the Board of Trade to investigate the affairs of the Corporation, and the decision of the Associated British directors to institute an investigation into Union finances, comes a third similar move.

The necessary support to convene an extraordinary meeting of the Capital and Provincial News Theatres is requested by two shareholders. A proposal will be submitted appointing these two gentlemen to act as a protection committee for the purpose of investigating the affairs of the company.

A circular by them stated that they were offered facilities for a limited investigation in order to advise the members of the company, as shareholders, as to the equity of the proposed purchase of the whole or part of their holdings at 1s 3d per 5s share, to be followed later by a complete investigation of the company's transactions, if so decided.

The Board had claimed that they were not legally constituted as a committee to investigate the company's affairs.

▽

Cinema Television Closer

Another step towards a link between television and motion picture theatres, was seen in the installation and one day trial of a Baird television projector in the New Gallery, Regent Street, one of the more exclusive houses of the Gaumont British circuit.

Though no public demonstration was given, the entire Board of Gaumont British saw the show, which was given on a 12′ x 10′ screen and technically was an improvement on the Bromley show.

There, however, for the moment the situation rests, not for any lack of technical efficiency, but purely because of the complex problem of material. In this instance the British Broadcasting Corporation co-operated to the extent of putting on a special item at Alexandra Palace, their television nursery; but until the BBC has come to an agreement with Baird and Gaumont, who would, for the time being at least, use the daily broadcast programmes of the British Broadcasting Corporation, little else is likely to be done.

Obviously the setting up of a new organization for providing cinema television entertainment would be expensive. Further than that, as already pointed out by this writer, it is bound up with involved questions of copyright and monopoly of wireless wave lengths.

Though there have been unofficial conversations between G.B.-Baird and the BBC, the former, who can be said to hold the key to picture house television, are now sitting back and waiting for the next move. Already Parliamentary sleuth hounds have been on the BBC trail, ready to forestall any handing over of television rights and privileges to commercial troups or organizations. The Postmaster General himself, M. F. C. Tryon, has made it very clear that any efforts to persuade the BBC to lease its programmes to cinemas would meet with a far from easy passage. "Any such proposal," he said, "would raise novel problems, including those arising from the fact that the possession of a wireless receiving license does not override the ordinary conditions of copyright." He would not be drawn into a definition of the use which other forms of entertainment might make of television.

It is patent from the present situation that even though such a course did arise, and the BBC was to come to a reciprocal agreement with cinema interests, there would have to be a considerable increase in the interest and entertainment quality of television programmes, if the whole business is not to be allowed to collapse as a ten days novelty.

Television shows at present are sadly lacking in showmanship, consisting of bizarre magazine oddities, far removed from commercial entertainment. Until television entertainment gets out of the hands of the younger intelligentsia into the direction and control of showmen of the Cochran, Bertram Mills type, it can have but little theatre future, save in the news theatre field, and even that still leaves room for development.

▽

£112,000 for Developments

Baird Television, in respect of its year to June 30th, added a further £111,903 ($559,515), against £138,586 ($692,930), to its general development account. The latter now stands at £560,502 ($2,802,510).

YEAR'S REGISTRATION TOTALS 225 FILMS

The total number of British films registered in the 12 months ended November 30, 1937, was 225, exceeding the total for 1936 by three, according to a Board of Trade announcement.

British footage, according to the report, showed a decrease of 7,829 feet. The total registered footage for the year was 1,420,452. Features only were included in the report.

Receipts were only £566 ($2,830) against £1,659 ($8,295).

▽

Revenue of Stoll Theatres Corporation for the year to September 30th last amounted to £4,215 ($21,075) compared with £7,807 ($39,035).

Associated British Picture Corporation has declared an interim dividend of 10 per cent, actual (less tax) on the ordinary shares in respect of the year ending March 31st, 1938.

A loss on the year's trading of £5,902 ($29,510) is reported by British and Dominions Film Corporation Ltd. In the previous financial year there was a loss, after allowing £121,683 ($608,415) for depreciation written off productions, of £105,600 ($528,000).

The total debit balance of the profit and loss account is increased from £131,148 ($655,740) to £137,051 ($685,255).

The company has not produced any pictures during the year. The Pinewood studios were completed last March, and at the date of the balance-sheet investment of the company in Pinewood Studios, Ltd., was £150,000 ($750,000) in shares of one pound each, on which no dividend has been received, and £38,598 ($192,990) in loans and accrued interest thereon. The company has endorsed bills amounting to £40,750 ($203,750) drawn by a third party on and accepted by Pinewood Studios, Ltd., payable December 31. When these bills are met, the company's investment in the Pinewood company will be approximately £230,000 ($1,150,000).

Eight Scripts Set For GN Production

Grand National announced this week that eight scripts have been completed and are ready for production in January. "Don't Lead with Your Heart," to star Anna Sten, was written by Arthur Sheekman from an original by Albert J. Cohen and Hans Kraly. Other writers who have completed scripts are Rowland Brown, who adapted his original "Angels with Dirty Faces," and Raymond Schrock, who adapted "Wallaby Jim, Daredevil of the South Seas" from the Collier magazine story of Albert Wetjen.

John Krafft did the original and adaptation on "Flash Casey, Candid Cameraman"; Edmund Kelso adapted Jacques and Ciela Jaccard's original "Rollin' Plains"; Charles Logue prepared "Snow-Covered Wagons," and "Renfrew Rides North," and Betty Laidlaw and Robert Lively adapted "Honolulu Honeymoon" from an original by Armine von Tempski.

Rowland Brown will direct "Angels with Dirty Faces" while Ray Taylor has been assigned to direct "Rollin' Plains."

Warners Plan Drive

Warner Brothers plan to launch a production drive during January and February with more than 19 pictures scheduled to go into production on the average of two each week, Jack L. Warner, vice-president in charge of production, said this week in Hollywood.

Drew with Motiograph

Thomas P. Drew has been appointed eastern representative for the Motiograph Company, Chicago. He was formerly with Western Electric, General Register and has operated a theatre.

IN THE BRITISH STUDIOS

by AUBREY FLANAGAN
in London

Murder Surfeit

Manning Haynes, British director of both silent and talking films, has been at work at the Wembley Studios on "Shakespeare Murders," a Fox British production.

The first set worked upon was a modernistic publisher's office, where hero Kerrigan first receives the intimation that his assistance is being sought. Other sets covered include exteriors of the Manor, Kerrigan's bedroom, complete with old fashioned four-posted bed and the rambling and raftered kitchen quarters of the Manor.

John Stuart plays the role of Kerrigan, Annie Esmond is Lady Caroline Marsh and others in the cast include Campbell Gullan, Finlay Currie and Ian Fleming.

Murder, grim and great in a big college, is proceeding apace at the Welwyn studios where David MacDonald, Scots director, is filming "The Norwich Victims," mystery thriller by Francis Beeding, for British National Pictures.

The cast includes two stars who both have the same name—Williams—Emlyn and Hugh. Suppying the romantic feminine lead is Lesley Brook.

A large budget has been given to this film, making it the most important assignment yet handled by Director MacDonald. The story is a murder mystery which is set both in the City of London and in a big college at Norwich.

116th Production

With the closing down for its annual technical overhaul and clean up, the Teddington Studios of Warner-First National, whose chief, Irving Asher, is now in the United States maturing plans for production expansion, have reached the conclusion of their 116th film.

It is claimed for the studios that they are the most British of all, employing consistently all the year round between 300 and 350 British people and only six Americans.

Mr. Asher started here in September 1931 and by December had made four films. With only one stage Warner-First National made 22 quota quickies in 1932, and 23 in 1933.

Mr. Asher then decided to build up production so that he could make better films as well as quickies and the first step was the buying of the property and the reduction in the number of films as their quality was increased. During 1934 they made 18 films and gradually expanded department by department, promoting where possible their own staff and technicians. They made "Church Mouse" with Laura La Plante, "No Escape" with Ralph Ince and Ian Hunter, put Claude Hulbert under contract and discovered Errol Flynn, and made "Mr. What's His Name" with Seymour Hicks. Basis of all this was the economic running of the studio learned during the making of the quickies.

In 1935 Mr. Asher combined his policy of gradual improvement and expansion, making only 14 films, one of which was a quota product which is still spoken about called "So You Won't Talk." In 1935 Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., made a film with Laura, Jean Muir came from Hollywood and Patric Knowles went there. Max Miller was also placed under contract, Ralph Ince made a success in a father-love story, AINO BERGO, newly discovered and already popular Swedish star who is under contract to Irving Asher for the Warner-First National Studios at Teddington. Miss Bergo at present is starring in "Thistledown."

"Goalbreak," and another hit was "Mr. Cohen Takes a Walk."

In 1936 Mr. Asher was ready to expand and the second stage was built at a cost of over £75,000 ($375,000), while several other buildings were planned, and a new executive office block was in occupation by the end of the year.

Well in 1936 they made "Educated Evans," Teddington's biggest bet, brought Nervo and Knox to the screen, teamed Hulbert and Reg Purdell in "Hail and Farewell," brought Patric Knowles back from Hollywood for a film, starred Chili Bouchier in "Gypsy" and brought Keith Faulkner to the screen.

In 1937, with an improved standard of production and a fully equipped studio capable of making world release pictures, they made 21 films on two stages. "Perfect Crime" had another Teddington discovery, James Stephenson; Glenda Farrell came over, more Reg and Claude films, another Faulkner "The Singing Cop" with Marta Labarr and then "Thistledown" with Aino Bergo, the Swedish star, whom everybody else wanted after Asher had found her.

Of last year's production 10 films have been generally released (six have gone to America so far), one has been trade shown, five await trade showing, four are in the cutting room and one in production.

A total of £2,500,000 ($12,500,000) was spent in six years' production.

Comics' Opera

British film patrons will—when "Alf's Button Afloat" is ready for showing—be treated to the spectable of the Palladium Crazy Gang, one degree crazier than the Marx Brothers and their Ritz relations, singing a concerted number from grand opera. They have been filmed at the Gainsborough Studio where the film is being made under the direction of Marcel Varnel, singing "Bella Figlia del Amore" from Rigoletto.

Ten scenes, each requiring a different set, to be "shot" in the short space of seven days, presented a problem that sent Gainsborough's art department into a high-speed huddle.

The sets, a room in the Admiralty, two luxury bedrooms, a circus entrance, the interior and exterior of a Bank of England vault, a ship's cabin, an elaborate sitting room, a ship's galley and the exterior of a furnace were constructed, used and dismantled, leaving a margin of three hours to spare on the schedule.

Production Note

Production is now concluded—exactly to schedule—on the Howard Welsch Vogue production, "Kicking the Moon Around," which has been on the floor at Pinewood under Walter Forde's direction, for release by General Film Distributors.

A colossal chain-store scene, occupying a whole studio, was built and real chain-store girls were employed to keep an eye on detail and to add to the authentic effect.

Similarly, a milk bar set was designed by experts. Seventeen gallons of milk were consumed in one day in the interest of veracity by artists, including Evelyn Dall, Hal Thompson, Florence Desmond and Harry Richman.

Completing Thriller

Camera work on Wainwright's "Kate Plus Ten," super production based on the Edgar Wallace thriller, is now nearing completion.

Most of the principals, including Jack Hulbert, Genevieve Tobin, Noel Madison, Francis L. Sullivan, Felix Aylmer, Frank Cellier, Edward Lexy and Arthur Wontner, have been engaged under the direction of Reginald Denham in shooting dramatic railway scenes and important sequences at the power house of the deserted mine where the £600,000 gold bullion robbery is finally completed.

Scenes still to be dealt with include prison sequences in which a dramatic escape is staged, more action at the power house "Seahampton" dock land shots and completion of the studio railway sequences.

Victorian London

A large section of Victorian London is being reconstructed at Pinewood for the new Tom Walls film, "Strange Boarders." A number of houses with massive steps and ornate copings have been erected; wrought iron railings, gas rings, and an old sexagonal pillar box complete the set—Palace Crescent.

▽

A loss for the year of £97,679 ($488,395) is reported by Associated Talking Pictures owners of the Ealing studios and producers for Associated British Film Distributors release of the George Formby films. It is stated that demands for studio space have decreased considerably during the year.

TECHNOLOGICAL

The Bluebook School

Conducted by

F. H. RICHARDSON

ANSWER TO QUESTION NO. 98

Bluebook School Question No. 98 was: (A) How can amplifying power per stage be increased? (B) Describe the construction and purpose of a four-element or screen grid tube. (C) Describe the construction and purpose of a five-element tube, or "pentode." (D) Explain "triode" and "tetrode."

The following made acceptable replies: C. Rau and S. Evans; G. E. Doe; C. Oldham; O. H. Schmidt; L. Cimikoski; J. R. Prater; L. F. Hayes; W. H. Edmonds; J. A. Zachritz; M. and J. Devoy; H. B. Smith; R. and K. Wells; L. H. Kelley; W. Limmroth; J. Morton; R. H. Carter; F. H., S. and P. Dalbey; J. J. Petersen; C. A. Whittlock; D. and W. Porter; M. D. McGuire; F. D. Kendal; B. B. Hornstein and R. R. Jacobs; G. L. Goss and Son; B. and M. Walker; H. T. Billings; B. L. Kent; M. Lee and W. L. Brandon; E. F. and M. Wentworth; D. A. Shea and H. T. Plum; M. Dey and H. Lathrope; D. Coates; F. E. Brandenburg; H. Bunker; C. Caldwell; J. R. Davidson and W. R. Matthews; H. H. Grant; H. Maybe; L. E. Dodson and H. T. Hood; S. L. Maxwell; W. H. Henderson; P. S. Baker; D. M. Stinson; L. A. Beachwood and M. R. Robinson; J. Robinson and R. E. Bullard; D. D. Strobey; F. D. Mitchell; W. C. Bant; C. H. Lowrie; W. Winkler and R. R. Robbins; O. Goldstein and M. Samuels; F. E. Dorp and H. A. Ames; L. D. Samuels; R. S. Davis; W. R. Davis; L. Jones and S. L. Billings; L. and F. L. Savlor; T. W. Redhouse; A. H. Bradley; F. M. Brown and R. Davis; A. C. Greene; P. F. Maxwell and S. U. Lamont; L. F. and B. Brown; B. L. Jones; T. A. Sanderson and E. L. Little; N. S Reid and H. T. Watkins; W. R. Davis; G. A. Simmons and K. L. Brant; L. D. Arnold; M. D. O'Roque; G. L. Rogers.

Of the many excellent replies to section A, that of W. H. Edmonds seems best suited for publication. He says:

"Several means of increasing amplifying power per stage are employed, some of which are considered good engineering practice, other more less haywire ones are useful only in emergency. Replacing a triode with a pentode or even a tetrode, with appropriate connections to the additional grids and proper alterations in grid bias (if any change be required) will provide higher gain per stage because of the increased mutual conductance of tetrodes and pentodes over the triodes.

"A change from resistance coupling between stages to impedance coupling or transformer coupling will, in most cases, result in increased amplification of the stage in which this change affects the plate circuit, as in such a case the d.c. resistance in the plate circuit is less than the opposition offered by the resistor required in a resistance coupling, where the a.c. impedance may be greater, due to the action of an inductor in the a.c. circuit. The greater the load resistance (a.c. impedance), the greater the voltage amplification of the stage.

"In the case of power amplifiers, changing the service from Class A to Class B or AB, by changing the input transformer and making proper alteration in the grid bias (making sure the output device can handle the current and the output of the stage efficiently) will provide gain increase. The methods thus far outlined are all acceptable from the standpoint of good engineering practice. A few of the before mentioned haywire methods are (a) increased plate voltage, (b) increase screen voltage, (c) decrease grid bias, (d) replace input transformer with one having higher primary to secondary ratio."

(B) J. R. Prater says, "The four-element or screen grid tube is supplied with cathode, control grid and plate the same as the three-element tubes. There is, however, a fourth element called the "screen grid" located between the control grid and plate, so placed that the flow from cathode to plate must pass through its openings. The amplifying power of the three-element tube is limited by the feed-back from plate to grid due to inter-electrode capacitance. However, when the before described fourth element is in place and charged with a positive voltage slightly lower than that with which the plate is charged, the inter-electrode capacitances are between the plate and screen grid, and between the screen and control grid, therefore feed-back is practically eliminated, which permits amplification to be pushed to higher levels without distortion."

(C) H. B. Smith answers, "In the design of tubes and amplifiers the trend is toward increased amplification per stage. The development of the tetrode tube was a mighty step forward in that direction, but still the tube did not work at maximum efficiency. It still was limited by what is known as 'secondary emission,' which consists of emission of electrons from or by the plate, caused partly by impact of electrons therewith, which operates to jar other electrons loose; and partly by heating of the plate due to electronic impact therewith. The positively charged screen acts to further maintain the swarm of electrons (known as the plate space charge), which opposes the space current flowing across the vacuum existing between cathode and plate. A third plate is placed between the plate and screen grid. This is negatively charged, usually by connecting it to the cathode, either internally or at the socket, all of which suppresses or discourages secondary emission and tends to force any electrons that may be detached from the plate back into contact with it, thus permitting greater amplification than would be possible without such action."

(D) L. H. Kelley says, "Triode is the term applied to a three-element tube; tetrode is that applied to a four-element electrode or screen grid tube."

J. J. Petersen says: "A three-element tube—containing a cathode, control grid and anode—is called a 'triode"; a four-element tube—containing cathode, control grid, screen grid and anode—is called a 'tetrode.'"

BLUEBOOK SCHOOL QUESTION NO. 103

(A) Explain why a wire of commercial copper offers to all intents and purposes the same resistance to current flow in any amount up to normal, rated capacity of the wire.

(B) What determines the normal capacity of copper wires?

(C) To what is increase in resistance of copper wires proportional?

(D) Upon what basic temperature are all copper wire resistance calculations based?

(Note: Remember this is a Bluebook school and the answer to all save possibly some special questions can be found in that book.)

REVISED SIXTH EDITION
F. H. RICHARDSON'S
BLUEBOOK OF PROJECTION
Includes a completely revised section on sound. Contains 714 pages of up-to-the-minute text, charts and data with detailed description of assembly, wiring and functioning of all modern sound and projection apparatus.
PRICE $6.25
(Postpaid)
QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
Rockefeller Center, New York

Social Research School Offering Film Course

The New School for Social Research, New York, is offering a film course, "Documentary Films: As History and Journalism," beginning February 2nd, under the chairmanship of Max Forester, an associate editor of Tide, and former script writer for "The March of Time." In announcing the course Mr. Forester said:

"Hollywood is gradually realizing the tremendous interest people have in world events, events which reach down and touch their daily lives, even in the smallest communities. Already in pictures like 'Fury' and 'Dead End' it has come to grips with social problems. When it decides to take its cameras out of the studios, and to construct stories in their true social setting out of real events, it will have struck the ore in the pay dirt it is now sifting."

Rothafel Left $215,560

The late Samuel L. Rothafel (Roxy) left an estate valued at $215,560, it was shown in an appraisal filed this week. The entire sum goes to his widow.

WHAT THE PICTURE DID FOR ME

Columbia

FRAME UP, THE: Paul Kelly, Jacqueline Wells—For double bills only. The picture is routine in every respect and cheaply produced.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

First National

ADVENTUROUS BLONDE, THE: Glenda Farrell, Barton MacLane—That Farrell girl is getting more and more favorable comment as time goes on and in this little comedy drama she is better than before. A sweet little mystery drama with enough comedy in it to make it a honey for a double bill. Running time, 60 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

CASE OF THE STUTTERING BISHOP, THE: Donald Woods, Ann Dvorak—We thought this little program picture was OK playing on Bargain Night.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

THEY WON'T FORGET: Claude Rains, Gloria Dickson, Edward Norris—"They Won't Forget" has come and gone and we hope they do. The audience reaction is very bad for a small town. The people asked "Is this a serial?", "When does it end?" and so forth. In other words, such pictures are too sophisticated for small town houses. We personally thought it as fine a picture as one would care to see, with Mr. Edward Norris stealing the picture. Running time, 90 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

Grand National

BANK ALARM: Conrad Nagel, Eleanor Hunt—Conrad Nagel still has a following among the nice old ladies and rheumatic gentlemen who seem a little bewildered at all the gunplay and fisticuffs in his pictures. The younger generation is attracted by the G-man implications of the titles and naturally relishes the action. Because of its production crudities this picture was supported by a major company feature.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

RENFREW OF THE ROYAL MOUNTED: James Newill, Carol Hughes—A fine Canadian Mounties picture. Plenty of action and pleased our Saturday audiences.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

SHADOW STRIKES, THE: Rod La Rocque, Lynn Anders—Our patrons did not hesitate to tell us they preferred the fictional Shadow to the screen character. The lurid title plus the presence of a companion picture made the booking profitable, however.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

WALLABY JIM OF THE ISLANDS: George Houston, Ruth Coleman—Another good action picture. OK for Saturday and is different.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

BETWEEN TWO WOMEN: Maureen O'Sullivan, Franchot Tone, Virginia Bruce—A little above average draw, weather considered. Drew many favorable comments, even from the youngsters. Running time, 89 minutes. Played December 20-21.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Dubach, La. Small town and rural patronage.

BETWEEN TWO WOMEN: Franchot Tone, Virginia Bruce, Maureen O'Sullivan—As swell a picture as we have ever played with wonderful portrayals by all three stars. The first role ever played by Maureen O'Sullivan that really showed her talents. Tone is coming fast and will soon equal Gable in popularity if he is given roles such as this. Was enjoyed by all who saw it but they were few and far between. They would rather sit home and listen to the stars over the radio. Running time, 90 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

BRIDE WORE RED, THE: Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone—Again we comment, not on box office, but on the merits of this picture and can truthfully say that if it is properly exploited it should do good for you. Miss Crawford has never been better and Tone is the coming actor of MGM's galaxy of stars. Our attendance as with most exhibitors in the past month was not up to standard. This we attribute largely to radio programs, and what the producer intends to do about this we do not know. They will know, however, when they try selling next season's product. The picture itself is very excellent and Miss Arnzer is a top director if there is one in Hollywood. Running time, 100 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

BRIDE WORE RED, THE: Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone, Robert Young, Reginald Owen—A swell cast, even though Joan Crawford is no box office draw for our town. Think she would be OK if she would improve her makeup and hair-dress. She was quite beautiful in one or two scenes when she did not make herself look impossible. Running time, 103 minutes. Played December 19-20.—Horn and Morgan, Inc., Star Theatre, Hay Springs, Neb. Small town patronage.

DOUBLE WEDDING: William Powell, Myrna Loy—Shades of Mack Sennett and the old pie throwing days. Why Metro wasted the talents of such stars we do not know. Everything went fairly well until the last reel; then the director tried to do the Marx Brothers stunt of a hundred people in one room, a trailer, and it was terrible. Again we do not quote from box office as the crowd ate it up but we are afraid of the next showing as the more sophisticated who come on Monday and Tuesday may hear how bad it is. Play it Friday and Saturday to the kids.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

FIREFLY, THE: Jeanette MacDonald, Allan Jones—This picture has entirely too much footage. The action is slowed with excessive love making between Jones and MacDonald. Of course, if I had been in his place it would have been okay but it does slow the picture down for the average audience. "The Firefly" is, perhaps, tops for a beautiful score among the light operas. Voices of both are tops, too. It has not the tempo of "Rio Rita" or "Maytime" and did not do the business these two did. It is an elaborate production done on a grand scale. But they could have saved some money on the footage and stood a better chance of getting their money out of the production.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind. General patronage.

HELL DIVERS (re-issue): Wallace Beery, Clark Gable—Still a swell picture. Drew extra business and while it had a sad ending, it was not a sob story in any sense of the word and everybody liked it. Running time, 109 minutes. Played December 19-11.—Horn and Morgan, Inc., Star Theatre, Hay Springs, Neb. Small town patronage.

MADAME X: Gladys George, Warren William—Quite generally liked and well produced. Just fair drawing power. Running time, 80 minutes.—E. C. Arehart, Strand Theatre, Milford, Iowa. General patronage.

MADAME X: Gladys George, John Beal, Warren William—This sob stuff simply does not do any business in this town. Our people want something they can enjoy and not cry about. The drawing power of this type of picture is absolutely nil. Running time, 72 minutes. Played December 12-13.—Horn and Morgan, Inc., Star Theatre, Hay Springs, Neb. Small town patronage.

MARRIED BEFORE BREAKFAST: Robert Young, Florence Rice—Dandy little program picture with many popular players not stars. Young is always liked here. Florence Rice is grand. Running time, 70 minutes. Played December 15-16.—Horn and Morgan, Inc., Star Theatre, Hay Springs, Neb. Small town patronage.

NAUGHTY MARIETTA: Nelson Eddy, Jeanette MacDonald—This didn't do so good on a return showing. Some of these reissues don't seem to arouse much interest.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

SONG OF THE CITY: Dean Jeffries, Margaret Lindsay, Nat Pendleton—When Metro makes programs, they sometimes make them about as poor as they come. This one did us no business.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilburny, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

Monogram

FEDERAL BULLETS: Milburn Stone, Terry Walker, Zeffie Tilbury—The exhibitor who has this nameless program picture bought need not be afraid of it. Its entertainment qualities far exceed some of the major company efforts and it is better than average from a technical point of view. The only jarring note in the entire production, perhaps, (and one that apparently was not noticed by the patrons) was Zeffie Tilbury's overacting. The director has made the most of every opportunity in giving the fairly original story a speedy tempo.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

HOOSIER SCHOOLBOY: Mickey Rooney, Anne Nagel—We gave this picture extra advertising and were well repaid. Business was huge; every patron was satisfied, and we were convinced that Mickey Rooney has at last come into his own.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

WHERE TRAILS DIVIDE: Tom Keene—This is an unoriginal, talkative western that managed to get by because of the ingratiating personality of Tom Keene, whom we hope will some day get the break he deserves. The sets, sound and photography are good enough.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

Paramount

BARRIER, THE: Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker—A honey. Many favorable comments. Drew fair. Swell acting. Running time, 87 minutes.—E. C. Arehart, Strand Theatre, Milford, Iowa. General patronage.

BLOSSOMS ON BROADWAY: Edward Arnold, Shirley Ross—The worst mess ever conceived in a modern age by a major producer. Running time, 90 minutes.—E. C. Arehart, Strand Theatre, Milford, Iowa. General patronage.

HOLD 'EM NAVY: Lew Ayres, Mary Carlisle—Very good. Story has different twist in that hero doesn't run in the game at last minute and win the game. Business off.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Reliable

SANTE FE RIDES: Bob Custer—Such westerns as this are an insult to a patron's intelligence and a disgrace to the industry. Apparently produced "off the cuff" in two or three days shooting time and in the can a week after its two thousand dollar cost was promoted, it can only hope to incite the well deserved razzberry from the kids who will sit through it.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

Republic

BOLD CABALLERO, THE: Robert Livingston, Heather Angel—We showed this on Saturday to average business. Very good action picture in color.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

BORDER PHANTOM: Bob Steele, Don Barclay—One of Steele's best in a long time. Don Barclay fine in his role.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

SHIEK STEPS OUT, THE: Ramon Navarro, Lola Lane—We received an unexpected amount of publicity anent the comeback of Navarro and the box office proved that he is not the forgotten man. It is unfor-

IN this, the exhibitors' own department, the theatremen of the nation serve one another with information on the box-office performance of product for their mutual benefit. It is a service of the exhibitor for the exhibitor. Address all communications to—

What the Picture Did for Me
MOTION PICTURE HERALD
Rockefeller Center, New York

tunate, however, that a personality formerly so important and still so young and talented should be forced to appear in such an ordinary production.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

RKO Radio

BREAKFAST FOR TWO: Barbara Stanwyck, Herbert Marshall, Eric Blore—We had them all in on this one, Western fans and all. We expected some squawks for not running the regular Saturday Western on Christmas day but everyone was thoroughly pleased with this picture. Sound system and acoustics must be A-1 to handle speech of Herbert and Blore. Photography excellent, though I feel that a few out-of-door shots, especially of ships, should have been brought into the picture. Running time, 65 minutes. Played December 25-26.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Duback, La. Small town and rural patronage.

FORTY NAUGHTY GIRLS: Zasu Pitts, James Gleason—These detective stories of Oscar Piper are getting to be more in demand than heretofore. Zasu Pitts is truly an artist in her line and the audience reaction was very good. Fine for a double bill. Running time, 55 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

LIFE OF THE PARTY: Harriet Hilliard, Gene Raymond, Joe Penner—A very nice little musical that was enjoyed by our patrons. The tunes were not catchy and Raymond is still his smirky, conceited self and no go here. Miss Hilliard, Joe Penner and the balance of the cast work hard enough to overshadow Raymond's personality. A fair picture but not good enough for top spot. Running time, 70 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

LIVING ON LOVE: James Dunn, Whitney Bourne—We prefer the hundred year old original of this, Box and Cox. In a dozen or so places it momentarily threatened to start clicking but the too-dark photography, the too drab setting and the too poverty stricken protagonists prevented its having the sparkle that a light romantic comedy seems to need. Anyhow, our folks were somewhat disappointed and so was I. Running time, 61 minutes. Played December 18-19.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Dubach, La. Small town and rural patronage.

Twentieth Century-Fox

BIG TOWN GIRL: Claire Trevor, Donald Woods—A surprisingly good little program picture that you could not expect much from but it has been intelligently directed and Miss Trevor is good. I sometimes wonder how far some of these stars would go on their own with their inflated salaries if it wasn't for the director. Some of them can take a little simple story and make a picture that hits.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind. General patronage.

ROLL ALONG COWBOY: Smith Ballew, Cecilia Parker—Entertaining but too polite to suit our patrons who insist upon plenty of gunplay and hard riding. As yet Smith Ballew has not developed a following at our houses, where only two names mean gold: Zane Grey and Gene Autry.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

MAJOR THEATRE EXECUTIVE

Former major circuit operating head, engaged in major motion picture production in West Coast studios for past seven years wishes to return to the field of theatre operation as operating head of Independent Circuit or top division with Major Chain.

Thoroughly versed in circuit operation—familiar with all territories—circuits and divisions in U. S.

Formerly associated with country's leading major circuits and distributors.

AVAILABLE—AFTER JANUARY 1st, 1938

Wire or Write
"Executive"
Box 800

QUIGLEY PUBLICATIONS
6305 YUCCA STREET
HOLLYWOOD, CALIFORNIA

THIN ICE: Sonja Henie, Tyrone Power—These ice pictures are quite good. No sellout, no business like "One in a Million."—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

WAKE UP AND LIVE: Walter Winchell, Ben Bernie, Alice Faye—Genuine enthusiasm in spite of its whiskers. This role of dignity and feeling, where tights would be sheer desecration, is the one for which I believe Alice Faye most admirably suited. Running time, 91 minutes. Played Dec. 16-17.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Dubach, La. Small town and rural patronage.

WAKE UP AND LIVE: Ben Bernie, Walter Winchell, Alice Faye, Jack Haley, Ned Sparks, Patsy Kelly—One of the best, if not the best, musicals of 1937. Fast moving without a let-down from beginning to end, it features the Ben Bernie-Walter Winchell feud, the lusciousness of Alice Faye, the comedy team of Ned Sparks and Patsy Kelly and a superb piece of acting and singing by Jack Haley. Tuneful songs, excellent dancing. It's a sparkling dish to set before the movie fans. Running time, 90 minutes. Played December 25.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

WILD AND WOOLLY: Jane Withers, Walter Brennan—Played just before "The Bride Wore Red," this swell little picture made it look sick at the box office. After all, the people want down-to-earth lovable stories with lovable characters, and little Jane fills the bill to perfection. Running time, 64 minutes. Played December 17-18.—Horn and Morgan, Inc., Star Theatre, Hay Springs, Neb. Small town patronage.

United Artists

WHEN THIEF MEETS THIEF: Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Valerie Hobson—Played on Giveaway Night. Very good. Pleased. Don't think it would have drawn much by itself.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Universal

MAN IN BLUE, THE: Robert Wilcox, Nan Grey, Billy Burrud—This simple little story of a policeman, his adopted son and a lovely young girl made a decided impression with our patrons who were unfamiliar with the stars. It was part of a double program.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

ROAD BACK, THE: Richard Cromwell, John King—Fine. Personally thought it wonderful. King headed for stardom or I'm badly fooled. All of cast great.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

TROUBLE AT MIDNIGHT: Noah Beery, Jr., Catharine Hughes—All Universal seems to grind out is gangsters, newspaper stories and westerns and we can get such stories by the gross most anywhere.—E. C. Arehart, Strand Theatre, Milford, Iowa. General patronage.

WEST BOUND LIMITED: Lyle Talbot, Polly Rowles—The heroine wasn't tied to the tracks but almost all of the familiar ingredients of the old railroad melodrama were put into the making of this latest choo-choo saga. Our patrons whistled and cheered at the appropriate moments and agreed with us that this sort of entertainment is hard to beat when you're in the mood for rough-and-tumble action.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

WINGS OVER HONOLULU: Wendy Barrie, Ray Milland—This picture was not particularly strong at the box office but the audience reaction was perfect. Had we played the film first-run it would doubtlessly have drawn better. Exceptionally good as program pictures go.—J. W. Noah, New Liberty and Ideal Theatres, Fort Worth, Texas. General patronage.

Warner Brothers

FOOTLOOSE HEIRESS: Craig Reynolds, Ann Sheridan—The outstanding feature of this picture is Ann Sheridan. We think she is swell and going places. She is one of the reasons we are sorry we do not have a Vitagraph contract this year. This is only a program picture but entertaining. Running time, 59 minutes. Played December 8-9.—Horn and Morgan, Inc., Star Theatre, Hay Springs, Neb. Small town patronage.

GREAT GARRICK, THE: Brian Aherne, Olivia de Havilland—Not so fond recollections come back on a picture that this one is of that type and that was "The Guardsman." A period story, wholly dialogue with no action it is a class picture and we come again to that word sophisticates, of which there are not enough in a small town to appreciate such pictures as this and "The Guardsman." The picture is clever in spots but it just does not move fast enough to satisfy the rural town audiences.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind. General patronage.

IT'S LOVE I'M AFTER: Leslie Howard, Bette Davis, Olivia de Havilland—If your audience will go for anemic looking Briton Howard ranting Shakespeare through fully half the picture, then I'll say your audience can take it but they won't like it. I never knew they could get so much dialogue in one picture and get no place. It is just seven reels that goes round and round and nothing of any consequence happens until the last reel or so.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia Ctiy, Ind. General patronage.

SINGING MARINE, THE: Dick Powell, Doris Weston—A dandy musical that failed us at the box office. No business just before Christmas.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronge.

Short Features

Columbia

COMMUNITY SING: No. 4—These reels go over very well and our patrons like them.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

DISORDER IN THE COURT: 3 Stooges—Fine but not their best effort. These comedies are knockouts.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

GOOFS AND SADDLES: Three Stooges—One of the best of these three nuts. For slapstick they cannot be beaten.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

HAITI'S BLACK NAPOLEON: Columbia Tours—Pretty good.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

LITTLE MATCH GIRL: Color Rhapsodies—A very fine holiday reel.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

MASQUE RAID, THE: Krazy Kat—Only fair.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Educational

COMIC ARTIST'S HOME LIFE: Jefferson Machamer—Jefferson Machamer with his "Gags and Gals" comes through with another top notch two reeler. Lots of good dancing and music in this. Will build up any program. Running time, 18 minutes.—J. R. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

HOW TO SKI: Treasure Chest—A very fine reel showing how to ski. Very interesting and especially at this time.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

VILLAIN STILL PURSUED HER, THE: Terry-Toons—Judging by this, the art of cartoon making hasn't gotten anywhere yet and never will. Running time, 6½ minutes.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Dubach, La. Small town and rural patronage.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

BEHIND THE CRIMINAL: Crime Does Not Pay Series—We like this series very much. Each one is interesting and instructive.—Horn and Morgan, Inc., Star Theatre, Hay Springs, Neb., Small town patronage.

BOSKO AND THE CANNIBALS: Harman-Ising—Another very clever cartoon, but not in the class of the Disneys.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

CHILE, LAND OF CHARM: FitzPatrick Travel Talks—Up to par of these reels. 'Nuf sed.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

COPENHAGEN: FitzPatrick Travel Talks—Another fine colored travel.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

COPENHAGEN: FitzPatrick Travel Talks—Up to par for beauty and above average for interest. Running time, nine minutes.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Duback, La. Small town and rural patronage.

EQUESTRIAN ACROBATICS: Pete Smith Specialties—This is the finest short we have ever seen and was enjoyed by all. We played it Friday and Saturday and the grownups laughed more than the kids. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

HOUND AND THE RABBIT, THE: Harman-Ising—This series is always good. Running time, one reel.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kansas. Small town patronage.

KING WITHOUT A CROWN, THE: Historical Mysteries—A very interesting historical reel. Well liked.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

LITTLE MAESTRO: Tabloid Musicals—The little guy in this seemed to keep everyone amused for the time allotted him here.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

NIGHT 'N' GALES: Our Gang Comedies—This is a good comedy.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

PIGSKIN CHAMPION: Pete Smith Specialties—This is good.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

ROAMIN' HOLIDAY: Our Gang Comedies—A crackerjack "Our Gang" offering. Got generous applause on this one.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

ROAMIN' HOLIDAY: Our Gang—Played it Christmas day to an enthusiastic audience.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

ROMANCE OF DIGESTION: MGM Miniatures—Pathetic. Over our patrons' heads.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

RUSHIN' BALLET: Our Gang—A very good Our Gang comedy. Enjoyed by everyone.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

RUSHIN' BALLET: Our Gang Comedies—A good gang comedy.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

SKI CHAMPIONS: Pete Smith Specialties—Believe we'll scream if another ski subject is offered us. Why do they have to run these subjects into the ground. First it was tuna fishing, now it's skiing. What'll it be next?—Horn and Morgan, Inc., Star Theatre, Hay Springs, Neb. Small town patronage.

STOCKHOLM, PRIDE OF SWEDEN: FitzPatrick Travel Talks—This just about tops this series of travelogue toppers I was sorry when time came to send it back. Running time, nine minutes.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Dubach, La. Small town and rural patronage.

SUNDAY NIGHT AT THE TROCADERO: Musical Comedies—The first of this series that has been worth anything. This one is very good and clear away from the highbrow entertainment that the balance of this series has been. They could have left Reginald Denny out of it and it would have been still better. Running time, 18 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

Paramount

BLUE OF THE NIGHT, THE: Bing Crosby—Very good. New print. Think I'll play some more of these reissues.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

CIRCUS COMES TO TOWN, THE: Paragraphics—Play this one for your kids. They ate this one up.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

HOLLYWOOD STAR REPORTER No. 2: Headliners—This is very good.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

HULA HEAVEN: Eddie Peabody—If Paramount features were half as good as their shorts they would have the best product of the season. I could get full admission charges on such pictures as "Queens of Harmony" and "Hula Heaven." It is entirely too short running time. The best single act we have ever had. Don't waste it. Running time, eight minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

I LIKE BABIES AND INFINTS: Popeye the Sailor Series—Not as good as some we have seen, but will get by. Running time, 7 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

I LIKE BABIES AND INFINTS: Popeye the Sailor—Fine cartoon although most of them are very much alike. Running time, seven minutes.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

I NEVER CHANGE MY ALTITUDE: Popeye the Sailor Series—A fair Popeye cartoon.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

IT'S A GOOD STUNT: Paragraphics—Thrills aplenty, this seems everything in the way of an action reel that the cash customers could ask for.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

PARAMOUNT PICTORIAL: No. 1—Only fair. Running time, 8 minutes.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa.

RKO Radio

FROZEN AFFAIR, A: Condor Musicales—The best ice-skating reel we have played. Running time, 10 minutes.—P G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa. General patronage.

PATHE PARADE, NO. 2: A very good magazine reel.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

PLUTO'S QUINTUPLETS: Mickey Mouse Series—Very good. One big chuckle from beginning to end. You can't go wrong with Walt Disney. Running time, 8 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn.

ROYAL STEEDS: Sports with Bill Corum—This is topnotch material. The beauty of some of these horses made our folks gasp.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

SWING FEVER: Headliner Series—A fair musical comedy, but should please. Running time, 19½ minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

TRAILING ALONG: Gene Austin—Excellent. Will please your patrons. Gene has always been my favorite when it comes to music and singing. I have longed to see him get a break in features. He is grand, 100 per cent entertainment. I am anxiously awaiting his next. Running time, 20 minutes.—Miss Alice Simmons. Strand and Lyric Theatres, Jefferson, Texas.

Twentieth Century-Fox

BONE BENDER PARADE, THE: Adventures of the Newsreel Cameraman—An excellent wrestling reel. The newsreel men take you around the world and pick out the choicest of the wrestling matches. Very hilarious.—J. R. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

MOTOR MANIACS: Adventures of the Newsreel Cameraman—An automobile racing short packed full of action and thrills. Worth a feature spot on any program. Running time, 10 minutes.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

United Artists

MICKEY'S RIVAL: Mickey Mouse—We find that the bad characters often frighten our small children and they go out in the foyer till it is passed over.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

NEW CONTRIBUTORS FROM SOUTHWEST

Two new contributors to the What the Picture Did for Me Department from the southwest appear in the lists this week. They are:

Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Oklahoma;

Bruce Royal, Trot Theatre, Cuero, Texas.

Reporting after an absence of 18 months is F. L. Clarke of the Cozy theatre in Hazen, Arkansas, who sent his last report in June, 1936.

Universal

COCKTAIL PARTY, THE: Mentone Musical Comedies—Fair one reeler.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

IT'S ON THE RECORD: Mentone Musical Comedies—Fair acts rather unoriginal in manner of presentation.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

LOVE SICK: Oswald Cartoons—Pretty good cartoon.—P. G. Held, New Strand Theatre, Griswold, Iowa.

LUMBER CAMP: Meany-Miny-Moe Cartoons—A fair cartoon.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

Vitaphone

ARNOLD JOHNSON AND ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters—Put it in the can after running it one show. Not so hot. Running time, 8 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

HE WAS HER MAN: Merrie Melodies—Good animated color cartoon. Running time, 10 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

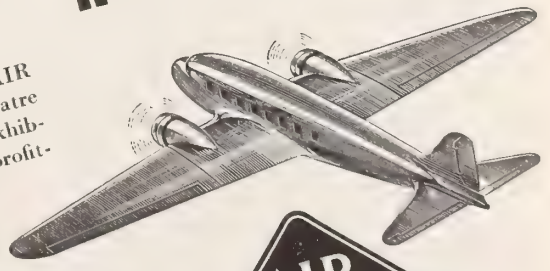
HORSE'S TALE, A: Broadway Brevities—Thank you, Frank Gilbert, for the tip on this one. It brought a lot of laughs.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

MILT BRITTON AND ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters—This novelty band provides a good ten minutes of lively musical fun.—L. A. Irwin, Palace Theatre, Penacook, N. H.

RUSS MORGAN AND HIS ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters—This short pleased all who saw it. The "Merry-Go-Round Broke Down" number was swell and I knew of several people who saw the short a second time in order to see Tommy McDonald and Christine Ross do their "In the Shadows" dance routine again.—Bruce Royal, Trot Theatre, Box No. 507, Cuero, Texas.

UNCLE TOM'S BUNGALOW: Merrie Melodies—Fine colored cartoon. Warner Brothers have fine shorts for my town. Running time, one reel.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Serials



Republic

DICK TRACY: Ralph Byrd, Kay Hughes, Smiley Burnette—On Chapter 11 and am disappointed. Burnette positively disgusting in Chapter 11.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage, PAINTED STALLION, THE: Ray Corrigan, Hoot Gibson—Better than "Dick Tracy."—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

SPOT NEWS!

SCREENED SAME DAY IN 30 STATES . . . thanks to AIR EXPRESS

Almost simultaneously, too. From Studio to AIR EXPRESS plane at 10 A. M. In nearest theatre at noon, farthest by 6 P. M.—and did the exhibitors boast! Fast studio-thinking. Big-time profitable stroke—and the cost was amazingly low. Specify AIR EXPRESS (use "AIRYX" for code). Day and night, nation-wide service. 23,000 offices. Also to Canada, Latin-America and the Far East. For service, rates, schedules, all arrangements and plans, phone any RAILWAY EXPRESS office, and say "AIR EXPRESS Division!"

AIR EXPRESS DIVISION RAILWAY EXPRESS AGENCY, INC.

NEWSPAPER STARTS PUBLIC TALKING OF BOYCOTT OF DOUBLE FEATURES

Civic Group at Evanston, Ill., Prepares for Action After "News-Index" Interviews B & K Officials Without Result

by WILLIAM A. CROUCH
in Chicago

Following up the campaign of an Evanston newspaper, a group of residents of the Chicago suburb this week organized in preparation for the boycotting of all Evanston theatres playing double features. The boycott group is led by E. Ross Bartley, public relations counsel, who in the past 15 years has been White House correspondent for the Associated Press, secretary to Charles Dawes when he was vice-president, and director of public relations for the Century of Progress.

The original campaign instituted by the Evanston News-Index is believed to mark the first time that a newspaper has campaigned against dual bills, although in numerous other cases newspapers had conducted polls on the question of single and double features. In Nutley, N. J., several months ago, anti-double feature league was formed but, while its activities were reported on in newspapers, it was not sponsored by a publication.

After the initial attack on dual bills in the editorial columns of the News-Index, a mass meeting was held by members of the various Parent Teacher Association groups and the Better Films Council, and a petition was drafted and circulated among leading citizens and city officials. When more than 200 signatures had been obtained, the leaders announced, they attempted to present the petition to Jack Sampson, district supervisor for Balaban and Katz theatres, but were unable to locate him.

The News-Index, in addition to supporting the boycott plans, has called upon the city council to adopt ordinances which would outlaw dual bills and result in newer pictures being shown in the city.

Evanston is known for strict censorship of all films and with twice the number of pictures playing in the city since duals started, it has been necessary for officials to be more lenient in regard to the approving of films. This, opponents of double bills claim, has resulted in a lower class of films than has been customarily shown in Evanston.

The standard of entertainment has been lowered considerably, Mrs. Vera Everett, Evanston film censor, declared.

Protest "Aged Films"

In a letter to the News-Index, Mr. Bartley announced that he had written to Balaban and Katz, whose extensive theatre holdings include three houses in Evanston, pointing out their reputed "disregard for the wishes" of Evanston residents, by inflicting "aged films" upon the theatregoing public. Mr. Bartley said the B&K officials evidently thought Evanston below the level of a country town when it came to seeing that residents were given the pictures they desired.

The B & K group practically controls the film situation in Evanston as there is only one other theatre, the Stadium, an independent house that has to follow the B & K theatres to get product.

In urging support of its campaign, the Evanston newspaper recently carried a report of an interview with B & K officials. The article follows:

"If Evanstonians continue to backslide, refusing to patronize stale movie programs, frequently consisting of "quickies' and 'B' pictures, along with occasional Class A Pictures which are very much out of date, the city is likely to get a triple-dose of double features from Balaban and Katz.

"That was the information dished out this week to Daily News-Index representatives who visited the Balaban and Katz chain offices in Chicago.

"No, the newspapermen didn't get to talk to Mr. Balaban and Mr. Katz but they were allowed to talk to the official spokesman, it seems, for the great chain of theatres, one Mr. William Hollander, manager or director of publicity. Present also was Mr. John Sampson, district manager, who has refused in the past to make any statement, and who had little to say.

"Doubt Opposition to Duals"

"The Balaban and Katz spokesmen, despite the recent vigorous protests of Evanston Parent-Teacher association leaders against double feature movies which have been termed detrimental to children, expressed doubt as to whether there was any genuine opposition to the double feature movies.

"And, in explaining why more double features were likely for Evanston, it was claimed by the B & K spokesman that attendance at the two Evanston movie houses now showing single features was so poor that they might have to join the Varsity in showing double-features.

"When it was suggested that better attendance at the local theatres might be inspired by showing more up-to-date films, this was declared impossible.

" 'It's really impossible to give Evanston first run pictures the same time as many other cities get them,' said Mr. B. & K., through Mr. Hollander. 'And after all, they get to see them eventually out in Evanston. Might be six months, or eight.'

" 'But that is something out of our control,' said Spokesman Hollander.

"Conversation developed that Balaban and Katz don't think Evanston has big enough theatres here to accommodate big enough crowds to pay for first-run movie shows of importance.

"The fact that Evanston is the shopping center of the North Shore and that it draws large crowds from surrounding towns failed apparently to impress the B & K spokesman.

"At another point in the interview, Mr. Hollander, however, put blame for Evanston's ancient movies on the distributors from whom Balaban and Katz buy their movies.

" 'The distributors are the boys to blame,' Mr. Hollander explained. Now, while our neighboring cities to the south, and to the north are seeing first run pictures, pictures that all your friends are talking about, Evanston's pictures probably are being 'aged.' 'They're liable to can them and put them on the shelf for six months,' said the spokesman.

"This 'aging' process is entirely out of B & K control, the spokesman said. The distributors find it pays.

"And B & K has to take what the distributors give them. That's the way it works out."

This story was but one of the many the paper printed in an attempt to show Evanstonians just what the attitude of the circuit is regarding the film situation. Under the present release system Evanston theatres play pictures starting in the first-week-of-release period which is ten weeks after they open in the Loop. The Wilmette theatre in nearby Wilmette and the B & K Granada theatre play the pictures in "C" and "B" week, respectively, as they are near Evanston and get the extra clearance.

Club leaders and News-Index executives say they will stage a fight to the finish to get Evanston single features and get them before they are too old to be remembered.

Resume Talk of Suit

And now that the city license fee problem has been solved the independent theatremen will look into the matter of filing suit against Balaban & Katz, charging monopoly, it was learned.

"Plans for the filing of such a suit have been delayed on account of the other matters," said Aaron Saperstein, president of Allied, early this week.

"We will now give the matter every attention," said Mr. Saperstein, "and see if it is not possible to correct the present double-feature situation which is harmful to both the independent and circuit theatres."

ADMEN INTERESTED IN DOUBLE BILLS

Tide, a magazine of advertising and marketing, published a review of the double feature movement in its January 1st issue and concluded the article with the paragraph:

"About it all admen could speculate on what effect . . . a wide attack on double features might have in lengthening radio listening time, on advertisers' chances of getting into theatres with the resurgence of short subjects that could almost certainly be expected."

National Decency Legion Classifies 12 Productions

Of 12 new pictures reviewed and classified by the National Legion of Decency in its listing for the current week, six were approved for general patronage, five for adults and one was classed as objectionable in part. The new films and their classification follow:

Class A-1, Unobjectionable for General Patronage: "Bad Man at Brimstone," "Crashing Hollywood," "Patient in Room 18," "Swing It, Professor," "There Goes the Groom," "Under Suspicion." Class A-2, Unobjectionable for Adults: "La Armata Azzurra" (Italian), "Every Day's a Holiday," "The Jury's Secret," "Prescription for Romance," "Stimme des Blutes" (German). Class B, Objectionable in Part: "Lady Behave."

Adams Rejoins Republic

Al Adams has rejoined Republic as advertising and publicity manager, a post he quit several weeks ago. Jay Blaufox, who has been handling the job, continues with the company.

THEATRE RECEIPTS

The total of theatre receipts for the calendar week ended January 1, 1938, from 63 theatres in 13 major cities of the country was $1,002,509, an increase of $324,599 over the total for the preceding week ended December 25, 1937, when 63 theatres in 13 large cities aggregated $677,910.

(Copyright, 1938. Reproduction of material from this department without specific written permission from MOTION PICTURE HERALD expressly forbidden.)

Theatres (Average weekly grosses for 66 week period from January 4, 1936, to April 3, 1937)	Seats	Price	Average Receipts Per Week	Current Week — Picture	Current Week — Gross	Previous Week — Picture	Previous Week — Gross
Boston
Boston	3,246	25c-55c	$17,700	"She's Got Everything" (RKO).... (stage: Three Stooges)	24,500	"Trouble at Midnight" (Univ.)..... (plus stage show)	18,000
RKO Memorial	2,907	25c-55c	13,600	"Hitting a New High" (RKO) and "Boy of the Streets" (Mono.)	13,000	"Stage Door" (RKO) (4th week) and "Love from a Stranger" (U.A.)	9,000
Loew's Orpheum	2,970	25c-55c	14,500	"The Firefly" (MGM).....	16,800	"52nd Street" (U.A.) and..... "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM)	16,000
Metropolitan	4,332	25c-65c	26,200	"True Confession" (Para.)..... (stage: Jack Powell)	18,600	"Manhattan Merry-Go-Round" .... (Rep.) (stage: Major Bowes' Collegians)	15,000
Paramount	1,793	25c-55c	8,000	"45 Fathers" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "Submarine D-1" (F.N.)	8,700	"Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.) and "Love Is on the Air" (F.N.)	6,000
Chicago
Chicago	4,000	35c-75c	35,500	"True Confession" (Para.)..... (plus stage show) (2nd week)	35,600	"True Confession" (Para.)..... (plus stage show) (1st week)	26,300
Garrick	900	35c-75c	6,800	"Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.)..	6,100	"First Lady" (W. B.).....	4,000
Oriental	3,490	35c-75c	17,500	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.)..... (plus vaudeville revue)	22,000	"Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM).... (plus vaudeville revue)	15,500
Palace	2,509	35c-75c	19,900	"Hitting a New High" (RKO).... (stage: Benny Fields and Revue)	18,400	"A Girl with Ideas" (Univ.)..... (stage: Ted Lewis and revue)	16,000
Roosevelt	1,591	35c-75c	13,000	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox)	14,900	"Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM) (2nd week)	5,000
State-Lake	2,776	20c-55c	14,800	"Fit for a King" (RKO)..... (plus vaudeville revue)	15,200	"West of Shanghai" (F.N.)..... (plus vaudeville revue)	12,000
United Artists	1,700	35c-75c	17,500	"Rosalie" (MGM)	19,600	"The Firefly" (MGM).....	8,500
Cleveland
Allen	3,000	30c-55c	5,700	"She Married an Artist" (Col.)... (3 days) and "Under Suspicion" (Col.) (4 days)	4,000	"Dr. Syn" (GB).....	5,000
Hippodrome	3,800	30c-55c	12,700	"Tovarich" (W.B.)	16,000	"Victoria the Great" (RKO).....	8,000
RKO Palace	3,100	30c-75c	17,800	"45 Fathers" (20th Cent.-Fox)..... (stage: Ted Lewis and revue)	20,000	"The Girl Said No" (G.N.)..... (stage: Major Bowes' International Revue)	14,000
State	3,500	30c-55c	17,200	"Wells Fargo" (Para.).....	19,000	"Stand-In" (U.A.)	11,000
Denver
Denham	1,500	25c-40c	6,700	"True Confession" (Para.).....	8,700	"Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.)..	2,300
Denver	2,500	25c-50c	9,600	"I'll Take Romance" (Col.)..... (stage: Major Bowes' unit)	11,000	"It's Love I'm After" (W.B.) and.. "45 Fathers" (20th Cent.-Fox)	7,000
Orpheum	2,600	25c-40c	7,300	"Hitting a New High" (RKO) and "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM)	6,000	"Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM) and "Fit for a King" (RKO)	10,000
Los Angeles and Hollywood
Carthay	1,518	50c-$1.50	11,800	"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" (RKO)	19,300	"The Hurricane" (U.A.)..... (7th week)	4,750
Chinese	2,500	30c-75c	11,600	"Rosalie" (MGM) and..... "Thank You, Mr. Moto" (20th Cent.-Fox)	14,057	"Second Honeymoon" (20th Cent.- Fox) and "Lancer Spy" (20th Cent.-Fox)	10,661
Four Star	900	40c-55c	4,000	"Dinner at the Ritz" (Para.) and.. "The River" (Para.)	2,871	"Cloistered" (Best)	2,381
Hillstreet	2,700	30c-65c	8,000	"Hitting a New High" (RKO) and "The Westland Case" (Univ.)	6,500	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (4th.. week) and "Paid to Dance" (Col.)	6,700
Loew's State	2,500	30c-75c	14,700	"Rosalie" (MGM) and..... "Thank You, Mr. Moto" (20th Cent.-Fox)	17,431	"Second Honeymoon" (20th Cent.-.. Fox) and "Lancer Spy" (20th Cent.-Fox)	11,569
Pantages	3,595	30c-65c	8,100	"Hitting a New High" (RKO) and "The Westland Case" (Univ.)	6,500	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (4th.... week) and "Paid to Dance" (Col.)	6,600
Paramount	3,595	30c-65c	18,400	"True Confession" (Para.)..... (plus stage show) (2nd week)	15,500	"True Confession" (Para.)..... (plus stage show) (1st week)	16,000
W. B. Hollywood	3,000	30c-65c	10,400	"The Life of Emile Zola" (W.B.).. (2nd week)	17,000	"The Life of Emile Zola" (W.B.).. (5 days-1st week)	11,499
Minneapolis
Minnesota	4,000	25c-55c	12,200	"Wells Fargo" (Para.).....	11,500	"Live, Love and Learn" (MGM).. (8 days)	8,000
RKO Orpheum	2,900	25c-40c	7,200	"Hitting a New High" (RKO).....	3,500	"The Perfect Specimen" (W.B.).... (8 days)	5,000
State	2,400	25c-55c	5,600	"Wild and Woolly" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "San Quentin" (F.N.)	3,000	"The Awful Truth" (Col.)..... (5th week)	5,500
Montreal
Capitol	2,547	25c-60c	9,300	"True Confession" (Para.) and.... "Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.)	11,000	"Ebb Tide" (Para.)..... (2nd week)	5,500
Loew's	3,115	25c-50c	11,000	"Merry-Go-Round of 1938" (Univ.) and "The Man Who Cried Wolf" (Univ.)	9,500	"The Awful Truth" (Col.)..... (4th week) and "Roaring Timber" (Col.)	4,000
Palace	2,600	25c-65c	10,500	"Tovarich" (W.B.)	13,500	"Dr. Syn" (GB) and..... "All In" (British)	6,000
Princess	2,272	25c-65c	7,600	"Heidi" (20th Cent.-Fox) and..... "Thank You, Mr. Moto" (20th Cent.-Fox)	8,500	"Cloistered" (Best)	4,000

[THEATRE RECEIPTS—CONTINUED]

(Average weekly grosses for 66 week period from January 4, 1936, to April 3, 1937)

Theatres	Seats	Price	Average Receipts Per Week	Current Week — Picture	Current Week — Gross	Previous Week — Picture	Previous Week — Gross
New York
Astor	1,142	55c-$2.20	15,600	"The Hurricane" (U.A.) (8th week)	10,500	"The Hurricane" (U.A.) (7th week)	11,000
Capitol	4,700	25c-85c	33,400	"Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM)	29,000	"The Last Gangster" (MGM) (2nd week)	17,000
Criterion	1,700	25c-75c	12,000	"Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.)	8,000	"Bulldog Drummond's Revenge" (Para.)	6,000
Paramount	3,700	25c-99c	36,100	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (stage: Fred Waring and Orch.)	65,000	"True Confession" (Para.) (stage: Russ Morgan and Orch.) (2nd week)	42,000
Rialto	594	25c-55c	7,700	"Sh! The Octopus" (F.N.)	8,500	"The Shadow" (Col.)	7,000
Rivoli	2,200	25c-99c	23,100	"Hitting a New High" (RKO)	25,000	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO) (3 days-5th week)	3,000
RKO Music Hall	6,200	40c-$1.65	79,000	"I'll Take Romance" (Col.) (plus stage show) (2nd week)	105,800	"I'll Take Romance" (Col.) (plus stage show) (1st week)	83,000
Roxy	5,954	25c-75c	35,400	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.) (plus stage show)	48,500	"Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo" (20th Cent.-Fox) (plus stage show)	20,000
Strand	3,000	40c-99c	20,800	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.)	36,000	"First Lady" (W.B.)	14,000
Oklahoma City
Criterion	1,300	10c-40c	5,300	"Wells Fargo" (Para.)	6,500	'Angel" (Para.) (stage: Major Bowes' International Revue) (8 days)	4,000
Midwest	1,500	10c-40c	4,300	"Tovarich" (W.B.)	5,000	'Navy Blue and Gold" (MGM) (9 days)	4,200
Tower	1,100	10c-35c	....	"Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM)	2,500	'The Great Garrick" (W.B.) (3 days)	900
Omaha
Brandeis	1,200	25c-40c	4,900	"Hitting a New High" (RKO) and 'Danger Patrol" (RKO)	4,800	'Fight for Your Lady" (RKO) and 'Fit for a King" (RKO)	4,500
Omaha	2,200	25c-40c	6,900	"Rosalie" (MGM) and "Expensive Husbands" (W.B.)	10,100	"Ebb Tide" (Para.) and "45 Fathers" (20th Cent.-Fox)	8,500
Orpheum	3,600	25c-40c	9,200	"Tovarich" (W.B.) and "Beg, Borrow or Steal" (MGM) (8 days)	8,600	"Merry-Go-Round of 1938" (Univ.) and "First Lady" (W.B.) (stage: Big Apple Dance Contest Sat. midnight with preview of "Beg, Borrow or Steal" (MGM)	8,000
Philadelphia
Aldine	1,300	40c-65c	9,200	"The Hurricane" (U.A.)	14,500	"Nothing Sacred" (U.A.) (4th week)	6,300
Boyd	2,400	40c-65c	14,800	"Tovarich" (W. B.)	20,000	"First Lady" (W.B.)	10,000
Fox	3,000	40c-65c	17,000	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox)	20,000	"Beg, Borrow or Steal" (MGM)	10,000
Stanley	3,700	40c-65c	15,700	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (6 days-2nd week)	12,000	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (1st week)	17,000
San Francisco
Fox	5,651	15c-75c	11,000	"True Confession" (Para.) and "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM) (6 days-2nd week)	16,000	"True Confession" (Para.) and "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM) (1st week)	16,000
Golden Gate	2,850	15c-55c	16,600	"Danger Patrol" (RKO) (plus vaudeville)	16,000	"Fit for a King" (RKO) (plus stage band)	13,000
Orpheum	2,440	15c-55c	8,200	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.) and "The Shadow" (Col.)	9,000	"Merry-Go-Round of 1938" (Univ.) and "Murder in Greenwich Village" (Col.) (2nd week)	7,000
Paramount	2,670	15c-75c	13,300	"Rosalie" (MGM)	14,000	"First Lady" (W.B.) and "Blossoms on Broadway" (Para.) (6 days)	10,000
United Artists	1,200	15c-75c	6,900	"Nothing Sacred" (U.A.)	11,000	"The Prisonerof Zenda" (U.A.) (9 days-5th week)	6,000
Warfield	2,680	15c-75c	15,300	"Tovarich" (W.B.) and "Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.)	15,000	"The Firefly" (MGM) (3rd week)	7,000
Seattle
Fifth Avenue	2,500	30c-55c	7,700	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO) and "Angel" (Para.)	7,300	"Second Honeymoon" (20th Cent.-Fox) "First Lady" (W.B.) (6 days-2nd week)	5,900
Liberty	1,800	30c-55c	7,700	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (6th week)	5,200	"The Awful Truth" (Col.) (5th week) (5th week)	5,000
Orpheum	2,450	30c-40c	6,000	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.) and "High Flyers" (RKO) (2nd week)	5,200	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.) and "High Flyers" (RKO) (1st week)	5,600
Paramount	3,050	30c-40c	5,200	"True Confession" (Para.) and "Thoroughbreds Don't Cry" (MGM) (2nd week)	5,750	"True Confession" (Para.) and "Thoroughbred Don't Cry" (MGM) (1st week)	6,250

RADIO BILLINGS AT NEW HIGH, TWO NETWORKS GROSSING 73 MILLIONS

Columbia System Estimates 24.4% Increase to $28,828,058; NBC Gross $38,523,950, a Gain of 12 Per Cent

Radio billings, in a year marked by a closer relationship with the motion picture industry, talentwise, reached new highs for 1937, NBC and CBS together grossing $73,049,900 for the year, and this week officials of the large broadcasting companies predicted that the first quarter of 1938 will see a continuation of the record trend.

In addition to record business, 1937 brought to radio the conquest of many technical and scientific obstacles to the development of television; the threat of a federal investigation and censorship of the industry; several labor drives by organizations such as the American Federation of Musicians; a more widespread use of motion picture personalities on radio programs, and a battle over the material used by the socalled radio "gossipers" covering Hollywood.

Commenting on the predictions of radio officials for continued record business, the Wall Street Journal this week reported:

"Explaining their optimism for early 1938, despite the general down trend of business, spokesmen for the industry point out that bookings for radio network time usually are made for a 13-week period. This, they state, would continue most of the present radio programs through the first three months of 1938. This also is the reason for the general up trend of network time sales throughout the final quarter of 1937, when other industries were suffering from a business recession."

Large Increases in Earnings

Statements of the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System showed greater earnings for 1937 than for any other period in radio's history.

For the full year, CBS, estimating December results, had total network billings of $28,828,058, an increase of 24.4 per cent over the $23,168,148 reported in 1936, which, previously, was the banner year.

NBC, also estimating the final month's results, had total network time sales for the year of $38,523,950, an increase of approximately 12 per cent over billings of $34,523,950 reported for 1936.

"These increases," the Journal said, "are indicative of the growth of the size of the network, as well as increased use of radio for advertising purposes. NBC had 89 stations at the end of 1935, 102 at the close of 1936 and now has 143 stations on its combined red and blue networks. CBS had 91 stations in 1935; 95 at the close of 1936 and the present number is 111 stations.

"This has been one of the factors in the increases in the revenue, since any network has a limited amount of time to sell, and even less of the more desirable evening hours. Thus, any network having a good year will not show much in the following year unless more stations are added. No network is even near being sold out completely, but, in some instances, the time open is not considered desirable by clients.

"Daytime gross billings of CBS in 1937 amounted to $8,728,312, for an increase of 88.9 per cent over the $4,619,801 reported in the year previous and evening billings registered an increase of 8.3 per cent over the 1936 comparatives. NBC recorded daytime gross billings of approximately $11,000,000 in 1937, an increase of 40 per cent over a year ago, while evening time sales are up 3.9 per cent.

"Aided by substantial increases in sales of daylight time and increased sales of time over a greater number of stations, it is estimated that CBS will report net income of slightly under $4,000,000 after all charges for 1937. This is equal to between $2 and $2.50 a share on the 1,707,950 shares of par $2.50 combined classes A and B capital stock, which will be outstanding upon completion of the exchange of the old $5-par capital stock.

"This would compare with net income of $3,755,523, after all charges reported for the 53 weeks ended January 2nd, 1937, equal to $2.20 a share on the same basis.

"A breakdown of CBS network figures for 1937 reveals a 24.4 per cent increase in gross billings over 1936, previous high year; increases in total billings for 13 different industries and a 25.9 per cent greater average expenditure per client.

"During the past year, 89 advertisers spent an average of $323,911 for time on the CBS network, for an increase of 25.9 per cent over the $257,292 average expenditures of 87 advertisers in the previous year.

"With the network estimating December figures, a survey of the major classifications of industry using CBS time shows that soap and household supplies accounts gained 83.6 per cent over 1936, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco 64.6 per cent; automotive accounts 54.6 per cent."

Hollywood continued to gain as a program source, the majority of the major programs emanating from the Coast. The relationship between the two industries, radio and motion pictures, became closer at the outset of the year when Paramount undertook a studio program. However, the company abandoned the plan after a short experiment and it was not until the Fall that similar programs were launched by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, first, and then by Warner Brothers.

60 NBC Television Showings

In the field of television, the year witnessed more than 60 demonstrations given by NBC. The Mutual Broadcasting System's coast affiliate, Don Lee, started daily television service and CBS started construction of the world's largest television unit.

The Journal, discussing television, said: "On both the networks, (CBS and NBC) a large corps of engineers have been busy unraveling mysteries of electronic television. The most significant development during the year by the television engineers was the increasing of the definition standards from a scanned image of 343 lines to one of 441 lines."

"At the end of the year, television is still an unfinished product, in the opinion of the engineers, although cooperation among the network's engineering departments has brought it appreciably closer to the American home."

Investigations Asked

Throughout the year, various members of Congress demanded investigations of radio, most charging monopoly.

The threat of censorship was raised after the recent Mae West-Charlie McCarthy broadcast for Chase and Sanborn coffee.

The American Federation of Musicians, early in the year, demanded that radio spend an additional $1,500,000 a year for musicians and the ultimatum resulted in the calling of a special session of the National Association of Broadcasters. At the end of the year the situation was almost settled, with the Federation's demands agreed to by the industry.

Various labor organizations, including AF of M, Equity, American Radio Telegraphers Association and American Guild of Radio Announcers and Producers, made inroads into radio, organizing groups winning national and sectional recognition.

ADS CONVEY THANKS FOR STAGE SHOWS

Theatrical Stage Employees, Local 31, and the Musicians Association, Local 34, of Kansas City inserted four column advertisements in Kansas City newspapers last week to express their gratitude to the Music Hall and Fox Tower theatre managements for their stage show policies.

The advertisements read in part:

"The above union organizations wish to thank the Honorable Judge H. F. McElroy, city manager; Mr. George Goldman, director of the Municipal Auditorium and their associates for bringing stage shows to the Music Hall . . . and hereby extend to the management of the Fox Tower theatre a vote of thanks and appreciation for maintaining a continuous stage show policy during the past year. . . ."

New Movietone Policy

Movietone News, released through Twentieth Century-Fox, Saturday will inaugurate a new policy when it makes all its newsreels, designed for Central and South American countries, with complete commentaries in Spanish and Portuguese.

Rogers Becomes Producer

Bogart Rogers, who recently has been a story aide for William Le Baron, managing director of Paramount production, has been made a producer for the company.

THERE IS A NEW NAME THAT MEANS "BOX OFFICE INSURANCE" TO EVERY EXHIBITOR

THIS page is an announcement—and a dedication.

It is addressed to the motion picture exhibitors of America.

It announces a new organization in the field of service to the nation's exhibitors.

It dedicates itself to a broader and more complete conception of technical service than the exhibitor has known in the past. It aims to be a vital element in "box office insurance"—"that your theatre may never be dark"....

Altec Service Corporation dares to make so sweeping a self-dedication because Altec, although a new and wholly independent organization, soundly organized, soundly financed and soundly manned, is at the same time a mature, seasoned organization, backed by ten years' experience in the field.

Altec embarks on its independent career with the integrated knowledge and capacity for team play of picked men from the engineering, sales and service staffs of Electrical Research Products, Inc., and still enjoys the co-operation of Bell Telephone Laboratories, as well as the full resources in the field, in men and materiel, established by Electrical Research Products, Inc.

Altec Service Corporation, alert, alive, aggressive, will do everything in its power to deserve, to secure and to maintain, the esteem and the good will of the exhibitors of America.

it is ALTEC

SERVICE CORPORATION

"THAT YOUR THEATRE MAY NEVER BE DARK...."

MANAGERS' ROUND TABLE CLUB

An international association of showmen meeting weekly in MOTION PICTURE HERALD for mutual aid and progress

THEATRE OPENINGS

On a recent tour of the country we were impressed with the activity concerning the building and opening of new theatres. A series of articles dealing with the methods of advertising, publicity and exploitation employed in these openings seem particularly timely at this point.

While in Nat Wolf's Warner Brothers' zone in Cleveland, we witnessed the action going on in preparation for the opening of a new theatre in Shaker Heights. Sid Dannenberg, publicity director in this zone, had planted a dandy contest with the Cleveland Plain Dealer, besides completing numerous other excellent ideas.

In Virginia, the Neighborhood Theatres, Inc., were about to open several new houses under the guidance of General Manager Sam Bendheim, and to be executed by Advertising Manager Dave Kamsky. Dave had many fine ideas in the works, and a most excellent inaugural souvenir program.

Both Mr. Dannenberg and Mr. Kamsky are writing of their activities in this direction for future publication in the Round Table pages. Other Fellow Round Tablers are invited to submit their campaigns on theatre openings.

Under the new system of Quigley Awards for 1938, activities of this sort are included for consideration in the Competitions.

▽ ▽ ▽

THOSE ADJECTIVES!

The recent passing away of Dexter Fellows, oft called the "dean of American press agents" and emissary of good-will for the "Big Show" for many years, recalls some of this late estimable gentleman's use of tongue-twisting adjectives. Here are two good examples of the way Mr. Fellows practised this ear-smacking art:

" 'Dundreary', the spiral-whiskered sea-elephant, will arrive this morning on the Steamer Cleveland, in a Curiously Constructed Cistern of Colossal Capacity. This Bearded Behemoth is the Bulkiest of Brutes that Barge about the Briny."

"First presentation of the pretty, picturesque, poetic, prime, prink, pretentious, processional prelude to the prodigious program of performances entitled Peace."

While we have had the utmost respect for the late Mr. Fellows, his above two examples of this muscle-bound form of writing will serve to best illustrate to the theatre manager the excessive use of adjectives in his advertising copy. The picture-going public of today is far too intelligent to be "sold" in a manner such as above.

CHEERS FOR AWARDS

It is with pardonable pride that we point to the mounting enthusiasm displayed each year by the leaders in our Industry to serve as Judges for the Quigley Awards.

In our pages this week we offer for your perusal some of the first expressions received from these gentlemen.

▽

Please note that you are not to wait until the end of each three-month period to submit your material for Award consideration. Shoot it along as fast as you have it ready instead of waiting to submit it all at once.

In next week's Round Table section you will find a complete listing of the cities under their proper classifications. You no doubt will be interested to learn just exactly whom you are competing with in this year's contests.

▽

S. Barret McCormick's staff at RKO has outdone itself in the trade paper advertising of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs". We also had occasion to note their method of selling this Disney full-length production in the press book and offer our congratulations on a job well done and in keeping with the quality of this excellent and history-making entertainment.

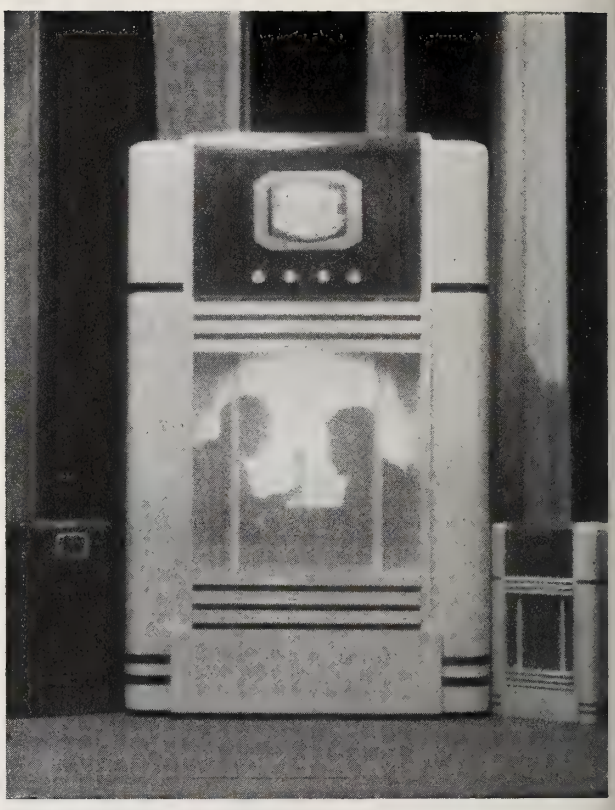
▽

The simultaneous arrival of the Panay Bombing Films of three newsreel companies had the home office advertising and publicity crews on their toes and stepping pretty fast.

That the boys were equal to the task of selling these timely films on exceptionally short notice, is shown by their enterprise in not only having huge blow-ups set for theatre lobbies, etc., but in their quick action in newspapers. Fox Movietone took a step forward by taking huge 800 line ads in all dailies listing approximately 275 theatres in Greater New York playing their newsreel.

Universal went so far as to even have a bodyguard meet the plane carrying the pictures at the Newark Airport.

"On Your Toes for 1938" sounds like a mighty fine slogan for everyone in the industry.



Let's hear from you.

Jack Goldstein

Round Table In Pictures

Designed and built by George Johnson, Lust's Cameo, Hyattsville, Md., for Dave Ginsberg's Christmas front at the Arcade there, was giant Kris Kringle with two-way communication system that permitted the kiddies to 'phone Santa. The vocal St. Nick repeated their wants so that all spectators on street could hear same block away. Photo shows some of the kiddies and, to left and right, Managers Johnson and Ginsberg.

Through tieup with radio manufacturer, mammoth 11-foot machine was planted in lobby of the President Theatre, San Francisco. Popular M.C., sports and news announcers broadcast from within the machine, use of indirect lighting effect making the announcers visible to the audience. Tieup was also effected with radio station in conjunction.

To the fore again comes Louie Charninsky, Capitol Theatre, Dallas, Tex., with one of his atmospheric fronts for which he is so well known. This one on "Borneo" consisted of tropical cane from side to side, two bally men, all kinds of animal skins, tom-toms, etc. Directly in front of his box office, Louie planted a cage in which was housed a live chimp.

Described elsewhere in this section is "Alcatraz" crime exhibit trailer used by Frank Starz and his Texas Interstate boys to exploit that picture. Trailer visited all towns in which Interstate theatres are located, with newspapers and police giving their support. Picture has been booked in road-show fashion, allowing the presence of exhibit at least once a day in advance of showing.

For "Ali Baba", Walter Davis, Capitol, Regina, Saskatchewan (Canada), tied in with Texaco and Station CJRM. Special equipment was placed in lobby to pick up daily news service for the Texaco broadcast. . . . Above, right, illustrates lobby display used by A. W. Church, Colonial, Harrisburg, Pa., for "Wells Fargo". Model of stage coach used in the picture was planted on stand in front of map showing route covered by the company.

Described elsewhere in this section is car giveaway by Ed Siegal, third from left, at the Maspeth Theatre, Maspeth, L. I., during Christmas week. Shown with Siegal are the merchants who participated in the giveaway and child chosen from audience to pick the lucky number. So satisfied were the merchants cooperating, that the theatreman plans calling on them for another tieup.

Replica of ship used in "Souls at Sea" was mounted on truck and used as street bally by Julius Fisher, Capitol, Singapore, S. S. That's Fisher standing at truck. . . . Left, is illustrated Radio City Music Hall's 40 by 60 layout in lobby, month ahead of opening of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs".

QUICK REPORTS FROM THE FIELD

"Boy of the Streets"

Among the many promotions effected by Monogram for "Boy of the Streets," according to Lou Lifton, director of advertising and publicity is a tieup with Malt-O-Meal, breakfast food for youngsters, which is carrying an advertising campaign on Jackie Cooper in the Fawcett Women's Group and other publications. Product's radio program, featured thrice weekly over stations in 21 cities, also gives mention to Cooper.

Other tieups on the star include a Graflex camera with 16,000 dealers handling the camera throughout the country. In addition, still of Jackie using the camera have been released to ten leading photographic publications. N. Y. State Bureau of Milk Publicity has also sent mats showing Jackie drinking milk to every newspaper in the state.

Special Prevue

To usher in "Conquest" at the Loew Theatre, Nashville, Tenn.," Manager William Crull held a special prevue showing for newspaper critics and a selected audience of teachers, etc., week ahead of opening. Study guides were placed in the hands of history teachers in schools and short sales talks on the merits of the picture were made by MGM exploiteer Jimmy Thames.

Blowup of Garbo wearing the famous Empress Josephine jewels was displayed in window of leading jeweler, a reported first time for this exclusive store to permit picture publicity. Department store came through with style window display showing the Napoleonic influence, bookmarks were distributed in public libraries and colored heralds were distributed house to house by newsboys.

Double Wedding

Jerry Sager, Dan Harris and Norman Seigel, all with Loew's Metropolitan, Brooklyn, promoted a trailer for their "Double Wedding" date, decorated it with wedding and honeymoon signs and had it driven up to Borough Hall. Two couples (ushers and usherettes) entered through the rear of the Hall, visited the Aldermanic Chambers and marched out down the front steps where they were greeted by "planted" civilians and rice shower.

Couples then entered the trailer and drove to cooperating hotel where luncheon was served. Slant was repeated at railroad station, advertising cards being passed out wherever the trailer stopped.

SCHLINKER PUTS OVER CLASSIFIED PROMOTION

Unusual classified ad promotion idea running for thirty days was inaugurated by Harry Schlinker, Warner Theatre, San Pedro, Cal., for "Submarine D-1" through tieup with local newspaper.

Labelling the gag a "chuckle-ad" contest, prizes were offered to readers submitting best four lines picked from as many different advertisements appearing in the paper to make a humorous or ridiculous ad when completed. Entries were accepted at office of paper or theatre, and during entire life of contest, preceding day's winning ads were published following day.

Newspaper Contest

Ingenious newspaper contest was planted recently by Harold Bartlett, Roxy Theatre, Langdon, N. D., with 53 businessmen cooperating. Double truck was run in paper, with two-inch boxes devoted to each merchant whose name was omitted from the ad. Copy gave readers clue to the type of merchandise sold by the store and it was necessary for each entrant to call at the store, secure the correct name of business, owner's name and phone number. Information was then filled in in space provided for in each merchant's ad and to those correctly submitting the desired information, guest tickets were awarded.

Bartlett further managed to get in plenty of plugs in the layout for his current and forthcoming attractions.

Safety Slant

More than 1,000 children were entertained for nearly two hours at the RKO Paramount, a close-in Cincinnati suburban theatre, as the local Merchants' Association opened its safety compaign to decrease accidents through promotion of a better understanding of safety methods. Addresses were made by Safety Director Henry J. Wernke and Eugene Weatherly, chief of police, and a series of comedies were shown on the screen. Joe Goetz, manager of the Paramount, is also manager of the campaign, in which children are asked to submit essays on safety, for which substantial prizes, on display in the theatre lobby, were awarded. Children attending the meeting were presented with safety patrol buttons and membership cards containing the safety creed.

Prison Stuff

The Strand Theatre, Vancouver, B. C., received publicity break during the "Alcatraz Island" date recently which helped bring extra shekels into the box-office. Coincidentally with the run of the picture, the Vancouver Daily Province ran a series of articles by a resident of the city who was a former inmate of Alcatraz Prison. The resulant publicity from the article, which was given a featured spot in the paper, aided the picture considerably at the box-office. The theatre took advantage of the story by screening the picture for the author of the articles, and took an ad quoting his endorsement of the picture as to the authenticity of the prison sequences.

Mis-Spelled Contest

Reported as a first-timer in Farmington, Maine, was the misspelled word contest planted in paper by Arthur LaPlante for his "You Can't Have Everything" date at the State Theatre. Full co-op page was promoted and guest tickets went to those correctly listing the misspelled words scattered through merchants' ads.

Pedigreed Pooch

To exploit "The Awful Truth" at Loew's State, Syracuse, N. Y., Ed McBride offered a pedigreed wire-haired terrier to the person writing the best review on the picture. Purp was planted in lobby week ahead with copy on the contest.

For "52nd Street," McBride sent a sound truck out on streets playing records of hit tunes, both sides of car bannered with copy on the picture, playdates and cast. Window displays were secured in leading stores, coiffeur displays in beauty salons and announcements made daily over stations WSYR and WFBL.

Car Giveaway

Ed Siegal, manager of the Maspeth Theatre, Maspeth, N. Y., organized the local Board of Trade and put on a campaign for the Merchants pre-Xmas shopping. The high light of the event was a car given away at the theatre with the merchants standing cost of the car and advertising. Merchants gave out lucky number coupons and carried special window plugs up to final week. Theatre used special display in lobby, and backs of house program to publicize the night.

(See photo in Round Table Picture section.)

RACE IS ON—1938 QUIGLEY AWARDS CONTEST OPENS

Quigley Awards Information . . . At a Glance . . .

Awards will be made quarterly; that is, your material will be judged on a basis of three-month periods. You "start from scratch" every three months. Quarterly competitions run: WINTER: Jan. 1–March 31; SPRING: April 1–June 30; SUMMER: July 1–Sept. 30; FALL: Oct. 1–Dec. 31.

△

There are five different classifications under which you are eligible: "A", cities of 250,000 or over; "B", cities of 100,000 to 250,000; "C", cities of 25,000 to 100,000; "D", cities of 25,000 or under; "E", suburban or subsequent runs.

△

Silver Plaques will be awarded to each entry voted best in the above five classifications. An additional citation will be voted for the best entry selected as best from among these five winners, regardless of classification.

Citation of Merit Sheepskin Certificates will be awarded for the runner-up in each classification. First and Honorable Mention Sheepskins will also be voted entries not awarded plaques or Citation of Merit, but deemed worthy of recognition.

△

Every contribution from the field to Managers' Round Table that has to do with Advertising, Exploitation or Publicity in the theatre during each three-month period will be considered in determining the Quarterly Awards.

△

Complete campaigns are not necessary, although they are desirable.

△

Institutional campaigns such as anniversaries, festivals, new theatre openings, new season drives, kiddies' clubs, civic tie-ups, etc., will also be eligible for recognition.

△

Selections by the Judging Committee will be based upon an entrant's efforts during the three-month competition and not upon any one single picture campaign, as heretofore.

The Quigley Annual Awards will be continued in 1938, the winners to be chosen from among entrants earning the highest ratings in the year's four quarterly Competitions.

Judges Unanimous in Acclaiming Merits of 1938 Competitions

by JACK GOLDSTEIN

Unqualified and unanimous support from every branch of the Industry plus the renewed enthusiasm of theatremen everywhere starts the ball rolling in the Competitions for the Quigley Awards for 1938. The race commenced as of January 1st. Your material must be in our hands no later than April 10th, to be eligible for the First Quarter Awards. (First Quarter ends March 31st.)

Detailed explanation of the new system under which Quigley Awards for 1938 are to be made was announced in our last issue. To the left of this page may be found a short, quick resume of the important phases of the new Competitions.

Five Silver Plaques will be awarded to the winners of the Quarterly Awards, one to each winner in his class. Citations of Merit and First and Honorable Mentions will be continued to be awarded. Citations of merit will go to the runner-up in each classification, while the First and Honorable Mentions will be awarded in the order of their standings. The Quigley Annual Award will be continued.

On the next two pages are set down the first of the endorsements of the Industry's executives who have accepted appointment to the Judging Committee of 1938. Many of these esteemed gentlemen have served as judges every year of the Competitions, and each year their enthusiasm for the Awards continues to mount.

The theatremen in the field, too, have responded with an alacrity and enthusiasm that is indeed gratifying to this department. Expressions from some of these men may also be found in the following pages, as well as in our next week's issue, in addition to more Judges' endorsements.

The race is on, boys, . . . and remember, this time it isn't a sprint and furthermore all entries are evenly matched, so let's go . . . and good luck to you all!

First Listing of the 1938 Judges

AL ADAMS, Advertising
NEIL AGNEW, Distribution
E. L. ALPERSON, Distribution
HARRY ARTHUR, Exhibition
CARTER BARRON, Exhibition
EDWARD C. BEATTY, Exhibition
A. H. BLANK, Exhibition
MORT BLUMENSTOCK, Advertising
H. D. BUCKLEY, Distribution
JOHN D. CLARK, Distribution
JACK COHN, Distribution
NED DEPINET, Distribution
HOWARD DIETZ, Advertising
OSCAR A. DOOB, Advertising
JOHN DOWD, Advertising
S. CHARLES EINFELD, Advertising
EDWARD M. FAY, Exhibition
WILLIAM R. FERGUSON, Advertising
EDWARD FINNEY, Advertising
W. A. FINNEY, Exhibition
J. J. FITZGIBBONS, Exhibition
JOHN J. FRIEDL, Exhibition
LOUIS FRISCH, Exhibition
ARTHUR FRUDENFELD, Exhibition
ROBERT M. GILLHAM, Advertising
HARRY GOLDBERG, Advertising
EDWARD GOLDEN, Distribution
E. C. GRAINGER, Exhibition
MONROE GREENTHAL, Advertising
A. C. HAYMAN, Exhibition
JOHN W. HICKS, JR., Distribution
NAT HOLT, Exhibition
WILLIAM K. JENKINS, Exhibition
W. RAY JOHNSTON, Distribution
JOHN JOSEPH, Advertising
HARRY M. KALMINE, Exhibition
LIONEL H. KEENE, Exhibition
H. F. KINCEY, Exhibition
IRVING LESSER, Exhibition
JULES LEVY, Distribution
M. A. LIGHTMAN, Exhibition
HARRY E. LONG, Exhibition
CHARLES E. McCARTHY, Advertising
S. BARRET McCORMICK, Advertising
VINCENT R. McFAUL, Exhibition
ARTHUR L. MAYER, Exhibition
DAN MICHALOVE, Distribution
CHARLES C. MOSKOWITZ, Exhibition
M. J. MULLIN, Exhibition
JOHN NOLAN, Exhibition
R. J. O'DONNELL, Exhibition
S. PINANSKI, Exhibition
ARCH REEVE, Advertising
PHIL REISMAN, Distribution
RICK RICKETSON, Exhibition
SAMUEL RINZLER, Exhibition
WILLIAM F. RODGERS, Distribution
RALPH ROLAN, Distribution
E. H. ROWLEY, Exhibition
J. J. RUBENS, Exhibition
GEORGE J. SCHAEFER, Distribution
TED SCHLANGER, Exhibition
SI SEADLER, Advertising
HARRY F. SHAW, Exhibition
A. W. SMITH, JR., Distribution
A. J. SPARKS, Exhibition
GEORGE W. TRENDLE, Exhibition
W. G. VAN SCHMUS, Exhibition
J. R. VOGEL, Exhibition
GEORGE C. WALSH, Exhibition
HOWARD WAUGH, Exhibition
DAVID E. WESHNER, Exhibition
GORDON S. WHITE, Advertising
R. B. WILBY, Exhibition
NAT WOLF, Exhibition

1938 JUDGES ENDORSE AWARDS

E. C. BEATTY
President, Butterfield Theatres
Detroit, Mich.

Replying to your letter, I will be very glad to serve as a Judge on the Quigley Awards Contest for 1938.

▽

MORT B. BLUMENSTOCK
Advertising Manager
Warner Bros. Pictures

I am very pleased to act as one of the judges in selecting the winners in next year's competition.

Any agency which encourages theatre managers and exhibitors to spend more time and thought in the selling of their product to the ultimate consumer is to be welcomed with open arms by the producers and distributors.

As an example of the importance attached to the Quigley Awards I point to managers of the Warner Theatres, who, I believe, have been represented in the awards more than any other circuit.

▽

H. D. BUCKLEY
Vice President
United Artists Corporation

Regarding your inquiry. Please be advised that I will be very happy to again serve as a Judge on the Committee for the Quigley Awards for 1938.

▽

W. R. FERGUSON
Director of Exploitation
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures

Certainly you can place me on the Awards Committee of The Quigley Competitions for 1938.

Sincerely trust that this excellent cooperative promotion service will continue to be most successful.

▽

JACK COHN
Executive Vice President
Columbia Pictures Corp.

I have your letter inviting me to serve as a Judge on the Quigley Awards Committee for 1938.

I shall be very glad to serve on this committee and you may count on any assistance I can render in this regard.

▽

OSCAR A. DOOB
Director Advertising and Publicity
Loew's, Inc.

Of course, I will be delighted to continue serving as a judge in the Quigley Awards in 1938. And I'm glad you have decided to continue this fine method of stimulating showmanship.

The Quigley Awards Competitions have become a definite part of the advertising end of show business, and each year, in my opinion, the competitions take on more interest and prestige. You have contributed one of the very few serious attempts to raise the standards of moving picture exploitation, publicity and advertising, and keep alive that spirit of enthusiasm which is the basis of showmanship.

▽

ROBERT M. GILLHAM
Director of Advertising and Publicity
Paramount Pictures, Inc.

I will be delighted to serve as a Judge on the Committee for Quigley Awards during 1938.

Ned Depinet Says Quigley Awards Stimulate Grosses

As a member of the Committee of Judges for the Quigley Awards over a long period of time, I have been impressed from year to year by the greater number of managers and publicists that have entered the monthly competitions and by the constantly improving excellence of their campaigns. In my opinion, the activities of the Managers' Round Table have been one of the principal factors in stimulating better showmanship, resulting in bigger box-office grosses for many pictures. I have always greatly admired the manner in which A-Mike Vogel has conducted the section of the Motion Picture Herald devoted to exploitation and from my knowledge of Jack Goldstein's work in the past, I know that he will carry on in the same tradition and with the same happy results.

Good luck to all contestants during 1938!—NED DEPINET, Vice-President, RKO-Radio Pictures.

EDWARD A. GOLDEN
Sales Manager,
Monogram Pictures

I shall be very glad to serve as a judge on the Committee for 1938 in the Quigley Awards. I have witnessed the Managers' Round Table since its inception, and have seen the fine results of the Quigley Awards, and so it is with assurance that I can say that these awards are an excellent means of stimulating better box office grosses, and act as a worthy incentive for more effective exploitation to the men in the field. Keep up the good work.

▽

NAT HOLT
Division Manager,
RKO Theatres, Cleveland, O.

I have your letter, in which you asked me to be a judge on your Committee for 1938. I shall be very happy to serve as a judge on your Committee.

I believe that the Quigley Awards are a very fine thing, inasmuch as they stimulate selling amongst the boys in the field.

▽

WILLIAM K. JENKINS
Lucas & Jenkins
Atlanta, Ga.

It will be a pleasure for me to serve as a judge on the Committee for 1938.

The participation of our managers in Quigley Awards has always been encouraged for we feel it is a means of stimulating better selling and correspondingly higher grosses from our feature productions. That they are interested is evidenced by the fact that last year several awards were received by our managers and a number of others were given honorable mention.

Wishing the idea continued success under your administration.

▽

H. F. KINCEY
Wilby-Kincey Service Corp.
Charlotte, N. C.

I will be most pleased to serve as a Judge on the Committee for 1938 of the Quigley Awards.

PRAISE QUIGLEY PROJECT HIGHLY

Canadian Exhibitor Head Fitzgibbons Praises Awards

It will be a pleasure and an honor to accept your invitation to continue to act as Judge on the Committee for the Quigley Awards Competitions for 1938.

We believe the Managers' Round Table and the Quigley Awards are definitely a great medium for inspiring managers to create and execute exploitation ideas which increase the box-office grosses and also offers managers and exploitation men throughout the industry who are anxious to improve their position a real opportunity for recognition they could receive through no other medium.

Famous Players Canadian Corporation appreciates this stimulating exchange of ideas and the Executives of this Company consider the MOTION PICTURE HERALD the most important publication of its kind because of the great amount of information disseminated by the recognized authorities on the subjects covered by the various departments.—J. J. FITZGIBBONS, Vice-President, Famous Players Canadian Corp., Toronto, Canada.

LIONEL H. KEENE

Division Manager, Loew's
Atlanta, Ga.

I acknowledge with pleasure your esteemed inquiry inviting me to serve as a Judge on the Quigley Awards Committee for 1938, which I am glad to do.

I have followed the Quigley Awards very closely and believe it to be an excellent incentive for the best efforts of live-wire showmen in building exploitation.

▽

IRVING LESSER

Managing Director,
Roxy Theatre, N. Y.

I am in receipt of yours of December 23rd and thank you for the opportunity of serving on the Quigley Awards committee. I shall be delighted.

▽

CHARLES E. McCARTHY

Director of Advertising and Publicity,
20th Century-Fox Film Corp.

I have your letter and I want to advise you that I shall be most happy to serve as a judge on your Quigley Awards Committee for 1938.

▽

ARTHUR L. MAYER

Operator
Rialto Theatre, N. Y.

This is to acknowledge your letter of December 23rd. If you will refer to my communications of past years, you will see how enthusiastic I have been over the Quigley Awards Competitions ever since they were initiated, and how happy I have been to help in a small way towards making them the most successful contest of this nature in the history of the industry.

I will be proud to serve as a judge on the committee for 1938.

VINCENT R. McFAUL

President, Buffalo Theatres
Buffalo, N. Y.

I will be glad to act as a Judge on the Awards Committee for the Quigley Awards Competition for 1938.

▽

TED SCHLANGER

Zone Manager, Warner Theatres,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Thanks very much for again appointing me a Judge on the Quigley Awards Committee for 1938.

You may count on me, and please be assured that I appreciate the appointment very much.

▽

SI SEADLER

Advertising Manager,
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures

Delighted to serve in your ever-valuable work to build better grosses at the box office.

▽

HARRY F. SHAW

Division Manager,
Loew's-Poli, New Haven

First, I will be pleased to serve as one of your judges for the MOTION PICTURE HERALD Quigley Awards.

In regard to the Quigley Awards, there is not much I can say other than I have said in previous years. I urge all the boys in my Division to submit campaigns and it makes me feel mighty good when I get notice that some of the Politeers have been successful in getting one of the Quigley Awards.

▽

GEORGE W. TRENDLE

President,
United Detroit Theatres Corp.

Replying to yours I shall be delighted to again serve as a judge on your committee for 1938.

▽

W. G. VAN SCHMUS

Managing Director,
Radio City Music Hall

I shall be happy to serve again on the Quigley Awards Committee for 1938.

These annual awards are a potent factor in encouraging new and progressive ideas in exploitation, and is ultimately felt in increased box office returns.

It is a credit to the motion picture industry in its forward-looking aims and deserves wholehearted support and cooperation.

▽

DAVID E. WESHNER

Zone Manager, Warner Theatres
Philadelphia, Pa.

I shall be happy to comply with your request to again serve as a judge on the Committee for 1938. The Quigley Award has not only proven itself a powerful stimulus to managers throughout the country, but has also served to better acquaint executives with the ingenuity and ability of the men who have been competing for these Awards.

The Quigley Award today is the accepted "laurel wreath" for the great showmen of this industry.

THEATREMEN EXPRESS APPROVAL

JIMMIE REDMOND

Manager, Bonham
Fairbury, Neb.

I believe that the Quigley Competition has increased our box office grosses for the simple reason that whenever we have sent in a campaign we wanted it to be a good one, and putting on a good campaign on any picture will increase business. Perhaps this is true on some pictures more than others, but we feel that whenever you tell the general public of the picture you are playing you are always going to get in a few extras that are attracted by the publicity you put out in your advertising. The more people you can see the greater your percentage.

I am proud to be the winner of one of the Quigley Bronze plaques this year and believe that the winning of this honor has helped my standing with the company. It has at least given me more confidence in myself and work.

▽

SEYMOUR L. MORRIS

Manager, State
Cortland, N. Y.

I have participated in the Quigley Awards ever since its inception and find that the incentive it offers is just as great today as when its inauguration announcement was made. This keen competition cannot help but reflect on the box office in obtaining bigger grosses.

▽

HARRY SEFTON

Manager, Orpheum
Wichita, Kan.

I won an Honorable Mention for "Devil is Driving" and it went a long way in putting pep into me to put on other advertising campaigns. I have the Honorable Mention framed and it is over my desk so now when I start a campaign I can look at it and think if I did it once, I can do it again.

▽

E. E. CRABTREE

City Manager
Publix Great States Theatres
Danville, Ill.

We just naturally get a "kick" out of entering a campaign and pick up a lot of good ideas from the entries of fellow-Round Tablers.

▽

RALPH L. TULLY

Manager, Colonial
Haverhill, Mass.

There is no question in my mind, but what the Quigley Awards Competition adds much to stimulate managers to further their efforts to enter the best possible campaigns on specific attractions, that have definitely resulted in increased grosses.

▽

HARRY A. HOLDSBERG

Manager, Paramount
Des Moines, Ia.

It has been an incentive to improve each campaign. Invariably, increased grosses show up at the box office, and this, after all, is primarily the object of the Awards.

CREDITS PROMOTION TO QUIGLEY AWARDS

Answering your letter regarding the value of Quigley Awards, I have no hesitation in saying that I consider them one of the best mediums for stimulating better management and better exploitation in our Industry. Every Manager, no matter how inexperienced, has ideas which are of value in the exploitation of motion pictures. The incentive provided by the Quigley Awards to develop these ideas must of necessity improve the Manager's value to his Company and hasten his development as a manager.

Any of the boys I have met who have figured in the Quigley Awards by winning a plaque or first or honorable mentions, has always been most proud of the achievement. The spirit of competition is just as keen in our Industry as it is in every other form of business and the Quigley Awards represent the highest competitive Award within reach of the average Theatre Manager.

As far as I, personally, am concerned, I give considerable credit for my promotion as Supervisor to the winning of the June Silver Plaque for this year.—H. C. D. MAIN, Supervisor of Theatres, Hanson Theatres Corp., Toronto, Canada.

PAUL O. KLINGLER

Manager, Rialto
Lewistown, Pa.

The results of my several attempts to win a Quigley Award have always been most gratifying, from both a personal and a box office standpoint.

▽

FRANK MURPHY

Manager, Loew's Theatre
Wilmington, Del.

At Loew's, Wilmington, we find the Quigley competition an invaluable stimulant for the exchange of ideas found in the Managers' Round Table section. The better the ideas therein, naturally, the better reflection in the box office from these efforts. We consider a Quigley Award a badge of merit.

▽

LESTER POLLOCK

Manager, Loew's
Rochester, N. Y.

With reference to your letter I for one am very much in favor of Quigley Awards. I feel that it gives the boys a chance to tell others about their work on exploitations and good management.

FRANCIS GOOCH

Manager, Opera House
Bath, Maine

As for the Competitions, one of my most highly prized possessions is an Honorable Mention Certificate from the Quigley Awards Committee. It graces a prominent spot on my office wall and I think that if it were a Plaque I would be trying to promote a place for it among the tablets in the vestibule of the City Hall. I believe that every manager should put on as good a campaign as possible on every attraction which plays his theatre as all will agree that a good campaign means extra money at the box office.

If, in addition to the extra business his campaign gives him, a magazine such as the Motion Picture Herald wishes to further reward him by giving him an Award of Honor, he should cherish the opportunity afforded him and assist those directing such a splendid bit of work by submitting to them ideas, etc., to pass along to others through their pages so that others may profit by them.

▽

BILL JOHNSON

Manager, Opera House
Millinocket, Maine

These Competitions are certainly an incentive to plug a good picture just a little harder—and it is gratifying to have some recognition for a job well done. Any such incentive to added effort certainly has a beneficial effect on the box office.

▽

S. T. DONNELL

Manager, Leroy
Lampasas, Tex.

Trying to put over a campaign within the budget, effective enough to win a Quigley Plaque requires plenty of hard work and brains. Theatremen who win under these conditions are entitled to Plaques. I've never been fortunate enough to win a Plaque, but very often increase our grosses in the attempt.

▽

CHARLES E. FISH

Manager, Palace
Oneonta, N. Y.

In my one effort in the Quigley Competitions, the campaign put on increased business for the showing. I'm quite proud of my certificate.

▽

EWELL BINGHAM

Manager, Howard
Taylor, Texas

The Quigley Awards are one of the best things ever done to keep a manager on his toes. I have won three Honorable Mentions and shall never be content until I have won a Plaque, then I am sure I would want to win more Plaques. In other words, it keeps a man thinking, and a man with mind alert to find ways to publicize and sell his pictures is going to reap rewards.

I am sure that it has enhanced my prestige from the recognition I have received from the home office.

"SNOW WHITE" PREMIERE

Opening of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" at the Carthay Circle in Hollywood was preceded by a barrage of magazine publicity that reached a new all time high.

Exploitation also played a prominent role in this newest and highly successful premiere.

Besides large newspaper space well in advance, 5,000 posters, bearing the legend "Los Angeles will have a SNOW WHITE Christmas" were sniped throughout the district. 300 twenty-four sheet boards covered all the main traffic arteries. Banners were perched on the front and rear of all surface cars and busses.

Radio, too, played a vital part in the preliminary campaign. The "Snow White" score containing eight song hits was heard on leading national broadcasts, including Chase and Sanborn, Charlie McCarthy, Cecil B. DeMille and Lanny Ross Packard Hour programs.

The opening itself was broadcast from coast to coast, featuring Don Wilson and Buddy Twis as commentators, the 30-piece Disney recording orchestra, the chorus of the seven dwarfs and voices of Snow White, the Prince and the other Disney characters. This was the first premiere broadcast over a public address system to the crowds, assembled outside the theatre.

Sets and properties, used in the making of the picture were used with much effectiveness as displays. On the way to the theatre entrance, there were odd gardens, the diamond mine of the dwarfs with a funny little cart full of shiny diamonds, huge trees that grew upside down, strange animals, and everywhere a profusion of color and flowers surrounded crystal mountains, strange-looking castles and attractive little wooden shrines.

LIVE "DWARFS" AT HOLLYWOOD PREMIERE

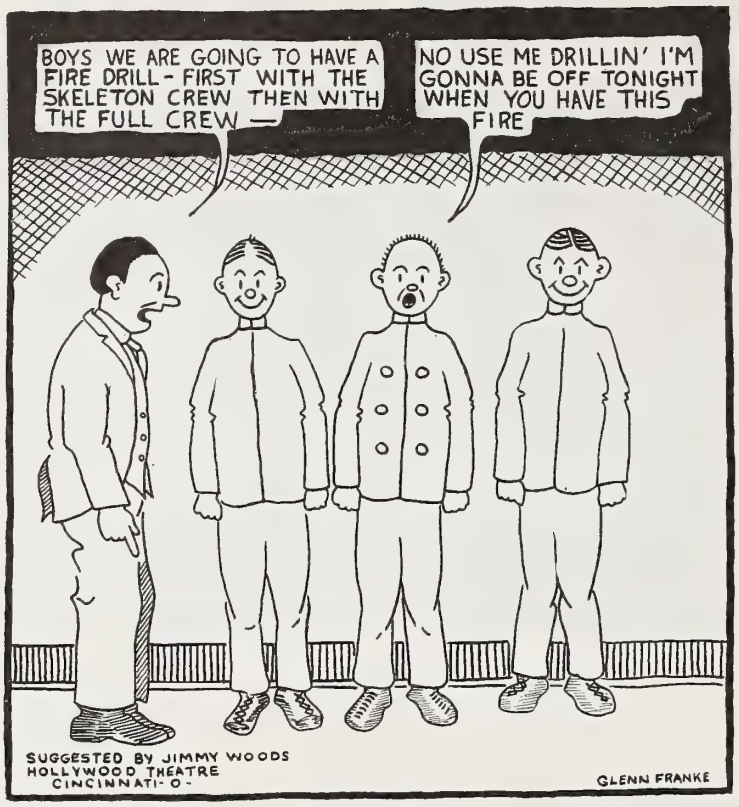
An 18-foot Jack-in-the-box with bulging green eyes, delighted the crowds nearest the theatre entrance. Throughout this entire fairy land, seven live dwarfs, costumed as they are in the picture with special masks, worked diligently with little rakes, picks and shovels.

The premiere itself was as brilliant a one as Hollywood has ever seen. The commander of the 135 policemen detailed to handle the premiere estimated the crowd at its peak as over 30,000.

The usual floodlights threw a tremendous amount of illumination on this gay scene. The forecourt and lawns of the theatre were completely surrounded by grandstands, their seating capacity a little over 5,000. The long canopy from the street to the lobby was carpeted with a rich blue carpet leading from the curb to the box office. Surrounding each post of the canopy were hundreds of huge poinsettias.

Opposite the canopy on the other side of the lawn was the huge orchestra stand, attractively draped and canopied. Directly in front of the theatre in the forecourt was erected a 45-foot illuminated bulletin board from the top of which appeared huge heads of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. This exhibit of how animation is done plus many original drawings in color of scenes from "Snow White" attracted considerable attention from the crowds. At the entrance to the canopy a battery of newsreel cameras was set up.

NEW TRANS-LUX OPENING



CROWDS STORM OPENING OF TRANS-LUX

Tuesday, Dec. 28, marked the opening of the newest Trans-Lux Theatre on Broadway, New York City midst much fanfare and excitement.

A novel and original touch to this premiere, executed by Major L. E. Thompson and manager Chelle Janis, was added when, as the old Trans-Lux Theatre, across the street, finished its last show at 7:50 P.M., huge Kleig lights flooded the theatre, and the patrons, including many notables, filed out, to be escorted to the new Trans-Lux Theatre. To the accompaniment of a band, with search lights illuminating the way, the guests, led by Major L. E. Thompson (president of Trans-Lux) and Jack Dempsey, proceeded in parade fashion to the new theatre, which was kept dark until their arrival.

The lights were then turned on and Mr. B. S. Moss, associated with Major Thompson in this new theatre, cut the tape which officially opened this newest news-reel house, as thousands of New Yorkers looked on. Blase Broadway turned out en masse for this gala opening.

SHOWMEN'S LOBBY LAFFS

This cartoon was created by Glenn Franke, Cheviot, Ohio.

Coast-to-Coast Hookup Sells "Nothing Sacred"

Special publicity slant was arranged by Andy Roy, Strand, Albany, for "Nothing Sacred" with Carole Lombard calling Mayor Thacher's office from Hollywood at which time members of the various civic organizations were present. Idea was for the star to officially open the Christmas shooting season in Albany. Plenty of newspaper publicity was netted and the star was made official good-will ambassador on the Pacific representing Mayor Thacher, Honorary Fire Battalion Chief and Member of the Kiwanis.

Through tieup with local paper, cash prizes and tickets were awarded those submitting best essays on "30 days to live and a million dollars—what would you do?" Various window displays were secured and department store used counter displays.

"Let's Hear From You!"

If You Can't Beat 'Em Jine 'Em, Says Ellis

It's a little early to talk about it but Frank Ellis, DelRio Theatres, Los Banos, Cal., offers suggestions for combating night ball competition. In his town, where the merchants each summer sponsor a night ball league which cuts into theatre receipts heavily, Ellis has found the following procedure highly advantageous: Advertising his shows to begin a half-hour later each night, this brings the starting time of his second show to 9:30, which time corresponds to the same time that their ball game is over.

By doing this the showman catches the ball crowd for his second show, which nets him nightly costly advertising over their loud speaker system without antagonizing the merchants toward the theatre.

City Officials Aid On "Devil is Driving"

W. E. Whaley, Fox Capitol, Benton, Ill., started his "Devil is Driving" campaign off with newspapers carrying proclamation from Mayor on safety week. Paper gave whole page announcing the drive, a message from Chief of Police urging all motorists to see the picture. Safety car was sent out with special clerk who parked at various schools delivering talks on safe driving to the children. For street bally, young lad bandaged to look as though he had been in a wreck, distributed herald subpoenas to all reckless drivers. Town was covered with "caution" window cards, all taxis carried banners and State Police parked a wrecked car at the court house properly bannered with playdates, etc.

"Let's Hear From You!"

Newspaper Tieup

Through tieup with the News-Democrat, C. C. Murray, Lincoln Theatre, Belleville, Ill., put over a contest for "Heidi" in which tinted Temple photos were offered to children submitting best 50-word letter on why their parents should read that paper. Entry blanks were available either at the office of the paper or theatre. Paper ran half a page of letters received from the children in addition to wire from Shirley to the editor plugging picture.

"Let's Hear From You!"

Excuse It, Please

Through an error, in last week's issue the title of RKO's Spanish version pressbook of "Victoria the Great" was incorrectly listed. Please note that it is "Victoria Mujer Y Reina."

Texas Interstate Circuit Features Crime Exhibits

Immediately after screening the prison film "Alcatraz Island," Frank Starz and his Texas Interstate boys planned an excellent ballyhoo stunt to put it over.

The boys got together and worked out a stunt that resulted in the building of a special trailer (see photo in Round Table picture section) and a crime exhibit that is touring Interstate Circuit and Texas Consolidated towns throughout the State.

This crime exhibit, together with elaborate fronts that carry additional crime photos, along with an atmospheric touch, has resulted in some unusual grosses for a picture which, in their opinion, would get just ordinary, or less, box office action. Business averages, particularly on mid-week dates, have been boosted from 30% to 50%, despite the pre-Christmas rush.

Frank writes: "The exhibit is attracting unusual attention everywhere. Newspapers in the towns visited have given us great support, as have police and other peace officers. The pictures used in the trailer exhibit give an almost complete history of big shot crime and criminals, together with various implements used by the criminals.

"The picture has been booked in road-show fashion, bookings allowing the presence of the exhibit at least one day in advance of playdate, and the presence of the trailer exhibit during the showing. Booked also with this attraction in every spot is an M-G-M 'Crime Does Not Pay' short."

Congratulations, Frank, and you Interstate Boys, on enterprise that is not only evidenced by the photos and ads you send in on this campaign, but the fact that it had enough effectiveness to increase your business to such a great degree!

"Let's Hear From You!"

Converts Theatre Front Into Prison

Complete front of the Navajo Theatre, Gallup, New Mexico, was converted into replica of Alcatraz by Assistant W. P. Westmoreland to exploit that date, with compo board wings painted in grey stone effect to resemble prison walls. Catch copy was used to plug the picture. Through tieup with local locksmith, Westmoreland promoted 1,000 keys which were placed in imprinted envelopes carrying copy, "This key won't open the doors of Alcatraz, but will open to you, two thrilling hours of entertainment."

"Let's Hear From You!"

Special Edition

Special eight-page section of the Watertown Public Opinion was devoted to the opening of the Lyric Theatre, Watertown, S. D., through the efforts of Manager Mike Guttman. Front page was entirely devoted to cut of front of the house with congratulatory streamer from the Chamber of Commerce. Inside pages carried congratulatory ads from various merchants, pictures of the interior of the Lyric and stories and art work on forthcoming attractions.

YOU ARE INVITED TO JOIN UP

PAT NOTARO

manages the Regent Theatre, East Liberty, Pa., for Warners' and started as usher in the Grand Theatre, Pittsburgh. Working from that position to Chief of Service, Notaro was then promoted to assistant and thence transferred and promoted to his present spot.

▽

HAROLD B. PEARL

manages the Paramount Theatre in Syracuse, N. Y. for the Schine-RKO Circuit. For five years ending June 1937, Harold was connected with the New York American first as reporter and the last three years as assistant drama editor which position he held until the discontinuance of the paper. From June of this year until September, Pearl was exploitation and publicity man for United Artists, leaving that concern to take over his present job.

▽

BOB SWEETEN

is the director of publicity for the RKO Orpheum in Denver, Colo. and started in showbusiness as doorman at the Paramount there. One year later he was transferred as assistant manager of the Denver in which position he remained a year before being promoted to manager. Six months later Publix took the house over and Bob left to work as assistant manager at the State for several months before joining the RKO organization.

▽

FRANK C. REIGER

in Chicago, Ill., is the assistant manager of Warners' Cosmo Theatre. Reiger started ushering at the Old National Theatre there when he was fifteen and after three years joined the B & K Theatres as usher at the Southtown. After a year with them he went over with Warners' at the Stratford, was soon promoted to Chief of Service and after a year in that capacity was promoted to assistant's job.

▽

JOHN J. MALONEY

manages the Cosmo Warner Theatre in Chicago and sends along his assistant's application at the same time. Maloney started in showbusiness at the Frolic Theatre in Chicago, remaining in that spot for seven years. When his house was taken over by Warners' the showman was transferred as assistant to the Highland Theatre. From that spot he was transferred to the Capitol, the largest house operated by Warners' in Chicago, and remained there a year before being shifted to the Grove before moving over to the Cosmo.

▽

WILLIAM HATCH

manages the Rivoli Theatre, McNary, Ariz., for Nace Brothers, having previously worked as assistant at the Roxy in Buckeye before taking over his present job. We shall look forward to receiving contributions for reproduction in our pages, so please let us know from time to time what you are doing.

THE BUREAU OF MISSING PERSONS

For the purpose of ascertaining the present whereabouts of the inactive members listed below, a request is made for this information from our readers acquainted with or having knowledge of these silent brothers:

Fred Spinelli
Bob Sprowl
Allison Stanford
J. L. Stanson
George C. Steele
Walter R. Steele
Z. A. Stegmuller
Henry A. Steibing
Saul Stein
Alfred L. Steiner
Charles Steinman
Carl Steinmetz
Albert Stetson
William Stewart, Jr.
C. R. Stoflet
Edward W. Stollery
Arnold Stoltz
Harry N. Stone
Bob Stratton
Harvey Strauss
Albert T. Stretch
Flynn Stubblefield
R. W. Sturgess
Nat Suchman
Jack M. Suckstorff
Alexander Sullivan
Robert W. Sullivan
W. L. Sullivan
S. F. Sutaria
Elias S. Sutter
Cecil Svirsky
Leslie Swaebe
C. L. Swope
Frederick Sykes
Louis Sylvester
W. Taffe
Henry Tayler
Art B. Taylor
E. M. Taylor
W. V. Taylor
Robert N. Templer
H. J. Thatcher
R. W. Thayer
James Thom
Arthur A. Thomas
Bernard Thomas
Harold H. Thomas
Thomas J. Luther, Jr.
George N. Thompson
T. W. Thompson
William Thoms
F. W. Tierney
H. L. Tifft
Bert H. Todd
Nick Torelli
Lloyd M. Townsend
Jean Trejet
George Trinastick
William J. Truesdell
James P. Trumble
William J. Tubbert
Arnold Tubman
W. R. Tully
Harold Turner
Johnnie H. Turner
James Urwin
Jack G. Van
William F. Van Dyne
R. C. Van Hook
Louis Velas

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

MANAGERS' ROUND TABLE CLUB

Rockefeller Center, N. Y.

Name .....
(PRINT)

Position .....

Theatre .....

Address .....

City .....

State .....

Circuit .....

Absolutely No Dues or Fees!

BENJAMIN MINDLIN

in Bellerose, L. I., manages the Bellerose Theatre for Century Circuit, and started in 1907 as treasurer of the Thalia Theatre on the Bowery. Later Ben together with his brother started two old type nickelodeons, after selling at a profit the showman took a flier at the drug business then reentered the theatre field and together with his brother started the operation of the little art theatre movement, operating the Fifth Avenue Playhouse, the 55th Street Playhouse, Little Carnegie and others. For a few years, Mindlin worked in the distribution and production end of the business until this year when he started at the Sunset for the Interboro Circuit.

▽

JACK C. CLELAND

assistant manager of the Fox Capitol Theatre in Glendale, Cal., for Fox West Coast Theatres, starts his membership the way we'd like all our friends to join and that is sending along a contribution of some of his recent activities. That's the spirit, Jack, keep up the good work and continue to keep in touch.

▽

EVANS J. KALL

manages the Dale Theatre, New York City for the Brandt Circuit, having started with Cocalis here too. This new member is close enough to Round Table headquarters to drop in and get personally acquainted, so we shall look forward to a visit real soon. Remember, Evans, signing on the dotted line entails a moral obligation to report activities for reproduction in our pages, so we shall anticipate contributions from you shortly.

▽

BEN W. FISCHER

out in Cortez, Colorado, manages the Cortez Theatre for the John Savant interests and started as doorman and cashier. In the silent days Fischer was an operator, continuing in that capacity with the advent of sound at the Roxy Theatre, Glasgow, Mont., for Welworth Theatres. Thence as assistant at the Orpheum in Glasgow and then manager of the Fort at Poplar, Ben's last spot before moving to the Cortez.

▽

H. T. GRISSON, JR.

manages the Roselle Theatre, Ocean View, Norfolk, Va., for the Levine Circuit. Grisson started in at the Colony Theatre in Portsmouth, as usher, doorman, assistant manager and then promoted to manager of his present house. Remember when you join the Round Table, we expect that we shall hear from you at not too infrequent intervals, so send along accounts of your recent activities at the Roselle.

▽

EUGENE H. BUNN

is in Montesano, Wash., managing Quinn's Monte Theatre. Bunn has been associated with theatres in various capacities, most of which has been in the field of projection, then on through to assistant and the managing end. Since Gene is the first member to join from Montesano, we are going to depend on him to keep us posted on what's going on out there.

IN COURTS

File Court Action On Silent Remake

A Federal court action has been filed in Los Angeles by Ralph Murphy, Donald Gallagher and M. G. Amusements Company against Warner Brothers and First National to determine whether the defendants can use scripts of silent films for talking pictures.

The suit asks declaratory relief but no set damages, leaving determination entirely up to the court. The object of the suit is "Sh! The Octopus," recently released. The plaintiffs allege that portions of their script, made in silent days, was used in the sound film.

Cocalis Obtains Ruling On Theatre Construction

An application for an injunction to restrain the Cocalis Circuit from erecting a new theatre in Hudson, N. Y., was denied this week by Justice Bergan in the New York supreme court at Albany. The application was made by Frieder and Grossman, Hudson exhibitors. The decision will be appealed to the Appellate Division.

In their action, Frieder and Grossman contended that Cocalis had agreed not to enter theatre business in Hudson for one year following the termination several months ago of a contract between the two. The court held that this agreement had been invalidated by the plaintiffs, leaving Cocalis free to operate in Hudson immediately.

Philadelphia Judge Dismisses Equity Bill

Judge Parry in common pleas court in Philadelphia this week dismissed a bill in equity brought by John Lutz and other stockholders of the Oxford Theatre Company, in the Burholme section of Philadelphia, against Theodore Kirmse, former president and director of the company. Other former officers were also listed as defendants.

Mr. Kirmse was alleged to have manipulated the finances as part of a scheme to "freeze out" original investors, so he could gain a large share of the profits. Judge Parry dismissed the bill as unsufficient evidence. The Oxford is presently under the management of Warner Brothers.

Trans-Lux Suit Dismissed

The suit of Abe Felt, real estate broker, for $45,409 commission against Trans-Lux Movies Corporation and Trans-Lux Daylight Screen Corporation was dismissed in the United States district court in New York this week.

Melville Sues on Story

Clyde E. Melville has filed suit in Los Angeles for $2,449,000 against Twentieth Century-Fox, Principal Productions, Inc., Sol Lesser, Harold Bell Wright, et al, charging piracy in "The Californian," recent Principal production, of his manuscript "Vasquez," which he claims to have submitted to Mr. Lesser.

Warner Meetings Held on Coast

A series of conferences concerning forthcoming production and distribution plans are under way at the Warner Brothers studios in Hollywood. Attending the conferences are President Harry M. Warner, Jack L. Warner, Vice-President in charge of production; Hal B. Wallis, Associate Executive in charge of production; Joseph Bernhard, Managing Director of Warner Bros. Theatres; Gradwell L. Sears, General Sales Manager; S. Charles Einfeld, Director of Advertising and Publicity, and Sam Schneider, the company's financial expert.

Product to be released during the Sears Drive, which has already gone into its second week, will be definitely set for the remainder of the drive period, which ends April 16th, and their national release dates will be announced. Those pictures which are already set to open during the drive period are: "Tovarich," co-starring Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer; "Hollywood Hotel," starring Dick Powell, with Lola and Rosemary Lane; "Gold Is Where You Find It," with George Brent, Olivia de Havilland and Margaret Lindsay.

Also "Swing Your Lady," with Humphrey Bogart, Louise Fazenda and Fanny Singleton; "Girls on Probation," with Dolores Costello and Bonita Granville; "Sergeant Murphy," with Ronald Reagan and Mary Maguire; "The Kid Comes Back," with Wayne Morris and June Travis; "Penrod and His Twin Brother," with Bobby and Billy Mauch; "Jezebel," starring Bette Davis with Henry Fonda and Margaret Lindsay; "A Slight Case of Murder," Starring Edward C. Robinson; "Food for Scandal," starring Carole Lombard and Fernand Gravet, and "Women Are Like That," starring Kay Francis with Pat O'Brien.

Final Roxy Report of Cullman Is Approved

Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey has approved the final accounting rendered by Howard S. Cullman, receiver and trustee in the reorganization of the Roxy. Judge Caffey indicated that the final granting of fees and allowances would be delayed until February because of the pressure of other work.

In another opinion Judge Caffey ruled that an unnamed member of the second mortgage gold noteholders' protective committee would receive no compensation because he had traded in Roxy securities. Beekman, Bogue, Leaks, Stephens and Black, attorneys for the noteholders, received an allowance of $390 for expenses.

Gould Sues 20th-Fox

A suit for $30,000 damages brought by Bruce Gould, author, against Twentieth Century-Fox, Adela Rogers St. John, NEA Service, Inc., and the New York World-Telegram has been filed in the New York County supreme court. Mr. Gould alleged that he sold a story to Twentieth Century-Fox in March, 1936, and that the story was subsequently produced as a short subject entitled "Reunion." He charges that Twentieth Century-Fox, in violation of its contract, permitted Miss St. John to novelize his story and sell it to various newspapers.

OBITUARIES

Meyer Cohen

Meyer Cohen, 65, exploitation manager of the Dallas, Tex., branch office of RKO Radio Pictures, died there last week after a long illness. A native of New York, Mr. Cohen had served in nearly every type of managerial position in the show world for 50 years.

Robert W. Bender

Robert W. Bender, for a number of years associated with Universal Pictures in Seattle, died in Phoenix, Arizona, this week, of a heart attack. He was 41. Mr. Bender for several years was publicity director for the Universal exchange, later managing the Columbia theatre there when it was owned and operated by Universal. For the last several years he has been editor of the Juneau, Alaska, newspaper owned by his father-in-law, Governor Troy of Alaska.

Don Marquis

Don Marquis, 59, author and playwright, died at his home in Forest Hills, New York, following an illness from which he has suffered for many years. After some 13 years in newspaper work in New York he retired in 1925 and started a new career of playwright, contributor to magazines, novelist, and, for a brief period entered the motion picture field.

Maurice Ravel

Maurice Ravel, 62, French composer, died in Paris, France. He died from complications arising from a brain operation. His best known compositions include "Daphne and Chloe," "Rapsodie Espagnole," and the world famous "Bolero."

Oscar R. Harvey

Oscar Riley Harvey, 46, general manager of Dominion Sound Equipments, Ltd., and sales manager of the special products division of Northern Electric Company, Ltd., died in Montreal suddenly Christmas Day.

John T. Dillon

John T. Dillon, 61, character actor in the days of the silent screen, died at the Soldiers' Home, Sawtelle, Cal. He appeared in "The Birth of a Nation."

Mrs. Thomas Dixon

Mrs. Thomas Dixon, wife of the author and playwright who is now clerk of the federal district court of Eastern North Carolina, died in Raleigh last week. Mr. Dixon was the author of "The Clansman," basis of "The Birth of a Nation."

Henry Taylor

Henry Taylor, 47, manager of the Metropolitan theatre, Boston, died this week following a heart attack.

Phillips with Monarch Supply

M. E. Phillips, for the last six years connected with the sales staffs of Southwestern Theatre Equipment Company at Houston, Texas, and National Theatre Supply Company, last week joined Monarch Theatre Supply Company. Mr. Phillips will represent Monarch in the Memphis territory.

THE RELEASE CHART

Productions are listed according to the names of distributors in order that the exhibitor may have a short-cut towards such information as he may need, as well as information on pictures that are coming. Features now in work or completed for release later than the date of this issue are listed under "Coming Attractions." Letter in parentheses after title denotes audience classification of production: (A) Adult, (G) General. Numerals following audience classification are production numbers. Dagger symbol indicates picture is of the 1937-38 season.

ADVANCE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Dawn to Dusk	Margaret Morris-Bill Edwards	Nov. 1,'37†
Now Is the Time	Joby Jordan-Jo Carr	Nov. 15,'37†
Squadron "B"	Margaret Morris-Bill Edwards	Sept. 15,'37†
Coming
Night Nurse	Joby Jordan-Jo Carr	Jan. 15,'38†

AMBASSADOR-CONN

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Anything for a Thrill	Frankie Darro-Kane Richmond	June 15,'37
Fighting Texan, The	Kermit Maynard-Elaine Shepard	June 22,'37
Roaring Six Guns	Kermit Maynard-Beryl Wallace	Oct. 15,'37†
Rough Riding Rhythm	Kermit Maynard-Mary Hayes	Aug. 15,'37†
Sing While You're Able	Pinky Tomlin-Toby Wing	Mar. 20,'37	66
Swing It, Professor (G)	Pinky Tomlin-Paula Stone	Nov. 15,'37†	*60. Nov. 13,'37
Thanks for Listening	Pinky Tomlin-Maxine Doyle	July 12,'37
Tough to Handle	Frankie Darro-Kane Richmond	Mar. 24,'37
Whistling Bullets	Kermit Maynard-Harlene Wood	May 3,'37
Young Dynamite	Frankie Darro-Kane Richmond	Sept. 15,'37†

CELEBRITY

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Coming
For Love of You	F. Foresta-Riscoe and Wayne		69
Kiss Me Goodbye	M. Schneider-Riscoe and Wayne		62

COLUMBIA

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
All American Sweetheart (G)	Scott Colton-Patricia Farr	Nov. 30,'37†	62. Dec. 25,'37
Awful Truth, The (G)	Irene Dunne-Cary Grant	Oct. 21,'37†	92. Oct. 9,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 76; Dec. 18,'37, p. 65.)
Counsel for Crime (G)	Otto Kruger-Jacqueline Wells	Sept. 14,'37†	62. Oct. 23,'37
Criminals of the Air (G)	Rosalind Keith-Chas. Quigley	Apr. 30,'37	61. Nov. 6,'37
Dangerous Adventure, A	Don Terry-Rosalind Keith	Aug. 1,'37	59
Devil Is Driving, The (G)	Richard Dix-Joan Perry	June 25,'37	68. July 24,'37
(Explanation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 78; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84; Oct. 30,'37, pp. 84, 87; Dec. 18,'37, p. 66.)
Fight to the Finish, A	Don Terry-Rosalind Keith	June 30,'37	59
(See "Taxi War," "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)
Frame Up, The	Paul Kelly-Jacqueline Wells	May 1,'37	59
(See "Right Guy," "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)
Game That Kills, The	Chas. Quigley-Rita Hayworth	Sept. 21,'37†	56
Girls Can Play	Chas. Quigley-Jacqueline Wells	June 21,'37	60
Headin' East (G)	Buck Jones-Ruth Coleman	Dec. 13,'37†	67. Nov. 27,'37
Hollywood Round-up (G)	Buck Jones-Helen Twelvetrees	Nov. 16,'37†	64. Oct. 23,'37
I'll Take Romance (G)	Grace Moore-M. Douglas	Dec. 25,'37†	85. Dec. 25,'37
I Promise to Pay (G)	Lee Carrillo-Chester Morris	Apr. 21,'37	65. Feb. 27,'37
(Exploitation: Apr. 3,'37, p. 64.)
It Can't Last Forever (G)	Betty Furness-Ralph Bellamy	July 15,'37	68. Aug. 14,'37
It Happened in Hollywood	Richard Dix-Fay Wray	Sept. 7,'37†	67
(See "Once a Hero," "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 17,'37.)
It's All Yours (G)	Francis Lederer-M. Carroll	Sept. 1,'37	80. Aug. 7,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)
Law of the Ranger	Bob Allen-Elaine Shepard	Feb. 26,'37	57
League of Frightened Men (G)	Walter Connolly-Irene Hervey	May 25,'37	65. July 24,'37
Let's Get Married (G)	Ralph Bellamy-Ida Lupino	Mar. 25,'37	69. May 29,'37
Life Begins with Love (G)	Jean Parker-D. Montgomery	Oct. 7,'37†	68. Oct. 9,'37
Lost Horizon (A)	Ronald Colman-Jane Wyatt	Sept. 1,'37†	118. Feb. 27,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 5,'36, p. 75; Mar. 6,'37, p. 89; May 22,'37, p. 92; July 31,'37, p. 80; Aug. 28,'37, pp. 96, 100; Oct. 30,'37, pp. 84, 97; Nov. 20,'37, p. 94; Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)
Motor Madness	Rosalind Keith-Allen Brook	Apr. 5,'37	62
(See "Speed Mad," "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 20,'37.)
Murder in Greenwich Village (G)	Fay Wray-Richard Arlen	Oct. 16,'37†	68. Nov. 6,'37
Old Wyoming Trail, The	Charles Starrett-Barbara Weeks	Nov. 6,'37†	56
One Man Justice	Chas. Starrett-Barbara Weeks	July 1,'37	59
Outlaws of the Orient	Jack Holt-Mae Clarke	Aug. 20,'37	61
Outlaws of the Prairie	Charles Starrett-Donald Grayson	Dec. 31,'37†	58
Paid to Dance	Don Terry-Jacqueline Wells	Nov. 4,'37†	56
Parole Racket (G)	Paul Kelly-Rosalind Keith	Mar. 4,'37	62. Apr. 10,'37
Racketeers in Exile (G)	George Bancroft-Evelyn Venable	Mar. 31,'37	67. Apr. 3,'37
Rangers Step In, The	Bob Allen-Eleanor Stewart	Aug. 8,'37	58
Reckless Ranger	Bob Allen-Louise Small	May 30,'37	56
Roaring Timber (G)	Jack Holt-Grace Bradley	July 4,'37	65. Aug. 28,'37
Shadow, The (G)	Chas. Quigley-Rita Hayworth	Dec. 9,'37†	59. Dec. 4,'37
She Married an Artist	John Boles-Lull Deste	Nov. 25,'37†	78
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9'37.)
Speed to Spare	Dorothy Wilson-Chas. Quigley	May 4,'37	60
(See "Racing Luck," "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 13,'37.)

NOTE: The totals for running time are the official figures announced by the home offices of the distributing companies.

When a production is reviewed in Hollywood, the running time is as officially given by the West Coast studio of the company at the time of the review, and this fact is denoted by an asterisk(*) immediately preceding the number. As soon as the home office has established the running time for national release, any change from the studio figure is made and the asterisk is removed.

Running times are subject to change according to local conditions. State or city censorship deletions may cause variations from the announced and published figures; repairs to the film may be another reason.

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Thunder in the City (G)	Edw. G. Robinson-Lull Deste	Apr. 25,'37	76. Feb. 13,'37
Trapped	Charles Starrett-Peggy Stratford	Mar. 5,'37	55
Trapped by G-Men (G)	Jack Holt-Wynne Gibson	Oct. 27,'37†	65. Nov. 13,'37
Trouble in Morocco (G)	Jack Holt-Mae Clarke	Mar. 22,'37	62. Mar. 20,'37
Two Fisted Sheriff	Charles Starrett-Barbara Weeks	June 15,'37	59
Two Gun Law	Charles Starrett-Peggy Stratford	Apr. 7,'37	56
Under Suspicion (G)	Jack Holt-Kath. DeMille	Dec. 16,'37†	67. Nov. 20,'37
Venus Makes Trouble	James Dunn-Patricia Ellis	May 14,'37	58
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 3,'37.)
When You're in Love (G)	Grace Moore-Cary Grant	Feb. 27,'37	104. Feb. 20,'37
Woman in Distress (G)	May Robson-Irene Hervey	Jan. 17,'37	68. Feb. 13,'37
Women in Prison	Wyn Cahoon-Scott Colton	Jan. 1,'38†	59
Coming
All Were Enemies	Jack Holt-Beverly Roberts
Campus Mystery	Scott-Colton-Mary Russell		67
Crime of the Year	Robert Paige-Jacqueline Wells
Land Rush	Jack Luden-Eleanor Stewart	Feb. 12,'38†
Little Miss Roughneck	Edith Fellows-Leo Carrillo	Feb. 15,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Lone Rider	Chas. Starrett-Iris Meredith	Jan. 31,'38†
Lone Wolf No. 1	Francis Lederer-Frances Drake
No Time to Marry	Mary Astor-Richard Arlen	Jan. 10,'38†
Paris on Broadway	Lanny Ross
Penitentiary	Walter Connolly-Jean Parker
Squadron of Honor	Don Terry-Mary Russell	Feb. 4,'38†	55
(See "The American Legion," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 6,'37.)
Start Cheering	Jimmy Durante-Joan Perry	Jan. 25,'38†
(See "College Follies of 1938," "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9,'37.)
There's Always a Woman	Joan Blondell-Melvyn Douglas
Who Killed Gail Preston?	Wyn Cahoon-Robert Paige
Wide Open Faces	Joe E. Brown-Jane Wyman
You Can't Win	Don Terry-Jacqueline Wells

CRESCENT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Drums of Destiny (G)	Tom Keene-Edna Lawrence	June 12,'37	*60. June 19,'37
Law Commands, The	Tom Keene-Lorraine Hayes	May 12,'37	60
Old Louisiana (G)	Tom Keene-Rita Cansino	Mar. 1,'37	64. Mar. 20,'37
Raw Timber	Tom Keene-Peggy Keys	July 6,'37	63
Under Strange Flags	Tom Keene-Luana Walters	Apr. 12,'37	64

DANUBIA

(Hungarian Dialogue)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Blame It on Love	Szleczky-Basthy	Sept. 6,'37†	78
Help! I Have Inherited	Irene Agay	Nov. 1,'37†	88
I Married for Love	Kabos-Radal	Sept. 15,'37†	84
Man of Gold	Maria Egri-F. Kiss	Apr. 12,'37	92
My Daughter Is Different	Turray-Kabos	Oct. 20,'37†	88
Noszty Lad, The	Javor-Szorenyi	Nov. 25,'37†	97
Once a Week	Kabos-Perczel	Sept. 10,'37†	74
Scotchman in Hungary	Radey-Oresi	Apr. 12,'37	95
Sister Mary	Szorenyi-Sved	Mar. 28,'37	91
Storm on the Pusta	Kiss-Komcar	Apr. 5,'37	78
Tempest in a Charda	Javor-Lazar	Oct. 20,'37†	90
Texas Mammy	Fedak	Oct. 25,'37†	89
Tomi (G)	Pecsi-Adam	Sept. 11,'37†	81. Oct. 30,'37
Vicki (Country Ball)	Javor-Rose Barsony	Sept. 25,'37†	87
Yellow Roses	Kabos	Oct. 30,'37†	90

FIRST NATIONAL

(See also Warner Brothers)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventurous Blonde, The (G)
271	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	Nov. 13,'37†	61. Sept. 11,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Alcatraz Island (G) 264 (Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 34; Dec. 25,'37, p. 54.)	John Litel-Ann Sheridan	Nov. 6,'37†	64.	Oct. 23,'37
Back in Circulation (A) 266	Joan Blondell-Pat O'Brien	Sept. 25,'37†	82.	Aug. 7,'37
Case of the Stuttering Bishop, The, 176	Donald Woods-Ann Dvorak	June 5,'37	70.
Cherokee Strip 178	Dick Foran-Jane Bryan	May 15,'37	55.
Confession (A) 158	Kay Francis-Ian Hunter	Aug. 28,'37	86.	July 24,'37
Dance, Charlie Dance (G) 165	Stuart Erwin-Jean Muir	Aug. 14,'37	64.	May 1,'37
Draegerman Courage (G) 168 (Exploitation: Nov. 27,'37, p. 79.)	Jean Muir-Barton MacLane	May 15,'37	58.	Aug. 29,'36
Empty Holsters 179	Dick Foran-Patricia Walthall	July 10,'37
Ever Since Eve (G) 162	Marion Davies-R. Montgomery	July 17,'37	79.	June 26,'37
Green Light (G) 154 (Exploitation: Mar. 27,'37, pp. 78, 81; Apr. 3,'37, p. 89; May 29,'37, p. 90; May 29,'37, p. 67; June 12,'37, p. 94; July 3,'37, p. 68.)	Errol Flynn-Anita Louise	Feb. 20,'37	85.	Jan. 9,'37
Her Husband's Secretary (A) 173	Jean Muir-Warren Hull	Mar. 20,'37	61.	Mar. 6,'37
Love Is on the Air (G) 289	Ronald Reagan-June Travis	Oct. 2,'37†	61.	Oct. 16,'37
Marked Woman (A) 156	Bette Davis-H. Bogart	Apr. 10,'37	96.	Mar. 6,'37
Men In Exile 174 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 21,'36.)	Richard Purcell-June Travis	Apr. 4,'37
Missing Witnesses (G) 273	Dick Purcell-Jean Dale	Dec. 11,'37†	61.	Oct. 30,'37
Mountain Justice (A) 161	Josephine Hutchinson-G. Brent	Apr. 24,'37	82.	May 22,'37
Mr. Dodd Takes the Air (G) 159 (Exploitation: Oct. 30,'37, p. 88.)	Kenny Baker-Jane Wyman	Aug. 21,'37	86.	July 31,'37
Over the Goal (G) 272	William Hopper-June Travis	Oct. 16,'37†	63.	Oct. 9,'37
Penrod and Sam (G) 172	Billy Mauch-Henry Watson	Feb. 28,'37	64.	Jan. 16,'37
Perfect Specimen, The (G) 257	Errol Flynn-Joan Blondell	Oct. 23,'37†	97.	Oct. 2,'37
Prairie Thunder 180	Dick Foran-Ellen Clancy	Sept. 11,'37
Prince and the Pauper, The (G) 152 (Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 68; June 26,'37, p. 121; July 3,'37, p. 68; Nov. 6,'37, p. 59.)	Mauch Twins-Errol Flynn	May 8,'37	120.	Apr. 17,'37
San Quentin (G) 163	Pat O'Brien-Humphrey Bogart	Aug. 7,'37	70.	Apr. 3,'37
She Loved a Fireman (G) 270	Dick Foran-Ann Sheridan	Dec. 18,'37†	57.	Oct. 16,'37
Shi the Octopus (G) 268	Hugh Herbert-Allen Jenkins	Dec. 11,'37†	54.	Nov. 13,'37
Stolen Holiday (G) 157	Kay Francis-Ian Hunter	Feb. 6,'37	80.	Dec. 26,'36
Submarine D-1 (G) 258 (Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 67; Jan. 1,'38, p. 57.)	Pat O'Brien-George Brent	Nov. 27,'37†	105.	Nov. 13,'37
Talent Scout (G) 166	Donald Woods-Jeanne Madden	July 24,'37	62.	June 12,'37
That Certain Woman (A) 254 (Exploitation: Sept. 25,'37, p. 69.)	Bette Davis-Henry Fonda	Sept. 18,'37†	93.	Aug. 7,'37
That Man's Here Again (G) 175	Mary Maguire-Tom Brown	Apr. 17,'37	58.	Mar. 27,'37
They Won't Forget (A) 265 (See production article, "The Deep South," May 8,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 69; Nov. 20,'37, pp. 88, 92; Jan. 1,'38, p. 58.)	Gloria Dickson-Claude Rains	Oct. 9,'37†	95.	June 19,'37
West of Shanghai (G) 164 (Reviewed under the title, "War Lord.")	Boris Karloff-Beverly Roberts	Oct. 30,'37	65.	July 17,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Accidents Will Happen	Ronald Reagan-Gloria Blondell
Daredevil Drivers, The 279	Dick Purcell-Beverly Roberts	Feb. 19,'38†
Girls on Probation	Bonita Granville-Dolores Costello
Gold Is Where You Find It 255 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)	George Brent-O. de Havilland	Feb. 12,'38†
He Couldn't Say No (G) (Reviewed under the title, "Larger Than Life.")	Frank McHugh-Ann Sheridan		*60.	Dec. 11,'37
Hollywood Hotel (G) 253	Dick Powell-Frances Langford	Jan. 22,'38†	*110.	Dec. 25,'37
Slight Case of Murder, A (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Edw. G. Robinson-Jane Bryan
Women Are Like That (See "This Woman Is Dangerous," Oct. 23,'37.)	Kay Francis-Pat O'Brien

FRANK NORTON

(Greek Dialogue, English Titles)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Far from the Crowd	Mary Tsagonis	Apr. 7,'37	82.
Ftohea Toy Mpeam	Vasoula Manolidoy	Sept. 5,'37†	96.
Kaincurgea Zoe	Rita Karmen	Nov. 7,'37†	115.
Reborn	Elene Papadake	Dec. 5,'37†	90.
True Love	Sophea Domogioy	Oct. 3,'37†	85.

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Greece of 1938	Newsreels	Jan. 9,'38†	90.

GB PICTURES

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Backstage 3614	Anna Neagle-Arthur Tracy	Mar. 15,'37	65.
Dr. Syn (G) 3603	Geo. Arliss-Margaret Lockwood	Oct. 15,'37	81.	Sept. 18,'37
Gangway (G) 3605	Jessie Matthews-Nat Pendleton	Sept. 1,'37	88.	Aug. 28,'37
3618	Cedric Hardwicke-Roland Young	Aug. 26,'37	76.	July 3,'37
King Solomon's Mines (See production article, May 22,'37, p. 16.)
Look Out for Love	Anna Neagle-T. Carminati	Dec. 24,'37†
Non Stop New York (G) 7001	Anna Lee-Desmond Tester	Nov. 17,'37†	70.	Oct. 2,'37
Sez O'Reilly to MacNab (G) 3602 (Reviewed under the title, "Said O'Reilly to McNab.")	Will Fyffe-Will Mahoney	Nov. 20,'37	83.	July 17,'37
Silent Barriers (G) 3608 (See "The Great Barrier," production article, Feb. 6,'37, p. 10; exploitation: Apr. 3,'37, p. 65; May 1,'37, p. 81; June 26,'37, p. 121; July 17,'37, p. 90; July 24,'37, pp. 79, 81; Aug. 7,'37, p. 94; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96.)	Richard Arlen-Lilli Palmer	Apr. 29,'37	83.	Feb. 27,'37
Talk of the Devil (G) 3607	Ricardo Cortez-Sally Eilers	June 1,'37	76.	May 22,'37
Tenth Man, The (G) 3622	John Lodge-Antoinette Cellier	May 15,'37	65.	Aug. 29,'36
Two of Us 3619	Jack Hulbert-Gina Malo	July 10,'37	64.
Where There's a Will 3624	Will Hay	July 26,'37	74.
You're in the Army Now (G) 3620 (Reviewed under the title, "O. H. M. S.")	Wallace Ford-Anna Lee	Mar. 1,'37	73.	Feb. 20,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Asking for Trouble	Jessie Matthews
Bank Holiday	John Lodge-Margaret Lockwood
False Witness	Nova Pilbeam
Girl Was Young, The (G) (Reviewed under the title, "Young and Innocent.") (See production article, Oct. 30,'37, p. 16.)	Nova Pilbeam-Derrick de Marney	Feb. 17,'38†	84.	Dec. 11,'37
Rob Roy
Sailing Along	Jessie Matthews-Jack Whiting	Jan. 20,'38†
Show Goes On, The	Anna Neagle-T. Carminati
Strange Boarders of Palace Crescent

GRAND NATIONAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Bank Alarm 139	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	June 25,'37	63.
Boots of Destiny 204	Ken Maynard-Claire Dodd	Sept. 3,'37†	56.
Damaged Goods 175	Pedro de Cordoba	Aug. 21,'37	60.	July 10,'37
Forever Yours (G) 155	Benjamino Gigli	May 15,'37	70½.	June 12,'37
Frontier Town 220	Tex Ritter	Nov. 19,'37†	60.
Girl Loves Boy 124	Eric Linden-Cecilia Parker	Mar. 27,'37	77.
Girl Said No, The (G) 210	Robt. Armstrong-Irene Hervey	Sept. 3,'37†	76½.	May 29,'37
Gold Racket, The (G) 138	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	Apr. 10,'37	85½.	May 1,'37
Here's Flash Casey (G) 211	Eric Linden-Boots Mallory	Oct. 22,'37†	*63.	Oct. 9,'37
Hideout in the Alps 199 (Reviewed under the title, Dusty Ermine.")	Jane Baxter-Anthony Bushell	July 23,'37	75.	Oct. 16,'36
Hittin' the Trail 149	Tex Ritter-Jerry Bergh	Apr. 3,'37	58.
Juggernaut (A) 154	Boris Karloff-Joan Wyndham	Apr. 30,'37	64.	Oct. 17, 36
Killers of the Sea (G) 135	Capt. Wallace Casewell	May 8,'37	49.	May 15,'37
Love Takes Flight (G) 206	Bruce Cabot-Beatrice Roberts	Sept. 17,'37†	71.	Aug. 7,'37
Man in the Mirror, The (A) 112	E. E. Horton-Genevieve Tobin	Apr. 24,'37	71½.	Jan. 16,'37
Mr. Boggs Steps Out (G) 216	Stuart Erwin-Helen Chandler	Nov. 12,'37†	*65.	Nov. 20,'37
Mystery of the Hooded Horsemen 151	Tex Ritter-Iris Meredith	Aug. 6,'37	60.
Navy Spy 137	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	Mar. 13,'37	56.
Renfrew of the Royal Mounted (G) 212	James Newill-Carol Hughes	Oct. 8,'37†	57.	Oct. 10,'37
Riders of the Rockies 150	Tex Ritter-Louise Stanley	July 2,'37	66.
Romance and Riches (G) 153 (Reviewed under the title, "The Amazing Quest.")	Cary Grant-Mary Brian	Feb. 27,'37	58½.	Aug. 28,'36
Scotland Yard Commands (G) 152	Clive Brook-V. Hooper	Jan. 23,'37	61.	Feb. 20,'37
Shadow Strikes, The (G) 202	Rod La Rocque-Lynn Anders	Sept. 10,'37†	61.	July 17,'37
Sing, Cowboy, Sing (G) 145	Tex Ritter-Louise Stanley	May 22,'37	59.	June 5,'37
Small Town Boy (G) 205 (Exploitation: Oct. 16,'37, p. 84.)	Stuart Erwin-Joyce Compton	Sept. 24,'37†	61.	Dec. 4,'37
Something to Sing About (G) 210	James Cagney-E. Daw	Sept. 30,'37†	93.	Sept. 4,'37
Spirit of Youth 299	Joe Louis-Edna Mae Harris	Dec. 29,'37†	66.
Sweetheart of the Navy 203	Eric Linden-Cecilia Parker	June 8,'37†	61.
Swing It Sailor (G) 215	Wallace Ford-Isabel Jewell	Nov. 5,'37†	*65.	Nov. 13,'37
Tex Rides with the Boy Scouts (G) 214	Tex Ritter	Oct. 29,'37†	66.	Nov. 6,'37
Trailin' Trouble 208	Ken Maynard	Sept. 24,'37†	57.
Trouble in Texas (G) 148	Tex Ritter	Mar. 6,'37	63.	Mar. 13,'37
Two Who Dared (A) 113 (Reviewed under the title, "A Woman Alone.")	Anna Sten-Henry Wilcoxon	May 8,'37.	73.	June 6,'36
23½ Hours Leave (G) 103	James Ellison-Terry Walker	Mar. 20,'37	61.
Wallaby Jim of the Islands 213	Geo. Houston-Ruth Coleman	Oct. 15,'37†	72½.	Mar. 6,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Angels with Dirty Faces	James Cagney
Death Takes a Cruise
Don't Lead With Your Heart	Anna Sten
Flash Casey, Candid Cameraman	Eric Linden
Gorgeous	Anna Sten
Honolulu Honeymoon
King of the Sierras 207	Rex-Shiek
Love Me Again	Anna Sten
Love Runs Into Money
Murder at the Rancho	Ken Maynard
Orchid Girl	Anna Sten
Painter in the Sky
Renfrew Rides North	James Newill
Rollin' Plains 217	Tex Ritter
Shadow Murder Case, The	Rod La Rocque-Astrid Allwyn
Snow Covered Wagons
Spy of Napoleon (G)	R. Barthelmess-D. Haas
Utah Trail	Tex Ritter
Wallaby Jim in Trouble	George Houston

GUARANTEED

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Crime Patrol	Ray Walker-Geneva Mitchell	Feb. 15,'37	63.
Luck of the Irish	Richard Hayward	Feb. 1,'37	68.
This Is China		Dec. 1,'37†	68.
White Ivory	Jack Mulhall	Mar. 1,'37	69.

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Early Bird, The	Richard Hayward
Irish and Proud of It	Richard Hayward
Jeanne	Gaby Morlay

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

HOFFBERG

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Ada Don't Do That	Polish Film	Oct. 15,'37†	82
Business In Distress	Czech Film	Oct. 15,'37†	90
Calling All Cars	Jaek LaRue-Lillian Miles	Feb. 10,'37	62	Jan. 26,'35
Old Curiosity Shop, The (G)	Charles Dickens Story	Dec. 12,'37†	74	Feb. 2,'35
Phantom of Santa Fe	Nina Quartaro-Norman Kerry	Aug. 1,'37†	75
Rescue Squad	Ralph Forbes-Sheila Terry	Feb. 10,'37	82
Song of the Lark	Czech Film	Dec. 8,'37†	90
Student's Romance, The (G)	Patrie Knowles	Oct. 10,'37†	78	Aug. 10,'35
Voice of India	Hoefler Expedition	Oct. 1,'37†	70
Wedding of Palo, The (G)	Rasmussen's Eskimo Drama	Mar. 1,'37	85	Mar. 20,'37

Coming

I Give My Heart	Gitta Alpar		78
Invitation to the Waltz	Lilian Harvey		74
Kathleen	Sally O'Neil-Irish Cast		75

HUNGARIA

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Affair of Honor	Gy Kabos	Sept. 11,'37†	9 rls
All Men Are Wild	Paul Javor	Oct. 21,'37†	9 rls
Anniversary	Imre Raday-Ida Turay	Dec. 10,'37†	10 rls
Bride from Toroeke	Paul Javor	Oct. 1,'37†	10 rls
Eighty Miles an Hour	Gy Kabos-M. Erdely	Nov. 19,'37†	8 rls
Exception Granted	Imre Raday-Klari Tolnay	June 11,'37	9 rls
Extra, Extra!	Gy Kabos	Feb. 20,'37	8 rls
Honeymoon On Cut-Rate	Paul Javor-I. Agai	Feb. 6,'37	8 rls
Hotel Springtime	Gq Kabos-Anna Tekes	Nov. 30,'37†	10 rls
I Picked You for My Husband	Paul Javor	Nov. 4,'37†	9 rls
It Happened in Budapest	Gy Kabos-Zita Perezel	Sept. 21,'37†	9 rls
Pay, Madame	Paul Javor	May 30,'37	8 rls
Sport of Love, The	Gy Kabos-Ida Turay	Dec. 24,'37†	8 rls
Two Prisoners	Paul Javor	Oct. 12,'37†	10 rls

Coming

Man Sometimes Errs	A. Tekes-A. Pager	Feb. 4,'38†	10 rls
Sutyi, the Lucky Child	Adam Klari	Jan. 11,'38†	9 rls
Village Rogue, The	M. Dayka-Z. Gregor	Jan. 21,'38†	10 rls

IMPERIAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Dead March, The (A)	Boake Carter	Sept. 15,'37†	73	Sept. 11,'37
Rich Relations	Ralph Forbes-Frances Grant	Feb. 1,'37	90
With Pleasure, Madame	Conrad Nagel-Marta Labarr	Apr. 15,'37	90

Coming

Back from Reno
Beauty Racket
Deerslayer
Honor Among Women
I Demand Payment	Betty Burgess-Jack LaRue
Night of Crime
Sky Girl

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Bad Guy (G) 743	Bruce Cabot-Virginia Grey	Aug. 27,'37	69	Aug. 28,'37
Bad Man at Brimstone 812 (See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 23,'37.)	Wallace Beery-V. Bruce	Dec. 31,'37†	89
Beg, Borrow or Steal (G) 814	Frank Morgan-Florence Rice	Dec. 3,'37†	72	Dec. 4,'37
Between Two Women (G) 737 (Exploitation: Jan. 1,'38, p. 58.)	Virginia Bruce-Franchot Tone	July 9,'37	89	July 3,'37
Big City (A) 801 (Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 72; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78; Dec. 18,'37, p. 64; Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)	Spencer Tracy-Luise Rainer	Sept. 3,'37†	80	Sept. 4,'37
Bride Wore Red, The (G) 804 (Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)	Joan Crawford-Franchot Tone	Oct. 8,'37†	103	Oct. 2,'37
Broadway Melody of 1938 (G) 739 (Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)	Eleanor Powell-Robt. Taylor	Aug. 20,'37	110	Aug. 21,'37
Captains Courageous (G) 717 (See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 12; exploitation: May 15,'37, p. 94; July 31,'37, p. 82; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 91, 92; Aug. 21,'37, pp. 76, 78; Aug. 28,'37, p. 97; Sept. 4,'37, pp. 95, 97; Oct. 2,'37, p. 77.)	F. Bartholomew-Spencer Tracy	June 25,'37	116	Apr. 3,'37
Conquest (A) 805 (Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70; Dec. 11,'37, p. 76.)	Greta Garbo-Charles Boyer	Oct. 22,'37†	112	Oct. 30,'37
Day at the Races, A (G) 730 (See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 12; exploitation: May 15,'37, p. 94; July 10,'37, p. 86; July 17,'37, p. 89; Apr. 7,'37, p. 91; Oct. 16,'37, p. 84.)	Marx Brothers-Allan Jones	June 11,'37	111	June 19,'37
Double Wedding (G) 807 (Exploitation: Dec. 11,'37, p. 77.)	William Powell-Myrna Loy	Oct. 15,'37†	87	Sept. 25,'37
Emperor's Candlesticks, The (G) 733	William Powell-Luise Rainer	July 2,'37	89	July 3,'37
Espionage (G) 723	Edmund Lowe-Madge Evans	Feb. 26,'37	67	Mar. 6,'37
Family Affair, A 632	Lionel Barrymore-Cecilia Parker	Mar. 12,'37	69	Mar. 20,'37
Firefly, The (G) 809 (Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, pp. 71, 76; Dec. 25,'37, pp. 55, 58.)	Jeanette MacDonald-Allan Jones	Nov. 5,'37†	138	July 24,'37
General Spanky (G) 714	Spanky McFarland-P. Holmes	Dec. 11,'36	72	Oct. 31,'36
Good Earth, The (A) 741 (See production article, July 11,'36, p. 76; exploitation: Feb. 6,'37, p. 72; Feb. 20,'37, p. 85; Apr. 3,'37, p. 69; May 1,'37, p. 83; May 15,'37, pp. 96, 99; June 12,'37, p. 94; July 10,'37, p. 87; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 90, 92; Sept. 18,'37, pp. 82, 85; Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 67; Oct. 23,'37, p. 82.)	Paul Muni-Luise Rainer	Aug. 6,'37	139	Feb. 6,'37
Good Old Soak (G) 728 (Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 67; June 26,'37, p. 121.)	Wallace Beery-Betty Furness	Apr. 23,'37	76	Apr. 24,'37
Hell Divers (re-issue) (G)	Clark Gable-Wallace Beery	June 4,'37	109	Dec. 26,'31
Last Gangster, The (A) 810	E. G. Robinson-Rose Stradner	Nov. 12,'37†	81	Nov. 13,'37
Last of Mrs. Cheyney, The 719 (Exploitation: Apr. 3,'37, p. 86; May 15,'37, p. 94; June 12,'37, p. 92.)	Joan Crawford-William Powell	Feb. 19,'37	98	Feb. 27,'37
Live, Love and Learn (G) 808	Robt. Montgomery-R. Russell	Oct. 29,'37†	78	Oct. 23,'37
London By Night (G) 740	George Murphy-Rita Johnson	July 30,'37	69	July 24,'37
Madame X (A) 806	Gladys George-Warren William	Oct. 1,'37†	72	Oct. 2,'37
Mama Steps Out (G) 721	Guy Kibbee-Alice Brady	Feb. 5,'37	65	Feb. 8,'37
Manhattan Melodrama (re-issue) (G)	C. Gable-M. Loy-W. Powell	July 2,'37 Rel. Date	90 Minutes	Apr. 28,'34 Reviewed
Married Before Breakfast (G) 736	Robt. Young-Florence Rice	June 18,'37	70	June 26,'37
Maytime (G) 720 (Musical analysis: Mar. 27,'37, p. 15; exploitation: Feb. 27,'37, p. 85; Apr. 4,'37, p. 64; Apr. 17,'37, p. 78; May 22,'37, p. 89; June 5,'37, pp. 68, 69; July 24,'37, p. 80.)	J. MacDonald-Nelson Eddy	Mar. 26,'37	132	Mar. 13,'37
My Dear Miss Aldrich (G) 803 (Exploitation: Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)	Edna May Oliver-W. Pidgeon	Sept. 17,'37†	73	Sept. 11,'37
Naughty Marietta (re-issue) (G)	Jeanette MacDonald-N. Eddy	Aug. 6,'37	105	Mar. 2,'35
Navy Blue and Gold (G) 811	Lionel Barrymore-Robt. Young	Nov. 19,'37†	94	Nov. 20,'37
Night Must Fall (A) 727	Robt. Montgomery-R. Russell	Apr. 30,'37	117	Apr. 10,'37
Nobody's Baby (G) 729	Patsy Kelly-Robt. Armstrong	Apr. 23,'37	67	Feb. 6,'37
Parnell (G) 722 (See production article, Feb. 13,'37, p. 16.)	Clark Gable-Myrna Loy	June 4,'37	119	June 12,'37
Personal Property (G) 725 (Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 79; June 12,'37, p. 93.)	Jean Harlow-Robert Taylor	Mar. 19,'37	84	Mar. 20,'37
Pick a Star (G) 735	Jack Haley-Patsy Kelly	May 21,'37	70	Apr. 24,'37
Romeo and Juliet (G) 1100 (See production article, Mar. 28,'36, p. 16; exploitation: Jan. 9,'37, p. 68; Jan. 23,'37, p. 79; Jan. 30,'37, p. 83; Feb. 6,'37, p. 77; Apr. 17,'37, pp. 78, 79; Apr. 24,'37, p. 94; May 1,'37, p. 80; May 8,'37, p. 74; May 29,'37, p. 70; June 26,'37, pp. 118, 119, 123; July 3,'37, pp. 69, 70; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 24,'37, p. 80; July 31,'37, p. 80.)	Norma Shearer-Leslie Howard	Apr. 16,'37	127	July 17,'36
Rosalie (G) 816 (See production article, Nov. 6,'37, p. 34.)	Eleanor Powell-Nelson Eddy	Dec. 24,'37†	122	Dec. 25,'37
Saratoga (G) 742 (Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 98.)	Clark Gable-Jean Harlow	July 23,'37	94	July 24,'37
Sinner Take All (A) 712	Bruce Cabot-Margaret Lindsay	Dec. 18,'36	74	Dec. 18,'36
Song of the City (G) 724	Dean Jeffries-Margaret Lindsay	Apr. 2,'37	69	Mar. 27,'37
They Gave Him a Gun (A) 731	S. Tracy-G. George-F. Tone	May 14,'37	94	May 15,'37
Thirteenth Chair, The (G) 732	Madge Evans-Henry Daniell	May 7,'37	66	May 8,'37
Thoroughbreds Don't Cry (G) 813	Mickey Rooney-Judy Garland	Nov. 26,'37†	80	Nov. 20,'37
Topper (G) 738 (Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 75; Oct. 2,'37, pp. 76, 77; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Oct. 30,'37, p. 86; Nov. 20,'37, p. 82; Dec. 11,'37, p. 76; Dec. 18,'37, p. 69.)	Constance Bennett-Cary Grant	July 16,'37	97	July 17,'37
Trader Horn (re-issue) (G)	Harry Carey-Edwina Booth	May reissue	126	Jan. 24,'31
Way Out West (G) 734 (Exploitation: July 17,'37, p. 92.)	Laurel and Hardy	Apr. 16,'37	64	Jan. 2,'37
Women Men Marry, The (A) 802	J. Hutchinson-George Murphy	Sept. 10,'37†	61	Sept. 11,'37
You're Only Young Once (G) 815	Lewis Stone-Mickey Rooney	Dec. 10,'37†	77	Nov. 27,'37

Coming

Arsene Lupin Returns (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Virginia Bruce-Melvyn Douglas	Feb. 25,'38†
Benefits Forgot (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)	Walter Huston-James Stewart	Feb. 11,'38†
Everybody Sing 819 (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)	Allan Jones-Judy Garland	Feb. 14,'38†
Fanny	Wallace Beery-M. O'Sullivan	Apr. 1,'38†
Girl of the Golden West	Jeanette MacDonald-N. Eddy	Mar. 18,'38†
Love Is a Headache 821 (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Gladys George-Franchot Tone	Jan. 14,'38†
Mannequin (G) 820	Joan Crawford-Spencer Tracy	Jan. 21,'38†	95	Dec. 18,'37
Man-Proof (A) 817	Myrna Loy-Franchot Tone	Jan. 7,'38†	71	Dec. 18,'37
Merrily We Live	Constance Bennett-Brian Aherne	Mar. 11,'38†
Swiss Miss	Laurel and Hardy
Test Pilot	C. Gable-M. Loy-S. Tracy	Mar. 25,'38†
Three Men in the Snow 818 (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Frank Morgan-Robt. Young	Jan. 28,'38†
Yank at Oxford, A	Robt. Taylor-M. O'Sullivan	Feb. 18,'38†

MONOGRAM

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Atlantic Flight (G)	Dick Merrill-Paula Stone	Aug. 25,'37†	59	Sept. 25,'37
Blazing Barriers (G)	Edw. Arnold, Jr.-F. McKinney	July 4,'37†	65	Nov. 20,'37
Boy of the Streets (G)	Jackie Cooper-Maureen O'Connor	Dec. 8,'37†	76	Dec. 11,'37
Bride for Henry, A (G)	Anne Nagle-Warren Hull	Sept. 29,'37†	58	Oct. 2,'37
County Fair (G)	John Arledge-Mary Lou Lender	Nov. 24,'37†	72	Nov. 20,'37
Danger Valley	Jack Randall-Lois Wilde	Nov. 3,'37†	53
Federal Bullets (G)	Terry Walker-Milburn Stone	Oct. 30,'37†	61	Oct. 30,'37
God's Country and the Man	Tom Keene	Sept. 2,'37†	56
Hoosier Schoolboy (G)	Mickey Rooney-Anne Nagel	July 7,'37†	62	July 3,'37
Legion of Missing Men	Ralph Forbes	July 28,'37†	62
Luck of Roaring Camp	Owen Davis, Jr.-Joan Woodbury	Nov. 17,'37†	59
Outer Gate	Ralph Morgan-Kay Linaker	Aug. 4,'37†	62
Paradise Isle (G) (Exploitation: Sept. 18,'37, p. 83.)	Warren Hull-Movita	July 21,'37†	73	Aug. 14,'37
Riders of the Dawn (G)	Jack Randall-Peggy Keys	July 14,'37†	55	Aug. 21,'37
Romance of the Rockies	Tom Keene-Beryl Wallace	Dec. 15,'37†	53
Shadows of the Orient (G)	Regis Toomey-Esther Ralston	Aug. 18,'37†	69
Stars Over Arizona (G)	Jack Randall-Kathleen Eliot	Sept. 22,'37†	62	Sept. 25,'37
Telephone Operator	Judith Allen-Grant Withers	Dec. 8,'37†
Thirteenth Man	Weldon Heyburn-I. Courtney	June 30,'37†	70
Where Trails Divide	Tom Keene	Oct. 13,'37†	59

Coming

Code of the Range	Tim McCoy
Female Fugitive
Marines Are Here, The
My Old Kentucky Home	Grant Richards-Evelyn Venable
Painted Trail	Tom Keene
Port of Missing Girls
Ridin' Gent	Tim McCoy
Romance of the Limberlost	Milburn Stone
Rose of the Rio Grande	Movita

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Saleslady	Anne Nagel-Weldon Heyburn	Jan. 26,'38†
Wanderer of the West	Jack Randall	Mar. 16,'38†
West of Rainbow's End	Tim McCoy-Nora Lane	Jan. 12,'38†
Where the West Begins	Jack Randall	Feb. 2,'38†

PARAMOUNT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Angel (A) 3714	Marlene Dietrich-H. Marshall	Oct. 29,'37†	98.	Sept. 25,'37
Artists and Models (G) 3702	Jack Benny-Gail Patrick	Aug. 13,'37†	97.	Aug. 7,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 18,'37, p. 83; Nov. 27,'37, pp. 79, 84; Dec. 4,'37, p. 72.)
Barrier, The (G) 3716	Leo Carrillo-Jean Parker	Nov. 12,'37†	*93.	Nov. 6,'37
(See production article, Sept. 18,'37, p. 14.)
Blonde Trouble 3701	Johnny Downs-E. Whitney	Aug. 6,'37†	67.	Aug. 7,'37
Blossoms on Broadway (G) 3718	Edward Arnold-Shirley Ross	Nov. 19,'37†	82.	Nov. 20,'37
(See production article, Sept. 25,'37, p. 16.)
Born to the West 3721	John Wayne-Marsha Hunt	Dec. 10,'37†
Bulldog Drummond Comes Back (G) 3709	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell	Sept. 24,'37†	64.	Sept. 11,'37
Bulldog Drummond's Revenge (G)	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell	Jan. 7,'38†.	60.	Nov. 6,'37
Crime Nobody Saw, The (G) 3635	Lew Ayres-Ruth Coleman	Mar. 12,'37	60.	Apr. 17,'37
Daughter of Shanghai (G) 3722	Anna May Wong-Chas. Bickford	Dec. 17,'37†	*60.	Dec. 18,'37
Double Or Nothing (G) 3707	Bing Crosby-Martha Raye	Sept. 17,'37†	95.	Aug. 21,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 23,'37, p. 82; Oct. 30,'37, p. 84; Nov. 20,'37, p. 97.)
Easy Living (G) 3652	Jean Arthur-Edw. Arnold	July 16,'37†	88.	July 10,'37
Ebb Tide (A)	Oscar Homolka-Frances Farmer	Nov. 26 '38†	94.	Oct. 2,'37
Exclusive (G) 3653	F. MacMurray-Frances Farmer	July 30,'37	85.	July 31,'37
Forlorn River (G) 3650	June Martel-Larry Crabbe	July 2,'37	56.	July 3,'37
Girl from Scotland Yard 3638	Karen Morley-Robert Baldwin	Apr. 2,'37	61
Great Gambini, The (G) 3648	Akim Tamiroff-Marian Marsh	June 25,'37	70.	July 24,'37
Her Husband Lies (A) 3636	Ricardo Cortez-Gail Patrick	Mar. 19,'37	76.	Mar. 20,'37
High, Wide and Handsome (G) 3710	Irene Dunne-Randolph Scott	Oct. 1,'37†	112.	July 24,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70; Jan. 1,'38, p. 59.)
Hills of Old Wyoming (G) 3669	William Boyd-George Hayes	Apr. 16 '37	79.	Apr. 17,'37
Hopalong Rides Again (G) 3753	William Boyd-George Hayes	Sept. 3,'37†	65.	Aug. 21,'37
Hold 'Em Navy (G) 3715	Lew Ayres-Mary Carlisle	Nov. 5,'37†	67.	Oct. 23,'37
Hotel Haywire (G) 3645	Leo Carrillo-Mary Carlisle	June 4,'37	66.	May 22,'37
I Met Him in Paris (G) 3644	Claudette Colbert-M. Douglas	May 28,'37	86.	May 29,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 67.)
Internes Can't Take Money (A) 3639	Barbara Stanwyck-Joel McCrea	Apr. 9,'37	70.	Apr. 17,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 98.)
King of Gamblers (A) 3640	Lloyd Nolan-Claire Trevor	Apr. 23,'37	78.	Apr. 24,'37
Last Train from Madrid (G) 3646	Lew Ayres-Dorothy Lamour	June 11,'37	77.	June 12,'37
Love on Toast 3720	Stella Ardler-John Payne	Dec. 3,'37†	65
Make Way for Tomorrow (G) 3641	Beulah Bondi-Victor Moore	Apr. 30,'37	92.	May 1,'37
(Exploitation: July 24,'37, p. 80; July 31,'37, p. 82; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 69, 70; Oct. 30,'37, p. 88; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92.)
Midnight Madonna (G) 3649	Warren William-Mady Correll	July 2,'37	65.	June 12,'37
Mountain Music (G) 3647	Bob Burns-Martha Raye	June 18,'37	77.	June 19,'37
(Exploitation: July 17,'37, p. 89; July 24,'37, pp. 79, 81; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 90, 92; Sept. 4,'37, p. 95; Sept. 18,'37, p. 86; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Dec. 4,'37, p. 72.)
Murder Goes to College (G) 3633	Roscoe Karns-Marsha Hunt	Mar. 5,'37	71.	Mar. 6,'37
Night Club Scandal (G) 3717	Lynne Overman-J. Barrymore	Nov. 19,'37†	70.	Oct. 23,'37
Night of Mystery, A (A) 3643	Roscoe Karns-Ruth Coleman	May 21,'37	75.	May 22,'37
North of the Rio Grande (G) 3670	William Boyd-George Hayes	June 25,'37	70.	June 26,'37
On Such a Night (A) 3704	Karen Morley-Grant Richards	Aug. 27,'37†	73.	Aug. 21,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 66.)
Partners in Crime 3711	Lynne Overman-Roscoe Karns	Oct. 8,'37†	62
Plainsman, The (G) 3624	Gary Cooper-Jean Arthur	Jan. 1'37	113.	Nov. 28,'36
(Exploitation: Jan. 30,'37, p. 85; Feb. 20,'37, p. 82; Feb. 27,'37, p. 83; Mar. 6,'37, p. 91; Mar. 13,'37, p. 80; Mar. 20,'37, pp. 78, 82; Mar. 27,'37, pp. 80, 82, 83; Apr. 3,'37, p. 66; Apr. 24,'37, p. 93; May 29,'37, p. 68; Aug. 21,'37, p. 75.)
Rustlers' Valley (G) 3671	William Boyd-George Hayes	July 23,'37	60.	July 10,'37
She Asked for It (G) 3708	Wm. Gargan-Orien Hayward	Sept. 17,'37†	68.	Sept. 4,'37
She's No Lady (G) 3703	Ann Dvorak-John Trent	Aug. 20,'37†	62.	Aug. 7,'37
Sophie Lang Goes West (G) 3706	Gert. Michael-Larry Crabbe	Sept. 10,'37†	65.	Sept. 4,'37
Souls at Sea (G) 3705	Gary Cooper-George Raft	Sept. 3,'37†	92.	Aug. 14,'37
(See production article, Jan. 30,'37, p. 16.)
Swing High, Swing Low (G) 3634	Carole Lombard-F. MacMurray	Mar. 12,'37	97.	Mar. 20,'37
Texas Trail (G) 3754	William Boyd-George Hayes	Nov. 26,'37†	63.	Oct. 9,'37
This Way, Please (G) 3712	C. (Buddy) Rogers-Betty Grable	Oct. 15,'37†	63.	Sept. 18,'37
Thunder Trail (G) 3713	Gilbert Roland-Marsha Hunt	Oct. 22,'37†	58.	Oct. 2,'37
(Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 67.)
True Confession (A) 3723	C. Lombard-Fred MacMurray	Dec. 24,'37†	*84.	Nov. 20,'37
Turn Off the Moon (G) 3642	Chas. Ruggles-Eleanore Whitney	May 14,'37	80.	May 29,'37
Waikiki Wedding (G) 3637	Bing Crosby-Shirley Ross	Mar. 26,'37	89.	Apr. 3,'37
(Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 81; May 15,'37, p. 89; June 5,'37, p. 67; June 12,'37, pp. 92, 93; July 3,'37, p. 70; July 10,'37, p. 80; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 31,'37, p. 83; Aug. 28,'37, p. 98; Sept. 11,'37, p. 83; Sept. 18,'37, p. 86.)
Wells Fargo (G) 3724	Joel McCrea-Frances Dee	Dec. 31,'37†	*115.	Dec. 11,'37
(Exploitation: Jan. 1,'38, p. 58.)
Wild Money 3651	Edward Everett Horton	July 9,'37	69

Coming

Big Broadcast of 1938	W. C. Fields-Martha Raye
(See production article, Nov. 20,'37, p. 14.)
Bluebeard's Eighth Wife	Claudette Colbert-Gary Cooper
Buccaneer, The	Fredric March-Franciska Gaal
(See production article, Oct. 23,'37, p. 14.)
Bulldog Drummond's Peril	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell
Cassidy of Bar 20	Wm. Boyd-Frank Darlen
College Swing	Martha Raye-Burns & Allen
Dangerous to Know	Anna May Wong-Akim Tamiroff
Deputy Sheriff	Wm. Boyd-Gwen Gaze
Doctor Rhythm	Bing Crosby-Beatrice Lillie
Every Day's a Holiday (A)	Mae West-Edmund Lowe	Jan. 14,'38†	*80.	Dec. 25,'37
Good Night, Ladies	Eleanore Whitney-J. Downs
Her Jungle Love	Dorothy Lamour-Ray Milland
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)
Partners of the Plains (G)	Wm. Boyd-George Hayes	Jan. 28,'38†	*70.	Dec. 11,'37
Professor Beware	Harold Lloyd-Phyllis Welch
Romance in the Dark	Gladys Swarthout-John Boles
(See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)
Scandal Street	Lew Ayres-Louise Campbell
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Stolen Heaven	Gene Raymond-Olympe Bradna
Thrill of a Lifetime (G)	Eleanore Whitney-Johnny Downs	Jan. 21,'38†	*75	Nov. 13,'37

RAY KIRKWOOD

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Fighting Vagabonds	Bobby Nelson-Donald Reed	Feb. 19,'37†
Masked Devil, The	Bobby Nelson-Donald Reed	Apr. 4,'37†

RELIABLE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Santa Fe Rides	Bob Custer	Feb. 25,'37	58
Silver Trail	Rin-Tin-Tin, Jr.-Rex Lease	Feb. 28,'37	56

Coming

Apache Trail	Bob Custer
Frontier Fury	Bob Custer
Outlaw River	Rin-Tin-Tin, Jr
Prairie Terror	Bob Custer
Thundering Stampede	Bob Custer

REPUBLIC

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Affairs of Cappy Ricks, The (G) 6027	Walter Brennan-Mary Brian	May 24,'37	56.	June 5,'37
All Over Town (G) 6020	Olson and Johnson	Sept. 8,'37	61.	Aug. 28,'37
Arizona Gunfighter 7121	Bob Steele-Jean Carmen	Sept. 20,'37†	56
Bill Cracks Down (G) 6028	Grant Withers-Beatrice Roberts	Mar. 22,'37	59.	Mar. 27,'37
Boothill Brigade 6328	Johnny Mack Brown-C. Rochelle	Aug. 2,'37	53
Boots and Saddles (G) 7106	Gene Autry-Judith Allen	Oct. 4,'37†	59.	Nov. 13,'37
Bulldog Drummond at Bay (G) 6025	John Lodge-Dorothy Mackaill	July 31,'37.	62.	July 31,'37
Circus Girl 6014	June Travis-Bob Livingston	Mar. 1,'37.	62
(See "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 13,'37.)
Colorado Kid (G) 7123	Bob Steele-Marian Weldon	Dec. 6,'37†	55.	Dec. 18,'37
Come On, Cowboys (G) 6317	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	May 24,'37	57.	May 29,'37
Dangerous Holiday (G) 6026	Ra Hould-Hedda Hopper	June 7,'37	57.	July 31,'37
Doomed at Sundown 6337	Bob Steele-Lorraine Hayes	June 7,'37	53
Duke Comes Back, The (G) 7018	Allan Lane-Heather Angel	Nov. 20,'37†	64.	Dec. 11,'37
Escape by Night (G) 7015	Wm. Hall-Anne Nagel	Sept. 20,'37†	64.	Sept. 4,'37
Exiled to Shanghai (G) 7019	June Travis-Wallace Ford	Dec. 20,'37†	64.	Dec. 18,'37
Gambling Terror, The 6324	Johnny Mack Brown-I. Meredith	Feb. 15,'37	53
Git Along Little Dogies (G) 6302	Gene Autry-Judith Allen	Mar. 22,'37	62.	Apr. 3,'37
Glamorous Night (G) 7017	Mary Ellis-Victor Jory	Dec. 6,'37†	60.	May 15,'37
Gun Lords of Stirrup Basin 6336	Bob Steele-Louise Stanley	May 10,'37	53
Gunsmoke Ranch 6316	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	May 3,'37	56
Guns in the Dark 6326	Johnny Mack Brown-C. Rochelle	Apr. 14,'37	56
Heart of the Rockies 7111	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	Sept. 6,'37†	56
Hit Parade, The (G) 6002	Frances Langford-Phil Regan	Apr. 26,'37	83.	Apr. 10,'37
(Exploitation: July 10,'37, p. 86.)
Hit the Saddle 6315	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	Mar. 3,'37	57
It Could Happen to You 6016	Alan Baxter-Andrea Leeds	June 28,'37	64
(See "In the Cutting Room," May 15,'37.)
Jim Hanvey, Detective 6005	Guy Kibbee-Tom Brown	Apr. 5,'37	67.	Mar. 27,'37
Lady Behave! (G)	Sally Eilers-Neil Hamilton	Jan. 5,'38	70.	Jan. 1,'38
Law Man Is Born, A 6327	Johnny Mack Brown-I. Meredith	June 21,'37	61
Lightnin' Crandall 6335	Bob Steele-Lois January	Mar. 24,'37	60
Man Betrayed, A (G) 6012	Eddie Nugent-Kay Hughes	Dec. 28,'36	56.	Jan. 16,'37
Manhattan Merry-Go-Round (G) 7001	Phil Regan-Ann Dvorak	Nov. 13,'37†	84.	Nov. 13,'37
Meet the Boy Friend (G) 6018	Carol Hughes-David Carlyle	July 12,'37	63.	July 31,'37
Michael O'Halloran (Spec.)	Wynne Gibson-Warren Hull	May 15,'37	67
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 10,'37.)
Navy Blues (G) 6015	Mary Brian-Dick Purcell	Apr. 19,'37	68.	May 1,'37
Paradise Express (G) 6029	Grant Withers-Dorothy Appleby	Feb. 22,'37	58.	Mar. 13,'37
Portia on Trial (A) 6001	Frieda Inescort-Walter Abel	Nov. 8,'37†	72.	Nov. 6,'37
Public Cowboy No. 1 (G) 7105	Gene Autry-Ann Rutherford	Aug. 23,'37†	59.	Oct. 9,'37
Range Defenders (G) 6318	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	June 30,'37	56.	July 24,'37
Red Rope, The 6338	Bob Steele-Lois January	July 19,'37	60
Rhythm in the Clouds (G) 6017	Warren Hull-Patricia Ellis	June 21,'37	62.	July 3,'37
Ridin' the Lone Trail 7122	Bob Steele-Claire Rochelle	Nov. 1,'37†	56
Rootin' Tootin' Rhythm (G) 6307	Gene Autry-Armida	May 12,'37	60.	May 8,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Sea Racketeers (G) 6019	Weldon Heyburn-Jeanne Madden	Aug.	16,'37	64.	Aug. 14,'37
Sheik Steps Out, The (G) 6006	Ramon Novarro-Lola Lane	Sept.	6,'37	66
Springtime in the Rockies (G) 7101	Gene Autry-Polly Rowles	Nov.	15,'37†	60.	Nov. 27,'37
Trail of Vengeance 6325	Johnny Mack Brown-I. Meredith	Mar.	29,'37	54
Trigger Trio 7112	Ray Corrigan-Max Terhune	Oct.	18,'37†	56
Two Wise Maids (G) 6004	Alison Skipworth-Polly Moran	Feb.	15,'37	68.	Feb. 6,'37
Wild Horse Rodeo (G) 7113	Three Mesquiteers	Dec.	6,'37†	56.	Dec. 18,'37
Wrong Road, The (G) 7016	Richard Cromwell-Helen Mack	Oct.	11,'37†	62.	Sept. 25,'37
Yodelin' Kid from Pine Ridge (G) 6308	Gene Autry-Betty Bronson	June	14,'37	60.	June 26,'37
Youth on Parole (G) 6022	Gordon Oliver-Marian Marsh	Oct.	4,'37	62.	Oct. 23,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Born To Be Wild	Ralph Byrd-Doris Weston
Mama Runs Wild (G)	Mary Boland-Ernest Truex	Jan.	19,'38†	67.	Dec. 25,'37
Old Barn Dance, The	Gene Autry-Smiley Burnette	Jan.	29,'38†
Outside of Paradise	Phil Regan-Penny Singleton	Jan.	31,'38†
Paroled to Die 7124	Bob Steele-Kathleen Elliott	Jan.	10,'38†
Purple Vigilantes 7114	Three Mesquiteers	Jan.	24,'38†
Stormy Weather	Alison Skipworth-Polly Moran

RKO RADIO

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Annapolis Salute (G) 802	James Ellison-Marsha Hunt	Sept.	10,'37†	65.	Aug. 21,'37
Behind the Headlines (G) 727	Lee Tracy-Diana Gibson	May	14,'37	58.	June 12,'37
Big Shot, The (G) 735	Guy Kibbee-Cora Witherspoon	July	23,'37	60.	July 31,'37
Border Cafe (G) 730	John Beal-Armida	June	4,'37	67.	May 29,'37
Breakfast for Two (G) 737	Barbara Stanwyck-H. Marshall	Oct.	22,'37†	65.	Oct. 9,'37
China Passage (G) 718	Constance Worth-V. Haworth	Mar.	12,'37	65.	Apr. 24,'37
Crashing Hollywood (See "Lights Out," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 20,'37.)	Lee Tracy-Joan Woodbury	Jan.	7,'38†	61
Damsel in Distress, A (G) 738	Fred Astaire-Burns & Allen	Nov.	19,'37	101.	Nov. 27,'37
Danger Patrol (G) 812	John Beal-Sally Eilers	Dec.	3,'37†	60.	Nov. 20,'37
Don't Tell the Wife (G) 720	Guy Kibbee-Una Merkel	Mar.	5,'37	62.	Feb. 27,'37
Fight for Your Lady (G) 808	John Boles-Ida Lupino	Nov.	5,'37†	67.	Oct. 2,'37
Fit for a King (G) 848	Joe E. Brown-Helen Mack	Oct.	15,'37†	73.	Sept. 4,'37
Flight from Glory (G) 736	Chester Morris-Whitney Bourne	Aug.	20,'37	67.	Aug. 14,'37
Forty Naughty Girls (G) 803	James Gleason-Zasu Pitts	Sept.	24,'37†	63.	Sept. 4,'37
Hideaway (G) 733	Fred Stone-Marjorie Lord	Aug.	13,'37	58.	July 31,'37
High Flyers (G)	Wheeler and Woolsey	Nov.	26,'37†	70.	Nov. 20,'37
Hitting a New High (G)	Lily Pons-John Howard	Dec.	24,'37†	85.	Dec. 4,'37
Hollywood Cowboy (G) 733	George O'Brien-Cecilia Parker	May	28,'37	64.	July 31,'37
Life of the Party, The (G) 801 (Exploitation: Oct. 23,'37, p. 82.)	Gene Raymond-Harriet Hilliard	Sept.	3,'37†	77.	Aug. 28,'37
Living on Love (G) 809	James Dunn-Whitney Bourne	Nov.	12,'37†	61.	Oct. 30,'37
Make a Wish (G) 745	Bobby Breen-Basil Rathbone	Aug.	27,'37	77.	Sept. 4,'37
Man Who Found Himself, The (G) 722	John Beal-Joan Fontaine	Apr.	2,'37	67.	Mar. 13,'37
Meet the Missus (G) 729	Victor Moore-Helen Broderick	June	4,'37	60.	May 29,'37
Music for Madame (G) 804	Nino Martini-Joan Fontaine	Oct.	1,'37†	81.	Sept. 18,'37
New Faces of 1937 (G) 732 (Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 70.)	Joe Penner-Harriet Hilliard	July	2,'37	100.	July 10,'37
On Again—Off Again (G) 725	Wheeler and Woolsey	July	9,'37	68.	July 17,'37
Outcasts of Poker Flat, The (G) 710	Preston Foster-Jean Muir	Apr.	16,'37	68.	Mar. 20,'37
Quality Street (G) 709	Kath. Hepburn-Franchot Tone	Mar.	26,'37	84.	Mar. 30,'37
Quick Money (G) 811	Fred Stone-Dorothy Moore	Dec.	10,'37†	59.	Nov. 27,'37
Riding On Air (G) 771	Joe E. Brown-Florence Rice	June	18,'37	71.	June 12,'37
Saturday's Heroes (G) 805	Van Heflin-Marian Marsh	Oct.	8,'37†	60.	Sept. 18,'37
Shall We Dance (G) 724 (Exploitation: June 19,'37, p. 85; July 31,'37, p. 80.)	Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers	May	7,'37	116.	May 8,'37
Soldier and the Lady, The (A) 717 (Reviewed under the title, "Michael Strogoff.") (Exploitation: Mar. 13,'37, p. 79.)	Anton Walbrook-Eliz. Allan	Apr.	9,'37	85.	Feb. 27,'37
Stage Door (G) 806 (See production article, Aug. 14,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Dec. 11,'37, pp. 77, 78; Dec. 25,'37, pp. 54, 58.)	Kath. Hepburn-Ginger Rogers	Oct.	8,'37†	92.	Sept. 18,'37
Super Sleuth (G) 734	Jack Oakie-Ann Sothern	July	16,'37	70.	July 17,'37
There Goes My Girl (G) 728	Ann Sothern-Gene Raymond	May	21,'37	74.	June 5,'37
There Goes the Groom (G) 807	Burgess Meredith-Ann Sothern	Oct.	29,'37†	65.	Oct. 2,'37
Toast of New York (G) 719 (Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 86; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96; Sept. 26,'37, p. 68; Oct. 16,'37, p. 84; Nov. 27, p. 80; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)	Edward Arnold-Frances Farmer	July	30,'37	109.	July 17,'37
Too Many Wives (G) 723	Anne Shirley-John Morley	Apr.	9,'37	61.	Apr. 17,'37
Victoria the Great (G) 861 (Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 56.)	Anna Neagle-Anton Walbrook	Nov.	12,'37†	113.	Sept. 25,'37
We're on the Jury (G) 716	Helen Broderick-Victor Moore	Feb.	12,'37	71.	Jan. 23,'37
Windjammer 783 (See "In the Cutting Room," May 29,'37.)	George O'Brien-Constance Worth	Aug.	6,'37	58
Wise Girl (G)	Miriam Hopkins-Ray Milland	Dec.	31,'37†	70.	Jan. 1,'38
Woman I Love, The (G) 721	Paul Muni-Miriam Hopkins	Apr.	23,'37	88.	Apr. 24,'37
You Can't Beat Love (G) 731	Preston Foster-Joan Fontaine	June	25,'37	62.	June 5,'37
You Can't Buy Luck (G) 726	Vinton Haworth-Helen Mack	Apr.	30,'37	61.	May 1,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Bringing Up Baby (See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 16,'37.)	Kath. Hepburn-Cary Grant	Feb.	18,'38†
Everybody's Doing It (G)	Sally Eilers-Preston Foster	Jan.	14,'38†	67.	Jan. 1,'38
Having Wonderful Time (See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9,'37.)	Ginger Rogers-D. Fairbanks, Jr.	Feb.	11,'38†
Hawaii Calls (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)	Bobby Breen-Juanita Quigley	Jan.	28,'38†
Joy of Loving	Irene Dunne-D. Fairbanks, Jr.	May	6,'38†
Night Spot (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Allan Lane-Joan Woodbury	Feb.	25,'38†
Perfect Alibi, The (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Preston Foster-Whitney Bourne	Feb.	4,'38†
Radio City Revels	Bob Burns-Jack Oakie	Apr.	14,'38†
Rat, The (A)	Ruth Chatterton-Anton Walbrook	Jan.	21,'38†	73.	Nov. 27,'37
She's Got Everything (G)	Gene Raymond-Ann Sothern	Dec.	31,'37†	72.	Dec. 18,'37
Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs (G)	Walt Disney			*82.	Dec. 25,'37
Vivacious Lady	Ginger Rogers-James Stewart	Apr.	15,'38†

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Star	Dist'r	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Harlem on the Prairie (G)	Herbert Jeffries	Associated	Dec.	9,'37	*55.	Nov. 27,'37
Heroes of the Alamo (G)	Earl Hodgins	Sunset	Aug.	19,'37	*75.	Aug. 7,'37
Melody of the Plains (G)	Fred Scott	Spectrum	Apr.	15,'37	*55.	Apr. 10,'37
Nation Aflame (G)	Noel Madison	Treasure	Oct.	16,'37	76.	Oct. 23,'37
Three Legionnaires (G)	Robt. Armstrong	General	June	15,'37	*60.	Mar. 27,'37
What Price Vengeance? (G)	Lyle Talbot	Rialto	June	1,'37	57.	June 12,'37
Zamboanga (G)	Native Cast		July	17,'37	*65.	July 17,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Dist'r	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Rangers Roundup (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Fred Scott	Spectrum

TWENTIETH CENTURY-FOX

Title	Star	Rel.	Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Ali Baba Goes to Town (G) 815	Eddie Cantor-June Lang	Oct.	29,'37†	81.	Oct. 23,'37
Angel's Holiday (G) 754	Jane Withers-Robert Kent	June	4,'37	71.	May 8,'37
Big Business (G) 759	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	June	18,'37	61.	Apr. 17,'37
Big Town Girl (G) 822	Claire Trevor-Donald Woods	Dec.	3,'37†	70.	Nov. 13,'37
Borneo 807	Mr. & Mrs. Martin Johnson	Sept.	10,'37†	75½
Born Reckless (G) 758	Rochelle Hudson-Brian Donlevy	July	9,'37	58.	June 26,'37
Borrowing Trouble (G) 824	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Dec.	10,'37†	60.	Oct. 30,'37
Cafe Metropole (G) 750 (Exploitation: June 19,'37, p. 84.)	Loretta Young-Tyrone Power	May	7,'37	83.	May 8,'37
Californian, The (G) 753	Ricardo Cortez-Marjorie Weaver	July	16,'37	58.	July 10,'37
Charlie Chan at the Olympics 752 (See "In the Cutting Room," Mar. 6,'37.)	Warner Oland-Kath. DeMille	May	21,'37	71
Charlie Chan on Broadway (G) 811	Warner Oland-Joan Marsh	Oct.	22,'37†	68.	Aug. 7,'37
City Girl (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Ricardo Cortez-Phyllis Brooks	Jan.	7,'38†
Danger—Love at Work (G) 808	Ann Sothern-Jack Haley	Nov.	5,'37†	81.	Oct. 2,'37
Dangerously Yours (G) 817	Cesar Romero-Phyllis Brooks	Nov.	12,'37†	62.	Sept. 25,'37
David Harum (G) 769 (re-issue)	Will Rogers-Evelyn Venable	May	14,'37	85.	Mar. 8,'34
Dinner at the Ritz (G) 820	Annabella-Paul Lukas	Nov.	26,'37†	77.	Nov. 13,'37
Fair Warning (G) 740	Betty Furness-John Payne	Mar.	5,'37	68.	Jan. 23,'37
Fifty Roads to Town (G) 748 (Exploitation: May 8,'37, p. 70.)	Don Ameche-Ann Sothern	Apr.	16,'37	81.	Apr. 3,'37
45 Fathers (G) 821	Jane Withers-Thomas Beck	Nov.	26,'37†	71.	Oct. 23,'37
Great Hospital Mystery, The (G) 751 (Reviewed under the title, "Dead Yesterday.")	Sally Blane-Thomas Beck	May	14,'37	59.	Mar. 6,'37
Handy Andy (G) 871 (re-issue)	Will Rogers	Aug.	13,'37†	81.	May 5,'34
Heidi (G) 816 (Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70.)	Shirley Temple-Jean Hersholt	Oct.	15,'37†	88.	Oct. 16,'37
Holy Terror, The (G) 734	Jane Withers-Anthony Martin	Feb.	5,'37	67.	Jan. 9,'37
Hot Water (G) 814	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Sept.	24,'37†	58.	July 17,'37
Judge Priest (re-issue) 872	Will Rogers-Anita Louise	Nov.	12,'37†	79.	Sept. 28,'34
It Happened Out West 745	Paul Kelly-Judith Allen	May	7,'37	56
King George VI Coronation 870	Technicolor Special	July	15,'37†	28
Lady Escapes, The (G) 747	Gloria Stuart-Michael Whalen	July	23,'37	63.	June 5,'37
Lancer Spy (G) 809	George Sanders-Dolores Del Rio	Oct.	8,'37†	84.	Oct. 9,'37
Life Begins in College (G) 810 (Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 68; Jan. 1,'38, pp. 57, 60.)	Ritz Bros.-Gloria Stuart	Oct.	1,'37†	94.	Oct. 2,'37
Love and Hisses (G) 825	Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie	Dec.	31,'37†	84.	Dec. 25,'37
Love Is News (G) 729 (Exploitation: Apr. 24,'37, p. 90.)	Loretta Young-Tyrone Power	Feb.	26,'37	78.	Feb. 27,'37
Love Under Fire (G) 803	Loretta Young-Don Ameche	Aug.	20,'37†	75.	Aug. 14,'37
Midnight Taxi (G) 744	Brian Donlevy-Frances Drake	Apr.	2,'37	73.	Mar. 27,'37
Nancy Steele Is Missing (G) 738	Victor McLaglen-Peter Lorre	Mar.	12,'37	84.	Mar. 20,'37
Off to the Races (G) 736	Jed Prouty-Shirley Deane	Feb.	19,'37	57.	Jan. 16,'37
On the Avenue (G) 732 (Exploitation: Mar. 20,'37, p. 78; Apr. 17,'37, pp. 80, 82; June 19,'37, p. 84.)	Dick Powell-Madeleine Carroll	Feb.	12,'37	89.	Feb. 13,'37
One Mile from Heaven (G) 802	Claire Trevor-Sally Blane	Aug.	13,'37†	68.	July 24,'37
Roll Along Cowboy 812	Smith Ballew-Cecilia Parker	Oct.	8,'37†	55
Second Honeymoon (G) 818	Loretta Young-Tyrone Power	Nov.	19,'37†	79.	Nov. 13,'37
Secret Valley (G) 731	Richard Arlen-Virginia Grey	Jan.	15,'37	57.	Feb. 13,'37
Seventh Heaven (G) 742 (Exploitation: June 5,'37, p. 64.)	Simone Simon-James Stewart	Mar.	26,'37	102.	Mar. 27,'37
She Had to Eat (G) 757	Rochelle Hudson-Jack Haley	June	11,'37	74.	Aug. 7,'37
Sing and Be Happy 756 (See "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)	Anthony Martin-Dixie Dunbar	June	25,'37	64
Slave Ship (G) 748 (See production article, Mar. 13,'37, p. 16.)	Wallace Beery-Warner Baxter	July	2,'37	92.	June 19,'37
Step Lively, Jeeves (G) 739	Arthur Treacher-Patricia Ellis	Apr.	9,'37	69.	Jan. 30,'37
Tarzan's Revenge 823 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)	Glenn Morris-Eleanor Holm	Jan.	7,'38†

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Thank You, Mr. Moto (G)	Peter Lorre-Jane Regan	Dec. 24,'37†	67.	Nov. 27,'37
That I May Live (G) 755	Rochelle Hudson-Robert Kent	Apr. 30,'37	70.	Mar. 6,'37
Thin Ice (G) 805 (Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 66; Dec. 11,'37, pp. 76, 78.)	Sonja Henie-Tyrone Power	Sept. 3,'37†	78.	Aug. 28,'37
Think Fast, Mr. Moto (G) 804	Peter Lorre-Virginia Field	Aug. 27,'37†	66.	Apr. 17,'37
This Is My Affair (G) 721	Barbara Stanwyck-Robt. Taylor	May 28,'37	99.
Time Out for Romance (G) 741	Claire Trevor-Michael Whalen	Mar. 19,'37	72.	Feb. 20,'37
Under the Red Robe (G) 743	Conrad Veidt-Annabella	May 21,'37	82.	June 12,'37
Wake Up and Live (G) 749 (Exploitation: July 3,'37, p. 69; July 10,'37, pp. 85, 86.)	Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie	Apr. 23,'37	91.	Apr. 17,'37
Wee Willie Winkie (G) 760 (Exploitation: July 10,'37, p. 88; Aug. 7,'37, p. 92; Sept. 4,'37, pp. 94, 97; Oct. 9,'37, p. 68.)	Shirley Temple-V. McLaglen	July 30,'37	99.	July 3,'37
Western Gold (G) 761	Smith Ballew-Heather Angel	Aug. 27,'37	56.	Sept. 11,'37
Wife, Doctor and Nurse (G) 813 (Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)	Loretta Young-Warner Baxter	Sept. 17,'37†	85.	Sept. 11,'37
Wild and Woolly (G) 806	Jane Withers-Walter Brennan	Sept. 10,'37†	64.	July 24,'37
Wings of the Morning (G) 737	Annabella-Henry Fonda	Feb. 19,'37	87.	Mar. 20,'37
Woman-Wise (G) 733	Rochelle Hudson-Michael Whalen	Jan. 22,'37	70.	Feb. 13,'37
You Can't Have Everything (G) 801	Alice Faye-Don Ameche	Aug. 3,'37†	99.	July 31,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Baroness and the Butler	Annabella-William Powell	Feb. 18,'38†
Change of Heart (See "Headline Huntress," "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Gloria Stuart-Michael Whalen	Jan. 14,'38†
Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo (G)	Warner Oland-Keye Luke	Jan. 21,'38†	71.	Nov. 6,'37
Checkers (G)	Jane Withers-Stuart Erwin	Feb. 11,'38†	78.	Dec. 11,'37
Gypsy	Jane Withers-Robt. Wilcox
Happy Landing 830 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 27,'37.)	Sonja Henie-Don Ameche	Jan. 28,'38†
Hawaiian Buckaroo 828 (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)	Smith Ballew-Evalyn Knapp	Jan. 14,'38†
In Old Chicago (See production article, Sept. 4,'37, p. 48.)	Tyrone Power-Alice Faye
Josette	Simone Simon-Don Ameche	Mar. 25,'38†
Look Out, Mr. Moto (G) 819	Peter Lorre-Rochelle Hudson	Apr. 28,'38†	*60.	Oct. 30,'37
Love on a Budget (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Feb. 25,'38†
Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 6.'37.)	Shirley Temple-Gloria Stuart	Mar. 11,'38†
Sally, Irene and Mary 827 (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)	Alice Faye-Fred Allen	Mar. 4,'38†
Shanghai Deadline 826 (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)	Dolores Del Rio-George Sanders	Feb. 4,'8†
Walking Down Broadway	Claire Trevor-Michael Whalen	Mar. 18,'38†

UNITED ARTISTS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Dark Journey (G)	Vivien Leigh-Conrad Veidt	July 2,'37†	82.	Mar. 6,'37
Dead End (G) (Exploitation: Sept. 18,'37, p. 86; Sept. 25,'37, p. 71; Nov. 20,'37, p. 88; Dec. 11,'37 p. 76.)	Sylvia Sidney-Joel McCrea	Aug. 27,'37†	93.	Aug. 7,'37
Dreaming Lips (A)	Elis. Bergner-Raymond Massey	May 28,'37	78.	Mar. 6,'37
Elephant Boy (G) (Exploitation: June 12,'37, p. 96; July 31,'37, p. 82; Aug. 21,'37, p. 75; Oct. 2,'37, p. 77; Dec. 4,'37, pp. 72, 76.)	Native Cast	Apr. 23,'37	80.	Mar. 13,'37
Farewell Again (G)	Leslie Banks-Flora Robson	Oct. 8,'37†	83.	May 22,'37
52nd Street (G)	Ian Hunter-Pat Paterson	Nov. 19,'37†	82.	Oct. 9,'37
Fire Over England (G) (Exploitation: Mar. 27,'37, p. 79.)	Laurence Olivier-Flora Robson	Mar. 5,'37	89.	Jan. 16,'37
History Is Made at Night (G) (Exploitation: Mar. 27,'37, p. 84; Apr. 3,'37, pp. 64, 71; Apr. 17,'37, p. 82; Apr. 24,'37, pp. 91, 92; May 1,'37, p. 83; May 8,'37, p. 72; May 22,'37, pp. 89, 90; June 12,'37, p. 93; Nov. 20,'37, p. 89.)	Charles Boyer-Jean Arthur	Apr. 2,'37	97.	Mar. 13,'37
Hurricane, The (G) (See production article, Aug. 7,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 20,'37, p. 94.)	Dorothy Lamour-Jon Hall	Dec. 24,'37†	102.	Nov. 13,'37
Knight Without Armor (G) (Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 78; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84.)	Marlene Dietrich-Robt. Donat	July 23,'37†	107.	June 19,'37
Love from a Stranger (A)	Ann Harding-Basil Rathbone	May 14,'37	87.	Feb. 13,'37
Man Who Could Work Miracles, The (G)	Roland Young-Joan Gardner	Feb. 19,'37	82.	Aug. 22,'36
Men Are Not Gods (A)	Miriam Hopkins-Gert. Lawrence	Jan. 22,'37	82.	Jan. 2,'37
Murder on Diamond Row (G). (Reviewed under the title, "The Squeaker.")	Edmund Lowe-Ann Todd	Dec. 10,'37†	77.	Sept. 11,'37
Nothing Sacred (G) (See production article, Aug. 21,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 65.)	Carole Lombard-Fredric March	Nov. 26,'37†	75.	Nov. 27,'37
Prisoner of Zenda (G) (Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 64.)	Ronald Colman-M. Carroll	Sept. 3,'37†	101.	Sept. 4,'37
Stand-In (A) (Exploitation: Nov. 27,'37, p. 78; Dec. 18,'37, p. 66.)	Leslie Howard-Joan Blondell	Oct. 29,'37†	91.	Oct. 9,'37
Star Is Born, A (G) (See production article, Feb. 27,'37, p. 16; exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 86; May 29,'37. pp. 67, 69; June 5,'37, pp. 64, 67, 70; June 19,'37, p. 84; June 26,'37, pp. 120, 121, 122; July 10,'37, p. 87; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 31,'37, p. 80; Aug. 28,'37, p. 97; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)	Janet Gaynor-Fredric March	Apr. 30,'37	111.	May 1,'37
Stella Dallas (A) (Exploitation: July 31,'37, p. 61; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 69, 70; Oct. 2,'37, p. 74; Oct. 9,'37, pp. 67, 69; Oct. 23,'37, pp. 83, 85; Oct. 30,'37, p. 86; Nov. 6,'37, p. 66; Nov. 27,'37, p. 78; Dec. 4,'37, pp. 77, 78.)	Barbara Stanwyck-John Boles	Aug. 6,'37†	111.	July 31,'37
Walt Disney's Academy Award Revue	Five Award Winners	June 18,'37†	44
Walter Wanger's Vogues of 1938 (G) (Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 74; Sept. 11,'37, p. 82; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92; Nov. 27,'37, p. 80; Dec. 18,'37, p. 65; Jan. 1,'38, p. 58.)	Warner Baxter-Joan Bennett	Sept. 17,'37†	108.	Aug. 7,'37
When Thief Meets Thief (A) (Reviewed under the title, "Jump for Glory.")	D. Fairbanks, Jr.-V. Hobson	June 4,'37	87.	May 8,'37
Woman Chases Man (G) (See production article, Apr. 17,'37, p. 12; exploitation: June 12,'37, p. 92; July 3,'37, p. 88; Sept. 11,'37, p. 83; Oct. 30,'37, p. 84.)	Miriam Hopkins-Joel McCrea	May 7,'37	71.	May 1,'37
You Only Live Once (A) (Exploitation: Jan. 30,'37, p. 80; Mar. 6,'37, p. 89; Mar. 20,'37, pp. 76, 78; Apr. 3,'37, pp. 66, 71; June 26,'37, p. 123; July 10,'37, p. 87; Aug. 21,'37, p. 74.)	Sylvia Sidney-Henry Fonda	Jan. 29,'37	86.	Jan. 30,'37

Coming

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Action for Slander (A)	Clive Brook-Ann Todd	Jan. 14,'38†	83.	Aug. 14,'37
Adventures of Marco Polo	Gary Cooper-Sigrid Gurie
Adventures of Tom Sawyer (See production article, Oct. 9,'37, p. 16.)	Tommy Kelly-Walter Brennan	Feb. 4,'38†
Divorce of Lady X, The	Merle Oberon-Laurence Olivier	Feb. 18,'38†
Gaiety Girls, The (Reviewed under the title, "Paradise for Two.")	Jack Hulbert-Patricia Ellis	Mar. 18,'38†	70.	Nov. 6,'37
Goldwyn Follies, The (See production article, Nov. 13,'37, p. 14.)	Phil Baker-Ritz Bros.
I Met My Love Again (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Joan Bennett-Henry Fonda	Feb. 11,'38†
Madamoiselle Docteur (A)	Dita Parlo-John Loder		77.	Dec. 18,'37
Mutiny in the Mountains	Vivien Leigh-Paul Lukas
Return of the Scarlet Pimpernel, The (G)	Barry Barnes-Sophie Stewart	Mar. 25,'38†	90.	Nov. 13,'37
Storm in a Teacup (G)	Vivien Leigh-Rex Harrison	Feb. 25,'38†	86.	June 12,'37

UNIVERSAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventure's End (G) 2036	John Wayne-Diana Gibson	Dec. 5,'37†	63.	Nov. 13,'37
Armored Car (G) 1004	Robert Wilcox-Judith Barrett	June 20,'37	64.	Aug. 14,'37
As Good as Married (G) 1012	John Boles-Doris Nolan	May 9,'37	81.	May 1,'37
Behind the Mike 2030	Wm. Gargan-Judith Barrett	Sept. 26,'37†	68.
Black Aces 2050	Buck Jones-Kay Linaker	Sept. 5,'37†	58.
Boss of Lonely Valley 2052	Buck Jones	Nov. 14,'37†	59.
Breezing Home (G) 1033	Binnie Barnes-Wm. Gargan	Jan. 31,'37	64.	Mar. 27,'37
California Straight Ahead (G) 1030	John Wayne-Louise Latimer	May 2,'37	67.	Apr. 3,'37
Carnival Queen 2026	Dorothea Kent-Robert Wilcox	Oct. 3,'37†	66.
Courage of the West 2054 (See "In the Cutting Room," Sept. 11,'37.)	Bob Baker-Lois January	Dec. 5,'37†	57.
Empty Saddles (G) 1043	Buck Jones-Louise Brooks	Dec. 20,'36	62.	Oct. 24,'36
Girl Overboard (G) 1021	Gloria Stuart-Walter Pidgeon	Feb. 28,'37	58.	May 28,'37
Girl with Ideas, A (G) 2015	Wendy Barrie-Walter Pidgeon	Nov. 7,'37†	66½.	Nov. 6,'37
I Cover the War (G) 1016	John Wayne-Gwen Gaze	July 4,'37	68.	July 10,'37
Idol of the Crowds (G) 2037	John Wayne-Sheila Bromley	Oct. 10,'37†	62½.	Oct. 2,'37
Lady Fights Back, The (G)	2035. Irene Hervey-Kent Taylor	Sept. 19,'37†	63.	Oct. 23,'37
Law for Tombstone 2051	Buck Jones-Muriel Evans	Oct. 10,'37†	59.
Left Handed Law (G) 1045	Buck Jones	Apr. 18,'37	63.	May 1,'37
Let Them Live (G) 1035	Nan Grey-John Howard	Apr. 25,'37	73.	Apr. 24,'37
Love in a Bungalow (G) 1009	Kent Taylor-Nan Grey	June 27,'37	66.	July 10,'37
Man in Blue, The (G) 1020	Robert Wilcox-Nan Grey	May 30,'37	67.	May 22,'37
Man Who Cried Wolf, The (G) 2023	Tom Brown-Barbara Read	Aug. 29,'37†	66.	Sept. 4,'37
Merry-Go-Round of 1938 (G) 2006	Bert Lahr-Alice Brady	Nov. 14,'37†	87.	Oct. 23,'37
Mighty Treve, The (G) 1034	Noah Beery, Jr. Barbara Read	Jan. 17,'37	69.	Apr. 10,'37
Night Key (G) 1024 (Exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 87.)	Boris Karloff-Jean Rogers	May 2,'37	67.	Apr. 24,'37
Oh, Doctor! (G) 1013 (Exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 87.)	Edward Everett Horton	May 16,'37	67.	Apr. 24,'37
100 Men and a Girl (G) 2001 (See musical analysis, Sept. 18,'37, p. 29; exploitation: Sept. 25,'37, p. 68; Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 69; Nov. 6,'37, pp. 56, 66; Nov. 20,'37, p. 82; Nov. 27,'37, p. 80; Dec. 18,'37, p. 68; Jan. 1,'38, p. 60.)	Deanna Durbin-Adolphe Menjou	Sept. 12,'37†	84.	Sept. 11,'37
Prescription for Romance(G)2013	Wendy Barrie-Kent Taylor	Dec. 12,'37†	66.	Dec. 18,'37
Reported Missing (G) 1006	Wm. Gargan-Jean Rogers	Aug. 15,'37	63.	Aug. 7,'37
Road Back, The (G) 1005 (See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 16; exploitation: July 31,'37, p. 80; Sept. 18,'37, p. 83; Oct. 9,'37, pp. 66, 68.)	Richard Cromwell-John King	Aug. 1,'37	103.	June 26,'37
Sandflow (G) 1044	Buck Jones-Lita Chevret	Feb. 14,'37.	58.	Feb. 6,'37
She's Dangerous 1031	Cesar Romero-Tala Birell	Jan. 24,'37	68.
Smoke Tree Range 1046	Buck Jones-Muriel Evans	June 6,'37	59.
Some Blondes Are Dangerous 2018	Noah Beery, Jr.-Dorothea Kent	Nov. 28,'37†	64½.
Sudden Bill Dorn 2053	Buck Jones-Evelyn Brent	Dec. 19,'37†	59.
That's My Story 2034 (See "In the Cutting Room," July 3,'37.)	Claudia Morgan-Wm. Lundigan	Oct. 24,'37†	62.
Top of the Town (G) 1007 (See production article, Jan. 23,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Apr. 24,'37, p. 91; May 1,'37, p. 79; May 22,'37, pp. 86, 87; June 5,'37, p. 70; June 12,'37, p. 92; June 19,'37, pp. 82, 85.)	George Murphy-Doris Nolan	Apr. 18,'37	86.	Apr. 3,'37
Trouble at Midnight (G) 2020	N. Beery, Jr.-Catharine Hughes	Oct. 17,'37†	68.	Nov. 20,'37
We Have Our Moments (G) 1017	Sally Eilers—James Dunn	Mar. 28,'37	67.	Apr. 3,'37
West Bound Limited 1008	Lyle Talbot-Polly Rowles	July 11,'37	66.
Westland Case, The (G) 2024	Preston Foster-Carol Hughes	Oct. 31,'37†	63.	Oct. 2,'37
When Love Is Young (G) 1018	Virginia Bruce-Kent Taylor	Apr. 4,'37	58.
Wildcatter, The 1015	Scott Colton-Jean Rogers	June 6,'37.	76.	Apr. 24,'37
Wings Over Honolulu (G) 1011	Wendy Barrie-Ray Milland	May 23,'37	78.	May 15,'37
You're a Sweetheart (G)	Alice Faye-George Murphy	Dec. 26,'37†	96.	Dec. 18,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

VICTORY

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Amateur Crook	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Dec. 10,'37†	58
Brothers of the West	Tom Tyler-Lois Wilde	Sept. 30,'37†	55
Cheyenne Rides Again	Tom Tyler-Lucille Browne	Jan. 7,'37	56
Feud of the Trail	Tom Tyler-Harlene Wood	May 1,'37	56
Flying Fists	Herman Brix-Jeanne Martel	July 1,'37	62
Lost Ranch	Tom Tyler-Jeanne Martel	Nov. 30,'37†	56
Million Dollar Racket (G)	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Oct. 1,'37†	62. Nov. 20,'37
Mystery Range	Tom Tyler-Jerry Bergh	May 1,'37	55
Orphan of the Pecos	Tom Tyler-Jeanne Martel	Dec. 30,'37†	55
Sky Racket	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Sept. 1,'37†	63

WARNER BROTHERS

(See also First National)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Another Dawn (A) 106	Kay Francis-Errol Flynn	June 26,'37	73. Apr. 10,'37
(See production article, Mar. 6,'37, p. 16.)
Black Legion (A) 108	H. Bogart-E. O'Brien-Moore	Jan. 30,'37	83. Jan. 9,'37
(Exploitation: Jan. 16,'37, p. 76; Mar. 13,'37, pp. 80, 83; Mar. 20,'37, p. 82; Mar. 27,'37, p. 79; Apr. 3,'37, p. 66; Apr. 10,'37, p. 95; July 17,'37, p. 89.)
Blazing Sixes 129	Dick Foran-Helen Valkis	June 12,'37	55
Call It a Day (G) 113	Olivia de Havilland-I. Hunter	Apr. 17,'37	89. Mar. 13,'37
Devil's Saddle Legion, The 130	Dick Foran-Anne Nagel	Aug. 14,'37	52
Expensive Husbands (G) 223	Beverly Roberts-Patric Knowles	Nov. 27,'37†	62. Sept. 11,'37
Fly-Away Baby (G) 125	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	June 19,'37	60. June 12,'37
First Lady (G) 210	Kay Francis-Preston Foster	Dec. 4,'37†	*82. Sept. 11,'37
Footloose Heiress 123	Craig Reynolds-Ann Sheridan	Aug. 21,'37
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 10,'37.)
God's Country and the Woman (G) 105	George Brent-Beverly Roberts	Jan. 16,'37	85. Dec. 26,'36
(Exploitation: Feb. 13,'37, pp. 84, 85; Feb. 27,'37, p. 80.)
Go Getter, The (G) 115	George Brent-Anita Louise	May 22,'37	92. June 19,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 4,'37, pp. 94, 97.)
Great Garrick, The (G) 209	Brian Aherne-O. de Havilland	Oct. 30,'37	89. Oct. 2,'37
Great O'Malley, The (G) 110	Pat O'Brien-Sybil Jason	Feb. 13,'37	71. Dec. 12,'36
(Exploitation: Apr. 10,'37, p. 91.)
It's Love I'm After (G) 207	Leslie Howard-Bette Davis	Nov. 20,'37†	90. July 31,'37
Kid Galahad (G) 102	Edw. G. Robinson-Bette Davis	May 29,'37	101. May 8,'37
(Exploitation: June 5,'37, p. 64; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96.)
King and the Chorus Girl (G) 104	Fernand Gravet-Joan Blondell	Mar. 27,'37	95. Mar. 6,'37
(Exploitation: Mar. 20,'37, p. 76; Mar. 27,'37, p. 79; June 26,'37, p. 118.)
Land Beyond the Law 128	Dick Foran-Linda Perry	Mar. 13,'37	54
Life of Emile Zola, The (G) 203	Paul Muni-Gale Sondergaard	Oct. 2,'37†	116. July 10,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 68; Nov. 27,'37, p. 84; Dec. 25,'37, p. 58.)
Marry the Girl (G) 116	Hugh Herbert-Mary Boland	July 1,'37	68. Aug. 14,'37
Melody for Two (G) 117	James Melton-Patricia Ellis	May 1,'37	60. Jan. 16,'37
Midnight Court (G) 124	Ann Dvorak-John Litel	Mar. 6,'37	60. Mar. 13,'37
Public Wedding 126	Jane Wyman-William Hopper	July 10,'37	58
Ready, Willing and Able (G) 112	Lee Dixon-Ruby Keeler	Mar. 6,'37	93. Feb. 6,'37
(Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 78.)
Singing Marine, The (G) 101	Dick Powell-Doris Weston	July 3,'37	105. July 10,'37
(Exploitation: July 24,'37, p. 80; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 68, 71.)
Sergeant Murphy (G) 216	Ronald Reagan-Mary Maguire	Jan. 1,'38†	*60. Dec. 11,'37
Slim (G) 114	Pat O'Brien-Henry Fonda	June 12,'37	80. July 3,'37
Smart Blonde (G) 122	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	Jan. 2,'37	59. Dec. 5,'36
Swing Your Lady 211	H. Bogart-Penny Singleton	Jan. 8,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 30,'37.)
Tovarich (G) 201	Claudette Colbert-Charles Boyer	Dec. 25,'37†	*92. Dec. 4,'37
Varsity Show (G) 202	Dick Powell-Fred Waring	Sept. 4,'37†	121. Aug. 21,'37
(See production article, July 24,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 20,'37, p. 94; Dec. 4,'37, p. 77; Jan. 1,'38, p. 60.)
White Bondage (G) 125	Jean Muir-Gordon Oliver	June 19,'37	60. Mar. 13,'37
Wine, Women and Horses (G) 218	Barton MacLane-Ann Sheridan	Sept. 11,'37†	64. July 24,'37

Coming

Title	Star
Adventures of Robin Hood	Errol Flynn-O. de Havilland
(See production article, Dec. 25,'37, p. 14.)
Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse, The
Blondes at Work	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane
Boy Meets Girl	Marie Wilson-Allyn Joslyn
Food for Scandal	Fernand Gravet-Carole Lombard
Gold Diggers in Paris	Rudy Vallee
Invisible Menace (G) 224	Boris Karloff-Marie Wilson
(Reviewed under the title, "Without Warning.")
Jezebel	Bette Davis-Henry Fonda
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Kid Comes Back, The (G) 123	Wayne Morris-June Travis
(Reviewed under the title, "Don't Pull Your Punches.")
Love, Honor and Behave	Wayne Morris-Priscilla Lane
Men Are Such Fools	Wayne Morris-Priscilla Lane
Mystery of Hunting's End	Dick Purcell-Ann Sheridan
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Over the Wall	Dick Foran-June Travis
Patient in Room 18, The 274	Ann Sheridan-Patric Knowles
Penrod and His Twin Brother 226	Billy and Bobby Mauch
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 30,'37.)
Penrod's Double Trouble	Billy and Bobby Mauch

WILLIAM STEINER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
From Nine to Nine	Ruth Roland-Roland Drew	Dec. 21,'36	6 rls

WORLD

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Crimson Circle	Noah Beery	Jan. 1,'37	74
Don Quixote (G)	Chaliapin	Sept. '37†	78. July 8,'37
Life and Loves of Beethoven (G)	Harry Baur	Dec. 15,'37†	82. Dec. 4,'37
Masquerade in Vienna (A)	Paula Wessely	Jan. 28,'37	95. Feb. 13,'37
My Song of Love	Tito Schipa	Mar. 31,'37	79

Coming

Title	Star
Annie Laurie	Will Fyffe
Aurora Sul Mare	Italian Feature
Chanson D'Amour	Tito Schipa
Itto	Simone Berriau
Love on Skiis	Walter Rimil
Monastery
Ninety Degrees South	Antarctic Film
Second Bureau	Jean Murat-Diana Koreno
Secrets of Stamboul	Valerie Hobson
Ski Chase	Hannes Schneider
Street Without a Name	Constant Remy-Pola Illery
Song of Ceylon	Basil Wright
Tendre Enemmie	Simone Berriau

OTHER PRODUCT (FOREIGN)

Title	Star	Dist'r	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventures of Chico (G)		Woodward Bros.		60. Nov.	27,'37
Angel's Pit, The (A)	Amedo Nazzari			June	26,'37
Amphytrion (A)	Henri Garat	Globe	Mar. 23,'37	103. Apr.	3,'37
Beethoven Concerto (G)	V. Gardin	Amkino	Mar. 23,'37	90. Apr.	10,'37
Big Fella (G)	Paul Robeson	British Lion		73. July	10,'37
Bronze Sentries (G)	Fosco Ginschetti	Fonoroma		Oct.	2,'37
Club de Femmes (A)	Danielle Darrieux	Mayer-Burstyn	Oct. 19,'37	89. Oct.	23,'37
Edge of the World, The (A)	Finlay Currie	British I. E. Co.		80. Aug.	14,'37
Emil Und Die Detektive	Fritz Rasp	International		77
Episode (A)	Paula Wessely	Metropolis	May 15,'37	90. June	5,'37
Fury Over Spain (G)		Modern Film		55. Aug.	14,'37
Gang Show, The (G)	Ralph Reader	General		May	1,'37
Gobsek (A)	Leonid Leonidov	Amkino		74. Aug.	14,'37
Golem, The (A)	Harry Baur	Metropolis	Mar. 20,'37	88. Mar.	27,'37
In the Far East (G)	N. Bogollubov	Amkino	Oct. 19,'37	81. Oct.	30,'37
It Isn't Done (G)	Cecil Kellaway	British Empire		90. Mar.	27,'37
Jericho (G)	Paul Robeson	General		77. Sept.	4,'37
Kimiko (A)	Sachiko Chiba	International	Apr. 12,'37	73. Apr.	24,'37
King's People, The (G)	John Drinkwater	Mindlin	May 11,'37	70. May	22,'37
La Grande Illusion (A)	Jean Gabin	Realization d'Art Cinematographique		120. July	3,'37
Last Night, The (G)	I. R. Peltser	Amkino	Apr. 27,'37	90. May	8,'37
Late Mattia Pascal, The (A)	Pierre Blanchar			Apr.	10,'37
Let's Make a Night of It	Buddy Rogers	Assoc. British		80. July	10,'37
Lower Depths, The (A)	Jean Gabin	Mayer-Burstyn	Oct. 15,'37	95. Sept.	25,'37
Lucrezia Borgia (A)	Edwige Feuillere	European	Oct. 12,'37	78. Oct.	23,'37
Mademoiselle Docteur (A)	Dita Parlo	United Artists		105. May	1,'37
Make Up (G)	N. Asther-J. Clyde	Assoc. British		70. July	16,'37
Mayerling (A)	Charles Boyer	Pax Films	Sept. 13,'37	91. Sept.	25,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 56.)
Merlusse (G)	Henri Poupon	French M. P.	Jan. '38	67. Dec.	25,'37
Merry Comes to Town (G)	Zasu Pitts	Sound City		77. June	5,'37
Moonlight Sonata (G)	Paderewski	United Artists		90. Mar.	13,'37
Mutiny of the Elsinore, The (G)	Paul Lukas	Assoc. British		77. Sept.	18,'37
Ora Ponciano (G)	Chucho Solozano	Prod. Soria		105. May	15,'37
Orphan Boy of Vienna (G)	Hans Olden	General		77. Sept.	18,'37
Our Fighting Navy (G)	H. B. Warner	General		75. May	8,'37
Pearls of the Crown (A)	Sascha Guitry	Tobis		115. June	5,'37
Pepe Le Moko (A)	Jean Gabin	Paris Film		100. Mar.	20,'37
Pygmalion (G)	Lily Bouwmeester	Filmex Cinetone		Apr.	17,'37
Ruler, The (G)	Emil Jannings	Amer.-Tobis.	Oct. 15,'37	120. Oct.	30,'37
Silver Blaze (G)	Arthur Wontner	Assoc. British		70. July	17,'37
Sisters in Arms (G)	J. Sully-J. Day	C. U. C.		125. Dec.	25,'37
Sol Over Danmark (G)	Henrik Malberg	Scandinavian	Apr. 13,'37	73. Apr.	24,'37
Spanish Earth, The (A)		Prometheus	Aug. 20,'37	58. Sept.	4,'37
Thank You, Madame (G)	Jan Kiepura	American Tobis	Apr. 26,'37	85. May	1,'37
Thirteen, The (A)	Ivan Novoseltsev	Amkino		85. July	17,'37
Uncivilized (A)	Dennis Hoey	Box Office	Nov. 23,'37	77. Nov.	27,'37
Wave, The (G)	Native Cast	Garrison	Apr. 20,'37	60. May	1,'37
Wild Innocence (G)	Wendy Munro	Cinesound		90. May	29,'37
World's in Love, The (A)	Marta Eggerth	Viennese	May 18,'37	65. Nov.	20,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

SHORT FILMS

[Numbers immediately following title designate date reviewed; for example, (8-1-37) August 1, 1937.]

COLUMBIA

BROADWAY COMEDIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Back to the Woods (3 Stooges)	May 14,'37	19½..
Big Squirt, The (10-2-37) Charlie Chase	Sept.17,'37†18	....
Bury the Hatchet (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	19....
Calling All Curtains	Oct. 1,'37†16	....
Calling All Doctors	July 22,'37	19½..
Cash and Carry (9-11-37) (3 Stooges)	Sept. 3,'37†18½	..
Dizzy Doctors (4-17-37) (3 Stooges)	Mar. 19,'37	17½..
Fiddling Around (Collins-Kennedy)	Jan. 21,'38†17½	..
From Bad to Worse Charlie Chase	June 4,'37	17....
Goofs and Saddles	July 2,'37	17½..
Gracie at the Bat Andy Clyde	Oct. 29,'37†17½	..
Grand Hooter (6-5-37) Charlie Chase	May 7,'37	19½..
Grips, Grunts and Groans (3-27-37) (3 Stooges)	Jan. 15,'37	19....
He Done His Duty (12-18-37) Andy Clyde	Dec. 10,'37†17½	..
Knee Action (2-27-37) Andy Clyde	Jan. 9,'37	17....
Lodge Night Andy Clyde	June 11,'37	18...
Man Bites Love Bug Charlie Chase	Dec. 24,'37†18	....
My Little Feller Andy Clyde	May 21,'37	18....
New News (4-17-37) (Collins-Kennedy)	Apr. 1,'37	17½..
Oh What a Knight (Herman Bing)	Nov. 22,'37†16½	..
Playing the Ponies (10-23-37) (3 Stooges)	Oct. 15,'37†17	....
Sailor Maid Polly Moran	Feb. 12,'37	18....
Sitter Downers, The (11-27-37) (3 Stooges)	Nov. 26,'37†16	....
Stuck in the Sticks Andy Clyde	Mar. 26,'37	18....
Super Snooper, The El Brendel	Feb. 25,'37	19½..
Termites of 1938	Jan. 7,'38†.2	rls.
Three Dumb Clucks (3 Stooges)	Apr. 17,'37	17....
Wrong Miss Wright, The Charlie Chase	June 18,'37	17....

BROADWAY FOLLIES

Brokers Follies (12-11-37)	Dec. 15,'37†10½	..
Drug Store Follies (9-11-37)	Sept. 3,'37†10½	..
Rooftop Frolics (10-16-37)	Oct. 1,'37†11	....
Timberland Revels (11-27-37)	Nov. 5,'37†16	....

COLOR RHAPSODIES

Air Hostess, The	Oct. 22,'37†.8	....
Foxy Pup, The (6-5-37)	May 21,'37	..6½
Gifts from the Air (re-issue)	Dec. 18,'37†.7½	..
Hollywood Picnic	Dec. 18,'37†.1	rl..
Indian Serenade	July 16,'37	..8....
Let's Go (4-17-37)	Apr. 10,'37	..7½..
Little Match Girl (11-27-37)	Nov. 5,'37†.8	½..
Merry Mannequins	Mar. 19,'37	..6½..
Mother Hen's Holiday	May 7,'37	..7....
Sad Little Guinea Pigs	Jan. 14,'38†.1	rl..
Scary Crows (9-11-37)	Aug. 20,'37	..8....
Skeleton Frolic (2-20-37)	Jan. 29,'37	..7½..
Spring Festival (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	..8....
Stork Takes a Holiday, The	June 11,'37	..8....
Swing, Monkey, Swing (10-2-37)	Sept. 10,'37	..7½..

COLUMBIA TOURS

Fifty Years of Barter	May 28,'37	..9½..
Haiti's Black Napoleon (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	..9....
Pirate Parts of the Caribbean	July 2,'37	..9....
When the West Was Young (3-20-37)	Mar. 12,'37	..9....

COMMUNITY SING (1st Series)

Community Sing (No. 2)	Feb. 19,'37	.11....
Community Sing (No. 3) (6-5-37)	May 20,'37	.10....
Community Sing (No. 4)	June 18,'37	.10½..
Community Sing (No. 5) (9-11-37)	July 24,'37	.10½..

(2nd Series)

No. 1 (9-11-37)	Aug. 20,'37†10	....
No. 2 (10-16-37)	Sept. 17,'37†10	....
No. 3 (10-16-37)	Oct. 15,'37†10½	..
No. 4—(12-11-37)	Nov. 28,'37†11	....

COURT OF HUMAN RELATIONS

Wedding Deal, The	Feb. 26,'37	.11½..

FEATURETTES

Herald of the Skies	Apr. 2,'37	..9½..

HAPPY HOUR

Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp	Dec. 18,'37†.3	rls.
Goose Girl, The	May 30,'37	..3 rls.
Old Woman in the Woods, The	Apr. 23,'37	..3 rls.

KRAZY KAT CARTOONS

17. Lyin' Hunter, The (3-27-37)	Feb. 12,'37	..7....
18. Krazy's Race of Time (6-26-37)	May 6,'37	..7....
19. Masque Raid, The	June 25,'37	..7....
20. Railroad Rhythm	Nov. 20,'37†	.9½..

SCRAPPY CARTOONS

Canine Capers	Sept. 16,'37†	.6½..
Clock Goes 'Round and 'Round (11-20-37)	Oct. 16,'37†	.6....
Dizzy Ducks (12-19-36)	July 18,'37	..6½..
Fire Plug, The (11-13-37)	Oct. 16,'37†	.6....
Puttin' Out the Kitten	Mar. 26,'37	..7....
Scrappy's Band Concert	Apr. 29,'37	..7....
Scrappy's Music Lesson	June 4,'37	..7....
Scrappy's News Flashes	Dec. 8,'37†	.6....

SCREEN SNAPSHOTS

No. 6—	Feb. 19,'37	.10....
No. 7—	Mar. 23,'37	..9½..
No. 8—(5-29-37)	Apr. 30,'37	..9½..
No. 9—	May 22,'37	.10....
No. 10—	June 4,'37	..9....
No. 11—	June 25,'37	.10½..
No. 12—(10-16-37)	Aug. 13,'37	.10....
No. 13—(10-16-37)	Sept. 10,'37	.10....

(New Series)

No. 1—(10-16-37)	Sept. 17,'37†	10....
No. 2—(11-20-37)	Oct. 15,'37†	.9½..
No. 3—(12-11-37)	Nov. 18,'37†	.9½..
No. 4—	Dec. 24,'37†	.1 rl..

SPECIAL

SPORT THRILLS

Cadet Champion (12-11-37)	Dec. 17,'37†	.9½..
Fit to Win (6-12-37)	May 7,'37	..9½..
Fleet Hoofs (4-17-37)	Mar. 5,'37	.10....
Fun In the Water (4-17-37)	Apr. 10,'37	.10....
Future Stars	Aug. 30,'37	.....
Golf Magic (9-11-37)	Aug. 16,'37	..9....
Riding the Waves	June 4,'37	.10....
Scrambled Legs (3-27-37)	Feb. 22,'37	..9....
Set 'Em Up	Oct. 29,'37†	.9½..
Sport of the Seasons	June 25,'37	..9....
Sport's Greatest Thrills (8-21-37)	Aug. 3,'37	..9....
Trotting Thoroughbreds (10-16-37)	Sept. 30,'37†	.9½..
Unusual Hunting	Jan. 7,'38†	.1 rl..

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

Boy Who Saved a Nation, The	Dec. 10,'37†	.9½..
Little Jack Horner (10-2-37)	Sept. 16,'37†	.6½..
Silver Threads (12-11-37)	Nov. 12,'37†	10½..

WORLD IN COLOR

Beautiful Bermuda	Sept. 10,'37†	.....
City of the Golden Gate (11-20-37)	Oct. 10,'37†	.9½..
El Salvador	Dec. 30,'37†	.1 rl..

EDUCATIONAL

[Distributed through Twentieth Century-Fox]

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
SONG AND COMEDY HITS
Ask Uncle Sol (10-23-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	11....
Big Apple, The (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37†	.9....
Calling All Crooners (12-4-37)	Nov. 19,'37†	10½..
Dental Follies (4-10-37)	Feb. 26,'37	.11....
How to Dance the Shag	Dec. 17,'37†	.8....
Love Goes West	Dec. 31,'37†	.1 rl..
Miss Lonely Hearts (10-30-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	10½..
Pot Luck (8-14-37)	Aug. 6,'37†	11....
Rhythm Saves the Day (12-4-37)	Oct. 29,'37†	11....
Trailer Paradise	Nov. 26,'37†	.9....
TERRY-TOONS
Barnyard Boss, The	Dec. 24,'37†	.6½..
Big Game Hunt, The	Feb. 19,'37	..7....
Billy Goat's Whiskers, The	Dec. 10,'37†	.6½..
Book Shop, The (1-30-37)	Feb. 5,'37	..6....
Bug Carnival (4-17-37)	Apr. 16,'37	..7....
Bugs Bettle and His Orchestra	Jan. 21,'38†	.1 rl..
Close Shave, A	Oct. 1,'37†	.6½..
Dancing Bear, The (11-6-37)	Oct. 15,'37†	.6½..
Dog and the Bone, The (11-27-37)	Nov. 12,'37†	.6....
Farmer Al Falfa in Trailer Life	Aug. 20,'37†	.5½..
Flying South	Mar 19,'37	..7....
Hay Ride, The	Apr. 2,'37	..6....
Homeless Pup, The	July 23,'37	..7....
Kiko's Cleaning Day (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37†	.6½..
Lion Hunt, The	Jan. 7,'38†	.1 rl..
Mechanical Cow, The	June 25,'37	..7....
Ozzie Ostrich Comes to Town	May 28,'37	..7....
Paper Hangers, The (8-14-37)	July 30,'37	..7....
Pink Elephants	July. 9,'37	..7....
Play Ball	June 11,'37	..6....
Puddy's Coronation	May 14,'37	..7....
Red Hot Music	Mar. 5,'37	..6....
Saw Mill Mystery, The	Oct. 29,'37†	.6½..
School Birds	Apr. 30,'37	..7....
Timid Rabbit, The	Nov. 26,'37†	.6½..
Villain Still Pursued Her, The	Sept. 3,'37†	.6½..
TREASURE CHEST
Crystal Ballet	May 28,'37	.11....
Grey Owl's Little Brother	Jan. 7,'38†	10....
How to Ski	Aug. 20,'37†	11....
Not So Dumb	Dec. 10,'37†	.9....
Ornamental Swimming	June 4,'37	.10....
Private Life of the Gannets (9-25-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	11....
Songs of the Danube	May 7,'37	..9....
Top Dogs	Dec. 24,'37†	.1 rl..
TWO-REEL COMEDIES
Affairs of Pierre, The (7-31-37)	Aug. 6,'37†	19....
Air Parade		2 rls.
Bashful Ballerina (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37†	20....
Bashful Buckaroo, The	Dec. 3,'37†	19½..
Big Courtship, The	Feb. 19,'37	.17...
Comic Artist's Home Life (4-3-37)	Apr. 9,'37	.18....
Dates and Nuts	Dec. 31,'37†	.....
Dime a Dance	Dec. 24,537†	19½..
Ditto	Feb. 12,'37	.17....
Freshies	May 7,'37	.17....
Fun's Fun (2-6-37)	Feb. 5,'37	.19....
Getting an Eyeful	Jan. 21,'38†	.2 rls.
Girls Ahoy!	June 11,'37	.17....
Going, Going, Gone	Oct. 6,'37†	18....
Hamlet and Eggs	June 18,'37	.16....
Heir Today	Nov. 5,'37†	18....
Her Accidental Hero	May 21,'37	.17....
Hi-Ho Hollywood	Jan. 7,'38†	.2 rls.
His Pest Girl	Apr. 30,'37	.18....
Hi-ya Doc?	Apr. 23,'37	.20....
Holding the Bag	May 14,'37	.19....
Hurray for Hooligan (12-4-37)	Nov. 19,'37†	17....
Koo-Koo Correspondence Skool, The	Nov. 19,'37†	18....
Love in Arms	May 28,'37	.18....
Love Nest on Wheels	Mar. 26,'37	.18....
Man to Man	Feb. 26,'37	.17....
Meet the Bride	Oct. 29,'37†	17....
Melody Girl	Apr. 16,'37	.17....
Montague the Magnificent (8-14-37)	Aug. 27,'37†	18....
Off the Horses (4-10-37)	Mar. 5,'37	.19....
Pixilated	Mar. 19,'37	.18....
Playboy Number One (12-4-37)	Nov. 26,'37†	17...
Ready to Serve (4-10-37)	Mar. 12,'37	.15....
Silly Night (10-23-37)	Oct. 1,'37†	19....
Slacks Appeal	Aug. 13,'37†	19....
Smart Way, The (10-30-37)	Oct. 15,'37†	18....
Sweeties	Sept. 3,'37†	15....
That's the Spirit	June 25,'37	.17....
Timid Ghost, The	Sept.24,'37†	16....
Who's Crazy?	Aug. 20,'37†	19...
Will You Stop! (10-2-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	17....
Who's Who?	Oct. 22,'37†	20....

HOFFBERG

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Baltimore, Home of Wally Simpson		.....
Bamboo (5-29-37)	July 16,'37	.10....
Broadway Dance Parade	June 15,'37	.10....
Hollywood Magic (5-29-37)		.10....
In Shanghai (6-5-37)	July 16,'37	.12....
Isle of Paradise	July 30,'37	.20....
Spanish Interlude, A	June 15,'37	.....
MAGNACOLOR
Blow, Bugle, Blow		.....
Catalina Island	Nov. 12,'37†	.....
Personalities on Parade		.....
Skiiing on Your Feet		.....
Yellowstone Park		.....

IMPERIAL

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
EDGAR GUEST POETIC GEMS
Boyhood		.8....
NOVELTIES
Nero		.8...
PORT O' CALL
City of the Sun		.9....
WORLD IN COLOR
Dream Harbor		.8....

MGM

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
CRIME DOESN'T PAY
No. 10—It May Happen to You (8-14-37)	June 5,'37	.21....
No. 11—Soak the Poor	Aug. 21,'37	.16....
No. 12—Give Till It Hurts (11-13-37)	Sept. 18,'37	.20....
No. 13—Behind the Criminal (12-4-37)	Oct. 30,'37	.21....
FITZPATRICK TRAVEL TALKS
Chile, Land of Charm (11-20-37)	Oct. 30,'37†	.9....
Colorful Bombay (5-8-37)	Apr. 3,'37	..8....
Copenhagen	Nov. 27,'37†	.9....
Floral Japan	July 24,'37	..8....
Glimpses of Peru (10-2-37)	Sept. 4,'37†	.8....
Hong Kong, Hub of China (6-26-37)	May 1,'37	..8....
Land of Incas	June 26,'37	..8....
Rocky Mountain Grandeur (7-24-37)	May 29,'37	..9....
Serene Siam (6-26-37)	Oct. 2,'37†	.9....
Stockholm, Pride of Sweden (11-13-37)	Dec. 25,'37†	.9....
HARMAN-ISING (Happy Harmonies)
29—Bosko's Easter Eggs (4-3-37)	Mar. 20,'37	..8....
30—Bosko and the Pirates (5-8-37)	May 1,'37	..8....
31—Hound and the Rabbit, The (6-26-37)	May 29,'37	..8....
32—Wayward Pups (8-14-37)	July 10,'37	..9....
33—Bosko and the Cannibals	Aug. 28,'37	.10....
34—Little Buck Cheeser	Dec. 18,'37	..8....
35—Bosko in Bagdad	Jan. 1,'38	.10....
HISTORICAL MYSTERIES
King Without a Crown, The (11-20-37)	Oct. 9,'37†	.9....
Man in the Barn, The (1-1-38)	Nov. 20,'37†	10....
M-G-M MINIATURES
Boss Didn't Say Good Morning, The (10-2-37)	Oct. 1,'37	.10....
Have Courage (7-24-37)	June 12,'37	.10....
Pacific Paradise (10-16-37)	Aug. 28,'37	.10....
Rainbow Pass (10-30-37)	Oct. 9,'37	.10....
Romance of Digestion	Mar. 13,'37	.11....
What Do You Think, No. 2	Dec. 25,'37†	10....
MUSICAL COMEDIES
Carnival in Paris (6-26-37)	May 29,'37	.21....
Girl's Best Years, A (2-20-37)	Dec. 25,'37	.19....
Hollywood Party (5-8-37)	Apr. 3,'37	.21....
Our Gang Follies of 1938	Dec. 18,'37†	.....
Some Time Soon (4-10-37)	Mar. 6,'37	.20....
Sunday Night at Trocadero (10-23-37)	Oct. 2,'37†	20....
OUR GANG
Fishy Tales	Aug. 28,'37	.11....
Framing Youth (10-2-37)	Sept. 11,'37†	11....
Hearts Are Thumps	Apr. 3,'37	.11....
Mail and Female	Nov. 13,'37†	11....
Night 'n' Gales	July 24,'37	.11....

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

Pigskin Palooka (11-27-37)..Oct. 23,'37†11....
Roamin' Holiday (7-31-37)..June 12,'37.11....
Rushin' Ballet (6-26-37)....Apr. 24,'37.11....
Three Smart Boys (5-8-37).Mar. 13,'37.11....

PETE SMITH SPECIALTIES

Candid Cameramaniacs
(1-1-38) .....Dec. 11,'37†.9....
Decathlon Champion
(11-27-37) .....Nov. 20,'37†10....
Equestrian Acrobatics .....Aug. 14,'37..8....
Friend Indeed (1-1-38)....Jan. 1,'38†10....
Golf Mistakes (6-26-37)....June 12,'37.10....
Grand Bounce, The
(5-26-37) .....May 22,'37.11....
Jungle Juveniles (11-6-37)..Oct. 2,'37†.9....
Olympic Ski Champions
(11-7-36) .....July 3,'37.10....
Penny Wisdom (5-8-37).....Apr. 10,'37.10....
Pigskin Champion
(9-25-37) .....Aug. 14,'37.11....
(Exploitation: Oct. 30,'37, p. 87.)
Romance of Radium
(10-23-37) .....Oct. 23,'37.10....
Ski Skill (4-10-37).....Oct. 23,'37.10....
(Reviewed under the title, "Ski Thrill")
Sports on Ice.....July 24,'37.10....
Tennis Tactics (5-8-37).....May 1,'37.10....

RE-ISSUES (1937-8)

Beau Hunks (9-5-31).....Sept. 18,'37†37....
Blotto (2-15-30) .....Oct. 30,'37†26....
County Hospital (4-23-32)..Jan. 22,'38†17....
Perfect Day, The (3-18-27).Dec. 11,'37†20....

ROBERT BENCHLEY

How to Start the Day
(10-16-37) .....Sept. 11,'37†10....
Night at the Movies, A
(11-20-37) .....Nov. 6,'37†10....

SPECIAL

Jimmy Fidler's Personality
Parade .....Jan. 8,'38†20....
New Audioscopiks, The.....Jan. 15,'38†.....
Servant of the People
(3-20-37) .....Apr. 9,'37.21....
(Exploitation: Feb. 27,'37, p. 87.)

TABLOID MUSICALS

Little Maestro (4-17-37)....Mar. 27,'37.11....
Song of Revolt (7-24-37)...May 29,'37.11....

PARAMOUNT

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

BETTY BOOP CARTOONS

Candid Candidate, The
(9-25-37) .....Aug. 27,'37†.7....
Ding Dong Doggie.....July 23,'37†.7....
Foxy Hunter, The.....Nov. 26,'37†.1 rl..
Hot Air Salesman, The
(3-20-37) .....Mar. 12,'37..7....
Impractical Joker, The
(7-3-37) .....June 18,'37..7....
New Deal Show, The
(10-16-37) .....Oct. 22,'37†.7....
Pudgy Takes a Bow-Wow...Apr. 9,'37..7....
Pudgy Picks a Fight
(5-22-37) .....May 14,'37..8....
Service With a Smile.....Sept. 24,'37†.7....
Zula Hula .....Dec. 24,'37†.....

COLOR CLASSICS

Bunny-Mooning (3-13-37)...Feb. 12,'37..7....
Car-Tune Portrait, A
(7-3-37) .....June 25,'37..7....
Chicken a la King.....Apr. 16,'37..8....
Educated Fish (11-13-37)...Oct. 29,'37†.7....
Foolish Fox, The.....Dec. 31,'37†.....
Peeping Penguins (9-18-37).Aug. 27,'37†.7....

HEADLINERS

Blue Velvet Music.....Apr. 9,'37.10....
Mark Warnow and Orch.
Frimi Favorites (7-3-37)....June 4,'37.11....
Rudolf Frimi, Jr., and Orch.
From the Minuet to the Big Apple .....Nov. 19,'37†.....
Hollywood Star Reporter,
No. 2 (10-16-37).....Oct. 29,'37†11....
Hula Heaven (10-16-37)....Oct. 1,'37†11....
Eddie Peabody
Installment Collector, The...July 2,'37.10....
Fred Allen
Let's Go Latin (9-25-37)...Sept. 10,'37†11....
Xavier Cugat and Orch.
Meet the Maestros.....Dec. 17,'37†.....
Music by Morgan.....Feb. 12,'37.11....
Russ Morgan and Orch.
Night in Manhattan.....July 30,'37.11....
Oh Kay, Rhythm.....Dec. 17,'37†.....
Queens of Harmony.....Aug. 20,'37†11....
Phil Spitalny and Girl Orch.
Star Reporter, The, No. 2
(3-27-37) .....Mar. 12,'37.11....
Vincent Lopez and Orch.

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

Swing, Hutton, Swing.....May 7,'37.11....
Ina Ray Hutton and Orch.

MUSICAL ROMANCE
(In Color)

Schubert's Serenade .....July 23,'37..9....
Song of the Islands
(5-22-37) .....May 21,'37.10....
Trees (3-20-37) .....Mar. 19,'37..9....

PARAGRAPHICS

Aviator Shorty .....July 23,'37.10....
Circus Comes to Town, The
(7-3-37) .....June 25,'37.10....
Cowboy Shorty (10-16-37)...Oct. 8,'37†10....
Game Trails .....Apr. 30,'37.10....
Inventor, The (10-23-37)....Nov. 5,'37†11....
It's a Good Stunt
(9-25-37) .....Sept. 10,'37†10....
It's a Living.....Mar. 5,'37.11....
Killer of the Tonto.....Aug. 13,'37†10....
Make Up and Live.....Dec. 31,'37†.....
Nobody Home .....Apr. 2,'37.10....
Safety in the Air
(5-22-37) .....May 28,'37.10....
Tuna .....Dec. 3,'37†.....
Where Snow Is King.....Feb. 5,'37..9....

PARAMOUNT PICTORIAL

No. 7 — Magic Caverns — Albert Payson Terhune — Swing Fashions .....Feb. 12,'37..9....
No. 8 — Tides of Fundy — Home of the Rainbow — Meet the Lerias.....Mar. 12,'37.10....
No. 9 — Moonlight and Shadows — Rooftops of Manhattan — Blackie and Brownie .....Apr. 9,'37.10....
No. 10 — Sailboat Time — Twilight on the Trail — Magnetic Music (5-22-37).May 7,'37.10....
No. 11—Fishing Highlights.June 4,'37.11....
No. 12—(7-3-37) .....July 2,'37.10....

NEW SERIES

No. 1 — Ain't Nature O'd Fashioned — Where East Meets West — Hollywood Music Man .....Aug. 6,'37†.1 rl..
No. 2 — Let's Count Horses —Novia Scotia Faces the Sea — Record Making (9-18-37) .....Sept. 3,'37†10....
No. 3 — Modern Czechoslovakia — Southern Sketches — Doing Broadway in Style (10-16-37) .Oct. 1,'37†10....
No. 4 — Tropical Toppers— Huckleberry Harvest — Steel Never Dies (11-6-37) .....Nov. 5,'37†10....
No. 5— .....Dec. 3,'37.....

POPEYE THE SAILOR

Football Toucher Downer....Oct. 15,'37†.....
Fowl Play .....Dec. 17,'37†.....
Hospitality .....Apr. 16,'37†.7....
I Like Babies and Infants
(10-2-37) .....Sept. 17,'37†.7....
I Never Change My Altitude .....Aug. 20,'37†.7....
Lost and Foundry.....July 16,'37..7....
Morning, Noon and Night Club (6-26-37) .....June 18,'37..7....
My Artistical Temperature. Mar. 19,'37..7....
Organ Grinder's Swing (3-6-37) .....Feb. 19,'37..7....
Paneless Window Washer, The (2-27-37) .....Jan. 22,'37..7....
Popeye the Sailor Meets Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves .....Nov. 26,'37†.2 rls.
(Color Special)
Protex the Weakerist
(11-20-37) .....Nov. 19,'37†.7....
Twisker Pitcher, The....May 21,'37..7....

PARAMOUNT SOUND NEWS

Two Editions Weekly

POPULAR SCIENCE
(In Color)

No. 3 .....Dec. 25,'36.11....
No. 4 (3-27-37) .....Feb. 26,'37.11....
No. 5 .....Apr. 30,'37.11....
No. 6 .....July 2,'37.11....

NEW SERIES

No. 1 (9-18-37) .....Sept. 3,'37†10....
No. 2 (11-20-37) .....Nov. 12,'37†10....
No. 3 .....Jan. 14,'38†.....

SCREEN SONGS

Magic on Broadway.....Nov. 26,'37†.1 rl..
Jay Freeman and Orch

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

Never Should Have Told
You (3-6-37) .....Jan. 29,'37..8....
Nat Brandwynne and Orch.
Please Keep Me in Your Dreams (5-22-37) .....May 28,'37..8....
Henry King and Orch.
Twilight on the Trail.....Mar. 26,'37..7....
The Westerners
Whispers in the Dark
(10-9-37) .....Sept. 24,'37†.7....
You Came to My Rescue....July 30,'37..8....
Shep Fields and Orch.

GRANTLAND RICE SPORTLIGHTS
(NEW SERIES)

No. 36—Wrestling (It's a Laugh) .....Apr. 23,'37.10....
No. 37—Swing Stars
(5-22-37) .....May 14,'37.10....
No. 38—Pan-American
Champion (7-3-37) .....June 11,'37.10....
No. 39—Rhythm of the Game (7-10-37) .....July 9,'37.10....
No. 40—Aquabats .....Aug. 13,'37†10....
No. 41—Picking Pets
(10-2-37) .....Sept. 10,'37†10....
No. 42—Four Smart Dogs
(10-16-37) .....Oct. 8,'37†10....
No. 43—Pick Your Favorite
(11-6-37) .....Nov. 5,'37†10....
No. 44—Ball Tossers .....Dec. 3,'37†.....
No. 45—Water, Water
Everywhere .....Dec. 31,'37†.....

UNUSUAL OCCUPATIONS
(In Color)

No. 1 .....Aug. 6,'37†.1 rl..
No. 2 (10-16-37) .....Oct. 8,'37†10....
No. 3 .....Dec. 10,'37†.....

SPECIAL 3 REEL SHORT
(Distributed by Paramount)

River, The (12-11-37).....31....

RKO RADIO

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

CONDOR MUSICALES

Frozen Affair, A (8-28-37)..Sept. 17,'37†10....
Murder in Swing Time
(9-4-37) .....Sept. 27,'37†10....
Prairie Swingeroo
(12-25-37) .....Oct. 15,'37†10....

LEON ERROL COMEDIES

Dummy Owner, The
(1-1-38) .....Jan. 7,'38†19....
Rented Riot, A.....Nov. 5,'37†17....
Should Wives Work
(10-9-37) .....Sept. 10,'37†19....

HEADLINER SERIES

3—Rhythm on the Rampage
(4-24-37) .....Apr. 2,'37.18½..
4—Swing Fever .....July 25,'37.20....

1937-38

No. 1—Trailing Along
(10-16-37) .....Oct. 8,'37†16....
No. 2—Music Will Tell
(1-1-38) .....Feb. 11,'38†.....

EDGAR KENNEDY COMEDIES

Dumb's the Word.....June 11,'37.18....
Ears of Experience (1-1-38).Jan. 28,'38†18....
Edgar and Goliath
(12-25-37) .....Nov. 19,'37†17....
Looks and Bonds.....Apr. 16,'37.19....
Morning Judge (10-16-37)...Sept. 24,'37†18....
Tramp Trouble .....Aug. 6,'37.16....

MARCH OF TIME

No. 8 .....Mar. 19,'37.20....
No. 9 (4-17-37) .....Apr. 16,'37.21....
No. 10 .....May 14,'37.18....
No. 11 .....June 11,'37.18....
No. 12 .....July 9,'37.18....
No. 13 .....Aug. 6,'37.18....

1937-38

No. 1 (9-11-37) .....Sept. 3,'37†17....
No. 2 .....Oct. 1,'37†20....
No. 3 .....Oct. 29,'37†21....
No. 4 .....Nov. 26,'37†20....
No. 5 (1-1-38) .....Dec. 25,'37†18....
No. 6 .....Jan. 21,'38†.....

MICKEY MOUSE

Clock Cleaners, The
(8-28-37) .....Oct. 15,'37†.8....
Donald's Ostrich (1-1-38)...Dec. 10,'37†.9....
Hawaiian Holiday
(9-4-37) .....Sept. 24,'37†.8....
Lonesome Ghosts (12-25-37).Dec. 24,'37†.9....
Old Mill, The.....Nov. 5,'37†.9....
Pluto's Quintuplets .....Nov. 26,'37†.9....

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

NU-ATLAS PRODUCTIONS

Devilled Ham .....Apr. 28,'38†.....
Phoney Boy (12-25-37).....Nov. 19,'37†11....
Rhythm in a Night Court
(9-4-37) .....Sept. 24,'37†.9....
Sweet Shoe (1-1-38).....Jan. 14,'38†11....

PATHE NEWS

Released twice a week

PATHE PARADE

No. 1 (10-16-37) .....Sept.10,'37†13....
No. 2 (12-18-37) .....Nov. 5,'37†11....
No. 3 .....Dec. 31,'37†.....

PATHE REVIEWS

Released once a month

PATHE TOPICS

Released seven times a year

RADIO FLASH COMEDIES

Horse Play (4-3-37).....Mar. 13,'37.18....
Many Unhappy Returns.....Oct. 22,'37†17....
Stupervisor .....Feb. 25,'38†.....

RADIO MUSICAL COMEDIES

Harris in the Spring
(12-25-37) .....Dec. 3,'37†20....
Mississippi Moods
(7-31-37) .....July 23,'37.17....
That Man Samson.....May 28,'37.19....
Twenty Girls and a Band...Apr. 8,'38†.....

SMART SET

Inlawful .....Apr. 30,'37.17....
Rhythm Wranglers .....
(12-25-37) .....Dec. 17,'37†19....

SPECIAL

Day With the Dionne Quintuplets, A (4-24-37)..Mar. 26,'37.18....

SPORTS WITH BILL CORUM

Beach Sports .....June 4,'37..9½..
Big League .....May 7,'37.11....
Foreign Sports .....Apr. 9,'37.10....
Golf Timing (8-21-37).....July 23,'37.11...
Royal Steeds .....July 2,'37.10....
Saratoga Summers
(3-27-37) .....Mar. 12,'37.11....

STRUGGLE TO LIVE

Desert Land .....Apr. 5,'37..9....

SUPERBA COMEDIES

Wife Insurance (8-14-37)...July 9,'37.16....
Wrong Romance, The.....May 14,'37.19....

WORLD ON PARADE

Circus Winter Quarters.....May 14,'37.11....
Florida Cowboy .....June 11,'37..9½..
Jungle Playmate .....July 30,'37..9....
Mt. Vernon .....Mar. 19,'37.10...
Workshops of Old Mexico....July 9,'37.11..

STATE RIGHTS

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

AMERICAN RED CROSS

Behind the Flood Headlines
(5-8-37) .....11....

ASTOR

Carmen (5-29-37) .....9....
Halt! Who Goes There?
(5-29-37) .....9....

JAM HANDY

New Day, A (12-25-37).....12....

ROGERS SPECIAL

Lest We Forget (5-1-37)... .....1 rl..

U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE

I Pledge My Heart (8-7-37) .....11....

20TH CENTURY-FOX

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

ADVENTURES OF THE NEWSREEL CAMERAMAN

Bone Bender Parade, The
(8-14-37) .....Aug. 6,'37.10....
Filming Modern Youth.....Oct. 1,'37†.....
Filming Nature's Wonders..Dec. 3,'37†.....
Filming Nature's Wonders..Dec. 3,'37†.....
Laughing at Fate
(11-27-37) .....Nov. 5,'37†.6½..
Motor Maniacs (9-25-37)....Sept. 3,'37†10....

MAGIC CARPET SERIES

Dude Ranch, The.....Oct. 8,'37†.....
Italian Libya (12-4-37).....Nov. 12,'37†10....
Land of the Maple Leaf,
The .....Dec. 10,'37†.....
Mexican Mural (10-16-37)..Sept. 3,'37†.9½..
Modern Dixie .....
Portraits of Portugal
(8-7-37) .....Aug. 6,'37.10....

UNITED ARTISTS

Title — Rel. Date — Min.

MICKEY MOUSE

109. Worm Turns, The
(1-23-37) .....Apr. 17,'37†.8½..
110. Magician Mickey .....June 17,'37†.8½..

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
111. Mickey's Amateurs (6-19-37)	June	4,'37†.1 rl..
112. Moose Hunters	Aug.	5,'37†.9....
SILLY SYMPHONIES
109. Mother Pluto (11-21-36)	Mar.	6,'37†.8½..
110. More Kittens (1-9-37)	Mar.	27,'37†.8½..
111. Woodland Cafe (6-26-37)	Mar.	15,'37†.1 rl..
112. Little Hiawatha (6-26-37)	May	11,'37†.....
113. Modern Invention (6-26-37)	June	17,'37†.....

UNIVERSAL

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
GOING PLACES with LOWELL THOMAS
No. 35 (4-17-37)	Apr.	12,'37..7....
No. 36 (5-15-37)	May	10,'37..9½..
No. 37 (5-15-37)	June	7,'37..9½..
No. 38 (7-24-37)	July	26,'37.10....
No. 39 (10-23-37)	Oct.	18,'37†.9....
No. 40 (12-4-37)	Nov.	1,'37†.9....
No. 41 (12-11-37)	Nov.	15,'37†.9....
No. 42	Nov.	22,'37†.9....
No. 43	Dec.	6,'37†.9....
No. 44	Jan.	3,'38†.....
MEANY-MINY-MOE CARTOONS
Air Express (10-2-37)	Sept.	20,'37†.6....
Big Race, The (3-13-37)	Mar.	3,'37..7....
Country Store (8-7-37)	July	5,'37..7....
Fireman's Picnic (10-16-37)	Aug.	16,'37..6½..
Lumber Camp (3-20-37)	Mar.	15,'37..7....
Ostrich Feathers (10-2-37)	Sept.	6,'37†.7....
Rest Resort (10-16-37)	Aug.	23,'37..7....
Steel Workers (5-15-37)	Apr.	26,'37..7....
Stevedores, The	May	24,'37..7....
MENTONE MUSICAL COMEDIES
All Aboard (11-6-37)	Dec.	1,'37†17....
Alpine Cabaret (8-14-37)	Aug.	4,'37.10....
Bargain Matinee (3-20-37)	Apr.	14,'37.10....
Cocktail Party, The (5-15-37)	May	12,'37.10....
Hawaiian Capers (9-18-37)	Sept.	8,'37†17....
It's On the Record	Mar.	17,'37.10½..
Oh, Say Can You Hear? (12-18-37)	Dec.	29,'37†15....
Rhapsody In Zoo (12-11-37)	Jan.	26,'38†15½..
Shoes With Rhythm (5-15-37)	June	9,'37.10....
Show for Sale (10-30-37)	Nov.	3,'37†21....
Singing Bandit, The (7-3-37)	July	7,'37.10....
Teddy Bergman's Bar-B-Q (10-16-37)	Oct.	6,'37†19....
OSWALD CARTOONS
Duck Hunt (3-13-37)	Mar.	8,'37..7....
Dumb Cluck (12-11-37)	Dec.	20,'37†.7....
Football Fever (12-4-37)	Nov.	15,'37†.7....
Keeper of the Lions (11-13-37)	Oct.	18,'37†.7....
Lamplighter, The	Jan.	10,'38†.7....
Love Sick (11-6-37)	Oct.	4,'37†.8....
Mechanical Handy Man (10-30-37)	Nov.	8,'37†.7....
Mysterious Jug, The (12-11-37)	Nov.	29,'37†.7....
Playful Pup, The (7-31-37)	July	12,'37..7....
Trailer Thrills (5-15-37)	May	3,'37..7....
Wily Weasel, The	June	7,'37..7....
STRANGER THAN FICTION SERIES
No. 35—Novelty (4-17-37)	Apr.	26,'37..9....
No. 36—Novelty (4-17-37)	May	24,'37..8....
No. 37—Novelty (7-3-37)	June	21,'37..8½..
No. 38—Novelty (5-15-37)	July	19,'37..9....
No. 39—Novelty (7-24-37)	Aug.	16,'37..9....
No. 40—Novelty (9-18-37)	Sept.	6,'37†.9....
No. 41—Novelty	Oct.	4,'37†.9....
No. 42—Novelty	Nov.	1,'37†.9....
No. 43—Novelty (12-4-37)	Nov.	29,'37†.9....
No. 44—Novelty (12-11-37)	Dec.	27,'37†.9....
No. 45—Novelty	Jan.	17,'38†.....
UNIVERSAL SPECIAL
Bombing of the U. S. S. Panay
Breathless Moments		2 rls.
Hollywood Screen Test (8-14-37)	Aug.	30,'37†21....

VITAPHONE

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
BIG TIME VAUDEVILLE REEL
Bring On the Girls Edgar Bergen	Mar.	6,'37.11....
Vitaphone Diversions Smith and Dale	Apr.	3,'37.10....
Nickel Lowdown Charles Kemper	May	1,'37.10....
Vitaphone Funsters (6-12-37) Johnny Burke	May	29,'37.11....
Vaude-Festival Fritz and Jean Hubert	June	26,'37.....
Vaudeville Hits Elaine Arden	July	17,'37.....
Vitaphone Broadwaytes Medley-Dupree	Aug.	21,'37.10....
BROADWAY BREVITIES
Swing for Sale (3-13-37) Hal LeRoy	Feb.	27,'37.22....
Under Southern Stars Fred Lawrence-J. Bryan	Feb.	20,'37.18....
Hotel a la Swing Eddie Foy, Jr.	Mar.	13,'37.20....
Mail and Female Ken Murray	Mar.	27,'37.21....
Play Street (4-10-37) Preisser Sisters	Apr.	3,'37.21....
Romance of Robert Burns (4-10-37) Owen King-Linda Perry	Apr.	10,'37.16....
Lifers of the Party, The Yacht Club Boys	Apr.	17,'37.21....
Joe Palooka in "Taking the Count" Shemp Howard-Robt. Norton	Apr.	24,'37.21....
Movie Mania Dave Apollon	May	8,'37.20....
Musical Operation, A Frank Gaby-Virginia Verrill	May	15,'37.20....
Day at Santa Anita Sybil Jason	May	22,'37.18....
Sound Defects (6-12-37) Rufe Davis	June	5,'37.22....
Joe Palooka in "Thirst Aid" Robt. Norton-Beverly Phalen	June	12,'37.20....
Rhythm Roundup, The Estelle Taylor	June	19,'37.21....
Little Pioneer, The (7-10-37) Sybil Jason	July	3,'37.19....
Newsboy's Nocturne (7-10-37) Lane, Tree & Edwards	July	10,'37.20....
Flowers from the Sky (8-21-37) Josephine Huston	July	24,'37.22....
Cut Out for Love Donald Novis-Dorothy Dare	Aug.	2,'37.....
Du Barry Did All Right Irene Bordoni	Aug.	7,'37.....
Doctor Cupid Ken Murray-Oswald	Sept.	4,'37†.....
Postal Union Georgie Price	Sept.	11,'37†.....
Littlest Diplomat, The (9-11-37) Sybil Jason	Sept.	25,'37†20....
Ups and Downs Hal LeRoy	Oct.	9,'37†.....
Starlets (11-20-37) Fifi D'Orsay-Rufe Davis	Oct.	23,'37†20..
Toot Sweet Joe Palooka in "Calling All Kids"	Nov.	6,'37†... ..
Man Without a Country, The John Litel	Nov.	20,'37†17. ..
Here's Your Hat Cookie Bowers	Nov.	27,'37†.....
One On the House Willie, West, McGinty	Dec.	11,'37†.2 rls.
Wedding Yells Ken Murray-Oswald	Dec.	18,'37†.2 rls.
Script Girl Cross and Dunn	Jan.	1,'38†20....
COLORTOUR ADVENTURE (In Color)
Land of the Midnight Sun (3-13-37)	Jan.	15,'38†.....
Nature the Artist (4-10-37)	Feb.	27,'37.10....
Cradle of Civilization	Mar.	20,'37.10....
Alpine Grandeur	Apr.	17,'37.10....
Gateway to Africa (6-12-37)	May	15,'37.10....
Land of the Magyar (7-10-37)	June	12,'37.10....
Crossing the Sahara	July	3,'37.....
Long Bright Land (9-11-37)	Aug.	14,'37.....
It's Work	Sept.	25,'37†10....
Mysterious Ceylon	Oct.	23,'37†.....
Land of the Kangaroo (11-20-37)	Nov.	20,'37†.....
India's Millions	Dec.	18,'37†10....
FLOYD GIBBONS' "YOUR TRUE ADVENTURE"
Attic of Terror (9-11-37)	Jan.	8,'38†.....
Playing with Danger (11-20-37)	Sept.	18,'37†12....
Danger—High Voltage	Oct.	30,'37†13....
Alibi Mark	Dec.	4,'37† 1 rl..
Bolted Door, The	Dec.	25,'37†.1 rl..
LOONEY TUNES	Jan.	22,'38†.....
No. 33—Porky's Romance	Apr.	17,'37..8....
No. 34—Porky's Duck Hunt	Apr.	17,'37..8....
No. 35—Porky and Gabby (6-12-37)	May	15,'37..8....
No. 36—Porky's Building	June	19,'37..8....
No. 37—Porky's Super Service (7-10-37)	July	3,'37..8....
No. 38—Porky's Bad Time Story	July	24,'37..7....
No. 39—Porky's Railroad (8-14-37)	Aug.	7,'37..7....
No. 40—Get Rich Porky	Aug.	28,'37.....
No. 41—Porky's Garden	Sept.	11,'37.....
No. 42—Rover's Rival	Oct.	9,'37†.....
No. 43—The Case of the Stuttering Pig	Oct.	30,'37†.....
No. 44—Porky's Double Trouble (11-20-37)	Nov.	13,'37†.7....
No. 45—Porky's Hero Agency	Dec.	4,'37†.7....
No. 46—Porky's Poppa	Jan.	15,'38†.....
MELODY MASTERS
Cab Calloway and Orch. (3-13-37)	Feb.	20,'37.10....
Peter Van Steden and Orch.	Mar.	6,'37.10....
Jacques Fray and Orch. (4-10-37)	Mar.	27,'37.10....
Jam Session, The	Apr.	17,'37.10....
Clyde McCoy and Orch. Rimac Orchestra, The	May	8,'37.10....
Jack Denny and Orch.	May	29,'37.10....
Eliseo Grenet and Orch. (6-19-37)	June	19,'37.10....
Lennie Hayton and Orch. (7-10-37)	July	10,'37.10....
David Mendoza and Orch. (8-21-37)	July	31,'37.10....
Russ Morgan and Orch.	Sept.	11,'37†.....
Milt Britton and Orch.	Oct.	2,'37†.....
Mal Hallett and Orch.	Oct.	23,'37†.....
Arnold Johnson and Orch. (9-11-37)	Nov.	13,'37†10....
Jan Rubini and Orch.	Dec.	4,'37†.1 rl..
Henry King and Orch.	Dec.	25,'37†.1 rl..
Leon Navara and Orch.	Jan.	15,'38†.....
MERRIE MELODIES (In Color)
No. 32—I Only Have Eyes For You (3-6-37)	Mar.	6,'37..8....
No. 33—The Fella with the Fiddle (4-10-37)	Mar.	27,'37..8....
No. 34—She Was an Acrobat's Daughter	Apr.	10,'37..8....
No. 35—Ain't We Got Fun	May	1,'37..8....
No. 36—Clean Pastures	May	22,'37.....
No. 37—Uncle Tom's Bungalow	June	5,'37.....
No. 38—Streamlined Greta Green (6-12-37)	June	19,'37..8....
No. 39—Sweet Sioux (7-10-37)	June	26,'37..8....
No. 40—Egghead Rides Again	July	17,'37..8....
No. 41—Plenty of Money and You	July	31,'37..7....
No. 42—Sunbonnet Blue	Aug.	21,'37.....
No. 43—Speaking of the Weather (8-21-37)	Sept.	4,'37..7....
No. 44—Dog Daze	Sept.	18,'37.....
No. 45—I Wanna Be A Sailor	Sept.	25,'37†.....
No. 46—The Lyin' Mouse	Oct.	16,'37†.....
No. 47—Little Red Walking Hood	Nov.	6,'37†.....
No. 48—Woods Are Full of Cuckoos	Dec.	4,'37†.1 rl..
No. 49—September In the Rain	Dec.	18,'37†.1 rl..
No. 50—Daffy Duck and Egghead	Jan.	1,'38†.....
PICTORIAL REVIEWS
No. 7—Phonograph Records—Lipsticks (4-10-37)	Mar.	20,'37.11....
No. 8—Coiffeurs—Shoes	Apr.	10,'37.10....
No. 9—Hats—Bathing Suits	May	11,'37.10....
No. 10—Dancing-Leather (6-5-37)	May	22,'37.10....
No. 11—Milk—Rugs	June	19,'37.10....
No. 12—Pianos—Art (8-14-37)	July	17,'37.10....
No. 13—Books—Furs	Aug.	28,'37.....
(NEW SERIES)
No. 1—Racing—Wrestling—Cheese (9-11-37)	Sept.	18,'37.10....
No. 2—Mauch Twins—Table Tennis	Oct.	16,'37†.....
No. 3—Dogs—Hollywood Rides (11-13-37)	Nov.	13,'37†10....
No. 4—Boxers—Dolls	Dec.	11,'37†.....
No. 5—Ice Cream—Jockeys	Jan.	8,'38†.....
VITAPHONE NOVELTIES
Medium Well Done Hardeen	Mar.	6,'37.10....
Ghost to Ghost Hookup, A Radio Ramblers	Apr.	3,'37.11....
Home Run on the Keys (4-3-37) Babe Ruth	Apr.	24,'37..9....
Check Your Cash Louis Zingone	May	22,'37.10....
Double Talk (6-5-37) Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy"	June	26,'37.10....
Palm Beach Knights Charles Ahearn	July	31,'37.....
Lyin' Tamer, The (7-11-36) George Jessel	Aug.	28,'37.10....
All American Drawback (11-20-37) Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy"	Nov.	6,'37†11....
VITAPHONE VARIETIES
Neckin' Party, A (9-11-37) Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy"	Sept.	4,'37†11....
Puppet Love (9-11-37) Salici's Puppets	Oct.	2,'37†10....
Roping 'Em Alive	Nov.	6,'37†.....
Vitaphone Frolics (11-20-37) Jack & Loretta Clemens	Dec.	4,'37†10....
Unreal Newsreel	Jan.	8,'38†.....

WM. STEINER

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Eagle's Vengeance, The	July	29,'37†20....

WORLD

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Battling Bettas	July	8,'37†10....
Men of Ships	Sept.	10,'37†.9....
Paper Hanger, The	Dec.	25,'37†.....
(Cartoon)
Story of the Rose, A (1-16-37)		10....

SERIALS

12 Episodes Each Unless Otherwise Specified

COLUMBIA

Jungle Menace (9-4-37) Frank Buck-C. Henry (15 episodes)	Sept.	1,'37†20.... (each)
Mysterious Pilot, The (12-25-37) Capt. Frank Hawks (15 episodes)	Dec.	9,'37†-5.... (each)

REPUBLIC

Lone Ranger, The 7401 Lee Powell-Herman Brix (15 episodes)	Feb.	12,'38†.....
Painted Stallion, The, 6421 Ray Corrigan-Hoot Gibson	June	5,'37†.....
S. O. S. Coast Guard 6441 Ralph Byrd-Maxine Doyle	Aug.	28,'37†.....
Zorro Rides Again 6461 John Carroll-Helen Christian	Nov.	20,'37†.....

UNIVERSAL

Flash Gordon's Trip to Mars Larry Crabbe-Jean Rogers
Radio Patrol (9-18-37) Grant Withers-Cath. Hughes (Exploitation: Dec. 25,'37, p. 57.)	Oct.	4,'37†.2 rls. (each)
Secret Agent X9 Scott Kolk-Jean Rogers	Apr.	12,'37..2 rls. (each)
Tim Tyler's Luck (11-27-37) Frankie Thomas, Jr.,-Frances Robinson	Dec.	27,'37†.2 rls.
Wild West Days (6-26-37) Johnny Mack Brown (13 episodes)	July	5,'37†.2 rls. (each)

VICTORY

Blake of Scotland Yard Ralph Byrd-Herbert Rawlinson (15 episodes—also feature version)	Apr.	15,'37.....

J C JENKINS—HIS COLYUM

Neligh, Nebraska

Dear Herald:

"Thin Ice." Say, boys, if you haven't already played this one (and we suppose the most of you have) we would urge you all to go and get it before the gong rings for dinner. If we know anything about pictures, and sometimes we are foolish enough to think we do, our judgment is that "Thin Ice" will make your patrons glad they left their radios to go and see it.

We used to be pretty fair on skates ourself, but Sonja Henie's skating act makes our performance seem like a flat tire. Not only that, but she looks a whole lot like a girl who told us once to "go and soak your head." The love scenes between her and Tyrone Power will take you back to the "horse and buggy days," they are so simple and perfect.

Outside of the skating scenes, the part that gave us the biggest kick was Joan Davis as the orchestra director. By the long-horned-spoons, if we ever go to Hollywood we are going to go and see Joan, but we are going to take Charles Ruggles along as our chaperone, for we would certainly need one, and Charlie ought to be a good one.

Better get "Thin Ice" and play it. It's a Twentieth Century-Fox production by Darryl F. Zanuck, and Darryl's father used to play baritone in a band with us long before Darryl was born, and he was a good one, too.

▽

We note by the press that the special session of Congress that was called to pass legislation to benefit the country, has performed its duty well by passing three measures.

One measure was to appropriate $225,000 to pay their salaries and traveling expenses, one to appropriate $12,500 to pay the pages' salaries and one to loan some government paintings to a private institution. This brings up the query in our mind as to how this country could struggle along without a Congress. The New Deal begins to look like something the cat drug in.

▽

The League of Nations was organized for the ostensible purpose of preventing war. It has been in session for months and during that time Italy has murdered the Ethiopians and took some of their territory; the Spaniards have been killing one another by the thousands and Japan has been murdering Chinese men, women and children without a declaration of war and without an excuse, and the League of Nations finished up the last bottle of champagne and adjourned and went home for the holidays. The League wanted us to join 'em but our boys probably preferred Old Crow to champagne. There is nothing like our Congress or the League of Nations for doing things. We beg your pardon Gertie for laughing a little, that's just another evidence of our weakness.

▽

We often wonder just where we are going. When we came here every tribe of Indians had its "Medicine Man" who went through a lot of incantations and monkey shines to relieve the ailing. Today every community has from one to three "Medicine Men" who will dope you on some kind of a nostrum and tell you to try it for a couple of days "and if that won't work I will come back and we will try something else." And now the radio has gone into the medical profession and the brass-color fraternity has developed a ravenous appetite for "The Big Apple." Congress wanted to reduce appropriations for everything except for the road program, for there's where the votes come from. Old Lady Smith's cat has had another batch of kittens and we are expecting the grasshoppers to be with us again next year. HELP, HELP!

▽

The paper today carries a picture of Opie Ried on his 85th birthday. Mr. Ried has written some very interesting books, and if you have never read "The Jucklins," "The Kentucky Colonel," "Emmet Bonlore" and others of his works you better get them. You will find them very interesting reading.

▽

As Martha Raye says, "Oh, Boy," you ought to see the Christmas greetings we are receiving. We are sorry that we are unable to extend a personal greeting to each, but if we were to try and answer all of them we'd have to engage two stenographers who were not adverse to working overtime.

Greetings come from Clint and Bessie Bobbins of the Hot Springs theatre, at Hot Springs, S. D.; John and Myra Caylor of Badelia, Minnesota; Mr. and Mrs. Lou Feldman of the Pipestone theatre at Pipestone, Minnesota; the Bradleys and Sherm and May Fitch of Sioux Falls, S. D.; E. O. Ellsworth of the Metropolitan theatre at Iowa Falls, Iowa. E. O. says, "keep up the good work, Col. I enjoy your colyum." Note: As we recall it, E. O. used to be—and maybe still is—a member of the Iowa legislature, and our guess is that Iowa never had a better one. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson of the Palm theatre at Baiard, Nebraska; Shine Mason of the McAllen theatres at McAllen, Texas (Shine is the guy who likes to go over to Reinosa, Mexico and see the bull fights); "Eagle Eye" Joe of Chicago; Professor Scott and wife of Spokane, Washington (the professor, you may remember, directed the combined bands of four hundred pieces at the Elks convention at Los Angeles); Louise Fazenda of Van Neys, California. Note: Say, Miss Fazenda, look up Harry Torpin of Van Neys and get acquainted with him. He's an uncle of Darryl F. Zanuck.

Then Gertrude Merriam of the HERALD office in New York sends us greetings and if we were down in New York today we'd get Mr. and Mrs. Rovelstad, Mr. and Mrs. Denny Shea (if there is a Mrs. Shea) and Gertrude to go to a cafe and say to the waiter, "Go bring on that turkey." And many more we can't mention here, and about all we can do is thank you all for your remembrances, and to express the hope that you all had a very merry Christmas, and also the hope of the HERALD, as well as ourself, that your New Year will be full of happiness and prosperity.

▽

This is written on Christmas day, the day when all take a vacation, so why shouldn't we? Tom and Jerry are coming up to see us pretty soon (maybe) and we are going to stop and try and show the boys the proper hospitality.

COLONEL J. C. JENKINS
The HERALD's Vagabond Colyumnist

The HERALD covers the FIELD like an April SHOWER.

IN THE NEWSREELS

MOVIETONE NEWS—No. 32, Vol. 20.—Bombing of the American gunboat Panay in Yangtze river by Japanese and the fall of Nanking.

MOVIETONE NEWS—No. 33, Vol. 20.—President Roosevelt convenes Congress again....New films from the fronts of war-torn China....1,000 saved from "President Hoover" on rocks....Lew Lehr....Sports.

NEWS OF THE DAY—No. 230, Vol. 9.—The Bombing of the U. S. S. Panay.

NEWS OF THE DAY—No. 231, Vol. 9.—Roosevelt speaks to Congress....1938 arrives in blaze of glory ....Floods sweep the northwest....Jai-Alai season opens in Florida....Slalom stars race down mountain....Football.

PARAMOUNT NEWS—No. 43.—The Incident of the Panay and the capture of Nanking.

PARAMOUNT NEWS—No. 44.—Snowbirds frolic.... President Roosevelt asks action....Disaster at sea.... 1938 gets gay start....Gridiron bowl games.

PATHE NEWS—No. 47, Vol. 9.—Jackson demands curb of trusts....Senator Van Nuys replies....500 saved from stranded liner....Palm Beach dresses for season....Eternal city flooded by Tiber....Champion gun dog....Hockey.

PATHE NEWS—No. 48, Vol. 9.—Roosevelt addresses Congress....Collegians ski at Lake Placid....Model planes zoom over Miami....22 States start job insurance....Jai-Alai joins sports parade....New Year on Great White Way....Pasadena's pageant of beauty.

UNIVERSAL NEWSPAPER NEWSREEL—No. 628, Vol. 9.—Time and tide greet 1938....Bonneville Dam is finished....Powder halts car skidding....Wrestling rivals double up....Ski-golfers tee off crater....Police fingerprint Miami workers....New de-icing process for aeroplanes....Pet deer sniffs at hunters....Rail line going electric....“Loop tennis.”

UNIVERSAL NEWSPAPER NEWSREEL—No. 629, Vol. 9.—Congress hears Roosevelt....Floods, storms lash west coast....California Captures Bowl classic ....Jai-Alai in Miami....Record throngs hail 1938.... 1,500,000 see Tournament of Roses....Army demonstrates new machine gun carrier.

Appreciation Course Planned

M. A. Sorsoleil, chairman of the committee on Motion Pictures and Literature of the Community Welfare Council of Ontario, will confer with a group of teachers on teaching "photoplay appreciation" in Ontario schools.

Building Kentucky House

The Malco interests and Paramount are building a new 1,000-seat theatre in Princeton, Ky., according to announcement at Memphis, Tenn., by M. A. Lightman. The present Malco theatre in Princeton, Mr. Lightman said, would continue to operate for "B" pictures.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

the great national medium for showmen

Ten cents per word, money-order or check with copy. Count initials, box number and address. Minimum insertion, $1. Four insertions for the price of three. Contract rates on application. No borders or cuts. Forms close Mondays at 5 P.M. Publisher reserves the right to reject any copy. Film and trailer service advertising not accepted. Classified advertising not subject to agency commission. Address correspondence, copy and checks to MOTION PICTURE HERALD, Classified Dept., Rockefeller Center, New York City.

USED EQUIPMENT

TAKE YOUR CHOICE OF 17,000 VENEER AND upholstered chairs, as low as 75c each. Many originally from finest theatres. Irwin, Ideal, Stream-Ease, American, other famous makes, ready for immediate delivery. Tell us what you need. S. O. S., 636-AB Eleventh Avenue, New York.

UNUSUAL BARGAINS IN USED OPERA chairs, sound equipment, motion picture machines, screens, spotlights, stereopticons, etc. Projection machines repaired. Catalog H free. MOVIE SUPPLY COMPANY, Ltd., 844 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

WHILE THEY LAST. USED 5-7½ and 10 KW Martin rotary converters, chairs, lamps. Act quickly. JOE GOLDBERG, INC., 823 So. Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

2500 USED SPRING CUSHIONED THEATRE seats for sale; in good condition. HARrison 3035, 1014 So. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

JUST A FEW LOTS LEFT. WOULD PAY YOU to write us for information about these used chairs also our new chairs. ALLIED SEATING CO. INC., 358 W. 44th St., New York.

GENERAL EQUIPMENT

100 PAGES OF REAL SAVINGS IN OUR BIG complete theatre equipment catalog. Shows new and reconditioned projectors, lamphouses, sound systems, screens, speakers, rectifiers, and everything else for your theatre at industry's lowest prices. New class A metal tube amplifiers, from $39.50. Write today. S. O. S., 636-AB Eleventh Avenue, New York.

SIMPLEX MECHANISM, EXCELLENT CONDITION, $125.00. You can now afford a spare mechanism for so little money; Crown twin call, a two way loud speaking system for only $23.95. CROWN, 614 9th Ave., New York City.

WE BUY — SELL — EXCHANGE — MINIATURE and movie cameras. CAMERA-MART, 110 West 40th Street, New York.

HELP WANTED

MANAGER WANTED: MODERN HOUSE, POPulation 8,000, Pennsylvania. Good opportunity for business getter. Salary-commission. Write complete details. Reference required. BOX 962, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

NEW EQUIPMENT

CHECK WITH US FOR EVERYTHING YOU need: 50 amp. rectifiers (Forest made) brand new for Suprex, $74.75; voco-chrome sound screens, full size, 22½c sq. ft.; super photocells, type 71A guaranteed 3 years, $4.95; exciter lamps, 39c. We save you money on everything. S. O. S., 636-AB Eleventh Avenue, New York.

NEW MODEL HIGH FIDELITY THEATRE amplifiers with all metal tubes, from $35.75; film splicers, $4.49; fire extinguishers complete with liquid, $2.99; genuine Bausch & Lomb high fidelity optical systems, regularly $25.00, special $11.95; piston oilers complete with bracket, $1.19. Write for special prices on your needs. CONSOLIDATED THEATRE SUPPLY CORP., 1600-M Broadway, New York.

BOOKS

SEE IT AND YOU WON'T DO WITHOUT IT. It's Richardson's 5th edition, vol. 3, with famous, "Question and Answer" index. Not the latest but great value for only $1.95. Order from S. O. S., 636-AB Eleventh Avenue, New York.

RICHARDSON'S BLUEBOOK OF PROJECTION— Revised Sixth edition. The revised edition includes 736 pages of up-to-the-minute text, charts and data with detailed description of assembly, wiring and functioning of all modern sound and projection apparatus. It is a practical "trouble shooter," cross indexed for immediate reference in any projection room emergency. ORDER TODAY! $6.25 postpaid. QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP, Rockefeller Center, New York.

PRINTING SERVICE

A NEW IDEA IN BOX OFFICE STIMULANTS. No royalties. Write us for samples. KNOX PRINTING CO., Hoopeston, Ill.

BOOKKEEPING SYSTEMS

THEATRE ACCOUNTING BY WILLIAM F. Morris, is still the best bookkeeping system for theatres. It not only guides you in making the proper entries, but provides sufficient blank pages for a complete record of your operations for each day of the year. Notable for its simplicity. Order now— $4 postage prepaid. QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP, Rockefeller Center, New York.

POSITIONS WANTED

PROJECTIONIST — 7 YEARS' EXPERIENCE. Any machine. Go anywhere. SHEPHERD, 3244 No. Crawford, Chicago.

MANAGER, BOOKER, PROMOTION, CIRCUIT or independent. Experienced, go anywhere, best references. Salary or percentage. BOX 957, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

MANAGER, YOUNG, SIX YEARS' EXPERIENCE buying, booking and operation, desires permanent connection, college education, excellent personality and references. BOX 956, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

YOUNG MANAGER, BOOKER, PROJECTIONIST of proven ability. Sober, progressive. West preferred. BOX 961, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

THEATRE MANAGER WITH ALL QUALIFICAtions now engaged wants to make a change. Can handle any size theatre. Will go any place. Reference. Salary reasonable. MANAGER, 7610 Normal Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

THEATRES

WANTED, SMALL TOWN THEATRE, NEW England or New York. BOX 945, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

WILL BUY SMALL TOWN THEATRE. BOX 960, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

TRANSLATION SERVICE

WILL MAKE FRENCH AND SPANISH TRANSlation of advertising literature at nominal cost. Can supply complete advertising layout and printing facilities also. Rates quoted upon request if sample submitted. BOX 916A, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

TRAINING SCHOOL

THEATRE EMPLOYEES: ADVANCE TO BETter theatre positions. Free booklet shows you how. THEATRE INSTITUTE, 315 Washington St., Elmira, N. Y.

PRESS OF
C. J. O'BRIEN, INC.
NEW YORK

Mary Boland

IN

MAMA RUNS WILD

with ERNEST TRUEX

WILLIAM HENRY • LYNN ROBERTS

•

Directed by RALPH STAUB

•

Screen play by Gordon Kahn, Hal Yates. Original story by Gordon Kahn.

•

Associate Producer RALPH STAUB

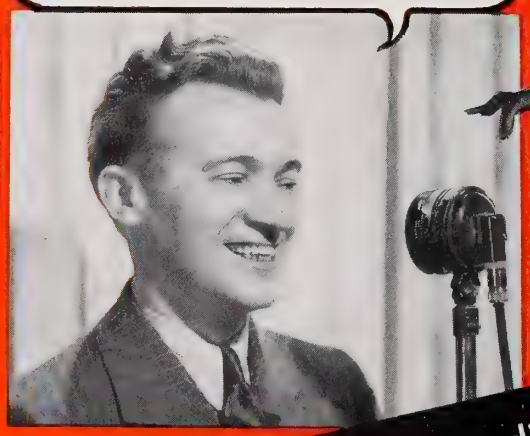
•

HIT AFTER HIT FROM

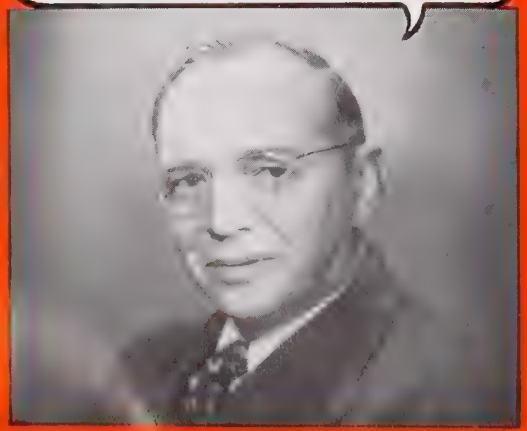
Republic

TAKE IT FROM US . . . it's the BEST of the WESTS!

"'Every Day's A Holiday' is undoubtedly the Best from West."
—George McCall, CBS Network Commentator



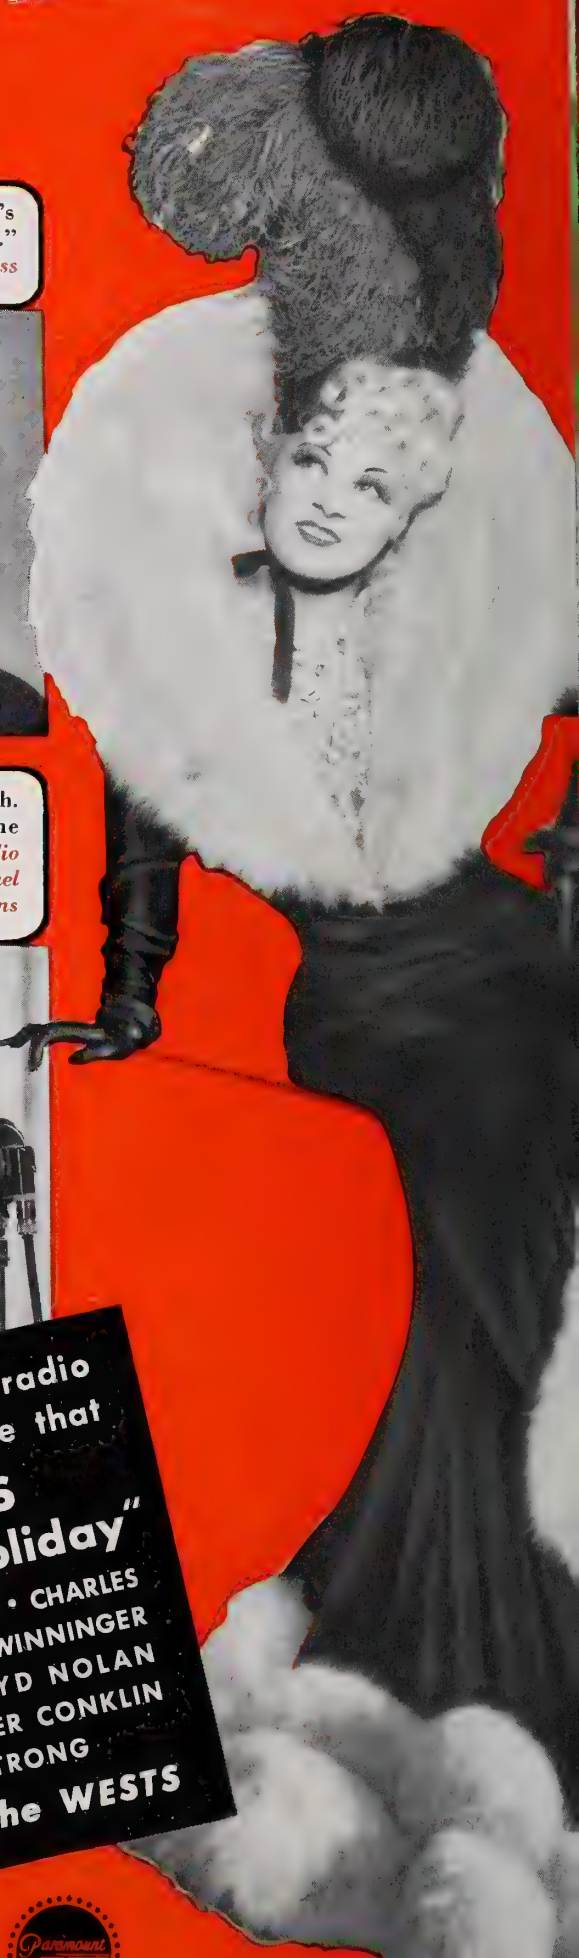
"A sockdollager of a movie. To our mind, it's the best one that Miss West has ever made."
—Frederick C. Othman, United Press



"'Every Day's A Holiday' is a better picture than 'She Done Him Wrong'—and clean. Which should make it a hit all around."
—Sheilah Graham, North American Newspaper Alliance

"Bang-up entertainment from start to finish. Mae West's Best. It's the Pick of the Pictures." —Warren Stokes, Hearst Radio Commentator, Western Editor Jay Emanuel Publications

"A sure-fire winner. Miss West surpassess anything that she has yet accomplished."
—Edwin Schallert, Los Angeles Times



West coast critics and radio commentators all agree that

MAE WEST'S "Every Day's A Holiday" featuring EDMUND LOWE • CHARLES BUTTERWORTH • CHARLES WINNINGER WALTER CATLETT • LLOYD NOLAN HERMAN BING • CHESTER CONKLIN and LOUIS ARMSTRONG

is the BEST of the WESTS

Paramount Pictures

MOTION PICTURE
HERALD

Better Theatres

The High-Intensity Arc In the Smaller Theatre

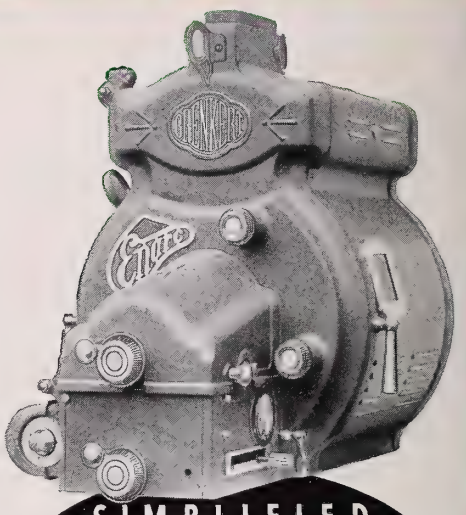
Small Town Operation

In Beaver Dam, Wis., "average town"
In Springer, N. Mex., hamlet of 800

Making Your Auditorium Seating an Investment

Two Modern Theatres

The new Varsity in Milwaukee
The new Beverly in University City, Mo.



Departments
of news and counsel:
EQUIPMENT AND OPERATION
MODERN PROJECTION
PLANNING THE THEATRE

ANUARY 8, 1938
Two Sections — Section 2

QUALITY PROJECTION

AND THE 6 FACTORS OF VALUE

SIMPLIFIED High Intensity PROJECTION

High quality projection means a good show—the kind of show the public wants—the kind of show that fills the seats.

Simplified High Intensity—powerful white screen illumination—brings you this modern theatre essential.

BRENKERT ENARC

gives you Simplified High Intensity projection, plus these six fundamentals of projection lamp value—

1. Economy in operation
2. Correct engineering in every detail
3. Interchangeable parts throughout
4. Complete parts catalog service
5. Prompt, efficient factory service
6. Universal, dependable dealer service

These are the factors that mean unparalleled performance and satisfaction—the better show.

For these reasons, theatres of all sizes endorse and use Brenkert Projection lamps—and Brenkert installations are increasing faster than those of any other make lamp.

Brenkert operates the largest plant in the industry devoted to Arc Lamp manufacture for motion picture theatres — the only manufacturer producing all types of projection lamps for every theatre requirement and for correct operation with all standard makes of projectors.

Eventual costs of Brenkert ownership are less. So begin NOW—to have that quality, that complete satisfaction, economy and projection efficiency, that Brenkert gives you.

Ask the dependable and capable Brenkert dealer to inform you fully.

BRENKERT LIGHT PROJECTION CO.

ENGINEERS AND MANUFACTURERS

DETROIT, MICHIGAN, U. S. A.

New York's CAPITOL THEATRE reseats after 19 years with "American"

NINETEEN years ago, that master-showman, Major Edward Bowes, was manager of the Capitol Theatre and signed the original contract for American Seating Company chairs. Recently, this great theatre has been completely modernized. And the work included re-seating with 4,426 new American Seating Company chairs in a design harmonizing with the interior architecture of the house.

Why American? Because good showmanship demands beauty and style. Because intelligent management recognizes the tremendous public appeal of seats that offer complete comfort and relaxation; the economy of seats that stand up under the hardest service with minimum maintenance.

From Metropolis to Midville, any theatre can offer its patrons the last word in smart styling and in comfort by re-seating with American Seating Company chairs. Priced to suit your requirements.

Rows upon rows of luxuriously comfortable theatre chairs recently installed in the Capitol Theatre, New York City

American Seating Company

GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN

Pioneers and pacemakers in comfortable seating for theatres, auditoriums, lodges, schools, churches, stadia and buses

Branch Offices and Distributors in Principal Cities

A Newsreel Theatre Opens on Broadway

Passersby make the opening a "gala" affair.

Section of the spacious lounge in basement level.

■ Originally planned as a two-a-day house, B. S. Moss's second Broadway theatre of 1937 (the first was the Criterion) opened as a Trans-Lux theatre, showing newsreels and shorts. Seating 600, it is spacious and colorfully appointed. The auditorium has walls of tinted acoustic plaster embellished with plaster murals. The ceiling is also tinted acoustic plaster, in soft ivory and tan with hard plaster flutings. Chairs, by American, are covered in rust mohair. Rear walls are finished in damask over rock wool. In the basement is a large lounge with walls finished in Tekko paper. Projection equipment includes Simplex projection. Peerless Magnarc lamps, and RCA sound. The theatre is air-conditioned.

CONSTRUCTION • OPERATION

Better Theatres

MAINTENANCE • EQUIPMENT

VOLUME 130 JANUARY 8, 1938 NUMBER 2

Two-Year Agreements Unionize Sound Service

EXTENSION of union jurisdiction to servicing of equipment in theatres employing projectionist members of the IATSE & MPMO, just effected in agreements with leading servicing organizations, gives the IA its most significant victory in its recent campaign to unionize all but the executives among theatre attendants and technicians. The agreements covering sound servicing are for a period of two years, beginning January 1.

Engineers now engaged in sound servicing will be expected to apply for membership in IA locals, special provision having been made for this class of membership, only certain limitations upon territories in which sound service men may take care of equipment in unionized theatres. The IA stipulates, however, that they must have in their possession special travelling contracts embodying terms and conditions governing their duties in jurisdictions outside that of the locals in which they hold membership.

Dues and initiation fees for sound service members of established locals will be the same as those governing the present membership of those locals, it is pointed out.

The contracts signed with the service companies place the wage minimum for field men at $80 a week, and for special inspectors at $110.

Theatre Permits Still Taboo in Minneapolis

FURTHER ATTEMPTS to induce the city council of Minneapolis to relax its restrictions upon further construction of theatres have met with failure, and theatre operators there are confident that the council will maintain this attitude until very substantial changes appear either in the city's theatre plant of 62 properties, or in the population.

H. L. Griffith, a leading business man and owner of former residential property on Hennepin Avenue, principal artery to the downtown section, has been making repeated efforts to obtain a theatre building permit, threatening to go to the courts, but to no avail. The street on which he seeks to build has gradually been filling with business properties, and for a space of 20 blocks there are no theatres on it.

The Minnesota Amusement Company, operator of 12 theatres, and the independent theatre organization appear to be collaborating in opposition to further theatre expansion.

The most recent theatre building has been in the suburban districts, two houses having gone up almost across the street from the western city limits. There is a report of another new house which will be just outside the corporate limits.

Almost all theatre construction work has been confined to remodeling which, however, in several cases, has amounted almost to new structures. In some of this work additional seating has been incidentally developed.

The city's 62 theatres have an aggregate capacity of approximately 53,000 persons, or one seat for about every 10 citizens. About 7,000 seats are in houses now dark.

Several aldermen have said there will be no more theatre permits granted until Minneapolis has acquired a population of 600,000, unless some existing houses are abandoned.

Remodeling General Among N.Y. Circuits

PRACTICALLY ALL of the larger independent theatre circuits in the New York metropolitan area were highly active during 1937 in remodeling their existing properties, while several added extensively to their holdings by adding newly constructed houses.

The Brandt circuit acquired five outlying theatres built at a total cost of $760,000. Three of these were in New York proper, each costing $150,000, while one, also costing $150,000, was built in Jackson Heights, Long Island, and another, costing $160,000 was added in New Rochelle.

Remodeling was undertaken by the Brandt circuit in 1937 at a total cost of $250,000, about half of which went for the installation of air-conditioning equipment in seven theatres, including the Globe on Broadway. Other Brandt theatres in the Broadway sector which have been or are being remodeled are the Oriental and Apollo, both recently taken over.

Cocalis Enterprises opened the Crest theatre in New York a year ago, and the Fowler in Kingsburg, N. J., in July. This circuit has under construction a 700-seat house in Hudson, N. Y., and an 800-seat theatre in Long Branch, N. J. The cost of remodeling Cocalis properties during the year is placed at $200,000.

The Interboro circuit, operating 30 theatres in outlying sections, built three theatres—the Hobart in Woodside, L. I., the Trent in New Rochelle, and the Dover on the Boston Post Road—and spent $150,000 during the year in remodeling existing holdings.

Other circuits report remodeling in 1937 as follows:

Belle Theatres: Completely remodeled the Harlem-Grand at a cost of $45,000.

Century circuit: Remodeled the Rialto in Brooklyn at a cost of $75,000.

Harris Theatrical Enterprises: Remodeled the Delmar theatre, costing $40,000.

Skouras Theatres: Spent about $250,000 in remodeling a third of its 54 houses.

• • •

FEATURES OF THIS ISSUE

	Page
New Trans-Lux Theatre	4
Typical Theatre in Average Town	6
Varsity Theatre, Milwaukee	8
Operating in a Town of 800	12
Beverly Theatre, University City, Mo.	14
About People of the Theatre	16
Seating Economy and Comfort By J. T. Knight, Jr.	19
Maintenance Tabs	20
L. I. and H. I. Characteristics By E. R. Geib	30
Remodeling an Obsolete Theatre	42
Catalog Bureau	44

Better Theatres is published by the Quigley Publishing Company, Inc., Rockefeller Center, New York, every fourth week as Section Two of Motion Picture Herald. Martin Quigley, publisher and editor-in-chief. George Schutz, editor. Colvin Brown, general manager. Ray Gallo, advertising manager. C. B. O'Neill, Western advertising manager, 624 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago. London Bureau: No. 4, Golden Square, W1. Consultants: J. T. Knight, Jr., physical operation: Ben Schlanger, architectural form.

Construction Active in Two Canadian Sections

IN TWO WIDELY separated sections of Canada, theatre construction has taken on boom-like qualities. In Vancouver, suburban building became decidedly active during the latter part of the year, and four houses are reported to be in various stages of construction. All of them are small with construction costs ranging between $20,000 and $40,000.

Ten new theatres were opened in Ontario during the last three months of the year, in addition to five remodeled properties, adding 9,000 seats.

A Typical

● Observing the business of merchandising motion pictures in a little city cited as about an average small town. Here we visit it, and its Odeon theatre, and its Ken Butterfield

WITHIN THE limits of its survey, the federal government has provided an opportunity to look in, as it were, upon motion picture exhibition in an average small city.

A busy little city of 10,000 inhabitants, Beaver Dam, Wis., has been cited by the United States Department of Agriculture, following studies of 19 similar small cities,

BEAVER DAM, WISCONSIN

Of small communities recently analyzed by the United States Department of Agriculture, under Dr. Louise Stanley of the Bureau of Home Economics, Beaver Dam, Wis., ranked neither high nor very low among cities of its class—that is, small towns having a certain number of industrial enterprises, but essentially rural in character. The average income among 453 families studied (in 1935-36) was $1,309 per year.

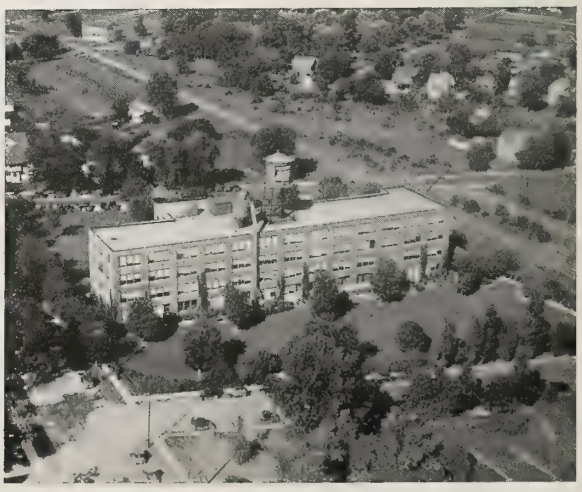
"Notable in Beaver Dam," states the department's report, "was the large proportion of families supported by a single earner. Only 10% of the families had more than one earner. In only one other city, Boone, Ia., did the family pattern stick so close to the traditional American idea of father making the money for the family."

In Beaver Dam, home-owning families outnumber wage-earning families, according to the study. The city has a population of 10,000.

The average Beaver Dam family numbers 3.6 persons—and the biggest families are either in the highest income brackets, or on relief!

It was found that 11% of Beaver Dam families had been on relief at some time during the year studied. Of those who had never been on relief, 69% received an income of less than $1,500 a year.

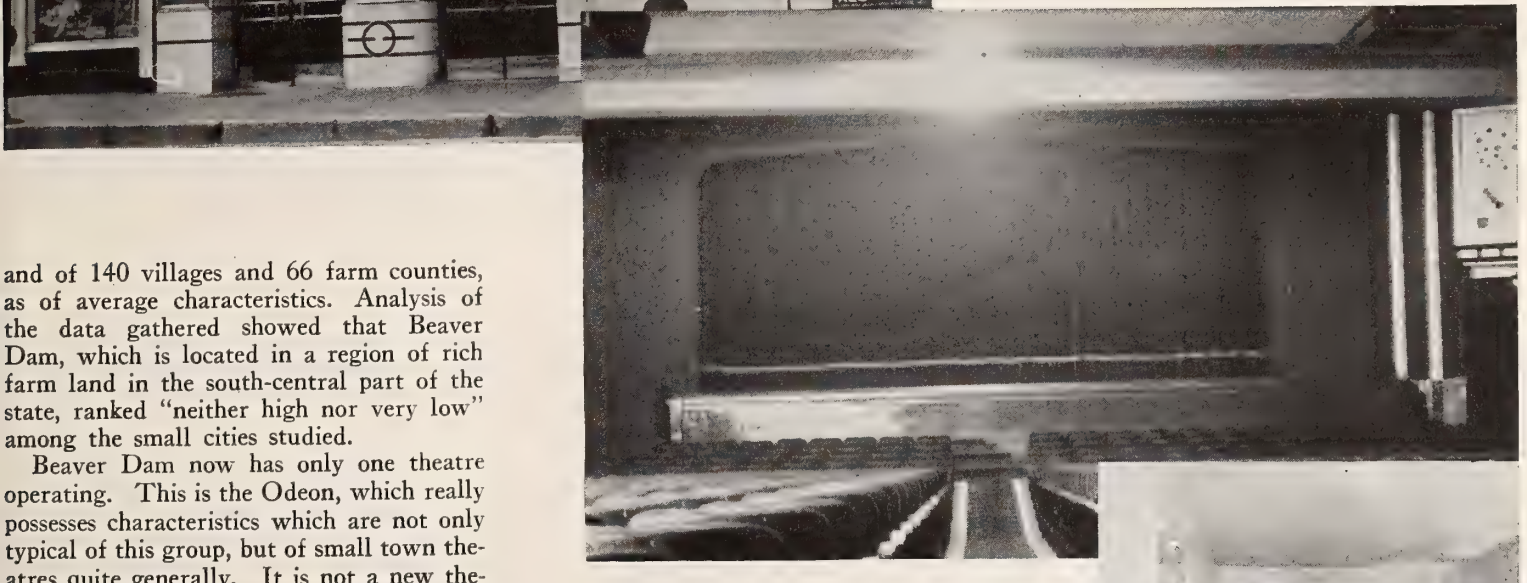
The wage earners' families outnumbered those of business and professional workers by a three-to-one ratio. The average income of the wage earning families was found to be $1,219 a year; of business and professional class families, $1,952; and of families in which the principal bread-winner did clerical work, $1,747.



Nearly every family has an automobile.

Looking down Main Street, trading center for a rich farming area.

A representative street, expressive of the people who live on it.



A shoe factory—industry in a rural setting.

Theatre in an Average Town

The Odeon's manager, Ken Butterfield, in his office.

Views of the front, auditorium and lounge of Beaver Dam's Odeon theatre.

and of 140 villages and 66 farm counties, as of average characteristics. Analysis of the data gathered showed that Beaver Dam, which is located in a region of rich farm land in the south-central part of the state, ranked "neither high nor very low" among the small cities studied.

Beaver Dam now has only one theatre operating. This is the Odeon, which really possesses characteristics which are not only typical of this group, but of small town theatres quite generally. It is not a new theatre, having been at one time Beaver Dam's "Opera House," which ultimately (as happened in so many similar towns) was turned into a motion picture theatre. Characteristic of the remodeling movement in the industry today, the Odeon was recently "modernized," in a manner substantially representative of such refurbishing in the smaller communities.

Remodeling Effects "Modern" Theatre

A new front of modern pattern was installed, with a marquee trimmed in neon. The lobby walls were repainted (in blue and green), and indirect lighting was substituted for the old-fashioned fixtures.

The foyer is carpeted in a brown and black velvet, and the walls are tan with yellow striping. There is a small basement lounge simply but tastefully treated, with yellow walls, pink ceiling and blue carpeting. Men's and women's rooms adjoin it.

Projection equipment consists of two projectors, "suprex" carbon arc lamps, motor-generators and one of the major sound systems, rather recently installed.

The Odeon is owned and operated by a circuit—Fox Wisconsin Theatres—for whom Ken Butterfield manages it. Mr. Butterfield has been in the theatre business for eleven years, in Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois. He is 31 years old, married, and has one child, a daughter seven years old. He lives in a rented house on one of Beaver's Dam's pretty residential streets of many trees and broad lawns.

Most Patrons Attend Once Weekly

The average citizen in Beaver Dam, according to the Department of Agriculture, earns about, $1,309 a year, and he has a wife and two children under 16. The average wage earner will go to the theatre about once a week, states Mr. Butterfield, and he will take his entire family with him. His wife, however, may also attend a Wednesday matinee, or the Saturday or Sunday afternoon show as well.

The single man earning $1,300 will attend the theatre twice a week—bringing his sweetheart both times, declares Mr. Butterfield.

Seventy-five per cent of the patronage of the Odeon comes from people who attend once a week; 25 per cent from people who attend twice a week; and 5 per cent from people who attend almost every time there is a new picture. From Monday until Thursday inclusive, Mr. Butterfield runs double feature program. Two additional programs are split over the remaining three days. Admission prices are 40 cents for adult, and 10 cents for children.

Odeon patrons prefer pictures with a

(Continued on page 27)

General exterior view of Varsity theatre and office building, with its glass block window panels.

PLAN OF THE MAIN FLOOR
VARSITY THEATRE

Milwaukee, Wis.

GRASSOLD & JOHNSON
Architects

A Two-Floor

• Describing the Varsity in Milwaukee, 1,300-seat theatre housed in a completely air-conditioned commercial building and effectively employing the new architectural materials

MILWAUKEE'S newest theatre, the 1,300-seat Varsity, located opposite the Marquette University campus in close proximity to the main business section, is strictly modern in design throughout and represents the city's first completely air-conditioned office-and-theatre building. Construction is of stone, granite, face brick and glass blocks. The theatre is operated, under lease, by Fox Wisconsin Theatres. Grassold & Johnson were the architects.

The marquee of the Varsity draws special attention because of unusual provision for the changing of attraction board lettering. An access door has been provided from the building at the roof of the marquee, leading directly from a letter storage room, and the marquee itself has been constructed with a ledge on which a man may reach the attraction boards.

The soffit of the marquee, which was built by Electrolite Signs, Inc., is of Looking down foyer from inner lobby (see floor plan), with auditorium aisle doors at right.

Scheme of Functional Decorative Style porcelain enamel with mirror channels in front of black opal glass, intensifying the incandescent lighting an estimated 60%. Attraction boards carry Adler silhouette letters in front of opal glass.

The vestibule is finished in marble, while the floor is of concrete laid with rubber mats, recessed. The box office is finished in porcelain enameled metal with stainless steel mouldings.

Interior Plan and Decoration

ENTRANCE IS through a lobby (see floor plan) which is carpeted in a modern pattern of blue and gold, and which has walls of blue and gold wallpaper above a cement wainscot painted blue-black. The ceiling is of plaster, painted gold.

The Foyer

The foyer also has walls finished in wallpaper, in a mixed tone of rose and gold. The foyer ceiling is fluted and painted a light shade of rose. Doors leading from the lobby are of bleached birch veneer, left in natural color. Foyer lighting is by means of troughs extending along the cornices, lined with plaster painted white. Lamping is on 4-inch centers. The foyer is carpeted (all Varsity carpeting is Bigelow-Sanford) with a modern spheroid patterns in blue and gold.

The Auditorium

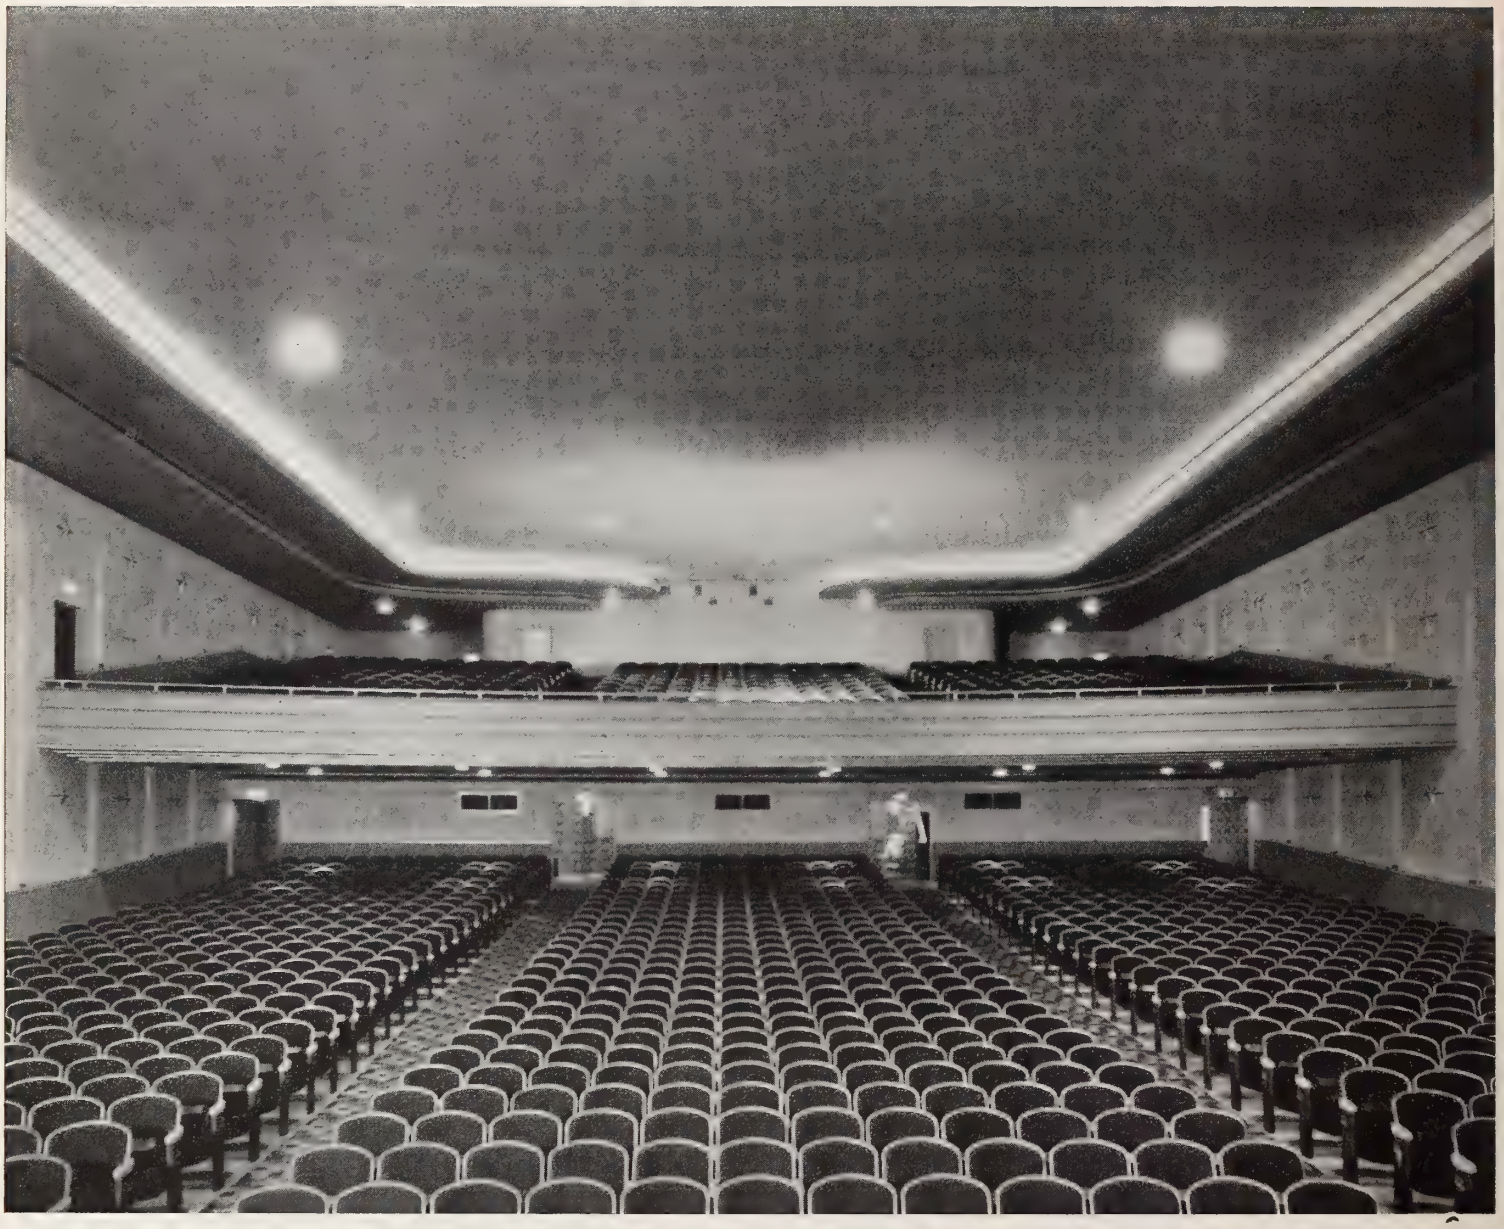
The auditorium is of two-floor type with 300 seats in the balcony, spaced 36 inches. The main floor is arranged three seating banks and four aisles, with spacing 33 inches. Chairs, by Heywood-Wakefield, are fully upholstered with spring backs. Upholstery covering is unpatterned blue mohair on both backs and seats.

The decorative treatment of the auditorium, which measures 115 feet deep, and 78 feet wide, with an average height of 30 feet, continues the color scheme of lobby and foyer areas—blue and gold, the colors of Marquette University. The entire side walls, which are slightly stepped, are of acoustic plaster tinted buff, with star ornamentation inserted and painted gold, and vertical reeded motifs also painted gold.

The rear wall of the auditorium is finished in acoustic tile, while the soffit of the balcony is finished in paper, over plaster, laid diagonally and having a striped pattern in blue, white and yellow.

The auditorium ceiling, which is finished in common plaster, is divided into broad transverse bands effected by lightening shades of blue, starting with a deep blue at the proscenium arch. The profiles of the ceiling bands follow the radial arcs of the seating plan. The floor has a total slope of 4 feet. Aisle carpeting is the same as the foyer carpeting.

The proscenium opening measures 33x25 feet, with a maximum screen size approximately 22x16 feet. The stage is only a screen and horn platform. The enclosing curtain, operated from the projection room (by Vallen control equipment), is of gold silk.



Projection and Air-Conditioning

THE VARSITY projection room is 20 feet wide and 10 feet deep and has a motor-generator room, and toilet facilities adjoining. The ceiling is finished in acoustic plaster painted buff.

The projection angle is 8°. With a distance of 100 feet from the screen to the last row of seats, and of 15 feet from the first row, the screen image is 16 feet wide.

Projection equipment includes two Simplex projectors and Peerless Magnarc lamps supplied by Hertner motor-generators. Sound system is RCA Photophone. Rewinders and other projection accessories are by Ed Wolk.

The building above the balcony level and the front portion alongside the auditorium

Rear view of the auditorium, which has stepped side walls finished in buff-tinted acoustic plaster, and a rear wall of acoustic tile.

is occupied by store space and offices. The front portion of the second floor is office space, the rear portion space for air-conditioning equipment. The entire third floor, and most of the fourth floor, are occupied by offices of Fox Wisconsin Theatres, the quarters of which include a preview room 25x60 feet.

Air-Conditioning System

The theatre is air-conditioned by the system (by Trane) supplying the entire building. The building is heated by steel firebox boiler with an under-feed screw-type stoker. Cooling is accomplished by cold water from a 554-foot 10-inch well on the premises, delivering 250 gallons per minute of 52° water by means of a turbine-driven pump with a 25-horse-power motor.

Blast heating utilizing Trane coils takes care of the theatre itself. Trane Type "PK" convectors applied with steam furnish heat to the foyers, rest rooms and box offices.

The cooling load of the theatre is 100 tons, requiring a 33,000-CFM fan and eight rows of coils, which are supplied with the cold well water. The coils themselves are so cross-connected and valved that all eight rows are used for cooling with water, but by opening and closing the proper valves two rows of the eight are used for steam heating.

A feature of the air distribution system in the theatre is the use of a continuous grille 3 inches high, contained in a cornice in the ceiling just below the light troughs. The grille forms a part of the interior decorative design. In back of this continuous grille is a continuous rectangular metal box partitioned off every 10 feet. Each of these 10-foot sections is supplied with air by a round branch duct from the main duct which, also round, is carried in the steel trusses of the theatre roof.

With smoking permitted in the balcony, there is a separate exhaust fan for the balcony connected to a plenum chamber underneath with numerous holes in the risers of the balcony.

The five stores on the main floor are heated and cooled by individual Trane air-conditioning units installed in the basement. Steam blast coils take care of the heating, while the cooling is effected with water cooling coils. Gravity vents are provided from the stores to the full capacity of the fans in order to enable any store occupied as a tavern or a restaurant to use a 100% outside air, venting through.

For all practical purposes of year around air-conditioning, the office portion of the building is divided into four zones—two north and two south. Four Trane air-conditioning units located in an equipment room on the second floor supply the four zones. The total cooling load in the office.

Tempered, humidified, and filtered air is supplied office area in the winter, and cooled, dehumidified and filtered air in the summer. The heating is effected by steam blast coils, and cooling by water cooling coils in these four units.

The individual offices are heated with

(Continued on page 29)

THERE IS A NEW NAME THAT MEANS "BOX OFFICE INSURANCE" TO EVERY EXHIBITOR

THIS page is an announcement—and a dedication.

It is addressed to the motion picture exhibitors of America.

It announces a new organization in the field of service to the nation's exhibitors.

It dedicates itself to a broader and more complete conception of technical service than the exhibitor has known in the past. It aims to be a vital element in "box office insurance"—"that your theatre may never be dark"....

Altec Service Corporation dares to make so sweeping a self-dedication because Altec, although a new and wholly independent organization, soundly organized, soundly financed and soundly manned, is at the same time a mature, seasoned organization, backed by ten years' experience in the field.

Altec embarks on its independent career with the integrated knowledge and capacity for team play of picked men from the engineering, sales and service staffs of Electrical Research Products, Inc., and still enjoys the co-operation of Bell Telephone Laboratories, as well as the full resources in the field, in men and materiel, established by Electrical Research Products, Inc.

Altec Service Corporation, alert, alive, aggressive, will do everything in its power to deserve, to secure and to maintain, the esteem and the good will of the exhibitors of America.

it is ALTEC

SERVICE CORPORATION

"THAT YOUR THEATRE MAY NEVER BE DARK...."

Operating a 400-Seat Theatre in a Town of 800

Carl J. Garitson, his town, and the theatre. The view is not of Main Street—it is of the street in Springer, N. Mex. Below is shown the front of the theatre as rather recently remodeled by the lessees, for whom Mr. Garitson manages the house.

• Telling an unusual story of showbusiness in Springer, New Mexico, which ought to be too small for a theatre but has surprisingly proved that it isn't

SAID THE Springer (N. Mex.) Tribune, in leading off its story on the impending opening of the Zia theatre, "When the new Zia theatre opens its doors to show goers next Saturday evening, one of the finest entertainment houses of the entire state will be made available for amusement of people of Springer and this section."

This expressed the proud welcome of a motion picture theatre which, though small, could yet seat half the population of the incorporated town in which it was located. Springer, N. Mex., has 800 inhabitants; the Zia seats 400.

Ordinarily the people of such a hamlet must drive for miles to attend a motion picture theatre of any kind, except for occasional travelling outfits stopping at lodge halls for one-night stands. Yet the Zia is a permanent theatre, operating regularly, and as recently remodeled, is essentially modern in its facilities to provide an effective presentation of motion pictures. The fact is, declares Carl J. Garitson, who manages it for Gibralter Enterprises, Southwestern circuit, the Zia attracts patrons from other towns which have theatres of their own!

It was Mr. Garitson who really is responsible for this unusual venture in small town showbusiness. What is now the Zia (pronounced see-uh, and meaning, in Indian, the sun) was originally his property. Mr. Garitson explains:

"I was operating the Springer newspaper when the depression made business pretty tough sledding, so in 1935, after the theatre in Springer had been closed for a couple of months due to insufficient business to operate even a couple of nights a week, I made arrangements to open it on a contract basis, thinking I could make at least a few dollars a month.

"I opened on the fourth day of October, 1935, after fixing the place up as much as I could, starting on a shoestring. I operated two nights a week, but after a few months business was so astounding that I exercised my option and bought the building and equipment, adding a considerable amount of new equipment."

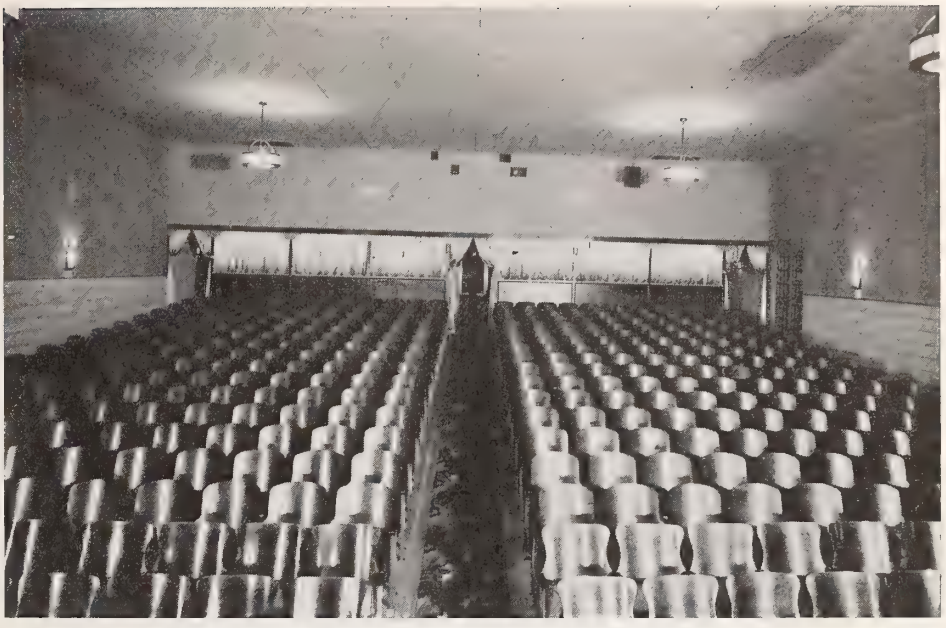
Mr. Garitson then began operating the theatre six nights a week, with three changes of program. Business continued so satisfactory that by 1937, having grown to prefer theatre operation, he leased his newspaper to others.

"Then came the problem of whether to build a new theatre or remodel," Mr. Garitson told his interviewer. "While this question was being worked out, Gibralter Enterprises approached me to sell to them. And after several weeks of sparring, I did lease the theatre to them, and they gave me a contract to manage it."



Quite a thorough remodeling of the theatre was then undertaken—but before describing the Zia (to which the name was changed from that of Pastime), it may be better to look over the town and the surrounding territory which supports it.

The Town and Its Sources of Income

SPRINGER IS an old town. Until a few years ago, according to Mr. Garitson, it was simply a supply station for the large ranches stretching from its edge on all sides to the distant horizon.

"However," Mr. Garitson relates, "much progress has been made in the town—modern stores have taken the place of the old general stores. We have a modern hotel, good schools and modern homes today."

Springer is on the main line of the Santa Fe railroad and is a shipping center of consequence for lumber, cattle and sheep, as well as farm products. Sheep and cattle raising, and farming—both irrigated and dry land—are the principal sources of income of the Zia's patrons. Beans form the most important crop. In addition, a lumber mill 26 miles from Springer, back in the mountains, means a great deal to the town's merchants—and to the Zia's box office.

The auditorium looking toward foyer space at rear, and (below) the foyer

Plan and Treatment of Theatre

The Indians have a symbol for the word Anglicized as Zia; it is a cross of four equal arms formed by four parallel lines radiating from a circle, representing the sun and its rays. This symbol is used throughout the theatre in connection with the decorative scheme—in panels on the auditorium walls, on all lighting fixtures, on the marquee, and so on. Here is the way Mr. Garitson describes the theatre as it has been remodeled:

"The front is painted white, with a heavy trim in Toas blue. The entrance is also painted blue. Then there is a slight trim of orange on the window strips and advertising frames.

"The box office is one foot from the sidewalk line, and on either side are double doors leading into the lobby. The lobby is 16 feet wide and 24 feet deep and has a Celotex ceiling and woodwork painted orange and Toas blue.

"A foyer 11x47 feet, separated from the seating by a partition rising 5 feet above the floor, is carpeted in bright red, which adds to the Indian effect. Just off the foyer, in

(Continued on page 41)

Springer businesses get their support from the agricultural region around them, with its bean acreage (as shown below) and sheep and cattle ranches.

A Modern Design Costing $31 a Seat

The front of the Beverly (above), finished in cast stone and glass, and (below) the auditorium which has walls of fibre board and a plain plaster ceiling.

FLOOR PLANS, BEVERLY THEATRE, UNIVERSITY CITY, MO. O. W. STIEGEMEYER, ARCHITECT

● Describing the new Beverly theatre in University City, Mo., a 1000-seat house of modern appointments and a one-floor plan

THE NEW BEVERLY theatre in University City, Mo., recently opened by Nash Holloway Theatres, presents an economical treatment of modern style, with a simple floor plan for ample traffic area and a moderately large auditorium. Seating 1,000 on one level, the Beverly was built at a cost of $31,000, and equipped at a cost of $15,000. O. W. Stiegemeyer of St. Louis, was the architect.

The building, which is entirely devoted to the theatre, is located in an outlying business center of University City, which has a population of 25,000. Overall dimensions are approximately 147x54 feet, and construction is fully fireproof, with steel bow string trusses, steel bar joists, U. S. Gypsum roof deck covered with asphalt roofing, brick walls backed up with 8-inch cinder blocks, gypsum tile partitions, and re-enforced concrete floor slabs. The front is faced with cast stone in buff, black and white above black structural glass base. In addition, a decorative panel of glass blocks is placed above the marquee.

The general plan of the Beverly provides for women's and men's toilet rooms on opposite sides of the lobby, a confection booth at one side of the lobby, manager's office on a second level (to one side of the projection room), and on the same level (see floor plan) a cry room. This room is carpeted and equipped with lounge furniture for mothers with infants. Vision of the screen is through plate glass (shatterproof to guard against injury to patrons in the auditorium below), while a speaker is provided here to supply the picture sound.

The marquee is finished in porcelain enamel with the word "Theatre" at the front, and the name of the house on each end, recessed into the metal and outlined in neon. The marquee borders are also trimmed in neon, while corners, as well as soffit, are lamped. Entrance doors (see photo) are just inside the sidewalk line on either side of the box office, which has a base of black architectural glass.

Interior Design And Materials

THE LOBBY is of a simple modern scheme with a plaster ceiling and cornice and walls of J-M imitation marble in black and gold. The lobby floor is of terrazzo in cream, black and red, with brass division strips. Illumination is from glass and chrome ceiling fixtures (by Missouri Steel and Wire Company).

The foyer is essentially a promenade at the rear of the auditorium, being separated from the seating area only by a standee rail of wood surmounted by a chrome coping and with velour curtains mounted on transverses. Carpeting here, as well as in aisles, is depressed to meet flush adjoining floors. Illumination in this area is by indirect wall brackets and floor sources emitting light through louvred panels in the lower section of the foyer rail.

Auditorium Plan and Treatment

The auditorium is approximately 51 feet wide and 119 feet from rear wall (foyer) to stage. The height at the first row is approximately 25 feet, and 18 feet at the last row. Chairs (by American) are fully upholstered with spring seats and backs. Seats are covered in red imitation leather, the backs in red frieze trimmed at edge with a satin finish aluminum band. Seating is in two banks with three aisles, the center aisle converging from a width of 4½ feet at the last row to 3 feet at the first. The first row is 16 feet from the stage.

The auditorium is decorated in a color scheme of blue, coral and silver. The ceiling is of plaster, unornamented. Walls have a plaster wainscot and an upper finish of Armstrong Temlock fibre board with chrome mouldings laid to form a panel pattern. Above these panels runs a fluted wood band. The rear wall is covered with J-M perforated acoustic tiles.

Auditorium illumination is provided by large indirect pylon fixtures centered in sections of the side wall panel design. These fixtures are on two circuits for bright house lighting and low-level colored running light.

The stage provides space for only screen and horns. The proscenium opening is 30x20½ feet.

Projection and Air Supply System

THE PROJECTION room measures 24 feet wide and 10½ feet deep. Adjoining it are a rectifier and a toilet room. Projection room walls are of gypsum blocks covered with hard plaster sand-finished in a buff color. The floor is of re-enforced concrete slab covered with linoleum, while the ceiling is of metal lath and plaster 2 inches thick suspended from steel bar joists. The port shutters and frames are made of 20-gauge steel with removable panels set at an angle of 30°.

Equipment includes two Simplex projectors on Simplex bases, with Peerless Magnarc lamps supplied by General Electric copper oxide rectifiers. The sound system is RCA Photophone.

Projection is at an angle of approximately 4° at a throw of 126 feet. Width of screen image is 22 feet.

Ventilation and Heating

The Beverly air supply is by a simple ventilating system with two Modernaire washers of 60,000 cubic feet capacity, both located under the stage (receiving tank is provided with arrangement to introduce

(Continued on page 22)

..about PEOPLE of the THEATRE

NEWS OF THEIR ACTIVITIES REPORTED FROM ALL SECTIONS AND BRIEFLY TOLD

Fire recently gutted the Uptown theatre in Jasper, Texas. FRANK COOPER of Kirbyville, Texas, operated the house. The blaze originated in a nearby store.

LAWRENCE GROBECK is spending $30,000 on the erection of a theatre in Omaha, Neb., with a seating capacity of 700, to replace the old Mueller which seated 500. The name of the theatre will be changed to Muller.

RALPH and CLYDE PRATT, owners of the State in Washington, Ia., are installing new Simplex projectors with Simplex bases, and new Western Electric sound equipment, purchased through the National Theatre Supply Company of Des Moines.

JACK PICKENS of Jack Pickens Theatres, Inc., owners of the Trot theatre in Cuero, Tex., has purchased the Rialto and Rex theatres in that city from the Hall Industries of Beeville, Tex.

The Lincoln theatre in San Francisco, is to be remodeled.

J. E. CAFF, owner of the Orpheum in Strawberry Point, Ia., has contracted for new Western Electric sound equipment.

ARTHUR FUKUDA has opened the Delano West theatre in Delano, Calif.

ORAN A. DE FORD, formerly assistant manager of the Metropolitan theatre, Houston, Tex., has been named manager of the Ritz in that city.

A new front is to be added to the Dixie theatre in Brooksville, Fla., as a part of a remodeling program to include both the exterior and interior of the building.

CLIFFORD L. NILES and his son, owners of several theatres in Anamosa, Ia., were hosts at a free show at the Niles theatre there on December 14, as a Christmas present to the community. In the evening, a free dance was also sponsored by the Niles family.

MRS. SARAH DALY has sold the 600-seat Rialto theatre at Willows, Calif., to FRED NAIFY.

Fox Midwest Theatres, Inc., has taken over the lease on the Brookside, new 1,200-seat theatre in suburban Kansas City, Mo. The theatre has been under the operation of W. D. FULTON.

ALEXANDER OTTO, formerly manager of the Lee theatre, Pennington Gap, Va., is now operating the new Keithley theatre in Jonesville, Va., which has a seating capacity of 375.

LEO RICCI has terminated operation of the Poli in Meriden, Conn., and has resumed direction of his own house, the Capitol, there.

The Pine Lawn Amusement Company of Pine Lawn, Mo., has been incorporated with $15,000 authorized capital. Incorporators include FRED and GERTRUDE WEHRENBERG, and EDWARD E. RUDOLPH, JR. The company operates a new theatre opened in Pine Lawn on Christmas Eve.

■ ■ ■

The American Community Theatres Corporation, headed by Walter Read, opened the Community theatre in Morristown, N. J., on December 23.

J. J. FRANKLIN, well known Pacific Coast theatre operator and formerly associated with Franklin Theatres of Honolulu, has taken over the operation of the Strand in San Francisco from HERMAN COHEN. Mr. Franklin plans to spend several thousand dollars in improving the house. Mr. Cohen still operates the United Artists and Embassy theatres in San Francisco.

Thomas P. Drew, who has been appointed representative of Motiograph, Inc., in the Eastern states. Mr. Drew was at one time sales manager of Western Electric Company, Ltd., in England, and later became general manager of the General Register Corporation, manufacturers of ticket issuing equipment, which position brought him to New York.

ABRAHAM STONE, owner of the Eagle, one of the few independently owned theatres in Albany, N. Y., reopened the house on December 28 after a thorough renovation. The remodeling, done at a cost of $40,000, included the replacing of old walls, ceiling, seats and stage, and the installation of Western Electric sound equipment. In 1909, Mr. Stone began as a projectionist in the old White Way theatre, later moving to the Star and Majestic, at which time he acted as assistant house manager of the last named theatre. Following this, Mr. Stone sponsored the open air theatre, the Parkway, and in 1927 took over the operation of the Eagle.

LEWIS D. JOHNSTON, who controlled theatre interests in South Boston, Va., died recently at the age of 54.

The State theatre in Corning, Ark., was severely damaged by fire December 10 at an estimated loss of $4,500. The building was owned by L. G. Black, and the theatre was operated by Mrs. Ann Hutchins. The blaze was said to have started in a defective flue.

Petaluma Theatres, Inc., of San Francisco, are remodeling the Mystic theatre at Petaluma, Calif. A. A. CANTIN of San Francisco, is the architect. Cost is placed at $12,000.

M. B. ESSERMAN of Nashville, Tenn., has opened the new Chief theatre in Eufaula, Okla. The house seats 375.

Pitts-Roth Theatres have purchased the Weiss theatre building on Main Street, Emporia, Va., according to HARRY ROTH, district manager. Plans are under way for the complete remodeling and renovation of the structure.

D. V. FULLER has reopened his Aladdin theatre in Butte, Neb. The house had been closed for some time following a fire in the projection room which severely burned Mr. Fuller and his father.

A new theatre erected by HAL J. LEDMAN and associates in St. Louis, Mo., and recently opened, was built entirely by negro labor, caters to negro patronage. The seating capacity is 700.

HARRY DAVID, general manager of Intermountain Theatres, Inc., was host at the opening of the new Centre theatre in Salt Lake City, Utah, on December 23.

R. H. OUELETTE, manager of the Dixie theatre in Brooksville, Fla., is completing plans for extensive remodeling of the structure.

The new Grand theatre was opened by Dr. F. H. RODEMEYER, in Sheffield, Iowa, on December 22.

J. O. DOOP has renewed his lease of the Opera House in Adel, Ia., for another five-year period. Mr. Doop has been running the house for the past four years.

FRED and LEE NAIFY, together with FRED SALISH of San Francisco, will remodel the Rialto at Willows, Calif. The remodeling job, to cost $25,000, principally calls for the installation of new equipment.

The State theatre in Timmonsville, S. C., will be remodeled, according to the manager, ALBERT WHITTEMORES. A balcony with a large seating capacity will be built, and a larger screen will be added. A new front and a larger foyer are also in the plans for improvement.

■ ■ ■

ALVIN A. HABLES has plans for the remodeling of the Reel Joy theatre at King City, Calif., at an estimated cost of $10,000.

The Franklin theatre, owned by GEORGE WILBY of Atlanta, Ga., was badly damaged by fire on December 10. The loss was estimated at $20,000.

The Pioneer Theatre Corp., has engaged the National Theatre Supply Company, Des Moines, Ia., to install new Western Electric sound equipment in the Spencer theatre, Spencer, Ia.

L. K. BRIN has taken over the 400-seat Isis theatre in San Francisco. The house, which will be renamed the Princess, was formerly operated by JOSEPH MEYERS. Extensive improvements are planned.

OLGA JOHN HARKEY, JR., prominent theatre operator of Hardy, Aak., died recently of pneumonia. He was 37 years old. A widow and two sons survive.

JOHN DANZ has acquired, for his Sterling Chain Theatres circuit, the Roosevelt theatre in Seattle, Wash. The purchase price was not announced, but property valuation is placed at $150,000.

The Rex theatre, in Sheridan, Ark., owned by G. W. JONES of Little Rock, Ark., and operated by JACK BAIN, was damaged by fire on December 26. It is reported that the blaze originated in the manager's office in the rear of the building.

JESS BORING has taken over the operation of the Cairo in Cairo, Neb. The house has been completely redecorated.

HENRY HOWER of Worthington, Minn., owner of the State and Grand theatres in that locality, has purchased the State at

(Continued on following page)

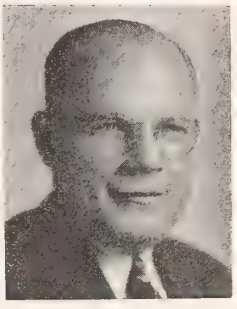
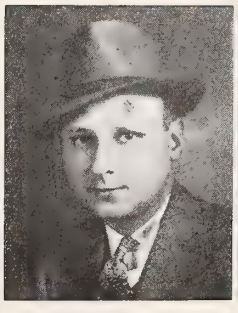
FIELD STAFF OF SOUND SERVICE ORGANIZATION

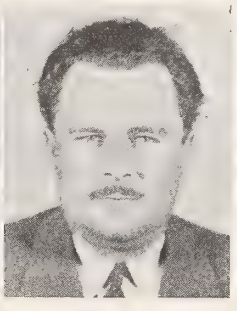


L. J. HACKING
Boston District

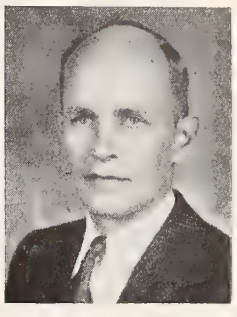
J. A. CAMERON
Boston Branch



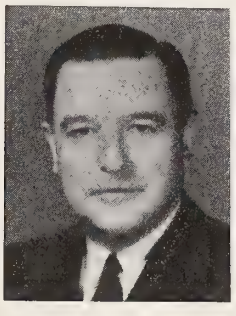
E. O. WILSCHKE
Philadelphia District



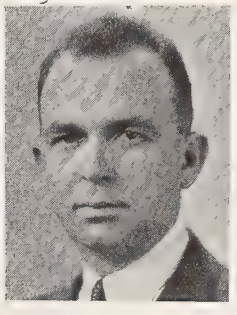
W. CONNER
Philadelphia Branch



A. FIORE
Atlanta District

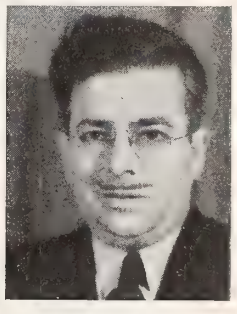


H. B. MOOG
Atlanta Branch

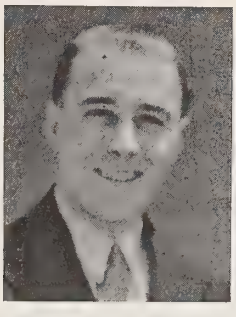


O. HUNT
Kansas City District

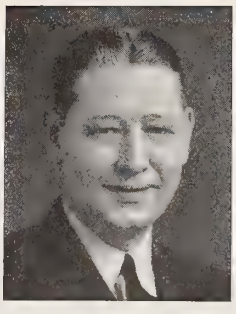
C. J. ZERN
Kansas City Branch



R. HILTON
Chicago District



D. L. TURNER
Chicago Branch

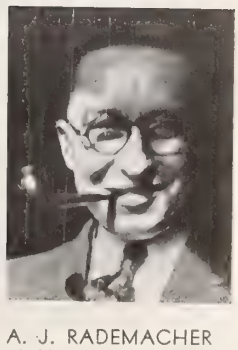


H. W. DOGE
Western District

S. M. PARISEAU
Western Branch

F. C. DICKELY
Detroit District

E. C. SHRIVER
Detroit Branch



W. W. SIMONS
New York District

A. F. LYMAN
New York Branch

■ The engineering organization of the Altec Service Corporation, recently formed to service theatre sound equipment, has been substantially completed with home office appointments and formation of a nation-wide field staff. Pictured are the district and branch managers of the field organization. Home office appointments to executive positions of the engineering staff name F. C. Gilbert chief engineer, with H. S. Morris as an assistant; E. S. Seeley, director of a special research group; and T. H. Carpenter and L. J. Patton liaison officers contacting the motion picture industry.

A. J. RADEMACHER
N. Y. Office Manager

Windom, Minn. The 625-seat house will be extensively remodeled and redecorated at an expenditure of about $20,000.

The McCabe & Anderson Theatre Company, of Coalinga, Calif., which recently disposed of its theatre holdings, has made an application to dissolve.

N. E. Orr, operator of the Daisy, 30-year-old neighborhood theatre in Indianapolis, plans to remodel his theatre. The seating capacity will be increased from 600 to 900. Air-conditioning, together with the installation of other new equipment, and the building of five store rooms, are included in plans for renovation.

North Carolina Theatres, Inc., have purchased the lease and equipment of the Criterion in Charlotte, N. C., from the S. W. Craver theatre interests. The Criterion takes over the policy of the State in that city, which was closed on the expiration of its lease. Bernal Lewis, formerly manager of the State, has been named manager of the Criterion. With the purchase of this last named house, North Carolina Theatres, Inc., operate every motion picture theatre for white patronage, except one, in Charlotte. In addition, two other houses are being built.

Fire said to have originated around the furnace, damaged the Palmetto, which is operated by Chester Theatres, Inc., in Chester, S. C. F. J. Powell, manager of the house, was unable to estimate the loss, but an unofficial figure places the damage at several thousand dollars.

W. D. Fulton has closed the LaSalle theatre in Kansas City, Mo., for remodeling and redecorating for an early opening. Within the past month, Mr. Fulton has closed the Brookside permanently and sold the Colonial to E. E. Weber, the Strand to John Wolfberg. He now operates the Tivoli, Southoon and Mokan in Kansas City, Mo., the State in Kansas City, Kans., and the Howard in Arkansas City.

P. G. Held, veteran showman, has reopened his 250-seat Strand theatre in Griswold, Ia., after a fire had forced him to close it. It was the first fire Mr. Held had had during his 23 years of theatre operation.

Harry G. Day has completed remodeling of his 450-seat Town theatre in Darlington, Wis., at a cost of $15,000. Included in the remodeling were a new front for the theatre and new equipment.

A marquee of modern design is being installed on the Orpheum theatre in San Francisco, at a cost of $20,000. It will be the first installation there of cold spot, high-intensity neon lighting.

■ ■ ■

R. E. Bregna has bought back the lease on the Star theatre in Callaway, Neb., from G. W. Dye.

Sperryville Theatre Corporation of Harrisonburg, Va., with a maximum capital of $25,000, has been chartered to operate a theatre, with Charles S. Roth as president.

Harvey Amusement Company, operators of the California theatre in Coalinga, Calif., has added the Liberty there to its holdings.

O. Phelps and Harry Hill have opened the Hill theatre at Hillsboro, Ore.

Glenn Thompson has installed RCA sound and Roman Art auditorium lighting fixtures in his Wilson theatre in Tishomingo, Okla.

H. E. Rehfield, manager of the Iowa theatre in Bloomfield, Ia., has installed two new Simplex projectors and two Strong reflector arc lamps. It is planned to modernize the theatre building some time in the spring.

Jensen-VonHerberg's Bagdad theatre in Seattle has reopened after being remodeled. New furnishings, sound equipment and box office furnishings were installed.

Robert Shannon, vice president and general manager of RCA Photophone, together with Frank R. Deakins, vice president, heading Photophone and Engineering operations, and Harry L. Sommerer, manager of the Photophone division, attended the recent ceremonies celebrating the first anniversary of the opening of the company's new sound equipment manufacturing plant in Indianapolis, Ind. The plant, which was established to meet Photophone's increasing business demands in that district, is in charge of Harry LeRoy.

Oky Goodman has installed a new front, on his Empress theatre in Rockwell City, Iowa.

Ralph Hintz, who owns the Gem at Sterling, Neb., is remodeling a store building at Tecumseh, Neb., into a 300-seat house there. The cost is reported to be $10,000.

Harry Roth, district manager for the Pitts-Roth Suffolk and Emporia theatres in Emporia, Va., announces that the Pitts-Roth Theatres Corporation has purchased the Weiss theatre in Emporia. Plans are being drawn for complete remodeling of the house. The Pitts-Roth Corporation is headed by Benjamin T. Pitts of Fredericksburg, Va., and Charles S. and Samuel F. Roth of Harrisburg, Va.

■ ■ ■

J. W. Moore of Mason City, Ia., has discontinued the operation of his Lu Verne theatre in Lu Verne, Ia. The town is now without a theatre.

J. H. Peabody has sold the Rex in Glendale, Ore., to the Cascadian Sound Service.

Witt Burr of Lancaster, Wis., has completely remodeled his 685-seat Orpheum theatre at a cost of $22,000.

The Sterling circuit's Arabian theatre in Seattle, Wash., has been modernized with the installation of complete new furnishings, and new projection and sound equipment.

Arthur Abbott, owner of the Kihekah in Pawhuska, Okla., has opened the new Circle-A theatre in that town. The house, which seats 300, is designed in a rustic Western style and features in the vestibule two wagon wheel chandeliers.

The Drexel theatre in Columbus, Ohio, a new 800-seat theatre erected by W. C. Chesbrough, owner of a group of suburban houses in the Columbus area, was opened on Christmas Day.

Frank W. McManus (left), district manager for M & P Theatres, with one of his guests, Judge W. L. Allen, at the gala opening of the Newton theatre in West Newton, Mass., the auditorium of which is also pictured. (This theatre will be fully described in a later issue.)

[Technical descriptions of products of specific manufacturers appear in this department without distinction between projection and other functions]

Economy and Comfort Factors In Seating the Theatre Today

● Money spent on auditorium chairs should be an investment in definite box office values, here discussed as matters of design and installation

IF I WERE asked to list the primary physical features of a motion picture theatre in their order of importance, I would say that there were four primary features—projection, sound, seating, and air-conditioning. These four considerations are of the utmost importance. Improper planning or inadequate maintenance of these four basic parts of the theatre will without a doubt be reflected in time—and all too short a time—in lower box office grosses.

Of the above list of four basic theatre characteristics, projection is continually very capably covered in this publication by others. Sound is also amply taken care of by many able writers and engineers. Air-conditioning has really been kept constantly before theatre men in these columns. So the third most important consideration, though a very old story, perhaps is in some instances overshadowed by the other basic considerations.

Stating these same considerations from the standpoint of the physical senses, we might say that the basic considerations of theatres are seeing, hearing, feeling and smelling (because the elimination of odors is part of proper air-conditioning)—and now that in some locations theatre men have gone into the candy, popcorn, soft drinks and ice cream business, the theatre apparently appeals to all five of the physical senses.

But seats are so important to the sense of feeling comfortable, the sense of well being, that they definitely add or detract from any theatre. In order that patrons may lose themselves in the rhythm and tempo and atmosphere of any picture, they must be so comfortable that they are not in the least distracted or really conscious of sitting in a theatre. The seat, the spacing of the seats, and the sightlines all should be considered when we speak of seating comfort. This of course is a somewhat broader interpretation of seating comfort than is usually acknowledged or referred to when a seat manufacturer uses the expression.

Only too frequently seats are selected by theatre men, first, on a basis of price; second, on the basis of sitting in a sample chair either brought to their office or on display in a showroom; third, on the basis of appearance; and fourth, on the basis of maintenance. It is generally the consensus that seats should be amortized over a period of ten years. If this is true, then the price consideration should be placed last on the list instead of first, because from this point of view the difference between an $8 seat and a $9 seat is but 10c a year!

An Instructive Brochure On Theatre Lighting

A handsome brochure on theatre lighting, interior and exterior, illustrating attractive modern illumination for theatres, and describing devices and materials for achieving it, has been issued by the Nela Park Engineering Department of the General Electric Company. Bound in loose leaf, the booklet, which is prepared by Francis M. Falge and C. E. Weitz, includes full details on fixtures, coves, signs, lamp bulbs, lamp economy, reflecting and transmitting materials, light control systems, floods and spots. Charts showing flood and spot spread and efficiency, effect of colored lights on colored objects, and wattage requirements for different theatre purposes, are included.

Economy in Choice And Maintenance

IF WE ARE correct in the assumption that we are entitled to a ten-year life of service from seats, we must select seats that from their inherent qualities of materials, comfort and design will still be acceptable to use during the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth year of their life of service.

To illustrate this point I can but ask a question: "Why do we select a box spring seat to serve for ten years?" In the first place, box springs are obsolete in this day and age, and the chances are that dissatisfaction with them will become increasingly apparent from the first day of their use. Certainly, from this point of view, the so-called "squab" (padded box) seat is absolutely outmoded today. If squab seats are purchased through any chance of circumstances, certainly in all honesty of accounting, the value of the seats should be charged off immediately to expense, for at best they can only be considered an economic stop gap. So in the case of seats, we must consider obsolescence as well as wear and tear.

Brightening Up End Standards

Seat comfort must be viewed in the light not of today, but in terms of the next ten years. The same also applies to materials used in the manufacture of the seats, and the design, especially of end standards. There are many theatres that now have quite comfortable seats, but the age of those seats is established by the design of the end standard with all the intricate detail and ornamentation. Such end standards are costly to paint over, and even when painted over, the new color scheme does not change the character of the seat. It is astounding what a new effect can be obtained by a paint job on the aisle end standard and the proper relocation of aisle lights, and the painting of seat backs and arm

MAINTENANCE Tabs

By J. Livingston Lee, Jr.

Title and text copyrighted 1937. Reproduction of any part without permission is expressly forbidden

PRESSURE DRAIN CLEANER: There is a pressure drain cleaner on the market which has proven a lifesaver in many instances. This drain cleaner is easily pumped up to any desired pressure from 25 pounds to 125 pounds, when the end of it is inserted into the stopped up drain and a grip similar to a pistol grip equipped with a trigger releases the charge of air and forces through the stoppage to the sewer.

The basis of the design is that water will not compress, and when held in a pipe line by stoppage, the water, struck a quick severe blow by the release of the compressed air, will cause a piston-like thrust, which will dislodge the stoppage and clear the line.

•

CLEANING SIGNS: Exterior signs can be cleaned, but past experience has indicated that it is an expensive operation, and in some instances, depending upon the location of the signs, a very hazardous undertaking.

Most theatre signs are painted sheet metal. The painted surfaces can be washed with sponge and water and any good paint cleaner, but to do it properly all the lamps must be removed, and then care must be taken not to get water into the sockets—at least they must be thoroughly dry before replacing lamp in them.

You all know how unsatisfactory it is to try and replace lamps once taken out of signs. The percentage of burnouts is so high that the only practical thing to do is to relamp with an entire lot of new lamps. The washing process is just as much labor as would be required to paint, and the rigging required is exactly the same.

The total result is that the difference of cost between painting and washing is negligible, and the washed sign never looks as good as a fresh paint job.

FREON HAZARD: The very strict safety requirement in many cities, especially New York, frequently brings up for discussion the question of danger to human life from concentrations of Freon should, by any chance, a charge be lost into the auditorium by the breaking of a coil in the air stream.

A comprehensive series of tests was made by the U. S. Department of Commerce in May 1930, by engineers Sayers, Yaut, Chornyak and Shoaf, and I quote herewith the final statement in their conclusion:

"In so far as the results of animal experimentation serve as a measure of hazards to persons, the investigation described in this report has shown that the possibility of public health and accident hazards resulting from exposure to dichloro-defluoro methane [this is the correct name for Freon] when used as a refrigerant, are remote."

Therefore it would seem that this gas, which represents a real advance in the technique of air-conditioning, can be employed with all practical assurance that no disaster will result.

•

SHAMPOOING CARPETS: Because the question of shampooing carpets in theatres has come up several times in the past few months, I give you again this thought. The use of floor shampoo processes invariably causes carpets to look worn and faded before they otherwise would appear so. The constant use of a good vacuum cleaner is the very best way to maintain the carpets in your theatre. In this way maximum wear will be obtained and you will have as nearly as possible the original decorative effect of the carpet. Any pile fabric that accumulates dirt, and is allowed to retain that dirt will not wear as well as one which has been kept clean.

rests. You will find that seats in lighter color will materially aide and facilitate the movement of people into and out of the theatre. If seats are to be maintained along these lines, the simpler the design, the greater change in atmosphere can be created with a few gallons of paint. Seat upholstery materials should certainly be selected from the standpoint of paint, of long wearing qualities, and conservativeness of design in order that replacement may be infrequent, but facilitated when necessary.

The majority of the theatre seats used in this country are manufactured by five companies. The product of four of these companies might be classified as being design and construction. The product of the fifth is very different in design, materials, and the process of manufacture. All of the seats of these manufacturers are good seats. Any of them can make a first-class installation, but in most instances their methods of selling especially invites some comment.

Most often there is a list price, and a sliding scale of discounts based on quantity. This scale of discounts reaches 10% at 1,100 seats, and beyond that there is no further discount except, perhaps, for cash. This means that the promoter or individual theatre owner who buys seats for one 1,100-seat house gets just as good a price as the larger circuit who, over a twelve-month period, might buy 50,000 seats. This is certainly unfair for the larger groups of theatres, as quantity discounts are definitely recognized as a legitimate business practice.

Critical Points of Chair Construction

IN THE FINAL analysis the theatre chair is composed of certain component parts: the back and back board (wood or metal); the seat, which can be plain veneer, padded box (squab), box spring, spring edge (one company has a front spring edge seat), or the bottom pan (which may be wood or metal); the hinges, which may be direct, ball or roller bearing, or compensating, and may be made of steel, cast steel or cast iron; the end standard, which may be pressed steel or cast metal; the center standards, which may be rolled steel sections or cast metal; and the arm rests, which are of wood, either painted, natural or lacquered and which once in a long while may be found to be upholstered. Of course it really takes an engineer to judge the relative merits of these items that compose the chair, so generally the best procedure for the theatre chair buyer is to rely on past performance and investigate some installations that are from three to five years old. Generally speaking, the simpler the design of anything mechanical and the fewer screws, bolts, nuts, washers and parts, the better the product is from a practical point of view.

There is much that could be written about the springs, methods of tying and securing, the initial compression, the covering, the amount of toe, cotton, horsehair and the muslin undercovering, but space does not permit it here.

However, there is a product known as Nu-Craft, manufactured by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, which is used on top of the springs to replace the cotton, toe or hair. This Nu-Craft, I find, adds tremendously to the general comfort of the chair. Just at the present time one of the rubber companies is manufacturing a rubber pad for seat backs which is more comfortable than the standard padded back—not quite so luxurious as the full spring back, but on the other hand, is not as thick as the spring back, so that it can be used in many reseating locations, where there is a desire for greater comfort without too great a sacrifice in the number of seats.

Principal Comfort Factors

It is quite obvious that the seat (bottom) is the most important contributing factor

ANEMOSTAT Draftless AIR DISTRIBUTION

RECEIVED NOV 17 1937 SHEFFLER-GROSS CO. INC

November 15, 1937

Thomas J. Kenny,
Drexel Building,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Now that the summer is over and we are thru with the air conditioning system for this season, I thought you would like to know the results of the anemostats which your company installed in early August.

As you know our system did not do what it was expected to, nor what the company promised it would, and that was: To cool the Theatre without drafts to our patrons. We tried about everything the engineer suggested from the company, but it did no good. Besides costing money and causing much inconvenience, it about ruined my digestion system when I thought of what I would eventually have to do and that was, install a complete new system.

Now here comes the fairy tale part of this letter. When you told me your anemostats would do certain things, remember I said put them in, but you don't get any dough until they do the job you promised. So here's your cheque and I want to place my order for two extra anemostats to be placed over the stairway. They saved the day is putting it mildly. My digestion is o.k. and my many thanks to you for your patience and thoroughness in supervising with Mr. Dingleman in the installation of these anemostats.

I am,

Yeswick

Glenside, Pa.

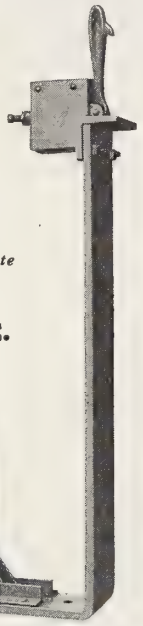
Manager

A FEW ANEMOSTAT THEATRE INSTALLATIONS

TRANS-LUX THEATRE
85th St. & Madison Ave., N. Y. C.
BOOTH THEATRE
New York City
COMERFORD THEATRE
Scranton, Pa.
EARL THEATRE
Baltimore, Md.
FORT BLISS THEATRE
El Paso, Texas
WHALLEY THEATRE
New Haven, Conn.
AUERBACH THEATRE
Salt Lake City, Utah
TOWER THEATRE
Miami, Florida
THE NEWS THEATRE
Philadelphia, Pa.
SALEM THEATRE
Dayton, Ohio
ESQUIRE THEATRE
Chicago, Illinois
PREVIEW THEATRE
Radio City Music Hall, N. Y. C.

ANEMOSTAT CORPORATION OF AMERICA
10 EAST 39th STREET • NEW YORK, N. Y.

"No Air Conditioning System is Better than its Air Distribution"

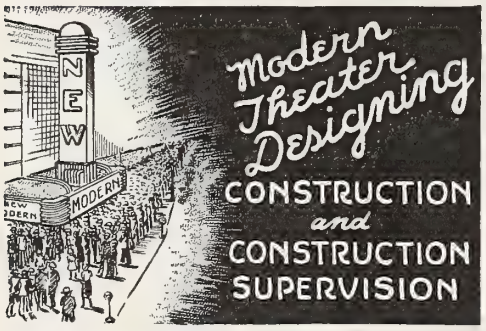


CLANCY

STAGE PLANNING

At no cost to you, you can have a stage completely planned by experts. Our organization has more than 50 years of worldwide experience in planning stages of every size and style.

For replacement parts, rope, cable, etc., depend on Clancy and be assured of scientifically designed and expertly made equipment.



Write for complete catalog

J. R. CLANCY, Inc.
1010 W. Belden Ave.
Syracuse, N. Y.

Combination FLOOR BLOCK & ROPE LOCK

MODERN THEATRES GET THE CROWDS

SAVE MONEY
Get our complete design and construction advice before building. We will gladly cooperate with any local construction company you may select.

We are specialists in theatre designing. Plans prepared and actual construction completed and supervised.
Write for complete details.

THE F&Y BUILDING SERVICE
328 E. Town st.
Columbus, Ohio

Guard Against Wobbly Swaying Theater Seats
Ask any good supply dealer to show you why the Supreme Expansion Bolt assures permanent seat anchorage for lasting safety and comfort—or write for free samples and prices.
Chicago Expansion Bolt Co.
Dept. B-1, 134 S. Clinton St., Chicago, Ill.

in seat comfort; the next most important is the seat back. The comfort in these two elements of the chair is first in their inherent design, next in the materials used, and thirdly in their angular arrangement, first as to the tangle of the back (pitch) in relation to that of the seat; second, as to the seat angle in relation to the pitch of the floor and to the line of sight; and third, as to the height of the seat from the floor at the point of normal position of the feet. If all this is right, then the seat will be comfortable, but there is one more consideration before we can be sure of seat comfort, and that is the spacing between rows.

The minimum for seats with ordinary padded backs or back of less thickness is 32 inches. This is a minimum, but so frequently when a minimum is established the minimum quickly becomes the maximum. For spring back seats the real minimum is 35 inches. In the first instance, 34 inches is much better, and in the second 37 inches is very satisfactory. It does seem shortsighted to spend good money for really comfortable seats, then detract from the whole job by crowding the rows in order to gain another 3% more seats. I believe that the practice of crowding the first five or ten rows in the belief that these seats are occupied by "kids" is also a rationalization of erroneous thinking and is not to be recommended.

There was so much more that I had hoped to crowd into this piece on chairs, but I find that space is not available and I expect to be able in the very near future to present further data on chairs which I know will be of assistance in purchasing new chairs and in maintaining old ones.

New chairs are a substantial investment. Therefore it is not wise to withhold an extra dollar per chair when that dollar adds so little to the fixed charges of the theatre overhead. Comfort—seat comfort—has a very real box office value.—J. T. K.

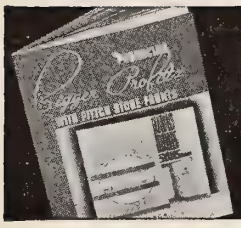
Operation and Maintenance Of Atmospheric Cooling Towers

● Describing one of the simplest methods of cooling condensed water for air-conditioning theatres, and the nature of its equipment

IN THE LAST issue the function of the condenser in connection with an air-conditioning plant was discussed. In that discussion we found that all of the heat abstracted from the air by the refrigerant had to be in turn removed from the refrigerant, and that this was usually accomplished by circulating water through the condenser. Further, because in most cities the cost of water prohibits city water from being used through the condensers and discharged into the sewer and the condenser water must then be used over and over again, it is circulated in its own cycle, and one step in this cycle is the cooling of the water down to a temperature below the temperature of liquefaction of the refrigerant.

The heat absorbed from air to be conditioned by one pound of the refrigerant is much greater than the heat picked up by one pound of water passing through the condenser. It follows that the quantity of water by weight to be circulated through the condensers, compared to the weight of the refrigerant to be cooled, is very appreciable. Of course, the ratio of condenser water by weight, to refrigerant by weight, varies for each different refrigerant and the pressures maintained in the system.

The simplest process for cooling condenser water is the atmospheric cooling tower. There really are two steps to consider in cooling water by means of the atmospheric tower—first, the exchange of heat (sensible heat) between the air and the exposed surface of the water; and second, the cooling of the water resulting from the evaporation of a portion of the water by the air. In this case the heat of evaporation is furnished by the latter medium (the air on the water). In a properly designed system this heat is supplied by the water, and hence the water is cooled.



Basis of Cooling Tower Design

The basis of the design of the cooling tower is the prevailing wet-bulb temperature of that particular locality. The rate of the heat exchange is dependant, first, upon the difference between the temperature of the water as it is delivered to the tower, and the wet-bulb temperature of the air. It of course follows that in moist, humid climate (even though hot) such as Florida and the Gulf Coast States, the atmospheric tower is not entirely satisfactory.

Secondly, the rate of heat exchange is dependant upon the amount of surface of the water in contact with the air. This second condition points to a possible way of overcoming some of the inefficiency resulting from the first condition.

The third condition upon which the rate of heat exchange is dependant is the relative velocity of the water and the air—or stated in another way, the length of time that the water is in contact with the air.

With these three conditions always in mind, a cooling tower can be designed for

SEND FOR THIS BOOK TODAY

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, 2115A Grant Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.
Please send me, without obligation, your book entitled "Producing Bigger Profits with Pittco Store Fronts."

Name.....

Street.....

City.....State.....

Dress your Theatre in its "SUNDAY BEST" Every Day in the Week!

"SUNDAY BEST" is everyday attire for this theatre in Murfreesboro, Tenn., a town of 8,000 population. A modern, inviting Pittco Front, designed by Architects Marr & Holman, did the job of lifting it from the commonplace — giving it sales appeal that brings new patrons from far and near.

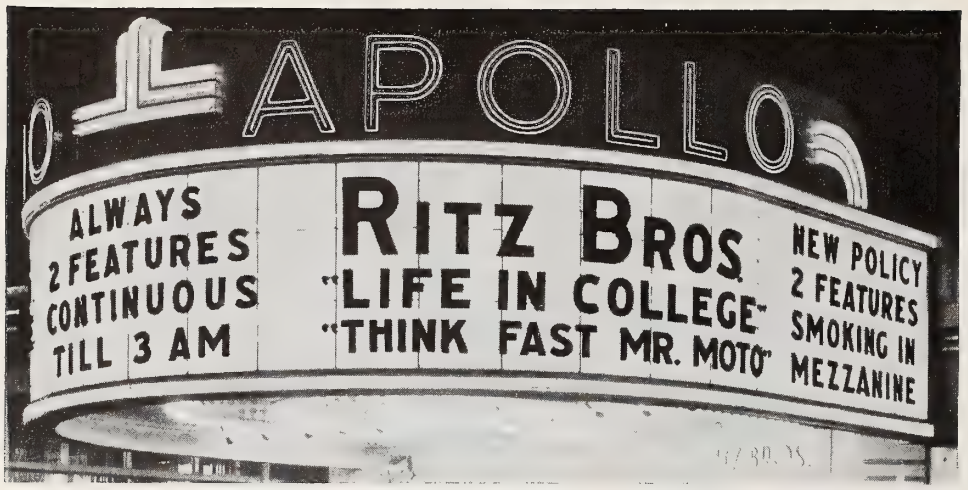
"COME IN! You'll enjoy the show." That's what a Pittco Front on your theatre will say to all who see it . . . and almost everyone will see it! With its eye-catching beauty it will attract and invite both young and old, build patronage, increase profits. For a Pittco Front is on the job . . . every day in the week . . . in its Sunday Best . . . bringing you new patrons and helping you to hold the business you have already gained.



Dress up your theatre . . . and go places! Modernize with a Pittco Front. When remodeling, consult an architect to assure you a well-planned, economical job. Our staff of store front experts will gladly cooperate with him in planning a front to suit your needs. Mail the coupon for facts, figures and photographs that explain in detail how Pittco Fronts produce bigger profits.

Be sure to see the Pittco Store Front Caravan now on a nation-wide tour. Contact our local branch for specific information as to when the Caravan will visit your territory.

PITTSBURGH TIME PAYMENT PLAN
You can take up to 2 years to pay for your Pittco Front. Pay 20% down—the balance out of income.

PITTCO STORE FRONTS glass...metal...paint

Paint • PITTSBURGH • Glass
PLATE GLASS COMPANY

(A Wagner NEW Multiple-Letter Installation; Apollo Theatre, New York. Structural patents pending.)

WATCH WAGNER! The Newly-created FULL 1938 LINE of COVE-EDGE LETTERS from 8" to GIANT 24" size give SMASHING DISPLAY! The Wagner Multiple 3-in-1 Structures carry ANY and ALL SIZES of LETTERS ANYWHERE in the BOARD! WATCH for coming photo of Wagner Multiple Installation in the ROXY.

WAGNER SIGN SERVICE, Inc.

218 S. Hoyne Ave., CHICAGO 123 W. 64th St., NEW YORK
706 E. Hancock Ave., DETROIT

●Pittsburgh Territory Representative: FLEXLUME SALES CORPORATION, Pittsburgh, Pa. ●Southeastern Representative: FLEXLUME SOUTHERN CORPORATION, Atlanta, Ga. ●West Coast Representative: B. F. SHEARER COMPANY, Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Patent Numbers U. S. 2,048,040 Canada 366,122 England 451,868

PROTECTED BY CONTRACT WITH THE PATENT PROTECTION CORPORATION

Keep Your Accounts Easily and Accurately in this Modern Way

THEATRE ACCOUNTING

by WILLIAM F. MORRIS, C. P. A.

$4.00 enough for a full year's bookkeeping

A system devised expressly for keeping a correct tabulation of each day's receipts and expenses. Used by thousands of theatres. Guard against losses through errors, avoid income tax troubles—order this ledger today.

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
Rockefeller Center, New York City

use in almost any climate, but actually the size of the tower, the quantity of water and the construction of the tower in relation to the output of the compressor that it is designed to serve will depend to a very large extent on atmospheric conditions.

Maintenance of Cooling Tower

In most instances the cooling towers in connection with the air-conditioning systems are not very prepossessing parts of the total equipment. Located generally on the roof, they are hard to get up to, and when one arrives on the roof he sees only a large box affair, the sides of which look as if they were board slats (louvers), and not until one climbs to the very top can he observe just what is taking place in the tower. The condenser water cooling equipment is very, very important to the proper and efficient operation of the air-conditioning system, and the cooling tower deserves much more attention than it usually gets. Cleanliness is the keynote of cooling tower maintenance, and except for the inaccessible feature of the cooling tower, there is no excuse for neglecting it.

The cooling tower is not a haphazard contraption; it is carefully designed and computed to perform certain work. Home-made towers fashioned from converted air washers have not generally proved at all satisfactory. Don't spend good money for refrigeration and then try to use the old air washer converted into a cooling tower for cooling condenser water.

The four types of atmospheric cooling equipment observed as part of theatre air-conditioning plants, in the order of their efficiency, are: (a) spray ponds, (b) spray cooling towers, (c) natural draft towers with spill troughs and decks, and (d) mechanical draft towers.

Take time off in the early spring and climb up and inspect your cooling tower, if you already have one; it is a good thing to become acquainted with it—it is so vitally important to your air-conditioning system. It should be thoroughly cleaned before next season, with the pans painted at least two coats of the best marine paint, while the strainer to the suction line to the pump should be cleaned or renewed. The float valve on the make-up water line should be in good working order, decks and louvers should be repaired, and guy lines and braces should be checked and painted. —J. T. K.

A Modern Design Costing $31 a Seat

(Continued from page 15)

ice or cooling coil equipment and compressors later). Blowers and deflectors are located in separate rooms above the stage floor level at each side of the proscenium opening.

Air is conveyed from outside through openings in the rear wall of basement, passes through the washers, then through ducts leading to blowers mounted on each side of the stage and into the auditorium by means of grilles at either side of the stage opening.

The heating system for the auditorium is of warm-air circulating type, with oil burner thermostatically controlled from the auditorium. A bonnet control at the heating plant regulates the motor on the blower according to temperature.

To provide an apparent cooling effect in summer, the ventilation system will move 120 cubic feet of air per minute per seat, with complete exhaust outdoors.

The lobby, toilet rooms, manager's office, projection room and cry room are heated by separate oil-fired, warm air circulating system with exhaust fans in toilet and projection rooms to prevent any recirculation from these areas.

High Intensity Spotlight Using "Suprex" Carbons

A HIGH-INTENSITY "suprex" carbon arc spotlight has been developed by Hall & Connolly, Inc., of New York. This equipment is 60 inches long and may be adjusted to any height suitable for projection through projection room ports.

The optical system of this new spot picks up the light from its arc with a condenser consisting of a plano-convex lens 6 inches in diameter, with a converging parabolic lens of equal diameter. This combination is rated to send to the objective lens 50% more of the available light than was possible with the old style high-intensity spotlight.

In front of the condenser is a spotting iris 3 inches in diameter, mounted on the rear end of a carriage which may be moved forward or back at will. On the front end of this carriage is a plano-convex lens which acts as the objective. By moving this carriage back and forth with relation to the condenser, the diameter of the spot is instantly expanded or contracted from

● Baker System Air Conditioning installed in your theatre will make every night a hit night at your box office. Remember that every Baker installation is custom-built to meet individual requirements, thus assuring economical efficiency which includes silent, dependable, low-cost operation. Get complete information from your local representative or write direct to

BAKER ENDURING QUALITY

BAKER
ICE MACHINE CO., INC.

MEMBER AIR CONDITIONING MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION RELIABILITY ACMA EXPERIENCE

1554 EVANS STREET, OMAHA, NEBRASKA

BRANCH FACTORIES: FORT WORTH -- LOS ANGELES -- SEATTLE
EASTERN SALES: NEW YORK :: CENTRAL SALES: CHICAGO
SALES AND SERVICE IN ALL PRINCIPAL CITIES

AUTHORITY ON MECHANICAL COOLING FOR OVER 30 YEARS

ROYALCHROME makes theatres
MODERN

It costs less to modernize with BEAUTIFUL
Royalchrome
DISTINCTIVE FURNITURE

because it immediately establishes a strictly up-to-date effect.

ROYAL'S exclusive TUFTEX leatherette, in a wide choice of colors, allows the decorators vision to be fulfilled, knowing that the style will last.

Insist on the ROYALCHROME tag. It is your assurance of a quality to withstand the hardest use.

ROYAL METAL MFG. CO.
1148 S. Michigan Ave., CHICAGO
NEW YORK LOS ANGELES TORONTO

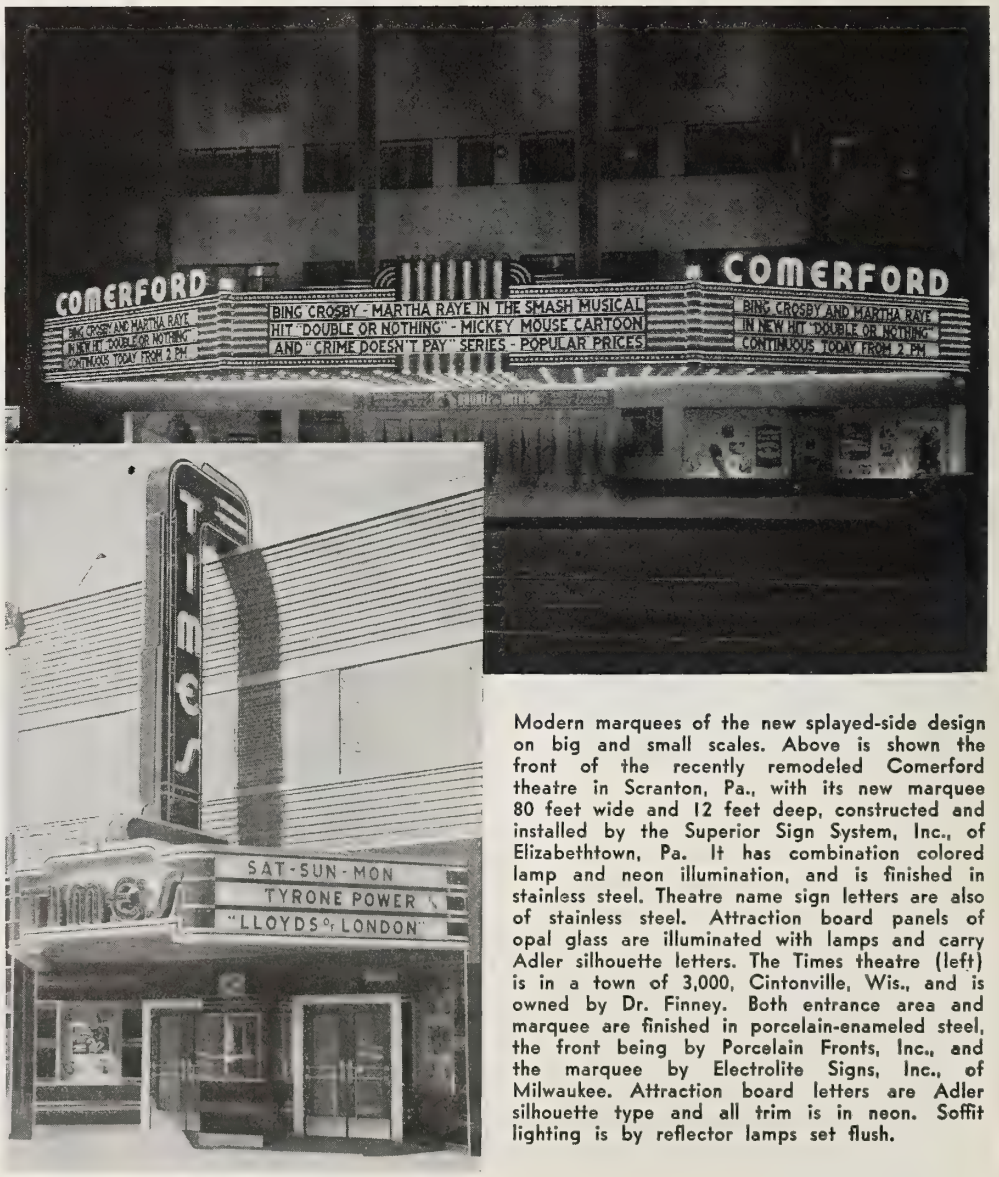
Royal
"Metal Furniture Since '97"

"face" size to as large as is required in theatre practice.

The spot is sharp as to its edges, and a brilliant white. Just back of the aforesaid objective, mounted in a metal frame that ordinarily lies flat on the optical system tubular carrier, is a second plano-convex lens which may be instantly swung up into position at the rear of the objective, which action produces flood light. Just in front of this is a fading iris 6 inches in diameter. Movement may be controlled at the rear of the lamphouse or at either side of it.

Referring to the accompanying photograph of the spotlight: Under the optical system carrying tube, near its front end, is the handle with which the flood lens is positioned or removed from action. Back of it, under the tube is the knob by means of which the sliding carriage is handled, and to the bottom of which is a rod which ends in a second controlling handle located just under the loop-shaped handle at the rear of the lamphouse.

The rectangular lamphouse doors open downward and extend the entire length of the lamphouse. Under the lamphouse we see a semi-circular segment upon which degrees are marked, indicating the projection angle at which the lamp is set. It is locked, if desired, into that position by the round handwheel. The lever in the supporting column is used to lock the lamp into desired height position.



Just in front of the angle indicator is a short handle extending downward. It is used to strike the arc.

The lamp is over-balanced, the heavy end in front. Under its rear end may be observed a long coil spring, which is adjustable as to tension; this spring is used to effect perfect balance.

Just over the lamphouse door are four elements that may be moved sidewise. To each of these, two color slides are attached, making eight colors available, two to each handle, according to which way it is moved. These slides are located inside the lamphouse, close to the condenser, a location calculated to increase durability.

The lamp uses a "suprex" carbon combination, but the positive carbon rotates. The entire rotating mechanism is located near the top of the right-hand lamphouse door and therefore not subjected to extremely high temperatures.

The carbon contacts are wholly automatic, with tightening of screws. Current is supplied to the positive carbon at a point about 2 inches from its crater; to the negative at about half its length from the arc.

Modern marquees of the new splayed-side design on big and small scales. Above is shown the front of the recently remodeled Comerford theatre in Scranton, Pa., with its new marquee 80 feet wide and 12 feet deep, constructed and installed by the Superior Sign System, Inc., of Elizabethtown, Pa. It has combination colored lamp and neon illumination, and is finished in stainless steel. Theatre name sign letters are also of stainless steel. Attraction board panels of opal glass are illuminated with lamps and carry Adler silhouette letters. The Times theatre (left) is in a town of 3,000, Cintonville, Wis., and is owned by Dr. Finney. Both entrance area and marquee are finished in porcelain-enameled steel, the front being by Porcelain Fronts, Inc., and the marquee by Electrolite Signs, Inc., of Milwaukee. Attraction board letters are Adler silhouette type and all trim is in neon. Soffit lighting is by reflector lamps set flush.

News Notes on the • THEATRE EQUIPMENT MARKET •

• A new organization, Wil-Kin Theatre Supply, Inc., has purchased assets of the Wil-Kin Theatre Supply Corporation, and will serve theatres in the Atlanta area under the direction of Nash Weil.

• Equally suited to standard and to safety film, a new film cement said not to absorb moisture from the air or dissolve dyes from certain types of color stock, is offered by the Bell & Howell Company for universal service with all types of motion picture film.

• Automatic boiler regulators, formerly marketed under the trade name "A-Jacks," are illustrated and described in detail in a new 24-page catalog issued by The Brown Instrument Company of Philadelphia. Detailed illustrations and diagrams accompanying the text set forth the advantages and practicable applications claimed for the Brown regulating system.

• Emergency sound units that can be utilized without delay in any case of electrical failure of sound apparatus, are part of the sound service offered by RCA Photophone to the 47 Randforce theatres, located in Brooklyn and on Long Island, which recently contracted for RCA service. Although sound equipment in these theatres is not RCA, the emergency units supplied, if needed, will be adequate to avoid performance interruption, according to a statement just issued by RCA.

• Pacific coast sales of Motiograph projectors and Motiograph Mirrophonic Sound Systems will henceforth be handled exclusively by B. F. Shearer Company, with offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, according to a statement issued by Motiograph, Inc.

Typical Theatre in An Average Town

(Continued from page 7)

comedy angle. Their next choice is light musicals; next come "action pictures."

The Odeon plays an important part in the civic life of the community. It is the center of many benefit performances, and is frequently used for meetings and convention gatherings. In this way the management helps to build good will in the community and make itself a recognized and appreciated unit of the common life. Mr. Butterfield always takes part in civic and fraternal affairs as much as possible.

Beaver Dam people like to pay their own

Built to Excel—Not Just to Compete

TWO REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY

Transcendant beauty and unexcelled comfort make these unsurpassed values universally popular.

The name of your nearest dealer and the Ideal catalog will be sent on request.

IDEAL CHAIRS

IDEAL SEATING COMPANY

Grand Rapids - - - - - - - Michigan

NOW!

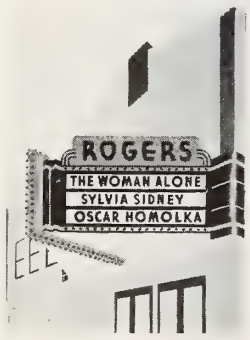
32% MORE POWER CAPACITY AT NO INCREASE IN PRICE ON THE DEPENDABLE NO. 145

autodrape

CURTAIN MACHINE

Making it the

GREATEST VALUE EVER OFFERED



The use of a 1/3 h.p. motor instead of a 1/4 h.p. motor adds another outstanding advantage to the many superior features of this popular equipment. As are all ALLENTOWN Curtain Machines it is equipped with an automatic overload protective breaker, thus eliminating any form of fuse and making replacements unnecessary. Investigate.

AUTOMATIC DEVICES CO.

739 HAMILTON ST., ALLENTOWN, PA.

Also Mfrs. of Steel Curtain Track and Projection Motor Generators

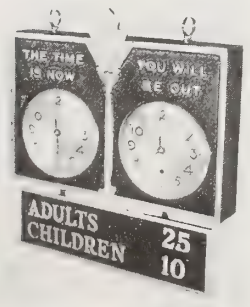
The ARTKRAFT ZEPHYR PRE-FABRICATED MARQUEE

offers most for your modernization dollar. Standardization of basic parts and mass production methods of "The World's Largest Manufacturer of All Types of Signs" permit quality heretofore impossible at such a low price.

Elimination of the old style marquee front permits 100% efficiency of abundant attraction copy as against 20%-60%.

Choice of a variety of effects, color schemes, ornamental trims and uses of neon are combined to create fronts of real individuality.

Write for literature, prices and terms, giving width of front, width of sidewalk and name of theatre. Also make inquiry on Artkraft Porcelain Enamel Fronts, Artkraft Extruded Aluminum Poster Frames, Climax Reflectors and Climax Reflector Flush Border Construction.



The STANDARD of COMPARISON

THE ARTKRAFT SIGN CO.

150 Sales Offices Throughout America and Abroad.

LIMA OHIO

ARTKRAFT SIGNS BEAR THE FOUR UNION LABELS

Original Show Time Boxoffice Admission Sign Clocks

Can be had in 1-2-3 lines of wording.

Sold by your SUPPLY Dealer.

ALBERT SPRINCIN MFG. COMPANY

1962 East 71st Place, Chicago, Ill.

way. Few, says Mr. Butterfield, ever seek a pass to the Odeon.

Resources and Competition

The population of Beaver Dam is 65% of German extraction, 5% Irish, and 5% Polish. Only 15% are foreign-born.

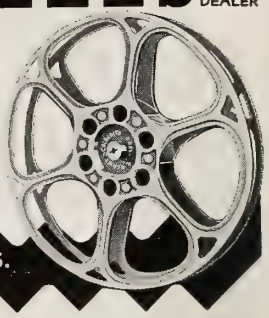
Beaver Dam is a combination of industrial and agricultural interests. The city was founded in 1852 and got its name from the many beaver dams in nearby rivers and lakes. There are thirteen manufacturing enterprises, the largest of which is the Malleable Iron Range Company. The second largest is the Weyenberg Shoe Company, which has two plants in Beaver Dam. About 1800 men are regularly employed in local industries, which have an aggregate payroll of $3,000,000 yearly. In three banks there are on deposit about $5,550,000. Beaver Dam bankers say that the average man, earning $1,300, saves 10% of his salary.

A theatre in Beaver Dam competes for the average wage earners' dollars with progressive merchants in many lines. Typical prices in stores which attract most buyers, include groceries at $8 weekly for a family of four, topcoat at $22.50, suit at $25, overcoat at $25, shirt at $1.50, women's dresses at $11, shoes at $3.95, whiskey at $1 a pint, living room suites at $90.

The liquor trade in Beaver Dam is well regulated. There are 40 taverns paying $200 license fees each. A few have small floor shows.

Inasmuch as the average Beaver Dam family has a car—in a large number of cases, one bought second-hand—the countryside offers strong competition throughout a large part of the year. Besides "going to the movies," the principal means of entertainment are automobiling, hiking and fishing.

On Saturdays and Sundays, the surrounding farming area suplies a large proportion of the patronage, farm families driving into town from as far as 30 miles away. Farm people around Beaver Dam are also notably attracted by "cash-award nights."



New Direct Contact Principle Applied To Dehumidification

THE ADDITION of Silica Gel dehumidifying apparatus has been added to the air-conditioning equipment offered by the Carrier Corporation, now of Syracuse, N. Y. With this recently developed equipment, dehumidification is accomplished by the application of the dehydrating quality of a solid adsorbent called "Silica Gel."

Silica Gel is a hard, synthetic substance having the appearance of clear quartz granules. Structurally it is extremely porous. When moisture is brought in contact with a quantity of it, it will take up 40% of its weight in moisture, and even when completely saturated, will seem per-

ALUMINUM REELS ASK YOUR DEALER

GOLDBERG

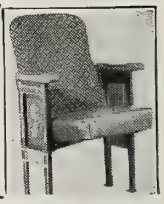
Sold thru THEATRE SUPPLY DEALERS Exclusively

GOLDBERG BROS. Denver, Colo.

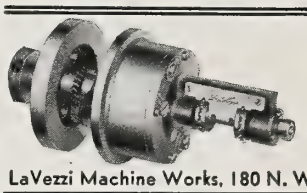
HEYWOOD-WAKEFIELD

Streamline SEATS

Made to Order for the Modern Theatre



NEW AND USED OPERA CHAIRS



of all kinds at lowest prices. Also repair parts for all makes of veneer and upholstered Opera Chairs. Projection Machines, Sound Equipment and Accessories.

Write for catalogue "E"

MOVIE SUPPLY CO., Ltd.

844 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Intermittent Movement and Precision Intermittent Part Specialists Since 1908

LaVezzi Machine Works, 180 N. Wacker Dr., Chicago

REYNOLDS DIRECT SHOT BLOWERS

for cooling, ventilating, exhaust, or circulating warm air.

Quiet Ball Bearings. Variable Speed Control, belt and motor pulley. 6 sizes. $47.50 up.

REYNOLDS MANUFACTURING CO. (Formerly Wolverine Blower Works)

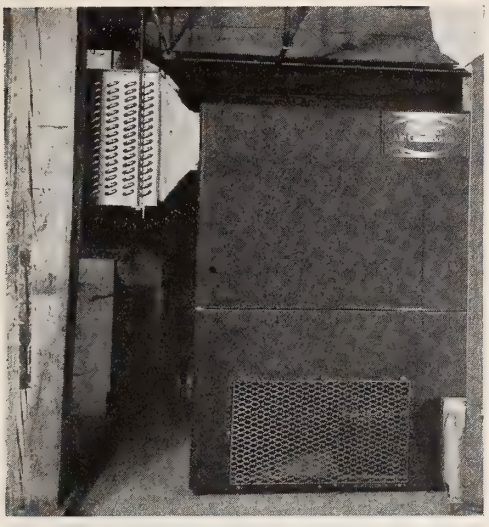
412 Prospect Ave. N.E. Grand Rapids, Mich.

- BLOWERS -

1000 to 10,000 cu. ft. capacity can be used for Circulating Heated Air or for Cooling.

Prices start at $18.95

Taylor Air Conditioning Co.



804 Wealthy Street Grand Rapids, Michigan

GENERAL SEATING COMPANY CHICAGO

Advertisements are guides to intelligent buying—use them. For the reader's convenience a complete index of advertisers is on page 44.

fectly dry and show no increase in volume, nor any change in chemical composition. The moisture is readily expelled by the application of gas heat so that the Silica Gel is capable of absorbing a like quantity of moisture again. Silica Gel can be used indefinitely without deterioration.

The equipment used to "dehydrate" air by this method is automatic in its operation. Essentially, it consists of a series of Silica Gel dehumidifying unit.

Silica Gel trays or beds, motor-driven fans to convey the air to be dehydrated, a gas heater to produce "reactivating" air, and automatic controls for continuous operation, all contained in a housing.

The principle of this method has been utilized in combination with Carrier mechanical and centrifugal refrigeration air conditioning systems. It is being used in this manner to condition one section of the new windowless office building of the Carrier Corporation at Syracuse, New York.

Two-Floor Scheme of Functional Style

(Continued from page 10)

Trane convectors, which are recessed underneath the marble window stools to blanket the air spillage from the large glass block areas.

An interesting feature of the duct distribution system for the office floors was necessitated by the frequent cutting up of the office space into an outer office along the windows, a middle office, and an inside office on the corridor. The main ducts are carried above the corridor ceiling. However, in order to extend ducts to these three tiers of offices, the ceilings had to be stepped. This arrangement enabled individual branch ducts to enter each tier of offices and supply air through grilles on the side walls. Recirculation is accomplished by the use of wooden flat transfer grilles in all the office doors leading to the corridors. Large ceiling recirculating grilles are provided in each corridor returning the air to the unit. This is one of the few instances in which air-conditioning units are placed in the center of the building.

modernization & replacement recent installations of theatre equipment, furnishings, etc., reported by exhibitors, local dealers and manufacturers.

• Artkraft Sign Company of Lima, Ohio, reports the installation of new marquees on the Lyric in Lima; Paramount, New Castle, Pa.; Markay, Jackson, Ohio; and Strand, Jefferson, Tex.

• New seating has recently been supplied by the Ideal Seating Company to the Tremo theatre, Bronx, New York; Colony, Shaker Heights, Cleveland; Cornel College, Mt. Vernon, Ia.; Orpheum, Connellsville, Pa.; Amsterdam, Detroit; Webster Square, Worcester, Mass.; Colonial, South Hill, Va.; and Fausto, Havana.

• U. S. Air Conditioning Corporation Kooler-Aire systems have been installed in the Weddington theatre, Pikesville, Ky.; De Voto, Yazoo, Miss.; Adams in Mass.; a new theatre of Jamaica Theatres, Ltd., in Jamaica, B.W.I.; the Highland in Akron, Ohio; Falls, Chippewa Falls, Wis.

• Scott Ballantyne Company report installation of sound, projection and seating equipment in the Star theatre, Ute, Ia.; New Chief, Tecumseh, Neb.; State, Idaho Springs, Colo.; and Oxford, Oxford, Kans.

• Heywood-Wakefield Company has installed auditorium seating in the Wyoming theatre in Wyoming, Pa.; Arcade, Camden, N. J.; Regent, Syracuse, N. Y.; Strand, Canajoharie, N. Y.; Kallet, Oneida, N. Y.; Rialto, Glens Falls, N. Y.

• Twenty-four theatres are included in recent reports of Western Electric sound systems contracted for with National Theatre Supply Company. The theatres are:

Red Springs in Red Springs, N. C.; Temple, Wheeling, W. Va.; Chief, Pocatello, Idaho; Gloria, Charleston, S. C.; Idle Hour, Williamstown, Ky.; Joy's, Mansura, Ky.; Marr, Saginaw, Mich.; Orpheum, Strawberry Point, Iowa; State, Washington, Iowa; Hatboro, Hatboro, Pa.; Granada, Streator, Ill.; Vogue, South Gate, Calif.; Grand, Bristol, Pa.; Dock Street, Charleston, S. C.; Spencer, Spencer, Iowa; Lyric, Lillington, N. C.; Porterville, Porterville, Calif.; Pike, Pikesville, Md.; Nile, Minneapolis, Minn.; Cameo, Philadelphia, Pa.; New, Long Island City, N. Y.; Johnsonville, Johnsonville, S. C.; Princess and Youngstown, Ohio.

• International Seat Corporation reports new installations in the Avon theatre in Lebanon, Ind.; Winchester, Winchester, Mass.; Vassar, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Wisconsin, Milwaukee; Lake Shore, Chicago.

THE ORIGINAL AND MOST SATISFACTORY UNIT DISPLAYS OF TWO OR MORE LINES OF LETTERS WITHOUT DIVIDER BARS . . . .

Windsor Theatre, Chicago, an early installation of three lines of ADLER SILHOUETTE LETTERS in 3-decker supporting frames, which with the glass are placed in one large opening in the sign.

In Successful Use for the Past Two Years

Modern ADLER

Patented "Streamline"

CAST ALUMINUM

SILHOUETTE LETTERS

and STAINLESS STEEL REMOVABLE

SUPPORTING FRAMES

With Adler Reflecting Bevels and Bold Broad Strokes

FULLY PATENTED—ADLER "Streamline" SILHOUETTE LETTERS with BEVELED EDGES AND SUPPORTING FRAMES are fully covered by U. S. Patents No. 2,038,978 granted April 28, 1936, and 1,989,855 granted February 5, 1935. Infringers will be prosecuted.

PROTECTED BY NATIONAL PATENT CORPORATION CHICAGO

MANUFACTURED BY

ADLER SIGN LETTER CO.

720-B So. Dearborn St., CHICAGO 1457-B Broadway, NEW YORK CITY

CHICAGO -- NEW YORK -- TORONTO, CAN. -- LONDON, ENG.

Relative Characteristics of Low And High Intensity Projection Light

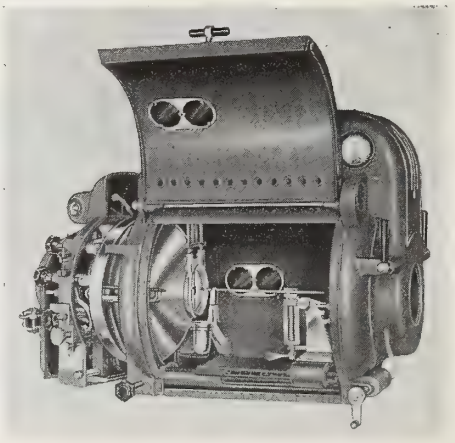
● Demonstrating how the new earth metal carbon for low voltage high intensity arcs makes superior screen illumination available to the smaller theatres everywhere

By E. R. GEIB

THE OPTICS of motion picture projection confine the source of usable light almost entirely to a portion of the crater or face of the positive carbon. For this reason the light emitted by the arc stream, the tail flame or the tip of the negative carbon need not be considered in a discussion of factors affecting the quality and intensity of the light projected on the screen.

In the low intensity d. c. arc, the source of screen light is the incandescent face or crater of the positive carbon. The amount and color quality of the light produced is essentially a function of the temperature at the crater face, and this temperature, in turn, is a function of the current in the carbon. Increasing the arc current increases the diameter and brilliancy of the crater and the whiteness of the light emitted, but there are limits beyond which further increase of current produces no beneficial results.

Oxidation of the cylindrical surface of the carbon places a limit on further increase in crater diameter, while the vaporizing temperature of carbon places a limit on intrinsic brilliancy of the crater and whiteness of the emitted light. The maximum intrinsic brilliancy obtainable from the positive crater of the low-intensity arc is about 175 c. p. per sq. mm. The color distribution of the light obtained at this limiting temperature is shown in Figure 1. This is whiter than the light from incandescent sources of lower temperature, but as indicated by the excess of yellow, orange and red, it possesses a definitely yellow tint. When this limiting temperature has been reached, further increase of current will consume the carbons faster, but will make the crater light no whiter, nor more brilliant. It is just like turning up the gas under a pan of water already boiling. The water will boil away faster, but it will remain at 212° F.



The optics of motion picture projection further require, for most efficient use of generated light, a source of small area. Therefore, to increase efficiently the light on the projection screen beyond that available from the low intensity arc, a light source of higher intrinsic brilliance is needed—that is, one giving out more candle power per unit of crater area. The high-intensity d. c. arc meets this requirement.

Basic Differences Between L. I. and H. I.

THE HIGH-INTENSITY arc is essentially different from the low-intensity. The positive carbon of the latter has a neutral central core of softer carbon which

Features of the Ashcraft Suprex Lamp

● A patented method of using an electro-magnet to control the action and flow of the luminescent gases of the arc is one of the many features characterizing the Ashcraft Type D Suprex lamp. The top of the combustion chamber is sloped backward at an angle of 10°; thus, when the lamphouse is mounted for use at an average projection angle, the top is horizontal, or nearly so, and there is no pocket at the top rear to collect smoke and ash.

Unit construction makes all parts easily accessible.

The reflector is elliptical, 14 inches in diameter, placed at a sufficient distance from the arc to minimize pitting. It has a white, heat-resisting backing designed not to peel or to allow moisture to attack the silvered surface.

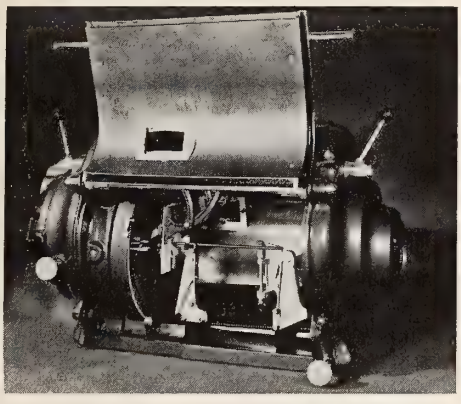
The negative assembly can be moved vertically and laterally with reference to the positive carbon. Independent speed control of both positive and negative carbons is designed for perfect feeding at all arc currents and voltages.

Motor speed is controlled by a double rheostat, and can be varied from 500 to 5,000 r.p.m., permitting correct feeding at whatever arc current proves most economical and practical for the size of screen employed.

All control handles are onyxite, conveniently located on the operating side.

Carbon carriage drive is achieved by a cycle chain, pre-tested at 500 pounds tensile strength.

A cup-shaped shield completely protects the mirror during striking of the arc, swinging out of the way to the top of the lamphouse when the front dowser lever is operated.



Carbon holders accommodate all trims from 6 to 10 mm. positive, and 5 to 9 mm. negative. The positive carbon holder carries a simple adjusting nut for this purpose; the nagative holder needs no adjustment. Rapid trimming under all circumstances is facilitated by the design of the controls.

Features of the Strong Mogul Lamp

● In the Strong Mogul lamp, designed for low voltage high-intensity operation, both positive and negative carbons are fed automatically at the rate at which they are consumed, irrespective of arc amperage. Feeding rates of both carbons can be adjusted separately.

The positive guide moves forward automatically, at the end of the trim, to reduce carbon waste to a minimum.

Both carbon holders are full floating;

the positive grips the carbon at the extreme end, permitting 12 inches to be burned without resetting. Both holders are adjustable to accommodate carbons of various sizes. An indicator scale shows the length of unburned carbon in inches. A series electro-magnet stabilizes the flame.

Double-walled, ventilated side doors hinge upward. A rear door provides accessibility to motor and mechanism. Spring supports allow the reflector to expand when heated; catch mounting permits easy removal for cleaning.

Controls for quick striking and for feeding are located at the operating side of the housing, as is the optical system for viewing the arc. The ammeter, regular equipment on Mogul lamps, is at the rear and indirectly illuminated for quick reading under all circumstances. Arc vision windows, mounted in clips to permit expansion and prevent vibration, are provided at both sides and at the rear, facilitating accurate alignment.

The cast aluminum center frame, which constitutes a rigid support for all the mechanical assemblies, is removable as a single, self-contained unit. This frame, dividing the lamphouse into two compartments, effectively protects the mechanical compartment from heat, ash and grit.

The reflector is 14 inches in diameter, providing light interception and reflection over 145°.

The dowser system protects the reflector during the striking of the arc. Located within the housing, it permits the light cone to be set within the flange of the projector rear shutter to make a light tight installation.

The trimming light, automatically operated by opening the lamphouse door, serves also as a framing light, illuminating the film gate as well as the lamphouse interior.

steadies the arc stream and keeps it from wandering over the crater face, but does not materially affect the quality of the light. The high-intensity positive has a flame supporting element in the core which does affect the quality of the light emitted. The high-intensity positive is also operated at a current density from three to four times that used with low-intensity carbons and burns with a deep, cup-like crater, whereas the low-intensity positive burns with a shallow crater formation. These differences in character of positive carbon and method of operation produce what is termed the "high intensity effect."

Figure 1

Figure 2

Each section represents a color. Starting from left, colors are violet, blue, green, yellow, orange, red.

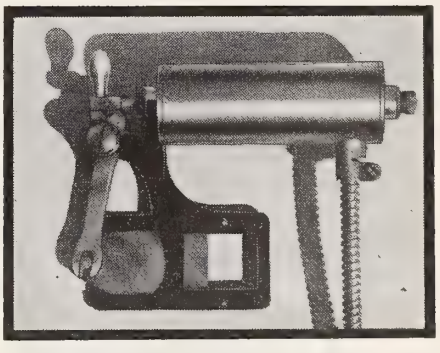
While possibly not in strict accord with physical fact, this effect may be considered as due, in part, to a somewhat higher temperature within the carbon crater itself, but the major effect is produced in the cup-shaped crater by particles of the light-giving rare earth elements used in the carbon core. The light emitted is snow white in quality—that is, it contains an even balance of all colors, and the intrinsic brilliancy of the crater face is 380 to 800 c. p. per sq. mm. The color distribution of the light from a typical high intensity arc is shown by Figure 2, from which the even balance of all colors is apparent. To obtain this color quality, an incandescent solid would have to be heated to a temperature well above 5000° C, over 2000° higher than the temperature at the positive crater of the low-intensity arc, which derives its light from incandescent solid carbon.

Operating Characteristics



Since the "high intensity effect" seems to require that the vapors released from the positive crater be retained and compressed within the crater cup, the maintenance of full high-intensity effect and steady light output necessitates the preser-

"Up" SCREEN QUALITY!

For bigger profits in 1938 improve the quality of your pictures with a bright new Da-Lite Screen of the proper surface for your theatre —white, silver or shatter-proof beaded. See your closest dealer.

DA-LITE SCREEN CO., INC.
2725 N. Crawford Ave., Chicago, Ill.

DA-LITE
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
SCREENS

WEAVER
De Luxe MOTIOGRAPH
DOUSER

A precision electric Douser designed for the de luxe model Motiograph. Mounts on projector mechanism. Sturdy, light weight. Metal Blade operates where the light beam is smallest, effecting a sure, speedy, silent change-over.

Simple installation—positive performance. 1-year unconditional guarantee.

Price per pair, less switches,

$50.00

Manufacturers of: Electric Dousers, Curtain Controls, Color Changers, Steel Track, Spot Lamps, Magnascope Controls, Steel Picture Sheet Frames, Footlight Microphone, Theatrical Specialties.

WRITE FOR FOLDER

WEAVER
MANUFACTURING CO.
1639 E. 102 St., Los Angeles, Calif.

GOLDBERG BROS. DENVER COLO.

Sold thru recognized theatre dealers only-
Price $6.00 anywhere in the United States

GARVER KURRENT CHANGERS

Operate more economically, saving 20%-30% changing A.C. to D.C. Assure the steady current (15 to 30 amps.) necessary to a stable arc. Permit undetectable changeovers. The quietest made. Set up no interference... $82 up. At your dealer's or write Garver Electric Co., Union City, Ind.

ILEX F:2.5

Transmits high intensity lamp output with full efficiency — sharp, contrasty color-free projection.

Write direct or to your dealer!

ILEX OPTICAL CO.
ROCHESTER, NEW YORK

vation of a deep and symmetrical crater form. In some types of high-intensity lamps this is accomplished by rotating the positive carbon while the arc is burning. Furthermore, since the positive carbons used in these lamps are not metal coated, the carbon support and electrical connection to the carbon are placed as close as practicable to the arc and provided with ventilating vanes, to dissipate the heat. This eliminates spindling of the positive carbon, which would be almost certain to occur were the heavy arc current required to pass through a considerable length of uncoated carbon. The negative carbon, in these types of high-intensity lamps, is held at an angle to the positive carbon, and an important detail in the technique of operation is the maintenance of proper relative position between positive and negative carbons so that the maximum light with steady operation may be obtained.

These high-intensity arcs provide a tremendous volume of screen illumination. They made possible the larger motion picture theatres, with a long throw and large screen. The reflecting type, low-intensity lamp was a distinct advance over the earlier inclined feed, condenser type lamp; it could not possibly supply, however, the amount of screen light required by deluxe houses.

The Newer High-Intensity Arc

The high-intensity arc educated motion picture theatre audiences to the advantages of white projection light—the improved clarity and depth it gives to black and white projection, and the accuracy of color tones, impossible to obtain from color features with the yellowish light of the low-intensity arc. Of course, the advantages of a higher level of screen and general illumination and of snow white projection light are as great for the small theatre as for the large, but the investment and operating costs of the condenser type of high-intensity lamps, designed for large theatres, are more than the small theatre can pay, hence the significance to the smaller theatres of the high-intensity d. c. light source employing carbons commonly identified as "suprex," which are copper-coated, smaller in diameter than those used for the other types of high-intensity arcs, while both positive and negative are held in a horizontal position.

The copper coating adds sufficient electrical conductivity to permit holding the carbon at the end opposite the arc without spindling resulting, and a symmetrical crater form is maintained on the positive carbon without rotation. Power requirements, over the spread of arc currents recommended for the various sized trims range from 15% to 45% of the power used by the large high-intensity lamps with rotating positive, but the light is of the same white quality.

Contrasted with low-intensity projection, this type of arc provides two to three times as much screen illumination, improved projection of black and white, and acurate color reproduction.

[The author is manager of the arc department of National Carbon Co.—THE EDITOR.]

Features of the Morelite Mon-Arc Lamp

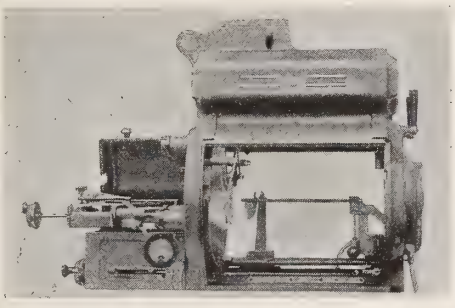
● The Morelite Mon-Arc low voltage high-intensity lamp features mechanical control of both positive and negative carbon feed, independently of the motor rheostat. In consequence, the feeding of either carbon can be adjusted, while the lamp is burning, through a single operation, while the motor is unaffected and continues to rotate at its rated speed.

Both carbons are driven by twin feed screws, so designed that arc length can be adjusted at any time without interference with the motor action.

A specially built General Electric motor, equipped with ball bearings and sealed lubrication, is used.

A 14-inch Bausch & Lomb reflector surface is almost completely unobstructed. The reflector is air-cooled, and can be adjusted laterally to compensate for any difference of curvature that may be found in a replacement mirror. Adjustment can be changed while the lamp is burning. Protection against pitting when the arc is struck is provided by a twin dowser. Both front and protective dowsers are completely contained within the lamphouse. Mirror guards are furnished further to protect the reflector.

Any trim or length of carbon available domestically or abroad can be used without change of parts or any complicated adjustment. Provision is included for future increase in carbon diameter, up to 12 mm. positive, and 9 mm. negative, and length up to 20 inches. Amperage may be as low as 32, and as high as 110, according to screen requirements. The motor stops automatically when the carbons reach their consumption limits, the light decreasing slowly from that point on. Quick-trim clamping devices permit carbons to burn down to 1¼-inch stubs.



The arc reflector screen is translucent, permitting the projectionist to observe the reflected image of arc performance from either side of the housing. There are no moving parts (except the motor) outside the housing.

Ammeter is standard equipment; a consumption guide indicates the number of inches of positive carbon remaining. Positive stubs can be burned in the negative holder by simple adjustment of the negative speed regulator.

Features of the Brenkert Enarc Lamps

• An independent striker that starts the arc with extreme rapidity is provided at the right side of the Brenkert Enarc low voltage high-intensity lamp. Entirely divorced from the feeding mechanism this striker minimizes the period of sputting during which the reflector is most strongly subject to pitting.

Two flame shields of special nickel alloy further protect the mirror. When the front dowser is opened the shields automatically move out of the path of the light beam, and also out of the direct path of ascending ash and heat.

Replaceable positive and negative carbon guides of heat resisting steel, located near the burning ends, insure proper alignment.

All parts are readily accessible and quickly removable for inspection or cleaning. Doors of the combustion chamber hinge horizontally; cover of the mechanism chamber swings vertically.

Compound lens system permits the projectionist to view an image of the arc from either side of the house. Controls are located for operation from right, left or rear. Ammeter and carbon consumption scale are mounted at the operating side. Carbon scales show feeding of both positive and negative mechanisms.

Automatic, wide range feed operating through micrometer action screws permits burning the carbons at the proper current for the screen illumination desired.

A 13½-inch Bausch & Lomb reflector is mounted on the back plate of the combustion chamber where its alignment is undistrubed. An air-cooling chamber just behind the mirror prolong its useful life.

The flame is stabilized by an electromagnet located in back of the mirror.

All moving and controlling mechanism is mounted in a separate, dust-proof, low-temperature chamber located at the rear of the combustion chamber.

The positive holder accommodates seven to nine mm. carbons without change. A fully enclosed pilot light is provided, and controlled by an automatic door switch.

Ventilation is provided for in full-length vents, combined with suitable baffles, at the base of the housing. Air rises upward along the side walls without disturbing the arc. The vent flue is located directly over the arc to permit free escape of ash.

The Low-Voltage H. I. Arc And Its Characteristics

• Summarizing the principal operating features and maintenance requirements of the projection light source employing rare-earth carbons with d.c.

MODERN LOW voltage high projection arcs (so-called "Suprex") actually offer the exhibitor something for nothing—literally, more and whiter light at no increase in operating cost; or, if economy is preferred, the same screen illumination at much lower cost with the bonus of whiter light thrown in gratis.

Combinations of some increase in screen brilliance, coupled with a moderate reduction in operating charges, are also entirely practical. Any desired combination along those lines can be obtained at will, and changed instantly (if the power source is adequate) with no more trouble than inserting a different set of carbons and readjusting their feed regulation. For example, illumination can be increased to give better results with a color picture, and restored to normal for more economical operation with black and white, and this change can be made not only from day to day, but between reels in the course of a given show.

Audience Values of Better Light

The advantage of better light from an audience point of view are sufficiently obvious. Photographic beauty is enhanced; details are seen more easily, especially from rear seats, and eye strain is reduced.

Theatres in which existing light is satisfactory can retain the same brilliance (coupled with greater whiteness, which in itself provides all of the audience advantages just mentioned) and reduce lamp

—and Now
A NEW 30 AMPERES
Kni-tron Rectifier

PROFESSIONAL or Portable Use
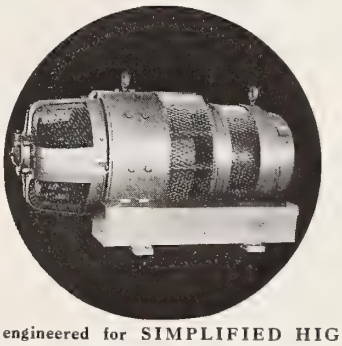
Low Intensity Projection



New moulded magnetic leak laminations. Rubber mountings. Compact. Noiseless with equalized filament voltage. Trouble free operation. Also available in 15 amps. size.

Write for full information.

For sale by Independent Distributors in all principal cities.

THE KNEISLEY ELECTRIC CO.
TOLEDO, OHIO

ROBIN
IMPERIAL STEDYPOWER

Expressly engineered for SIMPLIFIED HIGH INTENSITY PROJECTION. 42 - 60 - 80 Volt Multiple. 35-Volt Duplex.

J·E·ROBIN, INC. ★ MARK OF QUALITY ★

•

At your independent supply dealer.

•

It bears the Robin Mark of Quality — you can buy it with confidence.

J. E. ROBIN, INC.
334 WEST 44TH STREET, NEW YORK

Kaplan
PROJECTORS
729 SEVENTH AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY

(Made in Cincinnati)

IT ISN'T FUN TO FALL!

Workmen like the Dayton because they like safety. They know that its wide leg spread, correctly angled back assembly, properly spaced steps, wide platform with safety guard rail, and scientifically placed steel bracings have made the Dayton Ladder a standard for safety.

And because Daytons last much longer than ordinary ladders, they reduce ladder costs as well as accident costs.

Write Dept. BT-1—for details

THE DAYTON SAFETY LADDER CO.
121-123 West 3rd St. Cincinnati, Ohio

DAYTON Safety Ladder

(Patented)

Send for our Catalog No. 5 showing a complete line of accident prevention equipment.

costs by as much as 32 cents per hour, or $1,400 in a year of 12-hour operation for 360 days.

Lamp Mechanisms And Arc Operation

THE BASIS of the new light, as exhibitors and projectionists are now generally aware, is a new carbon which includes certain of the rare earths in its core. These earths belong to the same family of chemicals that created the lesser brilliance of the old-time lime light, and the old-fashioned gas mantle, but they are now agitated by the greater heat of the electric arc. The white intensity of their light is added to that of the arc itself, effecting an increase of both illumination and whiteness that requires no increase in current. The carbons that contain this type of core must, however, be burned under certain stringent conditions of operation if their inherent advantages are to be realized, and these conditions cannot be met with the type of arc lamp construction formerly used.

Arc current, for one thing, must be matched to the diameter of carbons used (or vice versa), any departure from these requirements resulting either in a decrease of light or a wasteful increase of cost. If the current is to be changed either to alter the light or to cut down expense, then the carbons should be changed correspondingly. Modern lamp houses are designed to accommodate a wide variety of carbons of different diameters, in order to suit either the permanent or temporary needs of any theatre. The rate at which the positive carbon burns away is very sensitive to changes in arc amperage, while the negative burns at nearly the same rate under any current within its intended range; hence the rate of positive feed must be capable of change independently of the rate of negative feed.

Provisions for Adjustment

Provisions for such adjustment are included in low voltage high intensity lamps. Further, the arc flame must be steadied by means of a magnet of suitable power, properly placed in the housing. The position of the reflector with reference to the burning crater is quite critical, and adjustable, reliable positioning devices are imperative. The rare earth cores combine with their great advantages the drawback of sputtering and thus tending to pit the mirror, requiring too frequent replacement unless suitable precautions are taken. These include the provision, in all modern lamps, of a second dowser which intrudes between the reflector and the arc at the time when the arc is struck, moving out of the way when the front dowser is opened for operation. Glass guards that protect the mirror,

(Continued on page 37)

RECT-O-LITE
A BETTER RECTIFIER

for SUPREX CARBON ARC

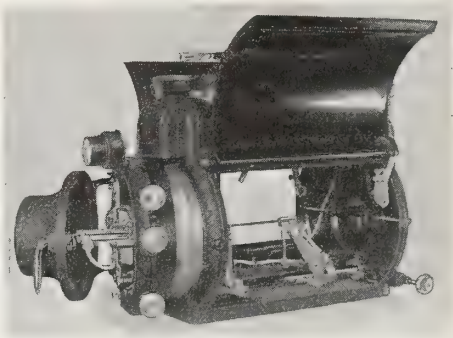
Provides smooth Direct Current. No flicker. No sound interference. No maintenance. Low current cost.

$135.00
(LESS BULBS)



Write for Bulletin No. 45-M

BALDOR ELECTRIC CO.
4367 Duncan Ave., ST. LOUIS, MO.

Features of the Peerless Magnarc Lamp

● Low internal temperature, hence longer reflector life, are promoted in the housing of the Peerless Magnarc low voltage high-intensity lamp, by exceptional cubic capacity. The size is such that the Peerless mechanism will accommodate positive carbons up to 22 inches in length, considerably longer than any now made.

Side doors swing upward. Double rear doors, swinging outward, provide complete accessibility to mirror, motor and mechanism. Each unit of the mechanism is designed for easy and independent removal from the housing, facilitating maintenance.

The reflector is 14 inches in diameter, heavily silvered, air-cooled, mounted to simplify the problems of inspection, removal and cleaning, and to minimize the chances of breakage. It constitutes the dividing wall separating the arc and mechanism compartments.

A double dowser system protects the reflector during the period of striking the arc. Both dowsers are located inside the housing.

Stabilization of flame is secured by means of a U-shaped permanent magnet that consumes no electric power.

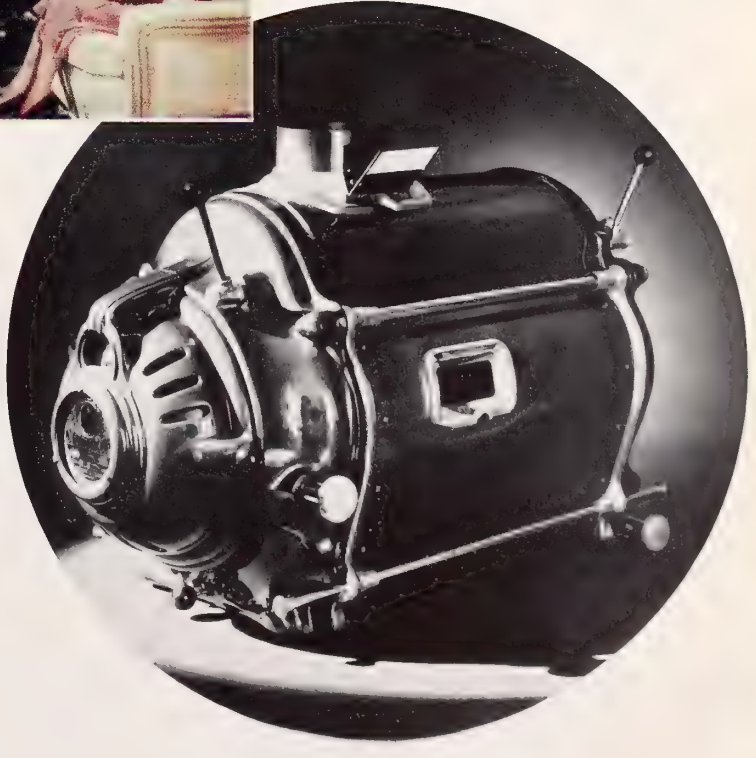
The speed of the motor, which can be varied by a rheostat, controls the positive feed; negative feed is separately governed through a variable, sensitive friction clutch. All end thrusts in the gear mechanism are taken on ball bearings.

Control and adjustment handles are located on the operating side of the mechanism. Dowser handles are provided on both sides. The ammeter is at the rear. Viewing ports for observing and aligning the arc are provided at both sides and at the rear.

Two lenses and an adjustable mirror project a sharply defined image of the arc on an indicator card located at the top of the operating side.

Baffled ventilating ports are provided at top and bottom along the length of the housing, with auxiliary ports at top, front and rear.

Joan Bennett and Warner Baxter in "Walter Wanger's Vogues of 1938"



Only

SIMPLIFIED High Intensity PROJECTION

provides the white light essential to satisfactory projection of the new color pictures which are being shot under lights having the same characteristics.

•

The Strong Mogul Lamp delivers this flawless, steady, brilliant light most economically.

An Invitation . . .

Write for interesting catalog and name of your nearest Independent Theatre Equipment Dealer. He will, without obligation, arrange to demonstrate the Strong lamp in your theatre.

•

The STRONG ELECTRIC Corp.

2501 LAGRANGE ST. TOLEDO, OHIO, U. S. A.

EXPORT OFFICE:

ROOM 2002, 220 W. 42nd ST., NEW YORK, N. Y.

A practical working tool for every projectionist

Revised Sixth Edition
F. H. RICHARDSON'S BLUEBOOK OF PROJECTION

The sixth edition of F. H. Richardson's Bluebook is now in its second printing, for which it has been extensively revised. In addition to revisions in text, it contains a supplementary chapter devoted to developments which have become important in projection room technique and servicing methods since the first printing.

The revised edition includes 736 pages of up-to-the-minute text, charts and data with detailed description of assembly, wiring and functioning of all modern sound and projection apparatus. It is a practical "trouble shooter," cross indexed for immediate reference in any projection room emergency.

If you wish a copy of this essential book, it will be necessary that you fill in and mail the coupon without delay.

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
ROCKEFELLER CENTER NEW YORK

Here's my check for $6.25. Please send me a copy of Richardson's Bluebook of Projection. (Revised Sixth Edition.)

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____

Use this coupon to insure prompt delivery

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
ROCKEFELLER CENTER NEW YORK

(Continued from page 34)

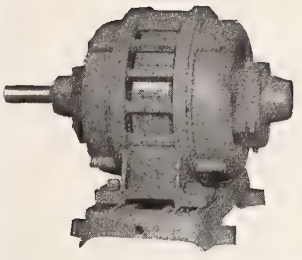
and cost less than the mirror to replace, may also be used.

These and other requirements—accurate alignment of the carbons, for one; a tiny lamphouse screen on which the projectionist can observe the exact shape and placement of his arc, for another—call for a specific type of lamp in which the rare earth carbons can be burned with a full satisfaction and economy of which they are inherently capable.

Not a few exhibitors will also find it advantageous to include reserve power capacity in the source of arc supply in order to provide a temporary increase in light for a color picture for large audiences, some members of which will have to watch the screen from the furthest row of seats. A small stock of carbons suited to the heavier current will have to be laid in, of course.

Operation and Maintenance

It is particularly important, in operation, to use only the correct carbon trim. Fairly large and perfectly unnecessary increase in cost may be expected to result when carbon diameter and current do not match as they should.



Lamps at present available for burning these efficient high-intensity carbons use varied methods of meeting the requirements mentioned, but all require reasonable attention on the part of the projectionist to assure that the arc not only burns properly at the start of a reel, but continues so to burn. Watching the arc, however, is not necessary. Any fault of importance will show up on the screen at once as diminished light intensity or as change in color. The projectionist, watching his screen in the normal course of operation to observe any flaw that may appear, whether connected with the lamp or not, cannot fail to note the signs of imperfect arc performance. When these appear he will consult the small lamphouse screen, or peer through the tinted lamphouse ports, and adjust his controls in accordance with the observed shape and position indicated of the arc gas structure.

Changes in the length of the arc gap, or of the ratio of positive and negative carbon feed are somewhat critical, and most modern lamps are so constructed that the necessary controls can be handled by the projectionist while his face is to the viewing port. He consults not only his special guide mounted on the lamphousing, but the picture as it appears in the theatre, simultaneously with manipulation of the regulating knobs or handles.

Maintenance involves periodical cleaning of the combustion chamber to remove ash and grit; cleaning of the reflector when it becomes fogged; replacement of the reflector (or its shield if used) when pitting reaches the point where light is seriously impaired, and occasional replacement of the carbon guides which, although always made of heat resisting materials, will deteriorate with time, inasmuch as accurate alignment is vitally important, and the guides must in consequence be located fairly close to the flame.

In Air Conditioning Service

A QUIET DEPENDABLE MOTOR IS REALLY IMPORTANT

Specify a

Hertner Fan Motor

Single or Multi-Speed

SOLD THROUGH THE NATIONAL THEATRE SUPPLY COMPANY

MANUFACTURED BY
THE HERTNER ELECTRIC COMPANY
12690 ELMWOOD AVENUE CLEVELAND, OHIO
EXCLUSIVE MANUFACTURERS OF THE TRANSVERTER

MODEL H—Designed to give "PROFESSIONAL RESULTS"

FOLLOW THE TREND

Syncrofilm

PROFESSIONAL SOUND PROJECTOR

for

ECONOMY, PORTABILITY, PERFORMANCE

An outstanding portable of the suit case type—combining projector and sound in one unit. Can be set up in five minutes. Write us for new illustrated catalog! Follow the trend, they're buying Syncrofilm.

also

Model ABH Sound Heads with the Syncrofilm mark of quality—adaptable to push-pull recordings. . . . Write for further information.

WEBER MACHINE CORPORATION
59 RUTTER STREET • ROCHESTER • NEW YORK
EXPORT: 100 VARICK STREET, N.Y.C. CABLE ADDRESS: "ROMOS"

CHECK
WITH US BEFORE
YOU BUY EQUIPMENT

● A 3c stamp may save you many dollars. Make up a list of what you need . . . then get our prices. Ask for our Clearance Sale Bargaingram . . . it's FREE. Shows you loads of swell buys in theatre equipment of all kinds, for lobby, auditorium, stage and projection. See our classified ads in Motion Picture Herald.

"EVERYTHING FOR YOUR THEATRE"

S. O. S. CORPORATION
636-BT 11th Ave. at 46th St., New York

SUPER-LITE LENSES
PRO-JEX SOUND UNITS

are giving universal satisfaction . . . reason enough for their universal popularity!

A TRY-OUT WILL CONVINCE YOU

Projection Optics Co., Inc.
330 Lyell Ave., Rochester, N.Y., U.S.A.

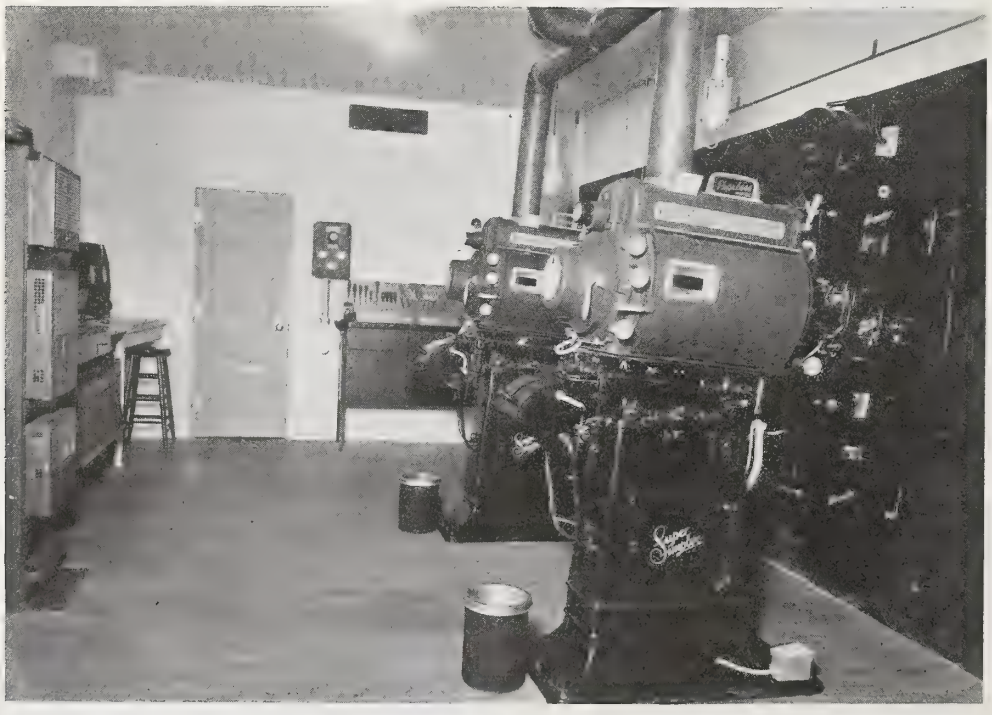
COMMENT ON PROJECTION AFFAIRS

and answers to inquiries . . . By F. H. RICHARDSON

NOW THE SMALLER THEATRE CAN HAVE A "DELUXE" IMAGE

AS SHOULD BY now be well understood, while excessive screen illumination is not commendable, too little illumination is still less desirable. The matter may be briefly stated thus: Too much illumination tends to over-illuminate the whites of screen images, thus more or less turning them into glare spots, the "more or less" being dependent upon position of observer with relation to the screen and the reaction of his eyes to high illumination. In this connection it should be understood that while some eyes can stand high illumination without discomfort, others are susceptible to it, in different degrees.

On the other hand too little screen illumination beyond any possible question of doubt fails to impress upon the screen all those very many finer photographic details, without which the screen image appears less beautiful. The effect may be compared with elimination of the higher frequencies in sound. The sound becomes flat and "dead." The picture from which these finer details are omitted is affected in much the same way.



At this late stage we may all agree that that theatre that presents to its patrons a charmingly beautiful screen image will be more liberally patronized than will the one who does not. That is why year after year I have tried by every means within my power to impress upon this great industry the urgent need for superior excellence in projection.

In the beginning projectionists had available only the weak-unstable, harsh-toned light produced by a.c., applied to the crude, unrefined carbons then used for street lighting. The results were pretty awful and, as I am able to testify personally, trying to illuminate a screen with such a light source was an almost hopeless task.

This, a bit later, was followed by the d.c. arc, limited to 25 amperes, with carbons chock full of hard and soft spots, cracks, impurities and what-have-you. All living projectionists of that day will remember its headaches and something of the unchristian-like language not infrequently heard in the iron lined, wholly unventilated cubbyholes called coops, boxes and hellholes. They will agree that those were not the happy days!

But advancement in excellence of carbons has been constant. Few if any of the years have failed to give us some refinement that has operated to produce improved results upon the screen.

The first really big advance came, however, when the high-intensity carbon was evolved. I well remember its try-out in the Capitol Theatre, New York City, of which the late S. L. Rothafel was then the guiding genius. That advance caused excitement, discussion and argument galore. Its adoption followed rapidly, though its use was for the most part limited to the larger theatres because of the comparatively large amount of power required.

Projection room of the Collegian theatre in Ames, Ia., Ames Theatre Company house opened late last fall. Equipment includes Simples projectors, Peerless Magnarc lamps, Western Electric sound system.

EFFECT OF IRON CORE IN TRANSFORMERS

JOHN L. BEAMEN of New Orleans writes, "While I know the introduction of an iron core strengthens the magnetic effect of a.c. passing throught wire coils, as for example the coils in a transformer, I have been unable to find anything explanatory of the reason why it does so. Will you therefore explain the matter?"

The reason for the effect is difference in permeability of iron and air, the term permeability expressing, in this case, the ability of magnetic lines to pass through with least resistance.

Put in another way: If the coils be filled with iron, a very much greater number of magnetic flux lines would pass through than would be the case were the space occupied by air. However, the increase is affected by quality of the iron. Stated in stricter terms, lines of magnetic flux are greatly increased when a coil is filled with iron rather than air, because of the property of iron termed "magnetic permeability," which means that the magnetic effect is strengthened when iron is present instead of air.

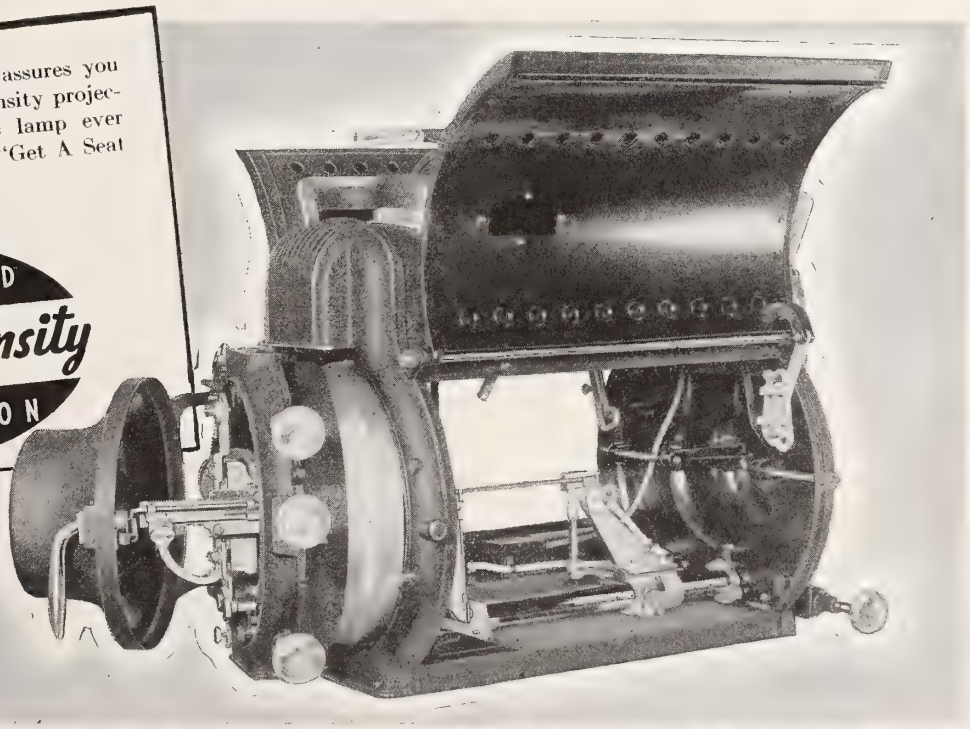
SERVICEABILITY OF BEADED SCREENS

ROY ROBERTS of Ada, Okla., has had some very unsatisfactory results with a certain kind of screen, and writes, "Paragraph 14, page 147, of the Bluebook advises that glass bead screens are highly efficient in long, narrow auditoriums having moderate projection angle. I have just that kind of auditorium. It is 25 feet wide, projection distance 109 feet, projection angle very slight. Present screen has a glass bead surface 12 feet wide. Light source is a Strong low-intensity; use 24 amperes, small lens."

The paragraph referred to is wholly correct. You certainly have had discourag-

HEED THE HANDWRITING ON THE SCREEN

The Day of High Intensity is here!



● Now that one theatre in every three has high intensity projection, every theatre owner without it faces a new situation. Theatres using high intensity have 75 per cent of the country's total seating capacity. They also are the theatres best attended and paying the most profitable return.

Obviously, if thousands of theatres have installed high intensity projection, high intensity projection cannot be expensive. Its really low cost will surprise you. Peerless Magnarc Lamps produce 200 to 300 per cent more light on the screen for the same current cost as low intensity.

You need high intensity projection not only to hold, but to increase your patronage.

Get the facts. Peerless Magnarc assures you of every advantage that high intensity projection affords. It's the finest arc lamp ever built. Write for the new folder, "Get A Seat On The Bandwagon."

SIMPLIFIED High Intensity PROJECTION

Peerless MAGNARC

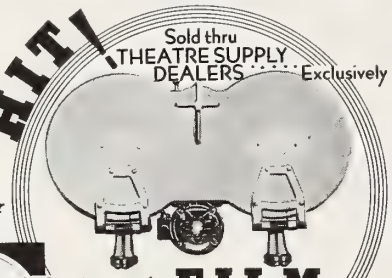
TRADE MARK REG.

MANUFACTURED BY

J. E. McAULEY MFG. CO., 552-554 W. ADAMS ST., CHICAGO

Sold by National Theatre Supply Co.

LET US GIVE YOU A HELPING HAND . . .



NATIONAL THEATRE SUPPLY COMPANY

NATIONAL

EVERY STORE A LOCAL INSTITUTION WITH A NATIONAL REPUTATION FOR RELIABLE SERVICE

A Big HIT!

Sold thru THEATRE SUPPLY DEALERS . . . . . Exclusively

Ask your Dealer

GOLDBERG Automatic FILM REWINDER

GOLDBERG BROS. DENVER, COLO.

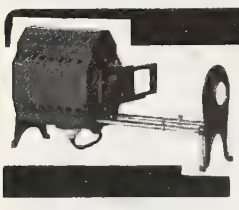
NEW HEAVY PROJECTOR BASE

THREE and FIVE POINT PEDESTALS COMPLETE
16" and 18" MAGAZINES

PARTS FOR SIMPLEX, POWERS, MOTIOGRAPH, PEERLESS HY-LOW AND PEERLESS LOW INTENSITY LAMPS.

Manufactured by

EDW. H. WOLK



1018 S. Wabash Ave. Chicago, Illinois

GoldE

Specify GoldE Standard Products and know you have the best in Spotlights, Rewinds, Rewind Tables, Film Cabinets, New Aluminum Magazines, Stereopticons, Cleaner Stands, New Roto-Chrome Color Spotlight, Change-over, Take-ups, etc.—New Catalog.

◆

GOLDE MFG. CO., 1214-22 W. Madison St., Chicago, Ill.

BEST SLIDE PROJECTORS

● 1000 watt. Range 75-150 feet. With any focus lens 10 to 36 inches. $35.

500 watt "BESTEROPTICON." Range up to 75 ft. With any focus lens 10 to 30 in. $23.

At Your Dealers!

BEST DEVICES CO.
10516 Western Ave. Cleveland, Ohio

"DUO SOUND-MASTER"

SOUND HEADS
AMPLIFIERS
TWO-WAY HORN SYSTEMS
PERFECT REPRODUCTION
PERFECT DISTRIBUTION

THE BALLANTYNE CO.
219 No. 16th Street Omaha, Nebr.

In the Next Issue—

THE STORY OF THE PROJECTION ARC

ing experience with glass bead screens, but as I can personally testify, one can procure a screen with that type of surface which not only will last well, but give very satisfactory service.

There are, of course, other types of screen that you could use. Contact some screen manufacturer of standing, ask for samples of his various types of specular surface screen, tell him (a) the width of seating area at first and last rows, in feet, and (b) the distance from the screen to the first and to the last row of seats.

When you order a screen, obtain an extra piece of the material, at least one foot square, paying for it if necessary. Wrap this piece in several thicknesses of black cloth, keeping it flat; lay it in a dark, dry place. Once every 60 days, using bent pins suspend this sample from the perforations at the middle of your screen and see how its reflection power is standing up—whether or not a cleaning is in order.

EXPLAINING ACTION OF CONCAVE MIRROR

JOHN M. JAMESON of Denver, writes, "I am just entering my seventeenth year, with the hope of some day entering the profession of motion picture-sound projection. With this purpose and hope in view I am studying to acquire knowledge that will fit me to handle those various things the work will bring me into contact with. Your Bluebook of Projection has not only pointed out those various essentials most important, which seem to be basic knowledge of optics, acoustics, electricity, magnetism and the intelligent care of equipments and film. I therefore am concentrating upon those subjects, but have struck a snag.

"I cannot seem to properly understand the action of concave mirrors. I therefore ask that you explain the action of such reflection surfaces in the simplest possible language. I somehow cannot 'get' the text book explanations which involve a virtual image."

I may be able to simplify the explanation of the action of such mirrors, as against the explanations offered by standard text books. First, it must be understood that there are several varieties of mirror concave in form. Spherical is one, elliptical is another, parabolic a third, and there are others not employed in projection work. I shall base my explanation wholly upon the true spherical mirror.

The tangent to a circle at any point on the circumference is perpendicular (meaning at right angles) to the center of curvature of the mirror, the latter shown as B in the diagram. Now that is correctly stated, but doubtless is not wholly clear to many.

Consider the diagram line CC as tangent to the curved line AA and is perpendicular to line DH, which is the radius of the circle that line AA would form were it continued until its ends meet.

In the diagram, line AA represents a spherical mirror surface, the optical axis of which is line XY. CC is a line representing the tangent and the point of the mirror surface where it contacts the tangent is located exactly at right angles to point B, therefore were it possible to project a single light ray from point B to point D it would be reflected directly back upon point B, which would be equally true were it possible to project a single ray from point B to any point of the spherical mirror, assuming the mirror surface to be an absolutely true spherical surface.

Now, there is an optical law reading: The angle of reflection is always equal to the angle of incidence, which means that a ray of light projected to a smooth reflecting surface, such as a mirror, and meeting that surface at an angle, will be reflected from that surface at precisely the same angle. That is to say, if the ray meets the mirror surface at an angle of 10°, it will leave that surface at an angle of 10° in the opposite direction. If, now, we apply that law to our spherical mirror surface and project a single light ray from F to D, we shall find it reflected to E. The angles FDB and BDE will be equal, which will hold true if we move the projection point to G. We then will find angles GDB and BDH to be equal, with the reflected ray arriving at H.

This would seem to be quite understandable, remembering that every point along the length of optical axis XY presents a different angle to all points upon the mirror surface except those points on the said surface exactly equi-distant from optical axis line XY. Reflected rays from all such points will reach the same point on axis XY. From this it is plain that altering the distance of point B from the mirror will alter the distance from line AA at which the reflected rays will contact line XY.

There is of course some confusion due to the fact that the light source is, in practical work, not a point, nor is any surface ever exactly truly spherical, though they may be practically so. It is this fact that gives us the "spot" at the coiling plate of the projector, which really is an out-of-focus image of the light source.

ROUND OR SQUARE CORNERS FOR IMAGE?

ROY ROBERTS, projectionist of Ada, Okla., writes, "I have had a friendly argument with another operator, or perhaps I should say projectionist. The question under discussion is: Should the image have square or rounded corners?"

The question of round or square corners may be treated as wholly a matter of individual preference. Some hold the round corners to be more artistic. Some hold that square corners tend to make the scene seem more realistic—less like a picture. Personally, I do not like to take sides in this. I think you and your friend may bury the battle axe and call it a draw. On the whole I have never noted any difference in effect. In fact, I seldom notice the shape of the screen image corners.

400-Seat Theatre In Town of 800

(Continued from page 13)

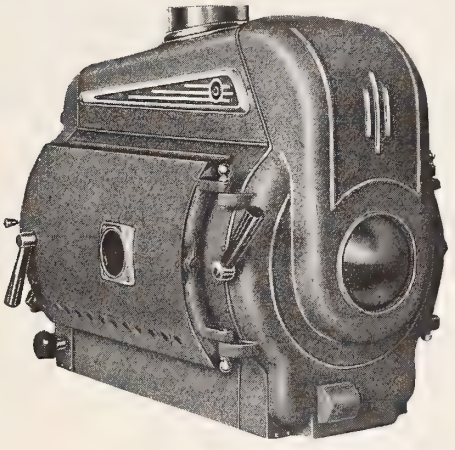
back of two store spaces located on either side of the lobby, are toilet rooms—women's on one side, men's on the other. Stairs here lead to a manager's office and a storeroom over the men's room, and to the projection room.

"The ceiling of the auditorium is finished in Celotex, laid to form a pattern, and walls are given similar treatment, with panels, in which are painted the Zia cross in the original colors, yellow and orange."

Projection and Heating

The projection room is 15 feet wide and 10 feet deep. Equipment includes two Simplex projectors, with Peerless lamps supplied by Rect-O-Lite rectifiers. The sound system is RCA Photophone.

For heating, a hot-water system is used, with radiators in the box office and lobby, and grilles serving the auditorium. The air is drawn through a radiation bank in winter, and in summer is passed directly into the blower system from outdoors. Air is exhausted from the floor of the auditorium, and there are also two dampered roof vents just ahead of the foyer. Summers in the region of Springer are relatively cool, particularly during the performance hours, in the evening.



Remodeling Increased Grosses

"When I first opened the old Pastime theatre," Mr. Garitson remarked, "I had an admission price of 25c, which in my estimation was enough for such a house as the Pastime. Since remodeling we have been charging 35c, and business has increased a great deal over what it was with the previous arrangement, and that was many times more than I had dared to anticipate when I started on what might be called this adventure.

"Operating a small town theatre is just about like operating any small town business. First, to be successful with so few people for your customers, you must be a friend to all of them, and while the variety of people is just as great as in cities, it is necessary to get a nearer 'fit for all merchandise' than in larger places.

"I find that selling pictures in small towns is very simple, for there is something in nearly every picture that everyone will like, and to sell it is merely a matter of putting that particular thing in front of them when you walk down the street saying good morning to the whole population."

The New 1938
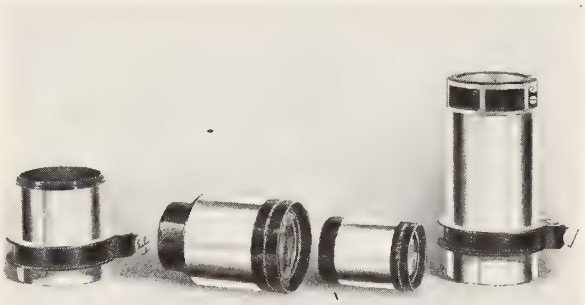
Ashcraft Low Intensity Lamp



with these features:

- ★ 10½" B&L Elliptical Reflector.
- ★ Super-Sensitive Arc Control Relay.
- ★ Power Plus Motor.
- ★ Carbon Carriage Reset
- ★ Large Lamphouse.
- ★ Substantial Construction.
- ★ Finish Gunmetal Grey Controls Ruby Color Polished Mounts.

Manufactured by
C. S. ASHCRAFT MANUFACTURING CORP.
47-31 THIRTY-FIFTH STREET
LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y.
DISTRIBUTED IN CANADA: DOMINION SOUND EQUIPMENTS, LTD. . . . MONTREAL, QUEBEC

A BASIS FOR BETTER PROJECTION

No matter how modern your projection room is, no matter how costly the equipment it contains, the picture the audience sees on the screen is no better than the projection lens it must pass through.

That is why so many projectionists recommend Super-Cinephor projection lenses and why so many managers insist upon them. They are the first anastigmatic projection lenses. They offer the maximum in reserve covering power, critical definition, flatness of field, color correction and increased brilliance.

The increased box-office revenue they bring make Super-Cinephors far from costly—"One new patron a day will pay for a Super-Cinephor in a year."

For complete details write BAUSCH & LOMB OPTICAL CO., 679 St. Paul Street, Rochester, N. Y.

BAUSCH & LOMB
SUPER-CINEPHOR

Are You Going to Remodel?

. . . if so, you may find the Planning the Theatre department of Better Theatres helpful. This department is conducted by an experienced theatre architect, Peter M. Hulsken, and he will give your inquiries his personal attention. Merely write:

BETTER THEATRES,
ROCKEFELLER CENTER, NEW YORK

PLANNING THE THEATRE

A SERVICE DEPARTMENT DEALING WITH ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN AND MATERIALS, DECORATION AND FURNISHINGS

Completely Transforming An Obsolete Theatre

[Following is an account of the methods employed by the Wil-Kin Theatre Supply Corporation of Atlanta in remodeling an old, small theatre on a limited budget. Data has been supplied by Mr. Nash Weil of that company.—THE EDITOR.]

A PRELIMINARY survey of the Earle theatre in Mt. Airy, N. C., prior to drawing plans to remodel it into a class A house named the Center, revealed a brick and granite-rubble wall construction with timber framing for floors, interior walls, and roof. Because the lot drops off some 30 feet between the sidewalk and the rear lot line, what started out as a one-storey building at the street, ended in a structure 40 feet high at the rear wall of the stage.

The overly long timber columns supporting the auditorium and stage were inadequate and in a bad state of repair; one corner of the building at the rear showed alarming signs of excessive settlement; wood roof truss members had rotted out, the trusses were sagging, and the roof itself was found to be in an extremely bad condition.

What served as a heating system was worn out and too small; the plumbing was unsanitary and inaccessible, and ordinary safety precautions demanded that the entire wiring system be replaced.

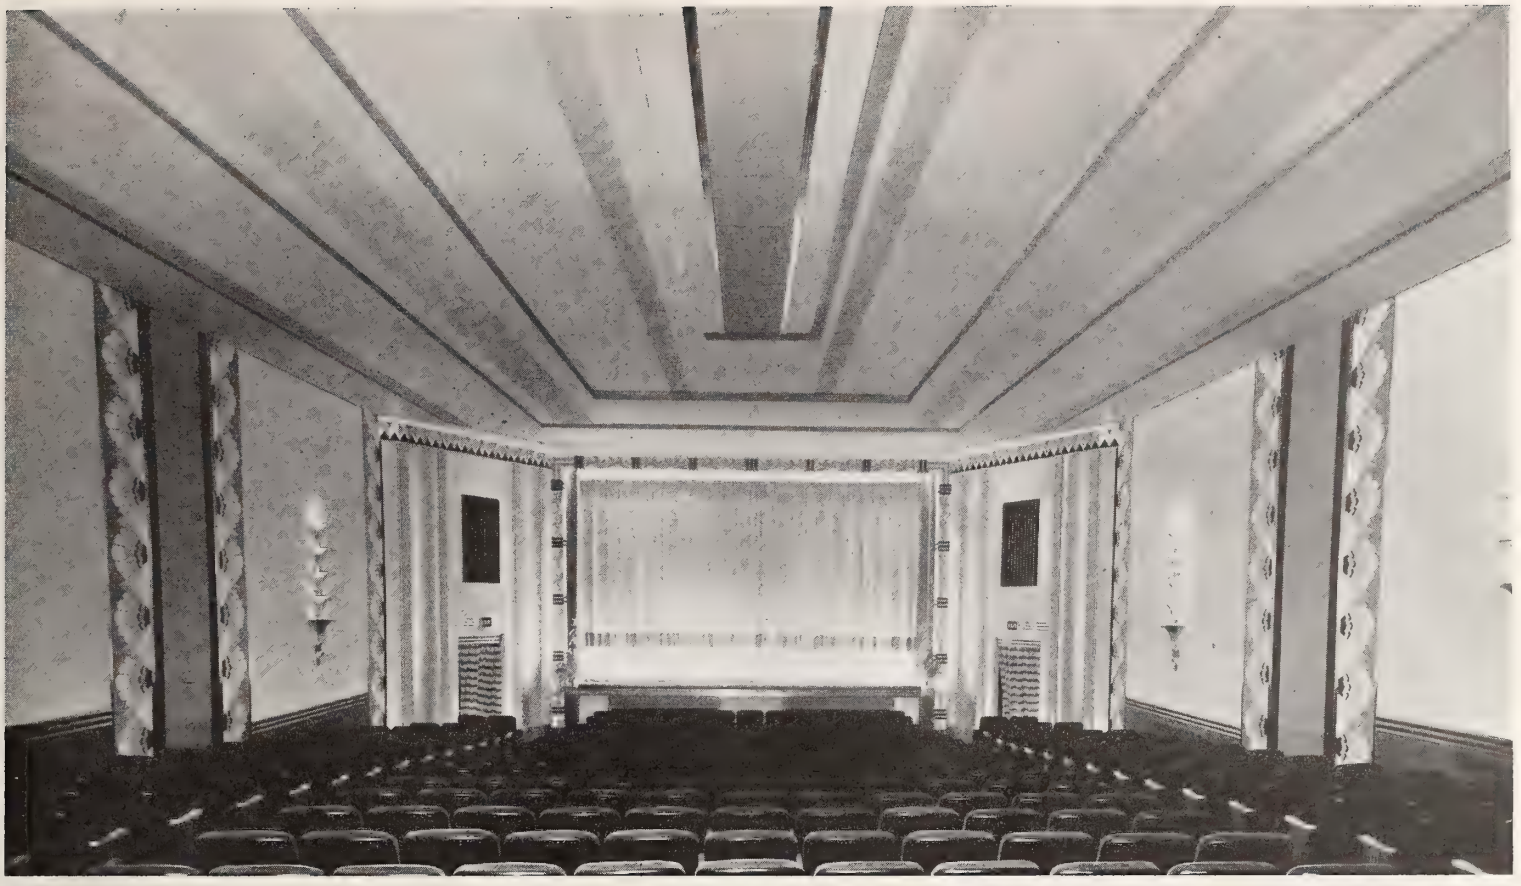
To add to the difficulty, a large portion of the rough interior surface of the granite side walls was unplastered; these walls were neither parallel to each other, nor at right angles to either the front or stage wall, and a metal ceiling was so questionably suspended that it vibrated readily.

However, the property had quite recently been used for theatre purposes, and its transformation at least technically represents a remodeling job.

The new foyer, fully separated from auditorium.

To set the theatre apart from red brick commercial buildings around it, a white cement stucco front was devised with set back planes pyramiding upward in strong vertical lines to create an illusion of height. Enough black glass and glazed tile was introduced as wainscot at the sidewalk line, and as ornament elsewhere on the front, to define its outline and set up interesting contrasts with the predominantly white wall surface and Chinese red entrance doors. Bright chrome display frames and door casings were added, and a streamline trapezoidal-shaped marquee installed.

The plan is simple and direct. A center box office at the building is flanked by two double entrance doors leading into a small vestibule, where a second set of doors gives access directly to a combination foyer and standee space at the rear of the auditorium. At the ends of the foyer and opposite aisle openings are entrances to a men's lounge and a women's cosmetic room.



Of necessity the foyer is small, but use of mirrors as focal points in design units on the side walls seems to enlarge it.

This modern women's lounge was installed, located off one end of foyer.

Auditorium Plan And Decoration

THE AUDITORIUM is forty feet wide and 70 feet long with a seating capacity of 423. Chairs (by International) are fully upholstered, have spring cushions and are spaced 32 inches. The standards are of modern pattern with blond wood arm rests.

The auditorium as refashioned, with vertical lines to give an impression of greater height.

Because of low ceiling height (14 feet, six inches at the rear, 18 feet, 6 inches at stage) it was deemed advisable to create a feeling of greater height.

This was done in two ways. The celotex ceiling erected on suspended timber framing was stepped upward in offset planes towards the center. The vertical surfaces separating these planes were treated in metal colors of silver and gold so that they would pick up the light from the long built-in center ceiling fixture and emphasize the offsets. To enhance this effect, starting at the side walls, the color of the plane surfaces graded from a deep to a very light color at the center of the ceiling, and the general effect is one of an attractively coved ceiling that adds appreciably to the apparent size of the auditorium.

Emphasis on vertical lines in the side wall decoration was the other method used to obtain height. Pilasters starting at the floor and receding into the ceiling, outlined by chromium metal moulding and flanked by colorful stucco ornaments, broke up the long, low surfaces and allowed the use of Acousi-Celotex panel treatment without minimizing the illusion of height. Even the wing walls were designed to emphasize vertical lines, and concave elements the full height of the wing walls, painted in metallic silver, picked up just enough light from the screen to add an effective reverse columnar effect.

The stage was rigged and draped to accommodate a production of average size. New projection equipment was installed, including Motiograph projectors, Brenkert Enarc lamps and Western Electric sound system. A Wil-Kin Sturtevant washed air system takes care of the summer cooling, and ventilating during the winter season.

The old front, and at right the new, faced in stucco.

BETTER THEATRES CATALOG BUREAU

Detailed information concerning products listed will be sent to any theatre owner, manager, architect or projectionist. Fill in coupon below and mail. Readers will find many of the products listed are advertised in this issue.

A
Acoustic materials
Advertising novelties
Air filters
Air conditioning, complete
Air system control
Air washers
Amplifiers
Amplifier tubes
Architectural materials (specify purpose for which material is wanted)
Automatic curtain control

B
Batteries, storage

C Carbons
Carpets
Carpet cushion
Chairs, theatre
Change makers
Changeable letters
Changeovers
Cleaners, vacuum
Color hoods
Cutout machines

D Dimmers
Disinfectants

E
Effect machines
Electric signals and controls
Emergency lighting plants
Exciter lamps

F
Fans, ventilating
Film rewinders
Film splicing devices
Fire prevention devices, projector
Fire extinguishers
Flashers, electric sign
Flood lighting
Floor cleaners
Floor surfacing materials
Fountains
Frames, lobby display

G
Grilles, ventilating

H
Hearing Aids
Heating systems
Horns

L
Ladders, safety
Lamps, incandescent projection
Lamps, projection arc
Lenses
Lighting, emergency
Lighting, decorative
Lifts—organ, orchestra

M Marquees
Mats and runners
Microphones
Motor-generators
Motors (specify purpose)
Music stands

O Organs

P
Paints, lacquers, etc.
Perfumers
Photo-electric cells
Portable projectors
Portable sound equipment
Projectors, motion picture
Public address systems

R Rectifiers
Reflectors, projection arc
Reflector shields
Regulators, mazda
Reels
Rewinders, film
Rheostats

S
Safes, office
Screens
Screen masks and modifiers
Screen resurfacing service
Seat covers
Signs, directional
Signs, theatre name
Shutters, projection port
Soundheads
Speakers
Splicers, film
Stage lighting equipment
Stage rigging
Stereopticons
Switchboards

T
Tickets
Ticket booths
Ticket issuing machines
Transformers

U Uniforms

V
Vacuum cleaners
Vending machines
Ventilating systems

[5-29-37]

"BETTER THEATRES" DIVISION, Motion Picture Herald,
Rockefeller Center, New York
Gentlemen: I should like to receive reliable information on the following items:

(Refer to items by name, as listed above)

1 ..... 6 .....
2 ..... 7 .....
3 ..... 8 .....
4 ..... 9 .....
5 ..... 10 .....

Remarks (or any items not listed above): .....

.....

.....

Name ..... Theatre ..... City .....

State ..... Seating Capacity .....

Index to Advertisers

Adler Sign Letter Co. 29
Altec Service Corp. 11
American Seating Co. 3
Anemostat Corp. of America 21
Artkraft Sign Co., The 28
Ashcraft Manufacturing Corp., C. S. 41
Automatic Devices Co. 28

Baker Ice Machine Co. 25
Baldor Electric Co. 34
Ballantyne Co., The 40
Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. 41
Best Devices Co. 40
Brenkert Light Projection Co. Second Cover

Chicago Expansion Bolt Co. 22
Clancy, Inc., J. R. 22

Da-Lite Screen Co., Inc. 31
Dayton Safety Ladder Co., The 34

F & Y Building Service 22

Garver Electric Co. 32
General Seating Co. 28
Goldberg Bros. 28-32-40
GoldE Manufacturing Co. 40

Hertner Electric Co., The 35
Heywood-Wakefield Co. 28
Hurley Screen Corp. 34

Ideal Seating Co. 27
Ilex Optical Co. 32
International Projector Corp. Third Cover

Kaplan Mfg. & Supply Co., Inc., Sam 33
Kneisley Electric Co. 33

Lavezzi Machine Works 28

McAuley Manufacturing Co., J. E. .. 39
Movie Supply Co., Ltd. 28

National Theatre Supply Co. 40

Ozone-Air, Inc. 27

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. 23
Projection Optics Co. 35

RCA Manufacturing Co., Inc. Fourth Cover
Reynolds Manufacturing Co. 28
Robin, Inc., J. E. 33
Royal Metal Manufacturing Co. 26

S. O. S. Corp. 35
Sprincin Manufacturing Co., Albert. 28
Strong Electric Corp., The .....Insert

Taylor Manufacturing Co. 28

Wagner Sign Service, Inc. 24
Weaver Manufacturing Co. 31
Weber Machine Corp. 35
Wolk, Edw. H. 40

ON ALL "BROADWAYS"— OVERWHELMINGLY Simplex
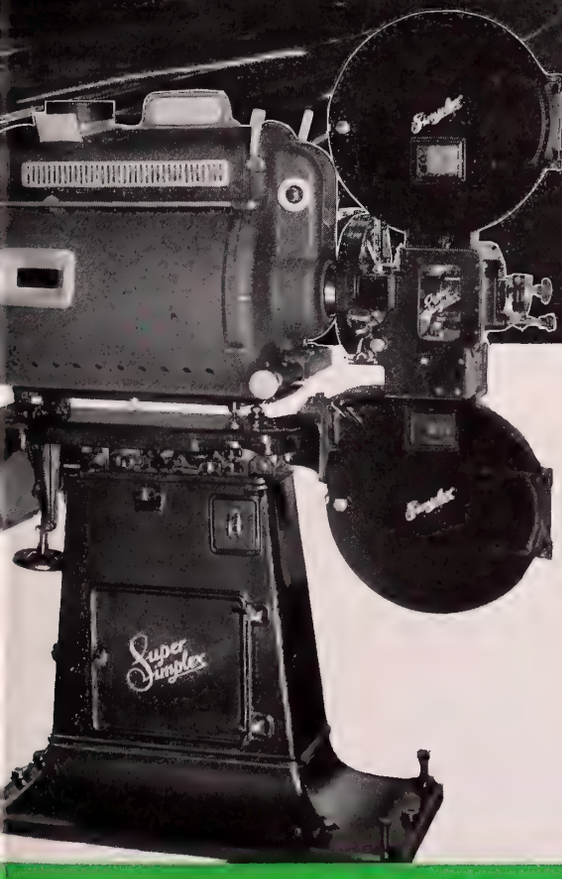
TRADE MARK REG'D

*Clipped from "N. Y. HERALD-TRIBUNE"



The Picture Theater

Current and Coming Films

ASTOR—"The Hurricane," with Jon Hall and Dorothy Lamour.
CAPITOL—"The Firefly," with Jeanette MacDonald.
CRITERION—"The Barrier," with Leo Carillo and Jean Parker.
EIGHTH STREET PLAYHOUSE—"Stage Door" until Wednesday, when "The Perfect Specimen" opens.
GLOBE—"Non-Stop New York," with Anna Lee.
GREENWICH—"The Great Flirtation" and "Evergreen."
LITTLE CARNEGIE PLAYHOUSE—"It Happened One Night."
PALACE—"Ali Baba Goes to Town" and "Lancer Spy."
PARAMOUNT—"Ebb Tide," with Frances Farmer.
PLAZA—"The Perfect Specimen," with Errol Flynn. Opens Tuesday.
RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL—"Nothing Sacred," with Carole Lombard and Fredric March.
RIALTO—"Thoroughbreds Don't Cry," with Sophie Tucker.
RIVOLI—"A Damsel in Distress," with Fred Astaire.
ROXY—"Merry-Go-Round of 1938," with Jimmy Savo.
STATE—"Double Wedding," with Myrna Loy.
STRAND—"The Life of Emile Zola," with Paul Muni.
WORLD—"The Scoundrel" and "The Good Companion" until Tuesday, when "Maedchen in Uniform" and "Thunder Over Mexico" begin.

Foreign-Language Films

ASCOT—"Green Fields." Yiddish film.
BELMONT—"Madame Bovary." French film .
CAMEO—"Conquerors of the Arctic." Russian film.
CINEMA DE PARIS—"Meet Miss Mozart." French film.
FIFTY-FIFTH STREET PLAYHOUSE—"Life and Loves of Beethoven." French film.
FILMARTE—"Mayerling." French film.
SQUIRE—"The Inspector General." Czechoslovakian film.

Only the high quality projection which "Broadway" demands is good enough for your patrons. Select Super-Simplex Projectors . . . . Chosen by outstanding exhibitors everywhere!

MANUFACTURED BY

INTERNATIONAL PROJECTOR CORPORATION

88-96 GOLD STREET NEW YORK, N.Y.

NATIONAL THEATRE SUPPLY COMPANY

Waikiki Theatre wins Thousands with

RCA'S MAGIC VOICE OF THE SCREEN!

LET IT BOOST Your BOX OFFICE!

This BETTER movie sound makes EVERY movie better! Available to theatres of every size—at prices to suit your own requirements!

THEATRE OPERATORS with an eye to profits pick RCA Photophone Magic Voice of the Screen as a 5-star box office attraction.

With sound such an important factor in your business, it's only natural that thousands of movie goers flock to theatres that offer the finest in sound. That's why owners of RCA Photophone Equipment make more money.

Your movie sound can equal the sound enjoyed by patrons of the Waikiki Theatre and over 4,000 other motion picture houses. Install the Magic Voice of the Screen! Equipment for small theatres or large—at a price you can pay—is available. Remember—better sound means better box office—and you get both with RCA Photophone's superior equipment.

Better sound means better box office
—and RCA tubes mean better sound

RCA presents the "Magic Key" every Sunday, 2 to 3 P. M., E. S. T., on NBC Blue Network

ONLY RCA MAGIC VOICE OF THE SCREEN OFFERS THESE 10 PROOFS OF SUPERIORITY

Rotary Stabilizer	Economical Operation	Simple Installation
Cellular Speakers	Push-Pull Adaptability	Accessibility
Simple Operation	High Fidelity Reproduction	Sole Ownership

Low Cost Maintenance, Liberal Service

RCA Photophone

THE MAGIC VOICE OF THE SCREEN

MAGIC VOICE of the SCREEN

RCA MANUFACTURING CO., INC., CAMDEN, N. J. • A SERVICE OF RADIO CORPORATION OF AMERICA

DO NOT REMOVE

MOTION PICTURE PROD. &
DIST. OF AMERICA,
28 W. 44TH ST.,
NEW YORK,
N. Y.

N PICTURE HERALD

Cleanup of Theatre Fronts Launches Fight on "Sex" Ads

Reds' Film Leader Caught in "Purge", Accused of Sabotage

Exhibitors Called "Fussy" for Protesting Star Broadcasts

Radio and Films Face Inquiry; Law Makers Charge Monopoly

VOL. 130, NO. 3 JANUARY 15, 1938

Entered as second-class matter, January 12, 1931, at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879. Published weekly by Quadex Publishing Co., Inc., 1270 Sixth Avenue, Rockefeller Center, New York. Subscription, $3.00 a year. Single copy, 25 cents. All contents copyright 1938 by Quadex Publishing Company.

Film Daily's Nationwide Poll for 1937's TEN BEST

M-G-M	3
NEXT COMPANY	2
NEXT COMPANY	2
NEXT COMPANY	2
NEXT COMPANY	1

Another Year! Another Ten Best! Another Victory for M-G-M!

The industry expects it, because it always happens! The Film Daily Annual poll for the year's Ten Best Pictures results in M-G-M leading all companies again. Three M-G-M pictures ("Good Earth", "Captains Courageous", "Romeo and Juliet") established M-G-M victory in the vote of hundreds of critics. It is an honor for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to receive this nationwide tribute but we share it with M-G-M exhibitors whose faith and support make possible M-G-M quality entertainments.

SENSATION!

Girls On Probation

EXPLOITATION!

Your ADvantage!*

SUPPOSE IT WAS YOUR KID SISTER

would you want her to go to prison for one misstep? Or would you want her to be put on probation? Does it mean a chance to go straight . . . or another chance to get into trouble? See the startling answer in a drama that strikes close to every American home . . .

THE SENSATION OF THE HOUR

"Girls on Probation"

ARE THEY THE MARKED WOMEN OF TOMORROW?

Directed by Arthur Lubin
A First National Picture
Presented by WARNER BROS.

These are a few random samples of the hard-hitting advertising angles we've developed for this show. These and lots of others are in the pressbook — — ask for it now!

FF SAID!

SURE, she got in trouble! Maybe she stole. Maybe she lied. Maybe she stayed out too late. Now, she's on probation—but not free like other girls.

Because she's already a Marked Woman. Marked by the police, who check up on her constantly. Marked by the judge who gave her probation. Marked for the life no girl wants to lead!

WARNER BROS. PRESENT THE SENSATION OF THE HOUR-

"Girls on Probation"

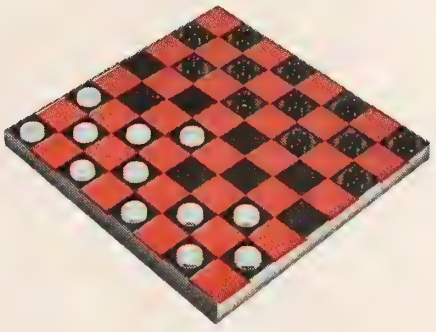
ARE THEY THE MARKED WOMEN OF TOMORROW?

Directed by Arthur Lubin
A First National Picture



Here's drama that strikes close to every American home . . . the drama of headstrong daughters . . . reckless, wilful, wild, but not really vicious . . . yet! What does probation mean for these girls . . . a chance to go straight, or another chance to get into trouble? For the startling answer to the questions parents dare not ask . . . see

"Girls on Probation"

WILL THEY GO STRAIGHT OR . . . ?

Directed by Arthur Lubin
A First National Picture
Presented by WARNER BROS.

Don't make another move until you hear from Warners

—on page 19!

20TH'S NEW HOLDOVER CHAMPION!

HELD OVER
SEATTLE

HELD OVER
DETROIT

HELD OVER CINCINNATI

HELD OVER
DAYTON

HELD OVER
SAN FRANCISCO

HELD OVER
ST. LOUIS

WALTER WINCHELL · BEN BERNIE
SIMONE SIMON

LOVE AND HISSES

BOXOFFICE MUSIC FROM DARRYL F. ZANUCK!

20th CENTURY FOX
THE KEYSTONE OF YOUR FUTURE

HELD OVER
NEW YORK

HELD OVER SYRACUSE

HELD OVER CHICAGO

HELD OVER
PHILADELPHIA

HELD OVER LOUISVILLE

HELD OVER BALTIMORE

HELD OVER
RICHMOND
(DAY-AND-DATE)

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

MARTIN QUIGLEY, Editor-in-Chief and Publisher

Vol. 130, No. 3 — January 15, 1938

"I WANT," SAYS LADY HOLLYWOOD, AGAIN

ALONG about last July, and it seems years ago now, this page was devoted to a recording under the title of "Lady Hollywood Demands." At that time the message was that she suggested that since she could get along no longer on her current allowance it would be appropriate to increase admission prices and get the money for her.

In consequence, your editor received a number of communications from Lady Hollywood's boy friends out there explaining that she was terribly misunderstood and that she was really entitled to the money.

Mr. David Selznick said it wasn't her fault, so much, as it was "a reflection of the times."

Mr. Sam Katz seemed to feel that maybe what Lady Hollywood had to pass out because of organized labour boys on the one hand, and the blandishments of big money from radio on the other, was a pretty important factor.

Mr. Lee Marcus brought history into the argument and suggested that from Eve to Cleopatra and down to date, some of the girls, before even Lady Hollywood, had been expensive, but that "the public paid the freight." Incidentally Mr. Marcus thought there might be an answer in his favorite contention for flexible admission prices, big prices for big pictures, lower prices for lesser pictures.

MR. CLAUDE S. JENSEN, of Jensen & Von Herberg up in Oregon, discussed the subject from the point of view that exhibition was running too much to quantity and might achieve bigger returns by shorter shows, better quality and bigger turn over. "All success in business," he observed, "comes from giving greater value for a lower price." Obviously Mr. Jensen wants better pictures and less of them.

Mr. C. G. Diamond of Glen W. Dickinson Theatres, Kansas City, remarked poignantly:

"There is a saturation point in theatre grosses and we all know it means there must be a saturation point in the rental of motion pictures."

That was in July.

In December came what we laughingly call the "recession," no real disaster yet, but not exactly what is called encouragement.

In January, in fact just the other day, at the end of last week in New Orleans, the industry heard again from Lady Hollywood through one of her most eminent spokesmen, Mr. Cecil B. DeMille.

MR. DeMILLE, recorded in full with the official transcript of his imposing utterances in the newspages of this week's issue of Motion Picture Herald, gives expression to the extraordinary contention of Lady Hollywood that no matter what she asks, she must have it even if exhibition has to work for no profits at all.

Mr. DeMille feels that the exhibitor's common expedient is to put pulling power where he needs it, in the middle of the week, on percentage dates, and to play "some little flat rental picture" for his Saturday and Sunday shows.

This to be sure puts new and more accent on the fact that picture selling is quite as much a question of play dates and preferred dates as it is contracts.

Further says Mr. DeMille: "At present the theatre interests are simply putting production on the dole."

There are in this commercial world just two kinds of markets —buyers' markets and sellers' markets.

Since somewhere around 1920 the motion picture has had a sellers' market. Distinctly since the rise of sound it has been a sellers' market.

The tremendous improvements in the box office value of the wares, accompanying the development and perfection of the technique of the new art of the sound picture, have continued to make it a sellers' market.

NEITHER the producer nor the distributor nor the exhibitor was really consulted about the coming of sound. The march of time and science drove the talking picture into the industry against its will. Since then there have been indeed no options about progress. Progress just has its way.

However, up to the dawn of sound, motion pictures were made to the prescription of the market at the theatre screen as interpreted by sales departments. Just at the moment this writer remembers when Mr. Sidney Kent was writing the prescription for Miss Gloria Swanson's pictures and such subjects as "Manhandled."

Came sound, problems and emergency. The problem was for the while pictures at any price, but pictures. Ever since then the factory has been wiring for money and telling the sales plant by mail what it might hope to get.

Meanwhile rivalries in Hollywood have grown more and more strenuous with bigger and bigger demonstrations by producers to other producers. This has not had too much to do with what the product was doing out at the box office.

In this and every other business in the world the basic problem is with the service of the retail customer. He is looking for bargains. The endeavor to give him bargains may be, and often is, too expensively pursued.

It has long been plain enough that the power of competition, whether it be between producers in Hollywood or exhibitors in Main Street, is such that sober discretion rarely prevails. It has, for instance, long been agreed that lotteries are not so good for the box office. It was said by many able showmen in the beginning, but some form of lottery attraction has run rampant across the screen of the land. In most territories the best showmen have said "double bills are bad but competition makes me play them," and so they have been and are played by the most imposing theatres and circuits of the nation.

It would appear that there is an order of problems and

(Continued on page 9, bottom of column 1)

This Week

"Sex Ads" Barred

On the censorship front, New York City and Akron, Ohio, this week moved to eliminate salacious advertisements used for so-called "sex" films, the while state censor boards of Pennsylvania and New York were taking up appeals from decisions banning both political "propaganda" and "sex-film" showings, involving the Soviet's "Baltic Deputy," Foy Productions' "Tomorrow's Children" and Samuel Cummings' oft-disputed "Ecstasy."

See page 13.

DeMille Speaking

Cecil B. DeMille, addressing Paramount sales executives and guests at a meeting in New Orleans which followed the premiere in that city of his newest picture, "The Buccaneer," pleaded with exhibitors to assume, for their branch of the industry, a fair share of the mounting costs of production and warned that unless this is done, drastic reductions in the number and quality of Class A productions are inevitable.

Mr. Demille's remarks and a story of the New Orleans meetings are on page 17. A review of the picture is on page 47.

Rapf Signs Contract

Harry Rapf, executive producer for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, has signed a new long term contract, the company announced Wednesday. Mr. Rapf was one of the 11 men named last week by Nicholas M. Schenck, president, in letters to stockholders, urging approval of personal service contracts providing for each of the 11 to share in the corporation's profits. The stockholders will meet January 25th to vote on the proposal and if approval is given Mr. Rapf's contract will be extended from April 8th, 1939, at $2,200 weekly, to April 8th, 1943, at the same salary, plus .0035 per cent of the net profits after certain deductions.

Leaves Paramount

Emanuel Cohen and Paramount on Wednesday came to their second parting of the ways when Mr. Cohen served notice ending his releasing contract, effective immediately. He charged that Paramount had breached its contract with his Major Pictures, which called for stipulated product to be delivered up to June 8, 1939.

Simultaneously with his severence of ties with Paramount, Mr. Cohen closed down his studio and paid off the 86 persons on his payroll, assertedly advancing their salaries for a week and a half out of his own funds.

Musicians' Work

Joseph M. Weber, president of the American Federation of Musicians, will confer in February with Pat Casey, producers' labor representative, on proposals for spreading work among studio musicians. Mr. Weber will go to the Coast for the conferences after a one week meeting of the Musicians' Federation at the Miami Everglades Hotel, Miami, Florida, at which the organization's policies in regard to radio and the screen will be discussed.

Details of an agreement between the musicians and the Independent Radio Network affiliates are on page 34.

No Recession

Theatre business in the middlewest was less affected by the conditions which prevailed in industrial centers for the last six months and, as a result, there was little or no recession in business in 1937 as compared to 1936, according to A. H. Blank, head of the Tri-States circuit. Mr. Blank visited New York this week but returned to Des Moines Wednesday. He will leave for San Francisco Monday and will sail January 21st for a six weeks vacation in Hawaii.

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

Published every Thursday by Quigley Publishing Company, Rockefeller Center, New York City. Telephone CIrcle 7-3100. Cable address "Quigpubco, New York." Martin Quigley, Editor-in-Chief and Publisher; Colvin Brown, Vice-President and General Manager; Terry Ramsaye, Editor; Ernest A. Rovelstad, Managing Editor; Chicago Bureau, 624 South Michigan Avenue, C. B. O'Neill, manager; Hollywood Bureau, Postal Union Life Building, Boone Mancall, manager, William R. Weaver, editor; Toronto Bureau, 366 Adelaide Street West, Toronto 2, Ontario, J. A. Cowan, representative; London Bureau, 4, Golden Square, London W 1, Hope Williams, manager; cable Quigpubco London; Berlin Bureau, Berlin-Tempelhof, Kaiserin-Augustastrasse 28, Joachim K. Rutenberg, representative; Paris Bureau, 29, Rue Marsoulan, Paris 12, France, Pierre Autre, representative, cable Autre-Lacifral-12 Paris; Rome Bureau, via Lovanio 1, Rome, Italy, Vittorio Malpassuti, representative, Italcable, Malpassuti, Rome; Melbourne Bureau, Regent Theatre, 191 Collins St., Melbourne, Australia, Cliff Holt, representative; Mexico City Bureau, Apartado 269, Mexico City, James Lockhart, representative; Prague Bureau, Uhelny trh 2, Prague I, Czechoslovakia, Harry Knopf, representative; Budapest Bureau, 3, Kaplar-u, Budapest, Hungary, Endre Hevesi, representative; Buenos Aires Bureau, Avellaneda 3949, Buenos Aires, Argentina, Natalio Bruski, representative; Shanghai Bureau, 142 Museum Road, Shanghai, China, J. P. Koehler, representative; Tokyo Bureau, 880 Sasazuka, Ichikawa-shi Chiba-Ken, Japan, H. Tominaga, representative; Rio de Janeiro Bureau, Caixa Postal 3358, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, L. S. Marinho, representative; India Bureau, K. G. Gidwaney, Post Box 147 Bunder Road, Karachi, India; Uruguay, P. O. Box 664, Montevideo, Uruguay, Paul Bodo, representative, cable Argus Montevideo; Amsterdam Bureau, 87 Waalstraat, Amsterdam Z., Holland, Philip de Schaap, representative; Vienna Bureau, Neustiftgasse 54, Vienna VII, Hans Lorant, representative; Chile Bureau, Calle Estado 260, Oficina 306 Santiago de Chile, A. Weissmann, representative; Copenhagen Bureau, Vesterbrogade 20, Copenhagen V, Denmark, Kris Winther, representative. Member Audit Bureau of Circulations. All contents copyright 1938 by Quigley Publishing Company. Address all correspondence to the New York Office. Other Quigley Publications: Better Theatres, Motion Picture Daily, Teatro al Día, International Motion Picture Almanac and Fame.

Hays' Reply

Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, this week notified Walter A. Huxman, governor of Kansas, that the MPPDA is powerless to intercede in obtaining first run pictures for Kansas City, Kansas. Mr. Hays said copies of the complaint, filed by the governor in behalf of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, were forwarded to executives of each motion picture company "with the request that the matter again be given attention." Governor Huxman forwarded Mr. Hays' letter to the Chamber of Commerce with the comment: "I hope that the complaint we have made may produce some results."

Lehmans Sell

Disposition by the Lehman Corporation of 1,900 shares of Paramount second preferred stock during the last three months, closed out the holdings of the banking house in that issue, although its ownership of 3,100 shares of cumulative convertible first preferred and 4,593 shares of common remains unchanged.

The Lehmans' portfolio of film issues also includes $685,065 of face-value Radio-Keith-Orpheum debentures and 84,802 RKO common shares.

Additional RKO and Paramount shares are held by Lehman Brothers, a Lehman Corporation affiliate.

"Chicago" Late in Chicago

Reluctance of Balaban and Katz to play "In Old Chicago" on a two-a-day roadshow policy has resulted not only in a delay of the opening in the namesake city until January 27th but precluded the possibility of having at the premiere Joseph M. Schenck, Darryl F. Zanuck, Alice Faye and Gregory Ratoff, all of whom attended the initial engagement in New York a week ago. All this has not tended to lessen the criticism by press and public of late first-runs in Chicago.

Details of the B&K situation are presented on page 62.

Teatro Al Día Editor

Martin Quigley, editor-in-chief and publisher, announces the appointment of H. Albán-Mestanza to succeed thel ate Pablo Colón as editor of Teatro Al Día, the Spanish-language quarterly of the Quigley group, now entering its third year of publication. The new editor, Mr. Albán-Mestanza, former foreign publicity chief for Republic, has also been associated in the past with a number of South American publications, including La Nación and Critica, of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Warning on Taxes

The Bureau of Internal Revenue this week issued a warning to motion picture exhibitors that if they employed eight or more persons last year 1937 tax returns under the unemployment insurance provisions of the Social Security Act must be filed by January 31st. No general extension of the time for filing returns will be granted, Guy T. Helvering, commissioner, said and then pointed out that penalties will be imposed for delinquency. Contributions to state unemployment funds for 1937 must be made before January 31st if they are to be credited against the Federal tax, it also was pointed out. The Federal tax rate for 1937 employment is two per cent of the payroll against which credits not exceeding 90 per cent of the Federal liability may be taken for contributions under state laws.

"I Want," Says Lady Hollywood, Again

(Continued from page 7)

issues in the motion picture industry which have to run their course as definitely as scarlet fever, or pneumonia. There seems to be no vaccination and no serum of common sense.

It should be entirely plain, and so obvious that a statement is an absurd proclamation of the obvious, that this industry must have and pay for production, distribution and exhibition. Those are functions that service of the public which pays the bill requires. The public pays only one bill, the box office price, and it is up to the industry behind the box office to make its own arrangements. That any of the three branches of service would work without pay, which means profit, is improbable, extravagant. In view of the dollar figures available, a plaint from production at this juncture is not entirely fortunate.

Hollywood may sincerely contend that its costs are beyond its own control. But if that is so, Lady Hollywood cannot expect that either Distribution or Exhibition, who do not sit at the production table, can do so much about it.

The suggestion that picture making has to be so expensive that exhibition cannot be conducted at a profit is untenable.

This industry will not commit hara-kiri on a cost sheet.

The retail store has to have a profit or it will not keep open.

Canadian Merger

Toronto's Independent Theatres Association, headed by H. Freedman, and Exhibitors Booking Association, directed by N. A. Taylor, would be the basis of a proposed complete merger of all independent owners into a joint provincial company to operate a large circuit of neighborhood and suburban theatres. The new project would handle all film bookings for the group, purchase all other supplies and provide for theatre maintenance otherwise, on a cooperative basis.

Solidification of the independents would be in competition to the Oscar Hanson independent theatre interests.

Licensing in Tasmania

Tasmania's government has approved a bill providing for the licensing of theatres and investing exhibitors with the right of 25 per cent cancellation of product purchased under contract. Similar legislation is expected to follow in Queensland, South and West Australia.

Cliff Holt's report on these and other developments on the Australian scene is found on page 61.

Editorial	Page 7
This Week in Pictures	Page 10
In the Cutting Room	Page 29
Release Chart	Page 75
Managers' Round Table	Page 63
The Hollywood Scene	Page 31
Showmen's Reviews	Page 47
Asides and Interludes	Page 41
In the Courts	Page 74
In the Newsreels	Page 85
Short Subjects on Broadway	Page 36
J. C. Jenkins' Colyum	Page 85
What the Picture Did for Me	Page 57

"Fussy" Exhibitors

John F. Royal, vice-president in charge of programs for the National Broadcasting Company, this week declared exhibitors' complaints against motion picture stars broadcasting are unwarranted. Smart exhibitors, he said, do not look upon radio as a foe. It is the "fussy" exhibitors who complain, he continued, and then urged that these exhibitors "take stock of themselves." However, attacks continued against film broadcasts and this week criticism was voiced by the Independent Theatre Owners Association of New York, Darryl Zanuck of Twentieth Century - Fox and Jack Cohn of Columbia Pictures.

The developments are reported on page 12.

Salaries

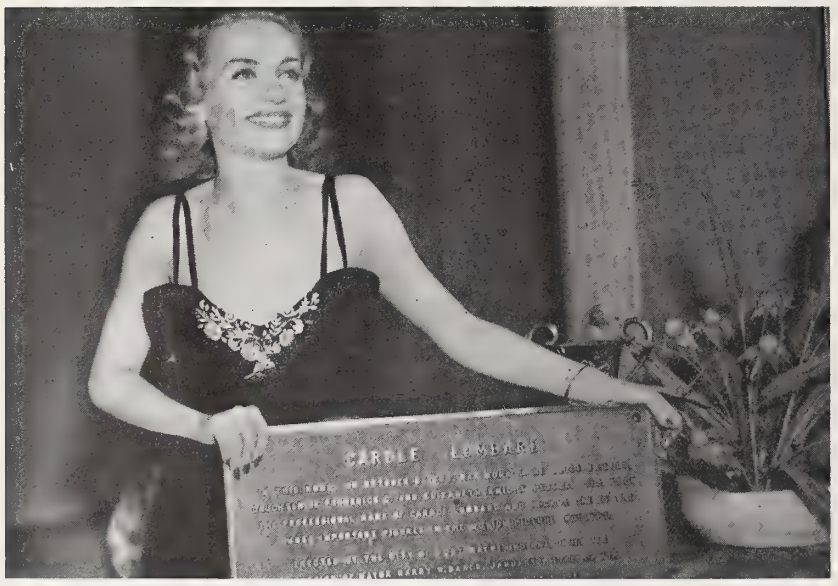
Five persons in the motion picture industry drew corporation salaries of more than $300,000 in 1936, according to the list of salaries released this week by the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives. Highest on the list was Gary Cooper with earnings of $370,214. He took the position held in 1935 by Mae West, who, in 1936, was paid $323,333. While newspapers throughout the country devoted extensive space to publishing the list, only a few commented on the fact that a large share of the gross incomes are paid to Federal and State government in income taxes.

The salary list for the motion picture industry is published on page 55.

Universal Officers

A board of directors' meeting at Universal this week resulted in the election of three new vice-presidents of the company. They are William A. Scully, general sales manager; Mathew Fox, assistant to the president, and J. H. Seidelman, whose appointment as general manager of foreign sales was announced at the same time. Nate J. Blumberg, president, was elected a member of the board of both Universal Pictures and Universal Corporation, and Ottavio Prochet, a board member of the latter organization, was elected to the board of Universal Pictures, Inc.

The story is on page 32.



Colvin Brown Returns

Colvin Brown, vice-president and general manager of Quigley Publishing Company, returned to New York Tuesday, aboard the S.S. Aquitania, with Mrs. Brown, the former Regina Louise Hvass, from a six weeks' honeymoon tour of the Mediterranean and Europe.

This Week In Pictures

IN New Orleans for the premiere of his latest picture, "The Buccaneer," at E. V. Richards' Saenger theatre, Cecil B. DeMille is greeted by Mrs. Huey Long, making her first public social appearance since the death of her husband. A special trainload of Paramount executives and press representatives from New York attended the opening.

Carole Lombard, above, holding the bronze plaque which is to be placed on her childhood home in Fort Wayne, Ind., by Mayor Harry W. Baals and a committee of Fort Wayne citizens, an old custom for celebrities in other fields. Miss Lombard is just now in the news emanating from Hollywood via International News Service as the highest paid star of 1937. Her salary of $460,000, it was said, was expected to top that of all other feminine players and most of the men.

Joseph A. McConville, right, newly appointed foreign sales manager for Columbia. A former independent exchange operator in New England, Mr. McConville joined Columbia as division manager and later was named national sales supervisor, the post he was holding when he was promoted.

The picture of Greta Garbo, above, in her native Sweden was sent along by Foto Reportage International of Copenhagen, embellished with the following caption: "Garbo and Robert Taylor's Danish double, the journalist Svend Aage Nielsen. The picture is taken by the arrival to Sweden where Garbo shall stay for vacation before she is going to act in British film studios. It is not the first time Mr. Nielsen makes interview with Greta Garbo. He was in 1932 the first pressman in the world who got interview with Garbo. Also he by this occasion took the first pictures ever taken. . . ."

Gail Goodsen, above, is the betrothed of Edward Finney, Grand National producer and director of advertising and publicity. The wedding is planned for Eastertime. Miss Goodsen, now a photographer's model, was born in Los Angeles and, during a brief film career, appeared in Samuel Goldwyn's "Roman Scandals."

It was bound to happen—Life, Time and Fortune are moving over to Rockefeller Center to be neighbors with Quigley Publications' Fame—incidentally just out this week. The new neighbors of Motion Picture Herald and Fame, will occupy the top seven floors of the Center's newest building, the thirty-six story structure pictured at the right, which in consideration of the lease will be the Time & Life building. The structure at 1270 Sixth Avenue continued to be the Fame building.

E. F. O'Connor of Havana, Cuba, Godfrey Levy of Perth, Australia, and A. H. Kellner of Adelaide, Australia, pictured above in that order with Jeannette MacDonald in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Hollywood studios are three of the forty branch managers of the company's foreign exchanges who were awarded trips to New York and Hollywood as prizes in a sales contest. Mr. Levy and Mr. Kellner had the longest journey of the group, 26,000 miles for the round trip, and Mr. O'Connor the shortest.

Captain Jimmy Rosen, left, for many years a vaudeville headliner, heads the crew of little people comprising the "Snow White-Seven Dwarfs" Messenger Service organized by the RKO home offices in New York before the Walt Disney picture opened at the Music Hall. Receiving the message is Frank Nugent of the New York Times, president of the Film Critics' Association, at the party at which the critics' best for 1937 were announced.

JOHN ROYAL OF NBC SAYS EXHIBITORS COMPLAINING OF RADIO ARE "FUSSY"

NBC Vice-President, Former Exhibitor, Says Smart Showmen Know How to Derive Benefits from Broadcasts

Although criticism of "fussy" exhibitors, who charge broadcasting by motion picture stars is unfair competition, was voiced this week by John F. Royal, vice-president of National Broadcasting Company, additional attacks on film broadcasts were made by exhibitors and industry leaders, principally New York's Independent Theatre Owners Association, and Darryl F. Zanuck of Twentieth Century-Fox, and Jack Cohn of Columbia Pictures.

Pointing to the fact that he was an exhibitor for 16 years before entering the radio field, Mr. Royal declared: "Exhibitors haven't changed since the days when I was one of them. When we got a good picture, one that did business, we used to sit back and say, 'What a great manager am I.' But when we played a picture that did not do business we blamed everyone but ourselves for the picture."

"Smart exhibitors," Mr. Royal contended, do not look upon radio as a foe. Rather, he continued, they like radio, appreciate all it has done for them and all it can do. They know how to derive benefits from radio, especially from the local stations in their own cities, he declared.

Mr. Royal enumerated the various commodities that are advertised on the radio and declared they are sold in greater bulk than any other advertising medium has been able to sell them.

"It is inconceivable, then," he asserted, "that radio cannot sell picture entertainment.

"People are in the habit of going to the theatre and nothing can 'unsell' them."

Doubts Star Values Are Impaired

Turning to the complaint that film stars often are not presented to their best advantage on the air, Mr. Royal declared:

"The stars themselves, and their producers, should be best judges of that. Certainly no star would willingly, or for any amount of money, go on the air feeling that he was to be poorly presented, with poor material. And if he did, it is inconceivable that the producers, who have more at stake than anyone else, would permit such a thing to happen consistently, as exhibitors have complained."

Mr. Royal, who has charge of programs, declined to comment on the recent Mae West broadcast for Chase and Sanborn coffee. He did point out, though, that the network no longer would permit players "to get away with" walk-on rehearsals, or to broadcast without benefit of rehearsal.

Urges New Showmanship

As for exhibitors who raise the issue of unfair competition, Mr. Royal referred to them as "fussy" showmen who should take stock of themselves. Instead of charging the radio is ruining them, he declared, they should develop new ideas of showmanship and become acquainted with those in charge of radio stations in their cities. They would learn, he added, of valuable tieups that may be made at little or no cost to them.

Regarding the presentation of motion picture stars' programs during the best box office hours, Mr. Royal insisted there is no justification for the complaint. If the picture is a good one, nothing will keep the public away from the theatre, he explained. Admittedly, he continued, the potential customers may remain home to listen to a radio dramatization of a picture in which they are interested, but they will be at the theatre the next night or before the run is completed.

"Saying that a particular night is bad for theatres is an old gag," Mr. Royal said. "It existed long before radio." For example, he added, when he was an exhibitor Monday night was considered "bad" and in order to stimulate business opening playdates were changed.

Plan "Drastic Action"

Aiming chiefly at Warner Brothers and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for their studio radio programs, the IOTA of New York, said this week that a committee will meet with a group representing Allied of New Jersey to consider a program of "drastic action" to force studios to discontinue film star appearances on the radio.

Mr. Cohn, in his attack on radio, said that he is "unqualifiedly" opposed to appearances of Hollywood celebrities on radio programs. He declared he would aid exhibitors in any move they undertake for industry control or elimination of film broadcasts. Mr. Cohn urged the motion picture industry to heed exhibitor complaints and take steps "to end film star competition with motion picture theatres."

Mr. Zanuck declared the doors of Twentieth Century-Fox would be closed automatically to radio if there were any future broadcasts similar to the Mae West sketch on Adam and Eve. Mr. Zanuck said Don Ameche, master of ceremonies on the program on which Miss West appeared, did not want to appear on the program when he first read the script. Whereupon, Mr. Zanuck continued, the lines were toned down, but shortly before air time the original script again was submitted, and under pressure from agency officials, Mr. Ameche agreed, under protest, to participate. Mr. Ameche is a Twentieth Century-Fox player.

▽

CBS Construction

The chief item on the Columbia Broadcasting System's construction program during 1937 was the new West Coast Broadcasting Center covering an entire city block in Hollywood, William S. Paley, president of the network, said. Ground was broken for the $2,000,000 project last spring and the center will be ready for broadcasting by March, Mr. Paley predicted.

According to Mr. Paley, CBS last year presented more programs on serious subjects of music, education and culture than during any of its previous ten years of broadcast service. In the dramatic category, CBS presented 70 broadcasts which were climaxed with the presentation of a cycle of eight Shakespearean plays.

Albany Newspaper Claims Credit For Reduction in Theatre Admissions

A campaign to reduce motion picture theatre prices in Albany sponsored by the Albany Weekly Record, an independent newspaper, was hailed as a success in an editorial published by the paper this week. The editorial read:

"Albany Weekly Record is indeed proud of the victory won by Albany theatre patrons to have high price of admission at the producer-owned theatres in this city reduced. The 50 cent admission price charged in Troy for the same picture was known not alone to Albany Weekly Record but to the other two newspapers published in Albany. The majority of motion picture fans in this city also knew it.

"The two other newspapers published in Albany, being chain newspapers, remained silent on the unfairness of the overcharge to Albanians. The two other newspapers published in Albany are chain newspapers and the producer-owned theatres, which were overcharging Albany theatre patrons, are chain theatres. So the chain family stuck together.

"Albany Weekly Record is locally owned and locally edited, with no outside interest dictating its policy. Chains fail to fetter Albany Weekly Record. For weeks this newspaper fought the fight for the people of Albany and Monday of this week its labors were rewarded when the chain theatres announced that the 'popular prices' would henceforth prevail. But, Albanians, while these prices may be popular with theatre goers of this city, they are not popular with the producer-owned chain theatres in Albany. A 10 cent reduction on a 50 cent admission price is a 20 per cent cut. If such a cut was popular with the producer-owned theatre owners, this cut would have been made long ago."

U. S. Prohibits Films Of Its Defenses

Legislation prohibiting the making of still or motion pictures, sketches or maps of military and naval defenses of the United States and its possessions was passed by the House of Representatives this week. The bill was passed by the Senate last session.

Action on the bill was speeded by protests of the War Dept. that there have been numerous cases of photographing defenses on the Pacific Coast, the Panama Canal and Manila. It was pointed out that present law applies only to the continental United States and carries no penalty.

SALACIOUS ADS ON THEATRE FRONTS DRAW CENSORS' IRE IN TWO STATES

Commissioner Warns Against "Off-Color" Theatre Fronts; Third Ban on "Red" Film Shuts Out "Baltic Deputy"

Censorship, official or otherwise, took some rather significant turns. in the week, over a widely scattered area, from New York to Ohio, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and Massachusetts.

The more important developments concerned organized moves in New York and Ohio against so-called "off-color" theatre front advertising, involving, for the most part, advertisements on behalf of the "sex" type of motion picture.

State authorities in New York reconstructed the procedure by which appeals are taken from decisions of the censorship board, taking the job of passing on appeals out of the hands of the Department of Education and placing it in the hands of the State Board of Regents.

Some Oklahoma residents are looking forward to a "law enforcement" agency to control all forms of amusement, while political propaganda and "sex" films were the subjects of considerable argument both in New York and Pennsylvania.

Voluntary action by theatre owners of Akron, Ohio, is expected to result in the end of salacious "sex-film" advertising in that sector. Owners there are gathering tangible evidence for presentation to newspapers, together with definite demands for a cessation of publication of such material on amusement pages or elsewhere. The full program is now in the making and will be disclosed soon.

Theatre Managers Summoned

Following the apparently successful attack by New York City on burlesque and other "sex" shows, Paul Moss, City Commissioner of Licenses, has now undertaken a campaign against "off-color" theatre-front advertising, with the promise to future offenders that continuance or a recurrence will bring a revocation of license.

Acting upon a formal complaint against the out-front ads, as filed by the Rev. Joseph McCaffery, Police Department chaplain and pastor of Holy Cross Roman Catholic Church, off Times Square, Commissioner Moss summoned to his office the managements of the Sam Harris, Liberty, Apollo, Lyric, Selwyn, Wallack and New Amsterdam theatres, on West 42nd Street, and the Gaiety, on Broadway, all in Times Square, to issue due warning. These theatres show either burlesque, under the revised standards, or "sex" and other similar forms of motion pictures.

In addition to their indecencies, such "exploitation fronts" are misleading, Mr. Moss charged, and warned the operators to desist from using them.

Board of Regents to Act

The record shows that no advertisements of the organized motion picture industry are involved in either the Ohio or New York move. Their advertisements are voluntarily submitted to the Advertising Advisory Council at the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, for approval, before publication or other usage.

The Board of Regents of New York is taking over the work of reviewing films denied a license by the State Motion Picture (Censorship) Division whenever an appeal is filed. This action, taken at a meeting of the Board of Regents in New York City in December, is immediately applicable and will remove the position from the shoulders of Commissioner of Education Frank P. Graves, whose multitudinous educational duties occupy his entire time.

A subcommittee of either three or five members of the Regents is likely to be set up soon for this purpose. It is known that, following the December meeting of the Regents in New York, the film, "The Birth of a Baby," was reviewed by them in the projection room of the Motion Picture Division there preparatory to upholding or differing with Commissioner Graves' denial of an appeal based on rejection of the picture by Irwin Esmond's state censors.

Medical societies and individual practitioners have protested to Commissioner Graves on the adverse decision, but last week the Legion of Decency publicly upheld and commended both Mr. Graves and Mr. Esmond.

Citizens' Enforcement Group

A plan for the Tulsa ministerial board to enlist the cooperation of city and county officials in establishing a citizens' law enforcement, decency-and-order group to direct amusements and other activities in Tulsa was announced by Rev. E. Victor Roland, new chairman of the Alliance Civic Committee.

Reverend Roland emphasized the need of determining where the legal authority to regulate these activities rests, and announced that several representatives of the city and county governments have been asked to speak at a bi-monthly meeting of the Tulsa Council of Churches in the First Presbyterian Church, on Thursday.

The Mae West (Chase & Sanborn) broadcast precipitated a flood of protests from the Catholic Women's Club in Tulsa, the next day after the broadcast, when the club women hinted that the Legion of Decency would turn its attention to radio programs.

Third "Red" Film Ban

The stage play, "The Women," then ran into objections from Catholics in Tulsa when it played there and was termed "indecent."

Governor George H. Earle's Pennsylvania Censorship Board, this week, for the third time, put thumbs down on films which they consider to be "Red" propaganda. The latest to feel the wrath of the board in this connection is the Amkino Russian film, "The Baltic Deputy."

Following the board's refusal to pass the picture, Amkino Company went into court at Philadelphia to force the film's release. In Common Pleas Court No. 6, testimony was heard by Judges Curtis Bok, Gerald Flood and Louis E. Levinthal. Attorney Francis Biddle, counsel for Amkino, read a passage of the state law requiring the board to record its reasons for forbidding exhibition of any film in the state.

Court Reserves Opinion

"Were your reasons for banning this film recorded in the minutes?" he asked Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer, chairman of the board. "No," the chairman admitted. Asked what she didn't like about the picture, Mrs. Palmer replied, "I didn't like any of it, although the acting was the most magnificent I have seen since I've been on the board."

Mrs. Hester M. Frye, member of the board, and Patrick A. Duffy, vice-chairman, said the picture tended to "incite people to destroy government."

Deputy State Attorney General Maxwell A. Seidman represented the Censorship Board.

Amkino denied all the board's allegations and asserted the picture has been shown in New York and other states without causing undue excitement. The court reserved opinion, pending filing of briefs.

"Ecstasy" Before Court of Appeals

Litigation over the "sex-film," "Ecstasy," reached New York State's highest court this week, when Eureka Productions, Inc., filed a plea with the court of appeals in Albany, asking for a review. The action came after Attorney Henry Pearlman's motion asking the appellate division for the right to appeal had been denied. The appellate division last fall unanimously upheld the action of Irwin Esmond, motion picture director; Frank P. Graves, commissioner of education, and the twelve individual members of the Board of Regents in refusing to grant a license on the grounds that the picture was "indecent, immoral and tending to corrupt morals."

Court Refuses Review

In view of the fact that the appellate division's decision was unanimous, the court of appeals did not of necessity have to grant the review and appeal, and, accordingly, rejected the petition, thus closing the case.

Meanwhile, the appeal of Foy Productions on "Tomorrow's Children," which likewise was denied a license first by the motion picture director and then by the commissioner of education, is on the January calendar of the appellate division, third department. The appeal is likely be heard on Monday with counsel for both Foy Productions and those of the Education Department arguing the case.

Boston's Censor

In Boston, John J. Spencer of Brighton is slated for appointment as Boston city censor by Mayor Maurice Tobin.

Mr. Spencer is a brother-in-law of the Mayor's brother. He will succeed Herbert L. McNary of Dorchester. The position pays $3,500 annually.

Stephen J. Hughes, former vaudeville star and booking agent, has been named director of the Municipal Employment Bureau.

MAYOR-PASTOR DEFIES FILM COMPETITION

Aware of the fact that churchmen had been the most active opponents of Sunday shows in Kansas, exhibitors became worried when the Rev. Philip Schmidt, pastor of the German Lutheran Church, was elected mayor of Pittsburg, Kansas.

They waited for the new mayor to take action but nothing was done for several weeks. The exhibitors finally decided to force the issue and they called upon the mayor to ask him what he planned to do.

"If I can't meet the competition of the picture shows," Mr. Schmidt replied, "I want the people of Pittsburg to go to the picture shows."

RADIO IS NOW EYED WITH FILMS FOR INVESTIGATION BY CONGRESS

Monopoly Also Threatened in Television, Says Texas Congressman; Wadsworth Declares Commission Has Failed

One of the sharpest attacks ever leveled at the radio industry this week challenged the Congress of the United States to investigate the business as a monopoly "of the most dangerous kind." Radio's relationship with motion pictures was cited at the same time. The names of Mae West, Adam and Eve and a certain Sunday evening NBC broadcast for Chase and Sanborn coffee likewise came in for a thrashing.

February 15th was reported to be the "zero hour" for plunging Congress into an investigation of radio, proponents this week quietly completing plans for a determined drive. "Skirmishes" are planned for the interim, in a move to keep the matter steadily before the House membership, and, if the Rules Committee refuses to report the resolution, it will be forced to the floor, for which action proponents claim they have sufficient votes.

Acquisition by RCA of a substantial interest in RKO, and its subsequent disposition at a heavy loss, was cited by Representative W. D. McFarlane (Democrat of Texas) as an indication of the extent to which motion pictures and radio are in the hands of a trust, against which the Government should proceed at once. (Atlas-Odlum-Lehman interests already own 50 per ent of RCA's holdings in RKO, and have an option to buy the other 50 per cent.)

Not only is there monopoly of the film and radio industries, he asserted, but television will be taken over also unless prompt action is taken to prevent it.

Mr. McFarlane's charges were made in two days of general debate in the House, in the course of which several members criticized the Federal Communications Commission and urged a Congressional investigation of the entire radio situation.

Charges Censorship, Dictatorship

The Texas Congressman outlined 15 points which, he said, constituted an indictment of the FCC and the radio "trust."

The "trust," he declared, exercises censorship and dictatorship over the radio, but the Government is unable to censor programs;

The radio "trust" has a complete monopoly of the 40 cleared channels and holds 93 per cent of all the broadcasting power, but the FCC and the Federal Trade Commission, charged with the task of preventing monopoly, "are either unable or unwilling" to enforce the law;

Through the holding of socalled experimental licenses, "privileged individuals with unusual political connections" have been enabled to enrich themselves.

Despite the nationwide protests, programs of an "indecent and vulgar" character and "children's programs" unfit for children continue to be broadcast;

The public has been "fleeced by racketeering" in radio securities, and the Government has been "unable to control security issues" planned by the National Broadcasting Company, Radio Corporation of America and Columbia Broadcasting System.

"If ever a monopoly has taken the people for a ride, the RCA has certainly taken the stockholders and people for one," Mr. McFarlane told the House.

"Let us look at some of the white elephants wished off on the stockholders by the collusion of the investment bankers in cahoots with each other:

"1. The purchase of the Victor Talking Machine Company at a time when it should have been apparent to any radioman that radio inevitably would do to talking machines what the automobile did to the horse and buggy;

"2. The purchase of more than a 65 per cent interest in RKO when the apparent purposes of the investment could have been served with a 30 to 40 per cent innterest;

"3. The sale of the RKO interest, at a substantial loss, at a time when it was not only unnecessary to sell it, but when the motion picture industry itself was beginning, if it had not already actually started, an upswing; and

"4. The execution of lease agreements for space so substantially in excess of reasonably predictable requirements that it cost over $6,000,000 to effect a reduction of RCA leases, and the prospects, as already noted, are that nearly twice that sum will be the cost of adjusting the RKO leases."

Congressional investigation of the entire radio broadcasting field, to determine whether a monopoly exists, was also demanded in the House by Representative Richard W. Wigglesworth, Jr., Republican, of Massachusetts.

This newest attack on the FCC came while the Commission was studying the transcription and text of the "Garden of Eden" broadcast by Mae West on December 12, which created a furore among religious and other groups.

CONTROL OF RADIO UP IN MASSACHUSETTS

Massachusetts this week became the first state to give legislative attention to state control of radio, Representative Philip Bowker formally moving to set up a radio commission which would license and regulate stations within its borders.

The bill goes so far as to provide for control of the actual use and occupany of all premises within the state upon which radio stations may be operating, and further states that "for the further protection of the public morals and the public safety the radio commission shall have full power to prescribe rules, regulations and conditions under which all radio stations shall be operated and conducted within the state."

Violations of the rules or regulations are punishable by a $5,000 fine or a year's imprisonment, or both, for each infraction.

The recent Mae West NBC broadcast on "Adam and Eve" for Chase and Sanborn Coffee was mentioned as one inspiring factor in the drafting of the bill by Representative Bowker, who called the incident "deplorable."

Pettengill Returning to Fight for Legislative Ban on "Compulsory" Block Booking and Blind Buying

The motion picture's position in the legislative hamper of Congress is now uncertain. Previous to President Roosevelt's recent speeches and Congressional messages attacking monopolies, the Capital had felt that little or nothing would be forthcoming in the nature of motion picture legislation, in view of the pressure of other business both in the Senate and House of Representatives.

Opinion now seems to have changed, and this week, in the vanguard, Samuel B. Pettengill, Democratic Congressman from Indiana, came out with the assertion that, contrary to previous reports, he intended to move as soon as possible, at this session, on his proposal to outlaw socalled "compulsory" block booking and blind buying. Congressman Pettengill twice before has had his measure in the House.

"More mail on the subject of block booking is coming in from all over the country than ever before," he said. As soon as the House committee has set its calendar, he added, he will press for prompt hearings.

Allied States Association is one of the prime supporters of Congressman Pettengill's attack on block booking.

Sees Some Progress Made

"While undoubtedly the mere introduction of the legislation has accomplished something toward eliminating unfair motion picture trade practices, I am not satisfied with the situation and intend to ask the committee to consider the bill at the first meeting called to discuss its program," he said.

Representative Dies, from Texas, also is reported in Washington to be considering anti-film legislation. And it already has been established that Lyle Boren, Congressman from Oklahoma, is framing legislation, patterned on Allied's socalled state "divorce" bills, by which Congress nationally would outlaw the participation of a producer or distributor in exhibition. a law enacted in North Dakota, now being fought by Paramount, in a test case, and similar to the Allied-sponsored measures pending in other states. A delay is expected, however, on the Boren measure, because of the heavy Congressional schedule pending.

Attacks Licensing Plan

Residents of Delaware were urged to fight the proposed new federal legislation designed to provide for the federal licensing of all corporations engaged in interstate commerce, which would apply to film distributors among others, "while the plan is still in its infancy," by State Auditor James W. Wise at Dover this week.

Commenting on a letter sent to U. S. Senator James Hughes, the Delaware state auditor said he felt it was not the time to make the proposal a national issue but that Delawareans should oppose it at the outset. Mr. Wise said the state would be confronted with an immediate increase in taxation or a drastic lowering of school standards if the bill advocated by Senators O'Mahoney and Borah should pass.

He urged Senator Hughes to make every effort to defeat the bill.

SHUMIATSKY, CAUGHT IN RED "PURGE", IS ACCUSED OF FILM "SABOTAGE"

Director of the Soviets' Film Industry Reported Jailed and Possibly Already Executed As Production Decline Increases

Josef Stalin's "purge," by assassination and jailing, of enemies of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics has reached the state-owned and operated motion picture industry. Ominous notes of "sabotage" and "wrecking" of the business reached New York this week from Moscow, along with word expressing fear that Boris Shumiatsky, director of the Soviets' vast film industry, "has been jailed — possible already executed."

International News Service reported from the Red capital that "violent press denunciations of Boris Shumiatsky" indicated he had become involved in the "purge."

He was characterized as having "fallen into the hands of saboteurs who wormed their way into the administration of Soviet cinematography."

Credited with a leading part in the swift growth of the Soviet cinema, Mr. Shumiatsky was reportedly condemned by Moscow newspapers for allegedly permitting a steep decline in production of Russian pictures.

The Soviet's official American distributor, Amkino Corporation, did not answer its telephone at headquarters in New York. V. Verlinsky, head of the division here, sailed for Russia last week.

Joseph Barnes, New York Herald-Tribune correspondent, in a copyrighted dispatch from Moscow, cabled that "the sad plight of the Soviet motion picture industry, which, from the standpoint of quality, once was acknowledged to be among the world's finest, was revealed with the publication in Pravda, Communist party newspaper, of an article describing a catastrophic slump in the industry attributed to wrecking and maladministration."

Blame "Saboteurs"

The "saboteur's hand" was seen in steady deterioration of product and non-fulfillment of production plans, with the result that 43 films were produced in 1935 instead of a planned 120; the 1936 quota of 165 yielded but 46, and the more modest goal of 62, in 1937, was not reached, only 25 pictures actually being released.

Charges of malicious activities by state "enemies" and "saboteurs" in Red Russia's agricultural, construction and other programs already had cost the heads of scores of Soviet leaders. Although political observers and foreign correspondents in Russia brought the "purge" to outside headlines only a few weeks ago, assassinations of Stalin's "enemies" on the wholesale are reputed to have started four years ago.

This is the first occasion of record, however, wherein the Red Russian motion picture business has become involved, its product heretofore having been conceded the strongest medium for spreading Communistic propaganda both at home and abroad, including the United States.

"Bureaucratic delays and improper departmental coordination retarded operations in the studios so as to require 14 months to make the average film," reported Mr. Barnes to the Herald-Tribune on Monday.

BORIS Z. SHUMIATSKY

"Completion within three months of the Soviet Union's latest success, 'Lenin During October,' a masterly documentation of the Bolshevik seizure of power in 1917, a production which was guided personally by Josef V. Stalin," was cited by the press cable "as an example of the film industry's possibilities when there was a minimum of red tape."

Planned Soviet Hollywood

"The chief blame," continued the dispatch, "was placed on an 'Old Bolshevik,' Boris Z. Shumiatsky, general manager of the Soviet film trust and wellknown in American screen circles as the Soviet Union's Will Hays.

"When Shumiatsky returned from the United States in 1935, he interested the world with his announcement of a project to construct a 'Soviet Hollywood' on the Crimean coast, which eventually would turn out more than 500 films annually. A site actually was selected near Balaklava, scene of the charge of the Light Brigade, where American consultants drew up preliminary blueprints.

"Owing to practical difficulties, the grandiose project was shelved indefinitely and now Shumiatsky stands accused of 'falling into the hands of wreckers.'"

Urge Political Themes

The Communistic newspaper Pravda this week also took to task the motion picture leaders in Russia "for failure to dramatize on the screen 'the most vital political themes, such as the Red Army, the Stakhanov (workers' speed-up) movement and the minority republics.'"

Mr. Barnes reported that "in view of the nationalized methods of production, the vast state funds allotted to the industry, the histrionic talents of the Russians and the existence of world-renowned directors like Sergei M. Eisenstein, Vsevolod I, Pudovkin and Vassiliev, the inferiority of Soviet films in the last few years has been the subject of considerable discussion here and abroad.

"Except for superlative productions like 'Chapayev,' 'The Baltic Deputy' and 'Lenin During October,' there have been none in recent years to compare with 'Potemkin,' 'The End of St. Petersburg' and 'The Road to Life,' which were filmed under the most primitive conditions prevailing in the first few years after the revolution, when the Soviet film industry had its inception.

Eisenstein Films Scrapped

"For example, Eisenstein, recognized abroad as the most brilliant genius of Soviet filmdom, has been doomed to a life of relative obscurity and inactivity since the completion of his American venture, the film 'Thunder Over Mexico' and his return to Russia in 1932.

"Shumiatsky's dictatorial blue pencil has scrapped two of Eisenstein's finished pictures. These and 37 other 'defective' films produced since 1935 have cost the Soviet government no less than 20,000,000 rubles.

"Pravda's well-timed blast," concluded Mr. Barnes, "shed considerable light on the deterioration of Soviet motion pictures." Pravda, he added, "urged a thorough 'mopping up,' fundamental reorganization of methods of work and immediate liquidation of the consequences of wrecking."

Word of the Stalin "purge" of the motion picture industry reached New York on the same day that John T. Whitaker, Moscow correspondent of the New York Sun, in a copyrighted dispatch, cabled that Dictator Stalin still "is scared and is still hunting out his enemies."

"Discipline and nationalism as applied by Stalin have changed Soviet Russia in the last ten years—Trotsky calls it 'the revolution betrayed.' In any case, things have changed. Lenin used to walk into the hotel where I am staying in Moscow, with no guard at all, and go right up to the room of an American journalist like Albert Rhys Williams. Stalin is inaccessible, surrounded by guards, carried in a bullet-proof car.

"In carrying out his program and in building his personal power Stalin offended many men. 'Old Bolsheviks' were frozen out of the Stalin machine. And, as Stalin knew better than most, Old Bolsheviks don't stay frozen out."

Headed Mission to U. S.

Boris Shumiatsky headed a Red Russian screen "mission" to the United States in June of 1935, ostensibly to study the American industry because of its "superior technological attainment, its facility with the tools."

The now defunct New York Motion Picture Club brought Mr. Shumiatsky and his party to one of its weekly "forums" and luncheons in the Bond Building, on Broadway, where they were interviewed through Colonel Boris Morros, then managing director of Paramount's theatre in Times Square, as interpreter.

Terry Ramsaye, on the occasion, wrote in MOTION PICTURE HERALD:

"If one may deduce, and one may deduce amply, the representations of the representatives of the Soviet industry indicate nothing beyond a continuance of the rigidly state controlled motion picture program of the years since the Red Revolution. There is not even remote prospect that the Russian cinema will go any farther into the amusement than is absolutely necessary to keep the populace looking at the propaganda laden screen. If the words of the Soviet's spokesman (Mr. Shumiatsky) before the Motion Picture Club are to be taken for what they said, the State is still and ever will be the Screen, over there, for the State's purpose."

Mr. Ramsaye further observed, "The occasion leaves Russia's motion picture relations with the

(Continued on following page, column 3)

SELZNICK SAYS DEAL WITH MGM IS OFF

Differences Primarily Concern Sales Policies, Says Joint Statement with Whitney

A brief statement from Selznick International, announcing that all plans for releasing through Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer had "definitely" ended, led this week to a reported revival of negotiations to have David O. Selznick continue his affiliation with United Artists.

In Hollywood, it was reported that RKO officials might renew negotiations with Mr. Selznick. The producer conferred with RKO heads last Fall but the meetings were discontinued.

During recent weeks, Mr. Selznick was variously reported as reconsidering and not reconsidering his decision to leave United Artists. An indication of the extent to which the Selznick-MGM deal had been carried before its collapse this week was given by Mary Pickford in New York late last week when she was asked if Mr. Selznick would leave United Artists.

"It certainly looks like it," she replied.

However, following the announcement of the collapse of the Selznick-MGM deal, Miss Pickford, interviewed in Chicago, replied to questions concerning the possibility that Mr. Selznick might purchase her interest in United Artists, with the declaration that "no sales of partnership interests or other changes are planned."

Mr. Selznick definitely ended all conjecture of possible association with MGM on Monday night when he and John Hay Whitney issued a formal statement which they refused to elaborate upon. The statement:

"We have this night definitely terminated negotiations with MGM and Loew's, Inc., for a releasing affiliation for Selznick International due to fundamental differences, primarily concerning sales policies affecting the production of Selznick International."

The statement placed United Artists' affairs on virtually the same basis as they were following the recent collapse of a deal whereby Samuel Goldwyn and Alexander Korda would have purchased control of the company. At that time it was known that negotiations for a renewal of the Selznick contract had been opened between Mr. Selznick and United Artists.

No formal announcements were issued, however, and Mr. Selznick continued the negotiations with MGM.

United Artists Board Meets

The board of directors of United Artists then met to consider a request from Mr. Korda for a change in his contractual obligations to permit him to produce pictures for release through other companies. Mr. Goldwyn, in answer to reports that he was opposed to granting Mr. Korda's request, announced the reports were "incorrect."

"I have been asked to sanction changes in his (Korda's) contract," Mr. Goldwyn said, "and have expressed a willingness to do so provided identical changes are made in mine. There has been no opposition to Korda's plans from me."

In New York, though, Miss Pickford pointed out that Mr. Goldwyn's contract has seven and a half years to run and that it is ironclad. Mr. Korda's contractual obligations are the same, she said.

Miss Pickford said United Artists is negotiating with several producers, but she declined to identify them.

"Regardless of the statements and counter-statements involving the company," Miss Pickford said, "it is enjoying one of the most successful years in its 19 years of history. Its future will be equally brilliant if those in the company are assured that no one man is going to run the organization.

"The company is fundamentally right and its structure is one that makes for successful operation. We aim to treat everyone in the organization fairly, whether he makes one picture a year or several.

"I want no part of running the organization. It is not a woman's place and certainly not my ambition. I am perfectly willing to leave that to business people. I am not anxious about the future."

Mr. Korda sailed Wednesday on the Aquitania. He sailed with no definite committments to produce for any other American company beside United Artists.

Columbia Reorganizes Its Exploitation Department

Columbia has completed reorganization of its field exploitation department and will concentrate more of the activities in the home office, Frank McGrann, exploitation manager, said this week. Although three men have been dismissed, the field staff is not being disbanded, he said, describing the move as designed to provide "more personalized service" from New York whereby "each situation would be handled as separate units." The reorganization will eventually result in an augmented home office exploitation staff, Mr. McGrann said.

In addition to New York, the work will be handled by three district representative, including Ed Rosenbaum, transferred from Boston to Philadelphia; Jack Thoma, Chicago, and Mike Newman, Los Angeles. They will be sent wherever required. The men let out are Mike Roth, exploiteer for Columbia in the Kansas City area the last four years; Robert Sidman, Philadelphia, and Don Prince, Atlanta.

Better Films Improve U. S. Prestige, Says Former Envoy

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rhode, former minister to Denmark, speaking before the Presidents Club of Massachusetts at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, Tuesday, said that every advance in quality made by the motion picture industry enhances the prestige of the United States in foreign nations where American made films are shown. The subject of her address was "This Business of Diplomacy."

Soviet Film Head Accused in Purge Of State 'Enemies'

(Continued from preceding page)

American industry in a state somewhat kindred to the diplomatic status between the nations, a recognition without recognition, a lot of conversation and no business. Meanwhile bouquets and polite exchanges of kind words with thorns under the blossoms were abundant.

"The cautiously rehearsed expressions of the Russians aimed at substitution of the word 'education' for propaganda, and an inference that henceforward art should count for more than in the heated direct-action days, but the only modification in the Red screen tune are in the suavity of words used, not in the policies themselves."

Accompanying Mr. Shumiatsky to America from Moscow at that time were Friederich Ermler, president of the Association of Directors and Actors of the U.S.S.R.; Vladimir Nilsen, president of the Faculty of Cinema Technique of the Motion Picture Institute of Mossow, and G. Melamed, a Soviet consulate officer.

▽

Strict Censorship

Virtually no films other than the Soviet's are exhibited in Russia, where censorship is very strict, theatre taxes are high, and no copyright relations exist with other countries. There are some 34,990 theatres in the country, consisting for the most part of traveling units showing silent pictures. Only 2,285 "regular" film theatres show sound films. Imports of American films by the Soviet in 1936 totaled 27,226 feet of positive and 35,699 feet of negative, valued, respectively, at $716 and $2,133, about the same quantity imported in 1935.

▽

Amkino Appeals

The latest run-in of Soviet motion pictures with American censor boards came late last week in Philadelphia, where the Soviet's American distributor, Amkino Corporation, appealed from the Pennsylvania State Board of Censors' banning of the Red-made "Baltic Deputy." The appeal was taken under advisement by Judge Curtis Bok, in Philadelphia.

As frequently charged both by Pennsylvania's censors and other boards, it was claimed that the Soviet importation was "revolutionary, subversive to government and apt to cause undue publicity, excitement and disturbance and possible riot."

Blumenthal Resigns G. N. Vice-Presidency

A. Pam Blumenthal has resigned as a vice-president of Grand National. The post will remain vacant for the present, an official of the company said. Mr. Blumenthal became associated with Grand National early last fall. The company's first annual financial statement listed Mr. Blumenthal's salary as $1,000 a week.

Edward J. Peskay, Grand National vice-president, reported Wednesday that he had received no definite word from the coast on production plans.

Deals for distribution of Grand National's entire product in France, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Bulgaria and the Scandinavian countries were made by Jack Barnstyn, vice-president, who returned to New York Wednesday.

NEW ORLEANS SEES A CONVENTION, A PREMIERE, A WEDDING AND DEMILLE

For the Public, Pirates; for the Exhibitor, Promotion; for Paramount Pictures' Salesmen, Pressure, at Meeting

by TERRY RAMSAYE
in New Orleans

For the second time Jean Lafitte, buccaneer, has taken New Orleans—this time by conspiracy of Paramount Pictures and Cecil B. DeMille.

The week that ended last Saturday night presented a kaleidoscopic pageant of events interwoven with significances political, social and commercial, commercial indeed with respect to the motion picture—all in the gala manner dear to this Creole capital, redolent of spice, of café brûlot and reminiscences, at least, of absinthe.

To the public, the screen and Paramount made one of the year's bravest gestures with the world premiere, substantially on location, of "The Buccaneer" at the Saenger Theatre, citadel of the amusement barony of E. V. Richards, with vast acclaim Friday night. With Latin abandon, Louisiana and New Orleans gave its all of cheers and attention, as lavishly as confetti thrown to the winds at the Mardi Gras.

Three Distinct Events

By reason of three distinct events the week partook of the nature of a Paramount convention extraordinary, the wedding of a daughter of E. V. Richards brought among the guests a conclave of Paramount's exhibition partners, near and far. The premiere on the screen brought in production representation from Hollywood, with messages of importance. The annual mid-season conference of district managers brought distribution executives from all the American field and New York home office executives. Sessions of all sorts, official and unofficial, technical and internal, shared the hours with social persiflage of "The Buccaneer"—Battle of New Orleans 1812 anniversary fiesta. It had some qualities entitling it to the title of the second battle of New Orleans.

The foremost eventuation was a speech by Mr. DeMille, "in camera," before Paramount's distribution executives, headed by Neil Agnew, general manager in charge of sales, in which the producer, citing rising costs, viewed with alarm, and speaking the voice of Hollywood, said:

> "The theatres, we feel, should be prepared to share some of the burden at this time, as an investment in their own future, and not deprive us, as producers, of rentals for pictures, even though the rentals are more than the theatres can afford and yet retain for themselves a profit.
>
> "If production fails, the theatre fails. . . .
>
> "This past year, the theatre has made a greater profit than production by more than three to one. . . ."

When the meeting adjourned and the assembled distribution executives reached the

(Continued on following page column 1)

(Showmen's Review on page 49)

"Theatres Are Putting Producers On the Dole"--Cecil DeMille

Speaking before a session of the district managers of Paramount Picture Corporation in New Orleans last Saturday, Cecil B. DeMille, premiere producer and exponent of Hollywood told the distribution executives that he deemed the industry in a grave position and that production must have more money if the industry is to survive. The official transcript of Mr. DeMille's remarks follows:

GENTLEMEN, I am deeply appreciative of the reception which you and the public gave to "The Buccaneer" last night. While your applause is music to a showman's ears, I am going to ask your indulgence and permission to speak in a serious vein.

I should like to depart from my custom of a quarter of a century of telling you how good De Mille pictures are and talk from notes made on the train coming to New Orleans.

Economic conditions have brought about many grave situations throughout the country, none graver than the situation which today confronts the motion picture industry. And by industry I mean its three great branches — production, distribution and exhibition.

In some cases these fly the same banner —Paramount, or MGM or Fox or Warner Brothers. In some cases they are entirely separate. But in all cases the situation that confronts them is the same: the high cost of production. And this problem cannot be swept aside with the simple caustic advice to reduce the cost of production.

* * *

Today, the studios are completely unionized. Whether for better or worse, they are. As a result, the cost of labor, including the artists, has risen enormously. The cost of all materials has risen higher and higher through the past three years. Competition and the public's demand for name players have doubled and trebled the salary of these stars until a picture that three years ago would have cost $1,000,000 now costs $1,500,000. And production is asked to carry this load alone.

I tell you, gentlemen, it cannot do it. And it isn't fair to ask production to be the only loser among the three branches of the industry.

Production is the source of all revenue derived by the other two branches, and it must be protected and helped by the other two branches. The socalled big pictures, such as "Wells Fargo" and "The Buccaneer," "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife" and "The Big Broadcast of 1938," are the backbone of our program. And the discontinuance of this type of product would be ruinous to the theatres.

I realize it is through no fault of the theatres that there is a lull in all industry throughout the country, and that in consequence, theatre receipts have fallen off. But neither is it the fault of production; and we in Hollywood who are trying year in and year out to create the finest product that will draw the greatest crowds to the theatres feel it is definitely unfair that the load of this depression should not be carried equally between the theatres and the producers.

WE feel that the theatres should be prepared to share some of the burden at this time as an investment in their own future, and not deprive us, as producers, of rentals for pictures, even though the rentals are more than the theatres can afford and yet retain for themselves a profit. If production fails, the theatre fails.

This past year, the theatre has made a greater profit than production by more than three to one. We can make cheap pictures—but we cannot make big pictures cheaply. And unless in this crisis the exhibitor supports the producer, the latter will be forced, not for greater profit but for his very existence, to make picture footage as cheaply as he can, to be able to continue operating.

But it is the big pictures that make the theatres, and if the caliber of production is lowered to meet the depression, what will be the result? The disaffection of audiences for the theatres and disaster for all. At present the theatre interests are simply putting production on the dole.

The exhibitor should not penalize the big producer by buying for his Saturday and Sunday shows some little flat rental picture because he knows that 60 per cent of his business will come in anyway on those two

[Continued on following page, column 2]

DRIVE ON 20 MILLION DOLLAR FILMS

(Continued from preceding page, column 1)
lobby floor of the Hotel Roosevelt, they found the newsstands displaying the "afternoon special" edition of the New Orleans State with its first page bedecked with a portrait of Miss Carole Lombard and a heading on a Hollywood dispatch: "Top Film Salary"—Carole Lombard's income for 1937, close to $460,000, is expected to top the earnings of all other feminine players in Hollywood, and most of the men as well. She has made it all on just four pictures."

This was the second day and concluding session of the district managers meeting, which Mr. Agnew had opened with announcement of an "International Drive" entitled and besloganed "Paramount on Parade" to occupy the concluding months of the season with liquidation, by box office merchandising, of the great Paramount current inventory of some twenty-and-odd pictures of the million dollars-and-up class, product in fact of the rising cost wave in Hollywood which was the text of Mr. De Mille's outgiving.

Mr. Agnew announced the general plan of a series of special awards to showmen in the exhibition of pictures in the "Paramount on Parade" drive. "It is more broadly," said Mr. Agnew, "an effort addressed at the consumer rather than the exhibitor, a campaign to bring more returns to the box office in behalf of our participations."

The sprinkling of exhibitors known as "Paramount Partners" remaining in New Orleans after the Richards wedding party, to see "The Buccaneer," while engaging in no official expressions, were not entirely in accord with the impassioned address by Mr. DeMille. There were evidences that partners are not always pals, and can be obdurate customers.

"The Buccaneer" events of the week, the only manifestations of the motion picture conclave that reached the public, were amazing in their frequency, color and intensity. Rarely has an American community been exposed to such a barrage of promotional artillery, and with such an extraordinary, eager local participation.

Three separate, but coordinated, campaigns were conducted. The E. V. Richards publicity machinery, operated by Robert Blair, conspired to get a mention of "The Buccaneer" into everything in print in the state of Louisiana, and there was a peril that when one opened a breakfast egg a Buccaneer tie-up would pop out. Superimposed upon all that was the attention of the Paramount-DeMille Hollywood contingent of publicity experts, including William Hebert, of the DeMille organization, and William H. Pine, who, while present as associate producer of "The Buccaneer," was not forgetting his promotional capacities of the years before. And superimposed upon that were the attentions applied by the New York home office detachment, including Robert Gillham and Alec Moss.

New Orleans, Louisiana and the world heard about "The Buccaneer" all day and all night, from platform, press and radio, with speches by Mr. DeMille and Mr. Pine, appearances of members of the cast and through the participations of local celebrities and pundits.

Mr. DeMille and Mr. Pine were wined, dined, orated and variously acclaimed, officially, socially and commercially.

E. V. Richards gave a large, ornate and expansive party to the visiting picture personages and the elite and who's what of New Orleans at the Hotel Roosevelt Blue Room, after the opening.

Also, Paramount, by way of finale, entertained a small, compact, not to say tight, group at Antoines, celebrated restaurant in the Vieux Carré. This function was remarkable in that no pompano or oysters Rockefeller were served. However, everything else was.

Says De Mille—

(Continued from preceding page)

days; and then play "Wells Fargo" and "The Buccaneer" on Monday and Wednesday, which he knows is 40 per cent of his business. By doing this he doesn't give the producer a chance to get back his investment on the big pictures. He deprives us of Saturdays and Sundays and holidays because he gets it all on those days, and uses our millions of dollars of investment to bolster his mid-week time.

This is a poor inducement to continue high-class product and it is a practice that will ruin the industry if the exhibitor fails to cooperate at this time.

HE may say, "Mine is only a little theatre. It can make but little difference in the picture's gross." But there are 15,000 little theatres and less than 1,000 big ones. And if the exhibitor will play fair with us in this matter, it can make a difference of a half a million dollars in the gross on "Wells Fargo" and "The Buccaneer," and give us the practical help we need to get back our investment and to continue making the best product in the world.

It is the mission of the department of distribution, you gentlemen in this room and the able men who work for you, to carry this idea to the exhibitor and to convince him of the necessity of his cooperation.

We are not selfishly pleading for our own survival, but for the survival of all three branches.

Let us not think only of our own welfare in this crisis, but let the three branches of this great industry remember the old adage, "United we stand, divided we fall."

For the first time in the history of the sovereign state of Louisiana was its legal holiday of the Anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans legally observed as a legal holiday, coincident with the opening of "The Buccaneer," with official offices closed and attendance made practically compulsory. There were also profound official proclamations, anent the day and event, issued by the City of New Orleans and the State of Louisiana, under large, impressive seals. The tone of these proclamations was such as to make their reading convey a sensation of some familiarity to those accustomed to the literary style of the DeMille ateliers.

The Hollywood party included Eugene Zukor, representing the studios and Adolf Zukor, and Harry Sherman, producer, who went to New Orleans to complete new arrangement terms with Neil Agnew. Mr. Sherman made several speeches about the Hopalong-Cassidy pictures, a speech in fact whenever an audience could be assembled. He felt that there should have been more horses in the production of "The Buccaneer."

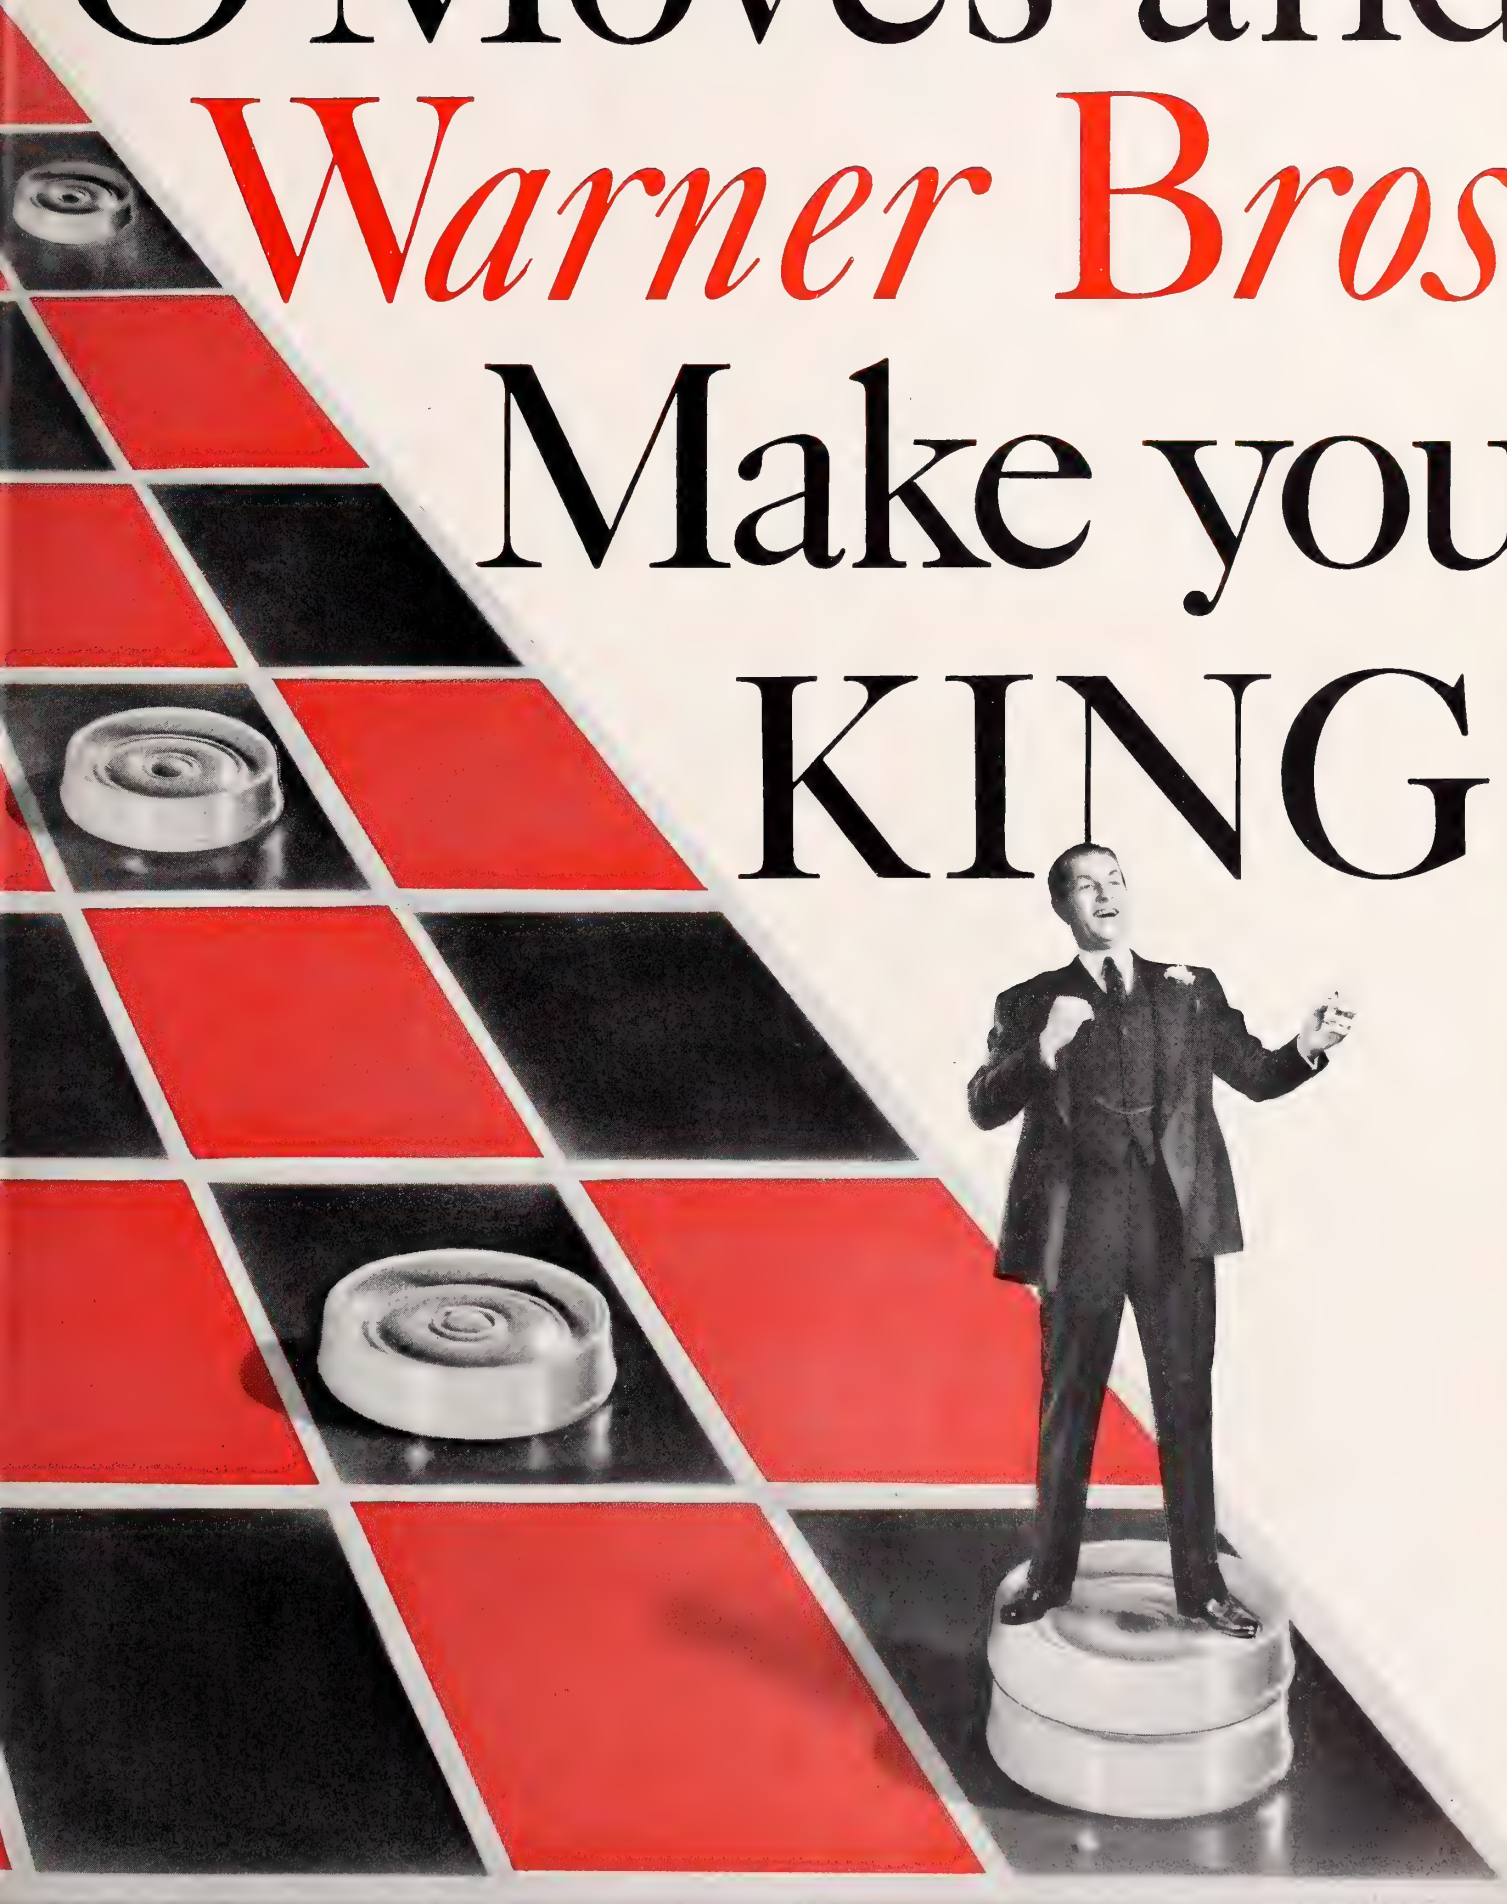
The Paramount home office party included Y. Frank Freeman and M. F. Gowthorpe, of the theatres division; J. J. Unger, C. M. Reagan, G. B. J. Frawley, master of the exchecquer and custodian of the cellar keys, and Don Velde, of the sales department. The U. S. district managers attending were: M. S. Kusell, New York; W. H. Erbb, Boston; P. A. Bloch, Philadilphia; H. H. Goldstein, Cleveland; Allen Usher, Chicago; O. A. Morgan, Atlanta; R. C. LiBeau, Kansas City; H. W. Braly, Denver; M. H. Lewis, Los Angeles; Ben Blotcky, Minneapolis, and G. A. Smith of San Francisco. H. F. Wilkes, New Orleans branch manager, and M. A. Milligan of Toronto, in charge of Canadian distribution, also attended the functions and sessions. Among other guests of Paramount were A-Mike Vogel, editor of Motion Picture Daily; A. C. Dillenbeck of Buchanan & Company, advertising agents; Jack Harrower of Film Daily, Abel Green of Variety, M. D. Kann and C. E. Lewis.

▽

The Division of Film Study of Columbia University is tendering a luncheon Friday to Cecil B. DeMille at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, to signalize his 25 years "of distinguished service in motion pictures." Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, Columbia University president, will be the principal speaker. The toastmaster will be Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

"The Buccaneer" will be nationally released in 200 day and date engagements beginning February 4th.

Richards Wedding Is Industry Fete



In New Orleans, the week of the anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans and the presentation of "The Buccaneer" in romantic memory of the pirate-hero Jean Lafitte was made an occasion of importance in both the social world of Louisiana and the motion picture industry by the marriage of Miss Louella Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Richards to Elwood Clay, Monday evening at the Orleans club. The function was one of the most gala of gala New Orleans, coming just at the opening of the carnival season.

Miss Richards was given in marriage by her father. The attendants of the bride included her sister, Miss Loretta Richards, and Miss Henriette Vallon, niece of the bridegroom. Mr. Clay's best man was his brother, Gordon Glay, and the groomsmen were George W. Clay, Raoul J. Vallon and Horace, John, Julian and James Richards, brothers of the bride.

The out-of-town guests, among them many of the friends and associates of Mr. Richards in the amusement world, included:

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Balaban of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Zukor of Los Angeles, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. Y. F. Freeman and Mr. Y. F. Freeman, Jr., of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Hoblitzelle and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. O'Donnell of Dallas, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Sol Gordon of Beaumont, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lightman of Memphis, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. E. Rowley of Dallas, Tex., Mr. Simon Ehrlich of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gowthorpe of New York, Mrs. Bessie R. David of Bennettsville, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pinanski and Judge and Mrs. A. E. Pinanski of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lee of Gainesville, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. M. S. McCord of Little Rock, Ark., and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McKenna of Gulfport, Miss.

8 Moves and Warner Bros. Make you KING!

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

First Move

TOVARICH

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

Hold 'Tovarich'!... It's what they're all doing everywhere!

(Including Radio City Music Hall!)

CLAUDETTE

COLBERT

and CHARLES

BOYER

in

TOVARICH

with

BASIL RATHBONE • ANITA LOUISE

MELVILLE COOPER • ISABEL JEANS • MORRIS CARNOVSKY • VICTOR KILIAN

An ANATOLE LITVAK Production

Screen Play by Casey Robinson • Adapted from the Play by Jacques Deval • English Version by Robert E. Sherwood • Music by Max Steiner

Follow it with the picture that "will stand any audience on its feet with applause!"

—Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

DICK POWELL
ROSEMARY LANE
HUGH HERBERT
LOLA LANE • GLENDA FARRELL • JOHNNIE DAVIS
ALAN MOWBRAY
MABEL TODD • ALLYN JOSLYN
EDGAR KENNEDY

Direct from the "Orchid Room of the Air"
THE HOLLYWOOD HOTEL PROGRAM
with
LOUELLA PARSONS
FRANCES LANGFORD
JERRY COOPER
KEN NILES
DUANE THOMPSON
RAYMOND PAIGE AND HIS ORCHESTRA

BENNY GOODMAN & HIS SWING BAND

Directed by BUSBY BERKELEY
Screen play by Jerry Wald, Maurice Leo and Richard Macauley • Original Story by Jerry Wald & Maurice Leo • A First National Pict.

Dick Whiting & Johnny Mercer wrote these four grand new Hit Parade specials! . . .

"I'VE HITCHED MY WAGON TO A STAR"
"I'M LIKE A FISH OUT OF WATER"
"SILHOUETTED IN THE MOONLIGHT"
"LET THAT BE A LESSON TO YOU" and "Hooray for Hollywood" • "I've Got a Heartful of Music" "Sing, You Son of a Gun"

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

Second Move

Third Move

SWING YOUR LADY

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

Swing into the first original novelty sensation of 1938

SWING YOUR LADY

with

HUMPHREY BOGART • FRANK McHUGH • LOUISE FAZENDA
NAT PENDLETON • PENNY SINGLETON • ALLEN JENKINS

and

THE WEAVER BROTHERS & ELVIRY

Here's value! Their original hill-billy hilarity on film with the unique and sure-fire technique that was a never-miss mop-up in vaudeville for years and years and years!

Directed by RAY ENRIGHT

Screen Play by Joseph Schrank and Maurice Leo • Adapted from Play by KENYON NICHOLSON and CHARLES ROBINSON • Songs by M. K. Jerome and Jack Scholl

Warners' glorious TECHNICOLOR super-sequel to 'God's Country'!

GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

with

GEORGE BRENT • OLIVIA de HAVILLAND • CLAUDE RAINS

and

MARGARET LINDSAY

BARTON MacLANE · JOHN LITEL
TIM HOLT · WILLIE BEST
Directed by MICHAEL CURTIZ
Screen Play by Warren Duff and Robert Buckner • From a Cosmopolitan Serial Story by Clements Ripley • Music by Max Steiner • A First National Picture
A COSMOPOLITAN PRODUCTION

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

Fourth Move

Fifth Move

A SLIGHT CASE OF MURDER

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

His first for W.B. since 'Galahad' ..co-written by Damon Runyon!

EDWARD G. ROBINSON

in

A SLIGHT CASE OF MURDER

with

JANE BRYAN · ALLEN JENKINS

Directed by LLOYD BACON

Screen Play by Earl Baldwin and Joseph Schrank • From a Play by DAMON RUNYON AND HOWARD LINDSAY • Music and Lyrics by M. K. Jerome and Jack Scholl

A First National Picture

Absolutely the biggest mass-audience drama she's had!

BETTE DAVIS

in last season's sensational Broadway success

JEZEBEL

with

HENRY FONDA
GEORGE BRENT

MARGARET LINDSAY · DONALD CRISP
FAY BAINTER · RICHARD CROMWELL

A WILLIAM WYLER Production

Screen Play by Clements Ripley and Abem Finkel • From Play by Owen Davis, Sr.

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

Sixth Move

Seventh Move

ROBIN HOOD

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

Never such scope! Never such a walloping TECHNICOLOR smash!

ERROL

FLYNN

and OLIVIA

de HAVILLAND

in THE ADVENTURES OF

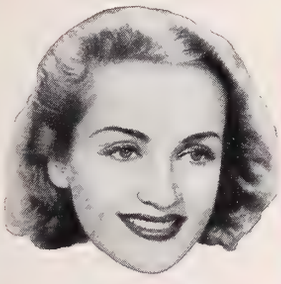
ROBIN HOOD

with

BASIL RATHBONE • CLAUDE RAINS

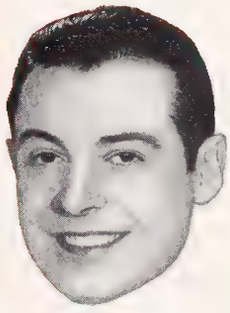
Melville Cooper · Ian Hunter · Alan Hale · Patric Knowles · Una O'Connor

Directed by WM. KEIGHLEY and MICHAEL CURTIZ



Technicolor Director, Natalie Kalmus • Screen Play by Norman Reilly Raine and Seton I. Miller • A First National Picture

"The King" is back with Rodgers-Hart music-and Lombard!



CAROLE

LOMBARD

and FERNAND

GRAVET

in

FOOD FOR SCANDAL

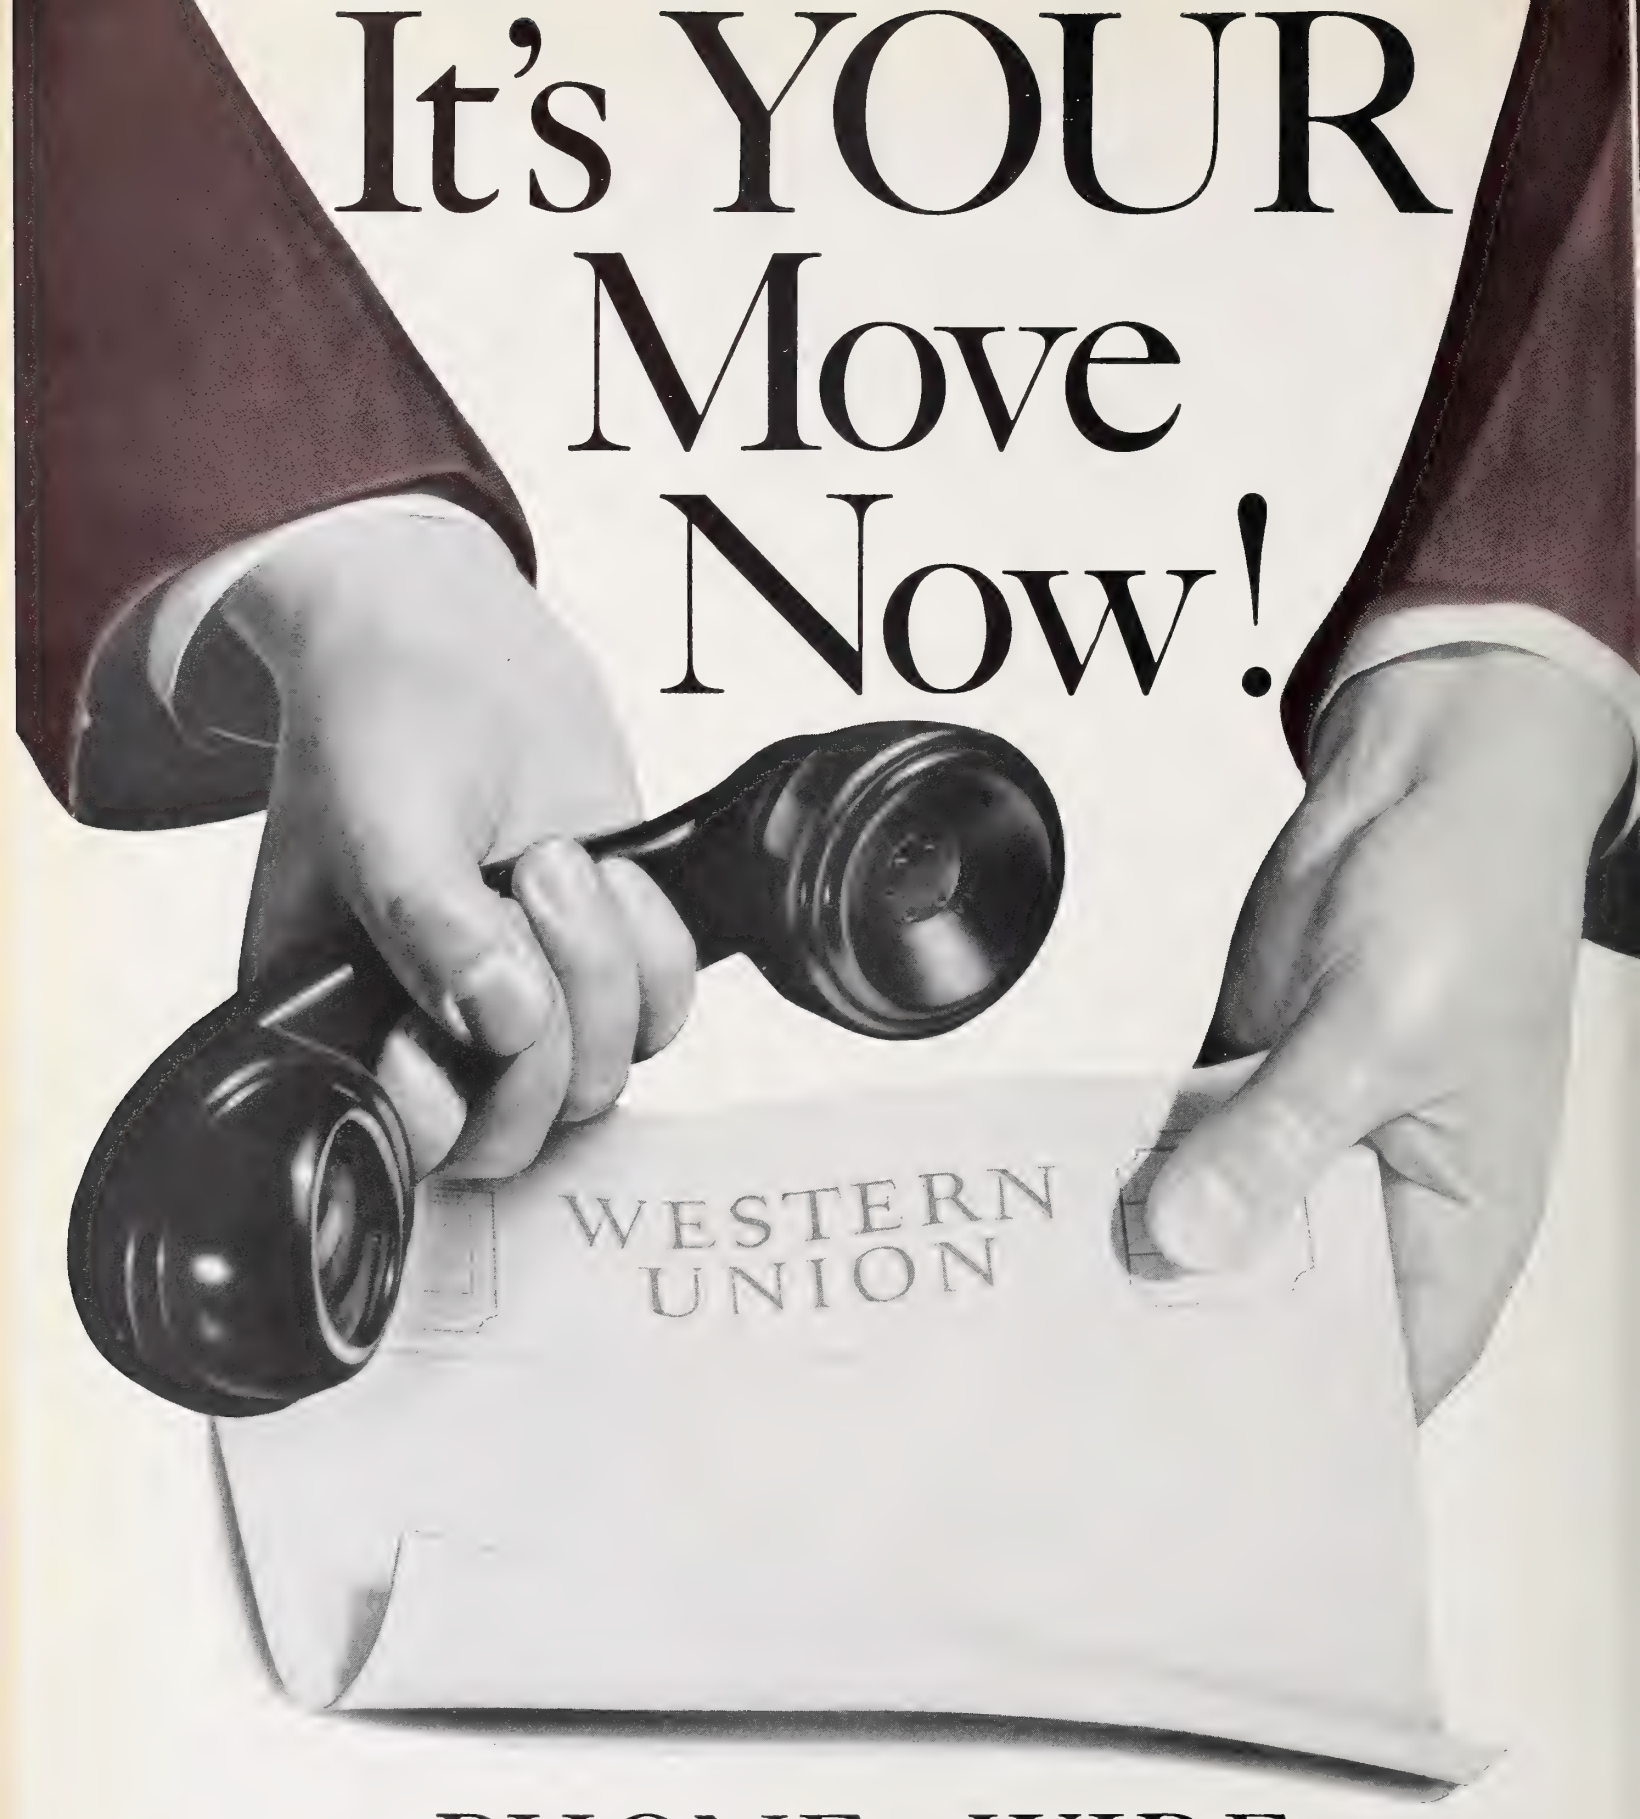
(Tentative Title)

with

RALPH BELLAMY

ALLEN JENKINS • ISABEL JEANS • MARIE WILSON

A MERVYN LEROY Production



Music and Lyrics by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart • Screen Play by Herb and Joe Fields

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

Eighth Move

It's YOUR Move Now!

PHONE---WIRE

Warner Bros.

THE SEARS DRIVE IS ON!

PRINTED

IN THE CUTTING ROOM

Madelon

(MGM)

Romantic Necrology

The "men without women" type of picture is not uncommon, but the kind in which the boy who is in love with the girl does not marry her is rare indeed. Yet that is the way in which MGM's "Madelon" will end, and with due respect to the importance of personnel to be featured, the experience and ability of director, producer, adapters, and the repute of the basic story, that circumstance looms as the most unusual showmanship angle.

Bearing no relationship to the war song, "Madelon" nevertheless is a French story. Its characters are of that nationality and the locale is the Marseilles waterfront. A boy and girl are in love. He goes voyaging over the seas. Against the wishes of the boy's father she is married to an older man. The boy returns, desires to renew the romance, but when he learns that the girl is happy with her husband he goes back to his other love—the sea.

The boy is James Stewart, recently in "Seventh Heaven" but now engaged with Ginger Rogers in "Vivacious Lady" and to be seen with Walter Huston in the tentatively titled "Benefits Forgot." The girl is Maureen O'Sullivan, who will be seen in "A Yank at Oxford," the MGM film made in England which stars Robert Taylor. Wallace Beery, now in "The Bad Man of Brimstone," will be seen in a role reminiscent of "Min and Bill" as he appears as Stewart's father. Frank Morgan, seen lately in "Beg, Borrow or Steal" and as the king in "Rosalie," is the man Miss O'Sullivan marries. Jessie Ralph, Cora Witherspoon, Charley Grapewin, Robert Spindola and Etienne Girardot round out the supporting cast.

Direction is in the hands of James Whale, maker of "The Road Back," "The Great Garrick" and "Showboat." The production is based on a stage play, "Fanny," written by Marcel Pagnol, who previously contributed "Topaze" to the screen. The transcription was completed by Preston Sturgess, credited with "Easy Living," "Next Time We Love" and "Imitation of Life," and by Ernest Vajda.

Release date: April 1, 1938.

Walking Down Broadway

(20th Century-Fox)

Adventures in Romance

According to the publicity department, "Walking Down Broadway" will present six "stars of tomorrow" in a six star picture. They are identified as Claire Trevor, Phyllis Brooks, Dixie Dunbar, Leah Ray, Lynn Bari and Jayne Regan.

Further, the department believes that their stories will make the type of picture that will appeal to every kind of audience, but particularly to youth, for it combines comedy, tragedy, romance, night life, thrills and unexpected twists.

There are six men in the lives of the six girls, the roles being played by Michael Whalen, Thomas Beck, Douglas Fowley, Robert Kellard, Walter Woolf King and Leon Ames.

The parts played by the girls are somewhat similar to the show girl habitues who made up the boarding house contingent in "Stage Door." They are six "Follies" girls, and each travels a different road in search of fame, fortune, intrigue, excitement, romance, adventure and happiness. One does not live to realize her Hollywood contract; another wants a "sugar-daddy" and a fur coat and gets both; the third, who likes to play around the gay spots, winds up in Sing Sing; number four only wants to be a poor boy's sweetheart; the fifth has too many sweethearts, can't keep them apart and one night forgets to dodge; the sixth knows what is good for her, plays on the level with her girl friends and boy pals, and wins her way to happiness.

The girls' histories are based on a story written by Mark Hellinger, popular New York writer of human interest yarns and widely syndicated. The screen play was done by Robert Chapin and Karen De Wolf. It is a production of Sol M. Wurtzel, whose "Charlie Chan," "Jones Family" and Jane Withers pictures are esteemed by the rank and file of exhibitors. The picture is being directed by Norman Foster.

Release date: March 18, 1938.

Doctor Rhythm

(Paramount-Emanuel Cohen)

Musical Comedy Romance

This is the picture on which Emanuel Cohen and Bing Crosby have been trying to get together for a long time. Mr. Crosby's popularity has been definitely on the upswing, and it appears that "Doctor Rhythm" will be one of his best pictures to date, fully up to the standard which "Waikiki Wedding" established.

Potential assurance of that likelihood is had in many factors. The support will include Mary Carlisle, who was with Crosby in "Waikiki Wedding," Beatrice Lillie, world famous comedienne, Andy Devine, Fred Keating, Sterling Holloway and the amusing Rufe Davis. The story is based on the O. Henry novel, "The Badge of Policeman O'Roon." The screen play was completed by Joe Swerling and Richard Connell. Direction is in the hands of Frank Tuttle, maker of "Waikiki Wedding" and "College Swing."

Comedy, much of it semi-slapstick, music and frolicsome love interest are the story's principal ingredients. It is modernly timed and the major locales are New York's Central Park, on shipboard and among the fun devices of an amusement pier. Bing, Devine, Holloway and Davis, celebrating a public school reunion by cutting capers and wrestling with the denizens of a seal pond, open the story in comedy style, but it turns to romance when Bing, substituting for Devine, dons a policeman's uniform to watch over Miss Carlisle and prevent her from marrying a gambler. By the time the law catches up with him to avenge his escapades, Miss Carlisle has caught up with him, romantically.

Release date: Feb. 18, 1938 (tentative).

Love, Honor and Behave

(Warners)

Character Regeneration

The stars of this picture will be Wayne Morris, seen in "Kid Galahad" and "Submarine D-1," and Priscilla Lane, who came into screen prominence via her work in "Varsity Show." Their principal supports will be John Litel, Dick Foran, Mona Barrie, Thomas Mitchell, who was outstanding in "The Hurricane," Margaret Irving, Barbara O'Neil, Gregory Gaye and Minor Watson.

The story provided for them was adapted from Stephen Vincent Benet's short story, "Everybody Was Very Nice." It was adapted by Robert Buckner, Lawrence Kimble and Clements Ripley. The director is Stanley Logan.

Pursuing a sophisticated vein, but not without the necessary comedy contrast, the story treats of the problems of the grownup children of divorced parents. The boy's mother made a fetish of losing gracefully and the father would not admit that he had lost, no matter how fate treated him. The boy, who takes after his mother, much to the chargin of his father, marries a girl who is determined to win in everything. Eventually, after her pride has suffered often, she makes a fighter out of her husband.

As productions based on such a theme do not lend themselves readily to spectacular exploitation, personalities must receive the most attention in advertising. Morris' growing popularity, particularly among the women, should make it easy to take care of him, but combining appropriate catchlines pertaining to this picture with reminders of the appearances of other principals in successful productions, looms as one way of attaining the desired objective.

Release date: Feb. 11, 1938 (tentative).

Vivacious Lady

(RKO-Radio)

Comedy Romance

The leading players in this production will be Ginger Rogers, a box-office leader, lately in "Stage Door" and soon to be seen in "Having Wonderful Time," and James Stewart, who turns from the more serious type of roles he occupied in "Seventh Heaven" and "Benefits Forgot" (tentative title) to one in which he will be given opportunity to display his comedy talents.

The story is a comedy of marriage life, a staid but youthful college professor wed to a picturesque night club entertainer. The difference in social status not only causes trouble with the husband's family but creates another problem when the bridegroom's playboy cousin takes more than a platonic interest in the bride.

Motivation for the yarn is in a story by I. A. R. Wylie, who has contributed several humorous pieces to the screen, which appeared in Pictorial Review of October, 1936. A song number for Miss Rogers was prepared by George Jessel, Jack Meskill and Ted Shapiro. The director, George Stevens, is credited with several Wheeler and Woolsey features, also "A Damsel in Distress," "Quality Street," "Alice Adams" and "Annie Oakley." Pandro S. Berman is the producer.

James Ellison, seen in "Annapolis Salute" and "The Barrier," is third party to the romantic triangle. The supporting cast will present Charles Coburn, a newcomer from the stage, Beulah Bondi, now prominent because of the favorable comment "Make Way for Tomorrow" is receiving in polls of 1937 pictures, another screen debutante, Frances Mercer, and Phyllis Kennedy, Jack Carson and Alec Craig.

Release date: Undetermined.

SUPPORT FROM REICH ESSENTIAL TO AUSTRIA

Industry Leaders Say Even Present Restricted German Market Is Vital to Producers

by HANS LORANT
in Vienna

The extent of the Austrian film industry's dependence on distribution in Germany and the impossibility of building a thriving production business in Austria without financial aid from the Government was emphasized by leaders of the distribution and exhibition organizations at a recent meeting of the Austrian section of the Fipresci (Federation Internationale de la Presse Cinematographique.

Dr. Imelski, president of the distributors, pointed out the importance of establishing an independent national film industry but said that would be possible only if 250,000 schillings, or half the 250,000 marks now received from Germany for distribution of an average Austrian picture, would be guaranteed producers by the Austrian Government.

An Austrian film-producer receives 70,000 Austrian schillings from the local distributors and 250,000 Marks for the German distribution. Half of the 250,000 Marks (500,000 Austrian schillings) is actually paid to the producer in Austrian currency, but the rest can only be spent in Germany and is chiefly used for buying raw material and engaging German actors. Besides, the producer receives 120,000 schillings for the world distribution of his film.

Since such an enormous proportion of the producer's total revenue comes from Germany, Austrian films depend almost entirely on the approval of the German Reichsfilmkammer. (The majority of the actors and staff are German and all must be Aryan. Only films made according to the terms of the Aryan paragraph may go into Germany without paying contingentation ticket and only 14 such films are allowed to be imported annually. This number is not enough to fill the Vienna studios throughout the year.)

Dr. Imelski quoted the examples of Hungary and Czechoslovakia, both of which countries have succeeded in building up a national film industry with Government assistance, although the area in which those languages is spoken is smaller than is the case with Austria. Some form of Government aid or loan would be necessary in Austria too, in order to make film production independent from Germany. This would be particularly important now that it is rumored that Germany will probably cut down the 14 imported films to 7, which would be disastrous to the Austrian industry. Although these rumors have been denied officially, there is no doubt that the general German-Austrian film clearing is very unfavorable to Austria and that large sums are blocked in Germany.

Herr Haumer, president of the exhibitors, pointed out that even the most successful foreign films do not yield more profit in Austria than even the worst German-speaking films. For instance, "Mary Queen of Scots" one of the most successful foreign films, yielded 55,000 Austrian schillings for the distributor, a sum exceeded by the most fatuous German-speaking films. He said it was a disgrace that a film had to pass nine Boards of Censors in Austria before being released in the whole country, because the various provinces have their own censors. Sometimes a picture is approved in one province and banned in another. He objected to the fact that films, for instance "Green Pastures," which have been shown all over the world, were banned in Austria. The line between "juveniles" and "adults" was fixed at a different age in different provinces. He also pointed out that the high luxury tax made it impossible for exhibitors to work at a decent profit and this was what prevented the establishment of two new cinemas in Seefeld and St. Anton am Arlberg, two smart winter-sports resorts extensively visited by foreign tourists.

The meeting closed with the decision to offer a prize for the best patriotic Austrian film scenario, the award to be made by the Fipresci.

The organization "Neues Leben" (New Life) in Austria, created on the model of the German "Kraft Durch Freude," has existed now for three years with growing success. Its purpose is to provide the poorer classes with cut-rate tickets for all sorts of amusements.

Roxy Gang Broadcasts

The original members of the Roxy Gang, Wee Willie Bobyn, Yascha Bunchuk, Gladys Rice and Douglas Stanbury, paid tribute to the late Samuel L. Rothafel Thursday night in a broadcast from Station WHN, New York. Mr. Rothafel died January 13th, 1936. The radio presentation was the second in a series of memorial programs.

Film Buyer Honored

Former associates of Bernie Brooks, new film buyer and booker for the Rosenblatt-Welt circuit, honored him at a dinner given Wednesday night at Hotel Edison, New York. Mr. Brooks, booker and sales representative for Paramount, recently resigned to accept the position with the Rosenblatt-Welt circuit.

Officers Elected by Two Delaware Unions

Frank Pappa, business agent of Local 284, International Alliance Theatrical Stage Employes of Wilmington, Del., has been re-elected president of the Central Labor Union of Delaware. Mr. Pappa is an electrician at the Stanley-Warner Queen theatre, Wilmington. Merritt Pragg, assistant manager, and Al Hughes, projectionist, both of the Stanley-Warner, were appointed to a committee to arrange plans for a low cost housing program.

Officers of Wilmington, Local 473, Motion Picture Machine Projectionists, IATSE, have been elected. They are: Phillip Jones, president; Thomas Varell, vice-president; A. B. Williams, recording secretary; E. T. Veasey, financial secretary-treasurer; John R. Waller, business manager, and Howard Rouke, Jr., sergeant-at-arms.

Kent Goes to Florida

Accompanied by Robert T. Kane, head of New World Productions, Sidney R. Kent, president of Twentieth Century-Fox, left New York Tuesday for a three weeks vacation in Florida.

Receiver Reports On Fox Theatres

Receipts of $62,300 and disbursements of $312,585 were disclosed by Milton C. Weisman, receiver for the Fox Theatres Corporation, in a six months report filed this week in the United States district court, New York. The court extended Mr. Weisman's receivership to July 12th.

The receiver reported the disbursements included $267,693 paid as a second dividend of three per cent to creditors and brought the total dividends paid to date to $559,622, which is eight per cent of allowed claims.

Cash on hand January 1st was $291,461 as compared with $541,747 on June 30th.

The consolidated cash position was revealed as $301,656. A breakdown of the figure revealed $291,462 in the receivership estate; William Fox Isis Investment Company, $6,472; William Fox Play Company, Inc., $2,406; Fox Elizabeth Theatre Company, Inc., $1,258 and Trepark Realty Company, Inc., $56.

Monogram Closes for Australia Distribution

A deal with British Empire Films, Ltd., of which Captain Harold Auten is foreign sales manager, has been closed by Monogram for distribution of all Monogram product in Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania. In addition, the deal also covers territory in the South Sea Islands owned by Great Britain.

The first pictures to be released are "Boy of the Streets," starring Jackie Cooper, "Paradise Isle," "Hoosier Schoolboy," "Thirteenth Man" and "A Bride for Henry," the deal becoming effective in February.

British Empire Films, which recently severed its connection with the Hoyt Theatres group in Australia, is now associated with Greater Union Theatres, which controls a large circuit throughout the territories involved.

At a press reception given by the company last Friday afternoon in New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Monogram officials predicted that the new Jackie Cooper "Boy of the Streets" would gross some $750,000.

Standard Purchases Vitagraph Studios

With the purchase of the Vitagraph studios in Hollywood from Warner Brothers this week Standard Pictures Corporation completed its organization as a producing-releasing company. Present plans call for the establishment of exchanges in 30 American and four Canadian key spots.

The company will take possession of the studios March 1st and will spend $100,000 modernizing them. A program of 18 Class B productions is set for the first year.

Officers are B. W. Richards, president and production manager; Lou Obrosky, vice-president, and Charles D. Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

Hays Plans Coast Trip

Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, plans to leave New York Tuesday for a two or three weeks stay on the Coast.

THE HOLLYWOOD SCENE

Chicago's Fire

New York's critics having agreed that the fire sequences in "In Old Chicago" are about the most exciting bits of spectacle that ever amazed screen audiences, we asked Niven Busch, who wrote the story, how he had learned so much about the holocaust.

"Research, my boy," was the answer, "about a year of it. And if all that I learned had been used, the picture would run for about as many hours as it does minutes. Everybody knows that a cow kicked over a lantern to start the fire, but I found out a lot of other interesting things that most people don't know.

"Chicago would never have burned down if the watchmen on City Hall tower had not misjudged the fire. Confused by the high wind, they sent the wrong fire company to Mrs. O'Leary's stable.

"Even then the city might have been saved had not the firemen been called to put out a big blaze the day before. Following their custom, they celebrated their victory over the flames by getting drunk.

"The fire was irresistible until it reached the river. Then the white heat exploded the gas tanks. The explosion sent a blazing board sailing one-third of a mile through the air to ignite the northwest section of the city.

"Looting, pillage and outrage were common. Respectable citizens joined with released prisoners in breaking into shops and warehouses.

"A little girl's hair caught fire. Someone tried to extinguish it by pouring brandy on the flames. The brandy was good liquor. A blue flame circled the child's head.

Statistics of Holocaust

"More than three and one-half square miles were laid waste; 18,000 buildings were destroyed. Damage was estimated at $200,000,000. Sixty-four insurance companies were ruined.

"Europe contributed to the relief of distressed Americans. More than $1,000,000 was raised there for relief.

"The Chicago Tribune was housed in a building supposed to be fireproof. Ten minutes after the fire struck it the presses had melted and were running in a molten river through the gutters.

"Jealous neighbors were responsible for the rumor that the fire was started by a cow. They were envious of Mrs. O'Leary's bovine, the only milch cow in the neighborhood. The fact that the O'Leary house was the only one left standing in the Patch gave support to the rumor. Still, the fire apparently started in the O'Leary barn.

"After the fire, Mr. O'Leary fled from Chicago. A penniless Irishman, he was afraid the government would hold him responsible for the $200,000,000 loss.

"The principal accuser of the O'Leary cow was a peg-legged truck driver who lived across the street. When he saw the fire he went into the barn, but his wooden leg caught in a hole in the floor and he narrowly escaped with his life.

"The roar of the flames could be heard for 10 miles. The blaze could be seen from three adjacent states. It was the largest fire in the world's history. The only conflagrations comparable were the great fire in London in the 17th Century and the burning of Rome by Nero.

PROTESTS "YELLOW" NEWS OF HOLLYWOOD

To the Editor of the Herald:

During the last few months we have been receiving a great many more cables from Hollywood to our local newspapers, but unfortunately, all the news sent out is either about the domestic lives of the picture-artists or murders in the picture colony.

It seems to me a great pity that this is the only type of cable received in New Zealand—about the picture business—and, naturally, it gives a very bad impression of the morals of Hollywood. — Phil Hayward, Auckland Cinemas, Ltd., Auckland, New Zealand.

Production Off

Production continued on a skeleton basis as the New Year opened; four pictures were started. Most important undoubtedly is "Kidnapped," 20th Century-Fox, a Robert Louis Stevenson story which will feature Warner Baxter, Freddie Bartholomew, Arleen Whelan and John Carradine, RKO-Radio began work on "Certified," the subject matter of which deals with the milk rackets. It will feature Joan Fontaine, Allan Lane, Vicki Lester and Gordon Jones. Universal began "The Crime of Doctor Hallett," melodrama in the jungles. Ralph Bellamy, William Gargan, Barbara Read and John King are the principals. Monogram started "Port of Missing Girls," melodramatic romance, with Milburn Stone and Judith Allen featured.

As MGM's "Marie Antoinette" settled down to work, Maureen O'Sullivan, Melvyn Douglas, Joseph Calleia, Reginald Gardiner, Ruth Hussey and Henry Stephenson were added to the cast, which stars Norma Shearer and Tyrone Power. W. S. Van Dyke took over direction in place of Sidney Franklin.

Seven Finished

Seven pictures were completed. Two are credited to RKO-Radio. "Radio City Revels" will feature Bob Burns, Jack Oakie, Kenny Baker, Ann Miller, Milton Berle and Victor Moore in the large cast. Katharine Hepburn, Cary Grant and Charles Ruggles are the principals in "Bringing Up Baby."

Columbia finished "Crime of the Year," in which Robert Paige and Jacqueline Wells are featured, and Monogram completed "Where the West Begins," with Jack Randall and Judith Ford the leads. Republic completed "The Lone Ranger," a serial which will feature Lee Powell, Lynn Roberts and Herman Brix. "Born to be Wild" was checked off the active list at Republic also. Ralph Byrd and Doris Weston head the cast.

With the completion of "Food for Scandal," Mervyn LeRoy finished his association with Warner Bros. Carole Lombard and Fernand Gravet are the stars.

It's Cricket

One of the musical numbers in the forthcoming Laurel and Hardy film, "Swiss Miss," is a "Cricket Song," the melody of which is based on a cricket's chirp.

When it came time for orchestration, the publicity department said, it was discovered that no mechanical sound simulating devices were satisfactory. It also was learned that the California crickets signed up for the picture chirped in B flat and that Walter Woolf King, for whom the song was written, would require the key of G.

Thereupon, publicity director Frank Selzer swung into action.

This telegram was disptached to fourteen leading universities:

"Would greatly appreciate cooperation your department of zoology obtaining data gryllus domesticus or gryllus neglectus required for special song number in new Laurel and Hardy musical film, "Swiss Miss." All California crickets record in B flat. We need one in key of G to fit voice range of Walter Woolf King. If possible should be one beat chirp in series of four four time. Mechanical devices such as elevator chirp, castanet tinkle, catgut twang tried but unsatisfactory. Please advise our expense where such crickets may be found. If indigenous your vicinity would appreciate shipping six to us immediately."

University of Washington wired this reply:

"Zoology Department says unhave gryllus domesticus or gryllus neglectus this area. Only cricket is huge black which died out for winter. Seldom sings but when does is bass off-key with poor rhythm."

Duke University advised:

"Contact B. B. Fulton, Zoology Department, North Carolina State College, Raleigh, North Carolina, regarding crickets. Stop. He is leading authority on cricket chirping."

From the University of Arizona:

"Arizona crickets won't chirp before March, then probably high C. Suggest you wire Dr. Harry Allard, Bureau Plant Industry, Washington, D. C., or Dr. B. B. Fulton, State Agricultural College, Raleigh, N. C. Both are authorities on cricket notes."

A follow-up wire to Dr. Allard, chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry in Washington, brought this reply from him:

"At this season no crickets or gryllus domesticus or gryllus assimilis (neglectus) available in this climate. Try greenhouses in California for the introduced tropical species gryllodes sigillatus. Has higher pitch then either of the above.—H. A. Allard."

J. Francis Cooper, Agricultural Experiment Stations, University of Florida, was among those who air-mailed crickets to the studio. A letter followed his wire:

"By air mail today I am sending a box of crickets gryllus neglectus to A. A. Brock, Director State Department Agriculture, Sacramento, to be forwarded to you. In view of quarantine regulations we deemed it advisable to mail it to Brock rather than to you direct. Unfortunately our cricket specialists are not musicians, and we are not able to say whether these will sing in the key of G as you wish.

"May we suggest that you try them at different ranges of temperature. They sing only on warm nights; the higher the temperature the better they sing."

UNIVERSAL NAMES THREE NEW VICE-PRESIDENTS

Scully, Fox and Seidelman Promoted; Blumberg and Prochet Added to Directorate

The board of directors of Universal Pictures Company, Inc., and of Universal Corporation, at a meeting held in New York this week, elected three new vice-presidents of the company. They are:

William A. Scully, general sales manager; Mathew Fox, assistant to the president; J. H. Seidelman, whose appointment as general manager of foreign sales was announced at the same time.

Nate J. Blumberg, who assumed the presidency of Universal January 1st, was elected a member of the board of directors of that company and to the board of Universal Corporation.

Ottavio Prochet, who is now a member of the board of Universal Corporation, was added to the board of directors of Universal Pictures Company, Inc.

Mr. Seidelman, Columbia foreign sales manager, was given a long-term contract by Universal. He has been with Columbia the last three years and prior to that was foreign manager of Paramount. Gus Schaefer continues as export manager under Mr. Seidelman.

Lithograph Office Closed

With the closing of Morgan Lithograph Corporation office attached to Universal, August M. Froehlich, art director, and Ben Wells, poster artist, will join the regular Universal art staff. Mr. Froehlich has been with Morgan for 20 years, while Mr. Wells has served the company for 50 years and has been attached to Universal since its inception.

Three promotions at Universal this week resulted in the addition of James Windsor to the advertising accessory department, Harry Finnis to the export department and Kenneth Brown to the purchasing department.

Mr. Scully is at present on a tour of the company's eastern exchanges which will occupy him until the end of January. Around February 1st Mr. Scully will leave New York on a several weeks' tour of the remainder of the Universal branches, to familiarize himself with the exchange personnel and to give personal attention to field sales problems.

Western Sales Managership

Following his inspection, Mr. Scully will decide whether an appointment will be made to the post of western sales manager for which Lou Weinberg, Columbia circuit sales manager, was slated prior to his decision to remain in his present capacity.

Bill Heineman, western division manager, held a regional conference in Seattle this week at the Washington Athletic Club. Attending the meeting were L. J. McGinley, manager of the Seattle exchange; James Ewing, Al Bloom and Sammy Samuelson, Seattle exchange; Les Theurkauf, manager, Portland exchange, and the following exchange members: Gordon Craddock, S. Wilson and John Harvey.

The newsreel, exploitation, story and talent and advertising accessories departments have been moved from the ninth floor in the home office in the RCA Building, New York, to the 10th, 11th and 12th floors.

Scenes in Panay Pictures Deleted In Mexico City

Motion pictures of the bombing and sinking of the United States gunboat Panay in Chinese waters continued to attract attention this week when the Mexican governmen did extensive cutting of the film before permitting it to be shown and groups in widely separated areas denounced the pictures as military propaganda.

In Pittsfield, Mass., Allen H. Bagg, mayor, banned the pictures after a minister charged they were released by the government "to aid in building sentiment for an enlarged Navy," However, after seeing the pictures, Mr. Bagg rescinded the ban.

Members of the Tulsa, Okla., Christian Youth Council went on record as objecting to the exhibition of the Panay films on the ground "we considered them another example of constantly recurring military propaganda which so frequently is seen on the screens of our theatres."

"We consider it particularly objectionable," the group continued, "at this time when there is a concerted effort in Congress to increase our present appropriations."

No action was taken by exhibitors, though, and the films were greeted with no protests from patrons.

The Mexican censorship was reported by James Lockhart, MOTION PICTURE HERALD representative in Mexico City, who wrote: "It is understood the drastic deletions in the newsreel were made at the request of the Japanese minister."

From a business point of view, the Railway Express Agency credited the Panay films and photographs of the bombing for establishment of an all-time record of air express shipments handled in December. A total of 33,012 shipments were handled as compared to the previous high of 32,135, the company said. News photographs and newsreels led all other commodities.

Lieberman Acquires Two

Frederick E. Lieberman has acquired two additional theatres for his New England circuit. They are the Repertory in Boston and the Strand in Brockton, Mass. Both theatres are expected to be opened before the end of the year. The Repertory was formerly a legitimate house.

McConville New Columbia Foreign Sales Executive

Joseph A. McConville, Columbia sales supervisor, has been appointed general foreign sales manager of the company. He succeeds Joseph Seidelman, who was elected vice-president of Universal in charge of that company's foreign sales. Mr. McConville's appointment became effective immediately.

Mr. McConville has been with Columbia virtually since its organization. He entered the industry as a B. F. Keith employee in Portland, Me., after schooling at Holy Cross College and a brief period with the Portland Evening Express. He was later associated with Hiram Abrams in the Famous Players Film Company of New England, and was branch manager for Paramount at Boston.

He became an independent exchange operator and one of the owners of Independent Films, Inc., Boston, in association with Abe Montague, Columbia's present general sales manager. He was a Columbia franchise holder early in the company's existence and later became its division manager for the New England territory. When Columbia became a national organization, Mr. McConville was appointed sales supervisor.

His work will be absorbed by Mr. Montague, with the position of sales supervisor remaining vacant.

Mr. McConville was guest at a surprise luncheon, Tuesday, given at the Hotel Astor by his friends and associates of Columbia. Jack Cohn, vice-president, was toastmaster and brief addresses were made by Abe Montague, general sales manager; Nate Spingold, Rube Jackter and Louis Astor.

Mr. McConville was presented with a scroll and a desk set.

Byrne Heads Projectionists

W. Byrne was this week elected to the presidency of the American Projection Society, one of the oldest existing motion picture technical organizations, formed in 1915. At the annual meeting, held in New York on Monday evening, Percival Aloysius McGuire of International Projector, installed Mr. Byrne and the following additional officers: Vice president, Alfred R. T. Bishop; secretary, Frank McMahon; treasurer, T. Rugino; sergeant-at-arms, J. Chulchian, and a board of governors consisting of J. J. Burgundy, H. Grabelsky, E. Levene, B. Norton, A. Polin and T. D. Smith.

Mr. Byrne two weeks ago was elected a business agent of Local 306 of the IATSE.

Columbia Starts Sales Drive

Cash prizes in the amount of $50,000 will be distributed among the branch employees of Columbia's sales department under a plan announced by Jack Cohn.

The awards in varying amounts are intended as a result of the returns of the "Montague Sales and Billing Campaign" which gets under way January 15th and which will continue during a period of weeks.

Under the set-up employees from district managers right through to the service departments in the 32 branches will have opportunities to participate.

BASKETBALL GAMES ADDED IN DUAL BILLS

Two Balaban and Katz theatres in Chicago, the Regal and the Norshore, are planning to offer their patrons athletic events as stage attractions along with the regular picture programs.

Basketball games on the stages of these theatres several times weekly will be in addition to the regular double-feature programs, and all will be presented at the regular admission rates. Local amateur and semi-professional teams will appear.

B&K tried this plan in several houses last year and it met with considerable success.

Photophone Executives On Coast for Renewals

The renewal of RCA Photophone's recording license agrements with major producers will be undertaken by executives of the company who arrived in Hollywood this week. They are: Frank R. Deakins, vice-president; Lewis M. Clement, vice-president in charge of engineering and research, and Harry Sommerer, manager of the RCA Photophone division. They will be on the coast several weeks completing the license renewal negotiations and inspecting Photophone's expanded facilities in Hollywood.

Among the company's licensees with whom renewal negotiations will be discussed are Twentieth Century-Fox, Warner Brothers and Columbia. Agreements subject to revision at this time were made with these studios last year covering a part of their recording requirements. They were the first pacts to be negotiated by Photophone with major studios other than RKO Radio.

Mr. Sommerer, who supervised the erection of the company's first west coast recording studio in 1927, plans to visit Photophone's sound equipment factories in Chicago and Indianapolis.

$9,000 to Be Distributed To Golden Drive Winners

Edward A. Golden, Monogram sales manager, has announced that $9,000 will be distributed to the first 15 winning exchanges in the recently ended Eddie Golden Sales Drive. The winners, in their respective order, are as follows: Memphis, Milwaukee, Detroit, Kansas City, New York, Chicago, Buffalo, Dallas, Philadelphia, Boston, Atlanta, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis, Oklahoma City and Indianapolis.

Mr. Golden also announced that the Milwaukee and Memphis branches passed their 1937-38 quota for the year, the former office reaching the 117.93 per cent mark, and the latter coming through with 105.53 per cent, with three other offices close to 100 per cent.

Robert Taylor, formerly manager with the Chesterfield exchange in St. Louis, has joined Monogram's branch in that city as vice-president and manager.

Sam Jaffee, projection engineer, has joined Cine-Vox Company, a new concern which will handle standard film equipment and offer a sound service to exhibitors.

GB CLAIMS ERPI, RCA INFRINGED PATENTS

Damages Between 10 and 20 Millions Involved in Action by British Acoustic Films

by GEORGE L. PATZER in Wilmington

Charging infringement of its patents on sound film mechanism in theatre reproducers British Acoustic Films, Ltd., a wholly owned subsidiary of Gaumont British, this week instituted two actions, involving damages estimated at between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000, against RCA Manufacturing Company, Inc., subsidiary of Radio Corporation of America, and Electrical Research Products, Inc., wholly owned affiliate of Western Electric Company.

The actions, filed in the United States district court at Wilmington, marked the second time a sizable sound patent complaint was entered against American manufacturers by European interests. The Swiss Tri-Ergon company unsuccessfully brought such an action about four years ago.

The British company, in its bill of complaint, charged the two American manufacturers and distributors of sound film mechanism had incorporated its inventions in recent improvements in sound apparatus and it petitioned the court for an injunction to prevent continued alleged infringement. The GB subsidiary also asked that an accounting of damages be made.

Projector Patents Involved

Specifically it was charged that ERPI and RCA had infringed upon the Poulsen and Petersen patents for a device for feeding acoustic film at constant speed. The British Company contended its patents were granted for a mechanism to prevent vibration and the resultant rumbling noise when sound film goes through a projector.

Large scale installation of the contested equipment is now in progress in the United States, spokesmen for Gaumont British declared. The complaint stated the inventions "are extensively used throughout the world to the great benefit and advantage of the public and of the motion picture producers and theatres reproducing motion pictures, all under license from patentees, and/or their successors in interest."

The actions against the two defendants were filed separately. In the complaint against ERPI, British Acoustic Films charged that subsequent to the issuance of patents, the patentees "disclosed the invention thereof to officials and engineers of ERPI and associated companies, American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Western Electric Company, and demonstrated to them and delivered to them apparatus embodying therein inventions for study examination and experimentation."

Claims Both Patents

It was pointed out that the first patent was granted August 31, 1926, to Arnold Poulsen and Axel Carl Georg Petersen and that a second patent was granted to Mr. Poulsen on August 19, 1931. Both patents, it was explained, were assigned to British Acoustic Films.

When the applications for the patents were filed, the complaint stated, the inventions were not known or used by others in the United States. The improvements, the British company continued, "are of great value and importance and benefit to the public and to patentees and their successors in interest" and, it was added, "great sums of money have been expended to make the improvements available and profitable to the public."

Western Electric officials expressed surprise over the suits. Its attorneys announced they were still studying the papers and executives limited comment to the words that "we will defend the action when it comes up."

ERPI, which recently sold a license to Altec to service sound equipment and granted International Projector and Motiograph the right to manufacture equipment, also offered no comment on the case.

Pointing out that before instituting the action it acquired the right to sue and collect for past infringements, British Acoustic Films declared, in its complaint, that the RCA subsidiary and ERPI, in the last six years, in "the District of Delaware and elsewhere in the United States" unlawfully and without license of the plaintiff or of plaintiff's predecessors in title and in infringement of said Letters Patent . . . made, used, leased and sold or caused to be made, used, leased or sold devices embodying or containing the improvements described and claimed" in the patents.

Through this action, the bill continued, the defendants have been "unjustly enriched" and "but for the wrongful acts of defendants plaintiff would now be able to make use, lease and sell patented improvements with great profit and advantage."

In addition to the alleged infringement before filing of the action, British Acoustic Films charged ERPI and RCA Manufacturing "threatened to continue said infringement."

British Acoustic Films was represented by Paul Kolisch, attorney. Hugh E. Morris of Wilmington, former Federal judge, was listed as solicitor for the company, and Samuel E. Darby, Jr., of New York, as counsel.

Eastman Kodak Raises Its Stock Value

Eastman Kodak Company has increased the stated value of its common stock from $10 a share to $40 a share, in order to more nearly reflect on the books the amount of capital permanently employed in the business, according to a statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The aggregate increase in the stated value of the stock was from $22,509,210 to $90,036,840.

The company transferred from surplus to capital account $67,527,630, an amount equal to $30 for each share of common stock outstanding. Of this amount $28,617,861.54 was from paid-in surplus, the entire credit in this account, and $38,909,768.46 was transferred from earned surplus. The common stock has no par value.

GB Sales Officials Confer

District sales officials of Gaumont British met in Chicago Thursday to confer with Arthur Lee, vice-president and general manager. Mr. Lee left New York Monday and remained in Detroit until Wednesday. He planned to make arrangements in both Detroit and Chicago for screenings of GB's new picture, "Look Out for Love."

DRAMATISTS BATTLE FILMS' PLAY BUREAU

Guild Group Threatens to Boycott Playwrights Associated With Bureau of New Plays

The feud between the Bureau of New Plays, organized in 1936 by motion picture companies, and the Dramatists Guild reached new heights this week after the Guild threatened to boycott young playwrights associated with the bureau. Theresa Helburn, Bureau director, replied to the threat in a letter to Robert Sherwood, Guild president, demanding that the attacks cease and challenging the Guild to establish a fund itself to finance the education of young dramatists.

Correspondence between Mr. Sherwood and Miss Helburn was opened recently when the Guild, part of the Authors' League of America, demanded that Miss Helburn resign either her position as a director of the Guild or her post with the bureau.

"We have no desire to obstruct the work of your Bureau in so far as it might operate, as you say, 'in offering awards in the way of fellowships, scholarships and prizes to college students and recent graduates . . . in offering constructive critical advice, in trying to secure productions for deserving plays, and in giving practical theatre experience to young playwrights'," Mr. Sherwood declared in his letter to Miss Helburn.

"We have not, however, seen evidence of any attempt on the part of your Bureau to secure such productions, to give such practical theatre experience, or even to help these young playwrights to dispose of their plays with the regular theatrical managers."

The letter also said the contract offered by Miss Helburn to new writers does not contain the Dramatists Guild's standard enforcement clauses.

Basic Agreement Rejected

The quarrel between the two organizations, carried on for several months, is based upon the refusal of the film companies sponsoring the bureau to accept the Guild basic agreement covering the production of plays on Broadway.

In asking for Miss Helburn's resignation, Mr. Sherwood wrote it was requested because "you have compromised the position of the Theatre Guild, a signatory of the minimum basic agreement and a respected producer of many plays by our members."

The Guild's council planned a meeting to consider action on the order of its membership that in the future a person who accepts a bureau scholarship be barred from active membership in the Guild and in answer to this Miss Helburn wrote:

"If the Guild is meeting for the purpose of raising barriers to obstruct our work, is it prepared to carry on this work as effectively as it has been conducted by the bureau?"

Functions "Misinterpreted"

Miss Helburn also said the guild is misinterpreting the functions of the bureau and pointed out that the Bureau is not a producing group and does not plan to become one.

The first fellowship awards under the John Golden $5,000 fund for the encouragement of new stage playwrights will be made in the near future, according to the Authors League of America. The awards resulted from Sidney Howard's suggestion at the first convention of the American Theatre Council last Summer that new sources of stage writers and materials be developed to save the theatre from Hollywood's raids.

EQUITY SUGGESTS BOX OFFICE PLAN

A proposal that stage producers follow the example of most motion picture theatres and sell their seats on a "first come, first served" basis was advanced by Actors Equity Association in its official publication, Equity.

As an experiment, Equity suggested that one night a week be set aside to determine if the public would respond to the plan to drop reserved seats.

"The gesture would be sure to attract to the theatre some people who might not think of going under other conditions," the Equity editorial announced, "and they might enjoy themselves sufficiently to try theatre going on another night when that scheme was not in operation."

Altec Takes Control of Sound Service Company

Altec Service Corporation has acquired Exhibitors' Sound Service Company, which operates in Brooklyn and Long Island. Arrangements have been completed by which all exhibitors' contracts are to be transferred to Altec.

L. W. Conrow, president, said that negotiations were nearing completion for the acquiring of other servicing companies in the metropolitan area and the middle west.

Warner Drive Billings 18% Above Last Year's

Net billings during the first week of the second annual Warner Brothers sales drive were 18 per cent higher than the billings for the first week of last year's drive, Gradwell L. Sears, general sales manager, announced.

Product which has been and will be released during the 16-week drive includes "Tovarich," "Hollywood Hotel," "Gold Is Where You Find It," "Swing Your Lady," "Girls on Probation," "Sergeant Murphy," "The Kid Comes Back," "Penrod and His Twin Brother," "Jezebel," "A Slight Case of Murder," "Food for Scandal" and "Women Are Like That."

Musicians Sign Agreement with Radio Networks

A settlement agreement, long in negotiation between the American Federation of Musicians and the Independent Radio Network Affiliates, which eventually will add $1,500,000 yearly to the studio payrolls of the radio stations, was completed this week after conferences between Joseph N. Weber, president of the musicians' association, and Emile J. Gough and Samuel R. Rosenbaum of the negotiating committee for the radio stations.

The American Federation of Radio Artists, newly formed American Federation of Labor union covering radio players, singers and announcers, has opened negotiations for contracts with the National Broadcasting Company and the Columbia Broadcasting System. George Heller, associate executive secretary of the organization, said the union sought a contract for the stations wholly owned by the two networks.

In New York executives of distributing companies completed the final draft of a master agreement for exchange workers unions and submitted it to the IATSE.

Schlesinger Complaint Filed

Charges of violation of the Wagner Act in failure to bargain collectively were filed with the Regional Labor Relations Board in Hollywood this week by the Screen Cartoonists Guild against Leon Schlesinger Productions, Inc., and the Schlesinger Corporation. The Guild claims a majority of the workers at the Schlesinger plant which produces cartoons for release by Warner Brothers. Dr. Towne Nylander, labor board director, said informal conferences between the producer and Guild representatives would be held.

Union Officer in 18th Term

Thad C. Barrows, projectionist at the Metropolitan theatre, Boston, has been reelected president of the operators' union, Local 182, for the 18th consecutive year. Also reelected were James Burke, business manager; Joseph Rosen, treasurer; Joseph Muzzolo, Louis Pirovano and James Gibbons, executive board.

Other elections include those of John Martin as president of the Alliance, Ohio, Local 189, IATSE, and John C. Walker as president of Canton, Ohio, Local 61, IATSE.

In New York Matthew M. Levy resigned as counsel for the Moving Picture Machine Operators' Union, Local 306, after his appointment as a justice of the municipal court by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia.

Iowa Newsreel's Review

Iowa News Flashes, a newsreel devoted to activities in Iowa, produced by Burton B. Jerrel, will release a review of the significans news events in the state last year as a special pictorial news feature. The subject will run 10 minutes and will be printed on 35mm. film.

To Install Club Officers

The Cleveland Variety Club will meet January 22d to install its newly elected officers, who are Dave Miller, chief barker; Nat Wolf, 1st vice-president; J. S. Jossey, 2d vice-president; I. J. Schmertz, treasurer, and Frank Boyd, secretary.

PROSPECTS FOR GERMAN INDUSTRY NOT BRIGHT, U.S. ATTACHE FINDS

Production at Loss, Patronage Dwindling, Receipts from Exports Drop, and Rental Rates Are to Increase, Says Official

Further evidence of the economic and other difficulties which the Hitler-controlled motion picture business is experiencing in Germany came this week in a report on film conditions in the Reich, issued by the United States Government, through the Commerce Department in Washington, as based on information forwarded from Berlin from the office of the United States Commercial Attache.

Production in Germany continues at a loss, receipts from exports are off previous years, rental rates are to be further advanced, distribution costs are up some 6,000,000 marks and patronage at German cinemas is dwindling.

The U. S. Government's report said that the decree of the Reich Film Chamber to the effect that studios should be uniformly occupied throughout the year was to some extent successful, according to the Institut fuer Konjunkturforschung (Institute for Business Research). The studios worked more regularly during the last season than in the preceding year with fluctuations of only about five per cent below or above the yearly average, while in 1933-34 such fluctuations from the average were as much as 20 per cent.

As yet there has been no apparent equalization in film offers. Important groups in the German film industry propose to give up the practice hitherto followed and to show more first-runs during the summer months. In order to support these efforts, it has been suggested that a more extensive propaganda be undertaken to encourage film attendance during the summer months, and that the theatres be made more comfortable by installing air conditioning.

Production at a Loss

Although cinema attendance set a new high record in 1936-37, the production end of the industry remained "in the red." Total attendance came to 359,000,000, two per cent higher than in the previous record season, 1927-28, and gross receipts reached 273,000,000 marks, as compared with 228,000,000 marks last year and with 178,000,000 marks in 1932-33. Deducting taxes of 20,000,000 marks, gives a total net receipt of 250,000,000 marks, compared with about 210,000,000 marks in 1935-36. However in spite of these gains, the industry had a production deficit of about 10,500,000 marks as indicated in the table below. To offset this deficit an increase in renting rates is proposed which would raise receipts by six or eight million marks. The balance of the deficit, it is hoped, could be met by increased exports.

	1935-36	1936-37
	(Million Reichsmarks)
Total film rents	70	77
Rents of foreign films	10-12	6.5
Distribution, etc., costs	25-30	31
Share to domestic producers	28-35	39.5
Receipts from exports	7	5
Total receipts of domestic producers	35-42	44.5
Production costs	50	55
Production deficit	8-15	10.5

According to the latest estimate of the Institute for Business Research Germany's requirements for long feature films amount to 200-220 annually. For the current season, 180-200 long feature films are available, on the basis of announcements made by film producers up to this time.

Apparently Germany will again be short of long feature films for release during the 1937-38 season.

Attendance Increases

According to recent estimates, there are 46,000,000 persons living in towns which have motion picture theatres. Of these, excluding children under six years of age, 42.5 million are possible visitors to motion picture theatres or 32 million, if those under 15 years and about 65 years are deducted.

The seating capacity of all German motion picture theatres amounts to 1,900,000. Taking into consideration that those cinemas playing daily give 15 shows a week, on the average, and that those cinemas which do not play every day, average three shows a week, there is a yearly seating availability of 1,049,361,000, whereas actual attendance at theatres came to only 364,000,000 during the last season.

9.5 Visits Per Person Per Year

Of the possible visitors, each attends a motion picture theatre 9.5 times a year (basis: population over 6 years of age in towns having motion picture theatres), or 12.5 times a year (basis: population aged from 15 to 65 in towns having motion picture theatres).

Statistics of cinemas in Greater Berlin during the first seven months of 1937 are shown in the following table:

Month 1937	Cinemas in Operation (*)	Number of Visitors	Entrance Receipts	Tax Receipts in Reichsmarks	Average Tax Percent
January	401	6,215,855	5,069,059	453,701	8.95
February	402	5,647,939	4,535,885	397,438	8.76
March	402	6,653,766	5,418,152	456,565	8.43
April	403	6,143,998	4,982,994	433,768	8.73
May	402	4,325,652	3,462,414	257,567	7.43
June	401	3,345,405	2,634,202	232,342	8.82
July	398	4,042,157	3,299,382	262,793	7.96
1936
July	387	3,707,580	2,982,667	215,544	7.23

(*)Either regularly or irregularly in operation during the respective months, 1937.

Films Censored

During the first eight months of 1937, 108 films were passed by the board of censors. These originated as follows:

	No. of Features
Germany	56
United States	30
Austria	7
France	6
Great Britain	2
Hungary	2
Czechoslovakia	2
Italy	1
Japan	1
Sweden	1
Total	108

As expected, the share of German films has increased with the beginning of the new season;

(Continued on following page)

German Film Report Indicates Public Prefers Foreign Films

The year just past was a sad one for German films, a wireless dispatch to the New York Times said this week. The German Film Chamber reported that all three of Berlin's longest runs went to foreign films; two American and one French.

German film concerns produced 95 feature films. Including foreign, 166 films were shown which is a decrease of 21 available in the country annually. Thirty-four American, 15 Austrian and 10 French films were shown.

The dispatch said that "the hoped for revival since last Spring, when the government assumed control of the film industry financially, did not appear. German films still are not wanted except in those countries with whom Germany is politically allied.

"Sensational gains were made in Insurgent Spain. Apparently German film follows the flag. Film journals here (Berlin) report that the Spanish market was dominated by French productions for many years."

The Der Film says, however:

"Before the civil war French films enjoyed the leading position. Naturally in nationalist Spain, German and Italian films have the leading position."

The Times dispatch said further: "The European film market seems, in fact, to be developing more and more into a political issue. Last Summer's and Autumn's Film Exchange treaties, signed by the diplomatic representatives of Germany and Italy and Germany and Japan, were frank recognition of the situation. In the viewpoint of the Propaganda Ministry here, which now controls all films, both financially and artistically, a film primarily is a propagandist weapon which must, however, be employed subtly.

"The German desire to cooperate with Italy and Japan has been checked by the technical inferiority of Italian and Japanese films and the resultant impossibility of forcing the German public to attend theatres where they are showing. Germany has undertaken to lend technical aid to the film industry of both countries, but the results will not be seen for some months."

Northwest Allied Celebrating 25th Birthday Jan. 31

Allied Theatre Owners of the Northwest will celebrate their 25th anniversary or silver jubilee at the Nicollet Hotel, Minneapolis, on January 31st, February 1st and 2nd.

W. A. Steffes, one of the founders of the organization and a leader in its activities for the 25 years of its existence, is in charge of the arrangements and has been in New York for the last week visiting industry leaders.

Among the guests will be the last six living members of the original organization. They are Harry Sherman, now a producer for Paramount; C. E. Van Duzee, retired and a resident of Los Angeles, who left exhibition many years ago to become associated with the old General Film Company; Daniel Chamberlin, also retired and living in Los Angeles; Otto N. Raths, retired and a resident of St. Paul, and Henry P. Green and Mr. Steffes, the only two original members still active in exhibition, both in Minneapolis. Mr. Raths was the first president of the organization which was originally the Minnesota Exhibitors' League.

The Governors of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota will attend the banquet on February 2nd. Film executives who have already signified their acceptance are Neil Agnew, Y. F. Freeman, Charles Reagan, Paramount; Nate Blumberg and William Scully, Universal; Herman Robbins and Sam Dembow, National Screen Service and Charles Pettijohn, Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

A group of Iowa Allied exhibitors, headed by Leo F. Wolcott, president, will attend the jubilee.

National Decency Legion Classifies 14 Productions

Of 14 new pictures reviewed and classified by the National Legion of Decency in its listing for the current week seven were approved for general patronage, six were listed as unobjectionable for adults and one was cited as objectionable in part. The pictures and their classification follow.

Class A-1, Unobjectionable for General Patronage: "The Buccaneer," "Everybody's Doing It," "Glamorous Night," "No Time to Marry," "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Tarzan's Revenge," "Zwei Lustige Abenteurer" (German). Class A-2, Unobjectionable for Adults: "City Girl," "Der Etappenhase" (German), "Hollywood Hotel," "Klart Till Drabbning" (Swedish), "Spy Ring," "Telephone Operator." Class B, Objectionable in Part: "Mannequin."

New Butterfield House Opened

Butterfield Michigan Theatres Company opened a new theatre, the Vogue, at Manistee, Michigan, Wednesday. "Hitting a New High" was the opening attraction.

Einfeld En Route East

S. Charles Einfeld, advertising and publicity director of Warner Brothers, is due back in New York from the coast Saturday.

SHORT PRODUCT PLAYING BROADWAY

Week of January 8

CAPITOL
- Bosco in Bagdad..... MGM
- What Do You Think..... MGM

CRITERION
- Pure Feud ..... Vitaphone
- Danger—High Voltage .... Vitaphone

MUSIC HALL
- Pluto's Quintuplets..... RKO-Radio

PARAMOUNT
- Let's Celebrake ..... Paramount

RIALTO
- Woods Are Full of Cuckoos. Vitaphone
- Buried Loot ..... MGM

RIVOLI
- Meet the Maestros..... Paramount
- Pluto's Quintuplets ..... RKO-Radio

ROXY
- Dates and Nuts..... Educational
- Bugs Beetle and Orchestra.. Educational
- Trailing Animal Story..... 20th Century-Fox

STRAND
- September in the Rain..... Vitaphone

German Industry Reported Falling

(Continued from preceding page)

in the first eight months of 1937 it amounted to 52 per cent as compared with 47 per cent in the first six months. As most of the American films destined for the 1937-38 season have already been censored and trade-shown, it may be assumed that during the coming months there will be a further increase in the share of German films as compared with the total of censored films.

German-Japanese Accord

Meanwhile, German-Japanese accord which provides for the exchange of "cultural" (propaganda) and educational films between the two countries has been signed by the International Cinema Associaion of Japan and a representative of the German Propaganda Ministry, according to reports published in Tokyo and reported to the Department of Commerce by the office of the American Commercial Attache at Tokyo. The agreement will be effective for one year.

Benefit for Mrs. Healy

A benefit show for the widow and infant of Ted Healy, who died impoverished, will be held January 22nd in Hollywood. Stars listed to appear include Eddie Cantor, Burns and Allen, Jack Benny, Bob Burns and George Jessel. Bryan Foy is in charge of arrangements.

Mary Pickford Chairman

Mary Pickford is chairman of the Film Treatizor Corporation, which is developing a projector attachment designed to prevent fires and prolong the life of film, Frank Reilly, president, said this week. Mr. Reilly also said the device has been tested by major circuits and further tests are under way on the coast.

Governor Lehman Opposes Sales And Film Taxes

Flat rejection of pleas for either a general sales or film and theatre tax featured the budget of Governor Herbert Lehman of New York, calling for approximately $386,000,000 for the fiscal year 1939, read to the Legislature Monday.

Instead, Governor Lehman suggested that present taxes be maintained with the exception of the capital gains and losses provision on which he recommended reduction "to stabilize state revenue."

Governor Lehman's proposed expeditures are $15,000,000 less than in the present fiscal year and were pruned radically from department requests aggregating $547,000,000.

On the proposals that taxes of a mill per foot on film and 10 per cent on all amusements, including motion pictures, be made, Governor Lehman urged the Legislature "refrain from making any changes in the existing taxes that may impair their yield, unless entirely adequate substitute revenues are provided."

In a comparative statement of receipts issued by the finance department of New York this week, it was revealed that the motion picture tax yielded $286,395.60 for the fiscal year 1936-37. For the year 1937-38 it is estimated that the tax will yield $300,000 and a like sum in 1938-39.

Almost $4,500,000 was collected by Kansas under the two per cent sales tax during June, July, August, September and October, which is at the rate of about $11,000,000 a year. Some 42,000 merchants, exhibitors and other retailers the returns.

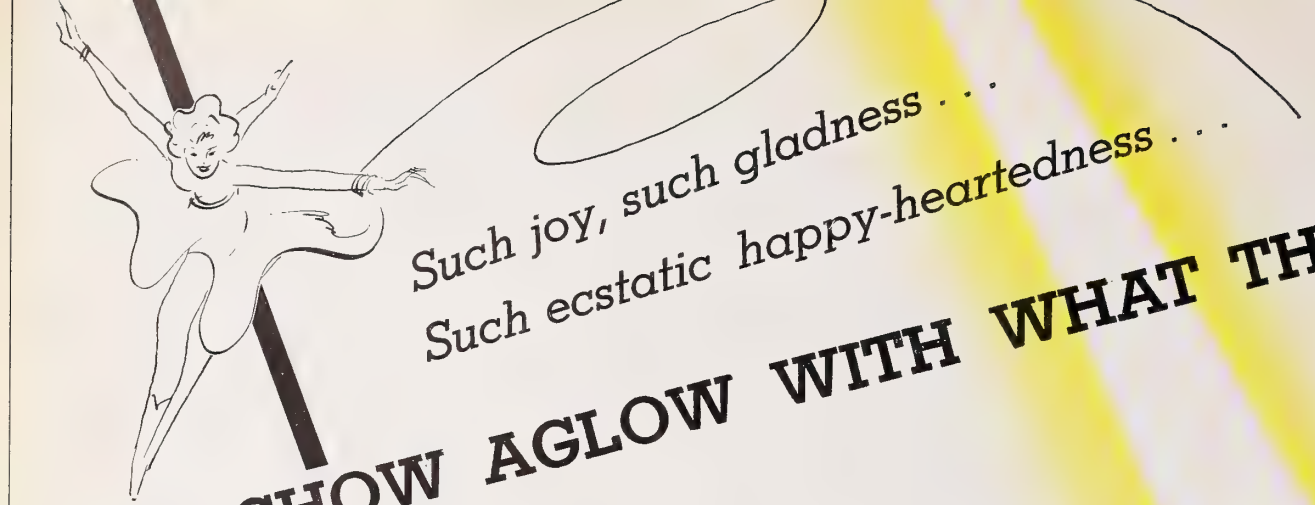
New Grand National Financing Pends

New financing for Grand National is expected to be available in about two weeks, Phil Krasne, company official, said this week. The assertion is based on the status of talks with Wall Street interests. The company some time ago tried to raise $250,000 for production and distribution operations but the negotiations have not been concluded.

Edward Alperson, president, arrived on the coast this week following meetings in New York on the financial situation. He returned to Hollywood to determine the status of James Cagney's picture commitment to Grand National. The actor is expected to make "Angels With Dirty Faces" for the company before returning to Warner Brothers on March 14th.

Mr. Krasne said that Grand National's selling season closed with 5,000 accounts on the books, these accounts to take an average of 30 pictures out of the 52 announced at the last convention.

Mr. Krasne refused direct answers to questions put to him concerning the future financial plans. He did say, however, that a deal will not be made unless Mr. Alperson and the present officers continue in their posts. Thus he put the quietus to rumors that an executive shakeup is due with new money.



Happy tidings from 20th

SONJA, RADIANTLY ROMANTIC ... RE-UNITED WITH HER "ONE IN A MILLION" SWEET-HEART...IN A MUSICAL WHOSE SPLENDORS SURPASS EVEN HER PREVIOUS TRIUMPHS!

SONJA HENIE · DON AMECHE

in

happy landing

Such joy, such gladness . . .
Such ecstatic happy-heartedness . . .

THE SHOW AGLOW WITH WHAT THE CROWD

Romance, song, laughter and thrills ...winging their way from Norway's flashing festivals to New York's winter spectacles! With a Sonja transcending the appeal which made her a "First Ten" star in her first year on the screen!

ELIGHT IN!

Sonja HENIE • Don AMECHE

happy landing

with

JEAN HERSHOLT • ETHEL MERMAN • CESAR ROMERO

BILLY GILBERT • RAYMOND SCOTT QUINTET

WALLY VERNON • LEAH RAY

Directed by Roy Del Ruth

Associate Producer David Hempstead

Original screen play by Milton Sperling and Boris Ingster. Dances staged by Harry Losee.

20th CENTURY FOX

THE KEYSTONE OF YOUR FUTURE

DESIGNED BY DARRYL F. ZANUCK

TO OUT-SCORE "ONE IN A MILLION" AND

"THIN ICE" IN EVERY SPOT IT PLAYS

Both its great stars at the peak of their pull! A bigger name-cast of top-spot names! A zip-and-go story heightened with ice spectacles unparalleled on the screen! And that priceless boxoffice quality that has made 20th showmanship famous!

Sonja HENIE · Don AMECHE

in

happy landing

20th CENTURY FOX

ASIDES and INTERLUDES

By JAMES P. CUNNINGHAM

In February Cosmopolitan magazine Sheila Geraghty, Hollywood studio secretary, will do a bit of reminiscing about some of the jobs she's had since that summer's day, when, in answer to a coast trade paper help-wanted ad, she took a deep breath and walked to the front doorbell of a Hollywood writer. He met her at the door—in his bathing suit.

"He took me out to the swimming pool, installed me under a big yellow-and-red umbrella and dived into the water," Sheila writes. "Floating on his back, he began to dictate a story. Part of the time he was swimming a furious crawl. Sometimes he disappeared under the surface and came up with a new plot."

Sheila's next job was secretary to a studio supervisor. He met her at the door of his office in his bathing trunks, showed her a ball of string and said, "I'm going up on the roof to catch a sun bath. I'll tie one end of this cord to my toe and dangle the other end down past your window. You pull it if anyone important wants me."

Her following assignment was to a writer. "He was a very busy man," she said, "his office being littered with papers from all over the country—racing forms, tip sheets and race programs. He told me to gather them up and make a huge chart. After three days my head was packed full of betting terms and track mathematics."

▽

Dema Harshbarger, head of National Broadcasting's radio-film talent bureau in Hollywood, had been trying to have her office windows washed for months. In desperation, she finally pleaded with Walter Baker, personnel manager of the studios. The windows still weren't washed.

So Miss Harshbarger penned a little note to the effect that it wouldn't be very nice for her office to have dirty windows when NBC-President Lenox Lohr arrived.

The entire building buzzed immediately with the news, ditto the window cleaners. All of the windows throughout the building were washed in no time.

The "news" that Mr. Lohr was in Hollywood "leaked" out to the Hollywood film papers. One went so far as to report that he was in town hiding out from NBC's Hollywood officials.

Mr. Lohr was not in Hollywood, had no intention of going there.

But Miss Harshbarger had her windows washed.

▽

Stuart Doyle, in New York from Australia, is fond of explaining that in connection with his new plans for entering exhibition in South Africa, he must consider that the Dark Continent will not support motion pictures with colored casts.

"The only people in Africa who would see pictures with Negro actors are the Negroes," he says. "And they won't go to the movies because they haven't the money. Whenever they do get enough cash together they buy a cow. When they get the cow they trade it in for a wife."

▽

Because Katharine Hepburn does not like animals, RKO's coast studio had to spend $5,000 for a mechanical jungle beast which looked realistic eough to stand beside Kate in her new picture. (The title is "Bringing Up Baby.")

The Colonial Quartet, group of singers appearing regularly on Station KECA, in Hollywood, offered as two of their selections in the same program, "Vieni, Vieni, Vieni" and "Holy, Holy, Holy."

▽

Anything-for-Publicity-Department, from a Columbia Broadcasting blurb to the press:

> Makeup-wizard Max Factor has named Betty Grable as possessor of the "ideal television skin."

Stephin Fetchit will object.

▽

Ed Jones swears that a Sarasota, Florida, theatre advertised:

THE BRIDE WORE RED
EXTRA FINE SHORTS

▽

It may be so, but—Harold Lloyd is supposed to have purchased a $25,000 insurance policy from Lloyd's of London, paying a $531 premium, for those ten-cent-store glassless spectacles he has worn in his comedies.

When he retires, he said, he will give them to the Smithsonian Institute. Maybe they'll take 'em.

▽

GB Pictures in this country evidently thought that the title of their new British-made "Bank Holiday" would be too suggestive over here, what with the so-called "recession," so they changed it to "Illegal Holiday." Mr. Roosevelt will probably be mighty grateful.

▽

The Nazi-controlled picture business had to change the title of "The Girl with the Bad Reputation" to "The Girl with the Good Reputation."

In the case of a Hollywood-made picture the Nazis would have reversed procedure.

▽

The front titles on Metro's short subject, "Life in Sometown, U. S. A.," includes the credit, "Directed by Joseph B. Keaton."

Joseph B. Keaton, slapstick comedy director, is none other than Buster Keaton, former slapstick comedian.

▽

Deanna Durbin is not Deanna Durbin. She's Edna Mae.

▽

Sol (Principal Pictures) Lesser's plans to make a bare-chested Tarzan out of baseball's Lou Gehrig seem to have been disrupted when it was discovered that a leopard doesn't grow which can provide a skin long enough to conceal Lou's bony knees. Tarzon not being among the spavined, Gehrig will ride the range for Mr. Lesser, provided he can be taught how to ride.

▽

Announcement is made by Abram Fern Myers, general counsel, that Allied States Association, on January 18th, in Washington, will hold an esoteric meeting.

Members will kindly turn to Daniel Webster.

▽

"You've just heard another Earl Smith Newscast—Have a BC headache powder," is the closing line on the BC Headache Powder program on Kansas City's Station KMBC.

Else Argal, the brooding Alyce of the French —tres French—"Club de Femmes," is back in Hollywood. "Lizzie" Argal (her name is Elizabeth) is not new to Hollywood. She's been out there several times. Twentieth Century-Fox had her under contract for five months, but couldn't use her. Hollywood remembers the day when Mlle. Argal saw a car with blue lights on Hollywood Boulevard, and forewith determined to have two blue lights of her own. They were installed on the rear of her car, near the red ones. Thereafter she was pursued up and down the boulevard by the law, on a motorcyle, and was handed a ticket every time they caught up with her. No explanation—just a ticket, and a gruff warning "not to do it again."

Someone should have told her right out that blue was a shade reserved for the lights of coppers.

▽

During the making of "Romance in the Dark," just finished, Paramount got voluminous publicity in the press, considerable word-of-mouth attention and also suffered the stormings and rantings of Gladys Swarthout over the sequence in which the star was humiliated by a barrage of over-ripe tomatoes which covered her face, neck and went deep into her ears, thrown as she stood on the stage of a make-believe opera house. The tomato throwing was the big thing of the month. This week Paramount threw the whole sequence into the ashcan.

▽

If United States Attorney General Homer Cummings hadn't given assurance that no federal investigation of the motion picture business was contemplated, we might view with alarm the entrance of Mrs. Elizabeth Duffie into the cast of David Selznick's "Gone with the Wind." In any event, it is reasonable to assume that after Mrs. McDuffie arrives in Hollywood, President Roosevelt will hear some choice inside on the movies, for the colored lady is a maid at the White House, and she has the ear of Edwin McDuffie, her husband, who, as valet, certainly has the ear of the President.

▽

We have Read Kendall's word for it that Joe Breen's Production Code Administration out in Hollywood limits film kisses to 30 seconds, but Alice Faye and Tony Martin were allowed to hold an embrace for 90 seconds, because they're married.

▽

Motion Picture Herald* is in receipt of a communication from the Art Publishing Company, of Chicago, advising that they can use all our "odds and ends," paying "spot cash" for "box wrappers, nails, saws, casters, hinges, cartons, chip board, plywood, paper, tools, glass, plates, screws and movie star pictures." Lenor Lohr has a lot of stills of Mae West which can be had cheaply—or for nothing.

▽

Sidney Raymond Kent, president of Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation, went down to Grand Central Station the other day to greet Darryl Zanuck, who was arriving in New York from the California studio. The New York Post printed a group picture and captioned Mr. Kent "Robert Kent." The New York World-Telegram published a similar photo and labeled Mr. Kent "President of Paramount Pictures."

Government Gets Official Demand For GB Inquiry

by AUBREY FLANAGAN
in London

The Norden committee representing shareholders of Gaumont British announced this week that sufficient signed petitions had been returned to empower it to demand investigation of the company's affairs by the Government. The shareholders on Monday resolved to proceed and an official request for the inquiry, signed by 3,121 holders of 1,153,122 shares, was forwarded to the Board of Trade. It was expected that the Ostrer brothers, in control of the company, would oppose the investigation.

Although the House of Commons committee considering the new Films Act will not reconvene until some time next month discussion in trade circles of proposals and counter proposals of changes in the proposed bill has not abated.

Of paramount interest were meetings of trade organizations this week to consider the alternative quota plan proposed by Oliver Stanley, president of the Board of Trade. Early indications were that the lack of trade unity on the matter, with opposition to the proposal the dominant reaction, would lead to abandonment of the plan.

Labor unions and the producers have not yet agreed on a common policy and the producer group is reported to be split on the issue.

American distributors at a poorly attended meeting on Tuesday decided to suspend further moves on the proposal until February when they expected a full meeting.

The General Council of the Cinematograph Exhibitors Association on Wednesday rejected the Stanley plan taking a view, similar to that of the renters, that scheme is merely a compromise for the separate quota plan which was rejected by the Commons committee. The exhibitors wrote to Mr. Stanley stating their objections to any proposal dividing films into categories on the basis of quality. They contended that if one class of films received an advantage producers would place films that are difficult to sell into the class receiving the most assistance.

Also a subject for discussion during the recess is the proposal on cooperative booking providing that "a license authorizing a person to carry on business as a renter in Great Britain shall be subject to the condition that, in carrying on such business, no embargo shall be placed upon cooperative booking of films by any group of exhibitors."

Another proposal to be presented to the Parliamentary committee in February by Mr. Graham White is that for a subsidy for British films, combined with a plan for revision of the cost clause of the Films Act.

The suggested subsidy, termed a British Films Advancement Fund, would be formed from contributions from renters of American and other foreign films and would be based on the number of times such films were exhibited in any theatre in England. Proceeds, it is proposed, would be allocated to producers of such British films as are approved from time to time by a committee representative of all exhibitors of films as having special merit and entertainment value.

The cost clause amendment to the Films Act would allow films on which one pound sterling per foot has been spent on labor costs but for which the minimum figure of £7,500 has not been complied with, to be registered for quota.

Labor Drive Started

Following the Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association decision to recognize the National Association of Theatrical and Kine Employes, the organization for labor negotiations in the industry, the latter body has launched a campaign for improved working conditions.

There are between 95,000 and 100,000 employed in British theatres and the union claims that at least 50 per cent of this total work under unsatisfactory conditions. They have cited instances of projectionists working 72 hours a week for approximately $5, girls cleaning halls in the mornings and working as usherettes until 10 P. M. for $2.25 a week, and a chief of staff paid $14.50 for more than 80 hours a week.

A 32-page booklet emphasizing such points has been circulated throughout the industry. An appeal has been made for a 12-point program which includes higher wages, overtime payments and a shorter working week.

Although the C.E.A. has recognized the union there is no obligation upon local bodies or branches to observe any particular agreement. Nonetheless exhibitor headquarters are known to favor adjustment of the situation.

Films Included for Bargaining On Trade Agreement with Britain

by FRANCIS L. BURT
in Washington

Reductions in the import duties on British motion pictures may be offered in return for relaxation of the present restrictions against the entry of American films into England in the negotiation of the proposed reciprocal trade agreement with the United Kingdom.

Formal announcement of his intention to negotiate the treaty was issued by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, together with a list of many hundreds of items on which the United States Government is prepared to consider the granting of concessions.

Motion pictures were included among the subjects of bargaining for the first time in the negotiation of a trade agreement. Offered as possible subjects of concessions were negatives, now dutiable at two cents per linear foot when undeveloped and three cents per foot when developed, and positives, now dutiable at one cent per foot.

While no mention was made of the commodities on which the United States will seek to secure concessions from the United Kingdom, it has long been known that efforts would be made to ease the path of American films in England, and the offer of concessions which would permit British films to come into this market more cheaply was seen as based on the hope of making a "trade."

However, it was stressed by Secretary Hull, "the inclusion of any product in this list does not mean that a concession with respect to it will necessarily be granted."

"The concessions to be granted," he explained, "are not decided upon until after interested parties in the United States have been given full opportunity to present information and views in writing and orally."

Simultaneously with the announcement of intention to negotiate, the State Department made public an announcement from the Committee for Reciprocity Information that interested parties would be permitted up to February 19th, to file briefs with respect to any item listed and that public hearings on commodities to be considered would open March 14th. A British trade commission will arrive in Washington from London in February to confer with Secretary Hull.

New Kennedy Post Up to the Senate

The expected appointment of Joseph Patrick Kennedy, chairman of the Maritime Commission, as Ambassador to Great Britain, neared actuality this week when the Senate foreign relations committee voted a favorable report on his nomination.

Mr. Kennedy's colorful business and financial career includes associations with the motion picture industry which began with the purchase of Film Booking Offices, which he later sold to Radio Corporation of America. FBO subsequently became RKO Radio. Mr. Kennedy then became active in Pathe Exchange, following which he was producer of the Gloria Swanson pictures for release through United Artists. When Pathe merged with RKO Radio in 1931 Mr. Kennedy retired from the industry to handle corporation financing.

In 1934 Mr. Kennedy was appointed the first chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission by President Roosevelt. After relinquishing the chairmanship of the SEC in 1936 Mr. Kennedy reentered the film industry as special advisor to Paramount, and in that capacity made an exhaustive study of the corporate structure of the company. Mr. Kennedy then turned his attention to reorganization of RCA.

In 1937 he assumed his present post with the Maritime Commission.

MPTOA, ALLIED AND ITOA NOW SET FOR JOINT TRADE PRACTICE MEETING

Kuykendall and Yamins Accept Brandt's Invitation; Depositions Taken in North Dakota's Theatre "Divorce" Fight

Delayed since last October, a trade practice meeting of exhibitor organization officials is now scheduled to be held in New York within the next two weeks as a result of telegrams which Harry Brandt, president of the Independent Theatre Owners Association of New York, has received from Ed Kuykendall, president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, and Nathan Yamins, head of Allied States Association of Motion Picture Exhibitors.

Mr. Kuykendall declared he would be available for the session after next Monday.

Mr. Yamins urged that the gathering be delayed until after the meeting of the Allied board of directors in Washington next Wednesday.

Officers are to be elected at the Allied meeting, Mr. Yamins said; then added:

"I am certain that the newly elected officers will attend any meeting held for the purpose of solving the important problems in our industry."

First Suggested in October

A "united front" in formulating a trade practice program to which distributors would be asked to subscribe was urged by Mr. Brandt last October but his suggested round-table discussion was postponed repeatedly because of the inability of leaders to attend. "A united front," Mr. Brandt said, "would accomplish many benefits that are now unobtainable."

Other trade practice developments in the week included completion of the taking of depositions in the Paramount suit to enjoin enforcement of North Dakota's new "theatre divorce law"; the setting of January 18th as the date for resuming deposition-taking in the anti-trust suit brought by the Morse & Rothenberg circuit of Boston against distributors; and the obtaining by distributors of an order directing Quemos Theatre Company, Inc., to show cause why its anti-trust suit should not be dismissed in the New Jersey jurisdiction.

Northwest Allied Aids Defense

Depositions in the "divorce case" were taken by Louis B. Schwartz, attorney for the northwest Allied unit, which is assisting in defending the case in behalf of North Dakota state officials. The depositions were taken from John J. Friedl, manager of the Minnesota Amusement Company, and six exchange managers: W. H. Workman, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; Ben Blotcky, Paramount; Moe Levy, Twentieth Century-Fox; Frank Mantzky, Universal; L. E. Goldhammer, RKO, and Ralph Cramblet, United Artists.

"In response to our questioning, exchange managers admitted that they gave preferred bookings to theatres owned by the Minnesota Amusement Company and the American Amusement Company, affiliates of Paramount," Mr. Schwartz said. "They admitted that they offered first-run pictures exclusively to theatres owned by the Minnesota Amusement Company and the American Amusement Company in situations where these theatres had opposition. This preferential treatment also extended to second-run and sometimes third-run pictures, they said. It was their contention that since these two large circuits were such satisfactory customers, there could be no object in offering product for first-runs to their competitors."

The case is expected to be brought before a special federal statutory court in Fargo late in February or early in March.

After a holiday recess in the deposition-taking in the Morse & Rothenberg case was taken before Christmas, the work was to have been resumed last week but was postponed because several of the attorneys involved were occupied with other cases.

The show-cause order against the Quemos Company was obtained by Merritt Lane, counsel for the distributors. In his brief he contended that all film contracts involved were made in New York and that the defendant companies have their offices in New York.

ITOA members at a meeting Wednesday decided to ask for adjustments of film rentals on the 1937-38 contracts in view of studio retrenchments.

SINGLE BILLS WIN POLL IN MAGAZINE

"A great many people vote highbrow and live low-brow."

With this qualifying preface, Fillmore Hyde this week disclosed the results of a poll conducted on the question of double features by the magazine CUE, of which he is editor.

Out of a total of approximately 2,000 ballots cast by subscribers to the magazine, 89 per cent voted to eliminate dual bills. Another 9 per cent announced themselves in favor of two features and the remaining 2 per cent declared "I don't greatly care" what is done on the question.

Mr. Hyde stressed the point that he did not believe the poll was representative of theatre patrons likes and dislikes and then revealed that Cue may undertake a more extensive poll. A preliminary survey is being made, he said, to determine if there is sufficient interest in the question. If the survey shows interest runs high, a poll will be conducted that will disclose the results of half a million persons.

In the poll already conducted, Cue requested its voters to name the type of short subject preferred if double bills were eliminated. The selections, in order, were cartoons, travelogues, educational films, sports and short comedies.

RKO Radio Groups Still Seek Accord On Reorganization

Agreements on a new board of directors and management for the reorganization of RKO Radio are being sought by representatives of the leading financial interests associated with the company who have been conferring in Hollywood for the past week.

Although the conferences may continue another week and will be of vital import to the company's eventual setup prior to or upon its reorganization, any agreements which may be reached probably would not become effective immediately, excepting of course, the designation of a new RKO studio head and RKO theatre operator, which posts will be filled at the earliest possible moment.

Floyd B. Odlum, Atlas Corporation head, and Peter Rathvon, Mr. Odlum's financial associate and principal adviser on RKO matters, are representing that company in the Hollywood conferences. John D. Hertz, a partner, is representing Lehman Brothers. W.G. Van Schmus reportedly is representing Rockefeller Center interests. Others attending the conferences are Andrew Christiansen, RKO trustee's representative; O. C. Doering, of trustee's counsel, and Leo Spitz, president of RKO Radio.

An award of $750 for attorney's fees was granted to RKO Radio Pictures, Inc., RKO Distributing Corporation and RKO Studios, Inc., by Federal Judge John M. Woolsey in the United States district court in New York this week for the successful defense of a plagiarism suit brought against them by Samuel Shipman and Clara Lipman, authors. Judge Woolsey ruled that the writers must pay the fees in addition to costs.

The suit was started in April, 1936, and charged infringement of the plaintiff's play "Depends on the Woman" in "I Dream Too Much."

Walter Branson, RKO midwestern district manager and leader of the Ned E. Depinet sales drive, opened the annual billings and sales contest in the Buffalo area this week.

"Snow White" at Music Hall

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" opened at the Radio City Music Hall, New York, Thursday, for an indefinite run. The Walt Disney feature-length picture is expected to stay three weeks. The management reported the advance sale as the heaviest in the theatre's history.

Drake Confined at Home

Whitford Drake, president of Electrical Research Products, Inc., returned to New York from Florida this week but is confined to his home for further rest on instructions of his physician. George Pratt, Erpi west coast representative, has postponed his scheduled departure from Los Angeles for another week.

DOYLE CONSIDERING SOUTH AFRICAN CIRCUIT

Plans Personal Study of Field Dominated by Schlesinger; Confers with Arthur W. Kelly

A potential threat to the Schlesinger domination of the amusement industry in South Africa arose in New York this week when Stuart Doyle, Australian film executive, announced negotiations were underway for establishment of a South African circuit of theatres that would have United Artists as its principal source of supply for product.

Mr. Doyle held several conferences, both this week and last, with Arthur W. Kelly, head of the United Artists foreign department, but Mr. Doyle said, no definite arrangements were made. On February 2nd, Mr. Doyle will sail from San Francisco aboard the Mariposa for Australia and after a six weeks stay there he plans to make a personal and extensive survey of the theatre situation in South Africa.

While emphasizing that no definite commitment had been made and would not be made before his departure, Mr. Doyle disclosed that the consummation of his plans hinged only upon the results of his survey. Other product, in addition to the UA output, will be available to the new circuit, Mr. Doyle continued, but he declined to identify "the other major companies" with which he had negotiated.

As to whether the Schlesinger interests were in any way involved in the financial backing for the project, Mr. Doyle laconically replied:

"No. The theatres would be in competition with the Schlesingers.

Second Invasion Move

The announcement of Mr. Doyle's plans marked the second time within recent weeks that a competitive battle had loomed against the Schlesingers. A few weeks ago, Philip S. Pohl, serving as representative of an unidentified group of independent theatremen in South Africa, contracted for the entire Grand National product. He announced at the time, that he also was arranging for the purchase of theatre equipment (MOTION PICTURE HERALD, November 27, 1937).

Within a year, Mr. Pohl predicted, the new company will be in full operation with a circuit of first-run houses. He refused to divulge the names of the persons or companies supporting the project but described the company as "a combined group of independent theatre owners with strong financial backing."

No Financing by United Artists

Mr. Doyle also was reticent about identifying the financial backers of his proposed circuit. However, he said, the proposed deal with United Artists calls for no financing by the distributing company.

At present, Mr. Doyle's chief interests lie in a network of radio stations in Australia. The network has been expanded, he said, until it now covers approximately 90 per cent of the listening public in Australia. For this reason, he continued, there can be little expansion in his radio holdings.

"However," he said, "we are planning to go into extensive production of electrical transcriptions. We expect to apply the motion picture technique to the radio."

As for the motion picture industry in Australia, Mr. Doyle said he had been associated with it so long "it is unlikely I'll be dissociated with it when I return." He amplified the remark by explaining he probably will produce films for the Australian and British quota.

"I'll probably be tied up with National studios under an arrangement with several of the major companies here."

"I'm on a world trip," Mr. Doyle added. "This is my second visit to the United States and I've been to England and the Continent. There's nothing definite; I want to look over everything before I make any decision on what I will do."

Two Appointed to Republic's Sales

Republic Pictures in New York this week appointed Harry LaVine, Philadelphia branch manager, and Jack Bellman, head of the New York office, to head eastern sales, dividing the territory formerly supervised by Edward M. Schnitzer, eastern district manager, who resigned recently to join Warners.

Mr. Bellman's territory will include New York, New England, Northern New Jersey and Michigan, with Mr. LaVine handling Pennsylvania, Ohio, Washington and Southern New Jersey. In addition both will retain their present branch posts for the time being. The post of general sales manager, now vacant, will not be filled for some time, according to present plans.

Sales supervisors, including Grover C. Parsons, San Franciso; Max Roth, Chicago, and Heck Everett, Charlotte, as well as the newly appointed men, met Tuesday with eastern franchise holders to discuss current season's progress.

Franchise holders attending were Arthur Bromberg, Atlanta; Herman Rifkin, Boston; Nat Lefton and Jack Jossey of Cleveland and Cincinnati, respectively; William G. Underwood, Dallas; James Alexander, Pittsburgh; Bernie Mills, Albany; Herman Gluckman, New York; Sam and Jake Flax, Washington, and Jack Berkowitz, Buffalo. Sam Hacker of the contract department also attended.

Reveals New Film Cement

Bell and Howell, Chicago manufacturers, have announced a new film cement which it says "is equally effective on both safety and standard film." It is claimed that the new cement forms splices that are stronger than the film itself. It is also said that the product does not dissolve the dye in Kodachrome film.

New York Critics Plan Award for Industry Service

An award for "distinguished service to the motion picture industry," is planned for 1938 by the New York Film Critics in addition to the annual awards made for "best pictures, actors and directors." The proposal was made by Frank C. Nugent, reviewer for The New York Times, and chairman of the critics.

Robert Benchley acted as master of ceremonies in the presentation of the 1937 awards in a half hour broadcast Sunday night over the National Broadcasting Company network. Jack L. Warner, speaking from Hollywood, accepted the award for "The Life of Emile Zola" for Warner Brothers while Paul Muni spoke from Budapest in acknowledging his award for the "best male performance."

Anatole Litvak acknowledged the citation of "Mayerling," which he directed, as the "best foreign film shown in New York." Gregory LaCava spoke from Hollywood in accepting the "best direction award." A radio connection with Sweden could not be arranged for the presentation of the award to Greta Garbo for her work in "Camille."

Among those present at a cocktail party in the Rainbow Room, Rockefeller Center, in connection with the presentations were: Martin Quigley, Mary Pickford, Charles E. McCarthy, S. Barret McCormick, Monroe Greenthal, Hope Hampton, John Barrymore, Frank Lawton, Si Seadler, Mort Blumenstock, Lou Lifton, Mel Heymann, Myer Beck, Jean Hersholt, Arthur Mayer, Arch Reeve, Earl Wingart, Morris Kinzler, Al Wilkie, Bill Jaffe and Mrs. James F. Looram.

"The Life of Emile Zola" has been selected as the best film of the year by the newly organized Magazine Film Critics, a group consisting of reviewers on national weekly and monthly publications.

Frederick James Smith of Liberty is president of the group. Other members are John Mosher, New Yorker; Donita Ferguson, Literary Digest; Tom Wenning, Newsweek; Peter Ellis, New Masses; Katherine Best, Stage; Mark Van Doren, Nation; Otis Ferguson, New Republic, and Jesse Zunser, Cue.

"The Life of Emile Zola" was also selected by Dee Lowrance, film editor of Young America, as the "best" film of year among those suitable for children between the ages of eight and 16. Other pictures chosen by Miss Lowrance in order of rank are: "Captains Courageous," "A Star Is Born," "Elephant Boy," "Victoria the Great," "Shall We Dance," "The Man Who Could Work Miracles," "The Prince and the Pauper," "Fire Over England" and "Thin Ice."

"Lost Horizon," Columbia picture directed by Frank Capra, was selected as "the best picture of the year" by the Daily Express of London, after a nationwide poll of Great Britain's theatre goers.

David L. Loew, producer, and Louis J. Brecker, operator of the Roseland Ballroom and the International Casino, both in New York, have purchased the former Iceland Skating Rink there.

La Ardiente Noche
"Mannequin"
the drama of a shop girl's millions is the greatest Joan Crawford picture in five years!
JOAN CRAWFORD
SPENCER TRACY
in MANNEQUIN
with ALAN CURTIS
RALPH MORGAN
A Frank Borzage Production
Screen Play by Lawrence Hazard
A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture
Directed by Frank Borzage
Produced by Joseph L. Mankiewicz
LITHO U.S.A.

SHOWMEN'S REVIEWS

This department deals with new product from the point of view of the exhibitor who is to purvey it to his own public

THE BUCCANEER

(Paramount)
Blithe historical romance

Reviewed at New Orleans Premiere
by TERRY RAMSAYE

GLAMOURED piracy and high excitements embroidered into a story-book historical drama of silken sheen constitute the essence of "The Buccaneer," now revealed as one of the most ambitious projects of Paramount Pictures and Cecil B. DeMille.

This is Mr. DeMille's twenty-fifth anniversary production, latest in that quarter of a century array of titles that began with "The Squaw Man" and the founding of Hollywood in 1913. From his skilled craftsmanship have come other pictures quite as ambitious, some considerably more dynamic, but none more adroitly fabricated, skillfully adjusted to the norm of appeal to the world audience that such imposing and costly productions must command.

"The Buccaneer" is a production compounded precisely to a prescription of showmanship. It has "what it takes" by reason of no accidental developments or mid-production inspirations. It was built from the story up by dexterous hands long familiar, such as Jeanie Macpherson, completely of the DeMille school from Then to Now, and C. Gardner Sullivan, whose lore and experience runs back to the rise and triumphs of the late Thomas H. Ince, also famed in motion picture tradition for the box office practicality of his art. Much of the simpler direct recording technique of the founding masters of the art survives in this picture. There is no stylizing, no trickery of "trolleys" and "dollies." The story starts at the beginning and proceeds directly, although ornamentally, on its way precisely to the conclusion, with its suspenses neatly so overlapped that there is always one present, even if not always poignantly operating. The audience is permitted to enjoy without gasping.

The abundance of exploitation aspects is reasonably to be attributed considerably to the functioning of William H. Pine, making his debut among screen credits as associated producer. Mr. Pine, long with Paramount, went to Hollywood and promotional labours before his production appointment, from an extensive and intensive experience in exhibition matters in Chicago with the Balaban & Katz theatres, and if memory serves right, earlier with Lubliner & Trinz.

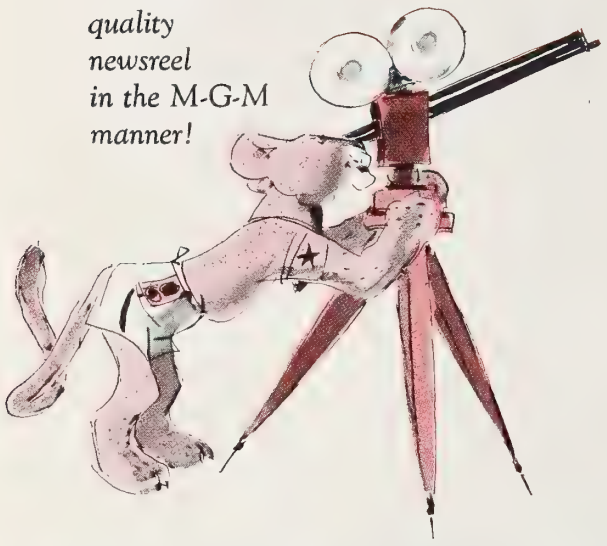
It was significant at the New Orleans premiere, which was also in the nature of a trade show to visiting exhibitors of the southland, and a review of Hollywood import to the cast, and assembled Paramount distribution executives, that the official applause from those who had to like it came from the velvet roped reserve section of the Saenger Theatre as the credit titles were unfurled, but that the hands for thrills and climaxes started their waves from the unreserved areas occupied by John Public and family. (Also see story on page 17.)

The basic merchandise of 'The Buccaneer" is embodied in one word, "pirates." The brand name of this goods is Jean Lafitte, limned in the good-bad man formula, delivered on the screen with suave elegance by Fredric March, rewarded for his piracy in this production by $150,000 American dollars in hand paid, one is told. He is the complete and perfumed pirate of the Treasure Island school, marvelously attuned to the requirements of the women and children who buy the preponderance of the seats. His every step is graceful romance and the type-form performance that makes young things run around with autograph albums. It must be said in defense of Mr. March's screen Lafitte that his lovely rascality and noble criminality becomes more and more acceptable as it becomes integrated with the general incense of the story-book hour.

Beginning with the New Orleans Times Picayune we shall have an epidemic of reviews under the headline: "Tamiroff steals show." That will be considerably incorrect. It is true that his part as "Dominique You," genial cutthroat and "Napoleon's old cannonier," is a fat one. It certainly took more make-up to make a pirate of him than Mr. March, but Mr. Tamiroff's grim and gorgeous comedy was permitted to him by the script writers and Mr. DeMille's direction. Shining through it all is the infectious enjoyment of the player in his part. But while they laugh with "Dominique" they will love with Lafitte, Mr. March being that way.

Another component of prime importance, and second only in availability for showmen's utilization to the primal piracy, is a strong sounding of that sure fire chord of "Americanism." This is purveyed by the role of General Andrew Jackson, hero of the Battle of New Orleans, the "Old Hickory" of sacred tradition. This 1812 vintage of the much vaunted 100 per cent Americanism, as played by Mr. Hugh Sothern, is likely to be found invaluable out in the provinces. It is of the sort of stuff that makes a certain school proclaim the motion pictures as "so educational." It also reminds one, somewhat more detached, of that paraphrase of the Declaration of Independence by the late Ring Lardner in which he quoted his mythical document as saying: " . . . and An American is as good as an Englishman or anybody else, and probably a damned sight better." Mr. Sothern's "Andy Jackson" is as brave as two lions, polite as a Chesterfield, as wise as a tree full of owls and the fightingest son-of-a-gun that ever appeared under the Stars and Stripes. Mr. Sothern fills the role clear up to the top. It may be of passing interest that he is a gift to the screen from the Depression Debacle of '29. Mr. Sothern was a prospering broker until the Fall of Wall Street. Mr. DeMille, after pressure from his entire staff and family, went to see Mr. Sothern in an "Andy Jackson" role in a WPA theatre.

"I agreed to consider a screen career," Mr. Sothern confided over the Pomery at Mr. E. V. Richards' party after the opening, "on condition that I could start at the top." This immediately establishes Mr. Sothern as having in perfection of full flower the psychology and philosophy of the actor, perhaps a reincarnation of the brave spirit of optimism that went down in Wall Street. It would seem likely that he should be heard from further in the screen expressions of Hollywood.



Mr. DeMille's signed expressions and not a little of other exploitative literature seem to put emphasis on this screen introduction of Miss Franciska Gaal, imported player, in the stellar part of "Gretchen," the little Dutch cameo who loves Lafitte. It is a paper-doll part, so faithfully enacted that one feels like peeling the little lady off the screen and putting her in a breast pocket. She positively is not so, and contributes a suggestion of Gilbert & Sullivan opera to the

(Continued on page 50)

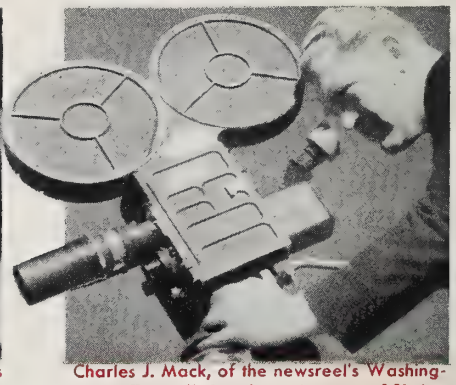
ON THE NEWS FRONT AND BEHIND THE SCENES WITH M-G-M's

"NEWS OF THE DAY"

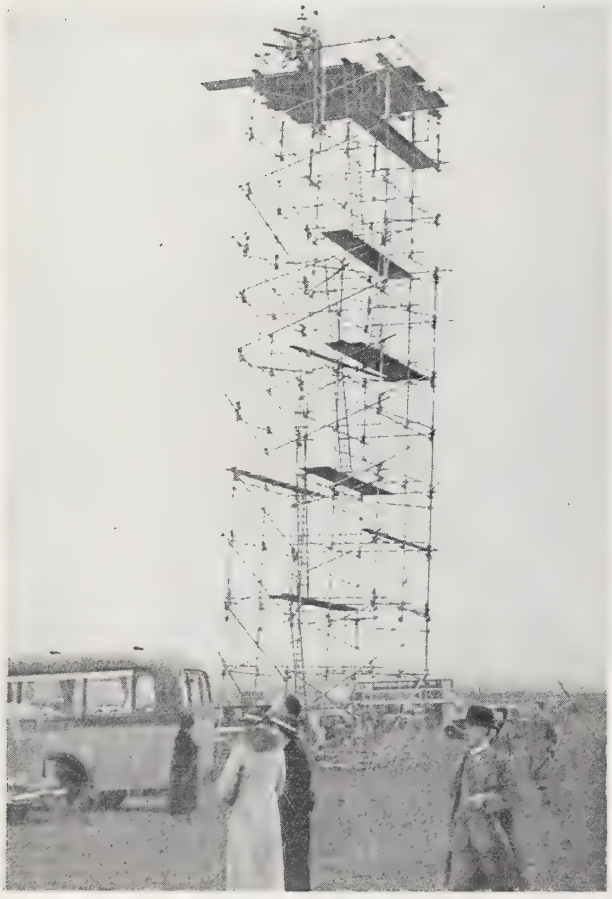
"It's the quality newsreel in the M-G-M manner!

The Newsreel that won industry approval when it gave each of its accounts without extra charge the complete pictorial story of the Bombing and Sinking of the U.S.S. PANAY!



Resources without stint are behind M-G-M's great newsreel. No day passes without additional expansion, new coverage, new ideas. Worldwide is the scope of the organization which brings to 30,000,000 people each week in motion picture theatres in all parts of the globe great, significant news—almost as quickly as it takes place.

From its bureaus in the great key cities of the world—New York, London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, Shanghai, Tokyo, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, Los Angeles, and San Francisco—come each week to news of the day's laboratory in Manhattan 100,000 feet of film. Out of this vast collection of news transferred to film, 2,000 feet of the more timely and spectacular subjects are selected for the bi-weekly releases. Of this selection, a total of 1,000,000 feet of film are shipped weekly to theatres throughout the world. It is a breath-taking and stupendous enterprise



On these pages are shown a few behind-the-scenes glimpses of the personalities who make NEWS OF THE DAY the thrilling, arresting screen experience it is.

President Roosevelt, of all public figures, is most at ease before the newsreel cameras, say editors of News of the Day. Also he has been the most photographed.

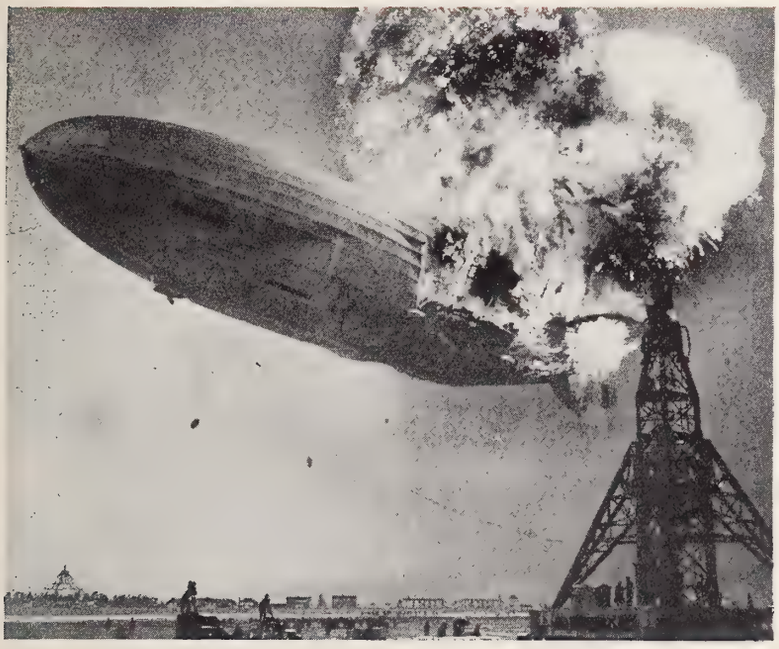
Charles J. Mack, of the newsreel's Washington staff, usually has the assignment of filming F. D. R. The President knows the cameramen—and calls them—by their first names.

Newsreel cameramen have a field day at the English Derby, using a special tower (above) for long-range shots as well as several batteries of sound trucks and cameras (below).

Jean Paul King, of radio fame, vividly describes News of the Day events.

The Woman's Page brings not only real human interest stories, but a glowing interpretation of them by fashion expert Adelaide Hawley.

Recording film in the New York laboratory calls for precise electrical adjustment, keen eyesight and alert ears on the part of sound engineers working against time!

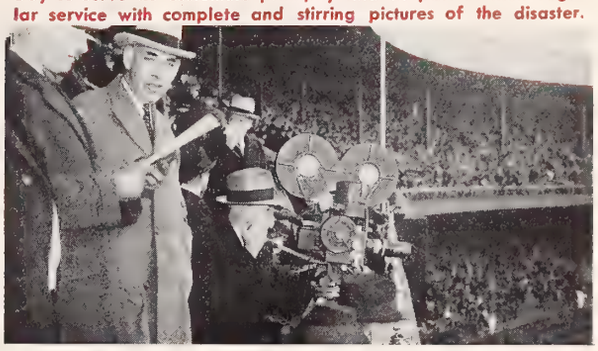


Umberto Romagnoli, head of News of the Day in Rome, is kept on the jump filming Mussolini's spectacular activities.

H. S. "Newsreel" Wong, ace Chinese cameraman of News of the Day, risks his life daily filming the havoc of war in China.

The greatest newsreel picture of recent years was that of the airship Hindenburg in flames, at Lakehurst, N. J. Cameraman James Seeley, appalled by the sudden spectacle before him, kept grinding and caught the scene in all its horror.

A cameraman films Jessie Simpson, famous beauty, who, despite the loss of both legs, bravely works as model for Bradshaw Crandall's Cosmopolitan Magazine cover.



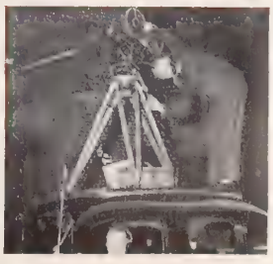
Cameraman Jack Whipple dons high boots and helmet to film "sand hogs" digging a new subway under New York's Sixth Ave.

The business of editing News of the Day is an exacting but always absorbing one, requiring expert news judgment. In their own Projection Room at all hours, Editor Mike Clofine and staff look at news-rushes from all over the world.

Sinking of the U. S. S. Panay gave opportunity for News of the Day to serve its customers promptly and as part of their regular service with complete and stirring pictures of the disaster.

News of the Day gives complete coverage to the most exciting newsreel arena of them all, the football stadium. Rody Green is shown shooting the Fordham-Purdue game.

When police capture a notorious criminal, newsreel men go into action. Jack Whipple snaps Earle Vandenbush, bandit, at White Plains, N. Y.



News of the Day sets up its equipment in New York's City Hall to film Mayor LaGuardia after his triumphant bout with the Tammany Tiger.

No matter what the weather the cameramen go down to the sea in ships to film the varied activities of New York's great port.

Shu Taguchi, ace Japanese cameraman for News of the Day, a top man in a spot where news is hot.

John Bockhorst filming, Charles Peden recording a dangerous New York fire.

(Continued from page 47)

ensemble. Asssuming the voice, she would be a "Buttercup," and a sweet one. She's the pirates' pet and no metal can touch her. She is of course another of those castings by which the American product addresses itself to the markets overseas. She is probably an important ledger entry.

Speaking of the international aspects, one inescapably approached the screening of "The Buccaneer" with interest on how the big British market was going to be sold a big British defeat in front of the cotton bales of New Orleans in 1812. The difficulty seems to have been adequately met by recording the British soldiery as including gallant gentlemen and then sending innumerable Scotch soldiers to their death in losing the battle. The cameras and the skirling pipes made the Highlanders appear so unreasonably brave that even this reviewer of Edinburgh extraction was satisfied. The Scots can take it, to save a customer.

"The Buccaneer" is a job exclusively in the field of entertainment, that single responsibility of the screen, which Martin Quigley so pithily declared to the meddling propagandists and educators assembled at Williamstown last summer. So it is with no carping spirit that the editor of Mr. Quigley's MOTION PICTURE HERALD remarks that this enamelling of the unspeakable Lafitte, the bane of Barataria, relates to history and fact like a New Deal report, or Parsons Weems' George Washington vs. Cherry Tree story. Art is like that. As much could be said for "Wilhelm Tell" or the screen's own "The Life of Villa." It is, however, appropriate to remark that, all this being so, there would be no great wisdom in promotional efforts that would invite controversial attention from academic quarters.

There is a decided interest in the DeMille treatment of this tale of piracy and its so very decent euphemisms. With opportunities innumerable, there is no hint of pursuit of sadistic intensities, no capitalization of the broad opportunities for accent on sex—which heaven knows was so abundantly manifest in the New Orleans of 1812, and just possibly now and then since.

The extent of Hollywood redemption involved is indicated by the official literature of the piece which, discussing Margot Grahame's role as Annette de Remy, says: "Her specialty in American films has been brittle ladies of tarnished allure. . . . In 'The Buccaneer' she does an about-face . . . she appears as a cultured young maiden of breeding and position. . . ."

"The Buccaneer" will be found remarkable, even among the productions of the current flow, for its decent restraints even in the most headlong pursuit of romance. It signalizes Mr. DeMille's capacity for portrayal of the sheerly romantic without resort to questionable colorations.

And, maybe, it was a help in this instance that there were no bath-tubs in that locale in 1812.

Importantly, over all despite all of the glamouring, Mr. DeMille picked up Lafitte as an outlaw, and after many adventures, left him an outcast.

Produced and directed by Cecil B. DeMille. Distributed by Paramount. Screen play, Edwin Justus Mayer, Harold Lamb and C. Gardner Sullivan. Based on an adaptation by Jeanie Macpherson on "Lafitte The Pirate," by Lyle Saxon. Assistant director, Dick Harlan. Business manager, Gene Hornbostel. Film editor, Anne Bauchens. Art directors, Hans Dreier and Roland Anderson. Photographer, Victor Milner. Associate producer, William H. Pine. Location director, Arthur Rosson. Musical score, George Antheil. Musical direction, Boris Morros. Sound, Harry Lindgren, Louis Mesenkop. Costumes, Natalie Visart and Dwight Franklin and in part, Dan Sayre Groesbeck. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3654. Release date, February 4, 1938. Running time, 126 minutes. General audience classification.

CAST

Jean Lafitte	Fredric March
Gretchen	Franciska Gaal
Annette de Remy	Margot Grahame
Dominique You	Akim Tamiroff
Ezra Peavey	Walter Brennan
Beluche	Anthony Quinn
Senator Crawford	Ian Keith
Governor Claiborne	Douglas Dumbrille
Aunt Charlotte	Beulah Bondi
Captain Brown	Robert Barrat
Gramby	Fred Kohler
Andrew Jackson	Hugh Sothern
Mouse	John Rogers
Tarrus	Hans Steinke
Collector of Port	Stanley Andrews
Dolly Madison	Spring Byington
Admiral Cockburn	Montague Love
General Ross	Eric Stanley
Captain Lockyer	Gilbert Emery
Captain McWilliams	Holmes Herbert
Sir Harry Smith	Evan Thomas
Mr. Rogers	Michael Brooke
John Freeman	Thaddius Jones
Ship's Surgeon	Reginald Sheffield
James Smith	Eugene Jackson
Colonel Butler	Davison Clark
Commodore	Ivan Miller
Marie de Remy	Louise Campbell
Charles	Jack Hubbard
Madeleine	Evelyn Keyes
Roxane	Lina Basquette
Suzette	Luana Walters
Jailer	J. P. McGowan
Villere	Barry Norton
Daniel Carroll	Charles Trowbridge
Scipio	Alex Hill
Nicodemus	George Reed
Major Latour	Mert La Varr
Pirate with Violin	Melville Ruick
Assistant Jailer	Philo McCullough
Woman	Ethel Clayton
Woman	Gloria Williams
Stunt Pirate	Jim Dundee
Officer	Buddy Roosevelt
Praline Seller	Pearl Adams
Young Blade	John Patterson
Legislator	Lee Prather
French Woman	Loulette LaPlante
Officer	Edward Brady
Colonel	J. M. Sullivan
French Woman	Lita Marty
Woman	Maude Fealy
Officer	Robert Terry
Major Hinds	Roy Flynn
American Sergeant	Harry Woods
Orderly	Jack Rutherford
Courier	Carey Harrison
Vincent Nolte	Charles Brokaw
Dying Pirate	Paul Fix
Naval Lieutenant	Leyland Hodgson
British Sergeant	James Flavin

Love is a Headache

MGM

Comedy Romance

That "Love is a Headache" is desirable entertainment and a potential commercial success was indicated by the enthusiasm of the vast majority of the preview audience, a cross section of the opinion creating influence representative of any community. The woman leaving the theatre who called it "the worst picture men ever made" undoubtedly was in a picayunish minority.

"Love Is a Headache" is a wild, woozy comedy, the kind that should start any kind of audience laughing right away and keeping it up. Basically, it's a human interest story, but there's never a serious moment in it. When that condition threatens, some eccentric incident, situation, bit of business, characterization or line of dialogue is injected to return the subject to its original comedy premise. Smart writing, direction and journeymanlike acting on the part of the entire cast, at times rising to new heights, give the film a lively character that should appeal to specialized, general or family type audiences.

It's love that makes "Peter Lawrence," broadcasting columnist, a severe critic yet ardent admirer of "Carlotta Lee," actress. But when her harebrained publicity man, "Slattery," and his dumb stooge, "Cannon," adopt a pair of kids, "Mike" and "Jake," for the unfortunate star, the fun begins. "Carlotta" finds herself in difficulties with a welfare organization as "Peter" paints her as an unfit guardian. "Mike" and "Jake" are the pivot points of hilarious foolishness. And when "Slattery" and "Cannon" again demonstrate their mental brilliance, "Peter" finds himself in the middle of a kidnaping situation that threatens dire results. A pseudo shotgun marriage at pistol point, with the hotel keeper-sheriff-justice of the peace (Jesse Ralph) holding the weapon while she performs the bizarre ceremony, resolves everything in a blast of fun.

Previewed in the Uptown theatre, Los Angeles. Up in the dim recesses of the balcony, a region to which studio executives, stars and whatnot seldom find their way, and where, because of the lack of celebrities, the folks can devote their attention to what is happening on the screen, reactions were what we interpreted to be enthusiastic and appreciative. The picture should fully satisfy audiences in similar locales where important people (socalled) and stars seldom venture and where what is happening on the screen is the thing that has meaning.—GUS MCCARTHY.

Produced and distributed by MGM. Frederick Stephani, producer. Directed by Richard Thorpe. Screen play by Marion Parsonnet, Harry Ruskin and William R. Lipman. Based on a story by Lou Heifitz and Herbert Klein. Tom Andre, assistant director. Conrad A. Nervig, film editor. Photographed by John Seitz. P. C. A. certificate No. 3982. Running time, when seen in Los Angeles, 70 minutes. Release date, Jan. 14, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Carlotta Lee	Gladys George
Peter Lawrence	Franchot Tone
Jimmy Slattery	Ted Healy
"Mike"	Mickey Rooney
Joe Cannon	Frank Jenks
Reggie Odell	Ralph Morgan
"Jake"	Virginia Weidler
Sheriff	Jessie Ralph
Mary	Fay Holden
Hotchkiss	Barnett Parker
Mr. Hillier	Julius Tannen

Penrod and His Twin Brother

(Warners)

Contemporary Americana

Among the writers of Americana, genus puer, is listed the name of Booth Tarkington to whom some critics have given ranking No. 1. His charactors, "Penrod," "Sam," "Rodney," "Vermin and Fermin," have lived in the minds of the generation which first read them, and they are familiar to the present. In Warner Brothers plans to produce a series of "Penrod" stories, "Penrod and his Twin Brother" is the second, a follow-up of the previously released "Penrod and Sam."

In the screenplay by William Jacobs and Hugh Cummings, Warners has added the contemporary derivation of the age old boys' game of "cops and robbers," called "junior G-men," padded it with a sure-fire audience appeal of a boy's love for a dog, and kept the story in the realms of cinematic possibility.

All of which says that exhibitor showmen, with a few well chosen devices of exploitation, can obtain a maximum attendance of juveniles and at the same time appeal to the adults.

Billy and Bobby Mauch head the cast. With them are Frank Craven, Spring Byington, Charles Halton, Claudia Coleman, Jackie Morrow and Philip Hurlic, who as the colored boy, "Vermin," won most of the preview audience's laughs. A host of character actors and juvenile players completes the cast.

"Penrod" gets into trouble with the police because of a case of mistaken identity of himself and his dog, Scottie. "Vermin" frees the pet from the pound, and the "junior G-men" conspire to hide the animal because one of their members, "Rodney," is anxious for revenge. "Rodney," sent away from the boys' headquarters by a ruse, is kidnaped by gangsters. The boys aid the police in locating the kidnapers, and save "Rodney."

Previewed at the Forum Theatre, Los Angeles, where a neighborhood audience, preponderantly adult, enjoyed the show thoroughly, and marveled at the well trained antics of the Scotch terrier.—VANCE KING.

Produced and distributed by Warner Bros. Associate producer, Bryan Foy. Screenplay by William Jacobs and Hugh Cummings. Based on the Penrod stories by Booth Tarkington. Directed by William McGann. Assistant director, Sherry Shourds. Dialogue director, Hugh Cummings. Photographed by Arthur

(Continued on page 52)

BALANCED

IN EASTMAN Super X Panchromatic Negative the vital film factors of fine grain, high speed, and superb photographic quality are combined to give the finest results to be seen anywhere today. It is the admirable balance of these qualities that has made Super X the world's most widely used negative film. Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y. (J. E. Brulatour, Inc., Distributors, Fort Lee, Chicago, Hollywood.)

EASTMAN SUPER X

PANCHROMATIC NEGATIVE

(Continued from page 50)

Todd. Film editor, Doug Gould. Art director, Hugh Reticker. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3788. Running time, when seen in Los Angeles, 68 minutes. Release date, Feb. 26, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Penrod ..... Billy Mauch
Danny ..... Bobby Mauch
Mr. Schofield ..... Frank Craven
Mrs. Schofield ..... Spring Byington
Mr. Bitts ..... Charles Halton
Mrs. Bitts ..... Claudia Coleman
Rodney Bitts ..... Jackie Morrow
Vermin ..... Philip Hurlic
Chuck ..... Bennie Bartlett
Delia ..... Bernice Pilot
Sam ..... John Pirrone
Donald ..... Billy Lechner
Kraemer ..... Charley Foy
Shorty ..... Charles Jordan
Johnson ..... Jay Adler
Blackie ..... Max Wagner
Captain ..... Eddie Collins
Clark ..... Fred Lawrence
Sheriff ..... Cliff Soubier
Chief Flynn ..... Robert Homans
Officer McCarthy ..... Eddie Chandler
Officer Clancy ..... Jack Mower
Piggy ..... Billy Wolfstone
Slats ..... Jerry Madden
Joe ..... Ernie Wechbaugh
Members of Penrod's Gang ..... Donald Hulbert, Jerry Tucker, Jack Cunningham

I Met My Love Again

(Walter Wanger-UA)

Love Conquers All

From a purely romantic novel of the women's magazine serial type Walter Wanger has fashioned a warmly human picture which should present no exploitation difficulties to showmen experienced in the true-love-conquers-all-obstacles school. Young romance, rudely shattered, achieves final reconciliation only after time and many feet of film have brought bitter experiences and, almost to the very end, seemingly insurmountable difficulties.

Fashioned thus of the stuff that long has been standard screen material, and demonstrably successful, the story is enhanced by sympathetic performances, outstandingly by Joan Bennett and Henry Fonda in the leads. These names with that of Dame May Whitty who submits a finished character portrayal, offer excellent marquee values while the work of Alan Marshal, Louise Platt, Alan Baxter and Tim Holt suggests possible secondary material as an example of the talent of these young and promising stars.

The direction by Arthur Ripley and Joshua Logan in the main is well paced to the mood and tempo of the story but is marred in some degree by a series of ante-anticlimaxes, but more by too faithful adherence to a none too cohesive story.

The picture's title expresses the story more clearly than the original "Summer Lightning," which graced it when it was published serially. "Ives Towner" and "Julie Weir," residents of a small college town, are engaged when "Julie" meets, is fascinated by, and elopes with "Michael Shaw," playboy and superficial writer. The marriage is unsuccessful, "Michael" is killed and the chastened "Julie," after ten years, returns to the town and the home of her aunt. "Ives," who has become a moody college professor and research student, refuses to greet her on their old basis but is jarred from his introspective mood when he perceives, in the unwelcome attentions of a young girl student in his class, a parallel to the adolescent infatuation of "Julie" for "Michael." He determines to marry "Julie" but succeeds only after difficulties interposed in countless and unsuspected quarters are overcome in a hurried climax.

The popular appeal inherent in a story of this kind should bring satisfying results to exhibitors who build their campaigns on its romanticism and sentimentality.

Reviewed in projection room in New York.—JAMES D. IVERS.

Distributed by United Artists. Produced by Walter Wanger. Directed by Arthur Ripley and Joshua Logan. From the novel by Allene Corliss. Screen play by David Hertz. Photographed by Hal Mohr. Art director, Alexander Toluboff. Costumes by Helen Taylor. Assistant director, Russell Matthews. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3648. Running time when seen in New York, 74 minutes. Release date, February 11, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Julie ..... Joan Bennett
Ives ..... Henry Fonda
Aunt William ..... Dame May Whitty
Michael ..... Alan Marshal
Brenda ..... Louise Platt
Tony ..... Alan Baxter
Budge ..... Tim Holt
Mrs. Towner ..... Dorothy Stickney
Carol ..... Florence Lake
Michael (daughter) ..... Genee Hall
Agatha ..... Alice Cavenna

Green Fields

(Collective Film Producers, Inc.)

Yiddish Drama, Comedy

A comedy drama of Jewish life on Russian farms prior to the revolution, this is a well produced and enjoyable picture which should find much favor, particularly among Jewish audiences. The dialogue is Yiddish but superimposed English titles adequately explain the story.

Based on a Jewish folk tale, the production has been cast with Artef and Jewish Art Theatre players who fit their roles to perfection. The cast includes Michael Goldstein, Helen Beverly, Isadore Cashier, Anna Appel, Saul Levine and Hershel Bernardi.

Jacob Ben-Ami directed in association with Edgar G. Ulmer.

The Jewish farmers lead a simple life, tilling the soil, planting potatoes and mowing the hay. The story concerns the relationship of two families of these farmers who, while friendly, are constantly arguing. Into this scene wanders a young scholar, weary of the city and eager for new surroundings. His presence causes the two families to break their friendship, as both are eager to have the scholar marry their respective daughter. A happy ending finds the scholar in love with one daughter while the other admits her love for the son of her neighbor. Amid tears and laughter both families are happily reunited.

Reviewed at the Surrey theatre, Bronx, New York. An afternoon audience appeared to be enjoying the picture. It was evident that the majority of them understood the dialogue.—PAUL MOONEY, JR.

Running time, 105 minutes. Release date, October 11, 1937. General audience classification.

Tarzan's Revenge

20th Century-Fox—Principal

Jungle Melodrama

This picturization of the exploits of Edgar Rice Burroughs' fabulous jungle-man did not impress the audience greatly. The adult contingent was inclined to regard it lightly. The few younger folk present, representatives of the class of patronage for which the production primarily was intended, were emphatic in demonstrating their opinion that the picture did not come up to their expectations.

Nevertheless, the Tarzan character is a valuable property. In story and cartoon form it has been widely circulated. Earlier pictures have made it a screen asset. As "Tarzan" it features the noted athlete Glenn Morris, decathlon champion in the latest Olympic games. The girl is Eleanor Holm, swimmer who received much publicity before and after the Olympics. The featured support cast includes George Barbier, C. Henry Gordon, Hedda Hopper, George Meeker, Joseph Sawyer and John Lester Johnson.

The story follows the fantastic Tarzan formula, but in the finale it takes a bizarre twist. The safari goes into the jungle. The girl is rescued by "Tarzan." Between fear and curiosity, romance is born. Threats of intrigue and peril are interlarded with comedy. The melodramatic incident is "Tarzen's" rescue of the girl from the menace of a weird Oriental potentate who inhabits a magnificent jungle palace populated by hordes of dancing girls. The white party returns to civilization, but the girl prefers to remain and become "Tarzan's" jungle mate.

Previewed in the Uptown Theatre, Los Angeles. Unless all audiences are less sophisticated than that which witnessed the preview, it may be expected that they, too, will be inclined to indulge in more or less kidding and satiring.—G. M.

Distributed by Twentieth Century-Fox. A Principal production. Directed by D. Ross Lederman. Story by Edgar Rice Burroughs. Screen play by Robert Lee Johnson and Jay Vann. Wilbur McGaugh, assistant director. Bert Jordan and Eugene Milford, film editors. Hugo Riesenfeld, musical director. Photographed by George Meehan. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3904. Running time, 68 minutes, when seen in Los Angeles. Release date, Jan. 7, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Tarzan ..... Glenn Morris
Eleanor ..... Eleanor Holm
Roger ..... George Barbier
Ben Alleu Bey ..... C. Henry Gordon
Penny ..... Hedda Hopper
Nevin ..... George Meeker
Jigger ..... Corbet Morris
Olaf ..... Joseph Sawyer
Koko ..... John Lester Johnson

The Divorce of Lady X

(London Films-United Artists)

Romance

Deliciously polished entertainment, "The Divorce of Lady X" is a directorial triumph of Tim Whelan and registers the ability of British production to reach the slickness of Hollywood.

The teamwork of Merle Oberon and Laurence Olivier in the leads is captivating, in a witty story of mistaken identity and an attorney's piquant romance with a girl whom he mistakes for a wife seeking a divorce.

The badinage and delicately spiced situation is reminiscent of Powell-Loy pictures. The continuity and judicious cutting have dovetailed the episodes into a smoothly exhilarating whole.

Ralph Richardson's blundering nobleman and Morton Selten's "tetchy Judge" are further assets.

Settings and costumes strike a new standard, and the production has been finely photographed in color by Harry Stradling.

Reviewed at the premiere at the Odeon theatre in London.—AUBREY FLANAGAN.

Distributed by United Artists. A London film production presented by Alexander Korda. Director, Tim Whelan. Adaptation, Lajos Biro. Scenario and dialogue, Ian Dalrymple and Arthur Wimperis. Settings designed in color, Lazare Meerson. Photographer, Harry Stradling. Color director for Technicolor Corporation, Natalie Kalmus. Production manager, David Cunynghame. Costumes designed by Rene Hubert. Supervising editor, William Hornbeck. Recording director, A. W. Watkins. Musical director, Muir Mathieson. Musical score, Miklos Rosza. Film editor, L. Stockviss. Unit manager, Wilfred O'Kelly. Assistant director, Philip Brandon. Sound recordist, C. R. Tasto. Camera operator, J. Hildyard. Release date, February 18, 1938. Adult audience classification.

CAST

Leslie ..... Merle Oberon
Logan ..... Laurence Olivier
Lady Mere ..... Binnie Barnes
Lord Mere ..... Ralph Richardson
Lord Steele ..... Morton Selten
Slade ..... J. H. Roberts
Saunders ..... Gertrude Musgrove
Waiter ..... Gus McNaughton

The Old Barn Dance

(Republic)

Western

The latest production of Gene Autry, leading western money making star of 1937, leans towards a modern theme of tractors and radio. There is also much emphasis on comedy. It is a comedy twist to the story, for instance, that causes the farmers to buy tractors and another comedy angle is responsible for the return to favor of horses over tractors.

Music plays an important part in the production with Autry singing several songs, and various numbers are contributed by a hillbilly band—The Maple City Four. Smiley Burnette, whose special forte is comedy, also sings in his deep throated manner, which accounts for his nickname of "Frog." The girl in the case is Helen Valkis.

"Gene" and his singing cowboys are horse

(Continued on page 54)

...and they've both got what it takes...

Life . . . vigor . . . action . . . looks . . . charm . . . appeal. • Prevues by National Screen Service . . . lobby displays by National Screen Accessories. • Selling fire by both . . . seat-selling by both . . . top service by both. • For . . . just as the prevue has been solving your screen advertising problems for eighteen years . . . this new theatre advertising giant . . . now in its third year . . . solves your lobby display problems. • Complete service in your lobby on every picture you book with the same efficient booking system . . . the same "always-on-time" delivery system . . . the same care and thought in production and selling angles. • More than 11,000 showmen know there are no headaches with National Screen prevues . . . and now the big swing is on toward its lobby display twin. • That's why the word goes round "double your theatre advertising punch with . . .

ational Screen Service
. . . prize baby of the Industry!

National Screen Accessories . . . the magic touch of showmanship

(Continued from page 52)

traders who find that with the advent of the tractor their business is passe. Their method of stimulating business consists of "putting on a show" before the auction. "Sally" (Miss Valkis), who runs a radio station, tries to sign "Gene" and his troupe to a program sponsored by the tractor interests. Failing in that, she tricks the singing cowboy into signing a contract ostensibly for another sponsor.

Unbeknown to "Gene," his program is responsible for a great deal of activity in tractor sales. When the farmers are faced with the loss of their tractors by dint of some double-crossing, they blame "Gene." Becoming aware of the situation for the first time he solves the problem by offering his horses to the farmers on a pay-when-you-can basis. There is more skullduggery but finally things are straightened out, and there's reconciliation with "Sally."

Reviewed in projection room.—P. M.

Produced and distributed by Republic. Associate producer, Sol C. Siegel. Directed by Joseph Kane. Original screenplay by Bernard McConville and Charles Francis Royal. Unit manager, Arthur Siteman. Photography, Ernest Miller. Running time, 60 minutes. Release date, January 15, 1938. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3981. General audience classification.

CAST

Gene	Gene Autry
Frog	Smiley Burnette
Sally	Helen Valkis
Johnny	Sammy McKim
Hillbilly Band	Walter Shrum & His Colorado Hillbillies
Trio	Stafford Sisters
Orchestra	Maple City Four
Singer	Dick Weston
Thornton	Ivan Miller
Clem	Earl Dwire
Maxwell	Hooper Atchley
Buck	Raphael Bennett
Peabody	Carleton Young
Cowboy	Frankie Marvin
Terwilliger	Earle Hodgins
Singer	Gloria Rich

Paroled to Die

(Republic)

Western

A mild but sinister western concocted of elements more in keeping with old line westerns this is another of the series which stars Bob Steele. The story follows the general trend in previous Steele productions.

The series relies almost entirely upon melodrama, with romance and comedy incidental, and so depends almost entirely upon action, which is not always present.

Supporting Steele are Kathleen Eliot, Karl Hackett, Horace Murphy and Steve Clark.

When "Harvey's" men rob the bank "Doug" is accused of it, tried and sentenced to jail. "Doug" is immediately paroled on the evidence of an undercover man, who had been working with "Harvey." The undercover operative and "Doug" frame "Harvey" into showing his hand and after the usual chase arrest him.

Reviewed in projection room.—P. M.

Produced and distributed by Republic. Producer, A. W. Hackel. Directed by Sam Newfield. Original story by Harry F. Olmstead. Screenplay by George H. Plympton. Photography, Robert Cline. Sound technician, Clifford Ruberg. Film editor, Roy Claire. P. C. A. Certificate No. 3772. Running time, 60 minutes. Release date, January 10, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Doug Redfern	Bob Steele
Joan Blackman	Kathleen Eliot
Harvey Meline	Karl Hackett
Lucky Gosden	Horace Murphy
Sheriff Blackman	Steve Clark
Spike Travers	Budd Buster
Heavy Matson	Sherry Tansey
Judge	Frank Ball
Prosecuting Attorney	Jack Smith

The Jury's Secret

(Universal)

Minor Social Document

Showmen attempting to get the maximum benefit of the attraction of "The Jury's Secret" will be hard put to exploit the show. Nevertheless, a well stimulated campaign via the social documentary avenues, or the "problem" angle, should bring well merited attention for this production.

In the first place, it is a sort of a vague preachment against hypocrisy in high places, which may or may not be good for exploitation, judging by community interests. Also, it contains a more or less defined diatribe against mass hysteria, evil or otherwise, the advantages of which the exhibitor is at liberty to point out.

For the cast, the showman has Kent Taylor, Fay Wray, Jane Darwell, Nan Grey, Larry Blake, Fritz Leiber and other actors who have especial niches for their respective characterizations.

"Walter Russell," ghost writer for "Brandon Williams," newspaper publisher, kills "Williams" when he threatens to ruin him and thousands of other investors in a stock enterprise. "William Sheldon," head of the stevedores, among them a great many flood sufferers, is accused of the murder, because of his avowed determination to force "Williams" to support a flood control measure. "Russell" is on the murder trial jury, and deadlocks it. But under the influence of "Linda Ware," a newspaper woman and former sweetheart, "Russell" finally confesses.

Previewed in Hollywood at the studio projection room, where it was evident that the picture merited a much better fate than being foisted upon an unsuspecting theatre audience. —V. K.

Produced and distributed by Universal. Associate producer, Edmund Grainger. Screenplay by Lester Cole and Newman Levy. Original story by Lester Cole. Photographed by Milton Krasner. Art director, Jack Otterson. Associate, Charles H. Clarke. Film editor, Philip Cahn. Production Code Certificate No. 3687. Running time when seen in Hollywood, 62 minutes. Release date, January 16, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Walter Russell	Kent Taylor
Linda Ware	Fay Wray
Mrs. Sheldon	Jane Darwell
Mary Norris	Nan Grey
William Sheldon	Larry Blake
John Morrow	Fritz Leiber
District Attorney	Leonard Mudie
Brandon Williams	Samuel S. Hinds
Judge	Granville Bates
John	Halliwell Hobbes
Williams' Butler	Edward Broadley
Don Page	William Davidson

Zula Hula

(Paramount)

Betty Boop in Swing Time

Miss Betty Boop and her grandfather are cast adrift on a desert isle when their plane crashes. As wise as he is old, ingenious "Grampy" devises plans and means to make the unexpected stay in the unpleasant surroundings as comfortable as possible. The place is beginning to assume the aspects of home when the unwelcome presence of savage island cannibals threatens the castaways. Never at a loss for a suitable solution, the elderly gent renovates the wrecked air ship into a modern dance orchestra. Under the soothing spell of the musical ministrations, the cannibals are diverted in their plans from making trouble to making rhythm. Finally, "Gramp" hatches up another "Rube Goldberg" invention which readies the plane to take off for home and a more assured state of safety. The whole of the business is detailed in an amusing and rapidly drawn vein of clever cartooning.—Running time, seven minutes.

Date and Nuts

(Educational)

College Comedy

Offering more of comedy than of the dancing for which the two starlets, Pat Rooney, Jr., and Herman Timberg, Jr., are noted, this work concerning some minor college cutups should prove passably entertaining fare for the general run of audiences. The greatest amount of favorable response will be drawn from the younger set, for the subject is peopled with young folk in the teen ages and is seasoned with youthful ingredients of shag dancing and swing music. The miniature plot is set in a typically musical comedy college, where the royal path to an education seems to be by way of a dance floor. When Timberg's girl friend is delayed in attending the school hop, the lad persuades his pal, Rooney, to masquerade as the girl. The amusing situations, along with a quota of embarrassing incidents that result from this duplicity, follow in the expected but nonetheless hilarious routine.—Running time, 19 minutes.

Water, Water Everywhere

(Paramount)

Excellent Sportlight

Exceptionally well done in matter and form is this screen description of various types of water sports, excitingly reproduced in a series of changing scenes. Ranging from sailing canoes to surf board riding, the subject covers the subject in a manner that should entertain even the most land locked spectator. The camera work in filming the varied watering backgrounds and the participating boatmen is of a superlative grade.—Running time, 10 minutes.

The Lion Hunt

(Educational)

Terry-Toon

Not only does the elephant never forget, if the adage holds, but it would seem that his tiny but fearsome bugaboo, the mouse, is one equally well gifted with a fine memory. At least, that is the implication one would gather from this recent Terry-Toon. For, when the lion spares the life of a little rodent at the tearful, wifely plea of Mrs. Mouse, the two animals become friends. Later on, as the big beast is being pursued by a band of savages and a hunter, the mouse remembers the good turn done him by the lion and saves his life. However, the narration of this good deed fable is not very comically or imaginatively told.—Running time, 8 minutes.

Hollywood Picnic

(Columbia)

Cinema Cartooned

The success of this cartoon picturing screen celebrities cavorting at a picnic will depend on the spectator's sense of fun and caricature. The stars are easily identified in their trademarked characteristics as they go about enjoying themselves at the ball game, dance floor and dinner table. The style of spoofing is done in broad and blunt strokes without particularly different or brilliant results.—Running time, eight minutes.

Love Goes West

(Educational)

Songs of the Wide Open Spaces

This subject should hold a particular appeal and message for dude ranch proprietors and boarding house keepers. If these hostel runners are facing difficulties in keeping their feminine guests diverted as well as settled, they should follow the example set by Miss Louise Massey in meeting her own particular hotel crisis. For Louise, as a dude ranch keeper, is beset with a general exodus of her lady clientele. It seems that the girls could take only so much rugged Western landscape unadorned by masculine personality. To satisfy this want, Miss Massey corrals her male help who up to this time had lacked lustre behind their ragged beards and shabby outfits. With the aid of several safety razors and a general process of cleaning and pressing, the boys are transformed into freshly scrubbed, virile sons of the plains. Under the spell of the plaintive hill tunes and the silent but strong adoration of the men folk, the girls promptly decide to stay and a good time is had by all, including the audience.—Running time, 10½ minutes.

198 FILM SALARIES ARE REVEALED; FEDERAL PUBLICITY COST ATTACKED

65 to 46 Per Cent of Top Bracket Pay Goes To Federal and State Governments in Taxes

Studded with the names of motion picture personalities, a list of persons who received corporation salaries of more than $15,000 in 1936 was released this week by the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives. In the film group, Gary Cooper was credited with the largest income, $370,214, giving him the top position, held by Mae West in the previous year with a salary then of $480,833. In 1936, Miss West's salary was $323,333 and she ranked fifth on the list.

Newspapers devoted numerous columns to the publication of the salaries but only in a few was the subject of taxation mentioned. In the case of persons employed in the motion picture industry, it was estimated that an average of 46 per cent of the top bracket salaries goes to the federal and state governments in income taxes. For the highest paid stars, taxes amount to as much as 65 per cent of the gross income.

Following Mr. Cooper on the list were Ronald Colman, $362,500; Claudette Colbert, $350,833; S. P. Skouras, $341,000, and Miss West. Earnings of the 198 film persons on the list were divided into the following brackets:

Salary	No. of Persons
More than $300,000	5
$250,001 to $300,000	5
$200,001 to $250,000	11
$175,001 to $200,000	2
$150,001 to $175,000	3
$125,001 to $150,000	10
$100,001 to $125,000	14
$75,001 to $100,000	19
$50,001 to $75,000	65
$25,001 to $50,000	38
$15,000 to $25,000	26
Total	198

A comparison of the earnings for the 50 top bracket personalities in 1936 and their salaries in 1935 (000 omitted) follows:

	1936 (000 omitted)	1935 (000 omitted)
Gary Cooper	$370	$311
Ronald Colman	362	108
Claudette Colbert	350	100
S. P. Skouras	341	189
Mae West	323	480
C. P. Skouras	289	176
Madeleine Carroll	287	360
Warner Baxter	284	203
Marlene Dietrich	269	368
Darryl Zanuck	260	134
Ruth Chatterton	249	...
Charles Boyer	249	129
Rudy Vallee	238	166
Roy Del Ruth	238	206
Sylvia Sydney	226	63
Janet Gaynor	220	...
Walter Wanger	216	104
Fred Astaire	211	127
Frank Capra	208	...
Katharine Hepburn	206	121
Pandro Berman	202	138
Harry Cohn	182	...
Sol M. Wurtzel	163	149
Samuel J. Briskin	157	...
Bing Crosby	156	318
Barbara Stanwyck	151	80
Henry King	143	137
Victor McLaglen	143	50
John Ford	143	110
Buck Jones	143	...
John Cromwell	137	135
William A. Seiter	135	63
B. P. Schulberg	135	102
Stan Laurel	135	156
Joseph Schenck	130	47
Hal Roach	129	104
Fredric March	125	161
Charles Chaplin	125	216
Ginger Rogers	124	74
Nunnally H. Johnson	123	...
Sidney R. Kent	122	167
Shirley Temple	121	69
Jean Arthur	119	...
Loretta Young	118	21
David O. Selznick	115	...
Lawrence Tibbett	112	63
Herbert Marshall	110	105
Robert Riskin	104	...
William Goetz	104	38
Jack Cohn	104	104

REPORT TERMED 'SUCKER LIST'

"Not a single useful purpose is served" by the release of corporation salaries of more than $15,000, the New York Times said this week in an editorial. "It foments envy and ill-will among neighbors," the article continued. "It satisfies only an idle and malicious curiosity. It creates, in effect, an official 'sucker list' of which advantage is taken by all sorts of promoters and racketeers."

The editorial also pointed out that the list is extremely misleading in that "it does not show what is left after income tax reduction."

Those listed who received less than $100,000 but more than $15,000 in 1936 follow:

	1936
Edward H. Griffith	$98,000
Gene Fowler	97,508
Edward Small	97,333
Simone Simon	95,916
Marc Sandrich	95,875
Joseph Von Sternberg	95,000
Irving Cummings	94,541
Emanuel Cohen	92,000
B. P. Schulberg	91,667
Raymond Griffith	90,791
Victor Young	89,092
Richard Dix	89,062
Oliver Hardy	88,600
R. H. Cochrane	88,121
J. R. McDonough	86,235
Adolph Menjou	82,291
Bess Meredith	77,275
Gene Raymond	75,625
George G. de Sylva	75,350
Grace Moore	74,999
Kenneth Macgowan	73,146

(Continued on following page, column 1)

Appropriations Committee of House Records Criticism of Outlay on Films and Radio; 3,250 FHA Broadcasts

Aroused by the failure of Government agencies to follow verbal suggestions to reduce film and radio publicity expenditures, the appropriations committee of the House of Representatives formally recorded its criticism in a report on the independent offices appropriation bill for the coming fiscal year.

The printed criticism of publicity expenditures, in itself an unusual step, was based on disclosures during hearings on the bill that several of the independent agencies have used thousands of hours of time given by broadcasting stations and networks. These disclosures concerned only those agencies for which specific appropriations are made and did not include any which, like the Works Progress Administration, are financed from relief funds and not under the necessity of acquainting Congress with their activities.

Inquiry by the committee into film and radio activities was successful in developing information with respect to only a few agencies.

3,250 FHA Broadcasters

Probably the most extensive broadcaster has been the Federal Housing Administration, which reported that between July 1st and December 15th, last, alone, it presented 3,250 15-minute broadcasts. All told, it was said, the FHA has presented 328 network broadcasts representing 82 hours of time and 147,339 broadcasts over individual stations, representing 28,160 hours, the value of which, at regular commercial rates, would be in excess of $7,200,000.

The FHA also has issued eight "Better Housing News Flashes" running six minutes each, and two longer films, one commercial and the other technical, and estimated that the total audience for all the pictures has been in excess of 100,000,000 persons.

The Social Security Board has used motion pictures rather than radio to publicize its activities and, at the time of the hearing, had released four pictures. Since then, however, it has made a new contract under which ten films have been issued.

The Rural Electrification Administration has been deterred from using motion pictures because of the cost, the committee learned, but recently has been giving consideration to film production. No estimate could be made as to the full extent of the REA's broadcasting activities, but it was admitted that a weekly script service has been provided to between 100 and 120 stations.

Committee Protests

Inquiry into the activities of other organizations developed that practically all of them have extensive publicity departments, although not all issue films or go on the air. So widespread has been the publicity of the various offices, however, that the committee, in its report, said:

"The committee views with disfavor the tendency to expend disproportionate sums for the printing of publications, often on high-priced

(Continued on following page, column 3)

SALARIES OF FILM PERSONALITIES

(Continued from preceding page, column 2)

	1936
John D. Clark	72,400
Sonja Henie	72,500
Jo Swerling	71,750
Jesse Lasky	71,330
George Stevens	69,833
Joseph Bernhard	69,333
Slim Summerville	69,062
Gertrude Temple	68,666
Howard W. Hawks	68,000
Norman R. Taurog	68,000
Rouben Mamoulian	68,000
I. J. Hoffman	67,967
Sam Hellman	67,791
Gregory Ratoff	67,600
Raoul Walsh	67,500
Sidney Landfield	67,000
Walter Connolly	66,541
Walter Winchell	66,500
George J. Schaefer	66,000
Natalie M. Kalmus	65,525
Irving Cummings	65,277
Warren William	65,000
Arthur Kelly	65,000
Al Ritz	64,500
Margaret Sullavan	63,333
Sonya Levien	62,516
William Conselman	62,250
Gene Markey	61,583
Julian Johnson	61,499
William Powell	60,416
Constance Bennett	60,000
Ann Harding	60,000
Herbert T. Kalmus	60,000
Warner Oland	59,999
John Stone	59,208
Jack Holt	58,269
Graham Baker	58,250
Gene Towne	58,250
Tay Garnett	58,000
Leo Carrillo	57,832
Victor Moore	56,791
Zeppo Marx	56,766
Wallace Beery	56,250
Henry Fonda	56,208
Fritz Lang	55,000
George and Ira Gershwin	55,000
Jack Selig Yellen	54,333
Nino Martini	54,000
Anthony Veiler	53,250
Howard Green	53,125
Nathaniel Shilkret	52,966
Allan Dwan	52,666
Harold Lloyd	52,666
Geo. E. Marshall	52,666
Charles P. Skouras	52,562
James Gleason	52,333
Alfred Newman	52,000
W. C. Michel	52,000
Nat Levine	52,000
James R. Grainger	52,000
George Raft	51,041
William P. Lipscomb	50,750
Charley Chase	50,187
Jack Oakie	47,500
Alice Fay	45,500
Jerome Kern	45,357
Patsy Kelly	45,216
Howard Hawks	44,166
Francis Lederer	43,500
Basil Rathbone	42,708
E. M. Crosby	42,337
Preston Foster	40,173
Walter Pidgeon	40,000
Edward Sedgewick	40,000
Alan Dinehart	39,666
Jason S. Joy	39,500
Edward Everett Horton	38,666
Lloyd Nolan	37,116
Ken Maynard	37,100
Zane Grey	36,000
Cecil B. De Mille	35,500
Don Ameche	34,499

INSPECTION OF PAY LISTS LIMITED TO NEWSPAPERS

Seeking to halt the use of the Ways and Means Committee's list of corporation salaries for commercial or racketeering purposes, Chairman Loughton this week permitted newspapermen to examine the report and then withdrew it from public inspection.

"I am not going to have a situation like we had last year, with an army of stenographers copying it and offering it for sale," Mr. Loughton declared.

	1936
J. Edward Bromberg	33,700
Ann Sothern	33,666
Lee Tracy	33,416
Helen Broderick	32,400
Yacht Club Boys	32,166
Alice Brady	30,416
Frank Lloyd	30,000
Arthur Treacher	28,900
Victor Jory	28,860
Antole Litvak	28,104
Melvyn Douglas	27,791
Clair Trevor	27,655
Dorothy Parker Campbell	27,024
Harry Richman	27,000
Rochelle Hudson	26,875
Ned Sparks	26,250
Earl Carroll	26,000
Paulette Goddard	26,000
Howard Lindsay	25,833
Dolores Costello	25,000
Joe Penner	24,583
C. Aubrey Smith	23,833
Arlene Judge	23,716
Fred Stone	22,999
Lionel Stander	22,882
Sam Goldwyn	22,000
Eric Blore	20,888
Helen Gahagan	20,000
Jane Wyatt	20,000
Edmund Lowe	19,166
Joan Bennett	18,750
Constance A. De Mille	18,200
Walter Plunkett	17,216
Ralph Bellamy	16,791
Pauline Frederick	16,666
Margot Grahame	16,637
Charles Winninger	16,625
George Bancroft	16,250
Peter Lorre	15,625
Harriet Parsons	15,600
Moroni Olson	15,441
Marian Marsh	15,391
Heather Angel	15,375
Helen Westley	15,166

The information contained in the report, which was submitted to the Ways and Means Committee by the Treasury department, was made public under a section of the Revenue Act adopted in 1934. While the amounts represents the "salary, commission, bonus or other compensation for personal services rendered," they do not include any income from dividends, royalties or rents nor is the income of unincorporated business men included in the list.

Mickey Rooney, Robert Whitney, Hutson Shotwell, Val Rosing and Konstantin Gorian have been signed to new acting contracts by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. George Jessel, Ed Gardner, Sam More and Morton Harris, all active in the company's radio division, have been re-signed for 13 weeks.

Federal Publicity Costs Protested

(Continued from preceding page, column 3)

paper and under expensive covers, or the preparation of press releases, magazine articles, broadcasts, motion pictures, etc., the primary purpose of which is to build up a public demand for the services of the agency issuing the publicity. There has been some improvement in this respect, but the committee believes a substantial reduction of outlay in this quarter can be effected by many of the agencies without diminution of service."

Archives' Film Collection

A survey of the activities of the various agencies developed that the National Archives already has acquired 313,792 feet of motion picture film. Most of this film, it was explained, has been obtained from the various Government agencies, including the Interior, Treasury, Commerce and Agriculture Departments and the Federal Housing Administration, but some news reel and historical feature material has been accepted from commercial producers.

Archives' officials were doubtful whether pictures of the Panay sinking could be accepted under the langauge of the act, the question being whether the film is "illustrative of American history." However, it was indicated, the Archives probably will include some of the pictures in its files on the ground that it may have an historical value in years to come.

AMPA Memberships

The Associated Motion Picture Advertisers membership at a closed meeting this week voted to establish associate memberships for persons in the industry residing outside New York. Initiation fee and annual dues were set at $5 each. "Metro Day" has been deferred from January 27th to some time in February because Howard Dietz, who is arranging the program, is now on the coast.

Luncheon for Sobol

A committee of more than 300, representing every division of the amusement world, will sponsor a luncheon in honor of Louis Sobol, Broadway columnist, at the Hotel Astor on Friday. The luncheon was also arranged to enlist the support of the amusement profession in the New York-Brooklyn Federation Campaign for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies. Ed Wynn is chairman of the luncheon committee.

Shift Two in Foreign Field

Two promotions in the foreign sales force were announced by John W. Hicks, Jr., in charge of Paramount's foreign activities, on his return Friday from a two months trip abroad. Louis Foldes, recently manager in Batavia, Java, returns to Europe as district manager in charge of Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria. A. Lichtschiendl, with headquarters in Vienna, has been named district manager with supervision over Austria, Jugo-Slavia and Greece.

WHAT THE PICTURE DID FOR ME

Ambassador-Conn

THANKS FOR LISTENING: Pinky Tomlin—A fair picture ; not as good as some with Pinky. Somehow it didn't click at box office. Played December 18-19.—Jno. S. Erickson, Rex Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

Columbia

AWFUL TRUTH, THE: Cary Grant, Irene Dunne Even better than "Theodora Goes Wild," and that is saying a lot. That just proves that Columbia can make good pictures if they want to. This picture should have broken all house records but it didn't, and the reason is that my patrons are afraid of Columbia pictures. They just stay away when we advertise a Columbia picture. Running time, 92 minutes. Played December 18-19.—H. M. Gerber, Roxy Theatre, Hazelton, N. D. Small town patronage.

SHE MARRIED AN ARTIST: John Boles, Luli Deste—Very entertaining comedy. Gay and lively. Better than lots of the comedies all the companies are busy filming.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

TRAPPED BY G-MEN: Jack Holt, Wynne Gibson—A weak story but will please all the Holt fans, especially the kids. Running time, 65 minutes. Played December 24, 1937.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

First National

ADVENTUROUS BLONDE, THE: Glenda Farrell, Barton MacLane—Played this one on Christmas night preview only and went over fairly good. Torchy Blane is okay here, but leave Barton MacLane out of them. Suggest you use it on a dual. Running time, 7 reels. Played Dec. 25.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla. Small town patronage.

LOVE IS ON THE AIR: Ronald Reagan June Travis—You will not miss anything if you fail to play this picture. Judging from the title you would naturally expect this to be a musical, whereas there is no music whatever in it and a very thin story. Vitagraph's new star, Reagan, is good and seems to have a fine screen personality; and probably would become popular if they gave him a better chance. Double it if you play. Running time, 61 minutes. Played December 22.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

PERFECT SPECIMEN, THE: Errol Flynn, Joan Blondell—Very, very good. Beats anything from the Warner lot in two years. Hugh Herbert is great in this. May Robson's best role to date. Give it your best days; you won't be sorry. Running time, 10 reels. Played Dec. 26-27.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla. Small town patronage.

PERFECT SPECIMEN, THE: Joan Blondell. Very fine; good plot, leading up to a splendid climax. Real entertainment.—M. W. Mattecheck, Lark Theatre, McMinnville, Ore. Local patronage.

PERFECT SPECIMEN, THE: Errol Flynn, Joan Blondell—Light comedy, but very entertaining. Cast excellent. Blondell not one of our favorites but she does very well, indeed, in this role.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

THAT CERTAIN WOMAN: Bette Davis, Henry Fonda—Picture o.k. in every respect. Acting of Miss Davis truly remarkable. Lots of compliments. No kicks. Bad weather hurt our gross but seemed to draw up to average. Use it on your best playing time. Running time, 93 minutes. Played December 12.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

Gaumont-British

DR. SYN: George Arliss, Margaret Lockwood—Mr. Arliss presents his usual finished performance. Interesting for adult fare.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

GANGWAY: Jessie Matthews, Nat Pendleton—Just fair.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

HEAD OVER HEELS IN LOVE: Jessie Matthews, Louis Borell—A good picture spoiled by the English dialect. How long is GB going to spoil these productions with their minor local talent. GB, why don't you send over to this country (give your star Jessie Matthews a break) for a few WPA workers; take some getting $44.00 per month; they can do better; at least we will be able to understand them. Running time, 80 minutes. Played January 1.—Jno. S. Erickson, Rex Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

In this, the exhibitors' own department, the theatremen of the nation serve one another with information on the box-office performance of product for their mutual benefit. It is a service of the exhibitor for the exhibitor. Address all communications to—

What the Picture Did for Me
MOTION PICTURE HERALD
Rockefeller Center, New York

Grand National

TEX RIDES WITH THE BOY SCOUTS: Tex Ritter—Starts out with some excellent newsreel shots of the boy scouts. But when the picture starts it is a weak sister. As a special forget it.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

APRIL ROMANCE: Richard Tauber, Jane Baxter—This is a fair picture. If your community likes classical music written by the old master O .K. Running time, 80 minutes. Played December 17-18, 1937.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

BEG, BORROW OR STEAL: Frank Morgan, Florence Rice—Why does Metro try to make a picture without some stars in it? This is a very overdrawn picture. Might get by on a dual. But failed to click here. Running time, 76 minutes. Played Dec. 24.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla. Small town patronage.

BROADWAY MELODY OF 1938: Eleanor Powell, Robert Taylor—One of the best pictures I ever ran. Of course, Eleanor Powell is my favorate star and in this one she has just about an all-star cast—Robert Taylor, Buddy Ebsen (I'd like to see him in more and bigger pictures), Judy Garland, Sophie Tucker and Emma Snipe. The story is interesting, some swell dance numbers and a good horse race makes this one perfect screen fare. Thanks, Leo. Running time, 110 minutes. Played Dec. 17-18-19.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kans. Small town patronage.

BROADWAY MELODY OF 1938: Robert Taylor Eleanor Powell—This picture is entertaining but does not come up to previous "Melodies" produced by this company. For one thing it lacks the music, their big number, "Your Broadway and Mine," has no melody in it worth playing. They had real music in their first picture under this title. Business off for time of year. Running time, 90 minutes. Played December 25.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

DOUBLE WEDDDING: Myrna Loy, William Powell, Florence Rice, John Beal—Now you are talking, and so did the box office. The perfect cast in just about as good a comedy that has come through in a long time. This Mr. Beal, as Waldo, is just about the dumbest cluck in this role, but he was good. He was just in a daze, and he loved the gal, but his technique was something to see. They chuckled all through the picture and after so many bad ones, I nearly suffered prostration to get a good one once again. I was just about as dazed as Mr. Waldo. I'm willing to pass out for good if I can get a few more like this one.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind.

FAMILY AFFAIR, A: Lionel Barrywore, Cecilia Parker—A fine show for the whole family. It certainly pleased a fine crowd for us. Use it by all means. Running time, 70 minutes. Played December 11.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

FAMILY AFFAIR, A: Lionel Barrymore, Cecilia Parker—A swell family picture; many favorable comments, good business. Running time, 70 minutes. Played December 22-23, 1937.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

FIREFLY, THE: Jeanette MacDonald Allan Jones—Very fine picture and excellently produced. Allan Jones pleased with his fine singing and Miss MacDonald as usual pleased everyone.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

LIVE, LOVE AND LEARN: Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell—A silly little comedy that pulls Montgomery down from the pinnacle he had risen to in "Night Must Fall." The allocation on this picture is clear out of reason with the quality it contains. Play it on a double bill only as that is all it is worth. Running time, 70 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

LIVE, LOVE AND LEARN: Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell—A good program picture. Was enjoyed and drew fairly well. Running time, 78 minutes. Played December 22-23.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

LIVE, LOVE AND LEARN: Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell, Robert Benchley—Fine work from the players. Entertaining comedy.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

NAVY, BLUE AND GOLD: Robert Young, Florence Rice, James Stewart—This picture is all gold and no blue. What a knockout! The finest we have played this season. Sam Zimbalist as a producer is tops, and Woods is an ace director. It is the best of all football pictures with Robert Young and Jimmy Stewart at their best. Do not be afraid of this for the best day in the week. Four stars in anybody's rating. We nominate Jimmy Stewart for the Academy Award. Running time, 94 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

NAVY BLUE AND GOLD: Robert Young, James Stewart, Tom Brown, Lionel Barrymore, Florence Rice—A fine production ably directed. Excellent cast with honors going to James Stewart and Lionel Barrymore. Will please young and old.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

PICK A STAR: Patsy Kelly, Jack Haley—Good comedy that kept them in roars of laughter. Patsy Kelly is always good. The Laurel & Hardy pair are popular and my patrons very much prefer comedy, so think this one pleased. Running time, 70 minutes. Played December 25-26.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kansas. Small town patronage.

PICK A STAR: Patsy Kelly, Jack Haley—A clever show, many favorable comments, but why don't they give Patsy Kelly a chance. Running time, 70 minutes. Played December 25, 1937.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

TARZAN, THE APE MAN (REISSUE): Johnny Weissmuller—Our experience with these reissues would seem to indicate that this is a small town natural. Space revivals at least four weeks apart.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Dubach, La. Small town and rural patronage.

THEY GAVE HIM A GUN: Spencer Tracy, Gladys George, Franchot Tone—One of the best shows ever produced by MGM. You can go the limit on advertising this with a money back guarantee. Many compliments from patrons. No kicks and no walkouts. Business good. Running time, 94 minutes. Played December 18.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

THOROUGHBREDS DON'T CRY: Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Ronald Sinclair—Praise for every member of the cast including the promising newcomer, Ronald Sinclair. The young principals insure delightful entertainment for adults as well young people.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

TOPPER: Constance Bennett, Cary Grant—I do not know how to report on this one. Personally I thought it the next to the worst picture I ever saw. Some thought it was great and others walked out while one patron told me he slept through the whole show. The story is crazy and the cast nothing to write home about, but at that there were some laughs. It has to be seen to be appreciated, or to be un-appreciated. Running time, 97 minutes. Played December 25-26.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kansas. Small town patronage.

(Continued on following page)

TRADER HORN (REISSUE): Harry Carey, Edwina Booth—Our experience with these reissues would seem to indicate that this is a small town natural. The book "Trader Horn" is on the high school reading list of this state and this in itself means a lot. There have been so few pictures of this type lately that they will stir up a lot of talk and will draw a lot of folks who have neglected to drop in to the theatre lately. Space revivals at least four weeks apart.—H. Wilson Young, Wahoo Theatre, Dubach, La. Small town and rural patronage.

YOU'RE ONLY YOUNG ONCE: Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone—Rather disappointing. Will please the younger elements.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

Monogram

COUNTY FAIR: John Arledge—When I am reminded of the many fine pictures that are produced each year, it certainly seems impossible to make a picture that is so goofy. I would say this one will not measure up to expectations in anyone's theatre.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind. General patronage.

GOD'S COUNTRY AND THE MAN: Tom Keene—A very good western. You make no mistake in playing this one. Keene puts it over swell. Played December 16-18.—Jno. S. Erickson, Rex Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

HOOSIER SCHOOLBOY: Mickey Rooney, Anne Nagel—Fine little picture. As good as a lot of the major companies have made so far. This Mickey Rooney is one swell little actor. Let's see some more of him. Running time, 8 reels. Played Dec. 12-13.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla. Small town patronage.

Paramount

ANGEL: Marlene Dietrich, Herbert Marshall, Melvyn Douglas—When I think of the money paid this array of stars to produce this, I could weep. There is really no need to show us in pictures how Hollywood lives, we read enough of this triangle stuff in our papers. Just a little bit of advice, don't try and play this more than one day. We did and discovered that we were playing to an empty house on the second night. Even the mice did not make their usual appearance. Played December 25-26.—H. M. Gerber, Roxy Theatre, Hazelton, N. D. Small town patronage.

ANGEL: Marlene Dietrich, Herbert Marshall, Melvyn Douglas, Edward Everett Horton—Business was somewhere between poor and average. "Angel" is as slow moving (but not as interesting) as a hippopotomus crossing a quagmire. There was so little action in "Angel" I belive if either Marshall or Melvyn Douglas had walked fast people in the audience would have fainted from excitement. Marlene Dietrich (weighed down by tremendous eyelashes) is the wife who wants more than position and wealth from her world famous Britsh statesman husband, Lord Herbert Marshall, and Melvyn Douglas gives her one ponderous night of love. Half the picture is taken up with husky toned or whispered endearments and most of the rest of it concerns people walking through a big mansion as slowly as possible. Horton is in it as a valet and helps to ease the tension caused by the boredom. The audience wiggled, scraped and shifted in their seats and I avoided them at the curtain. Running time, 98 minutes. Played December 19.—C. T. Cooney, Jr., Waldo Theatre, Waldoboro, Maine. General patronage.

BARRIER, THE: Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker—The performance of entire cast very convincing and it makes good entertainment. Not a Sunday opening picture, much better for week-end.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind. General patronage.

BARRIER, THE: Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker—Very good. Carrillo walks away with all the honors.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

BLOSSOMS ON BROADWAY: Edward Arnold, Shirley Ross—A fine entertainment and will go good in any spot. Well made with plenty of action and fine comedy. Shirley Ross is right out in front and Weber and Fields add to it for the old timers.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind. General patronage.

BLOSSOMS ON BROADWAY: Edward Arnold, Shirley Ross—Good cast but plot unworthy. Very poor entertainment.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

BLOSSOMS ON BROADWAY: Edward Arnold, Shirley Ross—All I can give this is that it is another miss for Paramount. They tried, but some place it missed. It is the most mixed-up mess that I have ever run. Singing dialogue that didn't make sense. The patrons said that they did not get what it was all about until the picture was half way through. Rufe Davis was the one bright spot. The supposed western gal that crashed Broadway was very hammish.—A. E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind.

DAUGHTER OF SHANGHAI: Anna May Wong, Charles Bickford—Just a fair picture.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

> Come on, you small town boys, and let's do ourselves some good by reporting all features to the Herald who are kind enough to give us this chance.—F. L. CLARKE, COZY THEATRE, HAZEN, ARK. Small town patronage.

EBB TIDE: Oscar Homolka, Frances Farmer—Pictorially beautiful, and rich coloring is this Stevenson's story of the sea. A fascinating and thrilling story which pleased. Excellent cast.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

EBB TIDE: Oscar Homolka, Frances Farmer, Ray Milland, Barry Fitzgerald—Beautiful photography and that's about all you can say for it. Failed to draw. A few liked it but majority were disappointed. In the opinion of many Barry Fitzgerald stole the show. Running time, 93 minutes. Played December 19-21.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

HILLS OF OLD WYOMING: William Boyd, George Hayes—Like all Hopalong Cassidy westerns, this is very good and had many compliments on it from a fair sized crowd. You will be safe in pushing this to your western fans. Running time, 74 minutes. Played Dec. 15.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

HOLD 'EM NAVY: Lew Ayres, Mary Carlisle—Quite interesting. Will please the young folks.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

LOVE ON TOAST: Stella Ardler, John Payne—All right for a dual bill only. Miss Ardler, if given the proper pictures, will go places as she is a second Jean Arthur. Cannot see why those directors always go back to pie slinging. It is no good in this day and age. Running time, 65 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Igonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

LOVE ON TOAST: John Payne, Stella Ardler—Failed to draw nor did it please. Parts were good but in all it would have made a good two reel comedy. We haven't had a good Paramount picture in this year's product but believe that the coming product will make up for the past. I hope so, anyway. Running time, 65 minutes. Played December 27-28.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

NIGHT CLUB SCANDAL: John Barrymore, Lynne Overman—Clever and entertaining. Lynne Overman steals the show.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

SOPHIE LANG GOES WEST: Gertrude Michael, Larry Crabbe—Fair.—Leon C. Balduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

SOULS AT SEA: Gary Cooper, George Raft—Not what you would think it was. Poor story, and poor direction, Candid opinion, "just another picture." Played December 26-28.—M. W. Mattecheck, Lark Theatre, McMinnville, Ore. Local patronage.

SOULS AT SEA: Gary Cooper, George Raft—Good show but not for women. They stay away.—Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa. General patronage.

TEXAS TRAIL: William Boyd, George Hayes—Family fare. Western fans will enjoy this.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

THUNDER TRAIL: Charles Bickford, Marsha Hunt, Gilbert Roland—One of the best Zane Greys. Everybody liked it. Played December 10-11.—Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa. General patronage.

THUNDER TRAIL: Gilbert Roland, Marsha Hunt—Good western tale.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

TRUE CONFESSION: Carole Lombard, Fred MacMurray, John Barrymore—Just another comedy. Amusing in places.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

WILD MONEY: Edward Everett Horton—Horton is always a favorite but better stories should be given him.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

Republic

BOOTS AND SADDLES: Gene Autry; Judith Allen—Our first Autry picture. Just another western.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

CIRCUS GIRL: June Travis, Bob Livingston—A circus picture that is a honey. Plenty of comments received. Played 1-5.—Jno S. Erickson, Rex Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

GUN RANGER: Bob Steele—Just another western not so hot. Played December 13-15.—Jno S. Erickson, Rex Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

HEART OF THE ROCKIES: Bob Livingston, Ray Corrigan—A very good western and out of the ordinary in story.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

PORTIA ON TRIAL: Frieda Inescort, Walter Abel—A very excellent picture that pleased all and proves that the story is the thing.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

PORTIA ON TRIAL: Frieda Inescort, Walter Abel—They came, they saw, they praised, Portia on Trial. Patrons comments: One of the finest pictures to come to Bradford. Characters well versed in their roles. Running time, 75 minutes. Played December 21-22.—Albert S. Norton, New Brad Theatre, Bradford, Ohio. Small town and rural patronage.

SHEIK STEPS OUT, THE: Ramon Novarro, Lola Lane—Republic had something when they started this one, but it fell flat before the finish. Running time, 65 minutes. Played, December 26-27-28, 1937.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

RKO-Radio

BREAKFAST FOR TWO: Barbara Stanwyck, Herbert Marshall—Just fair and not much to it. Running time, eight reels.—Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa. General patronage.

HITTING A NEW HIGH: Lily Pons, Jack Oakie, John Howard—In spite of marvelous singing by Miss Pons and comedy work of Oakie and Edward Everett Horton this did not draw nor especially please. Freak story. Played December 26-27. P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

HITTING A NEW HIGH: Lily Pons, Jack Oakie—A very poor picture for Lily Pons. Comedy element was o.k. The picture failed to draw and failed to please. Give it to them on a bargain night. Running time, 85 minutes. Played December 25-26.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

FIT FOR A KING: Joe E. Brown, Helen Mack—This is excellent comedy stuff rather awkwardly put together, though action is so rapid and there are so many laughs that our folks did not bother to worry about who was who, what was what and where was where. I believe that the world needs lot of good, clean comedy; so, Joe E., there is always a place on our screen for you. Running time, 73 minutes. Played Jan. 1-2.—H. Wilson Young Wahoo Theatre, Dubach, La. Small town and rural patronage.

FORTY NAUGHTY GIRLS: James Gleason, Zasu Pitts—Just a program picture that gets by. Running time, 65 minutes.— W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

LIFE OF THE PARTY: Gene Raymond, Harriet Hilliard, Joe Penner, Victor Moore, Helen Broderick—A lot of nonsense that seemed to please what we could get out to see it. Drawing power below average. Class A picture for me. However, it is worth a date and might draw better for you. Running time, 77 minutes.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

LIVING ON LOVE: James Dunn, Whitney Bourne—Just a picture, is entertaining and gets by. Running time, 60 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

MAKE A WISH: Bobby Breen, Basil Rathbone, Marion Claire—No comparison between this and the last Breen picture "Rainbow on the River." This is a good show, however, and well produced. Bobby does fine as usual and Marion Claire playing the part of Bobby's mother is great. It is a real job of singing she puts on in the last reel of this show. One walkout and a few compliments to average business. Running time, 77 minutes. Played December 26.— F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

MAKE A WISH: Bobby Breen, Basil Rathbone—Very good picture. Couldn't wish for better. Running time, nine reels.—Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa. General patronage.

MUSIC FOR MADAME: Nino Martini, Joan Fontaine—Enjoyable comedy drama. Clever work by the leads and singing by Martini all satisfying. Running time, 80 minutes.— P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

SATURDAY'S HEROES: Van Heflin, Marian Marsh—Just a picture for the places with five cent admissions and a chance to get warm. Running time, 59 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

STAGE DOOR: Katharine Hepburn, Ginger Rogers Adolphe Menjou—Splendidly produced and acted picture that pleased all. Did not break any records as Miss Hepburn's previous pictures have been terrible with us. Played December 24-25.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

TOAST OF NEW YORK: Edward Arnold, Frances Farmer, Cary Grant, Jack Oakie—Very good. It did extra business for me. Running time, 12 reels. Played December 5-6.—Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa. General patronage.

Twentieth Century-Fox

ALI BABA GOES TO TOWN: Eddie Cantor, June Lang—A very excellent picture and pleased and did some business to our surprise.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

BORROWING TROUBLE: Jed Prouty, Spring Byington—These Jones family pictures are among our most popular program line-ups. This OK for us. —P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

DANGEROUSLY YOURS: Cesar Romero, Phyllis Brooks—Interesting program picture of jewel thieves and steamboats. Running time, 60 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

LIFE BEGINS AT COLLEGE: Gloria Stuart, Ritz Brothers—Lively story and action. Good music and comedy. Pleased. Running time, 94 minutes. Played December 22-23.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

ONE IN A MILLION: Sonja Henie, Don Ameche—Our audience enjoyed seeing "One In a Million" and were all anxiously awaiting Sonja Henie's performance. For sheer loveliness, grace and skill (on the ice and otherwise) she certainly surpassed the expectations of all. Nothing but smiles could be seen on the faces of the men as they left the chapel. Ned Sparks was partly responsible for this, for his pessimistic philosophy seems to go over in here. A few of our men who first saw the Ritz Brothers and Minnevitch and his Gang on the legitimate stage, after seeing them again on the screen, assert both the Ritz Brothers and Minnevitch and his Gang are better than ever. Adolphe Menjou as the finished actor, Dixie Dunbar's fine acting, Leah Ray's singing, Shirley Deane, Don Ameche's romantic performance, and Arlene Judge's wit are all blended to make this an outstanding picture. Last, but not least, the acting of Jean Hersholt as Sonja's father was as fine a portrayal of human devotion and love for a daughter and her art as any we have ever seen. All are eagerly waiting to see Sonja's next smash hit, "Thin Ice." Played Jan. 1.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, N. J. State Prison, Trenton, N. J.

ONE MILE FROM HEAVEN: Claire Trevor, Sally Blane—Just a program picture that gets by. Running time, 75 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

SECOND HONEYMOON: Tyrone Power, Loretta Young—Amusing and good entertainment. The laughter of patrons is music to an exhibitor's ears. And there are plenty laughs in "Second Honeymoon." Running time, 79 minutes. Played December 28-29.—Albert S. Norton, New Brand Theatre, Bradford, Ohio. Small town and rural patronage.

STEP LIVELY, JEEVES: Arthur Treacher, Patricia Ellis—Positively a waste of film if there ever was one. Many kicks from very small crowd. Lay off by all means. Running time, 70 minutes.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

THIN ICE: Sonja Henie, Tyrone Power—This show does not compare with "One in a Million" in my opinion. While it is plenty good it lacks something that "Million" had. This show will get business for you as it did for me and will probably satisfy all your patrons. Running time, 78 minutes. Played December 19.—F. L. Clarke, Cozy Theatre, Hazen, Ark. Small town patronage.

WEE WILLIE WINKIE: Shirley Temple, Victor McLaglen—For the first time a Shirley Temple picture fell flat at the box office. This is her poorest picture but I thought she would bring them in regardless but not even the kiddies manifested any interest in this one. With a star like Shirley I cannot see why they featured June Lang and Michael Whalen. They certainly are plenty weak in this. It is not the type of picture they like to see Shirley in, and, well, they just did not come. Running time, 99 minutes. Played Dec. 22-23-24.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kans. Small town patronage.

WESTERN GOLD: Smith Ballew, Heather Angel—Fair western. Some beautiful scenery and plenty of shooting to please the action fans. Running time, 56 minutes. Played Dec. 15-16.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kans. Small town patronage.

WIFE, DOCTOR AND NURSE: Warner Baxter, Loretta Young, Virginia Bruce—Splendid drama that pleased.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

WILD AND WOOLY: Jane Withers, Walter Brennan—This was very good picture. Drew extra business for us and everybody pleased. Running time, seven reels.—Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa. General patronage.

YOU CAN'T HAVE EVERYTHING: Ritz Brothers, Don Ameche, Alice Faye—Good show. Will please and it will do extra business. Running time, 10 reels. Played December 11-12.—Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa. General patronage.

YOU CAN'T HAVE EVERYTHING: Alice Faye, Don Ameche, Ritz Brothers—Drew and pleased a Sunday crowd. Ritz Brothers getting more popular and Alice Faye always pleases, as does Don Ameche in these later pictures.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

United Artists

ELEPHANT BOY: Native Cast—Gets by nicely. Running time, 79 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

KNIGHT WITHOUT ARMOR: Robert Donat, Marlene Dietrich—One of those English pictures that they pay people money to make. I wonder why. Running time, 107 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

MIGHTY BARNUM, THE: Wallace Beery, Virginia Bruce, Adolphe Menjou—An old pick-up. Good pictures are so scarce. Play it. It's a good one. Running time, 87 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

STAND-IN: Leslie Howard, Joan Blondell—This is a Stand-In, but not a Stand-Out by any means. Very ordinary, action slow, climax poor. Pictures poking fun at Hollywood always miss. May be all right for the actors, but the public don't think much of them. Business poor. Played December 24-25.—M. W. Mattecheck, Lark Theatre, McMinnville, Ore. Local patronage.

Universal

TOP OF THE TOWN: George Murphy, Doris Nolan—Just fair. Sold as a special. Didn't mean anything at the box office. Running time, nine reels. —Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa. General patronage.

WE HAVE OUR MOMENTS: Sally Eilers, James Dunn—A good cast and good comedy. Pleased all who saw it. Running time, 67 minutes. Played December 16, 1937.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

WEST BOUND LIMITED: Lyle Talbot, Polly Rowles—A very good program picture; brought in comments. One was Lyle Talbot "he is a second Clark Gable. Will you have any more pictures starring him?" Played December 10-11.— Jno. S. Erickson, Rex Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

Warner Brothers

FIRST LADY: Kay Francis, Preston Foster—If there were any words in the dictionary that were not used in the picture, I wouldn't know. It is all dialogue, there is not a modicum of action to the picture. For the type it has been directed well. There are too many pictures that shoot at the sophisticates, and miss the masses. This is one of them. I will grant that the top educated picture fans and the morning musical and club cliques will say marvellous. There is some subtle pokes at the Government but they are too subtle for the average run of our patrons. For the love of Pete, let us have some action pictures with these good stars. Not depend on dialogue, as has been the trend, this season.—A .E. Hancock, Columbia Theatre, Columbia City, Ind.

FIRST LADY: Kay Francis, Preston Foster—Not up to the usual Kay Francis production. Too much talking, not enough action. Rather dull.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General natronage.

GREAT GARRICK, THE: Brian Aherne, Olivia de Havilland—Put it in the can. Pay for it and forget it. The first picture in two years we have had walkouts on.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

LIFE OF EMILE ZOLA: Paul Muni, Gale Sondergaard—Excellent. Muni gives outstanding performance. —Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

SLIM: Pat O'Brien, Henry Fonda—Swell picture many favorable comments will stand your strongest night, and this will be no disappointment. Running time, 86 minutes. Played December 19-20-21, 1937.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

VARSITY SHOW: Dick Powell, Fred Waring and His Orchestra—Best Powell picture for a long time.—Leon C. Bolduc, Majestic Theatre, Conway, N. H. General patronage.

Short Features

Columbia

MAN BITES LOVE BUG: Charlie Chase—A good comedy—Lots of laughs. Running time, 19 minutes.—R. W. Rickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash.

SITTER DOWNERS, THE: Three Stooges—Best stooge played to date, hope they keep it up. Running time, 20 minutes. Played, December 24, 1937—R. W. Rickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

Educational

PUDDY'S CORONATION: Terry-Toons—I ran this one six months too late to help the boxoffice. Per-

(Continued on following page)

A practical working tool for every projectionist

•

Revised Sixth Edition

F. H. RICHARDSON'S BLUEBOOK OF PROJECTION

The sixth edition of F. H. Richardson's Bluebook is now in its second printing, for which it has been extensively revised. In addition to revisions in text, it contains a supplementary chapter devoted to developments which have become important in projection room technique and servicing methods since the first printing.

The revised edition includes 736 pages of up-to-the-minute text, charts and data with detailed description of assembly, wiring and functioning of all modern sound and projection apparatus. It is a practical "trouble shooter," cross indexed for immediate reference in any projection room emergency.

$6.25 Postpaid

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
ROCKEFELLER CENTER NEW YORK

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
ROCKEFELLER CENTER - - - - NEW YORK
GENTLEMEN:
Please send me F. H. RICHARDSON'S BLUEBOOK OF PROJECTION. (Revised Sixth Edition.) Enclosed find remittance of $6.25.

NAME .....
ADDRESS .....
CITY..... STATE.....

(Continued from following page, column 2)

sonally I liked it and the coloring is beautiful, but I can't afford to buy them for myself alone and no one else seemed to care about it.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kans.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

ANNIE LAURIE: Tabloid Musicals—Very poor, but I expected it from Metro. Metro makes some very good features, but very poor shorts. Running time, 1 reel.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

BOSKO'S EASTER EGGS: Harman-Ising—This one is okay. Something new from MGM. All I have been getting is travel-talks or Pete Smith. Don't Metro make anything else? Running time, 1 reel.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

DECATHLON CHAMPION: Pete Smith Specialties—A very excellent sport reel.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

GLIMPSES OF JAVA: Travelogue—Best technicolor reel yet. These Travelogues are good but some folks say they are not long enough. Running time, 9 minutes. Played December 25, 1937.—R. W. Rickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

HOLLYWOOD: THE SECOND STEP: MGM Miniatures—Please Metro, give Jane Barnes a contract and forget these shorts. Everyone in my town is saying "I'll be glad when Jane Barnes does get in the movies." Running time, 1 reel.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

LITTLE MAESTRO: Musical Tabloid—Good Musical, but why the Little Maestro. Running time, 10 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

MASTER WILL SHAKESPEARE: MGM Miniatures—This is the first time in my life I ever paid for an advance trailer. That's all this is. It all goes to advertise "Romeo and Juliet." Running time, 1 reel.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

PIGSKIN PALOOKA: Our Gang—Very good, especially for the kids. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

PUPS' CHRISTMAS, THE: Harman-Ising—Played this back second run for the holidays and it is sure fire.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

ROAMIN' HOLIDAY: Our Gang Comedies—The usual good comedy we expect from this gang.—Gladys E. McArdle, Owl Theatre, Lebanon, Kans.

WANTED—A MASTER: Pete Smith Specialties—Pete Smith is always good. This one is a down-to-earth short concerning a dog's life in the big cities. Dog lovers will enjoy it. Running time, 1 reel.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

Paramount

FOWL PLAY: Popeye the Sailor—Good Popeye. Running time, nine minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

OH KAY, RHYTHM: Herbie Kay—Good musical. Play it. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

PARAMOUNT PICTORIAL: No. 1—Paramount shorts have shown a decided improvement in the new product and this one is no disappointment. Running time, 8 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE: Betty Boop Cartoons—Good Betty Boop. Will be enjoyed. Running time, nine minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

SERIVCE WITH A SMILE: Betty Boop Cartoons—This is the best Betty Boop in some time. Betty has let us down for a long time. Let's have some more like this one.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

TREES: Musical Romance—A very fine musical. We used it to open the show with color effects on a drawn curtain.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

UNUSUAL OCCUPATIONS: No. 1—The first of the new series and was interesting, but slow and draggy. Running time, 8 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

TUNA: Paragraphics—Very interesting fishing short. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Jaynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

RKO-Radio

MARCH OF TIME: No. 3—Best March of Time we have played in the last five issues. Running time, 19½ minutes.—R. W. Rickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

MARCH OF TIME: No. 4—Best out of the last four issues. Running time, 20 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

MARCH OF TIME: No. 5—A very excellent issue of this series.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

OLD MILL, THE: Mickey Mouse—Another excellent Disney Silly Symphony. Some pictures in this worthy of Rembrandt.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

PATHE NEWS: We like the new form of the news and it is improved. Like the idea of the different announcers and the news is well edited.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

RHYTHM IN A NIGHT COURT: Nu-Atlas Productions—A good one reel musical.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

RHYTHM WRANGLERS: Smart Set—Good western music and will be well received. Dies in spots but finishes o.k. Running time, 18 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

TRAILING ALONG: Headliner Series—A swell little musical, Gene Austin and his trio are knockouts. The best we have played this season. RKO is coming to the front again with their shorts. Running time, 20 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

United Artists

LITTLE HIAWATHA: Mickey Mouse—Good Silly Symphony. Running time, 9 minutes. Played, December 20, 1937.—R. W. Rickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

Universal

FIREMAN'S PICNIC: Meany-Miny-Moe—Not so hot. These monkey subjects ain't what they should be. Running time, seven minutes.—Jno S. Erickson, Rex Theatre, Iron Mountain, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

Vitaphone

BRING ON THE GIRLS: Big Time Vaudeville Reel—These Charlie McCarthy shorts have a feature draw.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

CAB CALLOWAY AND ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters—Fine. I advertised it big and drew above average negro business for balcony.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

DAFFY DUCK AND EGGHEAD: Merrie Melodies—This one is swell. Had my audience rolling in aisles. It's absolutely crazy, but that's what they want. Running time, 8 minutes.—Mervin Owens, Kerr Theatre, Davis, Okla.

DAFFY DUCK AND EGGHEAD: Merrie Melodies—This series of colored cartoons is about the worst. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

ELISEO GRENET AND ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters— This orchestral exhibition is quite different from other presented in this series and shows Eliseo Grenet and his company in attractive and entertaining singing and dancing specialties. Especially good music and a particularly lively sextet of rhythm dancers, with the scene in Havana, make this a lively short. Played Jan. 1.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, N. J. State Prison, Trenton, N. J.

FELLA WITH THE FIDDLE, THE: Merrie Melodies—Merry Melodies are always good. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Rickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

HERE'S YOUR HAT: Broadway Brevities—A very good revue but poorly recorded. Will get by but this company's shorts which were once the tops in the business are slipping badly. Running time, 20 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

LITTLE PIONEER, THE: Sybil Jason, Jane Wyman—These technicolors are tops in anybody's product. We were agreeably surprised with Miss Wyman's voice. All in all it is very good but not so good as "Give Me Liberty," which was tops in this series. Running time, 19 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

LITTLE RED WALKING HOOD: Merrie Melodies—The best colored cartoon that Vitaphone has given us to date. This is a knockout and we intend to replay it a later date. Running time, eight minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

MYSTERIOUS CEYLON: Colortour Adventure—One of the best Newman has ever made. Running time, 8 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

NEWSBOY'S NOCTURNE: Broadway Brevities—This is one of the best in the series. Full of action and novelty in every one of the 20 minutes running time. Recommended highly from this place. Lane-Tree-Edwards trio, Evelyn Poe, Tommy Rafferty, Jean Travers, Billy and Beverly Bemis, and Maurice and Cordoba all performed splendidly. Jack Powell's drumming act deserves commendation. Played Jan. 1.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, N. J. State Prison, Trenton, N. J.

NUT GUILTY: Vitaphone Novelty—A little old but they like "Charlie McCarthy." Clevel as usual.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

PICTORIAL REVIEW: No. 1—Interesting. Color good. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

PLAYING WITH DANGER: Floyd Gibbons' "Your True Adventure"—The second of the Floyd Gibbons' is better than the first. Warners, I think you've got something there. Running time, 11 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

ROGER WOLFE KAHN AND ORCHESTRA:—Waste of good program time to play some of these. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

SPEAKING OF THE WEATHER: Merry Melodies A series of shots showing Bob Burns, the Bazooka artist, Ted Lewis, his high hat and clarinet, and several other radio and motion picture stars. A good short on any program. Played Jan. 1.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, N. J. State Prison, Trenton, N. J.

STREAMLINED GRETA GREEN: Merrie Melodies—One of the poorer of this series. Running time, 8 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

TOOT SWEET: Broadway Brevities — Miss Fifi D'Orsay has been very much improved after her long lay-off. A nice little musical vaudeville with the pair on the horses. A knockout. Running time, 18 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

UPS AND DOWNS: Hal LeRoy—Should have known better than to have run it, but took a chance and my first judgment was not misplaced. Running time, 18 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind.

VAUDE-FESTIVAL: Big Time Vaudeville Reel—OK. Kids liked it on Christmas.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

UNDER SOUTHERN STARS: Broadway Brevities—A historical playlet with locale during Civil War in Virginia, interesting. Running time, 19 minutes.—R. W. Rickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Washington.

Beatty Acquires New House

E. C. Beatty, president of W. S. Butterfield Theatres, Inc., has acquired the Silver theatre, Grand Rapids. The Butterfield interests have drafted plans for construction of a 1200 seat house on the south side of Grand Rapids.

To Distribute Negro Features

Sack Amusement Enterprises of San Antonio has contracted for southern and midwestern distribution of four all-Negro pictures which Richard C. Kahn plans to produce in Hollywood this year. The first picture, "Two Gun Man from Harlem," is to be released March 1st.

Loew's Acquires Boston House

Loew's, Inc., has added the Hub theatre, Boston, Mass., to its circuit. The acquisition gives the circuit a third house in Boston. The house seats 900. It will be under the supervision of H. M. Addison, district manager for Boston, Providence, Rochester, Syracuse, Montreal and Toronto.

Quits Newspaper Post

Herman J. Bernfeld, theatre editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, has resigned, effective January 15th, and will be associated with his brother in the management of the 21 Club, New York.

Revive "Lincoln"

"Abraham Lincoln," starring Walter Huston, will be re-issued by Emil C. Jensen, president of Artcinema Associates, Inc., N. Y.

TASMANIA TO LICENSE THEATRES; 25 PER CENT CANCELLATION VOTED

Similar Right of Rejection of Product Is Expected Soon For Queensland and South and West Australia

by CLIFF HOLT
in Melbourne

A bill to provide for the licensing of theatres and to invest exhibitors with the right of a 25 per cent rejection of motion pictures bought under contract has been approved by the Tasmanian Government.

It is stated authoritatively that a similar bill will be passed almost immediately by the Stevens Government in New South Wales, together with amendments to the Quota Act.

A 25 per cent rejection privilege has been in force in Victoria for more than twelve months, and certain sections of the industry believe that legislation for similar right of rejection will be passed in 1938 by the Queensland, South Australian and Western Australian governments.

Distributor executives unofficially estimate that a 25 per cent rejection right for exhibitors in New South Wales, Victoria and Tasmania would cost the combined distribution companies from £100,000 ($500,000) to £150,000 per annum.

The rejection law does not cover British or Australian product, and rejection can be made regardless of quality. Exhibitors therefore may reject (if they choose) high-priced floaters, or use the law to help them out if they happen to be over-bought.

Distributors Lose Fight

Strenuous "lobbying" by the Distributors Association failed to stop the passage of the Bill in Tasmania.

The Tasmanian premier, Mr. Ogilivie, said that the position of exhibitors throughout Tasmania had come before the Government last August. It became apparent at that time that whatever views the Government might hold upon proposals for the erection of new theatres in centres where the requirements of the public were being fully met, it had very little power to take any action. The licensing of places of public entertainment devolved upon local authorities, and there was considerable doubt as to what those powers actually were.

The Government, he said, had moved cautiously. Only too well did it realize that the film industry had been the battle ground of interests controlling enormous amounts of capital. It had an open mind regarding those conflicting groups, and would be foolish to make any attempt to discriminate between them.

"The point I wish to make perfectly clear is," he said, "that we are endeavoring to preserve, so far as it can be done, the business of local exhibitors, who must be regarded as distinct from the film distributing organizations."

The Opposition contended that the Government had stressed only one side of the position. In trying to break down one monopoly it would be creating another. The premier spoke disparagingly of the American combine, but he said nothing of the large Australian interests which had controlled the supply of films to most theatres for many years. It was not the function of councils in the larger towns to build town halls which were tied up indefinitely to picture exhibitors, he said. The Government would be advised to leave the bill for another 12 months, to see the result of the further breaking up of the present distributing interests.

Both sides of the House agreed in the principle of the 25 per cent rejection privilege.

Formation of Syndicate Proposed To Handle Film Exports to Japan

American distributors are studying a proposal from a group of Japanese business men and financiers which, if effected, would bring resumption of film shipments to Japan under a plan of deferred currency withdrawals. Although presented to distribution executives in New York by a private individual, Hisaji Kubo, the proposal was said to have the approval of the Tokyo Government.

Under the plan revenue from film distribution in Japan would be deposited in a Government bank. The Tokyo financial interests represented by Mr. Kubo would issue promissory notes for the amount of the receipts, payable in three years, to the American companies and interest on the money would be paid in the United States in dollars.

Decision on acceptance or rejection of the plan is not expected for at least a month. Foreign distribution heads are studying the proposal and have requested Mr. Kubo to obtain from his principals clarification of many supplementary considerations, including the problems of payment of shipping and dubbing charges and the cost of prints.

Mr. Kubo left New York Tuesday for Los Angeles and Japan.

Hoyts Adding Theatre

An extension of Hoyts City Theatre interests in Sydney soon will make its appearance, with the opening of the Century Theatre coinciding with the celebration of Sydney's 150th anniversary.

The Century is being built on the site occupied by the Old Crystal Palace, a J. D. Williams venture. When erected 25 years ago, it was the world's first 'super' cinema.

Charles E. Munro, Hoyts chief, says the Century will operate an extended run policy and will be the first of the new streamlined houses which Hoyts proposes to build in Sydney.

Marks Studying Field

Montague Marks, general manager of London Film Productions, is studying the Australian film field. He confirms the report of a link between Alexander Korda with United Artists.

While in Australia, Mr. Marks hopes to arrange the world premiere of one of three pictures he has brought with him. None of these has yet been released in Great Britain.

He decribes Mr. Korda as a man of ideals who will never die rich, and "whose art means more than money."

"It is quite possible that Korda may make a picture in Australia," he says, "as he has done in India and Africa. Given a suitable story he would send a complete unit to Australia, that is, so far as this was necessary."

Cinesound's Units

Cinesound Productions plan to work two units simultaneously during 1938. The program covers a minimum of five features and 52 newsreels. Ken G. Hall, director of all the Cinesound Productions, has been given complete charge of the company's studio activities. It is proposed to bring several stars from Hollywood.

"Lovers and Luggers" and "The Broken Melody" are ready for release.

Parochial Committees Meet

More than 100 parochial committees attended the inaugural meeting held in Sydney to give effect to the instructions embodied in the Pope's Encyclical 'Vigilanti Cura' in connection with the Catholic Church's attitude towards motion picture entertainment.

A result of the first meeting was the formation of Committees throughout the Catholic Archdiocese of Sydney, whose first step will be to seek the cooperation of local managers in the Church's efforts to keep adult pictures off the screen at children's matinees.

Hayward Joins Hoyts

Herb. Hayward, who has directed the advertising and publicity activities of Union Theatres for the last seven years, has joined Hoyts in an executive capacity.

"CHICAGO" DELAYED IN NAMESAKE CITY

And It's All Blamed to B & K Reluctance to Roadshow Pictures; Shown in Loop Section

by WILLIAM F. CROUCH
in Chicago

Reluctance of executives of the Balaban and Katz circuit to play "In Old Chicago" on a two-a-day roadshow basis is blamed for the missed opportunity to have at the premiere Joseph M. Schenck, Darryl F. Zanuck, Alice Faye and Gregory Ratoff. The production, which opened in New York last week, has its initial engagement in its namesake city on Thursday, January 27th. B & K was reported to have been insistent upon showing the production at popular prices in the Loop.

During the dickering several weeks elapsed before B&K would agree to let Twentieth Century-Fox have the Apollo for a roadshow engagement. The legitimate theatres usually used for the roadshowing of films had all been booked for the winter season and no theatre except the Apollo was available.

It was when B & K learned that "In Old Chicago" would not be available for popular priced engagements until spring or summer that the circuit changed its attitude and agreed to the two-a-day plan.

The change in plans was attributed in part to the recent expressions of press and public regarding the lateness of film releases here. In many instances pictures are not booked into the Loop until weeks after national release.

Recently John McCutcheon, of the Chicago Tribune, in a cartoon concerned himself with the fact that Chicago would not get "The Hurricane" until long after it had appeared in other key cities. In answer a B & K official explained that Chicagoans were "show shoppers" and would not pay roadshow prices for pictures but preferred to wait until they came here at popular prices. However, a review of roadshow attractions here indicate that grosses in most cases have been very good.

It is generally conceded to be B & K policy to wait until pictures have played in other parts of the country, thus learning what kind of business they do before booking them. In the case of "In Old Chicago," however, it was generally thought that business here should be of smash proportions.

With "In Old Chicago" in the Apollo for at least eight to ten weeks, other releases will be further delayed, it is expected, a situation disconcerting to a number of distributors.

At the present time the United Artists theatre is the outlet for the best MGM and Unied Artists pictures. Other product from these companies goes into the Roosevelt for first-run, and as a result the Roosevelt is fast becoming what one distributor called a "C" picture theatre. One week the theatre will offer "A" pictures and the next engagement will have a "B" or "C" grade film.

The policy of showing only flat rental films in the Oriental also is causing comment among the distributors, who would like to be able to get some of their better pictures in the house on a percentage basis now that the theatre is operating on the same price scale as the deluxe Chicago, ace first-run theatre in the Loop, which plays films on flat rental only.

Normally three or four pictures can be released weekly in the Loop. But now the Apollo is tied up for several weeks.

"In Old Chicago" Opens in N. Y.

The premiere of the Darryl F. Zanuck, Twentieth Century - Fox production, "In Old Chicago," was held last Thursday at the Astor theatre in New York. The picture which depicts certain events of Chicago's early history and especially the fire of October, 1871, will play a two-a-day policy at the Astor.

The Twentieth Century - Fox studio party who crossed the continent to attend the opening left New York Saturday for the coast. In the party were Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board; Mr. Zanuck, production vice-president; Alice Faye, who plays the feminine lead; William Dover, studio personnel manager; Jean Hersholt, Gregory Ratoff and Sid Grauman, west coast theatreman. Sidney R. Kent, president, who came east with the studio group, left New York for Florida.

Reports indicate that the picture is having a record advance sale, with seats being sold as far ahead as eight weeks. It will open in Chicago at the Apollo theatre, January 27th; in Hollywood, January 14th, and in Miami, January 18th. "In Old Chicago" will be shown at key cities on the same two-a-day basis as in New York, and will not be released for general exhibition during the current season.

The Twentieth Century - Fox publicity department in Hollywood announced this week that the picture will be the first roadshow attraction to be presented in Hawaii on a two-a-day basis. It opens in Honolulu January 21st.

Chicago Publicity Men Elect

At this week's general election of officers of Chicago Amusement Publicists Association, comprised of newspaper, motion picture theatre and publicity men, the following were elected to office for the next six months: President, Henry Markbreit; vice president, Tony Owen; treasurer, Samuel Schoenstadt; secretary, Joseph Berenson; sergeant-at-arms, Sidney Stern, director of public relations, M. O. Wells.

The following were inducted into the organization as honorary members: John Boles, Milton Berle, Joe E. Brown, Dave Rubinoff, the Ritz Brothers, Ricardo Cortez and Vincent Lopez.

Program Set for Board of Review

The complete program for the three-day annual conference of the National Board of Review, opening Thursday, at the Pennsylvania Hotel, stands as follows:

Thursday, January 20th

9:45 A.M. Cinema de Paris, 66 Fifth Avenue—Review of new film.

1:30 P.M. Hotel Pennsylvania, Salle Modern Conference Registration.

2:00 P.M. Session Topic—"The Importance of the Movies"—

"As World Communication"—William P. Montague, Jr., assignment editor, Paramount News.

"As a Scientific Interest"—Sidney K. Wolf, president, Society of Motion Picture Engineers and district manager, ERPI Picture Consultants.

"As an Educational Medium"—Herbert S. Walsh, technical supervisor, Objective Teaching Materials and Techniques, sponsored by New York City Board of Education.

8:30 P.M. Exhibition—"The Making of a Contemporary Film from Script to Preview," Museum of Modern Art Galleries, 14 West 49th Street. Tour of the exhibit will be conducted by Allen Porter, assistant to the director of the Museum Film Library.

Friday, January 21st

9:45 A.M. Hotel Pennsylvania, Motion Picture Activities Panel Session.
Panel Leader—Dr. Frederic M. Thrasher, associate professor of education, New York University.
Reports by community Motion Picture Council and other organization representatives.

2:00 P.M. Hotel Pennsylvania.
Session Topic—"Taste and Demand in the Movies."

"The Philosophical Approach to the Films"—Mortimer J. Adler, associate professor of the philosophy of law at the University of Chicago, and author of "Art and Prudence."

"The Majority and Minority Audience"—Gilbert Seldes, author of "An Hour with the Movies and the Talkies"—and "The Movies Come from America."

"Movies—What Are They?"—Alistair Cooke, contributing author to "Footnotes on the Films," British film critic, London commentator.

"Movies and Popular Criticism"—by a film critic.

Presiding Officer—Russell Potter, associate director, Columbia University Extension, in charge of Institute of Arts and Sciences.

8:15 P.M. New School for Social Research, 60 West 12th Street, "The Film Has Document and News"—with special film showings. Speaker: Edgar Anstey, director of productions, March of Time, Ltd. London.

Saturday, January 22nd

9:45 A.M. Junior session—the Little Theatre, Twentieth Century-Fox Film, 444 West 56th Street.
The showing of an unreleased film and discussion by members of the National Board's junior groups, the 4-Star Clubs.

12:30 P.M. Hotel Pennsylvania, Ballroom.
Twenty-third annual luncheon.

David Garrison Berger, motion picture attorney, has become associated with the law firm of Hastings and Aranow, N. Y.

MANAGERS' ROUND TABLE CLUB

An international association of showmen meeting weekly in MOTION PICTURE HERALD for mutual aid and progress

REMEMBER WHEN?

The EMPRESS Program

December 9 to December 15, 1917

Pictures are the consolers of loneliness; they are the windows to the imprisoned thought; they are books; they are histories and SERMONS which we can read without the trouble of turning the leaves.

Sunday, MARY PICKFORD in RAGS

Monday, OLIVE THOMAS of Famous Follies, in a 5-reel COMEDY—BROADWAY ARIZONA.

Tuesday, KITTY GORDON in THE BELOVED ADVENTURER.

Wednesday, DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in DOUBLE TROUBLE; also a visit to Portland, Oregon, "The City of Roses."

Thursday, WALT WHITMAN in THE TAR WHEEL WARRIOR; also one reel of COMEDY.

Friday, GLADYS BROCKWELL in SAUL OF SATAN.

Saturday, MARGUERITE CLARK in THE VALENTINE GIRL.

From deep down in the bag P. J. Poag, Princess Theatre, Del Rio, Texas, unearthed this bit of institutional advertising to plug his weekly attractions. Reverse side carried cut of Douglas Fairbanks as he appeared in "Double Trouble" back in 1917.

BULLETIN

We are in receipt of a bulletin issued by Ed Kuykendall, President of MPTOA, which speaks for itself. Good sound reasoning and business sense is what we call it, and therefore pass it along to you:

"While it takes courage and initiative to do so, it has been successfully demonstrated by theatres time and again that receipts can be maintained in the face of declining business conditions by intensified advertising, better merchandising of the show and improved management of the theatre. The exhibitor just has to work harder to get business, instead of being resigned to his fate.

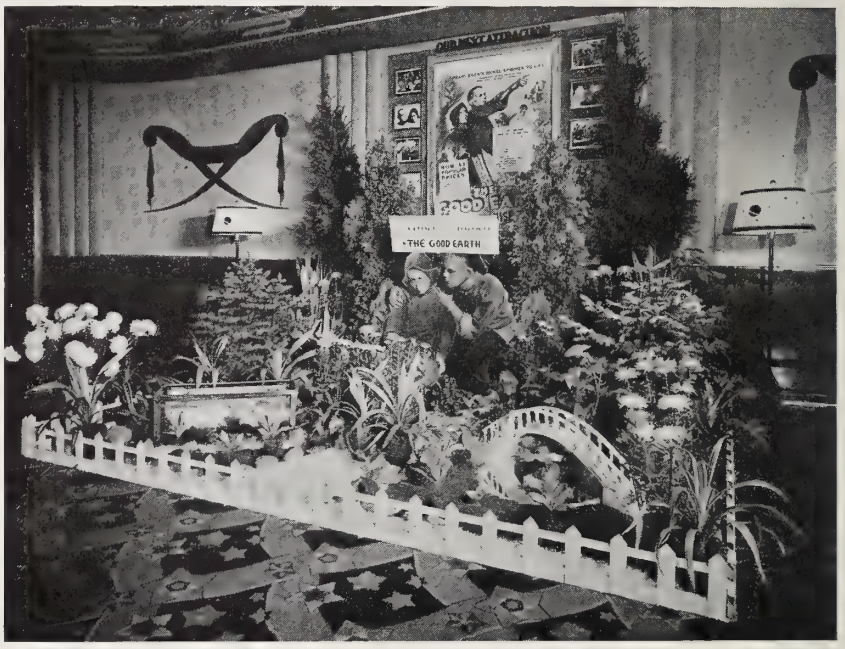
"The leading trade papers are much alive to this field of endeavor, they are filled with splendid articles, plans, information, suggestions, ideas, facts, results, examples, illustrations and technical data on better theatre management and effective theatre advertising. To combat a falling-off in box office receipts, the theatre owner and manager must roll up his sleeves and go to work in earnest if he wants to stay in business, supplementing his own initiative, resourcefulness and ingenuity with all of the help he can get from this trade paper service."

▽

CONGRATULATIONS!

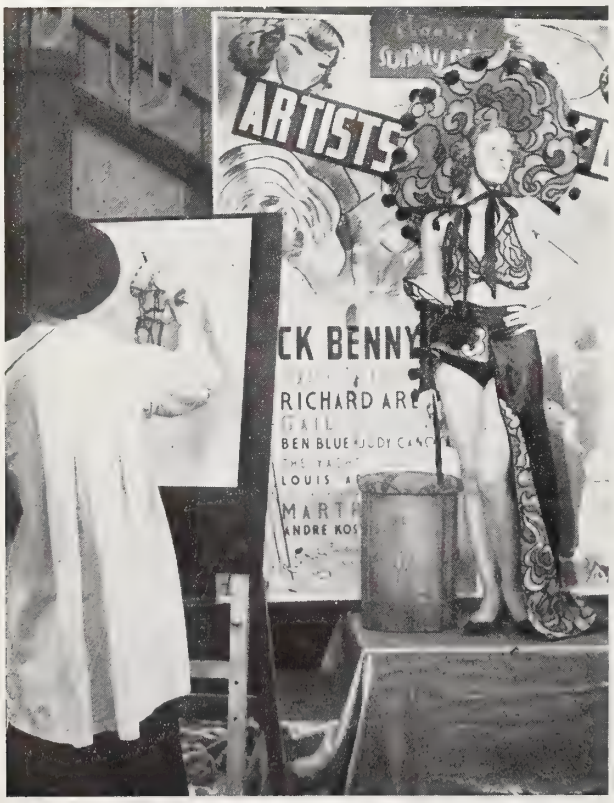
This week Cleveland turned out to honor Milt Harris, publicity director of Loew's theatres in that district. This "human dynamo," so labeled by his cohorts, celebrated his 30th anniversary in showbusiness. Starting as an usher and "candy butcher," Harris has gained the respect and affection of those with whom he has come in contact as is attested by his host of friends who assembled to honor him.

▽



Mr. Dan Parker, sports editor of the N. Y. Daily Mirror, commenting on huge crowds attending various sports events, observes that the only "recession" he knows of, are Primo Carnera's gums.

Jack Goldstein



Round Table In Pictures

For the premiere of "In Old Chicago" at the New York Astor striking effect was secured by recreating the atmosphere of the period covered in the picture. Main feature was frame on lobby wall through which could be seen an illuminated photomural of a street scene in old Chicago.

Created by Manager Bill Weiss of Warner's Capitol Theatre, Passaic, N. J., is this "Good Earth" lobby display which he reports cost practically nothing. Collection of small shrubs, flowers and various Chinese plants were promoted from local florist, center of display featuring cutouts of Luise Rainer and Paul Muni topped by cast and playdates, background contained scene stills.

For the date of "History Is Made at Night" at the Imperial Theatre, Warsaw, Poland, Leon Zalkind, manager of the United Artists publicity department there employed this sound truck. Oversize head cutouts of Jean Arthur and Charles Boyer were mounted atop truck together with cast.

Among the valuable slants arranged by E. L. Dimmock, manager of the Paramount Theatre, London, England, for "Artists and Models," was an especially arranged studio in the foyer depicting actual models drawn by artists culled from the local art schools.

Manager Joseph Lightstone at the Orpheum Theatre, Montreal, Canada, designed this eye-arresting front for his engagement of "Dead End" there. Large cutout figures of Sylvia Sidney and Joel McCrea were used in addition to Neon title light above box office. To be noted also is use of new silhouette lettering on Lightstone's marquee.

Erected by Eduardo Rivas Ors for the showing of "Tale of Two Cities" at the Teatro Olmedo in Guayquil, Ecuador, was guillotine planted on main thoroughfare with figure of a nobleman and executioner leading him to his doom. The four supports of the guillotine were painted with allegoric pictures of scenes from the picture. Entire display measuring 20 feet.

From Lou Halper's Pacific Coast zone of Warner Theatres comes this "Zola" display for the Hollywood Theatre. Looking tremendously realistic, the wax head and body of Paul Muni were designed by Perc Westmore, head of the Studio makeup department.

In connection with this gala fall season opening, Morris Traub, Tivoli, Bronx, N. Y., constructed this display plugging forthcoming attractions. Made of veneer wood covered with Teddy bear cloth, board contained letters addressed to patrons.

To sell "Boy of the Streets," Louis Charninsky, Capitol, Dallas, Tex., constructed attractive front. Either side of boxoffice was flanked with oversized cutout heads of Jackie Cooper completely covered with cellophane. Scene stills were used profusely.

CALL AWARDS BOX OFFICE INCENTIVE

JULES LEVY
General Sales Manager
RKO Radio Pictures

I appreciate the honor of acting as a Judge in the Quigley Awards Competitions and it will be a pleasure to serve on your Committee for 1938.

The Quigley Awards for advertising, publicity and exploitation are, in my opinion, one of the most valuable developments in our industry and the Round Table Department of the MOTION PICTURE HERALD the most stimulating and interesting development of trade journalism.

▽

HARRY KALMINE
Zone manager, Warner Theatres
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Thank you very much for your letter inviting me to again serve on the Committee for 1938 for the Quigley Awards Competitions.

It is my contention that the Quigley Awards have in the past served as a very fine incentive for our men in the field to outdo themselves in their exploitation of pictures. I am very pleased to note that this merit system will continue.

▽

CHARLES C. MOSKOWITZ
General Theatres Executive
Loew's, Inc.

I am pleased to learn through your letter that the Herald will continue its Quigley Awards Competitions in 1938. This is a fine effort to keep alive enthusiastic showmanship. I am always pleased to see our Loew Theatres well represented among the campaigns in your monthly competitions.

Of course, I will be glad to serve as a judge in 1938 and cooperate in any other way I can.

▽

HARRY GOLDBERG
Director of Advertising and Publicity
Warner Bros. Theatres

I am deeply interested in the new basis for the Quigley Awards, which the Round Table has established for the New Year.

If the lure of the monthly prizes and the annual award of a Hollywood visit was a potent factor in stimulating managers on individual campaigns, I have no doubt that your new set-up will aid in developing sustained and continuous showmanship among the more ambitious theatre managers of the country.

▽

GORDON S. WHITE
Director of Advertising and Publicity
Educational Films Corp.

I shall be glad to serve again on the Quigley Awards Committee.

▽

NEIL F. AGNEW
Vice President
Paramount Pictures

I shall be pleased to serve as a judge on the Quigley Awards Committee for 1938.

May I take this opportunity to wish you every success in your new undertaking and to commend the Managers' Round Table Club for its fine work in fostering this competition among the managers and exploiteers.

Ed Fay Sings Praises of New System for 1938 Awards

I shall be very glad to co-operate with you on the Quigley Awards for 1938.

I have followed the fortunes of the Round Table with keen interest over a period of years, and find that it is of inestimable value to theatre managers the country over.

Unquestionably your Awards have done a great deal towards the stimulating of activity on the part of showmen, and it most certainly is reflected in box-office receipts.

Your announcement of the new system of making the Quigley Awards for 1938 strikes me as a move forward to further stress the value of true showmanship, and will prove a test worthy of your most rabid contributors.

Season's Greetings, and all good luck to 1938 contestants!

—ED FAY, Fay Theatres, Providence, R. I.

EDWARD FINNEY
Director, Publicity and Advertising
Grand National Films, Inc.

Motion picture business is a showman's business, and no matter how good an attraction may be, unless it is properly presented to the public, it will not get its returns in patronage and dollars and cents to which it is justly entitled.

Quigley Awards call particular attention to this phase of the motion picture business and place a desirable premium on intelligent promotional effort in selling pictures to the public. The fact that this service has attracted nation-wide interest and incited first-run showmen and circuit operators all over the country to compete for prizes proves the esteem with which "Quigley Awards" is held in exhibitor circles.

I am firmly convinced that the great strides made in exploitation and smart merchandising in the last two years is more due to the influence of the Managers' Round Table Club than any other single factor.

May Quigley Awards long continue to stimulate the entire industry.

▽

S. BARRET McCORMICK
Director of Advertising and Publicity
RKO Radio Pictures

Thank you for your invitation to act as Judge on the Quigley Awards Competitions and it will be a pleasure to serve.

Each year the Quigley Awards grow in importance in the motion picture industry. These citations are recognized throughout the industry for special accomplishments in showmanship.

▽

W. F. RODGERS
General Sales Manager
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures

It is pleasing to note the continuation of the Quigley Awards, and your invitation to serve as a Judge is appreciated and accepted.

This medium of awards to enterprising showmen undoubtedly serves as a stimulant for better box office results.

MORE MANAGERIAL EXPRESSIONS

PEARCE PARKHURST

Manager, Brandon
Brandon, Vt.

I, personally, think the Quigley Awards are a wonderful thing, and that every real manager with the interest of the theatre at heart will agree with me when I say that they spur one on to bigger things. The competitions not only promote valuable box office result campaigns from the exhibitor, but at the same time reward an exhibitor for his efforts through national recognition via the Awards and MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

I have every reason to believe that my winning of a First Award Certificate this year was partly the cause of my promotion to a better position in a larger theatre with the circuit I work for. I further believe that my winning of an Honorable Mention certificate enhanced my prestige not only with the circuit I am now working for, but also to other interested parties.

▽

JOSEPH G. SAMARTANO

Manager, Loew Poli Palace
Meriden, Conn.

The "Quigley Awards" give new enthusiasm to go out and sell another picture which betters the box office gross. If a campaign submitted does not get the "Silver Plaque" you'll try again and again, and when you get it, you'll want it again.

▽

JOE DI PESA

Pub. Dir., Loew's State and Orpheum
Boston, Mass.

There is no denying the definite value and worth of the Quigley competitions both as a box-office stimulant and personal prestige builder. Awards of this nature tend to create many new and profitable ideas, keep us wide awake and emphasize the inestimable value of publicity and exploitation in theatre operation today.

▽

JAMES A. FIELD

Manager, Paramount
Salem, Mass.

The Quigley Awards not only stimulate better box office grosses but increase the theatre manager's activities and interest to win a Quigley Award, therefore making the competition keener among the men in the field. An honorable mention was won at this theatre and enhanced our prestige to some extent.

▽

E. A. STEINBUCH

Manager, Loew's State
Cleveland, Ohio

We have found the Quigley Competitions very valuable advertising assets and we are indeed proud to possess our Awards.

TWICE PRIZE WINNER, BELL LAUDS AWARDS

I'm one of Round Table's ardent enthusiasts.

Any medium which has as its object the stimulation of effort and ingenuity, particularly the mass effort inspired by Motion Picture Herald, must be ardently acclaimed.

The Quigley Awards have today attained a status that wins repect and regard for any showman who has by his showmanship shown himself fit to win one. I prize most highly my Silver and Bronze plaques won in 1937 as well as the certificates your organization has seen fit to award me. I have not the slightest doubt but that possession of these recognitions clothe one with the garments that win the approval of the industry's executive command.

As long as there are Quigley Awards to strive for, here's one hombre who'll not quit perspiring until he's accumulated as many as effort will permit.

Here's hoping 1938 finds the Round Table competitions thriving more merrily than ever.—RAY BELL, publicity director, Loew's Theatres, Washington, D. C.

GUS W. CARLSON

Manager, Peoples
Superior, Wis.

I am a firm believer that any manager who prepares a campaign with the thought in mind to enter same in the Quigley Competitions will cover every sales angle to properly exploit the picture and in doing so, it automatically helps in establishing bigger grosses for the picture in question. The writer has been successful in winning two or three Honorable Mentions in the past year and will still keep on trying for a bigger Award, as these Quigley Awards will keep any manager from getting into the well-known "rut."

▽

JOHN F. BURHORN

Manager, Gayety
So. Chicago, Ill.

Participating in the Quigley Competition spells box-office, and invariably brings about the recementing of friendships with merchants and civic leaders and develops new contacts and opportunities for future tieins.

Everybody who has ever competed in these Adwards will agree with me that it is a great experience that can hardly be found any other way. It's a lot of work, but, oh, boy, when that telegram comes telling you that you have won—what a grand and glorious feeling!

MANNIE FRIEDMAN

District Supervisor, Century Circuit
Long Island, N. Y.

I believe every Manager should get out and try to win one of the Quigley Plaques or even one of the Mentions. It is a great help to him not only in showing box office results but it does do something to him in the way of knowing his exploitation.

In my opinion every exhibitor should encourage his Managers to compete in the Quigley Awards, not only by telling them to, but to offer prizes to the Managers who win even if it is only the Honorable Mention. He will not only help his Managers to think up better ways of exploitation but help the box office. Even if they don't win on the first picture it will be a great help for the following pictures.

Perhaps my advancement to District Supervisor is not entirely due to the Quigley Awards but it sure was a great help.

▽

MORRIS ROSENTHAL

Manager, Loew's Majestic
Bridgeport, Conn.

Quigley Competitions tend to bring out the best in a man and make him sort of super-exploitation conscious. There can be no question of its enhancing the manager's prestige as it brings him into the eyes of the entire field as well as having a tendency of teaching him to plan far in advance and lay out his campaigns in a businesslike manner.

▽

LOUIE CHARNINSKY

Manager, Capitol
Dallas, Texas

The Quigley Competitions stimulate box office grosses and exploitation efforts of men in the field because they create friendly competition and there isn't anyone who doesn't like to win a contest.

I am a Quigley Award winner and it has helped my prestige immensely. Since I won the Award I have been given another house to manage.

▽

DUKE PRINCE

Manager, Shea's Orpheum
McKees Rocks, Pa.

I believe the Quigley Competitions to be one of the finest mediums in aiding the men in the field and they aid us in many ways to better the box office grosses.

▽

WALLY CALDWELL

Manager, Loew's Valentine
Toledo, Ohio

I believe the Quigley Competitions present unlimited possibilities for the wide-awake showman to capitalize on real box office promotion . . . and those Quigley Awards are an incentive to constantly bring out the best that's in him.

AWARD CLASSIFICATIONS

CLASS "A"

(Cities 250,000 and over)

ALABAMA
Birmingham

CALIFORNIA
Los Angeles
Oakland
San Francisco

COLORADO
Denver

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA
Washington

GEORGIA
Atlanta

ILLINOIS
Chicago

INDIANA
Indianapolis

KENTUCKY
Louisville

LOUISIANA
New Orleans

MARYLAND
Baltimore

MASSACHUSETTS
Boston

MICHIGAN
Detroit

MINNESOTA
Minneapolis
St. Paul

MISSOURI
Kansas City
St. Louis

NEW JERSEY
Jersey City
Newark

NEW YORK
Buffalo
New York City
Rochester

OHIO
Akron
Cleveland
Cincinnati
Columbus
Toledo

OREGON
Portland

PENNSYLVANIA
Philadelphia
Pittsburgh

RHODE ISLAND
Providence

TENNESSEE Memphis

TEXAS
Dallas
Houston

WASHINGTON
Seattle

Here are listings of the various classifications for the 1938 Quigley Awards. You can see for yourself exactly with whom you are competing.

As announced, Competitions run quarterly, with Silver Plaques being awarded each winner in each class every three-month period.

WISCONSIN
Milwaukee

▽

CLASS "B"

(Cities 100,000 to 250,000)

CALIFORNIA
Long Beach
San Diego

CONNECTICUT
Bridgeport
New Haven
Hartford
Waterbury

FLORIDA
Jacksonville
Miami
Tampa

ILLINOIS
Peoria

INDIANA
Evansville
Gary
Ft. Wayne
So. Bend

IOWA
Des Moines

KANSAS
Kansas City
Wichita

MASSACHUSETTS
Cambridge
Lowell
Fall River
Lynn
New Bedford
Sommerville
Worcester
Springfield

MICHIGAN
Flint
Grand Rapids

MINNESOTA
Duluth

NEBRASKA
Omaha

NEW JERSEY
Camden
Paterson
Elizabeth
Trenton

NEW YORK
Albany
Utica
Syracuse
Yonkers

OHIO
Canton
Dayton
Youngstown

OKLAHOMA
Oklahoma City
Tulsa

PENNSYLVANIA
Erie
Reading
Scranton

TENNESSEE
Chatanooga
Knoxville
Nashville

TEXAS
El Paso
Ft. Worth
San Antonio

UTAH
Salt Lake City

VIRGINIA
Norfolk
Richmond

WASHINGTON
Spokane
Tacoma

▽

CLASS "C"

(Cities 25,000 to 100,000)

ALABAMA
Gadsden
Mobile
Montgomery

ARIZONA
Phoenix
Tucson

ARKANSAS
Ft. Smith
Little Rock

CALIFORNIA
Alameda
Riverside
Alhambra
Sacramento
Bakersfield
San Bernardino
Berkeley
San Jose
Fresno
Santa Ana
Glendale
Santa Barbara
Huntington Park
Santa Monica
Inglewood
Stockton
Pasadena

COLORADO
Colorado Springs
Pueblo

CONNECTICUT
Bristol
Stamford
Meriden
Torrington
New Britain
West Hartford
New London
West Haven
Norwalk

FLORIDA
Orlando
St. Petersburg
Pensacola
West Palm Beach

GEORGIA
Augusta
Macon
Columbus
Savannah

ILLINOIS
Alton
Galesburg
Aurora
Granite City
Belleville
Joliet
Berwyn
Maywood
Bloomington
Moline
Cicero
Oak Park
Danville
Quincy

1938 COMPETITIVE CITIES

ILLINOIS
(Continued)

Decatur
E. St. Louis
Elgin
Evanston
Rockford
Rock Island
Springfield
Waukegan

INDIANA

Anderson
E. Chicago
Elkhart
Hammond
Kokomo
Lafayette
Marion
Michigan City
Mishawaka
Muncie
New Albany
Richmond
Terre Haute

IOWA

Burlington
Cedar Rapids
Clinton
Council Bluffs
Davenport
Dubuque
Ottumwa
Sioux City
Waterloo

KANSAS

Hutchinson
Topeka

KENTUCKY

Ashland
Covington
Lexington
Newport
Paducah

LOUISIANA

Baton Rouge
Shreveport
Monroe

MAINE

Bangor
Portland
Lewiston

MARYLAND

Cumberland
Hagerstown

MASSACHUSETTS

Arlington
Beverly
Brockton
Brookline
Chelsea
Chicopee
Everett
Fitchburg
Haverhill
Holyoke
Lawrence
Maldon
Medford
Newton
Pittsfield
Quincy
Revere
Salem
Taunton
Waltham
Watertown

MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor
Battle Creek
Bay City
Dearborn
Hamtramck
Highland Park
Jackson
Kalamazoo
Lansing
Muskegon
Pontiac
Pt. Huron
Saginaw
Wyandotte

MISSISSIPPI

Jackson
Meridian

MISSOURI

Joplin
St. Joseph
Springfield
University City

MONTANA

Butte Great Falls

NEBRASKA

Lincoln

The race is on! Remember, do not wait until the end of every three-month period to send in your material. Keep sending it to us as soon as you have it ready.

Besides the Awarding of Silver Plaques each quarter, Citation of Merit Sheepskins as well as First and Honorable Mentions will be made.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

Concord
Nashua
Manchester

NEW JERSEY

Atlantic City
Bayonne
Belleville
Bloomfield
Clifton
E. Orange
Garfield
Hackensack
Hoboken
Irvington
Kearny
Montclair
New Brunswick
North Bergen
Orange
Passaic
Perth Amboy
Plainfield
Union City
West New York
West Orange
Woodbridge

NEW MEXICO

Albuquerque

NEW YORK

Amsterdam
Auburn
Binghamton
Elmira
Jamestown
Kingston
Lackawanna
Mt. Vernon
Newburgh
New Rochelle
Niagara Falls
Poughkeepsie
Rome
Schenectady
Troy
Watertown
White Plains

NORTH CAROLINA

Asheville
Charlotte
Durham
Greensboro
High Point
Raleigh
Wilmington
Winston-Salem

NORTH DAKOTA

Fargo

OHIO

Barberton
Cleveland Heights
East Cleveland
Elyria
Hamilton
Lakewood
Lima
Lorain
Mansfield
Marion
Massillon
Middletown
Newark
Norwood
Portsmouth
Springfield
Steubenville
Warren
Zanesville

OKLAHOMA

Enid
Muskogee

OREGON

Salem

PENNSYLVANIA

Aliquippa
Allentown
Altoona
Bethlehem
Chester
Easton
Harrisburg
Hazleton
Johnstown
Wilkes-Barre
Wilkinsburg
Lancaster
Lebanon
McKeesport
Nanticoke
New Castle
Norristown
Sharon
Washington
Williamsport York

RHODE ISLAND

Central Falls
Cranston
E. Providence
Newport
Pawtucket
Woonsocket

SOUTH CAROLINA

Charleston
Columbia
Greenville
Spartanburg

SOUTH DAKOTA

Sioux Falls

TENNESSEE

Johnson City

TEXAS

Amarillo
Austin
Beaumont
Corpus Christi
Galveston
Laredo
Pt. Arthur
San Angelo
Waco
Wichita Falls

UTAH

Ogden

VERMONT

Burlington

VIRGINIA

Lynchburg
Newport News
Petersburg
Portsmouth
Roanoke

WASHINGTON

Bellingham
Everett

WEST VIRGINIA

Charleston
Clarksburg
Huntington
Parkersburg
Wheeling

WISCONSIN

Appleton
Eau Claire
Fond Du Lac
Green Bay
Kenosha
La Crosse
Madison
Oshkosh
Racine
Sheboygan
Superior
West Allis

▽

CLASS "D"

This class includes all cities or towns with a population of 25,000 or under.

▽

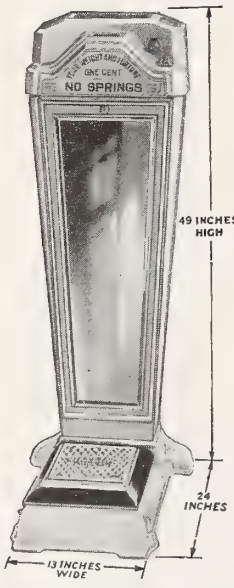
CLASS "E"

This class includes all suburban or neighborhood runs as well as subsequent-run situations.

▽

FOREIGN

All foreign entries are subject to the same classification as those above.



QUICK REPORTS FROM THE FIELD

Man on Street Gag

To sell his "Borneo" engagement at the Paramount Theatre, Anderson, Ind., Manager Harry Van Noy used a street broadcast, man questioning passersby on highlights of the picture. To those correctly answering, guest tickets were awarded. Entire front was decorated with skins, tom-toms, helmets, etc., while for his second street bally, boys dressed in atmosphere, carrying spears, covered busy sections of the town. Truck properly bannered also covered the entire city.

Tex Ritter Club

Jack Smith, manager of the State Theatre, Pawhuska, Okla., has announced the formation of the "State Theatre Club." Meetings are held at the theatre every Saturday afternoon with Tex Ritter the honorary president of the club. Small membership cards are issued and through an arrangement of three paid admissions, members receive a fourth gratis.

THEATRE OPERATORS

Extra Income

WITHOUT INVESTMENT

•

ATTRACTIVE NOVEL
Coin Controlled

WEIGHING SCALES

Thousands in Use by Leading Theatre Chains. Install a

NEW

Fortune Telling Scale

Pay Out of Earnings

Attractive Terms

For Information Write

UNIVERSAL SCALE CO.
1501 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

GRAND AWARD WINNER CHATHAM HAS HIS SAY

"I will take just a little credit and say that I have consistently endeavored to sell the idea of the Round Table to our organization consisting of some 200 theatres in Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. I might add that we have had more placements in 1937 than any other one organization. While they have not all been either the Silver or Bronze Awards, we have received many First Mentions and innumerable Honorable Mentions.

"The various managers have learned to plan and execute promotional campaigns that increase the grosses of the theatres to a very healthy extent and also learn the value of advertising as far as the dollar is concerned. So for 1938 let me say more power to every member of the Round Table and by reading the various campaigns and ideas submitted by other members and by sending in one's own ideas every member will profit personally and so will the box-office."—LEW CHATHAM, manager, Sooner, University and Variety Theatres, Norman, Okla.

Pollock's Extra

Through tieup effected by Les Pollock, Loew's Rochester, Rochester, N. Y., 3,000 Journals were distributed gratis on streets. Bold red overprint on front page read , "Extra, extra, fire at Loew's." Closer inspection of paper revealed the word "fly" in smaller type after "fire" and thus did the showman get over his "Firefly" announcements.

Outstanding break that Les received was feature story in leading Rochester paper on his theatre activities together with his photo.

Fish Story

Ben Mindlin, Bellerose Theatre, Bellerose, L. I., dug down into the bag for "Borneo" and came up with the old "invisible fish" stunt. Setting a large bowl on table lobby with card reading "perfect and rare specimen of invisible fish caught by Osa Johnson in 'Borneo,' visible to the human eye for 10 minutes daily," the theatreman offered passes to those who saw the fish. Mindlin reports the gag as proving a great attention-getter with adults as well as children inspecting the bowl.

Anniversary

For the third anniversary of the Victoria Theatre, New Smyrna Beach, Fla., Manager W. B. Small approached editor of the Daily News there and obtained permission to sell a double truck spread to plug the occasion. Small then visited the various merchants, promoted ads from them in addition to paid ad endorsement from the Mayor. Gratis theatre ad appeared in center spread and distribution of the papers was carried into eight outside towns without theatres.

Safety Campaign

Arranged by Art Krolick, Regent Theatre, Rochester, N. Y., for "Boy of the Streets" was safety campaign tieup with traffic department. Cards with copy reading "Drive carefully, watch out for 'The Boy of the Streets'" were distributed all over the city at filling stations, parking spaces and road intersections.

Personal letter from official of the Lipton Tea Company was delivered by telegraph to all grocers and markets in Rochester together with tack card and still of Cooper plugging picture and opening. Through tieup with Wheaties distributors 100,000 stickers with title and playdates were placed on all boxes, free admission awarded to children bringing in designated number of box fronts. Promotion was also arranged with camera dealer who took two column ad in local daily using still of the star, blowup of ad appearing in store window and theatre lobby.

'Manhattan' Opening

One week ahead of opening of "Manhattan Merry Go Round" at the New York Criterion Theatre, publicity head Phil Laufer planted a lucky number contest through cooperation of the Packard Lektro Shaver and Lektrolite people. Two daily prizes were awarded, lighter in the afternoon and a shaver in the evening to the holder of the lucky number taken from ticket purchased at the box office.

Blowups of Cab Calloway using the shaver were displayed at the theatre and 50 leading stores; music shops carried displays featuring hit songs from the picture and one week ahead of opening the Cotton Club took ads in paper announcing a "Manhattan Merry Go Round" night taking place on preview night. Through tieup with the Tootsie Roll manufacturers distributed their confection in small imprinted envelopes reading "Two rare treats," etc., etc.

Prominent Sales Head Comments on Quigley Awards

by GEO. J. SCHAEFER

Vice President and General Manager of United Artists

The time-worn adage that a picture is "sold" when a playdate is set, that the seller can then sit back in his chair and wait for the rental fee to fall into his lap, is as obsolete as an oldtime nickelodeon. This is no longer the contemporary viewpoint. Today all important contracts are being set on a percentage basis, thus forcing the entire industry to adopt the same aggressive and business-like viewpoint that there is no such thing as a sold picture until the last customer has paid an admission fee at the box-office and the print has been returned to the exchanges.

This is admittedly the attitude of every man in the industry who refuses to drop by the wayside, gathering only the crumbs left behind by the showman who is alert and up-to-date. It is for these reasons, and many others, that I should like to go on record as one who definitely recognizes the unqualified services rendered to the industry as a whole by the editors of the MOTION PICTURE HERALD in establishing the annual Quigley Awards for Showmanship.

Not only have these awards promoted a direct medium for stimulating better box-office grosses and exploitation efforts of the man in the field, but they have also created a method whereby the individual showman can reap the maximum profits for himself with the product he plays.

Recently, we at United Artists have seen the concrete benefits resulting directly from the stimulus of the Quigley Awards and the substantial advantages gained by the exhibitor who "sells his picture to his patrons." Three of the exhibitors who played "Stella Dallas" and entered their campaigns in the Quigley competitions during last August and September and won prizes in the final rounds. But of even greater consequence was the prize at the box-office in the form of much greater business. Every showman in the industry realizes that the Quigley Awards are stepping up the pace of sales campaigns and teaching the exhibitor a more valid approach to his problem. His best efforts to create a winning campaign must inevitably register at the box-office.

"Let's Hear From You!"

Special Matinee Held for "Heidi"

Sixteen busses conveyed children from rural schools to the special matinee of "Heidi" held by Wesley Tefft, Manager of Smalley's Theatre, Stamford, N. Y., who played to about 1,000 kiddies. Since the entire population of Stamford is only 956, the theatreman reports the slant as being one of the most successful engineered at his house. Stories together with art work were run in local newspapers.

Kline, Lapinere Voted Plaques for December

It's hands across the sea this last month of the 1937 Quigley Awards with Manager R. Lee Kline, Warner's Colonial Theatre, Germantown, Pa., taking down the Silver Plaque for his outstanding job on "Alcatraz Island"; Silver Citation of Merit going to Al Zimbalist of the Philadelphia advertising staff who aided on the campaign. Elias Lapinere, Paris Theatre, Paris, France, takes down the Bronze Plaque. It's a repeater for Lapinere who won the Quigley Silver plaque in June 1936 for his entry on "A Night at the Opera." December brings two First Mentions, one in the person of L. A. Chatham, last year's Quigley Grand Award winner, who receives his honors for his entry on "The Awful Truth" at the Sooner Theatre, Norman, Okla., and John Barcroft, Publicity, R. K. O. Orpheum, Columbus, Ohio, "Damsel in Distress."

First Mention

JOHNNY BARCROFT, Publicity, RKO Orpheum, Columbus, Ohio, "Damsel in Distress"

L. A. CHATHAM, Manager, Sooner, Norman, Okla., "Awful Truth"

Honorable Mentions

WALLY CALDWELL, Manager, Loew's Valentine, Toledo, Ohio, "Nothing Sacred"

G. W. CARLSON, Manager, Peoples, Superior, Wis., "This Way Please"

E. E. CRABTREE, City Manager, Fischer, Danville, Ill., "52nd Street"

ARLIE CRITES, Manager, Palace, Lubbock, Texas, "Emile Zola"

L. D. GLINNER, Manager, Broadway, Chelsea, Mass., "Devil Is Driving"

LARRY GRABURN, Manager, Capitol, Halifax, Nova Scotia, "Victoria the Great"

C. L. HOLLISTER, Manager, Babcock, Wellsville, N. Y., "Emile Zola"

WILLIAM W. JOHNSON, Manager, Opera House, Millinocket, Maine, "Stage Door"

ED MILLER, Manager; MANNY PEARLSTEIN, Publicity, Hippodrome, Cleveland, Ohio, "Damsel in Distress"

PEARCE PARKHURST, Manager, Brandon, Brandon, Vt., "Life Begins in College"

EDWIN PENTECOST, Manager, Loew's Grand, Atlanta, Ga., "Hurricane"

TOMMY READ, Manager, Paramount, Atlanta, Ga., "Merry Go Round of 1938"

WILLIAM SAXTON, Manager, Loew's Century, Baltimore, Md. "Hurricane"

RALPH L. TULLY, Manager, Colonial, Haverhill, Mass., "Madame X"

The Awards are diversified, as usual, among repeaters and newcomers in all classifications. Kline hits the Plaque column for his initial success and the balance among the First and Honorable Mentions run about even. Preparations for the presentation of the Grand Awards are now going forward and will be announced in a later issue. Two First Mentions were taken down this last month of the 1937 Quigley Awards with fifteen Honorable Mentions voted to various men.

Co-op Ads

Eddie Forrester, manager of the Omaha Theatre, Omaha, Neb., uses a cooperative advertisement tieup with the Omaha World-Herald from time to time. It is a full page ad in red, black and white with ads of local firms around the border, while the top and center positions prominently display the Omaha's current attractions.

Day's Big Apple

For his "Big Apple" short engagement at the Lemoyne Theatre, Lemoyne, Penna., Manager Jack C. Day borrowed an apple from the Penn State Farm Show. "Apple" measuring five feet in diameter was made of galvanized iron and painted to resemble the fruit. Large card attached bore copy with title, playdates, etc.

"TOVARICH" MUSIC HALL ADS

Distinctive style, copy and layout are expressed in the Radio City Music Hall ads on "Tovarich." Following the keynote suggested by Warner Brothers' national campaign prepared by the Warner Brothers' advertising staff, these excellent ads were under the personal supervision of W. G. Van Schmus, managing director of the Music Hall.

• personalities

PAUL SWANSON
manager of the State Theatre, Allison, Ia., has closed his Star Theatre at Dumont and the Roxy at Central City, Ia.

▽

LOUIS TUNICK
has reopened the Brooklyn Theatre, Baltimore, Md.

▽

RUSSELL RINDY
former assistant at the Tower, Houston, Tex., has been promoted to assistant at the downtown Majestic. JACK HOOKS succeeds Rindy at the Tower.

▽

HENRY CREWS
assistant at the Des Moines Theatre, Des Moines, Ia., has been promoted to manager of the Hiland Theatre.

▽

E. D. CARTER
has purchased the Cozy Theatre, Fayette, Iowa.

▽

LEO SCHNEIDER
is opening a new house in Afton, Ia.

▽

J. C. GITHENS
has reopened the Allerton Theatre, Allerton, Ia.

▽

GEORGE FRENCH
former manager of the Keith Memorial Theatre, Boston, has switched posts with BEN DOMINGO of the Boston Theatre there.

▽

CECIL B. ROSSON
formerly of Durham, N. C., is the new manager of the Palace, Raleigh, N. C. R. D. STALLINGS, former manager, is now supervisor of the Capitol and Palace Theatres there.

▽

J. H. STELLING
manager of the Capitol, Raleigh, N. C., has been transferred to Bluefield, West Va.

▽

ED HOUGH
of Charlotte, N. C., is the new skipper of the Wake Theatre, Raleigh, N. C., replacing C. R. GLENN who resigned to become manager of two Paramount houses in Bristol, Tenn.

▽

JOHN KNIGHT
manager of the Almanace Theatre, Burlington, N. C., has been transferred to Wilmington, N. C., as house manager of the Carolina there. CHARLES H. UTLEY succeeds Knight. Utley was formerly the assistant.

▽

CURTIS E. COBB
has been appointed assistant manager of the Carolina Theatre, Greensboro, N. C.

▽

DICK JANCKE
has been made manager of the Gem Theatre, Golden, Colo., replacing BERLIN TANNER, who went to the Granada at Monte Vista. Other Atlas Theatres changes include RAYMOND LOUNSBURY, assistant at the Lamar, has been made manager, succeeding FRANK BARNES, who has moved to the city managership at Salida. HARRY MOORE, resigned as Salida manager, having bought an interest in the Salida Daily Mail.

Birthday Greetings

A. E. Ableson	Frank Linn
K. L. Adams	J. Ellison Loth
George L. Allen, Jr.	Ferm Lynn
Alvah Barber	Charles V. Martina
James T. Barnett	J. Roger MacGuigan
W. L. "Woody" Barritt	V. Russell Marsh
W. Spencer Bentley	J. Edwin Milstein
Bernard N. Bisbee	John R. Minhinnick
Robert F. Black	Bill Nash
Harry E. Creasey	Henry E. Newberry
Andrew Czeh	William V. Novak
Rene Daigneault	Clarence J. Olbrich
Dave Davidson	Ed Penn
C. W. Davis	James N. Raskin
Claude L. Davis	Dominick Reda
Walter F. Davis	N. J. Reed
Charles Dearth	Thomas R. Reilly
J. H. Diller	John J. Revels
John Ewing	Harry M. Rouda
Raymond C. Fahrenholz	G. W. Sampson
Joseph Feeney	Herman Semel
Claude L. Flater	J. L. Shasteen
Albert Garfield	William M. Sholl
Nat Goldberg	Philip Sigel
Merrill F. Hanna	Isser Singerman
Kenneth Higgins	Theodore L. Smalley
I. M. Hirshblond	Charles L. Stephenson
Homer R. Hisey	W. L. Stratton
Chris G. Holmes	Eugene O. Stutenroth
C. J. Hubley, Jr.	William Herbert Turner
Robert W. Huffman	Lawrence Waters
Charles N. Hurley	William Weiss
F. H. Jones	John C. White, Jr.
Harry E. Jones	Bert C. Wild
Mark T. Kempenich	Frank L. Willis
Jules Koenig	William C. Wittenberg
Alvin K. Lavender	T. S. Yeoh

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

MANAGERS' ROUND TABLE

Rockefeller Center, N. Y.

Name .....
(PRINT)

Position .....

Theatre .....

Address .....

City .....

State .....

Circuit .....

Absolutely No Dues or Fees!

HANK HAROLD
has resigned as ad head for Warner's Cleveland theatres to join the United Detroit Theatres as assistant to Earl J. Hudson. Good luck, Hank.

▽

F. E. CROSSON
has been named manager of the Winn Theatre, Omaha, Neb., succeeding JOHN W. QUINN, who is managing the Pilger in Pilger, Neb.

▽

CHELLE JANIS
former manager of Loew's Ziegfeld Theatre, N. Y. C., is now managing the new Trans Lux here.

▽

CHARLES MARTIN
has been transferred from the Dickinson Theatre, Fayette, Mo., to manager of the Uptown in Parsons, Kan. WILLIAM MOORE succeeds him at Fayette.

▽

ZAC FREEDMAN
has joined Ed Small Productions on the Coast.

▽

PAT McGEE
for the past four years general manager of the Standard Theatres in Oklahoma City, Okla., has resigned and WALTER B. SHUTTEE has taken over his post. J. F. GARST, assistant treasurer, has resigned with J. M. CONNOR, New York, appointed to the vacancy. W. S. McDONAD continues as treasurer. GEORGE Y. HENGER, city manager, and PAUL KETCHUM, manager of the three of the houses have also resigned. Ketchum has been temporarily succeeded by JAMES BURGE, manager of the Midwest, who assumes the management of the Victoria, Tower and Plaza.

▽

TODD FERGUSON
manager of the Warner Theatre, Oklahoma City, Okla., has been transferred to the Midwest there. JAMES BURGE, manager of the Midwest, has been put in charge of the Plaza, Tower and Victoria, succeeding PAUL KETCHUM, resigned. PAUL TOWNSEND, manager of the Liberty, is also in charge of the Warner for the time being.

▽

EARL OCHSENBEIN
formerly of Wheeling, West Va., has been named manager of the State, East Liverpool, Ohio, replacing KEITH CHAMBERS, who has gone to Wheeling to manage the Court Theatre.

▽

BEN STAHL
has been named manager of the Medina Theatre, Medina, Ohio.

▽

GEORGE J. BUSCHORN
has taken over the Kansas and Crawford Theatres, Wichita, Kan., from W. P. HUSTON.

▽

RED EELLS
has been named manager of the Roanoke Theatre, Kansas City, Mo.

Arnstein Song Suit Dismissed by Court

The complaint in the suit brought by Ira B. Arnstein, a songwriter, to compel his admission into the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, and for an accounting of the profits of 50 songs allegedly plagiarized from his compositions, was dismissed by Judge John C. Knox in the United States district court in New York. Judge Knox's opinion ruled that the complaint was "defective in numerous particulars" and suggested that Mr. Arnstein retain an attorney to prosecute the case. The plaintiff was given 30 days to file an amended complaint.

Among the defendants were ASCAP, Songwriters Protective Association, Music Publishers Protective Association, National Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting Company, Warner Brothers, Gene Buck, E. C. Mills, M. Witmark and Sons, Edward B. Marks Music Company, T. B. Harms Music Company, Leo Feist, Inc., Remick Music Corporation, Sam Fox Music Publishing Company, Robbins Music Corporation and Irving Berlin, Inc.

Midland Company Seeking Permission to Reorganize

The Midland Investment Company, which controls the Midland theatre and office building in Kansas City, has filed a petition in Judge Albert L. Reeves's federal district court for permission to reorganize under 77B of the federal bankruptcy act. Loew's, Inc., owns half of the 1,000 shares of no par value capital stock of the Midland company; the other half is held by the Woolford Investment Company (Herbert Woof and M. B. Shanberg).

The original mortgage was for $2,500,000, and bonds were issued May 15, 1926, to cover. Outstanding principal on the bonds is $1,867,500, the petition sets out. On November 15, 1937, $46,500 worth of bonds matured, but the company had only $38,750 deposited to that account. Consequently, trustees served notice of default. The investment company does have, however, $104,000 in cash on hand, and interest obligations have been met. The bonds were written to mature serially.

The ten-year lease on the theatre and office building, which was held by Loew's, Inc., expired October 27, 1937, and was renewed on a short-time, one-year basis because the project was losing money. The new one-year lease provides for a 15 per cent payment of box office returns from the theatre.

The petition asks the court to continue the present management until reorganization is effected.

Trial of the $50,000 plagiarism suit brought by William LaVarre, screen writer, against Warner Brothers, started Monday in New York supreme court before Justice Timothy A. Leary and a jury. Mr. LaVarre alleges that he wrote "The Bedside Manner" for Warren William, and that after rejection it was produced by Warners under the title, "Bedside."

A temporary injunction against the use of the title "Gone with the Wind Country" for a travelogue produced by Ted Toddy was obtained in superior court, Atlanta, by Selznick International, owner of the film rights to the novel, "Gone With the Wind."

IN COURTS

RCA Files Plea To Reopen Case

Reopening of the litigation brought by the Philadelphia Storage Battery Company, parent organization of the Philco Radio and Television Corporation, against the Radio Corporation of America is sought by RCA in a petition filed in Chancery Court, Wilmington.

Josiah O. Wolcott, who handed down an opinion last September upholding PSB in the action, is asked to issue an order permitting RCA to present further arguments, to take further testimony; to introduce a letter from PSB to RCA, and to introduce in evidence certain patents under which PSB has been licensed by RCA.

PSB filed the original action against RCA, seeking to enjoin it from terminating a licensing agreement whereby PSB had the right to use basic patents in the radio industry owned by RCA. In a cross-suit, RCA sought to end the agreement, charging PSB violated the agreement by dividing the patent rights with Philco. The Chancellor upheld PSB, ruling there was no breach of contract.

$100,000 Demanded In "Rosalie" Suit

Damages of $100,000 are demanded by Sylvia Kingsley in an action filed in Federal Court, Los Angeles, against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, William Anthony McGuire and Guy Bolton.

Miss Kingsley claims she is the original author of "Rosalie" and that Mr. Bolton wrote the libretto of the Ziegfeld-McGuire production under a contract whereby she was to receive 25 per cent of the profits of the stage presentation. She also claims she did not authorize the use of "Rosalie" for films and asks an injunction against further payments to Mr. Bolton and Mr. McGuire.

Netco Opens Theatre

Netco Corporation, Paramount subsidiary, has opened the new Juliet theatre, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Other theatre developments in New York include the closing of the Community, Narrowburg, for the winter months; the rushing of construction of the Shadowland, Ellenville, for opening January 17th, and the temporary halting of construction of a new theatre in Goshen.

Schine Acquires Two

The Schine circuit, Columbus, Ohio, has taken over the Kent at Kent, Ohio, on lease and the Ravenna at Ravenna, Ohio. John Paliff will continue as house manager of the Kent, under the supervision of Milton Schosberg, Schine district manager. George Laby will manage the Ravenna. The circuit will modernize the two houses.

Salem Yellen, general manager and booker for the Leff-Myers circuit of theatres in the Bronx, New York, has resigned.

Fred Wynne-Jones Dies After Long Illness

Frederick Wynne-Jones died last Sunday at the Manhattan State Hospital in New York, at the age of 68. Cremation followed Tuesday at Delaney's Funeral Chapel, New York.

Death came to Frederick Wynne-Jones after a long illness. He had been in retirement since Ufa-Films, American distribution of Germany's UFA, abandoned activities in this country several years ago. He was president of the branch here, and prior to that was in film sales abroad, serving United Artists at one time on the Continent.

Lesser Producing Nine For 20th-Fox, RKO Radio

Sol Lesser will produce nine pictures next season, six of which will be outdoor action features for release through Twentieth Century-Fox. The remaining three films will be Bobby Breen musicals for RKO Radio. Mr. Lesser left New York Tuesday for the coast.

Cartoon Films Making 24

Cartoon Films, Ltd., this week started production in Hollywood of 24 color cartoons based on Lawson Wood's ape, "Gran'pop," which appears on the cover of Collier's Magazine. Lawson Haris is president of Cartoon Films, which is a corporate setup for Ub Iwerks. Mr. Iwerks will produce the cartoons assisted by Leslie Mills, for 25 years business manager for Mr. Wood. The company is being financed by British capital. "Gran'pop's Busy Day" will be the title of the first cartoon.

Steffes Heads Club

W. A. Steffes, Northwest Allied leader, has been elected chief barker of the Minneapolis Variety Club. Frank Mantzke was elected first assistant chief barker; Paul Mans, second assistant chief barker; Joe Stern, doughboy, and W. H. Workman, wagonman. New canvassmen are Fred Abelson, George Granstrom, Benny Berger, Don Woods, Rud LoRenz and Gil Nathanson.

Miller Trustee of Condor

Federal Judge George Cosgrave this week in Los Angeles appointed Chester E. Miller as permanent trustee of Condor Pictures, Inc., and asked Miller and officials of the company to return to court at a future date with proposed plans for reorganization of the production firm under Section 77 B. of the Bankruptcy Act. Mr. Miller had held title of temporary trustee prior to Judge Cosgrave's action.

Add "Hurricane" Men

United Artists has added nine exploitation men to cover the popular priced engagements of "The Hurricane." They are: Harold Marshall, Washington; Ed Bellew, Louisville; Bernard Evans, Houston; Steve Edeards, Dayton; Ben Hills, Fort Worth; James McFarland, Albany; Harry Rice, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, and Charles Baron, Binghamton. Ed Milburn has replaced Ed Gallner at Providence.

William Alexander has been named American representative of the Hibernia Film Studio, Irish producing company.

THE RELEASE CHART

Productions are listed according to the names of distributors in order that the exhibitor may have a short-cut towards such information as he may need, as well as information on pictures that are coming. Features now in work or completed for release later than the date of this issue are listed under "Coming Attractions." Letter in parentheses after title denotes audience classification of production: (A) Adult, (G) General. Numerals following audience classification are production numbers. Dagger symbol indicates picture is of the 1937-38 season.

ADVANCE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Dawn to Dusk	Margaret Morris-Bill Edwards	Nov. 1,'37†
Now is the Time	Joby Jordan-Jo Carr	Nov. 15,'37†
Squadron "B"	Margaret Morris-Bill Edwards	Sept. 15,'37†
Coming
Night Nurse	Joby Jordan-Jo Carr	Jan. 15,'38†

AMBASSADOR-CONN

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Anything for a Thrill	Frankie Darro-Kane Richmond	June 15,'37
Fighting Texan, The	Kermit Maynard-Elaine Shepard	June 22,'37
Rearing Six Guns	Kermit Maynard-Beryl Wallace	Oct. 15,'37†
Rough Riding Rhythm	Kermit Maynard-Mary Hayes	Aug. 15,'37†
Sing While You're Able	Pinky Tomlin-Toby Wing	Mar. 20,'37	66
Swing It, Professor (G)	Pinky Tomlin-Paula Stone	Nov. 15,'37†	*60. Nov.	13,'37
Thanks for Listening	Pinky Tomlin-Maxine Doyle	July 12,'37
Tough to Handle	Frankie Darro-Kane Richmond	Mar. 24,'37
Whistling Bullets	Kermit Maynard-Harlene Wood	May 3,'37
Young Dynamite	Frankie Darro-Kane Richmond	Sept. 15,'37†

CELEBRITY

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Coming
For Love of You	F. Foresta-Riscoe and Wayne		69
Kiss Me Goodbye	M. Schneider-Riscoe and Wayne		62

COLLECTIVE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Runing Time Minutes	Reviewed
Green Fields	Helen Beverly-M. Goldstein	Oct. 11,'37†	105
Coming
Yankel, the Blacksmith

COLUMBIA

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
All American Sweetheart (G)	Scott Colton-Patricia Farr	Nov. 30,'37†	62. Dec.	25,'37
Awful Truth, The (G)	Irene Dunne-Cary Grant	Oct. 21,'37†	92. Oct.	9,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 76; Dec. 18,'37, p. 65; Jan. 8,'38, p. 82.)
Counsel for Crime (G)	Otto Kruger-Jacqueline Wells	Sept. 14,'37†	62. Oct.	23,'37
Criminals of the Air (G)	Rosalind Keith-Chas. Quigley	Apr. 30,'37	61. Nov.	6,'37
Dangerous Adventure, A	Don Terry-Rosalind Keith	Aug. 1,'37	59
Devil is Driving, The (G)	Richard Dix-Joan Perry	June 25,'37	68. July	24,'37
(Explanation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 78; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84; Oct. 30,'37, pp. 84, 87; Dec. 18,'37, p. 66.)
Fight to the Finish, A	Don Terry-Rosalind Keith	June 30,'37	59
(See "Taxi War," "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)
Frame Up, The	Paul Kelly-Jacqueline Wells	May 1,'37	59
(See "Right Guy," "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)
Game That Kills, The	Chas. Quigley-Rita Hayworth	Sept. 21,'37†	56
Girls Can Play	Chas. Quigley-Jacqueline Wells	June 21,'37	60
Headin' East (G)	Buck Jones-Ruth Coleman	Dec. 13,'37†	67. Nov.	27,'37
Hollywood Round-up (G)	Buck Jones-Helen Twelvetrees	Nov. 16,'37†	64. Oct.	23,'37
I'll Take Romance (G)	Grace Moore-M. Douglas	Dec. 25,'37†	85. Dec.	25,'37
I Promise to Pay (G)	Leo Carrillo-Chester Morris	Apr. 21,'37	65. Feb.	27,'37
(Exploitation: Apr. 3,'37, p. 64.)
It Can't Last Forever (G)	Betty Furness-Ralph Bellamy	July 15,'37	68. Aug.	14,'37
It Happened in Hollywood	Richard Dix-Fay Wray	Sept. 7,'37†	67
(See "Once a Hero," "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 17,'37.)
It's All Yours (G)	Francis Lederer-M. Carroll	Sept. 1,'37	80. Aug.	7,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)
League of Frightened Men (G)	Walter Connolly-Irene Hervey	May 25,'37	65. July	24,'37
Let's Get Married (G)	Ralph Bellamy-Ida Lupino	Mar. 25,'37	69. May	29,'37
Life Begins with Love (G)	Jean Parker-D. Montgomery	Oct. 7,'37†	68. Oct.	9,'37
Lost Horizon (A)	Ronald Colman-Jane Wyatt	Sept. 1,'37†	118. Feb.	27,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 5,'36, p. 75; Mar. 6,'37, p. 89; May 22,'37, p. 92; July 31,'37, p. 80; Aug. 28,'37, pp. 96, 100; Oct. 30,'37, pp. 84, 97; Nov. 20,'37, p. 94; Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)
Motor Madness	Rosalind Keith-Allen Brook	Apr. 5,'37	62
(See "Speed Mad," "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 20,'37.)
No Time to Marry	Mary Astor-Richard Arlen	Jan. 10,'38†	64
Murder in Greenwich Village (G)	Fay Wray-Richard Arlen	Oct. 16,'37†	68. Nov.	6,'37
Old Wyoming Trail, The	Charles Starrett-Barbara Weeks	Nov. 6,'37†	56
One Man Justice	Chas. Starrett-Barbara Weeks	July 1,'37	59
Outlaws of the Orient	Jack Holt-Mae Clarke	Aug. 20,'37	61
Outlaws of the Prairie	Charles Starrett-Donald Grayson	Dec. 31,'37†	58
Paid to Dance	Don Terry-Jacqueline Wells	Nov. 4,'37†	56
Parole Racket (G)	Paul Kelly-Rosalind Keith	Mar. 4,'37	62. Apr.	10,'37
Racketeers in Exile (G)	George Bancroft-Evelyn Venable	Mar. 31,'37	67. Apr.	3,'37
Rangers Step In, The	Bob Allen-Eleanor Stewart	Aug. 8,'37	58
Reckless Ranger	Bob Allen-Louise Small	May 30,'37	56
Roaring Timber (G)	Jack Holt-Grace Bradley	July 4,'37	65. Aug.	28,'37

NOTE: The totals for running time are the official figures announced by the home offices of the distributing companies.

When a production is reviewed in Hollywood, the running time is as officially given by the West Coast studio of the company at the time of the review, and this fact is denoted by an asterisk(*) immediately preceding the number. As soon as the home office has established the running time for national release, any change from the studio figure is made and the asterisk is removed.

Running times are subject to change according to local conditions. State or city censorship deletions may cause variations from the announced and published figures; repairs to the film may be another reason.

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Shadow, The (G)	Chas. Quigley-Rita Hayworth	Dec. 9,'37†	59. Dec.	4,'37
She Married an Artist	John Boles-Lull Deste	Nov. 25,'37†	78
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9,'37.)
Speed to Spare	Dorothy Wilson-Chas. Quigley	May 4,'37	60
(See "Racing Luck," "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 13,'37.)
Thunder in the City (G)	Edw. G. Robinson-Lull Deste	Apr. 25,'37	76. Feb.	13,'37
Trapped	Charles Starrett-Peggy Stratford	Mar. 5,'37	55
Trapped by G-Men (G)	Jack Holt-Wynne Gibson	Oct. 27,'37†	65. Nov.	13,'37
Trouble in Morocco (G)	Jack Holt-Mae Clarke	Mar. 22,'37	62. Mar.	29,'37
Two Fisted Sheriff	Charles Starrett-Barbara Weeks	June 15,'37	59
Two Gun Law	Charles Starrett-Peggy Stratford	Apr. 7,'37	56
Under Suspicion (G)	Jack Holt-Kath. DeMille	Dec. 16,'37†	67. Nov.	20,'37
Venus Makes Trouble	James Dunn-Patricia Ellis	May 14,'37	58
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 3,'37.)
Woman in Distress (G)	May Robson-Irene Hervey	Jan. 17,'37	68. Feb.	13,'37
Women in Prison	Wyn Cahoon-Scott Colton	Jan. 1,'38†	59
Coming
Cattle Raiders	Chas. Starrett-Iris Meredith	Feb. 12,'38†
Crime of the Year	Robert Paige-Jacqueline Wells
G-Men Under Cover	Don Terry-Jacqueline Wells
Land Rush	Jack Luden-Eleanor Stewart	Feb. 12,'38†
Little Miss Roughneck	Edith Fellows-Leo Carrillo	Feb. 4,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Lone Wolf in Paris	Francis Lederer-Frances Drake
Making the Headlines (G)	Jack Holt-Beverly Roberts		*65. Jan.	8,'38
(Reviewed under the title, "The House of Mystery.")
Outlaws of the Big Bend	Chas. Starrett-Iris Meredith
Paris on Broadway	Lanny Ross
Penitentiary	Walter Connolly-Jean Parker	Jan. 17,'38†
Squadron of Honor	Don Terry-Mary Russell	Jan. 20,'38†	55
(See "The American Legion," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 6,'37.)
Start Cheering	Jimmy Durante-Joan Perry	Feb. 28,'38†
(See "College Follies of 1938," "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9,'37.)
There's Always a Woman	Joan Blondell-Melvyn Douglas
Who Killed Gail Preston?	Wyn Cahoon-Robert Paige	Feb. 24,'38†	61
Wide Open Faces	Joe E. Brown-Jane Wyman

CRESCENT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Drums of Destiny (G)	Tom Keene-Edna Lawrence	June 12,'37	*60. June	19,'37
Law Commands, The	Tom Keene-Lorraine Hayes	May 12,'37	60
Old Louisiana (G)	Tom Keene-Rita Cansino	Mar. 1,'37	64. Mar.	20,'37
Raw Timber	Tom Keene-Peggy Keys	July 6,'37	63
Under Strange Flags	Tom Keene-Luana Walters	Apr. 12,'37	64

DANUBIA

(Hungarian Dialogue)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Blame It on Love	Szleczky-Basthy	Sept. 6,'37†	78
Help! I Have Inherited	Irene Agay	Nov. 1,'37†	88
I Married for Love	Kabos-Radal	Sept. 15,'37†	84
Man of Gold	Maria Egri-F. Kiss	Apr. 12,'37	92
My Daughter Is Different	Turray-Kabos	Oct. 20,'37†	88
Noszty Lad, The	Javor-Szorenyi	Nov. 25,'37†	97
Once a Week	Kabos-Perezel	Sept. 10,'37†	74
Scotchman in Hungary	Radey-Oresi	Apr. 12,'37	95
Sister Mary	Szorenyi-Sved	Mar. 28,'37	91
Storm on the Pusta	Kiss-Komcar	Apr. 5,'37	78
Tempest in a Charda	Javor-Lazar	Oct. 20,'37†	90
Texas Mammy	Fedak	Oct. 25,'37†	89
Toni (G)	Pecsi-Adam	Sept. 11,'37†	81. Oct.	30,'37
Vicki (Country Ball)	Javor-Rose Barsony	Sept. 25,'37†	87
Yellow Roses	Kabos	Oct. 30,'37†	90

FIRST NATIONAL

(See also Warner Brothers)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventurous Blonde, The (G) 271	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	Nov. 13,'37†	61. Sept.	11,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Alcatraz Island (G) 264	John Litel-Ann Sheridan	Nov. 6,'37†	64.	Oct. 23,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 34; Dec. 25,'37, p. 54; Jan. 8,'38, pp. 80, 88.)
Back in Circulation (A) 266	Joan Blondell-Pat O'Brien	Sept. 25,'37†	82.	Aug. 7,'37
Case of the Stuttering Bishop, The, 176	Donald Woods-Ann Dvorak	June 5,'37	70.
Cherokee Strip 178	Dick Foran-Jane Bryan	May 15,'37	55.
Confession (A) 158	Kay Francis-Ian Hunter	Aug. 28,'37	86.	July 24,'37
Dance, Charlie Dance (G) 165	Stuart Erwin-Jean Muir	Aug. 14,'37	64.	May 1,'37
Dragoerman Courage (G) 168	Jean Muir-Barton MacLane	May 15,'37	58.	Aug. 29,'36
(Exploitation: Nov. 27,'37, p. 79.)
Empty Holsters 179	Dick Foran-Patricia Walthall	July 10,'37
Ever Since Eve (G) 162	Marion Davies-R. Montgomery	July 17,'37	79.	June 26,'37
Her Husband's Secretary (A) 173	Jean Muir-Warren Hull	Mar. 20,'37	61.	Mar. 6,'37
Love is on the Air (G) 289	Ronald Reagan-June Travis	Oct. 2,'37†	61.	Oct. 16,'37
Marked Woman (A) 156	Bette Davis-H. Bogart	Apr. 10,'37	96.	Mar. 6,'37
Men in Exile 174	Richard Purcell-June Travis	Apr. 4,'37
(See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 21,'36.)
Missing Witnesses (G) 273	Dick Purcell-Jean Dale	Dec. 11,'37†	61.	Oct. 30,'37
Mountain Justice (A) 161	Josephine Hutchinson-G. Brent	Apr. 24,'37	82.	May 22,'37
Mr. Dodd Takes the Air (G) 159	Kenny Baker-Jane Wyman	Aug. 21,'37	86.	July 31,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 30,'37, p. 88.)
Over the Goal (G) 272	William Hopper-June Travis	Oct. 16,'37†	63.	Oct. 9,'37
Perfect Specimen, The (G) 257	Errol Flynn-Joan Blondell	Oct. 23,'37†	97.	Oct. 2,'37
Prairie Thunder 180	Dick Foran-Ellen Clancy	Sept. 11,'37
Prince and the Pauper, The (G) 152	Mauch Twins-Errol Flynn	May 8,'37	120.	Apr. 17,'37
(Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 68; June 26,'37, p. 121; July 3,'37, p. 68; Nov. 6,'37, p. 59.)
San Quentin (G) 163	Pat O'Brien-Humphrey Bogart	Aug. 7,'37	70.	Apr. 3,'37
She Loved a Fireman (G) 270	Dick Foran-Ann Sheridan	Dec. 18,'37†	57.	Oct. 16,'37
Shi the Octopus (G) 268	Hugh Herbert-Allen Jenkins	Dec. 11,'37†	54.	Nov. 13,'37
Submarine D-1 (G) 258	Pat O'Brien-George Brent	Nov. 27,'37†	105.	Nov. 13,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 67; Jan. 1,'38, p. 57.)
Talent Scout (G) 166	Donald Woods-Jeanne Madden	July 24,'37	62.	June 12,'37
That Certain Woman (A) 254	Bette Davis-Henry Fonda	Sept. 18,'37†	93.	Aug. 7,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 25,'37, p. 69.)
That Man's Here Again (G) 175	Mary Maguire-Tom Brown	Apr. 17,'37	58.	Mar. 27,'37
They Won't Forget (A) 265	Gloria Dickson-Claude Rains	Oct. 9,'37†	95.	June 19,'37
(See production article, "The Deep South," May 8,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 69; Nov. 20,'37, pp. 88, 92; Jan. 1,'38, p. 58.)
West of Shanghai (G) 164	Boris Karloff-Beverly Roberts	Oct. 30,'37	65.	July 17,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "War Lord.")

Coming

Title	Star
Accidents Will Happen	Ronald Reagan-Gloria Blondell
Daredevil Drivers, The 279	Dick Purcell-Beverly Roberts
Girls on Probation	Bonita Granville-Dolores Costello
Gold Is Where You Find It 255	George Brent-O. de Havilland
(See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)
He Couldn't Say No (G)	Frank McHugh-Ann Sheridan
(Reviewed under the title, "Larger Than Life.")
Hollywood Hotel (G) 253	Dick Powell-Frances Langford
Slight Case of Murder, A	Edw. G. Robinson-Jane Bryan
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)
Women Are Like That	Kay Francis-Pat O'Brien
(See "This Woman Is Dangerous," Oct. 23,'37.)

FRANK NORTON

(Greek Dialogue, English Titles)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Far from the Crowd	Mary Tsagonis	Apr. 7,'37	82.
Ftohea Toy Mpeam	Vasoula Manolidoy	Sept. 5,'37†	96.
Greece of 1938	Newsreels	Jan. 9,'38†	90.
Kaincurgea Zoe	Rita Karmen	Nov. 7,'37†	115.
Reborn	Elene Papadake	Dec. 5,'37†	90.
True Love	Sophea Domogloy	Oct. 3,'37†	85.

GB PICTURES

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Backstage 3614	Anna Neagle-Arthur Tracy	Mar. 15,'37	65.
Dr. Syn (G) 3603	Geo. Arliss-Margaret Lockwood	Oct. 15,'37	81.	Sept. 18,'37
Gangway (G) 3605	Jessie Matthews-Nat Pendleton	Sept. 1,'37	88.	Aug. 28,'37
King Solomon's Mines 3618	Cedric Hardwicke-Roland Young	Aug. 26,'37	76.	July 3,'37
(See production article, May 22,'37, p. 16.)
Look Out for Love	Anna Neagle-T. Carminati	Dec. 24,'37†
Non Stop New York (G) 7001	Anna Lee-Desmond Tester	Nov. 17,'37†	70.	Oct. 2,'37
Sez O'Reilly to MacNab (G) 3602	Will Fyffe-Will Mahoney	Nov. 20,'37	83.	July 17,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "Said O'Reilly to McNab.")
Silent Barriers (G) 3608	Richard Arlen-Lilli Palmer	Apr. 29,'37	83.	Feb. 27,'37
(See "The Great Barrier," production article, Feb. 6,'37, p. 10; exploitation: Apr. 3,'37, p. 65; May 1,'37, p. 81; June 26,'37, p. 121; July 17,'37, p. 90; July 24,'37, pp. 79, 81; Aug. 7,'37, p. 94; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96.)
Talk of the Devil (G) 3607	Ricardo Cortez-Sally Eilers	June 1,'37	76.	May 22,'37
Tenth Man, The (G) 3622	John Lodge-Antoinette Cellier	May 15,'37	65.	Aug. 29,'36
Two of Us 3619	Jack Hulbert-Gina Malo	July 10,'37	64.
Where There's a Will 3624	Will Hay	July 26,'37	74.
You're in the Army Now (G) 3620	Wallace Ford-Anna Lee	Mar. 1,'37	73.	Feb. 20,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "O. H. M. S.")

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed

Coming

Title	Star
Asking for Trouble	Jessie Matthews
Blue Lagoon, The
False Witness	Nova Pilbeam
Girl Was Young, The (G)	Nova Pilbeam-Derrick de Marney
(Reviewed under the title, "Young and Innocent.") (See production article, Oct. 30,'37, p. 16.)
Illegal Holiday	John Lodge-Margaret Lockwood
Rob Roy
Sailing Along	Jessie Matthews-Jack Whiting
Show Goes On, The	Anna Neagle-T. Carminati
Strange Boarders of Palace Crescent
Wife of General Ling	Griffith Jones-Adrienne Renn

GRAND NATIONAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Bank Alarm 139	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	June 25,'37	61.
Boots of Destiny 204	Ken Maynard-Claire Dodd	Sept. 3,'37†	56½
Damaged Goods 175	Pedro de Cordoba	Aug. 21,'37	59.	July 10,'37
Forever Yours (G) 155	Benjamino Gigli	May 15,'37	70½.	June 12,'37
Frontier Town 220	Tex Ritter	Nov. 19,'37†	58.
Girl Loves Boy 124	Eric Linden-Cecilia Parker	Mar. 27,'37	77.
Girl Said No, The (G) 210	Robt. Armstrong-Irene Hervey	Sept. 3,'37†	76½.	May 29,'37
Gold Racket, The (G) 138	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	Apr. 10,'37	65½.	May 1,'37
Here's Flash Casey (G) 211	Eric Linden-Boots Mallory	Oct. 22,'37†	58.	Oct. 9,'37
Hideout in the Alps 199	Jane Baxter-Anthony Bushell	July 23,'37	75.	Oct. 16,'36
(Reviewed under the title, Dusty Ermine.")
Hittin' the Trail 149	Tex Ritter-Jerry Bergh	Apr. 3,'37	58.
Juggernaut (A) 154	Boris Karloff-Joan Wyndham	Apr. 30,'37	64.	Oct. 17,'36
Killers of the Sea (G) 135	Capt. Wallace Casewell	May 8,'37	49.	May 15,'37
Love Takes Flight (G) 208	Bruce Cabot-Beatrice Roberts	Sept. 17,'37†	71.	Aug. 7,'37
Man in the Mirror, The (A) 112	E. E. Horton-Genevieve Tobin	Apr. 24,'37	71½.	Jan. 16,'37
Mr Boggs Steps Out (G) 216	Stuart Erwin-Helen Chandler	Nov. 12,'37†	68.	Nov. 20,'37
Mystery of the Hooded Horsemen 151	Tex Ritter-Iris Meredith	Aug. 6,'37	60.
Navy Spy 137	Conrad Nagel-Eleanor Hunt	Mar. 13,'37	56.
Renfrew of the Royal Mounted (G) 212	James Newill-Carol Hughes	Oct. 8,'37†	57.	Oct. 10,'37
Riders of the Rockies 150	Tex Ritter-Louise Stanley	July 2,'37	56.
Romance and Riches (G) 153	Cary Grant-Mary Brian	Feb. 27,'37	58½.	Aug. 26,'36
(Reviewed under the title, "The Amazing Quest.")
Scotland Yard Commands (G) 152	Clive Brook-V. Hooper	Jan. 23,'37	61.	Feb. 20,'37
Shadow Strikes, The (G) 202	Rod La Rocque-Lynn Anders	Sept. 10,'37†	61½.	July 17,'37
Sing, Cowboy, Sing (G) 145	Tex Ritter-Louise Stanley	May 22,'37	59.	June 5,'37
Small Town Boy (G) 205	Stuart Erwin-Joyce Compton	Sept. 24,'37†	61.	Dec. 4,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 16,'37, p. 84.)
Something to Sing About (G) 210	James Cagney-E. Daw	Sept. 30,'37†	93.	Sept. 4,'37
Spirit of Youth (G) 299	Joe Louis-Edna Mae Harris	Dec. 29,'37†	66.	Jan. 8,'38
Sweetheart of the Navy 203	Eric Linden-Cecilia Parker	June 8,'37†	61½.
Swing It Sailor (G) 215	Wallace Ford-Isabel Jewell	Nov. 5,'37†	63.	Nov. 13,'37
Tex Rides with the Boy Scouts (G) 214	Tex Ritter	Oct. 29,'37†	66.	Nov. 6,'37
Trailin' Trouble 208	Ken Maynard	Sept. 24,'37†	57.
Trouble in Texas (G) 148	Tex Ritter	Mar. 6,'37	63.	Mar. 13,'37
Two Who Dared (A) 113	Anna Sten-Henry Wilcoxon	May 8,'37	73.	June 6,'36
(Reviewed under the title, "A Woman Alone.")
23½ Hours Leave (G) 103	James Ellison-Terry Walker	Mar. 20,'37	76½
Wallaby Jim of the Islands 213	Geo. Houston-Ruth Coleman	Oct. 15,'37†	61.	Mar. 6,'37

Coming

Title	Star
Angels with Dirty Faces	James Cagney
Death Takes a Cruise
Don't Lead With Your Heart	Anna Sten
Flash Casey, Candid Cameraman	Eric Linden
Gorgeous	Anna Sten
Honolulu Honeymoon
King of the Sierras 207	Rex-Shiek
Love Me Again	Anna Sten
Love Runs Into Money
Murder at the Rancho	Ken Maynard
Orchid Girl	Anna Sten
Painter in the Sky
Renfrew Rides North	James Newill
Rollin' Plains 217	Tex Ritter
Shadow Murder Case, The	Rod La Rocque-Astrid Allwyn
(See "In the Cutting Room," Jan. 8,'38.)
Snow Covered Wagons
Spy of Napoleon (G)	R. Bartholmess-D. Haas
Utah Trail	Tex Ritter
Wallaby Jim in Trouble	George Houston

GUARANTEED

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
This Is China		Dec. 1,'37†	68.
White Ivory	Jack Mulhall	Mar. 1,'37	69.

Coming

Title	Star
Early Bird, The	Richard Hayward
Irish and Proud of It	Richard Hayward
Jeanne	Gaby Morlay

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

HOFFBERG

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Ada Don't Do That	Polish Film	Oct. 15,'37†	.82.
Business In Distress	Czech Film	Oct. 15,'37†	90
Old Curiosity Shop, The (G)	Charles Dickens Story	Dec. 12,'37†	74.	Feb. 2,'35
Phantom of Santa Fe	Nina Quartaro-Norman Kerry	Aug. 1,'37†	75
Song of the Lark	Czech Film	Dec. 8,'37†	90
Student's Romance, The (G)	Patrie Knowles	Oct. 10,'37†	.78	Aug. 10,'35
Voice of India	Hoefler Expedition	Oct. 1,'37†	.70
Wedding of Palo, The (G)	Rasmussen's Eskimo Drama	Mar. 1,'37	.85.	Mar. 20,'37

Coming

I Give My Heart	Gitta Alpar		78
Invitation to the Waltz	Lilian Harvey		74
Kathleen	Sally O'Neil-Irish Cast		75

HUNGARIA

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Affair of Honor	Gy Kabos	Sept. 11,'37†	9 rls.
All Men Are Wild	Paul Javor	Oct. 21,'37†	9 rls.
Anniversary	Imre Raday-Ida Turay	Dec. 10,'37†	10 rls.
Bride from Torcoke	Paul Javor	Oct. 1,'37†	10 rls.
Eighty Miles an Hour	Gy Kabos-M. Erdely	Nov. 19,'37†	8 rls.
Exception Granted	Imre Raday-Klari Tolnay	June 11,'37	9 rls.
Hotel Springtime	Gy Kabos-Anna Tekes	Nov. 30,'37†	10 rls.
I Picked You for My Husband	Paul Javor	Nov. 4,'37†	9 rls.
It Happened in Budapest	Gy Kabos-Zita Perezel	Sept. 21,'37†	9 rls.
Pay, Madame	Paul Javor	May 30,'37	8 rls.
Sport of Love, The	Gy Kabos-Ida Turay	Dec. 24,'37†	8 rls.
Two Prisoners	Paul Javor	Oct. 12,'37†	10 rls.

Coming

Man Sometimes Errs	A. Tekes-A. Pager	Feb. 4,'38†	10 rls.
Sutyi, the Lucky Child	Adam Klari	Jan. 11,'38†	9 rls.
Village Rogue, The	M. Dayka-Z. Gregor	Jan. 21,'38†	10 rls.

IMPERIAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Dead March, The (A)	Boake Carter	Sept. 15,'37†	73.	Sept. 11,'37
With Pleasure, Madame	Conrad Nagel-Marta Labarr	Apr. 15,'37	90

Coming

Back from Reno
Beauty Racket
Deerslayer
Honor Among Women
I Demand Payment	Betty Burgess-Jack LaRue
Night of Crime
Sky Girl

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Bad Guy (G) 743	Bruce Cabot-Virginia Grey	Aug. 27,'37	69.	Aug. 28,'37
Bad Man at Brimstone (G) 812	Wallace Beery-V. Bruce	Dec. 31,'37†	89.	Jan. 8,'38
Beg, Borrow or Steal (G) 814	Frank Morgan-Florence Rice	Dec. 3,'37†	72.	Dec. 4,'37
Between Two Women (G) 737	Virginia Bruce-Franchot Tone	July 9,'37.	89.	July 3,'37
(Exploitation: Jan. 1,'38, p. 58.)
Big City (A) 801	Spencer Tracy-Luise Rainer	Sept. 3,'37†	80.	Sept. 4,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 72; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78; Dec. 18,'37, p. 64; Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)
Bride Wore Red, The (G) 804	Joan Crawford-Franchot Tone	Oct. 8,'37†	103.	Oct. 2,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)
Broadway Melody of 1938 (G) 739	Eleanor Powell-Robt. Taylor	Aug. 20,'37	110.	Aug. 21,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)
Captains Courageous (G) 717	F. Bartholomew-Spencer Tracy	June 25,'37	116.	Apr. 3,'37
(See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 12; exploitation: May 15,'37, p. 94; July 31,'37, p. 82; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 91, 92; Aug. 21,'37, pp. 76, 78; Aug. 28,'37, p. 97; Sept. 4,'37, pp. 95, 97; Oct. 2,'37, p. 77.)
Conquest (A) 805	Greta Garbo-Charles Boyer	Oct. 22,'37†	112.	Oct. 30,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70; Dec. 11,'37, p. 76; Jan. 8,'37, p. 82.)
Day at the Races, A (G) 730	Marx Brothers-Allan Jones	June 11,'37	111.	June 19,'37
(See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 12; exploitation: May 15,'37, p. 94; July 10,'37, p. 86; July 17,'37, p. 89; Apr. 7,'37, p. 91; Oct. 16,'37, p. 84.)
Double Wedding (G) 807	William Powell-Myrna Loy	Oct. 15,'37†	87.	Sept. 25,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 11,'37, p. 77; Jan. 8,'38, p. 82.)
Emperor's Candlesticks, The (G) 733	William Powell-Luise Rainer	July 2,'37	89.	July 3,'37
Family Affair, A 632	Lionel Barrymore-Cecilia Parker	Mar. 12,'37	69.	Mar. 20,'37
Firefly, The (G) 809	Jeanette MacDonald-Allan Jones	Nov. 5,'37†	138.	July 24,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, pp. 71, 76; Dec. 25,'37, pp. 55, 58.)
General Spanky (G) 714	Spanky McFarland-P. Holmes	Dec. 11,'36	72	Oct. 31,'36
Good Earth, The (A) 741	Paul Muni-Luise Rainer	Aug. 6,'37	139.	Feb. 6,'37
(See production article, July 11,'36, p. 76; exploitation: Feb. 6,'37, p. 72; Feb. 20,'37, p. 85; Apr. 3,'37, p. 69; May 1,'37, p. 83; May 15,'37, pp. 96, 99; June 12,'37, p. 94; July 10,'37, p. 87; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 90, 92; Sept. 18,'37, pp. 82, 85; Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 67; Oct. 23,'37, p. 82.)
Good Old Soak (G) 728	Wallace Beery-Betty Furness	Apr. 23,'37	76.	Apr. 24,'37
(Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 67; June 26,'37, p. 121.)
Hell Divers (re-issue) (G)	Clark Gable-Wallace Beery	June 4,'37	109.	Dec. 26,'31
Last Gangster, The (A) 810	E. G. Robinson-Rose Stradner	Nov. 12,'37†	81.	Nov. 13,'37
Live, Love and Learn (G) 808	Robt. Montgomery-R. Russell	Oct. 29,'37†	78.	Oct. 23,'37
London By Night (G) 740	George Murphy-Rita Johnson	July 30,'37	69.	July 24,'37
Love Is a Headache 821	Gladys George-Franchot Tone	Jan. 14,'38†	73
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)
Madame X (A) 806	Gladys George-Warren William	Oct. 1,'37†	72.	Oct. 2,'37
Manhattan Melodrama (re-issue) (G)	C. Gable-M. Loy-W. Powell	July 2,'37.	90.	Apr. 28,'34
Man-Proof (A) 817	Myrna Loy-Franchot Tone	Jan. 7,'38†	71.	Dec. 18,'37
Married Before Breakfast (G) 736	Robt. Young-Florence Rice	June 18,'37	70.	June 26,'37
Maytime (G) 720	J. MacDonald-Nelson Eddy	Mar. 26,'37		Mar. 18,'38†
(Musical analysis: Mar. 27,'37, p. 15; exploitation: Feb. 27,'37, p. 85; Apr. 4,'37, p. 64; Apr. 17,'37, p. 78; May 22,'37, p. 89; June 5,'37, pp. 68, 69; July 24,'37, p. 80.)
My Dear Miss Aldrich (G) 803	Edna May Oliver-W. Pidgeon	Sept. 17,'37†	73.	Sept. 11,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 25,'37, p. 56.)
Naughty Marietta (re-issue) (G)	Jeanette MacDonald-N. Eddy	Aug. 6,'37.	105.	Mar. 2,'35
Navy Blue and Gold (G) 811	Lionel Barrymore-Robt. Young	Nov. 19,'37†	94.	Nov. 20,'37
Night Must Fall (A) 727	Robt. Montgomery-R. Russell	Apr. 30,'37	117.	Apr. 10,'37
Nobody's Baby (G) 729	Patsy Kelly-Robt. Armstrong	Apr. 23,'37	67.	Feb. 6,'37
Parnell (G) 722	Clark Gable-Myrna Loy	June 4,'37	119.	June 12,'37
(See production article, Feb. 13,'37, p. 16.)
Personal Property (G) 725	Jean Harlow-Robert Taylor	Mar. 19,'37.	84.	Mar. 20,'37
(Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 79; June 12,'37, p. 93.)
Pick a Star (G) 735	Jack Haley-Patsy Kelly	May 21,'37	70.	Apr. 24,'37
Romeo and Juliet (G) 1100	Norma Shearer-Leslie Howard	Apr. 16,'37	127.	July 17,'36
(See production article, Mar. 28,'36, p. 16; exploitation: Jan. 9,'37, p. 68; Jan. 23,'37, p. 79; Jan. 30,'37, p. 83; Feb. 6,'37, p. 77; Apr. 17,'37, pp. 78, 79; Apr. 24,'37, p. 94; May 1,'37, p. 80; May 8,'37, p. 74; May 29,'37, p. 70; June 26,'37, pp. 118, 119, 123; July 3,'37, pp. 69, 70; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 24,'37, p. 80; July 31,'37, p. 80.)
Rosalie (G) 816	Eleanor Powell-Nelson Eddy	Dec 24,'37†	122.	Dec. 25,'37
(See production article, Nov. 6,'37, p. 34.)
Saratoga (G) 742	Clark Gable-Jean Harlow	July 23,'37.	94.	July 24,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 98.)
Sinner Take All (A) 712	Bruce Cabot-Margaret Lindsay	Dec. 18,'36	74.	Dec. 18,'36
Song of the City (G) 724	Dean Jeffries-Margaret Lindsay	Apr. 2,'37	69.	Mar. 27,'37
They Gave Him a Gun (A) 731	S. Tracy-G. George-F. Tone	May 14,'37	94.	May 15,'37
Thirteenth Chair, The (G) 732	Madge Evans-Henry Daniell	May 7,'37	66.	May 8,'37
Thoroughbreds Don't Cry (G) 813	Mickey Rooney-Judy Garland	Nov. 26,'37†	80.	Nov. 20,'37
Topper (G) 738	Constance Bennett-Cary Grant	July 16,'37	97.	July 17,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 75; Oct. 2,'37, pp. 76, 77; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Oct. 30,'37, p. 86; Nov. 20,'37, p. 82; Dec. 11,'37, p. 76; Dec. 18,'37, p. 69.)
Trader Horn (re-issue) (G)	Harry Carey-Edwina Booth	May reissue	126.	Jan. 24,'31
Way Out West (G) 734	Laurel and Hardy	Apr. 16,'37	64.	Jan. 2,'37
(Exploitation: July 17,'37, p. 92.)
Women Men Marry, The (A) 802	J. Hutchinson-George Murphy	Sept. 10,'37†	61.	Sept. 11,'37
You're Only Young Once (G) 815	Lewis Stone-Mickey Rooney	Dec. 10,'37†	77.	Nov. 27,'37

Coming

Arsene Lupin Returns	Virginia Bruce-Melvyn Douglas	Feb. 25,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)
Benefits Forgot	Walter Huston-James Stewart	Feb. 11,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Everybody Sing 819	Allan Jones-Judy Garland	Feb. 4,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Fanny	Wallace Beery-M. O'Sullivan	Apr. 1,'38†
Girl of the Golden West	Jeanette MacDonald-N. Eddy	Mar. 18,'38†
Mannequin (G) 820	Joan Crawford-Spencer Tracy	Jan. 21,'38†	95.	Dec. 18,'37
Marie Antoinette	Norma Shearer-Tyrone Power
Merrily We Live	Constance Bennett-Brian Aherne	Mar. 11,'38†
Paradise for Three	Frank Morgan-Robt. Young	Jan. 28,'38†
(See "Three Men in the Snow," "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)
Swiss Miss	Laurel and Hardy
Test Pilot	C. Gable-M. Loy-S. Tracy	Mar. 25,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Jan. 8,'38.)
Yank at Oxford, A	Robt. Taylor-M. O'Sullivan	Feb. 18,'38†

MONOGRAM

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Atlantic Flight (G)	Dick Merrill-Paula Stone	Aug. 25,'37†	59	Sept. 25,'37
Blazing Barriers (G)	Edw. Arnold, Jr.-F. McKinney	July 4,'37†	65.	Nov. 20,'37
Boy of the Streets (G)	Jackie Cooper-Maureen O'Connor	Dec. 8,'37†	76.	Dec. 11,'37
(Exploitation: Jan. 8,'38, p. 82.)
Bride for Henry, A (G)	Anne Nagle-Warren Hull	Sept. 29,'37†	58.	Oct. 2,'37
County Fair (G)	John Arledge-Mary Lou Lender	Nov. 24,'37†	72.	Nov. 20,'37
Danger Valley	Jack Randall-Lois Wilde	Nov. 3,'37†	53
Federal Bullets (G)	Terry Walker-Milburn Stone	Oct. 30,'37†	61.	Oct. 30,'37
God's Country and the Man	Tom Keene	Sept. 2,'37†	56
Hoosier Schoolboy (G)	Mickey Rooney-Anne Nagel	July 7,'37†	62.	July 3,'37
Legion of Missing Men	Ralph Forbes	July 28,'37†	62
Luck of Roaring Camp	Owen Davis, Jr.-Joan Woodbury	Nov. 17,'37†	59
Outer Gate	Ralph Morgan-Kay Linaker	Aug. 4,'37†	62
Paradise Isle (G)	Warren Hull-Movita	July 21,'37†	73.	Aug. 14,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 18,'37, p. 83.)
Riders of the Dawn (G)	Jack Randall-Peggy Keys	July 14,'37†	55.	Aug. 21,'37
Romance of the Rockies	Tom Keene-Beryl Wallace	Dec. 15,'37†	53
Shadows of the Orient (G)	Regis Toomey-Esther Ralston	Aug. 18,'37†	69
Stars Over Arizona (G)	Jack Randall-Kathleen Eliot	Sept. 22,'37†	62.	Sept. 25,'37
Telephone Operator	Judith Allen-Grant Withers	Dec. 8,'37†.
Thirteenth Man	Weldon Heyburn-I. Courtney	June 30,'37†	70
West of Rainbow's End	Tim McCoy-Nora Lane	Jan. 12,'38†.
Where Trails Divide	Tom Keene	Oct. 18,'37†	59

Coming

Code of the Range	Tim McCoy
Female Fugitive
Marines Are Here, The
My Old Kentucky Home	Grant Richards-Evelyn Venable	Feb. 9,'38†
Painted Trail	Tom Keene
Port of Missing Girls	Judith Allen Milburne Stone	Feb. 23,'38†
Ridin' Gent	Tim McCoy
Romance of the Limberlost	Milburn Stone
Rose of the Rio Grande	Movita
Saleslady	Anne Nagel-Weldon Heyburn	Jan. 26,'38†
Wanderer of the West	Jack Randall	Mar. 16,'38†

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Where the West Begins	Jack Randall	Feb. 2,'38†

PARAMOUNT

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Angel (A) 3714	Marlene Dietrich-H. Marshall	Oct. 29,'37†	98.	Sept. 25,'37
Artists and Models (G) 3702	Jack Benny-Gail Patrick	Aug. 13,'37†	97.	Aug. 7,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 18,'37, p. 83; Nov. 27,'37, pp. 79, 84; Dec. 4,'37, p. 72.)
Barrier, The (G) 3716	Leo Carrillo-Jean Parker	Nov. 12,'37†	*93.	Nov. 6,'37
(See production article, Sept. 18,'37, p. 14.)
Blonde Trouble 3701	Johnny Downs-E. Whitney	Aug. 6,'37†	67.	Aug. 7,'37
Blossoms on Broadway (G) 3718	Edward Arnold-Shirley Ross	Nov. 19,'37†	82.	Nov. 20,'37
(See production article, Sept. 25,'37, p. 16.)
Born to the West 3721	John Wayne-Marsha Hunt	Dec. 10,'37†
Bulldog Drummond Comes Back (G) 3709	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell	Sept. 24,'37†	64.	Sept. 11,'37
Bulldog Drummond's Revenge (G)	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell	Jan. 7,'38†.	60.	Nov. 6,'37
Crime Nobody Saw, The (G) 3635	Lew Ayres-Ruth Coleman	Mar. 12,'37	60.	Apr. 17,'37
Daughter of Shanghai (G) 3722	Anna May Wong-Chas. Bickford	Dec. 17,'37†	*60.	Dec. 18,'37
Double Or Nothing (G) 3707	Bing Crosby-Martha Raye	Sept. 17,'37†	95.	Aug. 21,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 23,'37, p. 82; Oct. 30,'37, p. 84; Nov. 20,'37, p. 97.)
Easy Living (G) 3652	Jean Arthur-Edw. Arnold	July 16,'37†	88.	July 10,'37
Ebb Tide (A)	Oscar Homolka-Frances Farmer	Nov. 26.'38†	94.	Oct. 2,'37
Every Day's a Holiday (A)	Mae West-Edmund Lowe	Jan. 14,'38†	*80.	Dec. 25,'37
Exclusive (G) 3653	F. MacMurray-Frances Farmer	July 30,'37	85.	July 31,'37
Forlorn River (G) 3650	June Martel-Larry Crabbe	July 2,'37	56.	July 3,'37
Girl from Scotland Yard 3636	Karen Morley-Robert Baldwin	Apr. 2,'37	61
Great Gambini, The (G) 3648	Akim Tamiroff-Marian Marsh	June 25,'37	70.	July 24,'37
Her Husband Lies (A) 3636	Ricardo Cortez-Gail Patrick	Mar. 19,'37	76.	Mar. 20,'37
High, Wide and Handsome (G) 3710	Irene Dunne-Randolph Scott	Oct. 1,'37†	112.	July 24,'37
(Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70; Jan. 1,'38, p. 59.)
Hills of Old Wyoming (G) 3669	William Boyd-George Hayes	Apr. 16,'37	79.	Apr. 17,'37
Hopalong Rides Again (G) 3753	William Boyd-George Hayes	Sept. 8,'37†	65.	Aug. 21,'37
Hold 'Em Navy (G) 3715	Lew Ayres-Mary Carlisle	Nov. 5,'37†	67.	Oct. 23,'37
Hotel Haywire (G) 3645	Leo Carrillo-Mary Carlisle	June 4,'37	66.	May 22,'37
I Met Him in Paris (G) 3644	Claudette Colbert-M. Douglas	May 28,'37	86.	May 29,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 67.)
Internes Can't Take Money (A) 3639	Barbara Stanwyck-Joel McCrea	Apr. 9,'37	79.	Apr. 17,'37
(Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 98.)
King of Gamblers (A) 3640	Lloyd Nolan-Claire Trevor	Apr. 23,'37	78.	Apr. 24,'37
Last Train from Madrid (G) 3646	Lew Ayres-Dorothy Lamour	June 11,'37	77.	June 12,'37
Love on Toast 3720	Stella Ardler-John Payne	Dec. 3,'37†	65
Make Way for Tomorrow (G) 3641	Beulah Bondi-Victor Moore	Apr. 30,'37	92.	May 1,'37
(Exploitation: July 24,'37, p. 80; July 31,'37, p. 82; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 69, 70; Oct. 30,'37, p. 88; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92.)
Midnight Madonna (G) 3649	Warren William-Mady Correll	July 2,'37	65.	June 12,'37
Mountain Music (G) 3647	Bob Burns-Martha Raye	June 18,'37	77.	June 19,'37
(Exploitation: July 17,'37, p. 89; July 24,'37, pp. 79, 81; Aug. 7,'37, pp. 90, 92; Sept. 4,'37, p. 95; Sept. 18,'37, p. 86; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Dec. 4,'37, p. 72.)
Murder Goes to College (G) 3633	Roscoe Karns-Marsha Hunt	Mar. 5,'37	71.	Mar. 6,'37
Night Club Scandal (G) 3717	Lynne Overman-J. Barrymore	Nov. 19,'37†	70.	Oct. 23,'37
Night of Mystery, A (A) 3643	Roscoe Karns-Ruth Coleman	May 21,'37	75.	May 22,'37
North of the Rio Grande (G) 3670	William Boyd-George Hayes	June 25,'37	70.	June 26,'37
On Such a Night (A) 3704	Karen Morley-Grant Richards	Aug. 27,'37†	73.	Aug. 21,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 66.)
Partners in Crime 3711	Lynne Overman-Roscoe Karns	Oct. 8,'37†	62.
Plainsman, The (G) 3624	Gary Cooper-Jean Arthur	Jan. 1,'37	113.	Nov. 28,'36
(Exploitation: Jan. 30,'37, p. 85; Feb. 20,'37, p. 82; Feb. 27,'37, p. 83; Mar. 6,'37, p. 91; Mar. 13,'37, p. 80; Mar. 20,'37, pp. 78, 82; Mar. 27,'37, pp. 80, 82, 83; Apr. 3,'37, p. 66; Apr. 24,'37, p. 93; May 29,'37, p. 68; Aug. 21,'37, p. 75.)
Rustlers' Valley (G) 3671	William Boyd-George Hayes	July 23,'37	60.	July 10,'37
She Asked for It (G) 3708	Wm. Gargan-Orien Hayward	Sept. 17,'37†	68.	Sept. 4,'37
She's No Lady (G) 3703	Ann Dvorak-John Trent	Aug. 20,'37†	62.	Aug. 7,'37
Sophie Lang Goes West (G) 3706	Gert. Michael-Larry Crabbe	Sept. 10,'37†	65.	Sept. 4,'37
Souls at Sea (G) 3705	Gary Cooper-George Raft	Sept. 3,'37†	92.	Aug. 14,'37
(See production article, Jan. 30,'37, p. 16; Jan. 8,'38, p. 81.)
Swing High, Swing Low (G) 3634	Carole Lombard-F. MacMurray	Mar. 12,'37	97.	Mar. 20,'37
Texas Trail (G) 3754	William Boyd-George Hayes	Nov. 26,'37†	63.	Oct. 9,'37
This Way, Please (G) 3712	C. (Buddy) Rogers-Betty Grable	Oct. 15,'37†	63.	Sept. 18,'37
Thunder Trail (G) 3713	Gilbert Roland-Marsha Hunt	Oct. 22,'37†	58.	Oct. 2,'37
(Exploitation: May 29,'37, p. 67.)
True Confession (A) 3723	C. Lombard-Fred MacMurray	Dec. 24,'37†	*84.	Nov. 20,'37
Turn Off the Moon (G) 3642	Chas. Ruggles-Eleanore Whitney	May 14,'37	80.	May 29,'37
Waikiki Wedding (G) 3637	Bing Crosby-Shirley Ross	Mar. 26,'37	89.	Apr. 3,'37
(Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 81; May 15,'37, p. 89; June 5,'37, p. 67; June 12,'37, pp. 92, 93; July 3,'37, p. 70; July 10,'37, p. 80; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 31,'37, p. 83; Aug. 28,'37, p. 98; Sept. 11,'37, p. 83; Sept. 18,'37, p. 86.)
Wells Fargo (G) 3724	Joel McCrea-Frances Dee	Dec. 31,'37†	*115.	Dec. 11,'37
(Exploitation: Jan. 1,'38, p. 58; Jan. 8,'38, p. 81.)
Wild Money 3651	Edward Everett Horton	July 9,'37	69

Coming

Big Broadcast of 1938	W. C. Fields-Martha Raye	Mar. 4,'38†
(See production article, Nov. 20,'37, p. 14.)
Bluebeard's Eighth Wife	Claudette Colbert-Gary Cooper
(See "In the Cutting Room," Jan. 8,'38.)
Buccaneer, The	Fredric March-Franciska Gaal	Feb. 4,'38†
(See production article, Oct. 23,'37, p. 14.)
Bulldog Drummond's Peril	J. Barrymore-Louise Campbell	Mar. 25,'38†
Cassidy of Bar 20	Wm. Boyd-Frank Darien	Feb. 25,'38†
College Swing	Martha Raye-Burns & Allen
Dangerous to Know	Anna May Wong-Akim Tamiroff	Mar. 11,'38†
Deputy Sheriff	Wm. Boyd-Gwen Gaze
Doctor Rhythm	Bing Crosby-Beatrice Lillie	Feb. 18,'38†
Good Night, Ladies	Eleanore Whitney-J. Downs
Her Jungle Love	Dorothy Lamour-Ray Milland
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)
Highway Racketeers	Lloyd Nolan-Mary Carlisle
Partners of the Plains (G)	Wm. Boyd-George Hayes	Jan. 28,'38†	*70.	Dec. 11,'37
Professor Beware	Harold Lloyd-Phyllis Welch
Romance in the Dark	Gladys Swarthout-John Boles	Mar. 18,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)
Scandal Street	Lew Ayres-Louise Campbell	Feb. 11,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)
Stolen Heaven	Gene Raymond-Olympe Bradna
Thrill of a Lifetime (G)	Eleanore Whitney-Johnny Downs	Jan. 21,'38†	*75.	Nov. 13,'37

RAY KIRKWOOD

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Masked Devil, The	Bobby Nelson-Donald Reed	Apr. 4,'37†

RELIABLE

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed

Coming

Apache Trail	Bob Custer
Frontier Fury	Bob Custer
Outlaw River	Rin-Tin-Tin, Jr.
Prairie Terror	Bob Custer
Thundering Stampede	Bob Custer

REPUBLIC

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Affairs of Cappy Ricks, The (G) 6027	Walter Brennan-Mary Brian	May 24,'37	58.	June 5,'37
All Over Town (G) 6020	Olson and Johnson	Sept. 8,'37	61.	Aug. 28,'37
Arizona Gunfighter 7121	Bob Steele-Jean Carmen	Sept. 20,'37†	56
Bill Cracks Down (G) 6028	Grant Withers-Beatrice Roberts	Mar. 22.'37	59.	Mar. 27,'37
Boothill Brigade 6328	Johnny Mack Brown-C. Rochelle	Aug. 2,'37	53
Boots and Saddles (G) 7106	Gene Autry-Judith Allen	Oct. 4,'37†	59.	Nov. 13,'37
Bulldog Drummond at Bay (G) 6025	John Lodge-Dorothy Mackaill	July 31,'37	62.	July 31,'37
Circus Girl 6014	June Travis-Bob Livingston	Mar. 1,'37	62
(See "In the Cutting Room," Feb. 13,'37.)
Colorado Kid (G) 7123	Bob Steele-Marian Weldon	Dec. 6,'37†	55.	Dec. 18,'37
Come On, Cowboys (G) 6317	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	May 24,'37	57.	May 29,'37
Dangerous Holiday (G) 6026	Ra Hould-Hedda Hopper	June 7,'37	57.	July 31,'37
Doomed at Sundown 6337	Bob Steele-Lorraine Hayes	June 7,'37	58
Duke Comes Back, The (G) 7018	Allan Lane-Heather Angel	Nov. 29,'37†	64.	Dec. 11,'37
Escape by Night (G) 7015	Wm. Hall-Anne Nagel	Sept. 20,'37†	64.	Sept. 4,'37
Exiled to Shanghai (G) 7019	June Travis-Wallace Ford	Dec. 20,'37†	64.	Dec. 18,'37
Git Along Little Dogies (G) 6302	Gene Autry-Judith Allen	Mar. 22,'37	62.	Apr. 3,'37
Glamorous Night (G) 7017	Mary Ellis-Victor Jory	Dec. 6,'37†	80.	May 15,'37
Gun Lords of Stirrup Basin 6336	Bob Steele-Louise Stanley	May 10,'37	53
Gunsmoke Ranch 6316	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	May 5,'37	58
Guns in the Dark 6326	Johnny Mack Brown-C. Rochelle	Apr. 14,'37	56
Heart of the Rockies 7111	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	Sept. 6,'37†	58
Hit Parade, The (G) 6002	Frances Langford-Phil Regan	Apr. 26,'37	83.	Apr. 10,'37
(Exploitation: July 10,'37, p. 88.)
Hit the Saddle 6315	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	Mar. 3,'37	57
It Could Happen to You 6016	Alan Baxter-Andrea Leeds	June 28,'37	64
(See "In the Cutting Room," May 15,'37.)
Jim Hanvey, Detective 6005	Guy Kibbee-Tom Brown	Apr. 5,'37	67.	Mar. 27,'37
Lady Behave! (G) 7005	Sally Eilers-Neil Hamilton	Jan. 5,'38	70.	Jan. 1,'38
Law Man is Born, A 6327	Johnny Mack Brown-I. Meredith	June 21,'37	61
Lightnin' Crandall 6335	Bob Steele-Lois January	Mar. 24,'37	60
Man Betrayed, A (G) 6012	Eddie Nugent-Kay Hughes	Dec. 28,'36	56.	Jan. 16,'37
Manhattan Merry-Go-Round (G) 7001	Phil Regan-Ann Dvorak	Nov. 13,'37†	64.	Nov. 13,'37
Meet the Boy Friend (G) 6018	Carol Hughes-David Carlyle	July 12,'37	63.	July 31,'37
Michael O'Halloran (Spec.)	Wynne Gibson-Warren Hull	May 15,'37	67
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 10,'37.)
Navy Blues (G) 6015	Mary Brian-Dick Purcell	Apr. 19,'37	68.	May 1,'37
Paroled—To Die 7124	Bob Steele-Kathleen Elliott	Jan. 10,'38†	55
Portia on Trial (A) 6001	Frieda Inescort-Walter Abel	Nov. 8,'37†	72.	Nov. 6,'37
Public Cowboy No. 1 (G) 7105	Gene Autry-Ann Rutherford	Aug. 23,'37†	59.	Oct. 9,'37
Range Defenders (G) 6318	Bob Livingston-Ray Corrigan	June 30,'37	56.	July 24,'37
Red Rope, The 6338	Bob Steele-Lois January	July 19,'37	60
Rhythm in the Clouds (G) 6017	Warren Hull-Patricia Ellis	June 21,'37	62.	July 3,'37
Ridin' the Lone Trail 7122	Bob Steele-Claire Rochelle	Nov. 1,'37†	56
Rootin' Tootin' Rhythm (G) 6307	Gene Autry-Armida	May 12,'37	60.	May 8,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel.	Running Time Date	Minutes	Reviewed
Sea Racketeers (G) 6019	Weldon Heyburn-Jeanne Madden	Aug.	10,'37	64.Aug.	14,'37
Sheik Steps Out, The (G) 6006	Ramon Novarro-Lola Lane	Sept.	6,'37	66
Springtime in the Rockies (G) 7101	Gene Autry-Polly Rowles	Nov.	15,'37†	60.Nov.	27,'37
Trail of Vengeance 6325	Johnny Mack Brown-I. Meredith	Mar.	29,'37	54
Trigger Trio 7112	Ray Corrigan-Max Terhune	Oct.	18,'37†	56
Wild Horse Rodeo (G) 7113	Three Mesquiteers	Dec.	6,'37†	56.Dec.	18,'37
Wrong Road, The (G) 7016	Richard Cromwell-Helen Mack	Oct.	11,'37†	62.Sept.	25,'37
Yodelin' Kid from Pine Ridge (G) 6308	Gene Autry-Betty Bronson	June	14,'37	60.June	26,'37
Youth on Parole (G) 6022	Gordon Oliver-Marian Marsh	Oct.	4,'37	62.Oct.	23,'37
Coming
Born To Be Wild	Ralph Byrd-Doris Weston
Hollywood Murder Mystery	Neil Hamilton-Evelyn Venable
Love on Approval	Phil Regan-Penny Singleton	Jan.	31,'38†
Mama Runs Wild (G) 7006	Mary Boland-Ernest Truex	Jan.	19,'38†	67.Dec.	25,'37
Old Barn Dance, The	Gene Autry-Smiley Burnette	Jan.	29,'38†	60
Purple Vigilantes 7114	Three Mesquiteers	Jan.	24,'38†
Stormy Weather	Alison Skipworth-Polly Moran

RKO RADIO

Title	Star	Rel.	Running Time Date	Minutes	Reviewed
Annapolis Salute (G) 802	James Ellison-Marsha Hunt	Sept.	10,'37†	65.Aug.	21,'37
Behind the Headlines (G) 727	Lee Tracy-Diana Gibson	May	14,'37	58.June	12,'37
Big Shot, The (G) 735	Guy Kibbee-Cora Witherspoon	July	23,'37	60.July	31,'37
Border Cafe (G) 730	John Beal-Armida	June	4,'37	67.May	29,'37
Breakfast for Two (G) 737	Barbara Stanwyck-H. Marshall	Oct.	22,'37†	65.Oct.	9,'37
China Passage (G) 718	Constance Worth-V. Haworth	Mar.	12,'37	65.Apr.	24,'37
Crashing Hollywood (See "Lights Out," "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 20,'37.)	Lee Tracy-Joan Woodbury	Jan.	7,'38†	61
Damsel in Distress, A (G) 738	Fred Astaire-Burns & Allen	Nov.	19,'37	101.Nov.	27,'37
Danger Patrol (G) 812	John Beal-Sally Eilers	Dec.	3,'37†	60.Nov.	20,'37
Don't Tell the Wife (G) 720	Guy Kibbee-Una Merkel	Mar.	5,'37	62.Feb.	27,'37
Everybody's Doing It (G)	Sally Eilers-Preston Foster	Jan.	14,'38†	67.Jan.	1,'38
Fight for Your Lady (G) 808	John Boles-Ida Lupino	Nov.	5,'37†	67.Oct.	2,'37
Fit for a King (G) 848	Joe E. Brown-Helen Mack	Oct.	15,'37†	73.Sept.	4,'37
Flight from Glory (G) 736	Chester Morris-Whitney Bourne	Aug.	20,'37	67.Aug.	14,'37
Forty Naughty Girls (G) 803	James Gleason-Zasu Pitts	Sept.	24,'37†	63.Sept.	4,'37
Hideaway (G) 733	Fred Stone-Marjorie Lord	Aug.	13,'37	58.July	31,'37
High Flyers (G)	Wheeler and Woolsey	Nov.	26,'37†	70.Nov.	20,'37
Hitting a New High (G)	Lily Pons-John Howard	Dec.	24,'37†	85.Dec.	4,'37
Hollywood Cowboy (G) 733	George O'Brien-Cecilia Parker	May	28,'37	64.July	31,'37
Life of the Party, The (G) 801 (Exploitation: Oct. 23,'37, p. 82.)	Gene Raymond-Harriet Hilliard	Sept.	3,'37†	77.Aug.	28,'37
Living on Love (G) 809	James Dunn-Whitney Bourne	Nov.	12,'37†	61.Oct.	30,'37
Make a Wish (G) 745	Bobby Breen-Basil Rathbone	Aug.	27,'37	77.Sept.	4,'37
Man Who Found Himself, The (G) 722	John Beal-Joan Fontaine	Apr.	2,'37	67.Mar.	13,'37
Meet the Missus (G) 729	Victor Moore-Helen Broderick	June	4,'37	60.May	29,'37
Music for Madame (G) 804	Nino Martini-Joan Fontaine	Oct.	1,'37†	81.Sept.	18,'37
New Faces of 1937 (G) 732 (Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 70.)	Joe Penner-Harriet Hilliard	July	2,'37	100.July	10,'37
On Again—Off Again (G) 725	Wheeler and Woolsey	July	9,'37	68.July	17,'37
Outcasts of Poker Flat, The (G) 710	Preston Foster-Jean Muir	Apr.	16,'37	68.Mar.	20,'37
Quality Street (G) 709	Kath. Hepburn-Franchot Tone	Mar.	26,'37	84.Mar.	30,'37
Quick Money (G) 811	Fred Stone-Dorothy Moore	Dec.	10,'37†	59.Nov.	27,'37
Riding On Air (G) 771	Joe E. Brown-Florence Rice	June	18,'37	71.June	12,'37
Saturday's Heroes (G) 805	Van Heflin-Marian Marsh	Oct.	8,'37†	60.Sept.	18,'37
Shall We Dance (G) 724 (Exploitation: June 19,'37, p. 85; July 31,'37, p. 80.)	Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers	May	7,'37	116.May	8,'37
Soldier and the Lady, The (A) 717 (Reviewed under the title, "Michael Strogoff.") (Exploitation: Mar. 13,'37, p. 79.)	Anton Walbrook-Eliz. Allan	Apr.	9,'37	85.Feb.	27,'37
Stage Door (G) 806 (See production article, Aug. 14,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Dec. 11,'37, pp. 77, 78; Dec. 25,'37, pp. 54, 58.)	Kath. Hepburn-Ginger Rogers	Oct.	8,'37†	92.Sept.	18,'37
Super Sleuth (G) 734	Jack Oakie-Ann Sothern	July	16,'37	70.July	17,'37
There Goes My Girl (G) 726	Ann Sothern-Gene Raymond	May	21,'37	74.June	5,'37
There Goes the Groom (G) 807	Burgess Meredith-Ann Sothern	Oct.	29,'37†	65.Oct.	2,'37
Toast of New York (G) 719 (Exploitation: Aug. 28,'37, p. 86; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96; Sept. 26,'37, p. 68; Oct. 16,'37, p. 84; Nov. 27, p. 80; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)	Edward Arnold-Frances Farmer	July	30,'37	109.July	17,'37
Too Many Wives (G) 723	Anne Shirley-John Morley	Apr.	9,'37	61.Apr.	17,'37
Victoria the Great (G) 861 (Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 56.)	Anna Neagle-Anton Walbrook	Nov.	12,'37†	113.Sept.	25,'37
Windjammer 783 (See "In the Cutting Room," May 29,'37.)	George O'Brien-Constance Worth	Aug.	6,'37	58
Wise Girl (G)	Miriam Hopkins-Ray Milland	Dec.	31,'37†	70.Jan.	1,'38
Woman I Love, The (G) 721	Paul Muni-Miriam Hopkins	Apr.	23,'37	88.Apr.	24,'37
You Can't Beat Love (G) 731	Preston Foster-Joan Fontaine	June	25,'37	62.June	5,'37
You Can't Buy Luck (G) 726	Vinton Haworth-Helen Mack	Apr.	30,'37	61.May	1,'37
Coming
Bringing Up Baby (See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 16,'37.)	Kath. Hepburn-Cary Grant	Feb.	18,'38†
Certified	Joan Fontaine-Allan Lane
Double Danger (See "The Perfect Alibi," "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Preston Foster-Whitney Bourne	Feb.	4,'38†
Having Wonderful Time (See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 9,'37.)	Ginger Rogers-D. Fairbanks, Jr.	Feb.	11,'38†
Hawaii Calls (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)	Bobby Breen-Juanita Quigley	Jan.	28,'38†
Joy of Loving (See "In the Cutting Room," Jan. 8,'38.)	Irene Dunne-D. Fairbanks, Jr.	May	6,'38†
Night Spot (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Allan Lane-Joan Woodbury	Feb.	25,'38†
Radio City Revels (See "In the Cutting Room," Jan. 8,'38.)	Bob Burns-Jack Oakie	Apr.	14,'38†
Rat, The (A)	Ruth Chatterton-Anton Walbrook	Jan.	21,'38†	73.Nov.	27,'37
She's Got Everything (G)	Gene Raymond-Ann Sothern	Dec.	31,'37†	72.Dec.	18,'37
Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs (G)	Walt Disney			*82.Dec.	25,'37
Vivacious Lady	Ginger Rogers-James Stewart	Apr.	15,'38†

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Star	Dist'r	Rel.	Running Time Date	Minutes	Reviewed
Harlem on the Prairie (G)	Herbert Jeffries	Associated	Dec.	9,'37	*55.Nov.	27,'37
Heroes of the Alamo (G)	Earl Hodgins	Sunset	Aug.	19,'37	*75.Aug.	7,'37
Melody of the Plains (G)	Fred Scott	Spectrum	Apr.	15,'37	*55.Apr.	10,'37
Nation Aflame (G)	Noel Madison	Treasure	Oct.	16,'37	76.Oct.	23,'37
Three Legionnaires (G)	Robt. Armstrong	General	June	15,'37	*60.Mar.	27,'37
What Price Vengeance? (G)	Lyle Talbot	Rialto	June	1,'37	57.June	12,'37
Zamboanga (G)	Native Cast		July	17,'37	*65.July	17,'37
Coming
Rangers Roundup (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 25,'37.)	Fred Scott	Spectrum

TWENTIETH CENTURY-FOX

Title	Star	Rel.	Running Time Date	Minutes	Reviewed
Ali Baba Goes to Town (G) 815	Eddie Cantor-June Lang	Oct.	29,'37†	81.Oct.	23,'37
Angel's Holiday (G) 754	Jane Withers-Robert Kent	June	4,'37	71.May	8,'37
Big Business (G) 759	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	June	18,'37	61.Apr.	17,'37
Big Town Girl (G) 822	Claire Trevor-Donald Woods	Dec.	3,'37†	70.Nov.	13,'37
Borneo 807 (Exploitation: Jan. 8,'38, p. 80.)	Mr. & Mrs. Martin Johnson	Sept.	10,'37†	75½
Born Reckless (G) 758	Rochelle Hudson-Brian Donlevy	July	9,'37	58.June	26,'37
Borrowing Trouble (G) 824	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Dec.	10,'37†	60.Oct.	30,'37
Cafe Metropole (G) 750 (Exploitation: June 19,'37, p. 84.)	Loretta Young-Tyrone Power	May	7,'37	83.May	8,'37
Californian, The (G) 753	Ricardo Cortez-Marjorie Weaver	July	16,'37	58.July	10,'37
Change of Heart (G) 829	Gloria Stuart-Michael Whalen	Jan.	14,'38†	*65.Jan.	8,'38
Charlie Chan at the Olympics 752 (See "In the Cutting Room," Mar. 6,'37.)	Warner Oland-Kath. DeMille	May	21,'37	71
Charlie Chan on Broadway (G) 811	Warner Oland-Joan Marsh	Oct.	22,'37†	68.Aug.	7,'37
City Girl (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)	Ricardo Cortez-Phyllis Brooks	Jan.	7,'38†
Danger—Love at Work (G) 808	Ann Sothern-Jack Haley	Nov.	5,'37†	81.Oct.	2,'37
Dangerously Yours (G) 817	Cesar Romero-Phyllis Brooks	Nov.	12,'37†	62.Sept.	25,'37
David Harum (G) 769 (re-issue)	Will Rogers-Evelyn Venable	May	14,'37	85.Mar.	8,'34
Dinner at the Ritz (G) 820	Annabella-Paul Lukas	Nov.	26,'37†	77.Nov.	13,'37
Fair Warning (G) 740	Betty Furness-John Payne	Mar.	5,'37	68.Jan.	23,'37
Fifty Roads to Town (G) 748 (Exploitation: May 8,'37, p. 70.)	Don Ameche-Ann Sothern	Apr.	16,'37	81.Apr.	3,'37
45 Fathers (G) 821	Jane Withers-Thomas Beck	Nov.	26,'37†	71.Oct.	23,'37
Great Hospital Mystery, The (G) 751 (Reviewed under the title, "Dead Yesterday.")	Sally Blane-Thomas Beck	May	14,'37	59.Mar.	6,'37
Handy Andy (G) 871 (re-issue)	Will Rogers	Aug.	13,'37†	81.May	5,'34
Hawaiian Buckaroo 828 (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)	Smith Ballew-Evalyn Knapp	Jan.	14,'38†
Heidi (G) 816 (Exploitation: Dec. 4,'37, p. 70.)	Shirley Temple-Jean Hersholt	Oct.	15,'37†	88.Oct.	16,'37
Hot Water (G) 814	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Sept.	24,'37†	58.July	17,'37
Judge Priest (re-issue) 872	Will Rogers-Anita Louise	Nov.	12,'37†	79.Sept.	28,'34
It Happened Out West 745	Paul Kelly-Judith Allen	May	7,'37	58
King George VI Coronation 870	Technicolor Special	July	15,'37†	28
Lady Escapes, The (G) 747	Gloria Stuart-Michael Whalen	July	23,'37	63.June	5,'37
Lancer Spy (G) 809	George Sanders-Dolores Del Rio	Oct.	8,'37†	84.Oct.	9,'37
Life Begins in College (G) 810 (Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 68; Jan. 1,'38, pp. 57, 60.)	Ritz Bros.-Gloria Stuart	Oct.	1,'37†	94.Oct.	2,'37
Love and Hisses (G) 825	Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie	Dec.	31,'37†	84.Dec.	25,'37
Love Under Fire (G) 803	Loretta Young-Don Ameche	Aug.	20,'37†	75.Aug.	14,'37
Midnight Taxi (G) 744	Brian Donlevy-Frances Drake	Apr.	2,'37	73.Mar.	27,'37
Nancy Steele Is Missing (G) 738	Victor McLaglen-Peter Lorre	Mar.	12,'37	84.Mar.	20,'37
On the Avenue (G) 732 (Exploitation: Mar. 20,'37, p. 78; Apr. 17,'37, pp. 80, 82; June 19,'37, p. 84.)	Dick Powell-Madeleine Carroll	Feb.	12,'37	89.Feb.	13,'37
One Mile from Heaven (G) 802	Claire Trevor-Sally Blane	Aug.	13,'37†	68.July	24,'37
Roll Along Cowboy 812	Smith Ballew-Cecilia Parker	Oct.	8,'37†	55
Second Honeymoon (G) 818	Loretta Young-Tyrone Power	Nov.	19,'37†	79.Nov.	13,'37
Secret Valley (G) 731	Richard Arlen-Virginia Grey	Jan.	15,'37	57.Feb.	13,'37
Seventh Heaven (G) 742 (Exploitation: June 5,'37, p. 64.)	Simone Simon-James Stewart	Mar.	26,'37	102.Mar.	27,'37
She Had to Eat (G) 757	Rochelle Hudson-Jack Haley	June	11,'37	74.Aug.	7,'37
Sing and Be Happy 756 (See "In the Cutting Room," May 1,'37.)	Anthony Martin-Dixie Dunbar	June	25,'37	64
Slave Ship (G) 746 (See production article, Mar. 13,'37, p. 16.)	Wallace Beery-Warner Baxter	July	2,'37	92.June	19,'37
Step Lively, Jeeves (G) 739 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 13,'37.)	Arthur Treacher-Patricia Ellis	Apr.	9,'37	69.Jan.	30,'37
Tarzan's Revenge 823	Glenn Morris-Eleanor Holm	Jan.	7,'38†
Thank You, Mr. Moto (G)	Peter Lorre-Jane Regan	Dec.	24,'37†	67.Nov.	27,'37
That I May Live (G) 755	Rochelle Hudson-Robert Kent	Apr.	30,'37	70.Mar.	6,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Thin Ice (G) 805 (Exploitation: Oct. 9,'37, p. 66; Dec. 11,'37, pp. 76, 78.)	Sonja Henie-Tyrone Power	Sept. 3,'37†	78.	Aug. 28,'37
Think Fast, Mr. Moto (G) 804	Peter Lorre-Virginia Field	Aug. 27,'37†	66.	Apr. 17,'37
This Is My Affair (G) 721	Barbara Stanwyck-Robt. Taylor	May 28,'37	99.
Time Out for Romance (G) 741	Claire Trevor-Michael Whalen	Mar. 19,'37	72.	Feb. 20,'37
Under the Red Robe (G) 743	Conrad Veidt-Annabella	May 21,'37	82.	June 12,'37
Wake Up and Live (G) 749 (Exploitation: July 3,'37, p. 69; July 10,'37, pp. 85, 86.)	Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie	Apr. 23,'37	91.	Apr. 17,'37
Wee Willie Winkle (G) 760 (Exploitation: July 10,'37, p. 88; Aug. 7,'37, p. 92; Sept. 4,'37, pp. 94, 97; Oct. 9,'37, p. 68.)	Shirley Temple-V. McLaglen	July 30,'37	99.	July 3,'37
Western Gold (G) 761	Smith Ballew-Heather Angel	Aug. 27,'37	56.	Sept. 11,'37
Wife, Doctor and Nurse (G) 813 (Exploitation: Nov. 13,'37, p. 62.)	Loretta Young-Warner Baxter	Sept. 17,'37†	85.	Sept. 11,'37
Wild and Woolly (G) 806	Jane Withers-Walter Brennan	Sept. 10,'37†	64.	July 24,'37
Wings of the Morning (G) 737	Annabella-Henry Fonda	Feb. 19,'37	87.	Mar. 20,'37
You Can't Have Everything (G) 801 (Exploitation: Jan. 8,'38, p. 82.)	Alice Faye-Don Ameche	Aug. 3,'37†	99.	July 31,'37

Coming

Baroness and the Butler 835 (See "In the Cutting Room," Jan. 8,'38.)	Annabella-William Powell	Feb. 18,'38†
Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo (G) 832	Warner Oland-Keye Luke	Jan. 21,'38†	71.	Nov. 6,'37
Checkers (G) 834	Jane Withers-Stuart Erwin	Feb. 11,'38†	78.	Dec. 11,'37
Gypsy	Jane Withers-Robt. Wilcox
Happy Landing 830 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 27,'37.)	Sonja Henie-Don Ameche	Jan. 28,'38†
In Old Chicago (G) (See production article, Sept. 4,'37, p. 48.)	Tyrone Power-Alice Faye		*110.	Jan. 8,'38
International Settlement 826 (See "Shanghai Deadline," "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)	Dolores Del Rio-George Sanders	Feb. 4,'38†
Josette 839	Simone Simon-Don Ameche	Apr. 1,'38†
Kidnapped	Warner Baxter-F. Bartholomew
Love on a Budget (G) 836	Jed Prouty-Spring Byington	Feb. 25,'38†	*60.	Jan. 8,'38
Mr. Moto Takes a Chance (G) 819 (Reviewed under the title, "Look Out, Mr. Moto.")	Peter Lorre-Rochelle Hudson	Apr. 28,'38†	*60.	Oct. 30,'37
Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm 837 (See "In the Cutting Room," Nov. 6,'37.)	Shirley Temple-Gloria Stuart	Mar. 18,'38†
Sally, Irene and Mary 827 (See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 4,'37.)	Alice Faye-Fred Allen	Mar. 4,'38†
Walking Down Broadway	Claire Trevor-Michael Whalen	Mar. 11,'38†

UNITED ARTISTS

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Action for Slander (A)	Clive Brook-Ann Todd	Jan. 14,'38†	83.	Aug. 14,'37
Dark Journey (G)	Vivien Leigh-Conrad Veidt	July 2,'37†	82.	Mar. 6,'37
Dead End (G) (Exploitation: Sept. 18,'37, p. 86; Sept. 25,'37, p. 71; Nov. 20,'37, p. 88; Dec. 11,'37 p. 76.)	Sylvia Sidney-Joel McCrea	Aug. 27,'37†	93.	Aug. 7,'37
Dreaming Lips (A)	Elis. Bergner-Raymond Massey	May 28,'37	78.	Mar. 6,'37
Elephant Boy (G) (Exploitation: June 12,'37, p. 96; July 31,'37, p. 82; Aug. 21,'37, p. 75; Oct. 2,'37, p. 77; Dec. 4,'37, pp. 72, 76.)	Native Cast	Apr. 23,'37	80.	Mar. 13,'37
Farewell Again (G)	Leslie Banks-Flora Robson	Oct. 8,'37†	83.	May 22,'37
52nd Street (G)	Ian Hunter-Pat Paterson	Nov. 19,'37†	82.	Oct. 9,'37
Fire Over England (G) (Exploitation: Mar. 27,'37, p. 79.)	Laurence Olivier-Flora Robson	Mar. 5,'37	89.	Jan. 16,'37
History Is Made at Night (G) (Exploitation: Mar. 27,'37, p. 84; Apr. 3,'37, pp. 64, 71; Apr. 10,'37, pp. 91, 92; Apr. 17,'37, p. 82; Apr. 24,'37, pp. 91, 92; May 1,'37, p. 83; May 8,'37, p. 72; May 22,'37, pp. 89, 90; June 12,'37, p. 93; Nov. 20,'37, p. 89.)	Charles Boyer-Jean Arthur	Apr. 2,'37	97.	Mar. 13,'37
Hurricane, The (G) (See production article, Aug. 7,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 20,'37, p. 94.)	Dorothy Lamour-Jon Hall	Dec. 24,'37†	102.	Nov. 13,'37
Knight Without Armor (G) (Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 78; Sept. 11,'37, p. 84.)	Marlene Dietrich-Robt. Donat	July 23,'37†	107.	June 19,'37
Love from a Stranger (A)	Ann Harding-Basil Rathbone	May 14,'37	87.	Feb. 13,'37
Man Who Could Work Miracles, The (G)	Roland Young-Joan Gardner	Feb. 19,'37	82.	Aug. 22,'36
Men Are Not Gods (A)	Miriam Hopkins-Gert. Lawrence	Jan. 22,'37	82.	Jan. 2,'37
Murder on Diamond Row (G). (Reviewed under the title, "The Squeaker.")	Edmund Lowe-Ann Todd	Dec. 10,'37†	77.	Sept. 11,'37
Nothing Sacred (G) (See production article, Aug. 21,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 65; Jan. 8,'38, p. 88.)	Carole Lombard-Fredric March	Nov. 26,'37†	75.	Nov. 27,'37
Prisoner of Zenda (G) (Exploitation: Dec. 18,'37, p. 64.)	Ronald Colman-M. Carroll	Sept. 3,'37†	101.	Sept. 4,'37
Stand-In (A) (Exploitation: Nov. 27,'37, p. 78; Dec. 18,'37, p. 66.)	Leslie Howard-Joan Blondell	Oct. 29,'37†	91.	Oct. 9,'37
Star Is Born, A (G) (See production article, Feb. 27,'37, p. 16; exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 86; May 29,'37, pp. 67, 69; June 5,'37, pp. 64, 67, 70; June 19,'37, p. 84; June 26,'37, pp. 120, 121, 122; July 10,'37, p. 87; July 17,'37, p. 91; July 31,'37, p. 80; Aug. 28,'37, p. 97; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96; Oct. 23,'37, p. 84; Dec. 11,'37, p. 78.)	Janet Gaynor-Fredric March	Apr. 30,'37	111.	May 1,'37
Stella Dallas (A) (Exploitation: July 31,'37, p. 61; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 69, 70; Oct. 2,'37, p. 74; Oct. 9,'37, pp. 67, 69; Oct. 23,'37, pp. 83, 85; Oct. 30,'37, p. 86; Nov. 6,'37, p. 66; Nov. 27,'37, p. 78; Dec. 4,'37, pp. 77, 78.)	Barbara Stanwyck-John Boles	Aug. 6,'37†	111.	July 31,'37
Walt Disney's Academy Award Revue	Five Award Winners	June 18,'37†	44.
Walter Wanger's Vogues of 1938 (G) (Exploitation: Aug. 21,'37, p. 74; Sept. 11,'37, p. 82; Nov. 20,'37, p. 92; Nov. 27,'37, p. 80; Dec. 18,'37, p. 65; Jan. 1,'38, p. 58.)	Warner Baxter-Joan Bennett	Sept. 17,'37†	108.	Aug. 7,'37
When Thief Meets Thief (A) (Reviewed under the title, "Jump for Glory.")	D. Fairbanks, Jr.-V. Hobson	June 4,'37	87.	May 8,'37
Woman Chases Man (G) (See production article, Apr. 17,'37, p. 12; exploitation: June 12,'37, p. 92; July 3,'37 p. 88; Sept. 11,'37, p. 83; Oct. 30,'37, p. 84.)	Miriam Hopkins-Joel McCrea	May 7,'37	71.	May 1,'37
You Only Live Once (A) (Exploitation: Jan. 30,'37, p. 80; Mar. 6,'37, p. 89; Mar. 20,'37, pp. 76, 78; Apr. 3,'37, pp. 66, 71; June 26,'37, p. 123; July 10,'37, p. 87; Aug. 21,'37, p. 74.)	Sylvia Sidney-Henry Fonda	Jan. 29,'37	86.	Jan. 30,'37

Coming

Adventures of Marco Polo	Gary Cooper-Sigrid Gurie	Mar. 4,'38†
Adventures of Tom Sawyer (See production article, Oct. 9,'37, p. 16.)	Tommy Kelly-Walter Brennan	Feb. 11,'38†
Divorce of Lady X, The	Merle Oberon-Laurence Olivier	Feb. 18,'38†
Gaiety Girls, The (Reviewed under the title, "Paradise for Two.")	Jack Hulbert-Patricia Ellis	Mar. 18,'38†	70.	Nov. 6,'37
Goldwyn Follies, The (See production article, Nov. 13,'37, p. 14.)	'Charlie McCarthy'-Edgar Bergen Ritz Bros.-Adolphe Menjou	Feb. 4,'38†
I Met My Love Again (See "In the Cutting Room," Sept. 18,'37.)	Joan Bennett-Henry Fonda	Jan. 28,'38†
Madamoiselle Docteur (A)	Dita Parlo-John Loder		77.	Dec. 18,'37
Mutiny in the Mountains	Vivien Leigh-Paul Lukas
Return of the Scarlet Pimpernel, The (G)	Barry Barnes-Sophie Stewart	Mar. 25,'38†	90.	Nov. 13,'37
Storm in a Teacup (G)	Vivien Leigh-Rex Harrison	Feb. 25,'38†	86.	June 12,'37

UNIVERSAL

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventure's End (G) 2036	John Wayne-Diana Gibson	Dec. 5,'37†	63.	Nov. 13,'37
Armored Car (G) 1004	Robert Wilcox-Judith Barrett	June 20,'37	64.	Aug. 14,'37
As Good as Married (G) 1012	John Boles-Doris Nolan	May 9,'37	81.	May 1,'37
Behind the Mike 2030	Wm. Gargan-Judith Barrett	Sept. 26,'37†	68.
Black Aces 2050	Buck Jones-Kay Linaker	Sept. 5,'37†	58.
Boss of Lonely Valley 2052	Buck Jones	Nov. 14,'37†	59.
Breezing Home (G) 1033	Binnie Barnes-Wm. Gargan	Jan. 31,'37	64.	Mar. 27,'37
California Straight Ahead (G) 1030	John Wayne-Louise Latimer	May 2,'37	67.	Apr. 3,'37
Carnival Queen 2026	Dorothea Kent-Robert Wilcox	Oct. 3,'37†	66.
Courage of the West 2054 (See "In the Cutting Room," Sept. 11,'37.)	Bob Baker-Lois January	Dec. 5,'37†	57.
Empty Saddles (G) 1043	Buck Jones-Louise Brooks	Dec. 20,'36	62.	Oct. 24,'36
Girl Overboard (G) 1021	Gloria Stuart-Walter Pidgeon	Feb. 28,'37	58.	May 29,'37
Girl with Ideas, A (G) 2015	Wendy Barrie-Walter Pidgeon	Nov. 7,'37†	66½.	Nov. 6,'37
I Cover the War (G) 1016	John Wayne-Gwen Gaze	July 4,'37	68.	July 10,'37
Idol of the Crowds (G) 2037	John Wayne-Sheila Bromley	Oct. 10,'37†	62½.	Oct. 2,'37
Lady Fights Back, The (G) 2035	Irene Hervey-Kent Taylor	Sept. 19,'37†	63.	Oct. 23,'37
Law for Tombstone 2051	Buck Jones-Muriel Evans	Oct. 10,'37†	59.
Left Handed Law (G) 1045	Buck Jones	Apr. 18,'37	63.	May 1,'37
Let Them Live (G) 1035	Nan Grey-John Howard	Apr. 25,'37	73.	Apr. 24,'37
Love in a Bungalow (G) 1009	Kent Taylor-Nan Grey	June 27,'37	66.	July 10,'37
Man in Blue, The (G) 1020	Robert Wilcox-Nan Grey	May 30,'37	67.	May 22,'37
Man Who Cried Wolf, The (G) 2023	Tom Brown-Barbara Read	Aug. 29,'37†	66.	Sept. 4,'37
Merry-Go-Round of 1938 (G) 2006	Bert Lahr-Alice Brady	Nov. 14,'37†	87.	Oct. 23,'37
Mighty Treve, The (G) 1034	Noah Beery, Jr. Barbara Read	Jan. 17,'37	69.	Apr. 10,'37
Night Key (G) 1024 (Exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 87.)	Boris Karloff-Jean Rogers	May 2,'37	67.	Apr. 24,'37
Oh, Doctor! (G) 1013 (Exploitation: May 22,'37, p. 87.)	Edward Everett Horton	May 16,'37	67.	Apr. 24,'37
100 Men and a Girl (G) 2001 (See musical analysis, Sept. 18,'37, p. 29; exploitation: Sept. 25,'37, p. 68; Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 69; Nov. 6,'37, pp. 56, 66; Nov. 20,'37, p. 82; Nov. 27,'37, p. 80; Dec. 18,'37, p. 68; Jan. 1,'38, p. 60.)	Deanna Durbin-Adolphe Menjou	Sept. 12,'37†	84.	Sept. 11,'37
Prescription for Romance (G) 2013	Wendy Barrie-Kent Taylor	Dec. 12,'37†	66.	Dec. 18,'37
Reported Missing (G) 1006	Wm. Gargan-Jean Rogers	Aug. 15,'37	63.	Aug. 7,'37
Road Back, The (G) 1005 (See production article, Apr. 24,'37, p. 16; exploitation: July 31,'37, p. 80; Sept. 18,'37, p. 83; Oct. 9,'37, pp. 66, 68.)	Richard Cromwell-John King	Aug. 1,'37	103.	June 26,'37
Sandflow (G) 1044	Buck Jones-Lita Chevret	Feb. 14,'37.	58.	Feb. 6,'37
She's Dangerous 1031	Cesar Romero-Tala Birell	Jan. 24,'37	68.
Smoke Tree Range 1046	Buck Jones-Muriel Evans	June 6,'37	59.
Some Blondes Are Dangerous 2018	Noah Beery, Jr.-Dorothea Kent	Nov. 28,'37†	64½.
Spy Ring, The 2033	Wm. Hall-Jane Wyman	Jan. 8,'38†	61.
Sudden Bill Dorn 2053	Buck Jones-Evelyn Brent	Dec. 19,'37†	59.
That's My Story 2034 (See "In the Cutting Room," July 3,'37.)	Claudia Morgan-Wm. Lundigan	Oct. 24,'37†	62.
Top of the Town (G) 1007 (See production article, Jan. 23,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Apr. 24,'37, p. 91; May 1,'37, p. 79; May 22,'37, pp. 86, 87; June 5,'37, p. 70; June 12,'37, p. 92; June 19,'37, pp. 82, 85.)	George Murphy-Doris Nolan	Apr. 18,'37	86.	Apr. 3,'37
Trouble at Midnight (G) 2020	N. Beery, Jr.-Catharine Hughes	Oct. 17,'37†	68.	Nov. 20,'37
We Have Our Moments (G) 1017	Sally Eilers—James Dunn	Mar. 28,'37	67.	Apr. 3,'37
West Bound Limited 1008	Lyle Talbot-Polly Rowles	July 11,'37	66.
Westland Case, The (G) 2024	Preston Foster-Carol Hughes	Oct. 31,'37†	63.	Oct. 2,'37
When Love Is Young (G) 1018	Virginia Bruce-Kent Taylor	Apr. 4,'37	58.
Wildcatter, The 1015	Scott Colton-Jean Rogers	June 6,'37.	76.	Apr. 24,'37
Wings Over Honolulu (G) 1011	Wendy Barrie-Ray Milland	May 23,'37	78.	May 15,'37
You're a Sweetheart (G)	Alice Faye-George Murphy	Dec. 26,'37†	96.	Dec. 18,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Coming
Black Doll	Nan Grey-Donald Woods	Jan. 30,'38†	66
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Border Wolves	Bob Baker-Connie Moore
Crime of Dr. Hallet	Ralph Bellamy-J. Hutchinson
Forbidden Valley	Noah Beery, Jr.-F. Robinson	Feb. 13,'38†
(See "Mountains Are My Kingdom," "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Jury's Secret, The	Fay Wray-Kent Taylor	Jan. 16,'38†
Mad About Music	Deanna Durbin-Herbert Marshall	Feb. 27,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 18,'37.)
Midnight Intruder	Louis Hayward-Barbara Read	Feb. 6,'38†
Singing Outlaw, The 2055	Bob Baker-Joan Barclay	Jan. 23,'38†	56

VICTORY

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Amateur Crook	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Dec. 10,'37†	58
Brothers of the West	Tom Tyler-Lois Wilde	Sept. 30,'37†	55
Cheyenne Rides Again	Tom Tyler-Lucille Browne	Jan. 7,'37	56
Feud of the Trail	Tom Tyler-Harlene Wood	May 1,'37	56
Flying Fists	Herman Brix-Jeanne Martel	July 1,'37	62
Lost Ranch	Tom Tyler-Jeanne Martel	Nov. 30,'37†	56
Million Dollar Racket (G)	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Oct. 1,'37†	62	Nov. 20,'37
Mystery Range	Tom Tyler-Jerry Bergh	May 1,'37	55
Orphan of the Pecos	Tom Tyler-Jeanne Martel	Dec. 30,'37†	55
Sky Racket	Herman Brix-Joan Barclay	Sept. 1,'37†	63

WARNER BROTHERS

(See also First National)

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Another Dawn (A) 106	Kay Francis-Errol Flynn	June 26,'37	73	Apr. 10,'37
(See production article, Mar. 6,'37, p. 16.)
Black Legion (A) 108	H. Bogart-E. O'Brien-Moore	Jan. 30,'37	83	Jan. 9,'37
(Exploitation: Jan. 16,'37, p. 76; Mar. 13,'37, pp. 80, 83; Mar. 20,'37, p. 82; Mar. 27,'37, p. 79; Apr. 3,'37, p. 66; Apr. 10,'37, p. 95; July 17,'37, p. 89.)
Blazing Sixes 129	Dick Foran-Helen Valkis	June 12,'37	55
Call It a Day (G) 113	Olivia de Havilland-I. Hunter	Apr. 17,'37	89	Mar. 13,'37
Devil's Saddle Legion, The 130	Dick Foran-Anne Nagel	Aug. 14,'37	52
Expensive Husbands (G) 223	Beverly Roberts-Patric Knowles	Nov. 27,'37†	62	Sept. 11,'37
Fly-Away Baby (G) 125	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	June 19,'37	60	June 12,'37
First Lady (G) 210	Kay Francis-Preston Foster	Dec. 4,'37†	*82	Sept. 11,'37
Footloose Heiress 123	Craig Reynolds-Ann Sheridan	Aug. 21,'37
(See "In the Cutting Room," Apr. 10,'37.)
God's Country and the Woman (G) 105	George Brent-Beverly Roberts	Jan. 16,'37	85	Dec. 26,'36
(Exploitation: Feb. 13,'37, pp. 84, 85; Feb. 27,'37, p. 80.)
Go Getter, The (G) 115	George Brent-Anita Louise	May 22,'37	92	June 19,'37
(Exploitation: Sept. 4,'37, pp. 94, 97.)
Great Garrick, The (G) 209	Brian Aherne-O. de Havilland	Oct. 30,'37	89	Oct. 2,'37
Great O'Malley, The (G) 110	Pat O'Brien-Sybil Jason	Feb. 13,'37	71	Dec. 12,'36
(Exploitation: Apr. 10,'37, p. 91.)
It's Love I'm After (G) 207	Leslie Howard-Bette Davis	Nov. 20,'37†	90	July 31,'37
Kid Galahad (G) 102	Edw. G. Robinson-Bette Davis	May 29,'37	101	May 8,'37
(Exploitation: June 5,'37, p. 64; Sept. 4,'37, p. 96.)
King and the Chorus Girl (G) 104	Fernand Gravet-Joan Blondell	Mar. 27,'37	95	Mar. 6,'37
(Exploitation: Mar. 20,'37, p. 76; Mar. 27,'37, p. 79; June 26,'37, p. 118.)
Land Beyond the Law 128	Dick Foran-Linda Perry	Mar. 13,'37	54
Life of Emile Zola, The (G) 203	Paul Muni-Gale Sondergaard	Oct. 2,'37†	116	July 10,'37
(Exploitation: Oct. 2,'37, p. 76; Oct. 9,'37, p. 68; Nov. 27,'37, p. 84; Dec. 25,'37, p. 58.)
Marry the Girl (G) 116	Hugh Herbert-Mary Boland	July 1,'37	68	Aug. 14,'37
Melody for Two (G) 117	James Melton-Patricia Ellis	May 1,'37	60	Jan. 16,'37
Midnight Court (G) 124	Ann Dvorak-John Litel	Mar. 6,'37	60	Mar. 13,'37
Patient in Room 18, The 274	Ann Sheridan-Patric Knowles	Jan. 15,'37†
Public Wedding 126	Jane Wyman-William Hopper	July 10,'37	58
Ready, Willing and Able (G) 112	Lee Dixon-Ruby Keeler	Mar. 6,'37	93	Feb. 6,'37
(Exploitation: May 1,'37, p. 78.)
Singing Marine, The (G) 101	Dick Powell-Doris Weston	July 3,'37	105	July 10,'37
(Exploitation: July 24,'37, p. 80; Sept. 25,'37, pp. 68, 71.)
Sergeant Murphy (G) 216	Ronald Reagan-Mary Maguire	Jan. 1,'38†	*60	Dec. 11,'37
Slim (G) 114	Pat O'Brien-Henry Fonda	June 12,'37	80	July 3,'37
Smart Blonde (G) 122	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane	Jan. 2,'37	59	Dec. 5,'36
Swing Your Lady (G) 211	H. Bogart-Penny Singleton	Jan. 8,'38†	*75	Jan. 8,'38
Tovarich (G) 201	Claudette Colbert-Charles Boyer	Dec. 25,'37†	*92	Dec. 4,'37
Varsity Show (G) 202	Dick Powell-Fred Waring	Sept. 4,'37†	121	Aug. 21,'37
(See production article, July 24,'37, p. 16; exploitation: Nov. 20,'37, p. 94; Dec. 4,'37, p. 77; Jan. 1,'38, p. 60.)
White Bondage (G) 125	Jean Muir-Gordon Oliver	June 19,'37	60	Mar. 13,'37
Wine, Women and Horses (G) 218	Barton MacLane-Ann Sheridan	Sept. 11,'37†	64	July 24,'37
Coming
Adventures of Robin Hood	Errol Flynn-O. de Havilland
(See production article, Dec. 25,'37, p. 14.)
Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse, The
Blondes at Work	Glenda Farrell-Barton MacLane
Boy Meets Girl	Marie Wilson-Allyn Joslyn
Dude Rancher, The	Dick Powell-Priscilla Lane
Food for Scandal	Fernand Gravet-Carole Lombard
For the Defense	Ronald Reagan
Gold Diggers in Paris	Rudy Vallee
Invisible Menace (G) 224	Boris Karloff-Marie Wilson	Jan. 29,'38†	55	Oct. 23,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "Without Warning.")
Jezebel	Bette Davis-Henry Fonda
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Kid Comes Back, The (G) 123	Wayne Morris-June Travis	Feb. 19,'38†	*60	Jan. 30,'37
(Reviewed under the title, "Don't Pull Your Punches.")
Love, Honor and Behave	Wayne Morris-Priscilla Lane
Men Are Such Fools	Wayne Morris-Priscilla Lane
Mystery of Hunting's End	Dick Purcell-Ann Sheridan
(See "In the Cutting Room," Dec. 11,'37.)
Over the Wall	Dick Foran-June Travis
Penrod and His Twin Brother 226	Billy and Bobby Mauch	Feb. 26,'38†
(See "In the Cutting Room," Oct. 30,'37.)
Penrod's Double Trouble	Billy and Bobby Mauch
Singing Cop, The	Dick Foran-Anne Nagel
White Banners

WILLIAM STEINER

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
From Nine to Nine	Ruth Roland-Roland Drew	Dec. 21,'36	6 rls

WORLD

Title	Star	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Crimson Circle	Noah Beery	Jan. 1,'37	74
Don Quixote (G)	Chaliapin	Sept. '37†	78	July 6,'37
Life and Loves of Beethoven (G)	Harry Baur	Dec. 15,'37†	82	Dec. 4,'37
Masquerade in Vienna (A)	Paula Wessely	Jan. 28,'37	95	Feb. 13,'37
My Song of Love	Tito Schipa	Mar. 31,'37	79
Coming
Annie Laurie	Will Fyffe
Aurora Sul Mare	Italian Feature		67
Chanson D'Amour	Tito Schipa
Itto	Simone Berriau
Love on Skis	Walter Rimil
Monastery
Ninety Degrees South	Antarctic Film
Second Bureau	Jean Murat-Diana Koreno
Secrets of Stamboul	Valerie Hobson		79
Ski Chase	Hannes Schneider	Jan. 15,'38†	84
Street Without a Name	Constant Remy-Pola Illery
Song of Ceylon	Basil Wright		39
Tendre Enemmie	Simone Berriau

OTHER PRODUCT (FOREIGN)

Title	Star	Dist'r	Rel. Date	Running Time Minutes	Reviewed
Adventures of Chico (G)		Woodward Bros.		60	Nov. 27,'37
Angel's Pit, The (A)	Amedo Nazzari				June 26,'37
Amphytrion (A)	Henri Garat	Globe	Mar. 23,'37	103	Apr. 3,'37
Beethoven Concerte (G)	V. Gardin	Amkino	Mar. 23,'37	90	Apr. 10,'37
Big Fella (G)	Paul Robeson	British Lion		73	July 10,'37
Bronze Sentries (G)	Fosco Ginschetti	Fenoroma			Oct. 2,'37
Club de Femmes (A)	Danielle Darrieux	Mayer-Burstyn	Oct. 19,'37	89	Oct. 23,'37
Edge of the World, The (A)	Finlay Currie	British I. E. Co.		80	Aug. 14,'37
Emil Und Die Detektive	Fritz Rasp	International		77
Episode (A)	Paula Wessely	Metropolis	May 15,'37	90	June 5,'37
Fury Over Spain (G)		Modern Film		55	Aug. 14,'37
Gang Show, The (G)	Ralph Reader	General			May 1,'37
Gobsek (A)	Leonid Leonidov	Amkino		74	Aug. 14,'37
Golem, The (A)	Harry Baur	Metropolis	Mar. 20,'37	88	Mar. 27,'37
In the Far East (G)	N. Bogoliubov	Amkino	Oct. 19,'37	81	Oct. 30,'37
It Isn't Done (G)	Cecil Kellaway	British Empire		90	Mar. 27,'37
Jericho (G)	Paul Robeson	General		77	Sept. 4,'37
Kimiko (A)	Sachiko Chiba	International	Apr. 12,'37	73	Apr. 24,'37
King's People, The (G)	John Drinkwater	Mindlin	May 11,'37	70	May 22,'37
La Grande Illusion (A)	Jean Gabin	Realization d'Art Cinematographique		120	July 3,'37
Last Night, The (G)	I. R. Peltser	Amkino	Apr. 27,'37	90	May 8,'37
Late Mattia Pascal, The (A)	Pierre Blanchar				Apr. 10,'37
Let's Make a Night of It	Buddy Rogers	Assoc. British		80	July 10,'37
Lower Depths, The (A)	Jean Gabin	Mayer-Burstyn	Oct. 15,'37	95	Sept. 25,'37
Lucrezia Borgia (A)	Edwige Feuillere	European	Oct. 12,'37	78	Oct. 23,'37
Mademoiselle Docteur (A)	Dita Parlo	United Artists		105	May 1,'37
Make Up (G)	N. Asther-J. Clyde	Assoc. British		70	July 10,'37
Mayerling (A)	Charles Boyer	Pax Films	Sept. 13,'37	91	Sept. 25,'37
(Exploitation: Nov. 6,'37, p. 56.)
Merlusse (G)	Henri Poupon	French M. P.	Jan. '38	67	Dec. 25,'37
Merry Comes to Town (G)	Zasu Pitts	Sound City		77	June 5,'37
Moonlight Sonata (G)	Paderewski	United Artists		90	Mar. 13,'37
Mutiny of the Elsinore, The (G)	Paul Lukas	Assoc. British		77	Sept. 18,'37
Ora Ponciano (G)	Chucho Solozano	Prod. Soria		105	May 15,'37
Orphan Boy of Vienna (G)	Hans Olden	General		77	Sept. 18,'37
Our Fighting Navy (G)	H. B. Warner	General		75	May 8,'37
Pearls of the Crown (A)	Sascha Guitry	Tobis		115	June 5,'37
Pepe Le Moko (A)	Jean Gabin	Paris Film		100	Mar. 20,'37
Pygmalion (G)	Lily Bouwmeester	Filmex Cinetone			Apr. 17,'37
Ruler, The (G)	Emil Jannings	Amer.-Tobis	Oct. 15,'37	120	Oct. 30,'37
Silver Blaze (G)	Arthur Wontner	Assoc. British		70	July 17,'37
Sisters in Arms (G)	J. Sully-J. Day	C. U. C.		125	Dec. 25,'37
Sol Over Danmark (G)	Henrik Malberg	Scandinavian	Apr. 15,'37	73	Apr. 24,'37
Spanish Earth, The (A)		Prometheus	Aug. 20,'37	58	Sept. 4,'37
Thank You, Madame (G)	Jan Kiepura	American Tobis	Apr. 26,'37	85	May 1,'37
Thirteen, The (A)	Ivan Novoseltsev	Amkino		85	July 17,'37
Uncivilized (A)	Dennis Hoey	Box Office	Nov. 23,'37	77	Nov. 27,'37
Wave, The (G)	Native Cast	Garrison	Apr. 20,'37	60	May 1,'37
Wild Innocence (G)	Wendy Munro	Cinesound		90	May 29,'37
World's in Love, The (A)	Marta Eggerth	Viennese	May 18,'37	65	Nov. 20,'37

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

SHORT FILMS

[Numbers immediately following title designate date reviewed; for example, (8-1-37) August 1, 1937.]

COLUMBIA

BROADWAY COMEDIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Back to the Woods (3 Stooges)	May 14,'37	19½
Big Squirt, The (10-2-37) Charlie Chase	Sept.17,'37	18
Bury the Hatchet (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	19
Calling All Curtains	Oct. 1,'37	18
Calling All Doctors	July 22,'37	19½
Cash and Carry (9-11-37) (3 Stooges)	Sept. 3,'37	18½
Dizzy Doctors (4-17-37) (3 Stooges)	Mar. 19,'37	17½
Doggone Mixup	Feb. 4,'38	2 rls.
Fiddling Around (Collins-Kennedy)	Jan. 21,'38	17½
From Bad to Worse Charlie Chase	June 4,'37	17
Goofs and Saddles Andy Clyde	July 2,'37	17½
Gracie at the Bat Andy Clyde	Oct. 29,'37	17½
Grand Hooter (6-5-37) Charlie Chase	May 7,'37	19½
Grips, Grunts and Grease (3-27-37) (3 Stooges)	Jan. 15,'37	19
He Done His Duty (12-18-37) Andy Clyde	Dec. 10,'37	17½
Knee Action (2-27-37) Andy Clyde	Jan. 9,'37	17
Lodge Night Andy Clyde	June 11,'37	18
Man Bites Love Bug Charlie Chase	Dec. 24,'37	18
My Little Feller Andy Clyde	May 21,'37	18
New News (4-17-37) (Collins-Kennedy)	Apr. 1,'37	17½
Oh What a Knight (Herman Bing)	Nov. 22,'37	18½
Playing the Ponies (3 Stooges)	Oct. 15,'37	17
Sitter Downers, The (3 Stooges)	Nov. 26,'37	18
Stuck in the Sticks Andy Clyde	Mar. 26,'37	18
Termites of 1938 (3 Stooges)	Jan. 7,'38	17
Three Dumb Clucks (3 Stooges)	Apr. 17,'37	17
Wee Wee Monsieur (3 Stooges)	Feb. 18,'38	2 rls.
Wrong Miss Wright, The Charlie Chase	June 18,'37	17

BROADWAY FOLLIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Brokers Follies (12-11-37)	Dec. 15,'37	16½
Drug Store Follies (9-11-37)	Sept. 3,'37	10½
Rooftop Frolics (10-16-37)	Oct. 1,'37	11
Timberland Revels (11-27-37)	Nov. 5,'37	10

COLOR RHAPSODIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Air Hostess, The	Oct. 22,'37	8
Bluebird's Baby	Jan. 21,'38	1 rl.
Foxy Pup, The (6-5-37)	May 21,'37	6½
Gifts from the Air (re-issue)	Dec. 18,'37	7½
Hollywood Picnic	Dec. 18,'37	1 rl.
Horse on the Merry-Go-Round, The	Feb. 17,'38	1 rl.
Indian Serenade	July 16,'37	8
Let's Go (4-17-37)	Apr. 10,'37	7½
Little Match Girl (11-27-37)	Nov. 5,'37	8½
Merry Mannequins	Mar. 19,'37	6½
Mother Hen's Holiday	May 7,'37	7
Sad Little Guinea Pigs	Jan. 14,'38	1 rl.
Scary Crows (9-11-37)	Aug. 20,'37	8
Skeleton Frolic (2-20-37)	Jan. 29,'37	7½
Spring Festival (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	8
Stork Takes a Holiday, The	June 11,'37	8
Swing, Monkey, Swing (10-2-37)	Sept. 10,'37	7½

COLUMBIA TOURS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Fifty Years of Barter	May 28,'37	9½
Haiti's Black Napoleon (8-21-37)	Aug. 6,'37	9
Pirate Parts of the Caribbean	July 2,'37	9

COMMUNITY SING

(1st Series)

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Community Sing (No. 3) (6-5-37)	May 20,'37	10
Community Sing (No. 4)	June 18,'37	10½
Community Sing (No. 5) (9-11-37)	July 24,'37	10½

(2nd Series)

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
No. 1 (9-11-37)	Aug. 20,'37	†10
No. 2 (10-16-37)	Sept. 17,'37	†10
No. 3 (10-16-37)	Oct. 15,'37	†10½
No. 4—(12-11-37)	Nov. 28,'37	†11
No. 5—	Jan. 21,'38	†.1 rl.
No. 6—	Feb. 25,'38	†.1 rl.

FEATURETTES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Herald of the Skies	Apr. 2,'37	.9½

HAPPY HOUR

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp	Dec. 18,'37	†.3 rls.
Goose Girl, The	May 30,'37	.3 rls.
Old Woman in the Woods, The	Apr. 23,'37	.3 rls.

KRAZY KAT CARTOONS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
18. Krazy's Race of Time (6-26-37)	May 6,'37	.7
19. Masque Raid, The	June 25,'37	.7
20. Railroad Rhythm	Nov. 20,'37	†.9½

SCRAPPY CARTOONS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Canine Capers	Sept. 16,'37	†.6½
Clock Goes 'Round and 'Round (11-20-37)	Oct. 16,'37	†.6
Dizzy Ducks (12-19-36)	July 18,'37	.6½
Fire Plug, The (11-13-37)	Oct. 16,'37	†.6
New Homestead, The	Jan. 7,'38	†.7
Puttin' Out the Kitten	Mar. 26,'37	.7
Scrappy's Band Concert	Apr. 29,'37	.7
Scrappy's Music Lesson	June 4,'37	.7
Scrappy's News Flashes	Dec. 8,'37	†.6
Scrappy's Trip to Mars	Feb. 4,'38	†.1 rl.

SCREEN SNAPSHOTS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
No. 6—	Feb. 19,'37	10
No. 7—	Mar. 23,'37	.9½
No. 8—(5-29-37)	Apr. 30,'37	.9½
No. 9—	May 22,'37	10
No. 10—	June 4,'37	.9
No. 11—	June 25,'37	10½
No. 12—(10-16-37)	Aug. 13,'37	10
No. 13—(10-16-37) (New Series)	Sept. 10,'37	10
No. 1—(10-16-37)	Sept. 17,'37	†10
No. 2—(11-20-37)	Oct. 15,'37	†.9½
No. 3—(12-11-37)	Nov. 18,'37	†.9½
No. 4—	Dec. 24,'37	†.1 rl.
No. 5—	Jan. 7,'38	†.9½
No. 6—	Feb. 4,'38	†.1 rl.

SPECIAL SPORT THRILLS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Cadet Champion (12-11-37)	Dec. 17,'37	†.9½
Fit to Win (6-12-37)	May 7,'37	.9½
Fleet Hoofs (4-17-37)	Mar. 5,'37	10
Fun in the Water (4-17-37)	Apr. 10,'37	10
Future Stars	Aug. 30,'37
Golf Magic (9-11-37)	Aug. 16,'37	.9
Modern Maidens	Feb. 18,'38	†.9½
Riding the Waves	June 4,'37	10
Set 'Em Up	Oct. 29,'37	†.9½
Snow Foolin'	Jan. 21,'38	†.1 rl.
Sport of the Seasons	June 25,'37	.9
Sport's Greatest Thrills (8-21-37)	Aug. 3,'37	.9
Trotting Thoroughbreds (10-16-37)	Sept. 30,'37	†.9½
Unusual Hunting	Jan. 7,'38	†.1 rl.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Boy Who Saved a Nation, The	Dec. 10,'37	†.9½
Little Jack Horner (10-2-37)	Sept. 16,'37	†.6½
Silver Threads (12-11-37)	Nov. 12,'37	†10½

WORLD IN COLOR

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Beautiful Bermuda	Sept. 10,'37	†
City of the Golden Gate (11-20-37)	Oct. 10,'37	†.9½
El Salvador	Dec. 30,'37	†.1 rl.

EDUCATIONAL

[Distributed through Twentieth Century-Fox]

SONG AND COMEDY HITS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Ask Uncle Sol (10-23-37)	Oct. 8,'37	†11
Big Apple, The (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37	†.9
Calling All Crooners (12-4-37)	Nov. 19,'37	†10½
Dental Follies (4-10-37)	Feb. 26,'37	11
How to Dance the Shag	Dec. 17,'37	†.8
Love Goes West	Dec. 31,'37	†10½
Miss Lonely Hearts (10-30-37)	Sept. 24,'37	†10½
Pot Luck (8-14-37)	Aug. 6,'37	†11
Rhythm Saves the Day (12-4-37)	Oct. 29,'37	†11
Trailer Paradise	Nov. 26,'37	†.9

TERRY-TOONS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Barnyard Boss, The	Dec. 24,'37	†.6½
Big Game Hunt, The	Feb. 19,'37	.7
Billy Goat's Whiskers, The	Dec. 10,'37	†.6½
Book Shop, The (1-30-37)	Feb. 5,'37	.6
Bug Carnival (4-17-37)	Apr. 16,'37	.7
Bugs Beetle and His Orchestra	Jan. 21,'38	†.6½
Close Shave, A	Oct. 1,'37	†.6½
Dancing Bear, The (11-6-37)	Oct. 15,'37	†.6½
Dog and the Bone, The (11-27-37)	Nov. 12,'37	†.6
Farmer Al Falfa in Trailer Life	Aug. 20,'37	†.5½
Flying South	Mar 19,'37	.7
Hay Ride, The	Apr. 2,'37	.6
Homeless Pup, The	July 23,'37	.7
Kiko's Cleaning Day (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37	†.6½
Lion Hunt, The	Jan. 7,'38	†.7
Mechanical Cow, The	June 25,'37	.7
Ozzie Ostrich Comes to Town	May 28,'37	.7
Paper Hangers, The (8-14-37)	July 30,'37	.7
Pink Elephants	July. 9,'37	.7
Play Ball	June 11,'37	.6
Puddy's Coronation	May 14,'37	.7
Red Hot Music	Mar. 5,'37	.6
Saw Mill Mystery, The	Oct. 29,'37	†.6½
School Birds	Apr. 30,'37	.7
Timid Rabbit, The	Nov. 26,'37	†.6½
Villain Still Pursued Her, The	Sept. 3,'37	†.6½

TREASURE CHEST

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Crystal Ballet	May 28,'37	11
Grey Owl's Little Brother	Dec. 24,'37	†10
How to Ski	Aug. 20,'37	†11
Not So Dumb	Dec. 10,'37	†.9
Ornamental Swimming	June 4,'37	10
Private Life of the Gannets (9-25-37)	Sept. 10,'37	†11
Songs of the Danube	May 7,'37	.9

TWO-REEL COMEDIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Affairs of Pierre, The (7-31-37)	Aug. 6,'37	†19
Air Parade	Jan. 14,'38	†.2 rls.
Bashful Ballerina (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37	†20
Bashful Buckaroo, The	Dec. 3,'37	†19½
Comic Artist's Home Life (4-3-37)	Apr. 9,'37	18
Cupid Takes a Holiday
Dates and Nuts	Dec. 31,'37	†
Dime a Dance	Dec. 24,537	†19½
Freshies	May 7,'37	17
Getting an Eyeful	Jan. 21,'38	†17½
Girls Ahoy!	June 11,'37	17
Going, Going, Gone	Oct. 8,'37	†18
Hamlet and Eggs	June 18,'37	16
Heir Today	Nov. 5,'37	†18
Her Accidental Hero	May 21,'37	17
Hi-Ho Hollywood	Jan. 7,'38	†16
His Pest Girl	Apr. 30,'37	18
Hi-ya Doc?	Apr. 23,'37	20
Holding the Bag	May 14,'37	19
Hurray for Hooligan (12-4-37)	Nov. 19,'37	†17
Koo-Koo Correspondence Skool, The	Nov. 19,'37	†18
Love in Arms	May 28,'37	18
Love Nest on Wheels	Mar. 26,'37	18
Meet the Bride	Oct. 29,'37	†17
Melody Girl	Apr. 16,'37	17
Miss They Missed, The	Jan. 28,'38	†
Montague the Magnificent (8-14-37)	Aug. 27,'37	†18
Off the Horses (4-10-37)	Mar. 5,'37	19
Pixilated	Mar. 19,'37	18
Playboy Number One (12-4-37)	Nov. 26,'37	†17
Ready to Serve (4-10-37)	Mar. 12,'37	15
Silly Night (10-23-37)	Oct. 1,'37	†19
Slacks Appeal	Aug. 13,'37	†19
Smart Way, The (10-30-37)	Oct. 15,'37	†18
Sweeties	Sept. 3,'37	†15
That's the Spirit	June 25,'37	17
Timid Ghost, The	Sept. 24,'37	†16
Who's Crazy?	Aug. 20,'37	†19
Will You Stop! (10-2-37)	Sept. 10,'37	†17
Who's Who?	Oct. 22,'37	†20

HOFFBERG

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Baltimore, Home of Wally Simpson
Bamboo (5-29-37)	July 16,'37	10
Broadway Dance Parade	June 15,'37	10
Hollywood Magic (5-29-37)		10
In Shanghai (6-5-37)	July 16,'37	12
Isle of Paradise	July 30,'37	20
Spanish Interlude, A	June 15,'37

MAGNACOLOR

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Blow, Bugle, Blow
Catalina Island	Nov. 12,'37	†
Personalities on Parade
Skiing on Your Feet
Yellowstone Park

IMPERIAL

EDGAR GUEST POETIC GEMS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Boyhood		8

NOVELTIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Nero		8

PORT O' CALL

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
City of the Sun		9

WORLD IN COLOR

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Dream Harbor		8

MGM

CRIME DOESN'T PAY

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
No. 10—It May Happen to You (8-14-37)	June 5,'37	21
No. 11—Soak the Poor (10-2-37)	Aug. 21,'37	16
No. 12—Give Till it Hurts (11-13-37)	Sept. 18,'37	20
No. 13—Behind the Criminal (12-4-37)	Oct. 30,'37	21

FITZPATRICK TRAVEL TALKS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Chile, Land of Charm (11-20-37)	Oct. 30,'37	†.9
Colorful Bombay (5-8-37)	Apr. 3,'37	.8
Copenhagen	Nov. 27,'37	†.9
Floral Japan	July 24,'37	.8
Glimpses of Peru (10-2-37)	Sept. 4,'37	†.8
Hong Kong, Hub of China (6-26-37)	May 1,'37	.8
Land of Incas	June 26,'37	.8
Natural Wonders of the West	Jan. 22,'38	†
Rocky Mountain Grandeur (7-24-37)	May 29,'37	.9
Serene Siam (6-26-37)	Oct. 2,'37	†.9
Stockholm, Pride of Sweden (11-13-37)	Dec. 25,'37	†.9

HARMAN-ISING (Happy Harmonies)

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
29—Bosko's Easter Eggs (4-3-37)	Mar. 20,'37	.8
30—Bosko and the Pirates (5-8-37)	May 1,'37	.8
31—Hound and the Rabbit, The (6-26-37)	May 29,'37	.8
32—Wayward Pups (8-14-37)	July 10,'37	.9
33—Bosko and the Cannibals	Aug. 28,'37	10
34—Little Buck Cheeser (1-8-38)	Dec. 18,'37	.8
35—Bosko in Bagdad	Jan. 1,'38	10

HISTORICAL MYSTERIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
King Without a Crown, The (11-20-37)	Oct. 9,'37	†.9
Man in the Barn, The (1-1-38)	Nov. 20,'37	†10

M-G-M MINIATURES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Boss Didn't Say Good Morning, The (10-2-37)	Oct. 1,'37	19
Have Courage (7-24-37)	June 12,'37	10
Pacific Paradise (10-16-37)	Aug. 28,'37	10
Rainbow Pass (10-30-37)	Oct. 9,'37	10
Romance of Digestion	Mar. 13,'37	11
What Do You Think, No. 2	Dec. 25,'37	†10

MUSICAL COMEDIES

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Carnival in Paris (6-26-37)	May 29,'37	21
Girl's Best Years, A (2-20-37)	Dec. 25,'37	19
Hollywood Party (5-8-37)	Apr. 3,'37	21
Our Gang Follies of 1938 (1-8-38)	Dec. 18,'37	†21
Some Time Soon (4-10-37)	Mar. 6,'37	20
Sunday Night at Trocadero (10-23-37)	Oct. 2,'37	†20

OUR GANG

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Fishy Tales	Aug. 28,'37	11
Framing Youth (10-2-37)	Sept. 11,'37	†11
Hearts Are Thumps	Apr. 3,'37	11
Mail and Female	Nov. 13,'37	†11
Night 'n' Gales	July 24,'37	11

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

PARAMOUNT

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
BETTY BOOP CARTOONS
Candid Candidate, The (9-25-37)	Aug. 27,'37†	7....
Ding Dong Doggie	July 23,'37†	7....
Foxy Hunter, The	Nov. 26,'37†	1 rl..
Hot Air Salesman, The (3-20-37)	Mar. 12,'37	7....
Impractical Joker, The (7-3-37)	June 18,'37	7....
New Deal Show, The (10-16-37)	Oct. 22,'37†	7....
Pudgy Takes a Bow-Wow	Apr. 9,'37	7....
Pudgy Picks a Fight (5-22-37)	May 14,'37	8....
Riding the Rails	Jan. 28,'38†	.....
Service With a Smile	Sept. 24,'37†	7....
Zula Hula	Dec. 24,'37†	.....
COLOR CLASSICS
Bunny-Mooning (3-13-37)	Feb. 12,'37	7....
Car-Tune Portrait, A (7-3-37)	June 25,'37	7....
Chicken a la King	Apr. 16,'37	8....
Educated Fish (11-13-37)	Oct. 29,'37†	7....
Foolish Fox, The	Dec. 31,'37†	.....
Little Lamby (1-8-38)	Dec. 31,'37†	7....
Peeping Penguins (9-18-37)	Aug. 27,'37†	7....
HEADLINERS
Blue Velvet Music Mark Warnow and Orch.	Apr. 9,'37	10....
Frimi Favorites (7-3-37) Rudolf Friml, Jr., and Orch.	June 4,'37	11....
From the Minuet to the Big Apple	Nov. 19,'37†	.....
Himber Harmonies	Jan. 28,'38†	.....
Hollywood Star Reporter, No. 2 (10-16-37)	Oct. 29,'37†	11....
Hula Heaven (10-16-37) Eddie Peabody	Oct. 1,'37†	11....
Installment Collector, The Fred Allen	July 2,'37	10....
Let's Go Latin (9-25-37) Xavier Cugat and Orch.	Sept. 10,'37†	11....
Meet the Maestros	Dec. 17,'37†	.....
Night in Manhattan	July 30,'37	11....
Oh Kay, Rhythm (1-8-38)	Dec. 17,'37†	10....
Queens of Harmony Phil Spitalny and Girl Orch.	Aug. 20,'37†	11....
Star Reporter, The, No. 2 (3-27-37) Vincent Lopez and Orch.	Mar. 12,'37	11....
Swing, Hutton, Swing Ina Ray Hutton and Orch.	May 7,'37	11....
MUSICAL ROMANCE (In Color)
Schubert's Serenade	July 23,'37	9....
Song of the Islands (5-22-37)	May 21,'37	10....
Trees (3-20-37)	Mar. 19,'37	9....
PARAGRAPHICS
Accent on Beauty (1-8-38)	Dec. 31,'37†	10....
California Giant	Jan. 28,'38†	.....
Aviator Shorty	July 23,'37	10....
Circus Comes to Town, The (7-3-37)	June 25,'37	10....
Cowboy Shorty (10-16-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	10....
Game Trails	Apr. 30,'37	10....
Inventor, The (10-23-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	11....
It's a Good Stunt (9-25-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	10....
It's a Living	Mar. 5,'37	11....
Killer of the Tonto	Aug. 13,'37†	10....
Make Up and Live	Dec. 31,'37†	.....
Nobody Home	Apr. 2,'37	10....
Safety in the Air (5-22-37)	May 28,'37	10....
Tuna	Dec. 3,'37†	.....
PARAMOUNT PICTORIAL
No. 8 — Tides of Fundy — Home of the Rainbow — Meet the Lerias	Mar. 12,'37	10....
No. 9 — Moonlight and Shadows — Rooftops of Manhattan — Blackie and Brownie	Apr. 9,'37	10....
No. 10 — Sailboat Time — Twilight on the Trail — Magnetic Music (5-22-37)	May 7,'37	10....
No. 11—Fishing Highlights	June 4,'37	11....
No. 12—(7-3-37)	July 2,'37	10....
NEW SERIES
No. 1 — Ain't Nature Old Fashioned — Where East Meets West — Hollywood Music Man	Aug. 6,'37†	1 rl..
No. 2 — Let's Count Horses —Novia Scotia Faces the Sea — Record Making (9-18-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	10....
No. 3 — Modern Czechoslovakia — Southern Sketches — Doing Broadway in Style (10-16-37)	Oct. 1,'37†	10....
No. 4 — Tropical Toppers— Huckleberry Harvest — Steel Never Dies (11-6-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	10....
No. 5—	Dec. 3,'37	.....
No. 6—	Jan. 7,'38†	.....
POPEYE THE SAILOR
Football Toucher Downer	Oct. 15,'37†	.....
Fowl Play	Dec. 17,'37†	.....
Hospitality	Apr. 16,'37†	7....
I Like Babies and Infants (10-2-37)	Sept. 17,'37†	7....
I Never Change My Altitude	Aug. 20,'37†	7....
Let's Celebrake	Jan. 21,'38†	.....
Lost and Foundry	July 16,'37	7....
Morning, Noon and Night Club (6-26-37)	June 18,'37	7....
My Artistical Temperature	Mar. 19,'37	7....
Paneless Window Washer, The (2-27-37)	Jan. 22,'37	7....
Popeye the Sailor Meets Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves	Nov. 26,'37†	2 rls.
(Color Special)
Pretex the Weakerist (11-20-37)	Nov. 19,'37†	7....
Twisker Pitcher, The	May 21,'37	7....
PARAMOUNT SOUND NEWS
Two Editions Weekly
POPULAR SCIENCE (In Color)
No. 4 (3-27-37)	Feb. 26,'37	11....
No. 5	Apr. 30,'37	11....
No. 6	July 2,'37	11....
NEW SERIES
No. 1 (9-18-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	10....
No. 2 (11-20-37)	Nov. 12,'37†	10....
No. 3	Jan. 14,'38†	.....
SCREEN SONGS
Magic on Broadway Jay Freeman and Orch	Nov. 26,'37†	1 rl..
Please Keep Me in Your Dreams (5-22-37) Henry King and Orch.	May 28,'37	8....
Twilight on the Trail The Westerners	Mar. 26,'37	7....
Whispers in the Dark (10-9-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	7....
You Came to My Rescue Shep Fields and Orch.	July 30,'37	8....
You Took the Words Right Out of My Heart	Jan. 28,'38†	.....
GRANTLAND RICE SPORTLIGHTS (NEW SERIES)
No. 36—Wrestling (It's a Laugh)	Apr. 23,'37	10....
No. 37—Swing Stars (5-22-37)	May 14,'37	10....
No. 38—Pan-American Champion (7-3-37)	June 11,'37	10....
No. 39—Rhythm of the Game (7-10-37)	July 9,'37	10....
No. 40—Aquabats	Aug. 13,'37†	10....
No. 41—Picking Pets (10-2-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	10....
No. 42—Four Smart Dogs (10-16-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	10....
No. 43—Pick Your Favorite (11-6-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	10....
No. 44—Ball Tossers	Dec. 3,'37†	.....
No. 45—Water, Water Everywhere	Dec. 31,'37†	.....
No. 46—Good Looking Winners	Jan. 28,'38†	.....
UNUSUAL OCCUPATIONS (In Color)
No. 1	Aug. 6,'37†.	1 rl..
No. 2 (10-16-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	10....
No. 3	Dec. 10,'37†	.....
SPECIAL 3 REEL SHORT (Distributed by Paramount)
River, The (12-11-37)		31....

RKO RADIO

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
CONDOR MUSICALES
Frozen Affair, A (8-28-37)	Sept. 17,'37†	10....
Murder in Swing Time (9-4-37)	Sept. 27,'37†	10....
Prairie Swingeroo (12-25-37)	Oct. 15,'37†	10....
LEON ERROL COMEDIES
Dummy Owner, The (1-1-38)	Jan. 7,'38†	19....
Rented Riot, A	Nov. 5,'37†	17....
Should Wives Work (10-9-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	19....
HEADLINER SERIES
3—Rhythm on the Rampage (4-24-37)	Apr. 2,'37	18½..
4—Swing Fever	July 25,'37	20....
1937-38
No. 1—Trailing Along (10-16-37)	Oct. 8,'37†	18....
No. 2—Music Will Tell (1-1-38)	Feb. 11,'38†	.....
EDGAR KENNEDY COMEDIES
Dumb's the Word	June 11,'37	18....
Ears of Experience (1-1-38)	Jan. 28,'38†	18....
Edgar and Goliath (12-25-37)	Nov. 19,'37†	17....
Looks and Bonds	Apr. 16,'37	19....
Morning Judge (10-16-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	18....
Tramp Trouble	Aug. 6,'37	16....
MARCH OF TIME
No. 8	Mar. 19,'37	20....
No. 9 (4-17-37)	Apr. 16,'37	21....
No. 10	May 14,'37	18....
No. 11	June 11,'37	18....
No. 12	July 9,'37	18....
No. 13	Aug. 6,'37	18....
1937-38
No. 1 (9-11-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	17....
No. 2	Oct. 1,'37†	20....
No. 3	Oct. 29,'37†	21....
No. 4	Nov. 26,'37†	20....
No. 5 (1-1-38)	Dec. 25,'37†	18....
No. 6	Jan. 21,'38†	.....
MICKEY MOUSE
Clock Cleaners, The (8-28-37)	Oct. 15,'37†	8....
Donald's Ostrich (1-1-38)	Dec. 10,'37†	9....
Hawaiian Holiday (9-4-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	8....
Lonesome Ghosts (12-25-37)	Dec. 24,'37†	9....
Old Mill, The	Nov. 5,'37†	9....
Pluto's Quintuplets	Nov. 26,'37†	9....
NU-ATLAS PRODUCTIONS
Devilled Ham	Apr. 28,'38†	.....
Phoney Boy (12-25-37)	Nov. 19,'37†	11....
Rhythm in a Night Court (9-4-37)	Sept. 24,'37†	9....
Sweet Shoe (1-1-38)	Jan. 14,'38†	11....
PATHE NEWS
Released twice a week
PATHE PARADE
No. 1 (10-16-37)	Sept. 10,'37†	13....
No. 2 (12-18-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	11....
No. 3	Dec. 31,'37†	.....
PATHE REVIEWS
Released once a month
PATHE TOPICS
Released seven times a year
RADIO FLASH COMEDIES
Horse Play (4-3-37)	Mar. 13,'37	18....
Many Unhappy Returns	Oct. 22,'37†	17....
Stupervisor	Feb. 25,'38†	.....
RADIO MUSICAL COMEDIES
Harris in the Spring (12-25-37)	Dec. 3,'37†	20....
Mississippi Moods (7-31-37)	July 23,'37	17....
That Man Samson	May 28,'37	19....
Twenty Girls and a Band	Apr. 8,'38†	.....
SMART SET
Inlawful	Apr. 30,'37	17....
Rhythm Wranglers (12-25-37)	Dec. 17,'37†	19....
SPECIAL
Day With the Dionne Quintuplets, A (4-24-37)	Mar. 26,'37	18....
SPORTS WITH BILL CORUM
Beach Sports	June 4,'37	9½..
Big League	May 7,'37	11....
Foreign Sports	Apr. 9,'37	10....
Golf Timing (8-21-37)	July 23,'37	11....
Royal Steeds	July 2,'37	10....
Saratoga Summers (3-27-37)	Mar. 12,'37	11....
STRUGGLE TO LIVE
Desert Land	Apr. 5,'37	9....
SUPERBA COMEDIES
Wife Insurance (8-14-37)	July 9,'37	18....
Wrong Romance, The	May 14,'37	19....
WORLD ON PARADE
Circus Winter Quarters	May 14,'37	11....
Florida Cowboy	June 11,'37	9½..
Jungle Playmate	July 30,'37	9....
Mt. Vernon	Mar. 19,'37	10...
Workshops of Old Mexico	July 9,'37	11...

STATE RIGHTS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
AMERICAN RED CROSS
Behind the Flood Headlines (5-8-37)		11....
ASTOR
Carmen (5-29-37)		9....
Halt! Who Goes There? (5-29-37)		9....
JAM HANDY
New Day, A (12-25-37)		12....
ROGERS SPECIAL
Lest We Forget (5-1-37)		1 rl..
U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE
I Pledge My Heart (8-7-37)		11....

20TH CENTURY-FOX

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
ADVENTURES OF THE NEWSREEL CAMERAMAN
Bone Bender Parade, The (8-14-37)	Aug. 6,'37	10....
Filming Modern Youth	Oct. 1,'37†	.....
Filming Nature's Wonders	Dec. 3,'37†	.....
Filming Nature's Wonders	Dec. 3,'37†	.....
Laughing at Fate (11-27-37)	Nov. 5,'37†	8½..
Motor Maniacs (9-25-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	10....
MAGIC CARPET SERIES
Dude Ranch, The	Oct. 8,'37†	.....
Italian Libya (12-4-37)	Nov. 12,'37†	10....
Land of the Maple Leaf, The	Dec. 10,'37†	.....
Mexican Mural (10-16-37)	Sept. 3,'37†	9½..
Modern Dixie		.....
Portraits of Portugal (8-7-37)	Aug. 6,'37	10....

UNITED ARTISTS

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
MICKEY MOUSE
109. Worm Turns, The (1-23-37)	Apr. 17,'37†	8½..
110. Magician Mickey	June 17,'37†	8½..

(THE RELEASE CHART--CONT'D)

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
111. Mickey's Amateurs (6-19-37)	June 4,'37†	1 rl..
112. Moose Hunters	Aug. 5,'37†	9....
SILLY SYMPHONIES
109. Mother Pluto (11-21-36)	Mar. 6,'37†	8½..
110. More Kittens (1-9-37)	Mar. 27,'37†	8½..
111. Woodland Cafe (6-26-37)	Mar. 15,'37†	1 rl..
112. Little Hiawatha (6-26-37)	May 11,'37†	.....
113. Modern Invention (6-26-37)	June 17,'37†	.....

UNIVERSAL

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
GOING PLACES with LOWELL THOMAS
No. 35 (4-17-37)	Apr. 12,'37	7....
No. 36 (5-15-37)	May 10,'37	9½..
No. 37 (5-15-37)	June 7,'37	9½..
No. 38 (7-24-37)	July 26,'37	10....
No. 39 (10-23-37)	Oct. 18,'37†	9....
No. 40 (12-4-37)	Nov. 1,'37†	9....
No. 41 (12-11-37)	Nov. 15,'37†	9....
No. 42	Nov. 22,'37†	9....
No. 43	Dec. 6,'37†	9....
No. 44	Jan. 3,'38†	.....
No. 45—	Jan. 29,'38†	.....
MEANY-MINY-MOE CARTOONS
Air Express (10-2-37)	Sept. 20,'37†	6....
Big Race, The (3-13-37)	Mar. 3,'37	7....
Country Store (8-7-37)	July 5,'37	7....
Fireman's Picnic (10-16-37)	Aug. 16,'37	6½..
Lumber Camp (3-20-37)	Mar. 15,'37	7....
Ostrich Feathers (10-2-37)	Sept. 6,'37†	7....
Rest Resort (10-16-37)	Aug. 23,'37	7....
Steel Workers (5-15-37)	Apr. 26,'37	7....
Stevedores, The	May 24,'37	7....
MENTONE MUSICAL COMEDIES
All Aboard (11-6-37)	Dec. 1,'37†	17....
Alpine Cabaret (8-14-37)	Aug. 4,'37	10....
Bargain Matinee (3-20-37)	Apr. 14,'37	10....
Cocktail Party, The (5-15-37)	May 12,'37	10....
Hawaiian Capers (9-18-37)	Sept. 8,'37†	17....
It's On the Record	Mar. 17,'37	10½..
Oh, Say Can You Hear? (12-18-37)	Dec. 29,'37†	18....
Rhapsody in Zoo (12-11-37)	Jan. 26,'38†	15½..
Shoes With Rhythm (5-15-37)	June 9,'37	10....
Show for Sale (10-30-37)	Nov. 3,'37†	21....
Singing Bandit, The (7-3-37)	July 7,'37	10....
Teddy Bergman's Bar-B-Q (10-16-37)	Oct. 6,'37†	19....
OSWALD CARTOONS
Duck Hunt (3-13-37)	Mar. 8,'37	7....
Dumb Cluck (12-11-37)	Dec. 20,'37†	7....
Football Fever (12-4-37)	Nov. 15,'37†	7....
Keeper of the Lions (11-13-37)	Oct. 18,'37†	7....
Lamplighter, The	Jan. 10,'38†	7....
Love Sick (11-6-37)	Oct. 4,'37†	8....
Mechanical Handy Man (10-30-37)	Nov. 8,'37†	7....
Mysterious Jug, The (12-11-37)	Nov. 29,'37†	7....
Playful Pup, The (7-31-37)	July 12,'37	7....
Trailer Thrills (5-15-37)	May 3,'37	7....
Wily Weasel, The	June 7,'37	7....
STRANGER THAN FICTION SERIES
No. 35—Novelty (4-17-37)	Apr. 26,'37	9....
No. 36—Novelty (4-17-37)	May 24,'37	8....
No. 37—Novelty (7-3-37)	June 21,'37	8½..
No. 38—Novelty (5-15-37)	July 19,'37	9....
No. 39—Novelty (7-24-37)	Aug. 16,'37	9....
No. 40—Novelty (9-18-37)	Sept. 6,'37†	9....
No. 41—Novelty	Oct. 4,'37†	9....
No. 42—Novelty	Nov. 1,'37†	9....
No. 43—Novelty (12-4-37)	Nov. 29,'37†	9....
No. 44—Novelty (12-11-37)	Dec. 27,'37†	9....
No. 45—Novelty	Jan. 17,'38†	.....
UNIVERSAL SPECIAL
Bombing of the U. S. S. Panay
Breathless Moments		2 rls.
Hollywood Screen Test (8-14-37)	Aug. 30,'37†	21....

VITAPHONE

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
BIG TIME VAUDEVILLE REEL
Bring On the Girls (Edgar Bergen)	Mar. 6,'37	11....
Vitaphone Diversions (Smith and Dale)	Apr. 3,'37	10....
Nickel Lowdown (Charles Kemper)	May 1,'37	10....
Vitaphone Funsters (6-12-37) (Johnny Burke)	May 29,'37	11....
Vaude-Festival (Fritz and Jean Hubert)	June 26,'37	.....
Vaudeville Hits (Elaine Arden)	July 17,'37	.....
Vitaphone Broadwaytes (Medley-Dupree)	Aug. 21,'37	10....
BROADWAY BREVITIES
Swing for Sale (3-13-37) (Hal LeRoy)	Feb. 27,'37	22....
Under Southern Stars (Fred Lawrence-J. Bryan)	Feb. 20,'37	18....
Hotel a la Swing (Eddie Foy, Jr.)	Mar. 13,'37	20....
Mail and Female (Ken Murray)	Mar. 27,'37	21....
Play Street (4-10-37) (Preisser Sisters)	Apr. 3,'37	21....
Romance of Robert Burns (4-10-37) (Owen King-Linda Perry)	Apr. 10,'37	16....
Lifers of the Party, The (Yacht Club Boys)	Apr. 17,'37	21....
Joe Palooka in "Taking the Count" (Shemp Howard-Robt. Norton)	Apr. 24,'37	21....
Movie Mania (Dave Apollon)	May 8,'37	20....
Musical Operation, A (Frank Gaby-Virginia Verrill)	May 15,'37	20....
Day at Santa Anita (Sybil Jason)	May 22,'37	18....
Sound Defects (6-12-37) (Rufe Davis)	June 5,'37	22....
Joe Palooka in "Thirst Aid" (Robt. Norton-Beverly Phalen)	June 12,'37	20....
Rhythm Roundup, The (Estelle Taylor)	June 19,'37	21....
Little Pioneer, The (7-10-37) (Sybil Jason)	July 3,'37	19....
Newsboy's Nocturne (7-10-37) (Lane, Tree & Edwards)	July 10,'37	20....
Flowers from the Sky (8-21-37) (Josephine Huston)	July 24,'37	22....
Cut Out for Love (Donald Novis-Dorothy Dare)	Aug. 2,'37	.....
Du Barry Did All Right (Irene Bordoni)	Aug. 7,'37	....
Doctor Cupid (Ken Murray-Oswald)	Sept. 4,'37†	....
Postal Union (Georgie Price)	Sept. 11,'37†	.....
Littlest Diplomat, The (9-11-37) (Sybil Jason)	Sept. 25,'37†	20....
Ups and Downs (Hal LeRoy)	Oct. 9,'37†	.....
Starlets (11-20-37)	Oct. 23,'37†	20..
Toot Sweet (Fifi D'Orsay-Rufe Davis)	Nov. 6,'37†	....
Joe Palooka in "Calling All Kids"	Nov. 20,'37†	17. ..
Man Without a Country, The (John Litel)	Nov. 27,'37†	.....
Here's Your Hat (Cookie Bowers)	Dec. 11,'37†	2 rls.
One On the House (Willie, West, McGinty)	Dec. 18,'37†	2 rls.
Wedding Yells (Ken Murray-Oswald)	Jan. 1,'38†	20....
Script Girl (Cross and Dunn)	Jan. 15,'38†	.....
COLORTOUR ADVENTURE (In Color)
Land of the Midnight Sun	Feb. 27,'37	10....
Nature the Artist (4-10-37)	Mar. 20,'37	10....
Cradle of Civilization	Apr. 17,'37	10....
Alpine Grandeur	May 15,'37	10....
Gateway to Africa (6-12-37)	June 12,'37	10....
Land of the Magyar (7-10-37)	July 3,'37	.....
Crossing the Sahara	Aug. 14,'37	.....
Long Bright Land (9-11-37)	Sept. 25,'37†	10....
It's Work	Oct. 23,'37†	.....
Mysterious Ceylon	Nov. 20,'37†	.....
Land of the Kangaroo (11-20-37)	Dec. 18,'37†	10....
India's Millions	Jan. 8,'38†	.....
FLOYD GIBBONS' "YOUR TRUE ADVENTURE"
Attic of Terror (9-11-37)	Sept. 18,'37†	12....
Playing with Danger (11-20-37)	Oct. 30,'37†	13...
Danger—High Voltage	Dec. 4,'37†	1 rl..
Alibi Mark	Dec. 25,'37†	1 rl..
Bolted Door, The	Jan. 22,'38†	.....
LOONEY TUNES
No. 33—Porky's Romance	Apr. 17,'37	8....
No. 34—Porky's Duck Hunt	Apr. 17,'37	8....
No. 35—Porky and Gabby (6-12-37)	May 15,'37	8....
No. 36—Porky's Building	June 19,'37	8....
No. 37—Porky's Super Service (7-10-37)	July 3,'37	8....
No. 38—Porky's Bad Time Story	July 24,'37	7....
No. 39—Porky's Railroad (8-14-37)	Aug. 7,'37	7....
No. 40—Get Rich Porky	Aug. 28,'37	.....
No. 41—Porky's Garden	Sept. 11,'37	.....
No. 42—Rover's Rival	Oct. 9,'37†	.....
No. 43—The Case of the Stuttering Pig	Oct. 30,'37†	.....
No. 44—Porky's Double Trouble (11-20-37)	Nov. 13,'37†	7....
No. 45—Porky's Hero Agency	Dec. 4,'37†	7....
No. 46—Porky's Poppa	Jan. 15,'38†	.....
MELODY MASTERS
Cab Calloway and Orch. (3-13-37)	Feb. 20,'37	10....
Peter Van Steden and Orch.	Mar. 6,'37	10....
Jacques Fray and Orch. (4-10-37)	Mar. 27,'37	10....
Jam Session, The (Clyde McCoy and Orch.	Apr. 17,'37	10....
Rimac Orchestra, The	May 8,'37	10....
Jack Denny and Orch.	May 29,'37	10....
Eliseo Grenet and Orch. (6-19-37)	June 19,'37	10....
Lennie Hayton and Orch. (7-10-37)	July 10,'37	10....
David Mendoza and Orch. (8-21-37)	July 31,'37	10....
Russ Morgan and Orch.	Sept. 11,'37†	.....
Milt Britton and Orch.	Oct. 2,'37†	.....
Mal Hallett and Orch.	Oct. 23,'37†	.....
Arnold Johnson and Orch. (9-11-37)	Nov. 13,'37†	10....
Jan Rubini and Orch.	Dec. 4,'37†	1 rl..
Henry King and Orch.	Dec. 25,'37†	1 rl..
Leon Navara and Orch.	Jan. 15,'38†	.....
MERRIE MELODIES (In Color)
No. 32—I Only Have Eyes For You (3-6-37)	Mar. 6,'37	8....
No. 33—The Fella with the Fiddle (4-10-37)	Mar. 27,'37	8....
No. 34—She Was an Acrobat's Daughter	Apr. 10,'37	8....
No. 35—Ain't We Got Fun	May 1,'37	8....
No. 36—Clean Pastures	May 22,'37	.....
No. 37—Uncle Tom's Bungalow	June 5,'37	.....
No. 38—Streamlined Greta Green (6-12-37)	June 19,'37	8....
No. 39—Sweet Sioux (7-10-37)	June 26,'37	8....
No. 40—Egghead Rides Again	July 17,'37	8....
No. 41—Plenty of Money and You	July 31,'37	7....
No. 42—Sunbonnet Blue	Aug. 21,'37	.....
No. 43—Speaking of the Weather (8-21-37)	Sept. 4,'37	7....
No. 44—Dog Daze	Sept. 18,'37	.....
No. 45—I Wanna Be A Sailor	Sept. 25,'37†	.....
No. 46—The Lyin' Mouse	Oct. 16,'37†	.....
No. 47—Little Red Walking Hood	Nov. 6,'37†	.....
No. 48—Woods Are Full of Cuckoos	Dec. 4,'37†	1 rl..
No. 49—September In the Rain	Dec. 18,'37†	1 rl..
No. 50—Daffy Duck and Egghead	Jan. 1,'38†	.....
PICTORIAL REVIEWS
No. 7—Phonograph Records—Lipsticks (4-10-37)	Mar. 20,'37	11....
No. 8—Coiffeurs—Shoes	Apr. 10,'37	10....
No. 9—Hats—Bathing Suits	May 11,'37	10....
No. 10—Dancing-Leather (6-5-37)	May 22,'37	10....
No. 11—Milk—Rugs	June 19,'37	10....
No. 12—Pianos—Art (8-14-37)	July 17,'37	10....
No. 13—Books—Furs	Aug. 28,'37	.....
(NEW SERIES)
No. 1—Racing—Wrestling —Cheese (9-11-37)	Sept. 18,'37	10....
No. 2—Mauch Twins—Table Tennis	Oct. 16,'37†	.....
No. 3—Dogs—Hollywood Rides (11-13-37)	Nov. 13,'37†	10....
No. 4—Boxers—Dolls	Dec. 11,'37†	.....
No. 5—Ice Cream—Jockeys	Jan. 8,'38†	.....
VITAPHONE NOVELTIES
Medium Well Done (Hardeen)	Mar. 6,'37	10....
Ghost to Ghost Hookup, A (Radio Ramblers)	Apr. 3,'37	11....
Home Run on the Keys (4-3-37) (Babe Ruth)	Apr. 24,'37	8....
Check Your Cash (Louis Zingone)	May 22,'37	10....
Double Talk (6-5-37) (Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy")	June 26,'37	10....
Palm Beach Knights (Charles Ahearn)	July 31,'37	.....
Lyin' Tamer, The (7-11-36) (George Jessel)	Aug. 28,'37	10....
All American Drawback (11-20-37) (Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy")	Nov. 6,'37†	11....
VITAPHONE VARIETIES
Neckin' Party, A (9-11-37) (Edgar Bergen—"Charlie McCarthy")	Sept. 4,'37†	11....
Puppet Love (9-11-37) (Sallei's Puppets)	Oct. 2,'37†	10....
Roping 'Em Alive	Nov. 6,'37†	.....
Vitaphone Frolics (11-20-37) (Jack & Loretta Clemens)	Dec. 4,'37†	10....
Unreal Newsreel	Jan. 8,'38†	.....

WM. STEINER

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Eagle's Vengeance, The	July 29,'37†	20....

WORLD

Title	Rel. Date	Min.
Battling Bettas	July 8,'37†	10....
Men of Ships	Sept. 10,'37†	9....
Paper Hanger, The (Cartoon)	Dec. 25,'37†	.....
Story of the Rose, A (1-16-37)		10....

SERIALS

12 Episodes Each Unless Otherwise Specified

COLUMBIA

Jungle Menace (9-4-37) (Frank Buck-C. Henry (15 episodes)	Sept. 1,'37†	20.... (each)
Mysterious Pilot, The (12-25-37) (Capt. Frank Hawks (15 episodes)	Dec. 9,'37†	-5.... (each)
Secret of Treasure Island, The (15 episodes)	Mar. 17,'38†	.....

REPUBLIC

Lone Ranger, The 7401 (Lee Powell-Herman Brix (15 episodes)	Feb. 12,'38†	.....
Painted Stallion, The, 6421 (Ray Corrigan-Hoot Gibson	June 5,'37†	.....
S. O. S. Coast Guard 6441 (Ralph Byrd-Maxine Doyle	Aug. 28,'37†	.....
Zorro Rides Again 6461 (John Carroll-Helen Christian	Nov. 20,'37†	.....

UNIVERSAL

Flash Gordon's Trip to Mars (Larry Crabbe-Jean Rogers
Radio Patrol (9-18-37) (Grant Withers-Cath. Hughes (Exploitation: Dec. 25,'37, p. 57.)	Oct. 4,'37†	2 rls. (each)
Secret Agent X9 (Scott Kolk-Jean Rogers	Apr. 12,'37	2 rls. (each)
Tim Tyler's Luck (11-27-37) (Frankie Thomas, Jr.,-Frances Robinson	Dec. 27,'37†	2 rls.
Wild West Days (6-26-37) (Johnny Mack Brown (13 episodes)	July 5,'37†	2 rls. (each)

VICTORY

Blake of Scotland Yard (Ralph Byrd-Herbert Rawlinson (15 episodes—also feature version)	Apr. 15,'37	.....

J C JENKINS—HIS COLYUM

Neligh, Nebraska

Dear Herald:

When winter comes, and north winds blow
And the whole landscape is white with snow,
It is then that we would like to go
Down where the warm gulf breezes blow

We'd give our coat and pants and shirt
And in our B.V.D.'s would flirt.
We'd throw in all our socks to boot
For some more Texas citrus fruit.

We'd even give our good right hand
To go back to the Rio Grande
Where we'd travel fast and travel slow
To meet the boys we used to know.

But speaking of winter, last night it was 12 below and a strong north wind blowing like the milltails of Hel-ena, Montana. This sub-zero weather, and snow, and the P.A.E. boys are going to make it mighty tough on these predatory animals—Jackrabbits always did have our sympathy anyhow.

▽

In an editorial in one of our daily papers, speaking of the broadcasting companies, we note this:

"There come programs boosting the sale of deleterious drug and food products. You wonder why the commission does nothing about it; why the poisoning of youthful minds is permitted; why ignorant persons are thus deluded into buying and using fake remedies and harmful drugs; and no action taken for their protection."

Well, it seems that we are not the only kicker. But why jump on the broadcasting companies, they have to have this advertising or they couldn't operate. We never saw a radio set yet that didn't have a key by which one could turn the damthing off if he didn't like the program. We don't need censorship of radio programs, all we need is a key, we can do our own censoring.

▽

You should get "Stage Door" and show it. Not that you will find it a very wonderful picture, but because it will give your audience an insight to the lives of thousands of girls who have left their homes and gone to Hollywood expecting to become a star over night. Some writer said that there are eighteen hundred girls on the waiting list and only about thirty of them have a chance of being called. The boarding house scene, where a number of these girls board, shows the disappointment and privations through which these girls have to go and it should be a lesson to all girls who are screen struck, and they should be more ready to accept Dad and Mother's advice.

Adolph Menjou, Ginger Rogers and Katherine Hepburn are the principal players and they each give a very excellent performance. Our guess is that there is no spot in this country where there are more disappointments and heart-breaks than in Hollywood. But then you know, Dad and Mother are just a couple of old fogies and don't count for much anyhow.

We often wonder what has become of the "Four Horsemen" as Bill Weaver of the HERALD used to call us. We have been told that Fred Meyer is in Hollywood looking after Universal's interest.

The last time we saw Fred we were entertained at dinner at his home in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and we still remember what a lovely dinner it was, too. The last time we saw Ernie Sprague was in Hollywood where he and his mother were spending the winter, and the last time we saw Phil Rand was at his delightful home in Salmon, Idaho.

It always seemed to us that there is something wrong about the general scheme of things when good fellows, like the "Four Horsemen," get stranded on the rocks of obscurity. Anyhow, we wish for them, wherever they are, all the good things we feel they are entitled to.

▽

The paper today says that little Willie asked the teacher what he had learned at school that day and the teacher said, "Why Willie, what do you want to know for?" and Willie replied, "Well, when I get home my folks will ask me what I learned and I want to be able to tell 'em."

▽

We often wonder what has become of the stars we used to love so well. May Clark, Edith Story, Pauline Frederick, Edith Johnson, Anita Stewart, May Allison, Beverly Baine, Ruth Roland, Francis X. Bushman, Maurice Costello and dozens more. Oh, well, as Major Bowes says, "The wheel of fortune spins and around and around it goes and where it stops nobody knows."

▽

Last night the mercury dropped to 18 below and today the weather bureau says "colder tomorrow, with much colder weather coming."

We have an open season on predatory animals but a closed season on weather forecasters, and there ought to be something done about that.

▽

We have just received a letter from our good friend Mr. Walter L. Ladlow of the Mullen theatre at Mullen, Nebraska, asking us to have his subscription renewed to the HERALD and also asking us to come and visit him some time. We know of nothing that would please us more. We have another good friend at Mullen as we remember it, who we used to shoot ducks and geese with back on Beaver Lake in Indiana and we hope if he is still there that Mr. Ladlow will give our kindest regards to Johnnie Manderville.

▽

The other day there were twenty able-bodied recruits from the shelterbelt crew who went forth to do battle fearlessly with the predatory animals, and when the carnage was over the stretcher bearers gathered up 68 jackrabbits and one gopher, and not a man was lost.

This record inclines us to want to join the P.A.E.'s, for—

When winter comes we fear we'll freeze
And there'll be no recompense,
So we'll go and join the P.A.E.'s
At government expense.

COLONEL J. C. JENKINS
The HERALD's Vagabond Colyumnist

The HERALD covers the FIELD like an April SHOWER.

IN THE NEWSREELS

MOVIETONE NEWS — No. 34, Vol. 20. — Justice Sutherland announces his resignation from the supreme court....Justice Van Devanter sits in New York court....Alfred E. Smith has 64th birthday....Senator Glass has 80th birthday....Barnyard champions at poultry show....Bathing beauties at Sun Valley brave frost in swim suits....Fashions....Europe's newest plane is a novelty....Ski enthusiasts attend special mass....Horace Dodge travels 77 m.p.h. in Miami waters....Training sled dogs....Lew Lehr.

MOVIETONE NEWS—No. 35, Vol. 20.—All China tense as more territory falls to Japan....President Roosevelt addresses fellow Democrats....Girls join a school to become drum majorettes....Governor Hoffman....Hugh R. Wilson.... Colonel Olds....Gene Tunney....Lloyd George....Motorboat Show....Lew Lehr....Sports fans attend ski-jumping exhibition in New York state....Max Baer a father....Man O'War has 21st birthday.

NEWS OF THE DAY—No. 232, Vol. 9.—President demands bigger Navy....Senator Glass celebrates 80th birthday....Mr. Justice Sutherland retires at 75....King Carol now Rumania's "strong man"....Industry and government get together....The Woman's Page....New England winter sports in full swing....Warm water bathing in wintry Sun Valley.

NEWS OF THE DAY—No. 233, Vol. 9.—Roosevelt-Garner "act" steals show....Lindbergh baby case in the news again....Britain gets forces ready at Hong Kong....Mummers, a trifle late, hail New Year....The Woman's Page....Denny Shute displays golf skill....Skate sailors hold thrilling meet.

PARAMOUNT NEWS—No. 45.—Ski fever grips U. S. ....Government investigates yacht deaths....Celebrities go south for the sun....Justice Sutherland to retire from supreme court....$1,000,000 in fiddles....Thousands attend Erich Ludendorff funeral in Munich....Basketball.

PARAMOUNT NEWS—No. 46.—Mummers on parade. ....Toyko tube blows up....Teruel falls....Dizzy Dean celebrates 27th birthday....Bitsy Grant upsets Robert Riggs in tennis....Max Baer is proud parent ....Flee Devil's island....Good humor marks President's appearance at Jackson Day dinner.

PATHE NEWS—No. 49, Vol. 9.—Justice Sutherland retires....Bob sledders tackle curves....Senate seeks end of slump....Fashion in hats....War supplies jam Hong Kong....U. S. Navy Yard work at peak ....Navy's newest fighting planes.

PATHE NEWS—No. 50, Vol. 9.—Bryan Grant wins tennis tourney....Motorboat show opens in New York....U. S. appoints new envoy to Berlin....Capital society turns out for Velvet Ball....Steel industry gets new freighter....Italy's Queen rewards big families....Window cleaners dare dizzy heights....President speaks at Jackson Day dinner.

UNIVERSAL NEWSPAPER NEWSREEL—No. 630, Vol. 9.—Justice Sutherland retiring....Skiers attend novel mass....Senator Glass celebrates 80th birthday....Miss 1938 tries new footwear....Ice Hockey in New York....Wrestling in mud....U. S. Army polo team beats Cubans....Poultry Show in New York....Doctor on duty to protect Miami bathers from sunburn....Sled dogs trained.

UNIVERSAL NEWSPAPER NEWSREEL—No. 631, Vol. 9.—Roosevelt hits "autocrats"....Mummers in historic march....Max Baer and son....Velvet Ball held in capital....'Ice man" in Miami....Boat show draws big crowds....Senate investigates "slump"....Pups give terrier headache....Ski-girls display costumes.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

the great national medium for showmen

Ten cents per word, money-order or check with copy. Count initials, box number and address. Minimum insertion, $1. Four insertions for the price of three. Contract rates on application. No borders or cuts. Forms close Mondays at 5 P.M. Publisher reserves the right to reject any copy. Film and trailer service advertising not accepted. Classified advertising not subject to agency commission. Address correspondence, copy and checks to MOTION PICTURE HERALD, Classified Dept., Rockefeller Center, New York City.

USED EQUIPMENT

CHAIRS! CHAIRS! CHAIRS! 17,000, AS LOW as 75c each. Many originally from finest theatres, Irwin, Ideal, Stream-Ease, American, other famous makes, ready for immediate delivery. Tell us what you need. S. O. S., 636-AC Eleventh Ave., New York.

UNUSUAL BARGAINS IN USED OPERA chairs, sound equipment, motion picture machines, screens, spotlights, stereopticons, etc. Projection machines repaired. Catalog H free. MOVIE SUPPLY COMPANY, Ltd., 844 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago.

ONE PAIR SIMPLEX ACME SEMI-PORTABLES with 2000-ft. magazines and Strong arcs, RCA sound —A-1 condition—$850 cash. GEORGE BUSHER, 3313 Olive St., St. Louis, Mo.

2500 USED SPRING CUSHIONED THEATRE seats for sale; in good condition. HARrison 3035, 1014 So. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

FOR SALE: PAIR HOLMES SOUND PROJECtors, like new. Cash talks. BOX 73, Apple River, Ill.

GENERAL EQUIPMENT

BRAND NEW GENUINE BAUSCH & LOMB High Fidelity optical systems, list $25, special $11.95. Photocells, guaranteed, $4.95. Certified rebuilt Simplex projectors, $235. Lenses, $10 pair. New High Fidelity amplifiers with metal tubes, from $35.75. Plenty of bargains from our large stock. Write CONSOLIDATED THEATRE SUPPLY CORP., 1600M Broadway, New York.

NO MATTER WHAT YOUR THEATRE NEEDS, we have it. New and reconditioned projectors, lamphouses, sound systems, screens, speakers, rectifiers and everything else for your theatre at industry's lowest prices. New Class A metal tube amplifiers, from $39.50. Write today. S. O. S., 636-AC Eleventh Ave., New York.

WE BUY — SELL — EXCHANGE — MINIATURE and movie cameras. CAMERA-MART, 110 West 40th Street, New York.

SIMPLEX MECHANISM EXCELLENT CONDItion $125; complete projector $175 each; Super Morelite low-intensity $75 each; double 20-amp. rectifier $75 less bulbs; Crown twin-call two-way loud speaker system for only $23.95. CROWN, 614 Ninth Ave., New York.

CHAIRS—CHAIRS—CHAIRS. NEW AND USED. We have them. Write for information. ALLIED SEATING CO., INC., 358 West 44th St., New York.

TRAINING SCHOOL

THEATRE EMPLOYEES: ADVANCE TO BETter theatre positions. Free booklet shows you how THEATRE INSTITUTE, 315 Washington St., Elmira N. Y.

NEW EQUIPMENT

BARGAINS GALORE ALWAYS IN STORE FOR you. Exciter lamps, 39c. Super photocells, type 71A guaranteed 3 years, $4.95. Voco-Chrome sound screens, full size 22½c sq. feet. New 50 amp. rectifiers (Forest made) brand new for Suprex, $74.75. We save you money on everything. S. O. S., 636-AC Eleventh Avenue, New York.

BOOKS

LIKE AN EXTRA HAND WHEN YOU NEED IT. It's Richardson's 5th edition, vol. 3, with famous, "Question and Answer" index. Not the latest but great value for only $1.95. Order from S. O. S., 636-AC Eleventh Ave., New York.

RICHARDSON'S BLUEBOOK OF PROJECTION—Revised Sixth edition. The revised edition includes 736 pages of up-to-the-minute text, charts and data with detailed description of assembly, wiring and functioning of all modern sound and projection apparatus. It is a practical "trouble shooter," cross indexed for immediate reference in any projection room emergency. ORDER TODAY! $6.25 postpaid. QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP, Rockefeller Center, New York.

PRINTING SERVICE

A NEW IDEA IN BOX OFFICE STIMULANTS. No royalties. Write us for samples. KNOX PRINTING CO., Hoopeston, Ill.

BOOKKEEPING SYSTEMS

THEATRE ACCOUNTING BY WILLIAM F. Morris, is still the best bookkeeping system for theatres. It not only guides you in making the proper entries, but provides sufficient blank pages for a complete record of your operations for each day of the year. Notable for its simplicity. Order now—$4 postage prepaid. QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP, Rockefeller Center, New York.

TRANSLATION SERVICE

WILL MAKE FRENCH AND SPANISH TRANSlation of advertising literature at nominal cost. Can supply complete advertising layout and printing facilities also. Rates quoted upon request if sample submitted. BOX 916A, MOTION PICTURE HERALD

POSITIONS WANTED

PROJECTIONIST — 7 YEARS' EXPERIENCE. Any machine. Go anywhere. SHEPHERD, 3244 No. Crawford, Chicago.

MANAGER, BOOKER, PROMOTION, CIRCUIT or independent. Experienced, go anywhere, best references. Salary or percentage. BOX 957, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

MANAGER, YOUNG, SIX YEARS' EXPERIENCE buying, booking and operation, desires permanent connection, college education, excellent personality and references. BOX 956, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

YOUNG MANAGER, BOOKER, PROJECTIONIST of proven ability. Sober, progressive. West preferred. BOX 961, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

MANAGER, TEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE, NOW employed desires work with another company preferably in or near Washington. Excellent references. BOX 964, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

PROJECTIONIST — EXPERIENCED ON WESTern Electric and RCA Sound. Single. Good references. Will work at reasonable salary. BOX 72, Oswego, Kansas.

MANAGER, SERVICE MAN OR PROJECTIONist. Fourteen years with last employer. Married, age 37. References. BOX 966, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

PROJECTIONIST—7 YEARS, SIMPLEX, POWers, Western Electric RCA. Exploitation. TOM WATSON, Artesia, New Mexico.

THEATRES

WANTED, SMALL TOWN THEATRE, NEW England or New York. BOX 945, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

WILL BUY SMALL TOWN THEATRE. BOX 960, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

FOR SALE OR LEASE. SEATING 240, POPUlation, 1,300. Sound, Simplex projectors good condition. JOHN SOKOLICH, c/o Carlton Club, Anderson, Indiana.

FOR SALE—THEATRE AND BUSINESS BLOCK —location, small town Western New York. BOX 963, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

WANTED SMALL TOWN THEATRE, SOUTHern Ohio or West Virginia. BOX 965, MOTION PICTURE HERALD.

PRESS OF
C. J. O'BRIEN, INC.
NEW YORK

GETTING AN EYEFUL

WILL GIVE THEM AN EYE-FUL . . . AND AN EARFUL . . . OF THE WILDEST, CRAZIEST BELLY LAUGH COMEDY IN MANY MOONS.

. . . and keep both your eyes on it's TWO GOOFY COMICS!

CHARLES KEMPER
and DANNY KAYE

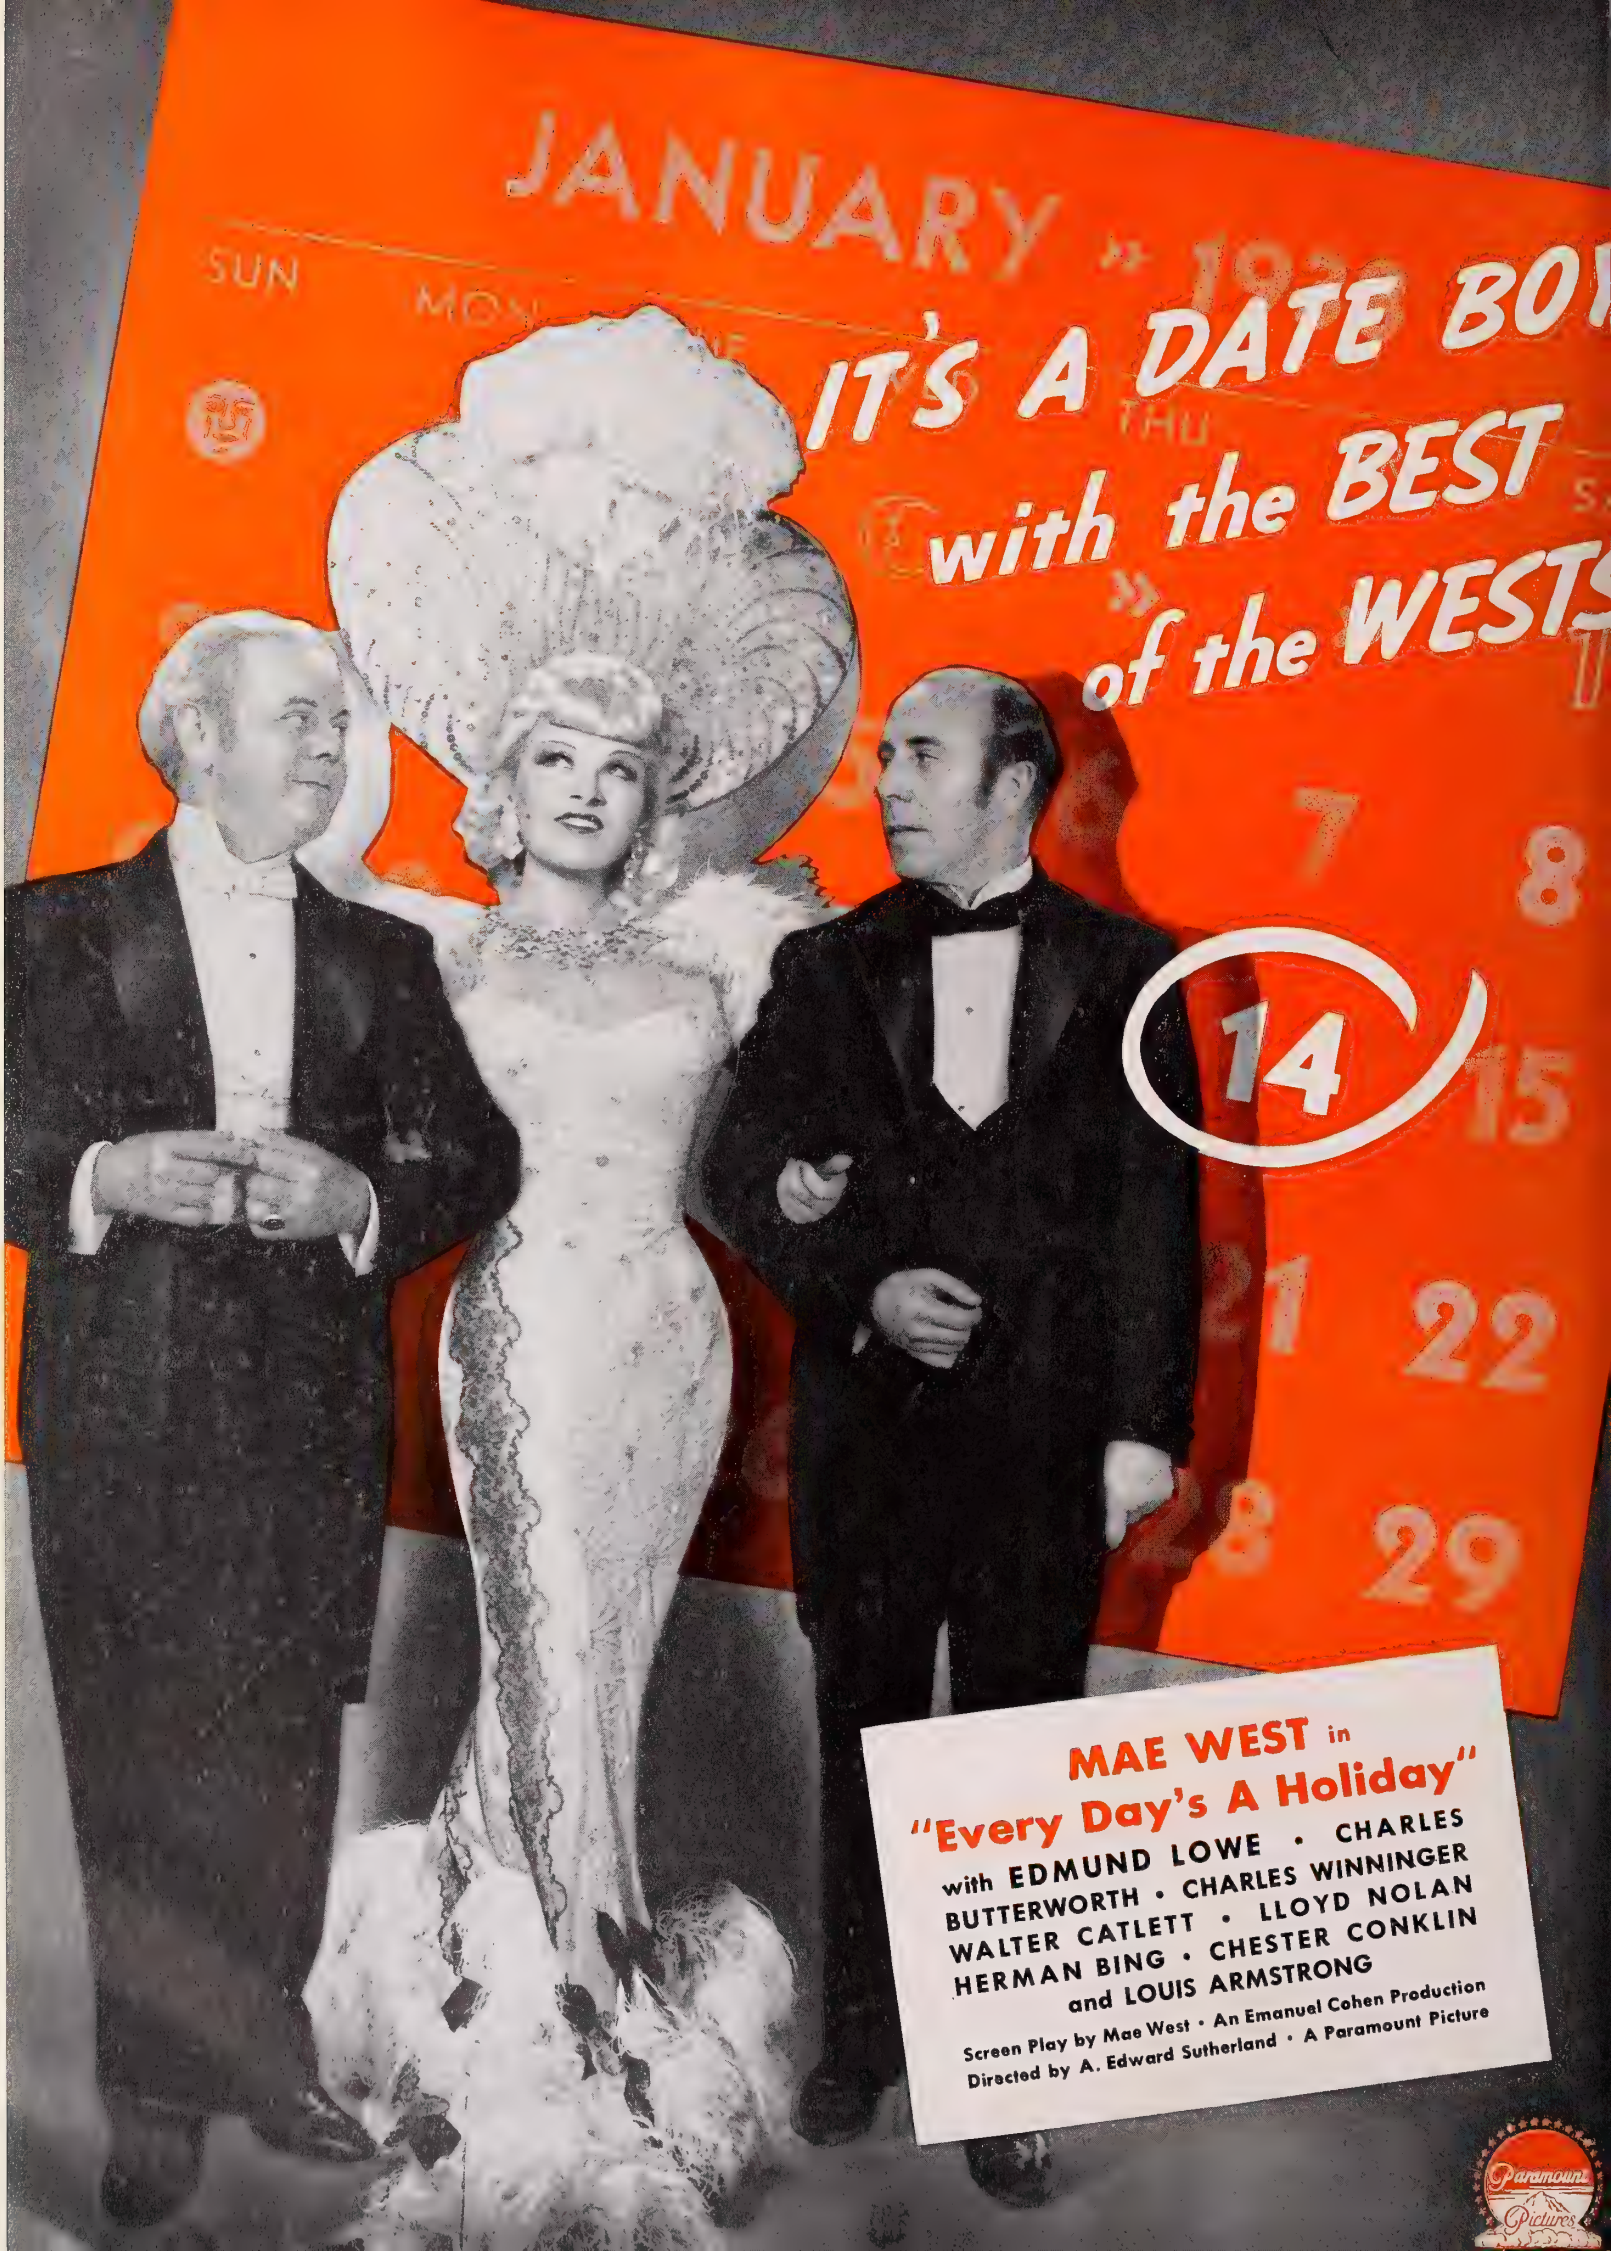
they're going places!

"HOW TO DANCE THE SHAG"
Featuring
Arthur Murray and his Shag Dancers

Everybody's doing it . . . or wants to learn how. Another timely dance featurette as easy to exploit for profit as "The Big Apple." With special ad helps.



"GREY OWL'S LITTLE BROTHER"

Fascinating story of the North Woods, released while Grey Owl, Canadian Indian naturalist, is getting wide newspaper and magazine publicity.

Presented by
E. W. HAMMONS

Educational Pictures
"THE SPICE OF THE PROGRAM"
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off

Distributed in U. S. A. by 20th CENTURY-FOX FILM CORPORATION

JANUARY
SUN
IT'S A DATE BO with the BEST of the WEST
14
MAE WEST in
"Every Day's A Holiday"
with EDMUND LOWE • CHARLES BUTTERWORTH • CHARLES WINNINGER
WALTER CATLETT • LLOYD NOLAN
HERMAN BING • CHESTER CONKLIN and LOUIS ARMSTRONG
Screen Play by Mae West • An Emanuel Cohen Production
Directed by A. Edward Sutherland • A Paramount Picture
Paramount Pictures

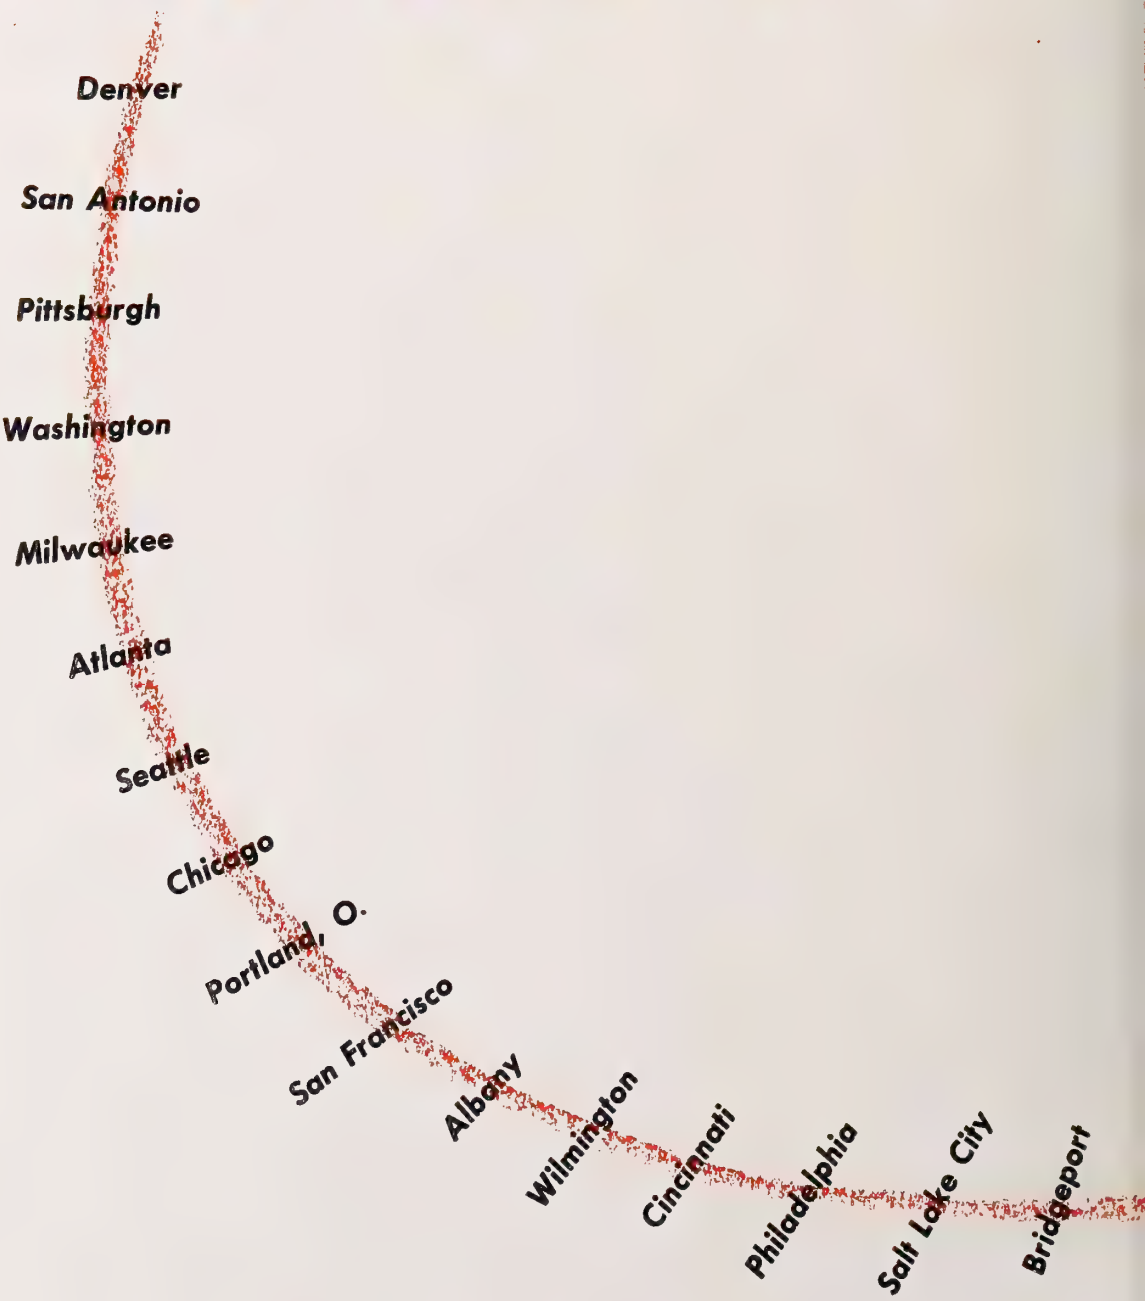
DO NOT REMOVE

MOTION PICTURE PROD. &
DIST. OF AMERICA,
28 W. 44TH ST.,
NEW YORK,
N. Y.

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

EXHIBITORS TAKE TAX RELIEF APPEALS TO WASHINGTON

CONGRESSMEN PRESS DEMAND FOR RADIO INQUIRY BY U. S.



DISTRIBUTORS CARRY DALLAS RULING TO SUPREME COURT

POLITICS AND LOVE THEMES DEPOSE REDS' FILM LEADER

VOL. 130, NO. 4

JANUARY 22, 1938

A CROSS-SECTION OF AMERICA SAYS HERE'S ANOTHER M-G-M HIT!

Watch your bookings! Here's a show that has leaped into the headlines in its first rousing engagements!

Everything you could wish for!

WARNER BROS. in 1938...

JANUARY

TOVARICH

(Claudette Colbert, Charles Boy
Basil Rathbone, Anita Louise,
Melville Cooper, Isabel Jeans)

HOLLYWOOD HOTEL

(Dick Powell, Rosemary Lane,
Hugh Herbert, The Hollywood Ho
Program with Louella Parsons a
Frances Langford, Benny Goodm
& His Swing Band, Lola Lane)

THE INVISIBLE MENACE

(Boris Karloff, Marie Wilson, Eddie Craven)

SWING YOUR LADY

(Humphrey Bogart, Frank McHug
Louise Fazenda, Nat Pendleton
Penny Singleton, Allen Jenkins
The Weaver Brothers and Elviry

FEBRUARY

PENROD AND HIS TWIN BROTHER

(The Mauch Twins: Billy and Bob
Frank Craven, Spring Byington

GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

(In Technicolor; George Brent, Olivia de Havilland, Claude Rains, Margaret Lindsay)

JEZEBEL

(Bette Davis, Henry Fonda, George Brent, Donald Crisp, Margaret Lindsay, Fay Bainter, Richard Cromwell)

MAY

FOOLS FOR SCANDAL

(Carole Lombard, Fernand Gravet, Ralph Bellamy, Allen Jenkins, Isabel Jeans, Marie Wilson)

THE KID COMES BACK

(Wayne Morris!)

LOVE HONOR AND BEHAVE

(Wayne Morris, Priscilla Lane, and "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen")

THE DUDE RANCHER

(Dick Powell, Pat O'Brien Priscilla Lane, Johnnie Davis, Frank McHugh, Dick Foran)

APRIL

THE ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD

(In Technicolor; Errol Flynn Olivia de Havilland, Basil Rathbone, Claude Rains, Melville Cooper, Eugene Pallette, Ian Hunter, Alan Hale, Patric Knowles, Una O'Connor)

JUNE

GOLD DIGGERS IN PARIS

(Rudy Vallee, Rosemary Lane, Priscilla Lane, Johnnie Davis, Hugh Herbert, Allen Jenkins, Melville Cooper, Penny Singleton)

GIRLS ON PROBATION

(Season's Exploitation Special!)

MARCH

A SLIGHT CASE OF MURDER

(Edward G. Robinson, Jane Bryan, Allen Jenkins, Ruth Donnelly, Willard Parker)

OVER THE WALL

(By Warden Lewis E. Lawes!)

WHITE BANNERS

(By the Author of 'Green Light'!)

HE COULDN'T SAY NO

(Frank McHugh, Jane Wyman, Cora Witherspoon)

WOMEN ARE LIKE THAT

(Kay Francis, Pat O'Brien, Ralph Forbes, Melville Cooper, Thurston Hall)

. . . As the

SEARS DRIVE

Sweeps On!

A new peak in musicals!

MORE HAPPY SPARKLE THAN "ONE IN A MILLION"!
MORE DAZZLING SPECTACLE THAN "THIN ICE"!

The hit you'll be holding over . . . and over! Stronger from every show angle than the two which zoomed Sonja into the money-making "First Ten" in her first year on the screen! So plan plenty of playing time!

It comes to you, of course, from Darryl F. Zanuck and his 20th hit-makers!

Sonja HENIE · Don AMECHE

Radiantly a-thrill with romance

Sonja's "One In A Million" partner in love

happy landing

JEAN HERSHOLT · ETHEL MERMAN · CESAR ROMERO
BILLY GILBERT · RAYMOND SCOTT QUINTET
WALLY VERNON · LEAH RAY

Directed by Roy Del Ruth · Associate Producer David Hempstead · Original screen play by Milton Sperling and Boris Ingster · Dances staged by Harry Losee

20th CENTURY FOX
THE KEYSTONE OF YOUR FUTURE

Songs! Songs! Songs!

"Hot and Happy"
"A Gypsy Told Me"
"You Are the Music to the Words in My Heart"
"Yonny and His Oompah" —by Pokrass & Yellen
"You Appeal to Me" —by Bullock & Spina

Happy laughter, too!... gay! joyous! uproarious!

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

MARTIN QUIGLEY, Editor-in-Chief and Publisher

Vol. 130, No. 4 — January 22, 1938

IT'S STILL PRODUCT

IT is just possible that we are presently to see demonstrated in the arena of the motion picture exactly what happens when the irresistible force meets the immovable object.

That bothered the philosophic ancients a good deal.

It is being posed again as Production costs rise toward the ceiling of film rentals paid out of the receipts of Exhibition.

Production in the personage of a Hollywood spokesman has ventured to suggest that it has been put "on the dole" by Exhibition. This may be labeled perhaps "The New Dole."

Distribution, being as you might say somewhat in the middle, is at the moment yessing Hollywood and variously urging Exhibition to "more showmanship" in retailing, to elimination of lotteries and giveaways, and is the while most vigorously engaged in the eternal striving for preferred play dates. Several sales drives are in progress.

Exhibition, not quite so articulate and not so ably staffed with spokesmen-of-the-whole, but sitting at the end of the line where all the money has to come in, sits with a poker face and now and then makes dusty remarks about "the recession," "strike slumps" and such.

It is, to be sure, the buyer and seller, as usual, and forever.

THIS time it seems that, spurred by a finding that only big pictures made big box office, Production, in its headlong Hollywood way, went big in the biggest way in the annals of this big industry. That has tended toward a big inventory, accumulated somewhat in a period of alleged Recovery. Most obviously that big inventory of merchandise is now to explore what really are the limitations of consumption of such goods. The inevitable result will be an ordeal of trial and competitive eliminations at the saturation line. The best selling and the best product will inevitably take their relative share of what the public is willing to pay currently for motion picture entertainment. It will take considerable selling both to, and through, and by the exhibitor to convince the public that it wants to spend more for "the movies." Therefore most of the competition and its pressures and heats are, and will continue, on the inside.

All this puts new and higher emphasis on the basic importance of information about product—the essential element of service to which the pages of this publication are devoted, the element which has brought to Motion Picture Herald the greatest net paid exhibitor circulation in the world of the motion picture. The product is always the biggest news in the industry.

△ △ △

"HEAVY, HEAVY!"

A REASONABLY emphatic impression that the law of the land is to be obeyed by all industry is presumably proper to a state of civilization, but a constant muttering of menace from official quarters with a "heavy, heavy hangs over your head" refrain is not precisely conducive to the healthy conduct of business.

The motion picture industry seems to be getting a deal of the "heavy, heavy" about now.

A neat sample is afforded by page one of last Friday's Motion Picture Daily, with two bureau dispatches:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—Reports that an anti-trust drive against the film industry was planned were flatly denied today at the Department of Justice. . . . In all probability, it was intimated, no action will be taken with respect to films for six months. . . .

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13—The first phase of an investigation of monopoly charges against major distributors was completed here today, when Albert J. Law, special attorney general in charge of the Federal probe, entered the final stages of drafting his report on the first company to come under the government's scrutiny. . . .

IN effect an entire industry is put in a position of impending jeopardy in the mind of the public which it serves, entirely without regard to the inferences involved or the fairness of the presumptions of probable unlawfulness that must be had before such investigations are officially begun.

The Washington dispatch inevitably raises the question, "What's in mind for six months from now—and, if so, why six months?" The Hollywood report promises a continued probing by "a staff of more than thirty persons including Dep't of Justice investigators and accountants." The special attorney general has been at it a year now and he has just begun.

It would seem just possible that if the purpose were the plain and simple enforcement of existing law the program indicated involves an inexplicable degree of deliberation and suspense.

Meanwhile there is small comfort but much understanding available in the fact that the evidences of the day would indicate that in all fields and all industry to be in operation at all is to be under suspicion.

△ △ △

DeMILLE FOR SENATOR

MOST any day now you are likely to hear from the other side of Cajon Pass that there is a heavy movement addressed at making Mr. Cecil B. DeMille a senator from California.

It would seem to be a most appropriate notion, for both the industry and California, both of which he has screen-wise served so long and so ably.

It is said that Mr. De Mille has a feeling of considerable reluctance, already expressed toward first approaches, to engage in any commitment that might take him from the production stage. It might be pointed out that he might gather more laurels in Hollywood but hardly bigger ones. The best he can hope to do is more of what he has done in the topmost rank of production, a paramount position held now these twenty-five years.

An able spokesman in Washington is one of the sore needs of this industry, and it may get a lot sorer.

△ △ △

THERE'S a fool trout in our pond at Tinker's Dam that lives just where a warm spring boils up under a rock so he doesn't know its winter. Maybe it's because the cress is so green. When spring comes he'll probably swear he hasn't had any vacation yet. Fish are like that.

This Week

Tax Plea

The ways and means committee of the House of Representatives, open for arguments and suggestions from industrialists and businessmen concerning new tax schedules, heard P. J. Wood of Columbus, Ohio, and Walter Vincent, circuit operator of New York, argue that the theatre admission tax exemption should be increased from 40 to 50 cents. The gist of their contentions was that the move would result in widespread admission increases, income tax revenue from which would more than offset the loss in direct taxes.

The committee hearing is reported on page 13.

Equity Program

A ten-point program for Actors Equity Association was announced by Burgess Meredith, vice-president with the powers of president, who at the same time eliminated himself from consideration for the presidency when the organization holds its annual meeting in June.

The proposed program is the subject of a story on page 32.

Popular Prices

Continued Chicago newspaper criticism of the Balaban and Katz circuit for not showing important pictures in first runs until long after their openings in other parts of the country, was answered by B & K in a quarter-page advertisement for "The Hurricane" at the United Artists theatre. Appearing in the Chicago American the advertising copy featured above the stock "Hurricane" mats a reproduction of a McCutcheon cartoon which was printed recently in the Daily Tribune picturing the personified key cities of the country attending the premiere of the picture while "Mr." Chicago is rudely held back by a figure representing the motion picture industry. Next to the reproduction are the words, "New York, Boston and Philadelphia paid $2.20 to see it, Chicago sees it at our regular popular prices!"

The film opened at the United Artists last Saturday to a first day business exceeded only by "Modern Times" which played at advance prices as compared to the top price of 75 cents for "Hurricane."

Financial

Imperial Pictures this week filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission covering 961,286 shares of $1 par common stock, for the purpose of debt reduction and working capital. Among other financial matters of a week were stock transactions in Cinecolor, Inc., and Bausch and Lomb Optical Company, and the semi-monthly report of the SEC.

See page 44.

Study of Production

Purportedly having no connection with any possible federal investigations, regulation or taxation, Hollywood and motion picture production and laboratory activities will, commencing January 25th, be subject to the government's biennial investigation of manufacturers, conducted by the United States Bureau of the Census, for the purpose of establishing the number and nature of producers and studios, wages and salaries paid, numbers of workers and officers, extent of activities and types, and the like.

Details of the inqueries to be asked appear on page 49.

A British Hope

Exhibitors and distributors alike are hoping that some of their points of difference will be rubbed off at a joint conference on trade practices February 1st, by the Cinematograph Exhibitors Association and the Kinematograph Renters Society. The rentals situation is expected to be a first item of the exhibitors' agenda.

This and other matters before the industry this week in England are discussed on page 56.

MOTION PICTURE HERALD

Published every Thursday by Quigley Publishing Company, Rockefeller Center, New York City. Telephone CIrcle 7-3100. Cable address "Quigpubco, New York." Martin Quigley, Editor-in-Chief and Publisher; Colvin Brown, Vice-President and General Manager; Terry Ramsaye, Editor; Ernest A. Rovelstad, Managing Editor; Chicago Bureau, 624 South Michigan Avenue, C. B. O'Neill, manager; Hollywood Bureau, Postal Union Life Building, Boone Mancall, manager, William R. Weaver, editor; Toronto Bureau, 366 Adelaide Street West, Toronto 2, Ontario, J. A. Cowan, representative; London Bureau, 4, Golden Square, London W 1, Hope Williams, manager; cable Quigpubco London; Berlin Bureau, Berlin-Tempelhof, Kaiserin-Augustastrasse 28, Joachim K. Rutenberg, representative; Paris Bureau, 29, Rue Marsoulan, Paris 12, France, Pierre Autre, representative, cable Autre-Lacifral-12 Paris; Rome Bureau, 54 Via Della Mercede, Rome, Italy, Joseph D. Ravotto, representative; Melbourne Bureau, Regent Theatre, 191 Collins St., Melbourne, Australia, Cliff Holt, representative; Mexico City Bureau, Apartado 269, Mexico City, James Lockhart, representative; Prague Bureau, Uhelny trh 2, Prague 1, Czechoslovakia, Harry Knopf, representative; Budapest Bureau, 3, Kaplar-u, Budapest, Hungary, Endre Hevesi, representative; Buenos Aires Bureau, Avellaneda 3949, Buenos Aires, Argentina, Natalio Bruski, representative; Shanghai Bureau, 142 Museum Road, Shanghai, China, J. P. Koehler, representative; Tokyo Bureau, 880 Sasazuka, Ichikawa-shi Chiba-Ken, Japan, Hiromu Tominaga, representative; Rio de Janeiro Bureau, Caixa Postal 3358, Rio de Janeiro Brazil, L. S. Marinho, representative; India Bureau, K. G. Gidwaney, Post Box 147 Bunder Road, Karachi, India; Uruguay, P. O. Box 664, Montevideo, Uruguay, Paul Bodo, representative, cable Argus Montevideo; Amsterdam Bureau, 87 Waalstraat, Amsterdam Z., Holland, Philip de Schaap, representative; Vienna Bureau, Neustiftgasse 54, Vienna VII, Hans Lorant, representative; Chile Bureau, Casilla 13300 Santiago de Chile, A. Weissmann, representative; Copenhagen Bureau, Vesterbrogade 20, Copenhagen V, Denmark, Kris Winther, representative. Member Audit Bureau of Circulations. All contents copyright 1938 by Quigley Publishing Company. Address all correspondence to the New York Office. Other Quigley Publications: Better Theatres, Motion Picture Daily, Teatro al Día, International Motion Picture Almanac and Fame.

Hays to President

Will Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, spent the full noon hour on Tuesday in private conference with President Roosevelt at the White House.

Various press representatives had Mr. Hays and the President talking about subjects ranging from an appointment to a United States trade committee for establishing a new trade agreement with Britain, to the obtaining of special concessions for American pictures abroad.

Mr. Hays' visit, it was permitted to be understood, was for the purpose of informing the President about the progress to date of the organized motion picture industry in its survey to determine the suitability and advisability of entering America's classrooms, a survey which has been underway since last fall, when the MPPDA engaged several educators to inspect the vaults of member companies to determine what films might be available for school use.

Mr. Hays went to Washington direct from Philadelphia, where, on Monday evening, he was awarded the Gold Medal of Achievement by the Poor Richard Club at a banquet attended by 1,200.

A report on the Poor Richard affair appears on page 43.

That Fidler Suit

Constance Bennett, arriving in New York Wednesday from Hollywood, told reporters that she is insistent on pushing her $250,000 damage suit against "air gossiper" Jimmy Fidler in protest against remarks he made recently on a national film "gossip" broadcast. "They think they can get away with anything," she complained. Mr. Fidler had said Miss Bennett "snubbed" Patsy Kelly on the Hal Roach lot.

Spitz Stays at Studio

The management and banking interests in Radio-Keith-Orpheum are understood to have finally decided this week to keep their president, Leo Spitz, in direct charge of production in Hollywood where he has been holding forth since the resignation of Samuel J. Briskin. With the continuing studio arrangement decided upon, Floyd B. Odlum, head of Atlas Corporation, and Peter Rathvon, his financial associate, planned to leave the coast for New York. Andrew Christiansen, RKO trustee's representative, and O. C. Doering, Jr., of trustee's counsel, who participated in studio conferences, expected to stay in Hollywood for several days. The first general hearing of objections to the RKO reorganization plan is scheduled to be held in U. S. district court in New York Monday, but a postponement will be sought by reorganization principals.

"There is no place in motion picture theatres for self-serving propaganda."—WILL H. HAYS, on the occasion of receiving the Gold Medal Achievement Award of the Poor Richard Club at Philadelphia.

An Ultimatum

Improve product or get out, the Italian government has warned producers, talent and industrialists, in an editorial in the official motion picture magazine, Bianco e Nero. The article, which is declared to be from the pen of Luigi Freddi, editor, and director of the Ministry of Popular Culture, says that direct sanctions will be invoked against those who "abuse the trust" of the government. Of 283 films shown in Italian theatres in the past year, only 38, at a total cost of $5,000,000, were made in Italian studios. Most of the $25,000,000 spent by patrons went to American distributors.

An article by Joseph D. Ravotto, from Rome, appears on page 14.

"Hotel" Suit

An application has been filed in New York supreme court for a temporary injunction in an action brought by Hollywood Hotel Revue, Inc., to restrain Warner Brothers from the use of "Hollywood Hotel" as the title of its current release. Damages of $50,000 are sought, based on the allegation that film theatres with contractual commitments to play the picture refuse to book the stage show on the ground the titles conflict. A hearing will be held next Tuesday.

U.S. Film Office

Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma in Washington Tuesday introduced a bill to create the Office of Motion Pictures in the Government Printing Office to supervise production of motion pictures for Government agencies. Last year Representative William Schulte of Indiana introduced a similar bill which is now before the Printing Committee.

Paramount-Major Contract

Cancellation by Paramount of its contract with Emanuel Cohen's Major Pictures led this week to considerable speculation in Hollywood over the contractual status of three stars: Mae West, Bing Crosby and Gary Cooper. The severance of the releasing arrangement also resulted in Mr. Cohen declaring that he plans to institute action against Paramount for breach of contract.

See page 48.

Doyle Conference

Final discussions of Stuart F. Doyle's plans for building five theatres in South Africa, and of obtaining a 10 year franchise for distribution and exhibition of United Artists product, will be held with Dr. A. H. Giannini, United Artists president, in Hollywood next week.

Near a Record

Walt Disney's RKO-released "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" had its first eastern showing last week, at Rockefeller Center's Music Hall, in New York, following its Pacific Coast premiere, three weeks ago, at the Carthay Circle in Los Angeles.

Two snowstorms, subzero weather, icebound suburbs, midterm school examinations and other influences were attributed to the non-breaking gross of some $103,000, $31,000 under the house top of $134,000 established by the Astaire-Rogers "Top Hat." The picture now goes into its second week, with speculation general as to what will happen thereafter.

Third showing in the country was at the Sheridan, Miami, where the cartoon finished its first week by grossing some $300 in excess of the unnamed house record.

In Los Angeles, the picture completed its fourth with a $13,214 gross, on a $11,800 house average.

Editorial	Page 7
This Week in Pictures	Page 10
In the Cutting Room	Page 55
Release Chart	Page 73
Managers' Round Table	Page 63
The Hollywood Scene	Page 45
Showmen's Reviews	Page 38
Asides and Interludes	Page 37
In the Courts	Page 54
Deaths	Page 54
In the Newsreels	Page 83
Short Subjects on Broadway	Page 32
Theatre Receipts	Page 57
J. C. Jenkins' Colyum	Page 83
What the Picture Did for Me	Page 59

Whitney-Selznick Plan

John Hay (Jock) Whitney and David O. Selznick, who a few weeks ago were prepared to sever their connection with United Artists, this week started negotiations which may result in their owning 60 per cent of the company's stock. The Whitney-Selznick interests, Selznick International, Inc., offered $3,000,000 in cash and preferred stock in the revamped organization for the 20 per cent interest in United Artists owned by each of three partners, Mary Pickford, Charles Chaplain and Douglas Fairbanks.

Details of the plan are told on page 17.

Educational's Contract

Educational's five year releasing contract with Twentieth Century-Fox will not be renewed when it expires August 31st, E. W. Hammons, president of Educational, said this week. At the same time, he declined to make any comment on the reports that he will aid in the refinancing of Grand National to the extent of $1,000,000. Twentieth Century-Fox, instead of handling Educational's product, will produce a total of 52 one-reel short subjects during the 1938-39 season, according to present plans.

Details are on page 30.

Allied Decision

Voting to continue seeking relief until its plans "are carried to a successful conclusion," the board of directors of Allied States Association decided in Washington this week not to attend the proposed trade practice conference suggested by Harry Brandt, president of New York's Independent Theatre Owners Association. The board also voiced criticism of producer-sponsored radio programs and discussed plans for checking the activities of radio "gossipers."

A report on the meeting is on page 18.

Ford's Plans

Charles E. Ford left for a vacation in Florida this week after resigning his position as editor of Universal Newsreel last Thursday. When he returns to New York Mr. Ford will produce two new short subjects and direct special sequences on a forthcoming picture before leaving the company.

His work at Universal was taken over by Thomas Mead and Joseph O'Brien, both of whom were assistants to Mr. Ford. Mr. Mead was assigned to take charge of business affairs and assignments, while Mr. O'Brien was named to handle editorial matters and makeup of the reel.

This Week In Pictures

WILL H. HAYS, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, above, at a luncheon given Cecil B. DeMille by the Film Study Division of Columbia University at the Waldorf Astoria, New York, explains "the way of it" to Frank Walker, vice-president of Comerford Theatres. At right the guest of honor chats with Terry Ramsaye, editor of Motion Picture Herald, while Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the University, stands pensively in the background.

Below, Mr. Hays, in Philadelphia, receives the 1937 gold medal achievement award of the Poor Richard Club from Charles H. Grakelow, president of the organization. The presentation, made annually by the club for outstanding leadership in industry, followed a dinner attended by 1,200 Philadelphia business men. (See page 43.)

Joseph O'Brien and Thomas Mead, left and right above, are the new heads of Universal Newsreel. Mr. O'Brien, in charge of make-up and editorial, first came in contact with the film industry with Biograph. During the World War he worked for the Kineto Company processing Government films, and afterwards as cameraman for Kinograms and assistant editor of Pathe Newsreel. He joined Universal in 1932 to take charge of the cutting department. Mr. Mead, business manager and assignment editor, after graduation from Wabash College worked for Associated Newspapers and the Chicago Daily News. He also joined Universal in 1932.

Miss Carole Lombard, right, recently reported as the highest paid feminine star of 1937, practically surrounded by Warner brothers at a studio luncheon given at the completion of "Fools for Scandal" in which she co-stars with Fernand Gravet, also a guest at the luncheon. Clockwise around the festive board: Mervyn LeRoy, Warner producer who is soon to transfer his activities to the MGM lot; Harry M. Warner, Miss Lombard, Jack L. Warner, Fernand Gravet and Hal Wallis.

Charles C. Moskowitz, left, who this week marks his 25th anniversary with Loew's, Inc. Mr. Moskowitz, now general theatre representative for Loew's, was employed as an accountant in January, 1913, by David Bernstein, then treasurer of the company. As the company expanded he remained in the accounting department but devoted his special attention to theatre operations, an attention which culminated in his present position.

The sales drive season drives on. Rube Jackter, above, receives last minute instructions from Jack Cohn, vice-president of Columbia Pictures, before assuming his duties as chairman of the "Montague Good Will Campaign," named, not unconventionally, for Abe Montague, sales manager.

When Tex Ritter, hero of Grand National's western sagas, returned home to Houston, Texas, for a visit he was captured in costume by Fred V. Cannata, general manager of the Will Horwitz theatres, and posed obligingly for the picture at left with Mr. Cannata, Miss Josephine Spears and Miss Ruby Milner at the box office of the Texan theatre.

Opening of the Metro theatre, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's newest house in Brisbane, Queensland, Australia, received the full cooperation of the state and municipal authorities. In the picture at left in the lobby of the theatre are Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Maidment, guests; Major A. V. Stark, A.D.C.; Les Andrews, MGM manager in Queensland; N. B. Freeman, managing director of MGM Theatres, Ltd.; Miss I. A. Maidment and Sir James Blair, K.C.M.G., lieutenant governor of Queensland.

It seems only a little while since the name of Mussolini was a hissing in Hollywood, and yet the picture at right shows George Cukor, seated at far right, immediately after receiving the rank of Cavaliere Ufficiale of the Order of the Crown of Italy from Duke Roberto Caracciolo, Los Angeles Italian Consul, also seated, for "special merit in development of cooperation between the Italian and American motion picture industries." Standing are Clarence Brown and David O. Selznick, director and producer of "Anna Karenina," who received the copies of the Mussolini Cup shown on the table in token of the award of special merit given the picture at the Venice Exhibition. With them is Cesare Grimaldi of the consulate.

Manuel Peña Rodriguez, film critic of La Nación, Argentina's leading daily newspaper, visited the New York offices of Quigley Publications on his way to Hollywood to gather first hand information on studio activities.

Significant of the esteem in which the late T. D. Cochrane, Paramount manager in the Orient, was held by his Japanese and Occidental associates in Tokyo, is the picture above of special funeral services held in his memory according to Japanese custom. The native services in a public hall were followed by Episcopalian rites in Holy Trinity Church, Tokyo, and both ceremonies were accorded unusual attention in Japanese newspapers.

FILM LEADERS JOIN IN MARCH ON CAPITAL FOR RELIEF FROM TAXES

Independent Exhibitors Ask House Committee to Raise Admission Tax Exemption to 50c So That Prices May Rise

by FRANCIS L. BURT
in Washington

Industrialists and businessmen, motion picture executives among them, this week began a parade before the House Ways and Means Committee in Congress to give their views on the proposed revisions of the tax laws. P. J. Wood, of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Independent Theatre Owners, and Walter Vincent, circuit owner, led the film contingent, asking that the theatre admission tax exemption be increased from 40 to 50 cents. The film industry was to be heard on Friday.

An increase in the exemption has been sought by the independent exhibitors ever since the Treasury let it be known last summer that tax revision would be taken up at this session of Congress.

Arguments to be presented by Mr. Wood in his appearance before the committee are that the motion picture theatres have been unable to restore their prices to pre-depression levels, resulting in non-profitable operation of many houses in various sections. If the tax exemption is raised, it is contended, theatres now charging a 40-cent top admission could increase their prices 10 cents and other houses with lower admissions could make a five-cent increase.

Taking localities with which he is familiar, Mr. Wood pointed out that in 1936 four Columbus houses charging a 40-cent top had receipts of $1,272,600, and the 37 houses charging less than 40 cents took in $1,287,800, a total of $2,560,400 which by the changes he proposed would be increased by $470,000, on which an estimated profits tax percentage of not less than 12 per cent would bring in to the Government an additional $60,000 of revenue.

110 Charge 50-Cent Minimum

Mr. Wood contended that only 110 of all theatres in operation in the United States charge an admission price of 50 or 55 cents at any time during the day or evening. With a restoration of the 50-cent admission in first-run theatres now observing a 40-cent top, he contended, there would be an increase in admissions in all the subsequent-run houses, and while the Treasury might possibly suffer some slight diminution of revenues from the admission tax, this loss would be more than offset by increased income and profits taxes paid by the exhibitors.

Further, it was asserted, 40 per cent of the total admission tax revenues are collected in New York, most of it arising out of the high-bracket admissions in New York City, and an increase of 10 cents in the exemption would not affect that situation at all.

The House Ways and Means Committee has before it a 90-page report submitted by its tax subcommittee January 14, outlining more than 60 changes to be made in the present tax structure to make for more effective administration of the law, lessen inequities, and distribute more equitably the burden of taxation upon corporations.

No mention was made by the subcommittee of the tax on admissions.

Exhibitor corporations are expected to benefit by the changes recommended in the undistributed profits tax, designed to eliminate its burdensome effects upon approximately 90 per cent of all corporations filing returns. It is proposed also to permit the carryover of losses by corporations to be applied against income in the second year under certain limitations.

Concede Negative Effects

While holding to the belief that the undistributed profits tax is not of itself bad, the group conceded that in many cases it has had bad effects.

To relieve the situation, changes will be made for the benefit of all but the very largest corporations, while in the case of corporations with taxable incomes of less than $25,000 it is proposed to lift the undistributed profits tax entirely. Such small corporations, however, are to be subject to higher normal taxes than they now pay, a sliding scale of 12½ per cent on the first $5,000, 14 per cent on the next $15,000 and 16 per cent on the next $5,000 being recommended in lieu of the present rates of 8 to 15 per cent, to which now are added the surtaxes of 7 to 27 per cent on undistributed income.

United Film Enterprises has been organized in Miami, Fla., for the purpose of producing westerns for general release and productions suited for the state right and roadshow markets. Both 35 mm. and 16 mm. releases are planned.

MASSACHUSETTS HAS 2% SALES TAX BILL

A special 1937 Commission on Taxation and Public Expenditure will recommend that the Massachusett's legislature pass a bill establishing a two per cent sales tax estimated to raise 45 million yearly. If the bill is passed it will go into effect with "no exemptions" about July 1st. The money would be used for relief and the tax would fluctuate with relief needs.

It is not yet known whether theatres are involved. Theatre men are strenuously opposed to the measure. They have been instrumental in defeating similar bills at recent sessions.

Two Cities Talk Censorship, Two Others Appoint

Censorship developments of the week included the presenting of an ordinance in Milwaukee that would ban all suggestive films, a proposed policing policy for motion picture and stage shows in Seattle, the appointment of members to the Portland, Ore. censor board and the selection of Colonel Peter Saunders as permanent director of Virginia's State Division of Motion Picture Censorship.

The Milwaukee ordinance was presented to the Common Council's Judiciary Committee by Alderman John E. Kalupa and was laid over by that body with the recommendation that exhibitors confer with Alderman Kalupa before it is again brought before committee.

The proposed ordinance would bar minors under 18 from seeing socalled educational sex films unless accompanied by parent, guardian "or other adult."

Frank B. Metcalfe, chairman of the city's film commission, said that the commission checks all pictures and that enforcement of the proposed measure was impractical.

The Seattle measure is expected to be drafted this week by the City Council license committee and public safety committee. The proposed policing policy is a result of a public hearing in the council chambers on complaints against the type of stage shows presented by the State, Palm and Rialto theatres, in the lower downtown section. Numerous civic groups have asked that these theatres have their licenses revoked if they continue to stage present types of burlesque and "girl revue" offerings.

The following have been appointed as members of the Portland censor board: Mrs. Thonas M. Joyce, Mrs. Josephine Forney, Ted Gamble, manager, Broadway theatre; Major Paul Hathaway, Ed Weinbaum, Mrs. Kent C. Hartung, wife of the manager of the State theatre, and Mrs. R. Gibson Hubbard.

Colonel Saunders has been secretary to four Virginia governors, Elbert Lee Trinkle, Harry Flood Byrd, John Garland Pollard and George Campbell Peery. As censorship director, Colonel Saunders will be required to assume entire responsibility for all financial transactions of the division, including the collection of annual revenues from motion picture exhibitors. The new director will receive $3,600, an increase of $600 in the pay of the head of the division.

The Ohio censors reviewed 701 reels in December, from which 30 eliminations were ordered. This compares with 621 reels and 55 eliminations in November, and 504 reels with 22 eliminations in December, 1936.

In 1937 a total of 7,487 reels were reviewed and 397 eliminations ordered. The figures for 1936 were 6,807 reels and 342 eliminations.

IMPROVE PRODUCT OR GET OUT, ITALIAN GOVERNMENT DEMANDS

Producers Accused of Rushing Films for Quick Turnover and Profits, in Article Attributed to Luigi Freddi

by JOSEPH D. LAVOTTO in Rome

Warning is sounded that the State will take direct sanctions against those who "show themselves inferior to the task" if a general improvement is not shown in the Italian cinema industry, in a strongly worded editorial in the official motion picture magazine, Bianco e Nero.

In direct, forceful and unmistakable language the editorial says that the "Fascist State will find a way to impose a solution" upon those individuals unworthy of the government's faith.

As if to clear away any doubts, the editorial repeats in its concluding phrases that the government has shown great confidence in those connected with the industry but they "must not abuse this trust because the Fascist State is not of such a nature as to let problems confronting it go by without solving them."

Much importance is attached to the article as it is attributed to Luigi Freddi, editor of Bianco e Nero and director of the Ministry of Popular Culture, which makes him virtual czar of the industry in the Peninsula. His works undoubtedly received the approval if not the encouragement of the dictator. Coming without warning, it has caused great speculation in local motion picture circles.

It is obviously aimed at producers, directors, actors and industrialists alike, with the hope that it will result in evoking greater efforts and cooperation during 1938.

Failure to get industrialists and business men to bring financial aid to the industry has caused much friction, and it is reported that pressure has been brought to bear in several cases.

Producers have been charged with rushing production for quick turnover and profits, regardless of artistic merit of the film. Directors have been accused of sloppy jobs. Actors come in for their share of the blame, probably because they didn't turn out to be as good as hoped.

Revealing that its purpose is to "trace a courageous and honest panorama of the Italian cinema industry after three years of direct supervision by the state," the editorial declares that the state has prepared all elements to arrive at a solution which has not been found.

Called Own Responsibility

"Italian producers, industrialists and directors," it declares, "must feel the responsibility which rests upon them. They must understand that the Fascist State has given them large and abundant ways of solving this national cinematographic problem. They must also know that if they show themselves inferior to the task or unworthy of the conditions of favor extended to them, the Fascist State will find a way—since power is not lacking—to impose a solution, a solution which has two aspects, one artistic and political and the other industrial."

This is tantamount to meaning that if the required financial aid, cooperation, genius or ability is not shown, the government intends either to freeze these elements out of the industry, take political sanctions or force the necessary financial contributions.

The threat is made even clearer in another quotation which declares that the State has shown great confidence in the elements that form the industry. Continuing:

"They, however, must not abuse this trust because the Fascist State is not of such a nature as to let problems confronting it go by without solving them. If the power of individuals is not sufficient, the State will know how to intervene in order to bring the Italian cinema industry to the height of the times and of its accomplishments. The words of Mussolini that 'in Fascist Italy, capital is at the disposition of the State' should make them meditate."

Favoritism Charged

Nepotism and favoritism is also scored in the editorial which declares that "Italian intelligence has been left out of the cinema section. It is necessary that it be brought back with all speed."

It is notorious that individuals with no particular acting, directing or administrative ability have elbowed themselves into soft jobs merely because of family and political connections, not to mention other considerations. In this respect, critics of the film executive charge him with being at fault with the very practice he condemns.

Although some circles in Rome say that this is also an anti-Semitic move but better informed sources deny this. At the same time it can be safely ventured that those who would be the targets of such a campaign will not be encouraged to operate in the motion picture business because of the close cultural and political relations with Nazi Germany. Italy is playing for a bigger and better foothold in the German market.

The editorial concludes with a plea that all elements in the industry contribute in making Italian motion pictures worthy of the Empire. Freddi's last words are:

"A strong cinema industry in Italy cannot develop except by producing works which have a minimum of artistic dignity compatible with the Italy of today, and they must be impressed with the spirit and the ideals of the Fascist revolution."

It is quite likely that the disappointing low production of Italian films during the past year inspired the editorial. Of 283 films projected on Italian screens, only 38, at a cost of $5,000,000, were produced in local studios. This means that less than 15 per cent of the films seen here came from Italian studios. Of the $25,000,000 spent by Italian cinemagoers during the past year, most of it went to American distributors.

Italy wants a bigger share of that money for her own industry. Higher dubbing taxes and currency restrictions, she hopes, will turn the trick. Italian film men still play with the idea that American houses one day will produce pictures in Italian studios.

Of the 38 films locally produced last year, less than a fourth of them could be considered genuine successes. "Scipio l'Africano" and "I Condottieri," which were to have been Italy's greatest films and at the same time was to mark the starting point in her film renaissance, turned out to be only moderate successes. Several films in which foreign film stars collaborated failed to bring about the desired results.

Failure of the new Ciné Citta, on the outskirts of Rome, to give the added impetus to the industry is also troubling local film leaders. Although it is the largest film city in Europe and the most modern in the world, it has attracted no foreign capital, and little foreign production.

What the coming year will bring is still in the laps of the gods, but there is every prospect of increased Italian production and a general improvement in the quality of local films. If this is borne out Freddi's editorial may be said to have produced the necessary results.

▽

Production Notes

With the groundwork being laid for Era's new operatic film, "Rigoletto," a nationwide contest has been opened to find ideal types for the three main roles.

The magazine Cinema, announcing the contest, published huge photographs of Robert Taylor and Ginger Rogers, writing that they too were brought to Hollywood's attention through film contests.

A young man of about 30 years of age, a young girl of about 18, and an elderly woman between 45 and 60 are sought.

Vittorio Mussolini will be the director of Era's first production. The rumor that Hal Roach is coming to Italy has been renewed. He is expected here the latter part of January.

In this connection, the Hollywood scenario writer, Jeanne Macpherson, who is tied up to Roach, arrived here ten days ago but immediately left for Paris and London. She refused to divulge the reason for her visit. It is learned that she will return soon, possibly to coincide with Mr. Roach's reported visit.

* * *

Other films that soon will go into production are: "Verdi," with Carmine Gallone directing. (It will be recalled that he directed "Scipio l'Africano"), and "Hanno Rapito un Uomo" "A Man Has Been Kidnaped," directed by Genaro Righelli. The lead role is filled by Vittorio de Sica, dark, sleek and handsome, and leading theatrical actor and crooner of Italy.

* * *

In the cutting room are "Pietro Micca," "Tarakanova" (Italian and French versions), "l'Ultima Nemica," "Eravamo Sette Sorelle, La Canzone della Mamma with Beniamino Gigli (Italian and German versions), Il Torrente, l'Allegro Cantante' L'Amor rio non Muore, Il Ponte di Vetro.

* * *

Just released are "Napoli d'Altri Tempi," "Il Signor Max," "Sono Stato Io" with famed Neapolitan actors De Filippo.

HEARING ORDERED ON RADIO RATES

An investigation into the rates of the country's major telegraph, radio and cable companies has been voted by the Federal Communications Commission.

February 14th was set as the date for a hearing on the applications of the companies for rate increases and on other matters.

Companies petitioning for rate increases are Postal Telegraph-Cable Company, Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company of California, Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company of Delaware, Western Union Telegraph Company and RCA Communications, Inc.

NAZIS HINT INVOKING TREATY TO BAR MARCH OF TIME FILM IN 3 NATIONS

And Chicago Police Censors Ban Picture; German Vice-Consul and American Nazi Leader Demand Deletions

A second, but apparently bolder, attempt by Nazi Germany to influence the American motion picture industry, and to halt the exhibition in this country of American-made film material considered unfriendly to Adolph Hitler and his cause, is now being directed against the March of Time, because of its present release: Issue No. 6, Volume IV, entitled, "Inside Nazi Germany—1938." Universal's "The Road Back" was the subject of a similar Nazi affront, last June, while in the making.

More serious than the threatening letters written by the German Consul in Los Angeles to players appearing in Erich Maria Remarque's post-war "Road Back" story, was the impression gained this week by the March of Time that its absolute refusal to withdraw, "censor" or edit its "Inside Nazi Germany" would bring retaliations not only in Germany, but also in Italy and Japan, with which the Nazis have a triple alliance.

Here in America, free speech and free press—which includes motion pictures and its newsreels—were, as a result of the March of Time incident, challenged even more seriously than by the action by the Nazis when Chicago's Police Board, official municipal censors, barred the picture from exhibition on the grounds that it contained material which was likely to create public ill feeling against a nation "friendly to the United States."

Something of a Record

This was the first time on record when any public official within the borders of the country refused the exhibition of an American-made film because it contained material of an international political nature. Louis de Rochemont, for Time, Inc., in New York, said that the producers were "flabbergasted," while in Chicago the action caused an explosion in city politics, among liberals, and elsewhere.

RKO officials in Chicago were conferring Wednesday afternoon with local Police Commissioner Allman in an attempt to have the ban set aside.

Chicago newspapers generally were waging a battle for release of the films, declaring that the police censors' action was "stupid and against the freedom of the press."

A large German colony in Chicago, with strong voting power, was given by City Hall insiders as the probable reason for barring the film.

The first word that March of Time had of the Chicago Police Board's action came through a copyrighted story in Tuesday afternoon's Chicago Times, in which the chairman of the police censors, Lieutenant Joseph Healy, said that permission for exhibition had been refused "because it embodied propaganda opposing Nazi policies in Germany," and that "it was rejected because this country is friendly to Germany." Lieutenant Healy is substituting for the regular board chairman, Lieutenant Harry Costello, who is on sick leave.

Edith Kerr, a second member of the board, was quoted in Chicago's Times as explaining that the board, acting unanimously, had rejected the short subject under a city ordinance which provides for a refusal of a permit to a film which "exposes them [a class of citizens] to contempt, derision, or tends to a breach of the peace."

Legal Action Considered

Mr. de Rochemont said that Time, Inc., was undecided up to late Wednesday whether an attempt would be made to show the subject in a Chicago theatre in defiance of the Police Board's prohibition, or whether any legal action would be taken to force the board to show cause why a permit should not be issued, pending possible action by the censors in answer to Time's protest.

"The March of Time has endeavored to present a documented journalistic account of facts and conditions in Germany today in an objective manner," the Chicago board was told. "We have studiously avoided sensationalism and we have checked every fact presented.

"We believe that censorship of a painstaking and factual report of this kind is almost unprecedented in the United States. It puts censorship in Chicago not on the basis of morals or taste, but directly on a suppression of news facts. It thus becomes a direct attack on the principles of a free press."

Involved in the police action, in view of the unanimity of the decision, are the following members of the board, besides Lieutenants Costello, as chairman, and Healy, acting chairman, and Miss Kerr: Mrs. L. A. Adams, Mrs. J. N. Costello, Mrs. C. C. Doolittle, W. A. Faust and Sarah Riley, a policewoman.

Press Advised First

March of Time learned that the press was told of the rejection before any official notice had been given the company, or to RKO, the distributor, and that the censors neglected to give either producer or distributor the customary opportunity to make the film conform with censorial objections — not that March of Time, RKO or Time, Inc., would have complied, so they say.

The March of Time, while the first American-made film to be attacked by an American censor board on international political grounds was once subjected to prohibition from exhibition by an American censor because of internal politics. This was in April, 1937, when the Kansas State Board of Censorship refused a permit to the March of Time sequence containing Senator Burton Kendall Wheeler's speech denouncing President Roosevelt's Supreme Court ["packing"] Bill. The board claimed it acted at the request of the Kansas governor, Walter Huxman. That action soon became a political football, kicked around by New Dealers and Anti-New Dealers, a game that was ended when the State Board, with equal abruptness, restored the sequence to the film. (Motion Picture Herald, April 24, 1937, page 13.)

Foreign Films a Trouble Center

International politics and socalled "propaganda" in motion pictures within the past year have been subjected on numerous occasions to the shears of city and state censor boards in this country, but in every instance the material came from the outside. Both "Red" and "Loyalist" war propaganda in Spain's civil strife has been the most noticeable in this connection, with Pennsylvania the most militant in rejections. Occasional Communistic propaganda from Red Russia likewise has been subjected to American censorial attack.

With respect to American-made motion picture material involving internationalism, there has been no instance in recent years where the organized industry has injected out-and-out "propaganda" as such, specifically intended to serve such a purpose. But Hollywood has often, voluntarily, eliminated scenes or sequences which might be found offensive to the habits or customs of a foreign people, such eliminations being made for the most part on the advice of special advisers called in for the purpose, and, many times, on the advice of the Production Code Administration. While the Administration was established and is conducted for the purpose of maintaining proper moral standards and good taste in American films, it frequently gives suggestions on foreign matters.

Invites Foreign Experts

In keeping with its admitted policy of correcting errors in screen expressions, March of Time invites foreign experts in this country to inspect material pertaining to each nationality involved. With this in mind, the producers last weekend invited Dr. Fritz Daeger, of the political department of the German Consulate, in

(Continued on following page)

NAZI CONDUCT SET BY ROTE

Adolph Hitler, Germany's Fuehrer, has ordered a new credo, "the thirteen commandments," to govern the conduct of all Germans in the Fatherland, including those in the motion picture industry, according to a Berlin dispatch to the New York Times this week. They are:

1. The Fuehrer is always right.
2. Never violate discipline.
3. Do not waste your time in chatter and self-complacent criticism; and lend a hand in work.
4. Be proud but not arrogant.
5. Let the party program be your dogma; it demands your utmost devotion to the (National Socialist) movement.
6. You are the representative of the party. Act and behave yourself accordingly.
7. Let loyalty and unselfishness be your command.
8. Practice true comradeship—then you are a true Socialist.
9. Treat your racial comrades as you wish to be treated.
10. In struggle be enduring and silent.
11. Courage is not rowdyism.
12. Right is whatever profits the (National Socialist) movement and therewith Germany—that is your people.
13. Act according to these commandments and you will be the true fighter of your Fuehrer.

The "thirteen commandments" were published in the National Socialist Year Book for 1938.

CHICAGO CENSORS SET PRECEDENT

(Continued from preceding page)

New York, to view the reel now in controversy. Mr. de Rochemont pointed out that no invitation had been extended to any of the Consular officers, or to Dr. Georg F. Kraufe-Wichmann, Vice-Consul. Nevertheless, Dr. Wichmann appeared in place of Dr. Daeger, and, after inspecting the film, informed March of Time, "in a rage," according to Mr. de Rochemont, that the film was grossly in error.

Dr. Wichmann denied the veracity of the film's claim that Germany extended its Nazi propaganda outside its borders. March of Time's officers at the preview cited Hitler's propaganda activities in Austria, to which Dr. Wichmann made no reply, says Mr. de Rochemont.

Denies Anti-Church Campaign

Dr. Wichmann complained that the reel does not properly define Hitler's attitude toward the church, neglecting, he said, to show how the Nazis give large sums for the support of the church, adding that there is no anti-church campaign in Germany.

Fritz Kuhn, head of the German-American Bund, Nazi organization in this country, who also was in attendance, likewise denied that he is engaged by or employed in the Hitler business of spreading Nazi propaganda in the United States.

Both Dr. Wichmann and Fritz Kuhn demanded of March of Time that considerable eliminations be made in the picture, to which March of Time refused to accede.

"There were stormings and rantings," explained Mr. de Rochemont, and "we fully expect that we will be subjected to retaliations by the triple alliance existing between Italy-Japan-Germany."

In Motion Picture Herald, on April 17, 1937, was first reported this triple alliance, explaining that it was formulated by the Nazis for a film bloc made up of the Nazis' "ideological" allies for propagandistic and "cultural" (propaganda) cooperation to fight their most powerful rival, Hollywood (on the world's film market), and to fight all "liberal" and Communistic motion picture influences of the world.

What "retaliations" could be taken remain to be seen.

Challenge Censorship Attempt

In any event, the March of Time later was informed by the German Consulate offices in New York that the subject was "prejudicial" to the best interests of Germany" and was "likely to be misunderstood" by the American public.

March of Time informed the Consulate that the pictures are "the first uncensored pictures to come out of Germany in the last four years," since Hitler came into power, and, "after escaping Nazi censorship in Germany, we have no intention of submitting to Nazi censorship in this country."

Censorship in Germany was eluded through secret escape of the cameraman, Julian Bryan, March of Time staff photographer, to Latvia. He obtained some 25,000 feet of film.

German Bund Leader in America Fritz Kuhn added additional objections when he took particular issue with the pictures of persecution as practised in Germany, and also with the description of the American phase of Naziism.

U. S. Committee Asks for Print

The Immigration and Naturalization Committee of the House of Representatives in Congress has asked for a print for showing.

William E. Dodd, who returned recently from the Ambassadorship at Berlin, saw the picture Tuesday in Washington, and said: "Every member of every American family, young and old, should see 'Inside Germany,' which is a truthful picture of what is taking place in that country." Mr. Dodd is generally accredited with having gone to the German Ambassadorship feeling "pro-Nazi"—and returning "anti-Nazi." The newspapers have accredited his recall to the change.

The German Embassy at Washington likewise saw the reel on Tuesday, and charged that it "misrepresents the true Germany."

Possibilities were seen in Washington that the German Ambassador would register a protest against the pictures with the State Department, although it was not expected that such action would have any material result, since the Administration at the Capital consistently has refused to attempt anything even faintly resembling censorship, and previous protests made by the German Embassy on various anti-Nazi matters in this country have had no effect.

A Difference of Opinion

Dr. Hans Borcher, German Consul General in New York, called the film "deliberate misrepresentation," but Congressman Samuel Dickstein, of New York, said "the film should be seen by every American." Representative Dickstein is chairman of a Congressional committee which has been investigating Communistic and Nazi propaganda activities in this country.

The press department of Radio-Keith-Orpheum, in New York, describing the contents of the reel, reported:

"March of Time cameramen survey the scenes unknown to tourists. Both private and public manifestations of the new Nazi philosophy are revealed. Woman's new role as a breeder of soldiers is presented. The propaganda machine is shown functioning through screen, radio, press. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Minister of Propaganda and Enlightenment, is projected as the coiner of slogans that whip the German people to a pitch of fervent adoration for Der Fuehrer. The sequestration of the Jews, banned by state edict from professions and business, is pictorially revealed, as is Hitler's attempt to break down Catholic and Protestant resistance.

"Three thousand miles away, the Hitler machine is seen functioning in the United States. The German-American Bund with its claimed membership of 200,000 is led by Fritz Kuhn, former German machine-gunner, March of Time reveals. Under his leadership, at least 25 summer camps and drill grounds devoted to swastika ideals carry on the Hitler aims.

"Townsfolk of Southbury, Conn., are photographed in protest against the invasion of their quiet environs by the Bund which recently bought 178 acres nearby as a site for another Nazi camp. And back from Germany after four and a half years as Ambassador from the United States, William K. Dodd appears before the camera to give his views on the growth of Fascist powers in Europe."

Displaying placards that urged a boycott of March of Time, members of the National Maritime Union this week picketed the Radio City Music Hall, New York, in protest against a sequence in the film on the problems of the American merchant marine. The placards also described the film as "slanderous to seamen" despite the fact that union members were employed for the production of the sequence.

OHIO HIGHWAY UNIT TURNS TO PRODUCING

The Ohio Highway Department has started production on a picture entitled "The Open Road" or "Safer Ohio" for the three fold purpose of "selling the state administration, presenting to the people of Ohio the work of departments and bureaus concerned with the problems of highway safety, and aiding an education program to promote highway safety."

Maryin L. Davey has the leading role in the film and the socalled cast includes John Jaster, Jr., highway director; E. N. Dietrich, director of education, and Charles F. Schaber, of the Public Utilities Commission. F. E. Williams, of the safety coordinating bureau, is production manager.

Evergreen Circuit Heads Hold Quarterly Meeting

The quarterly meeting of executives and managers of the Evergreen State Theatres circuit was held in Seattle this week, at the Washington Athletic Club.

Attending from various divisions were: John Hamrick, Seattle; Al Rosenberg, Washington state, and Al Finkelstein, Oregon. Frank L. Newman, Sr., presided over the meetings, which were attended by 50 executives, advertising department heads and theatre managers.

GB May Increase Pictures to 16-18

Instead of 12 features, originally announced by GB for release this year, the company may have 16 or 18, on the basis of production activity in England, Arthur A. Lee, vice-president and general manager, said this week.

Mr. Lee said that production is proceeding better than expected and pictures are being acquired in addition to those scheduled at the beginning of the season.

Two pictures have been released by GB so far this season, and two, "Sailing Along" and "Look Out for Love," are due to be released soon, but no dates have been set. The latter is a Herbert Wilcox production starring Anna Neagle.

Louis Berg, publicity assistant for GB, has been assigned to the post of publicity manager. Charles Garrett has been placed in charge of advertising production, Jack Savage continues as art director, with Peggy Goldberg in charge of fan magazine publicity.

A new fine grain film for sound recording has been developed by Eastman Kodak Company and is being used by the Warner Brothers studio. The film was used in "Hollywood Hotel" and "Swing Your Lady" and will be used by Warners in all subsequent pictures.

WHITNEY OFFERS $3,000,000 CASH FOR CONTROL OF UNITED ARTISTS

Proposal by Whitney - Selznick Interests Includes Part Payment in Stock to Pickford, Fairbanks, Chaplin

John Hay (Jock) Whitney, 31-year-old millionaire horseman of society's Blue Book, owner of Pioneer Pictures, majority stockholder of Technicolor, and partner and part owner with David Oliver Selznick in Selznick International Pictures, may become at least 60 per cent owner of United Artists Corporation, buying the 20 per cent interests each held by Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Charles Spencer Chaplin, which Samuel Goldwyn and Alexander Korda, the other two U. A. partners, had attempted to purchase.

Negotiations are now underway in Hollywood, Mr. Whitney and Mr. Selznick having made an official offer of approximately $3,000,000 in cash and preferred stock in a financially revamped United Artists corporation. All three partners are said to have evinced a genuine interest in the deal but negotiations have been delayed temporarily because of the absence of Mr. Chaplin from Hollywood.

Under the plan, Mr. Selznick would become head of production for the organization which, but a few weeks ago, he was preparing to leave. It was through the unsuccessful negotiations carried on by Mr. Selznick that Mr. Whitney was quite close to an affiliation with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The collapse of the deal for producing for or releasing through MGM left the Whitney-Selznick interests without a releasing outlet after the approaching expiration of the present contract with United Artists.

Situation Reversed

Despite the fact Mr. Selznick was reported as being determined to drop his affiliation with United Artists if the Goldwyn-Korda deal had been consumated a few months ago, under the new plan, which reverses the positions of the principals, Mr. Korda and Mr. Goldwyn are understood to be willing to continue with the company under an adjusted production status.

Mr. Korda has been attempting to obtain sufficient release from his contractual obligations to United Artists to permit him to produce films for release through other companies. The request reputedly has met with the approval of Mr. Chaplin, Mr. Fairbanks and Miss Pickford but Mr. Goldwyn has insisted that he be granted similar privileges.

However, should Mr. Korda and Mr. Goldwyn adopt a different attitude than expected, the Whitney-Selznick interests are contemplating acquisition of all outstanding United Artists stock, it was said.

Owners' Reactions

Mr. Fairbanks, said reports in Hollywood, is particularly agreeable to the latest plan for disposing of his stock. While he is described as preferring to withdraw from all stock ownership, this attitude is not expected to constitute a serious obstacle to his accepting part payment in a new preferred stock issue.

Miss Pickford is reported as desirous of continuing an association with the company while Mr. Chaplin is described as taking a similar stand and, in addition, he is expected to insist upon a continuing releasing agreement with the organization.

Under the Selznick-Whitney plan, new producers would be signed and the company's production schedule would be increased considerably. Walter Wanger, it is believed, could be induced to remain with the company.

Edward Small Signs

Edward Small this week signed a contract with United Artists to produce six pictures annually over a long period, thus renewing an association that started when he and Harry Goetz organized Reliance Pictures in 1932.

Mr. Whitney's official connection with Selznick International is as chairman of the board of directors. In addition, he is president of Pioneer Pictures, for which he produced "Becky Sharp" in 1935 and "The Dancing Pirate" in 1936. Both were released through RKO. His experience in the entertainment world also includes the production of plays among which were "Gay Divorcee" and "Dark Victory."

The plans for the Whitney-Selznick purchase of the controlling interest in United Artists became known shortly after the departure from the United States of two of the partner-owners, Mr. Korda returning to England last week and Mr. Goldwyn sailing for a vacation in Honolulu. Mr. Korda came to the United States October 26th to participate in the final negotiations for the exercise of the options held by him and Mr. Goldwyn on the Pickford-Fairbanks-Chaplin stock.

An agreement to exercise the options was reached in New York but the deal collapsed shortly after the scene of negotiations was shifted to Hollywood.

Upon his arrival in England this week Mr. Korda denied a report that he was planning a legal action against United Artists as an aftermath to the collapse of the Goldwyn-Korda deal and the subsequent request by Mr. Korda for permission to produce pictures for other companies.

His relations with the company, he said, are exactly as they were when he left England in October, but, he added, he may produce films for other distributors. He admitted that while he was in the United States he conferred with Paramount officials but said that nothing was settled.

Mr. Korda declined to divulge the source of finances for the other pictures. He admitted, though, that additional funds would be necessary, and explained that there were several financing schemes in process.

London to Make 15 Features

His company, London Films, will produce 15 features this year, he said. Three of them, he added, will be in color. The first film will be "Four Feathers" and it will be followed by a Russian ballet story in color; a Gertrude Lawrence original; a Robert Sheriff production entitled "King's Messenger"; a Robert Sherwood musical, probably with a score by Irving Berlin, and "A Bicycle Made for Two." The approximate cost of each, he said, will be £120,000 ($600,000). He has no intention, he pointed out, of reducing costs, believing that the only way to reach the United States market is to make pictures for the world market.

There is no feeling among American audiences against British films, he said. The real enemies to expansion of the British industry, he continued, are the producers who send poor British films to the United States.

Murray Silverstone, United Artists managing director in England, who has been in the United States for two months, plans to sail for England January 26th.

DECEMBER GROSSES SET RECORD, SAYS CHAKERES

Phil Chakeres, head of Chakeres-Warner theatres in Springfield, Ohio, and Chakeres circuit of small town theatres throughout southern Ohio, reports that December grosses were the largest for that month in his 28 years an an exhibitor.

A new innovation in policy for New Year's Eve materially aided in compiling the record. Chakeres theatres concluded their regular programs at 7 p.m. New Year's Eve and reopened with new programs offering three complete performances at 7:30, 9:30 and 11:30 p.m. Capacity audiences were in attendance at every performance in all theatres.

Previously the circuit had used the New Year's Eve prevue policy with but a single performance of the new program combined with the closing performance of the current programs.

New Classification Urged For Academy Awards

A recommendation that the Government-made documentary film, "The River," be placed in a new classification and not be allowed to compete in the regular short subjects award classifications, was made to the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences this week by the producers on the general awards committee.

The Screen Actors Guild mailed ballots to senior members, asking them to vote on the four acting awards—best performance by male star, by feminine star, by male supporting player and by feminine supporting player.

Heads of the studio sound departments met last Thursday at the council's headquarters, Hollywood, to honor Franklin Hansen, retiring director of sound at Paramount.

Reade Plans Eleven New Houses in Year

Eleven theatres are planned for construction this year by Community Theatres, Walter Reade, president, said this week. Seven were completed by the circuit last year, its first year of operation.

Four new houses are to get under way in the next 30 days, Mr. Reade said. These will be in Red Bank, N. J., and Ellenville, N. Y., both to seat 1,100, and in Beacon, N. Y., and Trenton, N. J., both with 1,600 seats. Mr. Reade said that theatres would not be in opposition to any other circuits, except in Beacon where he will build against Sam Cocalis.

TRI-CORNERED TRADE PRACTICE PLAN IS REJECTED BY ALLIED DIRECTORS

Board Decides to Press for Enactment of Ban on Block Booking; Yamins, Myers and Blum Reelected to Offices

Prospects of a trade practice conference of the major independent exhibitor groups were virtually eliminated Tuesday when the board of directors of Allied States Association of Motion Picture Exhibitors, at its annual meeting in Washington, voted not to participate in such a meeting "until present plans for seeking relief in Congress are carried to a successful conclusion."

The decision was reached following a lengthy discussion of the entire course of the negotiations over a period of some six months, during which the conference was repeatedly given a date, but never held. Sponsored by the ITOA of New York, Allied was supposed to participate, with the MPTOA.

Contrary to pre-meeting reports, Nathan Yamins was reelected president of the national organization on Wednesday. Also renamed to office were Abram F. Myers, general counsel, and Herman Blum, secretary-treasurer. The only change in the roster of officers came with the election of Arthur K. Howard to succeed H. M. Richey as recording secretary.

If the association now goes ahead with the industry conference plan, it was announced such action might "seriously jeopardize plans that have been months in the making and may give Congress the impression these problems were on the way to solution when even the sponsor of the meeting never pretended they could assure such a result, and may create in the minds of exhibitors a false security which the present monopolistic practices certainly do not justify."

A legislative committee, composed of H. A. Cole, Max L. Levenson, Sidney Samuelson and Maurice Rubin with Mr. Yamins and Mr. Myers as members ex-officio, was appointed.

Although no announcement was made as to the legislative program, it was expected the campaign will be centered upon pressing for enactment of a bill to be introduced by Representative Lyle H. Boren of Oklahoma as well as support for anti-block booking measures. Mr. Boren's bill, admittedly drafted with the close cooperation of Mr. Myers, calls for divorcement of the production, distribution and exhibition phases of the motion picture industry.

Although it was not made known at the Carlton Hotel, where the board met, it was learned from the Capitol that Samuel Hobbs, representative from Alabama, visited the directors Wednesday morning and was questioned at length in regard to the chances for passage of his proposal to investigate the film industry.

Criticism of producer broadcasts also was voiced by the Allied group after presentation of a report by Mr. Myers in which he declared studio air programs "a mad hatter's device to wreck this business to the profit and glory of its chief competitor."

Involved in the film industry's air troubles are the Hollywood "gossip broadcasts," the worst feature of which, it was pointed out, are the disparaging comments of some commentators regarding particular actors and actresses and "their assumption of the role of critic" to review new films.

Allied States already has taken this matter up with the "worst offenders" among radio advertisers and, Mr. Myers reported, has obtained the cooperation of Procter and Gamble, whose program features Jimmy Fidler.

Mr. Fidler's bell-ringing reviews were omitted from his last broadcast and may have been dropped permanently, the board was told, as a result of protests to the soap company that it was unfair to seek goodwill for its products by disparaging those of other industries.

Forced to decide between Atlantic City, Pittsburgh and Indianapolis as the city for its next annual meeting, the Allied board selected Pittsburgh and instructed the directors from West Pennsylvania to meet and arrange a date for the convention.

The board also appointed necessary committees, including a nominating committee to prepare a slate of candidates for the presidency and other offices from among a number of names which had been submitted by various groups. The nominating committee consisted of Nathan Yamins, chairman; Sidney E. Samuelson, Col. H. A. Cole, Arthur B. Price, Fred F. Herrington, Ray Branch, I. R. Holycross, P. J. Wood and F. J. McWilliams.

A radio committee also was appointed: Irving Dollinger, chairman; Charles H. Olive, Ray Tesch, Arthur Howard and Frank Hornig, with instructions to study the producer broadcast and review problems.

A new finance committee was named, with Herman A. Blum as chairman, and including H. M. Richey, Aaron Saperstein, M. A. Rosenberg, J. B. Fishman, Irving Dollinger, Max L. Levenson, Maurice Rubin and M. B. Horwitz.

The program for the meeting follows:

TUESDAY

I. First Session, 10:30 a.m.

Reports by the president and the chairman and general counsel.

Appointment of nominating and finance committees and others.

Proposals by directors of additional subjects for consideration by the board.

Selection of time and place of 1938 national convention.

Statement regarding Silver Jubilee of Allied Theatre Owners of the Northwest to be held at the Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, January 31st and February 1st and 2nd.

Radio competition—Statement of problem and action taken, including Procter & Gamble correspondence and reception of program evolved by Allied of New Jersey.

Statement by P. J. Wood on federal admission tax.

Consideration of new matters.

II. Second Session, 2:30 p.m.

Reception of committee reports.

Consideration of legislative program and protective measures under the anti-trust laws. Discussion led by H. A. Cole.

Consideration of unfinished business and new proposals.

Adjournment at 5:30 p.m.

III. Annual board dinner, Supper Club Room, Shoreham Hotel, for directors, exhibitors, wives.

WEDNESDAY

IV. First Session, 10 a.m.

This session set aside for conference with Congressmen.

Reception of committee reports and consideration of unfinished business.

V. Second Session for completion of unfinished business, 1:30 p.m.

Presentation of an insurance proposal by request of MPTO of Maryland.

Consideration of product situation and proposal for extending sales surveys.

Inter-organization cooperation.

When informed of Allied's action on the trade practice conference proposed by Harry Brandt, president of the ITO of New York, Ed Kuykendall, president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America, declared the decision was of no consequence. "As far as I'm concerned," Mr. Kuykendall said, "those conferences were dead long ago."

STEFFES OPPOSES ADDITIONAL HOUSES

The granting of additional theatre licenses in Minneapolis will result in lower entertainment standards, W. A. Steffes, president of Allied of Northwest, declared Tuesday when he spoke at a dinner given by Minneapolis theatremen in honor of members of the district and municipal benches. "With additional theatres," he said, "managers will be forced to play pictures of dubious moral value. If anyone really wants to get into the theatre business, there are plenty of theatres that can be bought at a reasonable figure."

Mr. Steffes reports progress in arrangements for the Northwest Allied States silver anniversary convention which will be held in Minneapolis from January 31st to February 2nd.

The Independent Theatre Owners of Kansas City will hold its annual meeting and election of officers January 24th.

A party of 15 New Jersey Allied States exhibitors arrived in New York this week after a Havana-Bermuda cruise on the Queen of Bermuda.

AFM Committee Meets in Miami

The entire executive committee of the American Federation of Musicians met Monday at the Everglades Hotel, Miami. Joseph Weber, president, New York; C. L. Bagley, vice-president, Los Angeles; Fred Birnback, secretary, Newark, N. J.; Harry Brenton, financial secretary, Boston; C. A. Weaver, Des Moines; A. C. Petrillo, Chicago; Walter Murdock, Toronto, and William Kerngood, secretary, composed the committee. Routine business was discussed.

Mr. Weber said that the AFM pact with radio stations means $2,000,000 more annually in salary. Practically all stations have signed, he said, except a few small units.

A meeting will take place in March or April to take steps on studio practices considered objectionable to the federation.

Select "Wells Fargo"

"Wells Fargo," a Paramount picture, has been selected by Scripps-Howard newspaper critics as the "best" picture in December. "True Confession," also a Paramount picture, was second.

AKE IT FROM US, BOYS..

ODUCTION VALUE--- IT'S THE BEST OF THE WESTS

CRITICS SAY IT'S THE BEST OF THE WESTS

AUDIENCES INSIST IT'S THE BEST OF THE WESTS

MAE HERSELF MADE IT THE BEST OF THE WESTS

PARAMOUNT'S "EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY" is the BEST of the WESTS!

TURN, PLEASE

MAE MAKES IT the BEST of the WESTS!

Here's Mae in the best of all those gay-nineties roles for which she's famous. This time she's singing one of those numbers, as only Mae can sing them—but more than all this, Mae pulls a new one by doubling first as Peaches O'Day, the little blonde from the east side of New York, and as Mlle. Fifi, a French brunette with one of those imported accents. In other words, it's Mae at her best plus!

AN ALL-STAR COMIC CAST MAKES IT

the BEST of the WESTS!

"Every Day's A Holiday" has one of the biggest line-ups of radio and screen comedians ever assembled for a single picture. Charles Butterworth, Charles Winninger and Walter Catlett are enough to put anything over, but when you add to them Herman Bing and Chester Conklin, not to mention the fact that Edmund Lowe playing opposite Mae turns in an amazing high-comedy performance and that Lloyd Nolan, as a tough guy of the Gay Nineties, adds his quota of laughs, you've something to write home about!

Paramount Pictures

PREVIEW AUDIENCES PROVE IT'S THE BEST OF THE WESTS!

COLUMNISTS AND COMMENTATORS SAY

IT'S THE BEST OF THE WESTS!

In Glendale, California, a preview audience cheered this Best of the Wests. Here's a few random cards that echo their 100% approval of Mae's great musical picture.

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"

We will appreciate your opinion of this picture before making final alterations for its national release.

This card is stamped and self addressed. Please mail it promptly.

Remarks: Best yet.

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"

We will appreciate your opinion of this picture before making final alterations for its national release.

This card is stamped and self addressed. Please mail it promptly.

Remarks: Very Good

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"

We will appreciate your opinion of this picture before making final alterations for its national release.

This card is stamped and self addressed. Please mail it promptly.

Remarks: The picture as a whole and Mae West is wonderful in a picture of this kind

C. E. Hayden

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"

We will appreciate your opinion of this picture before making final alterations for its national release.

This card is stamped and self addressed. Please mail it promptly.

Remarks: Great

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"

We will appreciate your opinion of this picture before making final alterations for its national release.

This card is stamped and self addressed. Please mail it promptly.

Remarks: It was terrific

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"

We will appreciate your opinion of this picture before making final alterations for its national release.

This card is stamped and self addressed. Please mail it promptly.

Remarks: Very fine as it is

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"

We will appreciate your opinion of this picture before making final alterations for its national release.

This card is stamped and self addressed. Please mail it promptly.

Remarks: Cannot be beaten

"EVERY DAY'S A HOLIDAY"

We will appreciate your opinion of this picture before making final alterations for its national release.

This card is stamped and self addressed. Please mail it promptly.

Remarks: a Sweet picture

PRODUCTION VALUE MAKES IT the BEST of the WESTS!

All the critics agreed that "Every Day's A Holiday" tops all West pictures in production value. The sets are lavish, true to their period. The production numbers are all big-time production numbers. To name a couple, New Year's Eve at Rector's in 1900 is an eye-full and so is the thrilling election day parade through the streets of Old New York with Mae West playing the drums to the strains from the swing band!

HIT TUNES MAKE IT

the BEST of the WESTS!

You've heard "Jubilee" and "Every Day's A Holiday" plugged by the big bands on the National Radio networks. They are already among the top tunes now on the air and "Fifi," the third big hit of the show, is beginning to come up even with them. The score for "Every Day's A Holiday" has been written by Paramount's aces of the song industry —Sam Coslow, Barry Trivers, Hoagy Carmichael and Stanley Adams.

Paramount

HUGE NATIONAL ADVERTISING AND PROMOTIONAL CAMPAIGN GUARANTEES

it's the BEST of the WESTS!

A national advertising campaign reaching from coast to coast will make a reading public of 55,784,623 people say, "It's the Best of the Wests." Millions of others are hearing its hit tunes on the networks and know "It's the Best of the Wests"—and Paramount's beautiful press-book, with 9 full pages of tested promotion helps, 18 pages of advertising mats tying in with the great national drive, and 6 more pages of newspaper and program copy, rounds out the nation-wide S. R. O. appeal to include every theatre-goer in your city with those millions who will cheer the BEST OF THE WESTS.

LIFE
LOOK
AMERICAN WEEKLY MOVIE CLASSIC
MOTION PICTURE
SCREEN BOOK
SCREEN PLAY
HOLLYWOOD MOVIE STORY
MODERN SCREEN
SCREENLAND
SILVER SCREEN
MOVIE MIRROR PICTURE PLAY
PHOTOPLAY
SCREEN GUIDE

TOTAL READING PUBLIC—55,784,623

MAE WEST in "Every Day's A Holiday" with EDMUND LOWE • CHARLES BUTTERWORTH
CHARLES WINNINGER • WALTER CATLETT • LLOYD NOLAN • HERMAN BING • CHESTER CONKLIN and LOUIS ARMSTRONG
Screen Play by Mae West • An Emanuel Cohen Production • Directed by A. Edward Sutherland • A Paramount Picture

Paramount Pictures

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT DENIES PLAN FOR ANTI-TRUST ATTACK ON FILMS

Officials Assert Other Industries Will Be "Considered First"; Dallas Contract Restriction Case Goes to Supreme Court

by FRANCIS L. BURT
in Washington

Anti-trust activities of the Department of Justice probably will not turn toward the motion picture industry for at least six months, despite widely disseminated rumors that the Government is preparing to launch an immediate campaign against the industry.

Officials of the department this week denied that plans were in the making for such a drive and denied also reports that the anti-trust division is preparing to tell Congress about conditions in the film and certain other industries.

"There are two or three industries which I think should be taken care of before motion pictures are considered," one official said informally, when asked about the situation.

The department is receiving "hundreds of complaints" with respect to motion pictures, he said, but the greater proportion deal with block booking and but few allege monopoly.

Block booking is the major concern of the department so far as the film industry is concerned, and officials, it was indicated, would be glad to see Congress enact divorce legislation, such as has been suggested by Representative Lyle C. Boren (Dem., Okla.), which would prohibit producers from engaging in exhibition.

Such a law, it was said, would relieve the distributor of the need or desire to favor producer-owned theatres over the independents and would practically eliminate quarrels over booking.

Department officials are anxious that industry be not too stirred up about threatened monopoly attacks where no such attacks are planned and, accordingly, discussed the situation more freely than usual.

It was declared the anti-trust division is not engaged in the preparation of reports discussing monopoly conditions in any specific industries, for submission to Congress. It is not expected that any report on monopoly will be prepared until and unless one is requested by a Congressional committee when it takes up the question of modernizing the anti-trust statutes, as suggested by President Roosevelt.

Dallas Case Appealed

Under the head of old business came the carrying by major distributors of their defense against Department of Justice charges of attempted monopoly and restraint of trade in Texas to the United States Supreme Court. On January 17th they petitioned for a review of the decision of the Federal District Court at Dallas enjoining them from application of provisions in exhibition contracts setting minimum admission prices and prohibiting double-features for subsequent-run houses.

Decision of the court as to whether it will undertake to review the case is expected to be announced on its next order day, January 31st.

The suit, filed by the Government December 15, 1936, named Paramount Pictures Distributing Corporation, Vitagraph, RKO, Columbia, United Artists, Universal, M-G-M, Twentieth Century - Fox, M-G-M of Texas, Twentieth Century - Fox of Texas, Interstate Circuit, Inc., Texas Consolidated Theatres, Inc., Karl Hoblitzelle and S. J. O'Donnell.

The respondents denied that contract restrictions had been adopted with a view to securing a monopoly and contended that they had operated under the copyright laws and that the restriction of double features and insistence upon minimum admission prices were a lawful exercise of their rights.

They also claimed that instead of suffering losses, as contended by exhibitor witnesses, the subsequent-run houses had enjoyed increased profits as a result of the fixing of admissions.

Monopoly Report Started

In spite of the Department of Justice reports that there is no immediate prospect of an investigation of the industry, the first phases of an inquiry into monopoly charges against major distributors, begun some time ago, were completed in Los Angeles when Albert J. Law, special attorney general, began drafting his report on Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, the first company to come under the Government's scrutiny.

Mr. Law heads a staff of more than 30 persons which has been examining the books of the M-G-M exchange in Los Angeles and the company's relations with Fox West Coast Theatres. He said the report would be forwarded to Attorney General Homer S. Cummings for determination as to whether the Federal Grand Jury should be requested to act in the matter.

The next step in the investigation will be a complete examination of the Fox West Coast dealings in answer to charges of monopoly voiced by independent exhibitors.

"Divorce" Appeal Ready

Depositions have been completed in the Federal injunction suit brought by Paramount to restrain enforcement of the North Dakota theatre divorcement law which is scheduled to become effective March 15th, and the case is expected to be called for trial next month or early in March at Fargo.

Dealings of distribution company exchange managers with the Minnesota Amusement Company and the American Amusement Company, Paramount subsidiaries, were outlined in the depositions and, over the objections of counsel for the plaintiff, much of the testimony related to dealings between the affiliated circuit and the distributors and independent exhibitors of Minneapolis.

KANSAS NEWSREEL "SCOOPS" PRESS

George Baker, manager of the Electric theare, Kansas City, Kansas, was credited with "scooping" the newspapers of the city this week when he screened 100 feet of film of an airplane accident in his theatre before the papers had the story published.

Mr. Baker arrived on the scene almost immediately after an airplane had crashed into a house and recorded the accident with a 16mm. camera. No one was injured, the two naval reserve fliers having parachuted to safety.

Theatrical Law Committee of Bar Association to Study Present and Proposed Laws in Relation to Film Industry

In preparation for the undertaking of an extensive study of anti-trust laws in relation to the motion picture industry, the committee on theatrical law of the Federal Bar Association of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut this week appealed to members of the organization for expressions of opinion on the matter.

The plea was made by Bernard A. Grossman, committee chairman, in an association report in which he reviewed the anti-monopoly campaigns in states and pointed to the fact that national legislation is now being "invited."

"We are told," Mr. Grossman reported, "that the office of the United States Attorney General is toying with the idea of sending a specific and full report to Congress on alleged monopolistic practices in motion pictures and other major industries."

In calling attention to the fact that the study will be limited to laws and conditions affecting the film industry, the report explained that the countrywide anti-monopoly campaign was preceded by "conspiracy actions, joining many individuals and many groups, united either through management, stock ownership or interlocking boards of directors, for restraint of interstate commerce in films and for attempting to monopolize the exhibition end of the business."

"As chairman of the committee," Mr. Grossman wrote, "I have no preconceived attitudes. There is considerable demand for anti-monopolistic laws of serious extent. The demands come with incisiveness and force and, in some respects, with the arresting charm of novelty. On the other hand, there is considerable concern that those advocating these economic and public policies are suffering from a fruitless, missionary ecstasy; that the road is neither new nor progressive, and that the mirage of salvation at the end is a distant and receding goal.

"In the end your committee may perhaps find that here, as so often, the war is chiefly one of words and that a rapprochement between the factions is simpler than we think.

"Your committee tends to work towards the declaration of a standard of conduct and economic concepts that does not defy definition."

To substantiate the fact that there is a "rather general sentiment, both in and out of Congress, that something ought to be done about the anti-trust laws," Mr. Grossman quoted newspaper headlines.

"I am cognizant," Mr. Grossman wrote, "that the motion picture industry has come under the critical eye of the Department of Justice on prior occasions, and has been frequently and specifically named as one of the large industries for investigation and probe. Some of the lawmakers busied on this program are members of the Association; others have, in the past, solicited an expression of opinion from us. The committee is about to consider the subject of anti-trust laws and to render a report and accordingly inquires whether you have any message for them in the matter."

SHUTDOWN THREATENED IN FRANCE AS PROTEST AGAINST CINEMA TAX

Discrimination Against Theatres Without Stage Shows Seen As Forcing Curtailment; Production Hit by Credit Freezing

by PIERRE AUTRE
in Paris

The motion picture industry in France stands ready to shut up shop unless relief is had from the law voted by Parliament on January 2nd increasing by 25 per cent the state tax on cinemas not employing musicians or using vaudeville, provided the monthly receipts exceed $6,700, and reducing by one-fourth the state assessment on theatres showing vaudeville and using orchestras.

The measure is expected to cause large losses to producers and distributors if exhibitors supplant one or two feature pictures with stage shows, but even this is not considered a solution as the reduction seems insufficient to make up for the cost of hiring musicians and vaudeville artists.

The increase of the state tax, which will affect the hundred largest French theatres, will diminish by the same proportion the revenues of distributors and producers and deal a telling blow to French production.

At a big meeting of a thousand exhibitors Saturday in Paris, attended also by representatives of the chambers of producers and distributors, full power was given the managing boards of the three general branches of the industry to urge that the new government, when the cabinet has been formed, suppress the new tax and, as often promised, reduce the existing entertainment tax in a proposed cinema bill.

If negotiations fail before the application of the new tax on February 2nd, the industry threatens to close all cinemas in Paris in protest and, if that is an insufficient gesture, to shut the doors of all exchanges, production companies, studios and laboratories.

Finance Serious Problem

The vigorous protest against the new tax measure is in great part a reaction to the serious problem of financing new production which, in the past few months, has loomed more and more alarmingly as a threat to the life of the industry. With the tightening of credit sources and the devaluation of the franc it has become practically impossible for French producers to find money for production and grave doubts have been expressed that the industry can continue the progress made last year unless immediate remedies are adopted.

The reasons for the lack of funds have been studied carefully by all branches of the industry itself and the Government, prior to its recent fall, examined the question. Means of financing the industry is one of the main features of the much discussed bill proposed by Jean Zay, minister of education in the old cabinet, for the reorganization of the industry. The status of this bill under the new Government is in doubt.

The main reason for the freezing of financial sources lies in the way the system of French production operates. French bankers have no confidence in the Cinema industry and consequently refuse to risk funds for production on the ground that commercial balance within the industry changes too rapidly.

FRENCH PRODUCTION TALLIES 123 FILMS

Of a total of 123 feature films which went into production in France least year 88 have been released and 35 are ready for exhibition at the present time. Three of the pictures, Jean Renoir's "La Grande Illusion"; Julien Duvivier's "Un Carnet du Bal," and Sacha Guitry's "Les Perles de la Couronne," received awards at the Venice Exposition.

The number of American pictures released during the year, 230, far exceeded that of any other country. Germany had 31, England 29, Russia 14, Italy 4, Belgium 3 and Mexico 1.

At present French production is entirely a matter of independent producers, and there are about as many producing companies as French films produced. The latest and present system is to create a new company for every new film produced, the majority of these companies being under the financial form of "Sociétés à responsabilité limitée" (Societies with limited responsibility) and which do not need more than a capital of Frs. 25,000 ($870.00) to be formed.

It is obvious that companies with such a small capital cannot inspire the confidence of the French financiers. But this system seems imposed by the risk mentioned above. It is this system, so much attacked, which has allowed the French Industry to continue to live for the last two years and to keep French films in a good position among other foreign pictures.

The bankruptcy of Gaumont, with a loss of 200 million francs, the fall of Pathé-Natan, the diffusion of all the scandals around it, have caused French finances to be entirely withdrawn from an industry which could have been one of the finest and of the most important of this country.

Facing this lack of financing from the banks, the industry has tried self-financing. This has partially succeeded for a time.

However, in spite of some good results, the risks have remained very heavy for anyone who wishes to produce a film, due to the fact that this method of financing costs too much, as the banks discount cinema drafts at a rate which is never less than 20 per cent.

British Money Important

If progress was made by French production in 1937, it was due in a large part to British money. It was from the bankers of London that the French film industry received most of the cash money for its production. One hundred million francs—that is to say five million dollars at the rate of one dollar for 20 French francs last January—were loaned by Lloyds of London, which allowed for the production of about 60 films, just half of the total French production of the year, 120 films.

It was through this money that French producers were able to make such films as "Pearls of the Crown," "The Death of the Swan" and others. Unfortunately, due to the devaluation of the French franc, this system cannot be continued.

But this is not all. While French producers are seeking financing the industry is anxious to see whether French films can be amortized within the domestic market.

A report on the cinema industry by the National Economic Council established the following figures:

There are in France 3,720 motion picture theatres currently operating, all equipped for sound production. Their total yearly gross receipts are between 850 and 900 million francs (between $28,000,000 and $30,000,000).

Total annual production is about 120 feature pictures of which the average cost is now 2,500,000 francs ($83,000), making a total annual production cost of 300,000,000 francs ($10,000,000). The difference between the total gross receipts and the total production therefor is, for the year, 550,000,000 francs ($18,000,000).

As a matter of fact, however, production shows a big deficit. The share of the receipts which it receives after deduction of other items is shown in the following:

For special entertainment taxes, pauper, state and municipal levies, deduct 170,000,000 francs;

For authors' copyrights which are collected in the theatres, deduct 17,000,000 francs;

For exhibitors' percentages, deduct 331,500,000 francs:

For distribution expenses deduct 99,500,000 francs.

Of the 232 million francs remaining about 56 per cent goes to French producers and 44 per cent for foreign films (33.85 per cent to America, 5.03 per cent to Germany, 1.85 per cent to England and 3.27 per cent to various other countries). The figures thus show that of the 850,000,000 francs of total gross receipts only 130,000,000 francs go to French producers for production costing a total of 300,000,000 francs, meaning an annual loss of 170,000,000 francs in the domestic market.

Foreign productions are limited automatically by the fact that for general exhibition they have to be dubbed in French.

Producers find credit more and more restricted. The studio owners decided, three months ago, to limit credits usually granted to the producers. Since September 27th, the only credits granted has been for the renting of sets, synchronization equipment, cutting and projection rooms, but workers, mechanics, electricity, scenery and all kinds of furniture have had to be paid with cash deposited before production started. It is claimed that the only way to help the financial situation is to create a special bank of the cinema, which would finance producers.

The creation of a well established organization for the financing of films, which would not take a 20 and 30 per cent discount on these operations, would be a great relief for the industry. Establishment of such an organization is reported to be an important feature of the comprehensive legislation proposed by Jean Zay, the minister of education, which also would "purge" the industry by barring all persons who have been convicted of felonies or mishandling of funds. But such an establishment would place the Franch cinema industry under the entire control of the State.

Mr. Zay said recently:

"Professional organization, the financing of production, protection of the pictures of quality, taves, censorship, educational films, short subjects, film propaganda, film libraries, such are the problems which have been studied by the Government and for which our project will present a solution."

This latest statement of Mr. Zay aroused vehement protests from the whole industry, which answers:

"We will accept that the Government grants us what we have asked for years, reduction of taxes, for instance, but we refuse to become a nationalized industry managed by civil servants."

"MIXING IRISH POLITICS" NOW HELD REASON FOR "PURGING" SHUMIATSKY

Introduction of Love Element by Transforming Cabin Boy to "Jennie" Hawkins Also Is Called Factor

Boris Z. Shumiatsky's head may not have been removed, as at first "feared" by the Hearst newspapers, for reported sabbotage in and wrecking of the Soviet-owned and controlled motion picture industry, but Mr. Shumiatsky himself has been removed, definitely, as head of the Red film. However, the earlier and more ominous political reasons for his involvement in Josef Stalin's "purge" of state enemies now give way to charges of "sex-ing" a Russian film version of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island" and of mixing "Irish politics" with the production. As an afterthought, the chief of the Soviet film business is further charged with out-Hollywooding Hollywood.

"Violent press denunciations" of Boris Shumiatsky, indicating he had become involved in the Stalin "purge," were first heard a week ago in Moscow and were relayed to New York by the Hearst International News Service. He was characterized as having "fallen into the hands of saboteurs who wormed their way into the administration of Soviet cinematography."

Credited with a leading part in the swift growth of the Soviet cinema, Mr. Shumiatsky was reportedly condemned by the Moscow press for allegedly permitting a steep decline in production of Russian pictures.

Pravda, Communist party newspaper, was reported in a New York Herald-Tribune dispatch from Moscow to have described Mr. Shumiatsky's hand in "a catastrophic slump in the film industry, attributed to wrecking and maladministration."

Hollywood and Irish Rebellion

Now, from Moscow, come fresh news cables indicating that Mr. Shumiatsky's displacement is to be blamed on his injection of too much Hollywood "love interest," plus the Irish Rebellion, into his production of 'Treasure Island.' The Soviet film agency in New York, known as Amkino, added its opinion that "inefficiency" and not "sabotage" of the film business in Russia was responsible for Mr. Shumiatsky's predicament.

Referred to As "Ex-Chief"

The revelation that Mr. Shumiatsky no longer held the position of chief of the Soviet motion picture industry came by an oblique route. He was referred to in a review of the film, "Treasure Island," as the "ex-chief." The review, Harold Denny reported in a cabled dispatch from Moscow to the New York Times, was "scorching," and, he continued, the film which had been running at a children's theatre was abruptly withdrawn.

In quoting the review, which was published in the newspaper Soviet Art, Associated Press reported from Moscow that "Shumiatsky, long under fire for extravagance and failure to fulfill production schedules, had met with poor success in giving political touches to the Robert Louis Stevenson classic."

"The producers," the dispatch continued, "also were criticized for introducing the love element into an almost completely masculine story by transforming cabin boy Jim Hawkins into a girl—Jennie Hawkins.

"Soviet Art accused the producers of trying to give political significance to a 'bourgeois adventure story' by introducing the Irish revolutionary movement. But the newspaper found the revolutionary movement had only been compromised by showing the Irish Rebels as adventurers. If the producers had to drag in politics, Soviet Art said, they should have read the letter Karl Marx wrote in 1869 on the Irish situation."

Piracy and Romance

The AP account of the incident also pointed out that the producers of the film had hoped to have Franciska Gaal, Austrian actress, play the role of Jenny because of the fact her picture "Peter" was successful in the Soviet Union. Finally, however, the dispatch said, the producers engaged a Russian girl who appeared in the pirate scenes with romantic songs of high life, which also displeased the newspapers.

In Mr. Denny's dispatch to the Times a review of the film industry's growth and troubles in Russia was included. He wrote that the extensive purge "which has been quietly under way for some time . . . was touched on in the disclosure that the Irish rebellion idea was recommended by three former cinema executives who later were exposed as enemies of the people, as well as by Mr. Shumiatsky himself."

The reporter also saw a hint in the Soviet Art's review that "the eclipse of Sergei Michailovitch Eisenstein, once a world renowned director, who had five years of failure and inactivity, may have been due to the ineptness of executives."

"Mr. Shumiatsky," the reporter continued, "now is blamed for the fact that Mr. Eisenstein lost two years making 'Bezhin's Meadow,' which was considered so bad it never was exhibited." Turning to the subject of cost, Mr. Denny declared the Soviet cinema has been a heavy drain on the State's purse because wasteful and extravagant practices created huge deficits.

Vacations on Location

He then told of film companies turning location trips into long drawn out vacations at the state's expense.

"Thus," the article continued, "the Commissariat of Finance recently disclosed that 567,000 rubles had been allotted for 50 days stay in the Crimea shooting scenes for 'Treasure Island.' The party stayed 167 days, only 54 of which were devoted to work. The group spent 1,400,000 rubles. Actual expenditures of three to four times as much as was planned apparently were common.

"Besides joyriding when they should have been working, the film personnel used the money intended for picture production for their own pleasures or needs. Thus, it was charged, more than 1,000,000 rubles were spent purchasing apartments for leading members of the personnel and thousands more for private villas. It is alleged that 250,000 rubles were spent for Mr. Shumiatsky's villa and 1,000,000 rubles went for a rest home."

Art Serious Under Stalin

Mr. Shumiatsky's troubles brought editorial comment in the New York Herald-Tribune. "Mr. Shumiatsky," the newspaper said, "has been summarily removed; and the world is now left to wonder whether it will soon learn of his untimely demise. Art, under Stalin, is serious.

"With much of the verdict one can unhesitatingly agree. When Mrs. Charles Hopkins played Jim Hawkins twenty years ago, we remember thinking, as loyal Stevensonians, that any producer who would put a girl in that part ought to be shot; although we never expected then to see the day when producers actually would be shot for such things. And Mrs. Hopkins didn't make Jim into a girl, or sing romantic songs of high life. Surely, the purely esthetic consequences of introducing song and sex appeal into the great cabin of the Hispaniola (did the actress, one wonders, swing "Fifteen Men on a Dead Man's Chest'?) or raising the Irish land question as Long John Silver's men were storming the stockade, must have been deplorable. But would the situation really have been improved artistically by adding Karl Marx himself to the passenger list and eliminating all the fighting scenes in toto to insure that the children would not get mixed up in their sympathies?

"Doubting this, one must also doubt whether the Soviet authorities were judging on strictly esthetic grounds. Indeed, the more one thinks about it, the more one is inclined to feel that Mr. Shumiatsky's 'Treasure Island' must have merits on its own account that escaped the stern eye of Soviet Censorship."

Merely a Suggestion

The editorial continued with a suggestion that the film be sent to Hollywood, which "would no doubt reciprocate with a film version of Trotsky's "History of the Russian Revolution," edited by Stalin, with Lenin converted into a woman, played by Mae West, with the Czar turning out to be Ed Wynn in disguise and never really getting shot at all, and with all the street fighting eliminated so that good little democratic children should not find themselves, in the mistaken excitement of the moment, cheering for Bolsheviks."

"If we can't have that," the article continued, "let us, certainly, be permitted to see the Shumiatsky's 'Treasure Island.' "

At the New York office of Amkino, it was said that charges of inefficiency resulted in Mr. Shumiatsky's removal and N. Napoli, assistant to Vladimir I. Verlinsky, president, amplified this by declaring Mr. Shumiatsky made a mistake by attempting to be a one-man organization.

"Naturally," Mr. Napoli explained, "with only one man looking after things, there was bound to be relaxation of vigilance in some directions and resultant mismanagement." Mr. Napoli said he had received no word of the appointment of a successor to Mr. Shumiatsky.

Criticized at Conference

Mr. Verlinsky left United States last month to attend a general conference of department heads of the All-Union Motion Picture Trust and at these meetings Mr. Shumiatsky was severely criticized for maladministration, these charges resulting in his dismissal, according to Amkino.

AD EXECUTIVE TELLS RECIPE

A good rule to follow in preparing advertising of any kind is "It isn't the taste of the fisherman that should determine the bait, but the taste of the fish," according to Leo J. Bamberger, sales promotion manager of RKO. Mr. Bamberger enunciated his formula in the course of an address at the Advertisers' Club in Cincinnati.

EDUCATIONAL SEEKS NEW RELEASING ALLY

Hammons Silent on Report of Joining in GN Refinancing; 20th-Fox to Make Own Shorts

Earle W. Hammons, president of Educational Pictures, said on Tuesday that he has "two or three deals" under consideration but he replied with "no comment" when queried on the Broadway report that he would participate in a $1,000,000 refinancing of Grand National Pictures.

Mr. Hammons pointed out that he was in the market for a distribution outlet because there will be no renewal of Educational's releasing contract with Twentieth Century-Fox after the expiration of the five year pact on August 31st. Twentieth Century-Fox, through John D. Clark, general manager of distribution, disclosed this week that the Educational pictures on his company's program will be supplanted by one-reel short subjects which will be produced by Twentieth Century-Fox itself.

Grand National has been undergoing a retrenchment in recent weeks both in home office and studio personnel.

This development and the fact that Mr. Hammons is negotiating for some kind of a deal had resulted in Broadway reports linking the two organizations. Mr. Hammons declined to identify any of the parties with whom he said he is negotiating.

"When there is something definite," he declared, "I'll make an announcement, but not until then."

Mr. Clark attributed his company's decision to produce one-reel short subjects to the prevalence of double feature programs throughout the country. There is little or no market for two-reel shorts because of the dual bills, he declared.

Under present plans, the company will produce 52 shorts in the 1938-39 season and, Mr. Clark said, some of them will be in color. Truman Talley, who has been producing the "Magic Carpet" and the "Newsreel Cameraman" series, will be in charge of producing the one-reelers, under the tentative plan.

Twentieth Century-Fox's new short subject probably will be produced in the East, Mr. Clark said.

Concerning the Grand National situation, Phil Goldstone, independent producer and active in financing independents on the coast for many years, said that he has "no personal interest" in the current negotiations looking toward reorganization of Grand National and its financial rehabilitation, but he is "representing mutual friends," on his arrival in New York Tuesday from the coast.

Mr. Goldstone hinted that the money needed by Grand National to resume production would be forthcoming if other factors are favorable. He indicated he expects to have a plan shaped up before returning to Hollywood in a few days. He is financially interested in "Damaged Goods," which Grand National is releasing.

One of the principal developments in the Grand National situation was the definite dissociation of the company and James Cagney. The actor rejoined Warner Brothers instead of waiting until March 14th when his contract was scheduled to begin. His first picture with Warner Brothers will be the screen version of the stage play, "Boy Meets Girl."

William Cagney, the actor's brother and business manager, said the release from Grand National had been agreed upon and the documents signed. Mr. Cagney relieves Grand National of any financial obligation to him in return for his release from his commitment to make "Angels with Dirty Faces."

The week also brought the removal from the Grand National payroll of Ben Pivar and Dave Diamond, producers, and D. R. S. Morrison, story department head under Phil Krasne. Mr. Pivar immediately was signed as an associate producer with Eugene Frenke Productions on two Anna Sten vehicles which Grand National will release.

Mr. Morrison is on a two-months leave of absence and Mr. Diamond, who worked on a picture-to-picture basis, left the lot when production ceased.

Hollywood Still Is Staple of World Amusement-Brown

If the exhibitors and their customers can prevail Hollywood will be holding the foreign market, in the opinion of Colvin Brown, vice-president of Quigley Publications, just back from an extended sojourn abroad.

"The exhibitor in the United Kingdom and the Continent depends upon American motion pictures almost as much as the American exhibitor," said Mr. Brown, "and is quite content to do so despite rampant nationalistic efforts to wean him in behalf of domestic product. The governments and leaders of business and finance throughout Europe all want a national film industry and, with the principal factors of their own industry, are endeavoring to find a formula which will give it to them. But the exhibitor is satisfied with American pictures.

"I was especially concerned with the European market some years ago at the very beginning of these nationalistic efforts to develop indigenous film industries, and I was surprised, after these several years of endeavor, to find the European exhibitor as thoroughly contented with American product as ever. The answer is, of course, the box office, and while there are the occasional pictures of domestic origin which excel American pictures in box office value, in domestic markets, the dependable, standard merchandise is the American motion picture.

"It is difficult to understand how people of such divergent tastes and such a range of psychologies find the American picture the common denominator of their entertainment, especially in view of their acute differences in taste for almost everything else from politics to groceries. By this I do not mean that I found that everybody, everywhere, likes the same pictures. For instance, one most successful American program has a record of only mediocre success in France, whereas the same product leads in popular acceptance in Italy.

"It is even more difficult to comprehend the broad popular acceptance of American film entertainment when there is such marked evidence of different tastes in stage entertainment. For instance, when I arrived in London, I had only time to see a couple of shows, and Percy Philipson and Hope Williams agreed that the show of London, the one that I shouldn't miss, was 'Time and the Conways.' After a dull evening, we all agreed that it was not so great and, yet, it is the top hit of the London season, with a runner-up in 'George and Margaret' which I had found in New York to be almost stupid. Concurrently with the raging success of 'Time and the Conways,' which New York didn't seem to like much better than I did, 'You Can't Take It With You' opened and closed in the two weeks before I reached London.

"Everywhere that I went on the Continent and in England I was impressed with the prestige and influence of Motion Picture Herald. Despite the barrier of language, Motion Picture Herald wields an unprecedented influence with French exhibitors and with film buyers throughout the Continent, the film capital of which is Paris."

Republic Sets Spring Meeting

The Republic annual convention will be held May 3rd to 5th in Los Angeles it was decided Monday at a sales conference held in Chicago. Next year's schedule, it was said, will be the same as this year.

The company on Saturday let out 10 clerks in the contract department. Grover C. Schaefer, comptroller of the company, said that the dismissals were the result of the altered sales setup in the company, following the meeting of Republic's franchise holders in New York last week.

Mr. Schaefer said that in view of the fact that the company is operating without a general sales manager, all contract activity is handled through the district sales managers at the exchanges in the field, and not at the home office, as heretofore. He said there are no immediate plans for filling the post of general sales manager.

H. J. Yates arrived in Hollywood Monday for Republic production conferences and to make preliminary plans for the annual sales convention.

Associates to Hold Election

Motion Picture Associates, New York City salesmen organization, will elect officers Friday, with Joseph J. Lee and Jack Ellis candidates for president. Other candidates are: Jerry Wilson, first vice-president; Matthew Cahan, second vice-president; Morris Sanders, treasurer; Charles Penser, financial secretary; Moe Fraum, recording secretary; Louis Kutinsky, sergeant-at-arms, and Seymour Schussel, Sol Trauner and Richard Gledhill, trustees.

CONGRESSMEN NOT SATISFIED WITH SLAP AT NBC FOR MAE WEST SKIT

U. S. Commissioner Condemns Broadcast as "Indecent"; Determination Voiced by Lawmakers to "Clean Up Radio"

A letter of condemnation sent to the National Broadcasting Company and 59 affiliated stations that aired the Mae West version of an "Adam and Eve" sketch on Sunday, December 12th, closed the widely protested broadcast incident for the Federal Communications Commission this week, but Congressmen, unappeased by the action, became even more critical of the FCC and appeared more deeply convinced than ever that the entire radio industry was in need of a thorough investigation.

Although commending the NBC for making public apologies, the commission declared it would not accept the company's excuse that the program was but "a human error of judgment." The program was "far below even the minimum standards which should control the selection and production of broadcast programs," the letter announced.

The broadcast, in which Don Ameche and Edgar Bergen's dummy, Charlie McCarthy, played opposite Miss West, was "vulgar," "indecent," and "against all proprieties," Frank R. McNinch, chairman of the FCC, told reporters before reading a copy of the commission's letter.

No Action Now, But—

NBC and the 59 stations were warned that, while no further action was contemplated "at this time," the incident would be taken into consideration when the radio stations apply for renewals of their licenses. NBC owns or controls 15 stations.

In his talk with reporters, Mr. McNinch indicated he did not regard motion picture standards sufficiently high for broadcasting. "Of all means of entertainment," he declared, "I believe radio must have the highest standards of all."

The rebuke was accepted by the NBC without any protest. Asked for a reply to the commission, Lenox R. Lohr, NBC president, answered:

"We agree with the high purposes of broadcasting referred to in the published letter of the Federal Communications Commission. The National Broadcasting Company's record of public service for more than a decade clearly shows that the policies it has pursued are fully in accord with those principles."

Legislator Preparing Bill

Meanwhile, February 15th remained as the reported deadline date for Congress launching an investigation of the industry. Senator Herring this week joined the ranks of Congressmen who have publicly announced themselves in favor of "cleaning up" the radio. The Iowa legislator said he was preparing a bill but added that the Mae West broadcast did not inspire it. It was obvious long before that incident, Mr. Herring said, that legislation had become necessary.

He declared he was not ready to advocate government ownership of radio stations, but then added, thoughtfully: "It may be that England has found the answer." The government operates British radio stations.

MAE WEST'S NAME USED DESPITE BAN

Although it was widely announced that the National Broadcasting Company banned the use of Mae West's name on its networks, Miss West was mentioned Saturday night during the broadcast of dance music from Watsonville, California.

NB officials admitted the name had been used on the program but explained that the edict was meant only to prevent the used of the screen actress' name in connection with the "Adam and Eve" skit in which she took part December 12th.

Miss West was mentioned by an entertainer during the presentation of a song entitled "A Fish Out of Water." The lyrics of the number enumerate several things difficult to imagine, including "Mae West in a play as an ingenue."

Although not revealing details, the senator indicated his bill would call for some form of censorship. "The people of this country pay for their radio programs," he said. "They have some right to say what is to be sent into their homes."

Mr. Herring's announcement followed closely an indictment voiced last week by Representative W. D. McFarlane of Texas. He declared the acquisition by RCA of a substantial interest in RKO, and its subsequent disposition at a heavy loss, was an indication of the extent to which motion pictures and radio are in the hands of a "trust."

Congressional investigation of the entire radio field, to determine whether a monopoly exists, also was demanded in the House by Representative Richard W. Wigglesworth, Jr., of Massachusetts.

In its letter to the NBC and its affiliated stations, the FCC said in part:

"The commission has carefully considered the transcript of the 'Adam and Eve' feature by Don Ameche and Mae West and the dialogue between Mae West and Charlie McCarthy, sponsored by Chase & Sanborn and broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company over 59 stations on Sunday night, December 12th. It is our considered opinion that both of these features were far below even the minimum standards which should control in the selection and production of broadcast programs.

"We commend your company for having apologized over the radio and through the press for these features and again in your letter to the commission.

"We are unable, however, to accept the view expressed in your letter that the broadcasting of these features was only 'a human error of judgment.' The care which the public has a right to expect and which is, we understand, the practice, in the writing and editing of the manuscripts and the rehearsing of such features, would seem to exclude the elements of accident and surprise.

"A clear recognition of the social, civic and moral responsibility for the effect upon listeners of all classes and ages requires such a high standard for programs as would insure against features that are suggestive, vulgar, immoral or of such character as may be offensive to the great mass of right-thinking, clean-minded American citizens.

"In our present system and the statute under which the Federal Communications Commission functions, the commission has no power of censorship, but this power and responsibility rests squarely and unavoidably upon the licensee.

"The right to continue operation under a license can be justified only so long as public convenience and necessity are served through programs broadcast to the listeners.

"Each licensee carries his own definite responsibility for the character of programs broadcast, and he must be, and will be, held to account, regardless of the origin of the program.

"All who are interested should, therefore, take notice that trespasses against the public interest will be charged against every station engaging in such trespass.

"In view of your recognition of the objectionable character of the program in question and of your assurance that greater care and caution will be exercised in the future, the commission has decided to take no further action at this time than the writing of this letter in condemnation of the program.

"However, upon application for renewal of the licenses of the stations carrying this broadcast, the commission will take under consideration this incident along with all other evidence tending to show whether or not a particular licensee has conducted his station in the public interest."

500,000 Programs in 11 Years

Following release of the FCC letter, Mr. Lohr disclosed the text of his letter to the commission, stating that the program was a "human error of judgment." He released the letter, he said, in order that the record of the correspondence between the commission and NBC might be complete.

The letter, dated December 22nd, follows:

"In response to your letter of December 18th, I submit herewith the material you requested in relation to the broadcast over our network Sunday night, December 12th.

"The public record of the maintenance of high standards and criteria of good taste by the National Broadcasting Company over the past 11 years and the wholehearted cooperation of our company, both with the spirit and with the letter of the communications act, speak for themselves. In this period nearly one-half million (500,000) separate and distinct programs have been broadcast over our networks. Frequently, as many as one hundred fifty different programs are broadcast over our networks in a single day. The standards by which these programs have been selected have made them welcome at the American fireside.

"In this instance, a human error in judgment was made and represents an exception which we promptly and publicly acknowledged. Neither the American public, nor the commission, we believe, will wish to judge the question of good taste by a single exception to the high standards we have maintained and which, we assure you, we shall continue to maintain."

With the letter, Mr. Lohr sent the commission a transcript and an electrical transcription of the broadcast, a copy of the contract between NBC and Chase & Sanborn, and the names and locations of stations which had the program.

Joan Storm Dezendorf, playwright, has filed suit in superior court in Los Angeles against Miss West, Mr. Ameche, NBC, J. Walter Thompson, Standard Brands, RCA, and several John Does, alleging that the "Adam and Eve" was unauthorizedly dramatized from her play, "Love and Applesauce."

Chicago Aroused By Dope Picture At Loop Theatre

by WILLIAM F. CROUCH
in Chicago

The booking of the independent film "Marihuana" into the Garrick, one of their first-run Loop theatres, by Balaban & Katz, has aroused much comment in Chicago exhibition circles. The film opened last week for a run of at least two weeks. The picture, named after a form of dope, was directed for Roadshow Attractions by Dwain Esper, whose previous sex and drug-addict films have brought adverse reaction. The film is being distributed locally by Roy Reid.

Made in Hollywood several years ago the film has no star names and is of the cheap independent production type. The story, so called, concerns a young girl, who has to do without the nicer things in life, being given marihuana cigarettes at a party. Under the influence of the drugs those attending the party go for nude bathing and the heroine eventually is seduced. When she later realizes that a child is on the way she goes to the ringleader of the dope peddlers for aid and as a result gets into the racket, becoming the "Snow Queen of the Snowbirds," or so the script says. Before the picture ends she realizes her mistakes and takes poison to end it all.

Numerous cuts in the picture have apparently jumbled the film as much as the original story. The acting and dialogue are of the cheap melodramatic type to be expected in such a film. The Chicago Tribune on January 18th published a review by Mae Tinee, dean of Chicago film critics, which called the picture "trash," cinematically speaking.

In passing the film locally the Chicago Censorboard made five cuts and give it a "pink ticket" or adults only, permit.

Chief cause for criticism on the showing is that it is playing in one of the better Loop theatres, a house that regularly plays the better films. Distributors who have to book films into the Garrick following the showing of "Marihuana" feel that it is a most unpleasant situation. One vehement distributor said, "It's a lowdown, dirty trick and will cause only harm."

With "In Old Chicago" opening at the B&K Apollo next week for a run of from two to four months, and the United Artists theatre holding "Hurricane" for at least a month or two, a great deal of product from the major companies is being held up on release.

Credited for the interest shown in the film from the boxoffice standpoint is the advance advertising campaign and the elaborate front of the theatre. The entire front of the theatre has been plastered with signs and pictures of the most sensational type. Girls in sensuous poses comprise most of the lobby "art" but the scenes depicted in the lobby are not—in most cases—to be found on the screen. Large signs reading, "Lust!", "Agony!", Wild Orgies!", and "Unleashed Passions!" also catch the eye.

SHORT PRODUCT PLAYING BROADWAY

Week of January 15

CAPITOL
Candid Camera Maniacs.. MGM
What Do You Think..... MGM

CRITERION
Script Girls ..... Vitaphone
Skiing on Your Feet..... J. H. Hoffberg

MUSIC HALL
Ski Flight ..... Vitaphone
March of Time, No. 6..... RKO

PARAMOUNT
Let's Celebrake, Popeye.... Paramount

RIALTO
Woods Are Full of Cuckoos . Vitaphone
Buried Loot ..... MGM

RIVOLI
Pathe Parade, No. 3..... RKO

ROXY
High-Ho Hollywood ..... Educational Grey Owl's Little Brother, The .....

STRAND
September in the Rain..... Vitaphone

Hearing Held On Foy Film

The appellate division, third department, of New York, heard arguments Tuesday on the litigation by Foy Productions, Ltd. and Principal Film Exchange, Inc., intended to obtain a license for "Tomorrow's Children," which had been turned down by the Motion Picture Division of the state and Commissioner of Education Frank P. Graves, because of its sterilization theme.

As in the case of "Ectasy," the film was shown in court. Many of the audience assembled to view the screening walked out between reels before the picture finished.

Jonah J. Goldstein, counsel for litigants flayed the education department for barring sterilization theme as immoral, alleging crime pictures are licensed. He also said that Foy Productions would have cut the offending parts if asked. Charles A. Brind, Jr., appearing for Commissioner Graves, asked that the ban be upheld.

Three of the five sitting justices questioned Mr. Brind closely on the immorality contention. Decision was reserved and briefs filed by both sides.

Sack Amusement Deal

Sack Amusement Enterprises has completed a deal for the southern and mid-western distribution of four all-Negro features which Richard C. Kahn will produce in Hollywood in 1938. The first will be "Two-Gun Man from Harlem."

Hode to Speak

Hal Hode, Columbia executive, on Friday will address the New York Advertising Club on the subject of films and their relation to consumer buying trends.

Meredith Reveals 10-Point Program For Equity Unit

Burgess Meredith, vice-president of Actors Equity Association, this week eliminated himself as a possible candidate for the presidency when the organization holds its annual meeting in June. In an editorial, published in the association's organ, Equity, Mr. Meredith cited a ten point program and declared he intended to carry out as much of it as possible before the election.

"I want you to realize," said Mr. Meredith who has the powers of president, "that I meant what I said about my tenure of office. I took this job for a definite time and for a definite purpose. But I have a career of my own and plans for it which make my continuance in office impossible after June."

The first point of the program deals with the Coffee Bill, Works Progress Administration and the Arts Union Conference and Mr. Meredith pointed out that he reported on the subject recently. (Motion Picture Herald, January 1st.).

"The World's Fair and the theatre's place in it" is the subject of the second item in the program. "I have received from John Krimsky, in charge of the Fair's theatrical activities, a double assurance," Mr. Meredith says in the editorial. "First that Equity shop will obtain. Second, that no plans will definitely be formed without Equity's advice and help." Mr. Meredith plans to appoint a committee to draft plans for submission to executives of the fair.

For a third point, Mr. Meredith proposes that Equity keep in touch with the American Theatre Council's plans.

The Associated Actors and Artists of America is discussed in the fourth item. "We are convinced of the probable benefits of enlarging the powers and duties of this parent international union," the article reads, "But we will have to watch carefully to make sure that its development does not adversely affect our jurisdiction, our autonomy or our treasury."

Other subjects which are included in the program are the possible reorganization and improvement of Equity Magazine, new contracts calling for a single minimum of $40, efficiency and economy in the administration of Equity's affairs, cooperative producing ventures and elimination of "shady managerical promotion schemes," conclusion of committee investigations, and the organization of night club and cabaret workers by Chorus Equity.

Dinner Aids Charity

A. H. Blank's 25th celebration netted charity in Des Moines some $500 which was donated by Mr. Blank and several guests at the party. It all started when one of them said he would rather give $500 than to give a speech at the banquet.

Griffith Guest Speaker

David Wark Griffith, who produced "The Birth of a Nation," was the featured speaker at a celebration of Robert E. Lee's birthday in Miami Thursday.

DeMille & "Buccaneer"

lunched and laurelled by Dr. Butler and Columbia University

by TERRY RAMSAYE

THE Buccaneer-DeMille troupe now on tour in behalf of Paramount Pictures' end-of-season "International Drive," a somewhat commercial matter, came into New York last Friday to gather the laurels of academic recognition under the auspices of Columbia University and at the hands of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, its celebrated president.

This, being for Mr. Cecil B. DeMille a twenty-fifth anniversary occasion, was signalized by Dr. Butler by one of the most fluent speeches in behalf of Warner Brothers pictures ever delivered from a public and academic rostrum.

Mr. DeMille is not with Warner Brothers.

The precise occasion was a luncheon in the Empire room of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in Park avenue, New York, to which a most diverse list, representative of Erudition, Culture, Society, Politics and mere Industry, including the radio, mostly persons of varying degree of name value, had been invited. Officially the host was the "Division of Film Study of Columbia University," a course devoted to adult attention and education conducted by Dr. Russell Potter of the Columbia faculty.

From many points of view, all of them enjoyed much by your correspondent, fresh from the world premiere of "The Buccaneer" and the realistic anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans, the Waldorf-Columbia function was one to go down in history—and how far was yet to be plumbed.

THE function got away to a completely unique start and maintained its pace for hours.

The remarkable initial step was the serving of a desert fruit known as the olive—in two colors—entirely naked. The usual sauce of gin and vermouth, with a dash of orange bitters, was omitted with the most unspectacular consequences. Everything else in the same category was omitted, with the same results, or none. Columbia is no slave to convention.

Oscar Tschirky, formerly of Neuchâtel and more recently of the Waldorf, peered a-down the vistas of candlelighted tables, passed his hands before his unbelieving eyes and passed out.

At your correspondent's right was Charles O'Reilly, who seemed at the moment despondent. At his right was Colvin Brown, economist, who had just returned from an intensive study of the processes of liquidation of inventory in Algiers, Naples, Rome, Paris, London and way stations. When pressed for a comment he touched parched lips to a glass of Croton and quoted that immortal answer that Augustine McCarthy always makes to sidewalk inquiries at Hollywood previews: "I have never seen anything like it before."

A hundred yards away, at the far end of the dais sat Frank Walker, looking as usual thoughtfully into infinity, which has room for it, while in a lonely spot at the near end of the table was Daniel Frohman, with his face buried in his hands, very possibly with such fond memories of other days as might be connotated by catchwords like "Manhattan," "Bronx" and "Old Fashioned."

Each guest, this being of a Friday, was confronted with a sumptuary interrogation as to his religious alignments, in just a broad way, when the waiters stated an option between a lamb chop and a filet of sole. Neil Agnew, the copyright owner of the "International Drive," and its slogan "Paramount on Parade," who sat in the middle distance dallying with a glass of water and thinking of something else, looked up and in a dry voice said, "No pompano." The waiter did not understand, but the fact was that Mr. Agnew was just back from New Orleans and the premiere of "The Buccaneer," an occasion of much fish, and some shrimp.

AS I was about to set down, when overcome by the aridity, this was an occasion for the honoring of Mr. Cecil B. DeMille, that great research authority on piracy, by Columbia University, which is one of the biggest real estate operators in New York, being the owner of the soil under Rockefeller Center, and this office, to the center of the Earth—and that's a big pyramid, upside down.

The toastmaster, as you might have guessed by now, was that distinguished counsel for the defense and Indiana solicitor, Mr. Will H. Hays, who happened to be in town on a trip from Hollywood.

Since Mr. Hays always takes his olives without special lubrication, the extremely low humidity of the occasion did not affect him, but he threw in with the unique character of the occasion by announcing that the toastmaster would be, "what toastmasters have always promised and are not, brief, and also toastmasters are supposed to be, and are often not, sincere."

Later, quite a bit, one began to wonder if some one had stolen Mr. Hays' watch.

Anyway Mr. Hays faced sharply to the microphone, which was not there, and took off on a speech that led up to the fact, admitted, that Dr. Butler was a statesman and a scholar.

DR. BUTLER, accustomed as he is to public speaking, arose and folded about him the academic and doctorial gown he was not wearing and made the customary opening about the merit of brevity. It became eventually apparent that nobody stole his watch, because it is reasonably certain he never had one. The distinguished Doctor picked up synchronism with the occasion by starting with the day that his father took him to the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition, there to show him Thomas A. Edison's first electric light, Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone, and later down the Potomac into matters of impending aviation with Professor Langley's experiments. He was just getting around to the first motion picture when all of a sudden he was talking about art and adult education.

"Of course the screen entertains," he said, "but it is the door through which to reach intelligence—the one great predominant instrumentality for molding public opinion—the means by which the public can be aroused from its slumbers—everyone talks of problems and passes resolutions but few act. . . ."

"The adult," opined Dr. Butler, "does not want to be educated. He does not want to go to school to be confronted by courses of study. He wants to be entertained, with stimulation and inspiration in his hours of relaxation."

PRESENTLY Dr. Butler came to the array of pictures that he specially admired and sought to point to as milestones of progress, pinnacles of attainment, indices of the future triumphs of the art, etc., and when he named them remembered George Arliss, and such items as "Disraeli," "The House of Rothschild," and "The Life of Emile Zola."

Mr. DeMille at this juncture had a sip of water.

William Pine, of the DeMille entourage, seemed deep in long thoughts. Robert Gillham of Paramount's propaganda department had the look of a man who had something to say that he would not.

The Paramount stenographer broke her pencil.

Somewhere along here Dr. Butler asked the audience to consider what kind of a world this would be "without the electric light, without the telephone, without the airship and without the motion picture." Somebody in the back of the house murmured "wonderful." Despite his known stand on the principle involved, Dr. Butler did not ask what about a New York movie luncheon without a drink?—probably a more remarkable landmark in history than the matters he mentioned.

This was about 3:15 E.S.T.—continued dry and fair.

Nearing the finale Dr. Butler opined that the motion picture did have a special obligation of cultural inspiration, service of the "public man." That was a challenge.

AND who do you suppose was right there to take it up? Mr. Hays, the toastmaster. If Dr. Butler had had any doubts about the motion picture industry's appreciation of its high calling of service he was forthwith on this occasion officially and completely informed.

It apparently occurred to Mr. Hays maybe that Dr. Butler's list of pictures was not as comprehensive as it might have been for the occasion, and so he brought in "The Ten Commandments," which is a very good title for an academic and uplifting audience.

(Continued on following page)

DE MILLE & "BUCCANEER"

(Continued from preceding page)

There was a pleasant lilting of the tempo of the proud occasion when Mr. Hays took a historical approach to the guest of honor by remarking that in 1689 one Anthony DeMille, somewhat newly on these shores, got into a clem with the sheriff and that in 1871 Mr. DeMille was sheriff.

This sort of brought things around to Mr. Cecil B. DeMille of the more contemporary DeMilles.

Mr. DeMille took the stage with the easy manner of one who has been there before. He, most originally, made no promises about being brief and probably does not carry a watch, being of the Hollywood where it is always exactly Now.

IT could be detected fairly early that Mr. DeMille was interested in a motion picture entitled "The Buccaneer." There was just a subtle possibility that in this Buccaneer could be found a lot of those cultural and service values of which both Mr. Hays and Dr. Butler had spoken so abundantly and expansively. Maybe it was just coincidence. When this DeMille sets out to be facile in expression he shows what twenty-five years of Hollywood technology can do. He told them, in a nice way, but firmly. "The Buccaneer" was well discussed.

Also Mr. DeMille mentioned some other pictures including "The Ten Commandments" and "The Sign of the Cross," also, out of sheer generosity, Metro's "The Big Parade." Mr. DeMille, having a highly selective memory, recalled no low grossing material.

Each point that Dr. Butler had made was met with care by Mr. DeMille, who found the works of the screen adequate to their obligations. Most entertaining and informative was his discussion of the application of a special technique to the interpretations in screen drama of history. He explained how, by a process of compression of history, effects of verity regardless of the violence done to dates and chronology could be achieved. His gestures indicated what may be termed the "accordion pleating" system of historical treatment. All the customers are familiar with it. It has enriched the art with some of the liveliest anachronisms of all time, both black and white and natural color.

There was a friendly ripple of hands when Mr. DeMille made reference to the labours of his brother William, in the audience, among the builders of the motion picture.

THERE was a bit of devilment in the speaker's intonations as he glanced at Dr. Butler and began to remark on the erroneous and unreliable character of many text books, and to touch, just ever so lightly, upon some of the possible shortcomings of education.

"I wish," pleaded Mr. DeMille, "that something could be done by our institutions of education toward teaching the speaking of the language. There is grave danger that the consonant is to disappear entirely from our spoken word."

Mr. DeMille was quite impassioned about the consonant, but never once brought up the subject of the care of the vowels.

And since Dr. Butler had done a bit of exposition about his having an interested father who showed him things, Mr. DeMille saw him on that and raised him back both a brother and a mother. A piece of unrecorded history came into the telling with account of how his mother turned his father from preparation for the Episcopal ministry to the drama as a career of human service.

"I sometimes wonder," observed Mr. DeMille, "if it might have been possible that Mother in some subconscious sort of way could have foreseen the coming of the two great arts today." The two included for Mr. DeMille the screen and the radio, to which he otherwise made no reference.

Citing something of the measure of indirect services that are to be had from the motion picture, Mr. DeMille remarked upon the researches done on the life of Jean Lafitte, hero of "The Buccaneer," at a total expense of about $80,000, obviously vastly more for the uncovering of a chapter of American history than any other agency would be likely to spend. He produced and read previously unknown documents unearthed in preparation for the writing of "The Buccaneer," including a letter from Zachary Taylor to a niece in 1835. This letter, discovered in an attic trunk by Hollywood researchers, limns the part of Lafitte as "The Buccaneer" puts it on the screen.

The guest list for the function included the who's who of New York's motion picture establishments, culture and social groups, several of the large and heavy industries from steel to radiators, and educators.

And the whole job was done on water.

"Buccaneer" Sets Record At New Orleans House

A new house record for the Saenger Theatre, New Orleans, was set during the first week's showing of "The Buccaneer," Paramount announced this week. The picture is now in its second week.

Following the world premiere of the film in New Orleans, the Louisiana Council for Motion pictures adopted the following resolution: "That 'The Buccaneer' is an outstanding contribution to American history in spreading knowledge of and creating interest in a most critical period of our national existence and that appreciation and thanks be expressed to you (Cecil B. DeMille) and Paramount for this worthy aid to visual education."

The Universal office in Mexico City said this week that the three-reel special on the Panay bombing was not cut by the Mexican censor, but was given the earliest possible showing. The Japanese minister in Mexico City, it was said, withdrew his request that the film be censored.

Companies Study Exchange Pact

Executives of distribution companies this week met to discuss among themselves and with company attorneys the terms of the master contract with the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees for exchange workers' unions. The discussions started last week and the first meeting concluded after the distributors requested a longer term than the one year proposed in the original draft submitted by the IATSE.

The companies have no objections to the terms of the contract since they coincide with the terms of the temporary agreements under which the exchanges have been operating since last June and as soon as attorneys approve the wording of the contract the union officials will be summoned for a final meeting.

With the IATSE claim of jurisdiction over all workers in the amusement industries on the agenda of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, meeting in Miami this week, consolidation of the International's strength was seen in the intensification of the drive to organize theatre managers, assistants and treasurers in the Union of Theatrical Managers, Agents and Treasurers. Letters urging eligible employees to join the union were mailed in the New York area early this week.

RCA Photophone signed a contract with the IATSE late last week for sound equipment service men after many weeks of negotiation. The agreement establishes a minimum of $80 per week for service men and $110 for special inspectors and road men. Officials of the company said recently the new wage scales would not result in an increase in the company's charges to theatres.

Dr. Angell Denounces Propaganda Programs

The use of the radio for spreading propaganda was denounced this week by Dr. James R. Angell, former president of Yale University and now educational counsellor of NBC, who termed such broadcasts a "sinister factor in life."

He mentioned specifically the use of radio in instilling an aggressive hostility to democratic ideals in South America. Radio has great political and social consequences, he said, and it must be used properly and controlled.

Revised Schedule Issued For Domestic Commodities

The United States Department of Commerce has issued a revised edition of Schedule B, statistical classification of domestic commodities exported from the United States. Included in the classification are the exports of the film industry. Copies of the new schedule are obtainable at the office of the superintendent of documents in Washington.

John Thomas has purchased the Thomas and Temple theatres, Kingfisher, Okla., from the Griffith Amusement Company and the State theatre from C. S. Humphrey, only houses there. Mr. Thomas formerly owned the Thomas and Temple but sold them to Griffith several years ago.

THE PICTURE OF THE HOUR . . .
AND A HUNDRED BIG MOMENTS!

INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT

20th's Split-Second Timeliness Wins You A Great Boxoffice Opportunity!

The seething, strife-torn International Settlement of Shanghai ... most publicized and exciting spot in the world ... haven of an American soldier of fortune and the Orient's most dangerous woman ... scene of their strange romance and stranger adventures. Drama that takes audiences beyond today's thrilling headlines!

INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT

with

DOLORES DEL RIO · GEORGE SANDERS

JUNE LANG · DICK BALDWIN

RUTH TERRY · JOHN CARRADINE

KEYE LUKE · HAROLD HUBER

LEON AMES · PEDRO DE CORDOBA

Executive Producer Sol M. Wurtzel

Directed by Eugene Forde. Screen play by Lou Breslow and John Patrick. Original story by Lynn Root and Frank Fenton
Songs by Sidney Clare and Harry Akst

20th CENTURY FOX

THE KEYSTONE OF YOUR FUTURE

PRINTED IN

ASIDES and INTERLUDES

By JAMES P. CUNNINGHAM

One of the anecdotes Bill Pine left with reporters down in New Orleans when he was there recently for the premiere of "The Buccaneer," on which he was associate producer with Cecil Blount DeMille, was an idea he had fathered when a press agent for Paramount in the early days of Mae West in Hollywood.

The fourth West picture was to be called "It Ain't No Sin," and Bill sold the studio the idea of having parrots advertise it. He gathered them by the score, telling his bosses that he'd send them to leading newspapermen of the country. After he bought the birds, Pine got a fellow to teach them to speak. He put them in a darkened room and played a record with the words, "It Ain't No Sin," over and over. The job accomplished, Bill felt swell. What an idea. He felt that the picture was in for a great publicity break.

A few days later, Will Hays called someone at Paramount and advised a change of the title of the picture. The "suggestion" was taken, and Bill was left with more than 100 parrots on his hands whose only value was their ability to say: "It Ain't No Sin." Nor could he make any progress with the idea after that, for the title was changed to "Belle of New Orleans," and, after New Orleans fathers complained, it was quickly changed to "St. Louis Woman," and after St. Louisians complained, Paramount quickly changed it to "Belle of the '90s."

▽

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer had its saga on "San Francisco." Twentieth Century-Fox has just come forth with "In Old Chicago." Paramount is now releasing its reproduction of old American history, entitled "Wells Fargo."

One of the highlights of "Wells Fargo" is the battle between Confederate cavalry and California plainsmen, as staged by Director Howard Estabrook on the rocky plains at Kernville, California. At the close of the battle, as thousands of exhausted extras were organizing burial parties and building campfires, for the cameras, their comment on the day's carnage was required, as a human touch. Mr. Lloyd asked them to act natural, to play the scene as they felt it—but "WITH NO PROFANITY, PLEASE." Cameras turned and swept the whole length of the battlefield, and the weary fighters began to ad lib, according to the director's instructions. Suddenly, clear above the others, came a voice into the microphones, saying, "My goodness, that was an awful battle, really!"

▽

Returning to New York aboard the S.S. Pilsudski, from Havana, are the honeymooning couple, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Blumstein. Mr. Blumstein serves steak sandwiches with French-fried potatoes, in The Shed, adjoining Rockefeller Center, where many a Quigleyite, Universalite, RKOite, and other filmites in these parts partake of luncheon. And that's how Mr. Blumstein got his bride.

Participating one lunch time at The Shed was Miss Lillian Heller, secretary to J. Cheever Cowdin, the very big boss at Universal. Observing Miss Heller was Mr. Blumstein, and he remarked she was the "neatest little trick" he had ever seen, vowing that she would become Mrs. Blumstein. Danny Oringe, another steak-server-upper, vowed that she wouldn't, and wagered $100 on his opinion.

Danny Oringe lost, Mr. Blumstein won—a hundred dollars, Mr. Cowdin's secretary, and a wife.

Adolph Zukor's whole Paramount production division at the studio in Hollywood was worried no end the other day, and it had nothing to do with production costs. Seems that one of their little girls had gone to sleep after throwing away the alarm clock. Paramount home office publicity tells about it:

> "Fears that Dorothy Lamour had contracted sleeping sickness were dissipated today when the actress finally awakened after a 17-hour stretch of unconsciousness. Miss Lamour went to bed at 4:30 P.M. yesterday and awakened at 9:30 o'clock this morning. But she was not sick, just exhausted. She had spent eight hours diving in and clambering out of the big special effects tank on the Universal lot, where the Paramount company making 'Her Jungle Love' filmed underwater scenes, including a submarine kiss with Ray Milland."

▽

If he can sing in the key of G to match the voice of Walter Woolf King, at least one member of the Gryllus family, of Gainsville, Florida, is bound for fame and fortune in Hollywood.

This family of budding stars, called Gryllus neglectus by the entomologists who hope one of the group will chirp in the proper key, are more popularly known as crickets. Seems that the California branch of the family have voices that record in B flat, and this is too flat and low to match the voice of Mr. King, so Hal Roach sent a hurry call to the University of Florida to find some Florida crickets that could sing tenor for the "Swiss Miss" which Mr.. Roach is now trying to make with Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy.

The Florida Chamber of Commerce cracked that the Florida cricket will probably get a sore throat in California.

▽

Nepotism in motion pictures has spread from Hollywood clear through to the Malayan Jungles. Paramount sent Clyde Elliott, producer-director, to the jungles some 400 miles out of Singapore to make "Booloo." Elliott saw a jungle girl named Suratna Asmara, a beauty, he wrote, and immediately set to work to get her for the lead opposite Colin Tapley. Suratna expressed willingness, and Mr. Elliott was quite elated, until the little lady added the condition that her entire family, consisting of 30 men, women and children, had to be signed also. She had her way.

▽

Wives around the Hollywood-Los Angeles sector are now allowed to fly free on United Airlines—but not scot free.

▽

The next time you eat a peanut, a paltry peanut, reflect upon the fact that beaver board, axle grease, shaving cream, ink, rope, hair oil and about 350 other things are immediate by-products of the little nut that elephants, circuses, baseball fans and a certain kind of moviegoer helped to make famous. If you don't believe it, see Pete Smith's MGM short on "The Story of Dr. Carver," a Negro slave baby, still alive, who grew in science to discover these things.

▽

Headline caption on a piece of publicity from NBC:

RADIO SEEKS BIGGER,
BETTER STEER HIDES

Paramount, last year, made "The Virginian," and took the trade press gentlemen to Richmond, the locale of the story, for the premiere. Paramount, this year, made "The Buccaneer," and took the trade press to New Orleans, the locale, for the premiere. If certain of the trade editors have any influence on Paramount, the company's big picture next year will be a colossal epic about the Riviera in Europe. Or, Bali Bali.

▽

The Los Angeles Times reports: "A new service has come to light in Hollywood. For $25 you can get a man to 'stand-in' for you at the hospital when your wife is awaiting the stork." They call it the "Hollywood Nerve Saving Service."

A lot of Hollywood producers could use the "Nerve Savers" when they show their filming cost sheets to the bankers.

▽

Eddie Klein, in London, is telling his favorite story about the film salesman who had had an "outbreak." His wife does not like outbreaks. Furthermore, he had promised to be home by eleven p.m., and here it was seven in the morning. Things looked desperate, very desperate, until the salesman got a brainstorm. Picking up a telephone, he shouted to his wife:—"Don't pay them a penny of ransom. I've escaped!"

▽

Phil Baker claims his success in Hollywood is attributable to his strict observance of a rule: "Don't send any more cigars to the Hays office—The place is on fire now."

▽

Joseph P. Kennedy, of Yonkers, is elated over President Roosevelt's appointment of Joseph P. Kennedy, of Bronxville, to the Ambassadorship at the Court of St. James's. As a matter of fact, Joseph P. Kennedy, of Yonkers, will be more than elated when Joseph P. Kennedy, of Bronxville, actually leaves for London.

Joseph P. Kenendy, of Yonkers, is a plumber, and his name is listed in the Westchester County telephone directory, whereas Ambassador-elect Kennedy, of film and banking fame, has no telephone listing. So, Kennedy the plumber gets ever so many telephone calls intended for Kennedy the statesman.

▽

Hearing, at this late hour, of Hope Hampton's determination to return to the films, Universal signing the wife of Jules (Eastman Kodak) Brulatour to star in "She Shall Have Music," the New York World-Telegram sent one of its best reporters, Douglas Gilbert, self-styled "Snoop-and-snitch" Gilbert, up to the Fifth Avenue home of the Brulatours to hear what she had to say.

Mr. Gilbert got a verification of Hope's debut as a prima donna in motion pictures, picked up a coupla anecdotes about Miss Hampton in her early film days. But the reporter became quite leary in the Brulatour home. No sooner had the French maid opened the front door and quickly ushered Mr. Gilbert into the foyer when 146 yous aped from all angles. Miss Hampton has paneled the whole place with mirrors, to give depth to the house. But it gave the jitters to the reporter. Miss Hampton came on the scene, and Gilbert was further jittered by the sight of 146 Miss Hamptons, which is practically 14 harems of Hamptons.

SHOWMEN'S REVIEWS

This department deals with new product from the point of view of the exhibitor who is to purvey it to his own public

Gold is Where You Find It

(Warner-Cosmopolitan)

California Story

Notable in California history and not by any means inconsequential in the annals of the nation was the struggle between wheat farmers and hydraulic miners for mastery of the Sacramento valley. Showmen may refer customers to the history books for dates, underlying causes and so on, but Michael Curtiz tells it all somewhat more effectively and a deal more stirringly in this color version. It is, however, part and parcel of the growing cinema library of American history, and in this circumstance resides the surest recipe for exploitation results.

In common with most of Herr Curtiz's productions, this is in every sense a big picture. The setting, of course, is California, with its wheat fields, goldfilled mountainsides and, toward the end, vast fruit lands. The time is the '70s. California had not yet perfected a Chamber of Commerce but the Native Son had reached a high state of development. 'Frisco was a gaudy Gomorrah in the grip of the gold crowd, and Sacramento already had felt the pinch of greedy fingers not averse to conniving to stall federal court action. The downstate agrarians were a peaceful people, yet fresh enough from the battlefields of the Secession to hold the rifle in high regard as an instrument of debate.

Claude Rains, Olivia De Havilland, Tim Holt and John Litel are dropped into this setting as members of a wealthy wheat family. Into their midst comes George Brent as a mining engineer, assigned to sluice out gold from the mountainside while wooing a farmer's daughter. Matters become complicated when the owners of the mine employing him arm the workmen, resist service of a federal court injunction restraining them from mining hydraulically, a practice resultant in spoilage of farm lands in the valley through a steady spread of waste matter over the fertile acres. Farmers face miners across rattling muskets as the honest young engineer switches his allegiance, saves the day, wins the girl by blowing up a dam and flooding the countryside, the final court decision makes everything legal and shipshape.

Others in the long cast whose names mean something on marquee are Barton MacLane, Sidney Goler, Robert McWade, Russell Simpson, Sidney Toller, Margaret Lindsay and Willie Best. It might be useful to mention that it's a Cosmopolitan serial story by Clements Rilpey with screen play by Warren Duff and Robert Buckner, and the latest work of that dependable producer, Samuel Bischoff.

Curtiz's treatment of the mass material in hand may be described as characteristic. Some of the sets are eloquent on their own and certain exteriors attain a rugged splendor. Most memorable are shots of the San Francisco of the Seventies, tremendously effective episodes somewhat disadvantageously overshadowing sequences more pertinent to the narrative. Beautiful in a sheer picture postcard way are the slightly anticlimatic closeups of orange trees, and grape vines, while George Brent's voice explores California's future with rare prophetic accuracy. This, however, balances a kind of prologue spoken by an unidentified voice while the happy camera supplies brilliant illustration. It is conceivable that both these may come out or be shortened.

Previewed at the Warner Hollywood theatre to a highly promiseful reaction.—WILLIAM R. WEAVER.

Produced and distributed by Warner-First National. Associate producer, Sam Bischoff. Cosmopolitan serial story by Clements Ripley. Screen play, Warren Duff and Robert Buckner. Director, Michael Curtiz. Assistant director, Jack Sullivan. Dialogue director, Irving Rapper. Photographer, Pol Polito. Art director, Ted Smith. Film editor, Owen Marks. Sound, E. A. Brown. Unit manager, Frank Mattison. Gowns, Milo Anderson. Technicolor photographic advisor, Allen M. Davey. Technicolor color director, Natalie Kalmus. P. C. A. certificate number 3798. Running time, 90 minutes. Release date, February 12, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Jared Whitney	George Brent
Serena Ferris	Olivia deHavilland
Col. Ferris	Claude Rains
Rosanne	Margaret Lindsay
Ralph Ferris	John Litel
Lances Ferris	Tim Holt
Enoch	George Hayes
MacKenzie	Russell Simpson
Joshua	Willie Best
Slag Minton	Barton MacLane
Dr. Parsons	Harry Davenport
Deputy	Eddy Chandler
Grogan	Robert Homans
Nixon	Granville Bates
Harrison McCooey	Sidney Toler
Mr. Crouch	Robert McWade
Senator Hearst	Maroni Olsen
Senator Walsh	Clarence Kolb

Everybody Sing

(MGM)

Comedy with Music

Laugh packed and blending comedy and music, "Everybody Sing" stars Allan Jones and Judy Garland and features Fanny Brice, Reginald Owen, Billy Burke, Reginald Gardiner, Lynne Carver and Henry Armetta. It is in essence worthy screen entertainment and showmanship merchandise. The amusement values are spread so widely and effectively that the picture should have no difficulty in pleasing diversified audiences. Care and thought have been spent in accommodating the preferences of both urban and rural audiences.

Devoid of any slow spots, concentrating on comedy, much of which is tomfoolery in nature, while recognizing the importance of romantic contrast and including one bit of sympathy stimulating human interest, it has been treated wholesomely and features musical accompaniment specialties that should prove interesting to family as well as sophisticated patronage.

The yarn heroizes Judy Garland as a scapegoat who, in alliance with Jones and Miss Brice and against the handicap of a pair of nutty stage struck parents, played by Miss Burke and Owen, determines to become the family breadwinner.

Told in refreshing style, the music numbers, Miss Brice's eccentric comedy and the contributions of Carver, Gardiner and Armetta are introduced where they have direct significance in the plot.

The story takes Judy Garland from expulsion from a boarding school for profaning Mendelssohn classics in swing style, to becoming topliner in Jones' musical show under his patronage and direction, much to the amazement and horror of the parents who, nevertheless, are first to take bows for Judy as the audience acclaims her.

Previewed at the Village theatre in Westwood, the main title recalling to the audience the appearances of Jones in "Firefly" and Miss Garland and Miss Brice in "Broadway Melody," set them in a mood to expect something out of the ordinary. The manner in which the crowd responded to the film's smoothly flowing fun and music indicated that similar reactions could be expected generally.—GUS MCCARTHY.

Distributed by MGM. Produced by Harry Rapf. Directed by Edwin L. Marin. Original story and screen play by Florence Ryerson and Edgar Allan Woolf. Photographed by Joseph Ruttenberg. Release Woolf. Photographed by Joseph Ruttenberg. Music lyrics by Leo Arnaud, Murry Cutter and Bert Kalmar, Harry Ruby. P. C. certificate number 3973. Running time, 90 minues. Release date, February 4, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

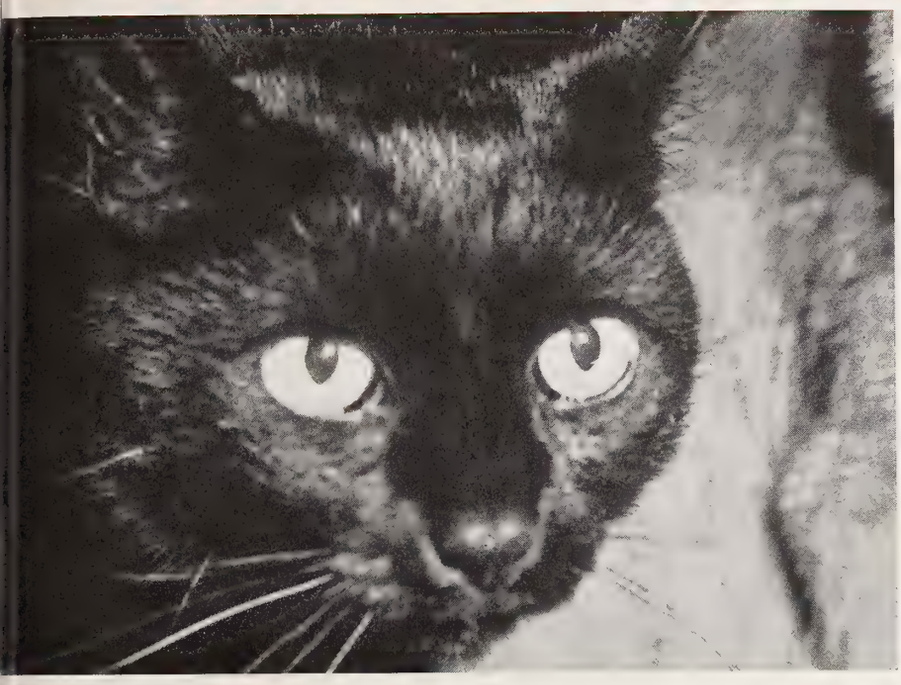
Enrico Sabini	Allan Jones
Judy Bellaire	Judy Garland
Olga	Fanny Brice
Diana Mathews	Billie Burke
Hillary Bellaire	Reginald Owens
Sylvia Bellaire	Lynne Carver
Gerrold Hope	Reginald Gardiner
Signor Vittorino	Henry Armetta
Miss Colvin	Mary Forbes
Miss Perkins	Elise Cavonna
Mlle Melloire	Cupid Ainsworth
Secretary	Marie Blake
Hillary's Secretary	Helen Troy

Paradise for Three

(MGM)

Comedy

Fast moving farce and romantic comedy, "Paradise for Three" is compounded of pleasing entertainment elements. Based on a novel by Erich Kaestner, which was welded into screen play form by George Oppenheimer and Harry Ruskin, and produced by Sam Zimbalist and directed by Edward Buzzell, the picture is played in glib fashion by a competent cast. Although the story is Continental in nature, all the characters being Germanic and the principal locale the snow covered Alps, its appeal is typically American.



The story is based on a dual mistaken identity and fairy godfather premise.

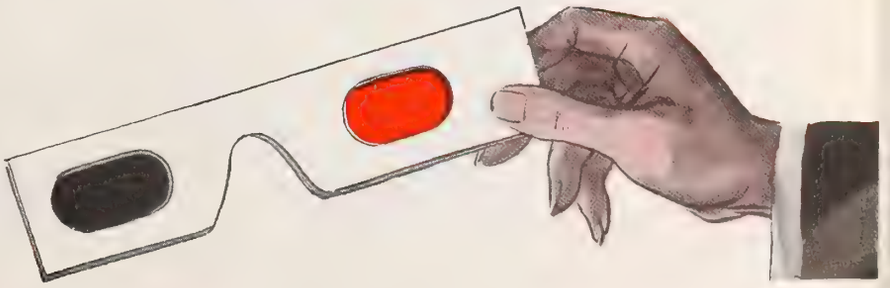
Manufacturer "Tobler," in the company of his valet "Kesselhut," joins the winners of a slogan contest he conducted in the Alps. He poses as a poor man, meanwhile passing off the valet as rich, then joins up with the poor but ambitious first prize winner "Hagedorn." As a result of "Tobler's" plotting, innkeeper "Palter" mistakes "Hagedorn" as a man of importance while "Tobler" is treated shabbily, a circumstance which he enjoys. As the trio encounter many hilarious escapades, romance makes its appearance when "Tobler's" daughter, "Helda," arrives to investigate reports that her father is being treated with little dignity. As "Hagedorn" presses his suit with "Helda," meanwhile importuning "Tobler" to use his influence to get him a job with the contest sponsor, the entire party resents one final insult, moves out of the hotel and back to Berlin, where the boy gets the job and eventually learns the identity of "Tobler" and his fiancee.

Previewed in the Village theatre, Westwood, Cal. There was no doubt that by far the greater portion of the audience thoroughly enjoyed the film. In addition to the draw names,

(Continued on page 40)

CAT'S "MEOW" IN TECHNICOLOR?

(It can't be done!)



But for screen tricks that will pack theatres with howling audiences—

M-G-M's New AUDIOSCOPIKS

EXPLANATORY REMARKS BY PETE SMITH

Screen it fast! Advertise it Big! Showmen cleaned up with the first one. The NEW AUDIOSCOPIKS is unquestionably the greatest gross-building Short Subject ever made!

(Continued from page 38)

there is much material in the story and production detail that can be adapted to effective exploitation.—G. M.

Distributed by MGM. Produced by Sam Zimbalist. Directed by Edward Buzzell. From a book by Erich Kaestner. Screen play by George Oppenheimer and Harry Ruskin. Musical score by Edward Ward. Montage affects by John Hoffman. Dolph Zimmer, assistant director. Elmo Veron, film editor. Photographed by Leonard Smith. P. C. A. certificate number 4,000. Running time, 75 minutes when seen in Westwood. Release date, Jan. 28, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Fritz Hagerdorn.....Robert Young
Helda Tobler.....Florence Rice
Rudolph Tobler.....Frank Morgan
Johann Kesselhut.....Reginald Owen
Frau Julia Konkel.....Edna May Oliver
Mrs. Mallabre.....Mary Astor
Palter.....Herman Bing
Herr Bold.....Siegfried Rumann
Sepp.....Henry Hull
William Reichenbach.....Walter Kingsford

South Riding

London Film (United Artists)

Character Melodrama

Once again, Victor Saville, producer-director, has demonstrated that it is far safer, and probably financially far sounder, for British films to concern themselves with Britain, and that the Englishman, when he wants to, not only translates the English scene into convincing screen entertainment but can interest the foreign audience more than with a fictitious Vienna or a mythical Montmarte. In "South Riding," a thoughtful and studied adaptation of Winifred Holtby's novel of Yorkshire life, he has created a picture which is so exactly English as to be of interest to the English and has kept it clear of any occult parochial clichés or obscure dialect which might hinder its appeal to showmen abroad.

It is on this vividly Yorkshire setting and social structure, and the intertwining of the public and private lives of its characters, that Saville's film revolves, linking penurious squire with pretty schoolmistress, unctuous psalm singing municipal grafter with labor idealist, ramshackle slum with baronial hall, and all the personalities of municipal and county life in a pattern which is not only a social study but a clever, if deliberate, essay in the interplay of human character. Most of the film's characters are either local councillors or their associates, but the story has something more than municipal interest.

The central figure is Robert Carne, penurious Squire of Maythorpe, individualist and embittered victim of a marriage shattered in a wife's insanity. His uncompromising figure dominates the scene, pitting reason against sentiment in social reform, groping blindly for the comfort of the schoolmistress's love, watching nervously the hysterical maturing of his daughter, leading the hunt to the slaughter of the fox, melting to humane tenderness with his cattle. He it is who unmasks the graft in the Maythorpe Council, but he it is, also, who makes the housing scheme a practical proposition, and naturally is able at last to marry his newly found love.

Ralph Richardson's portrayal of this blunt but insistently sane Englishman is a brilliant piece of work, all the more interesting that it makes no concessions to physical or moral prettiness. Edna Best's Sarah Burton, his schoolteacher loyalist, too is charming, and makes the relationship convincing. John Clements as the consumptive Socialist, Edmund Gwenn the most stolidly Yorkshire character of the film, and Marie Lohr as a woman councillor, are others whose work contributes much to the total. They are not all banner names, but they will be remembered by audiences.

The narrative is traced somewhat slowly, but Jack Dennis' fluent cutting keeps it together neatly. Harry Stradling's camerawork on the rolling Yorkshire dales, on the pageantry of the hunt and the dusty halflights of the council room, is one of the film's soundest assets.

There is a grotesquely patriotic climax in which the entire populace and municipal paraphernalia of the town sing "Land of Hope and Glory" and "God Save the King" on Coronation Day. This will have to be eliminated for American consumption, if not for everywhere else.

Premiered at the London pavilion to a typical West End audience, the film was received with interest and approval, though completely without excitement or demonstration.—AUBREY FLANAGAN.

Produced by Alexander Korda and Victor Saville. A London Films production, distributed by United Artists. Directed by Victor Saville. Screen play by Ian Dalrymple. From a story by Winifred Holtby. Photographed by Harry Stradling. Film editor, H. Stewart. Special effects, Lawrence Butler. Supervising editor, Jack Dennis. Running time 90 minutes. Adult audience classification.

CAST

Sarah Burton.....Edna Best
Robert Carne.....Ralph Richardson
Huggins.....Edmund Gwenn
Madge Carne.....Anne Todd
Mrs. Beddows.....Marie Lohr
Alderman Snaith.....Milton Rosmer
Astell.....John Clements
Mr. Holly.....Edward Lexy
Lydia Holly.....Joan Ellum
Midge Carne.....Glynis Johns

The Black Doll

(Universal)

Red Herring Fare

This is another offering of the Crime Club productions by Universal for the detective mystery fans. While its keynote is murder mystery, the adaptation by Harold Burkley of the novel of the same name by William Edward Hayes injects considerable comedy into the situations, alleviating to some degree a possibly unfavorable audience reaction to the three murders whose occurrences are marked by the appearance of the black doll.

Red herrings, typical of this type of story, swim throughout the unfolding of the picture, virtually every character having an opportunity to point accusing fingers at one another.

The title affords better than average exploitation angles. The cast is composed of Donald Woods, Nan Grey, Edgar Kennedy, C. Henry Gordon, Doris Lloyd, John Wray and others.

"Nelson Rood" is slain by a thrown dagger under circumstances which point to either of two former business associates in a Mexican mine. Then one of his former associates is killed. "Nick Halstead," private investigator in love with "Rood's" daughter, gets into the case along with a small town sheriff, "Renick." After various comedy sequences in which the small black doll plays a part, "Halstead" traps the murderer and defeats an attempt to kill him.

Previewed at the Pantages theatre in Hollywood, where an audience, usually unkind to offerings of this sort, indicated the fare agreed with them.—VANCE KING.

Produced and distributed by Universal. Producer, Irving Starr. Director, Otis Garrett. Screen play, Harold Buckley. From the novel, "The Black Doll," by William Edward Hayes. Photographer, Stanley Cortez and Ira Morgan. Film editor, Maurice Wright. Art director, Ralph Berger. Settings, Emile Kuri. Gowns, Vera West. Musical director, Charles Previn. Sound, Charles Carroll. Production manager, Ben Hersh. P. C. A. certificate number 3965.

Running time, 66 minutes. Release date, January 30, 1938. General audience classification.

CAST

Nick Halstead.....Donald Woods
Marian Rood.....Nan Grey
Sheriff Renick.....Edgar Kennedy
Nelson Rood.....C. Henry Gordon
Laura Leland.....Doris Lloyd
Walling.....John Wray
Mallison.....Addison Richards
Dr. Giddings.....Holmes Herbert
Rex Leland.....William Lundigan
Esteban.....Fred Malatesta
Rosita.....Inez Palange
Red.....Syd Saylor
Coroner.....Arthur Hoyt

The Land of the Maple Leaf

(Twentieth Century-Fox)

Travelogue

A pictorial collection of some of Canada's famous and favorite landscapes, this travelogue in black and white could have been enhanced considerably by the use of color. The magnificent panoramic views of such wonder spots as Banff, the Canadian Rockies and wild woods are splendidly shot and effective in their monotone shading. Included in the prospectus of the tour are brief visits to the interesting city of Toronto, the quaint Quebec and the bustling metropolis of Vancouver. The camera views of animal life in natural habitat are well done.—Running time, 10 minutes.

Termites of 1938

(Columbia)

The Stooges Go-a-Hunting

It all depends on how you look at things and in this case, the "things" happen to be the Three Stooges. Some patrons like the boys in any form of their assorted madness; others may have other reactions. This latest of the lads' merry pranks will not settle the matter. It concerns the elementary business of exterminating. They are invited, mistakingly to a very ultra dinner party. Armed with their trusty sprays and potent powders, the Stooges arrive. When the swanky household is discovered to be infested with rodents, the sight of business recalls the exterminators to their duty and there results for a finish a wild scurry of mice and men.—Running time, 17 minutes.

Grey Owl's Little Brother

(Educational)

Excellent Nature Study

The ancient phrase, "Busy as a beaver" is given sound and simple illustration in this excellent bit of nature reporting. The title applies to an Indian brave whose little brother the beaver is. It seems that the woodsman, appalled at the ruthless slaughter of this fur bearing creature, instituted a personal crusade. Glimpses of the winning tameness of the animals toward their benefactor and the sequences depicting the beaver's minute preparations for the building of the winter's abode, makes the subject both entertaining and novel, ideally suited for children and nature groups.—Running time, 10 minutes.

Trailing Animal Stories

(Twentieth Century-Fox)

Interesting

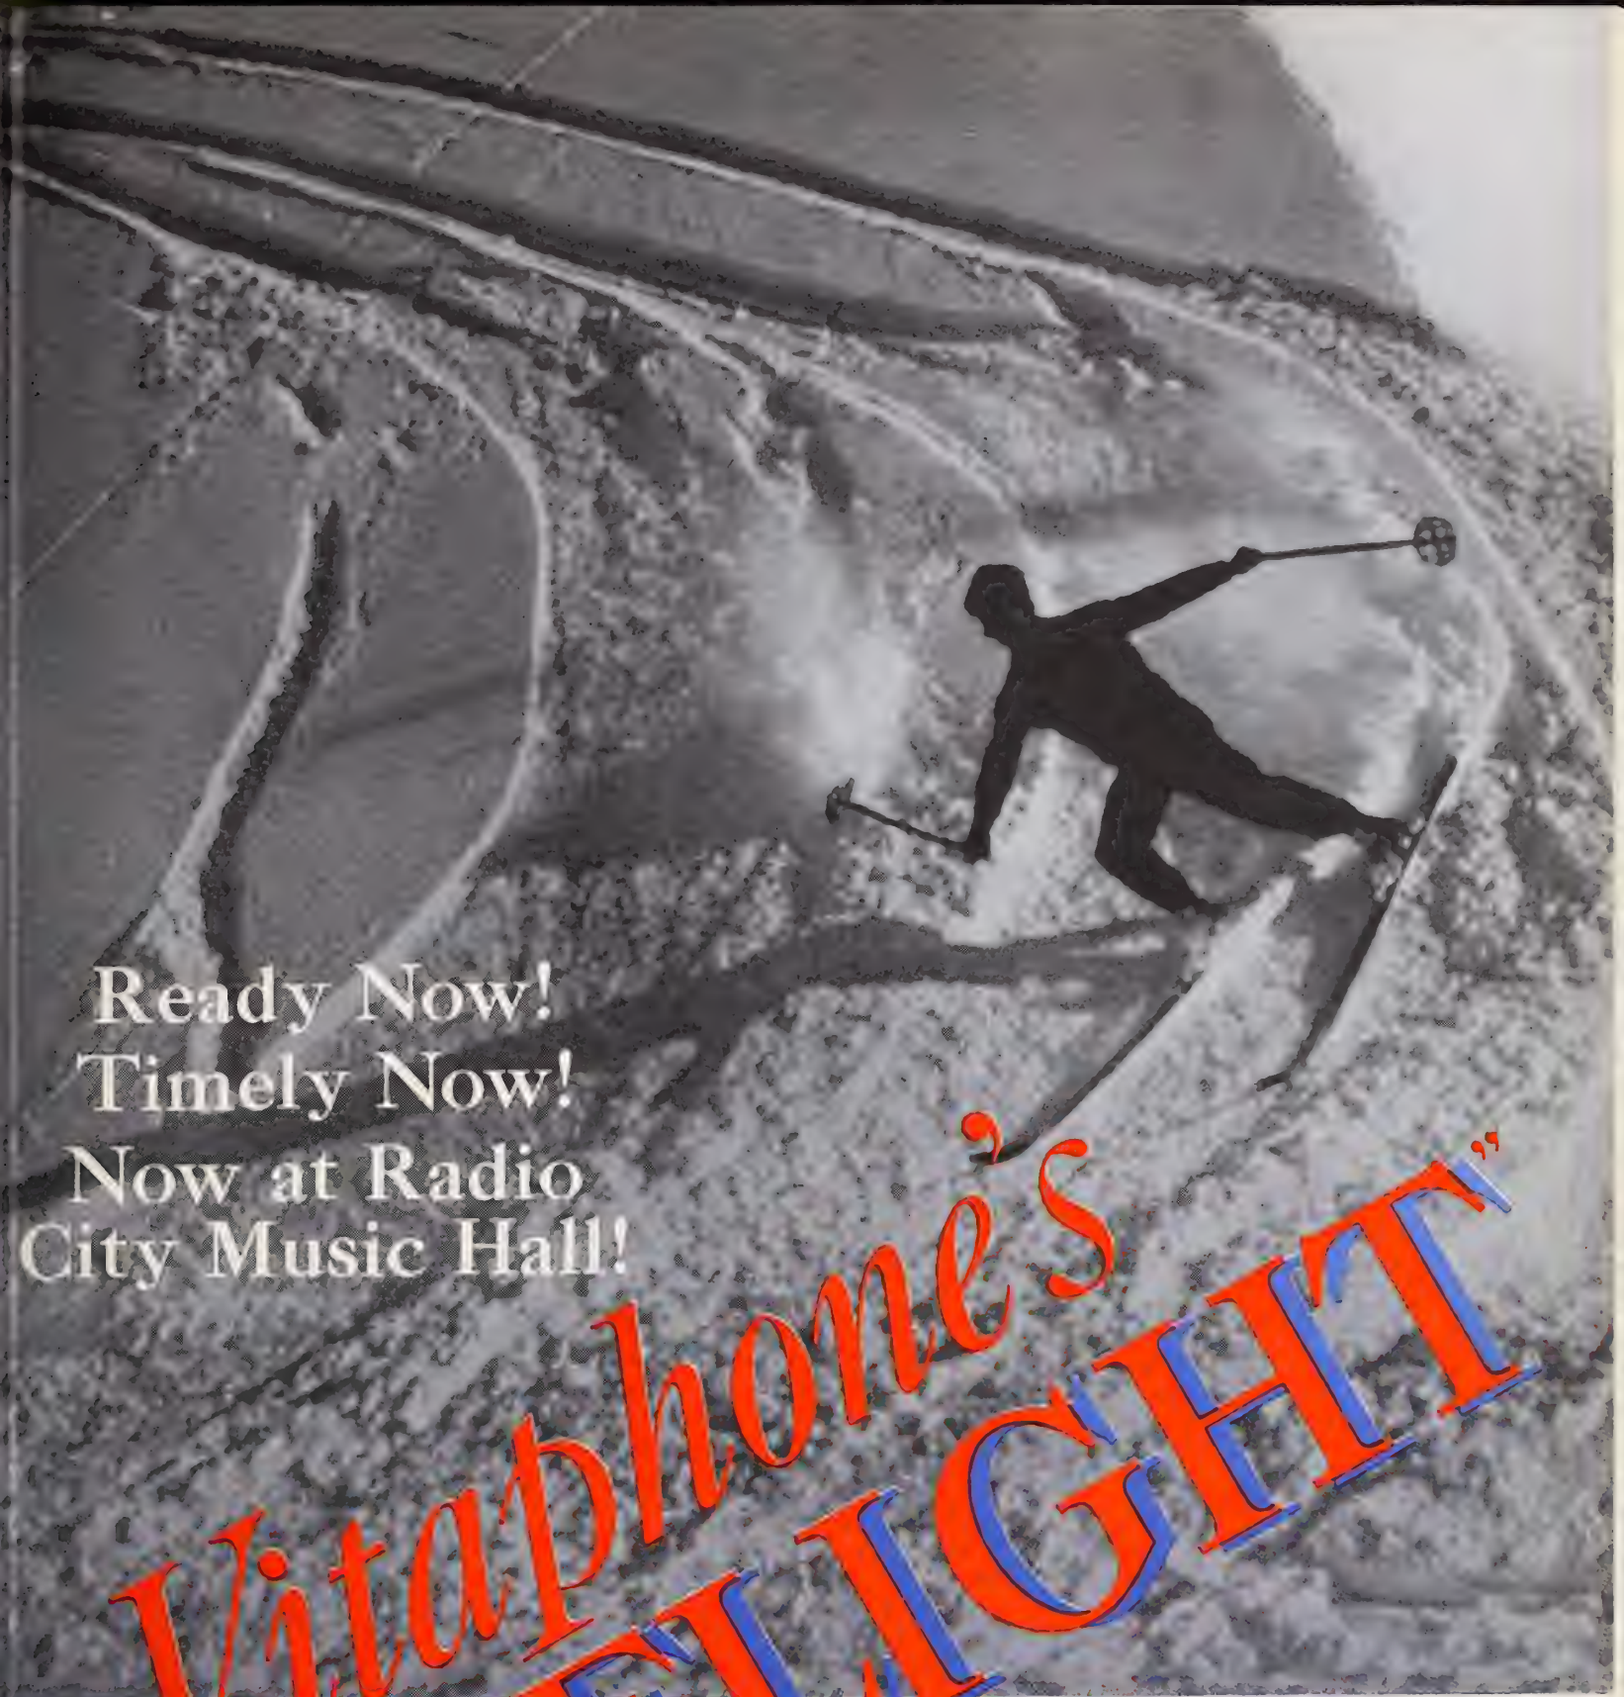
Animal lovers particularly should enjoy the material contained in this subject from the Adventures of the Newsreel Cameraman series. Illustrating the many different and odd brands of pets and their manifold modes of training, the material is varied and exceptional. The examples are many and amusing and the net result of the camera reporting is a first rate interest story for any average audience.—Running time, nine minutes.

Screen Snapshots, No. 5

(Columbia)

Newsy

Here's more information on what film folk do in their odd moments off the screen. A few go in for trick horseshoe pitching, others disport themselves in swimming pools. When night falls all good stars are supposed to come out, and the stellar but earth bound celebrities blossom forth at the latest opening in the night club firmament. The astronomical observer of the Hollywood sky line will be able to glimpse familiar but nonetheless fascinating astral bodies of the cinema capital.—Running time, 10 minutes.



Self Control

(RKO-Radio)

Donald Does an Edgar Kennedy Turn

Reminiscent of his equally famous explosive counterpart, Edgar Kennedy, Donald Duck's attempt to practice self control is even more funny. While the pugnaciously inclined bird is resting in one of his rare moments of self composure, radio's pep talker and philosopher,

(Continued on page 42)

Ready Now!
Timely Now!
Now at Radio City Music Hall!

Vitaphone's "SKI FLIGHT"

Featuring OTTO LANG, Coach of the U. of Washington's Crack Ski Team

Film Daily: "Magnificent sport reel! No single reel made is more lucid, instructive or entertaining! Exhibitors everywhere, the deepest South included, will find 'Ski Flight' a charming addition to their programs!"

M. P. Daily: "A seasonal gem—probably the best film on the subject to date. There should even be an advance campaign on it! Vivid and beautiful!"

Get In On Top!

Call Your Warner Exchange Today!

(Continued from page 40)

syrupy sounding Uncle Smiley, is airing a prescription to curb one's temper by using the wellknown means of counting up to ten. Then —a pestiferous fly appears, followed by a smart alecky worm, and finally, a woodpecker bores through the wall of good intentions. Donald lets himself go, and the radio adviser is gagged by throttling the apparatus.—Running time, 8 minutes.

Man Bites Love Bug
(Columbia)
Mild

Routine comic antics concerning the triangular formula of husband, wife and friend, this mild and none too amusing farce features Charlie Chase in the role of an eminent author on topics of marital happiness. Asked by a friend for some professional advice to make his married life happier, Charlies enters into a far fetched conspiracy with the husband to arouse the wife's ardor for her spouse by having her wooed by Chase. As was to be expected, the lady discovers the duplicity of the male and plays them at their own game. Finally, after some agonizing moments for the actors as well as the audience, the whole mess is brought to an end. The locale of much of the story is a bedroom.—Running time, 18 minutes.

Unusual Occupations, No. 3
(Paramount)
Interesting

As interesting as seeing how the other half lives is knowing how this same class works. As have other issues in this series, this latest intallment details jobs that are a bit different from the ordinary daily bread winning occupations. Firstly, there is the lady who works dresses for the feminine wearer from the skins of rattlesnakes which she, herself, has caught. Then there is the gentleman who earns a living by valeting swimming pool bottoms. Additional odd jobs are a facial contortionist, an operator of a one-man railroad and an artist who carves from toast facial resemblances to world personalities. The concluding shots of an unusual community circus, by ordinary townfolk who have trained themselves to become skilled performers, are particularly good and interesting.—Running time, 10 minutes.

Scrappy's News Flashes
(Columbia)
Cartoon Takeoff on the Newsreels

Patterned after the current newsreels and one popular edition whose musical salutation is used as the subject's opening theme, this cartoon from the Scrappy group caricatures with amusing effect some of the prominent features sponsored by these screen reportings. There are the usual shots, but this time with calculated spoofing of such tried and trusty items of newsreel material as a baby parade, fashion displays, car testing, and sport exhibitions. The finale winds up with a humorous impersonation of a well-known comedy narrator whose dialect line is supposed to be widespread fun.—Running time, 6½ minutes.

The Stupor-Visor
(RKO-Radio)
Stupid

When Jack Norton throws his hat into the political arena, he also hurls his chapeau into the domestic ring, for his wife is just as politically ambitious, without being quite so stupid and exasperating in her campaign maneuvers. Norton devises the quixotic device of compromising his spouse's fair name. Needless to say, the little woman gets wind of his plans and turns the tables on him. When Norton frames a kidnaping charge, she breaks up that scheme. The picture is almost as dull as most political campaigns.—Running time, 17 minutes.

Pathe Parade, No. 3
(RKO-Radio)
Interesting

A well balanced and interesting collection of items is offered in the newest issue from the Parade series. First are glimpses of a baby party for the entertainment of the "best people." Next is the perennial shot of the "shag" dancers. Comes a visit to a metropolitan combination of beer garden-theatre, where smart New Yorkers blow the froth off their beer with hisses and cheers for the melodramatic personnae of a gay Ninety playlet. The final footage reveals the propaganda setup that makes the people of this country Florida-conscious. The decorative models posing in the rotogravure supplements and travel agencies's literature are high school girls who are very generously allowed to put away their school books, take out their compacts and get into their trim swim suits, all for Higher Education, of course.—Running time, 10 minutes.

The Boy Who Saved a Nation
(Columbia)
Historical Subject

Illustrating the historical record of the great work done by the Marquis de Lafayette for the success of the American Revolution (of 1776), this number from the "Strange as It Seems" series by John Hix is a fairly well prepared and moderately interesting subject. Though the acting of the unidentified players is not always of the highest caliber, the inherent dramatic element in the story of the nobly born French aristocrat, who so passionately believed in his ideals of liberty and equality for all that he left his home to suffer privations and danger in a foreign land, is portrayed in a work that should appeal mainly to the school children.—Running time, 9½ minutes.

Getting an Eyeful
(Educational)
Myopic Humor

It is certain that the well educated and skilled body of ophthalmologists throughout the land will be none too pleased with the methods of a bungling eye practitioner pictured in the leading role. Charles Kemper as the tyro eye doctor is desperately in need of making his profession a success, for on the outcome of it depends his marriage fate. Not content with almost blinding his fiancee, which action may be excused on the grounds that love is blind after all, the "doctor" practically destroys the little amount of eyesight possessed by an eccentric Russian, played by Danny Kaye. Whether the whole business is funny depends upon one's viewpoint.—Running time, 18 minutes.

Twenty Girls and a Band
(RKO-Radio)
Girls on a Hop

The band belongs to Nick Stuart and the pretty young things are enrolled in a girls' school. The leader of the ladies had engaged Nick to play the tunes at the class hop but a school rule forbids men, even professional musicians, to be around the cloistered premises. The big brutes are dressed in delicate feminine finery and smuggled past the eagle eyed dean of women. The dean learns of the trick but another strategem outwits her. The material is redeemed by the youthful charm of the girls and particularly by the sprightly singing of Miss Betty Jane Rhodes.—Running time, 18 minutes.

Deviled Ham
(RKO-Radio)
Musical

Set in a handsome Satanic background, this musical divertissement offers a brand of entertainment that can be considered only lukewarm. There are a raucous colored swing band, a pair of trick buck and wingers and a solemn faced and deep voiced singer of southern songs.—Running time, 10 minutes.

Hutchinson Leaves on Latin American Tour

W. J. Hutchinson, general foreign manager for Twentieth Century-Fox, left Saturday for Mexico and a tour of Central and South American branches. The trip, which is his first to those territories since he became foreign head, will serve to acquaint Mr. Hutchinson with the situation south of the Rio Grande. No changes or expansions are planned. He is expected back early in March.

C. V. Hake, assistant foreign manager, will leave for Australia via Hollywood February 2nd on the Mariposa. F. L. Harley, managing director for Great Britain, sailed Saturday on the Ile de France after three weeks of home office conferences. Ben Miggins, central European manager, now in Florida, is expected to return to New York late this month and then sail for Paris.

Edward Lomba, formerly Twentieth Century-Fox managing director in Spain and more recently assistant to Mr. Miggins, has been temporarily assigned to the home office and will be given a new post later.

Jewish Drive Nears Its $200,000 Goal

David Bernstein, vice-president of Loew's, who is co-chairman with Albert Warner of the amusement division in the campaign of the New York-Brooklyn Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, Saturday expressed confidence that the division would meet its quota of $200,000. The drive ends January 31st.

Checks and pledges totaling $57,000 were announced by Ed Wynn, chairman of the testimonial luncheon to Louis Sobol, Broadway columnist, at the Hotel Astor, New York, last Friday, in connection with the campaign. The total to date is $170,000, which includes $50,000 from Hollywood. All told, $5,500,000 has been raised toward the $6,250,000 campaign.

Among the large contributions in the amusement industry are: William Paley, $15,000; Harry M. and Albert Warner, $10,000; David Bernstein, $8,000; Louis Frisch and Samuel Rinzler, $5,000; Nicholas M. Schenck, $3,500; Arthur Loew, $3,000; Joseph H. Cooper, Cooper Foundation, $3,000; Frank V. Storrs, $3,000; Warners Brothers Music Company, $2,500; J. Robert Rubin, $2,500; Al Lichtman, $2,500; Bob Hall, $2,500; Sally Rand, $1,650; Abram Schwartz, $1,500; Jack Cohn, $2,500; William and Harry Brandt, $2,000; Jules Brulator, $1,250; Walter Reade, $2,000; Leopold Friedman, $1,500; Leo Feist, $1,500; C. C. Moskowitz, $1,000; B. S. Moss, $1,000; Nate Spingold, $1,000; Walter Wanger, $1,000; Barney Balaban, $1,000; William Klein, $2,600; R. S. Cohen, $1,100.

Monogram Obtains Injunction

On consent of both sides, Monogram Pictures Corporation last week was granted a permanent injunction restraining Morris Kleinerman from further alleged infringement of Monogram's picture, "Girl of the Limberlost." Mr. Kleinerman does business under the name of Star Safety Laboratory and Screen Attractions Corporation.

The Griffith Amusement Company, Oklahoma City, Okla., has acquired the Blaine and Morgan theatres in Henryetta, Okla. The houses were formerly owned by the late Charles Blaine.

No Place in Films For Self-Serving Propaganda - Hays

"There is no place in motion picture theatres for self-serving propaganda," but there is much room, still unused, for "the presentation and treatment of the greatest theses of life, literature, music and drama," Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, declared Monday night in Philadelphia as he received the gold medal of achievement from the Poor Richard Club, on behalf of the industry. The annual dinner of the Club, on the 232d anniversay of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, was at the Hotel Bellevue-Stratford. (Picture on page 10).

Speaking on "What's Right with America," Mr. Hays traced the development of the industry and of the MPPDA and the progress of self-regulation within the industry, away from "bitter factionalism and trade practice confusion."

Mr. Hays emphasized the role played by the Production and Advertising Codes.

"There is inescapable responsibility consequent upon the opportunity involved in the immeasurable extent of the influence of our motion pictures—for opportunity measures responsibility," he said. "The organized industry undertook its job of self-government by methods thoroughly American in character. This had to begin with the consideration and establishment of basic principles of social responsibility."

The basic purposes subscribed to were twofold, he said: "Voluntarily to agree upon, and enforce, accepted standards in relation to good taste and wholesomeness"; and "to initiate and maintain processes of public education designed to encourage attendance for the higher types of pictures."

Behind the Advertising Code, he said, is the fact that "we cannot defend a picture, however good, condemned as harmful, improper or suggestive by the character of its advertising."

It is on the "planned path of self-regulation," Mr. Hays added, that "the twin necessities of a constantly improving quality of supply and a constantly rising standard of demand are moving forward together. The continued evolution of the screen to higher forms of entertainment may be one of the strongest fortifications of our own civilization."

Cohan Egypt Bound for World Radio Conference

E. K. Cohan, Columbia Broadcasting System director of engineering, sailed Sunday for Cairo, Egypt, where he will represent the company at the International Telecommunications Conference, including radio and television, in February. The conference, at which all the principal governments of the world will be represented, has been called for the purpose of drafting new treaties covering changes which have taken place in the field of radio and television since the Madrid Conference in 1932.

Fibber McGee, Mollie Signed by Paramount

Paramount this week signed Fibber McGee and Mollie (Jim and Marion Jordan) to a long term contract for three features a year.

The radio team's first picture under the contract will be "Summer Boarders," with Mary Carlisle and Jack Dunn in the leading romantic roles. Fibber McGee and Mollie made their motion picture debut in "This Way Please," which was released last October by Paramount.

Virginia MPTO Meet January 27

Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Virginia will meet for their mid-winter convention in Richmond, January 27th. James Hubert Price, Virginia's new governor, and Colonel John Fulmer Bright, mayor of Richmond, will speak.

William S. Crockett, of Virginia, who succeeded William S. Wilder, Norfolk, as president of the MPTO, has addressed a letter to its members urging them to be present so that there will be a 100 per cent attendance. Mr. Wilder vacated the presidency because of ill health. He had been elected to succeed Morton G. Thalhimer, Richmond, as president.

Members of the Virginia legislature, now in session, have been invited to attend the meeting. The legislators have been tendered complimentary tickets by Allen Sparrow, manager of Loew's; Sam Bendheim, Jr., of Neighborhood Theatres, Inc., and manager Beverly of the Patrick Henry.

Charles A. Somma, Richmond, is chairman of the board; Benjamin T. Pitts, Fredericksburg, vice-president; Mr. Bendheim, treasurer, and Harold Wood, secretary.

In addition to Mr. Somma, directors are: Mrs. Bertha Gordon, Newport News; Elsmore Heins, Samuel Craver, Roanoke; W. A. Byers, Norton; Nathaniel Glasser, A. E. Lichtman, Washington, D. C.; J. E. Loth, Waynesboro; W. Harmon Reed, Alexandria; W. H. Rippard, Franklin; Charles Roth, Samuel Roth, Harrisonburg; Herman Rubin, Petersburg; Frederick W. Twyman, Hunter Perry, Charlottesville; I. Weinberg, Lexington; Sydney Gates, Portsmouth; Otto Wells, William S. Wilder, Norfolk; Walter J. Coulter, Mr. Bendheim, A. Frank O'Brien, Mr. Sparrow, Frank Ponton, Mr. Thalheimer, Mr. Wood, Richmond; J. Frank Falls, C. L. Abercrombie, Danville; R. C. Overby, South Boston, and Mr. Crockett.

Paramount-RKO Pool Dissolved

With dissolution of the Paramount-RKO operating pool of the first run Newman and Mainstreet, Kansas City, William Elson continues as manager of the Mainstreet and Jerry Zigmond as manager of the Newman. Mr. Elson was director of the pool.

Pathe Plans Dionne Subject

Pathe will make a short subject with the Dionne Quintuplets for release this winter, Frederic Ullman, Jr., vice-president of RKO-Pathe News, said this week. The quintuplets will have their fourth birthday next May.

Bookbinding Press Commends Quality of QP Production

"Bookbinding and Book Production," the official business paper of the industry, has given special attention in its current issue to "Advertising the Motion Picture," a special limited edition volume issued in November by Quigley Publications for circulation among the makers of the industry's advertising. The comment follows:

"Terry Ramsaye is editor of Motion Picture Herald, and, ex officio, is devoted to production work for all Quigley Publications, N. Y. C., which include Motion Picture Almanac, Fame—both annual volumes—and other cinema trade publications. Motion picture companies in their trade advertising make extensive use of inserts. Over-runs to take care of spoilage, etc., accumulate in modest number from each issue, making in total a museum array of spectacular printing.

"Displaying the same interest which made him a pioneer user of color in motion picture trade paper advertising, Ramsaye recently designed an imposing item of good-will bookvertising which goes right to the head of the class. Choosing judiciously among his library of inserts, he created a hefty book, 9¼″ x 12″ and 2″ thick, with the title "Advertising the Motion Picture." The edition of 191 copies, limited by the number of copies of inserts available, was sent, with Quigley compliments, to the executives and advertising chiefs of leading film producers. The latter, to use show-business language, immediately voted the book "a wow."

"Martin Quigley's preface is set in italics opposite ornamental borders selected by Ramsaye from a 15th-century missal, with two hand-illumined initials.

"The contents are classified under such convenient titles as photography, color, process engraving, typography, paper stock, novelty, prestige copy, and humor, each section being preceded by an explanatory four-page insert chastely set in sanserifs and printed in brown ink on 100 lb. white antique American Vellum. Composition and presswork for the special inserts were supervised by Fred Forrest, Jr., of C. J. O'Brien, Inc., N. Y. C., printers to Quigley Publications.

"Insert commentary was by William R. Weaver, Hollywood editor, with embellishments by Fred-Paul Williams, both of the Quigley staff. The book was strikingly bound in bright orange Holliston Novelex cloth (with slip case of the same material) by the American Book Bindery, N. Y. C.; the title and an intriguing "QP" trade mark are stamped in black ink on the cover. Full credit is given to the advertising personnel of the producing companies for their work in designing and producing the inserts."

Danish Title Changed

The title of the film produced by the Danish company, Nordisk Kompagni, of Copenhagen, has been changed from "Laila" to "En Saga," for American distribution by Gustav Schwab.

NEW IMPERIAL STOCK; SEC REPORTS CHANGES

Stanley Company Nets $2,230,902 for Year, $777,882 Above Total for 1936

Three new stock issues, a financial reorganization, capital structure changes, transactions in stock and two financial statements, all involving corporations in motion pictures and allied fields, were the week's highlights in financial news in amusements.

Imperial Pictures, Inc., of New York, of which William M. Pizor is president, filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission covering 961,286 shares of $1 par common stock.

Morris D. Kopple, Imperial general counsel, said that 425,000 shares are to be underwritten and resold on the basis of $1.50 a share. A. D. Braham and Company, Inc., was named underwriters. The remaining shares are to be divided as follows: 75,000 shares to underwriter as bonus for sale; underwriter to receive 100,000 optioned shares; William M. Pizor to receive 250,000 optioned shares; and employees to have 111,286 shares set aside. Mr. Pizor's and employees' shares are not to be offered for one year. All optioned shares are listed at $1.50 subject to change.

With proceeds to be used for debt reduction and working capital, Imperial is to produce a minimum of 32 features for the coming season. Distribution is planned through 25 franchised exchanges.

Cinecolor Plans Issue

The registration of securities by the Cinecolor, Inc., of Los Angeles, was resumed last week when the company asked for a new permit for a proposed issue of $250,500 worth of common stock.

The company, which engages in processing of tinted films, seeks to offer the public 111,173 shares worth $166,795. Already held by officials are 55,827 shares with face value of $83,741.

The purpose of the issue, which will be underwritten by G. Brashears and Company, Los Angeles, is to raise money for equipment and working capital.

The SEC has approved the post-effective amendment of Bausch and Lomb Optical Company, covering two new issues of $100 par 5 per cent cumulative convertible preferred and $10 par common. The company manufactures lenses for motion picture and other equipment.

Seeks to Reorganize

International Cinema, Inc., one of the largest film laboratories in Los Angeles, has filed a petition in gederal court there to reorganize under 77B of the Bankruptcy Act. The company listed assets of $714,342 and liabilities of $285,647.

The action was filed by G. P. Regan, president, through Samuel A. Miller, attorney. Indebtedness of the laboratory to various independent film producers is believed to have prompted the move. It is expected that the court will order International, which was organized in January, 1934, to file an additional statement listing debtors.

International requested the SEC on Tuesday for withdrawal of its registration statement filed in November and effective since December 8th.

Transactions of corporation officers and directors in the securities of their companies in November included the disposition of 1,400 shares of Paramount Pictures second preferred stock held by E. V. Richards, New Orleans, director, through the Rochelle Investment Corporation and another 1,400 shares held direct, it was disclosed by the SEC in its semi-monthly report January 17.

These transactions followed the disposition of 2,000 shares of the stock, held through the investment corporation, in October. At the close of November, Mr. Richards held 1,400 shares in his own name and 3,600 shares through the corporation.

Disposition in August of the last of the subscription warrants for General Theatres Equipment Corporation stock held by the Chase National Bank also was disclosed in the report. The bank sold 600 warrants in July and 2,365 in August. At the end of August the bank still held 181,213 shares of General Theatres common.

A report on Grand National showed the receipt and transfer to trust by Edward J. Peskay, officer and director, of 950 shares of common stock in November.

Stanley Company Earnings

Stanley Company of America, Pennsylvania theatre circuit controlled by Warner Brothers, earned a net operating profit of $2,230,902.27 for the year ending August 28th, according to the annual report made public this week. The figure represents an increase of $777,882 over the corresponding period ending August, 1936, when the report showed an operating profit of $1,453,020. The earned surplus on the current statement is reported as $3,492,045.90.

Stanley company earnings amount to $2.46 a share compared with $1.61 a share last year. Federal income taxes for the year ending August 28th amounted to $435,100. The net income for the year before taxes and other charges were deducted was $6,230,161.09. Dividend declared and paid amounted to $2,714,539.50.

Twentieth Century-Fox's estimated net profit of $10,000,000 for 1937 is before provision for federal taxes, Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board, said this week. Earnings for the year after provisions for taxes will approximate $8,500,000, Mr. Schenck said.

The board of directors of Columbia Pictures declared a quarterly dividend of $.68¾ per share on the $2.75 Convertible Preferred stock of the company, payable February 15th, 1938, to holders of records February 1, 1938.

G. L. Hutcheson, teacher of Social Sciences and director of visual education, at Murphy Jr. High School, Atlanta, Ga., has been appointed regional director of the Motion Picture Division of the National Education Association in Atlanta.

Board of Review Holds Meetings

The 14th Annual Conference of the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures opened Thursday at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York with delegates from all parts of the United States participating in a discussion of the topic "The Film Equation in People's Lives."

Speakers on Thursday were William P. Montague, Jr., Paramount News; Sidney K. Wolf, president, Society of Motion Picture Engineers; and Herbert S. Walsh, technical supervisor, Objective Teaching Materials and Techniques, sponsored by the New York City Board of Education.

Those scheduled to speak on Friday are: Mark Van Doren, motion picture critic: The Nation; Mortimer J. Adler, University of Chicago professor; Gilbert Seldes, newspaper columnist; Alistair Cooke, author; and Ward Marsh, film critic, Cleveland Plain Dealer. Edgar Anstey, director of productions, March of Time, Ltd., London, will talk on Friday evening.

The Twenty-third Annual Luncheon will bring the three-day Conference to a close on Saturday noon. Many persons of prominence including film celebrities will be guests and speakers.

New York members of the Hostess Committee include Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. Curtice N. Hitchcock, Mrs. Alonzo Klaw, Mrs. William Barclay Parsons, Mrs. Russell H. Patterson, Mrs. William Platt, Mrs. T. Merrill Prentice, Mrs. Austin Purvis, Jr., Mrs. Jacob Gould Schurman, Jr.

MGM Short Sales Remains on Coast

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will keep its short subject sales department on the Coast because it has been found helpful in advising with the production department on the types of short subjects to be made, Jack Chertok, head of short subject production, said this week when he arrived in New York.

Mr. Chertok was the guest of honor at a cocktail party at the Sherry Netherlands Wednesday.

Mr. Chertok plans to stay in New York for four weeks or more during which he will make four Robert Benchley one-reelers and three or four Pete Smith subjects. Smith will dub them on the coast after their completion in the east. All work will be done at the General Service Studios, Astoria, L. I.

Novelty one-reelers and two-reel musicals and comedies are the best from a sales standpoint, the musicals having the greatest appeal in foreign countries and hence return the greatest revenue, Mr. Chertok said.

Fred Quimby, MGM short subject general manager, will remain on the coast.

National Screen Moves

National Screen Service and National Screen Accessories, Seattle, moved into their new quarters at 2413 Second Avenue this week, relinquishing their two former offices on Film Row. Harry Taylor, division manager of NSS from Los Angeles and Harry Case, manager of the Portland branch, attended the opening of the new office.

Miriam Howell, formerly of the Leland Hayward office, has been named eastern story editor for Samuel Goldwyn, Inc.

THE HOLLYWOOD SCENE

Pursuit of Genius

It came about that Boris Morros, Paramount's music chief, needed a couple of song composers. Such talent is a dime a dozen in Hollywood, but Mr. Morros didn't want the ordinary garden variety; he desired specimens of genius.

Not much difficulty was encountered in signing up Herr Kurt Weil, who will do the score and numbers of "You and Me." This gentleman, who has achieved repute in several avenues, was eager to come to the Coast. Weil left Germany for New York after he had written "Three Penny Opera," an ironic satire on all grand opera—and Herr Hitler likes grand opera, it seems. He did the music for the stage shows "Johnnie Johnson" and Max Reinhardt's "Eternal Road." His specialized talent is synchronizing dialogue to music.

But bald Boris, whose bizarre haberdashery is really quite amazing, did not find his path to "Mexico's Irving Berlin," Augustin Lara, a smoothly paved highway.

Down in Ensenada a couple of years ago, Morros heard some delightful Mexican music. Whenever he asked the identity of the composer the reply was "Lara." He began looking for "Lara." But he never could contact anyone who knew him or ever had even seen him. The Mexican government told him it had heard that Lara had been killed in a romantic escapade. But a short time ago, when Morros had "Tropic Holiday" assigned him and nearly a year and a half after he had first heard of the elusive composer, Morros got a letter from him asking, "What do you want me for?"

The explanation was quick, decisive and tempting. So much so that Augustin Lara deserted the Mexican senoritas with hardly as much as goodby to go to Hollywood.

Seven Completed

Hollywood has not gone to pot entirely. Not all the studios followed in the footsteps of Mr. Emanuel Cohen, who paid off the help, locked the door and called it a day, for the time being. As Mr. Cohen and Paramount prepared to make the Halls of Justice the locale of what probably will be production of some superheated bits of motion picture news, there were other activities.

A few of the newly started pictures seem to be of that substance in story and production values that showmen seldom find difficulty in placing before the customers. This promises to be true of Warner Bros.' two musicals, "Dude Ranch," which will have Dick Powell, Priscilla Lane, Mary McGuire, Pat O'Brien and Dick Foran for its top liners, and "Golddiggers in Paris," wherein will be seen Rudy Vallee, Rosemary Lane, Hugh Herbert and Melville Cooper, who should be remembered for his performance in "Tovarich." Similarly Paramount's "You and Me" will have Sylvia Sidney and George Raft as its stars. The cast of "There's Always a Woman," Columbia, will be headed by Joan Blondell, Melvyn Douglas and Mary Astor. Columbia also started "Outlaws of Big Bend" which will feature Charles Starrett and Iris Meredith.

Two pictures were started at Republic. Neil Hamilton and Evelyn Venable are the leads in "Hollywood Murder Mystery." "Desert Trail" will present Robert Livingston, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune.

The principals in RKO-Radio's "Condemned Women" are Sally Eilers, Anne Shirley, Lee Patrick and Louis Hayward. Conrad Nagel, Claudia Dell, Lionel Atwill and Paul Lukas will be seen in "Maximillian and Carlotta," a Maurice Conn production. The final starting picture, "Painted Desert," Monogram will feature Tom Keane and Eleanor Stewart.

Five Called Important

Five of the seven completed productions give promise of making the important picture classification. Three of them are from Paramount. "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife" has Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper as its stars, with E. E. Horton, Herman Bing, David Niven and Elizabeth Patterson featured. It is an Ernst Lubitsch production. Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland, J. Carroll Naish and Lynne Overman are the principals in "Her Jungle Love," which was made in color. Among the important players in "College Swing" are Martha Raye, Burns and Allen, Bob Hope, Betty Furness, Jackie Coogan, E. E. Horton and Ben Blue.

Warners completed "The Adventures of Robin Hood," also in color. The large cast is headed by Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Ian Hunter, Claude Rains, Basil Rathbone, Patric Knowles, Alan Hale, Eugene Pallette, Herbert Mundin, Melville Cooper and Una O'Connor.

For MGM release, Hal Roach finished "Merrily We Live." It will feature Constance Bennett, Brian Aherne, Alan Mowbray, Billie Burke, Bonita Granville, Tom Brown, Patsy Kelly and Ann Dvorak.

"The Lone Wolf" was finished at Columbia. It features Francis Lederer and Frances Drake.

Monogram completed "My Old Kentucky Home," in which Evelyn Venable and Grant Richards are the leading players.

4 TONING MACHINES IN MGM LABORATORY

Four toning machines with a capacity of 5,500 feet of print an hour are being installed in a new wing of the laboratory of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer at Culver City. The toning process was first perfected for "The Good Earth."

The new machines will tone in the original "sepia platinum" effect perfected by John M. Nickolaus and in pastel shades in tone and tint subsequently worked out by the laboratory chief.

A. G. Wise, laboratory engineer, built the machines with non-corrosion chemical tanks, and other parts of a special alloy of non-corrosive steel.

Twenty-two air-conditioning units, which first water-wash incoming air, then filter it and dehumidify it with air-mat filters, have a maximum capacity of 60,000 cubic feet an hour in air used directly on film, and 90,000 cubic feet an hour in the entire laboratory. Anti-directional turbulation to eliminate "chemical flicker" is used in the new machines, a development by Mr. Nickolaus.

Carrier regulating equipment in the chemical solution circulation holds the temperature uniform to within one-tenth of one degree. Light on the printing machines is held constant to a quarter of a volt.

Artful Dodging

To its sorrow, via a couple of lawsuits in which it was the losing party, MGM has learned that it is not always wise to be too realistic. Nowadays the shrewd minds who watch everything, even the most insignificant incident that might lead to legal jousts, are resorting to slick tricks.

One of the adventures to which any visitor to a studio thrills most is meandering through the streets of re-created cities. The other day we were wandering through the now deserted New York set on which "Man Proof" had been made. On the window of one store front appeared the name, "A. Prinzmetal, Delicatessen." But Mr. Prinzmetal, whose name was used, most likely will never be found slicing bologna in a New York delicatessen. He holds an important job in the contract department. In fact, his name is on the first studio inner door.

Another sign said "Schultz's Pawn Shop." But the Mr. Schultz whose name was used is not a pawnbroker. He works in the publicity department and we suppose it's all right with him that the studio uses his name as long as it continues to hand him a weekly pay check. The John Hennessey who the sign said was the owner of "John Hennessey's Seaman's Hall" never saw New York. He is a member of the construction department, and loaned his name, as did Sara Hazy, a secretary in the script department who was blazoned forth as the proprietor of "Sara Hazy's Boarding House."

Sam Bergner cuts film in the film laboratory but doesn't know how to cut meat, yet a sign proclaims him "Sam Bergner, Butcher." "Dr. W. H. Lothrop, Dentist" never pulled a tooth in his life. The real W. H. Lothrop is a carpenter. Harry Furber is not a fish peddler but a member of the studio's electrical department.

In the film, the fight arena can be easily identified, but nobody can say that it was called by its trademarked title. One of the fighters had his screen name changed from Slugger Flynn to Slugger Silvan for the simple reason that there have been hordes of fighters named Sullivan, but a diligent search of all record books failed to reveal a "Slugger Silvan." The cafe may resemble Jack Dempsey's but its name is "Cafe Regale."

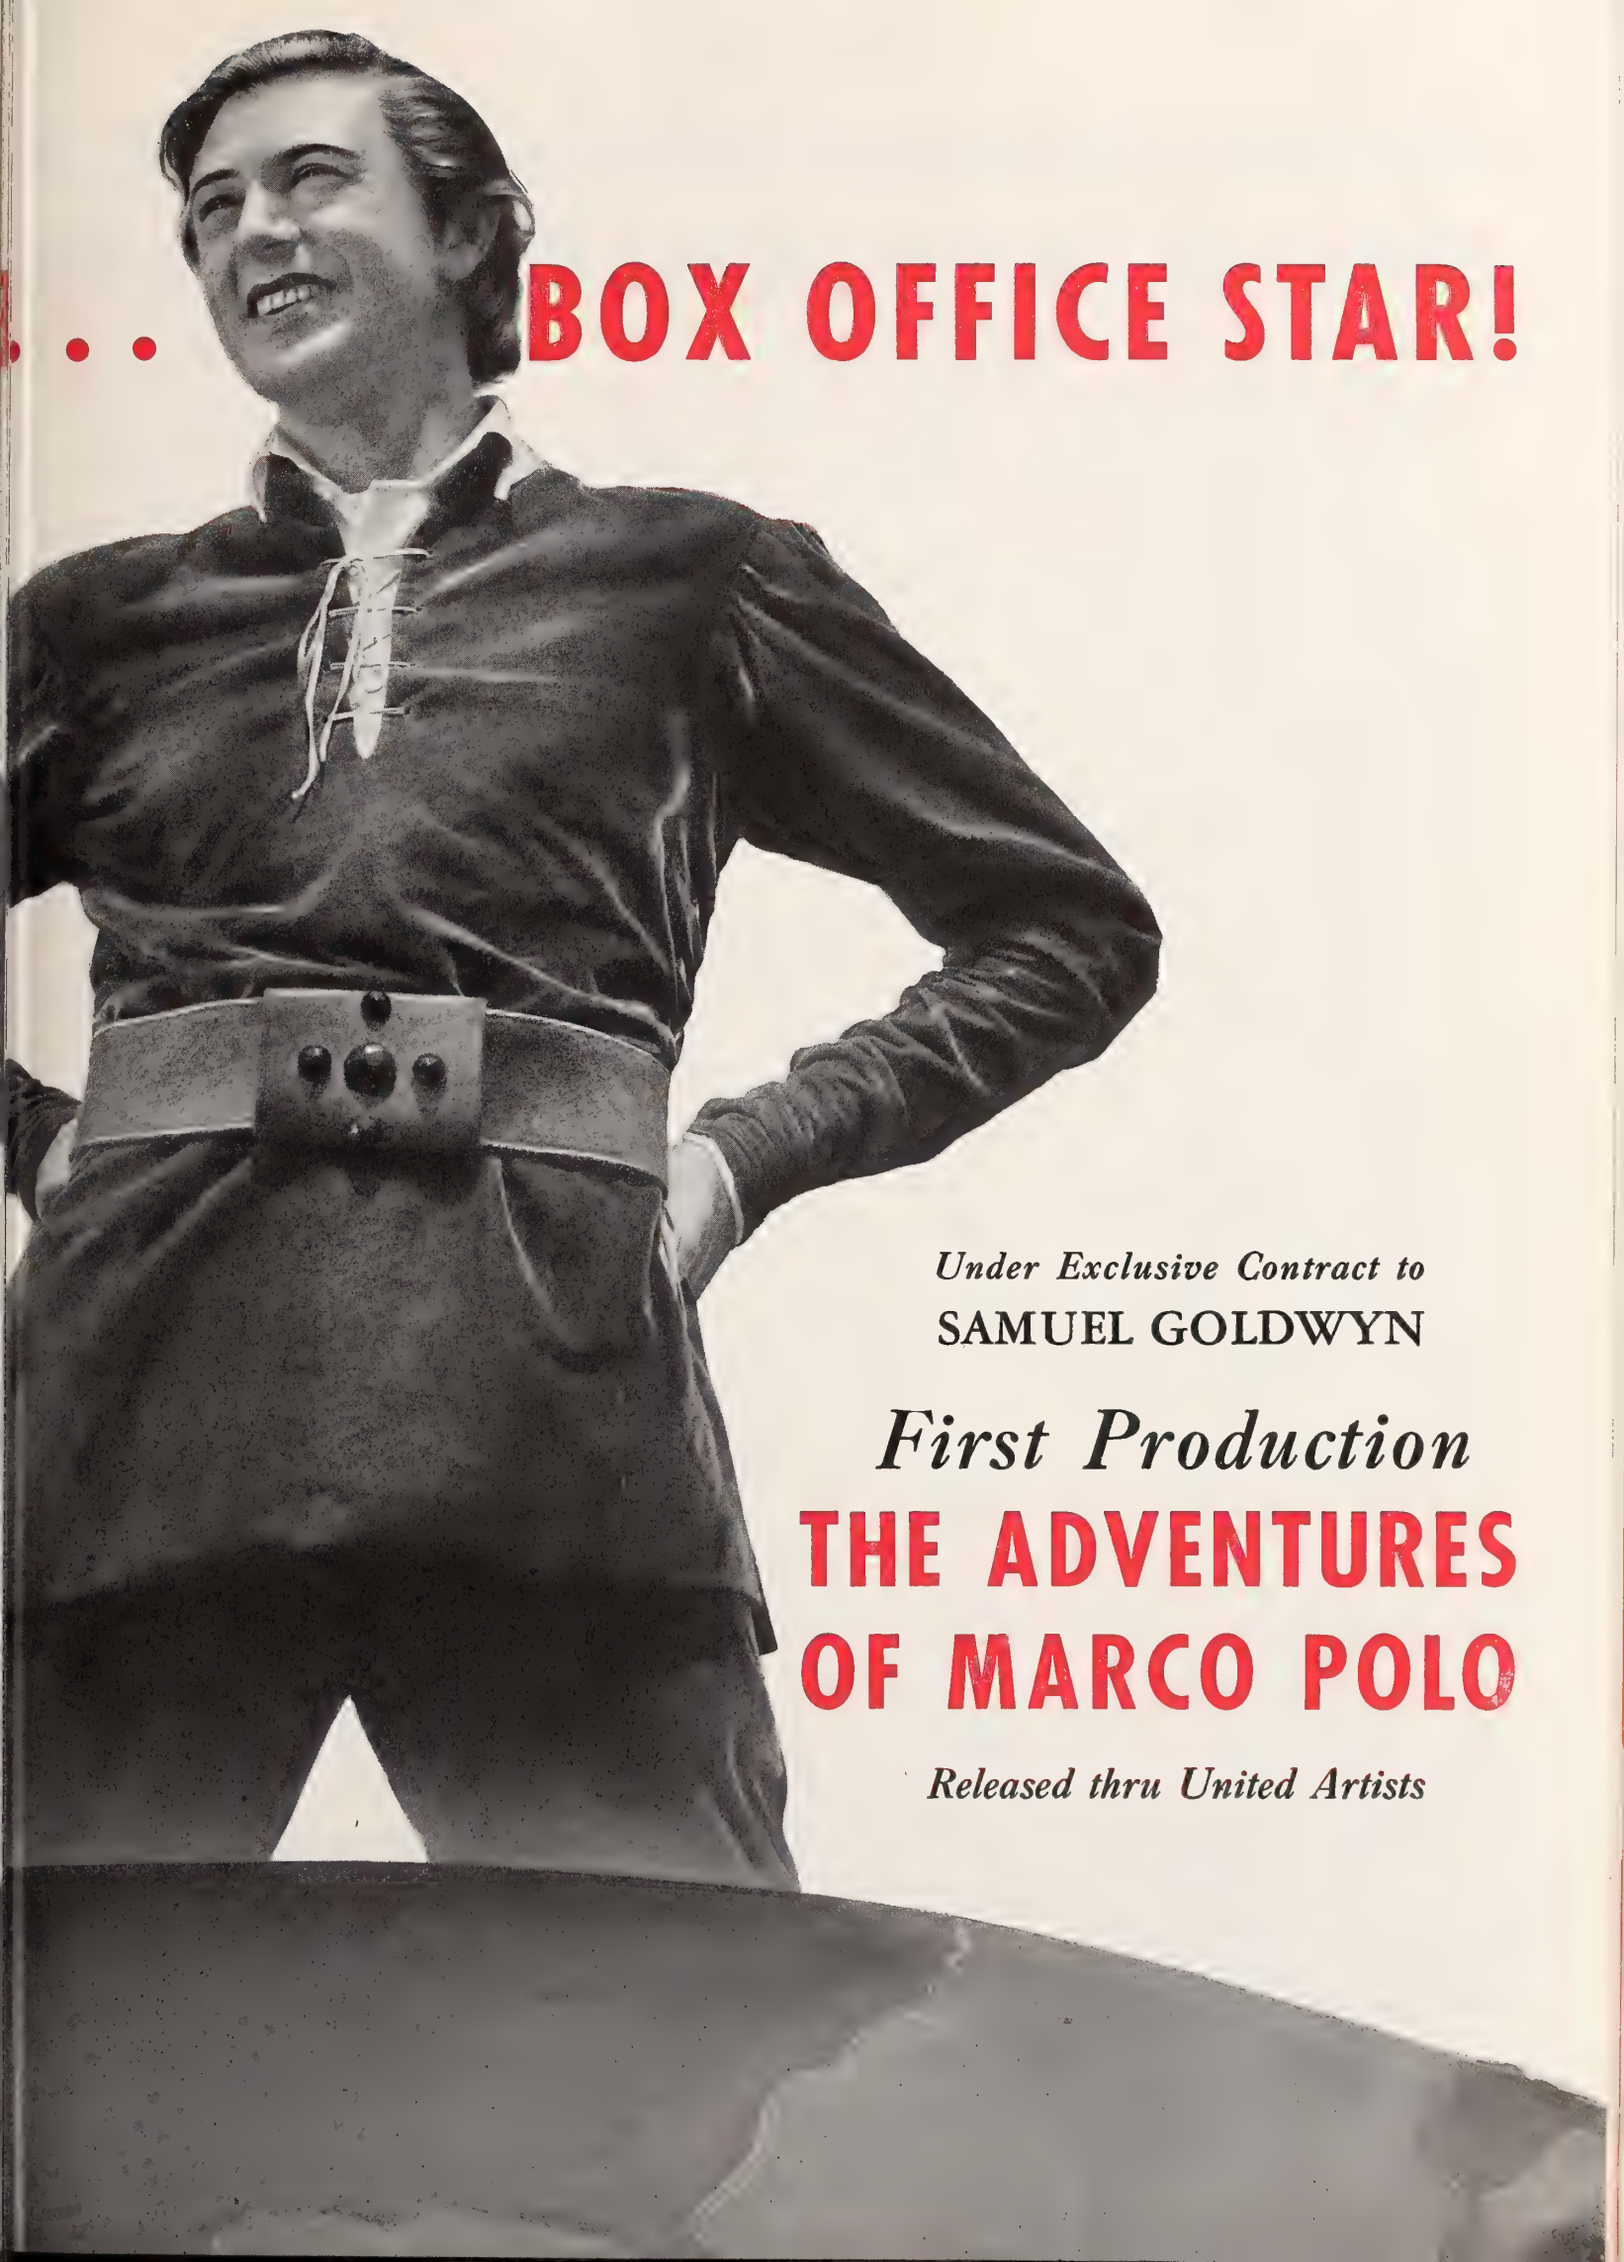
"Myrna Williams, Seamstress," says another sign. Consulting Jimmy Cunningham's compendium of basic names published some time back in the Herald, we found Myrna Williams was none other than Myrna Loy, who volunteered her real name when the research department was stuck.

World's NUMBER ONE

FOR 1937

VARIETY's

Around-the-World



Box Office Survey

Proves

Gary Cooper

Biggest Money Draw!

. . . BOX OFFICE STAR!
Under Exclusive Contract to
SAMUEL GOLDWYN
First Production
THE ADVENTURES OF MARCO POLO
Released thru United Artists

COHEN CONTRACT VOIDANCE BRINGS TALK OF SUIT, PROBLEM OF STARS

Four-Year Disagreement with Zukor Given as Reason for Break Instead of Storm Over Mae West Broadcast

Hollywood was speculating on the status of three stars this week and buzzing over prospects of protracted litigation following Paramount Pictures' abrupt, but complete, severance of its contract to release the product of the Major Pictures Company of Emanuel (Manny) Cohen, producer of the Mae West films. Mr. Cohen's releasing arrangement had 18 months to run.

A socalled "disagreement," extending over the last four years, between Mr. Cohen and Adolph Zukor, Paramount production chief, was given as the reason, in answer to those in Hollywood who thought that the recent storm over National Broadcasting Company's Mae West radio burlesque of "Adam and Eve" might have precipitated the break between the two organizations.

Talk of court action was started by Mr. Cohen who, in his formal announcement of Paramount's action, declared the entire matter had been placed in the hands of his attorney and that "we expect to use every available remedy to protect our rights."

The contractual status of Mae West, Gary Cooper and Bing Crosby was a topic of lively discussion because of the fact Mr. Cohen has been in the practice of holding stars under personal contract.

Mr. Cohen's two latest pictures out of a group of nine he produced for Paramount were "Every Day's a Holiday" with Mae West, and "Doctor Rhythm," starring Bing Crosby.

Neither of these pictures, it was announced, will be affected by the cancellation of the contract.

Mr. Cohen, who formerly held the Paramount production generalship, opened a public attack on the Paramount studio management but the charges failed to bring any public reply from Paramount officials.

"Major Pictures has had an exceedingly difficult time in making its motion pictures ever since Adolph Zukor assumed control of Paramount production," Mr. Cohen declared. "Notwithstanding the fact that Paramount has invested large sums of money in our pictures, there has been an utter lack of cooperation and, in fact, it has seemed to us that there has been a studied effort to place every possible obstacle in our way so as to prevent us from successfully producing pictures. We have, of course, placed the entire matter in the hands of our attorneys and we expect to use every available remedy to protect our rights. We believe there will be some very interesting facts brought to light when this matter gets into court."

Cancellation of the contract came within a few days after the announcement of preparations being made for the production of five pictures under the Paramount-Cohen contract. The status of these properties, purchased by Major for Paramount, will be determined by litigation, it was understood. The contract called for stipulated product to be delivered up to June 8th, 1939.

Mr. Cohen is believed to hold a personal contract for Miss West's services, although one Hollywood report was to the effect that Miss West's commitments with Mr. Cohen ended with her last film. Mr. Crosby had been lent to Major by Paramount and is expected to return to that studio. Mr. Cooper had a conditional one-picture-per-year contract with Mr. Cohen.

Friendly suits are expected to be instituted against Mr. Cohen by persons under contract to him personally. Among those expected to seek redress from the planned cancellation of their personal service contracts are Kitty Clancy, Beatrice Lillie and Katherine Kane.

When Paramount served notice terminating the contract last Wednesday, Mr. Cohen was reported personally to have paid $30,000 in salaries due employees of Major Pictures from January 1st. He also was said to have informed those holding contracts that while they could institute action against him the procedure would be long and drawn out and that he was willing to give them immediate settlement of 50 per cent of the face value of the agreements. The amount totaled $100,000 and Mr. Cohen said he would include the sum in his action against Paramount.

Mr. Cohen formed Major Pictures after a turbulent period in Paramount's history that brought John Otterson to the organization as president and relegated Mr. Zukor to what at the time was considered a background position. Mr. Cohen was succeeded in command of Paramount production by Ernst Lubitsch, who subsequently withdrew, to be succeeded by William LeBaron. Then Mr. Zukor moved into the position of production executive.

When news of the split between the two organizations became known, Mr. Cohen personally addressed workers in several departments of Major Pictures and then distributed the checks which were signed "Major Productions, Emanuel Cohen, president; Dorothy Krieder, secretary." In former weeks the pay checks had been marked "Paramount-Major special account."

BILL WOULD GIVE CAPITAL FIGHT FILMS

A bill to legalize exhibition of prize fight films in the District of Columbia is being prepared for introduction in Congress at the request of Commissioner Melven C. Hazen.

Interstate transportation of such films have been banned since 1910, but in many states officials have taken the attitude that the law is ineffective and have permitted the showings.

Washington exhibitors have been attempting to obtain repeal of the federal ban for some time.

New York Houses Increase to 1,081, Says Film Board

There were 1,081 theatres open in the Greater New York area January 1st with a total seating capacity of 1,249,653, or a gain of 34 theatres and approximately 13,000 seats over 1936. The figures are from the annual theatre directory of the New York Film Board of Trade, made public this week by Louis Nizer, executive secretary.

The directory shows that the total number of theatres in the metropolitan area at the end of 1937 was 1,200 having a seating capacity of 1,343,864, a gain of 36 theatres and 13,317 seats over the preceding year. Of this number, 119 theatres having a seating capacity of 94,211 were dark, an increase of two closed theatres over 1936.

Two new circuits were added during the year, bringing the total to 48 individual circuit operations. There were 761 theatres with a seating capacity of 1,032,829 in circuits. The totals represent an addition of 50 theatres with a seating capacity of 54,157 to circuit operations in 1937.

Independents Decrease

Independent theatre operations totalled 439 houses with 311,035 seats, a decrease of 14 theatres from the previous year. New Jersey independent operations accounted for all of the decrease, ending the year with 145 houses as compared with 158 last year, while New York State's 294 independent houses remained unchanged.

Affiliated circuit operations in New York State added 14 theatres with a seating capacity of 27,064 in 1936, bringing the total to 66 theatres with 119,371 seats. Unaffiliated circuits in New York State added nine houses bringing the total to 434 theatres with a seating capacity of 505,262. In New Jersey, unaffiliated circuits account for 127 houses with 128,381 seats, a gain of 24 theatres for the year.

There were 1,177 sound theatres, of which 96 were closed on January 1st, and 23 silent theatres, all dark. This represents a gain of 33 sound theatres and three silent theatres.

Brooklyn led the boroughs with a total of 239 theatres open. Manhattan had 216 open; Queens and Long Island, 156; the Bronx, 91 and Staten Island, 17. New York State outside the metropolitan area, had 862 theatres and 984,305 seats compared with 839 theatres and 979,698 seats at the end of 1936. New Jersey, exclusive of the metropolitan New York area, had 338 theatres with 359,559 seats compared with 325 theatres and 350,849 seats the preceding year.

Brandt Theatres, with a total of 77 houses, is the largest circuit numerically, affiliated or unaffiliated, covered by the report. Loew's circuit is second with 71 theatres; Skouras is third with 67, and RKO Booking Corporation fourth with 60.

GOVERNMENT STARTS NEW SURVEY OF PRODUCTION ON JANUARY 25th

Previous Study Showed Employees Increased from 19,602 in '29 to 27,417 in '35, Payroll $85,027,612 to $101,754,426

Details of film production activity in 1937 are being investigated by the United States Census Bureau in connection with the biennial census of manufactures, and questionnaires are to be mailed out to all known companies January 25th, asking for information regarding employment, expenses and nature of production.

Schedules for the film production industry were drafted so as to bring out data peculiar to that activity, such as the number and cost of pictures produced, by classes; cost of studio supplies, personnel, fuel and energy, and so on.

Motion picture production has been included by the Census Bureau under manufactures for several years, previous censuses showing that the number of establishments, after dropping from 142 in 1929 to 92 in 1933, rose to 129 in 1935, while the number of persons engaged in the industry during the same periods dropped from 19,602 to 19,037 and then rose to 27,417, while annual wages and salaries dropped from $85,027,612 to $71,343,941, and then increased to $101,754,426.

The latest census, for 1935, showed that 1,094 theatrical films were produced in that year at a cost of $129,836,134, and that $5,001,321 was spent in production of news and advertising pictures, $369,796 on educationals and $2,635,564 on other types.

The 1935 theatrical film production compared with 1,059 features costing $77,535,515 in 1933 and 1,204 costing $118,716,041 in 1929.

All Required to Participate

The federal law requires every manufacturer (producers and studios included) to report to the Bureau of the Census, and provides penalties for failure to do so. The same law also provides that any information in regard to the studio or producer as supplied by either to the Census Bureau for statistical purposes under this census-taking project is confidential. No one except a sworn Census Bureau employee is supposed to see the returned blanks or any parts of the contents therein. They are not available to any other Government agency, and cannot be used for purposes of investigation, regulation or taxation, according to the law. They are said to be used solely for preparing statistical information on the business population, business resources and business activities.

Report for Each Plant

The Department of Commerce, parent division of the Bureau of Census, at Washington, is official conductor of the census, acting under Congressional Act as approved on June 18, 1929. The 1937 census actually gets under way January 25th, when schedules will be mailed to all studios and producers, and manufacturers in other lines. It is intended to cover all establishments making products valued at $5,000 or more during 1937. Exhibition and distribution are excluded.

The blank carries the request that producers and studios describe their plant or studio, filing a separate report for each plant. The term "plant" refers to the entire establishment at one location. A combined report, however, may be filed for two or more plants or studios if (1) they are located within the corporate boundaries of the same city, town or village, or (2) if they are at different locations in the same county but not within the corporate boundaries of cities or other municipalities having 10,000 inhabitants or more.

The Census Bureau asks, specifically, for the name of the plant, the name of its owner or operator, whether the concern is incorporated and the address of the home office, and whether the studio was purchased, sold or leased since Dec. 31, 1935, together with the name and address of the seller, buyer, lessor or lessee, and date of the change.

The official filing the return also must describe the character of the work performed at the plant, that is, whether studio or laboratory work.

Work Hours Also Sought

Another inquiry concerns the time in operation and the hours of labor, the number of days the plant or studio is actually engaged in production during the year, the normal number of hours worked weekly and the normal number of shifts used per day. They must stipulate whether the daily shift is employed on a six-day, five-and-a-half-day week, or on some other basis.

The Census Bureau requires that the studio or producer report on the total numbers of salaried employees and officers, together with their respective total salaries, bonuses and other compensation. The number of workers must be listed by months.

Also required are the costs of materials and supplies, fuel purchased, cost of electrical energy and cost of studio, laboratory and other work done for the company on the outside.

Reporting on Product

Product made during the year must be reported as follows: Number of feature pictures, color films, black-and-white films, non-theatrical pictures, advertising, educational, industrial and news reels; also, unfinished production costs, and the cost of the positive film used, in 35 and 16mm widths. Receipts for use of studio facilities must be reported, and receipts for laboratory work (including developing and printing) done for others.

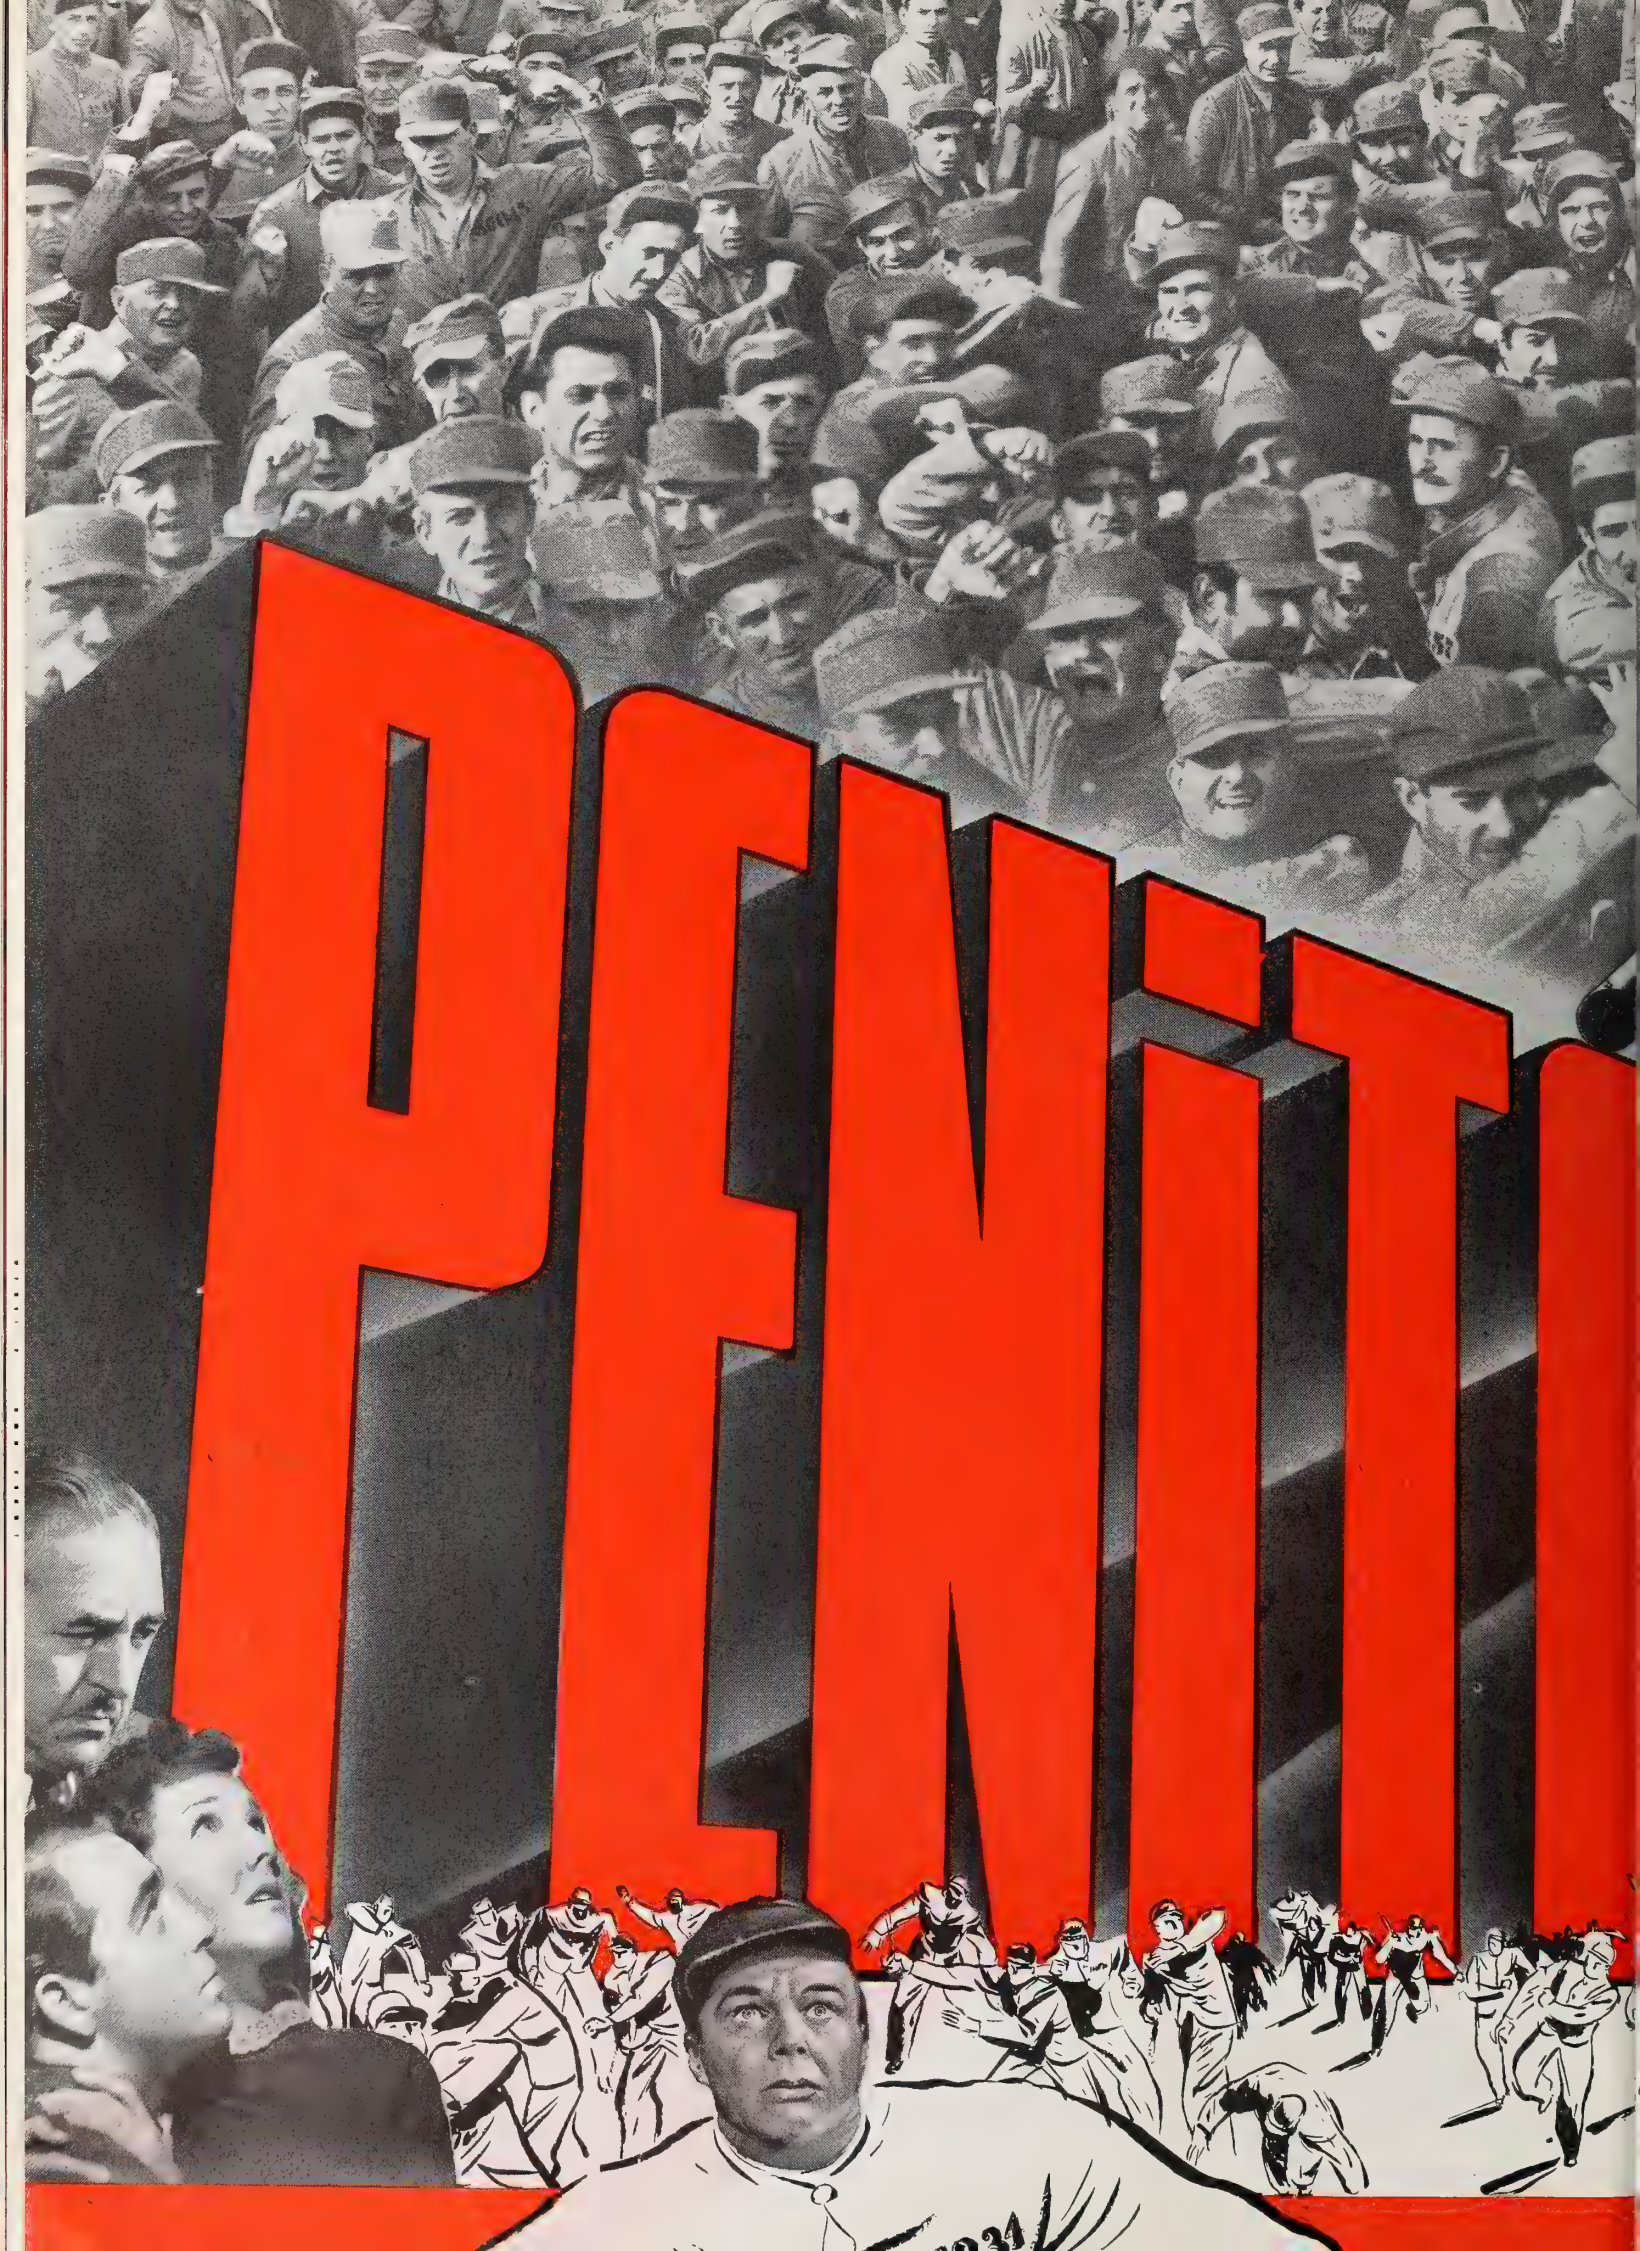
If the studio's or producer's books do not give the information required to answer any of the inquiries, they are compelled to supply estimated figures, and, if any questions are unanswered, the government will re-submit the questions.

The report, it is said, while it should relate to the calendar year 1937, may cover the business fiscal year ending within the period from April 1, 1937, to March 31, 1938. In either case, a full year's operations should be covered, unless, of course, the plant began to operate or ceased to operate within the year. The report should cover all production activities and such auxiliary activities as are carried on at the plant or in immediate connection therewith.

Employees Classified

Producers and studios are not required to include data for construction of or additions or major repairs to plant, or for new installations or major repairs of equipment; actual operations only are involved.

To be reported as working personnel, under "salaried employees," are: All employees whose duties are concerned with supervision and such activities as planning, designing, acting, the operation of cameras and other mechanical equipment, etc., and the keeping of records, accounts and correspondence, together with managers, superintendents, scenario writers, unit managers and assistant directors, technical staffs, wardrobe designers, laboratory supervisors, extra talent, auditors, bookkeepers, clerks, stenographers and other clerical employees.



Another classification to be reported is "wage earner," to include skilled and unskilled workers of all classes, including carpenters, painters, prop makers, molders, laboratory and wardrobe workers, property men, drivers, engineers, firemen, watchmen, packers and the like; also foremen and overseers in minor positions who perform work similar to that done by the employees under their supervision.

U.S. Housing and Security Boards And Navy Have New Film Plans

Uncle Sam's position as a distributor of motion picture films is extended by the new production of a series describing the Government's housing program, to be set this week, and by last week's acquisition of ten films for the Social Security Administration. These are but two of the many "alphabetical" divisions of the New Deal which are resorting to the screen to spread their programs. Also, the new Navy appropriations bill for the coming fiscal year carries the usual $85,000 item for film service for ships at sea, the sailors making up the difference between that sum and $315,000 for the annual cost of supplying screen entertainment.

The Housing Administration at Washington was to open bids on Thursday for the production of short subjects describing that part of the government's program. The contemplated series will consist of one "general" introductory film of between 2,000 and 4,000 feet, and such other short films as the FHA may deem expedient, not to exceed 4,000 feet each. Bids are being submitted on the basis of both sound and silent 35mm film and for reduction of both to 16 mm. Master negatives and one print are to be furnished on each subject.

The Security Administration series of ten shorts, describing methods followed in the various states for applying the Act, were made by Pathe, for $3,000 per subject. The contracts call for the production of as many as 48 films, one for each state.

PENITI

NTIARY

TIMELY!
EXPLOITATION!
HEART-THROBS!
THRILLS!

WALTER CONNOLLY ★ JOHN HOWARD ★ JEAN PARKER ★ ROBERT BARRAT

MARC LAWRENCE ★ DICK CURTIS ★ ANN DORAN

From the play by MARTIN FLAVIN • Screen play by FRED NIBLO, Jr. and SETON I. MILLER • Directed by JOHN BRAHM

A Columbia Picture

SEARS CALLS CHANCE GAMES "TRASH"; EIGHT MORE STATES ATTACK POLICY

New York Independents Prepare Huge Giveaway; Bronx District Attorney Says He Will Arrest Bingo Operators

Gradwell L. Sears, general manager for Warner Brothers, upon leaving Hollywood for New York this week said exhibitors should stop running "gambling halls," through chance games, and return to operating legitimate film theatres.

In New York City the chance games situation remained practically unchanged, with independents going ahead with their plans for a mammoth giveaway and the major circuits waiting for the independents to make the next move.

In the Bronx, District Attorney Samuel J. Foley announced that he would arrest and prosecute operators of Bingo as violators of the lottery law.

Chance games developments were reported from many local situations this week, most of them unfavorable to the practice.

"Showmanship is fast becoming a lost art in the film business because of exhibitors degrading their theatres with Country Stores, Turkey Nights and other destructive giveaways when they should be plugging pictures instead," Mr. Sears said.

"If exhibitors would devote as much time to merchandising great shows to customers as they do to putting over audience games which drive away business the entire industry would be better off. Hollywood isn't falling down, it's the exhibitor.

"Motion picture theatres," he emphasized, "are built for motion pictures, not to be used as gambling halls or for lotteries. Hollywood obviously can't step into theatres and sell the fine product it makes. That is up to the exhibitor. Unless theatres wake up and go to work, producers will be compelled to cut production budgets.

When "Hypo" Loses Strength

"Hollywood delivers great attractions and the distributors do all they can to help exhibitors put them across," Mr. Sears said, "but the theatres themselves fail to come through with the follow-up which is vital to both the producer and themselves. Turkey Nights, Country Store and such industry ailments are like hypodermics. After you give the patient a lot of shots in the arm he can't live without them. And then what happens when the hypo doesn't help the patient any more?

"Theatres are not playing fair with Hollywood by not getting all the money they should from its product. It's certainly time the theatremen became smart and got back into the show business. If they don't junk Turkey Nights and all the other trash which is ruining the industry and discouraging producers they will end up in financial suicide."

Giveaway to Be "Biggest Ever"

Plans for the promotion of a mammoth giveaway, or a series of such giveaways, among theatres belonging to the Independent Theatre Owners Association, New York, are progressing rapidly, Harry Brandt, president of the ITOA, said. While Mr. Brandt would not comment on the amount of cash involved, it is understood the figure would exceed all others offered in New York City theatres, if not in the entire country.

It is expected that major circuits will meet the competition engendered by the ITOA by offering an amount still larger.

Mr. Foley said the chief factor in prompting his decision to ban Bingo, was the entrance of disreputable elements into the enterprise, managing Bingo games in churches in return for a percentage of the profits, often as high as 60 per cent.

Throughout the Bronx, he said, many clubs, ostensibly of a political nature, had been organized solely to reap profits from Bingo games.

Favor State Ban in Iowa

In a meeting at Des Moines, the county attorneys of Iowa went on record favoring a state legislative act to prohibit Bank Night and all other socalled gift enterprises. They requested that the attorney general of the state draft such a bill and propose it to the 48th general assembly for enactment.

The resolution said in part:

"We believe that the Bank Night scheme has a demoralizing effect upon the public and that it encourages a spirit of gambling, that it tends to break down the enforcement of laws against other forms of lottery and gambling, and that it tends to embarrass county attorneys in the enforcement of laws against lotteries and gambling."

At Detroit Nathaniel H. Goldstick, assistant corporation counsel, ruled that "any and every form of cash giveaway is strictly out, including Screeno, Bank Night and Bingo games."

Refuse to Issue Warrants

In view of the fact that neither the district nor city attorney of Milwaukee, Wis., has been willing to issue warrants against managers of any of the 18 houses raided by police in their drive to ban Bingo, Hollywood, Bank Night and similar games, exhibitors there are continuing to feature the games.

The Milwaukee chief of police, Joseph Kluchesky, said that his department would continue to raid theatres where the games are played, despite the officials' refusal to issue warrants.

Walter Mattison, city attorney, has declared that he wants police to "bring us a case in which all conditions of an illegal lottery are present," while Herbert J. Steffes, district attorney, said that he would not take action until he had received an opinion from the attorney general on the applicability of the state gambling and lottery statures to games in theatres.

Two Acquitted at Newark, Ohio

Frank King, manager of Shea's Midland, Newark, Ohio, and his assistant, Joseph Hackenberry, have been acquitted by a jury on a charge of violating an anti-gambling order for Bank Night operation.

The city council of Sheridan, Wyo., is considering an ordinance banning all drawings, including Bank Night, "if such drawings contribute to traffic congestion or interfere with the general health and welfare of the citizens of Sheridan."

San Francisco theatres are continuing operation of chance games despite the recent ruling of U. S. Webb, state's attorney general, that all such devices violate the state anti-lottery law.

John J. Breslin, prosecutor of Bergen county, N. J., said that he would take steps to prosecute theatre owners using Bank Night or any other game.

Despite a decision at Paducah, Ky., that Bank Nights are in violation of the Kentucky lottery laws, Bank Nights at Louisville will not be interfered with until the court of appeals so rules, according to Director of Safety McMeekin.

WB Plans Release Of Nine Features

Warner Brothers will release nine of its important pictures of the season during the next few months, Gradwell L. Sears, general sales manager, announced this week when he arrived in New York City from the Coast where he conferred with H. M. Warner, president; Jack L. Warner and Sam E. Morris, vice-presidents; Hal B. Wallis, in charge of production; S. Charles Einfeld, director of advertising and publicity and Sam Schneider, home office executive.

The features are "The Adventures of Robin Hood," "Fools for Scandal," "Gold is Where You Find It," "Jezebel," "Swing Your Lady," "Women Are Like That," "Girls on Probation," "The Kid Comes Back," and "A Slight Case of Murder." The possibilities of roadshowing "The Adventures of Robin Hood," "Jezebel," and "Gold is Where You Find It," were discussed. Most of the pictures, Mr. Sears said, will be released during the current "Sears drive," which, he said, is ahead of the mark set last year.

H. M. Warner Mr. Einfeld and Mr. Schneider are expected in New York late this week. Joseph Bernhard, head of theatres, returned to New York from the conferences Wednesday. Mr. Morris, who has charge of foreign sales, also arrived in New York and he announced his company's production plans in England are being held in abeyance until after adoption of the English quota.

Herman Maier, who has charge of theatre construction, sailed Saturday on the Ile de France after revealing that Warner Brothers plans building no other foreign houses except the one now under construction in London.

Joseph S. Hummel, general foreign sales manager, is now in Sydney, Australia, and will not return to the United States until May, the company announced.

Shapiro and Klein Complete New Script

Victor Shapiro and Herbert Klein, whose collaborative story, "Here Comes the Band," was produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, have finished work on a new original, "Her Private Business," purchase of which is expected to be announced soon by a major company.

Plan Short Subject Meet

Plans for increasing the number of short subjects dealing with patriotic matters to be made by Warner Brothers for the 1938-'39 season will be discussed in Hollywood at conferences to be held in February or March. Harry M. Warner, Jack L. Warner, Hal Wallis, S. Charles Einfeld and Norman Moray, Vitaphone sales manager, will take part in its meetings.

"TEN BEST" ON EASTMAN FILM EXCLUSIVELY

EVERY one of the "Ten Best Pictures" selected in the 1937 critics' poll of the Film Daily was "shot" on Eastman Super X Panchromatic Negative .... Release prints for all ten were made on Eastman Positive .... An impressive double demonstration of Eastman's current contributions to motion picture quality. Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y. (J. E. Brulatour, Inc., Distributors, Fort Lee, Chicago, Hollywood.)

EASTMAN Positive and Super X Negative

IN COURTS

ASCAP to File Florida Action

Fourth legal action of American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers attacking the constitutionality of state legislation designed to bar it from operating within state boundaries is expected to be filed at Tallahassee, Florida, within the week.

The decision to proceed with the Florida litigation was made when it became evident that ASCAP's action to invalidate Nebraska legislation barring the society from operating within that state could not be tried until next fall. In a preliminary attack on the legislation ASCAP succeeded in obtaining an injunction restraining Nebraska officials from enforcing the law but it is not expected that a trial of the case to test the constitutionality of the law could be concluded this winter.

Actions to enjoin Montana and Washington from enforcing anti-ASCAP legislation were heard by statutory courts eight months ago but no decisions have been made yet.

Dismiss LaVarre Suit

Justice Timothy A. Leary dismissed the $50,000 breach of contract suit brought by William LaVarre, writer, against Warner Brothers in New York supreme court. Justice Leary ruled that the testimony offered by Mr. LaVarre failed to prove a cause of action and refused to permit the case to go before a jury. Mr. LaVarre testified that he had been employed in 1932 by Warners to write scripts for Warren William, Ruth Chatterton and Barbara Stanwyck. He claimed that his story, "Bedside Manner," had been produced as "Bedside," and his script, "Fated Woman," had been produced as "Gambling Lady."

End Plain Talk Suit

The infringement suit brought by Plain Talk Magazine, Inc., against Screen Classics, Inc., and Columbia Pictures, has been marked "settled and discontinued" in the United States district court in New York. Terms of the settlement were not revealed. The complaint charged "deliberate piracy and infringement" in "Norton 1, Emperor of America," of "The American Emperor," short story by David W. Ryder, which was published by Plain Talk in 1928. A permanent injunction was sought.

Wade Loses to Disney

John P. Wade, a writer, this week lost a Los Angeles superior court suit in which he sought damages from Walt Disney for alleged plagiarism of a script in connection with "Mickey's Polo Team."

Major Leslie E. Thompson, executive of RKO Theatres, has been awarded a parchment scroll by John W. Davis, chairman of the United Hospital Campaign, in appreciation of his services in its recent appeal for aid to hospitals in New York. Major Thompson acted as chairman of the motion picture division of the professional section.

Cartoon Suit Settled In Out of Court Action

The suit in which Exclusive Movie Stulios, Inc., charged that Samuel Levy and Levy's Sport Shop, Jersey City, violated copyright law by distributing alleged pirated prints of Paramount's Betty Boop and Popeye cartoons was settled out of court this week with substantial cash payment, according to Phillips and Nizer, attorneys for the plaintiff.

Exclusive Movie Studios' contract with Paramount grants it exclusive rights to distribute 16mm. prints of the subject two years after their theatre release dates. However, according to the complaint, prints were distributed before that time by the defendants, who were without rights.

Ambassador-Malcolm Pact Approved by Federal Court

Federal Judge George Cosgrave, Hollywood, has approved a compromise agreement between Ambassador Pictures and Marks and Malcolm Trading Company and Malcolm Film Laboratories whereby the latter two companies are to retain possession of 24 pictures made by Ambassador until approximately $60,000 owed them by Ambassador is repaid.

Campaign Launched For Depinet Drive

An advance road campaign for RKO's "Ned Depinet Drive" was underway this week with Cresson E. Smith, western and southern sales manager, and Walter Branson, midwest district manager, making a tour of cities that will end in Denver Friday. Mr. Branson was chosen by the field sales forces as drive leader for the United States and Canada.

Their itinerary follows: St. Louis last Friday; Chicago, Saturday; Milwaukee and St. Paul, Monday; Des Moines and Omaha, Tuesday; Kansas City, Wednesday; Oklahoma City, Thursday, and Denver, Friday. They plan to return to Chicago for the official opening of the drive January 29th. It will last for 15 weeks, ending May 13th.

Evens Elected Club Barker

Harold W. (Chick) Evens, manager of Loew's theatre, St. Louis, has been elected chief barker of Tent No. 4, St. Louis Variety Club. Other new officers are: Tony Matreci, owner-manager of the Uptown theatre, assistant chief barker; George Wiegan, St. Louis Amusement Company, dough guy, and Percy Barr, National Screen Service manager, property master.

"Spanish Earth" in Philadelphia

"The Spanish Earth" has opened at the Europa theatre, Philadelphia, as a result of the overruling of the censors' band by Governor Earle. "Spain in Flames" was to have been shown on the same program, but the censor board has appealed from Judge Louis E. Levinthal's overriding of its ban and the case is still pending.

Producing Negro Film

Oscar Micheaux has completed plans for an all-negro feature which will be produced and directed by him at the Producers' Service Studios, New York. Lester Lang will photograph the film.

OBITUARIES

Louis M. Boas Dies; Partner Of Marcus Loew

Louis M. Boas, prominent in theatrical and amusement enterprises for more than 30 years, died unexpectedly Monday night at his home in Boston. He had worked at his office Monday with A. Dolphus Burroughs, his partner of 20 years.

Mr. Boas was formerly in partnership with Marcus Loew in the management of a theatre circuit. He was born in Providence, R. I., in 1884. His entire career had been given to management of theatres and amusement houses. Many years ago he was manager of the Loew's Columbia and Orpheum theatres in Boston. He was treasurer of the Friars Club.

Surviving are his widow, the former Margaret Gallagher; a son, Herman, of Boston; a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Ross, of Boston, and three brothers, Ralph, professor of philosophy at Johns Hopkins University, and Bernard Boas of Providence.

Goesta Ekman

Goesta Ekman, 48, Swedish film star, died in Stockholm, Sweden. He was noted on the Continent for his portrayal of Shakespearean roles. He is featured in "Intermezzo," which now is showing at the Cinema de Paris, New York.

John H. Mannix

John H. Mannix, father of Edward J. Mannix, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executive, died in Fort Lee, N. J., at the age of 87. Also surviving are a widow and a granddaughter, Mrs. W. S. Van Dyke, 2nd, wife of the MGM director.

Whitaker Ray

Whitaker Ray, 55, theatre man who for many years was associated with the Erlanger interests and Jed Harris, died on Friday in Brooklyn of a heart attack.

Helen Strickland

Mrs. Helen Strickland Conness, 75, actress, known on the stage by her maiden name, died last Thursday in New York.

Homer Bassford

Homer Bassford, St. Louis newspaper man and motion picture critic of the St. Louis Star-Times, died there last week, from a complication of diseases. He was 67.

John Yous

John Yous, owner and operator of the Delphus at Mount City, Mo., died there.

Grace G. Landy

Mrs. Grace G. Landy, a Broadway musical comedy actress of a generation ago, appearing with three sisters under the name of the Four Merrill Sisters, died last week in East Hempstead, N. Y.

IN THE CUTTING ROOM

Fools for Scandal

(Warner)

Comedy Romance

A ready cue to the entertainment and exploitation potentialities of this comedy romance, which co-stars Carole Lombard and Fernand Gravet, may be found in the series of productions beginning with "My Man Godfrey" and continuing through "Nothing Sacred," which established Miss Lombard as a ranking comedienne, and "The King And the Chorus Girl" which introduced Gravet to American audiences.

Thematically the story, with everything in dialogue, situations and characterizations carefully and tastefully treated, constitutes a return to the intimate bedroom farce comedy idea. As it amplifies title significance, the locales being London and Paris, an impoverished baron becomes infatuated with an American movie star traveling incognito. Becoming her cook, he serves her breakfast while she is in bed. The innocent episode becomes the basis of a choice bit of scandal which disrupts her romance with her fiance, but also leads to the star's discovering that her cook is a nobleman and thus a legitimate person to marry.

Genesis of the production is a stage play, "Return Engagement," which Herb and Joe Fields adapted. Herb Fields was associated with "Luckiest Girl in the World" and "Love before Breakfast" Joe Fields with "When Love is Young" and "That Girl from Paris." The final feature which Mervyn LeRoy will produce and direct for Warners, it will strengthen its production detail with music and lyrics by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart, and dance sequences directed by Bobby Connolly.

The principal supporting players are Ralph Bellamy, Allen Jenkins, Marie Wilson, Isabel Jeans, Marcia Ralston and Heather Thatcher. Specialty numbers will present Jeni LeGon, noted colored dancer, and Les Hite and his orchestra.

Release date: In April, 1938.

Bulldog Drummond's Peril

(Paramount)

Melodrama

The ingredients going into the production are those that were parts of the earlier Paramount "Bulldog Drummond" releases—mystery, intrigue, adventure, romance and comedy. As in the other cases, all will be treated in melodramatic fashion. The same players featured in the recent "Bulldog Drummonds," John Barrymore, John Howard, Louise Campbell, Reginald Denny, Nydia Westman and E. E. Clive, are again to be the principals. Also to be seen are Halliwell Hobbes, Elizabeth Patterson, Michael Brooke, the English nobleman lately prominent in print, and Matthew Boulton.

The story is based on "The Third Round," written by H. C. McNeile, creator of the "Bulldog Drummond" character. The screen play was completed by Stuart Palmer, long associated with the preparation of mystery melodramatic screen pieces such as "Forty Naughty Girls," "The Plot Thickens," "Murder on the Blackboard" and "The Penguin Pool Murder," all of which, it will be recalled, detailed the adventures of Oscar Piper and Hildegarde Withers. Direction is in the hands of James Hogan, who made "Ebb Tide."

In the plot, "Drummond" whirls into one of the most exciting events of his career when three men fight for possession of a formula for the manufacture of diamonds. The story is being worked out to accentuate the theatrical and showmanship values. Real diamond dealers, sensing the threat artificial gems would be to their business, determine to prevent its development. Amid comedy, romance and excitement, Scotland Yard is called in and the formula of the great diamond manufacturing discovery is turned over to science.

Release date: March 25, 1938.

The Crime of Dr. Hallet

(Universal)

Sociological Melodrama

This production will concern itself with a topic that occasionally has been used as a subject of motion picture fiction and realism. At this writing, while the picture will contain love interest, it will be barren of comedy.

The locale is a Sumatran jungle. There a research doctor is experimenting with a formula for a serum to halt a tropical pestilence. His formula is accidentally completed by an assistant, who becomes a martyr to medical science when he permits himself to be inoculated with a specific which the research doctor believes will be a cholera cure. Assuming the dead doctor's identity, forging his name to drafts which enable him to continue his experiments, the researcher falls in love with a woman doctor whom his foundation has sent as an assistant. Finally, to complicate the melodrama, the widow of the deceased man turns up in the jungle, and threatens to expose the scientist. She is stricken with red fever, and saved by the serum. Her decision to pose as a newspaper heroine who broadcasts a great scientific discovery clears the way for romantic happiness.

The production will feature Ralph Bellamy, William Gargan, Josephine Hutchinson, John King and Barbara Read. The story is based on an original by Carl Dreher, previously associated with pictures as a sound engineer but contributor of articles to many scientific magazines. The screen play is credited to Lester Cole, recently associated with Universal and Republic, and Brown Holmes, long in the employ of Warner Bros. The director, S. Sylvan Simon, recently made "Prescription for Romance."

Release date: March 4, 1938.

Penrod's Double Trouble

(Warner)

Comedy

"Sheer public demand," says Arthur Eddy of the publicity department, "impelled Warners to the immediate production of another 'Penrod' story." If the recent previews of "Penrod And His Twin Brother," are to be credited, there is substance in Mr. Eddy's remark.

As was its predecessor, "Penrod's Double Trouble" is being aimed directly at both juveniles and those in audiences who have not forgotten that they once were young.

Using the Booth Tarkington characters, Crane Wilbur, onetime screen idol, and Ernest Booth have concocted an original screen play in which "Penrod" and his juvenile G-men again are the centers of attention. As did "Twin Brother," "Double Trouble" will feature Billy and Bobby Mauch. With them are Charles Halton, again as "Mr. Bitts," and Bernice Pilot, Phillip Hurlick, John Perrone, Billy Lechner, Billy Wolfstone, Jackie Morrow, Donald Hulburt, Jerry Tucker and Jack Cunningham as the youthful contingent. New faces include Sonny Bupp, Gene and Kathleen Lockhart, Dick Purcell and Hugh O'Connell. Lew Seiler, maker of "Larger Than Life" and "Turn Off the Moon," succeeds William McGann as director.

The story promises to be the most exciting, funniest and fastest "Penrod" to date. "Rodney Bitts" is at the bottom of things that get "Penrod" into trouble. Denied permission to attend a carnival, "Penrod" goes anyway. Hidden in a captive balloon basket which is deliberately freed, he is blown away. The big reward offered brings gangsters onto the scene. They attempt to pass off "Penrod's" double as the missing lad. But the Junior G men, with the aid of the impersonator rescue "Penrod" and confound the criminals.

Release date: In April, 1938.

Wide Open Faces

Columbia-David L. Loew

Comedy

This is to be a typical Joe E. Brown picture and so a comedy of errors. Considering that the appeal of such pictures, particularly to youngsters but also to a great many adults, caused the nation's showmen to vote Mr. Brown as the 17th ranking box office personality in the Herald-Fame poll, it is evident that there is a demand for typical Joe E. Brown pictures.

Always humorous, clean and exciting, "Wide Open Faces" has the comedian the central figure in a small town's welcome and regaling a gang of crooks who, of course, no one realizes are criminals bent on recovering hidden loot. Proceeding from one hilarious episode to another, the star is alternately a hero and scapegoat. Eventually, however, in sequences which develop a plethora of variations of the hurly-burly chase idea, the star and his girl friend recover the hidden loot from the crooks and he becomes a hero who suffers from aunt-in-law trouble.

The supporting cast includes such fun makers as Alison Skipworth, Lyda Roberti, Lucien Littlefield, Sidney Toler, Barbara Pepper, Stanley Fields and Berton Churchill. Exponents of the melodramatic contrast who nevertheless are comedians in character include Alan Baxter and Dick Rich. Jane Wyman is the girl with whom Brown is in love and she also is the source of his civic mindedness.

Release date: March 3, 1938 (tentative).

Men Are Such Fools

(Warner)

Romantic Comedy

This picture will not try to prove that men are complete fools so much as it will that women are pretty smart and know what means to adapt to get what they want. For its subject

(Continued on following page, column 3)

EXHIBITORS AND RENTERS WILL CONFER IN LONDON

Shareholders of Newsreel Circuit Demand Inquiry; Associated British Securities Issue

by AUBREY FLANAGAN
in London

General problems of the trade will be discussed on February 1st at a joint meeting of the Kinematograph Renters Society (distributors) and the Cinematograph Exhibitors Association.

It is expected that the exhibitor organization will bring up the rentals situation for consideration. Preliminary conversations already have been held by the presidents of the two trade organizations.

▽

Reciprocity and Treaty

Mark Ostrer's appeal for reciprocity, at the recent annual meeting of Gainsborough Pictures, Ltd., of which he is chairman, is figuring in speculation in London as to the forthcoming provisions of the British-American trade treaty, now being drafted.

Unless British producers of quality product have an outlet in America, just as American producers must be able to recover a sizeable share of their cost in England, "the producing industry in this country will continue to be a very profitless business," Mr. Ostrer said.

Throughout the past year, the shareholders were told, the cost of production in England had continued to be high, and only in the second half had the producers recorded a profit. The chairman attributed the loss in the first half of the year, despite economies, to the low return from the American market.

Gainsborough's trading account reflected a loss of £11,098 ($55,490) compared with £79,524 for the previous year. Current liabilities were £131,261, a decline of £86,024, because of repayment of a large part of loans and advances, and a bank overdraft of £11,644 was cleared off the books. Fixed assets, at £56,912, were £3,081 below the previous year's. This was attributed to excess of depreciation over outlay for additional studio equipment.

▽

Newsreel Circuit Inquiry Asked

Shareholders of Capital and Provincial News Theatres, Ltd., at a stormy meeting on Tuesday discussed a proposal to appoint a shareholders' investigation committee and it ultimately agreed that the new board which includes John Diamond as chairman and S. Seeman as managing director should conduct an investigation into the company's affairs.

Norman Hulbert, founder of the company, and V. Hardy, a director, have resigned.

The association of Mr. Seeman with the company will link five Capital newsreel theatres with 10 others specializing in news and short subject programs.

▽

PCT Construction reported a profit of $500,000 for the year ended Sept. 30, 1937. The company granted in excess of $6,000,000 in advances to Provincial Cinematograph Theatres, Lt., and associated companies, during the year, an increase of $100,000. These loans are secured by liens on freehold and leasehold properties.

▽

Associated British Issue

Associated British Pictures Corporation is arranging a new security issue to go to debenture and shareholders, consisting of 1,500,000 five-shilling shares to be sold at 14 shillings, nine pence each.

The proceeds will be used to complete payments on properties acquired by the company, and to consolidate its position.

▽

British Film Exports Gain

British exports of exposed positive film for 1937 totaled 22,772,882 feet, according to figures issued by the Board of Trade. The total represents an increase over the 1936 aggregate of 472,350 feet. The total value of the 1937 exports was £129,767.

Imports during 1937 totaled 20,984,593 feet, a decrease of 2,354,150 feet from the 1936 total. The 1937 imports were valued at £167,296.

National Decency Legion Classifies 17 Productions

Of 17 new pictures reviewed and classified by the National Legion of Decency in its listing for the current week 13 were approved for general patronage and four were listed as unobjectionable for adults. The pictures and their classification follow:

Class A-1, Unobjectionable for General Patronage; "Change of Heart," "Eva" (German), "Harlem on the Prairie," "In Old Chicago," "Lost Ranch," "Love Is a Headache," "Mama Runs Wild," "The Old Barn Dance," "Orphan of the Pecos," "Paroled to Die," "Outlaws of the Prairie," "She's Got Everything," "En Saga." Class A-2, Unobjectionable for Adults: "Action for Slander," "Loco Lindo" (Spanish), "Tears of Love" (Arabic), "Women in Prison."

Decency Legion Secretary Praises Ontario Censors

No organized action with regard to films is required in the Province of Ontario because of the co-operative attitude of the Ontario Censors, Reverend M. J. McGrath, secretary of the Toronto Council of the Legion of Decency said this week. Occasional objectionable details slip through in the examination of films, he said, "but censorship in Ontario is quite satisfactory."

The comment was made following announcement that representatives of the Catholic church in the Province of Quebec had threatened a boycott of theatres of an alleged lowered standard of censoring in that Province.

CUTTING ROOM

(Continued from preceding page)

matter it treats of a boy and girl, who, although they are in love, are also caught in the maelstrom of business life in the radio-advertising smart set of New York. Directly it concerns a young fellow who hasn't much push, and his girl friend who is quite ambitious, with the boy endeavoring to convince the girl she should be his wife rather than a business executive. Naturally there are romantic and business complications which are being depended upon to accentuate the comedy.

The picture is from a Cosmopolitan Magazine story by Faith Baldwin. Her most recent screen contribution is "Portia on Trial," but she is remembered for "The Moon Is Our Home" and "Skyscraper Souls." The screen play was completed by Norman Reilly Raine, creator of the "Tugboat Annie" stories and collaboration on "Zola" and "Mountain Justice," and Horace Jackson, who did "Women Are Like That." Direction is by Busby Berkeley, who made "Hollywood Hotel."

Wayne Morris, featured in "Kid Galahad" and "Submarine D-1," and Priscilla Lane occupy the leading roles. The principal's supports include Humphrey Bogart, last in "Swing Your Lady," Penny Singleton, formerly Dorothy McNulty, also in that picture, Hugh Herbert, now in "Hollywood Hotel," Marcia Ralston, Gene and Katherine Lockhart, Johnnie Davis, Mona Barrie and Donald Briggs.

Besides the showmanship inherent in the title, there is the prestige which Morris is finding, especially with women patrons. In fact, inasmuch as the story idea is not exactly new, the picture almost automatically demands that considerable attention be paid to all the featured personalities.

Release date: In April, 1938.

Heart of Arizona

(Paramount-Sherman)

Romance and Adventure

Like the "Charlie Chan" and "Jones Family" pictures, and others, the Harry Sherman productions based on the Clarence Mulford "Bar 20" yarns have proved that there is a public demand for the series picture in which the same leading players continually are featured. The demand was so great that it elevated Bill Boyd to a close second place in the 1937 MOTION PICTURE HERALD poll of western actors.

Although all outdoor action-adventure-romance pictures must, it seems, follow the same general pattern, the production superiority with which Mr. Sherman has endowed his films have elevated them, as they did Boyd, to high regard by the public, particularly the western fans. Here "Hopalong" comes to the rescue of an innocent woman convict. Aided by his familiar adult pals and a young boy, he frustrates a rustling attempt. In the exciting skirmish the woman whom Hopalong has grown to love is mortally wounded, but before she dies she entrusts her daughter to "Hopalong's" care.

With Boyd will be seen the familiar George Hayes and Russell Hayden. The boy, Billy King, made his screen debut two or three "Hopalongs" back. The girl is Natalie Moorhead, and the supporting cast consists of John Elliott, Dorothy Short, Alden Chase, John Beach, Lane Chandler and Leo McMahon.

Adaptation of the Mulford story is credited to Norman Houston, who did "Hopalong Rides Again." The director, Lesley Selander, in addition to handling several Buck Jones features, also made "Partners of the Plains" and "The Barrier."

Release date: April 22, 1938.

THEATRE RECEIPTS

The total of theatre receipts for the calendar week ended January 15, 1938, from 59 theatres in 12 major cities of the country was $823,805, a decrease of $244,513 from the total for the preceding week ended January 8, 1938, when 62 theatres in 13 large cities aggregated $1,068,318.

(Copyright, 1938. Reproduction of material from this department without specific written permission from MOTION PICTURE HERALD expressly forbidden.)

Theatres (Average weekly grosses for 60 week period from January 4, 1936, to April 3, 1937)	Seats	Price	Average Receipts Per Week	Current Week — Picture	Current Week — Gross	Previous Week — Picture	Previous Week — Gross
Boston
Boston	3,246	25c-55c	$17,700	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO) and "Tarzan's Revenge" (20th Cent.-Fox)	10,000	"Crashing Hollywood" (RKO) (stage: Phil Regan)	22,000
RKO Memorial	2,907	25c-55c	13,600	"You're Sweetheart" (Univ.) (stage: Ethel Waters) (35c-65c)	26,000	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO)	13,000
Loew's Orpheum	2,970	25c-55c	14,500	"Rosalie" (MGM) (2nd week)	16,000	"Rosalie" (MGM) (1st week)	20,000
Metropolitan	4,332	25c-65c	26,200	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) (stage: Ella Logan)	19,000	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (stage: Little Jack Little and Orch.)	25,000
Paramount	1,793	25c-55c	8,000	"Missing Witnesses" (F.N.) and "Love on Toast" (Para.)	6,000	"Thrill of a Lifetime" (Para.) and "Night Club Scandal" (Para.)	8,100
Chicago
Chicago	4,000	35c-75c	35,500	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (stage: Ted Weems and Orch.) (2nd week)	30,000	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (stage: Ted Weems and Orch.) (1st week)	39,500
Garrick	900	35c-75c	6,800	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.) (2nd week)	6,500	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.) (1st week)	7,000
Oriental	3,490	35c-75c	17,500	"Thrill of a Lifetime" (Para.) (plus vaudeville revue)	18,200	"Every Day's a Holiday" (Para.) (stage: Ina Ray Hutton and Orch.)	25,000
Palace	2,509	35c-75c	19,900	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.) (stage: Red Skeleton and revue) (2nd week)	18,400	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.) (stage: Red Skeleton and revue) (1st week)	26,800
Roosevelt	1,591	35c-75c	13,000	"Bad Man of Brimstone" (MGM)	14,000	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) (2nd week)	9,200
State-Lake	2,776	20c-55c	14,800	"Living on Love" (RKO) (stage: Lita Grey Chaplin and revue)	14,200	"Women Men Marry" (MGM) (stage: Ann Pennington and revue)	15,300
United Artists	1,700	35c-75c	17,500	"Rosalie" (MGM) (3rd week)	11,000	"Rosalie" (MGM) (2nd week)	14,000
Cleveland
Allen	3,000	30c-55c	5,700	"Charlie Chan at Monte Carlo" (20th Cent.-Fox) (4 days) and "Thank You, Mr. Moto" (20th Cent.-Fox) (3 days)	4,500	"Tovarich" (W.B.)	10,000
Hippodrome	3,800	30c-55c	12,700	"Stage Door" (RKO)	17,000	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox)	14,000
RKO Palace	3,100	30c-75c	17,800	"She's Got Everything" (RKO) (stage: Three Stooges)	17,500	"Wise Girl" (20th Cent.-Fox) (stage: Harriet Hoctor-Jane Pickens)	21,000
State	3,500	30c-55c	17,200	"The Last Gangster" (MGM)	13,500	"Rosalie" (MGM)	24,000
Denver
Denham	1,500	25c-40c	6,700	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (2nd week)	11,500	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (1st week)	12,500
Denver	2,500	25c-50c	9,600	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox)	9,000	"Tovarich" (W.B.)	13,000
Orpheum	2,600	25c-40c	7,300	"Rosalie" (MGM) and "Danger Patrol" (RKO) (2nd week)	8,750	"Rosalie" (MGM) and "Danger Patrol" (RKO) (1st week)	14,000
Los Angeles and Hollywood
Carthay	1,518	50c-$1.50	11,800	"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" (RKO) (3rd week)	14,008	"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" (RKO) (2nd week)	20,479
Chinese	2,500	30c-75c	11,600	"The Last Gangster" (MGM) and "You're Only Young Once" (MGM)	11,860	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "Checkers" (20th Cent.-Fox)	16,676
Hillstreet	2,700	30c-65c	8,000	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO) and "Living on Love" (RKO) (4 days-2nd week)	5,700	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO) and "Living on Love" (RKO) (1st week)	9,000
Loew's State	2,500	30c-75c	14,700	"The Last Gangster" (MGM) and "You're Only Young Once" (MGM)	16,442	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "Checkers" (20th Cent.-Fox)	19,336
Pantages	3,595	30c-65c	8,100	A Damsel in Distress" (RKO) and "Living on Love" (RKO) (2nd week)	5,400	"A Damsel in Distress" (RKO) and "Living on Love" (RKO) (1st week)	10,000
Paramount	3,595	30c-65c	18,400	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (plus stage show) (2nd week)	18,900	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (plus stage show and New Year's Eve showing of "Every Day's a Holiday") (1st week)	26,097
W. B. Hollywood	3,000	30c-65c	10,400	"Tovarich" (W.B.) (2nd week)	15,900	"Tovarich" (W.B.) (6 days-1st week)	21,200
Minneapolis
Minnesota	4,000	25c-55c	12,200	"Rosalie" (MGM)	12,500	"True Confession" (Para.)	13,000
RKO Orpheum	2,900	25c-40c	7,200	"Submarine D-1" (F.N.)	6,250	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.) (8 days)	7,000
State	2,400	25c-55c	5,600	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (2nd week)	6,900	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) (1st week)	9,000

[THEATRE RECEIPTS—CONTINUED]

Theatres	Seats	Price	Average Receipts Per Week	Current Week — Picture	Current Week — Gross	Previous Week — Picture	Previous Week — Gross
Montreal (Average weekly grosses for 66 week period from January 4, 1936, to April 3, 1937)
Capitol	2,547	25c-60c	9,300	"The Perfect Specimen" (W.B.) and "First Lady" (W.B.)	10,000	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox)	10,500
Loew's	3,115	25c-50c	11,000	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.) and "The Westland Case" (Univ.)	7,500	"45 Fathers" (20th Cent.-Fox) "Beg, Borrow or Steal" (MGM).... (plus stage show)	12,500
Palace	2,600	25c-65c	10,500	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (2nd week)	7,500	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (1st week)	9,000
Princess	2,272	25c-65c	7,600	"The Last Gangster" (MGM) and "Borrowing Trouble" (20th Cent.-Fox)	10,000	"I'll Take Romance (Col.) and.... "It Can't Last Forever" (Col.)	8,000
New York
Astor	1,142	55c-$2.20	15,600	"In Old Chicago" (20th Cent.-Fox)	19,793	.....
Capitol	4,700	25c-85c	33,400	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (2nd week)	31,552	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (1st week)	44,000
Criterion	1,700	25c-75c	12,000	"It's All Yours" (Col.).....	10,000	"Manhattan-Merry-Go Round" ... (Rep.)	13,000
Paramount	3,700	25c-99c	36,100	"Wells Fargo" (Para.)..... (stage: Fred Waring and Orch.) (3rd week)	34,200	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) ..... (stage: Fred Waring and Orch.) (2nd week)	50,000
Rialto	594	25c-55c	7,700	"Lights Out" (RKO).....	6,000	"You're Only Young Once" (MGM)	5,500
Rivoli	2,200	25c-99c	23,100	"Wise Girl" (RKO).....	18,000	"Hitting a New High" (RKO)..... (2nd week)	15,400
RKO Music Hall	6,200	40c-$1.65	79,000	"Tovarich" (W.B.) ..... (plus stage show) (2nd week)	77,000	"Tovarich" (W.B.) ..... (plus stage show) (1st week)	115,800
Roxy	5,954	25c-75c	35,400	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) (plus stage show) (2nd week)	33,000	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) (plus stage show) (1st week)	58,000
Strand	3,000	40c-99c	20,800	"Hollywood Hotel" (F.N.).....	31,000	'Submarine D-1" (F.N.)..... (2nd week)	20,000
Oklahoma City
Criterion	1,300	10c-40c	5,300	"True Confession" (Para.).....	4,600	"Man-Proof" (MGM) ..... (plus stage show) (10c-55c)	8,100
Midwest	1,500	10c-40c	4,300	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.)....	5,000	"Rosalie" (MGM)	5,050
Tower	1,100	10c-35c	....	"Rosalie" (MGM)	2,500	"Wells Fargo" (Para.).....	3,500
Philadelphia
Aldine	1,300	40c-65c	9,200	"The Hurricane" (U.A.)..... (3rd week)	7,600	"The Hurricane" (U.A.)..... (2nd week)	14,000
Boyd	2,400	40c-65c	14,800	"Man-Proof" (MGM)	12,500	"Tovarich" (W.B.) ..... (2nd week)	12,500
Fox	3,000	40c-65c	17,000	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (2nd week)	17,500	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (1st week)	25,000
Stanley	3,700	40c-65c	15,700	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.)....	11,500	"True Confession" (Para.).....	20,000
San Francisco
Fox	5,651	15c-75c	11,000	"Wells Fargo" (Para.)..... (2nd week)	14,000	"Wells Fargo" (Para.)..... (1st week)	34,000
Golden Gate	2,850	15c-55c	16,600	"Wise Girl" (RKO)..... (plus vaudeville)	14,200	"Hitting a New iHgh" (RKO)..... (plus vaudeville)	20,000
Orpheum	2,440	15c-75c	8,200	"I'll Take Romance" (Col.) and.... "A Girl with Ideas" (Univ.)	8,000	"You're a Sweetheart" (Univ.) and "The Shadow' '(Col.) (2nd week)	8,200
Paramount	2,670	15c-75c	13,300	"Bad Man of Brimstone" (MGM) and "Beg, Borrow or Steal" (MGM)	19,500	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (2nd week)	12,000
United Artists	1,200	15c-75c	6,900	"Nothing Sacred" (U.A.)..... (3rd week)	5,800	"Nothing Sacred" (U.A.)..... (2nd week)	8,500
Warfield	2,680	15c-75c	15,300	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "Thank You, Mr. Moto" (20th Cent.-Fox) (2nd week)	6,700	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "Thank You, Mr. Moto" (20th Cent.-Fox) (1st week)	15,550
Seattle
Fifth Avenue	2,500	30c-55c	7,700	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (2nd week)	6,800	"Rosalie" (MGM) ..... (1st week)	10,500
Liberty	1,800	30c-55c	7,700	"The Hurricane" (U.A.)..... (2nd week)	8,500	"The Hurricane" (U.A.)..... (1st week)	12,500
Orpheum	2,450	30c-40c	6,000	"Bad Man of Brimstone" (MGM).. and "Breakfast for Two" (RKO)	7,850	"Love and Hisses" (20th Cent.-Fox) and "Daughter of Shanghai" (Para.)	8,400
Paramount	3,050	30c-40c	5,200	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) and..... "Borrowing Trouble" (20th Cent.-Fox) (2nd week)	6,800	"Wells Fargo" (Para.) and..... "Borrowing Trouble" (20th Cent.-Fox) (1st week)	8,900

WHAT THE PICTURE DID FOR ME

Columbia

DEVIL IS DRIVING, THE: Richard Dix—Doubled this with "Let Them Live," Universal. These two pictures were shown on one program. Both are good melodramas, which did a fair business so close to Christmas. The playdates were December 19 and 20. —J. E. Stocker, Myrtle Theatre, Detroit, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

IT HAPPENED IN HOLLYWOOD: Richard Dix, Fay Wray—Good entertainment. Will not disappoint you for a program picture. Will fit in anywhere. Running time, 67 minutes. Played December 29-30.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

IT HAPPENED IN HOLLYWOOD: Richard Dix, Fay Wray—A disappointing picture and a flop at our box office. Richard Dix usually draws pretty good, but not with stories like this one. A very poor story. Running time, 67 minutes. Played January 1-2.—Fischer & Bichler, Mattray Theatre, Strasburg, N. D. Small town patronage.

LIFE BEGINS WITH LOVE: Jean Parker, Douglas Montgomery—A light, clever comedy that pleased about all. Everyone thought it good and said so as they went chuckling out the door. Not a Sunday picture, but one you'll make a little on. Running time, 68 minutes. Played January 5-6.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

LOST HORIZON: Ronald Colman—Truly a great picture which was appreciated by most of our patrons. We advertised it strongly and had considerably better than normal business. Played December 24-25.—C. W. Mills, Arcade Theatre, Sodus, N. Y. Family patronage.

MORE THAN A SECRETARY: Jean Arthur, George Brent—A very fine comedy that just lacks a little more punch to be a big hit. A lot of laughs. Business average.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

ROARING TIMBER: Jack Holt—This was a good lumber camp drama with more than enough thrills to satisfy the action loving fans. This was doubled with "Way Out West," which was a very good Laurel and Hardy feature comedy. This program gave us a satisfactory Sunday and Monday gross.—J. E. Stocker, Myrtle Theatre, Detroit, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

WESTBOUND MAIL: Charles Starrett—These westerns are not in the class with Hopalong Cassidys or Gene Autry or Dick Foran. Business fair.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

First National

ADVENTUROUS BLONDE, THE: Glenda Farrell, Barton MacLane—Just a picture. Got by. Good for bottom of dual bill only.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

SAN QUENTIN: Pat O'Brien, Humphrey Bogart —A good picture. Will please the most finicky audience. Pat O'Brien and Bogart do one swell piece of acting. Running time, 77 minutes. Played January 2-3-4.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

Grand National

TEX RIDES WITH THE BOY SCOUTS: Tex Ritter—This star is building up to a fine following here. A fair little western but not up to his usual standard. The recording on our print was not at all good. Action in this picture was not quite strong enough. Running time, 55 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Indiana. Small town patronage.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

BRIDE WORE RED, THE: Joan Crawford—No go for the small town. Joan does not draw for me and this picture did not please.—Harold Smith, Dreamland Theatre, Carson, Iowa. Rural patronage.

CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS: Freddie Bartholomew, Spencer Tracy, Lionel Barrymore—One of those outstanding, really big pictures that will please 100 per cent and particularly suited to situations where a portion of the patronage consists of seafaring folks. This production can't miss, so pay the high rental cheerfully, splurge on your advertising and publicity, because after it is all over you will find a very generous amount left in the money bag for your efforts, even after all the expenses have been deducted.—Nino Sunseri, Naselle Theatre, Naselle, Wash. Backwoods patronage.

CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS: Freddie Bartholomew, Spencer Tracy—I selected this one for the New Year's Holiday program. This will no doubt be included in most selections of the ten best. It is a masterpiece from every angle. I have one great fault to find with this, and to me a very grave fault, and that is the horrible death of Spencer Tracy. Here was one of the most lovable characters ever portrayed killed when he could so easily have been permitted to live. If his death meant the saving of other lives, there would have been some excuse for it, but in this picture his death is an accident. It is true his death gave Freddie Bartholomew a chance to emote, but Freddie did plenty of fine acting long before Tracy's death in this picture. Freddie could have been reunited with his father, and Spencer could have become a life long friend of Freddie. What a grand finish that would be to send the patrons away happy instead of saddened by the tragedy. This picture is so good that it is a success in spite of this tragic death. Business was not as good as last New Year's but was quite fair, everything considered.—J. E. Stocker, Myrtle Theatre, Detroit, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

CONQUEST: Charles Boyer, Greta Garbo—As good a picture as Metro ever made, that did not click here. Garbo again comes to the fore as an actress but must take second place to Boyer. He is the best we have seen this season and must be considered seriously when the Academy Awards are to be placed. A picture like this is too heavy for small town and is to be considered a flop where the sophisticates are not in abundance. Do not try it on a Sunday crowd unless you want to take a beating. Running time, 112 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Indiana. Small town patronage.

CONQUEST: Greta Garbo, Charles Boyer—Personally, I thought that thjs was quite a picture. Not so good on Garbo's part but Boyer was great. The picture was interesting, had that spark that kept it so for its full length, and that's something. My patrons —those who came—evidently enjoyed it also as our last two days were fairly good, but the first day made us a new low to remember Loew's. It seems as though many would-be critics gave "Conquest" the bad end of the works and that kept the people away. Those who did come were liberal in their praises, but no more, please. Praises alone buy no groceries. Running time, 112 minutes. Played January 2-4.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

DAY AT THE RACES, A: Marx Brothers—A real tonic for the sick ticket office. Admittedly, the Marx Brothers are not the average exhibitor's idea of quality comedy, but they are insofar as the customer is concerned. Since the patron is always right, get this picture and forget your troubles as you listen to your house fairly vibrate with unstinted and at times continuous outbursts of prolonged laughter. This production is good at the box office, and will stimulate your sluggish liver as well through its real mirth provoking qualities.—Nino Sunseri, Naselle Theatre, Naselle, Wash. Backwoods patronage.

FIREFLY, THE: Jeanette MacDonald, Allan Jones —A grand picture in every respect. Money spent on it like a drunken sailor throws it, and as a result it cost us about 60 per cent of the gross.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

LAST GANGSTER, THE: Edward G. Robinson, Rose Stradner—Nothing wrong with this. Did good in box office and heard no kicks. I believe it will rank tops of all pictures of its kind. Running time, 80 minutes. Played December 29-30.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

MADAME X: Gladys George—Pretty heavy entertainment, but did not hear any criticisms. Drew fairly well.—Harold Smith, Dreamland Theatre, Carson, Iowa. Rural patronage.

NAVY BLUE AND GOLD: Lionel Barrymore, Robert Young, James Stewart, Florence Rice—One of the best and good any place and time.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

NIGHT MUST FALL: Robert Montgomery, Rosalind Russell—This production screams to a new high in macabre, suspenseful drama, and will thoroughly please those patrons who delight in horror stories. The picture is not suited to children, for it will have them looking under beds at night, and it is likely to evoke some unfavorable comment from the conservative parents contingent. It should not be passed by, however, for it will produce average results at the box office.—Nino Sunseri, Naselle Theatre, Naselle, Wash. Backwoods patronage.

PARNELL: Clark Gable, Myrna Loy—An Irish picture in a 70 per cent French town that just made film rental. A fine picture that should do business. —Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

SARATOGA: Jean Harlow, Clark Gable—Thank you, Metro. A natural for our town, with a 50 per cent increase the second night.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

SONG OF THE CITY: Dean Jeffries, Margaret Lindsay—Good action and comedy relief. No complaints.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

WAY OUT WEST: Laurel and Hardy—A very good Laurel and Hardy feature comedy. Doubled with "Roaring Timber." This program gave us a satisfactory Sunday and Monday gross.—J. E. Stocker, Myrtle Theatre, Detroit, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

Paramount

DOUBLE OR NOTHING: Bing Crosby, Mary Carlisle—We thought this was fine. Few said they didn't care especially for it.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

FORLORN RIVER: June Martel, Larry Crabbe—Doubled this with "The Road Back" and a Stooges comedy, "Cash and Carry." This combination gave us a better business than expected.—J. E. Stocker, Myrtle Theatre, Detroit, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME: Irene Dunne, Randolph Scott—Entertaining drama of the early days in the Pennsylvania oil boom. Pleased New Year's Eve and the following evening.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

HULA HEAVEN: Eddie Peabody—Here is a short that deserves extra billing in any spot. It's a short four star feature with Eddie Peabody "hittin' a new high" in instrumental technique, against an atmosphere of hula dancers and Hawaiian scenery. Book it and feature it. Running time, 11 minutes.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

JUNGLE Pprincess, THE: Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland—Very fine. Played return engagement on Bargain Night. If you haven't played it, my advice is to do so.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomation, Ala. General patronage.

LOVE ON TOAST: Stella Ardler, John Payne—Here is another that has a meaningless title, but proved to be a fair program picture. These new stars seem to have the "makings" and satisfied.—P. G.

(Continued on following page)

IN this, the exhibitors' own department, the theatremen of the nation serve one another with information on the box-office performance of product for their mutual benefit. It is a service of the exhibitor for the exhibitor. Address all communications to—

What the Picture Did for Me
MOTION PICTURE HERALD
Rockefeller Center, New York

Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS: Charles Ruggles, Alice Brady—A pleasing picture, although not as strong as the usual comedies in which Charles Ruggles is cast. Played January 1.—C. W. Mills, Arcade Theatre, Sodus, N. Y. Family patronage.

MOUNTAIN MUSIC: Martha Raye, Bob Burns—We did very good business, principally because of the drawing power of Bob Burns and Martha Raye. However, there was a difference of opinion as to the merits of the production. Played December 18.—C. W. Mills, Arcade Theatre, Sodus, N. Y. Family patronage.

NIGHT CLUB SCANDAL: Lynne Overman, John Barrymore, Louise Campbell—Fairly good program picture that pleased weekend patrons. Cannot see where title came from, however. Played January 7-8. —P. G. Estee, Estee, Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

PARTNERS IN CRIME: Lynne Overman, Roscoe Karns—A little picture that is allocated too high, for no reason at all. Where, oh where are the pictures that Zukor was going to give us this season. Overman has always been a draw here, but somehow Paramount has lost its yumph. Ran it on a double feature, thank goodness, and just got by. Running time, 62 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Indiana. Small town patronage.

PLAINSMAN, THE: Gary Cooper, Jean Arthur, James Ellison, Charles Bickford—An outstanding epic of the West, well cast, well acted and well photographed. Gary Cooper as "Wild Bill" Hickok gives an outstanding performance and one that will be long remembered. There is not a letdown in the entire picture; it carries you along breathlessly with its tense dramatic scenes and should be amongst the first ten of 1937. The supporting cast handled their roles to perfection and Jean Arthur in particular made an excellent "Calamity Jane." It is very seldom that a picture of this type deserves praise, but Paramount should be congratulated in bringing to the screen such an outstanding western drama. Running time, 110 minutes. Played January 8th.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

SWING, HUTTON, SWING: Ina Ray Hutton and Orchestra—A made to order short for the younger generation. Snappy music, put over in Ina's inimitable style, and as an added treat a trio sings "Bugle Call Rag." One thing, however, Ina should stick to leading the orchestra and do less parading around as it distracts the audience. Running time, 11 minutes.—J. A. Reynolds, Director of Recreation, State Prison, Trenton, N. J. Prison patronage.

TEXAS TRAIL: William Boyd, George Hayes—Same old story. Whenever Hoppy comes to town business is good. Excellent story.—Harold Smith, Dreamland Theatre, Carson, Iowa. Rural patronage.

TEXAS TRAIL: William Boyd, George Hayes—Drew good but not "Hoppy's" best. Was a little better constructed than the general run of westerns, but then, all Hopalongs are. Audience paid a great deal of attention to this so they evidently enjoyed it. Running time, 80 minutes. Played December 31-January 1.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

THIS WAY PLEASE: Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Betty Grable.—Nice little musical that gets by nicely and will please. Not big but entertaining all the way. Running time, 81 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

THIS WAY PLEASE: Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Betty Grable—Is the sweetest picture I ever played since my theatre opened November 18th and it was very sweet at the box office. Played January 1.—Miss Ouida Stephano, Grove Theatre, Groveton, Texas. General patronage.

THIS WAY PLEASE: Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Betty Grable, Mary Livingstone—Went over fairly well. Paramount had better make some really good pictures for a change. Their product has been pretty weak this year.—Harold Smith, Dreamland Theatre, Carson, Iowa. Rural patronage.

WAIKIKI WEDDING: Bing Crosby, Bob Burns, Martha Raye—This is very good. The kind that will get them in and please about as near 100 per cent as possible. Business better than average. Running time, 87 minutes. Played December 11-12.—Fischer & Bichler, Mattray Theatre, Strasburg, N. D. Small town patronage.

Republic

DUKE COMES BACK, THE: Allan Lane, Heather Angel—Here is one that ranks right up with the best of them, smoothly made, direction 100 per cent, and how interesting story, and while it has special appeal to fight fans, it will also please all of them.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind. General patronage.

GIT ALONG LITTLE DOGIES: Gene Autry—Another good musical western from Republic. Perfect entertainment where western pictures are liked. Played to a nice house. Running time, 60 minutes. Played December 24-26.—Fischer & Bichler, Mattray Theatre, Strasburg, N. D. Small town patronage.

HEARTS IN BONDAGE: James Dunn, Mae Clarke —Just a fair program picture. Running time, 67 minutes. Played December 18-19.—Fischer & Bichler, Mattray Theatre, Strasburg, N. D. Small town patronage.

MANHATTAN MERRY-GO-ROUND: Phil Regan, Ann Dvorak—Is very poor. Bad recording and nothing to it. If had to do it again, would play on a dime night and forget it. Played December 14-15.—Miss Ouida Stephano, Grove Theatre, Groveton, Texas. General patronage.

ROUND-UP TIME IN TEXAS: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette—Congratulations, Mr. Autry, Screen's No. 1 Cowboy (according to recent poll). Fine western. Played Christmas night.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

SPRINGTIME IN THE ROCKIES: Gene Autry—Here is a smooth running picture that will please all of the western fans and most of them that claim they do not like westerns.—W. H. Brenner, Cozy Theatre, Winchester, Ind. General patronage.

RKO-Radio

FIGHT FOR YOUR LADY: John Boles, Ida Lupino, Jack Oakie—Who ever said RKO could not make good pictures? This picture is a natural for small towns, with Oakie as usual stealing the picture. This picture is not a big picture, but is as good a midweek or double feature as one would care to show. Running time, 65 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Indiana. Small town patronage.

HITTING A NEW HIGH: Lily Pons, Jack Oakie—The first time in sending reports of "What the Picture Did for Me" and my reason is that I want to make a report on one picture that really gave a headache to me and everybody that seen it. "Hitting a New High," which was played on a midnight show New Year's Eve, is the biggest headache I ever had and that is certainly starting the year of 1938 right, thanks to RKO for giving me such a hot date, which should have been called "Hitting the First Headache of the Year." No more chances will I take from RKO. —Miss Ouida Stephano, Grove Theatre, Groveton, Texas. General patronage.

LIFE OF THE PARTY: Gene Raymond, Harriet Hilliard—Very good. Just the type for a small town. Not so hot first night, but the second night was like a dream. Played November 22-23.—Miss Ouida Stephano, Grove Theatre, Groveton, Texas. General patronage.

LIVING ON LOVE: James Dunn, Whitney Bourne —A dandy comedy and will hold up its end on your double feature program.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

MAKE A WISH: Bobby Breen, Basil Rathbone—A very good picture. Fine entertainment for any audience. Everyone enjoyed Bobby's singing. Played to a nice house. Played December 4-5.—Fischer & Bichler, Mattray Theatre, Strasburg, N. D. Small town patronage.

STAGE DOOR: Katharine Hepburn, Ginger Rogers, Adolphe Menjou—A smash in any man's language. In any spot, extended runs. Running time, 83 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

THERE GOES THE GROOM: Burgess Meredith, Ann Sothern—I don't believe I could have booked a better picture for my New Year's Eve show. This was very good. All enjoyed it and heard many good remarks about it. Didn't do bad on it either. Running time, 60 minutes. Played December 31.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

Twentieth Century-Fox

ANGEL'S HOLIDAY: Jane Withers, Robert Kent—Fine. Played second time.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

BIG BUSINESS: Jed Prouty, Spring Byington—A very good family picture. Seemed to be enjoyed by all. Running time, 61 minutes. Played December 31-January 1.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

DANGER—LOVE AT WORK: Ann Sothern, Jack Haley—Mildly amusing only. Another of the cycle of "nut" pictures that are being inflicted by various producers. Paramount had "Blossoms on Broadway." Which of all the companies will have the "nuttiest" remains to be seen.—P. G. Estee, Estee Theatre, Parker, S. D. Small town patronage.

45 FATHERS: Jane Withers, Thomas Beck—Good in any spot that likes Jane Withers. Pleased all here. Lots of audience appeal. Plenty of laughs and a good story. Running time, 70 minutes.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

HEIDI: Shirley Temple—Here's the gal that puts a new spirit in us exhibitors. How we like to see her around. We considered this one of her best. Business fine in spite of adverse conditions.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

HEIDI: Shirley Temple—The best Temple for some time. I thought Shirley was slipping, but if so they certainly came back for this one. Did capacity business for a two-day showing, and pleased everyone.—Harold Smith, Dreamland Theatre, Carson, Iowa. Rural patronage.

LIFE BEGINS IN COLLEGE: Ritz Brothers—This drew excellent business, but opinion was divided. Too much of the Ritzes seemed to be general opinion. I believe they go over better when they are not featured. Picture drew swell and I imagine another one of them would, but I'm afraid that would about finish them.—Harold Smith, Dreamland Theatre, Carson, Iowa. Rural patronage.

SING AND BE HAPPY: Tony Martin Dixie Dunbar—Fine little programmer.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

THIS IS MY AFFAIR: Robert Taylor, Barbara Stanwyck—We have yet to make anything on Robert Taylor since "Magnificent Obsession." I personally think he is much overrated. The gals, I guess, are getting snooty, or their judgment is getting poor. No biz.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

WIFE, DOCTOR AND NURSE: Warner Baxter, Loretta Young, Virginia Bruce—An excellent picture. Pleased the ones that came. Business off just before Christmas.—Harold Smith, Dreamland Theatre, Carson, Iowa. Rural patronage.

United Artists

KNIGHT WITHOUT ARMOR: Marlene Dietrich, Robert Donat—A class "A" production (according to many of the published reviews) that simmered down to a class "D" in my situation, where the folks come in overalls and what have you. Take refuge in your projection booth before the closing scene to avoid being ruffled by the many dirty looks which will be directed your way by dissatisfied customers leaving the house. Show the picture, if you must, and charge the loss off to experience.—Nino Sunseri, Naselle Theatre, Naselle, Wash. Backwoods patronage.

STAND-IN: Leslie Howard, Joan Blondell—A poor programmer. Not a big picture as they would make you believe. Not worth playing unless you have to. Pleased no one except the exchange, as I bought it for extended runs at extended run prices and run it one day, and that was a week too long.—W. E. McPhee, Strand Theatre, Old Town, Maine. General patronage.

STAR IS BORN, A: Janet Gaynor, Fredric March —The best Thursday-Friday I have had. Fine business and a grand show for all. Played December 23-24.—Miss Ouida Stephano, Grove Theatre, Groveton, Texas. General patronage.

STAR IS BORN, A: Janet Gaynor, Frederic March —A class "A" production producing results at the box office that will exceed your fondest dreams and expectations. You will be smart to book this picture, proud when your play dates arrive, and happy when you count the cash after it is all over. And the complete satisfaction with which your patronage will receive this production will be a revelation and an inspiration for months to come.—Nino Sunseri, Naselle Theatre, Naselle, Wash. Backwoods patronage.

STELLA DALLAS: Barbara Stanwyck, John Boles, Anne Shirley—A class "A" production that greatly pleased everyone from the local minister and high school principal down to the modest logger and fisherman. Prepare your box office for unprecedented activity and be at hand to greet with a big smile the drove of completely satisfied customers pouring forth through the doors at the close of the exhibition.—Nino Sunseri, Naselle Theatre, Naselle, Wash. Backwoods patronage.

WALTER WANGER'S VOGUES OF 1938: Warner Baxter, Joan Bennett—Is very beautiful. The best color picture made, but it's not a small town picture. Played December 26-27.—Miss Ouida Stephano, Grove Theatre, Groveton, Texas. General patronage.

WALTER WANGER'S VOGUES OF 1938: Joan Bennett, Warner Baxter—Should the writer be addicted to superlatives he would be tempted to use them to their fullest extent in favor of one of the grandest pictures of its type ever produced. Even our weekend western fans forgave us for not giving them a western. It has been a pleasure for us to show it and can readily see why it's a top picture. Business good in spite of icy roads.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

Universal

ADVENTURE'S END: John Wayne, Diana Gibson —Our people did not care for this. Very English.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

CARNIVAL QUEEN: Dorothea Kent, Robert Wilcox—A very good action laid in a carnival. Pleased. —C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

LET THEM LIVE: Nan Grey, John Howard—Doubled this with "The Devil Is Driving." These two pictures were shown on one program. Both are good melodramas which did a fair business so close to Christmas. The playdates were December 19 and 20. A plea could go out to all "Devil Drivers" to "Let Them Live."—J. E. Stocker, Myrtle Theatre, Detroit, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

LET THEM LIVE: John Howard, Nan Grey—Swell picture. Will stand alone any day of week and will please the most finicky crowd. Many favorable comments. We built the balance of program up with shorts. Running time, 76 minutes. Played December 31-January 1.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

MERRY-GO-ROUND OF 1938: Bert Lahr, Alice Brady—This came along at just the right time for my patrons to appreciate something foolish. This type of show will not go too often but is OK once in a while. Drew good business.—Harold Smith, Dreamland Theatre, Carson, Iowa. Rural patronage.

ROAD BACK, THE: Richard Cromwell, John King—This is a hard picture to advertise. If you show a trailer with war scenes, that would hurt business. If you tell them that it is a sequel to "All Quiet on the Western Front," I am not so sure that many care to see a sequel to this famous drama at this time, so we just advertised the stars and title. Doubled it with a Zane Grey story, "Forlorn River," and a Stooges comedy, "Cash and Carry." This combination gave us better business than expected. Many came to see "The Road Back"; Zane Grey fans came for their favorite, and the kids came to see "The Stooges." "The Road Back" should more than satisfy and it pleased our patrons. It is a worthy sequel to "All Quiet."—J. E. Stocker, Myrtle Theatre, Detroit, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

ROAD BACK, THE: Richard Cromwell, John King—This production will result in a mixed reaction from your audience. It will thoroughly please the rabble, provoke some unfavorable comment from the intellectualists and offend a very few through its vague suggestion of propaganda. However, this drama is sufficiently entertaining to please 80% of your patrons, therefore book it and be satisfied with a fair "take."—Nino Sunseri, Naselle Theatre, Naselle, Wash. Backwoods patronage.

SMOKE TREE RANGE: Buck Jones—An average western to less than our normal business for this type of show. It was just one of those unaccountable things. Played January 8.—C. W. Mills, Arcade Theatre, Sodus, N. Y. Family patronage.

WEST BOUND LIMITED: Lyle Talbot, Polly Rowles—I never recall seeing a poor railroad drama and of all thrills invented to thrill movie patrons none seem to equal the thrill of railroad train roaring down the track at 60 or 70 miles an hour and in danger of being wrecked. A train going 60 miles an hour seems to provide more thrills than an auto going a hundred miles an hour. But to get back to West Bound Limited. A highbrow might pick it to pieces, but the plain folks who patronize the "Myrtle" found this very much to their liking. I, for one, would like to see more railroad dramas. It is true that plots for railroad dramas are limited, but so are plots for westerns or mystery dramas. The cost of making railroad dramas should be within the reach of even most independents. Business on this was a good average.—J. E. Stocker, Myrtle Theatre, Detroit, Mich. Neighborhood patronage.

Warner Brothers

ANOTHER DAWN: Kay Francis, Errol Flynn—Very good picture. Weak on drawing power for me as are all Kay Francis pictures.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

SLIM: Pat O'Brien, Henry Fonda—Fine programmer. Stars great.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

WHITE BONDAGE: Jean Muir, Gordon Oliver—Very good little program. Played on prize night.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Short Features

Columbia

BIG SQUIRT, THE: Charlie Chase—A good comedy. Will please all. Lot of good comedy. Running time, 19 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

CALLING ALL CURTAINS: Broadway Comedies—Good comedy. Will please. Running time, 20 minutes. R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

COMMUNITY SING: No. 1—Played it on New Year's Eve show and did the folks ever sing! The songs were familiar enough to try singing them. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

DRUG STORE FOLLIES: Roscoe Ates—Not so very good but passed o. k. Running time, 10 minutes. —A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

GLEE WORMS: Color Rhapsodies—This colored short cartoon was fully appreciated here and would recommend it for any situation.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

LODGE NIGHT: Andy Clyde—Columbia seems to have the answers when it comes to putting over comedies, this one included.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

PLAYING THE PONIES: Three Stooges—Fairly good. Made the kids shout and yell and adults weren't to be outdone. Running time, 20 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

SCREEN SNAPSHOTS: No. 1—An excellent history of the old stars and up to date. Very interesting reel. —C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

Educational

GIRLS AHOY!: Buster West, Tom Patricola—Very good two-reeler. My first with these stars. Running time, two reels.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

PAPER HANGERS, THE: Terry-Toons—Good cartoon. They'll like it. Running time, eight minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

PLAY BALL: Terry-Toons—Fair cartoon. This series not as good as other companies' cartoons. Running time, one reel.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

TRAILER PARADISE: Song and Comedy Hits—The usual Cabin Kids reel that pleased.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer

BOSKO AND THE PIRATES: Harman-Ising—Good entertainment. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

COLORFUL BOMBAY: FitzPatrick Travel Talks—Good entertainment. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

KING WITHOUT A CROWN, THE: Historical Mysteries—No good. Has nothing of interest in it. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

LAND OF INCAS: FitzPatrick Travel Talks—Nice color and as a whole the reel was interesting and good. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

LITTLE BUCK CHEESER: Harman-Ising—One of the finest of the colored cartoons. The mice in this are better than Disney's. Too bad this is the last of these cartoons from Metro.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

MAIL AND FEMALE: Our Gang—I believe this was enjoyed more by adults than any "Our Gang" to date. Don't pass this one up. This will make 'em chuckle. Running time, 10 minutes.—A. E. Eliasen, Rialto Theatre, Paynesville, Minn. Rural and small town patronage.

NEWS OF THE DAY: Metro has sure spoiled this News. I wonder if there is anything else going on besides football games. My people are sure getting fed up on them. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

OLYMPIC SKI CHAMPIONS: Pete Smith Specialties—For appreciative winter sport audiences this is tops.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

PACIFIC PARADISE: MGM Miniatures—Those who have not booked this, be prepared for a real treat, with Cliff Edwards doing his bit.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

PENNY WISDOM: Pete Smith Specialties—Best Pete Smith played to date. In color. A lesson in cookery that will open the eyes of many a housewife. Running time, 10 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

RUSHIN' BALLET: Our Gang—Usual Our Gang hit.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

SOME TIME SOON: Musical Comedies—About as poor a musical as we have played. The leading lady was outstanding and I believe if given a chance should be well accepted in a feature production.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

SONG OF REVOLT: Tabloid Musicals—A historical picture of how the French national anthem was written. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

(Reports continued on following page, column 2)

NEW CONTRIBUTORS FROM THREE STATES

Frrom Texas, Washington State and Iowa come three showmen reporters to "What the Picture Did for Me" this week. They are:

Nino Sunseri, Naselle Theatre, Naselle, Washington

Ouida Stephano, Grove Theatre, Groveton, Texas

Louis J. Frana, Olympic Theatre, Calmar, Iowa.

Mr. Frana returns to the corps of contributors after more than a year's absence.

Mr. Sunseri calls upon far western exhibitors to join him in providing larger representation of Pacific Coast exhibitors in the department reports.

THEATRE ACCOUNTING

by WILLIAM F. MORRIS

(Certified Public Accountant)

●

A system devised expressly for keeping a correct tabulation of receipts and expenses.

All the information required by the Social Security Act can be easily and quickly obtained both weekly and for longer periods as the total is accumulated.

●

TELLS ALL THE FACTS ABOUT YOUR BUSINESS EACH WEEK

- Payroll data for Social Security Taxes.
- Profit at a glance—Daily or Weekly.
- All expenses deducted—including Rent, Taxes and Depreciation.
- Complete record of advance bookings.
- Itemized Schedule of All Assets and Equipment with Table of Depreciation Rates.
- Does not require a bookkeeper to handle it.

$4 ENOUGH FOR A FULL YEAR'S BOOKKEEPING

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP

ROCKEFELLER CENTER NEW YORK

QUIGLEY BOOKSHOP
ROCKEFELLER CENTER - - - - NEW YORK

GENTLEMEN:
Please send me WILLIAM F. MORRIS' THEATRE ACCOUNTING. Enclosed find remittance of $4.00.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

CITY..... STATE.....

(Continued from preceding page)

Paramount

FOOTBALL TOUCHER DOWNER: Popeye the Sailor—Fine cartoon. Running time, one reel.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

IT'S A GOOD STUNT: Paragraphics—One of the most novel shorts we have played. Showed it to a Friday-Saturday crowd and the thrills were very well received.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Indiana. Small town patronage.

KILLER OF THE TONTO: Paragraphics—Fair one-reeler. Nothing extra.—Sammie Jackson, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

LET'S GO LATIN: Xavier Cugat and Orchestra—A fine little band number wherein again Paramount comes to the front with their short subjects. Running time, eight minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

PAN-AMERICAN CHAMPIONS: Grantland Rice Sportlights—Well worth playing. Most interesting and instructive.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE: Betty Boop Cartoons—As good a black and white as anyone could ask for. This series is becoming more popular with each showing. Running time, seven minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

RKO-Radio

BAD HOUSEKEEPING: Edgar Kennedy—Usual Kennedy short with the usual Kennedy chatter. Running time, 20 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

CALIFORNIA MISSIONS: World on Parade—series dealing with the mission in California established by the Friars. Good entertainment. Running time, 10 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

DEVILLED HAM: Nu-Atlas Productions—An excellent one-reel musical with an outstanding toe dance.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

MARCH OF TIME: No. 4—This is the poorest we have played this season. Slow, dull and uninteresting.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Indiana. Small town patronage.

ROYAL STEEDS: Sports with Bill Corum—This is the best Corum we have run. If your clientele likes horses, play this one up big and you will not be disappointed. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

Twentieth Century-Fox

MOTOR MANIACS: Adventures of the Newsreel Cameraman—These adventures of the newsreel cameramen are outstanding. This one has a wagon load of thrills in it. Play it by all means.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

United Artists

ALPINE CLIMBERS: Mickey Mouse—This is very outstanding. Make it a point to play it, you'll never regret it.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

MODERN INVENTIONS: Silly Symphonies—This one is positively a scream. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

Vitaphone

CALLING ALL KIDS: Joe Palooka—These comedies are well taken by our weekend crowds. This one, however, was not up to the usual standard. Running time, 18 minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Indiana. Small town patronage.

CHECK YOUR CASH: Vitaphone Novelties—Just so-so. Card tricks, etc.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

GEORGE HALL AND ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters—Fair musical. Running time, 9 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

GHOST TO GHOST HOOKUP: Radio Ramblers—Played on Saturday night. Only fair. Nothing extra. Running time, one reel.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

GIVE ME LIBERTY: Broadway Brevity—Color short, deals with Patrick Henry's speech. Running time, 20 minutes.—R. W. Crickmore, Rainbow Theatre, Newport, Wash. General patronage.

JACK DENNY AND ORCHESTRA: Melody Masters—We have played better musicals than this one, but do not feel it was poor fan fare.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Cnaada. General patronage.

POETS OF THE ORGAN: Vitaphone Novelties—Very good. Wonderful music.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

PORKY'S DUCK HUNT: Looney Tunes—A knock-out black and white cartoon. We played it the second time repeat.—C. L. Niles, Niles Theatre, Anamosa, Iowa. General patronage.

VITAPHONE BROADWAYITES: Big Time Vaudeville Reel—Only fair. In fact, hardly that good. Did not care for it at all. Running time, one reel.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

VITAPHONE FUNSTERS: Big Time Vaudeville Reel—Very entertaining. These Warners know their musicals.—Harland Rankin, Plaza Theatre, Tilbury, Ontario, Canada. General patronage.

WOODS ARE FULL OF CUCKOOS: Merrie Melodies—One of the best shorts we have run in this series. The caricatures of the radio and screen stars are tops. Running time, nine minutes.—A. J. Inks, Crystal Theatre, Ligonier, Ind. Small town patronage.

Serials

Republic

PAINTED STALLION, THE: Ray Corrigan, Hoot Gibson—On chapter 10 and going over fine. Better than "Tracy," I think. Wish Gibson had more to do than he has.—Sammie Jackson, Jackson Theatre, Flomaton, Ala. General patronage.

Two Greenland Houses Equipped With Sound

by KRIS WINTHER

in Copenhagen

Two motion picture theatres in Greenland have been equipped to show talking pictures. The equipment, made by Bofa, a Danish manufacturer, were presented by E. Schnedler-Sorensen of Copenhagen to the theatres in Julianehaab and Godthaab, Greenland. The former has a seating capacity of 300, while the other has 150. Both houses have been showing silent pictures for some years with projectors donated by Mr. Schnedler-Sorensen.

Shows for the Esquimaux are free, the Danish state authorities bearing such expenses as are not covered by Mr. Schnedler-Sorensen, who also loans films for showing in the Greenland theatres.

The Esquimaux attend the theatre approximately twice a week, preferring newsreels and travelogues. Comedy and action have no special attraction for them and comic cartoons are decidedly unpopular. The Esquimaux want reality and will burst into laughter at romance as was evidenced by a trial showing of the Shirley Temple picture, "Stowaway," which caused unbounded hilarity under all sentimental sequences.

Horne to Become Producer Agent

Hal Horne has announced plans for opening an office in the RKO Building, New York, to serve as a producers' representative, His clients, he said, will include Walt Disney Productions, Edward Small Productions and a group of British producers.

Mr. Horne said also he will have an interest in a new Small company, which is now in process of organization.

A new attendance record for the 1,000-seat Loew's Parkway, Wilmington, Del., was set during the first six days "Rosalie" was played, Frank J. Murphy, manager, said. In the six days 17,732 persons attended the theatre.

MANAGERS' ROUND TABLE CLUB

An international association of showmen meeting weekly in MOTION PICTURE HERALD for mutual aid and progress

CHAMPIONS OF 1937

On the following pages may be found a layout of pictures embracing the Quigley Award Winners for the year 1937. Their campaigns were of a calibre consistent with the high quality of these Competitions.

That recognition should be given the hard-working man in the field is indeed a worthy attribute to the motion picture industry. On this occasion of announcing, in picture form, the 1937 Quigley Award Winners, we are but paying these gentlemen their due.

Quigley Awards today have assumed an importance to the man in the field that is inestimably valuable. May the year 1938 see all Round-Tablers redoubling their efforts to gain the distinction of earning one of these coveted Awards.

△ △ △

SELLING "SHORTS" LONG

Joe Stribling of the Kiowa Theatre, Hobart, Oklahoma, has evolved a scheme to sell "shorts" that has proven tremendously successful for him; so much so, in fact, that he is using it on his feature pictures. It sounds mighty good to us.

Stribling hired two young ladies (well known in Hobart) to call every person in town and get the following information: Name, phone, address, type of picture, short and star they liked best. The people were told that later they would be called and reminded when their favorite star, picture or short was to play at the Kiowa Theatre.

The cards with the information marked on them are filed under the names of the various shorts and feature picture type, and cross filed (Mrs. Jones likes Popeye, Travelogues and dramatic features so she gets three cards); the play dates for these features are marked on a memo pad for the cashiers, who during the dull hours before the pictures play, call these people and remind them that their favorite star, or short is to be played at the theatre the next day.

The result of this is that the patrons are extremely interested and flattered that the theatre goes to the trouble of calling them especially.

On an actual check on March of Time, when this scheme was first started, it was found that eight out of every ten people who were called, came to the first evening show and thanked Stribling for calling them. Some gave the management other shorts and feature types they wanted to be called for.

Thanks, Joe, for passing this splendid and money-getting idea on to fellow Round Tablers!

KEEP AT IT!

Round-Tabler J. Mel Gow, of the Capitol Theatre at Nanaimo, British Columbia, relates an example of how perseverance has overcome an otherwise immovable resistance.

